

From the Editor's Corner

I wrote this week's story about Mrs. Barbara McCreary Monday afternoon. Since that time, more help keeps pouring in. There were another two boxes ready for delivery Tuesday morning. The most recent was new bedding from the American Legion Auxiliary.

The paper has been asked many times what size Mrs. McCreary wears. In typical lady-like fashion she says that it always was a size nine, but right now sizes 10 to 12 will fit fine.

For the past month the Cass City Rotary Club has been trying to decide on civic projects to support and is having difficulty coming to a decision.

The problem is that there are too many worthy projects.

Members naturally feel that any of these are worthy: Community College, indoor swimming pool and additions to park and recreation areas. The problem is which one.

Tuesday the club voted on whether to take up the cudgel for an indoor pool.

The vote by ballot was carefully tabulated and the results announced ... 11 yes and 11 no votes.

These figures are not presented to "prove" anything, but we feel they are interesting.

Two-thirds of the people in Tuscola County over 25 years old did not have a high school education in 1960. This is a higher percentage than 66 of the 83 counties in Michigan. The average is 40.9 per cent.

A large proportion of families in the area have reported incomes of less than $3,000 and the median family income was $4,583.

Nearly a fourth of the families had incomes of less than $3,000 and only 8.3 per cent have incomes of $10,000 or more.

The figures were taken from a study by Michigan State University.

Residents in Cass City 15 years ago will recall Bob Clock, who worked for the Chronicle before leaving for the service. For the last four years Clock has been a teacher at Holly. He resigned to take a position as editor of the Charlevoix Courier this fall.

A $200,000 nursing care facility has been under construction in Huron County. This is the first of its type in the upper Thumb ... but you can be sure that it will not be the last.

With the new Medicare bill, the forecast is for more patients than there are beds ... even if every available bed were used all of the time.

Probably next on the list will be Cass City where plans are being discussed for a facility.

Settle Special Ed. Travel Cost Fight

County parents who have been receiving reimbursement for transporting their children to the Darby Retrainable School in Caro will continue to receive payment during September and October, the Intermediate School District decided Tuesday night.

The board also decided to help cover the cost of school districts transporting students to other schools for special education classes.

The transportation problem arose when the legality of the county department's operation of a bus program was questioned and the service was discontinued. Scott stated the legality was questioned "from several sources."

Last year the county operated two buses, both leased from the Caro School system, for the special education program at a cost of $10,000. The cost included leasing, maintenance, operation and drivers' fees.

"We decided to discontinue the service after it was determined that the problems involved ... distance, discipline and liability ... were too great," Scott said.

Cass City School officials questioned the delay in announcing the discontinuance of the service until barely a week before school started.

"It was not our intention to delay the announcement. We intended for it to be announced at a meeting at the Darby School with proper arrangements made," Scott explained.

Scott stated the reimbursement

$4,000 Embezzled

Vassar School Reveals Theft

A warrant charging embezzlement was issued Tuesday for a 32-year-old Vassar woman in connection with the disappearance of an estimated $4,000 from Vassar Public Schools receipts.

Named in the warrant is Mrs. Vaughn Lewis, head bookkeeper at Vassar Public Schools for the past 18 years.

Tuscola County Prosecutor James Epskamp announced the warrant Tuesday in a conference with county news media in his office. Also present were Vassar Supt. Phil Kuhlman and Ronald Zeros, Vassar schools auditor.

Mrs. Lewis is charged with taking sums ranging from a few dollars to $340 over the past year. A check is being made into files from past years to see if there are any other discrepancies.

Epskamp and school officials first became suspicious when a fire started last July 26 in the school safe in the general area of the receipt record books, two days before an audit of the books was to be made.

State Police, headed by Det. John Olepa, were called in and because

Steal Rabideau's Electric Motors

Police are still searching for the thieves who stole four electric motors valued at $1,160 from Rabideau Motors warehouse on Church Street sometime during the past week.

The theft was discovered Friday. Entry into the warehouse was made by lifting wire hooks inside the building which held the warehouse doors shut.

Taken were two seven and a half-horse Reliance single phase electric motors valued at $395 each; one three-horse motor valued at $200 and one two-horse motor valued at $170.

The motors were originally to be used on silo unloaders. All are new and gray in color.

Persons with information on the theft are asked to contact Police Chief Carl Palmateer.

Jail Area Man For Drunk Driving

Clayton A. Wright, 36, Gagetown, was sentenced to five days in Tuscola County Jail Monday when he appeared before Justice Frank Rolka in Caro for driving under the influence of liquor.

Wright, who was arrested Sunday on E. Caro Road, was also fined $100 plus costs of $6.25.

of the location of the fire and the books burned, it was agreed to have an extended audit.

Mrs. Lewis, the last person in the vault just before the fire, resigned her head bookkeeping post a few days after the fire and before the audit was started.

A preliminary audit from the auditors, Foulds and Zeros, of Saginaw, disclosed that checks had been deposited to the account of the Vassar School system and not entered in the financial books.

A further check revealed that deposits of checks were made and cash returned to the person making the deposit despite the fact that the checks were endorsed for deposit only.

Epskamp explained that while it is not proper to give cash for checks marked deposit only the case in hand was one that had evolved over the years and accepted because the person involved was a long-time school employee.

Epskamp added that there was no inference of collusion because the checks had been cashed by several bank employees and officials.

Kuhlman stated that the board wants the audit to go back as far as the auditors are capable of going without creating too much expense. The statute of limitations, according to Epskamp, is six years.

Kuhlman also stressed the fact that Mrs. Lewis was bonded for $5,000 and that all losses discovered so far are covered.

Zeros explained that previous shortages were of a nature that would not show up in a normal audit. Shortages this year, however, were so extreme that they would not be missed in an audit, he explained.

Mrs. Lewis, the mother of three, is married to the official of a grocery warehousing firm in Vassar.

China Problem Stems from Lack of Contact—Covensky

"Red China is a real threat ... a menace that should be dealt with and not ignored," Dr. Milton C. Covensky, Wayne State University associate professor, told a crowd of about 100 persons Wednesday night, Sept. 15, as he outlined "The Revolution in Modern China."

Covensky was the featured speaker at the Cultural Center in what is expected to be the first of a series of cultural programs under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women. Nationally known historian and

Galaxy of Gifts Overwhelm Stricken McCreary Family

"It's all so wonderful, I just couldn't stop crying," Mrs. Barbara McCreary said as she received the myriad gifts from warm-hearted Cass City area residents who came to her assistance in a time of dire need.

It's been a steady stream ever since the Chronicle first told folks about my troubles, Mrs. McCreary said.

This writer hesitates to place a value on all of the items given to the new mother, but can attest that almost without exception the clothing, the toys and, of course, the food were top grade.

Obviously, Cass Cityites did not empty the attic of unwanted items in a hypocritical gesture of good will. Many of the donors preferred to remain anonymous ... the Chronicle received $5 through the mail with no signature ... just a note to pass it on to Mrs. McCreary. Others went directly to the home south of Cass City to present gifts in person.

A partial list of the donations were: $49.00 in cash from different persons.

Two boxes and two sacks of baked goods from Sommers' Bakery, none of it more than a day old and some of it baked fresh the day it was delivered. Included were cakes, bread, rolls and many other good things to eat.

Clothes for the new baby, including dozens and dozens of diapers. New booties, new nightgowns and baby sheets. Some of the gifts were still in the packages in which they came from the store.

Toys of all description ... including "rattles" for the new baby, a doll for the 18 months old daughter and a tricycle for the four-year-old boy.

Clothes for the boy and older girl ... a complete wardrobe with plenty to spare for each. A spring and mattress and plenty of bedding.

What made the project most worthwhile was the children involved. When the young girl shyly reached up to take hold of the toy lamb ... when the boy climbed on the bike with a half-grin and his eyes a shine you knew that here was genuine appreciation.

Mrs. McCreary says that she has several prospects and is hoping to land a job soon to support her family.

To Sentence Youth On Weapons Charge

Larry S. Smith, 18, Decker, pleaded guilty Thursday, Sept. 16, to carrying a concealed weapon when he appeared before Circuit Court Judge Arthur M. Bach in Bad Axe.

Smith will be sentenced on the charge by Judge Bach on Thursday, Oct. 14. He was released on $500 bond pending a presentence investigation.

The youth and a number of other boys were stopped by Huron County Sheriff's deputies after they were reported for causing trouble in Port Austin.

Rawson Reveals His Plan for Village

An expanded Cass City Recreation Park and two smaller recreation areas might well be the design for the future in Cass City, Dr. D. E. Rawson, a member of the Cass City village council, told Rotarians Tuesday noon.

Speaking at the New Gordon Hotel, Rawson said that the village could very well lose a strip from the park that would be used to establish a road to the new Cass City High School.

This would be an extension of Ale street and is now used as both a road and a parking area. If it became a through road, Rawson said, it would be lost for parking. The councilman envisions the boundary fence moved to the east side of the road, walling the park from the highway.

"If this happens, I feel that the village should attempt to secure some land east of the present park boundaries, both for future expansion and to compensate for the loss of the land to the new road,"

Committees Appointed

College Plans Move Forward

Plans for a three-county area Community College moved forward this week as study committees were named for the four general areas of study and a meeting of the committee at large scheduled at Cass City High School Tuesday, Sept. 23.

At the meeting officers for the various committees will be named and plans for the next steps in the project formulated.

The committees are: needs and program, finance and resources, location and facilities and legal and organization. Mrs. Ivan MacRae of Cass City is a member of the needs and program committee. There are 27 persons on this committee, representing all parts of the counties.

Cass City is represented on the 22-person finance and resources committee by Fred Pinney. John Haire and Donald Crouse are members of the locations and facilities committee. This group has 29 members. The fourth committee is legal and organization.

Survey Results
Max S. Smith, director of Community College Cooperation at Michigan State University, concluded a survey of students in the 11th and fourth grades in the schools in the three counties. The results indicated that some 40 per cent of the juniors plan on some sort of education after high school and 42.3 per cent of the fourth grade students will take post high school work. The Site

Studies already completed by Smith indicate that the area will support a community college and the facilities necessary to care for some 600 students will cost $1.8 million.

The study indicates that a minimum of 150 acres will be needed. This site should be as near to the greatest population density and as near as possible to the geographical center of the area to be served.

The study recommends that the school should be away from heavy traffic areas and have accessibility to water, gas, fire protection, electricity and similar services.

The Procedure
After all of the preliminary work has been completed, the issue will go to the voters who must approve three proposals to make the college a reality.

The first establishes a community college district. The second elects members of a board of trustees and the third provides for financing the school. (It is estimated that one mill will care for both building and operating costs.)

There are now 22 community colleges in Michigan and the 23rd has been approved this month by voters. It will be erected to serve Gladwin and Clare county ... an area with a combined valuation much less than the three-county area.

Injunction Ends Gas Squabble

An injunction against Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frederick of Cass City, restraining them from selling propane gas for a 10-year period was handed down by Circuit Court Judge James Churchill Wednesday, Sept. 15, in Caro.

The injunction was sought by Gerald Stilson of Cass City who had purchased the Fredericks' "Sunlite Gas Company" in February, 1963.

Judge Churchill also ordered a dismissal of counter-claims by the Fredericks against Stilson, B. A. Calka and Fuelgas Company of Cass City.

Stilson in a suit originally filed in July, 1964, stated that he purchased the business with the stipulation that the Fredericks agree not to "engage directly or indirectly in the business of selling or distributing propane gas for a period of 10 years."

Stilson claimed that the Fredericks were engaging in the business and demanded an injunction plus a judgment of $1,000.

Frederick filed a counter-suit against Stilson charging fraud and seeking a $25,000 judgment. He also filed suit against Calka and Fuelgas with conspiracy to cheat, wrong and defraud" the Fredericks.

After issuing the injunction and dismissing the counter-claims, Judge Churchill gave Frederick three weeks to wrap up his business and ordered him to deliver the names of all customers he is now serving to Stilson.

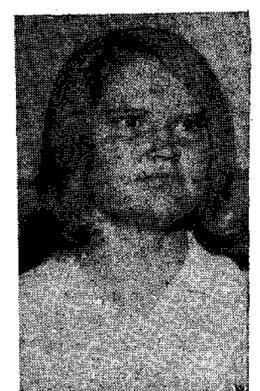

The 10-year restraining order is effective from date of the purchase of the business.

Tops in Merit Tests

Mary Lou Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spencer of Tyre, has been named one of the semifinalists in the 1965-66 Merit Scholarship competition, according to Principal Arthur Holmberg.

Miss Spencer is among the highest scoring students in Michigan who took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last March. The test was administered in 17,600 schools across the nation and 14,000 semifinalists were appointed.

Next step for Mary Lou will be a second test which substantiates her qualifying test. She must also submit recommendations by her school and fulfill routine requirements.

If she qualifies in the second test, she will be named to the finalists, the group from which all Merit Scholars for 1966 are picked.

A senior, Mary Lou has been active in extracurricular activities while maintaining a high scholastic record. She has been a member of the National Honor Society, Tri-County Honors Band, a member of the debate squad and has captured many top ribbons in livestock competition as a member of the Cass City Livestock 4-H Club.

Her major interests are science and mathematics. She is considering enrolling in either Alma or Oakland University after graduation.

Miss Spencer is the second Cass City girl to achieve this honor in recent years. Mary Lou Jones, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Jones of Snover, was named in 1963.

To increase the semifinalists' opportunities for financial assistance if they need it, NMSC sends their names to all regional accredited colleges and universities and to other scholarship-granting agencies and sources of financial aid. About half of the semifinalists in former years have obtained financial aid from sources other than the Merit program.

Hawks Set for Loop Opener at Vassar

A strong, veteran Port Huron Catholic grid eleven smothered Cass City Friday night, 39-6, in the opening game for both teams in Port Huron.

Even though the Hawks were soundly beaten, Coach John Bifoss saw some glimmers of hope for the team as it prepares for its opener in the Thumb B Conference at Vassar Friday. Mistakes cost the Hawks several touchdowns. Both teams will be looking for their first win. Vassar was edged by Millington in the 'Volcanus' opener.

One bright spot for the Hawks was the passing from Jerry Knoblet to Al Wallace. Cass City's only touchdown came from this combination.

In the first quarter after the Warriors had scored two quick markers, the Hawks moved 70 yards in 11 plays. In the drive Knoblet tossed to Wallace for 35 yards and then completed another for five yards and the score.

The Hawks were placed in a hole from which they never recovered in the opening minutes of play. The host eleven took the ball and, paced by Senior Quarterback Paul Wittliff, drove 54 yards in six plays. Wittliff scored from the one-yard line.

Knoblet fumbled on the second play from scrimmage for the Hawks and Port Huron recovered on the Hawks' 12. On the first play Wittliff went back to pass and when his receivers were covered, moved into play dirt with the ball himself.

Another Cass City error was turned into a touchdown in the second period. A pass by Dave Schember was intercepted by the Warriors on the Cass City 25.

Despite a 15-yard penalty for holding, the Warriors scored a moment later. Pat Mulien ran for 14 yards and Wittliff hit Ernie Stuart for 23 yards and a first down on the one-yard line. Wittliff sneaked over on the next play.

Neither team was able to score in the third period. Port Huron came charging back in the final period with two more markers. One was scored by Sophomore Mike Napolitan on a run of nine yards.

The second was also scored by Napolitan after the Hawks had their third fumble of the game recovered by the winners. This fumble was on the Cass City 10-yard line.

Coach Bifoss said that the team was in fairly good physical condition after the game with Port Huron. Wayne Copeland has a bruised arm and Dave Schember a sprained ankle. Both are expected to be able to play against Vassar.

Bifoss has planned no changes in his line-up for Vassar. We use the same boys, he explained, but will probably make a few defensive adjustments to prepare for the 'Volcanus' Winged-T.

Cass City Ram Sale Reflects Problems of Sheep Industry

Business was slow at the Purebred Ram Sale Tuesday at the Michigan Livestock Exchange Yards and the sale reflected the decline in the sheep business in Michigan and the United States.

By mid-sale time Tuesday, only two rams had been purchased from 32 top sheep that were offered at prices ranging from $45 to $100 each. Nine consignors from all over southern Michigan had sheep at the sale.

Graydon Blank, Michigan State University specialist, said that there are probably nearly as many sheep today as there ever were, but that the sheep industry has failed to keep pace with the growth of agriculture.

For instance, for many, many years a purebred ram auction sale was held at Marlette, he said. Rams were auctioned at the sale to buyers from all over Michigan. But we were forced to discontinue this type sale because the number of buyers declined so sharply that it became impossible to get a reasonable price for sheep at auction.

Job's Daughters In Regular Meet

Job's Daughters Bethel 7 held their regular meeting at Cass City Wednesday, Sept. 15. Installation of Guardian Executive and Associate Council was held for the coming year by Past Guardian Lucille Fleming of Marlette Bethel 56.

Plans were made for the girls to do the Lighted Cross at the installation of Echo chapter 337 and the installation at Kingston. Marlette Bethel 56 was invited to join the girls in these ceremonies.

The school of instruction will be held the second meeting in October, the 27th. Due to the Grand Chapter Session of the Order of Eastern Stars in the early part of October, the Job's meetings are changed to the second and fourth Wednesdays for October only.

The Reason
The reason why there are probably only some 215,000 sheep in Michigan today is lack of mechanization. You still shear sheep by hand, dip them and do most of the work by hand. Sheep take work.

Cattle, by contrast, are handled mostly by machinery and a farmer can do a big volume business with no more work than a small flock of sheep takes.

Another handicap is the lack of glamour in sheep. "We do not get any of the money men in the sheep industry to promote the breeds as they do in the cattle business," Blank continued.

For these reasons the type of farmer in the sheep business has changed. "We have a few big-time operators in the State but most of the sheep raised today in Michigan are by part-time farmers or students with FFA or 4-H flocks," Blank said.

You can nearly positively say that anyone raising sheep today does so because they love the business, Blank concluded.

Despite the drawbacks, there is money in sheep, Blank says. Many persons with small flocks and the major producers are doing quite well. That's the reason for this sale, he explained. We want to get some of the good rams out to improve these flocks.

And buyers had the opportunity of choosing a top ram in the Oxford, Romney, Hampshire, Suffolk, Shropshire, Corriedale, Columbia or Lincoln breeds Tuesday afternoon.

Future Prospects
What about future prospects for the sheep industry? Blank expects that the number of sheep will level off at about 200,000 in the state.

"We have to start breeding ewes more than once a year for profit," he said. "When we do, the picture will brighten."

If a survey conducted several years ago has any merit, the market for fat lambs should be increasing. This survey indicated that the higher the income level of the family, the more lamb was eaten.

With the steadily rising standard of living, it's possible that more lamb will be consumed. However, surveys also show, Blank said, that if you were taught to eat lamb as a child you'll eat it as an adult. If you weren't chances are that you aren't eating it now.

Bringing rams to the sale were: Dean Hutchinson, Cass City; Fred Black, Fairgrove; Vern Rich, Sandusky; Keith Russell, Cass City; Walt Goodall, Cass City; Harold Barnard, Troy; Frank Williamson, Pontiac, and Bert Jackman, Crosswell.

Farm Crop Storage Pays Off in Profits

Does a farm crop storage pay? You bet it does, reports Don Kehler, county extension agent in agriculture. If you do not think so, just use this simple estimating procedure.

Multiply these following average prices received for each crop by the total yield of that respective crop produced in any one year: shelled corn $1.00 per bushel, oats 68 cents and navy beans $6.50 per cwt. We don't have an average price for wheat in 1965.

For instance, suppose your total corn crop amounted to 5,000 bushels shelled. You could have sold it for at least $1.00 per bushel average and received $5,000. Suppose this same crop was sold at harvest time at a 95 cent per bushel price. You would receive $250 less.

Compute each crop this way and compare what you could have received over what you actually did by selling at harvest time. I know farmers who have erected 10,000 - 18,000 bushel storages and have paid them off in five to six years on the difference saved by storing their grain and selling at the average price. Wouldn't you have liked to have had some stored corn early this year and then have sold it for $1.25 or $1.30 per bushel?

These storages will return dividends and do it in a period of the year when you have plenty of slack labor available.

If you are planning to construct grain and bean storage facilities, it doesn't seem to make too much difference whether it goes inside a present barn or is an entirely new structure. The costs per bushel stored vary one to two cents difference either way.

You may find it less costly to build your bins on the ground level rather than elevate them. If you do, you'll need to use mechanic handling equipment.

As a last note, it may be real advantageous to build some storage for this year's bean crop.

Don't agree to meet some fellows halfway unless you are a good judge of distance.

To Prosecute Fraudulent Users

G. Pierce Martin, director of security for General Telephone of Michigan, met Friday with Richard Drews, Gen-Tel district manager for the Cass City District, to outline stringent steps of prosecution against individuals who are making fraudulent phone calls.

Drews, in reporting the meeting, stated the session was held after severe problems had been reported in other areas.

Injuries Galore For Richard Spencer Family

When all is said and done, the Richard Spencer family would be a lot better off if they kept their feet on the ground.

Spencer, Church of the Nazarene pastor, suffered severe back injuries Thursday, Sept. 16, when he fell off a ladder while putting aluminum siding on the Fred Martin residence in Cass City.

He was taken to Cass City Hospital where he spent two days. He is currently recuperating at home.

About three weeks ago his daughter, Debbie, 11, sprained a wrist when she fell from some playground equipment at the Willis Campbell Elementary School. Spencer's son, Paul, nine, broke his arm during the summer when he jumped out of a tree.

sure customer accounts are properly protected," Drews explained.

Also in on the meeting was Police Chief Carl Palmateer who will be working in conjunction with Gen-Tel security on the problem.

Michigan State law on the matter states that "any person who knowingly obtains or attempts to obtain, by the use of any fraudulent scheme, device, means or method, telegraph or telephone service or the transmission of a message, signal or other communication by telephone or telegraph, or over telephone, telegraph or other communication facilities with intent to avoid payment of charges therefor is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Fire Losses Up $15,000 in Co.

Fire losses throughout Tuscola county continued to rise during August, exceeding July's figure by $15,200, county firemen learned Thursday, Sept. 16, at the regular meeting of the Tuscola County Fire Association in Fairgrove.

Richard Root, Cass City, association secretary, reports fire losses for August totaled $38,900 as compared to $23,700 in July. Chief reason for the increase was a huge barn fire near Mayville.

Representatives of the Flint inspection bureau will meet with the group Oct. 21 in Mayville to outline inspection procedures.

Townships Okay New Fire Rates

Eight area townships have agreed to a new fire protection contract with the Elkland Township Fire Department that will cost participating townships $14 per section per year, according to Nelson Willy, fire chief.

The $14 is a standby fee. Charges for fire runs into the townships will consist of $75 for the first hour or fraction thereof and $25 for each additional hour or fraction thereof.

Willy stated that three of the townships present at the ratification meeting held Monday, Sept. 13, have already signed up. He is to meet with other townships to see what sections are to be serviced

Rock Thrower Named in Suit For $25,000

A carelessly thrown rock that accidentally hit a Reese man has resulted in a $25,000 suit against the boy who threw the rock and his father.

William Proulx filed the suit this week against James Miklovich, a minor, by his guardian, ad Litem John Miklovich.

The suit stated the boy had thrown the rock at another object and it missed, striking Proulx, whose leg was broken. The incident took place in May, 1964.

Proulx is seeking the sum to cover lost wages, expenses and past and re-occurring injuries to the leg.

by the department.

Present at the meeting were representatives from Elkland, Elmwood, Ellington, Kingston, Wells, Greenleaf, Grant and Novesta townships. The department services a total of 11 townships at present.

At least one township has filed notice that it will no longer be responsible for the fire run fees.

Gail Parrott, Novesta supervisor, in advertising the notice in this issue, commented that most insurance policies will take care of the fire run.

In the future, Elkland township will bill directly to the land owners.

The new policy, Parrott advised, will take effect October 1.

Livestock Club Names Officers

They are: president, Larry Clink; vice-president, Janet Jickling; secretary, Mark Battel; treasurer, Kathy Jickling; reporter, Mary Lou Spencer; refreshments, Connie DeLong, and recreation, Gerald Harneck.

The group voted to change its meeting night to the fourth Saturday of every month.

Hedge Clippings Kill 11 Cows

A Mayville farmer who threw hedge clippings to his cattle lost 11 of the animals when the hedge proved to be toxic and lethal when eaten.

Nelson Briggs reported to deputies Sunday that five of his cattle had died suddenly. By the time deputies arrived, two more cows were dead.

Another cow died while deputies were investigating. They stated that the entire herd appeared in a dazed condition and that the animals would fall to the ground and die within 60 seconds.

A veterinarian was called and samples of the animals' drinking water, field weeds and the hedge were taken.

Deputies returning Monday learned that three other cows died.

The veterinary's investigation revealed that the hedge was comprised of Japanese Yew and Juniper, both highly toxic and lethal if eaten.

Briggs reported that the rest of the herd was recovering.

Detroit Issued 2 Tickets after Crash

A Detroit man was given two tickets following an accident Friday afternoon on an "S" curve on Cedar Run Road, two miles south of Gageton, in which he and another man suffered severe injuries.

Terrence L. Winn, 21, Detroit, was ticketed by sheriff's deputies for failure to stop in assured clear distance and for driving a truck with no chauffeur's license.

Winn and a friend, Harry D. Freyer, 23, Hazel Park, were both badly injured when Winn lost control of the truck at the beginning of the curve, coming from Gageton.

The truck skidded for 44 paces before leaving the pavement. It went onto the shoulder, then off the road and rolled over several times, traveling 250 feet before stopping.

Both men were taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital.

In other accident news, two minor accidents were investigated by Village police Friday.

A car driven by David A. Barnes, 18, Cass City, was struck in the right side by another car driven by Stanley J. Lewicki, 37, Denker, on Main Street, a half block west of Leach. Barnes was making a right turn to park at the curb and Lewicki attempted to pass on the right.

Riding with Lewicki were his children, Gerald, 10, Richard, eight, Jeffery, six and Diana, five. No injuries were reported.

Gary J. Zink, 19, Bad Axe, attempting to pull into the S&H Service Station Friday struck a car driven by Mrs. Paul O'Harris, 24, of Cass City as she attempted to back away from the curb.

Riding with Mrs. O'Harris were her children Dean, three, Craig, five, Richie, two.

gered schedule for pool use, he explained.

Rawson also reported that the pool is showing signs of wear. He cited figures for pool construction for Marlette and Caro.

After Rawson's remarks, the discussion switched to an indoor pool attached to the new high school.

It was pointed out that a pool of this type served the entire community and also is used in conjunction with a physical education program in the school.

Tom Proctor, program chairman, said that in Midland, where a pool is part of the school facilities, the pool is in such heavy demand in the evenings it is necessary to schedule events for its use far in advance.

GUEST SPEAKER

Nam that it has done for Nationalist China, we wouldn't be in Viet Nam now." The Viet Nam situation may consolidate Russia and China, he added.

After some discussion of modern Chinese philosophy the speaker suggested that a possible solution to the Communist problem is to keep the Communist world broken up into groups.

"Then they'll do as Christianity did . . . fight amongst themselves. Groups that break up tend to hate each division more than they do the enemy."

"All Asia is exploding. The technical revolution is working so fast that values can't be adjusted. For that matter, every realm of life today is involved in revolution."

How To Live?

"The problem: How in a revolutionary age do you find a way to live. That's the problem of every man . . . to find dignity, peace, purpose."

Dr. Covensky spiced his presentation with subtle humor. At one point, while discussing the problem of the population boom, he admonished, "I'm warning you . . . be careful! That has seven different meanings and I'll leave it at that."

Covensky closed with the advice that "If we are going to live in a revolutionary world, we have to be able to grasp what's going on. It is absolutely necessary to gain a knowledge of these other cultures if we are going to survive."

A question and answer period followed the program. Refreshments were served.

REGULAR CHECKUPS

Q. We are all urged to have regular physical checkups. How successful are such examinations in discovering what, if anything, is wrong?

A. They are successful enough to be very much worth while. A study conducted at the University of Pennsylvania showed that regular physical examinations succeeded in detecting 50 per cent of patients suffering from the early stages of potentially fatal disease. The Pennsylvania medical team found this to be true by analyzing the causes of death of 350 executives who had submitted themselves to regular medical checkups.

"DEVIL'S PINCHES"

Q. I bruise very easily. Could this be due to a vitamin deficiency?

A. If there is no blood disorder to account for the bruising tendency (and this can be determined only by your doctor), the condition, sometimes called "Devil's Pinches," may be considered harmless. Most doctors question the effectiveness of vitamins in improving this tendency.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity brief and general and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians. Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Over 33,000 persons applied for the 300 $25.00 elk hunting licenses. (Notifications to all applicants, telling whether or not they received a permit, have been sent out.

Still to come are applications for doe hunting from an anticipated 350,000 persons. Deadline for applications is Oct. 1.

Tell Support Prices for Beans Grown in Area

George Schian of the Tuscola County ASCS office this week announced the support prices on bean varieties grown in the county.

The prices for number one per hundredweight are: pea beans, $6.65; dark red beans, $8.26; light red beans, $8.70, and Pinto, $8.07.

For farm-stored loan rates, deduct $1.00 for pea beans and $1.50 for all other varieties, Schian said. Premiums for U.S. extra number one grades will be 10 cents per hundredweight, except for pea beans which will be 25 cents per hundredweight for CHP grade.

Applications for support may be filed through Mar. 31. Maturity date for loans will be April 30.

Historian Covensky Had A Beard ...

By Dave Kraft

Only three words have I to say in judgment of the first of the American Association of University Women's series of cultural programs. "It's about time!"

I was thoroughly impressed with Dr. Milton Covensky's presentation of the "Revolution in Modern China." Interesting, informative and motivating.

I was particularly impressed with the fact that he wears a beard. Obviously there is some correlation between outstanding men and beards ... if you see what I mean.

One thing I might suggest. As Dr. Covensky admitted, China is a topic American's know very little about. I think, to insure the success of the cultural program in its infancy, it is necessary to have a subject with a little more public appeal ... a little more romance, in the true sense of the world.

Then, as the program grows, bring in these more thought provoking topics. I realize that Dr. Covensky's topic was very valid ... very important to our present existence, but I believe this cultural program is important, not only for the edification and elevation of the individual but will affect things such as, say, the competition for the placement of a community college, or the placement of future industry.

In any event, I congratulate the AAUW on its first program, an unqualified success, and urge them to hurry up the presentation of the next.

One thing I noticed was the absence of students at the program. I imagine that many of them thought, because of religious over-saturation on the China topic in the past, that it was to be a missionary-type program, fraught with religious zeal and sacrificial offerings.

Not so. And I doubt that future programs will. It is my estimation that coming programs will have current, up-to-date topics that will enthrall and stimulate young minds.

It is a sad thing to note, but nevertheless true, that programs of this nature having the slightest religious connotation are not well received outside the church by young people. Not today.

Religion means restriction to many and has, in our fluid world, an enclosing quality which is to be tolerated one day a week ... Sunday ... after the week's sinning is out of the way.

How'd I get on this kick? This is a humor (?) column. How about some prized bloopers that you didn't see because of the acute eyesight of our proofreader.

From a wedding story: "A large velvet Dior cow and streamers trimmed the back of the gown."

How now, gown cow?

"The evening show will include the crowing of the Huron County Bean Queen." You should see her dance.

From livestock show: "had individual champion of the show." Spounds like he was showing hamburger on the hoof.

From an ad: Erel's Wood Center. "Isn't that what they call a 'Chopping Center'?"

From a wedding: "So and so chose so and so to be his bride in a ceremony Saturday." He's liable to find that his bride will lead him into troubled waters.

"An exchange student spent three weeks with the Kennedys." He was there just long enough for a couple of cigarettes and left.

From a 4-H Club story: "The next meeting will be the begging of their new year and election of officers." Alms for the love of Heart, Head, Hands and Health, so to speak.

Tuscola MEA Schedules Meet

The fall meeting of the Tuscola County Michigan Education Association has been scheduled at Akron-Fairgrove High School, one and a half miles north of Fairgrove, at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 30.

Featured speaker will be Rudy Petzold, publisher of the Tuscola County Advertiser. A film strip of the 1965 NEA convention will be shown.

Officers of the county chapter for 1965-66 are: president, Mrs. Ruby Stewart of Vassar; president-elect, Burton Castle of Caro; vice-president, Mrs. Carrie Parsell of Reese; secretary, Mrs. Janet Scott of Caro, and treasurer, Miss Charlotte Albrant of Caro.

State Ups Help for Mental Care—Top Program Expected

By Elmer E. White
Improvement

Great strides in community treatment of the mentally ill are expected to result from a legislative change made this year.

The law, known as Act 54, previously provided for a 50-50 matching plan between the state and the locality establishing a community mental health care center.

At the strong urging of the state mental health department and many local planning agencies, the legislature this year raised to 75 per cent the maximum state contribution.

Many communities, some spokesmen said, just did not have the funds to establish meaningful programs under the 1964 law at the 50 per cent level.

State Mental Health Director Dr. Robert A. Kimmich encouraged the adjustment in the funding provision of the law.

He contended during discussion of the 1965 change that Michigan could substantially improve its total mental program by making the community services law effective.

The year ahead will just begin to tell the story of whether this law, somewhat a pioneer effort in the nation, is now written as needed to make community mental health programs meaningful.

Another Oldtimer

Evolving from rather modest beginnings, Wayne State University has come to be one of the "Big Three" in state institutions of higher learning. It will mark its 100th year in 1968.

University officials describe its history thusly: "The simple unpretentious beginnings of medical education in Detroit 100 years ago did not forecast either the size or prestige of the medical center here or the extent of Wayne's commitment to a program of teaching, research and service within that center. During the first 50 years only two other colleges emerged to stand beside medicine.

"The second 50 years have seen half a score of colleges, divisions and schools come into being. This expansion in program... in synopsis the history of Wayne, is the measure both of the growth of organized knowledge in these decades and of the efforts made to provide the education which today is so important to students and so vital to the community."

Back in 1868, a college of medicine and a college of education were in operation. Later years saw the addition of colleges of liberal arts, pharmacy, engineering and a graduate school under jurisdiction of the Detroit Board of Education.

Wayne University became an entity in 1933 when these several units were united. Thereafter the Detroit City Law School became part of the University and primary units were added to provide degrees in social work, nursing and business administration. The latest addition, in 1959, was Montclair College, a kind of honors college. The "State" designation was added in 1956 when the Legislature started a gradual change from city to state support of the 19 schools and colleges. Many of Wayne's some 50,000 students still are commuters and part-time enrollees but its changing character has made it much more than the "streetcar campus" title it bore in fairly recent years.

Death Threats

The approach of winter brings many hazards to the unwary. Not the least of these are the icy highways and thinly-iced waterways.

Another, more consistently deadly danger, however, does its worst damage in the winter months and requires real vigilance to detect before it is too late.

This is the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning, described by the experts as the "silent killer."

Warnings are issued widely each year at the start of winter against this cold-weather hazard but still the headlines annually relate many needless deaths from this cause.

"Everyone must realize that this deadly enemy lurks in wait in many places," says State Health Director Dr. Albert E. Heustis. "It awaits unsuspecting victims in homes, garages, cars, schools, factories, motels, house trailers and even fishing shanties."

Carbon monoxide is present wherever there is combustion: in gas refrigerators, furnaces and auto engines. To protect against this colorless, odorless poisonous substance adequate ventilation is required and annual checks of gas furnaces and appliances is recommended.

Agriculture is becoming increasingly more technical. Of 2,000 graduating seniors in midwest agricultural colleges, one-fourth plan to take advanced graduate work.

The small poultry flock is rapidly on the way out. Michigan State poultry experts predict the average size of commercial egg-laying flocks will be 20,000 birds by 1980. And, they speculate that new developments will mean it will be a one-man operation.

Mrs. Herman W. Rock

Miss Judy Lea Buckner became the bride of the Rev. Herman Walter Rock Saturday, Aug. 21. The ceremony was held at the First Methodist Church of Fremont.

The Rev. Kenneth Lindland, the Rev. Gaylord Howell and the Rev. Dale Reynolds officiated at the 5 o'clock rites. Mrs. Lois Smith was organist. Jayne Sanders and the bridegroom offered solos.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon chiffon over crystal taffeta, designed with a lace bodice and chapel train. A pearl and crystal crown held her chapel-length veil. She carried a Bible topped by red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Robert Trombley was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Ottenbecher, Miss Shirley Ort, Mrs.

Leonard Coon and Miss Avis MacNich. They wore white and red dotted sheer gowns over red crystal taffeta. They had matching headpieces and each carried a single white cabbage rose. Theresa Thomas was junior bridesmaid.

Leonard Coon was best man and groomsmen were Henry Rock, Gary Scanlon, Frank VanderMoore and Thomas Carlson. Guests were seated by Duane Yager, James Duke and Gene Babich. Kyle Coon was junior groomsman and Wayne Buckner was ring bearer.

A programmed reception for 300 guests was held at the Holton High School gymnasium. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Buckner were the host and hostess. Mrs. Kenneth Nobie directed a surprise "This Is Your Life" program and other musical entertainment.

The couple took a trip to Niagara Falls via Canada and returned via United States. A day was spent at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. They will reside in Holton.

The bride will graduate from Spring Arbor College in June. Mr. Rock, who attended Asbury College, is minister at the Holton Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry R. Hedley

The new Mr. and Mrs. Barry Reid Hedley are making their home on Hoppe Road, Unionville, following their marriage Saturday, Aug. 14, in Saint Pancratius Catholic Church, Cass City. The Rev. Fr. Arnold Messing, pastor, officiated at the 11:30 a.m. rites.

The bride, Sally Ann Edzik, is the daughter of Stanley Edzik Jr. and the late Mrs. Edzik of Cass City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hedley of Unionville.

For the service, the church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and yellow Majestic daisies.

To fit the mood of the Centennial, the bride chose a floor-length bridal gown with the heritage look, styled of silk linen with a tiered bell skirt and elbow sleeves banded in cotton Venice lace. Her detachable train, also banded in Venice lace, was held secure by a large bow at the center back. Her silk illusion veil was held by a small pillbox hat set with crystal and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchid and ivy streamers.

The matron of honor, Sue McNamara of Union Lake, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of Empress Josephine styling with a soft white crepe skirt and pale yellow chiffon bodice banded with Venice lace at the raised waistline. For her headpiece, she chose a simple yellow Dior bow with butterfly veil.

The bridesmaids, Suzanne Hedley of Unionville, Sherry Law and Sandy Copeland, were identically gowned. They carried colonial baskets of yellow and white daisies and ivy streamers.

Wayne Dillon of Unionville attended as best man. Groomsmen were Alan Brady of Unionville, Garry Edzik of Cass City and Jerry Generous of Gageton.

Guests were seated by Dennis McNamara, the bride's brother-in-law, and Tom Kundinger, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Hedley, the groom's mother, wore a beige sheath dress with which she wore beige accessories.

A wedding breakfast was served to 60 guests following the ceremony and a reception was held in the evening at Sportsmen's VFW Hall, Sebawaing, for about 300 guests.

The couple went to Northern Michigan and Canada on their wedding trip.

Mrs. Hedley is employed at Erla's Food Center, Cass City, and her husband is a farmer.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Sez:

Dear Mr. Editor:

I see by the papers where the U. S. Census Bureau was estimating 38,000,000 people, representing 11,000,000 families, would move from where they were living to some other place in 1965. The piece said most of them was moving from one state to another, but about 25 per cent of them was just moving from one location to another in the same town or community. It went on to say about half the population of the United States was living in a different place from where they were living in 1960, either in another state, another town, or around the corner.

We were discussing this item at the country store Saturday night and Zeke Grubb was lamenting that few youngsters nowadays grew up in the community their parents was born in. Zeke allowed as how it was a great pity on account of they didn't get the benefit of having their grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins help bring 'em up in the proper tradition for obedience, good manners, and church-going habits. He said he could recollect

Baptists Schedule Missionary Series

The First Baptist Church of Cass City will participate in a World-Wide Missionary Conference, along with 12 other Regular Baptist Churches in the Saginaw Valley. The conference begins Sunday, Sept. 26, and will conclude Sunday, Oct. 3. There will be a different missionary speaker in each of the regular services on Sundays, plus a different speaker each weekday evening. There will be no services Friday and Saturday evenings.

Missionaries in the conference represent eight foreign countries, plus four who work in various fields within the United States. Anyone who is interested in missions is invited to attend the services.

The Sunday services will be held at their usual hours, and the evening services will begin at 7:30. There will be curios and pictures.

when he was a boy it was considered sinful for a feller to marry a girl that didn't live close enough for him to see the smoke coming out the chimney of her Pa's house.

Clem Webster was commenting that the grass was getting greener and greener over yonder as the years went by. Furthermore, said Clem, a young man couldn't use the chimney yardstick no more on account of a heap of the new-fangled houses didn't have chimneys and them that did was cooking and heating with electricity, gas or fuel oil and didn't make no smoke you could see as far as a chicken could smell.

All the fellers, Mister Editor, was a little sad about them moving figgers from the U. S. Census Bureau.

And Josh Clodhopper reported, speaking of figgers, he had saw where the textile industry announced 40 million pairs of slacks was being sold to wimmen this year. Josh was of the opinion, based on what he had saw that 39,995,000 of them was two sizes too small, including the pair his old lady bought. For reasons of personal safety around the house, I reckon, they was no comment from the fellers on this item.

Some of the fellers got to talking about Winter not being fur off and Ed Doolittle said a profet has got to stand on his record. He said he predicted Goldwater would beat Lyndon in 1964 and the Yankees would win the pennant in 1965, and with that splendid record, he knowed his friends would be interested in hearing from him about the weather for the coming Winter. He reported he had took note where the birds was gathering in droves and the nuts was maturing early, so he was predicting a early Fall and a cold Winter.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Mr. and Mrs. Paul D'Arcy

The Clarinda, Iowa, United Methodist church was the setting for the 1:30 p.m. wedding ceremony Sept. 21 when Paul D'Arcy of Kingston claimed Carolyn Stinson of Clarinda as his bride. The groom's uncle, the Rev. Donald Conrad, of Osceola, Ind., officiated at the ceremony. The Rev. Sherman Mills of the Saginaw United Methodist Church, of which the bride is a member.

Baskets of white gladioli and candelabra decorated the church. The Rev. Howard Breneman of Fairborn, Ohio, was soloist at his nephew's wedding. The bride and groom also sang a duet, "Waiter Thou Goest." Mrs. Breneman was organist and Mrs. William Mosser of Walled Lake, Mich., was pianist. She is a cousin of the groom.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee D'Arcy of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stinson of Clarinda.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the white floor-length gown she fashioned. The bodice was of scalloped lace over taffeta and the skirt was silk organza over taffeta with scalloped lace covering the front. The back was designed with a bustle effect and the bridal-point sleeves were elbow length. Her headpiece, a pearl-studded crown, held her veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible adorned with a corsage of yuletide roses.

Matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Charles Morrow of Ames, Iowa, wore a street-length gown of aqua chiffon over satin with rosettes at the back waistline. A matching rosette was her headpiece with a nose-length veil. Her hair was a single long-stemmed yuletide rose with white ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Marilyn and Janalyn Stinson of Clarinda, the bride's sisters, and Kaye D'Arcy of Kingston, sister of the groom. Christine Conrad of Osceola was flower girl. The bridal attendants were identically dressed as the matron of honor. Miss Conrad carried a basket of white rose petals. She is the groom's cousin.

Dave D'Arcy, who attends Boston University, was best man for his brother. Groomsman included Jack D'Arcy of Marlette, William Hossler of Walled Lake, both the groom's cousins, and Charles Morrow of Ames, Iowa, the bride's brother-in-law.

Ring bearer was a brother of the bride, David Stinson of Clarinda, and seating guests were Steve Stump of Mishawaka, Ind., and Wayne Bicknese of West Union, Iowa.

Candlelighters at the services were both brothers of the bride, Richard D'Arcy and Jonathan Stinson.

A reception followed at Wilhelm Hall in Clarinda. Mrs. Dave D'Arcy was in charge of the guestbook. Another reception for the newlyweds was held Sept. 4 at the Deford School. Mrs. Jim Tuckey of Cass City made the three-tiered wedding cake.

The couple took a week's wedding trip to the Dakotas, Minnesota and Northern Michigan and will reside in Mishawaka.

The couple are both seniors at Bethel College. He is majoring in theology and she will teach following her graduation in January.

Mrs. Richard A. Dillman

Miss Susanne F. Ammerman of Midland and Richard A. Dillman of Cass City exchanged nuptial vows Saturday, Sept. 18, in the Aldersgate Methodist Church, Midland. The 3:00 p.m. double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Frank Davenport.

Mr. Davenport sang "I Love You Truly" and "Wedding Prayer." He was accompanied by Mrs. Albert Hill of Midland, a friend of the bride and groom. The groom's sister, Miss Marge Dillman, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Robert Tuttle of Adrian, a friend of the bride, gave a reading, "How Do I Love Thee."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ammerman of Mt. Morris and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Dillman of Cass City.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of silk peau de soie fashioned with a scoop neckline and a modified Empire waist bodice, enhanced with tiny seed and oat pearls. The gown was also designed with long tapered sleeves and had a detachable waltzou train. Her veil of imported English silk illusion was held by a pillbox of peau de soie with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses and ivy.

Acting as maid of honor was Miss Sharon Braden of Flushing, a cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Ortnier of Taylor and the groom's sister Marge of Royal Oak.

They were attired in floor-length modified Empire styled gowns with brocade bodices fashioned with a scoop neckline and flowing chiffon skirts of cobalt blue. Their headpieces were of matching chiffon petals with veils. They carried cascade arrangements of white Fuji mums.

Newell Harris of Cass City was best man and James Jezewski of Cass City and Gary Christner of Pigeon were groomsman.

Ushers were Charles Guinther of Cass City, Donald Cummings of Owendale and Gail Cunningham of Saginaw.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ammerman chose a gold lace and crepe dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was yellow sweetheart roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony and 300 guests attended. When the couple left on their

IT SEEMS TO ME Nation's Drug Stores Combat Filthy Books

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

The recent Baptism of the President's daughter, Luci, has caused much more unrest among the country's religious leaders than will be occasioned by her forthcoming marriage to a Roman Catholic. Cardinal Bea and other Catholic authorities have said repeatedly that a major element in the hope for ecumenical reunion lies in the fact that the Catholic Church recognizes as valid any baptism administered in the name of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Then, why was re-baptism considered necessary for Miss Johnson? Official word was that the priest who performed the sacrament was overzealous, wishing to make certain the fact of Miss Johnson's baptism.

This is a thorn in the side of ecumenical efforts, or so IT SEEMS TO ME.

and placed it in the trap. It worked! When he went down the next morning, he found in the trap — a picture of a mouse!

THIS'N THAT. Fifteen Protestant clergymen of Long Island, N.Y. recently held an eight hour 'preach in' with U.S. foreign policy as the subject of all sermons. St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, Pa., reputed to be the oldest Negro Episcopal congregation in the U.S., has voted unanimously to strike a clause in the church charter barring whites from voting membership. The 1965 Roman Catholic directory reports 45,640,000 members. This represents a ten-year gain of 13 million, or 40 percent. Our congratulations!

Across this nation there are 55,000 drugstores, one out of five of them have new signs on their newstands. The sign invites the customers to call any objectionable material to the druggist's attention, with the promise that it will be removed. Strictly voluntary, the program has met with mixed reactions. There have been incidents where the distributor has refused to bring any literature at all unless the store takes some volume of the objectionable material. One empty newstand was a symbol of the druggist's sincerity. I recall writing earlier that our local druggists try diligently to police all undesirable literature: we commend them. Or, so IT SEEMS TO ME.

Pastors of Reformed Churches in French speaking Switzerland have been warned that the Roman Catholic Church has not altered its stand on mixed marriages. The following conditions still stand: 1. Mixed marriages celebrated at some place outside the church are not recognized as valid, and the Catholic party is automatically excommunicated. 2. The vows taken by couples married in the Roman Catholic Church "still impose Roman Catholic baptism on children from the match and prohibit the Protestant partner from exercising any religious influence on the children." At least there isn't any room here for misinterpretation; or so IT SEEMS TO ME.

In Detroit recently, the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church met. In ten action-filled days the 2,700,000-member synod moved closer to cooperation with other Lutheran bodies. Ultra conservatives complained privately that, if they weren't diligent, under present leadership they would find their denomination enrolled in the National and World Council of Churches. When I was in seminary, the Missouri Synod was the sole branch of Lutheranism considered not able to join in any kind of merger (nor even its members to join even any civic group not under Lutheran control.) This new attitude invokes additional hope for ecumenical efforts. Or, so IT SEEMS TO ME.

Wilmot Society Sets Bake Sale

A bake sale to raise money for various club projects has been set for Saturday, Sept. 25, by the Wilmot Altar Society. The sale will be held at Harmon's Furniture Store in Kingston.

The sale was discussed at the group's meeting Thursday, Sept. 9. Proceeds will be used to purchase such items as altar cloths and altar boy cassocks, which are this year's society projects. A new altar was recently financed by the society.

The society also pays for Catechism taught by the Sisters. Members are asked to bring their donations for the sale and persons wishing to donate bread baking ingredients to some member's project are asked to leave them at the Church Rectory basement no later than Wednesday, Sept. 22.

At the meeting the president announced her resignation from the post because she has moved to Saginaw.

Rummage Sale Nets Girls $60

Cass City Cheerleaders extended their thanks to local residents who supported and helped with their rummage sale held recently.

The group netted $60.00 which was used to clear up expenses of attendance last June at a clinic at Hartland, according to Linda Calka, co-captain.

Coming up for the cheerleaders is a clinic sometime next month and junior high and junior varsity try-outs within the next few weeks, Miss Calka reports.

The group also plans to sell pens carrying the Hawk football schedule as a fund raising project.
