

'65 Appropriations Face Supervisors

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors will reconvene its October session Thursday morning to consider the division of county taxes totaling $3,900,000 for the coming year.

Unable to get to the important report of the Ways and Means Committee last week, the Board adjourned Friday afternoon, scheduling the next session for 9:30 a.m., Oct. 29.

The report of the Ways and Means committee contains the recommendation for appropriations of tax monies to the various agencies and offices operated by the county.

The board will also consider a recommendation for a pay raise for county employees, Archie Hicks, county clerk, said.

The proposed salary increase does not include the salaries of elected officials who received a $300 pay increase two years ago, Hicks said.

During its three-day session last week, the supervisors continued to hear reports and to receive requests for budget appropriations from the several offices of county government.

Among them was a report showing that the County Office of Civil Defense spent $6,195 during the past year in preparing this county for possible national emergency.

The board also approved a request from County Sheriff Hugh Marr that his office be allowed to hold an auction of various items which have been confiscated during investigations.

Chamber Needs Budget Donations

Chamber of Commerce President William Kritzman issued a reminder this week to Cass City merchants, urging them to submit their donations so the yearly budget can be set up.

Earlier in the year, the budget requests, based on the size of the business, were set up. Ranging from $25 to $75, the requests are to eliminate repeated requests for funds for upcoming projects.

Kritzman stated that "about half" of the donations are in. Merchants, who have not presented their donations may mail their checks to Tom Proctor, Chamber treasurer, Kritzman suggested.

Man Hurt When Tire Blows Out

Clinton W. Spencer, 41, of 5968 River Road, Cass City, received a two-inch cut on his head when his car cracked into a tree Friday morning on River Road.

Spencer was treated by Dr. H. T. Donahue and released.

United Fund Passes One-third Mark At Gagetown

With one-third of the reports in, the Elmwood Gagetown United Fund drive has received 35 per cent of its goal of $1,000.

Mrs. William Ashmore Jr., treasurer for this drive, said that the prospects of Gagetown-Elmwood reaching the goal this year are good.

She said the prospects further improved when the Evans Company of Gagetown pledged a direct-company donation of $400 to the fund.

Mrs. Ashmore stressed that this was a donation from the company itself, and not one derived from payroll deductions.

She urged all Gagetown-Elmwood workers to finish their calls as soon as possible and report to her by Nov. 1.

CASS CITY HIGH SCHOOL students bolted their political traces this week and gave their parents palpitations by going Democratic in their annual "Straw Vote" election. In the secrecy of the regulation voting booths, the students voted Johnson, Humphrey and Romney. Joan Cole accepts her ballot from Rosemary Deering while Arlene Kilbourn checks her name. ## From the Editor's Corner Poetry and newspapers generally don't mix. Editors, on the whole, don't like to sit in judgment of whose poem is better than the next.

So usually newspapers turn down poets hopeful of seeing his or her sentiment in print.

But in keeping with the season, I am quoting below a poem written for Halloween by Jean Turner and Becky Loomis of Mrs. Erma Cardew's fifth grade. Appropriately, it is called "The Witch With the Wart on Her Nose."

"She soars through the night on a dark handled broom, the witch with the wart on her nose, while a cat named Black Jack rides along in a sack, with the witch with a wart on her nose."

She sweeps over the ground, and zooms round and round, the witch with the wart on her nose, and she's disgracefully dressed and her hair is a mess, this witch with the wart on her nose."

She has fiery orange eyes and she tells horrid lies, the witch with the wart on her nose, and she casts spells a lot and brews in a pot, the witch with the wart on her nose."

So if you should sight on Halloween night, a witch with a wart on her nose, you had better not stay, but run far, far away, from the witch with the wart on her nose."

Kraft and I tried to think all week of some way to stop Governor Romney's blitz caravan when it came through Cass City on its way to Caro Wednesday night.

But, with Dave's recent experience recounted in his comments, and the fact we didn't know just what time the Governor was due to fly by, we gave

School Elections a Democrat Landslide

"Woe be to the Republicans," if the election pattern set last Monday, when Cass City high school students voted on Ballot A, is followed next Tuesday in national, state and county elections.

The results of the high school election - startling in this Republican stronghold - bear out the predictions being passed in the winds these days that this year will be a Democratic landslide.

Of the 30 offices up for election on Ballot A, nearly 400 high school students gave the Republicans only six of these offices.

Two of these offices went to Republicans in uncontested elections.

Ream of Ballots Await Cass City Area Voters

When John Doe of Cass City stops by the Elkland town hall after work on Tuesday to vote in the national election, he will be given a ream of ballots to take into the polling booth.

In effect, he will carry with him into the booth tomorrow's hopes for America's cherished dream of freedom under good government.

He will have to decide from the welter of words, the plethora of political promises and all the high-sounding slogans, just who he wants to run things for him in the coming years.

At every election, candidates cry that it is a "crucial moment" for the American people. They sometimes act as if there was nothing crucial in 1960, 1916, or 1932.

But their claim is valid. Elections are crucial. Elections mean that there will be change. Change implies possible peril in an unknown future.

The 1964 election is as crucial as any. Certainly there is the everpresent peril of an unknown future.

Certainly the national and international drama of the past year - from the assassination of President Kennedy to the recent explosion of a nuclear device by Red China - has brought home to people the importance of the outcome of the election.

Certainly the flares and fumes flying from the national presidential election has aroused the interest, the partisanship and the deep feelings, if not convictions, of the voters.

Certainly in the state election, candidates have done their best to convince voters that disaster faces Michigan if they are not elected.

Heavy Vote Predicted As a result, a heavy turnout of voters is expected in Tuscola County, continuing the trend of the past four years in which 80 per cent of the county's some 18,000 voters turned out in 1960 and in 1962.

Gen-Tel to Spend $27,000 in Area Projects Program

The General Telephone Company of Michigan has announced that it will spend $3,920,000 in its Eastern Division in 1965 in a continued program of urbanizing rural telephone lines.

The announcement was made at a recent press conference in Port Huron by Ronald Kinsman, division manager of the Eastern Division.

Of this total, $106,000 is slated to be spent on construction and improvement of the Company's facilities in the Cass City District, Richard W. Drews, district manager, said.

The Cass City District, the largest in the Eastern Division, includes Cass City, Clifford, Elkton, Harbor Beach and Kingston. The main purpose of the construction program in these communities will be to reduce the number of parties using a party line, Drews said.

In addition, the construction program next year will let the company pick up a number of homes which now have applications in for telephone service.

Drews said that the current goal in the Eastern Division's upgrade of rural telephone service calls for all lines to have no more than four parties.

Currently some lines have as many as ten homes on a party line, he explained.

Drews also noted that there are 80 applications for phone service in his district office, some of whom will be served following completion of 1965 projects.

Of the total to be spent in Cass City district, $27,600 will be invested in equipment and facilities in Cass City proper.

The greater part of this amount will be spent on extending phone

Annual Free Show Set for Saturday

When Cass City's spooks quit prowling village streets Saturday night, it is very likely that most of them will be found at the annual Family Night Free Halloween Show at the Cass Theatre.

Sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce, the annual event will feature a big action feature, "Yellowstone Kelly", in color, and two cartoons, according to Dick Hendrick, theatre owner.

Free silver dollars and free movie passes will be awarded to some lucky members of the audience.

Theatre doors will open at 7:15 with showtime at 8:00 p. m.

Band Fund Drive Nets Over $600

The Cass City High School band has raised over $600 to date for band scholarships in its door-to-door candy sale.

"We have over $600 now," Ronald Walker, band director, said, "and money is still coming in."

The candy sale took place on Wednesday, Oct. 21.

However, Walker said, due to the bad weather that night he told the some 40 bandmen who went soliciting to go candy selling when they could.

The money which is raised is "There has been real heavy registration," Archie Hicks, Tuscola County Clerk, said. "At this time I would say that 18,500 persons have registered."

Hicks said that, in light of past election records, when registration reaches this peak, a large turnout of voters can be expected at the polls.

To prepare for these vital decisions, 1,600 ballots have been printed up for Elkland voters, part of a 125,000 ballot package ordered for the county as a whole.

Each Elkland voter will get six individual ballots, three of which will deal with propositions. With these ballots, Elkland's voters will answer such questions as:

"Will President Johnson have a chance to run the government 'in his own name,' or will Barry Goldwater have a chance to institute his 'brand of conservatism'?"

"Will George Romney be given another two-year crack at running things in Michigan? Or will Neil Staebler be named as the man to lead the state on the Democrat's road?"

Will Lansing next year see a governor whose administrative officers belong to his party, or to the opposition.

Who will run education in this state?

In all, Elkland township voters will pass judgment on 107 candidates running for 38 posts from the nation's chief to the town clerk.

Never, in Michigan's long history, have voters faced such a vast array of candidates from whom they must choose their chiefs.

Candidates Democratic and Republican candidates in the national, state and county election are as follows:

For president and vice-president: Lyndon B. Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey.

Concluded on page five.

Campbell to Try For Clerk's Post

For the first time in several years, Elkland township voters will have a choice of more than one candidate for the office of township clerk.

Willis Campbell, retired Cass City High School superintendent, announced this week that he will be a sticker candidate for the clerk's office.

His decision will pit him against R. M. Hunter, a retired village businessman, who declared his sticker candidacy earlier in the month.

The clerk's post was left vacant by the death of C. E. Patterson just before the Sept. 1 Primary. Hunter was named to the post until the General Election next Tuesday.

To Widen Streets to 40 Feet?

Council Takes Look at Long Range Street Improvements

A Cass City Planning Commission study for long range street improvements in Cass City was presented to the village council at its regular October meeting Tuesday night.

The guideline of the plan is: as the streets grow, so grows the village.

The heart of the long range plan, which projects improvements to be undertaken over the next five to ten years, calls for widening all major secondary streets from their present 32-foot width to a width of 40 feet.

The plan contains five basic proposals.

The first calls for making the east side of Weaver Street a "no parking" zone.

Council President Lee Rabideau said that the planning commission felt that this step would make it easier for the Hills and Dales Hospital ambulance, which uses Weaver Street on its runs, to respond to calls.

In another step to facilitate ambulance runs, the planning commission calls for intersecting Hill Street with Weaver Street and widening them both to 40 feet.

This intersection would be formed by "bending" Hill Street toward the east to connect with Weaver Street at Church Street.

These two streets were two of ten streets considered by the commission as major secondary streets in the village which should be widened to 40 feet.

The others are: Nestle, Downing, West and Ale Streets from Main Street to Church Street; Maple and Sherman from Pine to Church Street; Oak Street from Pine to Main; Pine Street from Brooker to Ale, Garfield from Doerr to Seeger and Church Street from Nestle to Ale.

Brooker Street, which would also be widened to 40 feet, also is slated for further modification in the commission's plan.

In order to provide more access to the village's industrial park, the commission calls for this street to be extended either straight south to Garfield or, at an easterly angle, to Vulcan.

And finally the plan calls for the first blocks of West and Leach Streets south of Main, and one block north of Main on Leach to be widened to 56 feet and angle parking put in.

The Council took no formal action on the plan other than to accept it for further study.

The main issue in the plan which would have to be decided is just how wide to make the major secondary roads.

"We do not have to take any formal action on this," Rabideau said after he explained the planning commission's thinking on each proposal.

"We should all study it before we accept the width."

Greenleaf Twp. Electors A General Election will be held Tuesday, Nov. 3, at Greenleaf Town Hall. Polls open 7 a. m. till 8 p. m. Anson Karr, clerk. 10-22-2

One Way Streets

To a suggestion of making one way streets out of the first blocks of the streets running off Main Street, the council president said:

"To get major money for street improvement, you can't do it. For its size, this village has too many streets. Someday it may be possible to block these streets off for parking only, but not now."

"After the streets are built and paid for, then we can make the change," the Council President said.

There was humorous disagreement as to whether one way traffic on these side streets, plus the 56-foot angle parking blocks, would cut down on the number of backing accidents in the village.

"Never," said some councilmen, "we'll always have them."

In other action the board accepted the low bid submitted by Dean Lowe of $2,528.98 for building an extension on the village garage.

Rabideau announced that, of a tax bill of $57,396.30, only $282.10 remained uncollected at the end of the month.

GOING PLACES -- Larry Groombridge took advantage of fine blocking to go over for the first touchdown in Cass City's game Friday with Bad Axe. In scoring the touchdown, Groombridge made Cass City the first team to score first in a game this season with Bad Axe and set the pace for Cass City to become the first school to score more than one touchdown against Bad Axe this season. ## Speedy Bad Axe Scoops Up Five TD's, Tops Cass City

It's no news now that Bad Axe beat Cass City in Friday's conference game.
When the Red Hawks, with their helmets dangling listlessly from their hands, clattered tiredly into the locker room after the game, they did so humbled by a 38 to 13 loss.
But even with this defeat, the second loss in five conference games and a loss that dropped Cass City to fourth place, there were some consolation prizes.
The underdogs going into the game with the top team in the league, the Hawks still were the first team this year to score against the Hatchets before the Hatchets made a touchdown.
And they did so with a sustained drive.
Secondly, the Hawks are the only eleven who have made two touchdowns against the Bad Axe boys this season.
And finally, the Red Hawks line played as good a ball game - if not better - as their "first place" opponents did.
But consolation prizes cannot hide the fact that, more than once, the Hatchets unipped the Hawks' defense and went tally-ho down the field.
For the Hatchets specialize in a speedy backfield made up of lads who can dance off 100 yards in a little more than 10 seconds.
Rather than depend on the battering ram, the Hatchets follow the blitzkrieg policy of flanking with speed. Once around end and into the secondary, their runners play at being the wind.
And on many occasions, the Red Hawks found that holding on to a speeding Hatchet man was just as difficult as clutching the wind.
The Hawks had their surprises, too. Not the least of which was when, in the mid-first quarter, they recovered a fumble on their own 40 yard line and beat their way, sparked by a 35 yards run, to pay dirt.
Larry Groombridge, at left half, took the ball from nine yards out and broke through tackle for the touchdown to wind up the 60 yard drive.
Fans felt hopeful that an upset was in the making. The feeling continued through the first half as the Hatchets were able to score only once.
Receiving the kickoff following Cass City's touchdown, the Hatchets blitzed through their own 43 yard line down to the Hawks' one yard final defense. From there, they sent a man over and then kicked the extra point. So much for the close game.
For the football game fell apart for the Hawks on the opening play of the second half.
Taking the kickoff, a Hatchet speed-demon slipped through the tacklers, thundering down on him and went 80 yards "all-the-way" for Bad Axe's second TD.
Cass City lost heart after that. Each time Bad Axe took the ball, thereafter, it was maximum tension for Hawk fans as they held their breath to see if the Hatchets would slip a runner loose or would the Cass City line protect its flanks.
Shortly after their second touchdown, the Hatchets did slip a runner loose from 42 yards out. He went the distance for the third touchdown.
Recovering a fumble after the Hawks had taken the kickoff and carried the ball in the series of plays to the Bad Axe 42, the Hatchets made their fourth goal in four runs.
Then it was Cass City's turn to take advantage of a recovered fumble.
A Cass City punt had dropped the ball on the Bad Axe 24-yard line. On the next play, the Hawks jumped a fumble on the 25-yard line. A series of rushes put them on the seven.
At this point, Quarterback Ed Retherford flipped a short pass to Casimir Pasieczny, end, in the end zone for the score. It was one of the five successful passes out of nine tried by Cass City. Retherford also booted a successful extra point.
To add insult to injury, the Bad Axe eleven took the kickoff, and in six plays, ran the ball right back down over the Red Hawks goal. They talked on the try for the extra point.
"We knew we would probably lose," Red Hawk Coach Orlie Lemanski said after the game, "but the score should have been 20 to 13."
He credited the Hatchets' high score to the failure of the Hawks to hold onto scampering Hatchet backs.
On Friday, the Red Hawks will

Fire-proof Costumes Best for Halloween
Tom Proctor of Woods Drug Store has cautioned parents that a child's Halloween costume is highly flammable.
"The time of the happy hobgoblin can turn into a fiery disaster," Proctor said, "if the child's flimsy Halloween costume is not fire resistant."
Proctor recommended that parents dip the costumes their children will wear into a solution recommended by the American Medical Association.
The dip is made by Mixing seven ounces, or slightly less than a cup, of Borax, with three ounces - or slightly less than half a cup - of Boric Acid into two quarts of water.
"While this solution tends to make the material stiffer, it adds a fire resistant quality to the cloth," Proctor said.

Township Clerk Race Only Contest
In an election which finds almost three candidates running for every office, Elkland township is short of candidates, and that's not counting constables.
Interest will center around who will be elected township clerk, as the election will be conducted on a write-in basis.
Of the nine offices available in this year's election, only three candidates are named on Ballot D, the township election ballot which will be given to voters.
They are Edward G. Golding, Sr., for supervisor, F. Delbert Profit for treasurer and Albert G. Gallagher for trustee.
All three are Republicans, all three are incumbent and they have no opposition in the election.
The space by the office of township clerk is blank because of the death of Charles Patterson, the late township clerk, last summer.
Patterson had filed for the primary. But he died before the primary took place. It was too late for anyone else to file to run on the ballot.
R. M. Hunter of Third Street was appointed clerk by the township board in August.
He is seeking the office on a write-in basis, as other persons can do.
There is no candidate for Justice of the Peace. Incumbent Justice Reva Little is not seeking re-election. Her term ends this coming July. No one has stepped forward for the office.
Also, there are no candidates for the four positions as constable. The elections in five townships surrounding Elkland are all characterized by the lack of opposition.
Running under the Republican banner in Elmwood are: for supervisor, Milton Hofmeister; clerk, Harlan Hobart; treasurer, Royce Russell; trustee, Leslie Lounsbury and James Turner, and justice of the peace, Richard Downing.
In Novesta, also under the Republican banner, Gail Parrott is running for supervisor; Henry Rock, clerk; Arthur Hartwick, treasurer; Fred Knoblet, trustee; Rinerd Knoblet, Justice of the Peace, and Arleon Retherford, health officer.
Under the Township Party of Grant Township, candidates seeking office are: supervisor, Arnold Schweitzer; clerk, Gillies Brown; treasurer, Ephraim Knight; trustee, Howard Irwin; Justice of the Peace, Raymond Roberts; constable, Ervin Andrews.
A Citizens Party has also fielded a platform of candidates in Greenleaf Township.
They are: supervisor, Stanley Willis; clerk, Anson Karr; treasurer, Aletha Fox; trustee, Roland Fox and Robert Hall and constables, Henry Bartnik, Robert Hoadley, Clifford Jackson and Lee Hendrick.
Also running of a Citizens Party platform in Evergreen Township are: supervisor, Floyd Kennedy; clerk, Arlington Gray; treasurer, Lloyd Severance; Trustee, George Krause; Justice of the Peace, Brewster Shaw, and constable, Alvin Burk.

Cass Pasieczny

Jim Knoblet

When Cass City fans are crying, when the tackles have been trapped and the guards grounded, when the line has broken and the opponent's backs are through, when nothing stands in their path to touchdown and it doesn't look good for Cass City at all, whom do the fans call for? Why it's "Pasieczny, Pasieczny, please, Pasieczny." For Casimir Pasieczny, defensive halfback for the Hawks, stands his ground and nails any fleet-footed back who dares tread in his part of the Hawks' defense. As end on offense, too, this Cass City senior pulls his weight. That's why he's been named player-of-the-week. And all in his first year with Lemanski's Eleven.
Will the real Jim Knoblet step forward? The Chronicle got the family right, just the wrong player in printing the picture of last week's player of the week.
Jim Knoblet was named player of the week, but his brother, Jerry, stole the spotlight when the Chronicle inadvertently ran his picture instead of Jim's.

Drews Receives Service Award

Richard Drews, General Telephone Cass City District manager, was presented a service award at the firm's Award Banquet Service Saturday, Oct. 24, at Imlay City.

Drews received a five-year service award. Also receiving an award was Donald Kenny, Decker-ville, a Cass City exchange employee, for 15 years with the company.

Drews and Chronicle staffers Stan Putnam and Dave Kraft attended an editor's conference Thursday, Oct. 22, in Port Huron where information on the firm's plans for the coming year were announced.

Propositions Range from Beer to Balloting Questions

Three propositions, - one state and two county - ranging from balloting to beer, will be on the election block Tuesday for a decision by Elkhart's 1,650 voters.

The most far reaching in its effects is the state proposition which would change the manner in which voters select on election ballots those whom they want in office.

Political analysts say that this proposition probably has the least chance of passage of the three because it is least understood.

The passage of the proposition would eliminate straight party ticket voting. It would require that a voter vote separately for each and every candidate.

Further, the candidates would appear all together under the name of the office they are seeking, rather than under a party heading.

It would make all ballots just like non-partisan ballots are now, except that each candidate's party affiliation would be indicated after his name.

Those who favor this, the "Massachusetts Ballot," say it will create a more informed electorate.

They feel that it will make voting more meaningful as each voter will have to select specific candidates for each office, even though he can still do so on a party basis.

Further, proponents believe that this type of ballot will reduce "down-the-line" partisanship as each candidate's qualifications and deeds will become more important than his party affiliation.

In turn, this will lead parties to seek the best candidates who can stand up to individual scrutiny by the electorate, and make parties do a better job of keeping the public informed, they say.

Opponents claim that this form of ballot will not end straight-ticket voting while it will hurt voting by making the procedure more complex.

Party affiliation would still be shown on the ballot, so straight party voting would still be possible. But, because voters have to vote many times instead of once, voting would be more complicated and difficult, they say.

In turn, opponents claim, this would mean more time for voting per voter, more confusion, more mistakes and fewer total votes, particularly for lower-echelon offices.

They also claim that this style of ballot favors "name-candidates," while it destroys the strength, purpose and responsibility of the major political parties.

County Proposition
One county proposition calls for the freezing of the division of the county's 15 mill tax rate at specific levels between the county, townships and schools.

The breakdown would divide the millage as follows: county, 4.2 mills; township, 1.65 mills, Intermediate School District, 15 mills, and school districts, nine mills. Total, 15 mills.

Those in favor of this proposition, and school boards in the county have come out for it, believe that this freeze will help them in their planning, particularly when drawing up future budgets and gearing future actions to these budgets.

Opponents to the plan claim that it will lead to some of the tax-dependent organizations running out of money and having to appeal to the voters for more, while other units have money to spare.

As matters stand now, annually the tax allocation board divides millage according to need.

WHY NOT THE WHOLE TRUTH IN GRAHAM CASE

To the electors of Tuscola County:

In the article which appeared in the October 22, 1964 issue of the Tuscola County Advertiser entitled "The Truth About Graham" we have a group that call themselves the Citizens Committee. How this title was conferred on them is not known but they are no doubt the group who over the past two and one half years have made several desperate attempts to destroy a man who we have twice elected to serve us. This group is not satisfied to accept the decision of the Michigan State House of Representatives, a body of 110 persons elected by the people of every section of Michigan, who are delegated by the Constitution of Michigan the sole authority to decide when a judge is to be removed from office.

In the Constitution of the State of Michigan it states in Article 1 sec. 15 that "No person shall be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy."

Judge Graham asked the people of Tuscola Co. to reserve their judgment until this case could be heard by the proper authority, and due process of the law could be carried out. When the testimony was all taken Judge Graham was cleared by the Michigan State House of Representatives by an overwhelming majority of 105 to 3 with 2 members not voting. Now we have a group who are approaching the people through the medium of the newspaper and asking the voters to disregard the findings of 110 members of the Michigan House of Representatives and also to disregard the Constitution of the State of Michigan.

In presenting the facts we wonder why this Citizen's Committee doesn't want to bring out that the judge had a guardian serving the court who was speculating with the court ward's funds and even went so far as to tell the judge that the money was in the bank when she had invested it in stock unknown to the court.

That the judge was called by phone from the Attorney General's office by the guardian to come to her house so that she could talk over any investments that would be possible.

That she was asked by the Judge to come to his office but she said that her employment prevented her from coming to Caro.

Judge Graham alarmed as the Guardian only had a three thousand dollar bond when she should have had a bond of $24,000.00 had reason to be concerned when he realized that he had a guardian who had not complied with the law.

That this guardian admitted that she lied to Judge Graham and that she had invested the money that she had led Judge Graham to believe was in the bank.

That the alleged evidence was obtained by a concealed tape recorder in the guardian's home.

That the guardian testified before the Supreme Court that Judge Graham placed her under no pressure or obligation to loan him any money.

That there was nothing secret about the interviews with the guardian. Judge Graham was interviewed by Supreme Court Administrator, Meredith Doyle and upon questioning was given the facts. Mr. Doyle complimented the Judge on his honesty and that he knew the Judge was telling the truth as tapes had been taken of the interviews with the guardian.

That the Citizens Committee stated that for eleven months no administrator was appointed to take charge of money brought in by a man. If they will check the probate records they will find that the court did not receive a petition to probate this estate for eleven months and that the court can only act on a petition from an interested party. That upon receiving the petition the estate was administered in the legal time of less than a year.

That the attorney for the administrator of this estate was C. Bates Willis now opposing Judge Graham, who appeared at the Judge's office and stated that he could be in more trouble over this estate than the Judge as he had money in his trust account that had not been distributed to the heirs in the amount of $166.29.

That this estate had been closed several months and that the court assumed that the money turned over to the attorney for the estate had all been distributed to the heirs.

The Michigan State House of Representatives left no room for doubt when they acquitted Judge Graham of any charges against him by a vote of 105 to 3 in his favor. If there was any doubt in their minds, this vote could not have been such by a body of nearly equal Democrats and Republicans, lawyers and non-lawyers. Rep. Henry Hogan of Birmingham, an attorney in the House of Representatives said that the incident left him "embarrassed by my profession." Graham, he said was twice victimized, once when the state police secretly recorded his negotiations with a guardian of an estate, and again when the state Supreme Court pushed for his ouster. He said evidence indicated the Judge was a victim of "criminal entrapment."

We in Tuscola County have witnessed perhaps the most vicious organized attempt to destroy a man and his family in the history of the State of Michigan. Judge Graham has very quietly and successfully defended himself of the charges and now we have a committee that would try to make us believe that if we elect Judge Graham to the office of Probate Judge for another term that he would not be permitted to act. Where do they think this is — Russia? If there is any chance of this we had better find it out in this election and then take steps to correct it.

The people of this State and County should be aware that this could be a possible attempt by the legal profession to captivate the position of Probate Judge for their own gain.

Let us as citizens vote for a man who has been scrutinized in a manner which few of our public officials would care to be. A man who still holds his position and is a proven and eligible candidate for the Tuscola County Probate Court.

We urge you to be as unanimous for Graham as the Michigan State House of Representatives.

COMMITTEE TO RE-ELECT JUDGE HENDERSON GRAHAM

"Unless the people through unified action, arise and take charge of their Government they will find that their Government has taken charge of them. Independence and Liberty will be gone and the general public will find itself in a condition of servitude to an aggregation of organized and selfish ambitions."

JOINT STATEMENT,
 ALFRED E. SMITH
 CALVIN COOLIDGE

To clear any rumors that if re-elected Judge Graham will not be able to act, let me state that in my opinion there is no legal power that can legally prevent an elected public official from serving once the people have by their constitutional right elected him.

THOMAS R. McALLISTER
 Attorney For
 Probate Judge Henderson Graham

They Need Help — — — Now

These two prized fish—the northern pike (top) and muskellunge—are having population problems in Michigan as a result of increased angling pressure and shortcomings in their reproduction. That's why the Conservation Department is recommending a longer closed season on muskies and pike, spanning the spring season when they spawn in concentrations where they can be easily over-fished. Department plans are also aimed at giving muskies better protection by raising the minimum 30-inch size limit on these fish, and by introducing a catch quota of two per day. Department fisheries men have gotten together with Ontario conservation personnel to work out more uniform regulations for these and other species which are caught in waters fished by Michigan and Canadian anglers. Their joint efforts will be reflected in proposed fishing changes which come before the Conservation Commission during its Oct. 15-16 meeting in East Tawas.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

All Education Candidates Qualified for State Post

One of the reasons that Ballot A will seem so long to voters as they scan it Tuesday in the polling booth is that there are 16 candidates running for eight jobs on the brand new State Board of Education.

Ballot A is the big ballot, the one with all the national, state and county partisan candidates on it.

The new education board was created by the new Michigan

WALBRO

At the same time he supervised Walbro's original equipment manufacturer (OEM) sales program.

Ralph Witt of Bay City was named to the staff of the John R. Parts organization as office and warehouse supervisor.

He is an accountant and has operated a Chrysler dealership and a Mopar Parts warehouse among his enterprises.

James Stankevich will assume the duties of vice-president of sales promotion while John Racette retains his position as vice-president of sales, both with the John R. Company.

Both these men came into Walbro by way of the John R. Company.

Donald Arndt, vice-president of engineering, has been named the head of the OEM sales to small engine industries, on carburetion and on plastic products such as fuel tanks, air filters and gas caps.

Neil M. Harry, vice-president of sales, will take over the direction of OEM sales in the area of autotube electric fuel pumps.

William C. Eberline has been appointed as OEM sales manager of the electric autotube division.

He leaves his post as chief engineer for fuel pumps to take over his new position.

Alton O'Connor has been named to replace Eberline as chief engineer of electric fuel pumps. Formerly he took part in the research and development in the electric pump sections.

The promotions were announced by Floyd R. Stevenson, executive vice-president of Walbro.

UNICEF Goblins To Seek Treats

Cass City residents will be called upon twice this week for "trick or treat."

On Saturday, as all signs indicate, village children will flock along the blocks in their annual search for Halloween goodies.

However, two nights before that, they will be rapping on residents' doors in search of another kind of treat.

This treat is for the benefit of millions of needy children throughout the world.

Sponsored by the Cass City Church Council, the children will canvass the village in the annual United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) drive.

You'll be able to spot UNICEF goblins because they will be wearing identification tags to show who they are.

And, instead of bottomless, black and orange "Trick-or-Treat" bags, they will hold out milk cartons, hopeful of getting a coin or two.

The canvassers all will be children in the second through sixth grades. They will start their rounds at 6 p.m. Thursday. The coins they receive will go to provide medicine, food and care for needy children in many lands.

Guess Who

Recognize this fuzzy little fellow? That long bill and wide-eyed look are two good clues to his identity. Here's another hint. Come this fall, he'll drive small game hunters to distraction with his aerial acrobatics. Because this bird sticks pretty much to brushy lowlands, he has come by the nickname of timber doodle. If you haven't guessed already, our tiny friend is a woodcock. He'll grow up to be one of the trickiest game targets that ever dashed through the air.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

SCHOOL ELECTION

The voting for Congress and for the State Legislature was Democrat all the way. The GOP failed to capture one state administrative office in the school poll, other than governor.

In the county, the incumbent Sheriff and County Clerk retained their offices by close margins while Democrats were elected as county treasurer, register of deeds, drain commissioner and coroners.

The school election was, of course, all in play. But as political analysts have long pointed out, youth usually follow in the political footsteps of their fathers.

The school election was conducted under the direction of Robert Stickle, teacher of civics and government, and Dale Sherman, history teacher at the High School.

Order of the Eastern Star, Saturday, Oct. 24, at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Hall. Preceding the installation, dinner for officers and their families was served at the New Gordon Hotel with 40 persons attending.

The meeting was opened by the outgoing Worthy Matron and Patron, Betty and Gerald Stilson.
Following the presentation of the American Flag, those present sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The chaplain led the group in the Lord's Prayer. The Bible was presented at the altar by Jamey Seals, son of the new Worthy Matron and Patron.
Robby Seals placed his mother's symbol, the Praying Hands, in the East.

During the recess to prepare for installation a vocal selection,
"How Great Thou Art" was presented by Mrs. Hoffman. After receiving the badge of her office, Worthy Matron Ruth Seals was escorted to the East by her son, Robby. The two passed through an arch of flowers formed by her officers. The flowers, white roses, were then presented to the new worthy matron.
At this time Mrs. Hoffman sang
"Whither Thou Goest." Jamey
Seals escorted his father, Worthy Patron James Seals, to the East.

mony. Keith Murphy was unable to attend.

Following the installation ceremony Past Matron Betty Murphy presented Past Matron and Patri-pin to Betty and Gerald Stilson.
Worthy Matron Ruth Seals also presented Mrs. Stilson with a gift from her officers.

Refreshments were served by Past Matron Mildred McConkey and her committee. The tea table was highlighted by a centerpiece of white carnations and ivy flanked by green candles in crystal candelabra. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Robert Shirley and Mrs. Clayton TenEyck, mother and aunt of the newly installed Worthy Matron, and Mrs.
Dean Toner of Echo Chapter.
Mrs. Shirley and Mrs. TenEyck are members of the Queen of the

A Sinner Was Held Sunday

By Dave Kraft

The Saginaw News had a faux pas in one of its fillers a week or so ago that really broke me up. It dealt with Custer's cavalry and their horses. I won't go into detail because it isn't suitable for a family paper like the Chronicle.

I'd like to say that this prompted me to action and I got busy collecting Chronicle bloopers that are never seen because of the alertness of our proof readers.

I'd like to say that, I can't. As a matter of fact, I was sitting here, crying into my typewriter ribbon about not having any material when Mrs. Stan Guinther, Cass City's answer to that greatest of all proofreaders, Estoin Shurdut, slapped down an envelope with these "almost" bloopers.

From a sports story: "The Crosswell-Lexington Pioneers soundly trounced the Hawks 31-13. The lass of Alvin Evans and the injuries of Bill Tuckey and Jack Clara were a decided handicap to the Hawks Friday."

I believe this came from a Scout story: "Fourteen members and two gusts met at the log home."

I think we'd better start auditing the council meetings if this is what's going on: "Pres. Rabindeau presented the recommendations of a hating firm."

"A sinner was held Sunday."

Seems like the best time.

"A gown fashioned of Chantilly lace with a tired skirt." Something old, something new . . . they say.

You know how some meetings are very unpleasant? Well how about this. "The next district association meeting will be held Nov. 1."

This fellow was certainly no George Washington because he "came to Novesta township where he has lied until his death."

From another obituary: "He leaves . . . one bother, Clem. . ."

Probably why he left. I hope when I go I can make as funny a parting remark.

Politics is a funny game. It got even funnier, at least for me, Monday when I chased down Elly Peterson's touring van to ask if they had her picture for an ad.

I spotted her van going the opposite way through Cass City, undoubtedly on the way to Bad Axe. By the time I got turned around they were a considerable distance ahead.

Breaking several speed limits, I caught up with the van and as I passed them, I noticed at least three people . . . maybe four, in it.

I got about a half mile ahead of them and got out to flag them down. Standing there, hair askew, tie askew, baggy pantsed, I must have presented a formidable picture.

Because when the driver stopped, there wasn't anybody in the van but him. Least nobody I could see.

I grabbed the door and bent my thumb out of shape trying to open it. Locked tighter than Aunt Lucy's garter.

The side vent was open and I asked the highly nervous driver if he had a picture of Elly. While he was mumbling some remark, followed by a nervous laugh, another man materialized out of the woodwork and said he'd check.

I was handed . . . or almost handed . . . a too large picture which I bent out of shape because I had to reach clear into the van through the vent to get it. Obviously the driver wasn't going to get too close to somebody on the lunatic fringe.

I asked for a smaller picture and suddenly, standing in the center of the van was Elly Peterson. She explained that she didn't have a small picture but she'd send me one. I told her that I had one coming but thought I'd save time by getting one from her . . . all this through the window vent.

Have you ever tried to talk to someone through a window vent. In the first place, in a van, it puts your listener above you which tends to intimidate you. Secondly, you have to jump up and down every half sentence to yell into the vent.

By the time I got done, I was just as nervous as the driver. I mumbled a thank you and they drove off leaving me standing, completely rejected, by the side of the road.

About all I could figure is that they thought I was a minor Lee Harvey Oswald intent on practicing on a lesser official before going on to the big time.

Frankly, if I were to do any practicing on a lesser official, I've got one at home that'll do nicely.

Some people work and strain and fight to win a long sought prize while others, looking for the same prize, trip over their shoelaces and fall right on top of it.

Like coin collectors, say. Take Fred Auten the other day. His brother, Chuck, is a dedicated coin collector. As a matter of fact, he's a dedicated collector of all types of money.

Fred, on the other hand, is a devil-may-care, throw-caution-to-the-wind flamboyant individual.

Now, as I said, Chuck is a dedicated coin collector who sorts coins until his eye-balls cross and his vision blurs. But as far as I know, he has never found anything really big. I mean REALLY big.

The other day Fred took home a few coins from the bank . . . Cass City State Bank, that is . . . and found an extremely rare 1942 over a 1.

That is, the "2" was engraved over the "1" and only a few were printed. Wholesale value is $90.00!

Do you know what I'd do if I found a dime worth $90.00? I'd go right out and buy a cup of coffee to celebrate . . . and pay for it with the wrong dime.

A dime worth $90.00 . . . what'll they think of next?

You know, I think we've got out of the moonshine business just in time.

A news release from the Internal Revenue Service states that the department's Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division seized 6,837 stills at 4,750 distilleries during the 1964 fiscal year.

The mash capacity of these distilleries was 4,238,311. Now that's what I call making moonshine. Kinda makes a one still man feel sort of insignificant.

With all this seizing going on, it would have been just a matter of time till we got seized and frankly, I wouldn't have gone down alone.

Agricultural Census Underway

All farmers in the county will need this year's business records to help answer questions on a form, scheduled for mailing in early November, to start the nationwide Census of Agriculture, Alfred Ballweg, county extension director, reports.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years by the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the US Department of Commerce, in years ending in "4" and "9". It provides information of vital importance about the nation's agricultural resources and production. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, number of persons living on farms, acreage and harvest of crops, a livestock and poultry inventory and information on farm equipment and facilities and on income and some production expenditures.

St. Pancratius to Hold Parish Mission

Rev. Edward Whitley, C. S. P., of the Paulist Fathers, will conduct the morning masses and evening services of a week-long parish mission at St. Pancratius Church.

The mission will run from Nov. 1 through Nov. 6 with morning masses being held at 6:30 and 8 a. m. and evening services at 8 p. m.

Whitley was educated at Harvard and the Catholic University of America.

He has served as vice-president of St. Peter's College and he also has conducted missions and retreats with the east and west coast mission bands of the Paulist Fathers.

He is now serving with the Paulist Fathers Mission House in Detroit and conducts missions throughout this area.

temporary employment.

Shortly after Nov. 1, the Census Bureau will open stage two by mailing out census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county. Farm operators will then have a period of time to consult their records (or best estimates for the year) and answer the questions on the forms.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires. The enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions the farmers may not have been able to answer. Enumerator visits, which will take about three weeks to complete, will start in Michigan Nov. 9.

The world's leading acoustical experts made the test.

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

Prior to the introduction of the 1965 Fords, the country's leading automotive writers drove the new models at Dearborn. Most of these experts remarked about the extraordinary quietness and smoothness of the Ford ride. An automotive writer, in Mechanix Illustrated, said, "If there is a quieter car made in this country, I haven't driven it."

Quiet Means Quality . . . Since quiet is a traditional measure of car quality, Ford engineers designed the '65 Ford for maximum quietness. To illustrate this quality achievement, Ford chose to make a documented test against the world's finest luxury car—Rolls-Royce.

Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., world's leading acoustic consultants to government and industry, conducted the tests under supervision of the authoritative United States Auto Club. All cars were tuned to factory specifications.

The Result . . . The Fords proved to be slightly quieter at all speeds.

The official test report reads, in part: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces."

The Difference . . . The sound level difference, to be sure, is small—but it is there. At 60 miles an hour, Ford was actually 2.8 decibels* quieter than Rolls-Royce. At 40, Ford was 5.5 decibels* quieter. At 20, Ford was 4.9 decibels* quieter. However small these advantages over Rolls-Royce may be, they are significant evidence of quality—important to anyone buying a car in Ford's class.

Take A Test Drive . . . A key—and a warm welcome—await you at your Ford Dealer's. The key, incidentally, fits in the lock no matter which side is up—symbolic of the hundreds of advances you'll find in any Ford you road-test. Come in and see for yourself.

*Decibels are the universally recognized units for measuring the volume of sound.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellows at the country store Saturday night was getting a little on edge now that the political campaigns was in the home stretch. As they say in diplomat circles, the "atmosphere was tense," and you could get a argument on anything here or in the hereafter.

For instant, Ed Doolittle, that is a loud shouting Republican and a soft praying Baptist, claimed he was winning both ways. He allowed as how Goldwater and the Republicans was out in front and the Baptists was gradual taking over the country.

Clem Webster, that is supporting Johnson, offered to compromise. He said he was willing to concede the Baptists was beginning to outnumber the English sparrow. Any church, claimed Clem, that had plenty of parking space like the Baptists and preachers knowled for the shortness of their sermon was bound to get ahead. In fact, allowed Clem, he was thinking about shifting over to the Baptist himself. But he wouldn't budge a inch on the President's race. He was of the opinion Johnson was headed for the coral with Goldwater limping behind like a calf half sick with the tick fever.

Zeke Grubb, that votes both ways, depending on how farm prices was on election day, announced he was leaning a little on the Democrat side. Zeke reported he had saw in the papers where turnip greens was bringing 60 cent a bunch in Chicago. Anytime, predicted Zeke, that turnip greens gets in the upper bracket, prosperity has arrived.

Personal, Mister Editor, I don't think the price of things has got nothing to do with prosperity. Turnip greens can go to $1.50 a small and we still ain't getting no place until the Government quits wasting so much money. I was just reading in the papers where they was installing 365 clocks in a new $18.5 million Federal building in Memphis. This reporter figured they had about one clock for ever 2 Government workers in the building. He said he visited one office with 5 workers and they had 8 clocks. And the way the Government operates, they ain't no hope of ever making the biscuits and molasses come out even. It probable takes 4 Civil Service employees to keep all them clocks set right and running. Then they got to make out reports in duplicates of six or somepun about once a week and them typers in Washington has to file 'em in cabinets that costs money and they has to be stored in warehouses that costs money and round and round it goes. And ever year we git deeper in debt. If somebody would run our national budget through one of them computer contraptions that predicts the outcome of events, it would rattle the thing to pieces.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Armstead From Ubyl Completes Course

Pvt. Lee F. Armstead, 18, son of Mrs. Margaret Armstead, of 4580 Queen Street, Ubyl, has graduated from an army specialist course at Fort Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Armstead, who joined the Army last June, completed an eight-week specialist course in personnel administration at the army's armored center on Oct. 17. He received training in the use of business machines and in facts of the army's personnel management program during the course. He is a 1964 graduate of Ubyl high school.

Most of the disappointments in life come to people who expect more than they deserve.

The price you pay for experience is negligible—it's the knowledge you gain that counts.

THE BRIGHTER SIDE

Thirty-five cents of every dollar spent for beverage alcohol goes into wages for employees. They in turn spend it in the community for groceries, clothing, drugs, medical and dental care, gasoline and oil, home payments, rent and taxes, church contributions, charity, etc. You can add over four million dollars per year to the economy of Tuscola County.

BOOK REVIEW

Send Me Many Like Venetian Affair

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

Public note to Mrs. Little: You may send as many books to me that meet the high standards of entertainment in "The Venetian Affair" by Helen MacInnes as you would like. End of note. This book is large but one does not get the feeling that the plot has deliberately been made wordy so as to be a long novel. Rather, you receive the impression that the author wrings excess verbiage out of her novel, like a housewife wrings excess moisture out of a kitchen sponge. There is motion here, and cleverness.

It has never been concealed from you that I like detective stories and their first cousins, spy thrillers. It is in this last classification that this novel falls. Bill Fenner is called back into the espionage agency of our government, where he was a well-trained agent. Now a feature writer for a New York paper, he has already planned a European vacation. All he is asked to do is to take an envelope to a contact in Paris. The envelope is devoid of marking of any sort, and appears to contain about three pages of material.

On the plane to Europe, Fenner becomes aware that he is watched, presumably by unfriendly agents. Quite by accident Fenner picks up the wrong coat at Orly airport, and discovers a large sum of money sewn into the lining. He calls the US embassy in Paris - and gradually becomes involved in a case once more.

Just to add an extra twist, Fenner's ex-wife is part of the enemy "apparatus." Known as Sandra Fane, her marriage to Fenner was little longer than the period of their honeymoon. An espionage agent for Russia since before her marriage, she is about to be sent to Moscow, and having no illusions as to what will happen there, she decides to leave the Russian spy system while she is in Venice. In naming two men to represent the UN in her escape, she names her former husband as one of them.

Claire Connor is assigned to help Fenner on this mission and eventually they fall in love. She is very observant and is well-trained herself. Character actors all add much to the telling of this tale. The conclusion, of course, sees the enemies captured and the 'good guys' all safe, with Fenner and Claire in each other's arms.

If I traced the lives of any more agents in the story, I would take much more room than this review is allotted. But, if you like this type of story, you will surely enjoy this one. I had to put this book aside for a day or two twice while I was reading it and yet was able to pick up right where I left off; in other words, it is a well-written and engaging novel.

THE VENETIAN AFFAIR by Helen MacInnes, Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., New York, 1963; available from the Elkland Township and Cass City Public Library.

State Income Tax May Win Next Time

By Elmer E. White
Local Income Taxes

No firm indication has been given whether Michigan's Legislature will be asked to seriously consider a state income tax program in 1965.

Any such program considered at a future date, however, likely will be more complicated than previous income tax proposals because a number of cities have now entered this area of revenue raising.

No less than 12 communities are collecting, have enacted or are considering the levy of a tax on personal income.

Experience in two of these cities indicated opposition to an income tax may not be as strong as some legislators have believed.

In Flint an advisory vote on the income tax gained public approval. Jackson city councilmen found some opposition to their tax proposal, but no organized anti-income tax movement was apparent.

Most of the cities which have considered this tax method offered a trade, basically the same idea the legislators considered in the state fiscal reform programs submitted to them. At the city level, most of the trades involved reduction in property taxes if the income levy was imposed.

Opposition to the local officials' actions was strong in the Detroit area, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Saginaw and Grand Rapids.

Citizens in these communities, with the exception of Detroit which is already collecting its tax, want a referendum on the income tax proposal.

In several areas, suburbs of the core cities are threatening a retaliatory income tax to keep from losing revenue to their urban neighbors.

Writing a state income tax proposal if the governor and lawmakers agree it is necessary will be much more difficult if this full dozen or additional cities are using this form of taxation.

Indeed, some legislators had hoped the state could force cities to rely on property levies and leave income sources to them.

Young Drivers Problem

Bad driving habits might be corrected if they were spotted at the very start of a motorist's experience behind the wheel, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

For this reason the Legislature will be asked again next year to include 16-year-old drivers under the state violation point system.

Under present law, motorist violations are not recorded with the Secretary of State records center until the driver is 17.

Records show that youths in the 16-20 age group are involved in 15 per cent of all fatal accidents in the state, although they make up only 8 per cent of the driving population.

The ban against permanent recording of a 16-year-old's law violations under the motor vehicle code gives these drivers an unfair advantage, contends Hare. "There are instances where these youngsters have run up an astronomical number of infractions while driving," he said. "It gives them an unfair advantage over other youngsters who get their first license after 17 and whose violations are counted against their record."

Traffic safety experts in Hare's office say corrective steps likely would be most effective if taken against 16-year-olds when poor driving habits first are noted.

Add Lakes

Michigan claims the largest number of lakes of any state, but conservation officials hope to add a few to provide better distribution of water recreation facilities.

With its park development program well under way, the Conservation Department this year hopes to concentrate on getting funds to begin a 10-year $10 million effort to provide man-made lakes to accommodate an additional 500,000 fishermen annually.

Original proposals call for the creation of 50 new lakes, most of them in the southern third of the state where the heaviest concentration of population lies.

Earliest plans would put new water facilities in Saginaw, Ionia, Shiawassee, Clinton, Ingham and Eaton counties, where there are few natural lakes suitable for fishing and other water recreation activities.

Man-made lakes are not unknown in Michigan but those which exist have generally been built by private developers for specific landowner groups. Most are designed only as beauty spots or swimming facilities.

Conservation officials feel the heavy population and the fact that two-thirds of all fishing licenses are sold to residents in the lower portion of the state justifies starting the giant lakes plan in this area.

Mrs. Richard Drews Elected AAUW Head

Mrs. Richard W. Drews has been elected president of the newly organized Cass City Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Also elected at the meeting held Oct. 21 in the high school library were Mrs. Lambert Althaver, first vice-president; Miss Gertrude McWebb, second vice-president; Mrs. John Oswald, recording secretary; Mrs. Ben Hobart, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George Murray, treasurer.

In other business, members adopted a set of by-laws to govern the branch, and decided to hold a Christmas tea for college women home on vacation.

The branch announced that it intends to make this tea an annual event in the Cass City social scene.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn.

North Elmwood Extension Meets

Mrs. Ervin Walrod presented a lesson on "Family Fun" at the Wednesday, Oct. 21, afternoon meeting of the North Elmwood Extension Club. The group met at the home of Mrs. Clarence Shantz and six members answered roll call.

Mrs. Neil Marshall was a guest. Mrs. Shantz explained a trading stamp plan for obtaining equipment for the group.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Comment Nov. 12.

COMMITTEE FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH & DEVELOPMENT

TUSCOLA COUNTY

TO THE VOTERS OF TUSCOLA COUNTY

We, the following, a committee for Economic growth and Development, believe that a "No" vote on proposition "F" would be beneficial to Tuscola County for the following reasons.

Beverage alcohol, like tobacco, is not a necessity to sustain life. But the fact is, it is so interwoven into our economy that it is necessary that we as Citizens accept our responsibility of seeing that our communities derive the best benefits from its use.

The social drinking and sale of Beverage Alcohol by a licensed establishment under proper CONTROL and Supervision of a Licensee is a necessary accommodation for TOURIST and RESORT visitors, it would help us have better restaurants and hotel and motel accommodations.

Let's help Tuscola County GROW and PROSPER. Tourist and Resort Visitors will create BUSINESS and WAGES for the benefit of all the people in Tuscola County.
