

FROM THE Editor's Corner

Dick Donahue is pushing hard for abolition of property tax as a method of raising tax monies. . . especially for operating schools. He is one of the local leaders in the tax revolt now spreading through out-state Michigan.

Donahue is a large-scale farmer in Columbia township who paid property taxes of $1885 before the recent tax boost. Young, intense and hard working, he has been actively pushing for reform and has been attending many State and local meetings protesting taxes and especially school taxes.

Last week his campaign trail led him to the Chronicle. He wanted to find the paper's reaction to the campaign. He pointed out that when the organization becomes state-wide that the legislators would listen . . . or be replaced . . . that (Rep. Roy) Spencer's proposal for changes in the school tax was inadequate . . . that the school's situation would have to become more desperate before the campaign would be successful.

I suggested that to protest without presenting an acceptable alternate solution was easy. That the campaign would carry more weight if the revolted said how they would compensate for the loss in revenue. A complete program would make it easier to give a more intelligent evaluation.

That will come, Donahue said, when the organization is organized on the State level.

Fair enough. Certainly, I told him, the property tax is oppressive because it taxes without regard to earnings. Certainly, the farmer is in a bind. Certainly, tax reform is necessary and justifiable.

And certainly, turning down funds for the school on the basis of "taxes are too high now" is just as oppressive, just as unfair. Unfair and oppressive to the children.

And when you mention taxes in this area you inevitably talk about next Tuesday's vote for four extra mills of taxes for operating the school.

Dick conceded that Cass City was running its school for $100 less per pupil than most of the schools in the area . . . that more economy won't chase away the problem.

Fostering a campaign for tax relief at the expense of education for the children doesn't, and never will, receive support here.

To be in favor of more school money as soon as the tax burden is shifted is evading our responsibilities today.

The facts presented over and over by the school administration and the school board (that includes four farmers on the seven-man board) shows that the money is not being squandered in any sense of the word. That simply to maintain the present level of education the additional funds must be obtained.

I intend to vote yes for more school taxes, I concluded. I intend to vote no, said Dick.

Fire dept. hits hard at area grass fires

A small pile of burning slab went out of control Wednesday morning at the Peters Bros. Saw Mill northeast of the city and caught fire to a large pile of scrap lumber.

Only limited damage was done to the structure of the mill when a section of its exterior was charred by the nearby blaze.

A tanker and a pump truck from the Elkland Township Fire Department and a tanker came from the Gagetown-Elmwood Fire Department and brought the blaze under control.

Elkland firemen responded to a grass fire Tuesday at the residence of John Dull at 7145 Kelly Road in Novesta Township. The cause was undetermined.

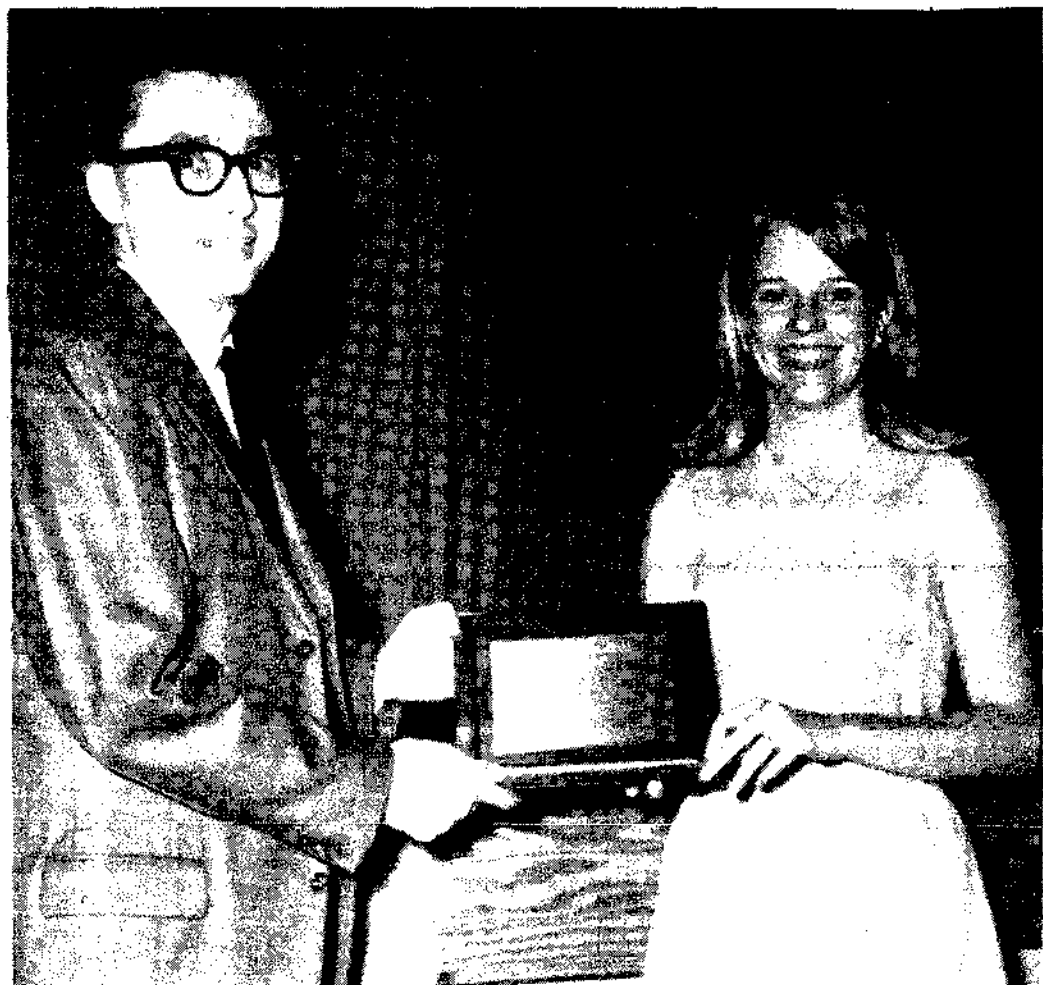

On Sunday afternoon the department was called to a grass fire that started from a trash barrel at the residence of Lloyd Vyse at 6769 E. Main.

Three grass fires erupted Saturday. At Laura Retherford's at 3441 Lamton Road, at Tom Schabiel's (a rentee of Art Kettlewell's) one mile south on Cemetery Road, and Ray Grachen's at 5671 Deckerville Road.

RECEIVING THE PLAQUE symbolic of his selection of Citizen of the Year is James Bauer, left. The presentation was made by Dr. H. T. Donahue, right. M. B. Auten outlined Bauer's career in Cass City.

ROGER MARSHALL presented the Junior Citizen of the Year award to Lynn Haire in one of the highlights of the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Citizen awards highlight Chamber meeting Tuesday

Selection of Lynn Haire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haire, as Junior Citizen of the Year and James Bauer as Senior Citizen of the Year highlighted the annual banquet of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at Cass City High School.

The awards were granted on the basis of outstanding service to the community.

Bauer was introduced by M.B. Auten who traced his career during the 21 years he has been a resident of the community. Active and successful in business, he plunged into community work almost as soon as he took control of the Kauffman Candy Co. in 1948.

This is the honor roll of the previous persons honored for outstanding service to the community.

JUNIOR CITIZEN

Betty Kennedy 1965
Robert Rabideau 1966
Tim Knight 1967
Joan Maleck 1968

CITIZEN OF YEAR

Willis Campbell 1963
Herbert Ludlow 1964
M. B. Auten 1965
Lucile Bauer 1966
E. B. Schwaderer 1967
Dr. H. T. Donahue 1968

He has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce since coming to the community and served as its president in 1951. He also was active in industrial development and has been a director of Walbro Corporation since its beginning in 1954. He served on the village council for six years and was also the village president. He was active in the establishment of the village planning commission. Appointed to the board of Hills and Dales General Hospital in 1956, he became president in 1962, a position he holds today.

He has been a member and past president of Rotary. He has held several offices and been cited for his efforts in business. He is vice-president of Michigan Tobacco Distributors and Vendors Association of Michigan.

In 1968 he was named merchandiser of year and in 1967 received the wholesaler award. He married the former Lucile Champton in 1954. The Bauers have the distinction of being the only family in the community where the husband and wife were both honored by the community. Mrs. Bauer received the coveted award in 1966.

Bauer's work in the community was reviewed by M. B. Auten, a task that he evidently relishes, completes with gusto and is often asked to perform. The presentation of the plaque was by Dr. H. T. Donahue, Alvin will return to 5th Special Forces, Company "D" and will again be stationed at Con Tho in the Mekong Delta.

See heavy vote in critical school millage election

A heavy vote is forecast by most knowledgeable observers Tuesday when voters go to the polls at Cass City High School to decide whether or not to grant an increase in taxes for operating the school.

School authorities are seeking an extra four mills ($4 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation) which they say is the minimum necessary to maintain the present quality educational standards at the school.

They are quick to point out that the increase would bring Cass City's operating costs to 18 mills, still well under the state's average.

If taxpayers in the district are not now familiar with the proposal, the school's financial condition and the reason for the levy it is not the fault of the school administration.

Virtually every club and civic organization in the area has been or will be contacted and the school's story explained.

In addition, the parents of all students in the district were invited to informal meetings to discuss the school and the school's need for more operating funds.

Capping the educational campaign was an open meeting Friday at the school for persons who were unable to attend previous sessions.

While it is generally conceded that the chance for approval of the tax request is hampered by the recent increase in property valuations and the resultant anti-tax climate, pro-tax boosters were encouraged by the results last week at Akron-Fairgrove where a millage proposal passed by a comfortable margin.

Still all over the Thumb more tax requests have been denied than approved.

School officials are hoping that financial statistics showing how Cass City compares with other districts will help sway voters when they enter the polls Tuesday.

They are trusting that the average taxpayer will be impressed by the fact that Cass City has been operating at a cost per pupil among the lowest in the Thumb . . . $100 less than several comparable Thumb school districts.

Regardless of the way the vote goes Tuesday, the board and school authorities say that they have presented the school's case honestly and accurately. We have not, Crouse said,

Appoint MacCallum to academy

Neil MacCallum, son of Mrs. Anna MacCallum, has been appointed to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, in a telegram from U. S. Rep. James Harvey.

MacCallum was appointed from among 10 candidates. He is a senior at Cass City High School.

While in school he has been an outstanding student strong in extra-curricular activities. He is secretary-treasurer of the Varsity Club and was co-captain and most valuable player on the football team. He was a Thumb B Conference honorable mention selection and worked as a physical education assistant at the school.

A member of the weight lifting club, he also competed in track at the school.

MacCallum has been a member of the National Honor Society for three years.

An 8th district nominee, he will leave June 21 for the Academy.

Richard Beaver in 'good condition' after 6-time flip

Richard Beaver, 22, of Ubyly was reported in "good" condition Wednesday morning by Hubbard Memorial Hospital sources. It was reported that he could possibly be released within the week.

Beaver was found 5:45 a.m. lying unconscious early Saturday morning near the wrecked auto in a farm field along the Bad Axe road, two miles south of Bad Axe.

Officers report the north-bound Beaver auto left the road first on the right, then crossed the road to the left, hurdled a ditch and flipped end-over-end at least six times before landing on its top 35 feet off the road.

Beaver told officers he presumed he fell asleep at the wheel.

Polish medal of honor winner

Stanislaw Jaskolski, who was awarded a Medal of Honor in World War II died at his Novesta Township home Monday.

The medal was awarded by the Pope for Jaskolski's outstanding service in Italy while serving in the Polish Army under British command in 1945.

A veteran of two wars, Jaskolski served in the Polish Army from 1918 to 1921 and from 1942 to 1946.

He has lived in the Cass City area for 15 years, moving to the community from Europe. Requiem Mass will be recited at St. Pankratius Church at 10 a.m. Thursday, the Rev. Peter Pijapels officiating.

Jaskolski married Miss Leanne Tomczak in Poland Feb. 24, 1922. He was born in Poland Nov. 16, 1896, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Jaskolski.

Rosary services were conducted Wednesday at Little's Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Elkland Cemetery.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Konrad Konwalski of Cass City, and a son, Marian, of England, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

asked for four mills when we need only two, figuring to go back to the voters and receive the lesser amount in the second vote.

The four mills extra operating is essential just to maintain the quality educational standards at the school. It does not allow for any increases in the curriculum, Crouse explained.

School authorities are also reminding people again and again that the recent increase in valuation does not yield any more school operating funds. Because of the state tax formula, they point out, the increase in local tax funds is balanced by a loss in state aid, leaving the school in essentially the same position it was before the valuation increases were made mandatory by the State Tax Commission.

Board discusses school discipline

An impromptu discussion of discipline in the Intermediate School and a possible expanded summer program at Cass City High School highlighted an otherwise dull, mundane session of the Cass City Board of Education Monday night.

After the regular business of the meeting ended, trustee Don Koepfgen remarked that the kids were raising a rumpus in the halls of the Intermediate School.

There is a sharp contrast between the Elementary and the Intermediate Schools, Koepfgen feels, and believes the reason is that in the elementary building teachers stand in the hall during the critical periods while this supervision is missing in the Intermediate School.

Supt. Donald Crouse said that he would check and take steps to correct the situation.

The discussion over the summer program came after Cass City's traditional summer reading program was authorized.

Trustee Mrs. Geraldine Priesskorn inquired about a summer personal typing course. She said that when Caro offered its adult courses there were a good many persons from Cass City attending.

Perhaps we could have one here? Mrs. Priesskorn inquired of Crouse.

The superintendent said that a course was possible. He explained that a method of paying the teacher for the course would have to be devised and mentioned that teacher pay could be a problem.

A second, and even greater stumbling block in this type program, the superintendent feels, is the past record of summer offering for courses other than remedial reading.

Last year the school offered a course in new math and failed to drum up enough student interest to make it practical, it was disclosed.

Mrs. Priesskorn conceded that perhaps it wasn't feasible to offer any more courses at this time. But I feel, she maintained, that we should be constantly looking for ways to use the facilities to a greater extent to keep the building in use as many days and hours throughout the year as possible.

Although the summer reading program is definitely on the agenda, just how it will be paid for will be determined at the May meeting when the board knows how much money will be available for operating the school.

Last year parents paid $2 weekly, plus a $1.00 charge for materials and the school kicked in with $3 per week per student.

One program sure to be continued regardless of the school's financial condition is the state reimbursed summer speech correction program.

It is taught by Andrew Eubank at Deford and Campbell Elementary Schools and is open to all students in the district. Primarily it is a program carried on with students who are under Eubank's tutelage during the regular school year.

The only cost to local taxpayers is for electricity and clean-up.

SIGN TEACHERS

The contracts of three teachers were approved. Phoebe Wiles will teach early elementary special education. Sandra Myrum was hired for the first grade and Mrs. Paul Craig will move from Caro to Cass City to teach.

All are tenure teachers. Miss Wiles is a native of the area who taught for three years in the Lansing system. Miss Myrum taught three years in Grand Rapids and two years in Livonia. She is the fiancée of the Rev. Douglas Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

In other business, a letter from the Rev. Father Joseph Friske thanking the school for the use of the gym by St. Agatha students was made a matter of record.

Because it is no longer required by the state, the annual school census will be dropped.

In the meeting that followed the regular session, closed to the press and the public, the board voted to add John Haire to the school's bargaining team that is negotiating with the local chapter of the Michigan Education Association teachers' union.

The board acted after the teachers released reports of the meetings to communication media through a specially elected member of the teacher bargaining team.

The first release indicated that none of the Union's proposals submitted Mar. 21 were discussed and that the school district's representatives objected to the union's press releases.

Vassar to host county convention of Woman's Clubs

Mrs. Paul Murray presented the April 8 program at the Woman's Study Club meeting held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Ludlow. Her topic, "The Philippine Islands", included background of topography, climate, resources as well as informative discussion of the people, their problems, and customs.

Mrs. Murray reported the 7083 islands comprising the Philippine Republic lie only three hundred miles from the coast of Asia, can be reached in seventeen hours by jet from the United States, and have a population of approximately thirty-three million. The climate is similar to that of Central America, with seasonal heavy rain fall and typhoons. The mountainous islands have volcanoes as well as heavy forests and produce valuable minerals and lumber, with bamboo for houses and rattan for furniture, she said.

Visited by Magellan in 1521, the islands were under Spanish domination for four hundred years. Ceded to the United States in 1898, the country was vastly improved in sanitation, education, hospitals, and transportation. Filipinos excel in the production of rice but import milk; other products include gold, fish, tobacco and hemp.

Family life, she said, is more akin to that of the Orient with respect for age and strong family ties, than to the U.S. These are pleasant, tactful, kind people with notable lack of American ideas of rush and the importance of punctuality.

Mrs. Murray especially recommended the book about the Philippines, Islands of Pleasure by Hans Osteluis.

The County Federation meeting will be held in the First United Methodist Church April 24 in Vassar. Mrs. Joseph Crawford is the Study Club delegate, with Mrs. Samuel Blades as alternate.

Conservation chairman Mrs. Paul Murray reported on agricultural research which has resulted in five rice crops yearly in the Philippines and increased corn crops in U. S. irrigated areas.

Program chairman Mrs. George Murray announced the May Study Club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry Falkenhagen with a program on Australia by Miss Muriel Addison, and the final meeting will be a June luncheon organized by the reception committee.

As an adult, Gibson has such a high threshold of pain that, in 1967 he was hit on the leg with a line drive, and it turned out his leg was broken from that drive -- but he stayed on the mound and pitched to 3 more batters before surrendering to the pain and leaving the game!

Of all the men who have ever been professional boxers, which one had the most pro fights? ... The record is held by Abe Hollander, who was known as "Abe the Newsboy". ... He had the amazing total of 1,309 pro fights in his career -- and there is no one even close to that record. ... Imagine having that many pro bouts. ... And to top it off, Abe was also a wrestler and participated in hundreds of wrestling matches in his spare time.

Cass City Intermediate

Last Thursday (April 10) the Intermediate School held its spring open house. All the rooms displayed students' works from 7:00-9:00 p. m. Thursday and Friday of this week seven Cass City Industrial Education students are eligible to enter their projects in the State Competition to be held at Muskegon.

Other first and second place winners from around the state of Michigan will take part in the competition. Ribbons, plaques, and a $100 savings bond are among the awards to be given.

C. C. H. S.

Last Wednesday approximately 140 English students went to the Fisher Theatre in Detroit to see the famous play, "Dr. Faustus." The acting and the mechanics of the play were reportedly excellent and the entire afternoon left quite an impression on the students, who were lucky enough to obtain floor seats. For most, this was their first at the theatre, and many hope to return.

Thursday afternoon and evening the high school's student council sponsored the local school talent show.

Singing solos in the competition were: Vivian Englehart, Rainell Chisholm, Helen Whitaker, Geraldina Toro, Tom Fulcher, and Glenna Schroeder. Two groups presented modern dance routines to music. One group consisted of three Intermediate School students: Cindy Calka, Lisa Champion, and Gail Weppert; the other group was comprised of three freshmen -- Diane Asher, Mary Powell, and Linda Zawilinski. Other acts included a baton twirling routine by C.C.H.S.'s majorettes -- Pam Dobbs, Mardi Auten, Jan Glaspie, Sharon Hartel, and Robbin Hoffman; a piano duet by Sue Koepgen and Becky Parrott; and a band, the "Human Creed," with Bill, Al, and Roy Pierce (brothers), Drew Guernsey, and Jeff Spencer.

At the end of the program Geraldina Toro, on behalf of C.C.H.S.'s three South American exchange students, dedicated the song "To Sir With Love" to the faculty of Cass City in appreciation for the hospitality which has been extended to them.

The winners were chosen by the high school student body Thursday afternoon by secret ballot. The winners were: 1st -- "The Human Creed" 2nd -- Geraldina Toro 3rd -- Tom Fulcher

The top three acts are to participate in the Thumb B Talent Show April 19. Since the "Human Creed" includes junior high students the group cannot participate in Thumb

Bill Pierce, Roy Pierce, Drew Guernsey and Alfie Pierce. Jeff Spencer not pictured.

B; therefore, Rainell Chisholm, fourth place winner, will accompany Tom and Geraldina in the Thumb B Show.

The student council made about $75.00 on the evening program.

TID BITS

Saturday afternoon bands came from all over the state to audition for the Thumb B battle of the bands. The auditions were held in the C.C.H.S. gymnasium. Ironically, all area bands were chosen to compete. The bands selected were "The Family Dog" of Vassar, "The Dead Ends" of Pigeon, and "The Brotherhood" of Bad Axe.

The Battle of the Bands and accompanying dance is scheduled for April 25th at the Cass City High School.

The home economics department made $23.00 on their recent bake sale to replace missing kitchen utensils.

The seniors received their trip bill last week. The bill comes to approximately $6,600.00, which means the class has $1,100.00 "spending money".

Also last week the seniors received their graduation announcements and cards.

CLUB NEWS

The Future Teachers held a meeting last Tuesday evening in which Sandi Holcomb, program chairman, led a panel discussion on college problems. The club is planning a trip to CMU.

C.C.H.S. has started a golf club. Three meetings have been held and the third meeting was held to elect officers. The officers are:

President-Jude Patnaude
Vice-president-Tony Davis
Secretary-Jill Auten
Treasurer-Lee Taylor
The new club has three main goals:

1. To get together as a good and stable club and play at different area courses.
2. To have an inter-club tournament.
3. To sponsor a school-wide tournament.

The club has approximately twenty members and is sponsored by Mr. Thomas Woody, business education teacher at C.C.H.S.

The club golfs on all available Saturdays. Last Saturday the course in Caro was visited by members.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

The annual Elkland Township Financial statement that appears at annual meeting time is delayed this year. The reason, Clerk R. M. Hunter reports is that the books are being audited and when the report is completed the approved statement will be published for your consideration and, hopefully, your approval.

If you believed that the last person in the entire Cass City School District that the board of education would place on a bargaining team is this writer, I'm with you. Still politics makes strange bedfellows and as of now, I'm on the team. ... well maybe not on the team but in the same harness.

I wouldn't be surprised if I were kicked out before I ever get a chance to kick up the traces.

The Cass City teachers union this year has appointed a member to give an unbiased report of negotiations.

The school bargaining team feels that perhaps the reporter is maybe a wee bit prejudiced.

If the meetings were to be reported they feel that they should be reported professionally. ... and to get me in the meeting they placed me on the team.

Although I'm on the team, I'm not part of it. Regular readers will know that no one dictates editorial policy here and that the paper prides itself on an impartial presentation of the news.

Unless the two bargaining teams decide that it is better to hold back progress reports as it has in past years, I'm slated to attend my first meeting next Tuesday.

It could be interesting.

Naturally, I'm busting my buttons because my elder daughter was named Junior Citizen of the Year Tuesday night. Certainly, it was a big night for her and a great night for her parents.

But I couldn't help thinking that it is a little tough on many other of the top candidates from the senior class.

Unlike the Senior Citizen award, there is no second chance for the kids under consideration each year. They either make it as a senior student or they never make it.

Like every doting parent, I'm sure that Lynn deserved the award. ... just as the parents of the nine other candidates are sure that she didn't.

As the selection committee pointed out, the choice is a difficult one to make because of the general excellence of all the students nominated.

Perhaps it's unfair to single out one over all the rest.

Homemaker's night slated April 24

By Judith Ann Schroeter

The Tuscola County Association of Extension Homemakers will hold their annual Home-makers' Night at the Akron-Fairgrove High School Thursday, April 24, at 7:30 p. m.

Betty Hansen, one of Michigan's most delightful humorists of the home and family, will be guest speaker. Her columns on family life are read and enjoyed by readers of several newspapers in the state. Mrs. Hansen's topic will be, "We've Come a Long Way, Baby - I Think". It is based on research she has done in old newspapers and magazines. She will draw parallels between lives of women of years gone by and today.

A film entitled, "Step Lightly" will be shown. It emphasizes the importance of pedestrian safety--something we all become especially concerned about with spring here and more and more people out on our streets and roads.

Membership pins will be presented to Mrs. Alice Lane and Mrs. William Hood to commemorate their forty-five years as Extension study group members.

The recipient of the Frances Clark Memorial Scholarship to College Week for Women will be revealed. Installation of 1969-70 county council officers will take place during the evening.

Special door prizes will be awarded and a salad smorgas-bord will be served.

Chairman of the event, Mrs. Walter Jackson, cordially invites those wishing to attend. There is no charge for this evening of entertainment and fellowship.

Pfc. J. Bustos in NATO maneuvers

Private First Class John M. Bustos, 20, son of Mrs. Mary J. Bustos of Gagetown, returned to Fort Riley, Kansas, recently following participation in Exercise Reformer I, whereby the 24th Infantry Division was flown to the Federal Republic of Germany to take place in NATO maneuvers.

The maneuvers took place Jan. 29 to Feb. 4, but the troops returned to the Kansas post during March because it was necessary to place heavy equipment back in storage. This equipment is left in Germany for the 24th Infantry Division -- the Army unit that was formerly stationed there and is now on ready recall at any time to support the NATO forces.

United States Air Force C-141 Starlifter aircraft were used to take the 24th back to Germany and return to the States, an 8 to 10 hour trip from Forbes Air Force Base, Kansas, to Germany.

This 24th Division soldier is a member of Headquarters Troop, 2nd Squadron, 9th Cavalry.

New bill would eliminate medical maze of transplants

"MEDICAL MAZE"

Without major surgery, the state Senate has passed a bill to eliminate the legal-medical maze over human organ transplants in Michigan.

The measure sailed through the Upper Chamber in much the same form it was introduced three months ago by Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, Dearborn Republican.

Specifically, it designates who may donate a heart, kidney or other organ, and provides protection for physicians performing operations.

Some doctors and hospitals in Michigan are now reluctant to authorize transplant operations because of questions involving the medical, moral and legal aspects of the issue.

Anyone over 18 and of sound mind could will his organs for use after death if Sen. Beebe's bill makes it through the House and the Governor's office. Doctors involved in the transplant procedure would be immune from liability.

Other key provisions designate accredited hospitals, surgeons and medical schools as parties eligible to receive organs for transplant, and allow an adult to make an organ gift by signing a document in the presence of at least two witnesses. There is also a provision for revoking the gift. University of Michigan medical experts, who have performed three successful heart transplants, strongly supported the bill.

TIME AGAIN

Michigan's difficulties over the time of day have taken another twist. The Upper Peninsula has been authorized to rejoin the lower part of the state in the Eastern Time Zone.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe, a Houghton Republican, announced the action by U. S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe.

"Since the summer daylight time is not a legal option in Michigan," Ruppe said, "opinion coming into my office and into the department of transportation ran nearly 10 to 1 in favor of Eastern Zone."

Two years ago, the federal government placed the U. P.

in the Central Time Zone, saying its economic ties were closer with those in Wisconsin than those in lower Michigan.

But three counties--Chippewa, Mackinac and Lapeere--at the eastern edge of the Peninsula, had declared themselves in the Eastern Zone.

Now, Ruppe says, "some areas near the Wisconsin border express preference for Central Time." He said there were indications that some areas at the western end of the Peninsula might decide to stay on Central Time.

Ruppe, who represents the entire U. P. as well as several lower Michigan counties, said the zone change will become effective April 27, when most of the nation goes on daylight savings time.

But Michigan voters last November decided against going on DST. That means that Michigan, instead of being in time-tune with New York, will be in step with Chicago.

With Volpe's ruling, however, most of the U. P. will move its clocks forward one hour to line up with the Lower Peninsula.

FUN AND FIGHT

A bill has been introduced in the Michigan House to give cities 80 per cent of the $100 million recreation bond money, and outstate areas 20 per cent.

Rep. James Bradley, Detroit Democrat, chief sponsor of the plan, said the money should go "where Michigan's problems are."

Gov. William G. Milliken has recommended 60 per cent of the funds go to the cities. Conservationists and their friends in the Legislature maintain voters approved the program with the understanding 70 per cent would find its way to outstate areas, and only 30 per cent to the urban centers.

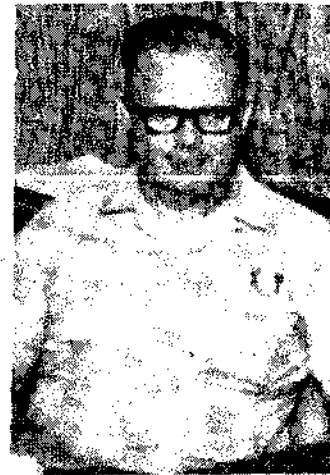

But Bradley said there are lots of problems in the cities "and the recreation money is a good way of straightening them out. People living in the ghettos have as much right to recreational facilities as those who live in the suburbs and are able to get to state parks and other facilities."

Bradley's bill faces an uphill struggle. The sentiment of the lawmakers seems to be more along the 70-30 division proposed by outdoorsmen.

Klein's name Profit manager of the year

At an Awards Dinner held in Lansing last Thursday evening, April 10, Leslie Profit of Cass City was named the "Manager of the Year" by Clayton Klein, the President of Klein Fertilizers, Inc. He received an appropriate plaque and a check for $250.00.

LES PROFIT

Mr. Profit is the manager of the Cass City Division of Klein Fertilizers, Inc., whose main plant is at Fowlerville, Mich.

Production of high-quality tools in the United States and Canada each year requires more than 235,000 tons of nickel-containing steel and iron.

Rehabilitation topic at spring meet

Dr. H. L. Hubinger, D.D.S. of Saginaw, will be the guest speaker at the Tuscola Council for Exceptional Children's spring meeting to be held April 23 at 7:30 p.m. in Caro Community High School. Dr. Hubinger will speak of rehabilitation of a child with a cleft lip or palate. Dr. Hubinger is chairman of a team of specialists who participate in Saginaw General Hospital's Cleft Palate Clinic.

The clinic is held once a month at the hospital to offer an opportunity for children from the entire area, to have regular evaluations by dentists, pediatricians, surgeons, orthodontists, speech therapists, prosthodontists, and otologists. Most of the children attending the clinic are assisted through Michigan Crippled Children's Commission.

Services Thursday for Mrs. Goertsen

Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude L. Goertsen, 81, will be held Thursday afternoon at Little's Funeral Home at one o'clock. The Rev. Richard Canfield, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cass City, will officiate. Mrs. Goertsen was a life member of the church. She died Monday, April 14, in her Greenleaf township home following a lengthy illness. A lifelong Cass City resident, she was born May 5, 1887, in Cass City, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright. She and Otto Goertsen were married in Detroit Aug. 28, 1934, where they made their home until June of 1939 when they moved to Cass City. Mr. Goertsen died April 11, 1966.

Survivors include two sisters, Miss Alice Wright of Cass City and Mrs. M. Strayer of Grosse Pointe, and two brothers, Herman Wright of Detroit and William Wright of Roseville.

Burial will be in Elkland cemetery.

Agent's Corner

Volunteers - a helping hand

By Mrs. Ann Ross

Extension Agent

Look to your community—it offers services you probably weren't aware of, and what's best, most are available at little or no cost.

In the past, relatives and neighbors were often one and the same. It was their responsibility to help each other whenever difficulty arose in the family or neighborhood. Today, the family-to-family, neighbor-to-neighbor society is disappearing. Often our mobile style of living separates relatives by hundreds of miles and many neighbors never learn each other's names.

Community services are one answer to extending a helping hand to families today. They provide service in almost every area of need—recreation, mental health, leadership and religious development, physical handicaps, and counseling.

What are some of the community services available? Starting with the founding of a new family, many engaged couples find solutions to their problems at pre-marriage counseling sessions, often sponsored by various religious denominations. Before the birth of the first child, there are pre-natal classes for expectant parents. These might be sponsored by a local Red Cross chapter or hospital.

As the children and the family grows, we have a few day care centers and nursery schools to assist in child care. Next in the sequence are services provided by schools which include guidance, counseling, recreation and rehabilitation. And churches and volunteer workers offer programs such as scouting, 4-H, and clubs for the elderly which provide opportunities for leadership development and offer recreational and enrichment opportunities.

Local clubs, merchants and organizations donate money and gifts and sponsor parties for the severely handicapped. Parents with handicapped or retarded children join in associations to help each other.

State and federal programs are also available to families with severe problems, such as mental retardation, blindness, deafness or paralysis.

One of the best sources for referral advice is your family doctor or pediatrician. Other good references for learning about specific community services are ministers, county welfare offices, United Fund chairmen, school administrators, newspapers, and organization newsletters.

CITIZENS AWARD

to win this year's award. The Cass City senior is a valdicatorian of the senior class. She is president of her class, a post she also held as a freshman.

She is secretary-treasurer of the Thumb B Student Council and a member of the Cass City Student Council. She served as librarian and organist at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City.

She is a member of the school play cast and also participated in last year's presentation.

She was a member of various other school organizations. She plans to enter Michigan State in the fall. This summer she will be an exchange student in Sweden.

Krueger takes chamber reins at Tuesday banquet

Members and guests comfortably filled the cafeteria at Cass City High School Tuesday night to be entertained by Dan Litwhiler, Michigan State University's baseball coach, and to greet the new officers and members of the board of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

President Dick Wallace was toastmaster for the fast moving, well organized program that started with the invocation by the Rev. Douglas Wilson and moved briskly to the concluding remarks by Litwhiler.

Art Randall, treasurer, spoke briefly of the Chamber's financial condition and president-elect Rod Krueger named the new members of the board. Serving three-year terms are Dick Hampshire, Keith McConkey, Bob Tuckey and Mike Weaver.

Completing terms are Dick Drews, Jim Gross, Fred Leeson and Aris VanderMeer. Horace Eulen, president of the Cass City School Board, spoke briefly on the need for more operating millage at the school and Rotary President Drews presented a permanent plaque for listing of Senior Citizen award winners to the Chamber. It will hang in the Cultural Center.

Litwhiler lived up to advance billing as he spoke for a short 45 minutes, regaling the audience with anecdotes from long major league playing career and his many years as a college coach.

In his only serious moment he urged parents with talented athletes to make sure that they received their college education before turning professional. If we have them through their sophomore year, he said, they'll graduate.

Behind the Counter
Cancer

The treatment of cancer with drugs is partly responsible for a leveling off of the increase in the number of cancer deaths. The American Cancer Society also notes that cancer death rates are, in some cases, dropping off.

In 1930, there were 112 cancer deaths per 100,000 population; in 1950, it was 125; by 1965, the figure was 128. This leveling off reflects earlier (and better) diagnosis and prompt treatment by surgery, x-rays and drugs.

Even better news is found in the increasing number of persons who survive for five years or more, with cancer. Thirty years ago, the ratio was one in five; today it's one in three.

Last year, 915,000 Americans were treated for cancer; 309,000 of them died. This year, another 600,000 new cases will be diagnosed. More than 50 million Americans now living will eventually have cancer. If present rates continue, that's one person in four, affecting two out of three families.

Numbers don't tell the whole story. For years, people were so afraid of cancer that they didn't talk about it and hid the fact that they had the disease. That attitude is now changing. People are alert to the "Seven Danger Signals" and are quick to see a doctor if there's something suspicious. They know that needless delays are literally "a matter of life and death."

TAKING THE GAVEL from retiring Chamber of Commerce President Dick Wallace is Rodney Krueger, right, who will head the organization in 1969-70.

Hawk thinclads split; top Marlette, lose to Broncos

Cass City's young track team split its opening dual track meets last week and the local thinclads had little trouble downing Marlette, 81-47, Wednesday, April 9, before bowing to a fine North Branch squad, 61-57, Saturday.

Coach Bob Watson was impressed by the fine showing of the numerous Freshmen and Sophomores in both meets.

Against Marlette the Frosh piled up 12 1/2 points and against the Broncos, 13 points. Craig Guernsey, Ken Marker, Roger Smith and Louie Salas were the Frosh who showed the way against Marlette.

Scott Guernsey and Harv Fredericks were the leading Sophomore competitors for Cass City. Guernsey finished second in both hurdles and first in the long jump. Fredericks was first in both dashes.

As expected, Jim Selby and Tom Guinther turned in creditable performances against Marlette.

First place winners in the meet were:

2-mile-Tom Broughton, M; 10:48.9.
880-yard run - Cass City. Guinther, Guernsey, Salas, Fredericks, 1:45.5.
1-mile run - Selby, CC. 5:04
120-high hurdles - Guinther, CC. 1:19.0
880-yard run - Jezierski, M. 2:11
440-yard run - Mutch, M. 1:57.8
100-yard dash - Fredericks, CC. 11.85
180-yard low hurdles - Guinther, CC. 23.8
220-yard dash, Fredericks, CC. 27.2
1-mile relay won by Cass City. Brinkman, McLeish, Guernsey, Selby, 4:02.5.
Shot put - Lamie, M. 38 feet.
Long jump - Guernsey, Scott, CC. 17 feet, 2 1/4 inches.
High jump - Jackson, M. 5 feet, 8 inches.
Pole vault, Lamie, M. 10 feet.

NORTH BRANCH

It was a close meet Saturday against a good North Branch team. Bob Mayberry, a very good athlete, was the difference as he scored 18 points to lead the Broncos to victory.

Soph Harv Fredericks was Cass City's only double winner, notching 10 points.

Tom Guinther was beat for the first time this year in both the high and low even though he notched his best time of the year in both events and finished second.

Scott Guernsey won the long jump and pushed Guinther in the hurdles.

Selby won the mile with little trouble but wasn't pushed hard enough to crack his 4:50 record.

The results:

2-mile - Schweninger, NB. 11:15
880-yard relay, North Branch. 1:42
1-mile run - Selby, CC. 4:52
120-yard high hurdles - Mayberry, NB. 16.4
880-yard run - Simmons, NB. 2:10
440-yard run - Graham, NB. 1:55.0
100-yard dash - Fredericks, CC. 11.0
180-yard low hurdles - Mayberry, NB. 22.2
220-yard dash - Fredericks, CC. 25.5
1-mile relay - won by Cass City. McLeish, Strace, Craig Guernsey, Selby, 4:52.
Shot-put - Judd, NB. 21 feet, 2 1/2 inches.
Long jump - Guernsey, Scott, CC. 18 feet, 2 inches.
High jump - Mayberry, NB. 5 feet, 7 inches.
Pole vault - Miracle, CC. 10 feet.

The team was to have moved into varsity competition Wednesday against Frankenmuth. Watson says that in addition to the promising Freshmen and Sophomores on this year's squad, Cass City has a fine group of Junior students. If they stay together, 1970 and 1971 should be big years for the Hawks in the Thumb B Conference, Watson feels.

RICHARD SZARAPSKI shows a 1 lb. 5 oz. black crappie caught at Steel's Marina at Bay Port. He said it had a 13 inch length, a 12 inch girth and that he intends to enter it in Field and Stream's annual fish contest.

THIS NEW HOME of Allied-Walbro, a wholly owned subsidiary of Walbro Corporation is 20,000 square feet, about two-thirds of the size of the main plant building in Cass City. The plant is located in Whithouse, Ohio.

Walbro subsidiary produces wheels in new Ohio plant

Officials at Walbro Corporation this week released details about its new wholly owned subsidiary at Whithouse, Ohio, a suburb of Toledo.

The subsidiary, Allied-Walbro, has been owned by Walbro since last July and has been in operation for several months in a new building on a six-acre site in the Industrial Parkway at Whithouse.

C. Clark Boylan is vice-president and general manager.

W. E. Walpole, president and chief executive of Walbro, holds the same Allied-Walbro position.

Allied produces semi-pneumatic steel and plastic wheels for lawnmowers and kindred vehicles and is an addition to the Walbro product line.

Also operating from the new facility is John R Parts Co. which supplies small engine parts and mower accessories nationally and formerly operated from Cass City. It is now a division of Allied-Walbro.

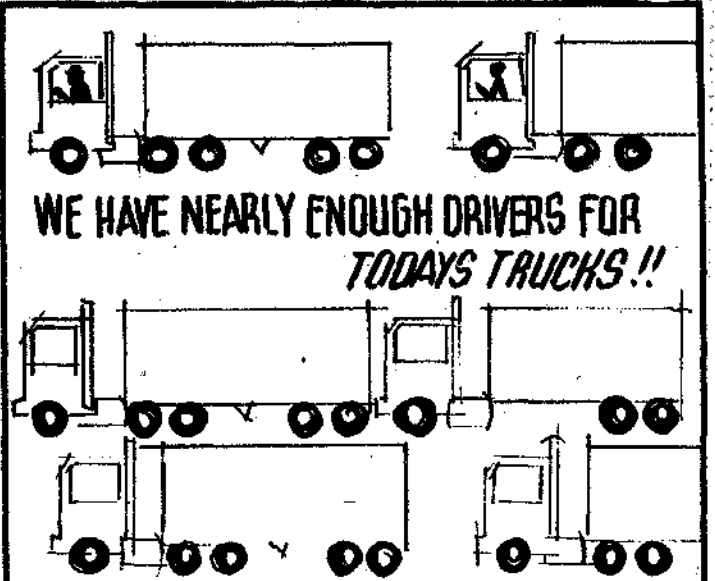

The Allied-Walbro wheel line includes some 60 models of semi-pneumatic wheels in eight sizes. They are sold in both the original equipment and after-markets throughout the country.

Since both Allied-Walbro and John R Parts require quick and frequent shipment, the Whithouse location was selected because of accessibility to air, rail and motor freight terminals.

SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTION

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF CASS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS
TUSCOLA, HURON AND SANILAC COUNTIES, MICHIGAN
TO BE HELD
APRIL 22, 1969

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT:

Please Take Notice that a special election of the qualified electors of Cass City Public Schools, Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, Michigan, will be held in the High School Building, in the Village of Cass City, Michigan, on Tuesday, April 22, 1969.

THE POLLS OF ELECTION WILL OPEN AT 7:00 O'CLOCK, A.M., AND CLOSE AT 8:00 O'CLOCK, P.M.

The following proposition will be submitted to the vote of the electors qualified to vote thereon at said special election:

Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Cass City Public Schools, Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, Michigan, be increased by four mills on each dollar ($4.00 on each $1,000) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in said school district for a period of three (3) years, 1969, 1970 and 1971, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating expenses?

Only resident qualified school electors who are registered with the city or township clerk of the city or township in which they reside are eligible to vote at this election.

I, Arthur M. Willits, Treasurer of Tuscola County, Michigan, hereby certify that, as of February 27, 1969, the records of this Office indicate that the total of all voted increases over and above the tax limitation established by the Constitution of Michigan, in any local units of government affecting the taxable property located in Cass City Public Schools, Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, Michigan, is as follows:

Heart disease answers elusive

Evidence seems to be growing that diets high in cholesterol and fats-fats of that variety that are solid at room temperatures-lead to high blood levels of fats and this can in turn speed up atherosclerosis which is a disease that causes artery blockages and results in most heart attacks and strokes.

Coronary atherosclerosis constitutes the disease process that is responsible more than any other for disabling heart disorders which are encountered in occlusive thickening, narrowing, and blockage of one or more of the coronary arteries. By depriving the heart in varying degrees of arterial blood supply, this eventually leads to conditions such as myocardial infarction, angina pectoris, congestive heart failure, acute, persistent or recurrent disturbances of heart rhythm, and other heart disorders that, in turn, can cause disability, and death.

Despite extensive research and study the underlying cause or causes of coronary atherosclerosis, the factors which hasten its inevitable progression are not too well known. Many possible causative elements have been investigated, but most doctors think the disease has several causes and they don't recognize any single event, no matter how calamitous, as the thing that starts it. Long term heavy physical effort of certain jobs and so called chronic physiological stress, supposedly caused by certain occupations, are most frequently said to be causes. However, heavy long-term heavy physical effort may in fact be beneficial rather than detrimental to patients with coronary disease and may prevent or delay this condition rather than hasten its onset or progression.

The doctors simply don't have the answer. They do have some recommendations based on their limited knowledge.

Here they are. First, your diet: No more than three egg yolks a week; limit the use of shellfish and organ meats; use more fish, chicken, turkey, and veal; hold beef, lamb, and pork to five moderate portions a week; choose lean cuts, trim visible fat and discard rendered fat. Avoid frying: Instead bake, boil, broil, roast or stew. Restrict sausages, salami and so forth; restrict butter and solid fats, use liquid vegetable oils, skim milk and skimmed milk cheeses.

Well that shouldn't be too bad. But of even greater importance is the emphasis being placed on a controlled exercise program. Yes, some of the exercisers died, but in a recent controlled exercise program in Cleveland, Ohio, the usual mortality of 4.5 to 6 per 100 patient years was reduced in the exercising patients to 2.12 per 100 years, a cut in half. This particular study was made on 618 men who averaged 49 years of age and it was followed up for three years. Of 260 men who had angina or recovered from a heart attack, 64% were significantly improved. Of 358 heart disease prone men 71% were improved. All the subjects seem to be improved psychologically and their wives were enthusiastic because of the change in personality and a greater sense of co-habitation.

There may be some question as to who is a typical heart patient. However, if you want to become one, this is the way you can do it. You may not succeed, but these five steps will help.

First, work harder, with a greater sense of duty to work, and be unable to take time off to relax. Second: Be dominating, power seeking, ambitious and individualistic, aiming at leadership in work and society and a position of domination in your family. Third: Be promiscuous, but be jealous of infidelity in your spouse. Fourth: Be socially very active, smoking cigarettes, driving fast cars and be sure to do the cocktail-dinner party round.

And fifth: Bottle up your emotional discharges.

By the way there is an interesting new surgical procedure known as the "Vineberg". An operation developed by Arthur M. Vineberg M.D. of Montreal. These operations are variants, or "Vinebergs", in which one or two adjoining arteries have been transferred and affixed into the heart muscle. This surgery is designed to increase the supply of blood to the heart that has been deprived of blood by blockages in the coronary arteries. In a nationwide three-year study of nearly four thousand heart disease patients who underwent this surgery it was found that the extra blood brought relief from angina pains and other symptoms to about three quarters of all the patients.

Progress is being made in the understanding and control of heart disease, but there is a long way to go.

Gagetown Council Proceedings

A regular meeting of the Gagetown village council was held April 7, at 7:30 p. m. Six councilmen were present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted. The treasurer's report was read and approved. All bills were OK'd and checks issued for the same.

Mr. Wallace Kent, Attorney was present to present the council with their Ordinance on Junkyards. After some study and amending, a motion was made by England and supported by Burdon to adopt Ordinance no. 34 on junkyards as amended. Roll call vote: Deering-yes, Burdon-yes, Stapleton-yes, England-yes, Comment-yes, Polk-yes.

The bureau of parking violations was set up to be held in the clerk's office on Monday of each week from 9 o'clock a. m. to 5 o'clock p. m.

A motion by Comment and supported by Deering to give Ruth Hendershot a permit to operate a beauty parlor in her home at 4806 State Street, Carried 6 votes. A building permit was given to make the necessary alterations.

A motion by Deering and supported by England to put stop signs at corner of 3rd and Center and at the corner of Gage & Center. Carried 6 votes.

A motion by Stapleton and supported by Polk to get bids on blacktopping, curb and gutters and sidewalks on the streets selected by the street commissioner, for 20 ft. surfaces. Carried 6 votes.

Two bids were studied on tires for the village truck. A motion by Stapleton and supported by Polk to buy two tires (8:25) for the front of the village truck at $122.00 mounted, and one new tube from Deering Texaco. Carried 6 votes.

A motion by Polk and supported by Comment to pay the clerk 9¢ per mile for any driving done for the village. Carried 6 votes.

To comply with new legislation, a motion was made by Comment and supported by Deering to authorize Karl J. Lepplen, CPA to disclose any possible fraud, or embezzlement discovered in connection with the audit of the Gagetown village records, directly to the Deputy State Treasurer in charge of Local Audit Division of the State Dept. of Treasury.

We understand the auditor is strictly forbidden to discuss any suspected fraud or embezzlement with village officials, but must report his findings immediately to the State Dept. of Treasury. Carried 6 votes.

A motion by Deering and supported by Polk to get bids from someone owning a spray gun to paint the municipal building. Carried 6 votes.

A motion was made to adjourn.

hymn of the skies

David lived almost thirty centuries ago. He knew nothing of outer space . . . of galaxies hurtling through the void . . . of particles of energy and matter spinning their way from a one-time explosion toward the edges of the universe.

He knew only the skies of his native land . . . their lights and shadows and ever-changing drifts of cloud.

But he knew, as millions before and since, that these skies were no accident. They told him of the Mind and Heart that rules the domain of life. They told him we are not alone.

"The heavens declare the glory of God," he wrote in the 19th Psalm, "The firmament sheweth his bandiwork."

Through those same skies rode the star that drew men to the scene of our Savior's birth. Against those skies is always silhouetted the Cross on which He died for us.

Under those skies we'll worship together the Risen Lord.

In some ways, electric heat is better than warm summer sunshine. For one thing, it's even the year around. And it stays that way during weather changes. Also, with electric heat, drafts and cold floors become a thing of the past. With flameless electric heat, you'll never wake up in the morning feeling dried out.

You even get an operating cost guarantee. In writing.

If you'd like a free estimate of installation and operating cost, we'll arrange for an Edison Approved Electric Heat Contractor to call on you. Naturally, there's no obligation.

Convert to electric heat. Winter will never be the same.

Henry Kelly, 54, succumbs Sunday

Henry J. Kelly, 54, died Sunday, April 13, in Hills and Dales Hospital after a long illness. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at St. Agatha Church, Gagetown, with the Rev. J. Friske officiating.

Born March 14, 1915, in Detroit, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly. He and Bernice Kanehl were married in Bay City July 7, 1962.

Mr. Kelly formerly owned the Gagetown Tavern. Surviving, besides his widow, are two stepdaughters; one grandchild; one brother, Martin Kelly of Gagetown; one sister, Mrs. William Carolan of Bay City, nieces and nephews.

Burial was in St. Agatha cemetery.

If absence makes the heart grow fonder, then a lot of people certainly love the church.

All-county 4-H Achievement set

BY BERNARD JARDOT

The 4-H Youth Program in Tuscola county has planned an all County Achievement event for all projects other than clothing and knitting. This event will be held Saturday, April 19, at the Caro State Home and Training School. It will be held at Murry Hall with the registration starting at 9:00 a. m.

I thought it would be appropriate to discuss with you about the objectives and purposes of a few of our more common projects that will be displayed at this annual achievement. This list is not complete, since time and space has made it impossible to discuss all the projects that will be on display.

In handicraft woodworking, our members have an opportunity to develop skills in building or repairing articles, equipment, and buildings. Very few boys carry only the furniture projects that are designed to develop them as skilled cabinet makers or finish carpenters. Most of our members will build a wide variety of articles.

In the handicraft projects our members learn to use and care for tools and equipment. They gain knowledge, experience and satisfaction in making practical and useful articles. Our members also enjoy fellowship and leadership experiences by working with old and new friends in their community.

It's not easy to understand everything about electricity. We may not know just how it is made at the power plant or how it goes out over the highlines. But it is our objective to help our 4-H members better understand how to control and use the electricity that is available in our homes.

We use so much electricity in our everyday life that many of us may not realize how important it is unless the power goes off, like it did for many of our families in Tuscola county this past winter.

I feel that everyone should know something about how electricity can be controlled and made useful. Also our members should learn some of the basic skills and experiences of planning better use of our electrical power. As in many of our other 4-H project areas the member has the opportunity to work in group activity where they can enjoy fellowship, develop friendships and leadership, while working with others on a group electrical project.

The 4-H Veterinary Science project is designed to help boys and girls of both rural and urban areas to better understand animals and both health and disease. Veterinary Science goes far beyond just animals for it also deals with the protection of human health and the promotion of human welfare.

Whether we realize it or not, we think about the weather all the time. It affects what we wear, how we live, what plans we make and even how we feel. These facts make the 4-H weather project a very interesting activity for our 4-H members as well as being very useful in their understanding of how weather affects them.

If you're like most people, you like food, at least you enjoy eating it. Still, far too few people really know the essential role food plays in promoting and protecting health. Wise food selection throughout our life span helps us reach our potential - physically, mentally and socially. In the 4-H foods program we do much more than the development of skills in the preparation and serving of meals; we also concern ourselves with proper selection and planning for our nutritional needs.

The basic 4-H Conservation Project is specially designed for all young people, whether on the farm or in the city, in a community club or project club, or in a school conservation club. This is an experience which I firmly believe will be helpful in the proper development of sound ideas and ideals in the world around us. The conservation program is so developed to give our members an outdoor experience and activity in each of the four major phases recognized in the 4-H conservation program: Soil and water, Forest, Wildlife and Appreciation and Recreation.

There are many other project areas that will be on display - some of these are: Safety, Photography, Personal Improvement, Passport, Indoor Gardening and Tractor - Automotive. We hope that any interested individual or groups in the county will take the opportunity to view our many projects that will be on display.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Ed Doolittle, that was a Re-publican from the beginning to the end of all them Democrat wonder cures for what ails this country, reported to the fellers at the country store Saturday night he ain't had cause to change his mind about Mr. Nixon. He said he was powerful pleased to see Nixon elected President because he was shore any change in party and people in power was bound to be a im-provement.

Well, Ed allowed, he has fol-lered the Nixon Administration through what the column writers call the honeymoon, and he has been general satisfied with the way things is going. But Ed said he now sees signs the lovey-dovey is over and nitty-gritty is starting. And Ed said plain out he don't hold no grudge on ac-count of him not being named Secretary of Agriculture.

Ed said the honeymoon start-ed wearing thin as soon as Con-gress voted themselves a big raise. This was no fault of Nixon, Ed said, but it was bound to put the Congress in a dangerous spending mood. Just recent, fer instant, Ed said Congress was quick to approve raises for the Vice President and a bunch of other top Government leaders. Congress, Ed allowed, is guilty about their own raise and they feel greedy if they don't give money to everybody that wants some.

Another sign of the end of the honeymoon is Mr. Nixon's plan for shaking up postmasters. Ed said he wasn't shore taking the right to pick postmasters and rural mailmen from Congress-men and giving it to the post-master general that is appoint-ed by the President is a cure fer what ails the mails. As long as he can remember, Ed said, the postmaster job has been a political plum on the local level, and the postmaster has been the local fence mender fer the party that passed him the plum.

Everybody knows the assistant postmaster runs the post office, and the postmaster has a office in the building. Ed said he weren't agin giving the post-master some post office work to do if it don't hinder the whole operation.

Ed said he couldn't see what changing the politics that picks the postmasters has got to do with how efficient the mail moves, but he allowed it were a good sign that the Nixon Ad-ministration is trying to do some-thing besides hike the price of postage stamps.

Personal, Mister Editor, it looks to me like these new pri-vate mail companies is taking the mail out of the post office. I don't think it's no more pos-sible to get politics out of any Government service than to im-prove bacon by gitting rid of all the hogs at the trough.

Yours truly
Uncle Tim

Roadster 4 years abuildin'—now it's cruise time for Franks boys

RELAXING 'SIDE THE Cass River with the custom-made roadster are Randy Doerr, Dave Asher, and its owner, John Franks.

Great summer days are ahead for John and Pete Franks of Cass City.

As Nat King Cole's old favorite goes, "Roll out those hazy, lazy, days of summer, those days of soda, and pretzels, and beer..."

Except along with the soda and pretzels (at least) John and Pete will be able to munch and sip while cruising in their 1968 427 cubic inch Chevrolet engine roadster.

Their custom-crafted roadster, since its inception in 1963, has had its wheelbase, engine, and tires (and many smaller parts) modified, and sometimes modified again.

But the roughly four years it took to design, build, test and then refine was about as much fun and pleasure as it is to cruise around in, they say.

The "body" for the feather-weight 1900-pound car is a 35-pound Fiberglas mold of a 1923 pickup cab purchased in Toledo. Sort of an abbreviated topless, you might say.

With its engine and skeletal structure intact, a trip to California "just for something to do" helped put the finishing touches on the car at a savings and allowed the boys to learn a lot about sophisticated roadsters.

Surface chroming, for example, is a competitive business in California and one of their decisions to go to California was the cheaper and faster chroming in Cal as compared to Michigan, at least during the time of its construction.

Their brief period on the West Coast allowed them to jaunt into Mexico and have the seats upholstered with luxurious 32-oz. naugahyde for just $100.

The roadster features a wheelbase of 96 inches and has a Turbo-Hydramatic transmission with a 4.11 posi-traction rear end.

It has a zoom exhaust system, 10 inch racing slicks (rear tires) and carpeting.

The yellow roadster values, they say, about $3,000 with an equal labor invested. They say it would sell for about $3,000 and that they have a Saginaw buyer nibbling for its sale.

But they want to enjoy it this summer and they've told the buyer to come back in the fall.

Pride in its ownership is "having something nobody else has got in this part of the country," they say.

Pete said a possible trip to the Straits is planned this summer.

Asked if their mother, Mrs. Franks, drives it, Pete responded, "I don't know, it's a lot different..."

"They won't let me," Mrs. Franks crowed.

The reason it's so difficult to reason with children is that they are so much like adults,

"If It Fitz..."

BY JIM FITZGERALD

Seeing as how I used to wear his jacket, it should be ok if I add a few late words about Dwight Eisenhower.

This country does a magnificent job of burying its super-heroes. The national orgy of mourning is splendidly reported by TV and newspapers. But as a man who winces when brought eyeball to eyeball with another person's grief, I am about all winced out.

The TV camera kept trying to peek through Mamie Eisenhower's black veil. The same way it bored in on Jackie and Ethel Kennedy and Coretta King when they were new widows. I looked, but then I looked away. Finally, I pushed the "off" button.

I don't think Mrs. Eisenhower's tears are that much of my business. Some people like to follow ambulances and sit in the front row at wakes. TV caters to viewers who want a close-up look at how the family "is taking it." To each his own, but not for me, thanks. I kept thinking someone should pull down the shades.

But what I started to say is that the communication media were obviously ready for Ike's passing. His death was a threat for several weeks and the obituaries were written and ready to print. Old news film was racked and poised. All over the world, big shots had their eulogies rehearsed and mimeographed. Not much was left unsaid. But there were a couple of things....

There seemed general agreement that Ike had served as a "father image" for his country. He was Mr. Nice Guy, stern but with a wide smile that crinkled his eyes and forgave his critics their sins. More than anything else, "It was the character of the man," said President Nixon, that made him a beloved leader.

I wouldn't argue with any of that. But then so many of the mourners went on to add that Ike was "the last of his kind." Their meaning was clear: No more Mr. Nice Guys. The future is full of hippies and crooked politicians and crime-in-the-streets and Communists and tax loopholes. There'll never be another Father Eisenhower to lead us to victory over our foes and our bad habits.

I don't agree. I think the potential leaders, the saviors, are out there somewhere. Egad, it could even be some young radical wearing a beard and carrying a sign. Or a Peace Corps volunteer in India. This country is producing young men and women who care about the future of the world - all of it. They see through the fuzzy thinking which preaches equality but flinches when black touches white. They smell the phony stench when a politician decries muggings while doing business with the Mafia. They see the hypocrisy in decrying bloodshed while dropping bombs.

The Ike-like leaders are there, but with no World War II to shine in. They are doing and saying what must be done and must be said. The trouble is, not enough people are listening. Yet. But the stirrer-uppers are mostly young. There is time and I am optimistic: They shall overcome.

The last comment is for Ike's last moments. He died in bed, his heart worn out, at the age of 78. No one shot him. It was nice, for a change, to have a national funeral with no blood dripping.

This country needs more lives like Ike's. Also more deaths.

Huron group meets recently

Home for the Aged group of Huron county met in Bad Axe Wednesday, April 9, with three new members joining the group. President Mary Severn of Elkton presided at the business meeting. Several topics were discussed.

A committee of four are to meet with the Supervisors concerning ambulance service available to patients.

There are 46 three-bed home owners with permits in Huron county. There are 99 patients in the homes and 39 more beds available.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, June 25, at 1 p. m. at the Bad Axe Standard Room.

Announcing the first car of the '70s at 1960 prices.

FORD MAVERICK $1995*

(You don't have to read it all-but it's nice to know it's all there.)

Most new cars look like other cars. But when the word gets out that something really different is on the way, rumors run wild. Few cars have caused as much talk as Maverick. Ford's new entry in the small car field rivals the economy imports in price... but tops them in power, performance, passenger room and luggage capacity. We've been bombarded with questions about Maverick. Now, for the first time, here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?

A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?

A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?

A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?

A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls... important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?

A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?

A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5½ feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?

A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick!). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?

A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points... plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact's—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight... power... stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?

A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

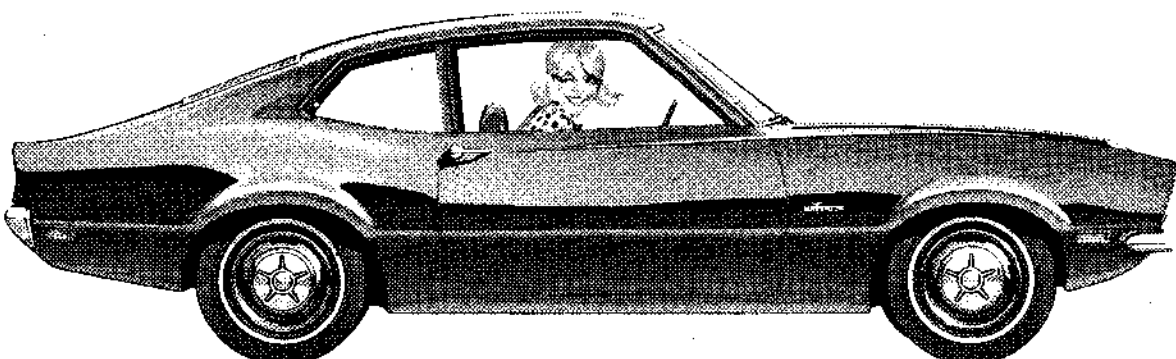

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is... right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's... Fairlanes... Mustangs and Falcons.

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's... the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

For an authentic 1/25 scale model of the new Ford Maverick, send $1.00 to Maverick, P.O. Box 5397, Department N50 Detroit, Michigan 48211. (Offer ends July 31, 1969.)

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for the car. Price does not include: white sidewall tires. $32.00; dealer preparation charge, if any; transportation charges, state and local taxes.

Explain causes of infertile cattle

Breeding at the "wrong time" is the most prevalent cause of infertility in dairy cattle.

And the "wrong time" is when the animal is unhealthy, too small, too early in her heat period or otherwise not "ready" to be bred.

No heifer or cow showing signs of infection should be inseminated. Breeding an abnormal animal is asking for more trouble. An animal like that should be thoroughly checked by a veterinarian before breeding.

Holstein heifers should be 48 to 50 inches high at the withers at breeding. If the animal is any smaller than that, she may have calving difficulties. And, if she's any larger, fertility may be a problem because of accumulation of fat. Holstein heifers may be raised to breeding size by 13 months of age.

Then, after the animal has a calf, the dairyman should wait 60 days before having the cow bred again.

Never violate this rule without prior inspection of the cow by a veterinarian. In fact, a post-calving check-up of all cows before breeding is a management practice that will increase fertility.

Also you should wait until close to the end of the standing heat to breed cattle. Infertility results more often from breeding cows too early rather than too late.

Remember that cows are individuals, and some may settle better if they are bred at an earlier or later time than others. Averages do not always apply to an individual cow.

Looking to the future, it is predicted that dairymen may reduce the labor of checking cows for heat by using estrus synchronization. With this system, dairymen would contract with his A. I. technician at the beginning of the year to breed a given number of cows on one date, another group on a second date, and the remainder on the third date.

Evans ordained in Bay City church

James Evans, a graduate of Cass City High School, was ordained in the First Baptist Church of Bay City Tuesday evening, March 25. The ordination council was called by the Bay City church. The council was comprised of pastors and messengers from the Eastern Michigan Association of Regular Baptist Churches.

The ordination service included three messages: the charge to the church by Rev. R. G. Weckle of Freeland, the charge to the candidate by Rev. Donald K. Olsen of Bay City and the ordination message by Rev. Ralph R. Canfield, Cass City Baptist pastor.

The ordination prayer was offered by Rev. Kenneth Elgena of Flint. Chairman of the council was Rev. Lloyd G. Morris, also of Flint. Rev. Robert Barto, a seminary classmate of Evans, offered the "right hand of fellowship" to Mr. Evans, welcoming him into the ministry. The Rev. James Evans closed the meeting in prayer.

Rev. and Mrs. Evans are serving in Peru under the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism. The Evans family is partially supported by the local Baptist church.
