

From the Editor's Corner

The wet weather that has most area farmers concerned, isn't bothering John Koepf Sr. Koepf owns a farm four miles south and three miles west of Cass City and reports that he has a field of corn four feet high.

Persons living in Cass City were again plagued Sunday by clouds of smoke that poured out of the village dump and settled in a smothering smog over most of the community.

It's happened before, but hopefully it won't be happening too much longer.

When the new dump is finished this sort of burning is expected to be taboo.

Persons in the area who are especially vulnerable to the smoke fumes are asking with some justification, why wait?

Medicare money has been coming steadily to local hospitals during the first year of the program, concluded June 30. According to Michigan Blue Cross, which administers the program, Cass City Hospital received $32,751.25 and Hills and Dales received $180,610.66. Caro Community Hospital received $78,445.63, the report said.

This has got to be the only Federal or State program where Cass City gets more money than the county seat.

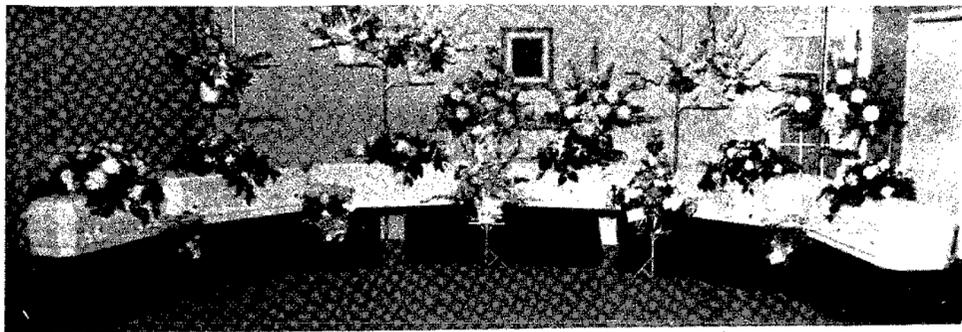

The other day I went through Marlette on the way to Detroit. It looks as if the community is booming.

The business district on M-53 has many stores with new fronts and looks prosperous. . . better than Cass City's to the casual observer.

At the last census Cass City was larger by 300 persons than Marlette and we have a wider trading area.

Despite this, the community has two super market chains with new buildings and many individually owned stores with new fronts and a general sparkling appearance.

While this doesn't mean that Marlette attracts more shoppers than Cass City, it certainly should point out the need for a continuing modernization effort by every businessman whenever possible.

MUTE EVIDENCE OF THE MOST tragic fire in the history of Tuscola County are the six small caskets that house the bodies of the victims of Sunday's flash fire at the Ernest Spencer home, 11 miles southwest of Cass City. Final rites for the victims were held Wednesday and Cass City Boy Scouts acted as pallbearers.

Appoint Barbara Marshall New Clerk-Treasurer

Mrs. Barbara Marshall is the new clerk and treasurer in Cass City. She was appointed Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the village council.

She replaces Mrs. Celia House, who resigned. In Cass City the clerk-treasurer post carries only a nominal salary with most of the work and the money going to the village secretary.

When Mrs. Marshall moved to the area and took the secretary's post, she was not eligible to hold village office because she lived outside the village limits.

She recently moved into the village and when she did, Mrs. House, who was acting as clerk-treasurer as a convenience to the council, resigned and Mrs. Marshall was appointed.

Vandals Take $15 From Local Pool

Unidentified thieves broke into the Cass City pool Wednesday night and walked off with a cash box valued at $15, Chief Carl Palmateer announced this week.

The investigation is continuing by the Cass City department. Meanwhile, it was decided to remove all cash from the building every evening in the future.

6 Children Killed in Blaze Buried in Joint Ceremony

Funeral services for six Cass City children who died from burns received Sunday in the worst fire in the history of Tuscola county were held Wednesday at Little's Funeral Home.

Four other children, also severely burned, are in critical condition at Children's Hospital in Detroit and Caro Community Hospital.

Dead are four children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Spencer of Cass City and two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jackson of Cass City.

Still listed as in very critical condition Tuesday afternoon at Children's Hospital were Kenneth, 11, Robert, 10, and Daniel, 7.

The Spencer children who died were:

Paul, 9, who died at Children's Hospital. He was born Nov. 19, 1958.

Debra, 6, who died in Hills and Dales Hospital. She was born Jan. 27, 1961.

Carl, 4, who died in Hills and Dales Hospital. He was born Jan. 2, 1963.

Terry, 2 1/2, who died in Saginaw General Hospital. All were born in Cass City.

The Jackson children who died while visiting at the Spencer home were:

Ronald, 9, and Arnold, 7, who died in Saginaw General Hospital.

The children were found at 3 a. m. by Ernie Spencer when he returned home after spending the evening in a tavern several miles away. At the tavern with Spencer were his wife and Jackson.

The elder Spencer found Ernest Jr. in the yard crying and rushed into the basement to throw the remaining nine children out of a window.

Spencer then drove to a neighbor to turn in the alarm at the Tuscola County Sheriff's Office.

Officials are investigating the possibility of filing child neglect charges against the parents. No decision is expected until after the funeral.

Mrs. Donald Jackson was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Spencer, when the tragedy occurred.

The house where the flash fire occurred gives little indication of the fire that took the lives of the children.

Dr. Marion Hostetler, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City, and Rev. Sherman Beird, pastor of the DeFord Methodist Church, officiated at the joint final rites.

One Killed, four Injured in Crashes

One person was killed and four injured in area accidents during the week.

Funeral services were held Monday in Bad Axe for Mrs. Margaret Elaine Englehart, 21, of Elkton who was fatally injured in an accident Friday morning on Sebawaing Road, two miles east of Owendale.

Mrs. Englehart was driving her car in heavy rain about 7 a. m. when she lost control, rolled over four times and landed in the ditch. She was alone at the time of the crash.

The former Margaret Burk, she was married three weeks ago in Owendale to Ray Englehart of Owendale.

Among the survivors are two sons by a previous marriage, her father, Thomas Burk of Owendale; her mother, Mrs. Louise Young, Detroit; two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Healy, Cass City, and Mrs. Barbara Taylor of Clawson.

TRACTOR ACCIDENT

Donald Ross Smith, 51, of Caro suffered cuts and abrasions when he collided with a tractor, pulling a nitrogen tank wagon from a farm lane to the highway on North Elkton Road, two miles north of Elkton. The tractor was driven by 12-year-old Kenneth Schuette who was driving from a farm lane to the highway.

The accident occurred Tuesday, June 27.

The boy told Huron County Sheriff's Deputy William Gill and Harry Renn, Elkton marshal, that he did not see the Smith vehicle approaching.

Smith was treated overnight at Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon and released.

THREE INJURED

Three members of a Caro family were sent to Hills and Dales Hospital Friday night following an accident on M-81 when their car and one driven by Jack Willett Stahlbaum, 33, of Cass City, collided one-half mile south of Elmwood Road.

According to sheriff's deputies, Stahlbaum was headed north at approximately 60 miles per hour when he came upon a truck with no tail lights driven by Clayton John Diebel, 46, of Elkton. Stahlbaum moved to the right to pass the truck when his car collided with one driven by Theron Woodrow Robinson, 31, of Caro.

Robinson, heading south at approximately 50 miles per hour, said the Stahlbaum vehicle swerved right to avoid a collision but was hit when he swerved back.

Robinson, his wife Ethyl, 30, and son Joseph, 11, were all taken to Hills and Dales by Little's ambulance with cuts and abrasions. Also passengers in the Robinson car but uninjured in the crash were four other Robinson children, Robert, 10; Rickey, 9; Cecilia, 8; and Rose Marie, 5.

Neither Diebel nor Stahlbaum are reported to have received treatment.

Diebel was issued a ticket for defective equipment. A violation for speeding was indicated for Stahlbaum, but no ticket was issued.

The Stahlbaum vehicle received a damaged left front while Robinson's car had a damaged left rear in the collision.

Look for Homes In County to Care for Elderly

The Tuscola County Department of Social Services is attempting to locate persons interested in providing care in their homes for elderly people. These homes are needed throughout the county.

The patients are from the various State Hospitals and other persons who no longer need nursing care in county licensed nursing homes. These persons are over 65 years of age and for the most part ambulatory. However, they usually require some supervision. A Department Caseworker is ready and willing to help the home operator and patient with any problems that may arise.

It is necessary that the homes have a permit from the State Health Department and be approved by the County Department Homefinder, to take care of patients. The rates depend upon the degree of care necessary and run from a $140 to $180 per month.

Any person interested is requested to contact Morley J. Bates, director, or Mrs. Lucille Bush, social worker at the Tuscola County Department of Social Services. This office is located in the basement of the Courthouse, Caro.

Blood Bank Here Friday Afternoon

Another visit by the Northeastern Blood Bank is scheduled at Hills and Dales General Hospital in Cass City Friday from 2 to 7 p. m.

Donors who wish to replace borrowed blood, establish a blood credit or donate for a friend can do so at this time. No appointment is necessary.

Village Adds to Parking Lot Area

The parking lot that serves the business district and is located north of Main between Seeger and Leach street will be expanded, it was decided Thursday evening by the Cass City village council.

Tom Jackson, who leases the present lot to the village, has purchased the building on Leach that formerly housed McNeil's blacksmith shop.

The village will rent the space for about $14 per month (the figure is based on the number of cars that the 50x66 lot will park). The estimated figure is seven cars.

ALLEY WORK

Village Engineer William Schram announced that the blacktop plant being erected on

Pace Asks Large Federal Grant

The "Pace" supplemental education project for Tuscola, Sanilac, and Huron counties has been submitted to Washington and asks for a federal grant of $148,000 to set up an instructional materials and curriculum improvement center.

The project program Director George Quinn of Caro, working under Intermediate Superintendents William Scott of Caro, Morgan Ballagh of Bad Axe, and George Leckrone of Sandusky flew to Washington Sunday, June 25, submitting the project to the office of Health, Education and Welfare and meeting with legislators to outline the area's request.

The project would provide for an instructional materials center located in existing facilities and consisting of films that would be available to schools in the three counties, a library of up to date books and periodicals available to teachers, a program director and three experts in modern school curriculums to assist area schools in updating their teaching methods subject matter.

Under the program the government would provide initial mites to get the program operational for the first three years with local school districts taking the operation of the program after that.

No decision is expected before October first.

M-81, east of Caro, will be in the vicinity till the middle of August. The village has made arrangements with the plant to be last on the schedule so that preliminary work on the alleys between Oak and Seeger, south of Main, can be prepared for resurfacing.

The village is moving ahead with the drainage of the alleys, even though the necessary petition for the work north of Main has not yet been received from the businessmen of the area.

Mrs. Gladys Albee, trustee in charge of this program, reports that she is confident that a few remaining details will

Two Minor Fires Quelled in Area

The Elkland Township Fire Department spent a relatively quiet week as only two runs were made.

A Thursday morning call was made to the Erla Packing Co. when a fire broke out in the smoke house. It was out when the fire department arrived and damage was reported to be minor.

Spontaneous combustion was blamed for a fire at the village dump which began Sunday. The fire department was on call at the dump from 7:30 p. m. to 10:15 p. m., trying to douse the burning refuse. The fire was left to burn itself out.

In addition to the two fire runs, the department stood a tornado watch from 3:10 p. m. to 9:35 p. m. Saturday.

Consider Cycle Curfew Law

It may never come to pass, but Cass City is investigating an ordinance, adopted by Dearborn Heights, that won't let motorbikes be moved from residential homes at night.

Because there have been several complaints about the bikes making too much noise, the council ordered Chief Carl Palmateer to investigate the widely publicized Dearborn law to see if a similar code would curb the bike noise in Cass City.

be ironed out in time for the work to be completed this year.

SIDEWALK OKAYED

A replacement sidewalk serving the Methodist Church was authorized by trustees. The village and the property owner share the cost equally on all replacement sidewalk construction.

TWO VEHICLES

Trustees authorized the purchase of two new village vehicles. A new Ford police car and a new Chevrolet pick-up truck were ordered. The vehicles are purchased on a rotating basis from local dealers. Concluded on page 6.

For Park Land

PEP Makes Payment

The Cass City village council made the first payment due to Mort Orr for payment for 22 acres that will be added to the park.

Money for the payment came from area residents in the Park Expansion Program Drive (PEP) that has already raised enough for this part of the program.

Because three of the solicitors who have what is generally regarded as prime territory for donations to the drive have not reported, it is not certain if the necessary money for park land in southeast Cass City will be donated. . . but most observers feel that the $6,000 needed to meet the drive goal will be secured before the drive is concluded.

FEDERAL FUNDS

In conjunction with the PEP program, Trustee Dr. D. E. Rawson and Village President Lambert Althaver reported that it was possible that Federal funds could be secured to help out.

The most promising of the programs seems to be the one called Greenspan. This program allows funds for turning farm land into park land and some funds are looked for by the council.

The other Federal program is in the embryo stage, Althaver said. Our application was returned for a mountain of information which we are trying to compile.

We will continue working and report results, he added.

Delegates to Tell Experiences at Church Sunday

Margaret MacRae and Debbie Boylan will tell of their experiences in the inner city of Chicago Sunday at the regular worship service of the Cass City Presbyterian Church. The pair were delegates with 10 other Presbyterians young people from Michigan in a study conference designed to acquaint them with the problems in the city.

The two girls toured the Negro Ghettos and saw residents standing around in groups or sitting on the steps of apartment houses at 11 o'clock at night because it was too hot to go inside. Even children two and three years old were outside where it was cooler.

Miss Boylan was impressed by a musical review, "Opportunity, Please Knock", staged by "The Blackstone Rangers", a group from a former notorious Negro gang. The talent was formed into an entertainment group by the First Presbyterian Church of Chicago. The Rev. John Fish and his wife, formerly of Cass City, are members of this church.

The pair toured the city and also visited a Chicago Police Station. They saw the police in action in a typical day's work in the city. Ten weapons and the clothes of a recent murder victim were being processed for clues.

The girls became well acquainted with several boys and girls from the Negro church where they stayed and reported that it would seem that people could get along together if they became better acquainted.

A reunion of the Michigan and Chicago Presbyterians is planned in Grand Rapids at Thanksgiving.

MUSIC FOR EVERY MOOD AND every age is available at the Cass City and Elkland Township Public Library now that their new record collection includes classical, semi-classical and children's music. New records are ordered and added every month to provide a well-rounded collection.

Check A Record With A Book At Local Library

Walt Disney, Andre Kostelanetz, Mozart and Beethoven are all stars in a new program at the library. It's called the semi-classical, classical and children's record collection and it's free for the asking. If you can check out a book, you can check out a Mozart record.

About a year ago the Columbia Record Company surprised the Cass City and Elkland Township Public Library with a gift of 20 records, both classical and semi-classical. But because the library was busy with new furnishings at the time, additions to the collection were postponed. Now, they're ready to go.

We've purchased about 50 children's records already, said Mrs. Arthur Little, librarian since 1950. We also expect to order more and add to the collection each month.

The addition of the record collection. Concluded on page 6.

MOVING UP TO the top job in Cass City Rotary is Tom Proctor who accepts the president's gavel from Gerald Prieskorn who completed his year Saturday. Rotary officers serve from July to July each year. Other officers are: Richard Drews, vice-president; Lambert Althaver, secretary, and Keith McConkey, treasurer.

Several Costly Projects Ahead

Eye New Dump Problems

After a decade of trying, the Cass City village council found a new site a couple of months ago on which to erect a much needed new dump.

But President Lambert Althaver revealed Thursday night at the regular meeting of the council, that finding the site by no means solved all of the problems connected with creating a sanitary landfill facility desired by both local residents and the State Health Department.

Two costly projects are certainly on the agenda for the village and a third is a distinct possibility.

Building of a road from Cemetery Road to the site east of Cass City is proving expensive. The village is cutting some of the costs by using dirt taken from Church and Houghton street construction and placing it for a base for the road. . . but much is still needed and it promises to be costly.

In an effort to cut this cost, members of the council, the Tuscola County Highway Department and Novesta township will meet in the near future to see if a plan can be arranged that is satisfactory for all.

The dump site is in Novesta township and road money must come through the township on a matching basis.

Another costly service required in the landfill dump will be the covering of the refuse within 24 hours of dumping. The council plans to meet with Gary Stine who runs the garbage pick-up and see what arrangements can be made for buying the necessary equipment for covering at the site and seeing that the work is completed.

It may also be necessary, the council learned, to build a chain link fence around the dump to meet State law. If this is so, the dump site may well be made smaller and other adjustments become necessary.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bulen

It seems rather hard to believe, but did you know that there have been no major rule changes in baseball in the last 62 consecutive years! . . . That's an amazing fact when you consider that other sports like football and basketball make rule changes almost every year.

Here's an oddity from the world of sports. . . We always think of the Olympics as bringing together the greatest athletes in the world. . . Yet, did you ever realize that almost none of the major sports in America are represented in the Olympics! . . . For instance, there's no baseball in the Olympics. . . There's no football. . . And even though golf and tennis are usually considered international sports, there's no golf or tennis in the Olympics. . . That's kind of strange when you think about it, isn't it?

At the top of the column, we mentioned there's been no major rule change in baseball for the last 62 consecutive years. . . And that fact brings up another question: Exactly what was that last change? . . . It was that the first two foul balls count as strikes on a batter. . . The National League had adopted that rule in 1901 but the American League didn't accept it till 1903. . . And since 1903, there has been absolutely no other major rule change in baseball!

Erla's Chalk Up 4th Straight Win

Al Bosch and Dan Erla combined their pitching talents Friday to top Carling's 4-0 and remain undefeated in four games in the Ubyl Recreation Softball League.

Bosch hurled the first four innings and allowed one hit while accounting for 10 of the 12 put outs via strikeouts.

Erla mopped up and allowed just one hit in his three-inning stint.

Meanwhile, the Foodmen touched Bob Maiser for six hits with five of them coming in the fifth inning when the winners scored four times to break the game open.

Jim Knoblet started the rally with a single with one out and Al Bosch, Dean Hoag, Dave Wilson all followed with singles. Wally Hempton singled with two out to complete the scoring thrust for Erla's.

Oddly enough, only three other runners reached base for Erla's during the rest of the game.

Mrs. John Knowlton

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Furness of Deford, wore a gracefully controlled gown of nylon organza over taffeta and Charitilly lace, featuring a crescent waistline and a wateau chapel train. The Sabrina neckline of her gown was outlined in seed pearls and sequins. A crystal and lace double crown headpiece held her tiered illusion veil.

Margaret Hyzer of Flint, friend of the bride, attended the bride as maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Dale Mellendorf of Cass City and Mrs. Raymond Kirn of Detroit. Marie Pena of Cass City, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore Nile green floor length gowns of dotted Swiss accented with Venice lace at the natural waistline and at the mid-arm sleeve. One For The Road

Councilman-Writer Curbs Spending

By Dan Marlowe

After the municipal elections in Harbor Beach last fall from which I emerged as councilman, His Honor the Mayor, George Scott, saw fit to appoint me as—among other things—finance officer and budget officer for the city.

This inevitably resulted in some direct and indirect queries from constituents all aimed at the same target: "What does a writer know about finance and budgeting?"

As some of you know, I was a businessman for a number of years before I turned to writing, and more particularly, I was office manager and credit manager for wholesale companies averaging 3,000 customers apiece. It was a lively experience, and I now find that this background has proved to be invaluable training for the battlefields of municipal finance.

I well recall the dictum of the first employer for whom I handled the credit operation. "Any damn fool can say no to a customer asking for credit," he assured me. "What makes a credit manager is the ability to extend credit within reason, and then if the customer gets into trouble, to work out a program with him that he can live with while he restores his financial equilibrium, meantime continuing to retain him as a customer and not lose both the unpaid balance and the current business."

Such a course guarantees the development of flexibility, fast footwork, and the loss of a certain amount of sleep nights, and while the parallels aren't exact, much of the same principle carries over when applied to municipal government. There is always more to be done in municipalities than there are municipal funds with which to do it, and a finance officer quite often has to say "No" to a worthy proposal so that the city fathers can sleep nights. An ex-credit manager, of course, has had a lot of practice saying "No."

Perhaps because I spent so many years getting the biggest bang possible for each of the bucks spent by my employers, I have an aversion to deficit financing. I like to know where the money is for a given program, and while in municipal government there is necessarily a bit of robbing Peter to pay Paul at times, I like to see the end result clearly promulgated before the "go" button is pushed by those in charge of pushing it.

Municipal government is as much a matter of priorities as it is cash, and when an individual finds that the project in which he has a special interest is shunted to one side temporarily, a certain amount of static is apt to be connected with his discovery. I've found, though, that if necessary delays in projects are explained to these individuals in nuts-and-bolts, dollars-and-cents terms, by far the greatest majority will go along with the city's decision, unpalatable though it may be occasionally.

People will never stop being people, which is to say unpredictable, but when presented with the facts, their response is invariably gracious, a fact making the path of at least one city councilman less bumpy.

Jimkoski-Gilbert Vows Exchanged

Father George Serour performed a double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Linda Gilbert and Kenneth Jimkoski, June 24, in St. Edward's Catholic Church in Kinde.

The parents of the bride are Vera Gilbert, Kinde, and Leonard Gilbert, Bad Axe. The bridegroom is the son of Raymond Jimkoski, Kinde, and the late Mrs. Martha Jimkoski.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose an angel skin peau de sole gown with long traditional sleeves, embroidered medallions and detachable train encircling the natural waistline. Her silk illusion veil was secured by a forward headpiece fashioned of clusters of peau de sole leaves with pearl drops. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Suzanne Pratt was the maid of honor and Alberta Jimkoski was bridesmaid. Pamela Gilbert was the junior bridesmaid. They were attired in floor length pink natural waistline gowns covered with daron organza with a bow at the back panel. Each carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Werner Weiss, Kinde. Ushers were Burton Gilbert and Melvin Drake, Kinde.

Mrs. Gilbert, mother of the bride, was attired in a two-piece blue and white suit complemented with a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held for the couple at the Indian Trails Riding Club, Bad Axe, with approximately 150 guests attending.

The bride is a graduate of Bad Axe High School and is presently employed in Cass City. A graduate of North Huron High School and Port Huron Business College, the bridegroom is sales manager for Bukoski's Sales, Ubyl.

Following a two-week trip to Northern Michigan the couple will reside in Kinde.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bliss

St. Pancratius Catholic Church was the setting for the 3:00 wedding ceremony Saturday, June 17, uniting in marriage Beryl Marie Copeland and Robert John Bliss. The church was decorated with baskets of gladioli.

Father Isidore Mikutski of Caro assisted by Rev. James Braid of the First Methodist Church of Cass City read the rites for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Copeland of Cass City and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bliss Sr. of Cass City.

The bride approached the altar in a gown of silk mist over taffeta fashioned with an Empire waistline, a bateau neckline and bell-shaped sleeves edged with Venice lace leaf motifs. A Venice lace-edged detachable train complemented her A-line skirt which fell to chapel length. A matching headress of Venice lace held secure an imported English illusion veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of white tea roses and white daisies with streamers of ivy.

Mrs. Gerald Generous, sister of the groom, of Gageton attended the bride as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Misses Dee Ellen Albee of East Lansing, Sandra Copeland, cousin of the bride, of Big Rapids, Sharon Profit and Betty Wernette of Cass City. The flower girl was Cherie Sawicki, niece of the bride.

The attendants wore daffodil yellow linen dresses, featuring brief sleeves, bateau necklines and Empire bodices accented with white Venice lace and cut-away floor-length skirts. Matching headresses and bubble veils complemented their ensembles and they carried colonial bouquets of daisies and baby's breath. The flower girl wore a dress fashioned as the bridesmaids only a reverse in colors, she carried a basket of daisies and baby's breath.

John Franks of Cass City, served as the groom's best man, and the groomsmen were Gerald Generous of Gageton, Wayne Copeland, brother of the bride, Clark Erla and William Bliss Jr., brother of the groom, of Cass City. The ring bearer was Mark Sawicki, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Copeland greeted guests in an apricot crepe dress trimmed in matching embroidered lace over lace and matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of zornia tea roses. Mrs. Bliss chose a pale pink silk shantung dress and matching accessories and her corsage was of pink sweetheart tea roses.

A wedding dinner followed the ceremony. An evening reception was held at the VFW Hall in Pigeon, for 400 guests. Out of town guests were from Florida, Illinois and Indiana.

The bride is a beautician in Cass City.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will live in Cass City.

Local Pair Among Confab Delegates

Convention delegates Mrs.
Don Reid and Mrs. Harold Perry, both of Cass City, were among 5,000 conference participants pledging to join other concerned persons for worldwide reconciliation at the conclusion of the Third Triennial National Meeting of United Presbyterian Women.

The women left Cass City,
June 26, for the week-long meeting held at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., and returned home Saturday.

Their four-point pledge was shaped around involvement of the church women in the areas of hunger, education, starvation and the responsible use of power. Pledges were made during a communion service of commitment, emerging from an intensive week of speakers, discussion, drama and music.

Earlier in the meeting, the national organization launched a three-year program designed to get members beyond the congregation and into the local community.

UPW includes more than 569,000 members in over 8,000 local church associations across the country.

Voting delegates at the meeting adopted a set of recommendations designed to free the organization from pre-packaged programming on the national level "so that women of the church may become more meaningfully involved in ministry and mission where they live."

Delegates also approved a revised statement of organizational purpose.

Those who can laugh at their troubles solve many of them.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

VOLUME 61, NUMBER 12

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN - THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1967

THE NEW CASS CITY HIGH SCHOOL is in various stages of completion. Nearly finished are the 14 rooms in Section A which are expected to be ready for use when school opens in September.

Tentative plans previously called for the seventh and eighth grades to study here, but Supt. Donald Crouse said that Principal Arthur Holmberg is checking to see if it were possible to place the fifth and sixth grades in the new rooms and keep grades 7-12 intact in the present high school building until the new building is completed. A man from Austin Painting Co. of Flint starts spraying in one of the farthest advanced rooms.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL is truly a big building. The corridors stretch the length of the structure and are just over 400 feet long. While the brick work is just about completed, plenty of work remains to be done. In section A construction is far enough along so that the painting has started, but only the building shell is up in other areas. School authorities are aiming for complete occupancy of the building by Jan. 1, 1968.

The Building Year In Cass City ...

As well as the latest home modernization tips are presented in this 12th annual special section. We invite you to check the stories and the ads before you start building or remodeling . . . it could save you dollars or come up with just the remodeling tip you need.

AGENT'S CORNER

Consider Utensils' Weight

By Mrs. Ann Ross

Picking pans for top of range cookery is a weight lifting, eye scrutinizing, thought provoking task for today's homemaker, says Mrs. Ann Ross, Thumb area extension home economist.

Weight, perhaps, should be one of the first considerations. Because warping can be a problem in top of the range cookery, pans should be heavy enough not to buckle with the heat. Medium to heavy weight materials are best here.

Materials from which the pan is made should be of a type which will distribute the heat evenly. Stainless steel alone heats in spots but manufacturers have been adding other metals in a core on the base of the pan to help distribute the heat more evenly. So watch for this as you shop.

Flat bottoms and straight sides are recommended for best use of heat. Also, flat bottoms are a must for use on thermatically controlled range units.

For cooking in the minimum amount of water to preserve food nutrients, covers must fit fairly tightly so little or no steam escapes. For ease in cleaning, look for rounded surfaces inside the pan where sides and bottom join.

For safety's sake, check out the handles carefully. They need to be of heat resistant material, comfortable and easy to grasp so the pan maintains a good balance.

Selection of pans requires consideration of other factors such as size of family intended use of pans, storage available, and the amount of money the consumer will spend for this item.

Physical "weight lifting" and mental "weighing of alternatives" are part of choosing kitchen utensils.

Maintenance Is Easy

Carpets Can Solve Space Problem for Home Owners

Outer space is challenging but the conquest of "inner space" is often equally challenging to the homeowner.

Where to find room for a growing family? Increased family activities? Space for a hobby?

To answer these questions, many homeowners turn to remodeling or an addition to an existing house.

And most of them find that carpets and rugs figure prominently in their plans. More and more frequently, smart planners include carpet from the beginning, to serve as a finished flooring, instead of choosing it later just as a decorative accessory.

In refinishing an attic or a basement, for example, carpeting can be put down over sub-flooring, at considerable savings.

Or the addition of a rug will solve the "cold floor" problem so often encountered in these situations.

If you're planning extra space for your home, whether by building or remodeling, consider these steps:

1. Decide what the primary use of the room will be. Its main function will largely determine both size and furnishings.

2. Consult your architect or contractor to figure the most efficient and economical means of achieving your goal.

3. Choose materials for the major element of the room . . . the walls, the ceiling, the floor.

4. Start planning the color schemes and furnishings you want for the new addition.

A carpet or rug is invaluable in home expansion plans because the soft pile surface is an effective sound-conditioner as well as a decorative asset. Maintenance is easy, too, and that's always an important consideration in rooms geared to activity.

So, take a second look at your attic or basement, or the spot where you might add a room to the house. You'll find carpets and rugs will be a big help in solving your problems and creating a new area that will be as practical as it is pretty.

ity; (c) carpet measurement.

2. Wilton is (a) a brand name; (b) the name of a carpet pattern; (c) a type of carpet loom.

3. In a living-room that is 15 feet long and 12 feet wide, the number of square yards would be (a) 60; (b) 40; (c) 20.

4. "Twist carpet" describes (a) the texture of the pile surface; (b) a carpet construction method; (c) a special quality.

5. Shading is (a) a carpet defect; (b) a soiling problem; (c) a natural characteristic of cut-pile carpets.

6. A velvet carpet is (a) made of silk velvet; (b) a cut-pile carpet; (c) woven on a velvet loom.

7. Pile yarns are found (a) in the backing of the carpet; (b) on the carpet surface; (c) in carpet padding.

Less Construction in Cass City in Last 12 Months, Permits Indicate

The declared value for new construction in the Cass City area from July 1966 to July 1967 dropped approximately $31,000 from what it was for the same period a year ago.

This year's figure is $216,000 below that reached two years ago. No big construction was undertaken as the check of building permits issued reveals a drop in number from that reached in both 1966 and 1965. Construction is continuing on the only major work of the 1965-66 period, the $1.85 million Cass City High School.

From July, 1966 to July, 1967, Cass City issued only 15 permits to build with a total declared value of $109,160. This is a drop of 29 permits from the 44 issued last year. Total fees received from the issuing of permits was $150.

Construction was down in all areas as only two new homes were begun this year, compared to six for last year. Twelve permits were issued for new homes during the booming 1965 building year.

Two permits were issued for business buildings, each with a declared value of $25,000. The first permit was for Kleins Fertilizer and the second for a new Sunoco service station.

Three permits were issued for additions to homes and four were issued for garages and carports for a total declared value of $11,050. Twenty-one permits were issued for the same type construction last year.

One permit was issued for the construction of extra buildings to existing property for a total declared value of $3,000. Two permits were issued for water only to new homes.

Two churches are under construction this year. The new Lutheran church is going up at the east village limits while the Church of Christ is located within the east village limits.

Many Projects for Rocking Chair 4-H

Twelve members of the Rocking Chair 4-H Club met Tuesday evening, June 20, at Uby to plan a softball team to enter the Huron county softball tournament.

Eight members carrying dairy and beef projects met Monday evening, June 19, at the Vern Krug home near Bad Axe to discuss fair plans.

Six members met Thursday June 22, at Kevin Robinson's to rehearse their Share-The-Fun act which was to try out Friday, June 30, at Cass City.

Marlene Gracey has been picked to attend exchange week and will spend a week in New York state with a 4-H member there. Marlene was also state show alternate in Senior Miss clothing and a pin winner. She carries six projects, dairy, food preservation, home design, clothing, junior leadership and vegetables. She is a talent act member and will participate in county demonstrations. She is also a member of the softball team and is secretary of the Rocking Chair Club. She will be a junior at Uby this fall.

Keep up your courage and your courage will keep you up.

Most sermons are worthwhile, but nothing beats good example.

Why the big switch to electric heat?

Good news travels fast.

Talk about your bargains! Edison has again lowered the rates on electric home heat. This time, a healthy 10% over the previous rate. Altogether a 30.5% reduction in the last eight years. No wonder the big switch to electric heat is on. The low rate's only part of it. People also like our three-year, money-back guarantee. We give you a written estimate of operating cost; your heating bill may be less than the estimate, but not a penny higher. It's guaranteed, provided installation is made by an Edison-approved contractor on Edison lines. New low rates. A three-year, money-back guarantee. Pretty good reasons to investigate electric heat. There're others. Give us a call. We'll give you all of them. And without obligation.

EDISON lowers the cost of all-electric living.

In some areas, a homeowner will have a lawn facing the street, perhaps a low hedge along the sidewalk and a driveway to the garage.

PLANTING TREES

In such an "average planting," one should stand on the sidewalk in the exact middle of the property and face his house.

All large trees should be planted outside of imaginary lines to the corners of the house. This prevents the house from being dwarfed or obscured by large trees.

Smaller trees such as dogwood or crape myrtle may be planted inside such lines, close to the house.

Shrubs usually are planted in curved beds close to the house, with taller shrubs at house corners. Flowering and evergreen shrubs should be intermingled to provide contrast.

Foliages, likewise, should provide contrast. Taxus, or yew, is the deepest green of all coniferous evergreen shrubs; junipers may have a bluish cast; while arbor vitae may be lighter green or golden.

ANNUALS USED

Some excellent flowering evergreens for entrance plantings include the rhododendrons and azaleas, although there are many more such as the hollies and pyracanthias and coloneasters.

The southern climates abound in lovely camellias, hibiscus and oleanders.

Beds of annual plants often are used near entrances. These include the pelargoniums, or geraniums, petunias, dwarf snapdragon, marigolds, and numerous other plants.

As with all landscaping, good taste is required. It is recommended by the American Association of Nurserymen that a plan be prepared to make the home entrance most attractive.

Nurserymen, neighbors, landscape architects and others may be consulted if need be. One should strive for color, both in warm weather and winter as well, and low maintenance.

Hostetler's Hodgepodge

Rent-A-Cookie Big In Teheran

By Marion Hostetler

While their parents are busily looking for antiques, the younger generation is spinning the "oldies" . . . phonograph records that were cut before the days of rock and roll or boogie-woogie.

There's an "oldie" story about the Baptist and Methodist churches on opposite corners of the street in a small town. One evening the Methodists were singing, "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown?" and the Baptists were singing, "No, Not One."

Here's another story about hymn singing, and Ed Golding Sr. swears that it really happened.

Before Ed and Frances had their family, they used to attend the Presbyterian Church in the morning and the EUB Church in the evening. One evening for some reason they arrived late. Ed, who has always put a premium on promptness, was about to leave without entering the church. But when he heard the congregation singing, "Why Linger Just Outside the Door?" he decided he'd go in, late or not.

All these days of rain, drizzle, and mist make us think fondly of the same months last year when we were having a drought. Meteorologists suspect that the unusual weather has something to do with a misplaced jet stream in the stratosphere, but they don't know what to do to get it back in line. But even suspecting the cause is a step in the right direction. In the history of mankind, the discovery of a remedy often follows on the heels of an accurate diagnosis.

A few days ago I was talking with Dr. John Hicks, assistant to the president of Purdue University, who was formerly a professor of agricultural economics in that land grant institution.

He said research scientists at Purdue have been able to isolate a gene in corn that controls the amount of protein in the kernel. They now have a forty acre field planted to a variety of corn that contains twice the normal percent of protein. When this becomes commercially available it will provide a much better food for animals and men. If the same kind of thing can be done for rice and other grains, it will be a tremendous boon to the undernourished half of the world's population.

Catherine Johnson told me one time that when she was an exchange student in Africa, the supply of protein was so limited that milk and meat were the rarest of delicacies.

This may be at least a partial explanation of this incident related by our son David, who is with the Peace Corps in Ghana. Some African laborers were moving a pile of lumber, when a mouse ran out from under it. They chased the mouse for twenty minutes in the hope of having it for lunch, but the mouse finally got away from them.

Even if they had caught it, the meat would have been pretty expensive in terms of the man-hours lost. . . . but if we have a craving for something we are willing to pay a high price for it.

David tells us that by crossing the border into French-speaking Togo and going to the city of Lomé, he can buy fresh milk that has been packaged in plastic in France and sent by air from Paris to Lomé.

While we're on the subject of the eating habits in other lands, I'll pass on an incident related by one of our readers.

"A friend of ours was invited to tea at the home of a government official in Teheran some years ago. When she arrived, she saw that every table was filled with trays of beautiful, mouthwatering cake and cookies. She could hardly wait for the tea to be served, but when it was, she was offered only a very plain cake brought in from the kitchen by the servant.

"She learned later that the elaborate cookies are rented for the occasion, just as we might buy flowers or buy a new slip cover to improve the looks of a room. The cookies that are rented may be weeks old, and may have been on display in many other homes."

Our diet-conscious readers are welcome to use this system. If they dare.

More Use of Glass Seen in all Modern Homes

One way modern houses have older homes beat is in the use of outdoor space as part of the living area of the house. True, the big old houses have fine broad porches or verandahs. And they have sun parlors. And they might have grape arbors or gazebos in the back yards.

But the modern house brings the outdoors almost into the house, lets indoor areas and outdoor areas flow together. An entire wall of sliding glass doors opens onto a patio or wooden sun deck. A screened porch may be just outside the family room, with an eight-foot opening between the two.

Courtyards in the new townhouses are extensions of the living rooms, with glass walls between the indoor and outdoor areas.

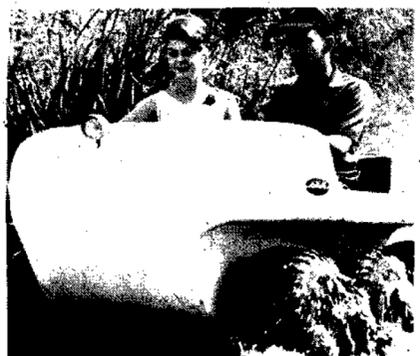

And the ultimate indoor-outdoor plan provides for an atrium in the center of the house, an open courtyard surrounded on all sides by the house. Sliding glass door-walls provide access to the atrium from most rooms.

With the increasing use of sliding glass doors, it becomes important to select quality units. Cheaply made doors will leak water in a rainstorm and admit drafts in winter. Some units are easily opened by burglars. So it is a good idea to check out several brands and insist on well-made units that slide smoothly and are equipped with screens which operate easily.

Double-glazing is a good idea, although expensive. Particularly when these doors are used for an entire wall, the use of double insulating glass can save on heating costs.
