Chest Goal Reached

Chest reached its $7,000 quota late Tuesday afternoon, prompting General Chairman Willis Campbell to express his "appreciation for all the cooperation in reaching our goal."

Campbell reported that pledges and actual donations have pushed the fund over its quota. The fund may go as much as five per cent over its quota, he speculated, and will surely reach the $7,400 mark

He stated that the local drive is one of the few in the area to reach its quota crest. Two envelopes are out in Elkland township and about four are still to be turned in from Novesta.

He attributed a large part of the success of the drive to sizable raises in industrial contributions and larger general donations.

This is the 15th successful Elkland-Novesta chest drive.

Lions Give $100 For Junior High Football Helmets

A $100 donation to help pay for $325 worth of junior high football helmets was approved by Cass City Lions Monday night at their regular meeting at Martin's Restaurant.

The donation was made in conjunction with a request by junior high coach Robert Stickle at the group's last meeting. Other clubs and businesses are also making contributions.

Buck Lust Up as Hunters Flock

To Woodlands The favorite question among gathering coffee clans these days whether it's at a 6:30 a.m. wake-up conclave or a 3:30 p.m. goofoff break - is, "Hey Sam, have you got your buck?" Which is either followed by a glower and grunt and some poor excuse about the rain or the wind.

Or is answered with a big, boyish grin. And then there are those who don't wait to be asked but come rushing up to you out of nowhere, with a wild look about the eye, crying aloud, "Did you know, Charley got his buck?" And a strange fashion has taken over in the men's world. Fellows are seen walking about booted in flaming red suits. With armaments, yet.

And no one thinks twice about seeking out the sheriff after seeing a fellow take off down the road chasing a car, waving a lever-action 38-40. It's just that his buddies forgot where he took his stand in the woods and left him there. And no one in their right mind walks around woodlots picking posies. For, it's the hunting season and the buck-lust is up. Already, reports of kills are beginning to drift along Main street in some numbers. More are expected before the season ends. Already, first kills have been brought to the Chronicle to be photographed. Deer season opened on a strange note Sunday, with not less than nine Michigan hunters dropping dead with heart attacks, while only one was killed on opening day by a "fellow" hunter. Harold Tubbs, Tuscola County Game Biologist, reports that there are approximately - or were just before opening day Sunday -2000 deer in the county.

Time Out . . .

Recently we ran across a quotation we liked so well that we would like to share it with you. It is from a pamphlet by Dr.

Karl Vogel, "What Is Time?" He writes, "It is not strange that the meaning of time is such a tempting subject for meditation. It is the most intimate of our possessions . . . a thing of imagination but also the relentless regulator of every action of our lives. We know not what it is, yet we blithely say that we lose it, or waste it, or are ahead of it, or we are on it and behind it." Which, we think, just hints at the question, "What is time?" If you

He noted that the best places to hunt will be around the state game areas where the deer are used to the good cover and ample food supply.

Tubbs reported that, in Sanilac County, the Minden City Game area, and the Deford, Tuscola, Vassar and Murphy Lake state game areas in Tuscola county would be good areas to hunt.

Deer are reported to be plentiful but scattered in this county and throughout the state. Cardeer accidents have been increasing as well as increased damage done by deer to crops in the past months. Archers have reported seeing more deer this

But the deer, due to the continued warm weather, have remained scattered and have not herded up or started heading into yarding country, authorities

Tubbs asked that all hunters observe safety precautions and be sure they follow the game laws covering areas in which they are hunting.

He pointed out that the Caro Field Office two miles south of Care on M-24 is open in the mornings during the deer season. He said maps of the game area are available and conservation employees will be available to answer questions at that time.

He also requested that kills be reported so that an accurate study of the hunting season can be made.

FIRE

Concluded from page one. Damage, though severe, was limited to the woodwork and furnishings within the house after this first round.

The second round started at 9 p.m. when neighbors once more called the department. The fire had somehow started up again within the walls of the building.

The second round lasted two and a half hours. When it was over, a quarter of the house had gone up in smoke and flames. The third and final round came at 2 a.m. The department was again called and told the house was burning again.

By the time the department got there with its tanker and pumper, only the walls were standing.

"It was a total loss," said Chief Willy. "We never did determine the cause."

The chief attributed the reason for the continued rekindling of the fire to the structure of the walls.

The game was dominated by two factors. The players had only a half an hour to do what the varsity takes an hour to do. Quarters were held to eight minutes each, rather than the regulation fifteen minutes.

heavy locomotives in their helmets and shoulder pads, chugged in and out of the game.

"Send me in Coach, send me in," came the cry from the bench. At one point, White Coach Bob Stickle was heard to remark to a zealous player, "Look, I'm running this game." There was confusion, too. "Who told you to come out of the game?" asked Black Coach

Bruce Thompson. "He did," said the young, gangly end, pointing vaguely out to the field. "Well get back in."

At one point, a nervous end ran to the sidelines and screamed, "Coach, Coach, I was playing tackle."

"They are improvising," said Harold Guinther, a helping coach. "We've only taught them five basic plays. They are taking it from there.'

In the second half, improvision paid off as the teams settled down to better ball. Receiving the kickoff, the

The fourth period belonged to the Whites as the third did to the Blacks.

Sparked by Swift sweeps by Quarterback Fred Ryan, the Whites moved around Black ends at will and in four long ground gains went for pay dirt. The Whites, too, failed to rush for extra-point.

There, the game ended. "They played well," Stickle sai

'That was a good tackle," he said as a White came out of nowhere to drop a Black back for a good loss with a perfect, around-the-knees tackle.

And, supporting their team, five junior high school cheerleaders lent their voices to the hullabaloo. They didn't know which side they were rooting for. It didn't matter. They sent cheer after cheer up into the forlorn and near-empty stands.

An all around "good show."

Hawks Lose Season Closer with Oscoda

The Cass City Red Hawks, who this year upset "expert" predictions that they would be the conference cellar team, ended their season Friday with a 28-7 loss to

The score, however, like the scores of past Hawk games, doesn't tell the whole story. While beaten, the Hawks broke the Oscoda habit of running up

But for penalties, and the wrong moves at the wrong times - common for inexperienced teams they wouldn't have been beaten so badly.

In fact, the Hawks perhaps might not have been beaten at all. "Perhaps all coaches say it," Coach Oarie Lemanski said, "but when I look back over the season there isn't a game we should have

"Except that we made the mistakes that professionals don't

In Friday's game, ill luck went against the Hawks early. They fumbled on the 10 yard line. Oscoda recovered, pushed down to the three yard line and then sent Pete Bovan over for a TD.

But the Hawks hung in there as they had with supposedly better teams throughout the season. In the second period, after a sustained drive, Quarterback Ed Retherford cleaved through Oscoda's line for seven yards and six points.

Retherford passed to David Schember, half back, for the extra point. With 30 seconds remaining in the first half, Oscoda, standing out some 25 yards from scoring country, faked a Hawk back out of position and connected with a touchdown pass. "Just something that shouldn't have happened," Lemanski said.

In the opening minutes of the second half, the Hawks hurried the kickoff back to the Oscoda goal. There, their offensive was ragged to nothing by a series of penalties in which they ended up going the wrong way. Then, in the next two periods,

Oscoda drives set runners up for five-yard and three-yard TD charges through the line for the victory. Oscoda's Kerry Muntee made every kick for the extra score, to give them the 28 points. When the gun sounded on the 1964 season, the Hawks left the Recreation Park. What he's realfield with a record of four wins, four losses and one tie. "They can be proud of the season," Lemanski said. "I am not ashamed of the record." "At the beginning of the season, we were rated for seventh place, or in competition with Lakers for eighth place." "We played about the roughest schedule for our caliber football that you can ask for. Four of the teams we met (Frankenmuth, Bad Axe, Oscoda and Port Huron Central) were state rated teams."

Some of them were big, some were fast, some were big and fast but the Hawks played them and played well, the Coach said pridefully.

He cited the fine defensive work on the part of the Hawks that held Frankenmuth's "6th in the state" line to a 7-7 tie as the high point of the season.

Lemanski said that he has a good nucleus of experienced players around which to build his team next year.

Of the roster of 26 players, nine seniors will be turning in their maroon and whites for the last time this week.

They are Don Ball, Bob Bliss, Jim Knoblet, Cass Pasieczny, Mel Laming, Ed Retherford, Greg Thompson, Gary Tracy and Larry Groombridge.

This will give the Hawks a hard core of about 14 experienced players around which to build a new offense.

Lemanski said his most difficult task will be to fill the quarterback slot which Retherford vacates and finding somebody to hustle like Knoblet and to hold down his post of middle line

Anyone can be a power for evil, but it takes real character to be a power for good.

"That man is a success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much: who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who leaves the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had."

Calka is seeking the $5,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Donahoe, Route 1, Unionville.

In his suit, filed Tuesday by his attorney, Clinton House, Calka claims that the couple broke a 30-day contract which gave him exclusive right to sell a 158 acre tract of their land in Columbia Township.

Calka claims that the couple broke the terms of the contract by selling the land themselves for $120,000 while terms of the contract were still in effect.

There's a thing called money . . .

It's one man's medium of exchange, another man's poison - or, if you don't like it straight, root of all evil. To us, it's also an indicator of the presence (or absence) of a very important asset for advertisers: WANTEDNESS.

When a man wants a publication enough to pay for it, the chances that he'll read it are bright. When he doesn't, it's anybody's guess. And in our book, anybody's guess as to whether or not your advertising is likely to be seen isn't much to put your money on.

If you, too, believe that money talks, a good place for your advertising is in the newspaper Cass City area people want above all others.

shock to some of you, but I imagine that most of you are aware that January 1, 1965, is "International Take-a-Deep Breath Day."

I ran across this handy bit of information in the Nov. 7 issue of the Publisher's Auxiliary, a trade paper. Here are some more: January 1-31 is "Break-a-Cold"

That's about it except for Nov. 15-Jan. 1 which is "Holidays are Pickle Days" time. The year ends up on Dec. 21 with a very exciting "National Flashlight Battery Inspection

The past few months the Chronicle, because of mechanical or Jim Moore (he'll swear it's front office caused) problems, the Chronicle has been late.

The boys down at the post office have become accustomed to this and it is understandable that our getting out on time last week should throw them into chaos.

Somehow or other the Gagetown and Owendale papers got shunted off to a forgotten corner that got remembered Thursday morning. So I get this call along with the information that I can still make the Gagetown routes at least, if I hurry and haul the papers over.

Now here's where the salt in the wound comes in. When I got there, I found also Caro and Bad Axe papers. I should transport Caro and Bad Axe papers? Not on your tintype!

I did, though, and I'm commenting on it here so the powersthat-be of these two publications will be informed of my selfless act and, with Christmas coming, act accordingly.

I was real proud of the football team at Friday's game. Our touchdown was the fifth made against Oscoda this season and when a team rated to washout makes a touchdown against that kind of a record, it's okay by me.

though. And so is Harry Little. Harry's ambulance suffered the only serious injury of the whole game. Right now, his left front fender is sporting two saucersized dents compliments of Cass City and Oscoda players.

I'm glad the season is over,

Their momentum carried them off the field, onto the track and smack up against Harry's fender. What I'm wondering is how Harry'll explain the accident to his insurance agent.

"Well, you see, I had the ambulance parked on the track near the football field and these two drunken players . . ."

It doesn't pay to gamble . . . does it Lee?

Lee Hartel bet Bill Ewald a car wash that Port Huron would beat Bad Axe. Trouble was, Lee forgot to tell the Bad Axe coach to take a dive.

I heard Bill Kritzman say that the odds were 30-something -toseven, favor of Port Huron. With odds like that, I'd have made Lee wax the car, too.

Govenor Tells Farmers to Police Overproduction

Gov. George Romney said agriculture's greatest need "is for creative, industry-wide efforts to balance supply with demand - to adjust the flow of farm products to market in years of over pro-

In a speech made before 2,000 Michigan farmers at Michigan State University last week, Romney stated that "this is a need which no amount of federal tinkering can meet, short of total, iron control by Washington which is something neither you nor I are willing to see happen."

Speaking before Michigan's largest farm organization at the 45th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau, Romney made his first major address following his re-election.

Some 45 Farm Bureau members from Tuscola County spent either full or part time at the 3-day convention, November 10-12.

The 24 voting delegates from the county participated in discussion and formulating policies from the 125 resolutions.

Among those adopted were a tax reform listing major objectives to insure greater equity of taxation, the farm program and apportionment.

Democrat Strength in Legislature A Surprise

By Elmer, E. White

Michigan Mirror

Michigan Press Association New Organization

Highest hopes of the Democratic Party were surpassed in the Nov. 3 election where legislative races were concerned. All party workers predicted Democrats would gain a majority in the state House of Representatives, but even the highest guesses were far from the 72-38 margin achieved.

Senate hopes were pinned on 17 sure seats for each party with the remaining four anyone's guess. As it turned out, the party which has held such a small minority in the Senate for many years will have a 23-15 edge in the 1965 session.

Strength of President Johnvictory in Michigan accounted for several Democratic gains, but most Capitol observers feel this was not entirely

"Look at those returns closely and you can see a definite balk by the voters in several areas at conservatives," noted a veteran lobbyist who knows the voting patterns well.

In several traditionally Republican strongholds such as Ingham. Jackson and Berrien counties, defeats were handed to long-term lawmakers whose political philosophy put them in the socalled "Old Guard" ranks.

decisive victory by Gov. George Romney despite the Democratic sweep indicated many more voters than ever before were very selective in their ticketsplitting.

Now once again Michigan's government returns to the dilemma which existed for 14 years under Democratic Governors G. Mennen Williams and John Swainson.

Romney, however, will have one advantage over his Democratic predecessors. Although he will be working with a legislative majority of the opposite party, he will have a couple of his team members on the State Administrative Board.

Republican Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken of Traverse City was elected on the joint ticket with Romney and the Governor now has the ability to appoint the State Treasurer, previously an elected post.

Most predictions are that Romney will be able to work better with the Democratic legislators than his predecessors could with the GOP majorities of past years. Part of this theory is based on rday morning with Mrs. Jim the fact that Romney is generally viewed as a moderate or liberal Republican, while the two liberal Democratic governors had to contend with conservative GOP law-Elmer Fuester were Sunday din- makers.

Some difficulty is anticipated legislative-executive exin the Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jackson of change, however, based on personality conflicts and the simple fact that Democrats have so long anticipated the day when they would be the party in power.

Each year Michigan surpasses the last in preparations for the enthusiasts and this year is no exception.

Now State Tourist Council publications list 89 winter sports centers scattered across the state. This is the largest number ever. but expanded facilities and improved equipment and accommodations add even more to the offerings.

One resort will put into operaboast is the first four-passenger chair ski lift in the world. This device has a carrying capacity of 2,400 skiers per hour up the slopes at Boyne Mountain.

Conventional double chair lifts are very plentiful at other areas, as are the more oldfashioned T-bar, J-bar and rope tow conveyances.

Equipment rental and professional instruction are available at many of the 89 resorts and Tourist Council Director William T. McGraw notes that non-skiers can have as much fun as skiers at most areas.

Ice skating, tobogganing and sledding facilities, indoor game rooms and even heated outdoor swimming pools are available at some Michigan winter resorts.

Given normal winter temperatures and snowfall, McGraw said it is anticipated more than 225,-000 sports enthusiasts will be in Michigan this year to spend close to $25 million on various activities, last vear. In early November, highway rising number of winter sports deaths passed the 1,700 mark which was the full year total in 1962. Last year nearly 1,900 persons died in highway crashes. Rain and snow-slicked pavements, the early hours of darkness and the comparatively heavy traffic load during the year-end holiday periods traditionally bring an increase in weekly accidents.

If present indications hold tion this year what its owners true and the death toll rises again this year, Michigan motorists can be assured of a concentrated effort in 1965 to change several state laws and enact new ones to crack down on errant drivers.

Many state officials are convinced stricter laws and law enforcement are the only means of reversing the current trend of carelessness. All the intensive safety campaigns have appeared to be of little use.

Searls Hold Reunion At Washington, D.C.

The Rev. Robert J. Searis and children, Lynn, Leslie and Marsha, flew to Washington, D.C., to attend a family celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of the Rev. J. H. Searls and Mrs. Searls. An earlier public celebration found nearly 500 persons attending an open house reception at Ryland Methodist Church.

The delayed family observance made it possible for Guy Searls to schedule a visit. He represents several news agencies in Hong Kong. In charge of the reunion was Mrs. S. R. Smith, eldest child of the J. H. Searls.

All of the children and grandchildren of the older Searls were present. The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Searls have been Cass City visi-

Developing Human Resources Aim of County Committee

A central guidance committee for Tuscola County's part in "Developing Human Resources" has been formed, Ed E. Schrader of the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service announced Monday, November 9.

"Developing Human Resources" is a statewide discussion program of basic issue relating to people and economic growth in Michigan. The discussions are to be "People, Jobs and Growth," "Education and Training" and "Matching People and Jobs for Growth."

Chairman of the central guidance committee is John Porterfield, WKYO. Other members are: Mrs. Clare Carpenter, Cass City, Farm Bureau; Joe Pape, Caro, teacher; Richard Karelse, Caro, teacher; Mrs. Alf Iversen, Fostoria, 4-H Leader; Mrs. Nina Mc-Comb, Caro, elementary teacher; Patricia McConnell, Caro, secretary Juvenile Department of Probate Court; Mrs. Grover Laurie, Cass City, Home Economics Study Group and homemaker; W. A. Scott, Intermediate Superintendent of Schools; Karl Ochmke, Caro, Michigan Employment Commission; Carl Mayes, Vassar, Elementary and Junior High Principal; Rev. and Mrs. M. H. Willard, Caro, EUB Church; Quentin Howell, Reese, Gilford Township supervisor; Wes Raven, Caro, Detroit Edison Co.; Carl Mantey, Caro, Thumb Laundry; Rev. Wil-

Church, and Alfred Goodall, Cass City, Farm Bureau. Schrader said the central committee's major job is to assist individuals in setting up study-discussion groups. Tuscola County will form about nine such groups, each of about 60 people. This means that some 500 people throughout the county will themselves to learning about and giving their opinions about the major occupational shifts occurring in the county and state and the education and training needed to meet these shifts.

"Developing Human Resources" is sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. Every county in the state is participating.

We can keep you in hot water.

In fact, we guarantee it!

GUARANTEED 3 DETROIT EDISON

An electric water heater is for the people who don't like to run out of hot water. We're so sure you'll like one, we guarantee your satisfactionfor a whole year! What do we mean by satisfaction? Simply this: If you don't get all the hot water you want, when you want it, you get all your money back, including any you may have spent on installation. And it doesn't matter where you bought your electric water heater. The Edison guarantee still applies. No strings attached. Fair enough?

EDISON

P.S. Average-size families with electric water heaters pay only $3.88 a month-a standard rate-for their hot water. How much are you paying?
