

In Race for Circuit Judge

Forecast Light Primary Vote

All three candidates for the nomination for judge of the Fortieth Judicial Circuit Court (Lapeer and Tuscola counties) are waging last minute drives for votes. The election will be held Monday.

The three candidates are Robert L. Taylor, James P. Churchill and George D. Lutz. Taylor and Lutz are from Lapeer and Churchill is from Vassar.

Lutz is presently working for the government. He is probate judge of Lapeer county, a position that pays $10,000 per year.

Both Taylor and Churchill have extensive private practices. The judge in the 40th district receives a total wage of $16,500 yearly. The State of Michigan pays $12,500 and Lapeer and Tuscola counties augment the salary with payments of $2,000 each.

The men are vying to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. C. Quinn who won election to the newly created Court of Appeals.

The two candidates with the highest number of votes will be nominated and placed on the ballot in the general election April 5.

Both Churchill and Taylor were in Cass City Tuesday seeking votes. They attended a meeting of the Cass City Rotary and spent the afternoon campaigning in the area.

Despite their efforts most voters are viewing the campaign very casually and the prediction is for a light voter turnout Monday.

County Clerk Archie Hicks reminded voters who will be unable to get to the polls Monday that they have until Saturday to secure and return absent voters ballots.

Committee to Define Jobs for County Nurses

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors and the Intermediate School District will seek the best arrangement for handling the services of the county nurse and the school nurse.

A meeting with the two health committees of the supervisors, the chairman of the Intermediate School District, County Health Nurse Mrs. Lucy Miller and Intermediate School Nurse Mrs. Elizabeth Montie will be held to iron out the duties of each nurse.

A representative from the Michigan Public Health Department will be present to advise the group.

The meeting was declared necessary when the Intermediate District hired Mrs. Montie this year. What the supervisors are trying to do is avoid duplication of the two nurses hired in the county.

Currently, Mrs. Miller works with many school children. Two accidents Monday and a third Tuesday jarred the relative quiet of Cass City's traffic scene and resulted in a ticket for a Deford youth.

Accidents Mar Quiet of Village Traffic Scene

Ticketed for reckless driving was Dwayne Pelton, 18, Deford, when he lost control of his car on Church Street, a half block west of Leach, Monday night and slammed into a parked car owned by Lawrence Fortaine of Bay City.

Pelton lost control of his car which spun around, smashing backwards into the parked vehicle.

Turning Crash Earlier Monday, shortly after noon, Bruce Croft, 19, of Flint, attempted to pass on the right.

Concluded on page three.

Car License Sales Zoom in Village

Following a state-wide trend, license plate sales in Cass City are up sharply over the corresponding period last year.

Monday the branch office of the Secretary of State had sold 908 plates. The closest available record from last year was a week later (Feb. 14) when 846 plates were sold.

We are running just about 200 sales ahead of last year, Mrs. Joseph Harbec said. Most authorities credit the spurt to the new plates. After three years the old plates were becoming rusty, dirty and unattractive.

And the average owner just can't abide anything that mars the appearance of his car.

The Council Candidates

Trustees' Race Sparking Primary Election in Village

Fired up by the problems besetting Cass City, voters have shown more than ordinary interest in the village primary election Monday.

Five candidates are seeking the three open posts for trustee seats and it is in this area that most of the community's interest centers.

Barring unexpected slip candidates, Lambert Althaver will be nominated as president and Mrs. Clinton House will receive the nod as clerk and treasurer of the village.

Also to be named will be the assessor and two members to the Elkland Township and Cass City Library Board. They are expected to receive the nomination without trouble.

Running for re-election as assessor is Mac O'Dell. Seeking positions on the library board are Esther McCullough and Avis Benkelman.

Some of the candidates for the trustee posts are veterans on the Cass City political scene while two others are making their first run for office.

Bernard Freiburger The only incumbent seeking a trustee post is Bernard Freiburger. "Barney" was first named to the council in 1963 when he was one of three elected from among five candidates.

Married with three children, he has been a village resident since 1935 and owner of Freiburger Grocery since 1945. Other civic posts he has held include President of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce and the now defunct Community Club.

He also serves on the Elkland Township Fire Department and is a member of the St. Pancratius Usher's Club and Holy Name Society.

An incumbent post that is open belongs to Althaver who vacates the council seat to try for the president's post. Lambert served one term on the council.

Lee Rabideau

Actually, Althaver's election could result in a swap with Lee Rabideau, the current village president.

Rabideau will step down from the top position. He will seek to regain his post on the council.

Before serving two terms as president he served two terms (four years) as trustee. He is the "senior statesman" on the council.

Glen McCullough

One of the two persons seeking their first term on the council is Glen "Scotty" McCullough. He says that he has been asked by a number of residents to seek a seat and felt that it was his duty to do so.

McCullough is a native of Cass City. He is married and his family includes two girls. He is a member of the Cass City Gavel Club and the owner of Mac & Scotty Drug Store.

Warren Wood

Another council veteran back for another try in village affairs is Warren Wood. Wood spent six years on the council previously before resigning. He also has served on the planning commission for four years.

He is also a native of Cass City and recently sold the family drug store in Cass City and now works as a relief druggist.

He has gone on record as believing the present council is very good and would like to support it.

Gladys Albee

The only woman seeking a seat is Mrs. Gladys Albee.

Mrs. Albee, who is the mother of two boys and a girl, says that she believes that everyone should have an interest in local government. Now that my family is grown, she said, I have the time to devote to civic duties.

A resident for 15 years, she says that she is interested in lighting and street programs in the village.

Jerome Root Jr. is retiring from service on the council following four years in office.

Ballots Available

Absentee ballots will be available through Friday at the clerk's office in the Municipal Building for the village primary election. Acting Clerk Mrs. Clinton House reported this week.

The ballots can also be secured by special request on Saturday, the last legal day for returning absent voter ballots.

In Effort to Lure Good Teachers

Competitive Pay Schedule Approved

In an effort to "meet competition," Cass City Board of Education members okayed an improved salary schedule that is expected to cost the district an additional $17,000 to $18,000 next year.

Administrative and non-teaching personnel salaries were also increased about $4,000 for the 1965-66 school year.

Both moves came at Monday's regular board meeting at the Cass City High School.

There was no opposition by the board and the schedule was approved.

A further reason behind the plan, according to Crouse, is to get all teachers on a schedule.

Starting salaries for teachers with B. A. or B. S. degrees, under the new schedule, will go from $4,750 to $5,000. Starting salary for M. A. degree teachers will be $5,300.

Superintendent Donald Crouse, who presented the proposal, commented that the increase is "quite a jump, but a look around the area reveals it is not so."

"Other area schools begin at $4,900 to $5,100. Bad Axe for example, starts at $5,100."

"We have to remain in competition with schools of the area if we are to run a first class school," he concluded.

Board President Horace Bulen, in commenting on the schedule, asked, "Is there anyone who thinks we can operate a first class school without meeting the competition?" "Most of the people are not on the schedule we now have," he stated.

In the proposed schedule, he wrote: "The Cass City Board of Education will make every effort to get all teaching employees on the new schedule as rapidly as possible."

"For the 1965-66 school year, teaching personnel will be raised $200. Teachers entitled to an increment will receive their increment in addition to the $200. The top of the schedule will be raised from $6,200 to $6,400 on the Bachelor's level and from $6,500 to $6,700 for the Master's."

Executive Session Administrative and non-teaching salaries were hiked at an executive session following the regular meeting.

Administrative increases are as follows: principal, $150; elementary principal, $250; vice-principal, $250, and guidance counselor, $400.

Athletic director was raised from $100 to $250 a year. Bus drivers were raised $5.00 per month.

Other increases included $100 a year for full time custodians and five cents an hour for part time. Secretarial increases ranged from five cents an hour to $190 a year.

Adult Education Also in the executive session, adult education teacher salary was raised from $3.00 to $4.00 a session. In making the raise, it was pointed out that similar teachers at Caro and Bad Axe make up to $7.50 a class.

In other business in the executive session, Donald Reid was appointed to a committee which will act on the Intermediate School district budget Feb. 18, in Caro, and a liability policy to cover accidents at school and for school sponsored activities was purchased from Harris-Hampshire Insurance Agency.

Bus Policy Earlier in the regular meeting, the board approved a new bus policy in accordance with a Department of Public Instruction request.

The new policy provides that bus use be restricted to educational activities which are part of the school program or are sanctioned by the Department of Public Instruction.

The board agreed to pay tuition, book fees and transportation of elementary teachers wishing to enroll in "modern math" classes scheduled in the area next year.

The course would not apply on the salary schedule. It was considered advisable by the board that some teachers have background in modern math inasmuch as such a program is an eventuality for Cass City.

First New School Plan Due

Plans for Cass City's proposed new high school are slated to be ready for Board of Education scrutiny within two weeks, Supt. Donald Crouse reported to the Board Monday night.

Crouse and Arthur Holmberg, principal, met with architects recently and gave a brief outline of what types of rooms would be needed.

The first drawings will contain these suggestions. After board alterations, the plans will go back for additional drafting.

The first drawings will also be presented at a community-wide meeting.

Crouse told the board that he would like to present the new school proposal to the voters in May.

Based on the district's nearly $20 million evaluation, the estimated $1,600,000 cost of the new school would call for a 4.75 mill levy, Crouse reported.

The figure is based on an interest rate of four per cent on the bonds, according to Crouse.

Juniors Launch Annual Sale Drive

Orion Cardew announced this week that the annual Junior Class sale for class funds starts Thursday.

As usual, the students will offer all types of magazines and Chronicle subscriptions to everyone in the area.

Sheriff Seeks Phone Thieves

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department is on the lookout for the petty thieves who are breaking into pay phones in the county and stealing money.

We've had phone thefts occur in Kingston, Akron and Fairgrove, Sheriff Hugh Marr said.

Sheriff's deputies almost ran down the thieves this week at Kingston. We could tell by the tracks that they had left the phone area not more than 10 minutes before we arrived, the officers reported.

PARTNERS IN PROGRESS—Richard Erla, left, and Cliff Ferguson shake hands in front of the former Tusco Products building which they recently purchased. The pair have formed the "Cass City Industrial Building Company" and will lease the building out for warehousing or will develop the building for industrial use. Erla stated there are three or four potential industrial customers asking partial use of the available 63,500 square-foot building, but the company is holding out for a single renter. ## School, PTA to Buy Equipment For Deford

New playground equipment will greet Deford School youngsters this spring when warmer weather permits implementation of a new monkey bar set and a bicycle rack.

The two pieces of equipment were approved for purchase in a joint project between the Deford Parent-Teacher Association and the Cass City Board of Education.

Mrs. Ken Churchill, playground committee, Deford PTA, appeared before the Cass City board Monday night with a request that the board purchase the monkey bars.

In return, the Deford PTA would agree to purchase the bicycle racks.

In explaining the request, she reported that the school currently has three sets of swings, an antiquated merry-go-round and a slide, all serving over 200 children.

In other business, the Board agreed to let the PTA use the Deford cafeteria for a Michigan Milk Producers Association luncheon if the PTA pays cooks and custodial fees.

In the past, token payments were given to the cooks and use of the facilities were free because proceeds were used for school activities and projects.

Although use of the proceeds will still be for school projects, a new policy has been instituted and the board contended that the cooks and custodial fees must be paid.

It was suggested that the price of the dinner be raised 25 cents to offset the extra cost.

Local Development Corporation Sets Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Cass City Development Corporation will be held at the Cass City Municipal Building Tuesday at 8 p. m.

The terms of two directors, James Gross and Luke Tuckey, expire and the positions will be filled.

Other members of the board are Clifford Croft, Herbert Ludlow, J. V. Riley and Harry Little.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bond and Mr. and Mrs. Barton Hurford of Uby.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of silk faille fashioned with wrist point sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Imported Chantilly lace complemented her empire bodice and modified bell-shaped floor-length skirt which was highlighted by a shoulder train falling to chapel length.

Her crown of pearls and crystals was secured to an imported silk illusion bouffant veil of cascade design and she carried a bouquet of white fugi mums and sweetheart roses on a prayer book.

Wearing identically styled street-length frocks of emerald green with long sleeves and bow neckline were the Misses Karen Ann Bond, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, Judy Armbruster and Irma Gasaway. Matching double-bow headpieces completed their attire and they carried bouquets of bronze mums.

Susan Bond, junior bridesmaid, and Tami Murphy, flower girl, wore dresses of gold velvet and carried bouquets of bronze mums. Michael Murphy was ring bearer.

Robert Hagen served the bridegroom as best man, assisted by Jim McIntyre, Bill Wencel and Gerard Hagen. Seating the guests were Bill Murphy and Bob Damm.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bond chose a beige knit sheath gown with black accessories. Mrs. Hurford, mother of the groom, was dressed in a white metallic sheath with royal blue accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder bouquets of white and yellow pom-pom mums.

A reception at the Ubyl Masonic Hall followed the service.

The bride, a 1961 graduate of Cass City High School and a 1964 graduate of the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing, is now a registered nurse at Hills and Dales Hospital.

The groom graduated from Ubyl High School in 1957 and is a mechanic in Marlette.

For her going-away gown Mrs. Hurford wore a green suit with brown accessories and a white corsage from the center of her bridal bouquet.

Following a week's trip in southern states the young couple will make their home at 6306 W. Main St.

Pre-nuptial showers for the bride were given by Karen and Susan Bond, Janet Murphy, the night shift at Hills and Dales Hospital and Judy Armbruster.

The beauty of it, of course, goes deeper than the things you don't get. There's the other side of the coin—what you do get in their place.

Take the no window post, for example. What you do get is hardtop styling—with curved frameless side windows—in every Corvair closed model.

The transmission and driveline hump you don't get means more foot room. Thanks to Corvair's rear engine, the floor is practically flat.

No radiator—the engine's air-cooled—also means no water, no antifreeze and no hose leaks to worry about. All of which add up to some more important pluses.

Power steering? Power brakes? Corvair needs them like a centipede needs crutches. With most of the engine weight on the rear wheels, the front ones are free to steer easily. And stops are quick and sure—with no nosediving.

No Interest in County Budget

Either everybody's very happy or they just don't care, Archie Hicks, county clerk, reported this week about the annual budget hearing.

We held our hearing as advertised and not one person showed up to discuss or hear the details about the county's proposed expenditures, Hicks explained.

It took a very few minutes to conclude the budget hearing.

Thumb B Conference and one of the 10 top ranked teams in the state.

Playing in the friendly confines of their own gym, the Hawks pulled into an early lead and kept it for most of the game before falling 80-74.

Marlette was never ahead in the game until the closing moments. They edged into a 75-74 advantage with just 2.23 minutes to play.

The old Cass City bugaboo, mistakes, cost Cass City its victory. For three quarters they played virtually errorless ball. But the Red Raiders went into a three-quarter court press to open the final period and Cass City simply could not cope with it.

The Hawks were ahead 70-60 at the end of the third quarter. They made six mistakes in rapid order, and also went stone cold from the field. Marlette pulled to within five points, 70-65, with just a minute and 39 seconds gone in the final stanza.

They continued to chip away at the Hawk margin to finally go into the lead and snatch victory from apparent defeat.

Jim Knoblet played an outstanding game, especially in the first half. He controlled both backboards and was hitting with regularity on short jumpers, drive shots and tip-ins.

Holiness Society in All-day Meet

A potluck dinner will be served. Special singer will be Evangelist Joe Crouse of Wilmore, Ky.

Spurred by his efforts, Cass City broke an eight-all tie with five minutes left in the opening canto to spurt ahead 14-8 a minute later. They held this lead and at the end of the first eight minutes were ahead 25-20.

The margin might have been greater, but Paul Chappel scored three quick goals in the opening minutes for the Raiders to keep them in the game.

The visitors came roaring back in the opening minutes of the second quarter to pull within a point with 3:40 left in the first half.

But the Hawks resisted the challenge to pull back in front 48-42 at the intermission.

Cass City played some of its best ball of the night in the opening two minutes and 11 seconds of the second half. The Hawks pulled ahead by their biggest margin of the evening, 11 points, during this stretch.

The rally was highlighted by some excellent passing by Rick Ruhl and top rebounding by Al Wallace. Cass City maintained the pace to the end of the period, only to fall to Marlette's final charge, already described.

Knoblet hit 28 points, while Wallace netted 19 and Jim Champion, 17, for the Hawks. Sam Patrick gunned in 32 points and Chappel helped with 27 points for the winners.

The Hawks played the entire game, until the closing moments when Wayne Copeland fouled out, with the starting five.

JV's Win
The Hawks gained a measure of revenge in the preliminary game when the Junior Varsity topped the Marlette JV squad 82-54.

The victory was paced by John Maharg with 28 points.

Scott Rehired Despite Objections

County Intermediate School Director William Scott will be issued a new three-year contract over the objections of two members of the five-member board.

Voting in favor of the pact were Arvin Wingert, John Kirk and Irwin Dean. Trying to oust Scott were Maurice Ransford of Caro and Dr. D. E. Rawson of Cass City.

Rawson and Ransford feel that Scott has not carried on the business of the district as well as he should have. They are in favor of a change in the director of the district.

The three men supporting Scott also passed a pact that calls for a raise of a minimum of $750 to a maximum of $1250.

The director currently receives $9,500 yearly.

ONE OF THREE—Cass City fireman Elwyn Helwig, on ladder, turns his head away from smoke billowing out of a window in an electrical wiring fire Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hilborn. Damage in the fire, one of three over the week end, was confined to the unoccupied room. (Chronicle photo)

Barn, House, Car Give Firemen Variety of Fires

Three varied fires kept firemen in Cass City and Gagetown busy over the week end. Included on the fire fighting schedule was a car fire and a house fire in Cass City and a barn fire in Gagetown.

Most serious was the Gagetown fire early Sunday, fought by Gagetown and Owendale firemen at the Clarence Diebel farm, northwest of Gagetown.

Flames, sparked by faulty wiring, destroyed a barn, three pigs, 1100 bushels of oats, seven tons of hay, three tons of straw, a truck and some farm machinery.

Total damage was not estimated.

Saturday afternoon, Cass City firemen confined fire damage to an unoccupied room in the north of a house owned by Alfred Horne and occupied by Mrs. Dorothy Hilborn and family, just north of the Walnut Trailer Park.

Damage estimated at $500 occurred when faulty wiring over the living room set studdings afire.

Friday night a car owned by Henry Flambroz of Bay City, blew an engine soft plug and the resulting friction heat ignited spark plug wires.

Harold Ballagh of Cass City was sitting across the street and noticed the fire. He contacted Robert McArthur, also of Cass City, by Citizen's Band Radio and McArthur notified the fire department. Both men are members of the Northeastern Michigan Citizen's Band Club of Cass City.

Damage was confined to the soft plug and wiring.

People don't really believe in free speech unless they listen while the opposition speaks.

The finished product counts—an ounce of accomplishment is worth tons of good intentions.

VILLAGE ACCIDENTS

Concluded from page one

a car driven by Patrick Kendall, 32, of Cass City, in front of the New Gordon Hotel.

Kendall tried to pull into a parking place and the cars collided.

Stuck Accelerator

An exasperating accelerator on an automobile driven by Betty Lou Watson, 23, of Cass City, stuck as she was backing from the curb Tuesday and after backing a short distance down Main Street, the car struck a second car driven by Morris Brown, 16, of Cass City.

The accident took place in front of the Western Auto Store. No injuries were reported.

"Within a few years," says Aldous Huxley, the literary man whose predictions on so many things from over population to rocket planes have had a remarkable way of coming true, "every city and village in North America may have its medical or dental hypnotist."

There is nothing frightening about the above prediction really, but let's stop to think about the effects of hypnotism if your automobile dealer had that power!! You might buy a car that would fall apart before you drove it home!!

Fortunately, this is a very unlikely situation, but it does point out so clearly that you must be able to trust your automobile dealer. BULEN MOTORS has the good reputation and many years of experience to make you sure you can trust the facts and figures they give you when you are discussing a trade for a new or used car, or when you go in for service.

Perhaps the most important application of hypnotism is in the relief of stress and anxiety through an induced relaxation. BULEN MOTORS can help you without hypnotism to have a more relaxed ride..... just trade your car for one that runs without stress, that you can drive without anxiety!! BULEN MOTORS has just the one for you!!

WHAT THE LAPEER COUNTY PRESS THINKS

From a Good Field, We Pick Taylor for Judge

Lapeer and Tuscola Counties are fortunate in that 3 well qualified men are running for Circuit Judge in the Feb. 15 primary. The 2 top vote getters will settle the issue in an April 5 run-off election. If your favorite doesn't win, don't flee south. The judicial roof won't fall in.

However, whether a trio contains 3 boobs or 3 smarties, there is usually one a little better for a certain job than the other two. This is the case in the Circuit Judge race and that one is Robert Taylor, well known Lapeer attorney. He gets our vote because he'd make the best judge.

Taylor's opponents are James Churchill, a Vassar attorney with roots in Inlay City, and George Lutz, Lapeer County Probate Judge. Both Lutz and Taylor have it over Churchill in experience. Taylor served as prosecutor and so did Lutz before becoming Probate Judge. Churchill has practiced in Vassar since getting his law degree in 1951 but has never before run for public office.

Judge races are always called non-partisan, but this doesn't stop voters from choosing up sides along party lines. Lutz and Taylor have always been Republican with Taylor probably the most active. He served as GOP county chairman and finance chairman. Churchill's affiliations have been Democratic.

The Circuit Judgeship pays $19,000. Election would no doubt mean a loss of income for both Taylor and Churchill. As Circuit Judge, they could not continue private practice. On the other hand, Lutz makes less than $10,000 as Probate Judge and can hardly be blamed for seeking to fatten his paycheck.

At 54, Taylor is some 10 years older than his opponents. He has that much more experience in law, in business — and in living. This added maturity gives Taylor points over Churchill and Lutz, but we do not favor him simply because he has lived longer.

Taylor's years have been productive. As a young man he was a farmer. As a lawyer he has represented industries, labor unions, banks, farm organizations, schools and township governments. As a businessman, he has served as a director of 2 of the county's major corporations, headed an insurance company and owned part of a radio station. Few people in this section of Michigan have had as broad experience and been as successful as Robert Taylor.

In picking Taylor over Lutz we also have a selfish motive. George Lutz has been a fine Probate Judge and wouldn't be easy to replace. We'd like to see him continue his good work for a few more years. He is young and will certainly have other opportunities later to move up in his field. (Ed. Pol. Adv.)

Social Welfare Cost Tuscola County $141,000 Last Year

The Tuscola County Department of Social Welfare presented its annual report to the board of supervisors Monday and revealed that the department cost the county a net of $141,000 in 1964. The total budget for the department was $204,000, but the welfare board is establishing a fund for use in capital expenditures and placed $50,000 in this fund this year. In addition, the department started the year with $13,000 cash on hand. According to the report, direct relief consumed the lion's share of the budget. Of all the money spent from state and local sources 64.9 per cent ($889,480.88) went for direct relief. The social welfare department, including general hospital and county nursing home care, costs a total of $166,-

629.78. Days Decline
For the first time in several years, the number of patients in the nursing home went down, from the previous year. Total patient days in the nursing home went from 43,925 to 43,731. As might be expected, the cost of caring for patients increased from $7.11 to $7.23. However the cost to the county decreased from .96 to .94 per day. This apparent paradox is explained by the fact that more of the patients in the hospital were not on direct relief and helped to cut the county's share of the cost. One area in which costs jumped markedly was for general hospital service. Although total cost of this service was nearly the same as the previous year, the net cost jumped from $26,898.27 to $41,336.24. The difference was some $15,000 less money received in State reimbursements.

Need Centennial Items for Displays

Persons having items which they feel would make suitable antique display items for the upcoming Cass City Area Centennial are asked to contact the Display Committee, according to Mrs. Warren Kelley, committee chairman. The committee will make a card catalog of the items and merchants will check the file for items for their individual displays. "Do not send the items," Mrs. Kelley stressed, "just contact Mrs. Fred Leeson at the Trade Winds or myself at Cass City Floral." Items include old flags, wedding gowns, spinning wheels, button shoes, anything in pottery, all 100 year old antiques or any items used in that era, but not necessarily 100 years old. She explained that while the items will not be covered by special insurance, most merchants have adequate insurance. Information on the items should be turned in as soon as possible. Sometimes the fellow who knocks and runs away lives to become an expert critic. Want ads are newsy, too.

Zinc Die Casting Machine Cast in Role of Money Saver

Zinc die casting is big business these days at Walbro Corp. in Cass City. Big business involving big machines, big molds, big projects and big men. Big machines such as the recently purchased $20,000 die casting unit; big molds weighing as much as 700 pounds; big projects involving thousands of pieces and big men like Lawrence Summers, a nine-year veteran with Walbro, has been operating the machine since it was installed last October. It was his first time on a casting machine and it turned into a big job. "I had a lot of trouble until I learned how to operate the die," he confesses. No Coffee Breaks

It's a long, non-stop job with "no coffee breaks," Summers joked. "When I start in the morning, I don't shut it down until noon." Working with liquid zinc melted in 800-degree pots and searing hot molds, the job is a mildly dangerous one. It's a rare day that Summers doesn't come home with a minor burn on his hand or face from a splash, squirt or contact with the molds. He's well protected by a shop coat, goggles, gloves and the burns remain superficial. Despite these minor hazards, the EMB is immensely more safe than the conventional hydraulically operated caster. Hydraulic casters have an average of 200 gallons of hydraulic oil not five feet away from the melting pots. Rupturing hoses can set off disastrous fires. How does Summers feel about the long hours, and the heat and burns? He answers simply, "I like my job."

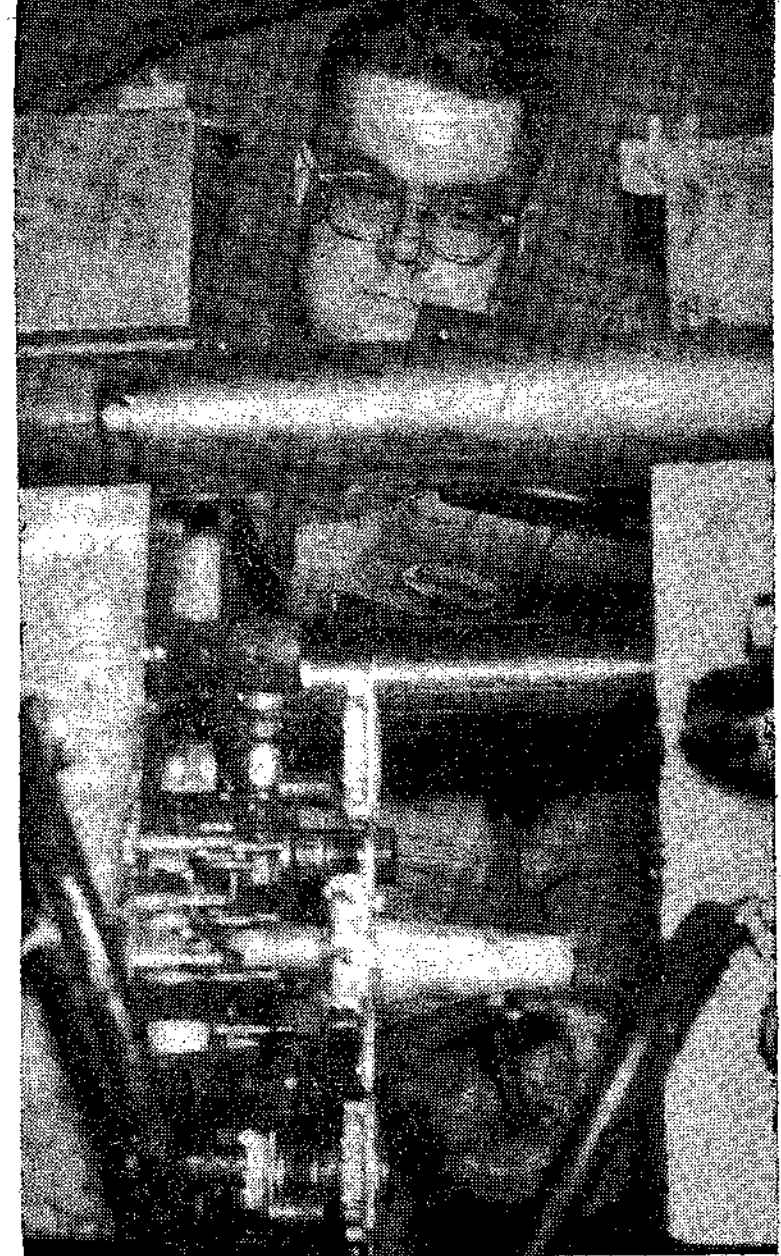

after all the dies are made," says Bacon. "We are currently in a training period and the costs aren't down yet. Perhaps in another year." A second and larger caster is already in the planning for 1966. Both the existing caster and the second machine will be operated off individual compressors which, when joined together, will supply pressure for still a third machine, should one be purchased. "We plan to concentrate on building up the die casting business and branching out. We have sufficient casting to keep two machines going," he concluded.

Grade Absenteeism Zooms Then Ebbs

Flu and bad roads shot absenteeism up in the Cass City Elementary School last week, but by Tuesday the rate had dropped to almost normal, school officials reported this week. Last week an average of about 106 of the 670 grade students missed school. But the rate ebbed to about 50 Tuesday. Although the average absentee rates is about 20 pupils, we don't regard 50 of 670 as too bad, authorities explained.

Chocolate Beginning
The die cast machine, labeled "EMB" (Electro Mechanical Brake) was purchased early last spring by company president W. E. Walpole and Howard Bacon, plant superintendent, climaxing an eight day trip to England. Ordinarily there is little connection between chocolates and zinc casting but the EMB, manufactured in West Bromwich, Eng., has a close tie to the chocolate industry. One of the original founders of the famous Chadbury Chocolate Co. broke away from the parent firm, according to Bacon, and, interested in compression machines, founded EMB Co. Ltd.

Caster in Action
For a simplified version of the die casting in action, let's follow Summers through a single casting. After the machine is sufficiently warmed up, zinc pigs are taken from 3,000-pound pallets and dropped into the melting pots. After they melt, Summers trips a handle and the casting process begins. The mold closes, the melted zinc is injected into the mold cavities, water lines buried in the mold cool the zinc, the mold moves back and Summers extracts the casting with a pair of tongs. The star-shaped casting then goes to a trimmer which takes off the cone-shaped "spew" and the connecting runners which hold the casted parts. Fast and simple. Or in Bacon's words, "It's relatively simple as casting machines go." Capable of turning out 1,000 small castings an hour, the machine, being operated manually, as it is now, is currently turning out about 450 shots an hour. Molds Expensive
Walbro currently has 12 dies and four others are being built. The average die costs $5,000. A carburetor die, now being built, will cost in excess of $12,000, Bacon confided. Coupled with the price of the machine, casting costs appear to career upward. "We expect costs to cut down

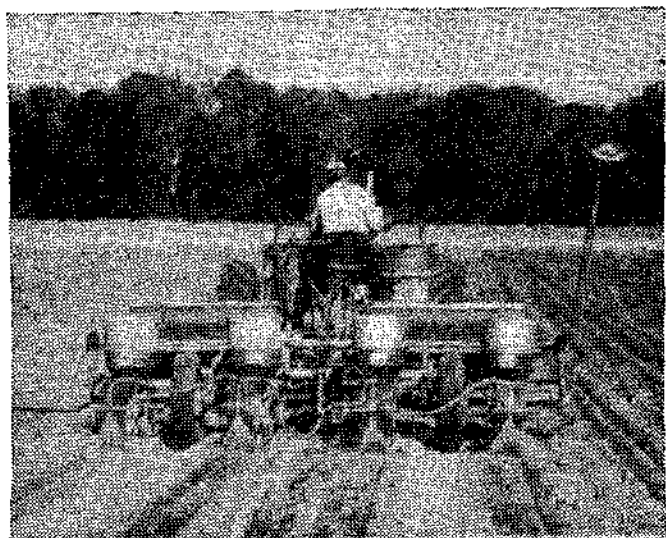

HOT SPOT—Lawrence Summers reaches into one of the hottest spots in town each time he pulls a casting from Walbro Corporation's new zinc die casting machine. Zinc pigs are melted first in 800-degree melting pots and the cast, when pulled out is between 300 and 400 degrees. The light object in the bottom center of the picture is the cast. ## Set Aside $50,000 for Future Wing at County Nursing Home

The Tuscola County Social Welfare Department is eyeing an addition to the Tuscola County Nursing Home sometime within a few years. The department has established a sinking fund that is now in the hands of the board of supervisors. They added $50,000 to this fund this year and hope to do so annually until they have $200,000. Under the present plan this figure will be reached in 1969, the same time that the present facility will be completely paid for. With the sinking fund money, it is the board's feeling that if plans materialize for the addition, any additional funds that would be needed could be secured by asking for a continuation of the present nursing home building tax. In other words, they would have to ask the taxpayers only for the amount that they were currently paying. In a report to the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors, the welfare board pointed out that the problem of finding adequate accommodation for nursing care patients is becoming more severe. The board points out that most of the patients in the nursing home come under the Medical Assistance to the Aged program. Under this program the county receives 90 per cent of the cost of patient care. Director D. W. Peterhans said that most of the cases in private and licensed nursing homes in the county would come under the MAA program and greatly diminish the cost per patient day to the county, if room in the county facility was available. Men who know when to keep still should be credited with having a fine command of language.

2,800 Trout Planted in White Creek in 1964

There were 2,950 trout planted in Tuscola county during 1964 and of the total, all but 100 were planted in White Creek near Deford.

One hundred Brown trout were placed in Goodings Creek near the west edge of the county.

White Creek received 1,100 legal sized Brown trout and 550 legal sized Rainbow trout.

A total of 1,200 sub-legal Browns in White Creek completed the plants.

Discounting natural mortality, the department feels that some of the trout will be available to anglers during the 1965 season.

BPW Hears of Need For New High School

Seventeen members and five guests of the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club met at the New Gordon Hotel Wednesday, Feb. 3, for a 6:30 dinner.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Joan Lindsay, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, Mrs. Jean Dergis, Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn and Donald Crouse.

After the dinner, Mrs. Prieskorn, a member of the Cass City school board, spoke to the group on, "Why We Feel We Need a New School." Superintendent of Schools Donald Crouse told the club what progress has been made by the board of education toward getting a new school in Cass City. The regular monthly business meeting was conducted by the club president, Mrs. Patricia Wagner.

Clear Centennial Publicity First

By Dave Kraft

I was checking the Chronicle morgue of 1940 issues for this week's Memory Lane and I came across an unusual item.

In February, 1940, the then Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, was the featured speaker at a Tri-county Lincoln Day celebration in Cass City.

Now Senate minority leader, I believe, the very theatrical and loquacious Mr. Dirksen is often in the news.

It is interesting to note to what heights and power Mr. Dirksen has risen since his visit to Cass City.

If he can do that after just visiting Cass City, think what the future holds for us who live here.

More and more beards are appearing on Cass City's manhood. Still there is a small knot of resistance from a group who call themselves "WIVES!" which stands for "We Insist Very Emphatically - Shave!"

I think, however, that they are a minority group and by April 14, will have come to their sense.

Remember what the great philosopher Crevis Thornfenster once said: "Centrifious Forcus, Circutitous Locomotus," which means "Somebody in your family is going to have to grow a beard and it might as well be your husband."

I feel sure, also, that beard growing will bring back a now dead language once popular with our forefathers.

This includes such archaic expressions as "Quit mumbling in your beard." Or, "Aw, your father's mustache." And, "Not by the hair of my chinny-chin-chin." Makes you think, don't it?

One thing more, about the centennial. There is a publicity division which is designed to handle all publicity. All publicity is planned or supposed to be planned way ahead.

Therefore, I humbly beseech all division chairmen not to release any publicity or pictures until it has been cleared by your publicity committee.

Premature releases of pictures and publicity can destroy the effectiveness of a proposed special event. Daily newspapers will not generally use repeat pictures and stories on an event and if released too soon, the impact is lost.

Publicity chairmen are Mrs. Arthur Little, newspapers; Bob Benkelman, radio and TV; Ed Doerr, speakers; Jim Champion, distributive, and myself.

We will be only too happy to consult with you.

I dropped into Lloyd Bryant's Gamble Store Friday and let me tell you, that Lloyd really knows how to treat an ad salesman. I no sooner got in the door and I was eating a piece of chocolate cake washed down by a cup of coffee. Actually, it wasn't Lloyd's coffee or cake, it was courtesy of the Wayne Parkers who celebrated their 21st anniversary. Wayne works for Lloyd.

It was plumb delicious. As a matter of fact, it was so good that Wayne was forced to comment, "She's a lot better cook than she was 20 years ago."

Only after 21 years can you get away with a remark like that.

Weather report: "Sun is shinin', no more pinin." How do you southern tourists like them apples.

It's Monday, rained all day yesterday, lots of snow washed away and it looks more like April 8 than Feb. 8.

If this keeps up, I won't care how many persons go to Florida.

Economic Opportunity Commission Meets

The Thumb Area Economic Opportunity Commission met Thursday, Feb. 4, in the Courthouse, Caro, according to Barbara Henrikson, county extension agent in home economics.

Chairman Frank White, Lapeer, called the meeting to order. Don Reddy, Caro attorney, went over the by-laws the group had drawn up at the previous meeting and suggested minor changes.

John Thodis, governor's assistant, brought the group up to date on the program.

They worked out a tentative budget, and discussed the staff that would be necessary. It was decided to hire a director, deputy director and secretary.

Thodis emphasized that the low income families must be involved, and that Washington recognizes groups having the recognition of the local governing body as being representative of that county.

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors has been made aware of the actions of the county group throughout its development.

Letter to Editor

Feb. 5, 1965
Elkton, Mich.

Dear Editor,

This is a letter which should have been written several weeks ago but for one reason or another was delayed.

However, we feel it is never too late to thank a very courteous and friendly young citizen of Cass City whose name we do not know. He was a friend in need after having a flat tire late Christmas afternoon on the outskirts of Cass City. Our spare tire was in the trunk of our car after having a similar mishap on Christmas Eve. With no stations open, I am afraid we would have been in trouble had it not been for this generous young man who came along and loaned us a wheel and tire to get home on. When we returned his wheel and tire the next day he very vehemently refused any money for his kind deed. He is a young high school student, a senior. I believe, in the Cass City school system who lives in the house west of the Bauer Candy Co. We are very grateful to this young man for his kindness.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Phil Walker

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where our State Department has sent two "folk singers" on a tour of them Africa countries. This piece said they was totin' a banjo, two guitars, a flute and a horn. They was traveling by Army helicopter and aimed to make stops in the Congo and all them troubled spots.

I hope Dean Rusk knows what he's doing but when I was a boy we would've called that carrying coals to Newcastle. About all we got in this country today is jungle music that sounds like it come from some place like the Congo, and trying to smuggle it back into the Congo as somepun new is going to be harder than trying to smuggle daylight past a rooster. I was reading the other day, fer instance, where a North Carolina farmer was visiting some of his kinfolks in the city and was attending a "twist" party put on by his niece. After watching 'em twist, turn, wiggle, stoop, dip, and stomp for a spell he took a long draw on his pipe and allowed as how "if that don't bring rain, nothing will." Maybe Dean Rusk figgers they was needing rain in the Congo.

We was discussing these matters at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle said he wasn't particular interested in rain in the Congo at this time. Ed reported he was a little upset by a item he had saw in his latest bulletin from the U.S. Department of Agriculture saying they might have to change the rules and regulations fer dairy farmers. They was always a hassle going on in the milk business. The consumer is afraid he'll get stung and the producer is afraid he'll go broke. Personal, Mister Editor, I quit worrying about cows long ago. At my age all I want out of 'em foin now on is a little milk fer my coffee. This dairy business will shorten a feller's days.

Clem Webster, that's still bragging about that home run Lyndon Johnson hit in November, said he wasn't worrying none

County EOC Group Organized At Caro Meet

The Tuscola County Economic Opportunity Committee met Feb. 1 at the Courthouse, Caro, according to Barbara S. Henrikson, county extension agent in home economics.

Alfred Ballweg, chairman, called the meeting to order. Clifford Sanford reported that the four-county group had incorporated as a nonprofit organization: Thumb Area Economic Opportunity Commission.

Each county is to study problem areas and make recommendations to the commission so that money may be received to combat poverty.

Barbara Henrikson submitted the following study groups which she and Mr. Sanford had prepared: Community Services; Rev. Fr. Pilarski, Mayville, chairman; Rev. William Lutz, Mayville; Robert Abbott, Caro; William Throop, Millington, and Dick Allen, Caro. County and City Government: Beatrice Berry, Clarence Blasius, Lucy Miller, all of Caro; Board of Supervisors representative; Vassar representative; Caro representative; Cass City representative; Harry Rohlf, Akron. Education: Don Crouse, Cass City; William Scott, Caro; Joe Kelly, Vassar; Vernon Henrichs, Caro, and John Porterfield, Caro, chairman. Welfare and Social Aid: Don Peterhans, Caro, chairman; Clifford Sanford, Caro; Iva Jane McGhee, Silverwood, Everett Bellman, Millington. Labor and Industry: Karl Oehmke, Caro, chairman; Robert Russell, Vassar; Ed Erb, Vassar; Evans Products representative; General Cable representative, and Pioneer Sugar representative. Farm and Home: Mrs. John Wentz, Fostoria, chairman; Bruce Ruggles, Kingston; Alfred Goodall, Cass City; Mrs. Loren Ewald, Unionville; Wilbur Kellogg, Caro; George Schian, Caro; Wilson Kirk, Caro, and Harold Tubbs, Caro.

Alfred Ballweg appointed the chairmen of the study groups. The floating population finds it a case of sink or swim to survive on the sea of life.

Enthusiasm helps, but it takes ability to reach the goal.

Halfway Houses Designed to Help Delinquent Youths Adjust

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Better Than None

Halfway houses, a fairly new concept in the social welfare field in Michigan, are already being modified to further meet individual needs.

Two such units designed to help delinquent youth adjust from training school or detention home life back to normal society have been opened in Detroit in the past year. More are planned for the metropolitan area.

State Social Welfare officials say additional facilities such as the 12-bed houses in Detroit are planned for other large communities where the delinquent case load warrants them.

Less populous areas, however, apparently will see the creation of a program whereby youths close to the release stage will be placed in foster-home situations in or near their own towns to make the adjustment under adult guidance. To be operated by husband-wife teams, the new type of houses would hold as many youths as the couple could accommodate or who might need care at a given time.

John Miller, halfway house supervisor for the state, says the establishment of the privately operated units was considered primarily because of the economic factor.

"It's just not economically feasible to lease a house in an area where we might not have 12 boys at a time as guests," he said. "And distance becomes a factor in Northern Michigan. We want to keep the boys as close to home as possible."

School Problems
It may already be too late for Michigan to undertake a master plan for higher education in the form it is being viewed by some study groups. This is the opinion of Dr. John X. Jamrich, associate dean of Michigan State University's College of Education.

One segment of the state's educational community views the so-called "California plan" as the best means of meeting local needs for college facilities. It is with this viewpoint that Jamrich takes issue.

Under the California plan, existing state institutions would be authorized to open branches in communities throughout the state similar to MSU's Oakland branch near Rochester.

The various branches of the state university in California will one day soon seek to establish themselves as autonomous colleges, Jamrich predicts.

For Michigan, he sees the answer to present college facilities problems in the establishment of entirely new colleges and community colleges.

Another possibility, the MSU

BOOK REVIEW Excessively Wordy And Plot Cloudy

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

With the next review, we shall have reviewed for you exactly one-half of the current list of best-sellers as listed in last Sunday's book section. One of the top five we read and then chose not to review. This seemed to this reader a dull book, palmed off on the public as "mature" reading. I have news for the authors: any sociological or psychological case worker encounters more such realism every working day. This was done with no real sense of dramatic import, and was written obviously from the memories of erotic dreams by the authors. This writer bears no grudge against the use of sexual episodes when they fit naturally into the story sequence. I realize that sex is a normal part of life and life cannot be adequately described without at least some reference to sex. But to describe endless sexual scenes, erotic beyond all realism, detracts from the thread of a novelist's tale.

HERZOG, by Saul Bellow, has been on the best-seller list for more than 25 weeks! But please don't ask me why. I found it excessively wordy and the plot deliberately cloudy. Here is the story of one Moses Herzog, Ph.D., sometime professor and author. In the first chapter of the novel, we are introduced to Herzog as he decides to take the train to New England where he has a summer home, purchased when he was first married.

One thing which needs to be kept in mind, if you decide to read this book, is that Herzog is neurotic and the novel is an account of the things that go through the mind of a neurotic. Every relationship he has is examined endlessly as the poor man searches for meaning for himself and his children.

He is one of many children of a failure-father who has tried everything in his search for financial success. The most appealing occupation to me occurred when the old man decided to become a bootlegger in a partnership with a friend, who, it develops was in league with the gang who beats up the old man, driving him to give up even this popular prohibition-age vocation! Somehow, Moses has received a college education, obtaining a Master's Degree and a Doctor's Degree, as well. But he is so neurotic it interferes with his teaching ability. Much of the book is given to a detailed listing of why he feels that his marriage was unsuccessful. He misses his two children whom the court has given to his wife.

As happens so often, he is able to hide the fact of his neurosis, and has several flattering and illegal relationships with women. One of these women, Ramona, is the cause of his trip, and will probably marry him in some future time, not covered by this account.

Near the climax of the book, we see Moses trying to look into his wife's apartment - afraid to face her - and leaving it to a friend to arrange a period of time with his little girl, which ends in a disastrous mess. As always, one of the members of his family bails him out of trouble. The closing scenes of this novel take place at his summer home in New England. A complete nervous breakdown is dangerously near but one of his brothers and Ramona are protectively close and his son is attending a summer camp close by.

The opening sentences of the book might well be printed in italics at the top of every page. "If I am out of my mind, it's all right with me, thought Moses Herzog."

HERZOG by Saul Bellow, The Viking Press, New York, 1964. Available at the Elkland Township and Cass City Library.

Weed Control Clinic Slated in Village

A special weed control clinic for farmers will be held at Cass City High School Thursday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. to discuss the latest techniques and advances in farm production of soybeans.

Sponsored by Amchem Products, Inc., the clinic will focus attention on the most recent developments in the production of soybeans and pay particular attention to advances in weed and grass control achieved with Amiben pre-emergence herbicide.

The schedule of the program will allow for a question and answer period at which an Amchem weed control specialist will focus attention on particular problems in the area. "More 'Jack' From the Bean Stalk," a new 20-minute color film concerning weed control, will be shown after the question and answer period. This motion picture shows how three growers achieved marked increases in their soybean yields under widely differing conditions. The film offers dramatic evidence of the difference between the yields harvested from chemically treated fields and untreated fields. An unusual time-lapse sequence in the film shows how Amiben actually kills weeds in the chemically treated layer of soil. Refreshments will be served.

His '65 Ford rides quieter....than his Rolls-Royce

Tests proved it.* Does this mean Ford now rivals one of the world's most wanted luxury cars? Hardly! But these tests do mean plenty—to you—if you're shopping for a popular-priced car. They prove Ford has outstanding strength, design, quality. Compare Ford, in every way, with everything in its class...

Feel Ford's solid quality

- 100% new body—strongest ever on a Ford.
- New frame "tunes out" vibration.
- New suspension puts a big ultrasoft coil spring at each wheel.

Inspect Ford's luxurious new LTD models

- Decorator interiors, thick nylon carpeting.
- Walnutlike vinyl inserts on doors and instrument panel.
- Rear-seat center arm rests, five ash trays (4-door hardtops), padded instrument panel, and more.

Relax in Ford's spacious interiors

- Swept-back instrument panel, lower transmission hump.

- Trunk holds four 2-suiters standing upright, and more.
- Test Ford's new power
- Big, new 289-cu. in. V-8 standard in XL's and LTD's.
- New Big Six—biggest Six in any car. Test-drive a '65 Ford!

*Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines and automatic transmissions rode quieter than a new Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U.S. Auto Club.

CROFT-CLARA LUMBER

CASS CITY

Agent's Corner

Barbara Henriksen

When the snow piles up, so does the fat. We sit inside with no exercise, or we go out in the crisp air and work up a lumber-jack appetite.

As the needle on the scales keeps creeping higher, we see a calorie as a little monster hiding in every bite of juicy apple pie or dab of butter.

A calorie is really not a monster but a unit of heat, measuring how much energy that food can give us; a heat measurement so we can calculate how much food we need, just as we calculate how much coal our furnace needs.

If we bought more coal than we needed every month, our house would soon be bursting at the seams. It seems silly to think of such a thing.

But lady after lady bursts the seams of her dresses and blames mean old calories.

Fat is nature's way of storing up fuel for times of starvation.

For the first time in the history of man, a nation has gone along without a period of starvation—our nation, the United States. Our unique national problem of overweight has never before been a problem.

Other countries have had periods of wealth, of overabundance, but these have been followed by famine.

We neglected to tell nature that we plan to keep on having wealth, and so she keeps on storing fat for us to use in time of famine.

Now that it is stored, somehow we have to get rid of it. The logical method if you had a houseful of coal would be not to buy any more until this was gone.

But we can't stop getting calories, because our bodies need the vitamins, minerals and building blocks that come in the food.

It's as though coal, electricity, water, paint and soap came in a package deal.

While losing weight, we still have to have the side benefits of food, so we have to keep on eating and get a few calories, the less the better.

Equally important, we have to turn up the thermostat to burn more calories. This is done by adding activities, such as formal exercise, or walking, or sports.

Using this technique, eventually the fuel supply, that too, too solid fat, will disappear.
