Forecast Light Vote In School Election

Despite a concentrated campaign to get voters to the polls for Monday's school millage election, a light vote is seen by most qualified observers.

From the Editor's Corner

Capitulating to the incessant pleas of my younger daughter, I have been looking around for a horse. . . and incidentally broadening my education.

Very rapidly I've found out about quarterhorses, Morgans, Arabians, grades, three-quarter quarterhorses, pintos, palominos, sorrels and what have you.

I've also learned that anyone with horses is likely to be very happy to show you his entire string and give you a detailed history of each, regardless of whether you are a bona fide customer or not.

In the Thumb area you can purchase most any kind of horse you like. . . at most any price. Over near Pigeon we saw horses ranging from $600 to $2,200. At Bad Axe one is available at $150 and in Uby horses sell from $125 for an 11-year-old mare with a limp to $400 for a gelding only partially broke.

With most of the owners, horses are a sideline and, although I suspect that many of the herd owners make money, invariably they are in the business because they love being around horses.

I've come to the conclusion that most of these fellows like to deal, too. When the talk gets around to price, these fellows pick a price out of the air, quote it and then wait for the dickering with a gleam in the eye.

A real shrewd horseman can take a young colt and describe it in a way that makes you believe that you are buying something in the class of Man of War. Only gentle enough for the six-month-old baby or the 92-year-old grandmother to ride.

The uninitiated in this business has about as much chance as a Republican in AFL-CIO headquarters.

I know that I will buy at the high dollar and sell at the low. It's just a question of how much I'll lose.

topic of conversation was the proposed new school.

Today, the request for $250,000 in additional funds is causing scarcely a ripple in the stream of village affairs.

This lack of interest has school authorities concerned. They are afraid that not enough persons will vote to give a representative cross section of the district.

Supt. Donald Crouse said that his philosophy about the vote is the same today as it was before the original vote when he said, "We want to get as many as possible to the polls and let them decide the issue."

Absent Voters

Through Tuesday noon only five requests for absentee voters ballots had been received. The deadline for securing absentee ballots is 2 p. m. Saturday. These ballots must be returned to the secretary of the school board so that they can be submitted to the election board prior to the closing of the polls.

School authorities have set the mill-rate for the supplemental bond issue at .7 of a mill (70 cents per $1,000) on the state's equalized valuation.

All registered voters in the district who pay either real or personal taxes are eligible to vote on the bonding proposition.

When the original issue for the school was passed last June it was thought that the district would have ample funds to erect a quality building.

But immediately after the bond issue was approved, construction costs started to skyrocket. Before the bids could be let, the increase in costs made it necessary to come to the voters again and ask for $250,000 to complete the building.

Despite the increased costs, the bids received earlier this year were considered favorable, considering market conditions. Bids for the new school figured out at about $17 per square foot. Similar bids for other schools have been averaging $20 per square foot and more, Crouse reported when the bids were reviewed.

Construction Delayed

Anticipating a favorable vote, the school started construction knowing that there would not be enough money to finish the job. With spiraling construction costs they were afraid delaying the contract would result in another bid and a less favorable price for construction.

Construction of the school has been hamstrung by the carpenter's strike. Terms were reached earlier this week and construction can now move full speed ahead.

Crouse estimated that the strike delayed construction by about two weeks.

Whether or not the school will be open in the fall of 1967 as originally scheduled depends on the availability of masons and other construction help.

And, of course, a favorable vote in Monday's election.

Elected Member

Almost forgotten with the interest surrounding the bond vote, is that a member of the board of education will also be named Monday.

Seeking re-election without opposition is Elwyn Helwig. Voters need to be registered members of the school district to vote. It is not necessary to be a taxpayer to vote for a school board member.

Ordinances Put Teeth in Laws

It promises to be a hot Fourth of July in Cass City for anyone celebrating with firecrackers within the village limits.

With the publication of ordinance 61 last week, the village now has a law prohibiting the sale, shooting or possession of firecrackers. Violators can pay a fine up to $100, be jailed for 90 days or suffer both fine and imprisonment.

A second ordinance published this week covers the damage or defacing of public or private property within the village.

The law includes destroying papers, magazines and other printed matter.

The fine is the standard $100 or 90 days in jail or both.

Palm Awarded College Membership

Dick Palm, administrator at Hills and Dales General Hospital, has been awarded a full membership in the American College of Hospital Administrators and will receive his degree Aug. 20, it was announced this week by College authorities.

Palm recently passed written and oral examinations to be awarded full privileges of membership. His degree will be presented at a meeting slated in Chicago.

The College is the professional organization of administrators.

ON HER RETIREMENT, Mrs. Edward Baker was presented with gifts from fellow teachers and from students. Pupils took a collection to purchase the lamp and the teachers gave her the silver plate. Because the students paid for the lamp in a spontaneous good will gesture, it is especially prized by the teacher. (Chronicle photo)

A Challenging Profession

Unions Viewed with Mixed Emotions by Retiring Teacher

In this era of teacher-sanctions, fights between teachers and teachers, teachers and administrators and teachers and school boards, it's rare to find one who can see both sides of today's most explosive problem in education.

One that does is Mrs. Helen Baker of Cass City, a teaching veteran who ended her career at Owendale this spring.

Possibly the reason for her broad view is that Mrs. Baker is a woman who has worn many hats.

She is a teacher, a taxpayer and has served nine years on the Cass City School Board, six of them as president of the board.

"No one can deny," Mrs. Baker said, "that recognition for teachers is long past due, but it's unfortunate that the teachers have to resort to strikes to get it."

Not Good

Mrs. Baker regards as "not good" the current strife in education.

Son Scuttles Scope in Smoke

Howard McMillen didn't receive a birthday present from his wife and family last week even though they had one purchased that was sure to please.

A series of unfortunate events was responsible.

His wife, Nora, decided that this year she would go all out with birthday presents and then make it an even more festive occasion by surprising him with the purchases when the day arrived.

First on the list was a $50 scope for the rifle that he had been eyeing. She bought it. A new scope called for new clothes and Mrs. McMillen plunked down about another $100 for an outfit, including a fancy $25 cowboy shirt.

Armed with the finest birthday gifts in many a year she came home and looked for a place to hide them. After canceling out several spots where he "was sure to look" she spotted clothes waiting for the laundry.

The ideal spot. . . he would never think of touching the laundry. With a quick flip she hid the scope and the clothes with the soiled clothing and everything was set.

Later, when McMillen strolled in, he casually remarked that their young son, Marley, was burning some old clothes and did he have anything that might be still useable?

You guessed it. The scope was ruined by the heat generated when $100 worth of birthday clothes went up in smoke.

"We like to regard ourselves as professionals," but striking seems to me to lower our standards."

What is going to happen and is already occurring, Mrs. Baker asserted, is that there is going to be an irreconcilable breach between the teachers and the administrators.

If you have never served on a school board, you have no idea what the problems can be, she continued. All of these work for nothing and if negotiations get too difficult you are going to have a hard time filling these positions with competent people, Mrs. Baker feels.

"What the answer is, I don't know. The board can't spend money it doesn't have regardless of the demands made."

Despite this problem, Mrs. Baker looks back with pleasure on her years as a teacher.

Although she started teaching in 1925 after she received a BS degree from Michigan State, Mrs.

Mrs. Keating Life Member of Women's Society

A life membership to the Women's Society of Christian Service was presented to Mrs. R. D. Keating in recognition of her long service to the Society and church.

The presentation was made at the final meeting of the year at the church Monday evening.

Mrs. Keating said that she had been a member of the Cass City Society since 1924 and joined the Ladies' Aid of Bethel Church in 1911.

Another highlight of the final meeting was the installation of officers for 1966-67 by Mrs. Dwight Brown of Brown City, former Spiritual Life Secretary of the Port Huron District.

Each officer was presented a colored badge symbolic of her office and her task as emphasized by a Bible verse. Installed were: Mrs. Howard Rexin, president; Mrs. Grant Hutchinson, vice-president; Mrs. Tom Proctor, recording secretary; and Mrs. Philip Brack, treasurer.

Secretaries installed were: Mrs. Roy Chisholm, supplies; Mrs. James Braid, spiritual life; Mrs. William Ruhl, program material; Mrs. Robert Keating, Christian Social Relations.

Group V with Mrs. Roy Chisholm and Mrs. Homer Muniz, co-chairmen, served the buffet dinner at tables decorated with spring flowers.

Baker has relatively few years of service. She taught in Cass City for two years and for three years in Saginaw.

Then her family, a girl, Mrs. Mary Ellen Wilson, and two boys, Robert of Flint and Jim of Cass City, came along and she retired from the ranks until she was requested to help out on a temporary basis in 1952 at Owendale.

She spent about three-quarters of the year at Owendale and asked to be replaced. She stayed away for just the balance of that school year before being persuaded to return the next year, still on a temporary basis. She remained for 13 more years.

Demanding and Enjoyable
Teaching is an enjoyable profession, Mrs. Baker feels. Teachers have to be better prepared today and communications with students may be a little more difficult. But human nature hasn't changed and it was always a thrill for me to be able to get across a point to a student or a class, she explained.

Education has been closely entwined in significant periods of Mrs. Baker's life. She met her husband while he was a student at Ferris Institute and she was at Michigan State.

Her son, Robert, is a college graduate and her daughter is just three credits away from a degree. Jim has more credits than many college grads, but switches in curriculum kept him from getting a degree.

What's ahead for Mrs. Baker? She plans to catch up with the books at Baker Electric and then do whatever the spirit prompts in the coming leisure years.

Set Loss at $5,000 In Area Barn Fire

A loss of $5,000 in a barn fire at the Oscar Seeley residence highlighted three alarms answered by the Elkland Township Fire Department during the week.

The fire razed the barn, a mile east and a quarter of a mile north of Cass City, Tuesday and only fast work by firefighters and Seeley prevented a new house from being devoured by flames.

Seeley poured water onto the roof until the fire department arrived. Called to assist was the Caro Fire Department which helped carry water to the fire.

Cass City Fire Chief Nelson Willy estimated that 9,500 gallons of water was used. Despite these precautions, the roof of the Seeley home was slightly damaged by flames from the barn fire.

At Hills & Dales Hospital

Report Patient Load Up 20%

It has been a busy year at the Hills and Dales General Hospital, stockholders learned at the annual meeting of the non-profit corporation Monday night at the hospital.

Administrator Richard Palm reported that the average number of patients served by the facility jumped from 35.95 to 43.03 for the year.

Although occupancy has been less than the 80 per cent generally considered a maximum load, Palm said that the medical and surgical beds in use during the year have greatly exceeded this figure.

We have four obstetrical beds which are not used much of the time but must be maintained in a separate department. These beds are not used by patients other than babies.

If this department is discounted the hospital's load is running better than 90 per cent of capacity.

The financial report indicated that the hospital is running on a sound financial basis and operating at a profit.

Total number of patients cared for in the hospital jumped from 1,987 to 2,507 for the year and surgical cases also showed an increase from 876 in 1964-65 to 923 in 1965-66.

Stockholders attending quizzed the administrator about the effect of medicare as it concerns long-term care for patients with chronic illnesses.

Palm said that no one knows for sure just what the situation will be, but that the facilities housing these patients would have to be affiliated with an accredited hospital.

The only hospital in Tuscola county that qualifies at this time is Hills and Dales, he explained.

Other Business

In other business, three members of the board of directors were named. Re-elected were M. B. Auten and James Eauer. Willis Campbell was named to replace John Haire, who resigned.

In the organizational meeting that followed the annual meeting, all officers of the board were re-elected.

The officers are: Bauer, president; Alex Ross, vice-president; Mrs. Marjorie Rice, secretary, and Auten, treasurer.

Rev. Schott Accepts Church Post in Pontiac

He will assume the post of youth pastor at the Pontiac United Missionary Church.

While in Cass City, Schott assisted the Rev. Fred Johnson, freeing the senior minister for tasks more directly related to the erection of the new Cass City United Missionary Church.

In the Pontiac church, Schott will direct all youth activities, guiding and training a large volunteer staff.

Rotary Hears of Water Pollution

John Balogh of the Century Water Conditioning Co. of Wisconsin traced the causes and effects of water pollution for members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

He recalled the fights for control of pollution of lakes, rivers and streams on the national and state level and then explained that pollution by the individual property owner may be a harder problem to solve.

We are rapidly reaching the stage where control of major industrial complexes and other water pollution sources are coming under control. . . we have laws to control them.

But the individual septic tank owner is harder to control and may cause pollution of drinking water nearly everywhere.

He explained how wells can become contaminated and the ways of treating water to assure purification.

He recommended that all wells be periodically tested because water that was safe previously may well be polluted today.

The guest was introduced by Program Chairman Ken Eisinger.

Victim's Recovery Slow

Although she was released from the hospital this week, a long road to recovery still is ahead for Mrs. Norman Deneen, 70, who was critically injured in an auto crash nearly six weeks ago.

Relatives of the injured woman are hopeful that a complete recovery can be achieved, but said that no one knows at this time whether recovery will be complete.

Mrs. Deneen is still in considerable pain from injuries to the ribs in the chest and is in a cast from the hip down for a broken leg.

She has had trouble digesting food and received another blood transfusion just prior to leaving the hospital.

Her husband also has a cast on his leg, but full recovery is expected.

The Deneens are now staying with a daughter in Fostoria.

Grant Jones New Trial

Ronald Emory Jones of Caro was granted a new trial this week by Judge James Churchill in Circuit Court in Caro. Jones was serving 3 to 15 years for armed robbery.

He was sentenced earlier this year for picking up Glen O'Connor of Caro and taking him to an abandoned spot outside of the village, beating him up and robbing him of $2. In his request for a new trial Jones said that when he pleaded guilty, he did not know that O'Connor was robbed of the money by an associate until he returned to his car.

Because of this, Judge Churchill granted a trial. Jones pleaded not guilty to the charge and was released on bail.

Three other criminal cases were heard in Circuit Court Tuesday before Judge Churchill.

Edith Carpenter of Route One, Caro, was sentenced for forgery of a check at the Woolworth Co. in Caro. She was placed on six months' probation and fined $100 plus costs of $100. In addition she must pay statutory costs of $10 and make restitution of $41.84.

William E. Strohmaier was sentenced to three years' probation for indecent liberties with a 10-year-old boy. He was fined $200 plus costs of $100. He also must pay $20 statutory costs, all at the rate of $15 per month.

George E. Teeple was found guilty of contempt for non-support. A wage assignment of $30 weekly was established by the court.

Marilyn Fritz was granted temporary support of $15 weekly from Thomas Fritz. Alimony payments of $15 weekly were established, but will end two weeks after Mrs. Fritz goes to work.

THE NEW CASS CITY United Missionary Church will open its doors Sunday for services. Work still remains to be done and the dedication will not be held till late summer or early fall. (Chronicle Photo)

New Cass City Church

First Service Slated Sunday

The new Cass City United Missionary Church will swing open its doors for initial services Sunday even though work on the over $50,000 structure has not yet been completed.

The opening of the church here will mark the end of the Riverside and New Greenleaf United Missionary Churches.

The congregations of the two churches voted to unite to build the new church on Koepfgen Road, a mile west and a half mile south of Cass City.

The first service in the new church will be Sunday School at 10 a. m. Morning worship will follow at 11 a. m. In the evening a youth fellowship is set for 7:15 and a worship service starts at 8 p. m.

According to Assistant Pastor, the Rev. J. Clement Schott, it will be several weeks before construction is completed.

Major work includes the installation of plumbing and heating and landscaping of the area.

Schott said that the church will try to sell the Riverside and Greenleaf church buildings. At Greenleaf two lots will also be offered for sale, authorities said.

The Rev. Fred Johnson is the pastor of the church and will conduct Sunday's services. A special invitation to friends of the church and other interested persons to attend the first services is extended, authorities said.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by H. M. Bulen

When you see a baseball game ten years from now, you'll be looking at a different type of game than the kind you watch now, according to one expert. This expert predicts there'll be a major rule change that will permit offensive and defensive platoons, just as they have now in football. Under this system, the best hitters on a team will only bat and never play in the field; and the best fielders and the pitchers will only play in the field and never bat. Experts feel the game would be improved because fans would never have to watch, for instance, weak-hitting pitchers at bat, or poor-fielding sluggers in the field. They say you would see consistently better hitting and fielding under this system. It's interesting to think about, isn't it?

All sports fans have heard of Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford, Casey Stengel and Duke Snider. But, how many of you know the real first names of these men? Here they are: Yogi's Lawrence Berra, Whitey's Edward Ford, Casey's Charles Stengel and Duke's Edwin Snider.

Shirley Ross

Receives Degree

Shirley Marie Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ross of Cass City, was one of 94 students to participate in commencement exercises at Siena Heights College at Adrian Tuesday, May 31.

Miss Ross received a BS degree and is now employed at Northland-Oakland Medical Laboratory at Farmington.

Miss Ross completed requirements for graduation in December and her course included a year as an intern at Providence Hospital in Detroit.

The graduation address was by Dr. Laurence V. Britt, president, University of Detroit.

The Most Rev. John F. Dearden, DD, archbishop of Detroit, conferred honors on the grads.

Awards Given to

Presbyterian Pupils

Beginning Sunday, June 12, and continuing through Sept. 4, the morning service at the Cass City Presbyterian Church will be at 10 a. m. There will be a nursery at the same hour.

Gold pins were awarded Sunday, June 5, by Mrs. Edward Golding Jr., director of the Chapel Choir, to seven members who had perfect attendance records during the past season: Marlene Chapman, Mary Jane Croft, Mary Golding, Betsy Hostetter, Linda Koepfgen, Susan Koepfgen and Susan MacDonald.

Promotion certificates were given to church school pupils and Bibles were presented to those entering the Junior Department: Scott Ackerman, Andrew Auten, John Ballard, David Hillaker, Nancy Koepfgen, Randy Lapeer and James Seals.

A strip of elastic at intervals of several inches across the front of dresser drawers will hold bottles and the like. This prevents possible spilling and keeps the drawers neat.

Plenty of Work Ahead for New Cass City Police Vehicle

There is a new police car patrolling the streets of Cass City. According to present plans of Chief Carl Palmateer the new car will be even busier than the one it replaces.

With the addition of a third man, Jim Jezewski, to the force, Palmateer explained, the new car will average 5,000 miles per month.

The previous car logged 65,000 miles while on duty for two years in the village.

The new car has special engine features for its work in the department. It features a 361-cubic-inch engine with 280 horsepower. A four-barrel carburetor can be added for even greater horsepower, according to the police chief.

The department anticipates more work when parking meters are installed in Cass City's business district and Palmateer is arranging a new schedule to better serve the community.

When Jezewski is trained, members of the department will work six days and then have two days' vacation.

The new program will provide 24-hour police protection, Palmateer concluded.

A Memory Like A Computer?

By Marion Hostetter

A friend handed me this quotation: "Ours is an age that is proud of a computer that seems to be able to think, but is suspicious of a man who seems to be thinking." Another thought: If a computer is "almost human" it should be allowed to make an occasional mistake, because "to err is human." Some computers have memory systems in which they can store data. But I suppose it would take a computer the size of the Pentagon to have as sophisticated a memory as the one that comes free with every baby.

One of the most remarkable memories I have ever encountered belongs to Mrs. Neil Fletcher. Last year when a committee from her church was assembling information about all those who had ever been members (in preparation for the Cass City Area Centennial), Mrs. Fletcher astounded everyone by her well-nigh infallible recollection of friends who formerly lived here. Given the name of any person, she could name his parents, his spouse, and his children—usually in the correct order.

There are two ways of obtaining a broad understanding of human life: either keep traveling! all parts of the world for many years, or stay put in one place and watch the world pass in review before your eyes. Elizabeth Copland Fletcher has stayed put in this vicinity for 78 years. Her mother died when Elizabeth was sixteen years of age, and she withdrew from school to be the housekeeper for her father and the younger children in the family. Even though her formal schooling was limited, she observed the passing scenes of the human drama so attentively that she soon acquired the ability "to see life steadily and see it whole."

Her parents had come from Scotland by way of Canada, and had settled northwest of town in 1887. One time her mother helped to paper a house on the farm where Clarence Merchant now lives. For pay she received two setting hens. She managed to secure two settings of eggs and put them under the hens. One setting turned out quite well, but only a few chicks hatched from the other. Mrs. Copland, being inexperienced in such matters, got another nestful of eggs and put them under the second hen at once. The eggs hatched all right, but the strain of sitting still so long was too much for the poor hen, and she passed to her eternal reward, leaving all those chicks with nobody to keep them warm. And I had supposed that being a setting hen was the next to the easiest job in the world!

A toast for a poultrymen's banquet: "Here's to the American hen. May her son never set!"

REPEAT MUMPS

Q. If a person has mumps on one side is it possible to have an attack later on the other side?

A. Probably not. Mumps produces some general immunity or protection against subsequent attacks but the degree of immunity is not as great as that following such diseases as measles or chicken pox. Regardless of the extent of immunity, mumps is not likely to be localized. Therefore, development of mumps "on the other side" probably never occurs.

FINGERPRINT LIKENESS

Q. Is it true that no two fingerprints are ever alike?

A. The probability of two persons having identical fingerprints is estimated to be about 1 in 64 billion. Man's awareness of the patterned ridges on his fingers and palms goes back thousands of years. The most famous fingerprint designs are carvings on the walls of Neolithic burial passages on an island off Brittany.

Allot $1 Million for State's Growing Scholarship Program

Michigan's state-sponsored scholarship program is progressing much the way it was anticipated in 1964.

It started at $500,000 that year and higher education officials hoped to boost the legislative appropriation to $1 million the following year. This year $1.6 million in scholarships were awarded under the competitive program.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley said nearly 10,000 scholarships have been awarded since the start of the program. Some 4,221 of these were awarded this spring for fall college enrollment.

Students are selected for the financial assistance under the program primarily on the basis of need. Amounts of the scholarships vary, from $30 to $800, depending on the individual need and costs at the school the applicant plans to attend.

Demonstration of college ability is also required.

Polley's office said this year's scholarships went to students planning to attend 82 different institutions in Michigan, including both public and private colleges and universities and some community colleges.

Moving Along
A young man on the way up is the description given William G. Milliken since he was first elected to the State Senate in 1960 from the Traverse City district.

His father served in the Senate before him and Milliken came in with the energy instilled in youth who has closely observed the legislative process.

He quickly became one of the leaders in the Senate group dubbed the Moderates, who had their difficulties but also won some important victories and great influence in the 1961 and 1962 sessions.

Even in his first term in the Senate, there were many observers who predicted Milliken would rise to the Governor's chair one day. Now he is just one step, and potentially less than four years, from that spot.

Gov. George Romney surreptitiously tapped Milliken as his running mate in 1964 when the new Constitution provided that the chief executive and Lieutenant Governor run on a team ticket. Reorganization of state government this year gave Michigan's No. 2 man a few important responsibilities in addition to presiding over the Senate.

Now Romney has once again given him the nod for what appears to be an almost certain second term, this one for four years under the Constitution.

With more and more national attention being given to the Governor's potential in national politics in 1968, and Romney hedg-ing carefully with every word of comment, Milliken stands in the best possible spot to step into the No. 1 spot to fill out an unexpired term.

An incumbency label and a short period of getting used to the job are strong factors to broadcast when running for office.

Repeat Performance
Proof that Michigan Week is fast becoming a year-round promotional effort came quickly from the Greater Michigan Foundation office in Lansing this year.

The 1966 observance ended May 21. Three days later the Foundation, which sponsors the annual brag week, put out a news release noting that the same theme will be carried by the 1967 event.

It will be the third year that the theme "Michigan: Dynamic in World Progress" will be used. Theme Committee Chairman Michael Radock, a University of Michigan vice-president, said the impact of the theme and demand from local organizations led to the decision to use it again.

It's a tribute to many thousands of committee workers that the 1967 event planning is already under way.

Radock said announcement of the theme at this time was contrived to get citizens to use it actively throughout the months before next year's official observance. The theme is frequently used during Michigan Week on business letterheads, postage meters and other printed matter.

"Tens of thousands of summer visitors from all over the nation and many parts of the world will be our guests during the next three months and all of us should help show Michigan's advantages and friendliness to them," said Radock. "This theme gives us both inspiration and opportunity."

THE ANNUAL GRANT of $50 to a Cass City resident made by the Cass City Business and Professional Women went this year to Miss Peggy L. McConnell who plans a practical nursing course at Midland General Hospital in September.

Presenting the grant is Mrs. Lorraine O'Dell while Miss Katherine Crane and Miss Betty Carner watch.

In Nursing Course

Miss Arlene O'Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Dell of Cass City, has started training in the Midland Hospital School of Practical Nursing.

Miss O'Dell, one of 15 students selected to start classes in March, has received her cap for completion of the first three months' study. She will receive classroom instruction as well as actual experience in patient areas for application of nursing practices.

The Midland Hospital's School of Practical Nursing was approved in July 1961.

BOOK REVIEW

A Long Book That Could be Shorter

By the Rev. R. J. Searls

Do you remember way back in the days before the War, (WWII), when if you wanted to be in on the conversation, (there was as yet no television so reading and conversation, both were more important) you read books like John Gunther's Inside series. There was Inside Europe, Inside Great Britain, Inside Russia, and many more. Then Gunther wrote a very sensitive little book about the untimely death of his son, Death, Be Not Proud. I haven't read anything from Gunther's talented pen since then. He was, during the Inside era, basically a journalist.

Now Mrs. Little sent to this reviewer The Lost City by John Gunther. Published in 1964, this novel is built around the newsmen in Vienna in the days immediately before the Nazi invasion of Austria. While the novel is 594 pages in length, it is enjoyable throughout.

Ostensibly the book recounts the life of an American foreign correspondent, Mason Jarrett, assigned to the famous old city, and his wife, Paula. These two are very much in love. Having married only a short while before the story begins. One thread of the many woven together to make this into a good novel, traces their love story as the earth-shaking events change the entire world. Not a moralist, Gunther describes the extra-marital affairs of each. But, unlike many modern novelists, Gunther, correctly, does not build the entire plot around these sex incidents.

The newsmen covering the European developments met informally each day at one of the popular eating spots; ordinarily they were joined there by their wives, who frequently served as combination secretary and leg man for their correspondent-husbands. If one of their number was absent from Vienna when a story broke, his fellow-correspondents "covered for him" - sent stories to his paper in his name. This was true even on stories dug out by the reporter covering. This sort of thing is still the practice among newsmen today.

The depression of the 1930's was made evident by the strict economies laid down by the newspapers at home. Some of them fired their staffs in foreign countries entirely. The utter helplessness of some of the correspondents was duplicated, of course, in other news centers, including many in America.

Meanwhile, the mood of Austria changed. More and more the current of change in Austria became evident. In Germany, one Adolf Hitler was rising fast, capitalizing on (among other things) anti-Jewish sentiment.

Mason and Paula became parents, something to which they had aspired all their married life. Almost as if his birth were the signal, military action comes to Vienna. Mason, who had trained with a unit of the Austrian forces, mans a machine gun; his wife and his son have earlier been taken by the government to a place of safety.

With one or two over-drawings of some character, the novel reads like prose - entirely readable and entirely credible. My only objection to the tale was that, having given us the background of much of World War II we are told nothing of the war years at all. Instead, we are given a chapter, suddenly, where Mason and Paula Jarrett are living comfortably in California. Mason, now 60, has written two highly successful books. Their son Richard is married to a twice-married girl with two children. And we are given one-sentence up-datings on their friends should take place!

I have omitted, because of space limitations, accounts of people who make the book interesting. While, as I have said about other large books, this book could well be much smaller without losing any of the plot, unlike most books that I write that about I must admit that I don't know where the cutting should take place!

The Lost City, by John Gunther, Harper & Row, New York, 1964. Available from the Elkland Township and Cass City Library.

A paste of cream of tartar and peroxide applied with a stiff brush will help remove the discoloration left by a dripping faucet on a sink or bathtub.

VOTE JUNE 13TH

A "YES" VOTE WILL:

1. Provide funds to Complete the construction and equip the new High School
2. Provide sufficient funds so the building will be of high quality, with low maintenance.
3. Enable the School District to take advantage of the bids submitted in April, which would undoubtedly be higher now, and are valid only until July 26th.

A "YES" Vote on the request for an additional $250,000 means an increase of only .7 mill (seven tenths of a mill per thousand dollars of State Equalized Valuation), or an increase of only $3.50 on property with a market value of $10,000. Surely a small price!

Village of Cass City Council Proceedings

June 6, 1966
A regular meeting of the Village of Cass City Council was held on Tuesday, May 31, 1966 at 7:30 p. m. in the Municipal Building. All members were present.
Minutes of regular and one special meeting were read and approved as read.
A delegation from the Lutheran Church was present to discuss the possible annexation of their property along the east village limits to the village. When the church board has made a final decision on this matter, they will take steps to present a petition for annexation.

Resolution adopted on motion made by Trustee Rawson and supported by Trustee Freiburger to act upon written requests submitted by the school board and Alice Donahue to annex the property owned by them adjoining the present village limits to the north. Petition shall be submitted to the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors by the village president to approve this annexation. Notices shall be posted as provided by statute, Yea-6. Nay-0. Motion carried.

Motion made by Trustee Rawson and supported by Trustee Baker to accept the preliminary plat of Hills & Dales no. 3 as approved by the Planning Commission. Yea-6. Nay-0. Motion carried.

Mr. Rodney Krueger of Anrod was present to request consideration of a fire hydrant and the extension of water and sewer services to the southwest corner of Section 33 adjacent to Doerr Rd. for the purpose of servicing a proposed new building at that location. Inquiry was made as to what portion of the costs of such work would be borne by the Village. As a revision of village practices in this regard is being considered no estimate could be given at this time.

Dump Committee had no report. It was reported that petitions for black-topping the alleys and areas behind buildings in the first two alleys west of Seeger north and south of Main St. are almost completed.

Agent's Corner

Barbara Henrikson

Children have to learn early what to do with inconsistencies. One day mother takes him downtown and buys him candy, the next day she insists that they stay home.

The way the mother handles this situation and the multitude of other inconsistencies that develop in a child's life can and does shape his adult personality.

There are three major reactions to inconsistencies. One is that the child becomes positive that there is no way of predicting what will happen.

The mother who never plans ahead, never lets him help plan the shopping list just forces the child to think some supernatural force, "Luck", "Fate", etc., decides the trip downtown.

A second child figures out that disappointment is always bound to come. Mother tells him about the trip and that he can go if he's a good boy. In his excitement he spills his milk, or wets his pants, or gets his shoes dusty. No trip. He can't read her standards.

A third child determines to believe the best and not to think about trouble. His mother is fire and ice, a perfectly balanced ideal or when she doesn't reach her standard, a screaming meany.

He can't face her bad side, so he doesn't think about it, doesn't plan what to do if that side shows up.

Most people show more than one of these ways of dealing with reality, which is mainly inconsistencies.

Looking for arrowheads - who knows what will happen. Taking care of his clothes - mother is impossible to satisfy. Going fishing with dad - let's not even think about the predicted rain.

The attitudes, emotions, skills and worries a person develops in childhood stay with him throughout life. It is rare for major personality changes to take place in adults. One of the three patterns usually grows and becomes stronger with each year.

Next time your little one asks "Can we go uptown today?" remember that your answer is one more blow in the sculpturing of your child's personality.

All of us need to be shaken up occasionally - by a friendly hand.

In order to have curtains starched exactly alike when laundering, do the starching in the washer. Fill the tub with lukewarm water and stir in the concentrated starch solution. Add the curtains and continue as for rinsing.

Fireman E. O'Henley Aboard Destroyer In the Atlantic

Fireman Edward J. O'Henley, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. O'Henley of Route 1, Cass City, was standing by to help in the recovery of Gemini (GTA-9) astronauts and spacecraft with Task Force 140 in the Atlantic aboard the destroyer USS Robert L. Wilson.

Special equipment had been installed on the Wilson to facilitate handling of the spacecraft during recovery operations. The crew has undergone extensive training in spacecraft recovery techniques since selection for this mission.

Normally operating as a unit of the Atlantic Fleet's Destroyer Force, Wilson will return to this duty following the Gemini mission.

Why a strike against Edison?

• Some Unpublished Details of Edison's Proposal to Local 17, IBEW

A strike against Detroit Edison has been called by Local 17 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, representing 747 of our 9500 employees. About 450 of the men on strike are linemen.

Background of the Dispute

The current contract expired May 30. Since April 7, union representatives have discussed, in many meetings with the company, terms of a new two-year contract.

The union is asking for 20 per cent more in cash and benefits, effective immediately.

The company offers a 10.3 per cent increase in cash and benefits—5.6 per cent in June 1966 and 4.7 per cent in June 1967.

This is well in excess of the 3.2 per cent guidelines urged on industry and labor by the Federal administration.

The union has rejected this offer.

The Edison Linemen Are Well Paid

Edison linemen are currently paid a base rate of $8380 a year—guaranteed. There are no layoffs, and overtime is frequent. Of our 4500 linemen, 355 made over $11,000 in 1965.

The hourly rate for our linemen, before the offered increase, is $4.03 an hour. This is 15 to 25 cents an hour more than comparable skilled tradesmen earn working for representative steel, auto manufacturing and refining companies, and other major employers in Metropolitan Detroit.

Our lineman rate is 30 cents an hour more than the average lineman rate of the three major electric companies close to Detroit.

In addition, so-called "fringe benefits" cost Edison $1.06 an hour—$2200 a year—per employee. This includes life insurance, pensions, health and major medical-surgical insurance, and pay for time-not-worked (holidays, vacations, sickness, personal affairs). Edison's fringe benefits are well above the Metropolitan Detroit average.

Edison's Offer Is Fair and Reasonable

In Metropolitan Detroit the cost of living has gone up 7.4 per cent since January 1, 1961 (Federal Index of April 1966). In that time Edison's base rate to linemen has increased by 16.6 per cent, not including our present offer.

Edison is proud of its linemen. Theirs is often difficult work. We believe they should be well paid. They have been and, with our offer of $4.165 per hour, they will continue to be.

At the same time, this company is regulated by the Michigan Public Service Commission so far as rates and earnings are concerned. We have a continuing responsibility to serve customers well and at a reasonable cost.

Why, then, a strike against Edison?

Mrs. Stanley S. Gucwa Jr.

Saint Agatha Catholic Church, Gagetown, was the setting for the wedding ceremony May 14, which united Miss Sylvia Ann Lubaczewski and Stanley Steven Gucwa Jr.

The Reverend Fr. John Kreuse of Assumption Parish, Detroit, uncle of the groom, officiated at the 11 o'clock wedding for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lubaczewski of Gagetown and the son of Mrs. Mary Gucwa and the late Stanley Gucwa Sr., Bad Axe.

Baskets of white gladioli and feathered mums decorated the church altars.

The bride approached the altar with her father. Her gown, a controlled silhouette fashioned of silk organza over taffeta with imported Alencon lace motifs, featured a jewel enhanced scalloped neckline, a fitted bodice, wrist-point sleeves and a belted skirt. A detachable Watteau train also complimented the gown.

A forehead headress of lace and pearls secured the bouffant veil. She wore a gold locket, a gift from the groom.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with a removable corsage of feathered mums and red roses. Red streamers hung from the bouquet. Following the mass services the bride placed long-stemmed red roses at the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Mrs. Ray Toohy was the organist and Janet Zuraw of Gagetown was soloist. There were 150 guests present in the church.

Acting as maid of honor was Dianne Lubaczewski of Gagetown, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Nancy Kelly of Gagetown, Rose Ann Gucwa of Detroit, Theresa Gucwa of Bad Axe, Judy Heckman of Gagetown and junior bridesmaid was Tina Dziengowski of Caro.

They wore floor-length gowns in a rainbow of colors; orchid, aqua, pink, blue, mint green and maize. The gowns featured snug lace bodices, satin matching cummerbunds and full sheer skirts. Matching rose headpieces and face veils completed their ensembles. They carried colonial bouquets of mums which matched their dress colors.

The flower girl wore a white floor-length organza party dress with orchid trim and matching headpiece. She carried a basket of orchid mums.

John Gucwa of Bad Axe, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Gucwa of Alaska, home on furlough, Steve Daeffs of Detroit, Joe Gucwa of Clawson and Tom Gucwa of Bad Axe. Junior groomsmen was Wally Lubaczewski of Gagetown and ring bearer was Michael Kulish, nephew of the groom. Ushers were Steven Karpovich and Robert Stenlak.

The groomsmen wore carnations tinted to match the bridesmaid dresses. The groom's boutonniere was a red rose.

The bride's mother chose a dusty rose lace dress with matching jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was of feathered white mums and red roses. The groom's mother wore a blue brocade dress with blue and black accessories. Her corsage was of feathered white mums and red roses.

Mrs. Ann Lutomski and Mrs. Martha Lubaczewski, grandmothers of the bride, wore corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremonies a wedding breakfast was served at the Dom Polski Hall, Caro, to 150 relatives and friends. The reception was held in the evening at the hall.

Upon returning from a 10-day wedding trip through the southern states and Florida, the couple will reside in Sandusky.

The groom is a construction inspector with USDA Soil Conservation Service.

Miscellaneous showers were given by the bridesmaids and aunts, Mrs. Stella Gucwa and Mrs. Della Gucwa of Ubyly.

If you like waste-paper baskets that are different, buy plain ones, paste decals on the sides, and give all a coat of clear shellac.

To polish a floor successfully, make sure all soap and detergent has been removed before wax is applied.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

My latest pamphlet from the Department of Agriculture came last week and they was a article in it saying the food surplus in this country was gitting cut down to almost nothing. The piece said a real bad crop year would run us short of wheat for our own use.

I bring this matter up at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doshittle claimed if we didn't stop our food giveaway program to them foreign countries we was fixing to change places with the folks we was trying to help.

Zeke Grubb reported he had saw a piece in his farm magazine where they was a shortage of blackeyed peas in this country right now. Zeke claimed blackeyed peas and hog meat had held America together fer 200 year and we better quit giving 'em away immediate.

I don't know, Mister Editor, what the answer is to the nation's problem. We start out paying millions to git farmers to cut down on crops, more millions fer storage of the surplus crops they was raising, and now we was running short. Actual, fer 20 year the Government has been running the farm program on a guessing basis. They ain't nobody in Washington, it seems, that knows nothing about the problem. But ever administration comes up with a new answer, and it's always wrong.

Clem Webster said Saturday night the Government couldn't even do its own farming with any sense. He said he was reading a piece where the Navy Academy in Annapolis had a typhoid fever scare back in 1911 and started its own dairy so's the students would git untainted milk. This scare disappeared 40 year ago but they was still running their own dairy and milking their own cows at the Academy. The General Accounting Office figured out the other day, reported Clem, that they could buy milk of the same quality from local dairies at a savings to the taxpayers of $84,000 a year.

Bug Hookum come up with the best answer to the problem I've saw anywhere. Bug said Saturday night our Congressmen knowed about all the millions we been wasting fer years, come home to mend their fences and complain about it, but they ain't done nothing about it in the last 30 year.

Bug allowed as how the answer to the whole problem was to elect a Congressman fer six month terms. If he didn't do nothing in six months, git a new one, and keep rotating 'em ever six months till we git some results. And he was in favor of electing Senators on a one-year basis and make 'em come home ever year and give account of themselves. If you like this idea, Mister Editor, you might give it a editorial whirl.

Yours Truly,

Uncle Tim

Letter to Editor

The Chronicle welcomes letters to the editor. In most instances letters will be printed in full. However, the paper reserves the right to edit letters to fit space requirements. All letters must be signed.

The Editor,
Cass City Chronicle,
Cass City, Michigan,
Dear Sir:

The School Board solicits your
"YES" vote June 13th on the proposed .7 mill increase, which will provide the $250,000 to complete and furnish the new High School.
This additional amount is required for the following reasons:

1. Since approval of the original
Bonding last Spring, Building
Costs have risen conservatively 20 per cent, after having remained roughly the same over a period of 5 years. So, this increase was not predictable, and, we did not expect to have to request an additional amount.

2. Were the Bids being taken now, they would be higher than in April, as evidenced in Newspapers, on Radio and Television.

3. Your School Board acting on the best advice available chose to accept the Bids as quoted in April for the basic Building, Mechanical and Electrical Contracts, so construction could start.

4. Action was deferred on the Furniture and Equipment Bids pending action on the needed additional millage. We sincerely feel if these bids are rejected, and they are valid only till July 26th, 1966, they will almost certainly be higher next time. And, there must be a "next time" for the School must be built and furnished.

5. This amount (.7 mill) will increase your tax only $3.50 per ten thousand of valuation. A small price under present conditions.

Your School Board has, it feels,
acted in the best interest of all.

We ask a "Vote of Confidence" so we may proceed to build the quality High School we are sure you want. We hope to act so 40 years from now the People will feel we acted wisely and with forethought as did the Board in 1926.

Be sure to VOTE June 13th!!!!
Sincerely yours,
H. M. Bulen, President
Cass City School Board.

Bean Queen Contest Under Way in County

Farm Bureau, Grange, farmers' club groups and others have been asked to encourage qualified candidates to get their nominations in for the Tuscola County Bean Queen Contest, which will be held in conjunction with the 1966 Tuscola County Fair July 31-Aug. 6, advises Fred Black of Akron, County Bean Queen Committee chairman.

Applications for interested candidates are available through area Farm Bureau, Grange, farmers' clubs or other groups. They are also available through the county Farm Bureau office and the Co-operative Extension office in Caro.

At a meeting of the Bean Queen Committee, it was decided July 16 should be the deadline for entering the contest. Contestants will be called together on the evening of Monday, July 25, for a meeting with the judges and a lunch is furnished through the courtesy of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau.

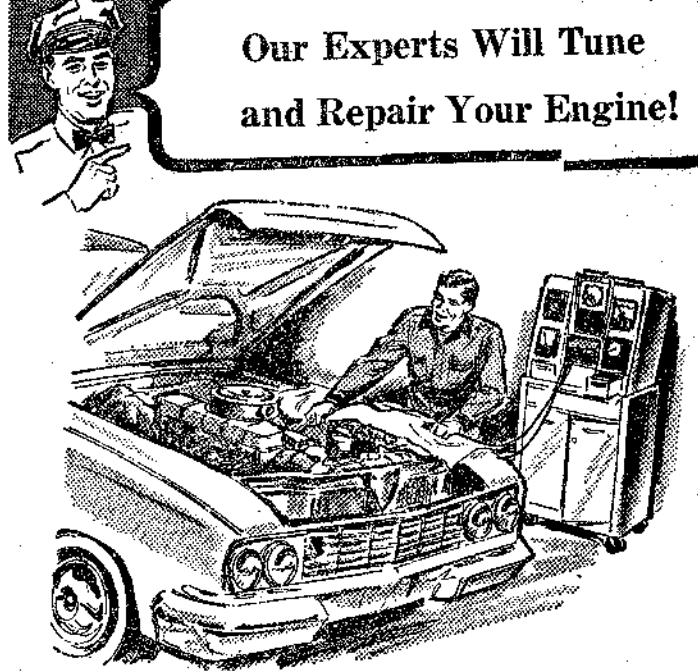

The following Monday evening, Aug. 1, the opening day of the Tuscola County Fair, the Bean Queen Contest will be a part of the evening program.

Interested ladies are asked to contact local groups to enter the contest. Contestants must be unmarried and a farmer's daughter who has or is now growing beans. Age limitation is 17 to 25 years, inclusive. County bean queens of previous years are not eligible.

For the past number of years, Tuscola county elevators have co-operated in providing funds to help finance the contest, as well as to provide cash awards for all of the Bean Queen participants, said Mr. Black.

Other members of the County Bean Queen Committee are Fred Bach of Akron, Elmer Kupsel of Millington, Roy Hickey of Fairgrove and John Graham of Caro.
