

C. Matthews Dies of Burns In Flash Fire

Clifford Matthews, 25, succumbed Saturday to burns suffered while he was attempting to burn an old trailer at his farm home, west of Cass City, Thursday evening.

The rural Cass City man was razing the wood portion of the trailer to sell the iron for salvage. According to reports by Carl Palmateer, who investigated, Matthews poured gasoline on the burning trailer and a flash explosion resulted. His wife witnessed the accident.

He was rushed to Hills and Dales General Hospital by a brother with second and third degree burns on the entire upper half of his body and arms.

Matthews was engulfed by a sheet of flame that ignited and burned his clothing before it could be removed.

According to Dr. H. T. Donahue, the attending physician, the stricken man was conscious when brought to the hospital, became unconscious and then recovered long enough to talk with his family. For the last 30 hours, he remained unconscious.

Matthews was married Sept. 12, 1959, in Detroit to the former Marcella Grabowski.

He was born July 8, 1940, in Saginaw and had lived most of his life in Tuscola county. He was a welder.

Surviving are: his widow; three children, Kenneth Wayne, Charl Henry and Debra Ann, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Thomas Matthews of Cass City; three brothers, Leslie and Paul, both of Caro, and Kenneth of Manchester, Mich.; three sisters, Mrs. George Konikowski of Marion, Ohio, Mrs. Ronald Richey of Detroit and Mrs. Robert Oliver of St. Clair Shores, and a grandmother, Mrs. Lon Drahnmer of Caro.

The helmets represent a considerable investment, Marr said, costing around $30 each. Modeling the latest addition to the department's equipment is Deputy Jim Hildinger.

Goertsen, 77, Ends Career at Walbro

A man who was old enough to retire when he first began work 10 years ago for Walbro Corporation has finally decided to quit.

And to show appreciation for the efforts of the man who started when he was old enough to draw social security, Walbro threw a farewell party Friday for Otto Goertsen, 77.

Attending were all of Goertsen's coworkers, as well as two of the top executives of the company, President W. E. Walpole and Executive Vice-president Floyd Stevenson.

Don Arndt, who supervises the section of the plant where Goertsen works, said, "Of course, we hate to see him go, but when a man reaches Otto's age, I guess we can hardly blame him."

Since he joined Walbro in 1955, Goertsen has been serving as an experimental tool designer. William Eberline reported that one of the first designs is still around the plant. He made it the first day he reported to work, Eberline explained.

Varied Career

Born Feb. 5, 1888, in Omaha, Neb., Goertsen has lived in many communities and in at least three

Township Seeks Justice of Peace To Fill Vacancy

Elkland township is having a hard time filling one of its governmental posts.

Since the resignation of Mrs. Arthur Little a couple of months ago, the community has been without a Justice.

This is inconvenient for both the township and area residents. Tickets issued in Cass City, for instance, must be settled in Caro.

Supervisor Ed Goding says that the Justice is also to investigate claims of damage by stray dogs to determine the amount of payment due from the county and other similar activities.

A Justice does not have to keep night hours, it was pointed out, but should be available most of the time to handle cases.

The trouble, of course, is that the Justice is paid by fees charged in cases brought before them and there is not enough money involved to make the job attractive.

Other drawbacks are that many times the Justice must pass sentence on friends and acquaintances and render decisions that are unpopular.

At best, the job will be temporary because under the new constitution the Justice court system will be discarded in a few years and replaced by another court.

Ends Year with Healthy Surplus

Board Sets First Tax Jump for New School

The Cass City School Board authorized the collection of the first of the extra tax money authorized in last spring's vote at its regular meeting Monday evening at the school.

The proposed new taxes were discussed in the annual meeting held prior to the regular meeting. The board is asking for 17.1 mills for all purposes next year, up from 13.75 this year.

The board has been granted the option of asking for up to 18.5 mills by the district taxpayers. In 1966-67 the present plan is to ask for the full amount as the new high school moves closer to completion. Under the present plan, enough money will be raised in the next two years to pay off all of the three existing bond issues, leaving only the debt for the high school remaining.

Of the 17.1 mills required this year, 4.8 mills will be for the new high school.

Meanwhile, the annual financial report as presented by William Ruhl shows that the school is healthy financially. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, the school was $24,725 in the black.

The reason that the school is so much better off financially, according to Supt. Donald Crouse, is because of the consolidation of Greenleaf and Deford. The added revenues from these districts have created this modest surplus this year, he said.

As previously reported, anticipated costs of running the school in 1965-66 will creep up.

Actual expenses in 1964-65 were $534,901.22. The 1965-66 school program is expected to cost $569,135. If it does, there will be $9,562.25 cash on hand at the end of the 1965-66 fiscal year.

From the Editor's Corner

A sign of the times: The Chronicle is investigating some equipment with a Saginaw concern and made an appointment to have the salesman call. This concern is practically a one-man outfit that represents an established manufacturer. Everything is set except that someone will have to go to Caro to meet him because he plans to cover the 30 miles by flying, what we presume, is his private plane.

Gordon Holcomb, who lives southwest of Cass City, has given up on a field of corn. Last Saturday he turned his cows into one field to salvage what he could. "This dry weather has the pasture pretty well beaten down," he said, "and this corn will never get ripe, so I'm going to salvage what I can from it. It's expensive pasture," he sighed. "I have $40 an acre in fertilizer and seed invested in it."

I imagine that in earlier years, Cass City's geographical location was a handicap. Most of the activities naturally gravitated to Caro, the centrally located county seat. And our neighbors to the west are still experiencing steady growth, especially in the business section.

But more and more in recent years, there have been signs that Cass City's spot, in the center of the three-county area, is of growing significance.

The reason is that better transportation and roads are shortening distances and more and more planning is on a three-county area basis.

Want three current concrete examples?

Consider the tri-county health unit, the tri-county juvenile jail and the tri-county community college.

We knew that the corn we pictured a couple of weeks ago belonging to Jim Winchester was extra good for this drought year, but we didn't realize how unusual it must be.

This week State Editor Fred Garrett of the Saginaw News came out, camera in hand, to picture the Winchester corn field for that daily.

Garrett also said that he didn't get any pictures of them, but that the mosquitoes were as big in proportion as the corn.

Seek 3-County Health Unit

In an attempt to reduce costs under a new law recently enacted in Michigan, the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors voted Monday to try to set up a three-county health unit.

Among the requirements for the health unit are a doctor as director and a sanitation engineer. In an effort to reduce expenses, Tuscola is trying to combine with Huron and Sanilac counties to set up a health district. At the present time, Sanilac is served by a health unit, but Huron is not.

When the requirements are met, some financial help from the State is available, Clerk Archie Hicks said this week.

In other business concerning county health work, supervisors authorized the transfer of nursing responsibilities from the Intermediate School District to the county with the money allotted to the district to go into the county's general fund.

The reason for the switch, authorities said, is to avoid duplication of effort. The school nurse will be under the direction of County Nurse Mrs. Lucy Miller. Last year, the nurses found themselves covering the same ground, it was revealed.

The board is expecting to set up a meeting with the Tuscola County Road Commission to discuss the situation.

Two Killed as Car Hits Tree

Funeral services were held Monday in Dayton Center Church for Richard Hunter, 19, one of two youths killed instantly in a traffic accident Thursday night on Shay Lake Road, near Plain Road, six miles southwest of Kingston.

Sheriff Hugh Marr said that the bodies of Hunter and William A. Noto, 17, of East Detroit were found about 6 a.m. Friday morning by Mrs. Marvin Lambert, who lives nearby.

The car left the road and crashed into a large tree. Hunter suffered a crushed chest and Noto, a broken neck.

CASS CITY VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

A special meeting of the council of the Village of Cass City was held on Tuesday, August 3, 1965 at 7:00 p.m. in the Municipal Bldg. All trustees were present.

It was moved by F. Auten seconded by B. Freiburger that a blacktop surface be placed over the existing roadway on Sherman, from Church to Main, and extended up to the sidewalk in front of the Post Office, from Church south to the alley, and further that the two areas on Main St., at the corner of Sherman be blacktopped up to the curb, at a maximum cost of $500. Motion carried.

The Elkland Township Board and other interested parties then joined the meeting for a discussion on the requirements of the Fire

Dept. and the present contract between the Village and the Township for fire protection. Following this discussion, it was the opinion of the council that further information should be sought before coming to a final decision on the purchase of the H. O. Paul Bldg. In accordance with this opinion, Trustee Freiburger was asked to find out from the Fire Dept. the actual needs in terms of space, height of building, drainage, etc. Trustee McCullough was asked to contact the Library Board concerning their interest in using space provided in the new building and what their requirements might be as to space and whether or not they could assist the Village financially. President Althaver indicated that he would check the procedure to be followed to finance purchase and alteration of the building with Village Attorney House and would contact an architect to obtain design and cost estimates necessary to convert the building to fire hall and other village uses.

A motion was made by Trustee Seals seconded by Trustee Freiburger that the village of Cass City zoning ordinance no. 54-55 adopted April 26, 1960 be amended by changing lots 1-9 of Hills & Dales Subd. on the east side of Hills St. from R-B to R-C for multiple family dwelling use. Further that notice of public hearing on August 31, at 7:00 p.m. to hear objections to such zoning be published. The amended ordinance as adopted and notice of hearing appears in full in the August 12, 1965 edition of the Chronicle. Motion carried.

A motion was made by Trustee Seals seconded by Trustee Freiburger that the Park Committee be authorized to purchase necessary playground equipment for the village park in the amount of $600 and that they be authorized to install an additional cement sidewalk around the wading pool equal to that presently existing. Motion carried.

The need for fertilizing and watering the football practice field was discussed and the Park Committee was authorized to investigate the equipment necessary to accomplish this.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. L. E. Althaver, Village President to dent the plate in the regulation seven innings.

It looked as if the game might go on indefinitely until the eighth when C. Maurer lashed a hit between the outfielders.

Ordinarily, the blow would have been a triple, but with two away, Uby gambled and Maurer kept on running as he rounded third base. The throw from Don Erila had him nailed by 10 feet, but the ball was wet and got away from usually reliable Jim Knoblet and Erila's championship hopes went glimmering.

Bosch struck out 12 and allowed just five hits, while Maurer whiffed four and allowed seven hits.

The loss concluded the season in Uby for the Foodmen who are now girding for the Class C district competition slated in Port Huron.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1965

Area 4-H Youth Prep for Fair

Despite the undeniable attraction of the glittering midway and the outstanding grandstand acts, the backbone of the county fairs are the exhibits.

For fair time caps many weeks, and sometimes months, of activities for 4-H youths and adults. It's a major summer activity for area youths, the Chronicle learned in interviews with the Deford Nimble Needles, Carolan-Gagetown and Needles and Kettles 4-H clubs.

Two of the area clubs are mere infants compared to the third area 4-H group.

Carolan-Gagetown
The Carolan-Gagetown club is one of the oldest clubs in the county. The consolidated club is

Bean Queen Candidates to Meet in Caro

The Tuscola County Bean Queen Committee is making plans for all bean queen contestants to come to the Tuscola County Fair Bureau building at Caro Monday evening, Aug. 16, at 5 p.m. for a party lunch. At this time the contestants will have an opportunity to meet each other as well as the judges, who will select the 1965 Tuscola County Bean Queen at this party, according to Fred Black of Akron, chairman of the committee.

List Contestants
The contestants and their sponsors are: Gloria Ann Dickson of Akron, sponsored by Brookston Farm Bureau; Jacquelyn Lee Ainsworth of Unionville, sponsored by Pioneer Farm Bureau; Diane Reinert of Millington, sponsored by Elva Farm Bureau; Judith Weiss of Millington, sponsored by Mt. Air Farm Bureau; Jan Bell of Fairgrove, sponsored by Wide-A-Wake Farm Bureau; Virginia Henry of Caro, sponsored by Juniata Farmers Club; Barbara Ann Weber of Vassar, sponsored by East Richville Farm Bureau; Diane Foster of Fairgrove, sponsored by Fairgrove Lions Club; Connie Matuszak of Caro, sponsored by Dutchess 81 Farm Bureau; Karen Sue Juhasz of Caro, sponsored by Linden Farmers Club; Connie Sherman of Unionville, sponsored by Louisville Farm Bureau; Kathleen Grzyb of Fostoria, sponsored by Southenders Farm Bureau and Suzanne Hedley of Unionville, sponsored by Colling Elevator Company.

The party lunch will be provided by the Tuscola County Fair Bureau.

Name Judges
Judges of the contest are: Neil Smith of the Bay City Times; Fred Garrett of the Saginaw News and Robert Neuman of the Sebawing Blade-Crescent.

A tape recording of interviews with the girls will be made by the Caro radio station. Announcement of the judges' selection will be kept secret until the time of the Tuscola County Fair.

Cooperating to make this contest possible is the financial support given by all Tuscola county elevators, said Mr. Black.

Serving on the Tuscola County Bean Queen Committee are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bach, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black of Akron, Elmer Kupsel of Millington and Lyle Sylvester of Fairgrove.

This year, the Tuscola County Bean Queen Contest will be a part of the program at the Tuscola County Fair Monday evening, Aug. 23.

Be careful driving on the highways safety is no accident.

just nine years old, but leaders report that the Carolan club is about 25 years old. Neither the 4-H office nor the current leaders could tell just how long the club has been organized.

Mrs. Ray Tooley, the current leader of the combined clubs, has been associated with the Carolan Club for 14 years.

Today, there are nine members who have spent most of the summer preparing for the Tuscola County Fair.

The members expect to have exhibits in hobbycraft, garden and flowers and food preparation.

Needles and Kettles
The Needles and Kettles 4-H Club of Cass City is a young organization . . . just three years old and growing fast.

When it was first organized, under the direction of Mrs. Lyle Clarke, there were six members. "Today there are 15 members, all of whom have fair exhibits."

"We have 36 projects under way in the club," Mrs. Clark said, "and we will probably average 12 hours to a project. Included will be cooking projects for three age groups (bread, cakes and cookies). Flower gardening, hobbycraft, embroidery and photography are others.

Deford Nimble Needles

There are nine members of the Deford Nimble Needles and they have been "working off and on all summer getting ready for the fair," said Key Leader Mrs. Gordon Holcomb.

The club is the youngest in the area and is now in its second year. The club will exhibit hangers, pin-up boards, and wastebaskets in Caro at the fair.

THREE MEMBERS OF THE Carolan-Gagetown 4-H Club pose with exhibits they have ready for the fair. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rabideau. From

Claim Funds for Drivers' Photos Inadequate for Job

Reverse Field
Michigan residents waited several years for the legislature to implement its own requirement of photographs on driver's licenses and now some administrators say the law still cannot be fully effective.

An increasing number of local licensing agencies are saying that the funds provided to put colored photos on the documents is not sufficient to cover the cost.

In Jackson and Muskegon Counties the police and sheriff's offices have threatened or closed their activities in the driver licensing field in protest to the shortcomings of the law. Since the Secretary of State is ultimately responsible for this service, he must fill the gap in these and other locales where similar action is taken.

Indirectly, and whether feasible or not, the secretary of state may get his previous recommendation that driver's licenses be a uniform state-administered function.

He and several others last year recommended this be accomplished as one part of an over-all safety program. It was not acted upon by the legislature.

Secretary of State James M. Hare did not intend, however, for his office to be required by default to establish a whole series of license stations.

Several other licensing agencies have threatened to push the job back to Hare's office if more funds are not forthcoming to pay for the cost of taking, processing and issuing licenses with the colored photos.

There is good indication any change will be partial unless the legislature relents this fall or next year and enacts legislation to relieve all communities of the licensing service.

In the city of Lansing, Ingham County and a number of other areas the police administrators say they will continue to issue the licenses despite the difference between cost and state reimbursement. They feel this is a public service function which should be continued in their jurisdiction.

Positive Pitch
"Bring 'Em Back Alive" has earmarks of a most productive traffic safety campaign. In a subject area which is noted for its difficulty in convincing people that they might be killed or injured, it seems to strike home.

Traffic safety experts have long dealt with the problem of people who believe that accidents always happen to the other fellow, but not to them. The Automobile Club of Michigan, which sponsors the program through a committee of civic leaders, admits it is difficult to measure effectiveness of such a campaign, but they point to several facts which indicate it is helping greatly to reduce death and disaster.

Only 19 traffic deaths over Memorial Day and only 21 over the Fourth of July, when traffic was at an all time peak, compares dramatically with other years. In 1964, for example, 43 were killed on highways over the Fourth.

Observers report that frequent radio announcements are very effective. One driver on I-75 said he saw a half a dozen cars dragging trailers ahead of him get over to the right immediately after a radio suggestion was made that they do so.

Newspapers are carrying stories and ad messages pushing the positive message: Bring 'Em Back Alive. The travel industry likes this angle. It encourages people to use the state's road and tourist facilities, but to do so carefully . . . not to stay home.

AAA has given out nearly one million bumper stickers, and restaurants, police and trucking companies are cooperating in the campaign.

Busy Treasurer
On paper, state treasurer appears to be the busiest job in the state. The Michigan Manual, a biennial directory of state government, devotes nearly a full page to this post while relating that it lists only the most specific of the treasurer's duties and responsibilities.

Chief of these of course is the general duty to receive, safeguard and distribute all monies, including federal grants, of the state, its departments, boards, institutions and commissions.

Monthly accounting of these primary functions is required to be made to the Auditor General and Superintendent of Public Instruction. A similar account is made at least annually to the legislature and can be demanded at any time as it was weekly during the 1959 and 1960 sessions.

Investment of surplus funds and special funds which are specified for investment is also entrusted to the treasurer.

What started as a minor part of the treasurer's duties has sizeably increased. The law specifies the treasurer is to act as fiscal and/or paying agent and registrar when designated.

No less than eight expressway bond issue contracts now are in his jurisdiction as fiscal agent. These arrangements require that he keep completely separate records for the receipt, disbursement and accounting of all funds applicable to these transactions.

Twenty state committees, boards or commissions on which he serves actively make the treasurer by far the heaviest loaded of state officers in outside units.

These include several retirement boards and tax appeal units, the Board of State Auditors, Mackinac Bridge Authority, State Office Building Commission and several others.

BABY'S SIGHT

Q. At what age do babies recognize their parents?

A. Infants respond to familiar sounds (such as the mother's voice) quite early. However, the baby's vision remains restricted for a time. The eye of an alert newborn can focus on targets only at a particular distance (about 8 inches). Objects farther away are blurred. The ability to focus steadily improves, however, so that by the end of the fourth month the eye accommodates, or focuses, about as well as the eye of an adult.

REPIGMENTATION OF THE HAIR

Q. I was 64 years old when I developed diabetes. Shortly after starting insulin my hair, which was then quite gray, changed to the brown color it was when I was much younger. I'm not complaining but was this due to the insulin?

A. Apparently repigmentation of gray hair some times occurs in diabetes after good nutrition and diabetic control is established. The reason for it is unknown.

Final Services for Peter Lemanski, 90

Peter M. Lemanski, 90, of Ubyly, retired farmer, died Friday in Stevens Nursing Home where he was a patient a week. Mr. Lemanski was moved July 30 from Hubbard Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe, to Cass City.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was working on this problem, we got in the Great Society of making America beautiful. President Johnson has ordered that things has got to git cleaned up, washed down, painted and planted.

First off, Ed Doolittle was agreed with the President that auto junkies was the first thing that had to go. On account of this being the only thing Ed and the president has agreed on since Lyndon was sworn in, all the fellers was mighty impressed.

Zeke Grubb reported he was in favor of the new burial insurance plan Senator Paul Douglas was supporting in the Congress. Zeke said the Senator wanted to put a 2 percent excise tax on all new cars and set it aside in a special fund to bury old cars and git rid of them junkies. The Senator was claiming, Zeke reported, that this tax would average about $50 a car and wouldn't never be missed on account of the Congress was now reducing the tax on new cars by 5 percent.

Clem Webster was agin this plan, said it wouldn't work, was full of bugs from top to bottom. For instant, argued Clem, who was going to say when a car was ready for burial? He allowed as how his old 1952 model Chevy didn't have but 150,000 miles on it and purr like a kitten. It was bent, beat-up and battered down, said Clem, but he announced he would go all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court afore he'd allow anybody to bury it.

Furthermore, Clem wanted to know, who was going to perform the burial ceremony, the local, state or Federal Government? And if this wasn't problem enough, Clem claimed they could be a lot of sentiment involved in this matter. He reported that, in about another 10 year when his car was ready for burial, he wanted the noble steed "interred" with fitting ceremonies in his backyard.

It was general agreed, Mister Editor, that this new burial insurance plan wouldn't work. Zeke said the fellers had brung up problems he hadn't saw in the Senator's plan and he was willing to vote agin it, making it unanimous.

Personal, it seems to me people was mighty confused in this program to make the country beautiful. I was reading in the paper where this union chief Reuther claimed what Americans wanted most was "bread and roses." In the same paper they was a piece announcing General Mills was closing down 9 of its 17 flour mills on account of people eating less bread. I ain't saw no figgers lately on the rose business, but the feller that runs the country store claims he was planning to expand by opening a downtown branch. Everthing, Mister Editor, has started running backwards in the Great Society.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Kennedys Win Top County Awards

Bonnie and Ken Kennedy both received top awards at the Sanilac County Demonstration contest Friday, Aug. 6, in Sandusky.

Out of a possible 300 points, Bonnie was awarded 296 for her family living demonstration, "Building the Home of My Future." Ken received 276 for his "How Much I Didn't Know," a demonstration on planting a garden on black plastic mulch. A desirable feature of Ken's garden, on M-53, is that it doesn't need hoeing.

Both teenagers were given State Show awards and first and second place on the county demonstration team.

On July 26, Bonnie was awarded third place in the Sanilac county horticulture judging contest and received another State Show award.

Black & White Show Aug. 21

One of the best registered Holstein breeders' Black and White Shows in Michigan is held in Tuscola county, reports Don Keblor, county extension agent in agriculture.

Tuscola county registered Holstein breeders have established this position over the past several years due to their interest in their animals and the 4-H and FFA youth, said Keblor. The following of this program enabled the association to grow while some associations have had to merge with others to achieve the same goals, he continued.

The association has a large participation in entries and the quality of animals exhibited is extremely high. With this past record of accomplishment, it is expected that this year's Black and White Show will again be a leader in the state. This year's show will start at 12:00 noon Aug. 21 at the Tuscola County Fairgrounds with all entries in by 11:00 a.m.

Trophies Offered

Another reason for the success of the Tuscola's Black and White

Show is the assistance of county businesses in their sponsorship of many trophies awarded. This year 10 trophies for 4-H and FFA and eight for open class winners are offered. Some of the area trophy sponsors this year are: Tuscola County Farm Bureau, Farmers Cooperative Elevators of Caro, Akron and Cass City and Gagetown Elevator.

Judging this year's show will be John Smith of Williamston. Smith is the secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Registered Holstein-Friesian Association.

Association Officers
The county Association directors are: Ronald Opperman of Vassar, president; Richard Carpenter of Cass City, vice-president; Ben Hobart of Gagetown, secretary-treasurer; Lloyd Walz of Vassar, Devere Rohlfis of Akron and Marvin Rupprecht of Vassar, directors.

The public is invited to the Show to see some of Michigan's top Holstein cattle.

When money talks it really tells some interesting tales.

WHO CREATES YOUR PAYCHECK?

Sure, you know who pays you. But who makes your job possible? Could be our nation's farmers. Did you know that 40% of all jobs in America are created by agriculture—more than any other industry. Surprised? Think of the millions employed in processing farm products—food and fibre. Think of the millions more employed in manufacturing and supplying farmers with their many needs—machinery, fertilizers, chemicals and equipment.

Adds up fast doesn't it!

Even in "industrial" Michigan 1/3 of all jobs are created by agriculture and farmers are Michigan's biggest customers.

With so many paychecks at stake it's easy to see why a sound and stable farm economy is important to everyone. Including you and me.

Agent's Corner

Barbara Henrikson

More and more women in Tuscola county are taking on jobs outside the home. Seldom a week goes by that some woman friend doesn't say happily, "I've got a job."

One-third of the women in the United States hold jobs outside the home. Today's homemaker marries younger, and proceeds to have 2.6 children very close together. By the time she's 39, the children are all in school. By her 40's, with 25 years of productive life ahead of her, her children are grown. She is urged by group pressure to fulfill herself, to contribute to society.

Somehow we've lost sight of the fact that a woman's true fulfillment is in making a home for her husband, in providing a calm island away from the pressures and confusion of today's world.

We forget that the first seven years of a child's life form his basic personality and that these years can never be relived. True, some women are not mothers, no matter how many children they produce. These women are better off working and letting a mother, perhaps one who has never given birth to a baby, raise her children. The non-mother, the mother and the child are all better off.

The majority of women are meant to have homes and raise children. If one woman out of three works away from home, two out

COME EARLY FOR SEATS

IT SEEMS TO ME

Hail the Public Works Department

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

Well, Cass City had its historical Centennial celebration! In good taste and of historical interest, it directly involved in some capacity many citizens of our village. There were in this, as in every successful event, many persons behind the scenes doing countless tasks, happy to let someone else take the credit for their efforts.

I would hail the work of the Cass City Department of Public Works. These men and their boss, Mr. William Schram, did much to make the celebration a good one, never imposing their own wishes, but willing at all times to do the work that no one else did! From cleaning up what now is known as the Civic Center, to mopping-up after the last person had left the stands - still trying to figure out just how he, the individual citizen, fit into the events exalted in the spectacular - these men were at hand to help in any way.

During all this, these men had their regular work to do, some of which has to be done in the summer. The evening hours of the days immediately following the Centennial found these same men taking down the decorations along Main Street. The park, which was consistently overtaxed during the gala, had been raked clean of papers and other trash.

And so I salute the men who did so much, out of the limelight, to make the Centennial a success and enjoyable. For myself, a great big thank you to them, to which I am sure you add your own word of thanks! Or so, IT SEEMS TO ME!

Good will can't be bought a man has to cultivate it.

Unfortunately, it's the shortcomings of men that seem to have the longest reach.

Canada only after heated debate. The problem, in this denomination with 50 women already ordained, is potential merger with the Anglicans who oppose ordination of women. We would hope for a change in the Anglican view in keeping with the trend toward ordaining women. Or so, IT SEEMS TO ME!

Back in 1849, one Methodist congregation was split by controversy when it proposed to introduce printed music along with the text of hymns in a revised hymnal. Records of Chester-Bethel Methodist Church, near Wilmington, Del., reveal that a splinter group crossed into Pennsylvania to form another church. One dissenter complained: "Anybody with common sense ought to know that it will not help the voice to look when you sing upon those things that you call keys and bars, with black and white tadpoles, some with their tails up, and some with their tails down, decorated with black flags and trying to crawl through the fence. It's all the work of the Devil." Later on this year the Methodists will see their new hymnal, revised twice since I can remember. I wonder what objections critics will have to the 1965 hymnal of the Methodist Church. Congregational singing of hymns is an important part of Christian worship. Or so, IT SEEMS TO ME!

This may someday be known as the era of church union, some 30 mergers of church denominations already having been completed since January 1, 1965. Dr. A. T. DeGroot of Texas Christian University said that a "United Church of Christians" would take hundreds of years to achieve and would include:

1. An interchangeable membership and ministry, with communicants and clergy of one church able to go from one congregation to another.
2. No creedal requirement of members, "except that Jesus is Lord."
3. Freedom of forms of worship and in interpreting the sacraments.
4. Varieties of church government.
5. Cooperation in respect to agencies, such as missionary societies, homes, colleges, and other benevolent and educational activities.

Merger of the Disciples of Christ Church and the Churches of Christ is hoped for. They were originally one denomination, but separated in 1906.
