

AT LIONS SHOW

Applaud Local Talent

We were extremely pleased with the acceptance of our first talent show, Cass City Lions club officials said this week after reviewing the results of the benefit project.

An estimated 300 persons saw local acts win prizes in both the senior and junior divisions of the show Saturday evening at Cass City High School.

In the junior competition, "The Jazzettes", a modern jazz group of seven girls from Bad Axe, Uby, Pigeon and Caseville, won the first prize of $30.

Second place and $20 was won by DeLynn Lerash, 4, and Charles Nugent, 5, of Bad Axe with a song and dance number.

Splitting $10 in a tie for third were Jerry and Gary Bitterling, guitar duet, and Jeff Profit, drum solo. David Holder of Fairgrove took the fourth-place prize of $5 with an accordion solo.

In the senior division, the Bat Men, Miles Profit, Ken Hiatt and Randy Aleksink, won $40 and first prize for their instrumental number.

Eileen Hicks and Rosemary Fritz sang their way into second place and $30 with two duet selections. A third place tie was decreed by the judges for the performances of Kathy Miller of Yole, an acrobatic number, and Don Greenleaf of Cass City, playing the organ.

A $10 fourth place prize went to Harry Straffon of Peck for his medley of Army tunes on the organ.

Lions members said that the outstanding success of their first show and the experience gained in staging it should enable the club to stage an even more attractive event in 1967 and plans are already under motion to do so.

Unusual Cases in Tuscola Circuit Court Monday

Two unusual cases were among three criminal cases heard Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court in Caro by Judge James Churchill.

The first was the sentencing of Glen Richardson, of Illinois, for arson of a home owned by James Cleveland in Millington.

Because of the unusual circumstances surrounding the case, Judge Churchill delayed sentencing for one year.

Richardson is now a patient at a mental hospital in Elgin, Ill., where his parents also live. The judge required periodic reports of his condition and if he should leave the hospital would come back for immediate sentencing.

The second case involved $2,500 bond forfeited when Carlos Verduco failed to appear for trial for stealing a car in Gagetown.

He was arrested again in Chicago and picked up by local authorities. The amount of the bond was then ordered paid back by the judge, less the amount it cost to have Verduco picked up.

Verduco is now serving two to five years in Jackson on the theft charge.

In the final criminal case Monday, Edith Carpenter, route one, Caro, pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing. She issued a bogus check to Woolworth Co. in Caro for $41.84.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the court.

3 Days Left in Clean-up Campaign

Village residents have just three days left in the annual clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign now in progress.

The village will make free pick-up of debris Thursday, Friday and Saturday to spur residents to a maximum clean-up effort, authorities said.

To Reorganize Districts

Slate School Vote Monday

See Map page six.

Voters in school districts in Tuscola and parts of Huron and Sanilac counties will decide the fate of the reorganization of the districts in a special election Monday at selected sites in 12 precincts.

The reorganization, as required by law, will place all districts into a high school district.

Actually, the new law will have little immediate effect on the education of students in the area. In the Cass City district, Evergreen Township Unit School and Stone School are presently operating primary districts.

However, these districts send their high school students to Cass City. If the reorganization passes, the principal difference will be that the Evergreen Township School will be run by the Cass City district. Instead of local boards, the two districts will be run by the Cass City board. Stone school is closed.

Each individual school district continues to pay its own bonded indebtedness and the primary districts would assume only the operating millage of the new district. This provision is unchangeable for three years after which a general election could be held and the districts assume each other's debt, with voter approval.

At the present time, Cass City has six students in Beverly district attending high school on a tuition basis. There are also five students in Deford school on a personal tuition basis.

If the reorganization law passes, any future students in Beverly district will attend Kingston High School.

Anyone who is a registered voter in the city or township where they live is eligible to vote. It is not necessary to be a property owner.

To become effective, the reorganization must have a simple majority of the voters in all districts.

Most of the voting sites are in the school in the district. Cass City district voters will cast ballots at the high school.

The polls for Stone and Evergreen schools will be at Evergreen Unit School.

The election is being held under the direction of the Tuscola Intermediate School District.

Remodeling Adds Space to IGA

Our remodeling has given us about 200 more square feet of floor space, Harry Lenda, owner of the Cass City IGA Foodliner, reported this week.

In addition, new fixtures have added much more usable shelf space and we were able to add another check-out counter to the store, Lenda explained.

Much of the space was gained by building an addition to the building to house the coolers that formerly were in the store proper. The remodeling also included the changing of the decor in the meat section of the store and a new 15-foot lighted bread case.

Blood Bank Due

The blood bank will be at Hills and Dales General Hospital Friday, May 6, from 2 to 7 p. m. hospital authorities announced this week.

DADDY DOES THE WORK while daughter Carrie Sue, 5, holds the pony. Shoeing horses has been a profitable hobby for Charles Carpenter for many years. (Chronicle photo)

Rainy Day Hobby Pays for Carpenter's Grocery Bill

Charles Carpenter, 29, of rural Cass City is not a tobacco chawin', anvil tossing, rough hewn bearded character that many associate with trades related to blacksmith work... yet he makes many a dollar with an anvil, forge and hammer. He shoes horses.

Carpenter is a clean shaven, average built father of two who doesn't even smoke, but he has been hanging around horses and blacksmiths ever since he was a boy and his ability with a set of shoes has developed into a paying sideline.

When I was single, the money I made from shoeing was my dating money... now it's my grocery money, Carpenter said.

And it could be a lot more than that, the young farmer explained a trifle wistfully. A man could make $15,000 to $20,000 a year in the business if he wanted to travel.

You'd have to go south in the winter to the race tracks to keep busy and make it pay, but if a person were single...

But even as a job for rainy days, nights and other times when it's not possible to farm, it's a paying hobby. Prices for shoeing vary according to the type work. The average saddle horse is about $10. Trimming hoofs costs $5 and preparing a show pony runs $14 or more. The average is about $10.

That's pretty good profit, Carpenter believes. It only takes about $2 worth of material and you can do the job in an hour.

Skilled Trade

Possibly because he enjoys the work so greatly, the young farmer discounts the long apprenticeship that he served before becoming an artist with a hammer and anvil.

He hung around horses when a boy on his grandfather's farm and worked with a pair of blacksmiths whenever he got the chance.

With this early training and the business he has established at his farm on Severance Road, two miles east of Cemetery Road, Carpenter has seen just about all the problems connected with shoeing.

A good man can change any horse for the better, he explained.

Downing Ending Long Career on School Board

W. C. Downing, who served 21 years on the boards of Education of Gagetown and Owendale-Gagetown, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The vacancy is one of two on the board. Omar Hafner, whose term as trustee also expires, has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Petitions for candidates to the board must be filed before 4 p. m. May 14.

Downing served on the Gagetown board before it became part of the Owengate system. He is credited with engineering the consolidation of the two school systems several years ago.

you can make them stand straighter and look better... or make them taller or shorter.

Shorter

That's right, he explained. Horses are measured over the front legs and if you cut the back hoofs one way and the front hoofs another, they stand differently and will measure shorter.

I'll have to doctor one of Clair Auslander's ponies like this to lower it a quarter of an inch. In a recent pull at East Lansing his team would have been first in the lightweight class, but were forced into the heavyweight because one was just that little bit too tall, he explained.

But we'll fix this before the next event, Carpenter said confidently.

Lots of Business

Carpenter probably could do more shoeing if time permitted. I've shod 60 head since Feb. 12, he said, after consulting his records, and I'm 10 behind right now.

People have money and they don't think anything of spending $30 or more to have their horses shod. Business keeps steadily increasing.

If you own a horse, you become more or less a regular customer of men like Carpenter. Shoes must be changed every three months or so.

Although Carpenter prefers to do his work at home, he does travel when requested. He has shod horses in widely scattered spots.

When in service he took care of a horse just outside of Paris. I could smell these horses as I went by and I went in to find a couple of fellows working. I spoke no French and they spoke no English, but I finally got to shoe one foot of one horse. It was fun.

Although it takes plenty of skill to fit a shoe for a horse today, it doesn't take as much as it used to, Carpenter believes.

Like all businesses this one is changing, he said. It used to be that all you had was a couple of pieces of steel and you did everything to make it a proper shoe. Today they come all ready for final shaping and you don't even need to heat them to put them on... unless it's a special shoe.

Horseshoes come in all shapes and sizes. I've used them as small as a silver dollar and as large as a small pumpkin, Carpenter said. There are over 100 different types.

To take care of his thriving sideline, Carpenter has about $200 invested in equipment. I sort of dickered for most of it, he explained, and if I were going to buy it the cost would be over $300.

When not busy with his hobby, Carpenter farms 450 acres with his father and works two afternoons a week at area stockyards as weighmaster.

A native of Caro, he and his wife, Marilyn, have two children, Carrie Sue, 5, and Julie Ann, 3.

Accident Victims Slowly Mending

Long Road Ahead For Jack Stahlbaum

Three weeks ago today Jack Stahlbaum was very critically injured in an oil tank explosion and it was not until Tuesday that his wife could report that things look brighter at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

For Tuesday it appeared that the injured man will recover after a period of convalescence, the length of which is anybody's guess.

Doctors say that Stahlbaum will be at St. Mary's for at least two more months before he can start recovering at home. How long it will be before recovery is complete is uncertain.

The accident occurred while Stahlbaum was working for the Frank Strausberg Company at their pit in Junata township.

A worker lit a cutting torch near a supposedly empty oil tank and it exploded. Stahlbaum suffered a broken leg, broken right arm, internal injuries in the lower abdomen and wounds from the shrapnel from the disintegrating tank.

The wounds have required skin grafts which appear to be successful. These comparatively minor operations followed a long emergency operation the day of the accident.

See Full Recovery For Dr. MacPhail

Full recovery is sure for Dr. Albert MacPhail of Flint, a former resident of Cass City, according to a report from his wife Tuesday evening.

MacPhail was injured in a two-car crash in Flint Mar. 20.

He suffered seven broken ribs, chest damage, head lacerations and his spleen was removed.

Another complication was a damaged aorta, an artery leading to the heart, which required heart surgery at a Cleveland clinic.

But last week, MacPhail returned home from Cleveland and today is able to walk around the house.

Just how long he will convalesce at home is uncertain.

But it is now sure that he will make a full recovery with no restrictions to his activities, according to his wife.

From the Editor's Corner

Contractors who have been in business over five years do not have to worry about passing the licensing tests required by a new State law. They automatically qualify under the "Grandfather's" clause that grants test exemption to anyone in business over five years. Younger men entering the business will have to sweat out the test.

The provision of the new law that causes concern for oldtimers is the bond required. It raises costs of doing business. The law becomes effective Sept. 1.

In addition to this law, there are separate tests for plumbers and electricians and others connected with the building trades. In certain instances, it could be possible for one contractor to be required to take three tests.

Most men in the building business in Cass City are here because they want to live in this community.

And while the laws have been passed in the laudable effort to curb the building shysters and may help in the cities, in the small town community it is making service even harder to get than it was.

After all, when most skilled tradesmen can make more money working in the city for someone else than they can working for themselves in Cass City, there is a limit to the amount of harassment they will endure.

Persons voting in the reorganizational election for school districts should keep in mind an important factor.

It is that all primary districts will eventually be attached to a high school district. If the present plan is turned down, another vote will be required within six months.

Persons voting in primary districts should vote for or against the plan, not on the basis of whether or not they want to be connected with any high school district, but whether or not the district they have been assigned to is the one they feel that is the best available.

There are three districts in the Chronicle's circulation area that will be affected by the school vote. They are: Beverly School, Evergreen Township Unit School and Stone School.

What the school electors in Evergreen and Stone districts should ask themselves is: Do I want my children to attend Cass City High School? Beverly voters must answer the same question about Kingston. If the answer is yes, then they should vote in favor of the reorganization regardless of their reservations about relinquishing the autonomy of their districts.

Despite the inevitability of the eventual elimination of primary districts, electors in other counties have turned down reorganization on its first try.

For this reason, if you feel that your children are going where you want them to, you should make a special effort to vote Monday.

I mention specifically persons favoring the proposal, because in most instances the opposition will vote while satisfied residents sometimes forget to cast their ballot.

The reorganization has the support of local school authorities and this paper also feels that it is designed in the best interests of all area students.

It deserves your support.

Delbert Profit Succumbs after Long Illness

Delbert Profit, 63, who served as Elkland township treasurer for five years, died Monday morning at his home on North Cemetery Road after an illness of four years.

He had been a lifelong resident of the community and was born on the farm where he made his home. Illness forced his resignation from the township board several weeks ago.

He was born Sept. 24, 1902, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Profit.

Mr. Profit married Miss Iva Crawford in Cass City, Nov. 25, 1925.

He was a member of the Cass City Methodist Church, the Acme Lodge F&AM 446 of Gagetown and of Gifford Chapter Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving, besides his widow, are: a daughter, Mrs. Harold D. (Jean) Draper of Saginaw; a brother, William Profit of Cass City, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Little's Funeral Home, the Rev. James Braid, pastor of the Cass City Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Several Injured in Area Crashes

Crash Victim Mrs. Norman Deneen Showing Improvement at Hospital

Mrs. Flossie Deneen, 70, one of seven persons injured in a two-car crash on Dodge Road, about a quarter mile from Elmwood road in Elkland township, was still listed in critical condition Tuesday night.

Mrs. Deneen was a passenger in a car driven by Norman Frederick Deneen, 70, of Cass City. She was thrown through the windshield of the car. She suffered multiple rib fractures in the chest, severe lacerations of the face, a broken right leg, loss of blood and shock.

Dr. H. T. Donahue, attending physician, said that Mrs. Deneen received two blood transfusions and appeared to be improving Tuesday.

Others in the crash were less severely injured. Miss Donna Deneen, 40, suffered severe lacerations and was hospitalized for several days.

Norman Deneen suffered lacerations and a fractured kneecap. The driver of the other car involved in the crash was Robert Bruce Plodowski, 38, of Gagetown. He and three passengers in the car received only minor injuries.

The drivers of the cars told conflicting stories about the accident, according to the report of Cass City Police Chief Carl Palmateer, who investigated.

Deneen said that he was coming over a crest in a hill in the center of the road and pulled over to his side when the car approached.

Plodowski said that the Deneen car was on his side of the road and he swerved to the left to try to avoid it. When the Deneen car pulled back to its side, the cars collided.

One Injured

Another accident involving area drivers occurred Monday on North Cemetery Road, north of Cass City, in front of a home owned by Frank White.

Injured was Hannah McQueen, 43, driver of one of the vehicles. She suffered facial lacerations and a brain concussion. She was hospitalized for two days at Hills and Dales Hospital.

Witnesses said that the McQueen car was over the center line when a car driven by Peter John Riensstra, 55, of Cass City was leaving a mailbox in front of the White home. Riensstra is a rural mail carrier.

Both cars were badly damaged in the crash.

Cass City Accidents

Two minor accidents were investigated in the village by Chief Palmateer.

Cars driven by John Haire, 43, of Cass City and Mrs. Elaine June Newton, 26, of Cass City collided at an open intersection at the corner of Pine and Leach Streets Friday.

The Haire car was traveling west on Pine and the Newton car, south on Leach. According to the police report, Haire applied his brakes but was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the Newton car. Mrs. Newton did not see the Haire car approaching, the report said.

Mrs. Newton suffered a scratch on the leg. Two small children, passengers in the Newton car, were uninjured.

The left rear fender of the Newton car and the right front of the Haire car were slightly damaged.

No one was injured in a two-car collision on Main Street. The accident occurred when Belva E. McIntosh, 49, hit the rear of a vehicle driven by Garry Homer Randall, 21, of Cass City.

Randall had stopped to let a car in front of him make a left turn when the crash occurred.

The front of the McIntosh car and the rear of the Randall car were damaged.

In another minor accident involving area persons cars driven by Gladys Dorothy Laurie, 55, of Gagetown, and Donald Lee DeLong, 39, of Cass City collided on M-81 Saturday.

According to the police report, DeLong had stopped for the stop sign on Akron Road and then started across M-81.

He failed to see the Laurie car approaching and the crash occurred.

Both cars were damaged.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bule

Here's one of those sports oddities that's hard to believe—but it's true. . . . The horse that won the Kentucky Derby of 1933, Brokers Tip, strangely enough, had never won a race previous to the Derby, and never won a race after that!

Ever wonder why the Kentucky Derby is called a "Derby"? . . . Well, in 1780 in England, the Earl of Derby founded a famous horse race for 3-year olds at Epsom and it was called "Derby's Race at Epsom". . . . Later it became, simply, the Epsom Derby, and when the folks in Louisville started their race in 1875, they borrowed the name and called it the Kentucky Derby.

More and more ex-Little Leaguers have now grown up and are playing major league ball, but do you know who was the first boy in history to play Little League baseball and then go to the big leagues? . . . The first boy to graduate from the Little Leagues to the majors was pitcher Joey Jay when he broke in with the Milwaukee Braves in 1953.

Name Area Winners Of 4-H Dress Revue

By Mrs. Lyle Clarke
"Moon Magic" was the setting for the Tuscola county dress revue Thursday, April 28, held at the Caro elementary gym.

The stage displayed a travel bureau with Duane DeLong portraying an agency salesman and Francis DeLong, a ticket-taker for the rocket trip to the moon.

Mrs. George Pattullo, Caro home economics teacher, described the garments modeled by 39 4-H members who represented the three districts which held evaluations earlier this month.

George Pattullo, 4-H agent, gave the awards to the winners of each district and announced the selections to represent the county at the State dress revue.

The projects for the dress revue include knitting and clothing construction and are divided into three age groups: Young Miss, ages 9-12, Junior Miss, 12-14, and Senior Miss, 14-18.

Young Miss
The Young Miss modeling award for clothing from the Cass City district was given to Debbie Rieck of Wells Jolly Workers Club in Kingston. She modeled her green V-neck shift jumper and white long sleeve blouse.

Marie Rabideau, of St. Agatha's Club in Gagetown, received the Helen Cull's award, given to the Young Miss who places second. Her outfit included a red print gathered skirt with matching head scarf and a white blouse.

John Lockwood was recipient of the first place award for his perfect knitting of three potholders, representing the stockinette, garter and seed stitch for his first year of knitting in the Cass City Junior Craftsmen's Club.

Junior Miss Awards
The Junior Miss winners from the Cass City area were Carol Clarke, Mary Janeshek, Paula Edwards and Sandra Holcomb.

Carol Clarke made a hooded jacket of a red, white and blue print. White slacks and a red blouse completed her sports outfit. She is a member of the Needles and Kettles Club of Cass City.

Paula Edwards, of the Deford Eager Beavers, modeled her print cotton shift dress with cap sleeves and lace trim.

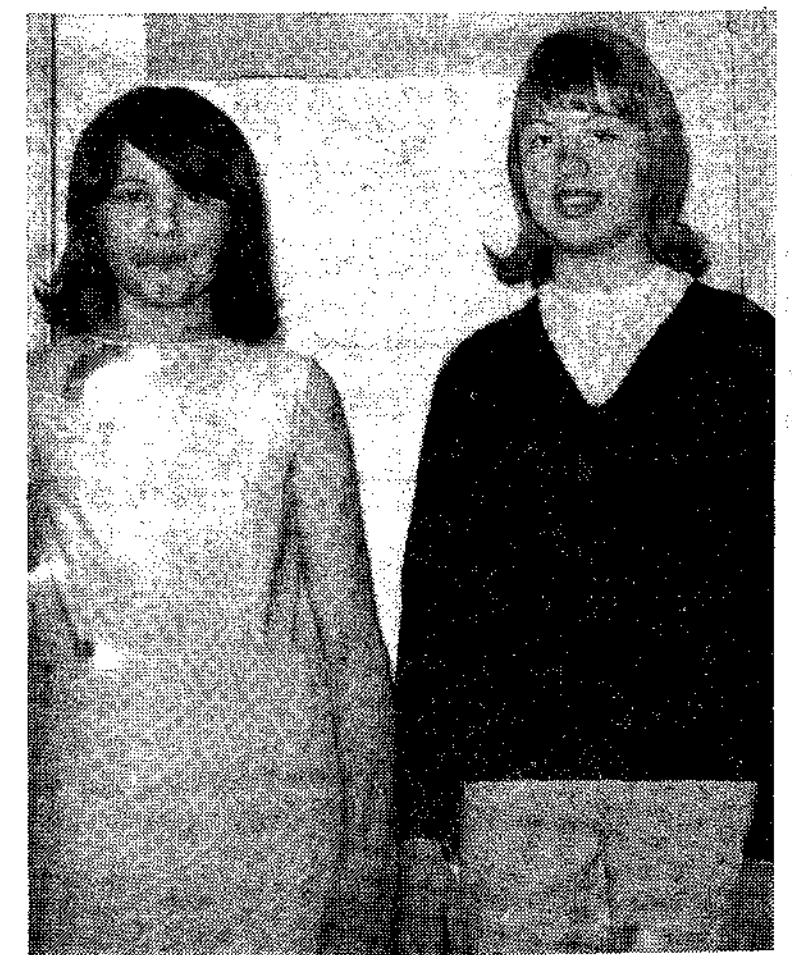

Mary Janeshek, from St. Martha's of Caro, made a maroon V-neck shift jumper with a matching print long sleeve blouse. Sandra Holcomb's award was given for her maroon V-neck long sleeve sweater with matching headband. She is also from Deford's Eager Beavers.

Senior Miss Winners
In the Senior Miss division, Joan Orzel, St. Agatha's Club, made a green cotton double-breasted coat dress trimmed with white braid and large white buttons. White accessories completed her attire.
Connie DeLong's suit had a blue heather jacket, and a blue and white checked skirt. Her jacket was trimmed with the checked material, as were her purse and headband. White shoes and gloves completed her ensemble. She is a member of the Cass City Needles and Kettles Club.

Judy Ross, of Wells Jolly Workers, made a pink brocade ankle-length formal. It has a rounded neckline and is sleeveless. She wore white elbow-length gloves and pink shoes. A white mohair cape, which she also made, complemented her outfit. She was selected to represent the county at the State Show.

Thinclads Fail at Chip Relays

Although no one expected Cass City thinclads to win at the annual Chip Relays at Mount Pleasant last week, Coach John Bifoss said that he was very disappointed when local athletes failed to win a point.

"I feel," Bifoss said, "with a little more effort we would have placed in some of the events." The meet is one of the biggest high school track events in the United States. Cass City ran against some 50 other Class "B" schools.

Bifoss is hoping for better results when the club participates in the Oscoda Invitational Saturday, to compete against some 14 Class "B" schools.

Minor Leaguers to Meet at Park

The Cass City Minor League will hold practices at 6 p. m. at the Recreational Park Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 10-12, league authorities announced this week.

The Minors are for all boys not selected to play in the Little League and for all boys seven and eight years old.

People seldom kick at the price of luxuries.

To wash a household brush, scrub the bristles with another brush, holding both under water while you rub them together with thick soap-suds. Rinse both brushes, shake off extra water, and let them dry with the bristles down.

THE FINEST MOTHER'S DAY PRESENT of all, most folks will agree, is the return home of a child after a serious illness. And that's the present Mrs. Enoch Osentoski Jr. of New Greenleaf received when daughter, Denise, 5, left front, returned home on the road to recovery after open heart surgery. The whole family rejoices with mother.

Primer to Teaching Conservation

Michigan educators and youth leaders interested in learning more about conservation and how to fit it into their programs for youngsters can start doing something about it right now. It's not too early for them to apply through the Conservation Department to attend this summer's courses dealing with natural resources at the Higgins Lake conservation school and Camp Shaw near Chatham in the Upper Peninsula. Teachers who turn students for one of these week-long sessions will learn the ABC's of conservation from classroom studies and field trips (left photo). They will return to their own classrooms next fall with better backgrounds to open the eyes and minds of their pupils to conservation and wonders of the outdoor world (right photos, top and bottom). For enrollment forms and more information about the summer programs at Higgins Lake and Camp Shaw write: Teachers' Conservation School, Michigan Department of Conservation, 408 Kalamazoo Plaza, Lansing, Michigan 48926.

Ubly FFA Holds Banquet

About 200 attended the annual Ubly FFA Chapter banquet Tuesday evening, April 26, honoring parents and guests of FFA members. The affair was held in the Ubly school gym.

Louis Harper, Vocational Agriculture instructor at Kingdon High School, was guest speaker. He narrated and showed slides of the 1964 Future Farmers' Convention held in Kansas City, Mo.

Awards were presented by William S. Wheeler, Chapter advisor, to FFA members for their achievements during the year. The beef award went to Brian Sweeney, the dairy award to Larry Schember and the swine award was won by Robert Osestoski.

The crops award was given to Robert Gornowicz. Scholarship awards were given to: freshmen - Marcus Maurer, Patrick Quigg and Lynn Sweeney; sophomores - Brian Sweeney, Michael Particka and Herbert Chinoski; junior - Kenneth Rudy, and seniors - Dennis Maurer and Larry Silver.

Leadership awards went to: freshmen - Lynn Sweeney, Ronald Lemanski and Martin Kubiacki; sophomore - Herbert Chinoski; junior - Ronald Sweeney, and senior - Dennis Maurer.

The top seed salesman certificates were given to Dennis Maurer, Eugene Wasierski and Michael Particka, respectively. The DeKalb corn award was won by Leonard Polium and Kenneth Rudy. The Farm Shop award was given to Larry Silver.

Honorary Chapter Farmer degrees were conferred to Henry Gornowicz, Fred Ruttko and Martin Sweeney of Ubly and Ervin Maurer and Richard Maurer of Bad Axe, who have contributed much in time and materials to the FFA Chapter.

Miss Gloria Briolat, senior, was named Chapter Sweetheart and was presented a red rose corsage.

The 1965-66 officers were introduced. They are: President - Kenneth Rudy, vice-president - Herbert Chinoski, secretary - Ronald Sweeney, treasurer - Steve Bowman, sentinel - Eugene Wasierski and reporter - Brian Sweeney.

Mrs. Geo. Murray Presides at Thumb Deanery Meet

The St. Michael Parish Council was to host the 15th annual spring convention of the Thumb Deanery Council of Catholic Women Wednesday, May 4, at the parish auditorium in Port Austin.

Fr. Joseph J. Dudek, host pastor, gave the opening prayer and welcome address. The Daughters of Isabella presented colors. Mrs. George F. Murray of Cass City, Deanery president, conducted the business meeting and introduced the officers. Committee chairmen gave reports.

The Scripture reading was given by Rev. R. E. Betts, pastor of the EUB Church in Cass City. A tribute was made to Msgr. Charles A. Roark, Bad Axe, Sacred Heart pastor and Thumb Dean.

Fr. Dudek was celebrant at the 11:30 a. m. Mass, followed by a luncheon at 12:15 p. m.

Spiritual Director Fr. Isidore J. Mikulski of Caro opened the afternoon session with a talk, "The Historical Roots of Ecumenism." A movie, "A Foundation for Dialogue," was shown.

Displays were in charge of the Thumb Deanery Committee chairmen and badges were the courtesy of Bad Axe Sacred Heart Altar Society.

If some of your children must wear hand-me-down clothes, try this plan. Instead of clothes being handed down to a child, the child is promoted to the clothes. You can make a ceremony out of it. It is a celebration that the children will participate with no hand-me-down feeling. Everyone is proud of the clothes they have grown into.

THE ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL play slated at the school Friday and Saturday, May 6-7, at 8 p. m. has many highlights. Barbara Starmann and Chuck Churchill, were caught here in one of the many comedy scenes. (Chronicle photo)

Hostetler's Hodgepodge I Had My Hair Cut By A Champion

Marion Hostetler

In order to get the material for this column I had to break the Number One Rule of the Chamber of Commerce: "Always trade in Cass City." I hope Clint House will forgive me. (I might need to have him on my side some time.)

I was on my way to visit Jim King in Bay City General Hospital one morning last week, and as I passed the sign pointing to Essexville I thought to myself, "Ever since Terry McDermott won that Olympic gold medal, I've wanted to get a haircut from him." I was just about as shaggy that day as a bald-headed man can ever be, so I made up my mind to DO IT NOW.

I inquired in Essexville and learned that although Terry McDermott lives there, he works in a shop in Bay City. Returning to the highway, I entered Bay City, turned left on Trumbull, then right on Columbus, and found Bunny's Barber Shop a few blocks west of the General Hospital, at 1005 Columbus Avenue.

Terry wasn't busy at that hour in the morning, so I sat down in his chair and we began to talk. When he found I was from Cass City he said he was a schoolmate of Joe Weiler, superintendent of Cass City Hospital. He recalled speaking here for the Dairy Association and the Gavel Club. We talked about the Olympics and the hockey game (he hasn't played hockey) and high school athletics. Then the conversation drifted to the Essexville public school, which has attracted some attention in the educational world because it has an "ungraded" program. According to this program a student who does well in math but poorly in reading might be taking seventh grade math, fifth grade reading, and sixth grade social studies, all at the same time. Terry and I agreed this seemed a sensible thing to do, if it could be arranged. Why force a pupil to take all sixth grade subjects merely because he happens to be eleven years of age? I told him I knew a couple of teachers who entered the Essexville system this year. One is Catherine Johnson of Harbor Beach, who spoke to a Cass City group a couple of years ago about her experiences while taking the at a university in Africa. The other junior year of her college course is Rosemary Ballagh of Kinde, daughter of the Huron County superintendent of schools.

Terry didn't know either of the girls, but he said with some heat, "It seems as if they're hiring a lot of outside teachers, and nobody from Essexville. I know a fellow who grew up here, and he had good grades in college, too. But when he applied for a position in Essexville, he didn't get it."

Neither of us could think of any reason why a local person shouldn't have at least as good a chance as an outsider to be employed in the Essexville system. So I paid him my $2 (the Chamber of Commerce was right). I could have saved money by staying in Cass City and asked for his autograph and said goodbye.

On the way home, after visiting Jim, I kept wondering about the policy of that school board. "Supposing I was on that Board of Education," I thought, "and we had equally impressive applications from a local boy and an outsider. Should we give the advantage to the native or the stranger?" One thing the native would have going for him would be that he would understand the ins and outs of the community-things an outsider might never know. His handicap would be that some pupils might think of him as a buddy, rather than a faculty member.

I finally decided that if Terry McDermott was correct (and he seemed to be a level-headed young man) the school board must have a definite policy of not favoring a local applicant. They may be leaning over backward in an effort to avoid nepotism. (This word, which rhymes with "despotism" and comes from the Latin word for "nephew," means favoring your own relatives when making appointments.) They must have decided that if they employed a certain teacher because he was a neighbor or relative of one board member, then that member would feel a certain obligation to vote for some other member's friend or relative at a later time, even though the second applicant did not have very good recommendations.

It would take a tremendous amount of planning to arrange an ungraded schedule and it would take sophisticated forethought to avoid nepotism. But our boys and girls are worthy of the best thinking and planning we are capable of, aren't they?

Tennis shoes can be washed in your automatic washer. Afterward spray them with starch to help keep them clean for a longer time.

Keep your little girl's paper dolls and their respective wardrobes together by numbering each on the back. For example, put a number on the back of a doll and the same number on each piece of its wardrobe. Use a different number for each doll.

Juniors Slate Annual Prom and Banquet May 14

The Junior Class of Cass City High School chose the theme, "In the Misty Moonlight," for their banquet and prom, honoring the class of 1966 May 14.

The Junior decorating committee is preparing decorations for a rose garden setting under a full moon. The dinner committee is enlisting the assistance of Junior members' mothers in preparing and serving the banquet. A group of sophomore girls will be waitresses for the dinner at 6:15 p. m.

The Juniors have also sent invitations to the Board of Education, the Administration, the faculty and other employees of the school to attend the banquet and prom with their spouses.

Rebecca Champion will give the invocation.

An after-dinner program has been planned and Phil Gray will be the Toastmaster. Junior President Joyce Smentek and Senior President Wayne Copeland will speak as representatives of their classes. Superintendent Donald Crouse will address the Juniors and their guests. Junior vocalists, Sue Kelley, Linda Hicks, Denise Michels, Rosemary Fritz and Rick Parrott will sing numbers in keeping with the theme. Tim Knight will be pianist for the program.

The prom music for dancing will be furnished by Arliss Woodward's orchestra from Saginaw. Prom hours are from 9 to 1 and the public is invited.

To save minutes on busy school mornings, pre-measure oatmeal and salt for breakfast in small plastic bags. Measure out enough for 2 or 3 weeks at 1 session.

Medical Mirror

BREAST SIZE

Q. Several months ago I read where doctors were using a new injection to enlarge the breasts. Is this successful?

A. The procedure of injecting the breasts with an "inactive" substance has not been medically approved. The substances used (liquid silicones) are distributed to authorized physicians for experimental use in soft-tissue build up by injection, but the silicones are not for use in the breast area.

MONGOLISM

Q. What causes mongolism? I have a friend who married late and at 37 gave birth to a mongoloid child.

A. Most cases of mongolism result from a misplacement of certain genes, the hereditary factors present in body cells. Doctors know what happens but not why it happens. The age of the mother at the time of conception has some bearing on the occurrence of mongolism (women who have children late in reproductive life run a higher risk than younger women). Other circumstances, which remain unknown, undoubtedly help set the stage for mongolism.

To The Editor:

Now that we have been stripped of our rights to vote as individual districts, and the people have been propagandized with the idea that the school consolidation is inevitable, I think it is high time we people look into how we are going to get back our rights. Only we, the voters, can make it inevitable by our lack of concern. Instead of casually giving up more of our rights, we can vote No on the school consolidation issue and keep our school board members representing us.

Elizabeth Zajac, Treas.

To The Editor:

One of the arguments used by people who favor consolidation is the expression that it is inevitable.

It is inevitable, too, that we will all die. Using the same logic of those favoring consolidation, should we all commit suicide?

Doesn't this make good sense? Arthur Marell, Constable

Dear Editor:

Next Monday we are being called on to vote our rural schools into the 9 high schools. In several counties of the state, this step has already been taken. Now they are voting to put their smaller high schools into the larger high schools.

Fifty-five per cent of the draftees are rejected because they cannot read. Fifty per cent of these rejects have completed 9½ years of school and a few are college graduates. Think of it! How shameful!

Do you think having an even larger school will solve this problem, or any other problem? Certainly not, and that proof is in what is happening right today toward quality and discipline in our schools.

We see the results in the generation recently graduated from our colleges. They fail completely to comprehend the moral obligations of a contract. They "strike" in the middle of the year to endorse their demands for more pay. One could weep for the way in which our young people have been cheated out of a sound grounding in the moral principles necessary in a civilized society.

But we need to remember that the "Grand Plan" is one-county districts, multi-county or regional districts, then one school district for the whole state of Michigan. Is this what you will vote for?

Who knows, we may even get to one district for the whole nation, and have something almost as good as Hitler's Youth Movement.

When spring has sprung, out come the slingshots and BB guns. Since these are toys, not much attention is given to the safety of handling them before they are given to the children.

My boy recently ran into the business end of the slingshot with his eye. He now has three months of no jumping, running, playground or gym. This follows two weeks of being flat on his back with both eyes bandaged.

The eye specialist told me grimly that BB guns and slingshots cause more blindness than rifles and shotguns—that if he had his way they would be licensed. This would at least make parents and children aware of their danger.

When things are an evident danger, we are cautious of their effect. It's the little dangers to health that are neglected and cause trouble.

Come to think of it, the same is true of danger to friendship and marriage.

The happiest people aren't thinking of happiness as a goal.

Bill to Regulate Lobbying Brings Divided Solon Reaction

Can't Legislate Honestly
Views were sharply divided on a lobbying activities proposal which got farther this year than any previously suggested regulation.

A bill requiring regular reports of expenditures and activities by lobbyists made it to the half-way mark on a 77-26 vote in the House. This bill was also stronger than those considered in other years, which usually didn't get out of committee to the legislative debate stage. This one would require the quarterly accounting to be submitted to the Secretary of State.

Services Held for Melvin Surine, 80

Funeral services were held Friday, April 29, at a Caro funeral home for Melvin Surine, 80, who died Tuesday, April 26, at the Heatherstone Nursing Home in Caro. He had been ill three months. Mr. Surine was born April 6, 1886, in Columbia township and was a lifelong resident of the county. He was a retired carpenter. He married Iva Crouch in October of 1909. She died in 1956. In 1957, he married the former Lula Roblin of Deford.

Besides his widow, survivors are: four daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Frasier of Caro, Mrs. Edgar Thomas and Mrs. Ralph Babcock, both of Taylor, and Mrs. Ken Stanard of Bridgeport; one son, Lewis of Caro; two sisters, Mrs. William Lewis of Unionville and Mrs. Ruben Moore of Caro; two brothers, Roswell of Unionville and Earl of Rutland, Sask., Canada; 22 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren. Burial was in the Caro cemetery.

The reports would be public record. All state employees, not just legislators, would be viewed as objects of lobbying activities under the 1966 proposal.

It was impossible to divide the proponents and opponents into alliances previously seen.

On the one side, the supporters of the proposal saw it as an effective means of keeping lobbyists honest by making their activities subject to public perusal.

The other side saw it as a personal affront to legislator honesty, rather than a control on the lobbyists. "If there are such serious problems that we need this kind of legislation, there is something wrong with us," said one legislator.

Basic problem is that it takes a dishonest legislator as well as dishonest lobbyist to consummate a dishonest transaction. It is difficult, if not impossible, to come up with a law which will stop this kind of collusion.

It has been obvious to most that efforts for a law thus far would have resulted in making it more difficult for the vast majority of legitimate legislators and lobbyists to work honestly and would not really restrict the few who chose not to do so.

Part of the strong support for the bill was credited to rumors circulated this year that some lawmakers were offered campaign contributions in return for votes on a certain bill.

Opponents, no doubt, felt support of the legislation indicated there were members who would accept money on these terms. Supporters said the proposed law would prevent deals of this kind.

Only the legislators can determine whether the law is needed. The decision no doubt will be based on how many members think they or their colleagues are prone to this kind of influence inducement.

A Big Week
It's almost that time again. Time for Michigan Week, that is.

For the 13th year in succession, Michigan residents will make a special effort the third week in May to let it be known that this is a great state in many ways.

This year the emphasis has been on numbers. The goal of the top planners of the annual brag week was set at eight million, the entire population of Michigan.

Soon the effectiveness of this major participation campaign will be known. Whether the full goal is reached probably cannot be measured, but as in previous years there is little doubt that Michigan Week will reach more people than ever.

In the formal organization alone, more people were involved in this year's planning than ever before. Almost every county committee has been able to report more local planning units in operation this year.

As in previous years the occasion begins with the Sunday gatherings marking Spiritual Foundations Day followed by the exchange of mayors on Our Government

Day. Outstanding Michigan citizens will be honored for their various contributions locally and statewide on the other days: Hospitality Day, Our Livelihood Day, Education Day, Our Heritage Day, and Youth Day.

In all, the 13th stands alone, as have each of the previous years, as bigger and better than ever in reminding Michigan people and outsiders of the brag-worthy state in which we live.

Fewer Babies
Eight years in succession, Michigan has followed the national trend of decreasing birth rates.

For 1965, the State Health Department reported 165,493 births. This was a drop of nearly 8,500 from the previous year and 12,000 less than were recorded in 1963.

The present decline in birth rates has been going since 1957, when the peak of 207,000 was reached to end the so-called baby boom. The boom started from a 120,000 count in 1945 at the end of World War II and lasted 12 years, rising swiftly in each.

Statisticians say the present trend may soon be over, as the babies of the post-war boom are now reaching the age to start their own families. This new surge, expected in another two years, is fully likely to match or surpass the highs reached in the late 1940's.

Check Weed Control In Small Grains

Seems like every year some farmers are caught napping when it comes to weed control in small grains, such as wheat, oats and barley, says Alfred Ballweg, county extension agricultural agent.

A "stitch in time" can make the difference between a weed-free crop or one with a mixture of both. Now is the time to check each field for such weeds as mustard, field peppergrass, false flax and other common weeds. Very frequently a farmer discovers these weeds after the grain is too far along to spray the weeds without injury to the grain. Both field peppergrass and false flax are winter annuals. That is, they start from seed in the fall, live through the winter and then make their growth and produce seed the next year. Heavy infestations of these weeds can cut yield drastically and this happens on some Tuscola county farms each year, said Ballweg.

For control of these weeds farmers are advised to spray when grain is fully tillered. Grain is usually six to eight inches tall at this stage and before boot stage. One-half pound of actual 2,4-D amine per acre is recommended for wheat and barley. One-quarter pound per acre is recommended for oats without a seeding. Where perennial weeds are a problem in fields without a seeding, one-half pound of actual 2,4-D ester may be used.

Always follow directions on the label, cautioned Ballweg.

Most children have their parents pretty well sized up.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was lamenting that pritty soon us old country folks was going to be as scarce as them donosewers. Clem Webster reported he had saw where the rural population was going down about 2 per cent a year in spite of the population explosion. And, Clem said, this piece claimed about half of our present population was under 25 year old. He was of the opinion this was making old fellers our age in the rural areas real rare birds. He figured maybe they'd put us out on one of them perserves before long, like they done the buffaloes.

Ed Doolittle allowed as how we got confusion everywhere, from population trends to a argument over whether wimmen wiggle or waggle when they walk. And, as usual, Ed blamed a heap of this confusion on the Democrats. For instance, he recollected when Lyndon signed the Civil Rights Bill he called all the reporters out to the Lincoln Memorial for the ceremony. When he signed the new immigrating bill he called 'em out to the Statue of Liberty, and he went on television to sign the bill cutting excise taxes on some items. But, said Ed, when he signed the bill putting them excise taxes back, he sneaked in his office and done it in private.

Clem Webster was defending the Democrats, said they wasn't no appropriate place to sign a tax bill on account of they ain't never been a stature erected in this country to the taxpayer.

Zeke Grubb claimed this was a serious oversight, that the Government had ought to erect a monument to the taxpayer, showing a man with his pockets turned inside out, along side the Washington Monument, only make it a few feet higher.

The fellers at the store, Mister Editor, all of them around 70 year old, was great on hindsight. They can tell you what was wrong with yesterday but they ain't got no cure fer tomorrow. It makes me recollect the story in the paper where this feller was in court trying to get a divorce. He told the Judge if he'd knowed about electric blankets and store bought bread he never would have got married in the first place.

But I agree with Ed that things was gitting mighty confused in life. It has got to be the place, fer instance, where it's a little embarrassing fer a feller to pay his bills

Philatheas Meet At Guinther Home

Sixteen members of the Philatheas class of the Baptist Church met at the Stan Guinther home Tuesday evening, April 26, for their monthly class fellowship.

Sheldon Peck, missionary appointee to Japan, presented devotions. Vice-president Mary Hanby presided over the business meeting in the absence of President Elwyn Helwig.

Miss Hanby and Miss Carol English were in charge of games.

Pastor Richard Canfield and Dick Shaw were appointed to make arrangements for a dinner meeting in May.

What's so Special about an RCA WHIRLPOOL Dishwasher?

There are many cycles from which to choose, depending on the type of wash you are preparing for including a special cycle for china and glassware. There are dual automatic detergent dispensers to take the guesswork out of the job and automatic wetting agent dispensers to "break" the surface tension of the water to eliminate water-spotting and streaking. A giant self-cleaning filter flushes food particles down the drain automatically to prevent recirculation of dirty water on your dishes. Surging jets of water from two full-size revolving spray arms wash and rinse everything sparkling clean. You can wash the full day's supply of dishes at one time, up to 18 NEMA table settings. There is no special way in which dishes must be stacked in the random loading racks. Water too hot for human hands insures against germs and bacteria.

IT SEEMS TO ME
Russia Curbing
Church Opposition

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

The present archbishop of Canterbury, (head of all Anglican (Episcopalian churches) predicted recently a merger within 10 years of the Anglicans and Methodists in England. The Methodist church has historical roots in the Anglican denomination: John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist church, was an ordained Anglican priest. He also foresees a Canadian merger of the Anglicans with the United Church of Canada. You and I live in an exciting era of church unions; or so it seems to me.

Ghana, newly free African country and a socialist state, recently ordered from the American Bible Society, 500,000 Bibles and New Testaments in six languages. This is the largest single order ever received by the Society which will also bear one-third of the $600,000 gross cost. Bibles are used in Ghana in the schools program to teach children to read. Irony that just as this new nation sees the necessity of using the Bible in the schools, U. S. Courts have outlawed the use of the Bible in American Schools. Or, so it seems to me.

Superstition in our land was noted to exist even in our most sophisticated places. Hotels have omitted designating the floor above the twelfth as the 13th floor for years. A sleepy passenger flying 600 miles per hour aboard a TWA jetliner while glancing about the plane realized that there was no seat numbered 13. I wonder if the pilots who fly the planes rely on magic amulets rather than radio and radar. If so, "Pardon me. I want to get off."

Phunnee! "How far down do you want to sit?" asked the usher. "All the way," answered the little old lady. "I'm very tired." (2) Sign at a cemetery: "Owing to employment difficulties, grave digging will be done by a skeleton crew." (3) One businessman to another: "I wanted my son to share in the business, but the government beat him to it."
