CASS CITY CHRONICLE

From the Editor's Corner

Before the last couple of years, any attempts to show a series of so called "cultural" programs have met with limited success in Cass City.

But last year, a series of the American Association of University Women and a sports show by the Cass City Gun Club were well received.

Now the Cass City Rotary Club will attempt to conduct a series of shows that are billed as both entertaining and educational.

Rotary thinks that the best way to get people to pay to see this series is to let the people know just what is in store for them. So Thursday, Nov. 2, at Cass City High School they are letting everyone in free to hear Erick Pavel, world famous traveler and photog-

This is the first year in memory that the Chronicle will not have some sort of picture depicting the success of nimrods on the opening day of pheasant season.

Through other lean pheasant years, there have always been at least a few hunters who have had birds spotted and come up with limit quotas.

Not this year. We have not heard of ONE hunter who bagged his limit hunting in the immediate Cass City area. No one knows for sure just what is causing the decline or why the dearth of birds is so great in this immediate area.

There is talk of closing the season for a year. . . . although the conservation department maintains that it will do little, if any, good.

Actually, hunting pressure here has been so light that it amounts to almost the same thing as no season at all. One nimrod reports on opening day that he hunted a complete section and found not one other nimrod or, for that matter, not one bird. His story was repeated with variations by everyone who bothered to hunt.

Halloween is one of the oldest of holidays. Some of its traditions date from the pre-Christian era in England, says Dr. Robert E. Rowe, director of the Thumb District Health Department.

Halloween was started to appease spirits believed to be visiting the earth Oct. 31.

Health authorities say that there well may be some evil spirits running around loose for Halloween 1967. These aren't the supernatural kind. . . but rather the everyday lack of care that can cause accidents and heartache.

Suggested remedies for these spirits include making surethat costumes are made with flameresistant or fireproof materials: checking mask to see that children have vision on all sides and are equipped with a flashlight before they start their rounds.

Smaller children should always be accompanied by an adult and a burning porch light will show the tricks or treaters

3 die in separate accidents Monday

Three persons were killed in three separate accidents in Tuscola county Monday night, Oct. 23, in less than one hour and a half.

Negligent homicide charged

According to Coroner J. Benson Collon, one of the investigating officers, dead are: George Jackson, 61, of rural Cass City, Sandra Lee Ridell, 17, of Attica; and Thomas J. Pruner, 32, Birch Run.

The first accident took place about 9:45 p. m., involving five young people and brought about the death of Miss Ridell. County sheriff deputies investigating were W. E. Lawrence and J. Horwath.

Driver of the car was Lloyd Rayner, 243 East Grant street, Caro, who is being held by authorities in the Tuscola county jail. Rayner has been charged with negligent homicide by Prosecutor James Epskamp.

William Joseph Pfent, 19, of Marysville, a passenger in the Rayner auto, is still a patient at the Caro Community Hospital. The other two passengers, Janet Walkiewicz, 17, of 6115 Chapin road, Deford, and Warren McVrittie, 21, of Lexington, were treated at the Caro hospital and released.

According to authorities, Rayner lost control of his car while traveling southeast on the East Dayton road near Bevins road in Wells township as he was attempting to negotiate a curve. The car left the road, crashed through a cement

Area to share in reduced phone rates

General Telephone customers will be among those nationwide who will benefit from a $100 million long distance rate reduction effective Wednesday, Nov. 1, P. A. Betty, operating vice-president for the company, said today.

The new rates will apply to most station-to-station and person-to-person long distance calls to points outside of Michigan, depending upon the distance involved, Betty said. A feature of the reduction is the new Late Night economy

Betty pointed out that Michigan telephone users, who have experienced seven long distance rate reductions in less than six years, will be able to call anywhere in the continental U.S. for as little as 75 cents (excluding taxes) during the nev after-midright economy rate period. To lake advantage of the new reduced rate between midnight rad 7:00 a. m., a customer must dial direct, if DDD is available in his exchange, and the call must be to a point outside of Michigan over 354 miles away. The new rate will not apply to collect, pay telephone, credit card, or other calls requiring operator assistance. In addition to the new rate period, customers will realize further savings because the present lower rate periods are being extended to cover more hours for interstate calls, Betty

There will also be a reduction in rates for most interstate station-to-station and personto-person calls placed to points beyond 468 miles. The new rates are the result of a tariff filed recently with the Federal Communications Commission, The new tariff also provides for increases in interstate long distance rates for some calls of 24 miles or less.

One For The Road

Farmer's Almanac myriad of topics

By Dan Marlowe

The new edition of the Old Farmer's Almanac predicts an 'average" Michigan winter, as follows:

"The Winter (Nov. 1967 -Apr. 1968): There will be close to normal temperature (33.9 degrees against 34.2 degrees normal), much higher precipitation (14.02" against 12.72" normal), and 38" of snow (compared with the normal of 33"). It will be wintry, all right, but with nothing like the Blizzard of 1967." Broken down by months, the Almanac forecasts 1.98" precipitation and 2" snow for November with a very heavy storm during the first week; 1,84" precipitation and 10" snow for December with a bad snowstorm between the 7th and 13th; 2" and 8" in January with rain and snow between the 5th and 10th and heavy snow between the 24th and 31st.: 1.73" and 10" in February with the worst storm during the last week; 2.69" and 8" in March with most of the snow from the 5th to the 11th, considerable violence between the 18th and 23rd; and a cold wet storm between the 27th and 31st, and 3.66* precipitation in April with nothing turbulent predicted for the month except possibly during the last week.

The Old Farmer's Almanac, be it remembered, predicted last year's blizzard of January 26-27 right on the nose.

In addition to weather forecasts for the entire country (helpful to those planning vacations), the Almanac contains a wealth of miscellaneous information, some of it delivered with what can only be called a tongue-in-cheek approach. For instance, on Page 77 one can learn how a shrunken head was supplied to order. On Page 74 the origin of one of the most useful rhymes in the English language, Thirty Days Hath September, is discussed. There is a calendar of lucky and unlucky days for the entire year, and on Page 119 one can learn the particular combination of circumstances required to produce 5 Sundays in February (not to occur again until 1976).

And there is useful information as well, of course: a fishing calendar, planting hints, a table of growing seasons and another of killing frosts, tide corrections, moon weather tables, auto laws, postal laws, and the causes of hurricanes.

There is entertainment: a page of puzzles for amateur mathematicians (A crescentshaped area has for its outer boundary a semi-circle of radius one foot and for its inner boundary a quadrant of a larger circle. What is the area of the crescent in square feet?) and a page of Charades, Conundrums, and Enigmas. (What letter in the alphabet is most useful to a deaf woman? The letter "a" because it enables her to hear).

There is word of the sciences. A system of microtransparency developed by National Cash Register Co. provides for the publishing of up to 3200 pages on 4"x6" space. One transparency contains the complete works of Shakespeare. Eight transparencies contain a whole encyclopedia. Schools can rent projectors for these transparencies for $10 a month.

There is a week's reading in the Almanac, a year's study, and the weather, whether or not.

Fays celebrate golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Manly Fay were honored Sunday at a family dinner, for their 50th wedding anniversary. Twenty-nine persons attended the dinner at Sherwood Forest Country Club. Refreshments were served at the Fay home in the afternoon and they received many gifts.

Mrs. Fay is the former Alta Turner and was born March 23, 1898, in Grant township. Her husband, a retired farmer, was born Aug. 4, 1896, in Grant township. They were married Oct. 24, 1917, at the Methodist parsonage in Reese.

The Fays have four children: Mrs. Marjorie Barker Pearce of Cass City; Mrs. Gaylord (Charlotte) Lapeer of Ubly; Manley L. of Caseville, and Stanley of Pontiac. They also have nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Mrs. Fay is a member of the Grant Methodist church and Echo chapter OES.

4-H NEWS -

Officers were elected for the new 4-H year at the regular monthly meeting of Evergreen Guys 'N Gals 4-H Club Oct. 16 at the school.

Penny Copeland is president. Vice-presidents are Ann Turner and Danny Brown. Others are: secretary, Carolyn Jones; treasurer, Jim Wentworth; reporter, Lu Ann Kennedy.

A game was played in which 4-H members were tied up and with the mothers and leaders competing in collecting the most children. In the resulting family groups there were questions and answers concerning criticisms and praise of 4-H clubs and parents.

Mrs. Stanley Frankowski offered to make a 4-H flag for the Evergreen club.

The next social meeting will be a carnival. Each family is to be responsible for setting up a game of skill.

There will be no Christmas gift exchange among members this year. Each member is to purchase a gift to be sent to former 4-H members now in military service.

The first 4-H work meeting was held Oct. 17 at the school. Seventeen members started woodworking projects with Ken Kennedy, teen leader, and 15 girls started sewing projects with Teen Leader June Puterbaugh.

How's this for a football oddity. . . . Did you know there was once a college football game in which one team did not run or pass the ball at any time during the entire game, and still won it!....It happened to Kentucky. . .In a game in the early 1900s, Kentucky decided to kick on first down every time they got the ball .They did kick on first down throughout the game. . . They never ran the ball and never passed. . . . And they won 12-6 by recovering two fumbles by their opponents in the end zone! . . This oddity is hard to believe but it's been verified by the Kentucky Athletic Department.

Did you know a major college football team once went nine straight years without losing a game?....This amazing streak was made by the University of Washington. . . They didn't lose any games in 1908-09-10-11-12-13-14-15-16. During that time they played 63 games. . . They won 59 and tied four. . . They lost to Wash-of the death of Frank Cleland on Oct. 10 in Pontiac where he resided the past 19 years.

Word was received this week

Born in Evergreen township, Sanilac county, Aug. 31, 1906, he lived with his parents there until nearly forty years of age. His father, John Cleland, preceded him in death this past summer.

Frank Cleland was not married. He is survived by four brothers, James, Frederick, Doyle and Leslie, all of Pontiac. Funeral services were held in the Hontoon Funeral Home in Pontiac and at the graveside in Elkland cemetery Friday afternoon, Oct. 13.

'68 CHEVY II NOVA COUPE

The day of the plain Jane economy car has come and gone. Chevrolet has something far finer to offer.

LONG HOOD, SHORT DECK

You get your economy now under Nova's new swept-back roof. You get your engine dependability under Nova's new long hood. You get your rust prevention beneath Nova's new rounded fenders and larger body.

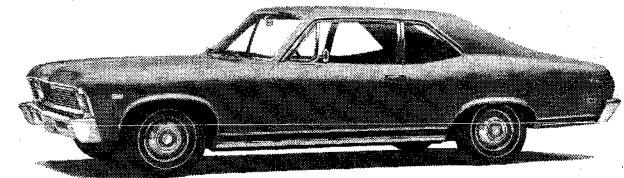

SUPERLATIVE RIDE

You get the smoothest in handling, too. The wheel stance is wider, the rear suspension has been redesigned, and there is a new cushion-mounted front end. Nova feels like it's a thousand pounds heavier. It rides with amazing silence and smoothness.

NEW ALL OVER

The grille is new. The interior is new. (There's even a special custom interior you can order, the likes of which no economy car has ever offered before.) The standard V8 is bigger, more powerful. So is the standard Six with its new Monojet carburetor that contributes to greater efficiency, economy and performance. There are many new safety features, including energy-absorbing front seat backs to go along with the proved GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, And when you equip a Nova with the SS package, you look out over a special hood and black accented grifle, housing a 350-cubicinch Turbo-Fire V8.

Front to back, Chevy II Nova's now a driving enthusiast's kind of car but, fortunately for you, it still comes at a saving enthusiast's kind of price, Very low,

Allay child's fear of ghost

By Mrs. Ann Ross

Extension Agent

just days away, what's going to be your reaction if your young child expresses fear? Mrs. Ann Ross, Thumb Extension home economist, says someone needs to assure him that there is such a thing as fear and that it's completely understandable and acceptable. And this should be the parents' responsibility.

Too many other people are ready with the taunt, "Johnny's a scaredy-cat" just as soon as Johnny shows some fear. And making fun of a child's fear leaves him alone and defenseless against it.

If you accept the reality of his fear, he'll be more likely to go along with the idea that he can overcome it.

Tell him about how afraid you were of some thing when you were a child or even as an adult. This helps him understand that other people can

With ghost and goblin time be afraid, too, and that fear is not just something that happens to him.

> Hearing how you gradually understood the things that were frightening you and how you conquered your fear will give him the idea he can conquer his fears, too.

> Fathers can be especially helpful. In the eyes of their children, they are probably the "big, strong, fearless" member of the family. If they could admit to being afraid when they were little, it would help put confidence back of their child's

Hostetler's Hodgepodge

He can hypnotize, decipher inscriptions

By Marion Hostetler

It happened at a 4-H club guess. camp which I attended when I An subject which my father must have ordered by mail in his boyhood. (I think it must have come from his boxhood. (I think it must have come from his boxhood.) come from his boyhood because it was a well-worn booklet by the time I found it, and I think cause I'm sure there weren't and David. any bookstores in Sugarcreek, Ohio, in those days.)

One afternoon at camp, several of us were lolling around during a free period with nothing much to do, when I said to one of the fellows, "I can hypnotize you." I doubt if he knew what the word meant, but anyway he said OK.

I went through the prescribed rhythmic motions in front of his eyes, and repeated in a monotonous voice, "You are getting sleepy. You are getting sleepy." Somewhat to man retorted, getting sleepy. You are getting sleepy." Somewhat to my surprise, he really fell asleep. When I said, "You are going up in a balloon," he swayed from side to side. I said, "Now the balloon is landing," and he gave a little jump. I said, "You have landed in fairyland, and now you are kissing the fairy now you are kissing the fairy princess," and his lips made the motions of a kiss.

I wakened him without trouble. But when my mother heard about it, she warned me about the dangers of hypnotism when practiced by untrained people like me, so I never did it again.

Alex Tyo found a rusty pair of tongs in an abandoned barn some time ago, and showed them to several old-timers without finding anybody who knew what they were for. I don't know much about farming, but I've had a little experience at reading old inscriptions, and I was able to decipher the letters that said, "Hill's Hog Tongs."

Then along came Jim Milligan, who recognized the device at once. The tongs are for holding a hog still while you clamp a ring into its nose to prevent it from rooting in the ground or lifting a fence. The larger curved piece fits over the top of the hog's snout, and the other one takes hold under

The thing that interested me was that the tongs were patented in 1873, and the very same design is still being manufactured in Keokuk, Iowa.

Arthur and Sigrid Holmberg now have three grandsons: Bradford, Blair and Blake Pollock. Assuming that Joan calls her husband Bill, she has four B's to contend with.

In our family, only two children have names beginning with the same letter, but when they were both at home we sometimes found ourselves saying Dave when we meant Don, and vice versa. It was quite con-

Aden F. Clump retired at Ubly

Aden F. Clump of Ubly has announced his retirement as manager of the Nestle company

Mr. Clump joined the firm June 4, 1926, in Reedsburg, Wisconsin, where he worked in the laboratory and as a machine operator. In 1929 he was transferred to Ublyasassistant superintendent.

From 1937 to 1938 he served in a similar capacity at the Cass City plant, returning to Ubly in 1938 as plant superintendent. He then spent 12 years in Greensville, Ohio, as superintendent. Again, he returned to Ubly as plant manager upon installation of the sweetened and condensed manufacturing process.

A dinner was given in his honor September 30 at a Harbor Beach restaurant to climax 41 years of service.

Mr. and Mrs. Clump were flown by the Nestle's company to white Plains, N. tour of its main office. Their future plans include extensive travel. They have made their home in Verona.

FERRIS HOMECOMING QUEEN — Beverly Ann Hrabec, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hrabec, Gilbert Road, Cass City, was crowned queen of the Ferris State College Homecoming weekend Friday night. Ferris President Victor F. Spathelf announced Miss Hrabec as the winner and placed the crown on her head before an audience estimated at 5,000 gathered for the pre-Homecoming Pep Rally. She was presented with a bouquet of red roses by the Homecoming coordinating or-ganization Sigma Phi Epsilon. Miss Hrabec was chosen by popular vote of the student body after a week of active campaigning on the part of her fraternity sponsor Phi Kappa Theta. She is a freshman in the School of Commerce Nine candidates were represented in the competition. Members of the court, also chosen by popular vote were Nancy Clay, Grand Rarlus; Sue Cuthbertson, Grand Rapids; Nancy Dailey, Jackson; and Theresa Munger. Detroit.

Why not take the wheel of this Cutlass S—youngest of the "youngmobiles" from Olds. A new 350-CID Rocket V-8 delivers more power at lower operating cost. (And does it more smoothly and quietly, as well.) You say you prefer a Six? Olds has a 250-CID Action-Line 6, too. These are only openers. You can tailor Cutlass S to your fancy and finances. 4-speed stick to stereo to sporty pinstriping. Front disc brakes to dual exhausts to Rally Sport Suspension. (All the new GM safety features are standard.) What it adds up to is this: If you like cars with a lot of pizzaz in the way they look—cars with a lot of moxie in the way they drive— your Oldsmobile Dealer is the man to see. They're the only kind he carries.

buried Friday

Funeral services were held Friday, Oct. 20, for Emerson McIntosh, 94, Snover. He was a retired farmer. He died Tuesday in Stevens Nursing Home where he had been a patient the past four years.

Mr. McIntosh was born in Canada Jan. 2, 1873, son of the late Robert and Hannah Clark McIntosh. He married Miss Ethel Newkirk June 6, 1906, in Sanilac county. His wife died Oct. 15, 1960.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lorn Hartel, Almont, and Mrs. Fred Haddix, Decker; five sons, Arwood of Birmingham, Lorn of Snover, Basil of Rochester, Mich., James of Decker and Peter of Roseville; 30 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren and a half brother, Vernon Underhill, Eadon, Ont.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. S. R. Wurtz, Sebewaing, a retired Evangelical United Brethren pastor. Burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Tact's the ability to describe others as they see themselves.

Real success comes from a combination of circumstances.

Michigan Mirror

Michigan rates high gan, Mrs. Doris LaClear, angins, as special guest. A potluck dinner preceded the in education taxes which produced Wayne State City of Detroit,

University: A handful of students, five doctors determined to improve medical instruction, and a building leased from a newly created Harper Hospital.

In 1868 the school was called Emerson McIntosh the Detroit Medical College. One year after its founding, degrees were awarded to a few students who had previously studied medicine at other institutions.

> One hundred years later Wayne State University has 31,-000 students enrolled in degree programs and another 26,000 affiliated through cooperative extension courses and programs.

> Currently there are 476 medical students and 482 students enrolled in medically-related fields in the School of Medicine.

Incorporated with $30,000 from contributions of 34 leading Detroit citizens and businesses, WSU's "book value" now exceeds $95,000,000.

The institution has undergone five name changes during its 100 year growth. It began as the Detroit Medical College. In 1885 the name was changed to the Detroit College of Medicine. In 1913 it was renamed the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery.
In 1918 the college became a publicly-controlled medical school, and responsibility was assumed by the Detroit Board of Education. In 1933 the college was made a part of the City's university organization

These are the ingredients known as the Colleges of the

The name, Wayne University, was born when the separate city colleges of Law, Pharmacy, Liberal Arts, Education and Medicine were combined into one university named after the Revolutionary War hero General Anthony Wayne.

At that time, the colleges of Engineering and Graduate School were also added.

Full control by the State of Michigan began in a three year transitional period in 1956. In April, 1959, a six man Board of Governors was elected to govern WSU.

Dr. William Rea Keast was inaugurated in 1965 as the fifth president of the university. Curricula on the mid-city campus encompass every major field of study in 10 colleges and schools. More than 75% of all students combine studies with employment to help pay educational costs. Classes are offered from 7:30 a, m. to 10 p. m. to make work-study arrangements easier for students. The campus now covers 173 acres, and WSU employs more than 6,000 professional and skilled staffers.

Centennial observances during the 1967-68 school year will be keved to the theme, "The Urban University and Urban Society." Symposiums, dedications, salutes, conferences, presentations and commencement programs will honor the university's 100 years of service to Michigan.

It will be interesting to follow progress during WSU's second century. Growth and accomplishments possible from such humble beginnings in 1868 should give Wayne State University a head start on the next 100 years.

WHERE TAXES GO

Paychecks issued to Michigan workers now reflect the new state income tax and may cause citizens to wonder just where their tax dollars are being spent.

Latest figures show how Michigan compares with other

The "average" Michigan citizen pays $447 per year for state and local government bite of the tax dollar, but Michigan, with $53 per person, ranks below the national average of $65. The national average is raised by large sums spent in sparsely populated states which are just beginning highway programs. Wyoming, for instance, spends $229 per person on roads, and Arizona spends $210.

Despite the unpleasantness of paying taxes and the outlook for more of them, there is some consolation in the fact that Michigan citizens are not taxed at a rate higher than others and that much of our money is invested in what should be the most productive foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William King of Byron, She married Harold W. Waldie Sept. 29, 1921. She was a member of the OES No. 225, Bancroft chapter.

She is survived by two sisters, Mabel St. Charles of Whitmore Lake and Edna Hagman, Howell. Two brothers died before her.

Burial was in Fremont cemetery Oct. 17. Officiating at the final rites was the Rev. Ernest Robinson, former pastor of the Cass City Methodist Church, now retired.

How does one learn to play particular role in life most effectively? What tasks should be understood and mastered? What are the socio-psychological needs at different ages, > isfied? Dr. Margaret Jacobson, family life specialist from Michigan State University, will discuss these topics at three separate one-o'clock conferences next week. She will be in Caro Tuesday, Oct. 31, for a meeting in the new jail basement. Wednesday, Nov. 1, it will be in the Farm Bureau building in Sandusky and in the Lutheran Specialist Slates Thumb conferences effectively as social units, then family members need to understand the value of a happy atmosphere at home," says Dr. Jacobson. This happiness needs to be based on responsible behaviour in the family unit as emphasized by the speaker.

Families may be classified as beginning (bride and groom). those with young children, families with grown children, and contracting families (older couple or one person). According to Mrs. Ann Ross. Tuscola county home extension economist, all of these family types will be considered in this lesson and the meetings are open to the public without charge.

W. Campbell Elementary

The students in Mrs. Stickle's fourth grade are studying about outer-space. They are making reports on all the planets and have read the current information in the papers about Venus.

Still collecting what they see while walking, Bryan Warju brought a sea horse, a star fish and a peacock feather for everyone to see. David Speirs brought a baby snapping turtle. If everybody keeps collecting . . .well, Mrs. Stickle could have a real problem on her hands.

Wednesday, the elementary school held its first Student Council meeting. In the meet-ing it was decided to ask the students to better their school

1. Staying off the grass and not pulling big chunks of grass out of the ground.

2. Not cracking milk cartons in the cafeteria. 3. Keeping the bathrooms clean by putting waste paper in the baskets, not on the floors. The students elected to represent their grades are:

FIRST GRADE

Sandy Guinther, Jeff Rutkowski, Gary Frizzle, Terri Mc-Kay, Todd Alexander, Lori Frederick, Frances Kozan and Scott Fisher.

SECOND GRADE

Mike Decker, Barbara Tuckey, Terri Hoag, Wallace Harp-Brian Bostick, Jul Ann Auten, Mark Drews and Christy Koenomann.

THIRD GRADE

Mike PreFontaine, Brenda Hahn, Dennis Nye, Melanie Kelly, Brian Helwig, Maureen O'Connor, Lori Smith and Bill

FOURTH GRADE

Brian Turner, Pam Ahern, Robert Spencer, Judy Pallagi, Maxine Smith and Rodney Hutchinson.

Evergreen

Although the students at Evergreen only had three days of school last week, a lot went on in those three days.

To start the week out differently and to break the monotony of the "same old schedule," Monday morning a professor from Brazil talked to the students and showed them pictures and curios from his country. Everyone seemed to enjoy this change of pace and benefited from it.

After the full eclipse of the moon last week, the second and third graders discussed how and why an eclipse trok place. Many of the grrues at Evergreen are making masks for their Halloween Party. The fifth and sixth graders have been doing science ex-periments. Instead of the whole class doing one experiment, usually two students are selected to do each experiment for the class.

Last year the seventh grade class left some money behind them for shrubs and tulip bulbs for their "x"-school. The bulbs have been planted and everyone hopes they will bloom in the spring.

Poor Mr. Kennedy! It seems he's having trouble with his bus again. A week ago last Friday it wouldn't start, so he had to wait for somebody to come and fix it.

The students on his bus sure luck out. They must be late at least once a week and instead of having to explain why, they probably just have to say, "I ride Mr. Kennedy's bus," and that explains all.

Every now and then if you were riding that same bus, you would hear someone yelling, "Hey - stop! The emergency door flew open. . . . again!" Oh well!

I wish to thank Ranae Turner, who sent me two poems she had written, but due to limited space, I couldn't have them printed. Thanks anyway, Ranae.

The Student Council met Tuesday. You may ask yourself, - What are they going to do now that home-coming is over? Actually there's a lot to be done and a lot they want to be done. Some of the topics of discussion at this meeting were: the adoption of a foreign child, sending a student from Cass City overseas as a summer foreign exchange student, having a Clean-In.

(A project to clean Seeger, Oak, and Main streets.) The council also decided to have Decker, the team's coach. the delayed home-coming parade last Friday.

The problem of "taxation without representation" was discussed and it was decided that each school club that is recognized by the council is to have a representative to the council. The representatives will be regular members and have one vote.

Wednesday our "Thumb B" representatives went to Caro for the first Thumb B Student Council meeting, These meetings are held so the different schools in our district (Thumb B) can meet, and share their ideas. Each school sends a minimum of four representatives and a maximum of six.

At the Pep assembly Friday, Mr. Bifoss and Mrs. Fahrner presented the President's Physical Fitness Awards to those who had earned them last spring. To earnthis award, the students had to get a score of 85% or better on the following skills: pull ups, the shuttle run, 50-yard dash, 600-yard run, sit ups, softball throw and the standing long jump. The boys who earned their first year award are: Rob Alexander, Greg Eshelman and Fred Klinkman. The girls who won their first-

Another winner in the Junior High division was Sharon Ashmore, who was absent Friday and missed the assembly. Senior High Division - Pat

Elizabeth Pasieczny, Thane, Sandy Holcomb, Ruth Ann Hunter, Theresa Kloc and Debble McCreedy. Four girls have earned awards two years in a row. Those who received their second-year Physical Fitness Awards are: Sally Geiger, Brenda Periso, Louella Sabo, and Pam Randall. After the presentation of these awards, the spirit jug was held. Because of complaints by the Sophomores that the Seniors had it "rigged" the judges - Mr. Bifoss, Mr. Cleland and Mr. Hirn were called to the center of the gym, so that they weren't closer to any one class. After all the classes were heard, a three-way tie was called among the Freshmen, the Sophomores, and "natch" the Seniors. The three classes had a run-off and the Freshmen broke the Seniors' monopoly on victories. It's about The standing score is:

After the spirit jug, the varsity cheerleaders performed a skit and the senior members of our football squad were recognized. They had to go to the center of the gym and do the "chug chug" for the Student Body.
