

Alley Program Creeping

Set Cost for Parking Meters at $8,000 Here

Parking meters for Cass City will cost the village an estimated $8,000, President Lambert Althaver told village trustees Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

Althaver revealed that there are only two companies that manufacture the meters. The Mic-co company's price for installed meters is $50 each. The Duncan Parking Meter company's price is $69.50 each.

Despite the higher price of the Duncan company's quote, the council is leaning towards this company. It offers a regular maintenance service plan and is highly recommended by two area communities, Caro and Lapeer.

Since there will be some 120 meters needed under the plan authorized by the council, the cost is expected to be over $8,000.

Before the meters can be installed, the village traffic ordinances must be revamped.

When the legal aspects of the new system are completed it won't take long to install the meters.

Within 15 days after receiving the order, the Duncan company promises to have the meters taking in money. Payment without interest can be made practically any way the council decides, company representatives said.

Alley Program
Meanwhile, the alley program that the council is trying to inaugurate is moving slowly.

The council has passed a resolution that requires owners of 80 per cent of the lineal footage of the business property to agree to hard surface their property before the village will hard surface the alley.

The council is now seeking the okay from owners two blocks west of Seeger Street on the north and south sides of Main.

Thursday, just one of the four blocks had agreed to the provision. Authorizing the work were the owners between Leach and West Street on the north side of Main. To expedite the signing, the council will probably allow owners to hard surface just one-car length onto their property to qualify the alley for paving.

When 80 per cent sign, there will probably be areas in the alley where patches of the privately paid surfacing will not be completed.

Providing the petitions can be secured, it will be late in the summer before the work is completed. Village Engineer William Schram said that the blacktopping company will not be in the area before this time.

Jury Denies Lokken Damages In $100,000 Suit

A Tuscola County Jury denied Thomas H. Lokken of Caro damages in a jury trial heard in Tuscola County Circuit Court before Judge James Churchill last week.

Lokken had been seeking $100,000 from damages suffered from a fall in a stairwell at Ryk's Motel owned by Frank and Jane Bobryk.

Serving on the jury were: Mrs. Jenny Vader, Mrs. Wayne Peterhans, Francis Proulx, Alta Laubee, Alva Bauer, John Humm, Arthur Caister, John Miller, Elmer Kern and Marion Richter.

They returned a verdict of no cause for action.

Kingston Tot Killed in Mishap

Little Babette LaFond, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaFond of Kingston, was killed in a fall from a trailer house Monday. The tiny tot apparently opened the rear door of the trailer as it was being towed by her parents on U.S. 10, about 10 miles west of Midland.

According to investigating officers, two brothers riding with her in the trailer heard the door close and turned around to find her gone.

HIS BAGS ARE PACKED and this time he will have a passport before he leaves. Charles Nemeth Sr. (center) is going to visit Hungary, his homeland. Making sure that dad has everything he needs are three of his five sons.

Once in A Lifetime, Nemeth Says of Hungarian Trip

Charles Nemeth, 79, of Deford will realize a lifelong ambition when he boards a plane at Metropolitan Airport in Detroit Monday to return to the home of his youth at Vonock, Vas Megye, Hungary.

It will be the first visit to the homeland for the sprightly Nemeth since he left Hungary in a huff because he was too short to serve in the Army.

In those days, the retired farmer explained with the aid of one of his five sons who helped the interview's communications over language barriers, about the only good jobs in Hungary were with the government, mostly in the army.

When I became 21 I applied for a job but was rudely rejected because I was too short. A little while later they wanted me to serve... but then I wasn't willing.

To escape he took off over the continent and hitchhiked his way to Portugal from where he boarded a boat and became another of the thousands of immigrants flooding into the United States at the turn of the century.

He arrived without anything... money, job, clothing or even a passport. But it was the era of open immigration and he had little trouble getting into the country, finding a job in New Jersey and even finding a little bit of the old country transplanted to the States.

The bit of home was a Hungarian girl, Miss Veron Kocsis. Never one to let a good thing go, he promptly married her. The couple moved to Detroit in 1914 where Nemeth made a good living as a carpenter on the railroad... good, that is, until the great depression hit in 1930. Out of work he finally bought the family farm, for back

Willy to Receive Safety Award

Nelson Willy will receive an award for the village from the Michigan Water Pollution Control Association Monday, June 13.

The presentation will be for the safety record established by operating personnel of the operating waste-water treatment plants in 1965.

The award will be presented at the annual conference at Boyne Mountain Lodge slated June 12-15.

Delegates Set

The Tuscola County Democratic Committee has set the number of delegates to be named for the county convention at 154, spokesmen for the committee announced this week.

Special Session To Set Village Retirement Program

A measure that has been under discussion for nearly a year will probably be resolved in a special meeting Tuesday of the Cass City Village Council.

At that time the village will take up the retirement program for village employees with Al Wither-son, the agent in charge, and expect to iron out final details.

Another topic due for discussion and action in the very near future concerns charges for village services to subdividers and property owners.

It is expected that all fees will be raised for water and sewer work at this time.

Start Seed, Pine Curb and Gutter

Work was to start this week on curb and gutter on two of the streets where the work has been authorized this summer, Village Engineer William Schram reported.

To be completed at once will be Seed Street, from the Cass City Recreational Park to Oak Street and Pine Street from Woodland to East Village Limits.

Other work planned, but not ready at this time is for curb and gutter on Church Street, Schram said.

taxes in 1932.

He prospered almost from the beginning at the location 4 1/2 miles south of Cass City, and brought up his large family that included six boys, five of whom are living. His wife died two years ago. The boys are Charles and Louis, of Cass City; John of Oregon; Alex of Detroit and Eddie of Kingston.

Too Late

Nemeth will be returning to his birthplace too late to see his parents who died during World War II, but a sister and a brother still live and he will visit them along with other acquaintances of his youth.

He will not be returning empty handed. Because things aren't too good for the people in Communist controlled Hungary, he will give all of his relatives cash gifts, which is permitted by the Reds.

Although he is happy to be going back, the Deford farmer stressed that it would only be for a visit. Tell them I'm grateful for this country where I could come with nothing and make a success for myself and raise my family so they too can enjoy the good things in life, he said.

Nemeth will be flying with 50 other persons on a 21-day tour and the fare is expected to cost about $550... but he estimates his total expenses at about $1,000.

But whatever the cost it will be worth it. Who can place a price on returning home after a half century away from your birthplace and your family?

Frutchey in Switch Of Key Positions

Authorities at Frutchey Bean Company in Cass City this week announced several changes in management.

Coming to Cass City from Mayville will be Frank Schott, 38, of Mayville. Leaving the Cass City plant to return to Greenleaf is George Fisher. Barney Hoffman has accepted a position as district representative with the Frutchey Company.

Although Schott is new to Cass City he is no stranger in the Frutchey company. He has been the manager of the Mayville Frutchey plant for 18 of the 21 years he has worked for the company.

He assumed control of both plants in Cass City. Currently living in Mayville, he expects to move to Cass City as soon as he finds housing for himself, his wife and two boys.

For Donahue, School

Village Okays Annexation

Cass City is about to become a little larger. If idle speculation by the council should materialize, it could become a great deal larger.

Tuesday night at the regular village council meeting at the municipal building in Cass City, trustees adopted a resolution to accept into the village land owned by the school and H. T. Donahue. Also under consideration is 40 acres at the East Village Limits owned by the Lutheran Church.

Lutheran representatives were at the village council meeting Tuesday night requesting that the village annex six of their 40 acres, the portion planned for a new church.

Trustee Dr. D. E. Rawson asked that the church consider annexing the entire 40 acres, because the village would receive no tax money from the church property and limited water revenue for running sewer and water to the property.

With the addition of the other 34 acres, there would be a tax base as the property is developed, Rawson believes.

Strange Method

The annexation talk sparked a discussion about widening the village's boundaries in all directions. According to Village Attorney Clinton House the method for annexation is to petition the County Board of Supervisors for the land after the intention to annex is published for three weeks.

The final decision is up to the supervisors, House claims. He said that it is one of the few villages left that operates under this type law.

Other Expansion

M. B. Auten and E. B. Schwad-erer appeared before the council to

Teen Center Opening

A new Teen Center will be opened soon, probably this week end, at the empty building that housed a grocery store on east Main Street in Cass City.

The Center is a project of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City and will be opened on a trial basis for one month, according to the Rev. Richard Eyer.

Plans call for the Center to be open to all youths with or without religious affiliations. Eyer reports. Members of the church are expected to be working in the building this week preparing it for occupancy.

The store was recently purchased by Robert Benkelman and Bill Zemke who are allowing the church to use the facility.

Returns to Greenleaf

Fisher resumed a position that he held before becoming manager at one of the Cass City plants 10 years ago. He is now managing the plant at New Greenleaf.

He managed this operation for Frutchey for three years and worked there for 20 years prior to moving to Cass City.

Willis Brown, manager of Greenleaf since Fisher left for Cass City, will again become the assistant manager at New Greenleaf.

Hoffman has been the manager of the former Farm Produce plant in Cass City, purchased several years ago by Frutchey. He was moved up in June of 1960 to the management level.

He remains with Frutchey, assuming the part of district representative working from the Saginaw office of Frutchey.

have their original plat for subdividing that portion of Hills and Dales Subdivision north of the Hills and Dales Hospital approved. It was passed without dissent.

Rodney Krueger asked the council the costs for building a road and furnishing water and sewer to a site just south of the present Anrod Screen Cylinder Co. United Parcel Service is interested in leasing a building to handle packaging and house its trucks, Krueger explained.

Negotiations are in the final stages and Almer Realty Co., which is handling the leasing, needs to know the costs connected with erecting the building.

The building would have 3,000 square feet and face south with an entrance from Doerr Road.

Minor Requests

Dr. W. E. Selby appeared before trustees asking that the village seed and level the land around the new water tower which is directly behind his home. Frank Alexander asked for action on his request for a building permit to build a wash rack on West Main Street in Cass City.

Action was promised both men.

From the Editor's Corner

Holidays on Monday are better than those that fall on Tuesday and infinitely better than those that come on (the worst of all) Wednesday.

Everybody's schedule is thrown off by those unaccustomed breaks in the work week and what is bad for the Chronicle is good for other businesses.

We don't mind in the least when Memorial Day comes on Thursday or Friday, but most retail stores do. The week ends are the big shopping days and closing then presents extra problems.

The Chronicle normally works on holidays that fall during the first three days of the week as the easiest way to make production schedules.

Memorial Day is better than the Fourth of July or Labor Day. For on Memorial Day the staff at least has a ringside seat for the annual parade to Elkland Cemetery.

While the parade is predictably the same every year... it is also new in the sense that the Cass City School Bands personnel has changed and the youngsters who strut happily down Main are not all the same as they were the previous year.

And while the parade is small stuff, as parades go these days, it never fails to line Main Street with cars and spectators for a half hour before its scheduled start.

We are sure it will continue to be a Memorial Day tradition in Cass City.

A fellow publisher, Bob Myers of the Lapeer County Press, roasted the poverty program as it applies to the Thumb area. He went on to explain his troubles in securing help and maintained that everyone who is employable is working.

Myers will find agreement from most folks in Cass City, including me.

I know that any able-bodied person can go to work here almost immediately and jobs requiring even minor skills are going begging for lack of people.

In case you've forgotten, there are just 10 days left before the June 13 vote for the $250,000 supplement needed to complete the new Cass City High School.

As of Monday afternoon, not one person had secured an absentee ballot for the important election.

If you will be away on election day, casting an absentee vote will help. Do you recall when a bond issue in Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port ended in a tie and failed to pass? We talked to one strong supporter of the school who admitted that he failed to vote because he thought it didn't matter. It could, you know.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in history, pickets walked a street in Cass City. They were in front of the Detroit Edison Co. building on Main Street. Local 17 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers walked off the job Tuesday and the members worked in 4 1/2 hour shifts to picket.

Despite the strike by the linemen, business proceeded normally at the Edison office and without electrical service interruption.

No immediate effects of the walkout will be felt unless the area experiences a severe storm requiring emergency line repair, authorities said. (Chronicle photo)

Canfield Explains Korean Life to Cass City Rotary

Howard L. Canfield, of Detroit Edison Company in Detroit, told members of the Cass City Rotary Club of his 2½ years with the United States State Department in Korea Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Although Korea's electric system is about the same stage as Edison's was 30 years ago, he remarked, it is growing at three times the rate of electric power in the United States today.

During my stay in Korea, he reported, the country was able to lift all restrictions on the use of electricity for the first time. Canfield credited the progress to the work of others who established the basic plants needed for expansion.

My primary job was to show the Koreans how to exploit the use of electricity to generate more usage and a cheaper rate for all, he said.

Canfield told of many of his experiences in Korea. One of the outstanding features of the people, he said, is their concern with education.

There are no public schools in the country and all of the private schools are crowded. Admittance is by competitive exam and Korean families will bankrupt themselves to send a child through school, he explained.

Despite these handicaps, 85 per cent of the people in the country are literate and the percentage is growing every year, according to Canfield.

Other observations by Canfield about the Koreans were that they all possessed the Far East trait of not wanting to "lose face". He also said that they were a very musical nation. Practically everyone in Korea can sing, he claimed.

THE BEAVER WAS LIKE A SUPPLY STORE TO THE INDIANS AND EARLY SETTLERS.

ALMOST EVERY PART OF THE BEAVER WAS USED . . .

FROM THE TEETH, TO ITS TAIL . . .

SKINNED SKIN PRODUCED COAT ROBES AND CLOTHING. THE TANNED NOSE WAS USED FOR DRESSES, LEGGINGS, AND THIMBLES.

POUNDED TEETH WERE USED FOR PLEURISY.

BEAVER HAIR WAS MADE INTO FELT HATS—THEN INTO HATS.

THE FLESH WAS VERY TASTY; THE TAIL CONSIDERED A DELICACY.

CUSTOMER PRODUCED BY GUNDS SERVED AS A FAVORITE FOR BEAVER.

BEAVER LURED THE TRAPPER AND FUR BUYER TO AKA AREA. CIVILIZATION SOON FOLLOWED.

GIANTS-PIRATES Lead after First Week of Season

The first week of the season saw the pre-season favorites for the Little League title come through about as expected as the Pirates and the Giants both won their first two games.

The first game of the season matched the Pirates against the Cubs. The experienced Pirates had little trouble racking up the victory as they won, 22-2. Giants-Tigers

In one of the closest games of the year Tuesday, the Giants nipped the Tigers, 4-1. Rob Alexander struck out all 18 men in the game for the Giants. Jeff Profit hurled a four-hitter for the losers.

Key blow of the game was a two-run double by Carl Zawilinski.

Pirates-Yanks

The Pirates notched their second victory of the season with a 25-2 victory over the Yanks. Greg Eshelman slammed a grand slam home run for the winners and Kim Hopper and Gene Hopper also connected for the circuit. Leading hitters for the Pirates were the Hoppers, each with four hits, and Mark McClorey with three hits. Dennis Little picked up two hits for the losers.

Giants-Yankees

The Giants overpowered the Yankees for their second victory, 19-5. Leading the winners' attack were Fred Klinkman, Craig Helwig and Fred Harbec. Harbec was the winning pitcher.

One Critical Injury In Area Accidents

A Gagetown driver was critically injured in an accident on M-138 and Cass City Road in Columbia township Sunday to mar what was a comparatively accident-free holiday week end on county roads.

Recovering in General Hospital in Bay City is Donald Wildman, 24, of Gagetown, whose car left the road on M-138 and hit a concrete bridge abutment and rolled over.

Tuscola County Sheriff's officials investigated and reported that Wildman was driving alone at the time of the accident.

He suffered head and leg injuries and had a broken arm.

Minor damage was reported when cars driven by Gurnith Rudolph Foedie, 58, of Caro and Alfred Furness, 46, of Deford collided. The accident occurred when Furness failed to see Foedie traveling north on Luder Road. Foedie reported that he observed Furness driving slowly on Deckerville Road and thought he was going to stop at the corner. When he didn't, Foedie said he was unable to stop.

Minor damage was reported to both cars.

One mishap was reported in Cass City. Minor property damage occurred when a car driven by Richard Earnie Spencer, 43, backed from the side of Oak street, near Main street, into the path of a car driven by Helen June Cole, 49, of Cass City. The right front door and fender of the Cole auto were damaged and the back bumper of the Spencer vehicle scratched.

Carriers in Livestock Count

Postmaster Grant Gaspie announced that Cass City rural mail carriers distributed Livestock Survey cards to farmer patrons on their routes last week.

Livestock cards returned by farmers to their carriers will be mailed direct to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service in Lansing, information from each card will then be tabulated and combined with other reports to give indications of changes in livestock on Michigan farms. These indications will be used to establish estimates of the current milk and egg production, the 1966 calf crop, lamb crop, wool production, and spring pig crop as well as plans for fall farrowing.

"If you have found in your mailbox a card titled Livestock Survey, June 1, 1966, don't put it aside. It was placed there by your carrier who asks your cooperation", Postmaster Gaspie said. He urges the card be filled out carefully and returned to the carrier as soon as possible. "It is important that you return the card for your farm since only a given number of farmers received these cards, and your community will be represented according to the number of cards returned," said the Postmaster.

The Want Ads Are Newsy Too

THERE ARE THREE LADIES IN THIS PICTURE who all became grandmothers when 36 years old. This oddity helps to explain why the group was able to gather for a five generation picture Saturday at the Gibbard farm, 10 miles east of Cass City.

The family, front row: Lee Alvin Curtis, seven months; Mrs. Thomas Gibbard, great-grandmother, 55; Mrs. John Gruber, 74, great-great-grandmother.

Hostettler's Hodgepodge

Repetition Is Key to Success

By Marion Hostettler

How many times have you heard a mother say, "Son, how many times do I have to tell you to pick up your clothes?" Human nature being what it is, saying something once is seldom sufficient.

If a political orator has an important message to impart, he knows that he has to keep repeating it over and over. The first time he says something, a few people in the front row may notice what he said. If he says it again in different words, a few more people in the middle of the crowd may catch it. If he illustrates it with a story, others will get the message. But if he wants to put it across to the folks in the back row, he has to keep driving away at it - again and again and again.

The first time I asked for comments about the caption for this column, I got only two definite opinions, both favorable to "Hodgepodge." Then I asked again, and received two delayed opinions. . . both unfavorable. So I'm teetering on the razor's edge again. Morton Orr suggested "Just Rambling." Or how about "Rambling and Wandering?"

About the time I started to write this column, Sally Hunt remarked to me that there is no well-organized curriculum for social workers, but the course of study is a mishmash. Later I thought of calling the column "Mishmash by M. S. H." I looked up mishmash in the dictionary ("a mixture thrown together without coherence") and noticed its synonym "hodgepodge," which seemed to click because it starts with the same sound as Hostettler.

If orators and columnists have to repeat the messages they want to get across, the same is even truer of advertisers. "Repetition is the life of trade." That must be why Keith McConkey, one of our canner merchants, keeps running the want ad that begins, "Now you can rent."

Isabel Schwaderer used to send out letters to several hundred people, inviting them to contribute to the Cancer Fund. One year she wrote letters by hand, and one year she mimeographed them. This year she ran the following ad in the Chronicle for two consecutive weeks:

"CANCER SOCIETY NOTICE—It is impossible for us to send the Annual Cancer Society letters this year. However, friends wishing to donate are urged to send their contributions to me at the address below—Gratefully yours, Isabel Schwaderer, 4645 Kennebec Dr., Cass City."

I'll have to ask Isabel some time whether she had better results from the handwritten letters, the mimeographed ones, or the want ads. . . and whether today's repetition of her message got through to anyone who hadn't noticed the first two insertions.

The coming of spring reminds us of the quotation from the King James Version of the Song of Solomon (2:11,12), "For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

I remember how much better I felt when I learned that "the voice of the turtle" refers not to the mud turtle, but to the turtledove. (The Revised Standard Version eliminates this ambiguity, along with many others. It comes right out and says "turtledove.")

Solomon wasn't the only songster who confused the aquatic and the atmospheric. Betty Jo Agar has never been able to live down the time she heard frogs chirping in the spring and asked, "What kind of bird is that?"

I wasn't really sure that spring had sprung until last Tuesday evening, when the annual madness struck the seventh grade girls who customarily congregate in our back yard. Betsy, Lynn, Mardi, Mary Jane, and Patty all showed up after supper fully equipped for a water fight, with balloons, drinking glasses, and water pistols. They lined up in opposing teams and began to drench one another with water balloons. Somehow the word flashed around town, and soon half a dozen other girls were drawn into the fray. A few boys rode past on bicycles, and willingly or unwillingly they also found themselves in the battle zone. The participants made no mention of their success in venting their aggressions, flouting the conventions of adult decorum, or symbolizing their liberation from parental domination. The way they put it was, "Man, did we have a blast!" Whatever you call it, the event was clearly more important than piano recitals or final exams.

Five Area Women Among Group to Visit Holland

Tuscola County Farm Bureau women had their annual outing Wednesday, May 25, which took them to Holland.

Forty made the trip by chartered bus and Mrs. Stanley Lagos was in charge of the arrangements. The day was spent visiting the wooden shoe factory, Windmill Island, Dutch Village, the museums and tulip lane.

After viewing the tulip farms, the group learned the tulips were to be mowed down the following day. This is done as soon as bloom stage is reached to divert strength to the bulb.

Mrs. Ellwood Eastman, Mrs. Ed Golding, Mrs. Clare Carpenter, Mrs. Rinerd Knobel and Mrs. Lagos, from this area, went on the trip.

The next meeting of the group will be July 1 with a picnic at the home of Mrs. John R. Graham of Caro.

EPILEPSY

"I have heard that epilepsy leads to insanity and again that epileptics are often in the genius class. Which is right?"

A. Neither statement is correct. The idea that epilepsy leads to insanity stems from the time when effective ways to control epileptic seizures were unknown. Epilepsy was then regarded as a completely hopeless condition and sufferers were often placed in mental institutions. While it's true that many great men of history are reported to have been epileptic, there is no scientific evidence that epilepsy is related either to mental dullness or to genius.

STARTING THE PILL AFTER CONFINEMENT

"How soon after confinement should I start taking an oral contraceptive?"

A. It all depends. If a reasonable abstinence interval is observed, it may be satisfactory to wait until the first spontaneous period and then begin "the pill." Otherwise, it would seem best to start the oral contraceptive before leaving the hospital. In any case, discuss the matter with your obstetrician.

New Bulletin for Home Gardeners

Home gardeners will find many helpful hints in the new Michigan State University bulletin "Home Vegetable Garden". Garden procedures such as planting with recommended varieties, successive plantings with use of different varieties to extend the harvest season are discussed along with the proper planting and harvesting dates.

According to Alfred Ballweg, county extension agricultural agent, gardeners not familiar with the large number of vegetable varieties will find the charts on recommended vegetable varieties and vegetable planting dates very useful.

Of special interest to gardeners is the recommendation for control of diseases and insects harmful to garden plants. Proper use of chemical sprays and dusts make the control of these pests much easier. Precautions are also listed to prevent possible injury to persons or animals.

The home gardener will find more helpful information in the MSU Bulletin 529, "Home Vegetable Garden", which can be obtained from the Tuscola County Extension Office at the Courthouse, Caro.

Short lengths of cotton cloth with attractive prints often make many appliques. Cut out the designs to decorate—pillowcases or towels.

IT SEEMS TO ME A Look at Our Development

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

This writer feels that the time has come when an official plan should be developed for the future of our village. Using the intersection of Seeger and Main as our point of reference, let's examine the present types of development in each quadrant of the village. First the southeast section, where attractive small homes have been erected in recent years, and where a similar type of development may continue until stopped by the cemetery. Natural barriers discourage new home construction further south, I believe.

Let's move our attention to the southwest section. Our "industrial park", with its factories, limits growth within the present village limits. However, there are new and attractive small homes along Koepfen road south of Main Street. There are also some small homes along Doerr Road. With co-operation of the township, this could become an area of small, pleasing in appearance, homes.

We invite your attention next to the northwest quadrant of the village. This section can grow only just north of the Hills and Dales hospital, where I have been led to believe the land has already been sub-divided into more than 150 spacious lots. It is to be hoped that this sub-division is to be of such a nature as the Hills and Dales sub, already built. Along Seeger street near the location of the new high school, many believe that the village limits should be changed to include homes already built, as well as the new high school, and the homes that will inevitably be clustered around it. Someone with vision could well erect a sub-division, with privacy, to the north of the athletic fields and to the east of the new school.

If we had available a new zoning map, our merchants and others could build new facilities at locations handier for their customers, and yet not in residential zones. I think that the Village is finding its present growth in the southeast section. When that is filled up, the citizens able, will move into the northwest section. But I could be way wrong. We look to the Village Council to give us a realistic master plan for the entire village and environs or, so "It Seems To Me."

With the announced opening of an automatic car wash, in connection with a new laundromat, local service stations have added out with new car washing facilities. Most of these, coin-operated, supply a measured quantity of soap and water; the car's owner still furnishes the muscle power. One thing about all this new interest in washing cars ought to be that Cass City ought to have the cleanest cars in Michigan! Incidentally, the incident also demonstrates capitalism at work. Or so "It Seems To Me."

Last month, the Rev. Melvin Vender passed on some shocking statistics made public during the Congressional hearings into auto-safety. Recall the figures? 49,000 people annually died on the highways and another 1,800,000 more were severely injured. Lynn Townsend, chief executive of the Chrysler Corporation, testified that "We may never know what makes a man drive dangerously... we may never resolve the problem of the drunken driver." He admitted that researchers credit half of all fatal accidents to drivers who had been drinking! It appears that we can get all worked up about such things as cancer and heart disease, but we have developed a "blind spot" when it comes to the drunk driver! He only killed 25,000 people last year! And, that is just 25,000 deaths too many. It Seems To Me.

Agent's Corner

Barbara Henrikson

If you were asked to budget for $2,000 more or $2,000 less than you make, how would your plan work? This bit of research was carried out with two groups of women: middle class, whose husbands averaged $7,000 a year, and working men's wives where the family income was $5,000.

The blue-collar workers added an average of $5.00 a year to the food budget. The researchers felt this was an indication that Americans don't fear hunger. Food is relatively unimportant to them as a status symbol, though it was the first item planned for in most budgets.

Housing was next. Both classes felt it was of high importance. However, the middle class wife insisted on a house in the "right" neighborhood, preferably new.

Workingmen's wives chose housing at the "decency" level, were not interested in luxuriousness nor the envy it might arouse. The appliances and furniture inside were more important to her.

Middle-class women would sacrifice the labor-saving appliances to be envied on the exterior of the house.

Middle-class women prefer to save through insurance. Blue-collar families through cash savings. The extra money the workingman's wife does get saved, she would like to spend on a "house of our own", appliances, furniture and a new automobile.

Middle-class women more often mentioned the experts, special diets, etc. Workingmen's wives mentioned family preferences, ways to please them. They definitely spend more time in the kitchen to please their men.

Middle-class women feel that they should get into the very best neighborhood that they can afford. It will raise the family standing in the community, they believe.

The workingman's family prefers to stay with people as much like themselves as possible, nice friendly, ordinary people. Anything beyond this would mean being "outclassed".

These groups think differently. They react to different things. But both are important to our way of life.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Back in the good old days, afore the Supreme Court took over the law-making business and started running the country, June was the month for brides. But it looks like this generation ain't got no respect for the traditions of their ancestors. I was reading a piece in the papers yesterday where August was running first in the bride business and June was second.

The wimmen folks was to blame for this disrespect for June on account of they always set the wedding date. I was complaining about this matter to my old lady last night and she allowed as how it was a woman's right to get wed in whatever month suited her fancy and she would prefer not to hear no comment from the men on the subject. I took the hint and sneaked out the back door.

In case you ain't took note of it, Mister Editor, wimmen was gitting to be a major social problem in this country. They was working in them Nevada gambling joints stripped to the waist, running for Governor in Georgia, and Florida.

And I saw where one girl that was graduating from high school reported she aimed to pick out the college that suited her hairdo and had the best record for demonstrating.

I got a heap of sympathy fer that Methodist preacher in one of them big cities the other Sunday. He cancelled his scheduled sermon on "The Women - And What Should Be Done About Them" and replaced it with a discussion on "What To Do About The Devil." I reckon he figured it was advisable to tackle the easier problems afore taking on the tougher ones.

Outside of all this nonsense about wimmen, the papers has been full of interesting items lately. I see, for instance, where General DeGaulle was gitting mighty mad on account of we ain't moving no faster to git our troops out of France. My Pa used to say it didn't take much to make a little child happy or a little man mad.

And I was reading where they was 3,000 students from South Viet Nam that was completing their education in France this June and they had refused to go back home. They was bad needed back home to help educate their countrymen, but they aim to let us do it - and pay fer it. A column writer from Moscow was reporting last week that they was thousands of Russians without shoes. That's what they git fer not being God's chillun and I ain't got no sympathy fer 'em. And Lyndon says soaring prices and wages was going to wreck bur "guidelines." That would be true perviding we had any guidelines.

Yours truly
Uncle Tim

Pvt. Floyd Soldan Completes Course

Army Pvt. Floyd M. Soldan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Soldan of Cass City, completed a light vehicle driver's course at Fort Dix, N. J., May 20.

During the five-week course, Soldan was trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles up to and including the two and one-half ton truck.

The 19-year-old soldier entered the Army in January 1966 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He attended Cass City High School.

RECEIVING A CHECK for $150 as a scholarship to Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo is Kathy Decker, a 1966 graduate from Cass City High School. Miss Decker said that she plans to major in physical therapy, a course that leads to a bachelor of science degree.

Miss Decker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Decker of Cass City.

The scholarship is an award of the Cass City Zonta Club. The presentation was made by Mrs. Dorothy Ballard for the club. (Chronicle photo)

Wierd Accidents Help Swell Auto Death Toll in State

Many Angles
Put every driver in an armored tank and some will still find ways to kill themselves and others on the road, is the contention of some who criticize the Congressional discussions of auto safety.

So many factors are involved in highway safety that it is impossible to place the blame entirely on any, whether it be the roads, the cars, the weather, or the drivers themselves.

The continually rising accident rate is constantly under study in Michigan by several governmental units, among them the State Highway Department.

One of the most recent steps undertaken by the highway unit in a never-ending effort to reduce accidents was the installation last year of "Do Not Enter, Wrong Way" signs on freeway exit ramps. Unbelievable as it might sound to the safety conscious driver, 26 people were killed last year in accidents involving motorists who tried to enter freeways on the one-way exit ramps and found themselves on the wrong side of the road.

In the first three months of this year there were no accidents of this type, as compared with 12 crashes resulting in six deaths in the same period of 1965. The first wrong-way freeway fatality this year occurred in April, signalling a considerable cut in this type of crash for 1966.

Several other safety-related projects also involve the Highway Department.

Lewis Beecher, 51 Dies in Hospital

Lewis Barton Beecher, 51, Bad Axe businessman died Wednesday, May 25, in St. Mary's Hospital, in Saginaw, following a brief illness.

He was born Aug. 26, 1914, in Lansing and moved to Bad Axe with his wife and family in 1932. He was owner of Beecher Electric in Bad Axe for the past 14 years.

Miss Alice Anthes and Mr. Beecher were married Aug. 27, 1949, in Cass City. They lived in Vassar before moving to Bad Axe. He was a member of the First Methodist Church at Bad Axe. Mr. Beecher was also a member of the Bad Axe Lions club.

Survivors are his widow and four daughters, Beverly, Becky, Betty Jo and Bonnie, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Tillie Beecher of Vassar, and one sister, Mrs. Donald Sheffer of Vassar.

Funeral services were held Saturday, May 28, in Bad Axe. The Rev. Jack E. Giguere, pastor of First Methodist Church, Bad Axe, officiated and burial was in the Colfax cemetery mausoleum.

Deford News

Twelve Brownies of the Deford troop 88 marched in the Memorial Day parade in Cass City with their leaders. The Junior Deford troop 149 also participated in the parade.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holcomb were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Alward of Grand Blanc. Memorial Day guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holcomb and family and Carol Alwood of Detroit.

partment. These include the road design itself, lighting, edge-marking, curve reflectors, and, of course, sign posting.

In all, safety expenditures by the department last year totaled $4 million and a greater cost figure is placed on 1966 work designed to keep motoring safe in Michigan.

The Political Bug

The public office bug seems to bite more persistently than the various virus strains prevalent in Michigan. Once a man gets a public position, like a legislative seat, the desire to stay there usually lasts and lasts.

This year, for example, one survey turned up only a handful who did not plan to try again for election to the legislature. These six or seven had their sights set on other offices.

Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on the point of view, the voters are not always inclined to understand this incumbency bug.

Voters two years ago, for example, decided in the primary that 25 House members and 9 State Senators should return to private life although they still had the bug. Then in the general election many more lost their seats to challenging newcomers.

Much of the high turnover in the general election was credited to the Presidential balloting.

This year a relatively high turnover could again be seen, at least in the House, since Gov. George Romney is expected to draw a high vote. Straight ticket voting could restore several House seats to the Republicans on his strength.

In other areas, Republicans are counting on the pendulum swinging them back in this year assuming several Democrats who barely made it in 1964 are more vulnerable despite the incumbency designation.

Several Republicans ousted in the 1964 Democratic sweep will be trying to regain their seats. A few Democrats, beaten in the unusually heavy primary turnover, will also be trying to once again nurture the bug which has bitten them.

Denressing Work?

Critical manpower shortages in the mental health field are sometimes laid to the public sensitivity to mental problems.

Many people say they could not stand to work with the mentally ill because it would be depressing. Those in the field tend to discredit this idea and frequently describe it as just the opposite. Professionals are more likely to see their work as inspiring.

Take Mrs. Doris Keller, a registered nurse who is supervisor of the Ann Arbor day care centers for severely retarded children. For example, the Ann Arbor unit recently sent its first "graduate" into the public school system.

Entry into special education classes of the public schools is beyond the ability of many children participating in day care programs such as that in Ann Arbor, notes Mrs. Keller.

The Ann Arbor child had learned the basic concepts of self care, social adjustment and citizenship and was ready for more advanced work.
