

Preparation Costly

Seek Funds For Dump

Now that the village has its dump site, 1 1/2 miles south and about a half mile east of Cass City, trustees are busy looking for ways to raise money to make it useable.

Several major expenditures will be needed before the sanitary land-fill type operation can be started and the council is determined to have the new dump in operation by fall, it was revealed at the regular monthly meeting of the group Tuesday at the Municipal Building.

The first hurdle is the cost of a road to the site. Presently, there is a trail that leads to the property from Cemetery Road and it must be raised and graded. An off-the-cuff estimate for the work ran between $4,000 and $5,000.

After the road is built, the council must arrange for equipment for operation. Under new laws, refuse must be buried within 24 hours.

To do this a trench must be built and then equipment made available to cover trash as it is brought into the dump. None of these expenses were in the budget for the year.

GO IT ALONE

A check with other area townships is underway to see if they are interested in using the new facility.

However, if it becomes an area dump it will still be owned and operated by the village, according to the sentiments echoed by the council Tuesday. Dr. D. E. Rawson said that he felt it was easier to come up with a decision with one governmental unit in control than it would be with several. Other trustees echoed his opinion. A fee system will be established for townships using the facility.

While discussing ways to raise money, Trustee Glen McCullough suggested that perhaps the alley and street work slated for the year could be prepared this year and finished next year.

This would give us more money, he said, and judging from the alley in back of my store (Mac and Scotty) it would result in a better job.

William Schram, village engineer, agreed that waiting over a winter gives better compaction, but it is unlikely that the programs will be delayed. The trustees felt that it was important to proceed as planned.

From the Editor's Corner

OTHER WORK

It is likely that curb and gutter work slated for the year will be completed in May.

Curb to be installed will be on Houghton, from Seeger to Woodland and on Church Street, west of Seeger, to Weaver Street. A petition for two blocks on Houghton, west of Seeger, was tabled because the preliminary work has not been completed.

NEW SIDEWALK

Sidewalk will be added for 190 feet on Seeger Street on property owned by Fred Auten and in front of the Presbyterian Church for about 222 feet.

Half of the cost will be paid by the property owner and half by the village. Cost to the village is estimated at $550.

SANITARY SEWER

Another large project of the village will be the sanitary sewer running to the new school. The village plans to bid the project. The line will run from the corner of Church and Ale to the school. Cost of the sewer from Ale to Rose Street (the street that runs in front of the Willis Campbell Elementary School) will be paid by the village. The cost from Rose Street will be paid by the school.

Chief Willy Tells Tornado Warning System

Fire Chief Nelson Willy this week explained the meaning of various terms and signals used to put residents on the alert for impending tornadoes.

In Cass City, when a warning is needed, it will be sounded by a two-minute blast on the siren, he explained.

The all-clear will be three 30-second blasts.

A warning is issued when radar or observation indicates that a severe storm is headed to the area even though the weather bureau has not verified the character of the storm.

During a warning, people should take cover, if possible, or watch the sky and lie down in a ditch or other depression if a tornado is sighted.

The other terminology for severe weather is the "watch". This term indicates that a storm might develop and residents should check radios or TV to see how the storm develops.

Youth in Narrow Escape in Track Accident

Tom Crow, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crow, escaped serious injury Saturday when he was struck on the head by a wild throw of the shot put during the Gavel Club Invitational track meet.

The youngster was taken to Hills and Dales Hospital where X-ray examination indicated no serious damage. He was released after treatment which included three stitches to close the wound.

IT'S SPRING AND nothing can stop it . . . not even new asphalt paving in the lot behind Mac & Scotty Drug Store.

The hard surface covered a small flower garden created with loving care by Mrs. Ella Price several years ago and was unusual enough so that the Chronicle took a picture of it.

Apparently doomed by progress, the flowers miraculously burst through the hard surface this spring by rolling back the asphalt like it was putty.

Police Chief Carl Palmateer this week issued a plea to anyone with information that might lead to the apprehension of the vandals who smashed 46 parking meters in Cass City Sunday night.

Any information that we receive will be kept strictly confidential and anyone with information can either call or write the police department, Palmateer continued.

The 46 ruined meters are on the south side of Main Street from West to Seeger Street and on Seeger Street, north

The money is used to help in the Lions Sight Conservation program in Cass City and nationally.

The Lions aim and plan is to provide every blind person with a White Cane . . . the symbol of blindness . . . as a measure of protection for him.

The Lions annually help with a sight preservation program in local schools.

Music Dept. Sets Annual Spring Concert

The Cass City High School capella choir will present its annual spring concert, "Springtime Serenade," Thursday evening, April 27. The concert, at 8:00 p. m., is to be in the high school auditorium.

Under the direction of Roger Parrish, featured ensembles will include three selections by the choir, "No Man Is An Island," a special Fred Waring arrangement, and "From All That Dwell Below the Skies" and "Mighty Land, Wondrous Land."

There will be five soloists. They are Sue Kelley, Denise Michels, Lorraine Smith, Dale Bullock and Bill Spencer. Duets on the program include Mary Sue Burns and Dale Bullock and also Sue Kelley and Bullock.

A group, "The Spirit of '67 Singers," will also sing.

Miss Ruth Anna Miller will be special guest soloist. Miss Miller is Cass City's band director and her selection is "Serenade." Another special feature is a guitar solo by

Urge Solicitors To Complete PEP Collections

The Park Expansion Program fund drive is about a third completed and Dick Wallace, chairman, urges all canvassers to complete their solicitations this week.

We have about a third of the necessary $32,000 collected, Wallace said, and expect to go over the top when reports from volunteers are submitted.

Most solicitors, he added, have been around their areas, but call backs are delaying the returns to the village which is handling the money.

May 13 Deadline For Filing School Petitions

The deadline for filing petitions for one of two open positions on the Cass City School Board this year is drawing near, Supt. Donald Crouse announced this week.

All petitions must be submitted to Secretary Elwyn Helwig on or before May 13 at 4 p. m. To be valid petitions must have 49 valid signatures and authorities suggest that 60 to 75 be secured to allow for names of non-registered or ineligible voters.

This year the terms of Donald Reid and Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn are expiring and both have indicated that they will seek re-election.

Terms are for four years.

Promise Support For Little League

The Cass City Little League was promised its usual support Tuesday night by the village council.

Dean Hoag, president, asked for money for an umpire and the use of village equipment to keep the field in repair and was assured that the assistance would be given.

Action was referred to the park committee.

7 Hurt in Area Crash

Seven persons were hospitalized from injuries received in a two-car crash Saturday evening at the corner of Dickerson and Colling Road.

Three of the injured were still recovering at Hills and Dales Hospital Wednesday morning.

In the hospital were Theodore Robinson, 45, of Cass City who suffered a cut to his eye and bruises; his wife, Edna, who suffered bruises of the hip and abdomen, and Mrs. Edith Parkins, 25, of Caro, shock and lacerations.

Others injured were: Rebecca Brown, 43, of Vassar, bruises of the back and head; Theron Robinson of Caro, laceration of eye; Norm Parkins, 28, of Rochester, bruises of the chest, and Ernest John Dembouski, 43, of Unionville, laceration of face, eye and knees and numerous bruises.

The car driven by Dembouski of Unionville hit the rear of a vehicle owned by Theodore Devern Robinson of Cass City.

The Robinson vehicle was stalled when the accident occurred. Both cars were headed west on Dickerson Road. According to statements of investigating officers from the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department, Dembouski failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection.

Village Nixes Salary Changes

There will be no salary adjustments for village employees for the remainder of the year, the village council decided Tuesday night.

The policy was established when Frank Guilds' position at the disposal plant was discussed when a "six months" raise was requested.

Trustees felt that there was no established policy for automatic raises after six months and said that all salary reviews would be taken at one time when the budget was formulated.

Robinson claimed to have flashed his brake lights when the other car approached and said his headlights were on. Dembouski said he did not see the tail lights flash.

NO INJURIES

Roland G. Hoppe, 47, Cass City, and James M. O'Rourke, 62, Gagetown, escaped injury when the cars in which they were driving collided on South Van Dyke four miles southwest of Bad Axe. Hoppe's vehicle was attempting to pass the O'Rourke vehicle at the time of the collision.

State police from the Bad Axe post investigated the mishap.

No End in Sight for Evan's Strike

We have no meetings and none are planned at the present time, John Murphy, manager at Evans Products Co. in Gagetown, announced this week as he commented on the progress of the strike that was called Friday.

About 150 employees, members of the United Steel Workers of America, walked off the job after negotiations broke down despite all-day talks between the union and management.

Murphy said that he was not prepared to release details of the union's requests or the company's offer.

The union is asking for increased vacation and insurance benefits, wage hikes and shift differential pay increases. The old contract ran out Feb. 24 with the union agreeing to an extension with a five-day strike notice.

Federal and State mediators, sitting in on some of the 11 or 12 meetings between management and labor, have been no help at all, according to the parties involved.

Criminal Cases Heard in Circuit Court

One person was sentenced, two pleaded guilty as charged and two pleaded innocent in cases heard Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court in Caro before Judge James Churchill.

Jack Joles of Unionville was placed on probation for two years for larceny from a building owned by Bertram Partlo of Unionville.

In addition he was ordered to pay a fine and costs of $200 each and make restitution of $366.65, all at the rate of $20 per month. He will spend the first six week ends of his sentence in the Tuscola County Jail.

Pleading innocent of charges were Alfred Mosack of Cass City and William Burnham of Mayville.

Mosack was charged with drawing three or more checks with insufficient funds. He stood mute when arraigned and a plea of not guilty was entered for him.

Burnham was charged with two counts of driving with a revoked license. The cases of both men were continued and they were released on bond.

Pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny was Danny Summerfield of Vassar. He broke into the Vassar Golf Course.

Judge Churchill ordered a pre-sentence investigation and sentence will be passed May 15. Bond was continued.

Also pleading guilty when arraigned was Robert James Garner of Postoria who admitted breaking and entering a gas station in Watertown township owned by J. McMullen.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentence will be passed June 5.

Set Clean-up Week May 15-20

Clean-up week is slated for the week of May 15 this year it was announced by President Lambert Althaver Tuesday night at the regular council meeting.

As usual, the village will offer free pick-up of trash Thursday, Friday and Saturday as an added incentive for business and home owners to beautify the community.

After Over 50 Years

Changing Society Ends Unique Club

As the Thumb area undergoes its gradual transition from a rural to an urban society, one of the more regretful casualties to the more frenzied living pace are many area farm organizations and social clubs.

One of the oldest in the Cass City area recently tossed in the sponge when the Hay Creek Union Aid, active in the community for more than 50 years, disbanded at a potluck supper held recently at the Shabbona Community Hall.

Twenty persons, including the final eight active members of the organization were present at the club's disbanding party. It was reminiscent of many of the aid's meetings in former years when the rolls showed 40 ladies, all interested and active in the club's work.

For the regular meeting every two weeks was a social highlight of the day. The ladies arrived in the morning, cooked a big dinner and the menfolk came in for dinner, paying their way by tossing money in the pot via a free-will offering.

After the dinner, quilting started and often three quilts were set up in the hall for simultaneous work.

"I figure we got about a dime an hour for our labor," said one of the ladies during the interview, "but we did it for fun and then donated the proceeds to area churches and to charity drives", she asserted.

HOW IT STARTED

Although Mrs. James McQueen is a charter member, still active, she can't remember just how the club got started. "I remember we started meeting in the members' homes and soon we were so many that we were forced into the hall," she explained.

The records do show that Mrs. Robert Boughner was the charter president. Others in order which they served were: Mrs. James Wallace, Mrs. Warner Cox, Mrs. Bessie McQueen and Mrs. Fred Emigh.

In the early days, we paid dues of 10 cents a meeting. But like everything else, inflation took over and they crept to 25¢ . . . 35¢ . . . and at the end, 50¢, the ladies said.

A unique feature of the organization was that it was a ladies' aid not affiliated with any church.

All of the current members report many years of enjoyment from the Aid but say that the disbanding was made necessary by the lack of younger women in the organization. Today, all of the younger women are working. Several belonged to the club before the factories came and they were forced to resign, they said.

At the final formal meeting of the Aid, each member received a keepsake gift of a cup and saucer and husbands were given ties. Children received ties or socks.

Quilts were given as door prizes and were won by Dale Alexander and Robert Bader.

Although the last official meeting of the Aid has been held, it is likely that the members will get together again.

We have a little money left in our treasury, the ladies explained, and we are going to hold special meetings or trips when the mood strikes us until the money is exhausted.

3 Years Later-Kraft Finds Answer to Hole Story

Editor's note: It took three years for Northern Paper Co. (manufacturers of toilet paper among other items) to answer this letter that Dave wrote complaining about their product. His letter and the answer are printed here.

I trust you will handle this matter in your usual efficient manner. Thank you.

Sincerely,

ANSWER TO DAVE'S LETTER
Apr. 20, 1967

Mr. David M. Kraft Jr.
News Editor
The Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Michigan

Dear Mr. Kraft:

You're going to find this almost impossible to believe and I'm sure the entire matter has slipped from your memory but we just found the attached letter from you dated February 20, 1964, in an old file. Don't ask me how these things happen but they occasionally do. I think what brought the letter to light was the fact that we're preparing to move our offices from Green Bay to New York's Metropolitan area and we're

"house cleaning". If there is any single rule that we meticulously abide by it's the one that requires instant reaction whenever we receive a complaint about one of our products. How your letter got by us without a reply will never be known.

All I can do is apologize, Mr. Kraft, and assure you that the type of defect you found in our product (holes in the paper) is a problem that we are aware of but a problem that, regrettably, is still occasionally with us. We make millions of rolls of paper each day and can't possibly inspect each one but we have a complicated, involved system of quality control that does hold this sort of thing to a minimum.

To prove the point, Mr. Kraft, I'm sending a few "pile run" sample rolls to you under separate cover. I'll keep my fingers crossed and hope that these rolls meet with your full approval.

Again, my sincere apologies for not answering your letter at an earlier date.

Sincerely,
R. J. Turek

Gagetown News      Correction      Pleads Guilty in Justice Court

S/Sgt. Walter Sattelberg, who has returned from a year of duty in Viet Nam and also confined 80 days in hospitals in Viet Nam and Korea, and Stanley Sattelberg of Naperville, Ill., spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolf C. Sattelberg of Gagetown. The S/Sgt. will finish the rest of his duty at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

The Chronicle wishes it were so, but it isn't. Last week the report that the library received $1,229.45 from the State.

This amount was sent to Cass Co. Cass City's share was $260.90, according to the tabulations from the State Board of Education.

The Want Ads are newsworthy too.

John Crawford, 21, of Cass City was sentenced to two days in jail, fined $25 and costs of $10 after he pleaded guilty before Justice Hugh Connolly in Cass City for driving with a revoked license.

Crawford was ticketed by Cass City Patrolman James Jezewski.

Aim for Multi-Purpose Center

A Multi-Purpose Educational Center is the goal of the Thumb area three Intermediate Superintendents George Leckrone of Sanilac county, Morgan Ballagh of Huron county, and William Scott of Tuscola county.

The Intermediate Superintendents initiated the study for area educational needs through a federal grant, and the Director, George Quinn, of the so-called PACE Program is now preparing the final project report for delivery to Washington.

The Multi-Purpose Center would include a centrally located materials center furnishing area schools with a film library, a professional library of books and periodicals for teachers, and a transparency depository of master copies from which duplicate copies may be made for use with area projectors.

Included would be a staff of specialists in such subjects as Mathematics, Science, Language Arts, Social Studies, Art & Music, Physical and Mental Health, and Educational Research. These consultants would aid schools in the three counties in using materials, up-dating curricula, experimenting in new techniques, and placing new methods of motivating students in the hands of schools, both public and parochial.

If the program is accepted in Washington, it would be financed and set in motion by federal funds and then phased out in three years with local districts picking up the cost.

Details are still to be worked out in the writing of the final project report by George Quinn with the report to be approved by the Intermediate Superintendents and then hopefully by the Federal Government. The project should be submitted by June 1st.

First Evening Induction Held

For the first time in its 23-year history, the Cass City High School chapter of the National Honor Society held its induction service this year as an evening event. The move from a daytime school assembly was prompted by the hope that more of the parents and adult friends of the members might be able to attend.

Thirty-six students, from grade seven to 12, were made members of the honors group at ceremonies held in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. All 29 previously inducted members participated in the program. Chairman for the occasion was Tim Knight, salutatorian of the class of 1967. Speaking on the four-fold criteria on which elections are made, Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service, were Edward Ackerman, 1967 Valedictorian, Diane Freiburger, Eric Esau, and Rosemary Fritz. Leading the candlelight procession of senior society members to the stage was Joan Maleck, while Carol Clarke served in the same capacity for the junior group. A feature of the program was a talk by Heinrich Volschow, German exchange student, who compared education in his native land with that in America.

Planning the program was a student committee working under the direction of Dave Ackerman, faculty advisor to the honor society. Students in the third year Homemaking class, assisted by Mrs. Tom Jackson, prepared and served refreshments during the social hour that followed the induction service.

Every student and teacher in the high school had a voice in the selection of the new members, through a rating system that the faculty council em-

I

KNOW

By H. M. Bolen

 Since it's not unusual for world track and field records to be broken quickly these days, do you have any idea what was the one world record that held up for the longest period in modern times? . . . The most durable of modern records was Jesse Owens' world broad jump mark of 26 feet, 8 1/4 inches set in May, 1935. . . .
 It wasn't broken till August,
 1960 when Ralph Boston bettered it. . . . Owens' record lasted 25 years! . . . Imagine any other world record in track or field lasting that long today.

 Who's the oldest man ever to win a regular tournament on the pro golf tour? . . . Answer is Sammy Snead who set the record by winning the Greensboro Open in 1965 at the age of 52.

 Who were the greatest baseball players of all-time at each position? . . . A sportswriters poll once picked this as the
 All-Time Team. . . . (1b) Lou Gehrig. . . . (2b) Rogers Horns-
 by. . . . (ss) Honus Wagner. . . .
 (3b) Pie Traynor. . . . (outfield)
 Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Babe
 Ruth. . . . (c) Mickey Cochrane son and Christy Mathewson.

Hawks Split two Baseball Games

Cass City Red Hawks split their opening two games in the Thumb B Conference this week, defeating hard hitting Vassar Monday and losing to Sandusky Thursday.

Errors were costly for the Hawks in their 9-6 loss to the Redskins. The winners used seven Cass City bobbles and a lousy 10-hit attack to walk away with the win in a game played at Cass City Recreation Park.

The visitors scored three times in the first inning and twice in the second to take a lead they never lost. Cass City bounced back with three runs on four hits in the second and tallied another marker in the third on a three-base lash by John Maharg to pull within a run. The closest they came to victory.

Phil Gray with two hits led Cass City's attack. Hull was charged with the loss.

DEFEAT VASSAR

Al Zawilinski made his first league start of the year against the Vulcans and was in command all the way as the Hawks posted an 8-5 decision at Vassar.

A two-run rally in the first and a four-run spurge in the fifth sewed up the game. A hit by Sefton after three walks was the key blow of the inning.

Cass City supported Zawilinski with a 10-hit attack and made just one error behind him.

Zawilinski had limited the Vulcans to just two runs until the last inning when they pushed across three more markers. He bore down in the clutch to retire the final batter when a circuit clout would have tied the game.

Gray and Sefton both cracked two hits in three tries to lead Cass City at the plate. Every member of the team picked up a hit except Randall who failed to collect a safety while walking twice in four trips.

It's Twirp Week At Local School

This is "Twirp Week" for students at Cass City Schools. Each day students are to participate and dress accordingly for the day's activities. The theme this year is "Catch Us If You Can."

Monday was Clash Day and Tuesday, dress-up day. Wednesday is favorite hat day. A kangaroo court will be held for those breaking the day's rules and Auctioneer Dave Osestoski will sell slaves.

Miss Irresistible Day is Thursday when boys are not to converse with the girls. Friday is Mr. Irresistible day when the exact opposite ruling prevails, girls are not to talk with boys. An assembly is also to be held Friday.

A dance Friday evening will complete the week's events and a king and queen will be crowned.

Cass City FFA Fetes Puterbaugh

President Ronald Cybulski emceed the program and a film, "Four Star American Farmers of '64," was shown.

In other activities, sophomore members were named for chapter farmer degrees and freshmen, for the greenhand degree. Members also reviewed the year's events, according to Lyle Clarke, advisor.

Gavel Invitational

Kearsley Rolls
To Track Victory

Flint Kearsley, the defending champion, had little trouble defending its title Saturday in the Gavel Club Invitational at Cass City Recreational Park.

The Flint school, which has won five of the nine events here, walked off with the championship by nearly doubling the total of second-place Clio with a total of 49 points.

A record 35 teams entered and 24 of them earned points. Cass City finished 12th and could have been as high as seventh, but was disqualified in the sprint medley relay, Coach Bob Suckie reported.

Teams, in order of finish, which garnered points were: Flint Kearsley, 49; Clio, 26; Vassar, 20; Akron-Fairgrove, 18; Unionville, 17; Frankenmuth, 16; Mayville, 16; Port Huron Catholic, 15; Bay City John Glenn, 14; North Branch, 11; Montrose, 10; Bullock Creek, 8; Cass City, 8; Davison, 6; Flint Ainsworth, 6; Flushing, 6; Merrill, 6; Flint Beecher, 5; Flint Atherton, 5; Croswell-Lexington, 3; Lakers, 2; Reese, 2; St. Louis, 1.

The efforts of the thincads were hampered by the weather. A cold wind kept boys from getting loose throughout the afternoon and evening.

One record was set. Gorsalitz of Clio ran the mile in 4:35.5, but was expected to be even faster than this on the basis of his time in other meets.

Cass City's points were won by Phil Nichols and Karl Weipert. Weipert finished fifth in the 180-low hurdles. Nichols tied for second in the high jump.

There were two double winners in the meet and both came from the Thumb B Conference. Steve List of Frankenmuth won the long jump at 20 feet, three inches and the 180-yard low hurdles in :21.1. Bob Frye of Vassar won the 100-yard dash in :10.7 and the 220 in :23.5.

Other first place winners were: pole vault, Cook, Kearsley, 12 feet; high jump, Katauskas, Davison, five feet eight inches; millerun, Gorsalitz, Clio, 4:35.5, the only new record set Saturday; the 880 relay, Kearsley, 1:37.3; 440-yard dash, Gordon Aldrich, Akron-Fairgrove, 52.75 seconds; 880 run, Al Fox, Mayville, 2:05.0; medley relay, Kearsley, 2:38.75; two-mile run, Bob Sugden, Mayville, 10:42.5, and the mile relay, Akron-Fairgrove, 3:42.5.

The Tuscola County Family Counseling Center announced today that March was the busiest month at the agency since service was first offered last July. The agency, located above Dyer's Jewelry in Caro, served a total of 123 families during the month. Included were 206 adults and 72 children.

Marital counseling and help with personality problems were the most frequently requested services. There was also a large number of cases in which families asked for help with parent-child problems.

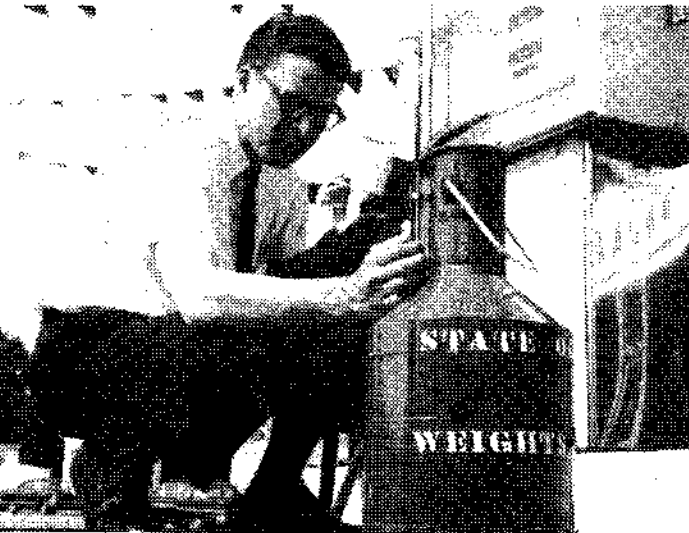

School personnel have made the greatest number of referrals in recent months. However, it was noted that there has also been a steady flow of referrals from clergy, physicians, attorneys, and other professionals throughout the county.

The services of the agency, an affiliate of the Office of Economic Opportunity, are available to all residents of Tuscola county. Individuals and families may request service or information by calling 673-4151 in Caro.

Innovations in textures seem to have no bounds in new jewelry. Finishes imitate bark, fur, moss, frost, and in fact about every irregular texture found in nature.

Weighing and Measuring Devices Checked By Michigan Department of Agriculture

A Michigan Department of Agriculture inspector tests a gasoline meter. If accurate, a department seal will be affixed; otherwise pump is condemned for repair and is later rechecked.

Weighing and measuring devices are regularly checked for accuracy throughout the state by the Michigan Department of Agriculture to assure that consumers, wholesalers, retailers, farmers, and others receive what they bargain for.

Grocery scales, tank trucks, warehouse scales, and bottle gas refilling meters receive routine checks. Food and other consumer goods packages are weighed to assure that the net contents are as stated on the labels.

The entire weights and measures program is a responsibility of the agriculture department's Food Inspection Division. This division maintains official state weights in conjunction with the U. S. Bureau of Standards. Its inspectors even check the heavy duty scales of the highway department's "weighmaster," who in turn enforces truck road weights.

Soil District In Stewardship Week Plans
The Tuscola Soil Conservation District is joining with nearly 3,000 other Soil Conservation Districts throughout the United States in observing Soil Stewardship Week, April 30 to May 7. This event has taken place for many years in order to help our rapidly increasing population realize that they are dependent upon the Lord and his goodness for our standard of living, Charles Wells, Tuscola Soil Conservation District Chairman, announced today.

The district directors have supplied the nearly 80 churches in the Tuscola Soil Conservation District with the 13th in an annual series of publications that emphasize the integration of the Church and our natural resources. The booklet has been prepared by a committee including ministers of the National Councils and Conferences of many denominations, so it contains materials from the best religious minds available. It includes a great deal of information for the assistance of all ministers. In addition, the District is providing 5,000 bulletin inserts to 34 churches who have requested them for use in their services.

Private citizens own or manage three-fourths of the land that makes up the United States. Unless these citizens carry out their God-given responsibility of caring for this land properly, it will be ruined and the future of the American people, as well as the land itself, will be blighted beyond repair, authorities said.

28 Acts In Lions Show

Twenty-eight acts packed into a fast moving two-hour show have been promised fans who see the second annual Lions Talent Show at Cass City High School Saturday night.

Jim Williams, who is again directing the show and will be master of ceremonies, says that there will be acts to suit every taste.

We've got several rock and roll bands, a gospel quartet, a host of singers and dancers, comedy routines and instrumentalists, Williams said.

From what we heard at the Sunday afternoon try-outs, we can promise you an even better show than the one that most everyone agreed was outstanding last year, Williams asserted.

Every act will play a single number and will compete for a total of $155 in prizes. Acts come from all over the Thumb area and from as far away as Port Huron and Central Michigan, Williams concluded. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

Prisoner Rehabilitation Program Proving Success

Rehabilitation of inmates has been a major factor in programs of the Michigan Corrections Department for a good number of years.

The department now has a good yardstick to measure the success of its various efforts toward rehabilitation of prisoners.

Some years ago, Michigan initiated a sleep-in, work-out program for certain inmates. It appears to be most successful.

Employers, the real indicators of the success, reported general satisfaction with the prisoner-workers they hired. About 75 per cent of the employers gave performance ratings of "good" or "outstanding" to the inmates they hired in the past year.

Only 156 men were involved in the program, partly because of its newness but partly by design within the department administration. Only jobs that cannot be filled by the local work force can be taken by inmate labor.

To be eligible for the program prisoners must be also within a year of parole consideration, be good security risks and have no background of mental illness, sexual deviation or assault records.

Only 11 of 156 men involved in the semi-parole program last year were removed from their jobs.

Now the department is considering extension of the program to allow prisoners to find work in their home communities, rather than just in jobs specifically located by department officials. If the program were changed in this way, prisoners would be allowed to serve their non-working time in local county jails.

Idea behind the home-town job project would be to provide an additional transitional step from prisoner to private citizen since many inmates return to their former communities when released.

CLEANUP TIME

Sure sign of spring is the almost irritating number of yellow flashing lights seen in cities and on open roads of the state.

Flashers mean that work is under way to get rid of Michigan's annual winter "hang-over." This is the term given by cleanup crews to the work they face each year to rid Michigan's roadways, roadside parks, rest areas and picnic sites of the litter accumulated during the snowy season.

It includes picking up tons of debris cluttered along the roads; clearing ditches and culverts to insure needed drainage.

Pavements marred by freeze-thaw damage must be patched, and damaged signs and reflectors replaced.

The state ordered 40,500 pounds of grass seed, 610,000 pounds of fertilizer, 4,205 gallons of weed sprays and similar amounts of other items needed to improve roadsides and rest areas. This is a sizable planting operation but necessary to keep Michigan green.

TAKE CARE

"Let the buyer beware," remains a good watchword for consumers despite the many government regulations designed to protect the public from unscrupulous dealers in products and services.

A typical spring activity, landscaping, planting shrubs and flowers, provides a good example that all the laws in the nation cannot protect the unwary buyer.

Michigan has a nursery stock law designed to protect the buyer.

All nursery stock is required to bear a certificate stating that the material has been examined and found to be free of plant diseases and insect pests.

The law also requires that nursery stock must be stored and displayed so as to maintain the certified conditions. "Quality is a factor in de-

As a special feature of this year's program, the visiting eighth graders will join the high school students at an assembly program scheduled for the afternoon.

Arrangements for the day are in the hands of the guidance office and the high school student council. Student council members will act as guides for the visitors.

Zawilinski Trains At Fort Knox

Army Private Michael J. Zawilinski has been assigned to the United States Army Training Center, Armor at Fort Knox, Ky., for his initial eight weeks of military training.

He will spend the next two months learning all the fundamental skills of a soldier in today's modern, action Army, and will fire more than 500 rounds of live ammunition under simulated combat situations, including those encountered at night, during a three-week course with the soldier's basic weapon--the M14 rifle.

Following the completion of his basic training, Pvt. Zawilinski, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Zawilinski of Cass City, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Agent's Corner

Mrs. Ann Ross

Carpeting out in the playground... or in patios? Before you consider this a bit afled from the usual role of carpets, add a new carpet fiber to the ones you already know, suggests Mrs. Ann Ross, Thumb area extension home economist.

The fiber is polypropylene (poly-pro-pylene) which belongs to the olefin family of synthetics. Carpeting market news for 1967 says this newcomer is moving more strongly into the retail market now.

It's being marketed as sun and shade, indoor-outdoor carpet. It's also being called "wall to wall lawn" to imply uses in kitchens, bathrooms, playrooms as well as outdoor places.

In the wovens, it's coming textured and in cut-pile. In non-wovens or pressed construction, it is somewhat like the resilient floor coverings we know but it's actually carpeting, Mrs. Ross explains. Another version in non-wovens is carpet tile -- 12-inch squares of olefin made with a soft rubber back for indoor-outdoor uses.

Major good characteristics of the polypropylene olefin fiber is that it resists water, staining, sunlight, mildew, rotting and freezing. These qualities stand out because the fiber has unusual strength and good abrasion resistance.

Price-wise, the non-wovens are said to be in the $5 range per square yard; wovens from $6.50 on up to over $12.50 depending on quality of construction.

Obviously, any newcomer on the market must stand the test of time and the inevitable trials consumers will put in its path. Some caution in where you use this type of carpeting is in order. Sharp objects (cleats on shoes, etc.) can damage the non-wovens -- a good reason for using carpet tile if you think some repair work might be called for.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

Dedicated Group Spurs College Drive

By Dan Marlowe

I attended an informational meeting for newspapermen the other evening on the subject of the Tri-County Community College proposal which will appear on the ballot for voter evaluation in Huron, Sanilac, and Tuscola counties on June 12, and I was impressed by the dedication of the study group which has been working for 2 1/2 years to bring the community college concept to life. The meeting was held at the Fox Hunters Lodge 4 miles north of Uby on M-19, and was co-hosted by the Uby Fox Hunters, the Uby Lions, and the Uby Community Club. The session was chaired by Bill Pietscher, Bad Axe Superintendent of Schools, and it was obvious that committee members had done their homework. Broadly speaking, the recommendations of the study group are: a) That a tri-county community college be constructed near the geographic and population center of the district, an area within a 5 mile radius of the intersection of M-53 and M-81, and b) That either 3 or 42-year vocational-technical schools be built in selected areas within the district.

The strength of the appeal of the vocational-technical schools aspect of the proposal was one of the surprises of the meeting. Speaker after speaker emphasized that it made no sense to attempt to lure industry into the Thumb area if the qualified personnel could not be found or created for industry to employ. Another telling point made was that for the 60% of current high school graduates who do not go on to college, educational facilities of a vocational nature are extremely limited.

On June 12th there will be three proposals on the ballot for the consideration of the voters of the tri-county area. The first of these, of course, will be a simple yes-or-no vote on the desirability of a community college. The second item on the ballot will be an authorization for a 2 mill levy for the construction of the college; and the third will be the election of a board of trustees to implement the program, 2 trustees being elected for 2 year terms, 2 for 3 years, and 3 for 6 years.

Final date for the filing of petitions for election as a trustee is May 13, and while at the time of writing this column no one had formally filed, it was gratifying to learn at the meeting that among the petitions now circulating were a number from individuals highly placed in tri-county industrial circles. The fact that these busy people are campaigning for the non-paying trusteeships which truly represent a public service was one of the most encouraging developments of the evening.

During the informal presentations made to the newspapermen present, Asa Fleck, Deckerville Superintendent of Schools, spoke on the preparation of a brochure-supplement to be included as part of local newspapers; John Bowles of Station WKYO in Caro spoke on the proposed radio coverage to bring the word to the people; A. H. (Gus) MacEachin of Uby urged newspaper editorial coverage; Lloyd Buhl of the Deckerville Recorder covered the newspapermen's point of view; Paul Solini, county columnist for the Port Huron Times Herald, spoke on the columnists' viewpoint; and Harold Haley of Universal Engineering in Bad Axe discussed the financial prospects.

These dedicated people, and above all the qualified individuals running for trustee, deserve your whole-hearted support.

Record Attendance At Farm Bureau Women's Rally

Tuscola County Farm Bureau Women hosted a record 175 at a spring rally held at the Marlette Presbyterian church, April 18, with Sanilac county receiving a plaque for the largest attendance.

Farm Bureau women from the five-county Thumb area elected Mrs. Clare Carpenter of Cass City to head the district organization and Mrs. Harland Weihe, Mayville, to vice-chairman. Mrs. Jack Laurie of Cass City was appointed secretary-treasurer. The ladies will be installed at fall camp, October 17-18, for a two-year term. Melvin Woell, from the Information Division of the Michigan Farm Bureau, exhibited such foods as prime beef, powdered beans and milk made from soy beans sold in stores today, as he spoke on changes in society and how it has affected farm markets.

Speaking as regional representative, Duane Sugden of Mayville explained several bills in the legislature concerning farm products. He described the new wheat pool program now in operation through Michigan Farm Bureau. "With Huron county first in the production of soft winter wheat, Saginaw second, Tuscola in third place and Sanilac growing two million bushels, we need a way to market this wheat", he said.

Others taking part in the program were Mrs. Glen Everson, Flint, Mrs. William Scramlin of Holly, chairman of the Michigan Farm Bureau Women and Women's Coordinator, Miss Helen Atwood of Lansing.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night to set for a spell and he was giving the fellers some thoughts they hadn't got around to yet.

For instant, he claimed Washington was the idea capital of the world, said they was more ideas born in Washington in one day than any other place in the world in a whole year.

He reported he had saw where one Government feller had come up with a new idea to git rid of crime in this country. His plan was to lock up all law abiding citizens and turn the crooks loose to steal from one another and sooner or later kill off each other. When they got all this done, this feller said they could turn the law abiding citizens loose in a country free from crime.

And they was working on a idea now, said the good Parson, where a change in geography would make a hard working man out of a bum. They was moving the unemployed at Government expense from one section to another where they hoped a Class A bum would turn out to be a Class A worker. And they was carrying this idea over into the schools, moving the "under-achievers" to a school that had two movie machines in each room instead of one.

Ed Doolittle claimed all they was doing with these ideas was just changing the paperwork from one welfare office to another. He reported he had saw this piece in the papers where they was 400,000 younguns in New York City that was born and had grewed up complete on welfare. And a Congressman from New York City was complaining the dole they was getting was too small. Ed figured this Congressman was getting a little worried on account of them younguns was now getting old enough to vote.

The Parson reported they was another idea coming out of Washington, that "poverty was a luxury the American people can't afford." Just how they aimed to work out this idea, the Parson said he hadn't saw the details. But he said the papers was full of stories about the Office of Economic Opportunity, that runs the poverty program, was complaining loud about any cutback in funds. The Job Core, he reported, had to git by with only $303,400,000 and they didn't have but 310 pore fighters that made more than $17,000 a year. The official that was doing the complaining, said the Parson, claimed such a skimpy budget would cause crime and violence by these folks that wasn't getting enough help.

The Good Parson said he had a heap of sympathy for that 25-year-old feller that wanted to be deep froze and thawed out in 50 year. By that time he figgers folks will be recovered from Washington ideas and calling a spade by its right name - a shovel.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Hostetter's Hodgepodge

Huron Farm Wife Likes to Write

By Marion Hostetter

If you're a person who tears the weather forecast out of the Farm Journal and hangs it on the wall, just flip over the May forecast, and there on the page headlined "Farm Business" you'll find an item from Victor Kain, Michigan. Kain suggests that before you buy a farm you ought to hire an airplane and fly over it in wet and dry weather, studying soil types, drainage problems, and other features that show up more clearly from the air.

I've often visited Victor Kain's farm in Huron county, a mile west of Fillion. If I were a betting man, I'd wager it was Vic's wife Mildred who collected the $25 the Farm Journal paid for the above suggestion. Because Mildred is really the writer in that family. She keeps her eyes open and her mind alert, and she keeps sending a flood of short manuscripts to editors. Among the "Picture Sentences" in the February Farm Journal I found "When the sunbeams pricked the icicles, they dissolved into tears." -- Mrs. Mildred Nelson Kain, Michigan. Another time it may be an item to the effect that Michigan farmers have found it pays to hire women to operate tractors. Again it may be something about how to keep children happy and busy, printed among other "Letters from Farm Women."

A couple of years ago, Mildred won a trip for two to Farmer's Week at MSU by suggesting the winning slogan. . . something about Michigan's splendid past and glorious future. Once she won a complete set of the Great Books for submitting a question to a Detroit newspaper. Another time when the same paper offered a prize for the longest list of things that can still be bought for a penny, Vic went down to the corner hardware and found articles like a nut, a bolt, and a stick of chewing gum, to be added to more imaginative items like "twelve minutes of time on a parking meter." You guessed it; the Kains from Fillion had the longest list in the state.

So the next time you see something by a typical farm homemaker named Mrs. Victor Kain or Mildred Nelson Kain or Millie K., don't say I didn't introduce you to her.

Somebody who has lived in the same place a long time can read volumes between the lines of the newspaper. For example, when Victor Kain wrote, "We studied our whole area from the air before buying our farm," I was able to guess that the one who took them up must have been Mildred's brother Bill, who turned a love of flying into an Army career.

When this Vietnam thing came up, Major William Nelson had been in the service long enough that he could have retired. But when General Westmoreland said, "Bill, I'd like to have you on my team, if we have to be over there," what could Bill say but Okay? After he'd been there, Bill reported to his family that the thing that's holding our forces together is not hatred of the enemy, not admiration for the American Way of Life, but loyalty to the General and the Team.

Several years ago Bill bought a farm a few rods down the road from Victor Kain's place, so as to have somewhere to retire to when his Army days were over. But Bill isn't ever going to have to cope with the problems of retirement. His plane went down while he was on a mission in the service of our country over Vietnam last year.

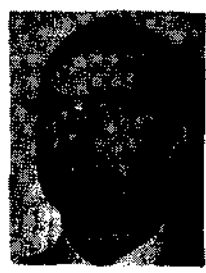

One day Emma Ackerman was talking with my wife about the fact that salt doesn't cake any more in damp weather, as it used to do a few years ago. She also mentioned that it takes more of some brands of salt to produce a teaspoonful of

AAUW Meets

Program topics for the coming biennium were introduced at the April meeting of the Cass City branch of the American Association of University Women, held at the home of Mrs. Harry Crandell, with Mrs. B. H. Starman as cohostess.

Highlighting the topics were: Mrs. Gerald Prieskorn, Politics and Public Education; Mrs. K. I. MacRae, The Growing Gap Between the Rich and Poor Nations; Mrs. Ed Scollon, Society's Reflection in the Arts, and Mrs. Richard Drews, Testing Values in a Changing World. Mrs. Evans Parrott introduced the program.

This week end Mrs. Parrott, Mrs. Prieskorn, Mrs. Drews and Mrs. Lambert Althaver will attend the Association's convention in Detroit. Mrs. Drews is serving on the convention's tellers committee.

Mrs. Vyse Heads Extension Group

The Cass City Homemakers Extension Club met at the Crossroads Restaurant Thursday, April 20, for dinner and the last meeting of the season.

The lesson on "Water Using Equipment" was given by Mrs. O. S. Goertsen and Mrs. Fred Pinney. The group was given many suggestions on how to get maximum use of equipment with careful use of water.

Elected chairman of the Cass City group was Mrs. Zella Vyse. Others elected were: vice-chairman, Mrs. Ella Croft; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. M. S. Hostetter, and council member, Mrs. Frank Meiser.

Chairmen appointed were: health, Mrs. Edward Rusch; safety, Mrs. Avis Youngs; citizenship, Mrs. Max Agar; international, Mrs. Fay McComb; flowers, Mrs. Merle Young, and reporter, Mrs. Alton Mark. The group voted a donation to the Cass City cancer crusade.

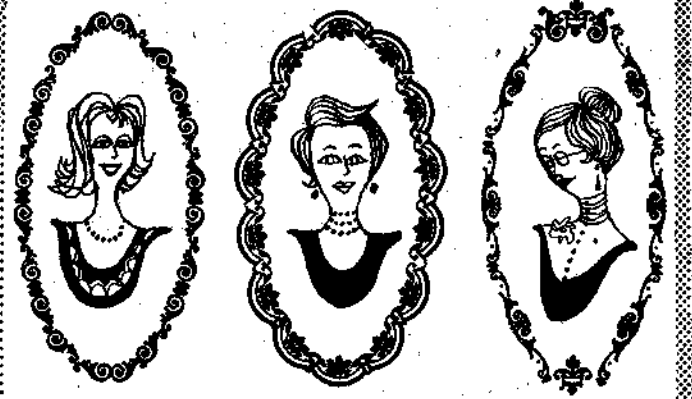

To climax the year's study of color and water, the Thumb counties plan a spring tour to Detroit May 16. It will include a visit to Detroit Water Station, luncheon at the Top of Flame Restaurant, a stop at Hudsons department store and an hour at the Art Institute. Ten members and guests of the Cass City group expect to make the tour.

Modernizing?
New Heating System?

Decisions.
Decisions.
Decisions.

(May we help you with an important one?)

Your choice of a heating system is one you'll live with for a long time. So, naturally, you'll want to make sure you get a system that won't cost too much to own. That's where our new electric heat guarantee comes in.

Before you start the job, consult with Edison: We'll see that you get a written estimate of heating costs—before you buy. Then, your monthly bills may be less, but they won't be one cent higher than the estimate. We guarantee it.

If the installation needs adjustments to meet the guaran- teed cost figure, we'll see that it's done. And if at the end of three years, the system is still not operating within our estimate, we'll remove it and refund your money.

Before you make any more important modernizing decisions, get the facts on modern electric heat. You can't lose!

BOOK REVIEW

Novel Maintains High Suspense Level

By Rev. R. J. Searls

When Mrs. Little sent this book to be reviewed I thought it was probably a story writ- ten about the underworld or at least some part of it. I couldn't have been more wrong. The Fixer by Bernard Malamud is an appealing novel built around a little handy man, who becomes a hero right before our very eyes. His name is Yakov Bok, who has no am- bition other than to make things workable that have been brought to him in unworkable condition. Yakov lives in Tsarist Rus- sia in Kiev during a virulent period of anti-Semitism and when the body of a dead boy is found in a cave, the local "Black Hundreds" group ac- cuses the Jew of his murder. Yakov is accused and arrested as the murderer, although we know that he was not guilty. In the long suffering that fol- lows his arrest and refusal to "Confess", Yakov is trans- formed from a little man into a big one.

I found myself "boiling over" at the utter stupidity of the authorities in their bungling efforts to dig out the truth. Some of the scenes at which Yakov is cast as the hero and thoughtful prisoner are ex- tremely well written.

When his captors cannot get him to "confess", they try to trick him by putting govern- ment agents in his cell with him. All they accomplish with this technique is to lower Yakov's morale temporarily.

For most of a year he lives from day to day thinking that his trial is just around the corner. One advantage to any public appearance is that he is clothed suitably by the authorities who discard the rags that are his normal attire, sub- stituting newer garments which also are warmer.

His final days are spent in solitary confinement where he sees no one but his guards who search him for smuggled weap- ons or food six times each day. At the end (which I think will surprise you) he is at last face to face with the Tsar.

We are led to the truth of the boy's murder, by a man "customer" who does away with the boy whose mother is a common prostitute. She sees her opportunity to become a figure of tragedy.

The author, Bernard Mal- amud, has written three nov- els and several short stories. I expect great things for the novelist, whose succeeding nov- els should continue to main- tain a high level of suspense.

The Fixer by Bernard Mal- amud, Farrar, Straus and Gir- oux, New York, 1966, 335 pp. Available from the Elkland Township and Cass City Li- brary.

Eberlein-Leyva Vows Exchanged At St. Agatha

Judith Anne Eberlein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Eberlein of Sebawing, became the bride of Joseph D. Leyva Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Leyva Sr., of Gage- town, Saturday, April 8, in St. Agatha Catholic Church, Gage- town.

The 11 a. m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Friske before an altar de- corated with vases of pink and white roses.

Janet Zuraw was soloist and Mrs. Ray Toohy was organist.

For the double-ring cere- mony, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father in a floor-length white lace cage gown with a round cowl satin neckline and long sleeves. Her chapel train, edged in sat- in, fell from her shoulders. A petal headress secured her bubble veil of bridal il- lusion and she carried a white missal topped with white mums and streamers.

Mrs. Owen Quinn of Decker- er, the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor and brides- maid was Jean Lenz of Mt. Pleasant. They were dressed in pink lace cage gowns and carried colonial bouquets of pink and white mums.

Mr. Quinn was best man for his brother-in-law and was as- sisted by R. Curtis Eberlein of Davison, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Eberlein chose a white suit with pink accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in an orange print en- semble with white accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a dinner was held at the Amer- ican Legion Hall, Unionville, and in the evening a reception was held for 300 guests.

The new Mrs. Leyva wore an olive-green suit when they left on a wedding trip to north- ern Michigan.

They are making their home in Cass City.

Students from Akron-Fairgrove, Caro, Kingston, Mayville and Reese took part in the contest with a total of 41 FFA students participating. Each school was limited to a total of nine Chapter members who could represent their school. Caro FFA won first place with John Cherniawski, Bob Thane and Bob Blebel leading the scores for the school. They were trained under the leadership of Russell VanderVeen, Vo-Ag instructor.

Second place went to the Kingston FFA Chapter with Tony Cherniawski, Larry Clink and Lyle Curry making the high scores. Lewis Harper is the Kingston instructor.

Top scores in the entire District were made by John Cherniawski, Caro; Tony Cherniawski, Kingston; and Larry Clink, Kingston.

Army Specialist Four Theodore N. Marshall, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted R. Marshall of Deford, is participating in "Operation Junction City," the largest military operation to date in Vietnam.

The finding of the largest enemy encampments in the war tend to support the theory.

Meeting little VC resistance, the operation has been successful in the confiscation of large quantities of food and arms.
