Walbro Cops Product Award

A new diaphragm-type small engine carburetor developed by Walbro Corporation of Cass City is Tuscola county's product of the year, Awards Chairman Dick Erla announced this week.

The carburetor, developed to serve the chain saw market, has resulted in the addition of

From the Editor's Corner

One of the most frequent complaints that I have heard voiced about the proposed new community college and vocational schools is that it can't be done for the two extra mills that are being requested in the special election.

Most folks who are saying this (or suspect it) are judging the cost in relation to the money that they are spending to keep high schools operating.

Fortunately for the Thumb, operating and building a community college isn't as expensive as a local high school for two reasons.

One is the wide tax base of the three counties and the other is the over 50 per cent assistance that comes from State and Federal funds.

It is true that the board of trustees can levy an additional three-quarters of a mill if necessary without a vote, . . . but it is not true that authorities will need more money for operating after the building is erected.

Those folks who believe that two mills just gets the foot in the tax door are mistaken . . . judging by the reputation of the men directing the endeavor and by the experiences of other community colleges.

Of course, no one can say what might be necessary in the future. But it's certain that if, after a period of years, more tax money is needed to operate a community college, the cost of sending students to universities and colleges away from home would rise accordingly. . . and since the cost of education at home is half the cost from that away from home, local students would be saving more as costs rise.

As readers of this column may remember, I'm all in favor of holidays on Monday instead of the day the date happens to fall. (A bill has passed the senate and is in the house now.)

Among the many who aren't convinced is my wife. She thinks it's stupid to change. . . I think it's stupid not to change.

I very rationally point out that most of the holidays were picked at random. . . that most of the Declaration of Independence signatures were gathered July 2. . . that there was some doubt as to the correct date for Washington's birthday. . . that Veteran's Day used to be Armistice day. . . and so forth. All of the logical arguments for the change.

To which she replies with a strictly feminine retort. . . if they don't know what the dates really are they shouldn't celebrate them at all. . . it's stupid.

Minor property damage was reported in several minor accidents involving area drivers.

The right front of a vehicle driven by Harry William Whyall, 22, was damaged when a buck deer darted in front of his car Sunday on Shabbona Road, a quarter mile from Englehart Road in Novesta township.

Gale G. Daudel, 23, of Deford lost control of his car on Stevens Road and smashed through 50 feet of fence and then drove his car 400 feet into a field and left it.

He reported to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department that he had been hit in the head and did not know what he was doing.

Three minor property accidents were reported in Cass City.

A car driven by Maxine Ruth Profit of Cass City collided with a car driven by Bud Melvin McGuire of Cass City at the corner of Vulcan and Garfield Saturday.

The front of the Profit vehicle and the left front fender of the McGuire car were damaged, Patrolman James Jezewski investigated.

two leading manufacturers as customers of the company and promises to rank with Walbro's most popular models, commencing in 1967, it was revealed.

Meanwhile, Erla announced that the add-a-class rooms developed by Divco-Wayne Industries of Marlette were the Sanilac county winner and also the winner from Region 14 which includes Tuscola, Sanilac, Huron, St. Clair and Lapeer counties.

The regional winner will compete with entries from the other 13 districts in Michigan for the title of product of the year, a regular feature of Michigan Week.

The award for Huron county went to the Sno-Gowers of Michigan, a company formed to promote winter recreation.

The company developed a 15-mile "track" near Saginaw Bay using a former stage coach trail from Bay Port to Port Austin.

Arrangements were made to include places for picnicking and ice skating on the lake in an effort to increase winter recreation in the Thumb, Erla reported.

MAYOR'S EXCHANGE

Plans for another facet of Michigan Week, mayor's exchange, have been completed.

Coming to Cass City will be Mayor James Robert Robertson and his wife, of Gladwin.

Gladwin is a county seat community with 2,226 persons, according to the 1960 census.

The visiting mayor and his wife will be escorted into town by Chief Carl Palmateer and taken to the cultural center where Chamber of Commerce President Dick Drews and his wife, Dick Erla and his wife, Michigan Week Chairman Willis Campbell and his wife and a member of the village council will meet them.

A tour of the community, a tea, a Rotary dinner and informal talks with village officials will highlight the day.

Visiting Gladwin will be Village President Lambert Althaver and his wife.

Puzzled? Dial 2-2600 for College Info

Cities throughout the country have a number which can be dialed for the correct time, weather, sports information, or to dial-a-prayer, and Cass City now has a new line which will carry information about the proposed tri-county community college. A two-minute tape has been made emphasizing the major points of interest concerning the college, and it may be heard by dialing 872-2600.

The tapes will be changed weekly and will incorporate answers to the questions people are asking about the college and the vote which will take place June 12. Facilities for the information line have been arranged through the courtesy of General Telephone Company.

Athletes Feted at Annual All Sports Banquet Tuesday

Athletes of Cass City High School were feted Tuesday night at the annual athletic banquet held at the school in a program featuring the awards of letters, certificates and special honors to members of the school's various athletic teams.

Highlight of the event was the presentation of the Paul Smarks trophy to Jim Walters as athlete of the year.

The trophy is awarded by the athletic staff to a senior on the basis of character, schol-

Letters were won by: Dave Asher, Dave Bliss, Bernie Freiburger, Grant Goodall, Phil Gray, Don Kaufman, Rick Kaufman, Larry King, Bill Klinkman, Jim Kloc, Joe Kloc, Paul LeValley, Rick Lorenzen, John Maharg, Dave Sherrard, Jim Tuckey, Rick VanVliet, Gary Vollmar, Henry Volschow, Walters, Karl Weppert, Ron Weppert and Zawilinski.

He said that the record was compiled despite giving away a height advantage nearly every time the team took the floor.

He named Dave Asher as the most valuable player.

Letter winners are: Asher, Dave Bliss, Phil Gray, Rick Kaufman, John Maharg, Jim Walters, Ron Weppert and Al Zawilinski.

TRACK TEAM

Co-captains of the track team receiving trophies were Phil Nichols and Dennis Stine. The presentations were made by Bob Hirt, assistant track coach.

The candidates are also evenly divided for the various terms open at the college. Tuscola county has three candidates for each of the six, four and two-year terms. Huron county has three candidates for the six and four-year terms and two for the six-year term.

Sanilac county has two candidates for two years; four candidates for four years and three candidates for two years.

Police Look for Vicious Prowler

The Cass City Police Department is on the alert for an unidentified man who is attacking elderly women in Cass City.

Tuesday Mrs. Della Greenleaf, 86, was a victim when the man gained entrance by saying he was from the hospital there to treat Mrs. Greenleaf for rheumatism.

After gaining admittance he proceeded to attack her. She was treated for shock and released.

Chief Carl Palmateer said that the criminal evidently was making a practice of attacking elderly women. He knows quite a little about his victims, Palmateer said, for he used Mrs. Greenleaf's daughter's name and knew of her ill health when he used the ruse to gain admittance.

At another home in the area he pretended to be a paper delivery boy but the woman was suspicious and would not let him in.

The Cass City Instrumental Music Department will present its spring concert Sunday, May 21, at 3:30 p. m. at the high school.

Admission to the "Bandorama" under the direction of Ruth Anna Miller is free.

Featured will be the fifth grade flute band from Deford, Evergreen and Campbell Elementary schools, the sixth grade band, the Junior High band and the Senior band.

Announcement was made this week by Albert Festerling, Crop Area Supervisor of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, that the farm labor office at Owendale is now open for the 1967 season.

Don Wilson of Gageton has been reappointed farm labor placement specialist for Huron and Tuscola counties. All farmers who may need extra help this season are requested to put in an order for workers.

This order is not binding on the part of the farmer, but it is very helpful to the labor office in estimating labor requirements for the season. All job-seekers as well as all high school students, both boys and girls who would like to work on farms, are requested to apply for jobs. Applicants may apply at the Michigan Employment Security Commission Office in Owendale between 8:15 and 10:00 a. m. or 4 and 5 p. m.

Three candidates are seeking the two open posts on the Cass City School Board, having filed petitions prior to Saturday's deadline.

Seeking re-election are Donald Reid and Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn, incumbents. Challenging them is Ronald Prefontaine. Terms are for four years.

Reid has served two terms (eight years) and Mrs. Prieskorn has served one full term and part of a term when she filled a vacancy on the board by appointment.

The Zonta Club of Cass City will be hosts to a tea given in honor of the wife of the visiting Mayor and her party, Monday, May 22, from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Civic Center.

There will be an Art Exhibition. Continued on page four.

Award Brothers $62,000

Two brothers injured in an airplane crash Oct. 13, 1963, at Caro Airport received damages totaling $62,000 Thursday in a case that took 6 1/2 days to try in Tuscola County Circuit Court before Judge James Churchill.

The judgement was awarded against General Aviation Corporation and its pilot, Richard Kettles.

Arnett Reid received $52,000 and Philip Reid was awarded $10,000.

The case went to the jury at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday and the jury deliberated until 10:30 before going home. The next day the deliberations started at 9 a. m. and stretched until 7 p. m. before the final verdict was reached.

Besides awarding the damages, the jury decided that Cessna Aircraft Co. and pilot Clarence Berry, Pontiac, also named in the suit, were not liable.

They were named in the suit in which the brothers were seeking $300,000.

The brothers were passengers in a plane flown by Kettles and were injured when the plane collided with another piloted by Berry.

Berry's attorney claimed Kettles' plane was at fault and Kettles' attorney claimed the Berry plane was at fault.

The Reid brothers claimed that Berry was guilty of negligence and Kettles guilty of gross negligence.

Suit Seeks $500,000 Damages

Carolyn K. Harrison, whose former husband, Robert James Harrison, was killed in a crash with a self-propelled combine driven by Russell Vermilya and owned by Dr. H. T. Donahue, of Cass City, filed suit Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court for damages totaling a half million dollars.

The suit as filed asks for $250,000 for alleged negligence and $250,000 for alleged willful and wanton misconduct.

The accident occurred Christmas eve, 1965, on M-25, 2 1/2 miles northeast of Gilmore Road in Wisner township. The suit alleges that it was dark at the time of the crash and that the combine was improperly lighted.

SMALLER SUIT

Another damage suit was filed Monday. It also seeks damages for injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

The plaintiffs Mary Ann and Ted Johnson are seeking a total of $70,000 for injuries suffered in an accident May 21, 1965, on Bradleyville Road near the intersection of Waterman Road.

The Johnsons allege that Fred Monroe Staley ran a stop sign and landed in a ditch while driving a car which the Johnsons were passengers and were injured in.

The Johnsons also allege that Adolph Schwartz, owner of Jim's Bar, and Enos Karp, owner of Karp's Bar, sold intoxicating beverages to Staley and thereby contributed to the accident.

Ted Johnson is seeking $20,000 and Mary Ann Johnson, $50,000.

Rob Fred's Leonard Service

Arrest of Minors Solves Series of Local Crimes

Two minor boys, 13 and 14 years old, were arrested for breaking and entering Fred's Leonard Service over the week end and Chief Carl Palmateer said that one of the boys confessed to several other crimes.

The youths were apprehended, Palmateer reported, when the mother of the younger of the two discovered that he had been stealing and reported him to authorities.

It was this boy's first offense, according to the police chief.

The other youth involved in the breaking and entering confessed to a long string of crimes. He was responsible for the robberies at Tyo's Barber Shop, Theima's Grocery and the bowling alley. He also admitted stealing four cars, Palmateer said.

At Fred's, the youths reportedly stole an estimated $25 in change from the cash register. Fred Martin, owner, explained that entry was made through a back door after breaking a glass and the night light was smashed with a stick.

SPORTS FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
By H. M. Bulen

Ever wonder where soccer got its name? ... There were two kinds of football in England in the 1300s. ... One kind allowed a player to run with the ball; the other didn't. ... People got the two games mixed up because they were both called football. ... Finally, the former was named Rugby after the school where it was developed. ... The latter was administered by the London Football Assoc., and was called "Assoc. Football". ... That word "Assoc." then evolved into "soccer".

How fast does a golf ball travel when you first hit it? ... One manufacturer reports the ball rockets off the tee at speeds up to 170 miles per hour! ... That, by the way, is almost twice as fast as a pitcher can throw a fast ball in baseball.

How many baseball fans know the real first name of the Cardinals' manager, Red Schoendienst? ... Answer is Albert.

Chev. Shows Sales Increase in May

Chevrolet car and truck sales in the first 10 days of May soared more than 40 per cent above the same period in 1966, Lee N. Mays, general sales manager, said today.

"Dealers delivered 88,494 vehicles as they recorded the highest passenger car sales for May 1-10 in five years and posted an all-time truck record," Mays said.

Miss Gertrude McWebb was the narrator for the pantomime act which was the program at the Presbyterian mother-daughter tea. The affair was held Monday, May 1, at the church.

The play recalled a grandmother's memories of her life. Mrs. Neil Fletcher portrayed the part. Also participating were Nancy and Linda Koepfgen, Shelley Lapeer, Becky Whittaker, Debbie Boylan, Becky Champion, Judy Merchant and Mrs. Frank Meiser.

Mrs. Ed Golding Jr. and Miss Betty Jo Agar were soloists and Mrs. Bruce Shaw, the accompanist, for the musical play. About 125 guests attended and Mrs. Ed Golding Sr. gave devotions and Mrs. Marion Hostetter, the benediction.

CARRY ON—Despite the death May 3 of their father and brother, Joe Ternes, the operation of the Ivanhoe store will be continued by James (left) and Bill Ternes.

Ternes Family-Traditional Country Store Keepers

Think about country stores in southwestern Huron county and you think about the Ternes family.

Still going strong in a generally dying business, the family has turned long hours, competitive prices and a store-full of general merchandise into a six-figure gross business that remains about the same every year, according to Bill Ternes, 68, who now runs the store with his brother's son, James.

The family business started in 1899 under the ownership of Matt Ternes, father of Bill and the late Joseph A. Ternes. Joseph died Wednesday, May 3.

Since the store was built it has been open seven days a week and has never been closed a day. The record is being maintained.

While the store at Ivanhoe on the road to Uby is now the only store that the Ternes operate, they have had several over the years.

Another store was operated about a mile and a half down the road from the Ivanhoe location and the Ternes also operated on M-53 at the corner where Winter's Gas Station is today.

Customers coming to Ivanhoe can find hardware, groceries, pitch forks, general merchandise, clothing and gasoline at the store. . . it's a typical country store.

Our big volume comes from groceries, Bill reported, but we also sell a lot of gasoline . . . especially in the summer-time.

The Ternes operate the oldest Standard Oil dealership in the state. They sold kerosene till 1920 before putting in the gas pumps.

A plaque was presented them from Standard Oil Co. in commemoration of 68 years handling the firm's products last week.

The country store remained unchanged until 1910 when an addition was built bringing the store to its present size of 18 by 66 feet.

Bill Ternes is a bachelor and lives at the store. James lives with his wife and four children in a home near the store.

The two men are helped by Joe's widow and James' wife.

Others honored were the members of the various cheer leading teams were also recognized at the banquet. Awards to varsity, junior varsity and freshmen cheer leaders were presented by Mrs. John Bifoss.

Chris Gunther, president of the Pep Club, was awarded a trophy for her work during the season.

Highway funds concluded from page one. Cass City's share is $7,784. Other communities received the following amounts: Caro, $12,933; Gagetown, $2,785; and Kingston, $1,953.

The money is earmarked for use on streets and roads and is distributed under a formula that sees 47 per cent goes to the State Highway department; 35 per cent to counties, and 18 per cent to incorporated cities and villages.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the fund.

who fill in at the store as the need arises.

Many country stores have faded because of credit, but Bill says that it hasn't been too much of a problem with them.

We have a limited amount of credit, but we just watch it and haven't been hurt much by the credit business we do, he claimed.

No, we don't sell anything out of the ordinary, the Ternes said. Just the kind of merchandise that we've found our customers want and the kind that has kept them coming to the store since we opened.

We don't plan to change, Bill said.

New Mile Record The Cass City mile relay team of Karl Welppert, Dave Asher, Gary Vollmar and Phil Nichols set a new school record in the event at the Oscoda Invitational track meet Saturday. The new record is 3:39.2, Coach Bob Stickle reported. Despite the record, the team finished third in the event which featured representatives from 11 schools. Cass City finished sixth in the meet.

SUSAN T. CHAMPAGNE group will hear Susan T. Champagne of Lansing, Field Service Consultant of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing, speak of the parents' role in the education of the hearing impaired child.

Currently, children needing special training have to go to Flint or Bay City. Members of the group say that Federal funds are not available for the hard of hearing. These funds are now being used for retarded children.

Also at Monday's meeting will be Ronald L. Laeder, coordinator of speech and hearing services of Tuscola county.

Members of the organization said that they would welcome parents from the Cass City area who might wish to join.

Hostetler's Hodgepodge

Nothing Constant Except Change

By Marion Hostetler

Just about the time a person thinks he has everything organized, something changes, and he has to make new plans to fit the new situation.

The Chronicle recently ran a story about Mrs. Neil Fletcher, in which it was mentioned that Mrs. Fletcher has been knitting mittens for several years to give away through her church's mission agency. Each pair is of a different color, design, and size, so as to fit any set of cold fingers that may come along. In the picture that accompanied the story I could see that Mrs. Fletcher was already beginning to knit a pair of mittens for next Christmas.

I'm sorry to have to be the one to throw the monkey wrench, but somebody has to tell Mrs. Fletcher that a recent letter from Church World Service says that at present there is no need for warm clothing, heavy coats . . . or mittens. What's happened is that all distress areas are currently in warm or tropical climates, and the thing that is needed now is summer-weight clothing for babies, children, and adults. Maybe we could auction Mrs. Fletcher's mittens for use in Cass City this summer, and use the proceeds to buy some light-weight clothing to send overseas.

Ed Ackerman is another local citizen who is a victim of changing policies. He thought when he entered high school four years ago that a good way of helping to pay his own college expenses would be to secure excellent grades in the hope of winning a large scholarship. So, aside from his hours of employment at Woods Drug Store, Ed spent almost every waking hour, far into the night, doing a bang-up job of homework. His hard work paid off, and he will be valedictorian of his class.

But now Ed has learned that a new system is being used in the awarding of scholarships. Two separate items are separately judged. A student is granted a "scholarship" if his grades are good, but it is only an honorary thing. The "financial grant" which accompanies it is based, not on the excellence of his grades, but on his family's financial need.

If a student applies for a scholarship grant in most colleges today, his family must submit a detailed statement of their financial condition, showing the number of children, amount of money in the bank, stocks and bonds, real estate holdings, and other assets, as well as the amount of their indebtedness. This is run through a computer in New Jersey, I believe, and the amount of the grant is determined there. If Ed's family were deeply in debt, or if they had several younger children heading toward college, Ed could have received a considerably larger grant.

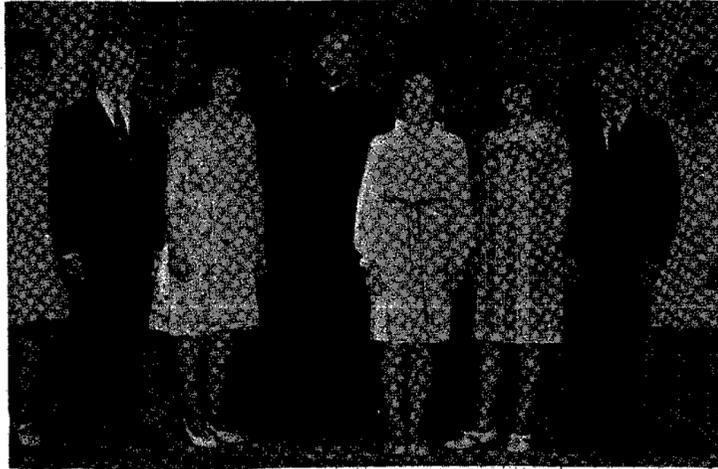

This has been a disappointment to Ed, but I'm sure he will find when he gets into college that the disciplined study habits which he has acquired will be worth at least as much to him as a more generous grant would have been.

Farming is of course another area where change will continue to be felt. Elmer Fuester tells me that the smallest dairy herd in Florida is 250 cows, and that they are milked in three shifts around the clock. This condition doesn't prevail in Michigan yet, but the trend seems to be in that direction.

Our granddaughters have been visiting here, and Kathy, not quite two, found the knob on the portable humidifier most fascinating. She was always turning it from the "normal" setting to high or low. Ignored it for a few days, and then I tried taping the knob down, but that didn't stop her. I remembered her mother had said it isn't a very good policy to spank a child's hands, because it stifles his creativity. If he learns that the way to win Mother's approval is to refrain from touching anything, he may go through life without the initiative to do anything unless his mother tells him to.

I knew Kathy was too young to understand the reason for leaving the knob alone, but I finally made up my mind that I would give her a strong dose of "No, no, no!" But just then it occurred to me that I could remove the knob, and she wouldn't be able to turn the bare shaft. That saved both of us a lot of suffering.

A few drops of glycerin added to starch gives linens a nice gloss.

The Want Ads are newsworthy too.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where a official of the Pentagon has figured it out that it takes 20,000 rounds of ammunition for each enemy soldier we kill in Vietnam.

And in the same paper I was reading where Congressman Robert Michel of Illinois has figured the cost for each graduate of the Job Core for the first year and it come to $53,502 per graduate.

I was giving these figures to the fellers at the country store Saturday night and Clem Webster of the Great Society said he wasn't worried none, that President Johnson had promised the American people we could afford both guns and butter for this fiscal year.

Zeke Grubb said he was disagreed with the President in this matter, that afore the year ended we would have to switch from butter to ollermargarine and start spreading that on mighty thin.

Ed Doolittle was of the opinion that if they was any butter left them Congressmen was going to git it. He reported he had saw in the papers where Congressman Ogden Reid of New York was gitting a bill ready to raise the salary of a Congressman from $30,000 to $50,000 a year. According to Ed, Congressman Reid claimed this new salary would fix it so's a Congressman wouldn't have to depend on outside income and would do away with a heap of dishonesty in the Congress.

Bug Hookum come out strong agin this pay hike for two reasons. First off, said Bug, they ain't no law requiring a feller to run for Congress. In the second place, allowed Bug, if a feller is dishonest they ain't no out-off point where he will sudden git honest.

Ed was agreed with Bug, and farthermore, he reported, he had saw where Congressman Omar Burleson of Texas had told them his mail was full of letters from folks complaining they was too many bums in the Senate and the House and this was no time to talk about raising their own salary.

Personal, Mister Editor, I know we got a heap of honest and good men in the Congress but we also got a few bums there that had ought to be weeded out and raising their pay ain't no way to help a bum. What the Congress has got to do is ride herd over them bums 365 days a year, 366 in leap years. My old lady said a couple year ago that they wasn't nothing in this world that could git stretched out as fur as the Christmas shopping days. But that was afore Congressman Powell got stretched out on the Government payroll.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Mrs. C. U. Brown Feted at Banquet

The annual mother-daughter banquet of the Baptist church was held Thursday evening, May 11, with about 125 attending. Men of the church prepared and served the dinner.

The dining rooms were decorated with an Oriental motif and the speaker was Mrs. Sheldon Peck. Mrs. Peck, a member of the local Baptist church, will leave with her husband and four children for Japan in about two weeks for their first term as missionaries under the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism.

Mrs. Clyde Wells was toastmistress for the program. Mrs. Richard Canfield gave the invocation. Others on the program included: Lori Ewald, welcome; Mrs. Pat Kendall, "Beatitude For Homemakers"; Mrs. Dick Shaw, tribute to mothers; Sandy Gunther, "My Grandma"; Mrs. Frank Weatherhead, tribute to daughters, and Mrs. Frank McVety, benediction.

Participating in group songs were: Mrs. Elwyn Helwig, Mrs. Ruth Finkbeiner, Mrs. Fay McComb, Mrs. Dean Hoag and Mrs. Bill Ewald; Sandra Wells, Diane Gingrich, Kay Kendall, Karen Hillaker, Janet Auvil and Debbie Canfield; Linda Gingrich, Kaye Spencer, Shirley Skinner, Susan Tuckey and Linda Canfield.

A group of girls sang a song in Japanese. They included Terry Hoag, Wendy Ware, Sally Ware, Kathy McArthur and Sheryl Wells. Jane Hutchinson modeled a typical Japanese kimono.

Mrs. Stanley McArthur was pianist and Mrs. Jim Ware led group singing.

Mrs. Ferris Ware made the gift presentations. Youngest mother present was Mrs. Janet Wallace, formerly Janet Hughes, and the oldest mother present was Mrs. Duncan Batel. Coming the greatest distance was Mrs. J. D. Clement of California. Mothers with the most daughters were Mrs. Canfield and Mrs. Richard Cliff, each with four.

Chosen outstanding mother of the year was Mrs. Cecil Brown, who has been active in various church activities for many years and has a daughter, Mrs. James Evans, on the mission field in Brazil. She received a gift and a plaque.

General chairman of the banquet was Mrs. Dean Hoag, president of the Ladies' Missionary Society.

Agent's Corner

By Mrs. Ann Ross

Home Extension Agent

College or vocational school training ahead for thousands of high school graduates means some serious gymnastics for family budgets in the months just ahead . . . not to mention the four-year pull.

This is when getting that financial run-up from a long-way back spells the difference on whether many a daughter or son can count on going on to school . . . often a disappointing difference.

It's the three-year-olds in the family, as well as the high-schoolers, who need that planned savings account for tomorrow's education because large sums of ready cash don't come easily from any family pocketbook.

Mrs. Ann Ross, Thumb extension home economist, points out that a sum of $20.55 set aside monthly in savings at 4 percent interest compounded semiannually, can be built up to $5,000 by the time three-year-old Jimmy or Sally is 18 years old. Other types of savings and investments can be designated for college expenses.

A steady savings plan can take the "crash" program element out of family financing when the time comes, she adds. At the present time, most families are furnishing at least 50 percent of the money out of current income to send their children to college or vocational schools. Another 25 percent is provided by the students themselves out of their earnings and savings. Another 10 to 15 percent is covered by family savings and loans, and about 10 to 20 percent being provided through scholarships.

Post high school training costs can often be substantially less when the student is able to live at home and commute to the school, concludes Mrs. Ross.

Check and Double Check For Consumer Protection

A search for cheating and error makes up some 65% of the work done by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. In its program to protect the public, MDA continually checks just about everything from alcohol content of liquors to milk from the state's dairy herds.

State inspectors work with the U. S. Department of Agriculture to reduce duplication of testing and expense for both groups. This cooperation has resulted in outstanding protection for Michigan consumers, according to B. Dale Ball, director of MDA. It also reduces expense of operation.

Highest grade sausage in the country is available to Michigan residents.

Toughest sausage laws in the U. S., possibly the world, face meat packers doing business in this state. Companies located elsewhere maintain separate kitchens for Michigan markets. Sausage can pass USDA standards and not even come close to Michigan's minimum requirements.

Only skeletal meats, no meat from organs, can be used in Michigan sausage. No artificial coloring can be used and only 4% dry milk solids are allowed as additives. Inspectors constantly send samples for laboratory analysis.

As a result of these standards, Michigan has the highest sausage consumption per capita of any state in the Union.

Other meats must meet equally high standards. Hamburger and ground beef minimums are more exacting than most other states.

How do offenders react when cited by the department?

"Most people want to abide by the law," says Ball, "and each case is handled on its own merits." Circumstances vary, as do the reactions of those involved. The deciding factor is usually "intent or severity of the violation."

If the MDA feels an offender has accidentally erred or if the offense is caused by mechanical failure, the owner is simply warned and told to correct the oversight.

If he persists after the warning, the MDA, working through the county prosecutor, will press charges. On rare occasions, the department works through the state Attorney General's office.

Joe E. Wells, information specialist, relates case after case of fraudulent crackdown by MDA staff. Not long ago a bread manufacturer began adding "300 units of . . ." to his labels. A lab analysis showed no such additive. When confronted with the charges, the manufacturer replied, "Yes, I 'spose that's right. But all the other manufacturers were putting it on . . ."

Another case involved a gas station attendant who "pumped" almost 11 gallons of gasoline into a compact automobile. The owner began wondering how 11 gallons could fit into an 8.7 gallon tank. He called police who called the MDA.

Investigation showed that eight of the 10 pumps were registering over-gallonage. In such cases, pumps are locked with seals until corrections are made.

Merchants benefit too. The MDA has aided many retailers in cases of fraud. One such instance involved a meat market selling fryers.

The birds were shipped from the south in cardboard crates. During a routine check the MDA found the weight specified on the crates ranged about three pounds heavy. Further checking showed that the retailer was, in fact, being charged the specified weight rather than the actual weight of the fowl.

This averaged about a $600 per week overcharge, Wells stated. "When word got out, we had some fryer shippers flying in from the south," he said. The retailer was reimbursed his losses.

Latest scheme currently under investigation involves gas stations which "rig" gas pumps to allow attendants to activate the mechanism without clearing the dollars.

Wells points out that the situation can be especially "ripe" for the customer who asks for a fill-up when a pump shows a $1.00 sale. Most people don't keep close track of the pumps, he stated, and are charged an extra dollar.

For those consumers who do run into situations which smack of fraud, Ball suggests a letter or post card to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing 48913. "Just briefly list your suspicion and the establishment's name and address," he says. "We'll take it from there."

Check Lawn Mowers To Avoid Mishaps

What travels at 240 miles per hour? The blade tip of a 20-inch power lawn mower, says Alfred Ballweg, County Extension Agricultural Agent.

When a blade hits a rock or a piece of wire at this speed, it can throw it a great distance with terrific force. It is easy to understand how accidents can happen unless operators take precautions, the agent explained.

"Whether you have a new mower or an old one, start the season right. Read and re-read your operator's manual and check every part of the equipment to see that it is in repair," the agent advised. He added:

"Keep the blades sharp. Regulate the blade height and the blade speed. Both are important. Be sure all shields are in place on the mower. This will help to prevent throwing trash."

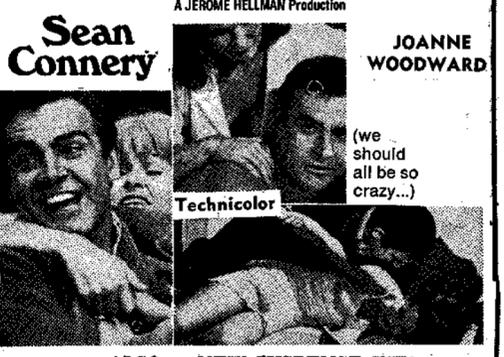

Operators should clean the lawn of all objects, large and small, before starting to mow. "Make it the rule -- and enforce it -- to keep children off the lawn and out of the area while the mower is in operation," the agent concluded.

A little bluing added to the soapy water in which you clean cut glass will make it really sparkle.

IT SEEMS TO ME

No One's Immune at The Coffee Session

By Rev. R. J. Searls

One of the highlights of my day is the trip to Martin's for coffee with my friends. Good coffee and good fellowship are the ingredients, not to mention good debates. There each afternoon, one hears discussions highly critical of authorities regardless of the 'rank' of authority on the griddle that moment -- President, Governor, the area of supervisors, our village councilmen. Here we put to test the freedom of speech! (And the entire ten of the Bill of Rights!)

Dr. Martin Luther King recently opened a new area of debate when a speech he gave was headlined: Withdraw From Vietnam, Dr. King Urges U. S. Now I happen to be an unashamed admirer of the great civil rights leader. And, further, I believe that everyone has a right to his opinion. However, the Nobel Prize winner, for his leadership in the great crusade for equality of all mankind, has no special competence on international issues. I believe rather strongly that this does not make Dr. King an expert on every issue troubling mankind today.

What he has to say on the racial front, all thinking Americans pay attention! What he has to say about the conduct of the war doesn't excite many of us. I repeat that he has as much right to his views of the war as do Ed Baker, Clarence Miller and Bob Searls.

But Dr. King must continue to provide leadership in the civil rights movement and he stands to diminish his very great image if he speaks indiscriminately about every social ill that confronts America! At least, so it seems to me!

Are you aware of how the date of Easter is arrived at? Easter falls on the First Sunday after the first full moon. That's why the Easter celebration varies as much as it does. It has been changed by church leaders several times. At present the World Council of Churches is working on a better way to determine the date of Easter. It's about time Easter, like Christmas, is observed on a fixed date. Or, So It Seems To Me!

We hope that the state legislature passes one of the implied Consent laws now before it. To get a driver's license, you would have to take an alcohol test, of the blood. Police officers have had a difficult time determining objective proof of drunkenness at the time of an accident. Under the new 'implied consent' laws, the investigating officer can utilize any one of three tests without the permission of the affected motorists. The motorist in getting a new driver's license is made aware of the new provisions in the law, thus gives his 'implied consent' to further tests. Gradually the states are making it improbable for the drinker to evade the law, and his own responsibility to drive with care. Or, So It Seems To Me!

LAUGH!

A tourist stopped at an Indian reservation and asked a squaw to weave him a rug showing General Custer during his famous last stand. When he got the rug, it depicted a cow with a halo over her head and a whole tribe of redskins harvesting cotton. "How come?" the astonished tourist demanded.

The squaw explained: "Custer thinking, Holy Cow! Where did all them cotton picking Indians come from?"

Tips for Checking Cereal Leaf Beetle

The job of controlling the cereal leaf beetle is now the sole responsibility of the growers who have the insects in their fields. But these growers should not treat for the insect unless they have evidence that potential damage to the crops exists, comments Alfred Ballweg, County Extension Agricultural Agent.

He points out that the discontinuation of federal and state programs for control of the beetle has made it necessary for growers of cereal crops to determine their own needs for handling the insect.

The MSU specialists also pointed out that emergence from over-wintering will vary from one location to another.

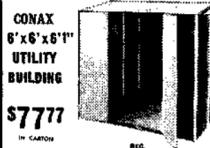

The only good reason to consider adult beetle control would be in the case of heavy damage to the foliage of young plants.

Control for the larvae (grubs) should be considered when at least one of these larvae is found on each stem of cereal plants. This intensity of population would be more critical on fields planted to poorer soil or where the plants have been under stress from lack of moisture.

Drs. Gordon Guyer and Ray James, Michigan State University entomologists, told Ballweg that it would be "very unusual for the cereal leaf beetle to be equally damaging on all cereal crops" and that a clear-cut need for control of beetle adults "is not available".

Ballweg says information on cereal leaf beetle control is available in Cooperative Extension Bulletin 443 which he has on file in his office. He also urges farmers to contact him or some other member of the county Extension staff before treating for the beetle.

One For The Road False Mustaches... It's the Mod By Dan Marlowe

NOTICE TO BIDDERS Sealed bids will be received at the Municipal Building, 6737 Church Street, Cass City, Michigan, until Tuesday, May 23, 1967 at 7:00 p. m. Eastern standard time for construction of approximately 3,200 feet of 10" sanitary sewer.

False mustaches for men may soon become as common as false eyelashes for women if the sell-out success experienced by a shop in London, England is any indication. "It's fantastic," says Simon Boyle, 26, proprietor of the mod Simon Shop in the Chelsea District. "I can't keep them in stock. Two years ago I had one made for my friend, George Harrison (the Beatle), and then I put a few in the shop as a gimmick. They were gone in two hours, and so has every batch since that I've been able to lay my hands on."
