From the Editor's Corner

Gerald Stilson is a wheeler dealer with a steady job. Last week he became the owner of the Cass City Lunch Room. While this is his first venture on Main street, he has bought and sold more property than anyone in town except real estate dealers. In 18 years the Stilsons have moved their home 21 times and owned 19 different houses in the Cass City area. The last one they bought and sold before they had a chance to move in. While he moves his family about town with reckless abandon, he doesn't change his job. He has been working for Wesley Milk Co. for over 20 years.

Traditionally in years past the weeks of the Tuscola County Fair and the first week of deer season were said to bring business to a comparative standstill. And while this still holds for Fair Week, deer week is gradually changing. Phil Retherford, who works at Fort's Store, remarked that Saturday afternoon was a busy day for him. Most of the people in the store were strangers, he said.

To check, I toured the southern part of the county Sunday and saw more hunters and parked hunters' cars than ever before. Speaking of the local deer season, the usual stories about the hunters who had their buck shot the night before the season opened were widely circulated. As a non-hunter I've always classified about 99 per cent of these stories in the "sour grapes" class. One thing sure, the hunter success in the area continues to grow as the herd expands and the number of hunters keeps growing with the herd.

The American Medical Association lists four personal traits that are necessary for a successful career in the medical profession. The first is intellectual curiosity. A medical student must expect to be a lifelong student, says the Association. Second is a concern for people. A compassion for people that includes understanding of human needs and fears. Third is good health. Students must be equipped to withstand the physical and emotional stresses of long working hours and mental pressures. The fourth is tenacity. Ten years or more of formal education is required. It occurred to me while I read this release that the medical profession has no corner on needing people with these traits. Concluded on page three.

One Hurt in Three Monday Accidents

A Deford man was severely injured in one of three Cass City area accidents investigated Monday by village police and Tuscola County deputies.

John O. Churchill, 22, Deford, was injured early Monday morning when his car, left the road and turned over on Krapf Road, a half-mile north of Elmwood Road.

Churchill, who was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital, told Deputy Jim Barriger in a preliminary statement that a second car had been stopped in the middle of the road and that he lost control when he tried to avoid the other car.

He also claimed that he had struck the second vehicle. No other car was found at the scene; however, Cass City Patrolman Robert Pawlowski, aiding in the investigation, found two flecks of blue paint on the Churchill vehicle. Barriger was to obtain a full report as soon as he could talk to Churchill.

TICKET DRIVER

Mrs. Dave Ware, 21, Cass City, escaped injury Monday afternoon when her car was struck by a second car driven by Kenneth R. Crawford, 19, Deford, at the intersection of Third and Leach streets. She told police she didn't see the Crawford car until she heard the brakes squeal.

Crawford was ticketed for speeding (driving too fast for conditions).

A car driven by Mrs. Violette E. LeBlanc, 31, Cass City, backed into a car driven by Paul A. Richmond, Cass City, at the Walnut Trailer Park Monday.

ONE INJURED

Robert C. Putman, 25, Caro, suffered severe injuries early Saturday morning when his car ran off Englehardt Road, a mile and a half south of Deekerville Road. Putman told investigating officers that his steering wheel caught and locked to the right. The car hit a bridge railing and flipped over into a ditch. Putman was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Early Sunday morning a car driven by Anthony Williamson, 16, Kingston, struck a bridge abutment on Bevans Road, a quarter mile east of Murray Road. No injuries were reported.

In other accident news, Charles L. Welch, 30, Deford, and Mrs. Maxine Noble, 40, Bad Axe, suffered cuts and bruises in a car-truck collision Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17, at M-53 and Sebawaing Road, northeast of Cass City. Welch told State Police that his truck brakes failed when he attempted to stop for the intersection while traveling east on Sebawaing Road.

Mrs. Noble's five-year-old daughter escaped injury.

Ice on M-53 caused a truck driven by Harold Easton, 31, Pigeon, former Cass City man, to jack-knife early Wednesday morning, Nov. 17. The truck hit a road sign and went into a ditch. Damage was estimated at $500. Easton was not hurt.

It Was One of Those Week Ends For Pawlowski

It was one of those week ends for Cass City's newest policeman, Patrolman Robert Pawlowski.

Friday night he was involved in a fight with a patron of one of the bars while trying to arrest the man for smashing glass ware and threatening other customers.

Sunday night he was chasing a traffic violator down local back roads when he hit a hole at high speed and damaged the front and underside of the Cass City patrol car. He lost his speeder in Gagetown when the car stalled.

Probably the cruelest cut of all came Saturday while the young officer was deer hunting and missed a shot at what he described as "a nice big buck."

Millington Asks Out of Area College District

Millington School District this week expressed a desire to leave the proposed Tri-county Community College service area, if a study now under way is adopted by the Michigan Department of Education and local voters.

The study, as it is now formulated, includes all of the districts in Sanilac, Tuscola and Huron counties. Millington and Crosswell-Lexington school districts have expressed a desire not to be served by the new school if it is built. Millington's school board said that they felt that they could be better served by the community college in Genesee county. Crosswell's board would like to send its students to Port Huron.

The districts must have the approval of the State Board of Education before they can be excluded from the voting district.

PEAS PORRIDGE HOT?—Not exactly. It's actually corn meal mush, brewed up by Mrs. Orion Cardew and gulped down by her fifth grade class at the Willis Campbell Elementary School in conjunction with annual Thanksgiving studies. The meal, made of ground corn, is much like the Pilgrims ate at their first Thanksgiving. Social studies, composition, health and good manners studies of the class are all Thanksgiving orientated during this period. These mush eaters are Teresa Tracy, Drew Guernsey and Peggy Schultz. Thanksgiving

The following poem was written by Jeanne Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander of Cass City, as a Thanksgiving exercise for Mrs. Orion Cardew's fifth grade class at Willis Campbell Elementary School. It was selected from six poems submitted. Because of its freshness, simplicity and originality, the Chronicle passes it on to its readers.

At Thanksgiving there is a wonderful feast.
Some eat bird; some eat beast.
As I sit at the table and pray
I thank thee, Lord, for this wonderful day.
Thank you for fathers and mothers.
Thank you for sisters and brothers.
Yes, Lord as I sit here at the table and pray,
I thank You for making this wonderful day.

Chain Reaction Illnesses Started by Insect Bites

It was a small, pink worm that chewed up Adolf Sattelberg's vacation this summer and eventually caused a 25-day trip to a Saginaw hospital.

Sattelberg, 75, Gagetown, and his wife took a two-month trip to the West Coast in June and July, stopping at various spots along the way.

At Wilbur, Nebraska, near Lincoln, the pair stopped to visit with friends. While there, Sattelberg took a walk through some weeds and brush to look at his friend's horses.

When he returned, he noticed that he had several small bites, 34, to be exact, on his legs, midriff, back, shoulders and hands. The bites later became quarter-sized welts, resembling a boil. The welts itched and were painful when scratched.

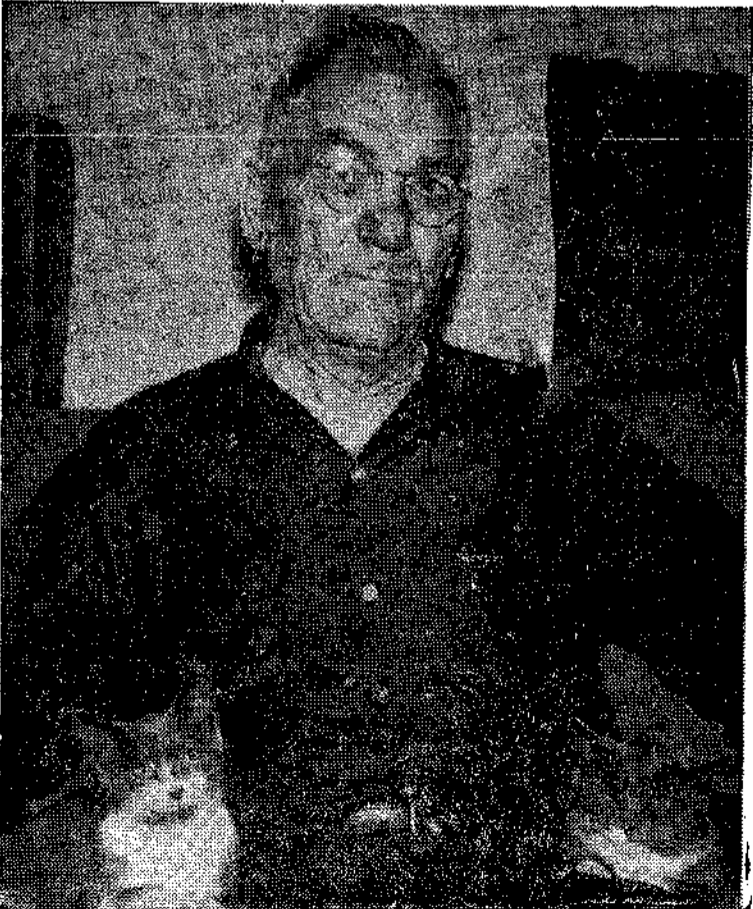

He found out later that he had been bitten by an insect which he calls, for want of a better name, "cniggers." Either the insect, or an egg from the insect burrows under the skin and sets up parasitic housekeeping.

A carbolic salve applied to the welts kills the parasite but turns the skin green. "I looked pretty funny for a while, with all those green spots," he says.

Later in the trip the pair stopped at Yosemite National Park for a two-week stay. It was here Sattelberg contracted Rocky Mountain fever. He says his doctors told him he caught the fever because of his weakened condition caused by the poison from the chigger bites. With the nearest doctor 100 miles away, he was forced to take aspirin to reduce his high fever. "I felt like I was burning up," he relates. After the couple returned from their vacation, Sattelberg continued to feel groggy.

"I just laid around all the time, unable to get back in stride. Finally I went to the doctor and he put me in the hospital immediately. Tests over the 25-day period uncovered a heart ailment, virus pneumonia, arthritis and sinus trouble, all made active, according to my doctors, by the poison in my system from those worms. I've never been sick in my 75 years, aside from colds and that sort of thing. This was my first experience in a hospital."

Sattelberg is still recuperating and has to be careful of his heart. His arthritis and sinus trouble still bother him.

SLOW RECOVERY—Last June Adolf Sattelberg of Gagetown was bitten by insects while on a two-month vacation trip. The bites poisoned his system and set off a chain-reaction of various ailments that have almost turned the active 75-year-old into an invalid. He is shown here with two of the family cats as he recuperates at his home. (Chronicle photo)

Winter Parking Rules Effective

Cass City's on-again, off-again snow has prompted Police Chief Carl Palmateer to issue early his yearly reminder to village residents that no parking will be allowed on any Cass City streets after 2:00 a.m. because of snow removal.

Cars left on village streets after the deadline are violating a village ordinance and may be ticketed, Palmateer explained.

Union Service Slated

The annual Union Thanksgiving service, sponsored by the Cass City Council of Churches, has been scheduled at the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City Wednesday, Nov. 24, at 8 p.m.

Following a rotating system of speakers from among pastors of member churches, this year the Rev. Richard Spencer, pastor of the Cass City Church of the Nazarene, will present the message.

Special music will be provided by the Salem EUB Church Choir. Other area ministers will assist in the service.

The offering will be divided equally between CROP and the Council of Churches.

The public is invited to attend the services. Member churches in the Council are the Presbyterian, Methodist, Salem EUB and Church of the Nazarene.

Arrest Pair in Local Bar Fight

Two Cass City men are finishing out a five-day jail sentence in Tuscola County Jail, following their arrest for assault and battery Friday night in a brawl at Jack's Bar in Cass City.

Still in jail are Denver E. Calloway, 22, and his brother, Tommy E. Calloway, 20, both of Cass City. The pair appeared before Justice Frank Rolka Saturday and were each fined $100 and costs of $6.25. Both were also ordered to make restitution of $38.25. If their fines are not paid when their five days are up, they will spend another 60 days in jail.

Cass City Patrolman Robert Pawlowski was called to the tavern at about 10:30 Friday night. When he arrived, he found Tom Calloway smashing glasses and bottles. As Pawlowski walked to the rear of the tavern, Calloway smashed a beer bottle on the bar and threatened other customers.

Pawlowski and an off-duty Grosse Pointe policeman, Stanley Otulakowski, subdued Calloway and handcuffed him. During the scuffle, Otulakowski was struck in the head with a cue ball which opened a scalp wound that required eight stitches.

The ball was believed thrown by Denver Calloway who then fled the scene. He was caught by Otulakowski about a block away from the bar.

At one state in the fracas, Pawlowski returned to his car to call for help and his call was responded to by deputies from Tuscola and Huron counties. The pair were brought under control, however, before the deputies arrived.

In other arrest news, James J. Spencer, 25, Cass City, was fined $50.00 plus costs of $6.25 when he appeared before Justice Rolka Monday on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Spencer was arrested Sunday afternoon in Caro.

Harold W. Endert Jr., Caro, was released on $500 bond late last week after his arrest on a check writing charge. He is charged with writing three checks totaling $37.50 within 10 days, all payable to a Caro store.

Farms' Tax Share Up in Last Decade

The farm pays a bigger percentage of the taxes in Elkland Township than it did 10 years ago.

That is one of the unusual facts disclosed by Elkland Supervisor Ed Golding Sr. from information gathered from the tax rolls.

Using a tax breakdown of categories devised by Golding, the farm pays the most taxes, in addition to showing a percentage increase.

Ten years ago the farm paid 34 per cent of total taxes and today it pays 39 per cent. In 1955 farming ranked second in percentage of taxes paid behind the amount paid by persons owning residential dwellings.

For the purpose of the survey, Golding said, agriculture taxes do not include homes outside of the village whose owners do not farm for a living.

JIM KNOBLET, a freshman at Albion College, was one of 42 players to earn a major letter on the 1965 Albion College championship football team. In addition to the letter, Knoblet will receive a plaque as a member of the MIAA championship team. Knoblet graduated from Cass City High School in 1965. He was an all-conference lineman for the Hawks.

Hawks Short on Everything But Desire for Cage Season

A 15-man Cass City Red Hawks varsity cage squad has been working out since the close of the football season as Coach John Oswald tries to get a line on his 1965-66 team that will feature many new faces.

For it is a rebuilding year at Cass City. Only two regulars are back from last year's mediocre team. They are Wayne Copeland and Al Wallace. The remainder of the squad will be selected from boys who moved onto the varsity in the dying stages of last season, rode the first team bench or moved up from the Junior Varsity squad.

Gone from last year's squad are three boys who played three years of varsity competition. They are Ed Retherford, Jim Champion and Jim Knoblet. Knoblet was the team's outstanding rebounder. Champion the shooter and Retherford possibly the best all-around player.

Besides the big three Larry Groombridge, George Kloc and Les Nicholas also graduated.

As usual, Cass City will not have any outstanding height. Tallest boy on the squad is Dave Asher and he stands just under 6' 2". Although tall, Asher is light and needs to develop strength for the all important rebounding work on the backboards.

Two other boys with limited experience back from last year are Phil Gray and Jim Walters. Gray stands just over six feet, but is carrying excess weight while Walters is a little under six feet, but is considered a good rebounder for his height. Gray has a good out-court shot.

Last season Al Wallace, another six footer, acquitted himself well as a rebounder and Copeland showed an accurate outcourt shot.

Rick Ruhl and Dave Schember are two other boys who have limited experience on the first team. Chuck Churchill is working out at forward. All of these boys, except Asher, earned varsity letters last year.

A new boy who has not played before is Kelley and he is showing promise in early practices.

WORKING HARD
Oswald said that the boys are working hard to become a good team. The desire and effort has been all that I could ask, he commented.

Despite the effort, the team faces rough sledding in its first few games. Through a quirk in the schedule, the Hawks will face what are generally regarded as the top teams in the league in their first three games, two of which are on the road.

Dec. 3 the game is with the Lakers. Then comes second ranked Caro, Dec. 10, at home, followed by Frankenmuth, Dec. 14. The Eagles, fresh from their all victorious grid season, are heavy favorites to cop the cage crown, also. They have tremendous height and a veteran team.

The junior varsity is also working out and 11 boys have reported for practice. Coach Oswald will be watching the progress of several of the younger prospects with an eye to moving them up to the varsity.

"We don't like to bring the younger players to the varsity unless they can step in and play", Oswald explained, "and if any of the JV squad gets a varsity suit you'll see him on the floor".

- The schedule:
Dec. 3 at Lakers
10 Caro, home
14 at Frankenmuth
17 Marlette, home
Jan. 4 at Vassar
7 at Bad Axe
11 at North Branch
14 Sandusky, home
21 Lakers, home
28 at Caro
Feb. 1 North Branch, home
4 Frankenmuth, home
11 at Marlette
15 Vassar, home
18 Bad Axe, home
25 at Sandusky

If you think about it for a minute, you will agree that these same traits are essential for success in business, industry or any undertaking involving people.

In today's rapidly changing business world, if you do not continually study and change you soon are left behind.

Dealing with people is one of the most important facets of business today and it takes a strong person physically and mentally to cope with the pressures of today's changing business conditions. A top labor relations man commands a top salary whether he represents management or labor.

It takes tenacity to cope in the world of business, labor or the professions.

The attributes of success are the same, regardless of the endeavor.

The moment of truth: Football coaches have to produce, either winners or alibis.

Just decisions will never be handed down as long as only one side can win.

One graduating senior from Cass City's 1965 grid squad was not mentioned when the Chronicle listed the boys who had finished their high school careers.

Road work in Sanilac and Tuscola counties estimated at nearly $3 million will be let as one of 10 projects up for bid by the Michigan Department of State Highways Wednesday, Dec. 1.

The work calls for construction of 13.94 miles of 24-foot concrete pavement with associated grading and drainage structures and the construction of one bridge on M-46 from M-24 east to M-53 in both counties. JOE'S FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

Get up earlier in the morning than your competitor. Work harder and scheme more. Stick closely to the job and stay up later planning how to get ahead of that guy while he sleeps. Not only will you leave more money when you die, - but you will leave it a darn-site sooner!

Many Christmas Club Savings Not for Yule

An unusual feature of Christmas Club savings plans is that the majority of the money is not used for Christmas, a survey by Christmas Club Corporation revealed recently.

With record savings of one billion and 850 million dollars this year, this is the way the money distributed will be spent, judging from surveys made in the past.

38 per cent for Christmas purchases. 31 per cent savings and investment. 13 per cent to pay local and federal taxes.

Industrial Arts Magazine Carries Ackerman's Article

David D. Ackerman, industrial arts instructor at Chippewa Intermediate School, and former Cass City man, is the author of an article that appears in the November, 1965, issue of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education (IAVE) magazine.

Ackerman's article deals with teaching aids in the making of a bird feeder. The basic design of the feeder enables to be made in five different shapes.

The article gives drawings, pictures, materials and instructions for building the feeder.

IAVE deals with various aspects of industrial arts and its teaching, serving as a trade journal for industrial arts teachers.

Clerks to Learn New Election Laws

Changes in Michigan election laws will be explained to Tuscola county township and village clerks in two sessions slated for Friday afternoon and evening, Dec. 3, at the courthouse in Caro.

A representative from the State Elections Director's office will be on hand to help familiarize the clerks with the new regulations.

County clerk Archie Hicks explained that many of the clerks are familiar only with the old-style caucuses which have been eliminated. Many other changes will be considered, he commented.

Village clerks will meet at 1:30 p.m. and township clerks will meet at 7:30.

"MUSH'S ON!" says Jeanne Alexander as she fills a bowl with ground corn meal mush for her two of her helpers and three fifth grade boys who are putting up Thanksgiving decorations in Mrs. Orion Cardew's fifth grade classroom. Miss Alexander is the authoress of the poem dressing the front page of this issue. With her are: Mary Peterson, Karen Hahn, Wayne McNeil, Steve Selby and Jerry Hunt. (Chronicle photo)

MRS. ORION CARDEW believes in authenticity as she ladles out a bowl of ground corn meal mush for Patti Ann Rabideau, one of her fifth grade students. The scene took place at the end of a Thanksgiving study period. To give the mush at least a colonial flavor, several of the girls in the class dressed in their centennial wear. Also pictured are: Diane Morse, Mary Golding and Linda Brown. (Chronicle photo)

Evans Products in 3-for-2 Stock Split

Evans Products Company declared a 3-for-2 stock split and announced its intention to increase cash dividends by maintaining the present annual rate of 60 cents per share on the split shares, which would be equal to 90 cents per annum on the current shares. A branch plant of the company is located in Gagetown. In 1965, Evans paid quarterly cash dividends on the current shares of 15 cents per share, or 60 cents for the year, plus a four percent stock dividend. The directors also announced a present policy to continue the four percent stock dividend.

The stock split was effected by the declaration of a 50 percent stock dividend payable January 19, 1966, to shareholders of record December 9, 1965.

As a result of the stock split, Evans' outstanding common stock will be increased to 2,405,526 shares from 1,603,684. The distribution will be made from presently authorized and unissued common stock.

IN THE DARK
 One reason the future looks bad to some people is that they know nothing about the past.

Things I'm Thankful For—

Men who are willing to fight in Viet Nam because they know most Americans care.

A once white, too big, terrycloth robe that the kids can blot their tears on. Or their nose.

Parents who believe in letting us make our own mistakes.

Spray spewing high over a break water.

A job I'd do without pay if I could afford it.

Short periods of noise from raucously happy, totally happy children.

People to use as bad examples. Sunlight on an arrow whizzing straight to the mark.

Books that don't stay read, like "The Prophet."

The fact that only three people understand me and that two of them are relatives.

Teachers who know and can explain.

Doctors who know and will explain. Men and women in under paid, overworked public service jobs.

Food from all over the world, processed in mysterious ways.

Honesty, even when it hurts.

The smell of roasting turkey, and of ground up oranges, and cranberries.

A car with no wrinkles that takes you to see people with or without wrinkles.

Alexander Graham Bell.

Adults who mature, yet maintain some childlike qualities.

Coffee Break.

My dishwasher which should last until I need an excuse to get a child alone in the kitchen.

People who know methods of fixing things better than kicking them.

A rocking chair to soothe the children.

Knitting to soothe me.

Mothers who realize there will be lots of years to clean house.

Readers who are sure enough of themselves to follow my column regularly.

In the fall, cool, moist weather after a period of relative inactivity may bring some plants into bloom.

Forsythia, quince and apple may blossom in the typical spring weather.

Joseph Cox, Michigan State University landscape architect, says this is an excellent time for fall planting.

Change Rating System for Civil Service Employees

Closer Checks

Evaluating job performance of state civil service employees will take a step toward efficiency if proposed changes are adopted.

Agencies involved, employ or to change the long-standing method of appraising work performance.

Previously, periodic ratings of all employees were required by the Civil Service Commission. Many complaints that this annual rating system is unwieldy, costly and of little value provoked the proposed changes.

Satisfactory work by an employee would be noted by a simple list from each agency under the recommended revision. Only in cases where a conditional or unsatisfactory service rating was indicated would a personnel officer of a department be required to fill out a full report.

Present rating policies would remain in effect for rating a probationary employee. The probationary period is usually six months or one year. A full report, but geared to a new yardstick of efficiency, would be required in these cases.

Why the question over whether a state employee is performing? A study in 1963 of 26,871 annual ratings required showed 99.3 per cent indicated satisfactory work. Over 70 per cent of the reports did not contain sufficiently detailed comments on performance by supervisors to be of any value in trying to improve the work.

More than once the commission has been asked to abandon the rating system entirely, but this has been rejected.

Commission staff members feel the new system will provide more meaningful evaluations.

The new probationary rating forms have been pilot-tested in two state departments. The staff believes it will provide better ratings because it will be more detailed in nature and based on a job factor analysis established at the time of hiring.

Legislative observers often hear a recurring refrain when regulatory measures are proposed. It goes: "Why bother? Even if we write the law we don't have the manpower to enforce it."

Sometimes this has proven true after enactment. Other times it is surprising to note what can be done with minimal manpower.

The latter is aptly demonstrated by Michigan's local jail situation. A federal jail inspector said recently that collectively Michigan's jails are among the best in the nation.

Less than 20 years ago, however, Michigan's jails included many prime nominees for a "before" example in a "before and after" picture of detention facilities.

Then in 1950 the legislature adopted a law giving the Department of Corrections a strong hand in governing the operation of local jails. Since then 51 new county jails have been built in Michigan to help give this favorable impression to the federal inspector.

Even in 1950 some lawmakers likely wondered aloud what good the proposal would do if it could not be enforced. It has been enforced, and by essentially one man.

Yes, Michigan has only one official jail inspector. He spends most of his time throughout the year traveling the 83 counties checking compliance with the law. With 15 years gone by the inspector's job is now becoming easier as more modern facilities are in use.

This single area of state government activity might provide a good object lesson of what a little manpower can do to make major improvements.

Star Teacher

Education in Michigan will be headed by one of the state's highest paid administrators under the government reorganization established by the 1963 Constitution.

The new State Board of Education is nearing a decision on a man to fill the $30,000 a year appointive post of Superintendent of Public Instruction.

As the non-voting chairman of the State Board, the new administrator will be the top leader of Michigan's public school system. He will also be the board's spokesman in dealing with the various independent state colleges and universities.

Responsibility falling on the superintendent will involve every aspect of Michigan's official concern with education.

In addition to membership on the State Administrative Board, Municipal Finance Commission and a half-dozen other units, he will have budgetary responsibilities of great magnitude.

One of his chief functions will be to prepare the annual budget for education, from kindergarten through some university and adult education programs, and to defend it to the Governor's advisers and the legislative committees.

The new $30,000 salary designated for the superintendent still to be found is the same as that received by Michigan's Governor.

71 at EUB Church

Meeting Wednesday

Seventy-one were present Nov. 17 for the annual congregational meeting of Salem EUB Church. The meeting started with a 6:30 fellowship potluck supper in the church. The Youth Fellowship members were hosts for the meeting and furnished coffee, punch and dessert for the meal.

Reports were given by Rev. R. E. Betts, pastor, which showed the present membership is 164, and Mrs. Charles Tuckey, president of the Woman's Society of World Service; Mrs. Betts, director of children's work, and Ronald Geiger, financial secretary, also presented their reports.

Several officers were elected and the rest of the church and Sunday School officers will be approved by the church council. All will assume their duties Jan. 1. Elected church trustees for three-year terms were Robert Tuckey and David Loomis. Elected lay leader was Rev. S. P. Kinn, with Don Buehrly as assistant. Re-elected were Gerald Auten as Sunday School superintendent and Charles Tuckey, assistant.

Following the business meeting, Earl Harris showed pictures taken on a trip to South America.

The average Michigan farm in 1960 will probably have an investment of more than $130,000. These large commercial units will have sales in excess of $25,000 per year. Michigan State University specialists also expect that only 3 per cent of the state's population will be in farm families.

BOOK REVIEW Not A Regular Run Novel of Suspense

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

Black Amber by Phyllis A. Whitney is billed as a 'novel of suspense,' and so it is. It is not, however, a run of the mill 'Whodunit.'

Tracy Hubbard (a female) is the central character of the book, and is first introduced to us as an employee of a publishing house which publishes all the works of artist Miles Radburn. Radburn is dangerously behind schedule on a book having to do with Turkish art, and is living in Turkey while working on the book. However, while he has gathered much of the material for his new project, he has done little in the way of narrative or organization of it.

Under pressure from the publisher he reluctantly agrees to have an editorial assistant come from New York to bring order out of the chaos that at present is all he has. He gives permission for a particular person to come, having worked previously with her. That being impossible, Tracy worms her way into the assignment, quite willing to run the risk of being sent home immediately by Radburn.

The thing that she does not reveal to her boss, or to Miles Radburn, is that she is a sister of the recently murdered Anabel Radburn. The latter called her 'Sister,' begging her to come out to Turkey, on what later proved to be the day of her death. Tracy feels guilty that she had refused even to consider such a thing, and com- pletely seeks out the answers to many questions that Anabel's death has raised.

Radburn has taken up residence with a long-time friend, Mrs. Sylvia Erim, a widow now. She apparently, too, has become concerned lest he never finish his book or resume his promising career as an artist. There is also reason to believe that she has romantic attachments for him, which are not reciprocated.

There are more people who contribute to the mysterious plot, including Nursel Erim, in whom Tracy yearns to confide; her brother, Murat; Ahmet Effendi, the general factotum of the unique household; and others calculated to maintain your interest and to hide the identity of Anabel's murderer.

Some of the most gripping drama takes place in the abandoned ruins of a palace on the grounds. The title refers to a string of black amber beads which keep showing up at odd moments. The mystery is solved during an old cops-and-robbers type chase, heightened by the bridge on the road being raised, allowing a pursuer to catch Tracy and Miles.

A gathering of the principals follows which in a tense moment, reveals the villain.

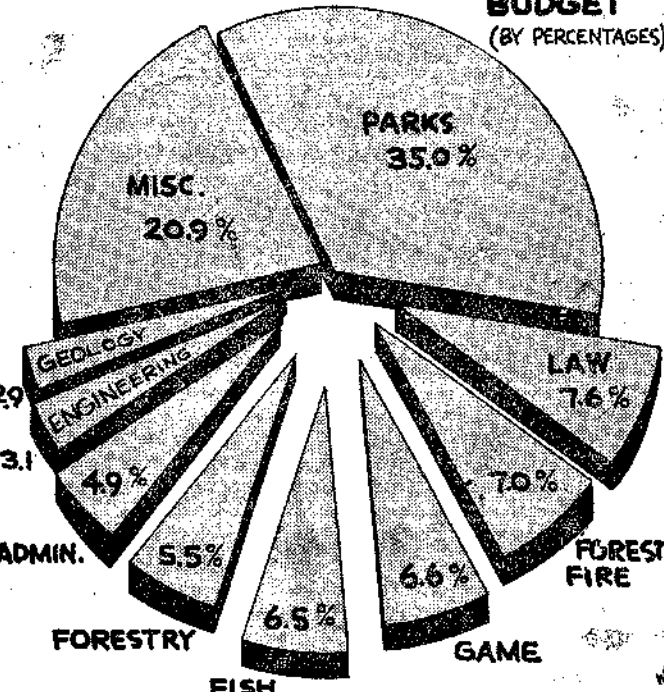

Oh yes, I should add that involved in all this has been heroin smuggling. In the final paragraphs we are assured that Tracy and Miles will continue the romance that brought them together in the first place. I liked this book and recommend it for light reading.

THE 1965-66 MICHIGAN CONSERVATION BUDGET (BY PERCENTAGES)

Have any idea what it would cost to do a sound job of managing Michigan's natural resources during the 1965-66 fiscal year? The minimum figure, in the most realistic thinking of the Conservation Department, is about $32.1 million. If that figure sounds high, consider: Management of state forests generates about $70 million of new income for Michigan each year; spending by state park visitors totals almost another $50 million annually. And they're just part of the conservation picture. As this pie chart shows, a big slice of the $32.1 million appropriation sought from the State Legislature this year would be used for state park development and maintenance. The next largest category—miscellaneous—contains more items than can be shown here. A few of them cover wildlife research, payments of bounties and taxes for state lands, recreation resource planning, engineering, and nuisance animal control. Increases are recommended for: Law—to boost enforcement coverage, mostly in southern Michigan. Fish—to intensify work on Great Lakes sport fishing, step up lake and stream inventories, improve maintenance of access sites, etc. Game—to construct wildlife hoodings, improve deer ranges. Forest Fire Control—to replace worn-out and obsolete equipment and open remote areas with roads and bridges. Geology—to expand geologic mapping and iron ore investigations, accelerate waste resources studies.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

The week-long exercise off the coast of Southern California involved ships of the First Fleet and several naval air units, comprising "friendly" forces, in aerial reconnaissance, anti-air and anti-submarine warfare operations against the "enemy" air, surface and sub-

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Another Thanksgiving season has rolled around and the fellers at the country store Saturday night was giving thanks for their blessings during the year.

Ed Doolittle, that claims Abe Lincoln would be standing along side Saint Peter to greet him reported he was thankful for a heap of things.

First off, allowed Ed, Lyndon has about got the pockets of poverty patched up and can now help Lady Bird with the making America beautiful program. Another thing, said Ed, he could remember Thanksgiving seasons when he was worrying about dying broke and now he ain't got nothing to worry about except dying in debt. This, according to Ed, was a big improvement and he was thankful.

Clem Webster of the Great Society claimed we had come a long way from the Franklin Roosevelt days when all we had to fear was fear itself. In the prosperous times we got now, said Clem, all we got to worry about is worry itself. This, too, claimed Clem, was a big improvement and he was particular thankful for it at this season of the year.

Bug Hookum was of the opinion America had ought to be extra thankful on these odd years on account of it was a off-year for them Congressmen to run for office and we would be spared of being "saved" by them at the polls.

Actual, Mister Editor, the fellers was mostly kidding each other and on account of I been knowing most of them fer 50 year, I feel pretty shore that all of them was thankful unto the Lord fer their blessings.

The feller that runs the store sorter made what you would call the keynote address of the session. His old lady is a school teacher and he gits a lot of book information us plow-and-soil boys don't git. Fer instant, he said his old lady was telling about the Pilgrims at Plymouth that founded the Thanksgiving holiday.

Fer the first three years after they landed, he reported, the Pilgrims was running one of these commune systems like the Russians and Red China was running now. Everything was owned in common and everybody was supposed to do his share of all the work and everybody was to share alike and they was starving to death. The storekeeper said the Governor of the Colony was a feller named Bradford and after three year he give up the idea, was of the opinion this wasn't God's way, and ever after that the Colony prospered, was happy, and give thanks unto the Lord.

All the fellers, Mister Editor, allowed as how it was a great pity them hungry Russians and Chinese didn't study the story of the Pilgrims instead of following the gospel according to that feller Karl Marx.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

One pound of mint oil-peppermint or spearmint is enough to provide the flavoring for 1,000 sticks of chewing gum, according to Michigan State University scientists. Yet, the chewing gum industry uses nearly half (48 per cent) of all the mint produced in the U.S. The rest of the mint is exported (28 per cent), added to toothpaste (16 per cent) or mixed with candy, ice cream, jelly, beverages, etc. (8 per cent).

Farmers Approve Telfarm Reports

From the consensus of opinion from Tuscola county Telfarm co-operators and those in Michigan as a whole, farmers like Telfarm reports Don Kebler, extension agricultural agent.

They are finding this system is paying big dividends already, not only monetarily but in growth, peace of mind and adjustment.

This feeling is not surprising at all as Telfarm was designed and programmed just for this result.

It is expected that at least another 300 farm operators will be enrolling for the first time in 1966. After all, only one out of every four Michigan farmers is well adjusted as measured by satisfactory income and expense ratios.

There is a large need for improving this status as some 45,000 Michigan farmers received hired man's wages or less for their labor, according to the 1959 Census.

One can easily see from these census figures that there could well be a 50 per cent decrease in the number of farms by 1980. Many of these present farms will retire with the operator, or be absorbed into larger units.

What can be done about holding this trend back? No one has the specific cure-all answer satisfactory for all farm well being. Each farm must be considered an entity in itself.

However, here are some comments from two of many co-operators who believe they are moving up the ladder and like what Telfarm is helping them to achieve. Take the two brothers near Ellsworth who are milking 80 cows in a 700-acre operation. They point out that their decision to enroll in Telfarm was based on the ever-changing tax laws. They commented "we simply could not keep up with all of the tax law changes dealing with depreciation, investment credit and other items and we were more than glad to pay someone else to do the figuring for us. We were really happy and breathed a sigh of relief in January when the Telfarm end-of-the-year reports arrived and, all we had to do was copy the figures onto our tax returns. It was quite a change from past years."

Other advantages they enjoyed included saving twice the $157 Telfarm cost during the past year through lower taxes. Telfarm keeps, records and computes three separate depreciation lists for the two brothers and the father who still owns part of the real estate. The brothers make extensive use of the records and farm decision-making information available. They knew which way and how far to expand this year and have a good idea where they plan to improve in the future.

These two brothers like many other co-operators are on the move. They have a direction plan to follow. How about you, can as much be said about your operation? Would you like to take advantage of Telfarm? If you would, contact Mr. Kebler.

Other stops on the tour include Sandusky High School, Monday morning, Dec. 13; Presbyterian Church in Bad Axe, 7:30 p.m. Monday evening, and Sebawing High School Tuesday morning.

Reveal Details of New Cropland Adjustment Program for Farmers

The Cropland Adjustment Program is expected to play a major role in Michigan agriculture, observed Frank Light, Chairman, Michigan ASC State Committee.

Michigan farmers have been looking forward to this program for some time. Currently county ASCS offices are being swamped by requests for information on the program. For this reason, we are announcing a few of the details to help acquaint Michigan farmers with program objectives, he said.

The Cropland Adjustment Program -- authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 -- is aimed at removing from surplus production up to 40 million acres for periods of 5 to 10 years. Emphasis will be on shifting this land into public benefit uses which also conserve soil and water to meet future needs.

After placing all of his acreage of 1 or more of the above surplus crops in the program, the farmer may offer other cropland. Rates for this cropland will range nationally from $3.00 to $7.00 an acre.

The Cropland Adjustment Program, which supplements the yearly commodity programs, will reduce overall program costs by obtaining acreage diversions at lower rates over extended periods of time. Long-term agreements afford farmers more stability and thus better opportunity for planning adjustments in land use.

Mr. Light said that the Cropland Adjustment Program is consistent with the Administration's objective of "Conservation for Use", of "using rather than idling land."

"Our natural environment includes much more than the air, soil, and water which are essential to life. It also provides beauty, the opportunity for outdoor recreation, the protection of wildlife, and a host of other natural values."

The new program is designed to protect local communities by limiting the amount of land that can be put under the program. In any county or community, no more than 10 percent of the allotment or base acreage for any crop or total cropland will be contracted in any single year and no more than 25 percent during the life of the program. Exceptions will be made where requested by local governments.

CAP will help farmers divert cropland to protective conservation uses under long-term agreements. Participants will receive adjustment payments related to the value of the crops normally produced on the land. They also will be eligible for conservation cost-share payments on the diverted land. And those who agree to permit free public access for fishing, hunting, hiking, and trapping in accordance with appropriate State and Federal regulations, may get an additional per-acre payment.

Farmers who participate will receive payments based on the past use and the productivity of the land. For land that would otherwise produce wheat, corn, grain sorghum, or barley the annual pay-

AAUW Offers Counter Proposal

By Dave Kraft

As of Thanksgiving Day, it will have been two weeks since the Rotarians rolled over the Cass City Lions in the first annual Charity Bowl. Next year, of course, the Lions will beat the sneakers off the Rotarians, but that's not what I'm here to talk about.

I mentioned last week that the Gavel Club issued a challenge to the winners or a team made up of all-stars. Since the game, however, the Gavel Club has been strangely quiet.

Now, I don't like to be a trouble maker... you all know that... but the silence is certainly loud, isn't it?

My purpose in stirring... excuse me, bringing this up is two-fold. One, I don't figure those "rugged" Rotarians have recovered and any display of athletics will be pure torture. Secondly, I figure the Gavel Club should suffer right along with the rest of us.

What if they pick the all-stars to challenge? Well, I'm not too worried. My star was very dim that night.

Besides, I've left my blood-stains on the field of battle. I'm just seconds away from losing one of my big toenails and I have a kidney that is just barely functioning, all because of the first annual Charity Bowl.

I offered a counter-proposal last week if you remember. I'm breathlessly awaiting a reply from the American Association of University Women and I understand such a reply is imminent.

After that there's always the Junior Woman's Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Thumb Cosmetologists and the...

Here are a few bloopers that were stopped at the proofreader's desk.

From an ad run recently by Asher's Men's Wear, "Suits or slacks altered in most cases while you wait" What's a "most" case? "Sixty-five relatives and friends attended a housewarming." I've heard of "termite," but "houseworms." I wonder if there's any thing you can get rid of with puppy canines.

"Nine members of the Retired Teachers Association met for a hot lick dinner." You just never know what those retired teachers are going to do next.

I refer you to the "Letters to the Editor" column this week. No comment.

BULLETIN: The American Association of University Women have answered and offered a counter-proposal to this columnist's challenge, on behalf of the three leading men's service clubs in Cass City, to a touch football game. Frankly, this columnist is a little scared of their counter-proposal. There would be a lot more at stake than some muscles and the injuries might be longer lasting. But don't let me influence you. Read this and decide for yourselves. After all, they're only a bunch of women.

Dave Kraft

Cass City, Michigan
Dear Dave:

On reading your challenge on behalf of the Rotary Rascals, the Limpin' Lions, and the Gavel Club, to engage the American Association of University Women in a touch football game, I checked our list of goals to which all AAUW branches subscribe to see if this sort of project would fit in with our "image."

The first one is for the educated women to "carry out her responsibility to society." Since our most outstanding male citizens are members of the service clubs mentioned, I feel we would not be doing our best to society by crippling and maiming its leading pillars. Secondly, we are concerned with "the advancement of women." I'm sure our participation in a touch football game would set

REMOVING HAIR BY WAX
Q. I have been told that unwanted hair removed by wax will not grow back. Is this true?
A. No. Essentially the method consists of applying wax to the hairy area. When the wax cools the hardened sheet is lifted off, ripping the hairs out by the roots. The procedure is slightly painful and rather disagreeable. Depending on the person's rate of hair growth, and on the location, hair reappears within three to five weeks and the procedure must be repeated.

ASTHMA CURES
Q. Can asthma be cured?
A. The basic principles of cure are known but real cures are hard to come by. Asthma is due to inflammation of the breathing tubes, which tend to contract and become covered with a thick coating of mucus. Currently available drugs only reduce the symptoms of asthma; they cure nothing. Cure of asthma depends on finding the cause of the irritation and removing it, correcting complications that may have developed, and cooperating with nature in her efforts to heal the irritated tissue of the breathing system. It is only when the cause of the inflammation is removed that healing will occur.

The personal interest we take in the health of those we serve is of equal importance with the professional skill we put in the dispensing of prescribed medicine.

Chinese Literature AAUW Meet Topic

A program on Chinese literature was presented for the American Association of University Women when one of their members, Mrs. George Murray, spoke on this subject at the branch meeting last week.

The home of Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn was the scene of the trip back through the centuries of Chinese literary effort as Mrs. Murray explained and gave examples of the poetry, prose, books of social criticism, and the drama of China.

Plans for further lectures were discussed as well as the possibility of a used book sale in the spring.

Mrs. K. I. MacRae announced the names of those AAUW Fellowships winners now living in the state. The local branch, as well as others throughout the nation, contributes annually to the fellowships fund, which in turn is used to enable outstanding women to continue graduate work.

Encampment Held By Pioneer Girls

The Pioneer Girls and their pals presented a play depicting the lives of three Pioneer Girls Sunday evening at the Baptist church. Following the play, an encampment was held when ranks and badges were presented to the girls.

A social time was held in the church basement for the Pioneer Girls, their mothers and adult pals.

Girls earning ranks and badges included: Dianne Gingrich, 1 rank - 2 badges; Kay Smith, 3 ranks - 4 badges; Beverly Dorman, 1 rank - 1 badge; Doreen Venema, 1 rank - 1 badge; Cheryl Parrish, 2 ranks - 5 badges; Linda Canfield, 2 ranks - 7 badges; Joan White, 2 ranks - 6 badges; Lorraine Smith, 1 rank - 3 badges, and Linda Gingrich, 1 rank - 4 badges.

Among the badges the girls received were campcraft, needle arts, missions, Christian life, personal development, outdoor, party planning and hikers.

Black widow spiders have been found in Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Wexford, Crawford and Osego counties. The discovery was made by a USDA forest entomologist at Michigan State University. The female is extremely poisonous, and care should be taken to avoid things such as old fence posts and pruned pine trees. Gloves should be worn, as the greatest danger lies in direct contact with bare skin. The fangs cannot penetrate most clothing or calloused hands.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Anker

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Caro, was the scene of the Nov. 13 marriage of Judith Irene Lorf and Lyle E. Anker. The Rev. John Boerger officiated at the seven o'clock double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Lorf of Caro and Raymond Lorf of Port Huron and the son of Mrs. Irma Anker and the late John Anker of Cass City.

Dan Anger honored his sister-in-law by lighting the candles before the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of ivory pearl de soie designed with a round neckline trimmed with brocade scrolls and a fitted bodice and fingertip sleeves. The full floor-length skirt with brocade scrolls down the front panel extended into a chapel train. Three satin roses accented the back waist. A crown of iridescents and pearls secured her veil of nylon tulle. A cascade bouquet of yellow tulle mums and English ivy completed her attire.

Proceeding the bride to the altar and serving as maid of honor was Janice Clink. The bridesmaids were Kathy Anker, sister of the groom, and Gail Mosack, sister of the bride. They chose leaf green for the maid of honor and emerald green for the bridesmaids' floor-length, short sleeve taffeta dresses with round necklines. They carried cascades of bronze tulle mums.

Howard Anker of Texas served as his brother's best man, Jim Anker, nephew of the groom, and Ronald Lorf, brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Wesley Foster, Dan Anger, Stanley Anker and Don Anker.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lorf chose a green wool sheath dress with black accessories. Mrs. Anker chose a green and blue print silk dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of yellow and bronze mums.

A luncheon supper and reception was held for about 300 guests at the Dom Polski Hall, Caro. The bride's cake was made and served by Mrs. Wesley Foster, sister of the bride. Marilyn Surayne also assisted in serving the cake.

The couple are residing in Millington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mosher

Miss Diane Carol Fiebig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fiebig of Sebawaing, became the bride of Joseph Lee Mosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mosher of Gagatown, in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in Immanuel Lutheran Church, Sebawaing. The Rev. Mr. Elmer Scheck read the rites before an altar decorated with vases of white gladioli.

Graham Krauss of Sebawaing was soloist and Miss Tamara Baur of Sebawaing was organist.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father in a gown of imported Chantilly lace with a scalloped neckline, dusted with sequins, a fitted Dior bodice and wrist-point sleeves. The full bouffant floor-length skirt featured a front cascade of ruffles. A ruffled forehead headdress accented with pearls, and crystals held secure the butterfly mist veil of imported English illusion. She carried a cascade of white carnations with a white orchid, streamers and ivy.

The maid of honor was her sister, Miss Marilyn Fiebig of Sebawaing, and bridesmaids were the Misses Sheryl Dunckel, Jacqueline Eremia and Tanya Reinhold, all of Sebawaing.

They chose identical sheath gowns with royal blue silk velvet bodices, long sleeves and scoop necklines. Their light blue crepe skirts with flowing back panels with velvet were held from the waist. Matching royal blue braided headpieces adorned with pearls and face veils completed their attire and they carried cascade arrangements of champagne colored carnations with matching streamers.

Flower girls were Donna and Debbie Fiebig of Sebawaing, sisters of the bride. They carried feathered white carnations.

Michael Mandich of Owendale was best man, assisted by Howard Fiebig of Sebawaing, brother of the bride, John Ricker of Owendale and Ronald Kady of Gagatown. Donald Koch of Sebawaing was ring bearer.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece light blue lace suit with blue and gold accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a dark green A-line dress with white trim and black and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of champagne colored carnations.

Following a reception for 450 guests at the Arbeiter Hall, Sebawaing, the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. The bride wore a green wool knit suit with brown accessories.

They are making their home at 4520 S. Gagatown Road, Gagatown. A prenuptial shower was given by the bridal attendants.

Letter to Editor

To the Editor

November 21, 1965

Dear Mr. Kraft,
I am writing in regard to your letter of Nov. 18 printed in the same issue of the Chronicle.

I am not starting my letter by commending your views because I find them somewhat nauseating in the fact that you cannot accept people for being people or ideas for being ideas. You have only shown your narrow bigoted views in trying to make Mr. Miller look like a child yearning for self-attention.

People that are offended take the offensive by trying to show how child like the person doing the offending is.

Defying authority is certainly not the case here. In this day when people disagree with the government or the president, or the governor, or for that matter the dog catcher, they have sit-ins, marches, protests or as you call them exhibitions showing their disapproval. Would you rather that they put aside all patriotic ethics and take up arms against the government? No, not even that. You would rather stand still and follow like a mouse after the Pied Piper.

When the great Bostonians dumped tea, yes TEA into the drink I don't recall reading anyone except the British making fun or calling them childish.

If you are to be heard you have to do more than shout in a shouting world.

Do I detect a bearded Elliot Carson in Cass City?

Yes there are children diving senselessly and brutally both theirs and ours. I strongly believe what we are doing in Viet Nam is right and have my full support.

I am presently serving my remaining two years of military obligation in the Army Reserve. If I should be called back into active duty as an Airborne Infantryman, I would definitely request duty in Viet Nam to support my feelings. But those objecting are not children and should not be made fun of or treated indignantly.

STRONG, DURABLE, FOUNDATIONAL, ECONOMICAL, ACCESSIBLE AND USEABLE. These are terms commonly used in describing a building erected with Marlette Steel Arches. When considering a farm or commercial building, look for that clearspan effect obtained without low hanging wood trusses, bracing, etc. Consider the importance of your foundation, nothing beats a steel reinforced cement base, also good quality construction grade lumber used for all framing.

CONGRATULATIONS go to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thompson, RFD, Cass City, on their choice and completion of a New Freestall 48 cow barn, built with the Marlette Arch. This is the second Marlette building on their farm. They also have a large 50'x130'x12' for farm tool storage. Mr. Thompson states, that he likes the durability and clearspan headroom obtained by using steel arches.
