

From the Editor's Corner

Dave Kraft has been with the Chronicle for five years with the exception of six months he spent at the Caro newspaper.

Now he moves onward and upward to Vassar to take charge of the Vassar Pioneer-Times for owners Rudy Petzold of Caro and E. J. LaPorte of Pinconning. Petzold this week has purchased a half interest in the Vassar paper. Jim Fox, present part-owner, is leaving.

Perhaps the best compliment we can pay Dave is that we dread his leaving and would do our utmost to welcome him back to the staff if ever things worked out so that he was in the market to return.

The next time you start to throw a can or bottle from your car consider this: It costs an estimated 34 cents for every one that the highway department picks up. Total cost this year is $600,000.

Village President Lambert Althaver this week suggested that interested residents should attend the annual Elkland Township meeting at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in an effort to get a bond issue on the ballot in the fall for a township-wide new fire department.

It's a move that I hardly endorse. The fire department needs new housing and new equipment. Spread over the township the cost would be nominal and the community would be facing up to an obligation that will become increasingly pressing over the years.

At the same time, it should be worthwhile investigating the many governmental programs for aid. Perhaps one of them is designed for assistance in cases like the fire department.

The township meeting is for both residents of the village and the rural areas. Each has a right to express opinions and the town meeting is the time to do it.

In the Thumb area the Michigan Education Association has a monopoly of teachers' organizations. Latest to join the MEA bargaining group are the teachers in Unionville and Kingston who were officially recognized last week.

Only in the metropolitan Detroit area has the AFL-CIO been successful in representing the teachers at the bargaining table.

There is nothing new under the sun. A week ago I said that a pet idea of mine was turning the dump into a park. Mrs. Adah Wetters called almost immediately to say that the late Dr. Frank Morris had the same idea over 45 years ago.

before the dump was even established on the banks of the Cass River.

Dr. MacPhail

Crash Victim Mending

Dr. Albert MacPhail, 36, of Flint and a native of Cass City, is recovering from serious injuries suffered in an accident at the corner of Court Street and Grand Traverse Street in Flint Sunday, March 20, at 9 p. m.

According to Flint City Police who investigated, Dr. MacPhail was rammed broadside by a car driven by Mrs. Hazel Mix, 29, of Flint. Mrs. Mix ran a red light at the intersection.

Evidently, police said, the small foreign car was toppled by the impact. It was damaged on both the right and left sides and in the front. The Mix car was damaged on the right side and front.

Neither Mrs. Mix nor the passengers in her car were injured in the crash.

Police said that tickets have not been issued, pending further investigation.

Seeger's Stately Elms Doomed; Removal Planned

The stately elms on North Seeger will soon be gone.

About eight of the picturesque trees are dead or dying and the council is making plans to cut them down.

The council is seeking the most economical way of removing the affected trees and is investigating companies and individuals.

Removing elms is expensive. Cost estimates range from $120 (in quantity lots) to $200 for each tree.

State Applying Pressure

Area Dumps Violate Law

A recent hassle in Lapeer over the operation of the city dump points up the precarious position of Cass City and area townships in relation to their dumps.

According to information revealed at a meeting of the city commissioners in Lapeer, a new law will make it mandatory to have a land fill dump.

An article in the Lapeer County Press said the pressure for new type dumps is growing all the time.

The pressure started in Washington and reached Lansing last year. The Legislature enacted a law directing the State Health Department to clean up air pollution and solid-waste disposal by governmental units. The statute includes townships as well as villages and cities.

Lapeer City Manager Arnold Whitney said he expected the State Health Department to cite Lapeer about the dump in September.

Stringent Rules

When that happens, he predicted Lapeer would be buying a heavy duty bulldozer, crane and dragline equipment and entering a 100 per cent sanitary landfill dump operation within a year and a half.

Lapeer (and presumably all other units of government) will be under requirements to have a landfill dump laid out by an engineer after test borings, to have an attendant on duty at all times the dump is open, capable of operating the equipment, and to cover the area in which dumping is going on with eight inches of fill every night.

Land used for landfill remains unstable for 20 to 30 years after being filled. The solid waste buried underground becomes a source of inflammable methane gas.

Local Situation

The local dump situation has not changed measurably in the last decade. For awhile land owned by C. R. Hunt was used for dumping, but this was abandoned when Hunt stopped the courtesy gesture.

Cass City is still handling its refuse in much the same way as it did when the dump was first organized and using controlled burning to reduce the bulk and make room for trash arriving daily.

Members of all the councils since the dump became a problem have worked without success for a solution.

The biggest stumbling block is finding a site that is agreeable to all area residents.

Enlarge Scope

It is doubtful if Cass City alone could operate a dump as required by the new dump regulations within a reasonable financial budget.

In Lapeer talk is starting to center around a five-township area dump to spread the cost of operation over more persons.

Meanwhile, if the experts are correct, the area's long simmering dump problems may burst into flame at the drop of a state-induced lawsuit.

Report Minor Area Accidents

Two minor accidents were investigated by Police Chief Carl Palmateer during the past week while elsewhere in the area, four persons were injured in a car crash.

Friday, Mar. 25, a car driven by Anita A. Torres, 22, Elkton, went out of control on North Seeger, in front of the high school, jumped the curb and slammed into a tree.

No injuries were reported. icy road conditions were blamed.

That same day, a car driven by Beverly Cooper, 17, Deford, slid into a second car, driven by John E. Gruber Jr., 50, Cass City, at the intersection of Garfield and West streets.

Gruber told police that he had stopped on West and when he tried to start up, couldn't get enough traction to make it across Garfield.

At that moment, the Cooper vehicle approached on Garfield. Gruber stopped and Miss Cooper attempted to stop but couldn't and the cars collided.

No injuries were reported in an accident Friday, Mar. 25, when Betty Lou Beck, 17, Pigeon, lost control of her car on South Elkton Road, seven miles southeast of Owendale, and it crossed the centerline in front of a car driven by Charles Nemeth Jr., 51, Cass City. Both cars were damaged.

Earlier in the week, on Tuesday, Mar. 22, two Gagetown youngsters and two from Owendale were injured when their station wagon overturned in a water-filled ditch on Caseville Road, south of Pigeon.

Injured were: Dian Rocheleau and Rosemary Symanski, both of Gagetown, and Rita Flores and Adiel VanDePutte, both of Owendale. All are 16 years old.

According to Huron county deputies, Miss Flores, driver of the PARALLEL PROTEST?—About the only reaction the Michigan State Highway Department's painting of parallel parking zones elicited Tuesday was this "What has to be, has to be" gesture from store owner

Gerald Prieskorn, A "sit-in" of village merchants was jokingly suggested in an attempt to stop the painting which eliminated about a third of the Main Street parking. Cass City drivers immediately began parallel parking. (Chronicle photo)

Switch to Parallel Parking Uneventful Here Tuesday

As of Tuesday afternoon, it became illegal to park vertically on the south side of Cass City's Main Street, according to Police Chief Carl Palmateer.

State Highway Department workmen hoped to complete the painting of horizontal parking markers sometime Wednesday if weather permitted. The work was stopped Tuesday because of rain and snow.

With the inauguration of the 22x8-foot spaces, several regulations have been changed, Palmateer pointed out.

The parallel parking is effective all along Main Street, from a village limit to village limit. A two-hour parking limit will be enforced all along Main.

Persons in the habit of making a left hand turn to pick up a parking space on the opposite side of the street may no longer do this, he advised. With parallel parking, such a turn constitutes a U-turn which is illegal.

Parallel parking begins 30 feet from the intersection at the stop light and 20 feet from other intersections.

In connection with lost parking due to the switch, Palmateer pointed out that in the Piney Bank block there were 13 parking places and now there are only eight.

Palmateer commended local drivers for their quick acceptance of the new parking set-up.

Besides painting the parking space markers, the State will also erect parallel parking signs.

Council Eyes Tax And Service Levy

An increase in taxes and other service charges in Cass City is almost inevitable, judging by the remarks made by the village council Tuesday night in its regular session at the Municipal Building.

President Lambert Althaver pointed out that the roads in Cass City were in poor condition and that more money was needed to keep abreast with the repair.

He also pointed out that the village could raise up to 17 1/2 mills without a vote of the people.

This sparked a discussion. Most trustees were in favor of a better road program. Dr. D. E. Rawson suggested that a total road project be studied to decide how much money would be needed before taxes are raised.

Since the village has already set this year's tax rate at 13 mills, no increase is possible until the rate is set in March of 1967.

The village today is operating on revenues that are at record highs due to steadily increasing valuation in the village and tax money received from the state's booming economy.

Another area in which costs are almost sure to rise are for services provided by the village. Althaver asked for a review of charges with the idea of increasing the service fees.

He cited the opinion of Frank Barnes of Hubbell, Roth and Clark, the village's consulting engineers, as a basis for starting the cost review.

Barnes recommends, he said, that the subdividers furnish water mains, storm sewer, sidewalks, blacktop and curb and gutter before the village accepts the subdivision.

Judging by the comment, the council does not plan any such drastic revision of present laws, but will act in the near future to increase the share that the subdividers pay in these areas.

Also due for review is the cost to property owners for curb and gutter (now $1.75 per running foot); the costs of storm and sanitary sewers; the tap-in fee charges, and the cost of sidewalk replacement.

Valuation Jumps Half Million

Village Revenues At Record Heights

Cass City experienced a hefty half million dollar increase in valuation this year that will result in an increase of about 10 per cent in tax funds available to the village.

The valuation as revealed in Tuesday night's council meeting showed personal valuation of $1,269,100 and real property valuation of $3,810,500. This compared to a total valuation of $4,549,600 in the previous year.

Trustees voted to leave the 13-mill-rate at the same rate as it was in the previous year ($13 per $1,000 of valuation). Total collections will be some $65,000 as compared to $59,000 in 1965.

In connection with the taxes the board voted an increase in collection fees. Village taxes are received around June 1. In the past a one per cent fee had been charged for collection. This fee will remain this year until August 15 when all taxes not paid will then be subject to a four per cent fee.

Final Plat

The council accepted the final plat for 14 lots in the Woodland subdivision. The subdivision is owned by Robert Keating and Don Shagena.

The police department, now operating with two men since the departure of Bob Pawlowski, will be expanded to three men as soon as a replacement can be found.

Insurance Plan

The village is now insured by nine different agents, President Lambert Althaver revealed. If a package policy with one company were instigated a considerable cost savings could be effected, he pointed out.

With this in mind a committee will work on a plan that will place all the insurance with one agent and then divide the premium among all full-time agents in the community.

Other Business

The village will help sustain the automotive boom this year. They voted to buy a Ford truck and a Dodge police car. The local dealers receive the orders on a rotating basis.

Mavor's Exchange has been set for May 16 and Cass City will exchange with Lathrop Village. The annual clean-up week that precedes the event has been set for the week of May 2-7.

Little League

Lee Hartel, Elwyn Helwig and Eldon Stoutenburg appeared before the council to request funds for the Little and Minor Baseball Leagues.

They reported that about 150 boys participated in the program and that, in addition to the help received last year, they would like to have a person to take charge of the Minor League this year.

The council is considering the request and favorable action is expected.

No Progress

Angle Alley Parking?

There has been no action on the resurfacing of the alleys north and south of Main Street in the last month as the council was in the midst of transition with two new members, George Dillman and James Baker, assuming posts as trustees.

President Lambert Althaver said that he had been making an investigation of prices and said that he felt that the previous price quoted to the council was in error and that blacktopping of the merchants' land area could be accomplished for an estimated 25 cents a foot. This is about half of the original cost estimate.

The council has gone on record for blacktopping a 30-foot-wide roadway in the alleys if enough property owners adjacent to the alleys will agree to blacktop their land so that 80 per cent of the lineal footage in each block would be covered. It is necessary that the owners sign a petition to this effect.

Angle Parking

Mrs. Gladys Albee pointed out that if a 30-foot-wide section is covered by the village there would be room for angle parking on one side of the alley, picking up as many spaces as were previously available on Main Street.

Back door entrances are the answer, Glen "Scotty" McCullough said, and many merchants are already getting ready. More and more shoppers are using back doors now when they are available.

Services Held for Suicide Victim

Funeral services for a Cass City man who committed suicide Friday were held Monday from Little's Funeral Home in Cass City with Rev. M. R. Vender, retired Presbyterian pastor, officiating. Interment was in Elkland Cemetery.

The services were for Stanley C. Keel, 50, who took his life Friday night with a .32 automatic pistol in his home on Pine Street. He died of a self-inflicted head wound.

Keel, who left no note explaining his action, was found by his wife. Coroner Ben Collon, Caro, investigated. Collon reported that Keel was having family and financial trouble.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oral Keel, he was born in Tipton County, Ind., March 12, 1916. He and Grace Ensminger were married July 19, 1965, in Indiana. They came to Cass City in December, 1965.

Surviving, besides his wife, are: a son and two daughters by a former marriage, Brian Keel of Kokomo, Ind., and Mrs. Jerry Foster of Elkton and Miss Nicky Sue Keel of Kokomo; four grandchildren, and three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Creason of Cass City, Mrs. Henry Clem of Dowagiac, and Mrs. Richard Bergman of Pigeon.

Also surviving are: a brother, William, also of Kokomo, and two half-brothers, Charles Anderson of Florida and Wayne Anderson of Decker.

Prosecutor James Epskamp declined to release the second man's name until after the lie detector test.

Doe Shooting Okay

Eight members of the Cass City Gun Club are convinced that a limited amount of doe shooting is necessary to preserve Michigan's deer herd from winter starvation. They came to this conclusion after participating in a deer survey tour near Mio Sunday.

According to Dick Szarapski, one of the tour members, the facts of the deer situation were easy to see on the tour.

In one area the conservation department had a section of the forest fenced off so that it was deer proof and rabbit proof, Szarapski said. On the enclosed side of the fence the vegetation was abundant. . . on the other side all of the potential deer feed had been devoured.

We learned why the land will not support more deer, too, Szarapski explained. We were taken to a spot in the forest where the trees had grown up and there was almost no reachable food for the deer.

In a clearing a little ways away where the sun reached an open spot there was food. The conservation man said that areas like this are what support deer . . . and we saw five there, the only place where we ran across the white tails on the tour, Szarapski said.

We examined a controlled cutting area where the department had bulldozed trees three years ago and it was loaded with deer food with young, tender sprouts coming up in abundance, he said.

Participating in the tour from Cass City were: George Lapp, Bob Mackay, Bill Parrott, Sr., Don Finkbeiner, Jack Hartwick, Richard Gaffney, Jim Jezewski and Szarapski.

Disorderly Conduct Brings Arrest for Cass City Resident

A Cass City man was released on $100 bond Sunday following his arrest by a sheriff's deputy Saturday night for disorderly conduct.

Arrested was Arthur T. Brown, 40, Cass City.

Brown was found in his truck on Cedar Run Road, just north of M-81, by Deputy Jim Barriger.

When Barriger attempted to get Brown to go home, the man became disorderly and the deputy was forced to make an arrest.

Owen-Gage Levy, Constant Millage Both Approved

Owen-Gage School District voters approved a three-mill levy for operating expenses in an election Monday which also saw Huron county voters okay a 15.50 constant millage proposal.

A total of 312 voters turned out for the Owen-Gage election and passed the proposal, which runs for three years, 1966 to 1968.

The funds, which will total about $36,000, according to Supt. Dale Akke, will be used for natural increases on the salary schedule and extensive maintenance.

The constant millage proposal was passed by a healthy 1,584 to 793 margin. The 15.50 freeze is half a mill higher than in the past and only a vote of the public can change it.

The split among county agencies is as follows: schools-.925 mills; county-.482; townships-1.30; and Huron Intermediate School District-.013.

SPORTS FANS!

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

H. M. Bulen

Here's an interesting fact about Sandy Koufax . . . Did you know he's the only pitcher in the history of big league baseball who has averaged more than one strikeout for each inning pitched over an entire career? . . . Here is Sandy's incredible record: He has pitched 2,002 innings so far in the majors, and he has struck out 2,079 batters! . . . Not even the greatest strikeout kings of old like Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Cy Young, Rube Waddell or Bob Feller ever came close to matching this record.

When it comes to hunting and fishing, which of those two sports do you think has the larger following? . . . Are there more hunters in America, or more fishermen? . . . Answer is: fishermen . . . According to government figures, there are about 20-million fishermen in the U. S. and about 14-million hunters.

It's easy to guess which American League team has won the most pennants . . . It's, of course, the Yankees . . . But, can you guess which National League team has won the most flags . . . This one's a little tougher . . . If you said the Giants, you're right . . . They've won 16 pennants . . . Next come the Dodgers, who have won 13 . . . The Yankees, by the way, have won 29.

Continue Dadacki Probation In Tuscola Circuit Court

A probation violation charge against a Cass City man was continued to April 5 by Circuit Court Judge James Churchill in a court session Tuesday in Caro.

The charge was against Morey Dadacki. Dadacki was on probation for uttering and publishing. He broke his probation by being arrested on an indecent exposure charge.

Fred M. Staley, Columbiaville, arraigned on negligent homicide, entered a plea of not guilty and trial date is to be set by the court. His bond of $1,000 was continued. The charge is in connection with an accident May 21, 1965, on Bradleyville Road in Tuscola township in which Monica J. Keenan was killed.

A jury called Thursday, Mar. 24, for the arson trial of Glen Richardson, Vassar, was dismissed after Richardson pleaded guilty to the charge. A pre-sentence investigation was set for April 19, and bond was continued at $4,000.

Richardson admitted setting fire to the farm house of James Cleveland, Millington, on May 25, 1965. In other court news, Ursula Churchill, Deford, filed for divorce Wednesday, Mar. 23, from her husband, Clarence, charging extreme cruelty.

The couple were married June 25, 1965, and lived together until September, 1965. They have no children.

Selective Service College Forms At Local Board

Application forms for the new Selective Service College Qualification test will be available starting today at all Michigan local board offices, it was announced today by Colonel W. J. Myers, deputy state director.

The tests will be given May 14, May 21 and June 3 at 32 examination centers in Michigan. Application forms and information bulletins describing the test may be obtained by Selective Service registrants at any local board office. Applications must be postmarked no later than April 23.

The qualification test may be taken by any Selective Service registrant who is presently enrolled in college or is a high school senior or graduate and hasn't previously taken this test. It is recommended that the test be taken by any registrant who intends to request occupational deferment as a college student. Test results will be reported to the student's local board.

The three hour written examination will provide local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants for college study or of their aptitude for continued college work. Colleges will also be asked this spring to report on class ranking of male students as a measure of achievement.

Examination centers in Michigan will include colleges located at Adrian, Albion, Ann Arbor, Benton Harbor, Berrien Springs, Big Rapids, Dearborn, Detroit, East Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Highland Park, Mt. Pleasant, Muskegon, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and Ypsilanti.

Underclassmen to Anchor Thinclads

Paced by five lettermen, Cass City will feature a team of underclassmen when they open the 1966 track season Monday with a dual meet with Kingston at Cass City Recreational Park. The meet starts at 4 p. m.

Leading the team will be the newly elected co-captains Dean Stine and Karl Weippert, both juniors and letter-winners. Stine is a hurdler and Weippert runs the sprints.

Also expecting to help out are four other letter winners who are all underclassmen. Larry Kolb, shot put; Dick McRae, pole vault; Phil Nichols, sprints, and Jack Selby, 880, are expected to anchor the team.

Coaches John Bifoss and William Lemcke greeted 24 thinclads at the first practice session. Most of them are underclassmen who will be back for the next two years.

The schedule lists seven triangular and dual meets and eight invitational and special meets. The coaches said they would welcome all boys who cared to participate this spring.

The Hawks lost four point winners from last year's squad. Gone via graduation are Ed Retherford, Cass Pasticzny, Larry Groombridge and George Kloc.

They will be replaced from these boys seeking their first letter in track: Randy Ale'sink, Tom Guinther, Don Hostetter, Dave Hennessey, Larry Hartwick, Jim Groombridge, Dan Rabideau, Scott Tuckey, Gary Vollmar, Rich Van-Vliet, Larry Wood, Steve Hosner, Fred Ryan, Dennis Stine and Wade Strace.

Larry Puterbaugh and Dave Burk were the official delegates representing the Cass City Chapter at the convention along with their advisor Lyle G. Clarke.

Over 500 boys from some 178 schools received awards, competed for honors, and conducted business of the Michigan Association. Richard D. Byrum, Leslie, state president, and the state officers conducted the business sessions and activities which were included in the two-day program.

The annual delegates' banquet accommodated over 1,000 persons and special recognition was given to many persons, including Gov. George A. Romney.

Grant Merchant of the Cass City Chapter received the State Farmer Degree for being an outstanding farmer of Michigan. There were 204 degrees given out of 543 applications from boys all over the state of Michigan.

Grant Merchant

Bob Milligan attended the convention and assumed his duties of state secretary. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Milligan, his parents, were present Friday when they received special acknowledgments for their past support of their son while in the FFA. Young Milligan served as state secretary the past year in the Michigan Association and is now attending Michigan State University.

David Bush, Caro, was elected vice-president of Region 3, of which the Cass City chapter is a member.

It's just as well to withhold mean thoughts until tomorrow, but kind thoughts had better be expressed today.

Thought for Lent ... for Our Sins

By The Rev. Richard Canfield

The Rev. Richard Canfield has been the pastor of Cass City's Baptist Church since 1960.

"According To The Scripture"

"Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; by which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures." - I Corinthians 15:1-4

As we approach this season of the year we are reminded of the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Certainly it is well that we have such a season as this to place special emphasis upon this all-important event in the history of mankind. Yet, the Cross of Calvary and the Empty Tomb should be emphasized every week of the year, and not just at Lent. I believe it is important for us to note that all of these things, that we hold dear as Christians, have a vital connection to the Scriptures. I have been impressed many times by the fact that all of these things were done "according to the scriptures." In fact, the whole life and work of Christ was accomplished "according to the scriptures."

In the Gospel according to Saint John we note that the expression, "that the scripture might be fulfilled," or a like phrase is repeated often. For our meditation this week I would like to note some of them.

In John 7:42 we find "hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?" Within this verse we discover that the birth and birthplace of Christ was "according to the scripture." It was not a happen-chance experience, but rather one that had to be "according to the scripture."

Next note John 13:18, "I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture might be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me." Even at the time of the last supper with His disciples when He had shown true humility by washing their feet and eating the last supper with them, the very form that the denier would use was "that the scripture might be fulfilled." Each minute detail is carefully accomplished "according to the scripture."

The keeping power of Christ is demonstrated in the passage found in John 17:12, "While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition: that the scripture might be fulfilled." None were lost, "but the son of perdition." Why? "That the scripture might be fulfilled." This reveals to us the infinite purpose of God in permitting a Judas Iscariot to be among the "Twelve." It was no surprise to God that Judas betrayed the Lord.

The casting of lots for the Lord's garments in John 19:24 was done "that the scripture might be fulfilled." Also in this same chapter verse 28 one of His last words, "I thirst," was spoken "that the scripture might be fulfilled."

We could continue along this same line, but we have another purpose to reveal, and that is this: If all of these things were done "that the scripture might be fulfilled," then what should our attitude be to God's Word the Holy Bible?

I believe the answer may be found in the First Epistle of Saint John 5: 10-13, "He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself; he that believeth not God hath made Him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of His Son. And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God."

We are to believe this record that God has given concerning His Son. If the Scripture was so important that it had to be "fulfilled" concerning even the minutest detail in the life of Christ, then it must be important enough for us to believe and live by.

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." - II Timothy 3:16-17.

THE BOY GOVERNOR—Stevens T. Mason became secretary and acting-governor of the Michigan Territory July 24, 1831, when he was 19 years old. Nicknamed "The Boy Governor," he endeared himself to the people by his pleasing personality, his intelligence and his fierce loyalty to Michigan, and was the elected governor from 1835-40. This oil painting, done by artist Robert Thom under commission from Michigan Bell Telephone Company for the firm's series "A History of Michigan in Paintings," shows Mason taking his oath

The original oil of this painting, plus 15 others will be on display for the general public at the Cass City Cultural Center April 6 through April 20. The exhibit is sponsored by the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Final Services for Mrs. J. Mardlin

Mrs. John Mardlin, 77, of Ubly, lifelong resident of the Thumb, died in Stevas Nursing home, Cass City, after a long illness.

Mrs. Mardlin was born Sept. 20, 1888, at Deckerville and she and Mr. Mardlin were married March 22, 1906, at Deckerville. They made their home in Austin township. He died Dec. 4, 1932.

Mrs. Mardlin is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Anna Linthier of Snover and Mrs. Louis Terwilliger of Ubly; a son, Charles of Argyle; 11 grandchildren; 21 great-grandchildren; two great-great-grandchildren; a brother, Alfred Laming of Port Huron, and five sisters, Mrs. Ida Grant and Mrs. Charles Gifford, both of Port Huron, Mrs. Flossie Pangburn of Snover, Mrs. Henry Slater of Harbor Beach and Miss Anne Laming of Cass City. Funeral services were held Monday in the Zinger Funeral Home, Ubly, by Rev. Luke Yoder of Cassville. Burial was in Port Sanilac Cemetery.

What an old man regrets is his resistance to temptation in the days of his youthful vigor.

Human nature may change, but it won't change much during our lifetime.

ACNE
Q. Is there anything at all to do for acne? Don't tell me to see a doctor. I have—and I still have acne.
A. OK, we won't insist that you consult a physician—but it's still a good idea to do so. By way of encouragement, an Indiana doctor recently reported success in treating some cases of acne by simply reducing the salt intake. Teenagers and older patients plagued with pimples were found to be very heavy salters. Two to four weeks on a low-salt diet brought about remarkable improvement in the skin. The doctor does not claim to have discovered a "cure" for acne but he is convinced that this phase of the problem should be more extensively investigated.

WHITEHEADS
Q. What causes whiteheads?
A. Whiteheads are plugs of secretion that become trapped in the skin pores. Skin specialists usually advise against squeezing whiteheads unless it's done very gently. Washing the face with mild soap and a water coarse wash cloth tends to open the pores and prevent plugging.

NAIL GROWTH
Q. I bite my nails. If I stop, how long would it take for them to grow out?
A. It would depend on how short they are now and how long you want them to be. Fingernails grow at a rather discouragingly slow rate of about 1/250 inch per day.

No Tears—Just Goodby and Thanks

By Dave Kraft

This is riddle week. That means that this column is going to be riddled with riddles. . . two of them.
First, how come clocks with Roman numerals always use IIII for the figure "four" instead of IV?

That's a question from Edsel Connel and until he brought it up, I'll have to admit that it had never occurred to me to question the matter. As a matter of fact, I'd never noticed that IIII was used instead of IV.

Edsel says that someone once told him but he can't remember who it was or why it was. So, if anybody knows, let us know.

Some one left this other riddle on my desk and I can imagine who. It goes, "Did you know we have a dog that always carries an ice cube in his mouth."
"Why? Because he likes his lick-er cold."
No comment.

.....
Art Eskilsen is going around bragging to everyone that his crocuses are in bloom at the Methodist Church again. Last year we took Art's picture brushing the snow away from his crocuses in the middle of March.

Either Art has a frost bitten green thumb or he's getting some special help from another Care-taker.

With this rather pitiful effort, we fold our tent and sennet slip away. Almost two years ago to the issue, we wrote a tearful goodbye and set out for Caro where we spent five months with that village's publication.

We returned to Cass City a wiser young man, begging for forgiveness and asking to be taken back into the fold and our plea was granted.

In that first goodbye, we thanked everybody for everything and anybody who read it probably became violently ill. In short, it was awful.

This time, as we say goodbye, it is said by a writer of sterner stuff. This time we shall say goodbye, period, lock ourselves in the bathroom for a good cry and that will be that.

Everything I said in that first goodbye is still true. Perhaps doubly so, now two years later. It's just that I've enough sense not to bring it up.

One thing I would like to say, and maybe I repeat myself, is that all that I am as a writer I can break into three parts. One per

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

VOLUME 58, NUMBER 50

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1966

Choose the New (NFO) or Old (MMPA) Is Dilemma

MMPA Is Oldest, Strongest And Best, Say Severances

WE'VE ALWAYS HAD a market for our milk through Michigan Milk Producers Association, says Lloyd Severance, presi-

For years the controversy over the price of milk has swirled among farmers who search desperately for a way to up prices of their commodities.

Some of the farmers are looking to new organizations as the way out of their dilemma while others feel that the established order is doing everything possible to bring prices up to where farmers can make a better living.

The Chronicle here presents a farmer from each school of thought.

"The farmer has to belong to some sort of organization. Michigan Milk Producers Association is one of the older and strongest in the nation and I think one of the best."

That's the answer Lloyd Severance, president of the Deford Local, MMPA, gives when asked why he belongs to the organization.

"It's a guaranteed market for milk. When I joined in the 1940's, it was a guaranteed market for all the milk I produced and it still is," he continued. "This is one of the larger points in my favor, as far as I'm concerned. I got let down by a company that went bankrupt but MMPA has never failed me yet."

Severance farms, in partnership with his two sons, Leslie and Arthur, 462 acres four miles south and four and a half miles east of Cass City. They are currently milking 73 head with over 200 head on the farm.

Expand Operation

They will expand their operation by building a milking parlor to go with the present stanchion-type milker that includes a pipe line milker.

The Severances also plan to increase their herd to a minimum of 60 head milking at each milking station. The milking parlor will be built on the family farm where Lloyd was born and reared.

Choice Leadership

He explained further his feelings about MMPA. "I like to belong because, of the kind of people who belong to it, I've always thought our leadership was the choicest in the country. I might not always agree with everything, but I most often do."

Two years ago this fall the National Farmers Organization set up a holding action on beef using tactics which were reminiscent of union strife earlier this century. The tactics seemingly gained little except national attention.

Severance was asked if he favored such tactics.

"Holding actions are sanctioned by both organizations. MMPA has never dumped any milk. We have our own plant so all the milk is turned into butter or powdered milk or some such thing."

"I don't disagree with their theory but I don't agree with their tactics. As an organization I don't think they're radical . . . just some of their members are radical."

"Let me make it clear that at no time would I say anything against any organization that works for the farmer."

"The size, strength and integrity built up through the years have made MMPA bargaining easier and I'm very proud of things done in the past and in our accomplishments."

Severance's Deford Local reaches as far north as Cass City and as far south as Kingston. He's been active in the MMPA in some capacity for the past 15 years and was president once before. He was also just recently appointed a Federal Land Bank director.

He purchased his portion of the farm in 1933, the year he got married. Both Arthur and Leslie are MSU graduates with majors in agriculture. Under their present milking set-up, it takes about an hour and a half for the three men to milk.

MMPA is a milk marketing-bargaining cooperative organized under terms of the federal Capper-Volstead Act and the Farm Cooperative Act of the State of Michigan. It acts as a market-bargaining representative of the dairy farmers who are members.

The organization just recently celebrated its 50th anniversary. Founded in May, 1916, by a group of farmers who lived around Howell, the organization was inaugurated because the men had no adequate guarantee that they could sell their milk and no firm assurance that they would be paid for milk they did send to market.

Something Had To Be Done, NFO Is Doing it—

Ever since he began farming some 16 years ago Harold Deering of Deford has been pushing for an organization to solve what he considers to be an oppressive price structure for Michigan's farmers. As a vocal, active member of the National Farmers' Organization, he thinks he has found it.

Something has to be done and soon if the small farmer is to survive, Deering said in an interview Saturday at his 400-acre farm. Ever since I began farming I have pushed for a better price for milk.

Deering recalled that he was a member of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association for 11 years. I resigned five years ago when it became apparent to me that the MMPA was not striving to boost prices for the farmer, but buying as cheap as possible, Deering said.

The young farmer has been active in other organizations designed to up farm prices. He was one of a group of farmers who was active in the now defunct "Fair Share" movement a few years ago that attempted to hold back milk because prices were, in his estimation, too low to make money.

It was a well thought out program, too, Deering recalled. The only trouble was that it was only state-wide and it has to be nationwide to be effective.

The NFO is now in 27 of the top agricultural states and we can bring region-wide, not state-wide pressure on the creameries who buy our milk, he said.

It's easy to see that we need it, Deering exclaimed. We are getting a nickel less per hundred for milk now than we did 10 years ago. In the same time my investment has doubled and my taxes have jumped from $640 a year to $1,410 a year. You can't survive forever with figures like this, he said.

Deering now sells his milk to Dean's Dairy at a price that figures out slightly higher than what MMPA receives because he does not pay the Cooperative's dues or revolving fund charge.

Analyses Price

What about the recent price increase that was negotiated by MMPA? Deering feels that the price increase came because farmers were putting on the pressure through the NFO for some sort of price relief.

It should be pointed out that 30 cents per hundred increase, he said, was for Class I (bottled milk) and that this increase is about a half cent per quart on the drinking milk purchased by the consumers. Anything over this amount charged by dairies will not come to the farmer, he declared.

Does Well

Despite his constant push for better prices, Deering has done quite well, thank you, with the prices he has received in the years he has been farming near Deford.

"When I got married," he recalled, "I had less than $25 in my pocket . . . and I borrowed that." But thanks to Auto's bank which went a long way with me, I have been able to survive."

Most folks would like to have survived as well. Today Deering owns 400 acres of land, has over 100 head of Holsteins, including 74 milking cows which he handles with the latest type glass-line milking (bulk tank) system. The herd last year averaged 517 pounds of fat.

In addition he works 360 rented acres which enable him to grow enough feed to take care of his herd and even sell a little hay at the end of the season.

Probably the one big reason for his success is his ability and desire to work longer hours than almost anyone else. In the winter he averages 12 hours daily and in the summer 20-hour days are not uncommon.

He handles his huge acreage with himself and his family doing the work. His wife and four oldest children are regular workers on the farm. There are six children ranging to 14 years old in the family.

Despite his evident progress, Deering doesn't feel that he "has it made" yet.

Just give me good health for seven or eight more years so that I can get out of debt and then things will be different, he said with a wistful look as he trudged back to the tractor from which we had taken him during another of his average 12-hour days.

WE'RE TIRED OF WORKING for slave labor wages, says Harold Deering, right, as he tells why he thinks the National Farmers Organization is better for dairy

KEYS TO PRODUCTIVITY!

Even as good soil and water management practices are the keys to greater farm productivity . . . so the modern miracle of electricity is the key to more efficient, convenient and time-saving operation.

Whether it's power for farm equipment or light for yard and buildings, electricity is there, making work easier, faster and more economical.

Suggest Revision Now for Reapportionment Committee

Same Fight

Four short years from now a vicious circle will begin again unless some alteration is made in the 1963 State Constitution. In the past two years it has been undeniably shown that eight partisans, evenly divided, cannot objectively divide the state into legislative districts as dictated by the Constitution.

Now that the apportionment problem has twice produced deadlocks and been in the courts more than once, it is easy to look back and say the Constitutional Convention delegates should have known better.

Provision was made for the two major parties to designate their own members to the Apportionment Commission. No one could blame them for selecting faithful party followers.

Wording of the Constitution permitted each four-member group to propose a plan. The other group almost automatically challenged the validity of its opposition.

Former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican appointee to the commission, defined the situation: "We originate from opposite political faiths and we come here hoping by some miracle we can agree. It's impossible."

The first apportionment commission did generally agree on one thing: that its formation process held a fatal defect.

Brucker and other members of the commission indicated some elected state official with power to break the inevitable tie should be named commission chairman.

This might swing apportionment to favor one party or the other, but Brucker and other commissioners said the ninth member, who would be directly responsible to the voters, would be more likely to take an objective view of legislative redistricting.

Boost Justified?

A ballot box fringe benefit, the ability to raise one's own pay, is back in the spotlight in the Michigan Legislature.

Last year the House gave a 53-49 vote of approval to a $5,000 annual salary increase. The boost was stopped in the Senate largely because of strong opposing sentiment voiced in constituents' letters and local newspaper columns.

Gov. George Romney's promise to veto any legislative pay raise also stifled further consideration of the boost then. It was decided instead to appoint a citizens committee to study the matter.

Methods of lawmaking, time spent and many other factors were considered by the citizens group headed by University of Michigan Professor James K. Pollock and State AFL-CIO chief August Scholle. Now their work is done.

It came as a surprise to some that the committee should say that perhaps the Legislature wasn't too far off the value mark in 1965 when the $5,000 raise proposal passed through one house.

A boost of this size would put Michigan lawmakers far above the pay scales in most other states, with a $15,000 base pay plus $2,500 in expenses.

Some other states also provide funds, over and above salary levels, for legislators to maintain local district offices. There have been overtones here that a serious request for home office funds will be made soon.

Major boosts in the legislative pension plan have been proposed as well.

There's A Way

Youths who have sufficient desire for a college education and the necessary ability should encounter little difficulty getting it.

This is essentially what Michigan State University President John A.

Hannah has told thousands of Michigan residents. It's quite likely the same is true at other institutions as well.

Hannah has said every Michigan resident attending MSU will be guaranteed help in obtaining all the financial aid he can show he needs.

Willingness to disclose family financial status, work during vacations and possibly in the school year, and loans are three keys to Hannah's aid-for-all program.

A key factor in the MSU chief's announcement is found in the fact that the University has had no appreciable increase in scholarship funds of previous years.

Additional money has become available under a new federal law, but Hannah's announcement generally indicates the opportunity for widespread financial aid has existed for some time.

Students need only look for assistance and, in some cases, be willing to gamble against future earning power being enhanced by a learn-now-pay-later plan.

Achievement Day

Scheduled April 16

There were 60 members and parents at the meeting of the Cass City 4-H Livestock club Saturday evening at the 4-H Center, west of Cass City.

Three new members joined the club and are Carol Little of Cass City, Paul Becker Jr. of Decker and Theodore Robinson of Deford.

Fred Ballweg of Caro was appointed secretary to replace Mark Battel. Due to a new ruling in the State 4-H Constitution, Battel exceeds the age limit of a 4-H member.

Plans for the district achievement program to be held in Cass City April 16 were explained by Mrs. Don DeLong, chairman of the event.

The club voted to pay half of the camp fee for two members at summer 4-H camp.

Refreshments were served by Connie DeLong at the close of the meeting.

What you don't know may be amusing to somebody, or may even be a source of a fabulous income to somebody else.

Michigan has adopted the U. S. Public Health Service recommendations for the production of Grade A milk. The new law becomes effective July 1, 1966. A Michigan State University specialist says the USPHS recommendations provide the most up-to-date standards in the United States.

Farmers who have good records are usually able to plan and operate the farm business at a profit. A Michigan Cooperative Extension specialist in farm management points out that poor records are listed as the number one cause of business failures.

No Foreign Farm

A recent announcement by Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz ended all hopes of obtaining foreign workers in the coming season for Michigan farmers in 1966.

Wirtz' decision was based on his appointed Michigan Farm Labor Panel findings that the 1965 labor program had been successful and that Michigan won't need any foreign labor.

Because Farm Bureau members are having difficulty getting workers, the Michigan Farm Bureau Board authorized a study to make recommendations for establishing a labor procurement service. The study indicated a need for such a program, action was taken and immediately sign-ups began coming in.

Labor Here in '66

"While mechanization is occurring rapidly," reports Noel W. Stuckman, chairman of the Market Development department, "it probably cannot come quickly enough in the next few years. In 1966, farmers face an 85 per cent reduction in foreign workers from 1964. While this will hurt processing crops, it could end the commercial fresh market industry. These crops need to be hand harvested."

Common Sense vs. Nonsense

"It's unwise to pay too much but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money . . . that's all. When you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot . . . it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run, and if you do that you will have enough to pay for something better."

Tell Incentive Payment for Shorn Wool

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that shorn wool payments for the 1965 marketing year - to bring the average wool price of 47.1 cents per pound up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the National Wool Act - will amount to 31.6 per cent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the period January 1 through December 31, 1965.

This will result in an incentive payment to producers of $31.60 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool during the eleventh year of the program. This compares to a payment of $16.50 per $100 of marketings for the 1964 Marketing Year.

USDA also announced a payment rate of 60 cents per hundredweight on shorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them. This payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the shorn wool payment and is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing. This payment rate compares to 35 cents per hundred-weight for the 1964 marketing year.

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county offices will begin making payments soon after April 1. Applications for payment had to be filed with these offices by January 31, 1966. Payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from January 1, 1965, through December 31, 1965.

According to George Schlan, Office Manager of the county ASCS office, about 50 wool producers in the county will receive payments.

Farm Bureau Board Hears Four Reports

Farm Bureau leaders made mid-year reports to the Tuscola County Farm Bureau Board of Directors at their annual meeting with the board recently at the Center in Caro.

County committee chairmen explained the many projects and activities carried out within their groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Russell of Akron, one of the couples representing Tuscola County at the Young Farmers Conference in Lansing, gave highlights of their experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Boyne reported on the Michigan Farm Bureau Washington Legislative tour and Mrs. John R. Graham, on the Freedom conference.

It was announced that the next in a series of District Young Farmer Informational clinics will be held April 5, at the Farm Bureau building in Sandusky.

Regional man, Duane Sugden, reviewed the Workmen's Compensation bill and Farm Bureau's Labor Procurement Agency now in operation.

In certain situations we all feel inferior.

Importance is penalized, but in this brief span of life it feels good to feel important.

Control Seed Diseases Before Planting

Treatment of small grain seed with an effective mercury fungicide before planting is a practical way to control many seed-borne diseases.

Alfred Bailweg, Tuscola county extension agricultural agent, says failure to treat seed may result in excessive dockage when selling grain or even outright rejection by the elevator.

Harmful fungi produce spores which lodge on the seed or between the kernel and the seed hull or make some growth in the seed before planting. An effective fungicide will kill these attached or embedded spores. A good fungicide will also give some protection during germination, particularly under unfavorable wet soil conditions.

The agent warns that mercury fungicides are toxic and poisonous to seed, man and other animals. They should be used safely. A bulletin on "Controlling Seed-Borne Diseases", can be obtained by calling or writing for Michigan State University Extension Bulletin 518 at the county extension office at the Courthouse, Caro.

Indiscretions are something we remember wistfully.

Hidden Costs Can Eat Up Profits in Farm Operation

Sometimes it is the hidden costs in a farm operation which eats up the profits, reports Don R. Kenner, extension agricultural agent.

Not counting unpaid operator and family labor costs, we see that the percentage of hidden cash crop costs vary from 24 per cent on 16 ton per acre sugar beets to 61 per cent on 16 cwt. beans, 4 tons of alfalfa hay and 90 bu. oats all on $400 an acre land. These hidden costs are those farm expenses an operator has on his investments whether he uses his machinery and equipment depreciation and interest on investment, interest on land and investment and improvement depreciation and real estate taxes.

When we apply this to $600, $800 and $1,000 per acre land, these hidden costs percentages to total costs percentages really increase.

Thus an operator's variable costs as seed, fertilizer, repairs, hired labor, fuel, etc. range from $75 per acre on sugar beets, to 39 per cent on beans, alfalfa and oats at the above yields. On sugar beets over 50 per cent of the variable costs are from hired labor and custom hire expenses.

It should be explained here that these hidden costs mentioned above, except for land taxes, are not necessarily cash expenses but a 5 per cent on investment charge and depreciation. However, when the investment is not paid for, this 5 per cent pencil charge becomes a reality each time an operator pays principal and interest on a note, or when he purchases replacement equipment and improvements.

The worst thing about fixed costs is that many times an operator forgets about them or even is not aware of them. If these be the cases, eventually they could snowball him into forced retirement.

This adverse situation need not occur if a wise use is made of good credit and a net worth plus dollar flow comparisons are made annually.

What percentage of total costs will fixed costs be a safe margin? Unfortunately, some operators can manage higher fixed cost levels than others. However, a good yardstick to measure with is to ask yourself this question: "Are my annual family living expenses more than my gross cash income less gross cash expenses, plus or minus inventory value change less 5 per cent on my investments?" If the answer is yes, this family is living in part on their investment. To live off one's investment for a period of time is dangerous for the business.

It would not be wise not to use credit or even invest cash for business growth and expansion, but many operators have lost control of their operational reins. They have expanded too greatly in their operational investments so that their returns cannot pay the bill.

So take a look at your business and see where you stand before criticism is made of variable operational costs as the culprit to declining business returns.

Deadline Nears for Farmers To Sign for Wheat Support

Friday, April 15, is the last day growers may file applications to take part in the 1966 voluntary wheat and feed grain program, Mike Singer, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced. Signing up is the first step in qualifying for any of the program benefits, including price support.

Farmers who sign up and then carry out provisions of the 1966 voluntary wheat program will be able to get domestic marketing certificates in addition to price-support loans and purchases for their wheat crop.

Growers who participate in the feed grain program will be eligible for price support on their 1966 crops of corn, barley, and grain sorghums.

Besides qualifying for price support, the participating grower also earns a diversion payment for shifting part of his feed grain base to a conserving use; the payment does not apply to the first 20 per cent diversion except on farms with small bases. The price-support payments may be earned on the production from an acreage up to 50 per cent of the total feed grain base for the farm by planting one or more of the feed grains, or by planting soybeans in place of a feed grain.

The chairman urges farmers who are interested in taking part in this year's feed grain program to call at the ASCS County Office as soon as possible but not later than April 15th. The county office will be open until 8 p. m. on March 31, April 1 and 7.

BOOK REVIEW A Simple Plot ... An Entertaining Book

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

Pearl Buck in this week's book, Death In The Castle, demonstrates again why publishers have published more than sixty of her novels. The Good Earth is the best known of them. Her earliest books were mostly based in the Orient where she was raised by missionary parents. Death In The Castle, however, is based in modern-day England.

The novice writer can learn from Mrs. Buck how few people are really necessary to a good plot. Sir Richard and his wife, Lady Mary, still live in one of England's ancient castles, attended by an ancient man-of-all-trades named Wells, and by his granddaughter, Kate. Sir Richard and Lady Mary I could see as that loveable old couple, constantly seeking legal advice from television's Mr. Baxter next door.

Because of the castle's lack of central heating and of other modern conveniences, the cost of maintaining it has become increasingly prohibitive. Already it has been listed for sale. In additional efforts to put the castle on a paying basis, at allotted times bus loads of tourists swarm through the castle.

John Blayne is a wealthy young American with whom the retired couple has tentatively entered an agreement to sell the castle. Blayne, however, has planned to take down the old castle and rebuild it in Connecticut as an art museum, to house his late mother's art collection. To that end, he has brought experienced persons from the United States with him. However, in spite of his attorney's assurances that he has legal claim to the castle, John Blayne calls off his workmen in favor of locating another old castle for sale. He recognizes that this decision is not good business, and comes in part from a boyish wish to please Kate. Frequent overseas phone calls from his domineering father incidentally reveal his own plan for John to marry the daughter of a business associate. John stays in England past his deadline, much preferring Kate.

We can't forget them, those shadowy beings who have taken up residence in all old English castles. These are seen only by Lady Mary who believes right up to the bitter end that they will right the wrongs that have overtaken the castle and its residents.

Sprinkled through this mystery book are secret passages, swords, and the like. In the climax of the book, Sir Richard, now quite mad,

Add Two Vegetables To Market Group

Farm Bureau members hailed the approval of the Michigan Agriculture Cooperative Marketing Association Processing Vegetable Division membership agreement recently.

Two more vegetables have been added to the list already under bargaining agreements with MACMA. Pepper and cabbage growers are signing for the 1966 season.

Processing vegetables represent over $10 million to Michigan farmers annually. Yet, in recent years, producers have been experiencing increased difficulty with labor shortage, coupled with unsatisfactory factory contracts from processors.

To solve these problems this year, MACMA will give attention not only to contract negotiations, but also to market analysis and information and legal service.

Like other MACMA divisions, the processing vegetable division is financed by its members. When joining, a member pays a service fee based on his acreage of production. As the organization negotiates contracts, this fee is waived and the member pays for services rendered on the basis of volume sold through the association.

Knowledge is so cheap that most of its expense is in classifying it.

Timing is an art which has many patrons.
