Jack Esau will host the event. The program starts at 7 p.m.

Saturday night's observance has been titled, "Do You Remember?" It will feature pictures of people and places connected with the church that are now long forgotten. An unusual feature will be the circuit rider calling the meeting to order in German.

From the Editor's Corner

One of the suggestions made by the State Health Department concerning the dump situation meets with our hearty approval. The department recommends that the land on the present site be leveled, the rats poisoned and the location be turned into a park.
We recommend that the village place such a project as high on its list of things that must be done as it has the procurement of a new dump site.

It seems to us that it's time for a little compromise on the appointment to the village planning commission. One side wants more new people involved in village government, the other wants to keep proven, experienced men at key positions.
Both points have merit... certainly everyone who serves is inexperienced when they start and the only way experience can be gained is by serving.

On the other hand, the village has been well served by James Bauer and would be helped by his continued service.

While the coming appointment is for three years, there is nothing to stop the appointment from being made under a gentlemen's agreement that Bauer would resign after a year's service.

During this last year, the council could look for a replacement to finish the unexpired term from among "new blood."

This way the transition could be made gracefully and, we feel, the best interests of the village served.

Sunday Services

Capping the program will be the Sunday services. The morning worship hour will feature an address by Dr. Newell C. Liesemer, conference superintendent. The senior choir of the church will sing. The service starts at 11 a.m.

The entire Centennial program will be completed with the Sunday afternoon services at 2:30 o'clock.
The featured speaker will be the Rev. Roy Striffler, a native of the Cass City area who will be returning to his home town to participate in the celebration at the church here.

The program was coordinated by the pastor.
Lay leaders of the church are Stanley Kirm Jr. and Donald Buehrly.

The board of trustees includes: Stanley P. Kirm Jr., Maurice Joos, Hugh Connolly, James Mark and Richard Hampshire.
Stewardship and finance is under the direction of Ronald Geiger, Ralph Gauer, Richard Dillman, Donald Loomis and George Dillman.

Gerald Auten is the Sunday school superintendent.

Revenues Up

The steadily increasing valuation of the village has again increased the amount of tax revenues available to the village.

The total tax jumped $2,060.50 from $57,396.30 to $59,456.80. The valuation of the village went from $4,415,100 to $4,573,600.

Announce Time For Grand Parade

Winding up Cass City Area Centennial's week-long observance will be a Grand Parade on Saturday, July 24, according to Ed Golding, parade chairman.

Starting time for the parade, set Monday night at a special meeting at Golding's, will be 1:00 p.m. Golding estimated that the parade should last two hours if participation response is as good as expected.

Golding explained that the time had to be set at this early date so the State Highway Commission could be petitioned for permission to close the Main Street portion of M-81.

Persons expecting to participate in the parade are asked to fill out a parade application form to be returned to the Parades Committee. Forms may be obtained from Ron Geiger at Auten Motors or from Golding.

Assorted Whiskers Highlight Bearded Brothers Meet

Cass City's Cultural Center became a barber's nightmare Thursday evening, April 22, as 150 assorted beards and their wearers gathered for the kick-off of the "Brothers of the Brush" organization.

Following a light weight program featuring details on men's participation in the centennial and a "sing-along," chairmen for "Brothers of the Brush" chapters were signed up and given materials.
Chapter members, numbering up to 25 per chapter, will be given badges and a certificate with pictures for "before" and "after" pictures.

The chapters will be responsible for a variety of centennial activities, including car caravans which will travel to area towns and villages.

Men's centennial fashions were displayed and sold following the program. Men's wear may be purchased from Kritzman's or Ben Franklin.

Centennial officials pointed out that the centennial corporation sets the clothing prices and that any profit derived from the sale of the clothes goes into the centennial fund to defray costs.

Dick Erla was volunteered to lead the singing and with the aid of several assistants culled from the audience, headed three songs. Roger Parrish accompanied.

THESE PIECES OF CLOTHING mark the spot in the corner of a hay mow of an unused barn where the body of Robert MacKay, 55, was discovered Monday by Bernard Spencer of Deford. The discovery of MacKay's body, brought the total of tragic deaths at the tiny farm, a mile south and a mile west of Cass City, to three within the past four years. MacKay's death was attributed to natural causes. Sheriff Hugh Marr, pictured, and Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer investigated.

Robert MacKay Found Dead In River Road Barn Monday

An autopsy performed Tuesday is expected to reveal that Robert MacKay, 55, whose body was discovered Monday in an unused barn southwest of Cass City, died of natural causes. Ben Collon, county coroner, reported Wednesday morning.

MacKay's body was found in a hay mow early Monday afternoon by Bernard Spencer and his wife, as they were removing baled hay from the barn on a farm just recently purchased by Carl Reed on River Road.

MacKay was last seen Feb. 19 by his wife, Evelyn, at their home. He had not been reported missing because he was in the habit of leaving for long periods of time without giving his whereabouts.
Collon attributed death to "acute coronary attack from exposure and other contributing factors."

MacKay had apparently lifted a bale from its place in the mow, lain down in the hollow and after arranging his coat and sweater over his torso and legs, pulled the bale back into place as a covering.

Third Death

It was the third tragic death in four years at the now vacant farm, a mile south and a mile west of Cass City.

Fourteen months ago, Pat Graham, a long-time area resident, killed himself with a self-inflicted shotgun wound. Another resident of the farm, Pat Kelly, was a suicide in the tar-paper covered shack on Oct. 6, 1961.

Services for MacKay will be held today (Thursday) at Little's Funeral Home at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. James Braid, Methodist Church pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Elkland Cemetery with full military rites accorded by the American Legion Tri-county Post No. 507 of Cass City.

Born in Uby, Feb. 16, 1910, he was the son of Mrs. Effie MacKay of Livonia and the late Hector MacKay.

He married Miss Evelyn Kimmel

Honor Milligan For 4-H Endeavors

The Cass City 4-H Livestock club honored one of their leaders Friday evening, April 23, in recognition of 42 years in 4-H.

Retiring after 15 years as leader of the beef division, Jim Milligan was guest of honor at a supper held at the club 4-H Center. Seventy members and parents attended.

Milligan began his 4-H career in 1923 and was one of its first members when the Cass City Livestock club was organized in 1924. He helped to spearhead the club, which has the distinction of being the first to organize in Tuscola County, to now one of the largest in the county.

His well-filled trophy room gives evidence of many honors achieved in swine and beef projects. Champion, showmanship and other awards were prominent throughout his 4-H career. Milligan was secretary.

Townsend Back To Dime Store After 4 Years

Leslie Townsend of Cass City announced this week that he has purchased the variety store in Cass City owned by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dorman.

With the purchase, Townsend returns to the business he owned before selling out four years ago to Bill Hunter of Gagetown.

The Dorman's purchased the business in early December. Townsend already owned the building and was leasing it to the former owners.

and in the state livestock judging and completed project work by winning a scholarship to Michigan State.

Francis DeLong, on behalf of the members, presented him with an inscribed plaque and Bob Carpenter presented Mrs. Milligan with a corsage.

Milligan told 4-H'ers to learn the meaning of Head, Heart and Hand of the 4-H creed because "that is something that will stay with you the rest of your lives." He cited the time Milton Grinnell, editor of the Michigan Farmer, took time to sit down and visit with a farm boy about his 4-H work as an outstanding memory.

He then charged members to do their best, then strive to make their best better.

The group enjoyed a slide illustrated talk by Dick Ross on experiences while in Poland last summer.

Council Seeks Answers To Familiar Problems

Questions that have periodically caught the council's attention for several years again formed the bulk of the business Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of trustees at the Cass City Municipal Building.

One of these is the alley paving program.

How the alley in the eight blocks of the business district are to be paid for continues to hamstring any program.

Tuesday representatives of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce were invited to attend. Representing the group were Don Erla, Lloyd Vyse, Bill Zemke and Tom Proctor.

All of the council agrees that the work should be completed, starting this year with the two blocks on the north side of Main, running west from Seeger street.

But after this the agreement ends. Trustees Dr. D. E. Rawson, Bernard Freiburger, Glen McCullough and Mrs. Gladys Albee feel that the village should pay all of the cost of surfacing the 30-foot roadway and that business property owners should backstop their property to connect with the improved alley.

Fred Auten feels that businessmen should pay a percentage of the cost of the roadway in addition to their own property.

Jim Seals says that he believes that the village should pay for the roadway if it is used only for moving traffic. However, if one-way parking is established he feels that Auten's plan is right.

The upshot of the lengthy discussion was that the alley program be referred to the planning commission for recommendation.

Retirement Program

Another of the periodic problems is the wages or benefits for employees. Under the direction of Auten and McCullough the council is investigating a retirement program and making slow headway.

To establish a program of 10 per cent of current wages payable monthly starting at 65 years old would cost about five per cent.

Wages range from about $1.88 per hour for the village. Starting wages for employees have been pegged at $1.75.

The council instructed the committee to investigate neighboring communities and present alternate plans for discussion.

Sewer Cleaner

Trustees saw a demonstration of a new, improved sewer cleaner that sells for just under $5,000. Even though the machine was offered on terms of three years without interest or carrying charges, the council tabled the matter until the financial picture of the village becomes clearer.

Street Petition

A petition was received for curb and gutter on Maple street from Garfield to M street and placed on

Plan Change In Recreational Park Driveway

The familiar loop drive in the picnic area at the Cass City Recreational Park will disappear this spring and the picnic area will be enlarged.
This decision was reached at the regular meeting of the village council Tuesday night.

The portion of the road that runs past the swimming and wading pools will be closed, broken up, seeded and used as more picnic area.

The council feels that the new arrangement will expand the usefulness of the park and make it safer for children by eliminating the flow of traffic immediately adjacent to the play areas.

A turn-around will still be available at the park by going around the Municipal Building and back via the present south branch of the road.

Summer Program

Dr. D. E. Rawson reported that the search is still under way for a summer recreation director and for other help in the program.

On the recommendation of the park committee the wages of Alvah Hillman were raised from $1.35 to $1.50. A trailer for hauling dirt in the park was also okayed.

IN HONOR of his major fund raising activities in the drive to build Hills and Dales General Hospital, hospital board members requested that this life-size portrait of Meredith B. Auten be hung in the hospital lobby. Looking at the portrait, hung Monday, are Dr. H. T. Donahue, Cass City physician, and Mrs. Ralph Gauer, director of nursing.

Meredith Auten Honored Second Time in Two Weeks

To commemorate the major part he played in the raising of funds for Cass City's $1 million Hills and Dales General Hospital, hospital board members have authorized the hanging of a life-size portrait of Meredith B. Auten in the lobby.

Presented to Auten at a dinner for hospital board members and staff at Sherwood Forest Country Club in Gagetown last week, the picture was unveiled by the artist, Mrs. James Bauer. Hospital administrator Richard Palm made the presentation.

It was the second award for Auten within the past two weeks. Earlier this month, he was named Cass City's "Citizen of the Year" at a Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Auten, born in Caro in 1891, moved to Cass City in 1894. He has been a leader in Cass City civic affairs for all of his adult life, most notably as the major fund raiser for the hospital.

Currently president of the Cass City State Bank, he was an automobile dealer for many years, 17 as a Buick dealer and 50 as a Ford dealer. At other times, he owned a theatre, a service station and a farm implement company.

A 1908 graduate of Cass City High School, he graduated cum laude from Bowdoin College in 1912. He was a first lieutenant in World War I, graduating from Officers Training School at Camp Chester, Mich., with the highest psychological test of the 850 men present.

Always active in village organizations and affairs, he was the first president of the Cass City Rotary Club, village clerk and council member for a number of years and, a 32nd degree Mason, was once worshipful master of the local Masons.

After Bowdoin, he won a scholarship to Harvard in business administration and economics.

file. No action will be taken this year as the street is not in the program scheduled for this summer.

Still Trying

Dr. W. S. Selby, who has been trying to arrange for the sale of village land in back of his house to him for a couple of years, appeared before the council again to see if action could be taken.

Selby has a verbal agreement that the land would be sold to him. The village is checking legal requirements before acting. Selby promised to be back again next month.

Freiburger reported that he had not yet met with township officials concerning the erection of a new fire hall in the former H. O. Paul building on which the village has an option. No further action has been taken.

Continue Bauer Hassle

President Lambert Althaver insists that James Bauer is the right man to appoint to the Cass City Planning Commission and Dr. D. E. Rawson and several other trustees are equally insistent that new people be worked into responsible public offices.

It is almost like the traditional immovable object colliding with the irresistible force and the upshot of the lengthy discussion is that the planning appointments will hang fire for another month.

Meanwhile Lester Ross and Bauer continue to serve until they or successors are appointed.

Althaver says he is sticking by his appointment for several reasons. He said that the village needs all of the experienced help that it can get and that he feels that the appointment of Bauer would be in the best interests of the village.

Rawson pointed out that Bauer has several jobs now and that he had previously wanted to retire from the board. He does not question Bauer's ability. He pointed out that Bauer's health could be of a concern and that he felt new people in government are essential.

Rawson's views were echoed by Glen McCullough and Mrs. Gladys Albee. Ready to endorse the appointment were Fred Auten and Barney Freiburger.

Jim Seals said that he did not know that the appointment was of such concern and that he wanted time to study the situation and the law concerning the appointment before voicing an opinion.

For this reason he made a motion that the matter be tabled for another month. His motion was seconded by Auten after he learned that Bauer would continue to serve until another appointment was made.

It passed without dissent.

Dump Sites Galore

The Michigan Department of Health gave a tentative okay to the suggested property for a new dump southeast of Cass City and ranked it high in desirable features, it was revealed Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Cass City Council at the Municipal Building.

When the report was read everything appeared to be progressing rosy until Bernard Freiburger revealed that he had another offer that looked inviting.

Charles Tuckey offered to lease land on his newly acquired property (formerly Cass City Concrete Products) southwest of Cass City. The topography of the land makes it easy to operate, Freiburger said.

One of the principal objections to this property is that it is offered for lease and not purchase.

The land southeast of Cass City would be owned by the village and operated by the village.

White Advisor

For 4-H Clubs

The Tuscola County 4-H Service Club will have an advisor beginning the first of May.

It was announced at their meeting Thursday evening, April 22, that James White of Caro has accepted sponsorship of the club's meetings and activities.

White is no stranger to the 4-H program. He was a member of a Mayville area club, winning many honors with his 4-H program, one of which was the Key Club award, the highest award given by the county. He also served as president of the club in which he will now sponsor.

Mr. White fills the vacancy created with the resignation of Ed Schrader.

At the monthly meeting of the group at the 4-H building, Alfred Ballweg, Director of Extension, led in discussion of the Service club program for the summer months. It was decided to ask Mrs. John Wenta of Fostoria to again manage the club's stand at the county fair.

Auten Wins Cub Model Car Races

An estimated 50 screaming Cass City Cub Scouts cheered their favorite cars to victory Monday night in a model car derby at the Willis Campbell Elementary School.

Andy Auten was the grand champion after three elimination runs. Charles Tuckey placed second and Scott Hartel, third.

Finalists in the first elimination run, besides the above three, included Kevin Gaffney, Mark McCloy, David Erla, Greg Hampshire, David Hillaker, Kim Fritz, Don Lowe, Ricky Darnam, Russell Ayres, Eddie Stoutenburg, Danny Mellendorf and Eddie Keating.

Two other elimination runs were made before Auten's black "90" swept over the finish line ahead of Tuckey's car.

The model cars were made by the boys, with help from their fathers, from a block of wood and a set of wheels. Cubmaster Clyde Wells built the fast-breaking, three-car race track.

The races wound up a regular Cub Scout meeting at which pins were awarded to the following Scouts: Bob Cat pins—Jerry Toner, Russell Ayres, Don Erla, Randy Lapeer, Dan Mellendorf, Tom Mellendorf, Ed Keating, Ed Stoutenburg and Bruce Tuckey.

Wolf pins went to: Randy Wright, Brian Althaver, Danny Lowe, David Hillaker, Scott Guinther, Craig Helwig, Jerry Toner and Donald Lowe.

Police Car Rammed In Area Accidents

Three accidents involving area persons were investigated this week by deputies of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Two of the accidents involved drivers making improper U-turns. Six persons escaped injury when a car driven by Raymond Alger Root, 24, of Gagetown collided with a vehicle driven by Frank Norbert Smrejak Jr., 21, of Bay City.

Root was driving towards Cass City on M-81 near the Caro Drive-in Theatre when Smrejak attempted a U-turn. Root said he was unable to stop in time to avoid the mishap.

The left front of the car driven by Root and the left rear of the Smrejak vehicle were damaged.

Thursday, cars driven by Milton Gelatt, 51, of Cass City and Norma A. Burroughs, 54, of Unionville collided on Colling road at the Dutcher road intersection in Almer township.

Gelatt reported that he was driving on Colling road, realized that he had gone too far and attempted to make a U-turn to retrace his way to his designation.

While he was turning the Tuscola County Sheriff's car he was driving, it was hit in the side. Gelatt is a deputy of the sheriff's department.

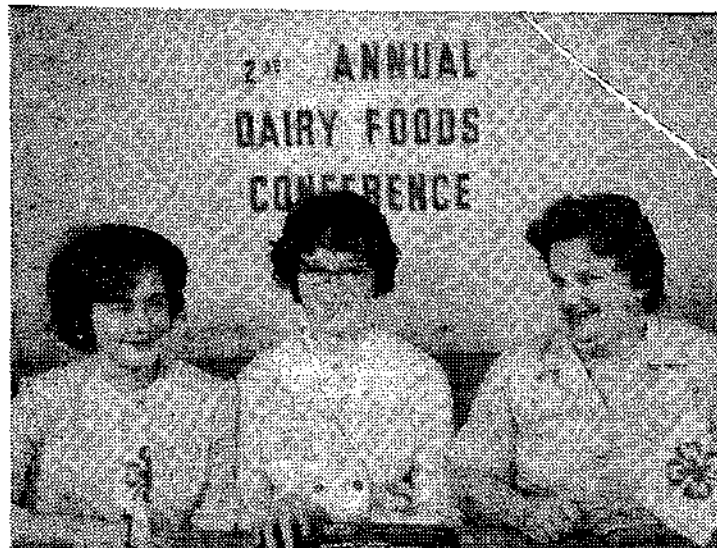

Sheriff Hugh Marr, who investigated, said that Gelatt made an improper turn and Mrs. Burroughs was traveling too close behind the police vehicle.

Deer Accident
Another accident involving a deer was reported Sunday. Michael Zimmerman, 75, of Bay City reported that a deer darted into the side of his car at about 5:30 a.m. as he was driving on Bay City-Forestville road, about a half mile west of Dodge road.

Migrant Missions Meet in Village

Members of the Cass City Council of Churches and representatives from the EUB Church at Owendale were present Tuesday evening, April 20, at a Migrant Missions meeting held in the Cass City Methodist Church. The meeting was called by Keith McConkey, president of the Huron-Tuscola Counties Migrant Missions organization.

It was an opportunity for interested persons to hear instructions in the proposed work for the year from Miss Judy Mantey of Caro and Miss Karen Blakely of Bay Port.

The theme for the year is Adopt A Camp. Cass City workers will minister to a camp of workers near Owendale who are expected to arrive about May 10.

An amount of used clothing for the workers has been collected in local churches. In addition to devotional services and distribution of clothing, such things as recreation, cook-outs, etc. are planned for them.

Area cochairmen are Mrs. Stanley Morell, Miss Muriel Addison, Mrs. K. I. MacRae and Mrs. Ellwood Eastman.

A meeting was held Saturday afternoon, April 24, in the Methodist Church for those interested in assisting with the project.

Townsend Cabin

Fire Victim Given

Student Donations

Kinde students of band director James McGinty have collected over $180 which they donated to the teacher after he lost all his belongings in a fire which totally destroyed a cabin on M-25, near Oak Beach, owned by Les Townsend of Cass City.

Damage, according to Townsend, was estimated at $5,000. It was partially insured.

A patrolling state police car discovered the fire Tuesday, April 20. Caseville fire department responded but was unable to save the building or its contents.

Townsend had just rented the cabin to McGinty the previous day. All McGinty's clothing, along with the cabin's furnishings, were lost.

Officers speculated that an explosion of some type had occurred as glass from a bay window was strewn some 50 feet from the building.

Two tanks for the heater did explode, but officers reported that the explosion may have been caused by heat.

O'Dell Fire

Tuesday afternoon, April 20, Cass City firemen were called to a grass fire at the William O'Dell farm on DeLong Road when a change in wind caused a previously controlled fire to jump a back-fire area.

About 25 acres were burned off before firemen and two pieces of equipment brought the flames under control.

William Parrott was burning on the farm under a burning permit and after taking required precautions.

Don Tuckey to Intern in Saginaw

Donald L. Tuckey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Tuckey of Cass City, will intern at Saginaw General Hospital, it was announced by the University of Virginia where he has been a fourth year medical student.

Of the 68 members of the graduating class, 52 will intern at university teaching hospitals, 13 in community hospitals and three in Army hospitals.

Koepfgen, Bulen Board Candidates

The two incumbent members of the Cass City School Board, Horace Bulen and Donald Koepfgen, both reported this week that they would seek second terms on the board in the annual election June 14.

Bulen was elected for a four-year term and was one of two candidates named in 1961 from among four candidates. Koepfgen won his seat on the board from among seven candidates.

The four years that Bulen has been on the board have been turbulent ones for board members. At the same time that he was elected, an operating bond issue was turned down and the school was forced into operating economies after a second and third try also were defeated by the electors.

During Bulen's stint on the board, a new school president was also elected and plans for the new high school formulated which has resulted in the upcoming vote for the new building June 14.

Bulen is currently serving as president of the board.

Don Koepfgen

When Koepfgen won election to the board, he said that he wanted a seat because he had four children of school age and wanted to find out if stories circulating about the school were true.

This year the area farmer said that he had no statement to make other than he would like to be re-elected. Koepfgen is a graduate of Cass City High School and operates a 260-acre farm.

Recall EUB Church Services First Held in Schoolhouse

For many churches, 100 years is time spent, but for Cass City's Evangelical United Brethren Church, the past 100 years has been a period of constant growth, both in facilities and membership.

EUB Church members will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the signing of the church's charter with three days of special services beginning Friday, April 30. The event will precede Cass City Area Centennial observances by about two and a half months. Cass City's Evangelical Association came into being in 1865 as the Evangelical Society which was organized by Rev. Stephen Henne of the Sebawaing Mission.

Charter members were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Striffler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krapf, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Seeger, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Muntz, Mr. and Mrs. John Muntz and George, Hiram and Leonard Frye.

New Church
Services were held at the Walmsley School house until 1893 when a white frame church was built on the present site. When the church was finished in 1894, under the pastorate of Rev. B. F. Wade, the church had a membership of approximately 50 persons.

Trustees were John Benkelman, Fred Krapf, Oscar Lenzen and Adam Benkelman. The Sunday School class was organized in 1882, the Ladies Aid Society in 1901 and the Woman's Society of World Service or the Missionary Society in 1911.

By modern-day standards, the church was rustic. Heat was furnished by two wood-burning stoves and sheds in the back were built to protect the horses and rigs. The sheds were rebuilt and enlarged in the early 1900's.

Major Remodeling
In 1910, the church underwent a major remodeling. With lumber donated by Mr. and Mrs. Vogel, the main auditorium and annex were made bigger. Also enlarged were the choir loft and pulpit.

The main entrance was moved from the north side to the west side and a basement was dug under the entire building. Cost of the project was slightly over $2,800, which also included new church furniture.

During the remodeling project, services were held at what is now the Recreation Park.

Switch to English
Because most of its members were of German extraction, services up to 1890 were held entirely in German. Rev. G. J. Kirm was the first pastor who preached in English.

Rev. D. J. Feather was the first minister to conduct all services in English. After 1916, very little German was used.

From 1915 to 1940 very little was done to the church property aside from landscaping and modernization of the parsonage, which, incidentally, was purchased in 1904 from George Helwig for $1,200.

During the pastorage of S. P. Kirm in the 1940's, various improvements were made on the church building. These included new oak floors in the auditorium and annex, ceiling and wall work and installation of an oil heating system.

New Name
In 1946, the merger with the United Brethren Church was completed and the church was renamed the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Rev. S. R. Wurtz became pastor in 1954 and more remodeling got under way. Again in 1958 it was felt more room was needed and further remodeling was done.

Through these years of physical growth, the church membership has grown accordingly giving the chief impetus for the constant change.

From those 13 charter members mentioned above, membership in the church has grown to 163 persons with 161 enrolled in Sunday School.

County Lawyers to Speak at Schools

Tuscola County High School students will hear county lawyers discuss the topic "Uphold The Law—A Citizen's First Duty" as a feature of Law Day USA.

Speaking at Cass City High School will be Clinton House, according to Richard Kern, chairman of the program in the county.

Clergymen in the county have been given pamphlets with information about the day to use in messages to congregations, if they desire, Kern said.

Baptists Third in Attendance Contest

From March 14 to April 18 the First Baptist Church, Cass City, was in a Sunday School attendance contest with 38 other Baptist churches of the Eastern Michigan Association of Regular Baptist Churches.

The Cass City church came in third in percentage of increase, with a 26.5 per cent increase, and second in total number increase over last year's average, with 263. The highest attendance during the contest was on Easter Sunday when 248 were in Sunday School. This broke the previous record which was set in 1957. The Sunday School maintained an average of 212 during the month of April.

Contest winners within the local Sunday School in the various divisions were: beginner, primary and junior division, Kathy McArthur, who was awarded a fish aquarium; junior and senior high division, Phyllis Ewald and Kitty Howell, each of whom received a book, and adult division, Miss Mary Hanby, who also received a book. Prizes were awarded on the basis of visitors brought. The team which brought the most visitors was headed by Frank McVety. They are to be treated to a dinner at a local restaurant.

Richard Shaw is Sunday School superintendent.

The upkeep of a high social position is the downfall of many a modern family.

Mistakes, recognized and analyzed, pay the highest dividends in the world.

Husbands Help Wives Enjoy Use of Free Ford Mustangs

New Ford Mustangs whizzed all over Michigan recently in what the winners described as an all too brief week of luxury motoring through the courtesy of Ford Motor Company and Auten Motor Sales in Cass City.

How does it feel to be behind these luxury Fords? Great, say the winners. Especially those who took them on long cruises, topped by a one-day jaunt to Sault Sainte Marie by one of the winners, and the family that was so impressed that they ordered one just like it for themselves.

You'll remember that the Mustangs were lent out as a promotion in connection with the annual Cass City Chamber of Commerce dinner. The lucky winners took the cars home directly from the banquet. After the week was over they returned them to Auten's and the Chronicle interviewed the winners to see just how much fun the Mustangs were.

Here are their comments:

Mrs. Donald Crouse
Driving this car makes you long for a new one, said Mrs. Donald Crouse. But we are going to hold off for at least another year.

Actually, Don (her husband) drove it more than I did, but I had our regular car and it worked out just dandy. We drove it over to Flint over the week end and the speedometer showed that we drove it 426 miles during the week.

"It was just wonderful," she sighed.

Miss Betty Kennedy
Miss Betty Kennedy, the Junior Citizen of the year enjoyed the car, but did not let the car figuratively sweep her off her feet.

But the rest of the family succumbed. So much so that they have ordered a new Ford just like the one they were driving. "Maybe a little different color," Mrs. Floyd Kennedy said, "but that's all." They logged over 200 miles on the courtesy car.

Mrs. Alden Asher
"Gosh, I've no idea just how far we did drive the car," Mrs. Alden Asher reported, but it was quite a ways. The family took it to Oak Park and we've been driving all over since we first got it, she said.

David (the son) has driven it a little and Alden (the husband) has driven it more than anyone, she said. "It sure makes our present car seem like a tin lizzy," she concluded wistfully.

Mrs. Dale Brown
For Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brown, the new car came just in time.

"Ours wasn't working right and we had to take it into a garage so it was a lucky break for us," Mrs. Brown reports.

During the week she had the Mustang "2 plus 2," she put over 400 miles on the speedometer.

"Dale was very lucky if he got to drive it. I had it most of the time," she confided.

"We really liked it, but it wasn't large enough for our family," she explained. "Still, I hated to take it back."

Mrs. Richard Wallace
Mrs. Dick Wallace may have won the car, but according to her,

"Dick drove it more than I did."

"I was really surprised when I won it. On the way to the program I jokingly remarked how lucky I'd been in the past."

"I think we put about 500 miles on it." The longest trips were two runs to Bay City and back.

When asked if having a new car for a week had affected their thinking on buying a new car, she confined herself to "Well, we're thinking more about it now."

Mrs. Roger Marshall
Driven the most miles was the car won by Mrs. Roger Marshall. On the Sunday before the car was to go back, the couple, along with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, made a one-day run to Sault Ste. Marie.

"I think we put about 997 miles on the car in the week we had it," she remarked.

"I had it most of the time," she commented, "and I'll tell you one thing. We are driving a compact now. Our next car will be a bigger car."

Mrs. Robert Benkelman
"I'd guess we put about 450 miles on our car," says Mrs. Benkelman.

"I was very surprised when I won the car. I, of course, hated to take it back after the week was up."

When asked if having the car had affected their thinking about buying a new car she remained uncommitted with "not an awful lot."

Mrs. Ferris Ware
"It came at a very bad week for us," Mrs. Ferris Ware reported. It was Holy week and the family was very involved in church work and other activities during the period we were given the car to use, she said.

"It's such a beautiful car, she continued, it was too bad that we couldn't drive it more. Still, we put over 150 miles on it while we had it."

Our longest trip was to Bay City and Ferris drove it more than I did.

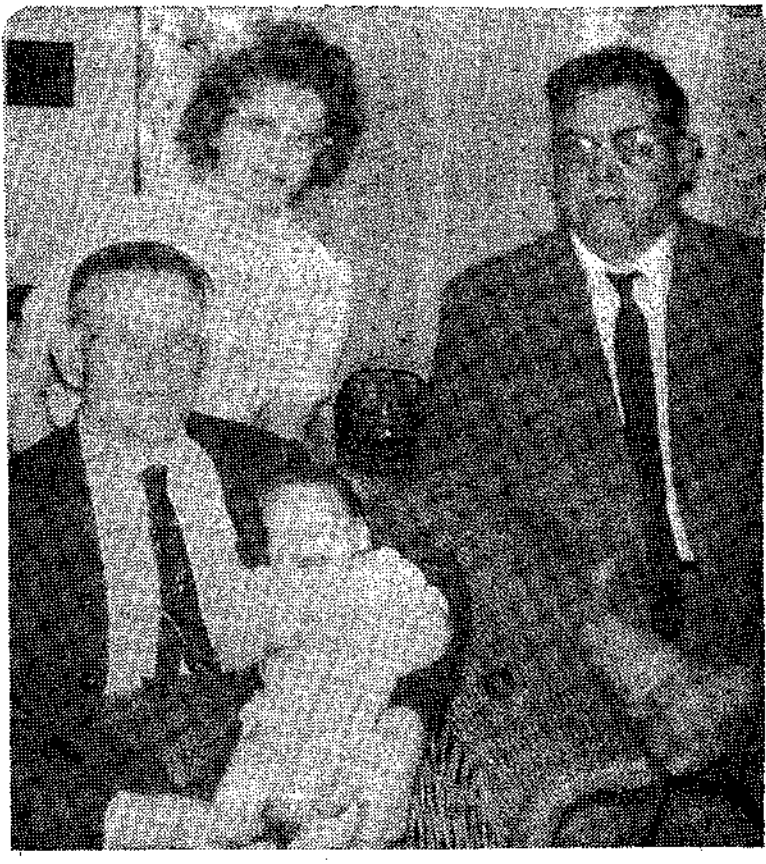

Another winner of the car was Miss Betty Wernette. Miss Wernette is a college student and was not available for comment.

Mrs. Billie Wallace
A trip to Detroit and back and area driving put 500 miles on the car won by Mrs. Billie J. Wallace, Cass City art teacher.

"It was nice to drive," she commented. "We enjoyed it very much."

She remarked also that most of the driving was done by her husband.

"I hated to let it go, but I wouldn't say that it affected our thinking on buying a new car. It was very nice."

Churchill Hears First Circuit Court Cases

Three criminal cases were heard Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court before Judge James Churchill who was presiding for the first time since his election to the bench in April.

An order of nolle prosequi was granted in the case of Clarence Jeneroux of Deford. Jeneroux is a patient at the Lapeer State Home and Training School. He was committed following an examination ordered by the court in October.

Nolle prosequi means no further prosecution. Jeneroux was charged with indecent and improper liberties. The action was taken following a report of a psychiatric examination.

Albert Lintner Jr. pleaded guilty to writing three checks with insufficient funds. His bond was reduced to $1,000 and a pre-sentence investigation ordered. Sentence will be passed May 26.

Patrick Sapient, charged with breaking and entering an unoccupied building in Kingston, was successful in having his case dismissed because of lack of evidence.

In order to make his point a good speaker must drive it home.

Lack of foresight is often demonstrated by the aftereffects.

With Air Force

Donald Englehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Englehart of Deford, left March 30 for the Air Force and is stationed in Texas.

His address is AB Donald Englehart, AF16329018, Box 1503, Flight 409, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1965

Better Health Through Knowledge

Medical Mirror

THE TITLE OF DOCTOR

Q. How can lawyers, musicians, clergymen and a variety of other professional persons logically be called "doctor"? Doctors are men and women who treat sick people.

A. The title "doctor" means teacher. Obviously, there are other subjects to teach than medicine and there are teachers other than doctors. It may come as a surprise but the very first doctor was a lawyer. The degree of "Doctor of Laws" was conferred by the University of Bologna as early as the 13th century. Logically, then, there is no reason to question the use of the "doctor" title by musicians, statisticians, biologists, chemists, and various others.

ELECTRICAL ENERGY AND STERILITY

Q. I work in an electrical power plant which distributes currents in the range of 15,000 to 25,000 volts. Will this cause sterility?

A. There is no evidence that working in close proximity to electrical distribution circuits affects the male reproductive cells. Electrical energy in the form of ionizing radiation can produce sterility, but with ordinary circuits no such radiation is produced.

Why Did You Buy That New Car?

By Dave Kraft

A Detroit radio station runs a commercial for a car dealer that goes something like this:

First Man: "I see you got a new car. Where'd you get it?"

Second Man: "From so and so's."

"Did they high pressure you?"

"No." "Did they twist your arm?"

"No." "Did they give you a bum deal?"

"No." "Then why did you buy a new car?"

"My horse died."

Ladies! Lean a little closer.

Closer. Closer. Not that close! No sense starting needless gossip. I get enough of that as it is.

There, that's better. Now, before letting you in on my little tidbit, I must swear you to secrecy. If any man finds out that I've told what I'm about to tell you, it'll be the last thing you'll ever be told . . . by me.

Is your husband growing a beard? Wanna get rid of it? Lend me your eyeball for a second and I'll tell you how. This comes from an advertisement brought to me by Bob McArthur, taken from a magazine.

According to the ad, "Helena Rubenstein has the marvelous answer . . . 'Nudit for the Face' and Super-Finish Cream, together in one kit, especially formulated to cream away facial hair."

All you do is wait until the old man is asleep, dab a little of this on his face and "Nudit," the ad says, "melts hair away, instead of chopping it off at the surface."

Your Hairy One will get up in the morning, wash his face and leave his beard on the towel. A little messy, but very effective.

If you want to go all the way, the ad says that "Nudit" is "just as good for sideburns . . . or any other bits of embarrassing face-fuzz."

There is a lady syndicated columnist whom I generally wouldn't read. As a matter of fact, if I was locked in a restroom and that was the only reading material, I still wouldn't read it. But that's just my opinion.

My wife reads the column though (which doesn't prove anything — she reads this column too), and she tells me that a woman wrote in, saying as how she couldn't bake cookies or something unless she took all her clothes off.

Luckily, Freedom of the Press also has its responsibilities or there are several remarks I could make about that.

Propriety forces me to wonder, however, what would happen if she backed into a hot oven with a tray of cookies in her hands. Think about that.

The other day a bunch of us men were sitting around the coffee shop regaling each other with stories of our prowess with the ladies when we were younger.

Nothing sensuous, mind you, just things like "I remember this blonde . . ." That sort of stuff.

Clint House made a suitable remark and someone asked him if his lovely and gracious wife was aware of this.

To which he replied, "That was B.C." "B.C.?" he was asked.

"Yes," he replied. "Before Celia."

Bethel 77 Observes Church Sunday

Job's Daughters Bethel No. 77 of Cass City observed Church Sunday at the Novesta Church of Christ where the Honored Queen, Miss Peggy McConnell, is a member and Sunday School teacher. Fifteen members of the Bethel were present, along with 15 council members.

Refreshments were served following services and plans were made for the trip to Bay City Bethel 34 Tuesday when three girls were to be installing officers. Plans were also made for the trip to Bridgeport's Constitution Friday, April 30.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

Will You Be First This Week?

Last week's beard proved to be a toughie . . . we fooled a lot of you. There were a lot of guesses that were wrong and a few that were right.

The first to call Thursday and correctly identify Walter Czekal was Mrs. Charles Papkey. She was closely followed by Mrs. Ed Le-bioda, John O'Dell and Mrs. Gerald Whittaker.

Last week marked the third and last week that we restricted the contest to persons subscribing through the mail. This week anyone can guess and, as usual, the first correct answer wins another free subscription.

Does this one stump you?

Agent's Corner

Barbara Henrikson

Poverty is an empty pocketbook.
Pauperism is an empty soul. Miser-liness is an empty soul even when the pocketbook is full. Thrift is using whatever may be in the pocketbook to fill the soul.

Too often we confuse the terms.
Poverty is nothing to be ashamed of. Pauperism is. All of us have sessions of poverty, which may last for a day or a month or 70 years. Pauperism lasts a lifetime because paupers aren't interested in the effort it takes to change.

Johnson's Anti-Poverty Program is often laughed at. Just like the man who commented on Kennedy's physical fitness program: "Muscles come and muscles go. Flab lasts."

Poverty comes and goes. Pauperism lasts.

Sometimes we have the job, the education, the time, and-or the contacts to pull ourselves out of poverty.

Others are born in poverty, or into a family of paupers and want to get out, but don't know how or where to start.

These people often become misers when they do get a little money. Their need for money is comparable to a person with a well full of water who still feels thirsty.

The Anti-Poverty or Economic Opportunity Act is to help people with little money. It won't help paupers or misers, until they learn that their donation is in time and energy; learning to budget time and energy to make use of the educational opportunities available under EOA.

Their only possible salvation for poverty victims is to learn thrift.
Thrift is saving money - or time and energy - to spend for something really important. And what is important depends on your individual values.

Thrift is eating hamburger for a week in order to have friends over for a steak dinner, or it could be foregoing movies to pay for a good library or record collection. It might be giving up bowling to have time and energy to take training which will gain you a new job, new friends, a brighter future.

Your pocketbook probably isn't empty, but is it making your soul as full as it might?

Anyone who teaches tolerance has a real religious background.

The fellow who waits for his ship to come in often compromises for a schooner.

Cass City

Wyrick Hurls 3-2 Win Over Cass City

Caro labeled themselves as one of the teams to beat in the Thumb B Conference baseball competition on the basis of strong pitching of Jim Wyrick.

Wyrick was nearly the whole show as he led the Tigers to a 3-2 decision over Cass City last week at Caro. The husky blond hurler accounted for 19 of the 21 putouts, while striking out 16 and allowing just three hits.

Despite his strong hurling, the Hawks almost won the game. The Tigers touched Jim Champion, who went the distance for Cass City, for a pair of runs in the first inning.

The lead held until the fourth when a single, a walk and a pair of errors enabled the Hawks to tie the score.

Caro charged back in the fifth with the run that won the game.

Cass City threatened in the last inning. With a runner on first, Jerry Knoblet picked up Cass City's only extra base blow of the game when he doubled to place runners on second and third with one out. The runners died and the rally fizzled as Wyrick bore down to strike out the next Hawk sticklers to erase the challenge.

Champion was also effective on the mound as he allowed but six hits, including a triple and two doubles by Dick Hill.

Courtesy costs nothing, yet it buys things that are priceless.

A noble aim in life has its good points, but it won't always pay its way.

Large Crowd Hears Neil Staebler

A record crowd attended the Tuscola County Democratic Committee meeting at the Darbee School Hall in Caro, Saturday evening, April 17, to hear the Honorable Neil Staebler.

Mr. Staebler spoke on "Democrats doing things," stressing medicare and war on poverty, and discussed many of the farm problems and bills now pending in the legislature.

He also congratulated the Tuscola County Democratic Committee on their many accomplishments during the past few years. He was accompanied by his wife Bernette.

A potluck supper preceded the meeting, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Ledge Miklovic.

A STUDY IN CONCENTRATION — Rob Johnson, Vassar shot-put champion, prepares to break his own Gavel Club Invitational record in competition Saturday at Cass City. Johnson put the shot 57 feet, 2 3/4 inches to take the event and set a new record. (Chronicle photo)

Vassar Sets Record, Davison Cops Meet

Defending champion Davison continued the domination of Flint area teams in the seventh annual Gavel Club Invitational track meet Saturday, but it was a Thumb B Conference entry that broke all of the meet records at the Cass City Recreational Park.

The Vassar Vulcans, who finished second to Davison, in the team standings, cracked three meet records in the three events they won. Heading the list was Rob Johnson, Vassar's premier shot-putter, who broke his own meet record of 53 feet, 8 inches with a toss of 57 feet, 2 3/4 inches. The record was still below his best mark of the season of 58 feet, 9 inches.

Records established by two Cass City athletes in previous meets were also snapped. Mike May pole vaulted 12 feet, 6 1/2 inches to erase the record of Ed Freeman who vaulted 12 feet, six inches in 1959. George Miller leaped 21 feet, 6 1/2 inches in the broad jump to shatter Paul Holmberg's mark of 21 feet, six and one-eighth inches established in 1961.

The records were established despite the cold and windy weather. The meet drew 24 schools and some 450 competing athletes.

Despite their records, Vassar finished far back of Davison. The winners had 71 1/2 points and Vassar, 39.

Others in order of their finish were: Flint Kearsley, 32; Flint Atherton, 24; Flint Ainsworth, 16; Mt. Morris, 14; Cass City, 13; Bad Axe, 12 1/2; St. Louis, 12; Whittemore-Prentiss and Saginaw SS Peter and Paul, 9; Frankmunth, 8; Shepherd, 6; Caro, 5; Akron-Fairgrove and Ovid Elsie, 4; Unionville, 2.

The remainder of the teams did not score. Cass City finished seventh without winning an event. The Hawks were led by Larry Groombridge who finished second in the pole vault. Other points were won by Kloc, who finished third in the high jump, and by the distance medley team which also finished third.

Davison was in a class by itself at the meet, winning five events. The team won the mile relay (2:01.5) and the 880-yard relay (1:35.3). Individual victories were posted by Selesky in the low hurdles (19.9), and the high hurdles (16.2), and Dorris in the mile run (4:40).

Other individuals and their schools who won events included: High jump, Kutchey, Flint Kearsley, 5 feet, 10 inches.

Medley relay, Atherton, 2:30.85. 100-yard dash, Wood, Mount Morris, 10.2.

Distance medley, Ainsworth, 11:39. 220-yard dash, Wood, Mount Morris, 22.1.

440-yard dash, Jones, Flint Atherton, 53.6.

IT SEEMS TO ME Dr. Graham, Church Value Each Other

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

Earlier in the year, Dr. Billy Graham directed one of his crusades in Hawaii. By most standards, such as attendance and offerings, it was a smashing success. And hearers of the famed evangelist seemed to find a more responsible note in his preaching. It would appear that he has discovered again the importance of, not only the individual's experience of God, but the church as the source of later information (augmenting the experience of God) and the leading source of inspiration tested on the crucible of experience. Dr. Graham, it seems to me, is gradually learning the value of the church—just as for some time today's church has been learning to value him.

Recently, much has been made of Vice-President Humphrey's background as a pharmacist in Huron, S. Dak. I would like to point out, if it matters, that I was born in that city and may have been dosed with prescriptions from the Humphrey emporium. I don't feel that I can draw any significance from this meager tie-in, however.

The Methodist Church is facing a threat on the part of its southern churches to withdraw from the main body of Methodism. Particpation in the National Council of Churches (which sponsored, among other things, a voter registration drive in the south) and the abolishing of the Central (Negro) Jurisdiction (integrating its churches into the existing white organizational structure) are the principal issues.

The Christian churches of our nation must not avoid conflict with groups trying to get the church's support for the far right. T. George Harris said to a meeting of 30 specialists in New York recently, Harris is Senior Editor of Look magazine. The John Birch Society was singled out as an example of right wing groups attempting to infiltrate the churches.

Have you heard that . . . CROP donations in 1964 reached a record $1,566,235! . . . Concerned over the fact that many Soviet Children still attend church services, Moscow's Pedagogical Academy has launched a special drive to lure youngsters away from the church . . . Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, one of the prime movers of the current efforts for a merger of about six major denominations recently renewed his call for the merger . . . An award of merit was given by the National Council of Churches to three US films: "Becket," "Fate is the Hunter," and "Fail Safe" . . . Unemployment of young people with an eighth grade education or less is four times the national average, according to President Johnson's message to Congress. We now spend (he went on) about $450 a year per child in our public schools. But we spend $1,800 a year to keep a delinquent youth in a detention home, $2,500 a year for a family on relief, $3,500 a year for a criminal in state prison.

The world is filled with small caliber men who are trying to explode into big caliber jobs.

Frank Leppik, Harbor Beach, vice-president; Fred Duman, Decaturville, secretary; Calvin Wright, Caro, treasurer, and Fred Beach, Lakeland, reporter.

Dave Burk, local chapter reporter.

The Cass City Chapter placed among the top three finalists in the opening and closing ceremonies. Jim Brown, Cass City, was on the cabin team that took first in the discussion topic contest.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where a feller that runs a weekly newspaper in Georgia has come up with a idea that could spread all over the country and change the course of newspaper history. He has announced that from now on he ain't printing news items about folks that don't subscribe to his paper. He allowed as how he was gitting dad-burned tired of somebody giving him a news item and then borrowing a neighbor's paper to see if he printed it.

I presume, Mister Editor, he's talking about good news items. Seeing as how he is so riled up over the matter, I reckon, if one of his non-subscribers gits in jail, he'd print it on the front page.

I brung this item up at the country store Saturday night and all the fellers was agreed with this pore editor from Georgia. Ed Doolittle figured if all country editors would take up this policy it would double circulation immediate. Furthermore, claimed Ed, with this big increase in circulation, the editor could double the price fer advertising and git the proper status in the community from being in a higher tax bracket. They ain't nothing, said Ed, that fixes up a feller's status like letting the news git around he's in a high tax bracket.

Clem Webster was wondering why country editors hadn't thought of this idea many years ago. But Clem allowed as how the answer to many of life's big problems was so simple folks just overlooked 'em. He said it made him recollect about the feller that had been falling out of bed all his life. When he got old and it was gitting hard on his bones and his roomatism, he final went to see a doctor. This doctor solved the problem in 60 seconds. He told the old man to sleep on the floor.

Incidental, Mister Editor, all the fellers at the store was subscribers in good standing to your paper and they said to tell you they are mighty anxious to keep up the good relations with the editor, such as putting in the good items and leaving out the bad. Josh Clodhopper, that gits caught once in a while fer driving too fast, was special anxious fer you to follow the Golden Rule in these matters.

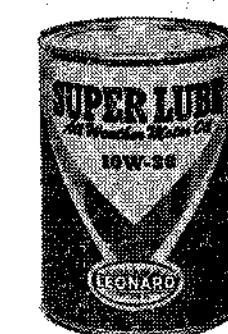

And speaking of the Golden Rule, I see by the papers where one of them fellers from the Internal Revenue Service was telling a sub-committee of the Congress the other day they was trying to git form 1040 so simple a tax payer could fill it out in 30 minutes. This feller's heart might be in the right place but his head has got stuck in a crack. Ed Doolittle says it takes him a hour just to find his old lady's Social Security card.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McComb, daughter, Miss Harriet, and Robert Profit visited Mr. and Mrs. Audley Walstead at Prescott Sunday.

Mrs. Leo Ware entertained eight little boys at her home on West Street Wednesday afternoon in honor of the fifth birthday of her son, Jimmie.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lorentzen and daughter, Anne Marie, moved into their trailer the first of the week and are spending some time at Fostoria where Mr. Lorentzen will be employed.

Thirty-five Years Ago

Stanley Asher has been engaged as manager of the Cass City Oil and Gas Co.'s plant here by the board of directors of that institution.

The Nestle's Food Co.'s condensation at Cass City now has the largest number of patrons the factory has had in several years.

Miss Margaret Kelley's name again appears on the honor roll for the winter term at Central State Teachers' College at Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Striffler and daughter, Geraldine, and their guest, Mrs. O. Y. Schneider, spent Sunday with friends in Snover.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Moore, R. B. Crosby and Mrs. Henry Schram were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trathen at Greenleaf.

Several store fronts along Main St. have been improved in appearance by applications of paint. Among these are the stores of C. W. Heller, J. L. Cathcart, E. A. Corpron and Young and Maier and the service station of the S.T. & H. Oil Co.

Fire caught in the roof of William Lapeer's farm home Monday forenoon and burned a large hole in the roof before it was extinguished. The dinner bell summoned a large company of neighbors and the Lapeer family are very grateful to the prompt and willing response to the call for help.

Mrs. Walter Milligan was hostess to the Malfem Club Tuesday afternoon.

Most men have theories, but it's application that counts.

People who travel the straight and narrow path today will never get into a traffic jam.

Francis DeLong to Attend Milk Tour

Nearly 70 of the state's top 4-H Club dairy project members, including representatives from Tuscola county, will participate in the annual 4-H Milk Marketing Tour in the Motor City.

The annual tour, sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers Association and the Cooperative Extension Service, will be held in Detroit Friday and Saturday, May 7-8. Purpose of the tour is to provide 4-H Club dairy members with information on the complex milk marketing business.

Delegates from Tuscola county include: Francis DeLong of the Cass City Livestock Club and Jim Opperman of the Millington Junior Dairyman Club.

Delegates will visit MMPA headquarters, tour a modern milk plant, hear discussions of modern milk marketing and be tested on their knowledge of milk marketing techniques at the close of the session.

Tour participants will also form a number of smaller groups, each representing the board of directors of a milk marketing cooperative. After electing officers, each board will consider a particular milk marketing program. Their final solution will later be reported to the entire delegation.

The delegates will also be competing for a chance to become one of several 4-H Club dairy members to represent Michigan at next December's National 4-H Dairy Conference in Chicago. Ill. MMPA sponsors the trip to the National Conference for these delegates.

Work and careful planning is the hub around which the wheels of progress revolve.
