

Fire First Salvo in Off-Street Parking Campaign Tuesday

A joint meeting kicked off a pressing community problem Tuesday night.

Plans for off-street parking were explored by members of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce, the Planning Commission and the Village Council at the Municipal Building.

Some 25 persons attended the meeting for the talk that ranged from the types of off-street parking suitable for the village to methods of paying for any additional parking secured.

Robert Keating, Chamber member, reported the results of a survey taken by the Chamber. He said that 60 questionnaires were sent to Chamber members and 36 replies received. Three questions concerning parking were asked.

Question number one asked: Do you feel your customers will have a parking problem after March 1?

Yes 27 — No 9

Question number two: Do you feel a plan should be started now for additional parking for your customers?

Yes 26 — No 10.

Question number three: Do you think parking meters will help the situation?

No 28 — Yes 8.

With this background a general discussion started.

Two types of parking were suggested. One was the strip theory where a strip is purchased along the width of the block to park a row of cars diagonally.

The objection to this type parking is that it will prove to be expensive for the number of cars to be parked, according to discussion at the meeting.

The second type is to purchase lots, such as those in back of Gambles Store and Gross and Maier's. This will park more cars for the amount of money spent than strip parking, it was felt, but would have the disadvantage of placing ample parking in one spot and poorer off-street parking for stores farthest from the lots.

Another approach, first suggested by the village planner, was to close Oak Street, one block south of Main, and Leach and West Streets, for a block north and south of Main, for parking lots.

Ways to Pay

The methods of payment were also aired at the meeting. Meters were discussed. One suggestion was to place the meters on the lots, but leave them off Main Street. Another was to place them on Main and use the money for off-street parking.

Another avenue open to the village is to create a special assessment district. A district of the business section could be formed without a vote and the cost of off-street parking spread over a period of years on the tax rolls.

The third alternative brought out at the meeting was to lease property for off-street parking.

It is probable that any off-street parking program arrived at will be administered by the council.

As usual, in a first meeting of this type, no definite conclusions were drawn.

Chamber President Jim Ware said that a study committee has been formed and the various proposals suggested at the meeting will be studied.

We expect to come up with some answers within a month Ware said Wednesday morning when discussing the situation.

Lose Parking

Although the off-street parking problem has been facing the village for several years, it became acute last fall when the State Highway Department lowered the boom on angle parking in Cass City.

When the switch to parallel parking is made (as soon as the weather becomes suitable for painting the lines this spring) the village will lose about a third of its available parking spaces.

How to replace them is the problem that the Chamber of Commerce is now feverishly trying to solve.

Jail Driver After Wrong Way Run

A Cass City man is in Tuscola County Jail under a 30-day sentence (see justice story) after his arrest following a "wrong-way Corriegan" series of accidents Friday, Feb. 4, in the village.

John Sawicki, 54, Cass City, was arrested by Patrolman Robert Pawlowski for driving under the influence of liquor.

Sawicki reportedly entered a one-way alley between Main and Pine streets, going the wrong way. He struck a car stopped at a stop sign, then continued down the alley where he struck a second car owned by General Telephone Company.

After the second collision, he continued down the alley to Fort's Store where he made a U-turn and stopped.

Driver of the first car struck was Mrs. Gladys L. Reavey Jr., 27, Deford. Riding with her was her daughter, Kathy, nine months. The Gen-Tel car was parked.

Restaurant Accidents

Martin's Restaurant was the scene of two accidents during the past week. Monday an unidentified car slammed into the rear of a parked car owned by Lyle Richardson, 29, Cass City, and pushed the vehicle into the building, causing some damage.

Thursday, Feb. 3, a parked car driven by Esther E. Gray, 19, Decker, was struck by a car being backed from a parking place by Don H. Finkbeiner, 29, Cass City. James Wilson, 33, Gagetown, struck a deer with his car early Saturday morning when the animal ran in front of the vehicle on M-25, six miles southwest of Port Austin. State police investigated.

William C. Gage, 24, Deford, suffered bruises and abrasions Saturday when he lost control of his car on M-81, a quarter-mile south of Dixon Road, and it rolled over two times, coming to rest on its top.

Gage told Tuscola County deputies that he was passing another car and when he stepped on the gas, the car began to skid. He lost control of the vehicle which went off the road, hit a sign and then rolled over.

Ironically, the sign he struck was a "No Passing" sign. He refused treatment.

Passing Accident

In another accident Saturday, a Cass City woman was a passenger in a car involved in an accident with another car at the intersection of Mertz and Riley roads.

The accident happened when a car driven by Bernita F. Klebba, 18, Harbor Beach, attempted to pass a car driven by Orville W. Lockhart, 57, Kingston. According to a report filed by deputies, Miss Klebba stated that Lockhart turned in front of her car as she was passing. The cars collided and Miss Klebba lost control. Lockhart denied that he crossed the centerline.

Riding with Miss Klebba were

OLD-TIME VALENTINES—A Chronicle plea for old-time valentines brought a host of calls from residents with Valentines dating back before the turn of the century. Post Load Limits On Four Bridges

The Tuscola County Road Commission has posted load limits on four bridges in the county, Robert J. Wellington, county highway engineer, announced this week.

The roads and the weight limits are: Murray Road bridge over White Creek, five tons; Shabbona Road bridge over White Creek in Novesta township, eight tons; Luder Road bridge over New York Central Railroad, five tons, and Cottrell Road bridge over Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, 10 tons.

Klein Fertilizers Opens Branch In Former Nestles Building

A new fertilizer company is being located in Cass City to serve the Thumb area. The company is Klein Fertilizers, Inc. They are now moving into the old Nestle Condensery building at Cass City. For the present, this business will be operated as a branch warehouse of the parent company. Complete manufacturing facilities to better serve the Thumb area will be announced at a later date.

According to Robert W. Parsons, vice-president of the company, Super Q fertilizer for corn, beans and beans, plus several other high-analysis fertilizers will be manufactured.

Klein Fertilizers are Michigan's largest producers of dry-mixed fertilizers, according to company executives. The company operates plants at Fowlerville, Shepherd, Perrinton and Marne.

From the Editor's Corner

The initial meeting between the businessmen, as represented by the Chamber of Commerce, and the village was a harmonious one, Village President Lambert Altmeyer reported.

It's an encouraging start to a problem that has vexed the community for several years. Regardless of how it is finally resolved, it is certain not to be exactly as everyone would like to see it.

It might be well for every merchant to resolve to themselves now to support the final program when it is approved by the majority. . . even if there are private reservations about it.

We should keep in mind that a third of the parking in the village disappears this spring and any constructive action can do nothing but help the general business community.

We can't afford to let details of a program blind us to the need for more parking.

Any type of off-street parking that can be secured is better than none at all.

Sometimes conventions aren't a waste of time. Clifford Croft and Elwyn Helwig attended a lumbermen's convention last week. Supply firms were present and contributed gifts for drawings as one of the features of the event.

The name Croft-Claire Lumber was called and Cliff Croft went down and claimed a minor gift. Helwig got nothing. . . then. But shortly after he got home he was notified that he was the winner of one of the major prizes at the convention. . . a portable TV set.

Somewhere in the stress of compiling the news last week, we failed to learn that Mrs. Basil

Blame Building Costs

Nix Shop in School Plans

Anxiety over an apparent "cost squeeze" caused by rising building costs has prompted architects to eliminate the farm shop from plans for the new Cass City High School, Board of Education members learned Monday night at the board's regular meeting.

Sup't Donald Crouse, in an interview Tuesday, defended the move by stating that the shop as proposed for the new building would have been smaller than in the old building.

He stated that the move will also cut down about 2,000 square feet in the new building. Original plans called for 90,000 square feet and with the shop, total space was 92,000 square feet.

"Another point to consider," Crouse stated, "is the vocational school which will be connected with the community college under consideration. It is very likely that the students will be able to obtain their farm shop needs through this school."

Plans Soon

Crouse also informed the board that plans for the new school "will be done within two weeks," according to the architects, and bids will be taken somewhere around March 21.

Board President Horace Bulen

expressed disapproval of the date and suggested that Crouse let the architects know that the board was not entirely satisfied with the date.

"They were to have had the plans ready for bids in February," Bulen remarked. He termed February as "psychologically" the best time for the bids.

Gas Contract

A contract by Fuelgas Company of Cass City, offering to supply propane gas "for the same uses as in the past at a flat charge of $400" was accepted by the board. Fuelgas also promised to supply two new gas ranges for the home economics department, without charge.

The contract was offered following a suggestion last month by Southeastern Michigan Gas Company that the old school be converted to natural gas, inasmuch as the new school will be using natural gas.

Southeastern offered an estimated figure of $392 for a year's supply of gas as compared to $623 spent on propane gas in 1964-65. They also offered two cook stoves for the home economics department.

Southeastern's offer was tabled to see if Fuelgas could come up with a figure less than the $623 or a figure matching Southeastern's offer.

Donahue Easement

No action was taken on a request from Mrs. H. T. Donahue that a more thorough easement description for the road across her property which will connect the new school with the old school.

Mrs. Donahue informed the board that her attorney felt a better description was necessary to prevent any litigation later. School attorney Clinton House, however, informed Crouse that the description "for school purposes is quite adequate."

"We have no objections to their surveying the road," Bulen commented, "but we do not want to participate."

The board approved membership in the Tuscola County Film program. Cost of the program will be about $640, but will reduce the cost of films to about 40 cents per child as compared to 70 cents per child last year. Only three schools in the county, Cass City, Unionville and Akron-Fairgrove, do not belong to the program.

A contract for Carolyn Sue Mallisee, extern teacher from Central Michigan University, was approved. Miss Mallisee is teaching junior high English.

Medical coverage for a liability insurance policy purchased last year was approved.

Furnace, School Both Out Tuesday

A faulty furnace gave students in Cass City High School an unexpected day of vacation Tuesday. According to Louis Wright, custodian, a linkage slipped during the night and the primary air in the furnace was lost.

This resulted in an excess of carbon in the furnace. The excessive heat warped the flame spreader and nozzle.

Repairs were completed in a day. Total cost was estimated at $100 to $150 for the repair.

The furnace is relatively new. It was installed about two and a half years ago at a cost of $12,500.

Fr. McLaughlin was presented with a gift.

Henderson Oldest Businessman at 90

It was Sunday. After answering a few questions for an insurance customer, he hung up the phone and walked back to a table ringed by relatives and guests.

Taking his fork, he sliced through a piece of birthday cake and laid claim to the title of Cass City's oldest active businessman, a claim which has so far gone unchallenged.

The scene took place this week end as Anson H. Henderson, longtime Cass City area resident, celebrated his 90th birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Pratt.

Born Feb. 7, 1876, in Richmond township, Macomb county, he is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson.

An insurance agent since 1906, he is still active in the business. He and his wife of 61 years, the former Charlotte Barker, spent their first 60 years together on a 40-acre farm, four miles east and one north of Deford.

He and his wife were married March 15, 1905, in Saginaw. She has been in an area nursing home since last March.

Memories Vivid

Even though he was only eight years old when he came to the area, the memory is still vivid.

"It was Nov. 1, 1884," he relates. "We took a train from Capac to Inlay City and then to Deford. Roads were bad and we had to travel eight miles just to get four up north" is all of 65 miles.

"There was a lot of burnt timber still standing from the great fire of 1881. We were in Armada at the time of the fire and I remember people talking about the 'big forest fire way up north.' I think 'way up north' is all of 65 miles. Henderson's still acute mind is chock-full of memories accumulated through the 90 years.

Explosion

Most memorable, however, was the "brick yard explosion this side of the river in which a neighbor and old friend, Angus Leach, was killed in 1904," and the devastating "cyclone" of 1905 which tore across Samillac and Tuscola counties and "passed within a half mile of my place. I watched it go through."

"Good Behavior"

How does one get to be 90 years old? To this inevitable question, Henderson, who looks about 20 years younger than he is, replied, "Good behavior, I guess."

"I've never known the taste of any liquor. I used to smoke for quite a few years, but not heavy and I quit that five years ago."

"Active life? Yes. . . I've always been on the ball. I worked hard when I was young and the country was new. I don't think that hurt me any."

Now that he's passed his ninth decade, will he rest on his laurels? "I'm undecided. . . with my wife in the nursing home, I

WE SELL BY THE GENERATION . . . AFTER GENERATION . . . AFTER GENERATION

Every once in a while we sell a new Chevrolet to a young man whose father bought a Chevrolet from us. We consider it quite a compliment. As the saying goes, "Like father, like son." So we figure if the father liked us, chances are, the son will too. Selling to generations is especially gratifying. So, we take extra measures to see that each of our customers is satisfied with his dealings at our dealership. Maybe someday his son will be in for his first new Chevrolet. Why don't you stop in soon? You might start something that'll run in your family for many years to come.

Gagetown School Board to Meet With Architect

The Board of Education of the Owendale-Gagetown schools has hired architects Wiggins, Tinchell and Associates to formulate plans for upgrading the grade buildings at both Owendale and Gagetown schools, Dale Abke, superintendent, announced this week.

The first meeting with the architects will be Thursday night. Proposed additions would include both classrooms and office space, Abke said.

The superintendent stressed that the plans under study are for the grade schools only, due to the uncertainty of mergers involving the high school students.

Abke noted that upgrading of elementary units would provide room for a broader high school curriculum in the present high school building.

Any improvements agreed upon by the board would have to be placed before the voters in a special vote necessary for financing it.

Meanwhile, the board voted to ask for three mills per year for three years for operating expenses. This would be an extra levy, in addition to the amount provided from regular school allocation.

A vote on the proposal will be held Mar. 28 when Huron county votes on the constant millage proposal.

Cars Collide

Rossman and Underwood roads was the scene of an accident between cars driven by James Bryant, 23, Cass City, and Ford E. Putnam, 33, Caro, Friday, Feb. 4. The cars collided at an open intersection. Bryant suffered minor injuries.

Unusual Accident

A car owned by Eugene Bock, Cass City, was damaged in an unusual accident Wednesday, Feb. 2, while parked at Evans Products in Gagetown.

A bundle of 2x6's fell from the hydraulic lift of a loader driven by Roy J. Karg, 28, Unionville, and struck Bock's car. Karg was attempting to load the lumber onto a truck when the accident happened.

KOREA BOUND—Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beach, Cass City, are literally on needles and pins as they wait to begin their trip to Korea as agricultural missionaries for The Evangelical Alliance Mission (TEAM). The

Beaches Prep for Korean Agricultural Mission Stint

According to available information, the town of Kangung is located on the eastern coast of Korea, at a point directly across from the capital city of Seoul and about 35 miles south of the 38th parallel.

A check of a map of Korea is unlikely to indicate little difference between Kangung and hundreds of other small, isolated, poverty-stricken villages along the east coast.

For Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beach of Cass City, the village has two very important differences.

Kangung has Kwan Dong College, the only center of higher learning on the entire eastern coast of Korea, and Kangung will be the Beaches' base of operation as they accept their first call into the mission field as agricultural missionaries.

The Beaches are currently packing and making other preparations for the trip to Korea which is slated to take place sometime in March.

The couple are missionaries with The Evangelical Alliance Mission (TEAM). His duties at the college will be to establish an agricultural program at the school and she will be working in the science department.

Long Preparation

"It's hard to put into words what we feel about going," Beach explained in a telephone interview. "We're anxious to get there and start our work, but we're not anxious to leave here."

"This is something we've looked forward to for a long time. We've been preparing ourselves for this particular work for a long time."

Establish Program

The Beaches know almost nothing about Kangung and only a little more about Kwan Dong College. "The school has 2,500 acres of land and I will establish an agricultural program on that land."

"The ag program will be mostly in crops. The school has five head of cattle. I won't be doing things like introducing machinery because there'd be no place for them to get them even if they knew what to do with them."

They will use their ag background both as a means of making a living and as a means of making contact with those to whom they will preach.

Never Seen Bible

"We've been told by Korean missionaries and by the mission board that the villages along the east coast are so isolated that they've never seen or heard of the Bible."

"We will be going out and using ag to reach these people and to bring the Gospel to them. The poverty situation is so extreme that a pastor couldn't possibly support a church so we will have to support ourselves through these ag programs or commerce."

What prompts a young couple, surrounded by all the easy living of our age, to deliberately seek out the hardships and loneliness of the mission field?

"Committed"

"This is an experience that we've both had. Some call it 'reborn,' others 'saved.'" Beach attempted to clarify. "For us, it means essentially that at one point in our lives, we both felt committed to go into the missionary field. This took place even before we were married."

TEAM is an interdenominational "faith" mission board with 850 missionaries on 20 mission fields. "We go to various churches and explain our work and if the members feel the work is worthwhile, they support us. When the support level, set by the mission board, is met, then we can go."

Our support level is three-fourths met now and the missions board expects we will have enough in March.

Beach is a 1958 graduate of Cass City High School and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Beach of Gagetown. He graduated from Michigan State University in 1962 and taught vocational agriculture at Marshall while obtaining his MA from MSU.

His wife is the former Mary Evelyn Leslie of Shabbona. A registered medical technologist, she received her BA from Taylor University in 1962. She is a 1957 graduate of Cass City High School.

The pair, who have been married for five and a half years, attended Columbia Bible College at Columbia, S. C., last year.

Will be needed

Whatever the Beaches encounter at the small Christian college of Kwan Dong or in the small, poor fishing villages along the coast, one thing is sure... they will be needed.

Needed because, as Beach nonchalantly explained, "In rural Korea there is only one missionary for every 100,000 Koreans."

Always remember that where she eats is more important to a woman than what she eats; the opposite is true of men.

Pilot Light Sets Fire at Store, One Injured

(See picture, second section)

Cross & Maier Meat Market ended its 25th anniversary sale with a "blazing" finish Saturday when leaking propane gas ignited, setting off a fire which caused minor damage at a nearby store and slightly injured one person.

The fire started when a filler valve on a propane gas tank behind the meat market failed to hold after being filled. The resulting gas leak was ignited by a pilot light in a smoke house.

The flames followed the gas along the ground and ignited the roof of Freiburger's Grocery. Minor damage from the persistent roof fire and some water damage were reported.

Roger Guinther, Fuelgas employee, suffered slight burns during the fire but treatment was not necessary.

Fuelgas manager Kenneth Eisinger reported that it was the first accident of any kind involving Fuelgas equipment in the 12 years the firm has operated here.

Faulty Furnace Kills Father of Gagetown Woman

A faulty furnace has been blamed in the death of the father and near asphyxiation of the mother of a Gagetown woman at their farm home in Colfax township, Huron county.

The body of Roy G. Sparling, 76, retired farmer, was found on the couch in the living room of his house Thursday, Feb. 3. His wife, Mrs. Lucinda Sparling, was also in the house, semiconscious and in a serious condition. They are the parents of Mrs. Doris Cummings of Gagetown.

An autopsy by Coroner Alden A. MacAlpine revealed death was from carbon monoxide poisoning. Det. Sgt. Willis Myers, Bay City, of the Michigan State Police Fire Marshall division, said a possible flaw in a furnace may have caused the fumes.

Sparling had been dead about 24 hours. Neighbors became concerned Thursday after noticing there were no lights in the house for two nights and called relatives.

The victim was born July 20, 1889, near Tyre and was a lifelong resident of the Thumb. He lived the last 51 years on his farm. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, Bad Axe.

Surviving, besides his wife, are: three sons, Doyle of Grand Haven, Veri of Owosso and Vaughn of Vassar; and three daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Enemann, Ellenville, Miss.; Mrs. Wanda Binder, Bad Axe, and Mrs. Cummings, Gagetown.

Also surviving are: a steppdaughter, Mrs. Eleanor Gage, Kinde; a stepson, Donald King, Vassar; three brothers, Jennings of Caro, Lee of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mervin of Detroit; and two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Frost, Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gustin, Essexville. Twenty-seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

Rev. Robert E. Briggs, Bay City, officiated at funeral services held Monday at the Bad Axe First Baptist Church. Interment was in Colfax Cemetery.

Justice Court Busy

Seven persons were handed fines by Cass City Justice Hugh Conolly for driving and other violations in one of the busiest weeks the justice has experienced since accepting the post over a month ago.

John J. Sawicki, 53, Cass City, was sentenced to 30 days in jail following his arrest Friday, Feb. 4, while driving under the influence of liquor. Sawicki also paid fine and costs of $81.25 and surrendered his license to the court.

He was arrested by Patrolman Robert Pawlowski after striking two cars while going the wrong way down a one-way alley (see accident story).

Robert Woodward, 19, Cass City, ticketed Feb. 1 by Pawlowski for driving 30 miles an hour in a 25 mile an hour zone, pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $5.00 and costs of $4.30.

Richard F. Hughes, 18, Cass City, was ordered to pay a fine of $15.00 and costs of $4.30 or spend five days in jail following his arrest Jan. 30 for driving 45 in a 35 mile an hour zone.

Donald Clayton Buchanan, 41, Bad Axe, was ticketed Jan. 28 by state police for driving 65 mph at night on M-81 and paid a fine of $4.30 or spend 10 days in jail. He also surrendered his license to the court.

A North Branch youth lost all driving privileges until April 1 following his arrest early in January by Police Chief Carl Palmateer while in possession of beer. Leslie L. Brown, 17, arrested on Jan. 8, was sentenced Feb. 1 to pay a fine of $25.00 and costs of $4.30 or spend 10 days in jail. He also surrendered his license to the court.

Myron A. Fisher, 28, Cass City, pleaded guilty to causing a property damage accident on Jan. 26 when he drove off the left side of the road and damaged a fence. The complaint was made by the state police. He paid a fine of $5.00 and costs of $4.30.

Making a U-turn on Main Street cost Larry J. Sweeney, 22, Cass City, $5.00 and costs of $2.00 when he pleaded guilty to the charge Jan. 31. The offense happened Jan. 30.

No More Feed At Farm Bureau, Says Manager

Farm Bureau Services, Inc., in Cass City will no longer be offering feed grinding services to area farmers, according to Ronald Miller, new manager at the local plant.

Miller, in an interview Tuesday, stated that the Cass City elevator will "be more of a warehouse for fertilizer, seeds and chemicals, rather than an elevator."

"The company wants to try this system to see how it works. We have a similar setup in Marshall and it's working well and we want to test it here."

Ronald Miller

Miller, who took over the management after the Caro Farmers Co-op terminated its lease on the elevator on December 31, stated the business will be open Wednesday only, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., for the present. During the spring and fall, however, the firm will be open full-time, six days a week.

Miller, 25, was a Farm Bureau field representative in Lansing before coming to Cass City. He has been with Farm Bureau Services for four years.

Originally from Eaton Rapids, he is married and has two children.

When he is not at the plant, he will be on the road but can be contacted at his home.

Eagles Bull Way Past Hawks, 75-59

The Frankenmuth Eagles, third ranked in the State in Class C, defeated Cass City Friday night for the second time this year. The score was 75-59.

Although the issue was never in doubt in the game played at Cass City High School, Cass City was able to keep the undefeated Eagles from using any second line players until the last 30 seconds when token substitutions were made.

Cass City opened the game with a control ball offense that kept the game close throughout most of the first half. By converting foul shots and a couple of layup buckets the Hawks netted 10 points in the opening stanza while the visitors countered with 15 points to lead by five points going into the second quarter.

It was the second period that actually decided the game. Cass City was unable to hit from the field while Frankenmuth used its great height advantage to take second and third shots and eventually score.

In the first half Cass City was able to hit only four of 29 tries for 17 per cent. One reason for the low percentage was that it was a rare occasion when the team got a second chance for an easy rebound basket as the Eagles completely dominated the backboards. At the intermission, the Eagles were ahead, 37-22.

In the second half, the Hawks were able to hold their own with the visitors, but the first half spurge by the league leaders was too much to overcome.

Al Zawilinski, who earned a starting spot by his performance against North Branch, was effective again Friday. Coach John Oswald had the junior guard play practically the entire game.

Al Wallace came off the bench to hit seven of 14 tries from the field and four of seven free throws, to lead the Hawk attack. The giant front line of Frankenmuth carried the attack for the Eagles. Ken Weiss netted 14, Dwight Bleke hit 22 and Bob Plesko scored 16 points.

Cass City was especially effective from the free throw line, hitting 83 per cent, by far the best

Junior Varsity Cagers Win Pair At Sandusky

Cass City's Junior Varsity swept a pair of games from Sandusky Tuesday, Feb. 1. It was the second win of the year for both teams.

The seventh grade jumped off to a 12-1 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never seriously threatened. The scoring was evenly divided. Dan Caister and John Zawilinski netted seven points each, while Scott Guernsey, Rob Alexander and Ben Bifoss netted six points each. The team showed good hustle and good defense, Coach John Bifoss reported.

The eighth grade edged Sandusky 26-23 by outscoring the Little Redskins in the second half. At the intermission the score was tied, 14-14.

Coach Bifoss said that the defense has improved and the rebounding was good at times, but the team needs more offense.

Dave Milligan had 11 points and Dale Ashmore netted seven points. Cowen had 12 for Sandusky.

NFO Schedules Meet in Caro

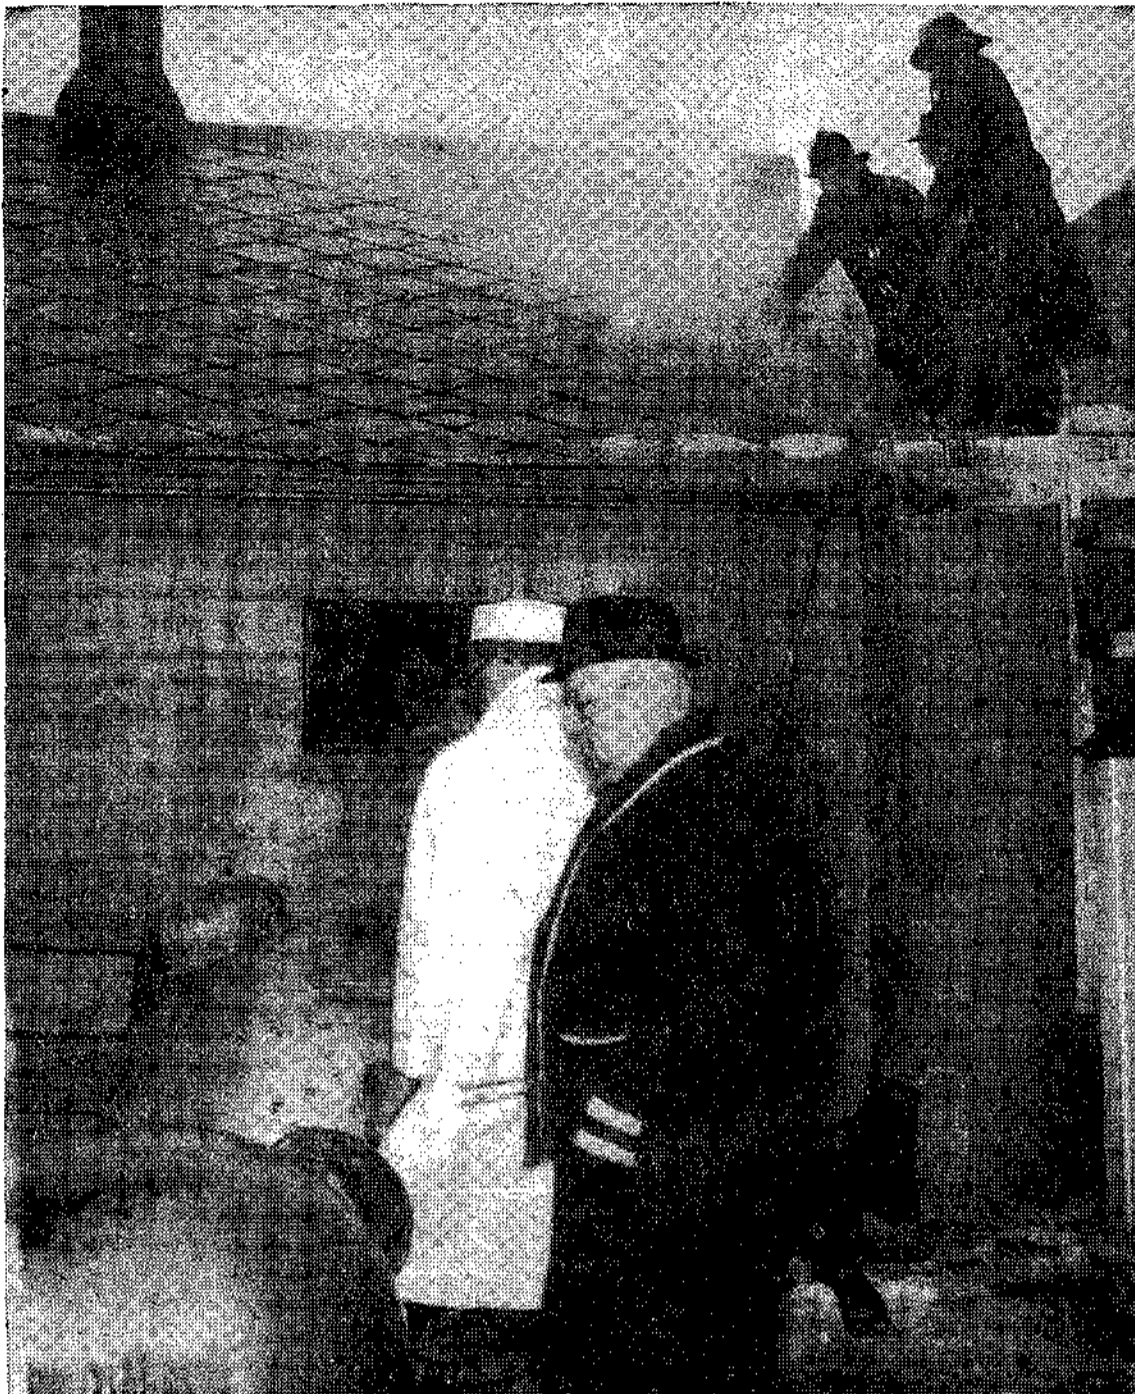

The NFO monthly meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 10, at 8:30 p.m. at Sacred Heart Auditorium, Caro.

The NFO supper Saturday, Feb. 12, will be held at Akron-Fairgrove High School. Arnold Paulson will be the speaker.

Paulson was named Minnesota's outstanding young man in 1950 and served as State president of the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1952-53. He also has been president of the Granite Falls Chamber of Commerce and served as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1950 which was named the outstanding chapter in the nation. He served as National Americanism Chairman of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1953-54. He is also national chairman of the Committee for Economic Rural Survival.

Paulson has been an independent businessman for the past 20 years and manages his own agency, The Minnesota Business and Industrial Promotion Agency, assisting Minnesota communities to obtain new industry.

DAMAGE MINOR—Damage to Freiburger Grocery was reportedly minor when the propane tank in the foreground developed a leak and the pilotlight of the smoke house at Gross and Maier Meat Market ignited the fumes. (See story, front section) Fuelgas employee Mark Gruber and Paul O'Harris, meat market employee, examine the tank. On the roof, fighting a persistent fire in the rafters, are Cass City-Elkland Township firemen Eldon Stoutenburg, Kenneth Copeland and Dean Toner.

It Was A Free Tune-up for Someone

By Dave Kraft

Let's start today's lesson with a riddle: A certain lady in town went to a certain garage in town and asked them to pick up her car at a certain Hills and Dales Hospital and repair it.

Thus having instructed the mechanics, she dropped her car keys in the nearest outstretched palm and departed. Whereupon the mechanic went to the H&D parking lot and picked up a 1959 Buick, using the keys he had been given.

The lady returned for her car, only to find that the mechanic had picked up the wrong car, using her keys.

"Somebody got their car fixed whether it needed it or not," complained the lady to this writer.

And thereupon we have our riddle: (A) How come the keys fit the wrong ignition and (B) who gets the bill for the work done on the wrong car?

This comes from an article by Edwin D. Kilbourne in the January issue of "The Imperial Magazine" and is based on a news item in the June 28, 1955 issue of "The New York Times."

The news item read: "New Clock Designed to Time Rhythmic Method—An electric clock designed to help married couples plan their families will go on sale this morning at Hammacher Schlemmer, 145 East 57th Street. . . . The clock works on a principle similar to that of a wrist watch that has on its dial a window showing the date. On the clock this space has a black indicator and a red light at the figure three. . . . When it shows black, the married woman will know that conception is not possible. But when it is red, she will be able to go ahead and have children."

The article and the following poem then appeared in the Saturday Review of "The Phoenix Nest," a weekly feature page edited by Martin Levin.

Now this is our Rodney (And Rodney's a dear) But it's really a caution How Rodney came here—Our clock is electric The weather was warm, And the thunder and lightning Were making a storm. Well, we glanced at our clock Before going to bed, But it must have got stuck On the black-not the red. So this is our Rodney (Just see how he coos) The result of a burnt out Electrical fuse.

..... This joke comes from a salesman friend of Duane Chippis. Seems two Spanish detectives were called out on a murder case and when they arrived, one took

Louis Crocker Dies Suddenly at Home

TUMORS

Q. What is meant by a malignant tumor?

A. A tumor is an abnormal growth of some sort. A mole might be considered a tumor since it is a growth that serves no useful purpose. Most moles are benign—that is, they stop growing somewhere along the line and do not spread to other parts of the body. A malignant growth (cancer) does not stop growing. If not removed or otherwise destroyed, it will grow endlessly until it invades some vital body organ or tissue. In addition, a malignant growth will usually shed cells which get into the blood stream and are carried to other parts of the body where they may lodge and start new tumors. This process is called "metastasis" and the new growth which arises at a distance from the original is known as "metastatic cancer."

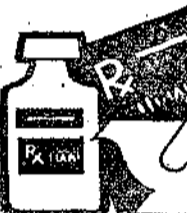

BREATH HOLDING

Q. Can a person voluntarily hold his breath until dead?

A. No. Even if a person possesses sufficient will power to stop breathing until unconscious, breathing would automatically start at the moment of "passing out."

His opinion: Ford rides quieter.

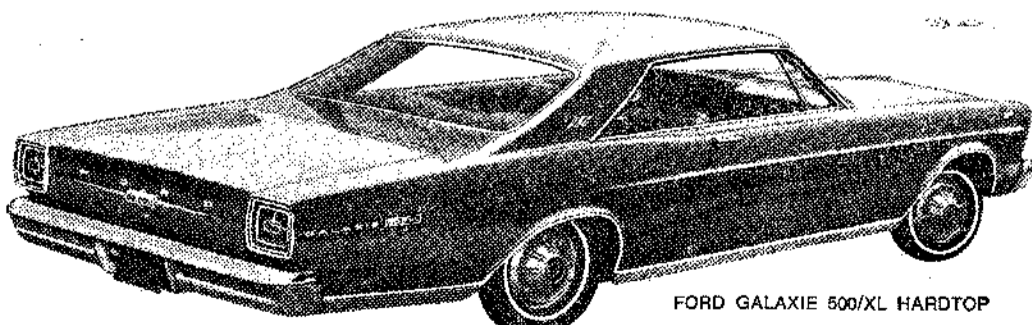

Ford's Quiet Man here he discusses a '66 Ford 4-Door LTD with Jean-Pierre Filipinetti at the castle which houses the famed Filipinetti collection of over 80 classic autos.

"It's incredible," said M. Filipinetti, "the Ford is quieter."

"The quiet, it's tremendous," continued M. Filipinetti, "it's incredible that you could build a car so luxurious as this at such a price." Ford's amazing quietness is the result of deep-down quality and engineering excellence.

And Ford for '66 offers more engineering magic: Optional new Stereo-Sonic Tape System that turns your Ford into a concert hall. Exclusive Magic Door for wagons swings out like a door for people and down

Letter to Editor

Letter to the Editor:
We, the majority of the Elkland Township Firemen, feel that the H. O. Paul building would make a fine building for the Fire Department. The building is large enough to hold six pieces of fire equipment. At the present time we have three units, two of which are housed at the firehall and the other unit is housed at the village garage in the park. We would then be able to house the present equipment in one place. In the future, we expect to acquire two new pieces of equipment. By having room for six pieces of equipment in the H. O. Paul building, there would be room for housing new units in the future.

Some of the other advantages of this building are that it is located in the center of the village and there is sufficient parking at the side and rear of the building for the firemen to park when they answer fire calls. At the existing firehall, the firemen have to leave their cars in the street and often some distance from the firehall. Therefore, we, of the Fire Department, ask the electors for their support on this bond issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Fleenor

Mary Lou Koppelberger and Garry W. Fleenor exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening, Jan. 22, in the Pilgrim Holiness Church in Kingston. The Rev. Raymond Dean of Kingston and Dr. Wayne Fleenor of Albion officiated at the rites for which the church altar was decorated with palms, two baskets of flowers and three candelabra.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koppelberger of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fleenor of Cass City.

Robert Koppelberger sang "Because" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride approached the altar wearing a floor-length gown of sheer nylon over an acetate foundation and fashioned with a scoop neckline. The waist was designed with a deep V-dip waistline from which the skirt swept back and was caught up with white roses to form a bustle like effect.

Her illusion veil was held by a jeweled teardrop tiara and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias and sweetheart roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Mrs. Ralph Koppelberger Jr. of Port Huron, matron of honor, and Mrs. Thomas Nitzsche of Springfield, Ohio.

bridesmaid. They were identically gowned in A-line cranberry crepe street-length dresses with pink whipped cream ruffles around a scoop neckline. Pink roses of the same material accented the waist backs. Their veils were made of pink net secured with pink roses matching those of their dresses and they carried bouquets of pink sweetheart roses with cranberry streamers.

Miss Angela Koppelberger of Port Huron was junior bridesmaid. She wore a pink whipped cream street-length dress accented by a cranberry crepe ruffled neckline and a red rose of the same material at the Empire waist back.

Joy Koppelberger was flower girl in a white dotted Swiss dress with a pink velvet sash. She wore a miniature tiara and veil matching the bride's and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Ronald Fleenor was best man assisted by Dennis Gremel, Ricky Koppelberger of Ithaca and Scott Fleenor.

After a reception for 175 guests at the Kingston High School multipurpose room, the young couple left for a trip to northern Michigan in the Mio area.

The groom is employed at the Saginaw Steering Co. Mrs. Fleenor had been attending Port Huron Junior College.

They will make their home in Kingston.

Eileen S. Hicks

Named Homemaker

Eileen S. Hicks is this year's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Cass City High School. She scored highest in Cass City in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken Dec. 7. She is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards ranging from $500 to $5,000. Miss Hicks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hicks of Deford.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged competitively and from them, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. The State award is a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Homemaker Search. In addition, her school will be awarded a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The second-ranking girl will receive a $500 educational grant.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow, together with a school advisor, will join winners and advisors from each of the 49 other states and the District of Columbia in an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C. Climax of the trip will be the naming of the 1966 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Chosen from the state winners on the basis of original test score, plus personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will receive a scholarship increased to $5,000. Grants of second, third and fourth-ranking girls in the nation will be raised to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively.

All judging is conducted by Science Research Associates, Chicago. This educational testing and publishing firm also constructs and grades the written test.

Only One State Capable of Producing Full Course Dinner

The Only State
A special dinner someone else attends might not generally interest you, but here's one you might try yourself.

Start with Paw Paw punch, that's a grape drink. Serve a relish plate of radishes, leaf lettuce sweet pickles, cottage cheese, celery and carrot sticks. Add a marinated bean salad and make the main course of rib of beef au jus with asparagus spears and a Russet Burbank baked potato. Don't forget the rolls and butter. Finish off the meal with Northern Spy apple pie a la mode.

What's so unusual about this meal? It includes only Michigan-grown and produced products.

Michigan is the one and only state, according to the Department of Agriculture, where a full meal of this kind can be served wholly from state-originated foods.

Living in Michigan enables you to serve meals of this type with many different vegetables, meats, salads and desserts without using outside products unless you wish to serve coffee or tea.

This particular menu was the one used to serve the final meal at the annual Michigan Press Association meeting in East Lansing. Each year the State Agriculture Department cooperates with the association to present an "All Michigan Dinner" of this kind. This year was the 25th.

Where Workers Are

High unemployment rates were a major problem in Michigan and the nation a fairly short time ago, but the opposite problem is now becoming a factor.

Michigan Employment Security Commission Director Malcolm Lovell now notes an acute manpower shortage is evident. The war in Viet Nam is adding to this problem because many of the men who would be getting into the labor force are being taken into the service.

This does not mean, of course, that unemployment has been eliminated. It is at the lowest point in more than a decade, but the untrained and unskilled still face chronic joblessness.

Surprisingly perhaps, the greatest need for manpower seems to be developing in the semi-skilled to unskilled work classes. Employment agencies report the demand is great for plant production workers and housewives seeking part-time jobs in the clerical field.

Lovell sees three areas of effort to improve the manpower shortage, which has bit Michigan harder than most other states to date.

These three project ideas would not completely solve the problem because some of the shortage is being felt at the skilled and executive levels. Lovell notes, however, that much improvement could be realized through the upgrading of many workers to let in more younger workers; greater use of women workers, and training of the hard-core jobless.

One Car Death

A frightening fact is pointed up in the 1965 traffic accident statistics, aside from the sheer number of injuries and deaths: single-vehicle accidents are on the rise! It means that despite the very intensive auto safety campaigns carried on by various communities and organizations, the word is not sinking in to the people who could change the trend.

It is the individual motorist who can and must change his ways to make Michigan a safer place to drive.

Single-vehicle accidents accounted for more than a third of the fatal accidents last year and in 1964.

Only rarely is a road or weather condition the primary cause of single-car crashes. When a driver is involved in an accident by himself, chances are that it is caused by some driving error on his part. Factors known to cause single-car crashes are almost entirely under the driver's control. These include excessive speed, lack of skill, judgment errors, inattention, drinking, drugs, fatigue, and vehicle defects.

Vehicle defects are included in this list because they usually cause accidents only in total breakdown of a problem the motorist should have detected and had corrected previously.

As Jerry Gilles, safety director for the Michigan Trucking Association, puts it, "The ultimate responsibility for safe driving rests with the driver."

"He may not always be able to avoid accident situations created by someone else, but he ought to be able to keep himself out of trouble."

Deer can sustain an over-winter weight loss of up to 30 percent of their fall weight if they go into the cold-weather season in good shape. If they lose more than this, they are as good as goners.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

On account of Abe Lincoln's birthday coming up, the feller that runs the country store presented Ed Doolittle with a big picture of Abe at the session Saturday night.

Ed, like I told you, that still bows toward Abe's tomb when he says his prayers and keeps a copy of the Gettysburg Address in his family Bible, was mighty well pleased with this honor. He told the fellers he was keeping two pumpkins on his front porch permanent for Thanksgiving, a Christmas wreath hanging in the window, a July Fourth flag on the mantleboard, and when he pasted this picture of Abe on the front door he would be decorated for all the year-round events that was worth celebrating.

Personal, Mister Editor, I got a sneaky feeling that Ed gits history confused a little bit. He's always rattling off quotations from Lincoln when, a heap of times, I recollect they was from Jefferson, Patrick Henry, or from Shakespeare. But I don't say nothing on account of not wanting to git Ed upset too much. He's already practical a bed patient from suffering from the Great Society.

Ed told the fellers Saturday night the Democratic Party was the greatest benefit to mankind since the discovery of hot water. He allowed as how the beauty of the Democratic Party was they had a answer fer everthing whether they knowed it or not. He said it made him recollect the story about the boy that ask his Pa how they made the holes in macaroni. His Pa thought fer a minute and told the boy they made the holes first and then wrapped the macaroni around 'em. That was a good Democratic answer, allowed Ed.

On account of this being a sort of "Ed Doolittle night," all the fellers give Ed the floor and didn't say nothing. Even Clem Webster, charter member in the Great Society, grinded his teeth and made like he was listening.

Ed went on to report he had saw where Lyndon and his posse of Great Society advisers was worried sick about the "affluent gap." Ed claimed this was another way of saying that no matter what new giveaway Lyndon cooks up, the rich git richer and the pore git poorer. It looks to him, said Ed, like the Government wants everybody to look alike, and share alike. In the Great Society, according to Ed, we was cows follering the loudest bell. He allowed as how, when Lyndon announced from the LBJ Ranch that he was "rolling up his sleeves" to git to work on America's problems, you either "rolled" or didn't git no benefits. Next Saturday night, Mister Editor, we was holding a benefit fer Clem Webster and the Democrats. I'll give you the details.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

"Bridges in Baxton"

Character parts were played by Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Ron Walker, Mrs. Delbert Rawson, Mrs. Ron Fleenor, Mrs. Roger Marshall, Mrs. Linda Alexander and Mrs. Bob Alexander.

With Mrs. Keith McConkey handling the narration, the group brought out the problems and joys of the people in an imaginary town.

They showed how bridges, in all stages of construction, can be built in creating a better understanding among separate communities.

Mrs. Howard Rexin was in charge of the program.

Using the theme, "Brotherhood," Mrs. Clarence Schneberger presented devotions. She reviewed ways one may achieve happiness through acts of brotherhood.

Group I, with Mrs. Clare Carpenter and Miss Laura Maier, co-chairmen, served the 6:30 dinner to 50 members attending.

We must not overlook the fact that the muzzle is merely the dog's reputation. His character may really be quite above reproach.

Rev. R. E. Betis, Salem EUB Church

IT CAN HAPPEN TO YOU

Yes, it can! That wonderful life-changing experience the New Testament calls "conversion" or the "new birth".

Jesus said it was a must. "Truly, truly I say unto you, unless one is born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God." (John 3:3) God is the author of this renewing experience - it is free to all of us - our part is simply to repent of our former life and accept it with faith.

John Wesley, Methodism's founder, writes thus of his experience, "In the evening I went very unwillingly to a society in Aldersgate Street, where one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I did trust in Christ, Christ alone, for salvation: and an assurance was given me that He had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the laws of sin and death."

And... it can happen to you! Are you willing?
