

Plan for Improved School Parking

A new hard-surfaced parking area on Rose street, from Oak street to the east of the Willis Campbell Elementary building, will probably be constructed this summer.

This conclusion was reached after Supt. Donald Crouse and Board Member William Ruhl appeared before the council and asked that the parking area along the side of the street be hard-surfaced as both a better parking area and a safety factor for the children.

The two school representatives asked what might be done by the council to correct the situation.

An estimate of costs indicate that blacktopping of the parking area will cost some $2,000. Drainage and earth moving are estimated at another $1,000.

The council agreed to handle the drainage if the school pays for the blacktop.

While the work is being completed, the village will add a seal coat of tar over the roadway to preserve the surface which is breaking up in several spots.

Bay City Man Killed in Crash

Alex Leonard Nelson Jr., 31, of Bay City became the 13th traffic fatality of the year in Tuscola county when he was instantly killed Friday night when his car left Bay City-Forestville Road, at Colwood road, five miles west of Gagetown.

A passerby discovered the car in the ditch at 11:30 p. m. They said that they had passed the scene about an hour earlier and did not see the car.

Tuscola County Deputy George Baird, who investigated, said that the car followed a shallow ditch for a short distance and then crashed into an embankment of Colwood Road.

Stewardess Fran Hunter Reveals

Plane Work Is Just Plain Work

The beautifully printed brochures paint a radiant picture of the glamorous life of the airline stewardess. . . the opportunities to see the world, meet fascinating new people at fascinating places and to do all the rest of the exciting things that happen to girls who are selected to fly the nation's airlines.

Beautiful Frances Hunter of Gagetown was one of the chosen few to make the grade and has been flying for United for 10 months.

Is the life of the stewardess like it is painted?

"Well, it is not the way I thought it would be at all," said the poised and articulate daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hunter last week as she visited home on one of her week ends off.

In the first place, according to

Frances Hunter

Miss Hunter, the work is hard and time for sight-seeing limited.

While the number of hours that any girl works is carefully regulated. . . not over eight hours of work in any one day and a limited amount of hours flying per week, a flight can still ruin the entire day.

The type of flight that the girl is assigned to can make a world of difference. Flights are set each week and the girls bid on them in order of seniority.

A new girl would have no chance to pick up a choice flight. . . one with, say, a 24-hour layover at San Francisco, Miss Hunter explained.

You are more apt to leave at 7 in the morning. . . which means that you get up at 4:30 a. m.

Rose is a "major" street in the village, according to the village's major-minor classification and there is money for this work.

The school has not yet confirmed the agreement, but approval is expected to be a formality when the board meets July 5.

New Water Main

The village also revealed plans for a new route for the sewer and water through property owned by Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Donahue. The route is designed to give maximum use of the land for future subdividing. The new route is slightly longer than the previous one. The plan is under study by the school and the Donahues.

Three of Four Alleys Set for Blacktop Work

The committee in charge of securing petitions from businessmen concerning blacktopping private property in conjunction with the alley pavement said that general agreement in three of the four blocks slated for construction this year has been received.

Reporting Tuesday night at the regular council meeting at the Municipal Building, owners of the property on the alleys from Seeger to West on the north and from Seeger to Leach on the south side of Main street have agreed to terms, the committee said.

Owner consent to private blacktopping has not been received from enough owners adjoining the alley from Leach to West, south of Main.

According to the terms specified by the council, 80 per cent of the lineal feet of private business property abutting the alleys must be surfaced at the owner's expense before the village blacktops the alley.

CHARRED TIMBER, TWISTED METAL and a skeleton of cement were all that was left of a 4600-square-foot barn after it was razed by a seven-hour fire Sunday morning on the farm of Leslie Hurd, Gagetown. The loss in the fire was estimated at $100,000. (Chronicle photo)

From the Editor's Corner

I listened to a good-natured discussion the other day about Cass City. One of the businessmen was pointing with pride to the progressive strides that Cass City has taken in its business district. The other said that we were lagging behind.

And, strangely enough, both men produced valid arguments supporting their position.

The "striding ahead" man pointed to the many parking lots, new lights and general business activities as indicators of progress.

The man who said we lagged pointed to the buildings on Main Street. Most of these are already obsolete, he said, and several of them have been empty for several years.

The buildings are, undoubtedly, old, but the business district shows strength. Just this spring three new businesses have opened, and a couple of more have expanded.

Perhaps what concerns many persons in the village is that the business growth is not quite as outstanding as the growth of other segments of the community.

The community's efforts that have resulted in the park, the hospitals and the industrial and residential growth have been outstanding.

It is true that our business activity pales when measured by this yardstick, but it brightens considerably when measured against business in other Thumb non-county seat communities.

But unfortunately, more and more of the business competition will come, not from the competitor across the street, but from the business in the larger county seat community.

It's one of the best reasons I know of to join the Chamber of Commerce and support activities designed to promote Cass City.

For when the town is promoted, inevitably every business is helped. And when business prospers, so does the community.

You can't have one without the other.

Soft Water Key to Car, Clothes Wash

Soft water is the key to both the laundry and the car wash, according to Roy Davis, Bad Axe, owner of the new combination Wash King Laundry and Robo Car Wash, which has slated its grand opening this week end.

The new business, at the corner of Main and West streets, has been under construction for several months.

One of the unusual features of the new concern is its water softener system and its water heating system.

We can raise the temperature of 90 gallons of water 100 degrees in one minute, guaranteeing us an inexhaustible supply of hot water, Davis explained.

The Robo car wash features a device that circles a car four times in two minutes. . . twice with a soap solution and twice with rinse water.

We keep a constant check on the water to keep it at zero degree hardness. It's the key to cleaning cars and clothes, the new owner feels.

To acquaint persons with the facilities, a grand opening has been scheduled Friday and Saturday.

Five free prizes will be given and free use of the new water extractor is offered during the opening celebration.

Seek Cause of $100,000 Fire At Leslie Hurd Farm Sunday

Investigation by the State Fire Marshall has not revealed the cause of the $100,000 fire that leveled a barn and several buildings Sunday at the Leslie T. Hurd farm, about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Gagetown on Huron Line Road.

Bad Axe State Police said Tuesday that they are waiting for the Hurd's hired man, William Harvey Briggs, to return so that they can talk to him about the fire.

Hurd reported that there was not nearly enough insurance to cover the loss. Lost in the blaze was a 4,608 square-foot barn, plus two smaller barns. A milk house and oil shed were badly charred.

"The barn was ready to tumble down when I first saw it at 3 a. m.," recalled Mrs. Hurd with tears in her eyes. ". . . the wind was blowing hard towards the neighbors. I thought they were going to be next."

But the north wind suddenly switched to the east and took with it parts of the milk house and oil shed and endangered their home.

One Critically

Two from Gagetown Injured in Mishaps

Two Gagetown persons were injured, one critically, in separate accidents reported during the week.

Calvin Arthur Diebel, 29, of Gagetown is in critical condition from injuries suffered when his motorcycle left Bay City-Forest-ville Road, a half mile west of Gagetown Saturday at 2 a. m. Judy McPhail of Cass City discovered the injured man in a ditch and reported the accident.

He was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital and later transferred to a Saginaw hospital for treatment.

He was reported to have suffered a possible fractured neck and a skull fracture.

Bad Axe State Police said that the motorcycle left the highway and flipped over, throwing the driver into the ditch.

Mrs. Diebel, wife of the injured man, was reported to have become the mother of a new baby at the Pigeon hospital a few days prior to the accident.

Slightly Injured

Norman Emmons, 13, was treated for cuts and bruises at Cass City Hospital and released following an accident Thursday.

The boy was riding a bicycle behind a load of hay and made a left turn in front of a car driven by Stanley Ralston, 53, Uby.

The accident occurred on Bay City-Forestville Road, east of Gagetown.

State Police said that Ralston was driving at a slow rate of speed.

Other Accidents

Three accidents involving area residents were reported to the Tuscola County Sheriff's office this past week.

June 23, Jerry Brown, 15, of Cass City was driving north of Cass City on Cemetery Road when he stopped to turn around. He backed out of a driveway and into a ditch. No injuries were received and the car was driven from the scene.

No injuries were reported when John Bering, 71, Kingston, backed out of a driveway and into the path of a car driven by Thelma E. Gaydos, 46, Deford. The accident occurred on Legg Road, one half mile east of Kingston, Saturday.

Bering claimed that he did not see a car coming because of tall brush and grass. Mrs. Gaydos could not stop in time to avoid hitting Bering.

No violations were indicated.

Hurley R. Israel, 22, of Tuscola, was injured when his car left the left side of the highway and hit a parked car head on. The parked car was owned by Edric Rapson of Gagetown. The accident occurred Monday in the Vassar area.

Plan Presented

Village Fees Set to Jump

A sharp increase in costs for service to the community and the abolishment of the petition system for curb and gutter were among the major recommendations of the Cass City Planning Commission to the village council Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

The wide ranging proposals include new charges for previously free services and upped rates for previously set fees.

The plan was presented by Warren Wood with Willis Campbell, B. A. Calka and Les Ross, planning commission members, attending the session.

Tap-in Fee

Tap-in fees for replacement of water lines will be prorated over a 30-year life expectancy. Based on a total cost of $100, each year of service the previous line provided will be charged against the replacement installation. Replacing a water line that had been in service for 15 years, would cost the property owner $50 under the new plan.

Tap-in fees for original water lines, not in new subdivisions, will cost the same as previously - $100 each. However, a combination rate of $150 for water and sewer tap-in together will be discontinued, according to the plan, and a straight $100 for each charged.

Subdivision Costs

The costs to a new subdivision for service received the sharpest boosts. The cost for a water tap-in was recommended at $200.

The entire cost of sanitary sewer would be paid by the subdivider. Under existing laws, the subdivider pays all of the cost and is re-bated 30 per cent when enough of the lots are filled with homes.

Curb and Gutter

The planning commission also recommended that the decision for curb and gutter be taken from the hands of property owners via petitions and placed in the hands of the council. Petitions would be discontinued.

The commission also recommended a revision of the payment plan for the work so that the entire cost would be paid by the property owner.

At present the charge is $1.75 per running foot. Under the new plan, the charge would be the actual cost (the last bid was $1.95 per foot) plus a 10 per cent charge for seeding and grading the land between the curb and the sidewalk.

If petitions are discontinued, hearings will be inaugurated to comply with the law.

The council received the recommendations favorably and will study the proposals before adopting the schedules at a later meeting.

Plan Trailer Park

An ambitious plan for turning his gravel pit on Doerr road into a trailer park, complete with two man-made lakes, was revealed by C. R. Hunt, Cass City, Tuesday night to the village council. The property is about a quarter mile south of the south village limits.

Hunt was asking if his trailer park could be tapped into the sewer line that runs through the property on the way to the disposal plant.

The council's policy is not to allow tap-ins outside of the village. However, since the sewer runs through the property now, an exception may be made, according to the discussion of the trustees.

Hunt explained that he thought that tap-in privileges were granted when the easement across the land was granted the village.

Hunt said that his preliminary plans are for forming two lakes, connected by a canal with water reaching 10 feet in each lake.

In some of the gravel pit area we are at water level, Hunt said, and even with just a couple of inches of water, there is no stagnant water at this site.

To bring the lakes to the desired level, Hunt said some 20,000 yards of dirt would have to be moved. The entire park would consume about 34 acres and there would be room for about 60 lots on the property, Hunt concluded.

If It's "Friendly Fire", Who Needs Enemies?

Mrs. Howard McMillen reports that the fire recently reported by the Chronicle was a "friendly fire" and that if it was friendly, she doesn't need any enemies.

You'll recall that the family had purchased a new $70 scope for dad's rifle and about $100 more for new clothes as birthday presents and they were accidentally burned by the young son, Manley, with some soaked clothing where the gifts were hidden.

Mrs. McMillen dutifully reported the loss to her insurance agent and a claim was submitted.

A few days later she received a report from the insurance company saying that the company would not pay off on a "friendly" fire.

Plan for Retaining Wall, Markers

Discover Unmarked Graves During Road Construction

The usual quiet of the Kingston countryside has been rocked recently by the sounds of modern road building machinery. . . bulldozers cutting giant swaths, shovels clawing at the earth and earthmovers quickly hauling tons of earth into the place for the new modern M-46 now under construction.

But all of this massive equipment came to a grinding halt recently as it neared the property of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nichol, Kingston.

It was no ordinary work stoppage. The men weren't on strike nor was the equipment broken down.

Three graves marked only by a rosebush and a tree stopped construction in the area.

According to Mrs. Nichol, the highway department had been notified about the possibility of graves in the roadway before construction started this spring.

"We heard about them from the people in the area", Mrs. Nichol, said. Both the tree and the rosebush were destroyed in the preliminary clearing of the roadway, she continued.

"It is highly unusual to find graves like these," said Edward L. Upson, district engineer for the Michigan Department of State

Highways. "We are usually aware of cemeteries and include them in our plans when we design the new roads."

But after the discovery, the highway department immediately began tracing the history to find out who was buried, how many were buried and for how long.

The task fell to the MSHD project engineer, Richard Fosdick of Mayville. He traced the ownership of the Nichol farm through five families and 90 years until a relative was found who could help.

Mrs. May B. Dillabough of Gilford found the only trace in an old family Bible.

"The graves are located in front of where the old homestead was built," stated Fosdick.

The old homestead has long since disappeared and so has the fence which once enclosed the graves, but there is a sign of the old posts still in the ground, continued Fosdick, and this provides us with enough identification for locating the graves.

The graves are those of three small children born to Alonzo and Martha Carpenter. They were the grandchildren of Elijah and Eliza Carpenter, owners of the farm. Two of the graves belong to a set of twins born in April of 1886 who died a few days after birth. The third grave belongs to another boy, Alonzo B. Carpenter. He was born March 15, 1891, and died later that month.

Will Be Marked

Now the graves are marked by small posts and red flags. Soon that will be replaced by a cobblestone retainer wall and a new monument furnished by the state.

Upon estimates the cost of building the wall at $1,500, "slightly more than it would cost to move them." He continued to point out that the cost involved in buying lots, contacting relatives for cemetery preference and difficulty in moving the small remains made the estimate for moving the graves close to that of building the wall.

The strict laws involved in moving the graves make it more practical to build the wall," concluded Upson.

The state will pay for the retainer wall which will eliminate washouts. It will be located behind the ditch but will be visible from the cars driving by. The location did not require a change in the road site. The structure which will house the graves is located one and three-quarter miles west of Kingston on M-46 which will be opened in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Thomas

Peter A. Thomas of Akron and Arlene Mellendorf of Gagetown were united in marriage June 18 in the Wisner Methodist Church with the Rev. George Saccia officiating at the evening double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Mellendorf of Gagetown. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thomas of Wisner.

The bride approached the altar wearing a nylon over satin, floor-length gown featuring a fitted bodice of soft embroidered nylon and long pointed sleeves. Her veil was of silk illusion, held in place by a crown edged with pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations over a white Bible.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Larry Weeks of Pontiac. She wore a lavender floor-length A-line dress featuring an Empire waist.

Bridesmaids for the wedding were Miss Ruth Mellendorf, cousin of the bride, of Owendale and Miss Joyce Nicholas of Gagetown. They wore lavender dresses styled identically to the matron of honor's and all bridal attendants carried yellow carnations.

Larry Weeks of Pontiac attended the groom as best man. Ushers for the wedding were Mike Messer of Bay City, Leo Jasper of Bay City, Larry Krapp of Ohio and Milan Bach of Turner.

Mrs. Mellendorf wore a three-piece pink suit with white accessories. The groom's mother chose a two-piece white suit with pink accessories. Both mothers wore a white carnation corsage to complement their ensembles.

The bride is a graduate of Owendale - Gagetown High School and he graduated from Unionville High School.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Unionville American Legion Hall for 300 guests.

The couple will reside in Bay City following a honeymoon through northern Michigan.

Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Mich.

Dear Sir:

The favorable and delightful review by Dr. Hostetter of the Girl Scouts' "Little Women" presentation in last week's Chronicle was greatly appreciated by everyone involved with the production. He clarified the "punch" dilemma completely.

But...one major detail of this event has never been mentioned to my knowledge. The heavy red velvet stage curtain was custom tailored, by the Girl Scout leader, Mrs. Patrick Rabideau, from one single panel curtain. This remarkable piece of alteration was done almost completely alone by Mrs. Rabideau, taking over 35 hours to achieve, at no expense to the Cultural Center for her labor. Money was raised to help defray the expense of the curtain ($50.00) and the curtain track. Cass City Girl Scouts donated $25.00 toward this civic project.

We shall all benefit from this attractive addition to the Cultural Center, but I feel we should give "credit where credit is long overdue."

Thanks again to Dr. Hostetter for his warm personal touch that the news items cannot give.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Robert Profit

Sox Cling to Top In Minor League

Minor league action was heavy this past week as three games were played. The big change in the standings came as the Indians downed the second-place Braves, 14-6, to climb out of the basement. In other action, the White Sox defeated the Dodgers 2-3 and the Braves knocked off the Angels 10-3.

Braves vs Angels
In Monday night's game, Randy Damm pitched the entire game for the Braves to pick up the win. Damm, Rick Damm and Brian

Giants Tighten Grip on Lead in Little League

The Giants tightened their hold on first place in Little League action this week by recording their seventh and eighth victories of the year. They are now two games in front of the second place Pirates who also recorded a win Thursday and are 3-2.

Giants vs Pirates
Rob Alexander went all the way for the Giants as they defeated the second-place Pirates, 5-1, in a well-played ballgame by both teams. Leading the hitting attack for the Giants were Craig Guernsey and Carl Zawilinski. Kim Hopper pitched for the Pirates.

Giants vs Cubs
The Giants increased their league record to eight wins against no defeats as they took the measure of the Cubs 7-1. Horn and Hacker pitched for the Cubs in a fruitless effort to defeat the Giants.

Fred Harbec went the distance for the Giants. He was supported by a good hitting attack led by Carl Zawilinski and Craig Guernsey.

Pirates vs Tigers
Gary Zellar went the distance for the Pirates as he gave up only four hits and led his team to a 2-3 victory over the Tigers. Big hitters for the Pirates were Kip Hopper who went 3 for 5. Kim Hopper was 4 for 5 and Gene Hopper and Mike Fredericks had a perfect night with 3 for 3. Greg Eshelman slammed four hits in as many tries. Kim Hopper hit a home run with one man on.

Billy Chippi started the Tigers off and was relieved in the fourth by Larry McCreedy. Big hitters in the Tigers' loss were McCreedy, 2 for 3, and Tim Brinkman, 1 for 2.

New EUB Pastor Thinks Cass City Is a Friendly Town

The Rev. Ira L. Wood has accepted the position of pastor at the Cass City EUB Church, replacing Rev. Robert Betts who has been transferred to Owosso. Wood arrived in Cass City Friday from Brown City and gave his first sermon Sunday.

Beginning his studies for the ministry in 1934, Wood was ordained in 1937. Since then he has served as a pastor for over 18 years and as a song evangelist for 13 years. It will be his first pastorate in an EUB church.

Wood has served as pastor for churches in Elkhart, Orange, Calif., Petoskey, Detroit and Brown City. He held the office of General Secretary of the United Missionary Church for nine years and was its secretary of the board. He has also been active with missionary groups and has held various offices with them.

The Woods have two children, Joyce and Lawrence. Joyce is

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

They was a full attendance at the session at the country store Saturday night. Even Zeke Grubb's preacher come by and set for a spell.

The good Parson reported automation had now got over into religion. He told the fellers they was getting "drive-in churches" in some of the big cities and he had saw where some preachers was holding a "golfer's special" at 7 o'clock Sunday morning for them that had to git on the golf course early. But he was of the opinion the real job of the church would always have to be done by people.

Bug Hookum warned the Parson not to be too shore about this matter, said he had heard they now got computers that can pick out the right bride for a feller, figger the percentage of people that was left-handed, red-headed, been married three times and walked in their sleep.

Confidential, Mister Editor. Bug always adds a little to everthing he hears.

Ed Doolittle reported he didn't know how they git such figgers but he had saw where a labor union made a survey and found the average man is now working till 10:36 ever morning to earn enough money to pay his taxes. They claimed he was only working till 9:45 in 1962. That's a hike of 51 minutes in four year and Ed allowed as how if Lyndon raised taxes it'll be around noon afore a feller can start working for hisself.

Personal, Mister Editor, I ain't worrying none about Lyndon raising taxes. I still got a calendar on the wall and that calendar tells me we got a election coming up in November.

Zeke Grubb said he wasn't worried none about taxes on account of he didn't pay much taxes, but he said these climbing prices had him shook up. He told the fellers he had saw in the papers where they had a $5,000 bull on display at one of the state fairs and he was shore he had a slice of this bull's brother fer supper the other night if the price per pound had anything to do with it.

The good Parson butted in to say on account of folks was getting all them fringes from the Government, like Medicare, public parks, money to pay part of the rent and such things, we was living in the age of Santa Claus. He said he preached a sermon one Sunday about God not being dead and got no comment. The next Sunday, he said, he preached a sermon claiming Santa Claus was dead and the whole congregation complained, said he was ruining the young'uns.

The good Parson, Mister Editor, adds a heap of fine thinking to the sessions at the country store.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

SPORTS FANS!

by H. M. Bulen

How's this for an oddity about the most famous double play combination in baseball history, Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance? ... Baseball fans have been hearing about them for years ... Yet, the fact is that this combination actually made very few double plays! ... When Franklin P. Adams wrote his famous poem about them in 1908, they made only eight double plays all year! ... The year before they had made only seven ... And, in 15 World Series games in which they played in 1906-07-08, this combination made no double plays at all!

Ever wonder how many golf courses there are now in the U. S.? ... Answer is approximately 8,000 ... And there are now about 8-million people who play golf ... So, that figures out to an average of about one golf course for every 1,000 golfers in America today.

What's the record for a big league baseball team winning the most games in a row? ... The Giants set that mark in 1916 when they won 26 straight ... Oddly enough, they did not win the pennant that year.

Restrictions in Use of Farm Chemicals

Within the last couple of years we have seen an accelerated program for using pesticides correctly, relates Don Kehler, Extension Agricultural Agent.

This all stems from increased findings by the Federal Food and Drug Administration which prove certain farm chemicals unsafe for human and animal consumption.

As the FDA gathers further information we can expect greater restrictions and more regulations governing the correct use of farm chemicals.

In our agricultural area the dairymen have been the first to see the tightening of restrictions on farm chemical use. Right now impurities or chemical residues can be detected in milk at small quantities of one part per billion. Any milk containing prohibited residues is condemned and the dairyman cannot sell his milk until the residues no longer are present.

The FDA and governmental agricultural agencies are most interested in the correct use of only approved farm chemicals. Unapproved chemicals can be found in the food humans and the feed farm animals consume. They can also enter the bodies of persons applying the chemicals, or the bodies of animals upon which these chemicals have been applied.

We should remember these chemicals are all poisons. Some will affect the health of warm blooded animals, others will not. FDA approves only those which do not affect humans directly or indirectly when properly used.

Three new publications have just been printed, two from the United States Department of Agriculture and one from Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. The titles are, (1) "Use Chemicals Safely in the Production of Beef Cattle, Swine and Sheep", (2) "Respiratory Devices for Protection Against Certain Pesticides", (3) "Use Pesticides Correctly - Prevent Pesticide Residues in Milk".

One statement most commonly referred to in all three publications is, "read the label".

The publication for the dairyman lists 16 farm chemicals prohibited for use either on dairy cattle or on the feed they eat. Mentioned also is the fact that these restricted chemicals can enter milk through the cow's skin, from the feed and roughage eaten, through breathing and from the direct contamination of milk or utensils.

It should be kept in mind that even though the dairy operator and livestock feeder use proper precautions in their farm chemical use, their purchased feed and roughage could be contaminated if purchased from farms using unapproved chemicals. There is another danger too. This is drift from one farm to another. The neighbor may be using chemicals approved for his cash crop program, but not for a dairy program. With proper wind conditions his chemicals could contaminate a dairyman's field of hay. So play it safe, read the label, and use farm chemicals correctly.

Defrosting in the refrigerator will take a large roast four to seven hours per pound. A small roast will defrost in the refrigerator at three to five hours per pound. An inch-thick steak will take 12 to 14 hours.

High sugar or sweetening content in the barbecue sauce? Use it for basting the meat on the out-of-doors grill only during the last hour or the meat surface will turn dark. Sugar causes the sauce to burn easily giving the roast an unpalatable appearance.

Among the events slated for the band is marching competition, the Grand Floral Parade and a concert.

Appeal Decision of Tri-county Board

A tri-county board of education meeting held Monday, June 20, denied the transfer of several parcels of land from one school district to another.

One of the decisions has been appealed by the property owners.

Vincent and Raymond Sattlerberg asked that their land be transferred from the Owengage to the Cass City School District. The petition was denied by the boards by a 10-4 majority.

The Sattlerbergs have appealed the decision to the State Board of Education.

Three property owners with a total of 260 acres petitioned for transfer from the Cass City district to the Kingsford district.

The request of the three, E. J. Cooper, August Kreger and Ben Scribner, was denied by a vote of 11-7.

This decision had not been appealed Tuesday afternoon.

BOOK REVIEW

Another Writer Tells Of Civil War

By the Rev. R. J. Searis

Perhaps you are not aware that there are many of our fellow-citizens who are Civil War enthusiasts. Yes, I got the glorious news that the War between the states is over. (Did you'll hear that way down in Alabama land, Governor Wallace?) Some of these people buy great libraries of books, all dealing with some phase of the Civil War. Others collect memorabilia of that war. Indeed, some of these Civil War "buffs" can tell you in great detail of one or more skirmishes between the soldiers of the north, and the soldiers of the south; but are completely at a loss when they are asked about the current war in Viet Nam.

Today's book that we are reviewing, is yet one more writer's attempt to take her readers into just one southern family, demonstrating how the war changed their manner of living. Written by a native of Michigan, After The Glory is only the latest of forty-nine historical and romantic novels. After a few years, she moved to Tennessee where she married a staff member of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and lived, in the next thirty-five years, in seven states and the District of Columbia. When her husband died in 1944, she returned to Tennessee.

So much to her background. Helen Topping Miller tells her story by telling of one southern family, a leading family before the war, and how they were reduced in influence and in means after the war. To me, the principal figure was "Miss Annie", mother of the four Markland brothers. Slight of stature, she represents the era in our country when a woman is supposed to do the housework, letting her men-folk do the planning. And, as other women did, she carried both roles in the family.

Essentially, the novel deals with the adjustment of Southern soldiers and their families as defeated people, and how they bitterly saw their way of life slip away (as did their newly-freed slaves.) The four Markland brothers, described as arrogant, headstrong, and cavalier, are seen, when the book begins, on their way home from the War to face the bitter knowledge of defeat. As was true in many families during that war, three of the four had served with the Confederate Army. William, however, was an officer in the Union forces. His father died without healing the breach in their relationship.

William Markland, as a Captain in the victorious forces is able to help his family, surreptitiously, and does so even though he is unwelcome in the Marklands' home. For example, he keeps the taxes paid on the home farm and buys at a tax sale the farm belonging to a sister-in-law.

As daughters-in-law move into "Miss Annie's" home the Markland menfolk gradually wake up, and have to do the work on the place that had always been slave work in the days before the war. Captain William returns to stay at home, and gradually the family once more finds itself.

This cannot be termed a contribution to the study of the defeated in the Civil War. But it is credible and is easy reading.

TOUR GUESTS—Michigan Animal Breeders Co-op. was host to 14 Gold and Silver Award FFA Dairy Cattle Judging teams at its headquarters in East Lansing June 15. The team members and their advisors toured the MABC facilities. They viewed the completely MABC-sired dairy herd of Gibson and Cletus Strickling near Mason, one of the top herds in the area. Pictured at MABC are the Millington group, Advisor Frank Corrin, Rodney Weinzierl, Randy Baldwin and Monty Burns and also the group from Cass City, Joe Graham, Joe Merchant, Dave Turner, Lyle Clarke and Bob Hirn.

84 Beds Available Here for Medicare

Local arrangements for the beginning of medicare are just about complete. Stefan Gasparovic, Social Security District Manager, who has been keeping track of progress in getting the new program of health insurance for the aged into operation, said today that all steps possible have been taken to insure the program's smooth start.

Both hospitals in the Cass City area with a total of 84 beds have been certified eligible to participate in the medicare program. They have been surveyed by the Michigan State agency and found to meet the standards for participation in medicare.

All participating medicare hospitals have been sent copies of the Hospital Manual with the admission and billing procedures under medicare. Admitting a medicare beneficiary will be much like admitting a patient covered by Blue Cross or a private health insurance policy, Gasparovic said. The patient will be asked to show the health insurance identification card sent to him in the mail.

The Blue Cross which has been selected to receive and pay bills under the hospital insurance part of medicare, will then check with the Social Security Administration and notify the hospital as to: (1) the patient's eligibility; (2) the number of hospital days he has remaining of the 90 days covered in each spell of illness, and (3) whether or not he has met the $40 deductible that is payable by the patient toward the hospital bills for each spell of illness. The check of social security's central records will ordinarily take no more than 48 hours.

For older people who are in the hospital between June 30 and the end of the year, medicare will pay hospital costs over and above the first $40 of services provided July 1 or later. Costs over the $40 deductible are covered for a stay of 60 days or less. If the older person stays in the hospital for more than 60 days, medicare will pay all but $10 a day for an additional 30 days.

Both the basic hospital insurance part of medicare and the voluntary program of medical insurance go into effect on Friday, Gasparovic said. However, payment for post-hospital extended care in skilled nursing homes will become payable January 1, 1967.

The first claims for payment under the voluntary medical insurance plan are not expected for a few days. This is because payment under the medical insurance plan does not begin until after the patient has incurred expenses of at least $50 for services provided July 1 or later.

There will be two ways to claim payment for doctor bills under the voluntary medical insurance part of medicare and it is up to the doctor and the patient as to which of the two methods of payment will be used. The doctor can continue to bill his patient, if he wishes, and the patient can claim reimbursement, or the doctor can apply for payment directly. The same simple, one-page form can be used for either method.

Most people 65 and over in this area have already received their Medicare Handbooks and their red, white, and blue health insurance identification cards, Gasparovic said. Identification cards were mailed first to those signed up for both the hospital insurance and the voluntary medical insurance. Anyone who signed up for medicare, but has not received his identification card by the end of the 2nd week in July, should inquire at the social security office, Gasparovic advised. If a person must go to a hospital before he has received his health insurance identification card, Gasparovic noted, the hospital will arrange to check his eligibility.

Bagdad's ancient wall partially remains.

Tuscola County Sheriff Hugh Marr this week issued reminders for persons who may be eligible for an operator's license for the first time.

The applicant must be 16 years old and must bring a birth certificate at the time of the first application for a license.

The drivers must also furnish their own auto for the road test, Marr said, and be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Marr reminds that the license bureau is closed on Saturday for issuing new licenses. They will only be issued Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 11 a. m. and from 1:00 to 4:45 p. m.

Renewal licenses can be secured Saturday from 8:30 to 12 noon in addition to the standard weekday hours.

Motor Driven Cycle

Marr also explained that a person 15 years old can drive a motor driven cycle.

The applicant must have completed driver education and pass all tests, including the road test. A temporary permit is then issued and a special restricted operator's license issued by the Department of State.

The fee for regular or restricted licenses is $4.50 each, Marr concluded.

Special License

A special restricted license may be issued to drivers 14 or 15 years old if extenuating circumstances and need are clearly indicated, Marr said. The license must be cleared by the Secretary of State's office.

House Explains Law to Rotarians

Cass City Rotarians were given a brief look at the complex laws surrounding bankruptcies and debts Tuesday noon by Clinton House, village attorney.

House told of some of the various situations that could arise and the rights of the debtor and creditor under the law when bankruptcy is declared.

He also discussed liens, notes, delinquent debts and other situations arising from credit. He said that all businessmen should have at least a basic awareness of these laws.

The meeting was the last of the year for the 1965-66 club officers. New officers will take control at next Tuesday's meeting. Retiring president is William Kritzman.

Dismiss Three Criminal Cases In Circuit Court

Three cases that have been pending for nearly a year were dismissed Tuesday in Tuscola County Circuit Court in Caro.

Petitions of nolle prosequi were entered for Douglas Johnson, accused of breaking and entering the Mayville School June 7, 1965, and for Raymond Mittino, Allen Park, and Robert Kutschner, Columbia township, for unlawfully driving away an automobile.

A verdict of nolle prosequi means that the defendants were dismissed before they were tried. It differs from a verdict of not guilty in that the case is not prosecuted and could be brought into court on new evidence and another trial instigated.

Nolle prosequi is usually granted on the request of the prosecutor when he feels that there is not enough evidence to support a case.

Twentieth Century Weld-ERS

Oops... there Goes That Lens Again

Miss Peggy Sawicki, Cass City, got in the swim of things at the Cass City pool recently only to come out short one of her new contact lenses.

When asked how it happened, Miss Sawicki answered, "It wasn't hard. I was swimming under water and opened my eyes. One fell out."

According to a pool lifeguard,

Les Searls, the pool bottom has been combed by a diver with scuba gear and vacuumed without turning up the lens.

Miss Sawicki had her $125 contacts for only two weeks. "They were insured," stated the 19-year-old Michigan State University coed, "...so it will cost just $15 dollars to replace one."

The lens will be no hazard to swimmers at the pool because, according to Searls, "It has probably gone down the drain."

Shift Welfare Office To Courthouse

The Tuscola County Welfare Department and the Bureau of Social Aid have merged to form the Tuscola County Department of Social Welfare, it was announced Thursday by Morley J. Bates, director.

Because of the merger, there has been a change in the office location of the Tuscola County Welfare Department, formerly under the direction of George Peterhans, the offices have been moved from the basement of the Tuscola County Nursing Home to the basement of the courthouse.

All applications for public assistance should be made at the Welfare Department office in the courthouse, Caro. Office hours are: Monday through Friday, 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

"PUSSY CAT BY THE WRONG BROTHERS" was one of the many prize-winning floats entered in the summer recreation bike parade held last Thursday. Flanking Scott Hendrick in the plane are Fred VanderMeer, Ron Hendrick and Alan Hartwick.

60 Participate In Annual Recreation Parade

Approximately 60 Cass City children paraded down Main street Thursday morning on their bikes and in floats as the village summer recreation program was officially opened.

After the parade, the children met at the park for refreshments, games and prizes. Awards for bike decorations included: most unusually decorated, the prettiest trike, bike and float, most original, cutest, the best bike, trike and float and the neatest. There were approximately 15 winners chosen for their neatness, ability and originality.

The summer recreation program, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Tuckey, sponsors an event each week for the Cass City children. Events to come include a picnic, pet show and junior Olympics.

Adult Swimming

Adults as well as youngsters are invited to use the recreation and athletic equipment at the park. This equipment may be checked out at the basket room in the pool building whenever the pool is open.

The pool will be open for swimming Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 for those 21 and over who want to use the facilities.

A record hop is planned for next Wednesday night at the tennis courts. Young teens who attend the 8 p. m. dance are asked to bring their records.

Good A Candidate For State Senator

Ed Good, legislator from Huron county for four years, is a candidate for Republican nomination as state senator in the 28th District.

He filed 1,491 signatures for his nomination, more than three times the required number.

In local politics, Mr. Good has served as clerk and treasurer of Brookfield Township, was a member of his local board of education for many years, and prior to becoming a state representative, was chairman of the Huron County ASC Committee.

His supporters call him a man of proven performance and of sound action.

As a state representative Mr. Good voted consistently in support of agriculture, industry, sound labor legislation, education, small business and tourism. He was firmly on the side of Governor Romney and pushed for his tax reform bill. Representative Good was co-sponsor of the 1962 and 1964 School Aid Acts, co-sponsored minimum wage bills, introduced the Livestock Disease Control Bill and was a supporter of the Meat Inspection Bill and of Extension, 4-H and FFA programs.

Born and raised on a farm, Mr. Good owns an outstanding agricultural establishment. He and Mrs. Good have four sons and two daughters, plus 21 grandchildren. He and three of his sons operate a large dairy and crop farm near Gagetown in Huron County.

Because I believe in discussing legislation with the people, if elected I will spend every other Saturday in county court houses in the 28th district during the legislative sessions, so that I can be reached by my constituents, the candidate concluded.

Just 3 Fines Issued in Cass City Justice Court

Fines were paid by three persons before Justice Hugh Connolly, Cass City Justice Court, during the week.

Lee Edgar Cummins, 25, of Cass City, was ticketed June 10 by Chief Carl Palmateer for failure to stop within an assured clear distance and causing a property damage accident. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine and costs of $54.30.

Ticketed by Palmateer for speeding 45 miles per hour in a 25 miles zone, April 23, was William Glenn Trisch, 30, of Caro. He paid a fine and costs of $24.30, on June 24. Jerry Riley Schwanitz, 29, of Detroit, was ticketed June 11 by state police for speeding 10 miles per hour over the speed limit. He paid a fine and costs of $19.30.

Summer's Bothersome Bugs

On guard, outdoor goers, these flying pests are out again in full force this summer. The bothersome bugs shown here belong to two broad classes--biters and stingers. Among those that bite are pesky mosquitoes, black flies, stable flies, horse and deer flies, and tiny punkies (also called "no-see-ums"). Wasps, bees, and hornets are the stingers. No matter which ones are "bugging" you, the experience can be annoying at best. Sometimes, it's downright painful. Whatever the results, these winged warriors are part of outdoor living. To make the best of it, use repellents, sprays, and avoid their nests. Another good idea is to wear light-colored clothing. The reason? Bees like dark colors. --Mich. Dept. of Conservation

25 Years of War Have Decimated Land, Says Vietnamese Priest at Gagetown

The Vietnamese have always been good farmers, the Rev. Fr. Peter Thanh of Saigon reported last week, but they are producing very little today.

It's not that they can't compete against the standard threats to crops. . . . weather, weeds and insects, but rather that 25 years of war has made the land and the people too battered to produce adequately.

And, said Fr. Thanh, who was a guest speaker - pastor at St. Agatha Church in Gagetown, there is no economy to support a change.

Our farmers, he continued, once grew enough rice to feed everyone in the country, but today there is little left to farm. The people have been herded over the entire country in another backlash of the wars. You remember, he said, that Vietnam was shattered by World War II. Then the Korean War and the fight with the French. . . . and now the civil war. It has devastated the country.

Fr. Thanh is qualified to comment on the situation. He was born in North Vietnam and attended the seminary in Hong Kong before returning to Saigon.

Two Stories

Since his arrival in the United States, Fr. Thanh says he has discovered "two different stories" concerning Vietnam and what Americans hear.

"There is much more anti-anti-government activity than there are Buddhist and anti-American demonstrations."

"Anti-government activity just doesn't have the support of the masses," says Thanh. "Americans know only what is published in their newspapers and what they see on television. They have no background or actual details about the situation," Thanh continued. Consequently, they are confused, he said.

According to Thanh, an example of the two different stories is illustrated by the Buddhist crisis. He says that "this is not an actual threat to the government of Vietnam, but the activities of only a small minority who will settle for no compromise in getting what they want."

He continued to point out that although the newspapers and television make this appear as majority action " . . . the majority disapproves."

When Fr. Thanh spoke of American assistance in Vietnam he said, "We need it and we are grateful to have the economic, educational and war aid. But after the war is over, they want no period of occupation. . . . we do not want foreign troops to stay."

How long will Vietnam continue to be torn and plagued by war? Fr. Thanh feels that by 1967, the political and military situation will clear in our favor. He continues by saying, "Most of the Vietnamese soldiers have been fighting now for many years. They want to give their country a better future for prosperity."

Fr. Thanh refers to the future of the South Vietnamese people as one having "a promising outlook with optimistic horizons. I believe, the Vietnamese people are under the opinion that they will win in the near future and when they do they will recover rapidly."

The priest calls the people of Vietnam "hard working." They want to update their educational facilities and industries. "Even though these are dark days for the people of Vietnam and they cannot see the future clearly," remarked the priest, "the people believe that they will win and that there is hope."

One of the reasons given by Fr. Thanh for such an optimistic future is the difference in the people's willingness to support the two armies of Vietnam. "There is a draft in south Vietnam as there is in the United States. Although some try to avoid it, many young men want to fight the Communists. The situation in North Vietnam is quite the opposite," says the priest. "The Viet Cong recruit by terrorism. The young North Vietnamese male, however unwilling to fight, has no choice or protection . . . the Viet Cong induct their men into service by force," says Fr. Thanh.

The slight Vietnamese priest who speaks with a thick oriental accent came to Gagetown St. Agatha Catholic Church two weeks ago for the purpose of making mission appeals. Because of the illness of the permanent pastor, Fr. Thanh remained in Gagetown to care for the duties of the parish until Fr. McLaughlin's return.

Fr. Thanh came to the United States last year to study for his Master of Arts degree at Dubuque Institute in Iowa. His superiors then assigned him to making appeals during the summer months when he was not attending school. He returned to Iowa Monday.

THIS VISITING Priest from Vietnam says that Americans hear and read stories that give a distorted picture of conditions in his native land. He explained the true story at a special Vietnamese appeal meeting held recently in Gagetown.

Hostetler's Hodgepodge

When Bird Bites Cat, That's News

By Marion Hostetler

Most of our family's cats seem to have met a violent end. Whenever we lose one, we can usually secure another from Calvin MacRae's family, who at any given moment will probably have a few prized pets, a litter of kittens, and an abundance of barn cats.

Their most recent gift is a tiger-striped kitten who was finally named Toby. . . . because he was no tabby! For his own protection Betsy tried to keep him from running loose, but occasionally he would slip through an opened door. The first time he saw a bird he proved that he is a true cat by instinctively crouching to the ground and starting to stalk it.

A pair of bluejays have a nest in the maple tree beside the house, and Toby thought he ought to investigate. He discovered that the parents were in no mood to welcome visitors like him. Starting to back down the tree, he couldn't see where he was going, and froze there in terror as both jays dove-bombed at his head again and again. At last he dropped to the ground and hightailed it to the house. Now whenever he shows his nose in the back yard, the air is filled with the angry squalling of bluejays.

So at last we have the ideal cat. . . . one who won't run away from home. Toby gets his fresh air in quick gulps and hurries back to the house.

Until last week I had never given much thought to the saying that a cat has nine lives. One day after putting something away in a high cupboard, I stepped down from a kitchen chair, with my full weight on Toby's head. His legs sprawled out in four directions, his head rolled to one side, his eyes closed, and convulsions shook his body. I thought I'd killed him for sure. But I reached down and straightened his head around, and after acting groggy for a few hours Toby seemed to be as lively as ever. Having once been scared to death and once trampled to death, he certainly can't have more than seven lives to go.

From the time I was seven until I graduated from high school, one of my favorite amusements was bicycle riding. Several years later, while studying for a year at Cambridge University in England, Helen and I explored the English countryside on our first gearshift cycles. After coming back to this country I didn't have the courage to ride again, because it was generally considered unbelievable at that time that an adult should ride a bike. Imagine my excitement, then, to see a full-grown man ride a bicycle past the house shortly after we moved to Cass City. Since Horace Bulen earns his living by retailing another mode of transportation, I could see that he had no ulterior motive for riding a bike. Finding that he is president of the Board of Education, I recognized that local folks think no less of a person who rides a bike. (Unlike the Indian who said, "White man lazy. He walk sitting down.") And when I heard a couple of men exclaiming about Horace's athletic prowess and splendid physical condition, I decided that there was nothing to keep me, too, from keeping fit on wheels.

I'm all for any activity that is simultaneously economical, beneficial, and enjoyable. Like eating an apple, which costs less than an ice cream cone and keeps the doctor away at the same time that it tastes good. Bike riding saves the price of gas, tones up your heart, and gives you the choice of gliding lazily along for relaxation or pedaling furiously when you feel furious.

With a Main Street as wide as ours, why couldn't we have parallel parking in the center of the street? . . . Now that we have all that off-street parking, merchants will have to identify their back doors and beautify them. . . . But how can you beautify an incinerator? . . . Farmers should feel comfortable about going in the back door; the back door is the main entrance to most farmhouses. A modern church should have its main entrance facing the parking lot instead of the street. Think of all the printer's ink the telephone people could save if they said Area 517 instead of Area Code 517.

Milligan Named to Honor Society

Compiling over a 3.5 scholastic average for one term as a freshman at Michigan State University, Robert A. Milligan, Cass City, has been initiated into the MSU chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman men's honor society.

More than 200 were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma which was founded in 1954 to encourage scholarship among freshman men. It also serves as a service organization and provides tutors for the all-university tutorial service. Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Milligan, is studying dairy production at MSU. He is a 1965 graduate of Cass City High School.

The three ages of man are youth, middle age, and 'How well you are looking.'

Bologna sandwiches are always good for a quick lunch, but variations are possible. Heat bologna slices in barbecue sauce and serve on toasted, buttered rolls. Or try french-toasted bologna sandwiches or grilled cheese-bologna sandwiches for something different.

Judge Churchill

Receives Fellowship

Circuit Judge James P. Churchill of Lapeer and Tuscola counties has been selected from nearly 500 applicants to attend the 1966 session of the National College of State Trial Judges which will be held at the University of Nevada during July.

Judge Churchill is one of 150 who will receive a fellowship from money provided by the Max C. Fleischmann Foundation and the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to cover the essential expenses of his participation.

The first session of the National College was held at the University of Colorado in 1964, at which 92 judges from all but three of the United States attended. As in 1964 and 1965, the session this year is designed to acquaint new judges with methods for effective judicial administration being developed throughout the country. The faculty, composed of leading jurists and law professors, will present courses in court administration, modern trends in evidence, sentencing and probation, criminal procedure, pretrial procedures and other developing fields of trial court administration. The course comprises four weeks of intensive work in these and other fields.

ESTIMATING ADULT HEIGHT

Q. I have heard that the height of a child at age 2 multiplied by two will be the adult height. My daughter, now 6 years old, was 3 feet 2 inches tall at two. This would make her 6 feet 4 inches tall as an adult. Is the two by two rule accurate?

A. No. The two times two formula usually overestimates adult height by two to five inches. Using a more accurate method, your daughter would be expected to reach a height of 5 feet 9 inches, plus or minus one inch.

"PAP" TESTS FOR TEEN-AGERS

Q. I am the mother of two teenage girls. I have a "PAP" test at regular intervals. When should I start taking the girls in for the test?

A. You should discuss this with your physician. From studies conducted by the U.S. Public Health Service it seems that the relative risk of cervical cancer in teenage girls is very low. However, the best time to start this routine diagnostic test should be determined by your doctor.

Class of '51 Holds 15-year Reunion

Fifty-seven persons attended the reunion of the class of 1951 of Cass City High School Saturday evening at the school.

The dinner was preceded by a social hour at 5:30.

The invocation was given by Art Warner of Vassar. John Chapin of Deford presided at the after-dinner session when class members reported on their families, occupations, etc. Guests Arthur Holmberg and Art Paddy spoke briefly.

Letters were read from several class members unable to attend, including Jim Fox, Tom Townsend, Chuck and Carol Howarth Watson, and Art Paddy spoke briefly.

Needles-Kettles

Plan for Summer

The Needles and Kettles 4-H Club met June 20 at the home of Paula Karr to discuss summer projects, meetings and camp.

Members of the 4-H club who are working with foods made plans to attend the Detroit Edison picnic to be held in Caro, Wednesday, June 29. Other summer projects include needlecraft, cake decorating, outdoor cooking, flower gardening, photography and recreation.

Two members of the club will attend the 4-H camp at Slesser State Park in July. Margaret Batel will attend senior camp and Dianna Fisher, junior camp.

Shirley Cooper Goodwin, Marion Wise Hurley and Betty Hill Spencer.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of two class members, Chester Dorland and Pat Stinton.

A dinner was sent to Jack Stahlbaum at his home. A member of the class of '51, Stahlbaum is recovering after being severely injured in an oil tank explosion in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kaufman of Edwardsburg were the recipients of a dozen roses, for traveling the greatest distance to attend. Mrs. Ben Hobart received a corsage as the mother with the most children, having the youngest child. The Hobarts, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hartel and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kitzman (Shirley Loomis) all have six children. The roses and the corsage were gifts from Mr. and Mrs. Tom Townsend of Albuquerque, N. Mex.

The class voted to have another reunion in five years. Named as the planning committee were Lee and Lota Little Hartel, Bob and Marilyn Wagg Alexander, Ulene Ludlow Kendall, John Chapin and Melva McConnell Guinther. The committee is to decide when and where the reunion will be held.

Computer to Aid in Prevention Of Crime; Reduce Paperwork

Police Problems

Anticipated difficulty in bringing criminals to justice hopefully will be offset in Michigan by steps taken by the state police and legislature this year.

Many law enforcement officials complain that several U. S. Supreme Court decisions regarding confessions, interrogations and presentation of proof add obstacles to the already difficult job of getting evidence to convict criminals. The first step was undertaken by the state police some months back. Efforts began to hire an attorney with police training in his background.

Aim in this addition to state police personnel was to keep policemen current on the legal implications of U. S. and state court decisions regarding their difficult daily job.

It had already become apparent, even before the latest U. S. High Court edict, that policemen would need more familiarity with the intricacies of the law if they were to remain effective in criminal proceedings.

Earmarked for a special computer operation, a $344,000 legislative appropriation is designed to help establish Michigan's hookup with a national communications network to exchange information on criminal activity.

Initially the computer will be set up to "remember" and distribute information about stolen cars and warrants issued in Michigan. Eventually it will provide police officers and the courts with descriptions of wanted criminals, unsolved crimes and prison records, all on very short notice.

One side benefit expected to be opened by use of the computer is that it will lessen the paperwork required of law enforcement officers, thus potentially freeing more men for the important work of prevention, detection and enforcement.

Bottled Danger

Boys will be boys. Figures compiled by the U. S. Public Health Service would lead one to believe it's almost sheer accident that many boys live to manhood.

In Michigan alone last year, the Service reports, some 10,087 people were involved in accidental poisonings. Of this number, 8,117 were children under five years of age.

Aspirin alone, found in almost every home, accounted for 1,694 of the poison accidents. Again well over half of these involved small children.

Household detergents and other cleaning compounds, vitamins and mineral preparations account for the bulk of the remaining accidents.

Curiosity of children can be a wonderful thing to watch. Unfortunately, the curiosity often involves tasting. It is often the carelessness of adults which transforms this curiosity to catastrophe when bottles clearly labeled "Keep Out of the Reach of Children" are involved.

More Paper Work

A change in civil service hiring policies adds paperwork to the administrator's job, but may serve little other purpose.

The change requires the hiring agent to explain in writing his reasons if he does not take the person who ranked first in the civil service examination process, for the position to be filled.

State agency heads have for years been given the names of the top three applicants in filling any position. They could choose any of the three, but could not go lower

Mrs. Ed Marshall Succumbs Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Edward Marshall, 67, were held Sunday in Little's Funeral Home, Rev. Walter Hillsman, pastor of Assembly of God Church, officiated and burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Mrs. Marshall died Thursday, June 23, in Stevens Nursing Home after an illness of one and a half years.

She was born July 26, 1898, at Alpena. She and Mr. Marshall were married Dec. 3, 1923, at Detroit. They came to Greenleaf township in 1942.

Mrs. Marshall is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Harry Goldberg of Vicksburg, Mich., and Mrs. Kenneth Pingley of Wayne, Mich.; two sons, Seaman I. C. Daryl Marshall, serving with the United States Coast Guard, and William Marshall of Detroit; 20 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Emily Woods, in California, and a brother, Carl Laube of Alpena.

Funeral Held for Mrs. Clara Palmer

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Palmer were held Thursday, June 23, at Little's Funeral Home, Rev. Melvin Stauffer, pastor of the Brethren in Christ church of Snover, officiated and burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Mrs. Palmer died at her home in Cass City Tuesday, June 21, after a three-year illness.

She was born Sept. 23, 1881, in Ontario. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. William White. She was married to James Palmer April 23, 1901, in Evergreen township. She moved to Cass City from Argyle three years ago. Mr. Palmer died Feb. 10, 1953.

Mrs. Palmer was a member of the Argyle Methodist church. She is survived by a number of nieces and nephews.

Name Caro Girl 4-H Youth Assistant

Faye Campbell of Caro, a graduate of Caro High School, has assumed the duties as 4-H Youth Program Assistant in the Tuscola County 4-H Club office starting June 20.

Faye has been active in 4-H Club work for eight years. She will be enrolled as a freshman at Michigan State University during the fall term of this year. While this is her first year as 4-H Youth Assistant, Faye spent the summer of 1965 working part-time at the Co-operative Extension Office under the national Neighborhood Youth Corps program.

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors has provided funds during the past 10 years to employ a 4-H Youth Program Assistant for a period of eight weeks.

Her work, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension agricultural agent, is starting two weeks earlier this year inasmuch as the date of the 1965 Tuscola County Fair has been moved ahead.

Caro OES Hosts Job's Daughters

Cass City Bethel 77 Job's Daughters, were guests of Kedron Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Caro, Saturday, June 25, when Caro Chapter honored their past matrons and patrons.

The ceremony of initiation was held by Job's Daughters and four girls were initiated into the order, Lois Reagh and Teresa Tracy of Cass City and Melanie Lobdell and Laurel Kennedy of Caro. The ceremony of the lighted cross completed the ceremonies.

Plans were made for the honored queens project and award medals were given to the girls. Introductions were given to past matrons and patrons; present matrons and patrons and grand officers of the Eastern Star, Grand Bethel and Grand Council of Job's Daughters, honored queens and past honored queens.

A cake, depicting the "past and future" with emblems of the Order of Eastern Star and Job's Daughters decorated the table. Luncheon was served 80 members and guests by Kedron Chapter OES, Caro.

Before cutting slits for buttonholes in material, mark each space with clear fingernail polish. Let dry, then cut through the center, and the edges will not ravel.

What causes accidents?
Ask an expert

He sees them every day, in the traffic congestion of large cities, on the quiet streets of small towns and on the open road. He spends most of every day behind the wheels and he knows what the dangers are on our streets and highways. His driving record shows that he is well trained because Mr. "Average Truck Driver" drives hundreds of thousands of miles without a chargeable accident.

Discuss accidents with him. He won't talk about nuts and bolts. He knows that most accidents are the result of poor driving practices.

The excellent safety record of professional truck drivers is no accident; it is the result of proper driver training and a continuing campaign to emphasize safe driving techniques. As a result, truck drivers obey the law, are courteous, alert and always drive, aware of the dangers which are present.

If you ask an expert what causes accidents, he'll tell you it's the driver behind the wheel that makes the difference.
