

Surprising Answers In Spencer's Query

Some surprising answers were received by Rep. Roy L. Spencer from his 78th district constituents in a questionnaire printed in 200 district newspapers and mailed to 800 homes.

Despite the recent uproar about the wipe out of the deer herd, 60 per cent of the responders felt that deer management should remain in the hands of the Conservation Department.

Not so popular were the new laws opening the deer season on different Saturdays in the Upper Peninsula. Sixty-one per cent wanted to change the Saturday deer season opening and 72 per cent favored opening the season on the same day all over the State.

More Salaries
Possibly concerned about the high crime rate, local residents voted 74 to 20 per cent for higher police salaries and 78-17 per cent for more power for law enforcement agencies in dealing with crime. They also voted (86 per cent in favor) of an implied consent law whereby drivers suspected of drunk driving submit to a blood test.

If there is one measure that the residents in the 78th are in complete agreement on it is that they want the name of the Mackinac Bridge to remain as it is. In answer to the question, "do you favor or renaming the Mackinac Bridge to 'G. Mennen Williams Bridge'?" the answer was three per cent yes and 97 per cent no.

Fairly evenly divided was the opinion about several other questions.

State tuition grants for students at private college based on and graduated according to the parents' ability to contribute, 41 yes, 52 no.

State supported vocation schools for high school dropouts? 44 yes, 54 no.

Extending the school year from 9 to 11 months? 42 yes, 51 no.

Use of public funds for payment of compensation to innocent victims of violent crimes in certain instances. 48 yes, 41 no.

When asked for opinions about the greatest problem facing Michigan today, property tax for education led the list. Other points of concern, according to the survey, are traffic safety and government controls.

Twenty-five Shook Hands with Death But All Survived Household Poisons

Twenty-five Cass City residents, most of them children, shook hands with death during 1965 by taking overdoses of medicine or poisonous fluids and other foreign matter.

That's the report from Cass City's two hospitals as they and the village's drug stores join the nation in observing National Poison Week, now in progress.

Fortunately, due to the complete services at both hospitals, none of the persons affected suffered serious effects from their experiences.

Hills and Dales
Hills and Dales General Hospital Administrator Richard Palm with the aid of Mrs. Basil Wotton, medical records, reported that his hospital handled 15 cases of poisoning in 1965.

Eight of the 15 were children and the remaining five were adults.

Biggest offender on the list was aspirin with six persons treated for overdoses. Other instances listed overdoses of: Seconal-one, nerve tablets-one, kerosene-one, cologne - one, elixir of benedril-one, and foreign pills-two.

Cass City Hospital
Joseph Weiler, Cass City Hospital administrator, reports that about 12 persons had their stomachs pumped out at his hospital in 1965. Here, again, aspirin was the largest offender.

Other causes were children taking kerosene, detergents, and other poisons left within their reach.

"We handle at least 20 calls a month from distraught mothers whose children have swallowed something," he reports.

Figures from the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association show that nearly half a million American children under five years of age are accidentally poisoned each year and 500 of the victims die.

Household Killers
As was mentioned, the most serious danger is the common household product. The child who wouldn't drink his fruit juice may cheerfully gulp such things as detergents, rat poison, insect sprays, kerosene, lye and furniture polish.

The best preventative method is to keep all drugs, poisons and other household chemicals out of reach of children and away from food, advises MSPA.

Birth Control Pills
Hospital officials are also dismayed at the increasing number of children who swallow birth control pills. The frequency of this kind of accidental poisoning is ranked second only to aspirin. One of the reasons birth control pills are being swallowed by so many children is that mothers leave the pills in a conspicuous place so they won't forget to take them.

Poison PAK
Cass City's two drug stores, Wood Rexall Drug and Mac & Scotty Drug Store, have joined the fight against accidental poisonings by offering a poison antidote kit (PAK) as a public service.

The kit may be obtained through donation through either of the firms and is for preliminary treatment.

The PAK contains Syrup of Ipecac, which is to be given when it is desirable for the patient to vomit. In most cases, such removal of the poison from the stomach is the proper treatment.

In some cases however, for example when a gasoline product has been swallowed, vomiting should not be caused. In such cases, another product in the PAK, activated charcoal powder, is to be administered.

Most important, though, is the advice that a doctor or local hospital be consulted for specific instructions before administering any of the PAK contents. The parent should have the poison container at hand when calling for instructions, since label information may be needed.

The kits are available through the MSPA and the Thumb Drug Club.

POISON PAK—Cass City pharmacists are offering this "PAK" (Poison Antidote Kit) as a public service in conjunction with National Poison Prevention Week. The kit is purchased by donation. Twenty-five persons were treated last year at Cass City hospitals for poisoning. (Chronicle photo)

As life becomes more mechanized, people tend to "do less" and gain more weight. A Michigan State University foods and nutrition specialist says future generations may have to "watch those calories" even more carefully than people presently do. The specialist predicts that caloric allowances may be reduced seven percent in the next fifteen years in an effort to balance activity with caloric needs.

The WINNERS at our COMFORT CONDITIONING CARNIVAL

We like to think that everybody who came were "winners" at the Carnival. They met friends and neighbors, had some light refreshments on us, watched one of those seemingly miraculous electronic ovens in action, saw a beautiful model of one of Michigan's most advanced design school buildings, heard a "talking house." In the process, they also learned something of the new, exciting possibilities of electric heat and air conditioning—two electrical uses which are growing by leaps and bounds.

To show our appreciation of those who came to the Carnival, daily door-prizes and a Grand Prize were awarded. The judges have met, made their selections and here they are!

One of the newsworthy events of the Carnival was the opportunity to announce Edison's brand new guarantee of residential electric heat operating cost. If you missed this one, stop in at any Edison office and ask about it. It's the most exciting idea about home heating—electric or otherwise—that has ever been presented!

The annual legislative excursion to Washington, D.C., sponsored by the Michigan Farm Bureau's auxiliary, attracted strong Michigan Eighth District representation. Congressman James Harvey met with Eighth District residents from Freeland, Deckerville, Marlette, Millington, Cass City and Saginaw during the three-day visit last week. The entire Michigan group included about 60 persons. Besides visiting Federal agencies, the entire group also took in committee hearings on the Hill. They met with Congressman Harvey for a breakfast

By Dave Kraft

Over-all, those guys down at the post office are okay but there's a couple that bear watchin'. Like Pat Rabideau.

One thing I'll say for Pat, though. He's always got a joke. Some of them I can even clean up enough to use here.

Here's a little riddle he pulled on me the other day. If you saw an envelope with the following address, where would it go?

Wood
John
Mass.

Give? It would go to John Underwood, Andover, Mass.

Pat's nomination for the turnniest sight he's seen in a long time is the B. A. Calka sign somebody put on Mrs. Esther McCullough's dog house while she was away recently on a trip.

Pat says Mrs. McCullough said she had a pretty good idea who put it there. I can think of three possibilities myself.

If you are planning to head south for a couple of weeks, be sure to get a steel-lined confirmation of your accommodations.

That's the word from Mrs. James Bauer who returned the other day from a stay at Fort Lauderdale. Lucile says she booked and paid for her accommodations well in advance and then double-checked them the week before she left.

When she got there, however, they told her she was out of luck. "After all that traveling, I knew how Mary felt when they told her there was no room at the inn," Lucile says.

This happened once before to the Bauers, while vacationing in Jamaica. They got there and their previously arranged for fixin's had been occupied by someone else.

They had to go 150 miles up in the mountains "with a driver that didn't even speak English" to find a place to stay.

All very frustrating. Almost as frustrating as not being able to go to these places, much less find a place to stay when you get there.

Track Coach John Bifoss had better check his thinclads when he sends them out for preseason conditioning. I'd swear I saw one of them doing his road work the other day from the back of a motorcycle.

I went to Art Randell's wedding Saturday (There will be a brief pause here while all us freedom lovers say a silent prayer for him who is about to join us in the cell-block of matrimony).

The bride was lovely, the groom was indifferent and I was so nervous that I almost passed out. I always almost pass out at weddings.

Some people are uncomfortable when they visit hospitals after they've recovered from a bad experience in one. Like an operation or something. That's how I am about weddings.

I don't remember much about my wedding. I'm sure I must have had one. I've got two rings to prove it. . . one on my finger and one in my nose.

I took some pictures at a wedding once. About half way through. I had to reload some film holders. I borrowed a closet at the bride's home to make the change.

I took the film from the holders and then when I went to check the shields to see which way they went back into the holders, I couldn't get the door open. I twisted the knob and it turned in my hand. . . and turned. . . and turned.

Well, knothead, the only thing to do is do the best you can. I finished reloading the holders. Rather than embarrass myself by having to call for help, I gave one last try, accompanied by a shoulder to the door.

THE GIFTED CHILD

Q. This year I was assigned to teach a class of superior 8th graders. These children are indeed gifted but will they achieve greater success in life than the less intellectual? I wonder!

A. The superior child becomes the superior adult, almost without exception. One study, started in 1921, included 1500 eleven-year-olds with I.Q.s ranging from 135 to 200. A follow-up 35 years later showed that 70 per cent were college graduates, 6 per cent had doctorates, 5 per cent were in American Men of Science, and 2 per cent in Who's Who in America. Only 0.2 per cent could be considered failures. In addition, they were superior emotionally and physically. There was no evidence to support the oft-repeated sour-grape notion that intellectual superiority somehow winds up as nonintellectual inferiority.

FAT BABIES

Q. Do fat babies always grow to be fat adults?

A. Not always. Many children are fat but they slim down as adolescence approaches. However, in some cases obesity may persist. If the child is overweight at age 10 or 12, the chances are he will remain obese throughout life.

Who says a '66 Ford rides quieter than Jean Bauchet's $12,000 Facel Vega?

Monsieur Jean Bauchet is an art collector and a connoisseur of fine automobiles. He understands that quiet in a car means quality. After driving a '66 Ford XL, he said, "They would not have to make Paris streets so smooth if all cars rode like this."

Jean Bauchet!

Ford's Quiet Man, who recently toured Europe demonstrating the exceptional quality of the '66 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive cars, here discusses a '66 Ford XL with Monsieur Bauchet outside of Monsieur Bauchet's Paris home.

"Such smoothness, such silence," says Jean Bauchet. "Your Ford is quieter, M'sieu."

Ford's quiet quality is the result of advanced engineering features like a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" road vibrations. . . the strongest body ever on a Ford. But the quiet ride is just one of many reasons why you're ahead in a Ford all the way. Only Ford in its class offers Stereo-Sonic Tape Player option that brings you over an hour of uninterrupted music of your choice, on each self-threading, snap-in tape cartridge. ■ Magic Doorgate for wagons (standard equipment) that opens out like a door and down like a tailgate, depending on whether you are loading kids or cargo. ■ Silent-Flu Ventilation (on 4-door hardtops) that brings in fresh air and gets rid of smoke and stale air with the windows closed. ■ Even Ford's keys are special—they're double-edged so they fit in locks either side up. Visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive a '66 from Ford. See how many ways Ford can put you ahead in '66.

What is Michigan Milk Producers Association? What does it do for its members? What does it do for you?

Michigan Milk Producers Association was founded by a handful of Michigan dairy farmers in 1916. Today, MMPA has more than 9,000 members and last year marketed over $127 million worth of milk. In fifty years, MMPA has become one of the largest dairy cooperatives in America. What is responsible for this remarkable growth? Service. Outstanding service to its members—and to consumers as well.

THE PURPOSE OF MMPA

The main purpose of the founders of Michigan Milk Producers Association was to assure members a fair return for their milk through price negotiations with

GUARANTEED MARKET AND PAYMENT

All MMPA members are active dairy farmers—shipping large quantities of milk to market every day. Because of the perishable nature of milk, even one day without a market can be costly. MMPA, therefore, guarantees every member a market for his milk, every day of the year—providing it meets health standards. What's more, MMPA guarantees each member full payment for his milk at all times.

DISASTER AND QUARANTINE PROTECTION

Dairy barns and herds are essential to the dairy farmers income. If a member's barn or milking facilities are damaged by fire or windstorm, MMPA pays that member up to 75% of his milk income for a 90-day recovery period. The same financial protection is guaranteed any member prevented by disease from shipping milk.

TESTING AND FIELD SERVICE

MMPA professional testers check regularly to make sure each member is paid on an accurate basis. MMPA's professional field men call on members regularly to help them with individual problems and to help keep them informed about current quality standards, health department regulations and marketing facts.

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

Many changes have taken place and much has been accomplished in fifty years. Today, MMPA stands as the modern marketing arm of Michigan dairy farmers. Its major purpose still is to serve the dairy farmer members who own and operate it. And the result is to provide you, the consumer, with an uninterrupted supply of fresh, wholesome milk.

We measure our success in terms of our service to our members and to you. And we think we have reason to celebrate.

MMPA Observing 50 Years of Service

Fifty years of marketing milk for Michigan dairy farmers is the proud record of the Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA).

The bargaining-marketing cooperative was founded on May 23, 1916, by a group of farmers who lived around Howell. They met on the campus of Michigan Agricultural College (now Michigan State University) and acted because they had no adequate guarantee that they could sell their milk, no firm assurance they would be paid for milk they did send to market, and no means of pricing their milk except to take what the dairies offered.

Guarantee of market and guarantee of pay to member farmers are two services that MMPA has never failed to provide.

They are part of a total marketing-bargaining service for which MMPA members pay less than 2 per cent of their milk income. Besides arranging for milk deliveries to dairies or milk processors, MMPA professionals and elected officials bargain milk prices.

They represent nearly 10,000 Michigan dairy farmer members in such highly complex things as Federal Milk Marketing Order hearings, promotional programs and national and state legislative matters as well. Far and away the largest dairy farmer cooperative in Michigan, MMPA actually provides the marketing muscle that enables several smaller cooperatives to function effectively.

Size alone is not MMPA's major accomplishment, however.

A 50-year record of service to dairy farmers, particularly in marketing milk and bargaining for price, is. Along the way in compiling the record there were battles, and there will continue to be battles—at least at the bargaining table.

"The men who fought for and built MMPA were successful because they were right; because they were doing something that dairy farmers could not do individually and alone, and because no decent alternative to a farmer-owned, farmer-controlled cooperative like MMPA was ever offered," said MMPA President Glenn Lake, who has headed the organization since 1955.

"MMPA has consistently used its size and its strength in a responsible manner that is responsive to the needs and wishes of its members," Lake said.

Milk marketed through MMPA in fiscal 1965—more than three million (3) pounds of it—brought more than $127 million to member dairy farmers. More than $19 million went to dairy farmers during 1965 because of MMPA bargaining ability to win and maintain premium prices over Federal Order minimums on bottling milk.

"The structure of the Michigan milk market today is naturally bigger and more complex than it was 50 years ago," Lake said.

"So is farming more complex and so is practically everything else. One thing that hasn't changed, though, is the fact that MMPA members have milk they want to sell, and dairies have customers who want to buy it. Competition and the cost-price squeeze affect both groups.

"Throughout our 50 years of service, MMPA has remained just what it started out to be: A democratic organization through which dairy farmer members can speak with one voice in the marketplace," Lake said.

MMPA actually reached its maximum size in the mid 1950s when membership exceeded 17,000 dairy farmers. Since that time, there has been a sharp reduction in the number of farmers producing milk for the market all over the United States including Michigan. Despite some very recent reductions in total amount of milk produced in Michigan, plenty has remained available for state needs.

At the time MMPA was founded, and for many years thereafter, milk was sold in population centers of the state that were separate markets isolated from each other.

Now, for all practical purposes, all of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan is a single market served by MMPA and regulated by two Federal Milk Marketing Orders. Virtually complete conversion from milk carrying cans to farm bulk tanks and huge tanker trucks, plus the modern network of Michigan superhighways, brought about this change.

IT SEEMS TO ME Paper Work Harassing Cass City Businessmen

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

I wonder just how many persons living in Cass City realize the plight of the small businessman who owns his own contracting firm? These men working on their own and hiring additional men as needed, are coming home tired but seldom can give their evening to a rest on the davenport, or watching TV. Instead the time is spent trying to figure out how much Social Security tax is due, or how much health and accident insurance is due, or how much liability insurance is due — both for himself and for his employees who are often neighbors and members of his family. Lately, the contractors have lost some personnel locally. It is easier to take a job elsewhere than to operate a profit-making, tax-making business. Look around you and see how many plumbers there are working in Cass City now; and how many carpenters, electricians and other small businesses there are locally. I don't know how to fix this desperate situation; but it only takes some rudimentary figuring to realize that the hardware stores and the lumberyard and other local suppliers will feel the pinch where it hurts, right in the cash register!

I don't know how to solve the problem. Contractors with whom I have talked don't know what the solution is. The irony is that our local contractors are hurting right at the same time the American people as a whole are earning more than they did at anytime in the nation's history. Or, so "It Seems To Me."

As our nation's commitments to Viet Nam and other nations begin to cost American lives the American people suddenly begin taking interest in that actions our government is taking. College youth and others in that age group frequently criticize stands that our government has taken. (I find student demonstrations founded on more information on the subject than most of us have bothered to dig out.)

About the time of President Johnson's dramatic flight to Hawaii with key members of his cabinet (nobody asked "Why there instead of in Washington?") group after group, many of which had never before taken a public stand on anything, suddenly sprang into being to support the positions taken by our government.

I wonder why Aunt Minnie's Tuesday Sewing Circle (meeting every Friday, which fact is enough information for a special Congressional investigation it seems to me) suddenly felt the urge to hold a press conference to vocalize their support behind President Johnson.

Not that I object. I'm merely curious about "Why?" and "Why now?" Or, so "It Seems To Me."

You've heard, I feel sure, about Recovery, Inc., the group approach for helping former mentally ill people and about AA, Alcoholics Anonymous, the unique organization which helps alcoholics

Snover to Get New Post Office

Snover is slated to get a new, one-story post office following negotiations between the U. S. Post Office Department and a Lake City couple who will be building the office.

Mr. and Mrs. James Vander Laan will build and lease the new post office building to the government.

Located on the corner of Wheeler and Snover roads, the installation will represent an estimated total investment of $12,500 and will be leased to the department for five years at a rent of $1,500 for the basic term.

The new post office is expected to be completed three months after the plans are approved. It will have an interior space of 1,081 square feet.

State's Administrative Costs Likely to Jump in 1967

Pay At The Top
Total cost of top-level state administration will jump sharply next year if the State Civil Service Commission's recommendations are accepted by the Legislature.

Under the 1963 Constitution, the Commission is responsible for recommending pay levels for all executive appointive positions which are not classified, plus the few elected posts.

The present salary levels for these posts range from $16,000 for the head of the Licensing and Regulation Department, to $30,000 each for the Governor and Mental Health Director. This top figure is also authorized for the unnamed Superintendent of Education.

Legislators and the Governor have previously discussed raising the salaries for these top 20 posts. Another 70-odd positions are involved in the Commission plan because each of the department heads has one or more deputies not classified by civil service.

Currently the nearly 100 posts involve an expenditure of $1,221,000. The recommended changes would boost this by $220,000. Only two of the 20 department heads would remain at present levels, $20,000 each for the elected Secretary of State and Attorney General.

Highest paid under the Commission plan would be the Mental Health Director, a psychiatrist, at $35,000.

The Commission says the boosted rates will be necessary to get and keep good people in the top positions which do not offer the job security provided by civil service status.

Local Help
Rapid growth of the state's major colleges and universities is frequently chronicled while another education institution gets less notice despite their increasing importance.

Community colleges are now taking their place in education. Today there are 19 in operation. Another five will soon open doors to students.

Last year the state contributed about $4 million to assist in the creation and expansion of community college facilities. This year the capital outlay allotment is expected to be at least double that, and possibly triple or more.

Space problems at the four-year institutions of higher education continue to exist despite massive construction programs. The community colleges seem to offer the answer to part of these problems.

In addition, schooling beyond the secondary level becomes more in demand. Community colleges offer many courses on a one or two-year basis to enable youths to fit into jobs.

Existence of the college programs locally, or within commuting distance, brings higher education within the financial reach of many thousands who could not attend a campus elsewhere.

Proof of the community colleges' importance is seen in statistics other than the basic number of such units now in use or planned. In 1955 community colleges, usually known at that time as junior colleges, listed enrollments of about 13,500. Last fall some 61,275 students were enrolled.

Attempt Control
A spending ceiling on State Senate committees was put into effect this year. It was viewed with mixed reactions by lawmakers and others.

The $10,000 annual spending limit would apply to all except the important Appropriations Committee, by far the busiest of the working units in either house.

Sen. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, said he foresaw the problem that the public would assume the entire $10,000 allowed was being spent by every committee. This would be a very high figure for most committee activity in past years.

The other side of the coin is that legislators might feel the limit is a mandate for spending, rather than a ceiling.

Sen. Bernard O'Brien, Detroit Democrat who heads the Insurance Committee whose activities at least partly prompted the limitation, said he planned to ask for $5,000 before the ceiling was set.

Under normal circumstances, for routine committee business, even this would be a relatively high fig-

Papal Volunteers Program Sunday

The Papal Volunteers for Latin America program will be explained and illustrated in an "Information Day" movie-lecture and open discussion to be held at St. Pancratius Hall, Cass City, Sunday afternoon, March 27, at 2:30 p. m. Father Michael Maher, local Diocesan Papal Volunteer Director, will show a movie and give a visual aid lecture on Latin America and the Papal Volunteers. He will explain why United States Catholic laymen are going to Latin America, what they hope to accomplish and what they are doing. A question period and open discussion will follow the movie-lecture. "The public is invited," Father Maher said.

The Papal Volunteers were formed in 1960 at the urgent request of Pope John XXIII who asked that qualified laymen from every walk of life and profession, especially from the United States, go to Latin America to help their fellow Christians.
