Huron County Leads Drive for Area College

Petitions from high school districts in Sanilac, Tuscola and Huron counties asking intermediate school districts to start a study of the feasibility of an area community college are lagging, but the superintendents of the districts say this does not necessarily mean that residents are lukewarm about the project.

Not yet met to take action on the proposition, William Scott, superintendent from Tuscola county, said this week.

In Huron county, the action supporting the study and okaying a share of the proposed cost of $6,000 to $8,000 has come from half of the county's 10 high school districts.

Ballagh's office in Bad Axe have been high school districts of Caseville, Kinde, Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port, Bad Axe and Uby.

Still to be heard from are Port Hope, Port Austin, Harbor Beach, Sebawaing and Owengage.

Tuscola and Sanilac counties are far behind the progress recorded by Huron. In Tuscola county, only Cass City has submitted written authorization for the study. There are nine districts in the county.

In Sanilac county only one school, Brown City, has gone on record in favor of the project. However, Supt. George Leckrone said that two others have already verbally said that the school board has authorized the project.

There are seven districts in Sanilac county.

In Sanilac county the board of supervisors has already gone on record as being unanimously in favor of the community college study.

Scott said that there would be a meeting of the Tri-county School Boards in February and at that time a policy concerning the study would probably be set.

At this time, Scott said, it is impossible to say just how many petitions would be necessary from the combined districts before the study would be launched.

Cases Pile Up In Circuit Court

With no Circuit Court judge on hand for the past few weeks, a backlog of 11 criminal cases greeted Huron County Circuit Court Judge Arthur Bach when he held court in Caro Friday.

Judge Bach is acting judge in the absence of Judge Timothy Quinn who was elected to the Court of Appeals last November.

Albert Lintner Jr. of Cass City was arraigned for writing three checks with insufficient funds in a 10-day period. His trial was adjourned to Friday, Jan. 29.

Lintner wrote the three checks, totaling $20, between June 3-6, all payable to Turner Service Station in Indianfields township.

Richard Shaw of Caro, arraigned for forgery, entered a plea of guilty and was returned to the custody of the sheriff. Presentencing was set for February 26.

Shaw wrote an $85.00 check in Mayville Jan. 4, on the State Savings Bank of Caro account of Merrill Shaw.

Charles T. Leonard of Flint entered a plea of guilty to unlawful driving away of an automobile and presentencing was set for Feb. 26. He drove away a car belonging to Sy Gawne in Vassar on Dec. 24.

Bond of $500 was continued for Raymond Manning of Vassar after he pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed weapon and pre-sentencing investigation was set for Feb. 26. Manning was arrested in Vassar on Dec. 5 with a .32 automatic pistol in his glove compartment.

A Clio man and two Birch Run men pleaded guilty to larceny and arson in connection with two house fires on Dec. 25 and a second man stood mute on similar charges.

William LeBlanc of Clio pleaded guilty to setting fire to an unoccupied farm house in Millington township owned by John Foley and to a vacant house owned by Arthur Baxter in Watertown township. Both places were destroyed. He was charged with larceny.

Pleading guilty to arson in the same case was Herbert Sniff of Birch Run. Also pleading guilty to arson in the Foley fire was Frederick Tune of Birch Run.

Bond for all three men was set at $1,000 and presentencing was set for Feb. 26.

Richard Shears of Clio stood mute on charges that he took part in the Baxter fire plus a second fire in a vacant home in Arbel township Dec. 22. A plea of not guilty was entered and bond was set at $1,000. His trial was adjourned to Jan. 29.

Bond of $500 was set for Joseph Davis of Caro following

Feeding Birds Feeds Economy, Delights Everyone Concerned

From the Editor's Corner

Persons who are a little disturbed about the Cass City basketball teams in recent years should place the blame where it belongs, not with John Oswald or his two predecessors, Wayne Wilson and Irv Claseman.

Veteran followers of the team can remember back to Art Paddy's days (15 years ago) which started a cycle, continued by Claseman, when the Hawks were at the top or very near the top every year.

At this time Cass City's gym was the best in the league and enabled the coaches to set up a training program that produced top talent as compared to the facilities at other schools.

During the peak years the Hawks also received many outstanding stars from Gagetown as the boys started practicing at an early age in the Gagetown gym. When a boy exhibited an unquenchable shooting eye the standard remark around town was "he must be from Gagetown."

But times change. Gagetown decided to join the Owendale district. This was a serious blow, but not the one that strangled winning basketball.

Seven years ago I can recall Claseman saying that unless Cass City develops a program starting in the grades, the glory days of Cass City will soon be over.

Practically every school in the Thumb B now has a program that stretches down into the fifth and sixth grades and continues through junior high.

All of the schools, except Marlette, have facilities that enable the varsity and junior varsity to hold full-length court practices by themselves.

Whether or not the residents of the district want to place this emphasis on the sport is a decision that will be made by the administration and the school board.

But unless they do, there should be no wailing at the school's sports department when losing teams take the floor year after year.

Hugh Marr, Tuscola County Sheriff, presents an annual report of his activities that enables anyone who wants to take the time to read a complete picture of the operations of his department.

It must be among the best available anywhere. It includes a fancy cover, pictures of police activities and a minute breakdown of all calls, costs and jail operations.

It is a good example of an elected official letting the taxpayers know how their money is being spent. Copies of the report are at the jail and can be read by any interested citizen.

dreds of village residents have been forced to accept handouts this winter.

What might be appalling to some is that a number of merchants continue to make money from the hardship of these down-trodden villagers.

The situation has caused some of Cass City's more responsible citizens to comment, "It's for the birds."

And who is to argue with them, especially when the denizens of Cass City's very own poverty pocket turn out to be . . . the birds.

Past becoming a favorite winter pastime bird feeding is not only satisfying to its supporters, it is a big business in Cass City.

Over 4,000 pounds of bird seed was sold in Cass City last year with total sales estimated at close to $1,600, a check with merchants selling bird seed revealed.

An accurate figure on the number of Cass Cityans taking up this fascinating hobby is not available but estimators set the figure at one out of every ten residents.

Typical of these are the George Dillmans.

"I've always fed the birds," comments Dillman, "but never so much as I have since the Evening Grosbeaks began coming around."

Since birds have to consume enough food to replace their own weight each day in the winter, bird feeding is not to be entered into lightly. Once started, the daily routine must be continued until winter is over because the birds come to rely on their daily hand-out.

The single most important thing that you can do for athletics in Cass City is to become interested in the boys and the programs, Oarie Lemanski and John Oswald, coaches at Cass City High School, said Tuesday noon at the regular meeting of the Cass City Rotary Club.

The two men outlined what they thought the club could do to help sports programs in the village.

Lemanski said that it is most important that you become salesmen for sports. Asking a boy why he didn't do so well or complimenting him when he was outstanding soon builds interest, he explained.

If you take an interest in boys participating, they will become more interested in playing, Lemanski feels.

The two coaches also offered several concrete suggestions for help from village residents . . . how adults can help in the high school program.

Lemanski pointed out that clinics sponsored by the club would be invaluable for youngsters. He said that every year the baseball team plays on an inferior diamond.

The community goes all out to give the little leaguers a fine place to play, he said, and I'm all for this, but what happens after they grow too old for this league?

He said that the high school boys play on a field full of gopher holes and every year two or three truck loads of stones are hauled from the playing area.

There should be a wall around the diamond, too, he added. Better facilities increases the interest, he said.

Lemanski said that the football booth was not high enough to enable the films of games to be properly taken or the game announcer to properly see the plays. This could be fixed by one of the clubs, he pointed out.

The daily routine at the Dillmans consists of setting out a mixture of seeds, dry bread, sometimes apples and as a special treat, peanuts.

Mrs. Dillman generally handles the morning feedings. Dillman is the builder of the family, having designed and constructed the five feeders in the back yard.

Dillman's feeder lot is not typical of many in that he has fresh water every day for the birds, kept warm by an electric light bulb which burns all day and is

Lions Give $500 For Cultural Center Project

Cass City Lions approved a $500 donation for the proposed refurbishing of the Cass City Cultural Center Monday night following a report on the building by Mrs. James Bauer.

Mrs. Bauer, Cultural Center Corp. president, gave a history on the building, listed its possible uses and clarified the difference between the building project and the up-coming center.

The $500 will come from proceeds of several past Cass City Lions projects.

Mrs. Bauer was introduced by Harry Little, program chairman.

Also discussed during the short board of directors meeting following the program, was a "Farmers' Friends" night. Members were asked to bring a farmer friend to the meeting. The program will grams are in effect in other schools in the Thumb B Conference, he said.

The other day Caro's seventh graders came over to Cass City and lined 20 boys up to play. At the end of the first quarter the score was 18-1, in favor of Caro.

These boys had training and our boys didn't know what a basketball was for, he said. If we are to compete we must have a program that is the same as other schools in the Conference, he said. The day is over when you can produce representative teams without a thorough knowledge of the game taught when the boys are in the grades, he concluded.

The coaches pointed out that the lack of facilities was a handicap. We have started an intramural league where boys who are not out for varsity sports play every Monday night . . . but, our gym is just too small to start a program for girls which I was recently asked to do, Oswald pointed out when explaining the situation.

Program chairman for the meeting was Kenneth Eisinger.

County Costs To Jump Again

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors wrestled with the budget for 1965 last week and came up with anticipated expenditures that will reach an all-time high and reduce the cash balance now in the county's general fund.

Nearly every major department of county's operation showed an estimated increase in cost with the exception of county drains at large and the road commission.

The increase in the departments shot the anticipated budget to $716,700 as compared to anticipated revenues of $680,000.

If this budget is followed the state will have a deficit for the year of over $36,000, but the county will still be healthy financially as cash on hand starting the current year was a substantial $92,403.10.

Increases in the costs of operations of all county offices is one of the reasons for the sharp jump in expenditures.

However, in two major areas, the road commission and the county drains at large, substantial reductions have been estimated.

From the drains at large $28,194.75 was sliced from the amount expended in 1964 and from the road commission it was estimated that costs would be reduced $38,200.

Public hearing concerning the budget will be held at the court-house Tuesday, Feb. 8.

The committee in charge of preparing the budget includes supervisors J. Arthur Haley, Milton Bedore and Milton Hofmeister.

Probate Officer John Belson, probate officer for Lapeer and Tuscola counties, submitted his report to supervisors. The case load for his department remained relatively unchanged.

In 1964 he had a total of 138 cases under supervision. In the previous year (the first for this department) he had 136 cases under supervision.

Total cost of running the office was $2,849.02. Lapeer and Tuscola counties share the cost.

"We Need Beds" Says Ron Walker, Band Director

Band Director Ronald Walker has invited Cass City area residents to take part in hosting the Tri-County Honors Band by offering overnight quarters for members of the participating bands.

Rehearsals are slated for Saturday, Jan. 30, with the concert to be held the following Sunday. Sleeping facilities for about 80 of the students will be needed and Walker is asking homes with one or two empty beds to help out.

Persons wishing to assist may contact Walker by phoning 872-2069 or 872-2200 for further information.

Belson's salary is paid by the state.

Friend of County It cost the county a net of $9,752.80 to run the friend of the court's office, C. V. Hamilton reported in his annual report.

Biggest items of expense were for Hamilton's salary, $5,200, and clerical help, $3,285.58. Total office expenditures reached $11,454.80 and $1,702.00 was collected and turned over to the general fund.

The department handled a total of $151,877.25 in alimony payments during the year, and was handling 291 active cases involving 629 children at the end of the year.

A total of 456 house calls were made to investigate living conditions and attempt reconciliations.

Graham To Keep Salary

Henderson Graham, former probate judge of Tuscola county, will not have to pay back any of his 1964 salary . . . but he will not collect the amount due him for the remainder of the year following a Supreme Court ruling that he would not be allowed to serve.

This was the decision of the Tuscola County Board of supervisors at their regular January session in Caro last week.

The decision was by no means unanimous. On a motion by Supervisor Ted Kuhnle the board vetoed a motion that called for a check with the prosecutor and, if he reported it was feasible, initiate proceedings to collect the salary paid to Graham.

A roll call vote defeated the motion 12 to 9. Three supervisors were absent.

Supervisor Carson Leach then moved that Graham be paid the remainder of his 1964 salary. This was defeated by a voice vote.

Votes of Thanks The supervisors passed three resolutions of thanks for services for three persons long connected with the county service. Shuford Kirk was praised for his long service on the board of supervisors.

Judge T. C. Quinn was lauded for his work on the circuit court bench and Mrs. Dorothy Craig received official appreciation for her work as court stenographer.

All three have assumed new positions. Quinn was elected to the new Court of Appeals and Kirk was elected representative.

Change Requirements The supervisors changed requirements for clerks and stenographers working for the county. Effective Jan. 1 they will be awarded pay increases for service if they have worked 60 of the last 96 months for the county. These employees will be paid in the top of their respective classifications.

The supervisors also upped the salary of the probate registrar $400 to $5,000 yearly.

Support Motion The supervisors voted to support a resolution by the Lapeer supervisors asking for a $5,000 exemption on all personal property on tax roll based on the state equalized tax valuation.

Supervisor Harold Williams of Lapeer county presented the resolution to the Tuscola board and it will be presented for consideration at the State Association of Supervisors' meeting this week for consideration.

Open County Lake To All-year Fishing

Becroft Lake, a small privately owned lake south of Kingston was named this week as open to hook and line fishing throughout the year.

Support Deadline Close, Says ASC

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office has reminded farmers that the deadlines are drawing close for filing applications for price support on a number of 1964 crops.

An approved application entitles a producer to receive price support through loans or purchases of the commodity by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

Chairman Mike Singer of the ASC County Committee said that January 31 is the official final date, but since January 31 falls on a Sunday, the effective deadline will be February 1. Crops include barley, dry beans, oats, rye, soybeans and wheat. Corn applications may be made until May 31, 1965.

Singer also reminded growers to keep close watch of the condition of commodities under loan now stored on the farm. Condition and quality of the crop will be determining factor in the price producers get if they decide to deliver the crop under the support program at the end of the season.

BULEN TALKS Cars

This is the day and age of space travel, there are many stories about the "little men from Mars" and flying saucers and space ships. The story about the officer of one of these queer-looking ships which landed near Cass City has been "going the rounds".

This small creature, wearing a helmet bristling with antenna, stopped a passing car and excitedly demanded, "Take me to your leader". The motorist, who was, of course, driving a CHEVROLET, drove the little man to BULEN MOTORS! As far as he was concerned, BULEN is the leader! Definitely, CHEVROLET is the leader in its field and no doubt if those little men from Mars want to stay on this planet and really enjoy the good things of life, they will all be driving the new CHEVY. Furthermore, they will all deal with BULEN!

Now, whether any of us wants to go to the moon or any other planet, is a moot question. Certainly, no one who is driving a new CHEVROLET now wants to give it up for space travel. The smooth ride in a new CHEVY II... CORVAIR... CHEVELLE... or CORVETTE is too excitingly wonderful! Space ships are the country's most advanced means of travel, but for the ordinary housewife, business man or college student, there is no better way to get around than in the CHEVY model that suits him or her best!

We can't all be leaders it's true, but we can all drive the leading car, the new CHEVROLET, and all those who live in this area surrounding Cass City can make a deal with BULEN MOTORS at once!! "Take me to your leader is the cry!!"

Retherford Shines But Lakers Brighter

A great effort by Ed Retherford Friday was wasted as the Cass City Red Hawks succumbed to a last half rally by Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port on the Lakers' home floor, 74-67.

Retherford hit for 29 points, 21 in the first half, and snagged 18 rebounds as the Hawks took an early lead only to fade after the intermission to lose the Thumb B Conference game.

Coach John Oswald promised some changes in the line-up before Friday's game with Caro at Cass City. "We've got to do something, but I don't know just what it will be yet," Oswald said Monday.

The Hawks dominated just about all the statistics except the most vital one... the final score. They outbounded the Lakers 54-31 and hit 44 per cent of their shots from the field as compared to 40 per cent for the winners.

But Cass City was guilty of losing the ball 23 times due to errors and this cost them a chance for a victory as the Lakers took 80 shots from the field and Cass City had only 48.

Two Games? Actually, the contest looked like two different games. In the first half, Cass City looked like sure winners and in the last half the team looked like sure losers.

Paced by Retherford who notched 11 points, the Hawks boomed into a first quarter 20-10 lead. They continued the scoring pace in the second period, but the Lakers started to pick up steam also. Cass City posted a 20-19 edge and left the floor at the intermission leading 40-29.

But after that, the Hawks steadily ran out of gas as the Lakers began to become jet propelled.

Featuring balanced scoring the Lakers got back eight of the 11 points in the third quarter as they scored 24 points while Cass City slumped to just 16.

In the crucial final period, the Hawks wilted. They netted only a meager 11 points while the Lakers netted 21 to salt away the victory.

Karpovich Enlists In Air Force

Stephen Charles Karpovich Jr.

Stephen Charles Karpovich Jr. has enlisted for four years in the United States Air Force, it was announced today. He left Jan. 10 for Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., to begin training.

He selected the administrative branch of the service.

Karpovich is a 1963 graduate of Cass City High School and was a sophomore at Michigan State University prior to entering the service.

JV's Lose

The Cass City Junior Varsity was no match for the Laker JV's as they lost a 73-57 decision in the preliminary. Dave Asher provided a bright spot for Hawk fans as he hit 20 points in the losing effort.

The Box Score:

Lakers	FG	FT	TP

The man who lives right sets a good example for others.

Some people think charity should begin in their own homes.

NOW IT BEGINS!—Members of the Cass City Cultural Center Corp. buckled down to the work of planning improvements on the proposed center in their first meeting Wednesday morning at Walbro Corp. Present at the first meeting were, left to right: James Ware, treasurer; Clint House, secretary; Ed Golding, director; Horace Bulen, director; W. E. Walpole, vice-president, and Mrs. James Bauer, president. An auction to secure funds for the project is slated Saturday. (Chronicle photo) turned off at night. The fresh water is a hit with the birds, two squirrels and a neighborhood dog.

Two other treats at Dillman's Delicatessen for Birds are suet balls, offering the fat essential for body heat and a peanut butter and seed mixture which may not sound appetizing to humans but is a bird's delight.

At a previous meeting, the club approved payment of $19.00 for glasses for a Deford girl in conjunction with its sight conservation program.

Russell Schneeberger was a guest.

his arraignment on three counts of driving on a revoked or suspended license in Caro on Dec. 19.

John Trevino of Bay City was given a three-year probation sentence and ordered to pay costs of $100 and restitution of $100. He was charged with the breaking and entering of the Raymond Baert residence in Vassar on Sept. 29.

BANK OFFICERS

Bank are: M. B. Auten, president; C. M. Wallace, vice-president and cashier; F. B. Auten, vice-president; Irene Stafford, assistant cashier; Gertrude Gray, assistant cashier, and Sherry Seeley, bookkeeper.

Directors are: M. B. Auten, C. R. Hunt, C. M. Wallace, F. B. Auten, B. F. Benkelman and C. S. Auten.

In other business by the board it was voted to pay four per cent interest on all savings accounts beginning Jan. 1.

"We feed them just for the fun of watching them," says Dillman. "Them" refers to Grosbeaks, Juncos, blue jays, cardinals, nuthatches, squirrels and "a beautiful crop of sparrows."

Mrs. Dillman estimated that their feed lot uses up between 500 to 600 pounds of bird seed a year. This consists of sunflower seeds and pre-mixed seeds.

The pre-mixed seeds also contain sunflower seeds along with red and white millet, wheat, milo, buckwheat, hulled oats, canary seed, hulled barley and some weed seeds.

The mix can also be purchased in bells with a bonding agent of corn syrup and dextrose.

Although the Dillmans feed on a larger scale than most, bird feed is still big business.

Both of Cass City's elevators, Frutchey Bean Company and Caro Farmer's Co-op, estimated annual bird seed sales at about 1,000 pounds each.

Barney Hoffman, Frutchey Bean manager, commented that "bird feeding has picked up maybe 15 per cent in the last year or so. It's a little slower this year because of the mild winter."

"More people are holding the birds locally and there's more interest. We have many new customers," he concluded.

At IGA Foodliner, Mgr. Harry Lenda stated, "It's really begun to pick up momentum. We average about 400 pounds a season."

Other merchants guessed they average the following amounts during the season: Freiburger's Grocery—250 pounds; Hartwick's Grocery—900 pounds; Ben Franklin—200 pounds, and Erla's Food Center, 500 pounds.

Cass City's bird community has made little comment on the situation, except when residents are late in putting out their feed. The birds continue to flit irresponsibly from feeder to feeder, not giving a tweet about the outcome of the war on poverty.

Three members of the Cass City Chapter of the Future Farmers of America spoke at the annual meeting of the Tuscola County Soil Conservation Service meeting Thursday night in Caro. Speaking were Mark Battel, Jerry Krohn and Bob Milligan.

The boys told of the construction and uses of the soil monolith... a vertical cross section of soil was used to show soil structure, development, composition and other features.

Awards were presented to the top three FFA soils judging teams: Akron-Fairgrove, Reese and Caro.

Dick Ross of Kingston told of a trip to Poland under the student exchange program and explained Polish agriculture.

It was announced that a district meeting is scheduled at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Sebawaing Feb. 21 at 2 p.m. when directors will be named for the Bay City district.

Mrs. Omar Gettel of Pigeon announced that 60 cookbooks have been sold since October and Mrs. Norman Ewald, treasurer, reported a cash balance of $50.76.

Members and guests attended from Cass City, Unionville, Kilmanagh and Linkville. Mrs. Eugene Bock of Cass City became a member of the organization.

The next meeting will be held in April at Kilmanagh.

She told of her work among Muslim women, their customs, their manner of life and need for spiritual enlightenment. While speaking, she demonstrated the wearing of the sari and the Burke.

A short business meeting preceded Miss Canfield's message and was followed by a time of fellowship and refreshments served by Mrs. Max Agar and Mrs. Edith Ward.

An attempt will be made to organize a Cass City Association of Christian Rural Hospitality Council at a meeting Sunday, Jan. 31, at 2 p.m.

According to William B. Lutz, executive director of the area CRHC, the meeting will be held in the former St. Pancratius Church building.

Besides organizing a unit in the community, a discussion of a Cass City foreign student hospitality venture is planned. An attempt is under way to establish units in most major communities in the area. The meeting is open to all member families and other interested persons in the area. It takes sudden poverty or riches to reveal true character.

Tax Accounting
 Internal Revenue act of 1964 came up with a tax cut for 1964 and a second tax cut for 1965. As a further deduction, beyond the tax cuts, the Internal Revenue Act grants 20 tax breaks, some of which may benefit you.

I attended the tax school held by the Internal Revenue and feel this was a great benefit to me, which enables me to pass it on to you.
 I have obtained the services of a person who has had 10 years' office experience, as my assistant.

Here's the Lowdown On Growing Beards

By Dave Kraft

I've just had a terrible experience. My turn signals got stuck on the right signal and I've spent the last three days going around in circles.

It wasn't too bad if I had some place to go in a one-block area but if I had any place else to go, I had to walk.

Speaking of signals, my mom used to tell me about some close calls with my grandfather.

He is an old-time individual (came to America from Norway on a sailing ship) and very single minded about how things should be done.

Other drivers used to get very angry with him because he'd make his arm signals . . . inside the car.

No sense sticking your arm out in all that bad weather.

Here's another typo that nobody sees because of our adept proofreaders.

It's from an accident story: "The driver suffered bruises when he lost control of his car." He was probably speeding.

Arlee I. Harvey, assistant vice-president of Jones Fuel and Heating Company, Aldan, Pa., renewed his mother's (Mrs. Elsie Kolb Brueggeman) subscription to the Chronicle.

Along with a comment on how much pleasure his mother derives from the Chronicle, he extended best wishes to my wife and I, stating that he was "quite sure that by this time he (Kraft) has again become a father."

The letter was written on January 12, and my daughter was born January 11. Arlee is a better guesser than either my wife or I.

My wife says there isn't going to be a next time, but if there is, I'll just drop a line to Arlee and forget all this foolin' around.

My wife was watching television the other day in the hospital and she heard this joke.

"What did the octopus sing to the other octopus?"

"I want to hold your hand . . . hand . . . hand . . . hand . . ."

My wife asked me to thank the staff: cooks, nurses, nurses aides, candy strippers and the whole works, at Cass City Hospital for their fine treatment.

So thanks alot! (I now expect a sizeable reduction in my bill.)

Actually, I was very dissatisfied with the service. They waited on her hand and foot; she laid around doing nothing but watching television and she expects to do the same thing now that she's home.

I wonder if I could sue them for contributing to the delinquency of a wife?

This reminds me of another joke, this time from Woody Allen's appearance on "Hullabaloo" Tuesday night, Jan. 12.

He was telling about a fight he had with his girl friend one night at a restaurant.

"She said I was a baby, she called me immature, and besides that, she wouldn't cut my meat."

Okay, men, this is it. This is what we've been waiting for. This is THE year.

It's 1965 and Cass City is 100 years old and we're going to have a centennial and an integral part of a centennial is growing beards!

This means that I can grow a beard without all the stupid "Beatnik" and "Castro" slurs screamed at me by a bunch of ninnyes who can't grow fuzz in their nasal passages much less on their faces.

And so I am.

And from the looks of things, so are a number of other persons. To list a few: Barney Freiburger, Dale Damm, Duke Turner, the MacDonald brothers down at Bule's, "Doc" Walters, Don Erla, Dick McCollum, Dwaine Peters, Rev. R. E. Betts, Fritz Neitzel and Bill Wallace.

There are probably a number of others I have missed, so if your name isn't here, give me a call.

In connection with these beards, Jim Ware asked me to clarify a few things.

KICKOFF DATE: Monday, April 12. This doesn't mean that you can't start before. It's just an official date.

Contest? There is no contest, as such. Prizes may be awarded for such things as the best beard, or a certain type of beard or the most unusual beard, but that will be determined later.

One thing definitely . . . it is not a contest for the longest beard. The centennial committee and I agree: There's nothing scruffier than a straggly, untrimmed briar patch.

All beard growers may join a Brothers of the Brush chapter for a nominal fee of one dollar, I think.

I don't know what, if anything, will be done to the nongrowers, but I wouldn't care to take a chance.

Beards provide interest, advertise the centennial outside the area and cover up a multitude of sins.

So you women just grin and bear it. And no fair puttin' "Nah" on hubby's face at night while he's asleep.

OES and F&AM Slate Joint Meet

Forty-one persons attended January meeting of Echo chapter OES held Wednesday evening, Jan. 13.

The charter was draped and a short memorial given in memory of Bertha Henry, a past worthy matron of the chapter.

An invitation has been extended to members of Tyler lodge F&AM and their wives to join Eastern Star members at the close of the February meeting when Job's Daughters will present the Lighted Cross ceremony.

Mrs. Vern McConnell, villa chairman, reported sending Christmas cards to the 26 youth and children living at the Villa in Adrian and five cards during the past month to those having birthdays. Villa day was announced for May 23.

The worthy matron, Mrs. James Seals, reviewed recommendations made by the Grand committee chairmen.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting by a committee of men.

Mrs. Jean Dergis of Bad Axe was a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Ashcroft Dies After Long Illness

Funeral services for Mrs. Leo (Phyllis) Ashcroft, 55, Decker, were held Wednesday, Jan. 13, in Kingston following her death Monday, Jan. 11, in Marlette Community Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Ashcroft was born Oct. 23, 1909, and married Leo Ashcroft Dec. 16, 1936, in Detroit.

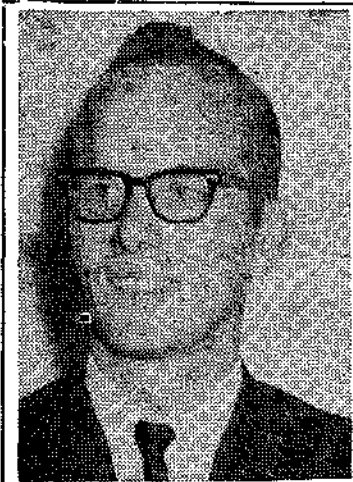

An estimated 250 friends and neighbors attended a dance last September to raise funds for medicine to help Mrs. Ashcroft in her struggle with a cancer ailment, from which she had suffered for the past five years.

She was a member of the Decker Chapter No. 433, OES.

Surviving, besides her husband, are: her father, William Penfold, Wilmet; two sisters, Mrs. Helen Gilliland, Wilmet, and Miss Marion Penfold, Pontiac, and four brothers, Lee Penfold of Kinde, Everett and Dale Penfold, both of Wilmet, and Lyle Penfold of Long Beach, Calif.

Rev. Wilbur Traver officiated and interment was in Novesta Cemetery. Special services by the Decker OES Chapter were held Tuesday, Jan. 12, at the funeral home.

His father's '65 Fordrides quieter than his father's Rolls-Royce

We know it's hard to believe a Ford could ride quieter than the famed Rolls-Royce. But it's a fact. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which three V-8 powered Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, new Galaxie 500/XL and LTD Hardtops) with automatic transmissions rode quieter than a new Rolls-Royce. The tests were certified by the U.S. Auto Club. Of course, the best test of all is to get behind the wheel yourself . . . and listen to a '65 Ford in action.

That's what Chuck's father did. Ford's quietness really impressed him. But it wasn't the quietness alone that sold him. He shopped around and found that Ford offers features and models and quality that simply aren't matched by other cars in its class. For example:

- 100% new body—strongest Ford body ever.
- New frame "tunes out" vibration.
- Decorator-appointed interiors in LTD's, thick nylon carpeting.
- More luggage space than in most competing cars—trunk holds four 2-suiters standing upright with room left over.

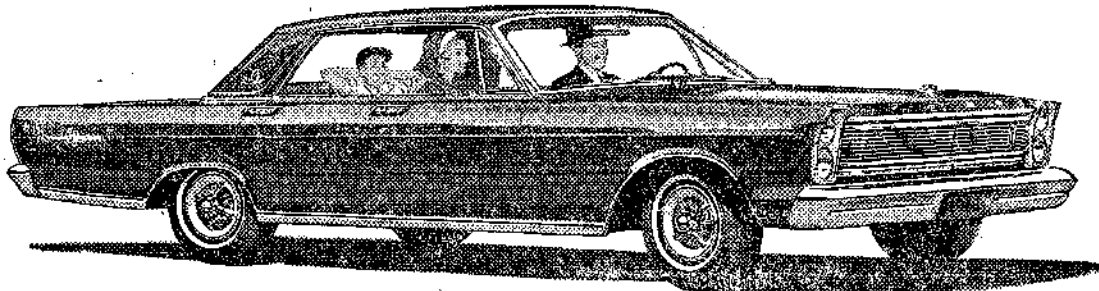

- Thrifty, quiet new Big Six—the biggest Six offered by any car in Ford's class . . . 289-cu. in. V-8 in XL's and LTD's.
- All automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two as in some competing cars—smoother shifting, more economy.
- Silent-Flo ventilation (in 4-door hardtops) provides fresh air in car with all windows shut.
- Handy reversible key works either side up.

There's more . . . much more in a Ford than you'd expect for the money. Visit your Ford Dealer and take a test drive soon.

IT SEEMS TO ME Let's View Church Merger in Depth

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

At the beginning of this new year, I shall start out by looking in depth at the tentative merger between the EUB Church and the Methodist Church which will make news reports concerning this possibly a little more understandable. The need for a new denomination in colonial America became evident in early Pennsylvania, to the many people there who had anticipated, in vain, the arrival of the Methodist circuit riders. Patterning the new denomination, frankly, after the Methodist Church, the United Brethren Church was organized.

Both bodies have since had mergers. The U. B. and the Evangelicals (leading to the name, Evangelical United Brethren Church—thus the E.U.B. for short) and the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church South and the Methodist Protestant Church (plus the language Methodist Churches such as the Swedish Methodist Church) which merged into The Methodist Church in 1939.

The EUB church has 755,000 members compared to 11 million Methodists. The name by which the new denomination would be known, how to proportion the merging churches in the various administrative positions, what to do with the Central Jurisdiction (Negro) of the Methodist Church, are all part of the current problem.

Some leaders of both Churches have come out against the Union, but have attracted few supporters. In the meantime Dr. Paul Washburn, head of the Commission dealing with this for the EUBs, has established a "suggestion box" to handle ideas, complaints and general correspondence concerning the proposed merger. Both denominations are at present also participating in the talks that have captured the imagination of many people: a vast merging of churches which would have most major denominations participating. The Bible's words about "One Lord, One Faith" are easier to quote than to practice, or, so it seems to me.

The United Press carried a story recently of a white pastor who accepted a call to an all-Negro church in Raleigh, N. C. He is the Rev. Frank W. Hutchinson, 34, who will this week assume the pastorate of the Davis St. United Presbyterian Church, composed of 160 members. Mrs. Hutchinson will be the only white member of the church.

The Internal Revenue Service had some interesting comments to make about the 1962 returns recently. Of $7.5 billion listed as charitable contributions in 1962 income tax returns, $4.6 billion went for religious purposes. This covers the returns from nearly 20 million taxpayers who listed their deductions. Broken down into how many persons gave how much, it is a surprisingly small amount. Or, so it seems to me.

One move towards church union is going strong in northern England where three important Anglican dioceses have overwhelmingly approved union with the Methodists! In Liverpool, 216 of 221 church councils approved of such a move; in Bradford 135 clergy were in favor while only 3 voted nay. It's nice to know that other churches in other nations, too, are seizing opportunities to witness to the oneness of Christ's Church. Or, so it seems to me.

SOMETHING TO LAUGH AT:

This story is attributed to Jim Crowley but has gone the rounds. The teller appeared to be bragging of the exploits of his fighting unit in World War II. "Our outfit destroyed six bridges, blew up two ammunition depots, leveled a key military establishment—then we went overseas."

WORK AND SWEAT

The world really does owe every man a living, but it invariably pays the debt on the installment plan.

Deadline Near for Wool Applications

Farmers have until the end of January to file applications for 1964 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act, Mike Singer, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, reminded producers today.

He emphasized that January 31, 1965, is the official final date for accepting payment applications in connection with the marketings of either wool or lambs during 1964. Since Jan. 31 falls on a Sunday, the effective deadline will be February 1, 1965.

The chairman urged that producers submit their applications on completed sales as soon as possible.

Cosmetologists Name Four Delegates

Delegates to the national convention slated in Detroit Feb. 14-16 were named at a meeting of the Thumb Cosmetologists Monday, Jan. 11, at the New Gordon Hotel in Cass City.

Selected were Marion Ellis, Esthey Wright, Yvonne Trent and Ellen Berry.

The meeting was conducted by President Trent. The next meeting will be Feb. 8 and all members are urged to attend to pick up supplies for the National Beauty Salon Week, Feb. 14-20, authorities said.

Holsteins of Area Farmers Lauded

The Holstein cows of two well-known area farms have received official recognition from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Campholm Radar Judy, owned by Dolan Sweeney and Sons of Ubyly has been officially classified "excellent" . . . the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of the organization.

Of over 70,000 registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year, slightly more than one per cent received the coveted rating.

Betheldale Robel Danday, a three-year-old registered Holstein cow owned by the Carpenters of Cass City, produced 13,840 pounds of milk and 551 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

Testing was supervised by Michigan State University.

Open Friday Night Over 20 Years of Quality and Service Open All Day Thursday

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:
The fellers at the county store Saturday night was paying their annual respects to the Internal Revenue boys in Washington. Ed Doolittle had it figured out this department was operating on a sort of sub-lease plan. Ed says they git experts to make up the forms and they fix 'em so's it takes other tax experts to fill 'em out. It's like a doctor running a funeral parlor, claims Ed, the house can't lose.

had saw the new tax forms fer farmers and ranchers and they got 72 questions a feller has got to answer. Zeke said he had saw in the papers where the forms was going to be more "simplified" this year on account of they was fixing 'em so's they would work in them computer contraptions. Zeke allowed as how if they "simplified" 'em about one more year they would write 'em in Greek and put on a 25 per cent penalty fer using the dictionary.

Clem Webster was taking up a little fer the tax boys, claimed all they been doing ever year is closing up more loop holes. Fer instant, he said he had a neighbor onct that returned his horse as a dependant. The tax form fer that year didn't ask the name or kinship of a dependant, just whether they was male or female. This neighbor said the horse was eating his oats, corn and hay and was costing him more'n ary kid he had, so he just listed him in the male column and took the proper deduction.

The feller that runs the store had a encouraging note. He reported he had saw in the papers where the city of New York was aiming to put on a payroll tax and some of our Congressmen was leaning in the direction of a Federal sales tax. He predicted the day was coming when the Governments at all levels would git together and take over everthing, then give ever family 50 acres and a jeep and tell 'em to root hog or die. A good many of the fellers, Mister Editor, was of the opinion that might be the best plan. It would be interesting to git your opinion in this matter.

Josh Clodhopper was hoping things might git better, said he was reading where Secretary McNamara was fixing to cut another billion dollars off the military spending, said matters was gitting top heavy in that department.

Personal, Mister Editor, I ain't got much faith in that direction. I recollect reading when I was a boy that when the United States founded our Navy in 1775 we started with 2 ships and 4 Admirals. By 1885 we had got up to eight ships and nine Admirals. They ain't been a time in our history when the military ain't been top heavy, never will be.

Progress always means change, but don't expect the straight and narrow path to be turned into a four-lane highway.

Traffic Safety Costly, but It's Worth It, Say Experts

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Terrible Problem

Traffic safety is costly in many ways, but most experts agree the investment is worth the dividends. The alternative, no action, is tremendous tragedy.

With a highway death toll over 2,000 in 1964, higher auto insurance premiums bring predictions for continually rising costs.

Related costs are many. One of these is prevention. This is a possibility destined to bring pressure on state government officials in months ahead.

Late in 1964, the Governor's special commission on traffic safety brought forth several recommendations for more strict enforcement of existing laws, new legislation, and research aimed at reducing the annual increase in accidents and deaths on the highways.

The Secretary of State's office is basically the largest single state agency involved in safety-related activities with which the Governor's commission concerned itself.

James M. Hare, administrator of this department, says now that the commission's recommendations which relate to his department would cost about $1.2 million annually.

Largest single expenditure for Hare's department would be an estimated $821,000 to combine the various existing state driver licensing services into a single jurisdiction, presumably the Secretary of State's office.

Additional sums of more than $200,000 would be required, Hare said, for each of two other commission recommendations. These dealt with the use of an electric computer system to aid in the control and improvement of problem drivers, and sending various notices to errant drivers at three stages in the 12-point violation system.

Lesser expenditures, each under $100,000, would be needed annually to implement three other commission recommendations dealing with stricter enforcement of driving laws.

The healthy surplus remaining in the state treasury at the end of the last fiscal year and an even bigger one anticipated this July will mean a mass of requests from all state departments for a share of the pie.

Traffic safety has taken a back seat to other appropriations on a couple occasions in the past few years, but this year real pressure will be on to give this area long-due attention.

The $1.2 million estimated necessary for Hare's department and other amounts for other agencies dealing with the problem will pose a serious question to legislators this year: Which costs more, the multi-faceted costs of a continually rising highway accident-death toll or a full-fledged program to educate Michigan citizens and enforce state laws?

How Much Value?
Dollar value of Michigan's year-round tourist industry has been variously estimated at from several hundred thousand dollars to well over $1 billion, depending largely on how many related expenditures were considered.

By the end of this year, the State Tourist Council hopes to have a relatively accurate and uniform yardstick for all seasons. Through a $78,000 legislative grant to Central Michigan University, a 15-month study is being conducted covering every season and type of tourist activity to determine the amount spent in Michigan on food, lodging and direct recreation by various tourists.

Last fall's deer season for example, resulted in a report that more than $18 million was spent by some 450,000 hunters in 16 days. Based on interviews, the count indicated the average party was about four persons spending 5½ days in the state, each person spending $30 during the period.

Transportation, equipment and license fees were not considered in this study, but rather were viewed as side effects of the deer season.

Tourist Council Director William T. McGraw said his department and the regional associations expect to get new insight from the results of the study. "We are confident the completed study will be of great value," said McGraw. "In some matters it is pioneering new areas which the industry previously has been financially unable to study," he said.

The Last Split
The Johnson-Romney split victory in Michigan's November election came as no surprise to astute history students in the state. Pollsters and most Democratic Party leaders had predicted Gov.

George Romney would be defeated if President Johnson carried the state by 500,000 votes, which he did easily.

The history books, however, leaned in favor of the Johnson-Romney combination. They showed Michigan voters favored a governor and president of the same party only once in the past quarter-century of presidential year hallotings.

That was in 1960 when Democrats John F. Kennedy and John B. Swainson both won. Before that, Michigan voters had not chosen two chief executives of the same party since 1936.

The ticket-splitting tradition among Michigan voters in presidential election years will not repeat itself in the near future, however.

The new Constitution provides for a 4-year term for the Governor starting in the 1966 election. This will put the gubernatorial contest on the ballot only in non-presidential years.

4-H Leaders Offer

Basic Sewing Lesson

Veteran 4-H leaders will offer a cafeteria-type lesson on basic sewing problems to newer 4-H leaders and interested extension homemakers, according to Barbara S. Henriksen, Tuscola county extension agent in home economics, and Ed E. Schrader, Tuscola county extension agent in 4-H club work.

The demonstrations, which will cover collars, belts, zippers, facings, buttonholes and hems, will be held Tuesday, January 26, at 1:00 p.m. in the 4-H building, Caro.

Mrs. Alan Kirk, Mrs. Fred Black, Mrs. Leonard Ruppert, Mrs. Rodney Shannon, Mrs. Claude Bauman and Mrs. Grover Laurie will present demonstrations.

Extension homemakers who are interested in learning to sew are urged to take this lesson and the accessory lesson which will be given for 4-H leaders in February.

A series of three lessons in basic cotton dressmaking will be offered in March.

Plan Banquet to Aid Foreign Missions

A "Tin Can Banquet" is being planned by the Youth Fellowship of Salem EUB Church for Saturday, Jan. 23, to raise money for foreign missions. A meal will be served from tin cans for which the youth and their adult counselors will pay hard cold cash...
