

FROM THE Editor's Corner

There must not be any weekly publisher-editors in Sweden. In this Socialist orientated country there is a law that makes it mandatory for every worker to have four weeks' vacation each year. If you were about to make a crack about editors and perpetual vacations, forget it.

Outside of Cliff Ferguson, what small-town businessman can swing a deal like this? About the only persons I can think of in Cass City that work for a living and qualify for these beautiful vacations are the postal employees and the teachers. You can start an instant argument if you say the teachers are (are not) paid for their annual summer hiatus.

Still, vacations are undoubtedly getting longer for everybody. Four weeks for employees after 20 years' service or so is not common, but is no longer remarkable.

The thing is that vacation days, like "temporary" taxes, have an annoying habit of becoming permanent.

One of these was Monday's traditional salute to labor. Labor Day started as a recognition to our working people, but today it's regarded as a day off and no one questions just why.

When you stop and think about it, another day off for the working man is almost a farce.

While the politicians are saluting labor, labor is up north saluting the natives at the local pub.

With 4 1/2 day weeks, the standard for many unions already, the handwriting is on the wall. The four-day week will be here and the five-day week will be as obsolete as the six-day week is now.

And it seems like a long time ago that anyone worked six days as a regular practice. But as little as six years ago, the entire Chronicle staff worked 5 1/2 days as a regular thing.

Labor Day doesn't seem quite as assinine as the holiday celebrating Washington's birthday when the post office and the banks are locked up and it's five to one that you forget all about it.

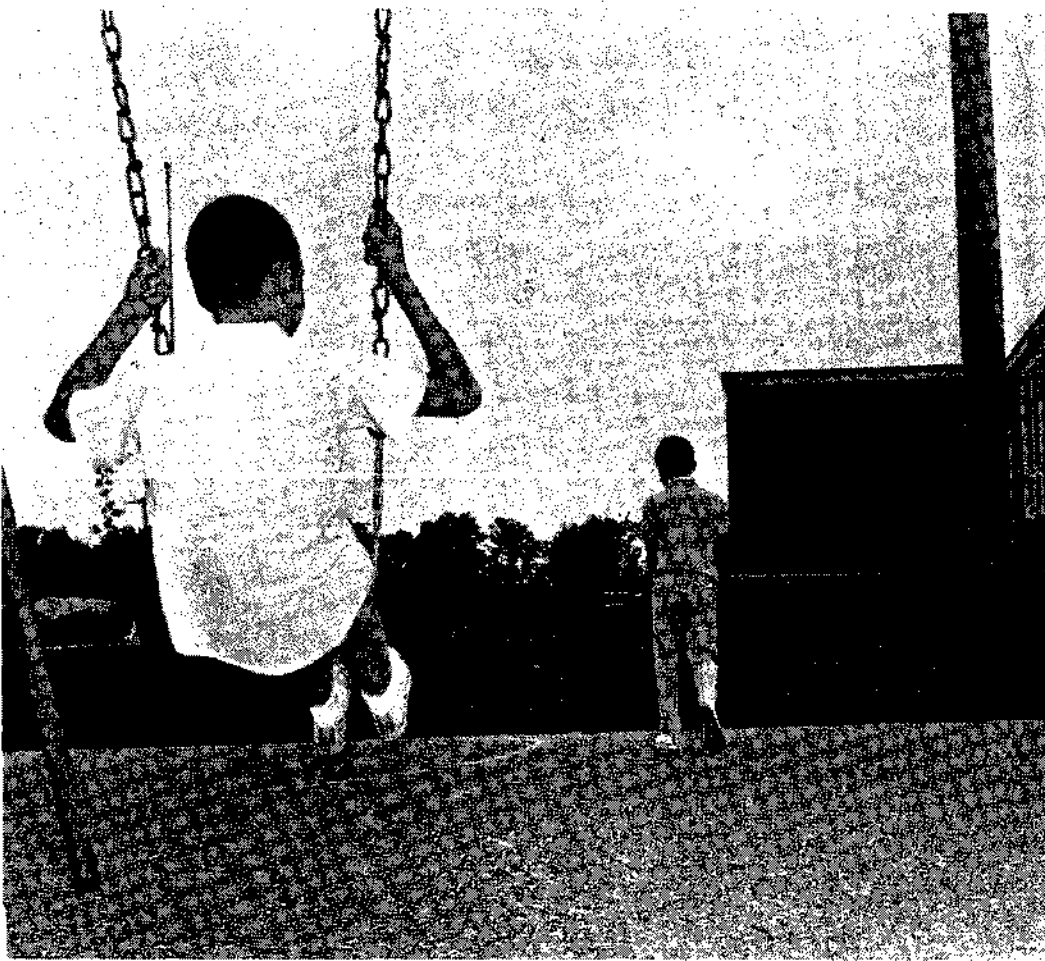

Maybe the reason I can't get excited about these holidays is that most of the time I have to spend at least part of the day working. Did you ever try to buy a cup of coffee in Cass City on Labor Day?

Blood bank due at hospital Friday

Masons set to dedicate $60,000 temple Friday

Almost 90 years of hopes and planning will be culminated in Friday's dedication of the new Masonic Temple, reports Mason Marshall Ed Gidding. Worshipful Master William Schram said insurance companies value the two-story, 40 x 80 foot structure at $60,000. It was built by a combination of private donations and volunteer workers.

Four fraternal organizations are affiliated with the temple. They are Tyler Lodge F & AM no. 317 with 199 members; Job's Daughters Bethel no. 77 with 30 members; a DeMolay chapter with 30 members, and Echo Chapter no. 337 Order of the

Two grass fires quelled in area

The Elkland Township Fire Department answered two fire calls during the week.

A grass fire at the village residence of Alton O'Connor was extinguished Saturday afternoon when the fire department was called at 2:24 p.m. The fire spread through his back yard orchard and is alleged to have started from a burning trash burner.

Thursday afternoon, August 28, the fire department was called to put out a rapidly spreading field fire three miles south and 1/4 west on the property of Peter Kloc in Novesta Township. Children had been playing in the area at the time, but the fire's cause is unknown.

Eastern Star, 168 members. Schram regrets they are not able to invite the public for Friday's event saying the 300-400 members, plus their friends and relatives, exceeds the capacity of the facility. A ham and chicken smorgasbord is to be served at 5 p.m. and the ceremony will be conducted at 8 p.m.

Twelve officers of the Grand Lodge of Michigan will conduct the ceremony with some participation by local officers. In all dedication ceremonies it is the state officers who establish the date.

Drought cuts bean, corn crop yields

Bean threshing has begun in the Michigan Thumb. In what was initially believed to be the best crop in recent years, a prolonged dry spell has reduced, according to one cash cropper, "30 bushel per acre vines to 20 bushel per acre beans."

A brief rain Monday night, plus that from the full month of August, has yielded 1.3 inches of rain. July recorded only 3.71 inches, according to the rain meter at the Cass City sewage disposal plant.

As of Monday night, cash crop farmer Ed Lebiada had threshed 42 of his 90 acres. He estimated his yields at 16 to 17 bushels per acre.

Frutchey Bean Elevator manager Bob Wischmeyer reported the going price at $6.25 for "choice hand picked" beans. The price one week ago was $7.10. He said the price was expected to dip to about $5.75 at the season's peak. Wischmeyer said he considered it an

Launch $9,000 drive to restore school sports

Spearheaded by Vic Guernsey a group of parents and interested Cass City residents launched a drive this week to raise $9,000 to restore a full sports program and related activities to the curriculum at Cass City Schools.

Letters were slated to be mailed to an estimated 375 parents with students affected by the program asking for $20 from each. Of the total needed, the school backers hope to raise $7,500 in the campaign to restore everything except bus rides to away football and basketball games. The remaining $1,500 for the bus service will be the responsibility of a group of students who have pledged a campaign to raise these funds. Naturally, we don't expect every parent, who receives a letter to contribute, Guernsey said. We expect to involve industry and business in the drive as it progresses.

Junior high football is the first on the list to be affected by the cut. To get this program rolling, boosters have personally pledged that enough money will be raised to cover the costs.

Actually, we hope to have the entire drive completed in about a month, Guernsey said this week when outlining the project.

The $7,500 will restore dramatics, debate, girls athletic association, junior high football and basketball, 5th and 6th grade basketball, all track and baseball and the three cheerleading teams.

Donations from parents will not be handled by the committee. The letter asks that the check for $20 be made out to the school with a note asking that the money be placed in the student activity restoration fund.

The fund-raisers admit that the volunteer method of raising school money is a "one shot" deal and that taxation is the way the school program must be handed over the years to be successful.

The letter points out that it is vital to maintain the program to preserve the results generated by the program in recent years.

The drive is concerned only with sports and other extra curricular activities and will not affect the half-day status of grade pupils attending the various schools in the district.

Certainly, this cut in program is of grave concern, Guernsey said, but its cost is so great ($49,000) that there is no way we can raise the money voluntarily.

The cuts we are trying to restore we feel are within reach and we are striving for them with this campaign.

What we should all be thinking about next year, Guernsey said, is to mount a drive and work, work, work for passage of enough millage to run our school properly.

MIKE CORL—Up and at 'em.

Mike eyes return to school by mid-year

Michael Corl, 10, is hitting "homers" these days in his fight to regain his complete health following a snowmobile accident in which he was very severely injured. He has now improved to a point where, in the last two weeks, he has been riding his bicycle, swimming (including a couple of dives) and playing ball.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Corl on Dodge Road near Deford, was struck by a vehicle as he attempted to cross the road with the snowmobile. He was driving last January. In the tragic mishap, he received a fractured skull, a cracked pelvis, a compound fracture of the left lower leg, numerous bruises, and also a malfunction that developed in the muscle of his right eye.

In May, a metal plate was successfully encased in the right side of his skull and his right eye is now virtually normal.

He wears, while playing, a helmet to prevent any possible head bumps, and doctors believe he will be able to enter school in January during the mid-school year.

Who could think of refurbacing at a time like this?

Seems like a funny time to talk about replacing a furnace, huh? Actually, warm weather's the best time to make home repairs. Like replacing a cranky old heating system with modern electric heat.

And now's an especially good time to convert. Right now, your Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor will give you $100 for your old heating system when you change to electric heat.

Why electric heat? It's comfortable—really comfortable. No chill about a moment nor blast of hot, dry air the next.

And operating cost is guaranteed. Call Edison for details, and some names of Approved Electric Heat Contractors.

So if your old furnace won't make it another winter, remember now's the best time to refurbace to modern electric heat.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

School board election time is a year away. But if the school situation doesn't ease you may see a host of candidates running for a seat.

If so, we'll make a prediction that the one elected won't be involved in the present money raising campaign, will never have attended a board meeting and will make vague speeches about economy and cutting useless school spending.

Mrs. Marilyn Schott is a pin-up girl...even if she doesn't know it. Dick Haines took her picture to illustrate the height of corn around the Fourth of July, you'll remember.

The results were so good that we ran it three columns wide on the front page. The pressmen at Bad Axe thought it was spectacular, too. They cut it out of the paper and pinned it to the wall.

I didn't have the heart to tell them that Marilyn is a happily married mother with a family.

You can be SURE that any instructions bellowed from the sidelines by Junior Varsity Coach Fred Hurlburt to the Hawks football team this fall will be HEARD.

The new coach has a deep bass voice and when he sounds off, the stands tremble, the ground quakes and I believe he could be heard in downtown Wilmet.

Fire Chief Jerome Root Jr. says that volunteer firemen are needed to man the department during the day. Many of the members are working out of town or where they are not within easy reach of the fire hall during the day. We need someone to cover during these critical periods, the fire chief reports.

The question is shall I try again for Coho salmon this fall? In two previous excursions the only thing I caught was seasickness and the "sympathy" of buddies with hardy constitutions.

If I thought for an instant that I would be well and they would be in need of my "sympathy" I'd pack my rod this afternoon.

Since I wrote the story about the drive for school, I've been trying to decide whether to contribute or not. Basically I'm against the theory behind the drive. On the other hand if the majority of parents kick in the $20 wouldn't I be a backslider if I didn't?

I'll never be a promoter of this program, but if the majority feels it's the thing to do, I guess I'll go along.

Putnams feted on 50th anniversary lison and son Curtis, all of Pontiac.

Mrs. Putnam's sisters planned the event and the guests brought dinner and a decorated cake for the occasion. The Putnams received many cards and gifts.

Frank Putnam, originally of Caro, and Elsie Collison of Cass City were married Aug. 26, 1919, at the parsonage of the Evangelical Church in Caro.

The couple lived in Bay City about 15 years before moving to this area two years ago.

Of all the football teams in America, which one do you think has played the most games since the start of football 100 years ago? Answer is NOT Princeton or Rutgers who were the first two teams to play football... It's Penn which has played a total of 907 football games going into this season.

VILLAGE OF CASS CITY COUNCIL MEETING

A regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held Aug. 26, 1969, at the Municipal Building. All members were present except Trustee Dillman.

The minutes of the regular July meeting were read and approved.

The financial report was reviewed and approved.

Committee reporting for the Park stated that a special blend of grass had been planted on the newly seeded playground area that was designed to withstand heavy activity.

Trustee Rawson asked that notes of appreciation be sent to the Rotary, Gavel, and Lions clubs for the outstanding effort in the work program to rake the ball fields. He reported that the pool would close after the Labor Day week end, and that the Jr. League golf program had finished with Trophies and special awards being given.

Trustee Albee praised the program of summer activity and suggested a different plan be adopted to handle the Little League Umpiring another year. Council agreed that a better understanding should be reached.

Trustee Selby reporting for the Police committee informed the council that several applications had been received. No recommendations have been made as to the hiring of a new policeman. Trustee Selby suggested to the council that a part time man should be hired to support a two man car at necessary times. Council authorized the committee to provide this kind of help.

Police Chief Palmateer informed the Council that a screen had been installed in the Police car. Trustee Selby presented an Ordinance concerning Minimum Requirements Law to be adopted in order to be able to qualify for Federal Aid. It was referred to the Village Attorney for approval.

Mr. John McCormick appeared before the Council to complain about the excessive noise on the streets. President Althaver assured him the problem was under consideration.

Trustee Golding speaking for the Water & Sewer Committee reported the man holes in the Hills & Dales area had been raised.

The Sanitary Landfill committee reported that the agreement with Ellington Township had been signed and in order and that a continuation clause had been inserted in the original contract. A motion to authorize the President and Clerk to sign the contract was presented by Trustee Albee, supported by Trustee Golding and carried by 5 yes, and 0 no.

Park Committee Chairman suggested an increase of insurance coverage for the pool to 4,000.00 and 1,500.00 minimum. Final decision on the amount was left to Park Committee, Council approving an increase.

Mr. Cliff Croft and Mr. William Kritzman, representing the Cass City Development Corp., appeared before the Council to inquire about possibility of the Village maintaining a road if one was built behind the new building at Doerr Rd. and South Village limits. No decision was reached although the question of development in the area was discussed at length.

President Althaver reported that the Ordinance concerning Junk Cars was still under consideration.

Council discussed the buying of the property from C. R. Hunt but came to no conclusion as to what a fair price would be to offer for the property. Trustee Ross asked to delay action for another meeting to afford time to have an appraisal made.

An extension of the Tax Collection date to Sept. 15 was moved by Trustee Rawson, supported by Trustee Selby and carried by a 5-0 vote of the council.

A letter from Mr. James McCoy was read requesting formal recognition of the fact that Thumb Video Company was now a Michigan Corporation. It was moved by Trustee Selby, supported by Trustee Golding and duly carried.

His resignation was accepted formally by a motion made by Trustee Golding and supported by Trustee Selby. Yes 5-no 0-motion carried.

A new set of rules and regulations concerning air pollution registered as Act 348 of 1965 was presented. This act regulates the burning of rubbish and trash and will start to be enforced in the near future.

All around the world They marvel at American industry. Factory chimneys send great clouds of smoke skyward as we produce more and still more. There seems to be no end to man's progress, whether here on earth or out in the vast mystery of space.

In spite of all we do, there is still so much that we cannot do. For all our power, we are still frail and vulnerable. God has given us many capabilities, but we were never meant to "go it" entirely alone. To think that we need nothing beyond ourselves is not self-confidence—it is brashness.

There are moments when we all need to look into a special kind of mirror, by which we may re-examine our lives. Such a mirror may be found in church where God's word, if we really listen to it, can help show us the truth.

Why not go and listen in your church next Sunday?

AROUND THE FARM
Timber cutter
eyes Deford area

By Alfred P. Ballweg

I had an opportunity to stop by and visit with Floyd Hoover, owner and operator of the Cass River Lumber Company of Tuscola in our county this week. It is always interesting to talk with this progressive businessman. Starting from scratch some years ago, he has developed a business of using a Natural Resource of which we have an abundance in Tuscola County and of which a large percentage goes to waste each year because it is not harvested. This is our pulpwood and some other species of native wood that can be used by the Cass River Lumber Company.

Because supplies of the Natural resource that Mr. Hoover uses are becoming more limited in the Tuscola area of the county, he will be opening soon a buying and processing plant just south of Deford. Here he will buy and process the wood into boards to be used in his plant at Tuscola. Mr. Hoover estimates that he may buy up to $50,000.00 worth of wood each year. This will provide jobs for some of the limited income families in the Deford area and a market for our almost unlimited supply of pulpwood.

The area of Tuscola, Sanilac, Huron, Lapeer and St. Clair counties have some 73,000 acres of aspen classified as pole timber. An aspen tree may average 26¢ standing, and in the finished product it is worth $21.42. Figuring ten trees per cord, this value is $2.60 per tree, or $214.20 per cord. This is the value added through manufacturing and a good portion of it is paid out in wages. Tuscola County alone has some 24,000 acres of pole aspen, 21,500 acres of well stocked and 3,000 acres of poorly stocked seedlings and sapling aspen.

According to Mr. Hoover, the new Deford location will be in operation in the near future. Facilities are presently under construction which will include a holding yard and sawmill operation to process the wood before it is moved to the Tuscola plant.

We must take our hats off to Mr. Hoover for his foresight in developing an industry that can take a Natural Resource much of which is going to waste and convert it into a finished product much in demand and provide jobs for people that otherwise would not be available. Let us wish Mr. Hoover success in his new venture.

An educational program will be held at the yard at the time of the official opening.

Lack of self-confidence puts two strikes against any man.

FIRING LINE
Adieu Cass City;
Hello SVC
By Richard Haines

My tenure with the 'ole Chronicle ends as of this Friday and this column will be my adieu for all my friends here in Cass City.

No, I haven't been fired... I will be returning for my senior year at Saginaw Valley College (SVC), a four-year, state supported institution which this year will have about 1,400 students.

Although a student of political science, I hope to continue writing a column, this time, called "Riding Shotgun" for a Tri-city newspaper, that will cover the campus scene.

Which reminds me, we're going to have to get right to work...

Truly though, the main reason (glossed over by the administration when they explain it) is that it does not have the military weapons and espionage research, and military service recruiters encroaching its tentacles on campus for SDS to grapple with.

Demonstrations often turn me off. I sometimes prefer law and order type arm-twisting, wheeling and dealing, and behind the scenes threats. You know... like the Congressmen do. Congress doesn't have demonstrations.

While in the student government, this former "student senator" originated student senate legislation that in its final form, placed student representatives on all standing faculty committees. Despite the harassment, from students and administration alike, I was also the first spokesman for a student bill of rights and responsibilities, the final document of which is now being confirmed by the administration and faculty.

At smaller colleges, students, if they have a sensitive administration, can be easily heard. But universities have their angles too.

My ears pricked up when several months ago a young Republican legislator told me that he explained to a leftist group at MSU how to "get control" of the college.

He didn't go into any detail except to say the leftists weren't too hot on the idea. They thought, he related, "that it was too much work."

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS in a Bible quiz-down is a team representing the Colwood United Brethren Church. The team won 7 straight matches to qualify for the finals and then won two of three for the title in championship competition. From left, clockwise: Pat Thane, Mary Thane, Shirley Rhodes, Sherril Thane, Sandra Doyen, Cheryl Doyen and Linda Smith.

Colwood Bible quiz team races to national title

A team of girls from the Colwood United Brethren Church recently captured the national play-offs in a Bible quiz held as part of a week-long youth convention at Huntington, Ind.

Several hundred delegates from State conferences across the United States participated in the activities. The Colwood team won the opportunity to attend the convention and play-offs by winning quiz matches throughout the year against Michigan United Brethren teams. The girls were undefeated entering the play-offs and the final match pitted them against 15 other State winning teams.

The champion team includes: Pat, Sherril and Mary Thane, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Thane, Cass City; Miss Linda Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith Sr., Unionville; Shirley Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rhodes, Caro, and Cheryl and Sandra Doyen, daughters of the Patrick Doyens of Cass City.

The Rev. and Mrs. Roger Burk, pastor of the Colwood United Brethren Church, accompanied the girls to the convention.

"If It Fitz. . ."

I don't look it, do I?

BY JIM FITZGERALD

I had barely reached my new station in life when someone whacked me over the ego with it. There was this young doll in our office, see? She was here to sell the advertising manager on holding a cooking school. He took one look and reached for his apron. I took one look and quickly requested an introduction so I might find out why my pineapple upside down cake is falling right side up.

"Ah yes," the ad manager said to the doll. "I'd like you to meet our editor, Jim Fitzgerald." And, hardly breaking syllables, he turned to me and asked, "How's the new granddaughter, Jim?"

Oh, that dirty bum, that dirty, rotten, no-good bum. I mumbled that the granddaughter was fine, thanks, all the time sucking in my gut and tightening my chins, waiting expectantly for the doll to say my goodness, you don't look old enough to be a grandfather.

This was a week ago and she hasn't said it yet. I guess I'll exhale.

Everyone asks me how it feels to be a grandfather. I always make some lame crack about it being ok, except I feel a little strange sleeping with a grandmother. This is a real knee-slapper and folks think ho-ho, the big clown doesn't know any better, he's happy about being branded an old man overnight. Not so.

It was just the other day I was worrying about getting called back into the army. I'd read the war news and then check the bus schedules to Canada. But they don't draft grandfathers, do they? I might better worry about beating my wife to the mailman on the day the Social Security check arrives.

Seriously, folks, I am finding it a traumatic experience to become a grandfather while I am barely over 40, with 2 kids still in grade school and a swinging mother who tells people I am her little brother. What's bugging me, I guess, is that I remember my paternal grandparents.

Grandpa was old, with pure white hair and a bushy moustache and a 1928 Dodge you had to crank. Grandma was also old and she always had flour on her face. She used to feed me sugared orange slices which were a lot better than the horrendous candy Grandpa slipped me. Grandma made great pancakes and stewed rhubarb and she'd let me listen to funny records by the 2 Black Crows on the phonograph that had to be cranked more than the Dodge.

My grandparents, who died before I was 10, were the kind Norman Rockwell used to put on Saturday Evening Post covers, usually coming out of church. Kindly but crochety, feeble but determined, please pass the buttermilk. As played by Walter Brennan and Jonathan Winters in drag.

All these years, whenever anyone said Grandpa and Grandma, I envisioned The Old Couple, in bed by 9 and up at 5 with the snow shoveled off the walks before breakfast. The good, straight people.

But now I'm a grandpa and I'm worried about some doll thinking I look it. It's no wonder I'm uncomfortable. I feel like Dean Martin being inducted into the WCUTU.

Grandpas should be dignified and wise and well behaved, with all the old fashioned virtues. OK, I'll start practicing. It may be a while yet before I quit looking at the dolls.

But the next 1928 Dodge I see, I'll crank it.

MARLETTE TEEN RANCH house parent Robert Booker (extreme right) looks on as United States Fish and Wildlife Service officials dump bass and bluegill minnows into a bucket held by Teen Ranch youths. The officials brought a truckload of about 1,500 fish from their headquarters at Hebron, Ohio, Friday, August 29, to six area pond owners who received the fish. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee helped build the ponds and the fish are provided free by the Federal Department.

Letter to Editor

Why large school raises?

Mr. Haire, Editor,
Cass City Chronicle

Why, when the voters turn down the millage, does our School Board grant a large raise to supervisory help? (no, not the teachers) and still part-time school for some children? Will the School Board please explain why via the paper, as lots of people, including us, are curious.

Thank you,
William and Clara Eberts

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mathewson

Dolores Partaka became the bride of Phillip Mathewson Saturday, Aug. 23, at St. Michael's Catholic Church at Wilmet. Rev. Fr. Eugene Susalla performed the two o'clock ceremony.

Vases of pink and white gladioli adorned the altar. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Partaka of Deford and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mathewson of Cass City.

The bride's floor-length white gown of lace and organza featured a fitted bodice and long sleeves. Tiers of nylon organza highlighted the back of the gown. A crown held her bouffant veil of illusion net.

Check out all home costs

By Mrs. Ann Ross - Extension Agent

With home mortgage rates rapidly on the rise--some families who may have been planning to buy a home will continue to rent.

While home mortgage payments and rent sometimes seem comparable--there's more to the cost of owning a home than meets the eye. Added expenses for closing costs, property taxes, special assessment fees, property insurance, and repair and replacement are causing potential homeowners to seriously ask: What is the total price of owning a home and how does it compare with renting?

When comparing, look for the average cost per year for the length of time you expect to live in the dwelling. Then, seek the breakeven point--this is the number of years you would have to live in a house before the cost of ownership is less than the annual cost of renting. This time varies with communities.

When comparing, try to make appropriate comparisons. For example, it might be difficult to compare a two bedroom apartment "rentwise" with the cost of a mortgage for a four bedroom home with a spacious yard.

If you plan to live in a community only a short time--two or three years--it might be best to rent. The cost of renting, either a furnished or unfurnished dwelling, usually amounts to a single monthly payment--which may or may not include utilities.

If you plan to buy your home, the greatest expenses come in the first years. And, if you plan to sell, it will cost you for such expenses as: real estate commission fee; payment of state and local transfer taxes if any; and "point" charges.

Another home ownership cost--seldom considered--is the amount of family labor spent on repairing and improving property. If this time and energy could be channeled into productive income from an outside source, then, labor should be counted as an additional expense. And, don't forget the interest lost on money spent on the house.

Less grain boosts butterfat tests

Reducing grain intake to dairy cows will increase forage consumption, and this is the most effective method of returning low butterfat tests to normal.

This can cause a temporary drop in milk production, but once the butterfat test is back to normal, heavier grain feeding may be resumed.

Excessive grain feeding tends to depress dairy cow forage intake. The problem becomes more acute at higher levels of grain feeding when high moisture shelled corn or pelleted corn rations are fed. Ear corn contains about 20 percent cob which, as roughage, helps prevent a low butterfat test.

The agricultural authority says forage is low in fiber, like lush pasture or hay silage, can contribute to the low butterfat test problem.

Usually, you should reduce the amount of grain fed to a point where cows will consume about 1 1/2 lbs. of hay (or equivalent as silage) per 100 lbs. bodyweight. That would be 18 to 20 lbs. per head daily.

This is often complicated when forages are low in fiber content or have been chopped too finely or are low in quality. In such cases it may be necessary to offer good quality baled hay for 7 to 10 days before the butterfat tests will return to normal.

The main trouble with our blessings in disguise is that they're so slow unmasking.

Behind the Counter Skin Disorders

An American drug company recently conducted a survey to see how much we spend on six common skin disorders: acne, dermatitis, eczema, fungal diseases (such as athlete's foot), psoriasis and warts. The study included only prescription drugs, but the annual total was over 100 million dollars.

In addition, millions more are spent on other skin disorders, such as hives and impetigo, and on over-the-counter lotions and remedies, such as zinc oxide and calamine. Despite the wonder drugs and new treatments, skin disorders are still a major medical problem.

Dermatologists have some helpful advice for those suffering from such disorders:

1) If a rash or sore continues after the suspected cause has been removed, or if any growth bleeds, becomes sore, increases in size, or changes its color or appearance—seek medical help. Applying home remedies may only mask the true condition, or convert a simple problem into a chronic one.

2) Avoid scratching as much as possible, since this speeds up inflammation. Calamine lotion is better than a back scratcher.

3) To avoid a rash spreading or re-occurring, discard or disinfect anything that has come in contact with the affected area.

4) Never borrow another person's medication. Both your condition and your reaction to the drug may be different.

5) If you have a dry skin itch, you may be taking too many baths. Cut them down to one a week, plus daily sponge baths.

Launch OEO nurses aide training program

Fifteen mothers and young women are participating in a nurses aide training program being conducted at Hills and Dales Hospital.

The program, which started Monday, Aug. 18, and which had been delayed for lack of a training instructor, is under the auspices of the Office of Economic Opportunity with headquarters in Caro.

The majority of the nurses aides-to-be are from Tuscola County with the remaining from Sanilac, Huron and Lapeer Counties. The 15 trainees receive a living allowance of $1.40 per hour during the 40-hour per week, six-week training period and are expected to receive wages of between $1.70 and $2.40 per hour when they enter hospital jobs.

OEO Deputy Director Matt Zechmeister reported that contact with the four-county hospitals indicated virtually all of the trainees would have jobs waiting for them upon completion of the course. Most of the mothers had previously been ADC recipients.

The cost of the program is funded largely by federal funds of $19,998 plus a donation of $4,000 by Hills and Dales Hospital. Numerous agencies, Zechmeister reported, have helped develop the program. The donation is not money, but the value of the use of the facility and supplies.

The course teaches basic nursing skills such as caring for patients, bathing, bed-making, etc. The instructor, Mrs. Ann Larner, R. N., of Caro, is teaching the six weeks' course which uses two guideline workbooks of the National League of Nurses Association. She has previously served as a nurse for Head Start programs.

FORWARD MARCH

The past is a part of life, but it's the todays and tomorrows that really count.

Advertise in The Chronicle.

A NEW, LARGER BETTER EQUIPPED TUCKEY BLOCK

We have now completed the installation of our new ultra-modern equipment to assure customers of precise gravel and mix needs. We invite you to inspect our new automated facilities.

Humus and organic matters are completely washed from the material leaving only high quality aggregate within a specific "screen range".

Roy Tuckey, partner of Tuckey Block Company, shows the "push button" control center for proportions of aggregate gravels which are combined for a specific combination.

A nopper red conveyor supplements the "input" load that the pumper pumps from the water filled gravel pit to the gravel separator and washers.

Roy Tuckey adjusts one of the "separator" phases of their ultra modern new equipment, which separates aggregates of different sizes.

Smugglers even use bed pans

By Dan Marlowe

Not all the money required to run this country comes from the taxpayers' pockets.

The Bureau of Customs of the Treasury Department announced recently that for the fiscal year 1969 customs collections totaled more than $3.25 billion, an increase of 12% over the previous year.

The ten collection districts, with each district designated by its headquarters port and showing the New York Seaport and the New York Kennedy International airport separately, having the largest total customs collections, were as follows in order of total collections: New York Seaport, Los Angeles, Detroit, New York Airport, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, Boston, and Baltimore.

Detroit, despite an increase of $17 million in its collection over the previous year, fell from second to third in the listing because percentage-wise Los Angeles increased even more. The New York Seaport and New York Airport between them collected well over a billion dollars.

With that kind of money available to be tapped at ports of entry, it's not surprising that people make efforts to avoid declaring items on which customs are to be collected. The news release of the Treasury Department notes some novel smuggling devices used by misguided souls endeavoring to hold out on Uncle Sam.

A Treasury Customs Inspector at Miami, Florida, was recently inspecting the baggage of a family of four from Colombia. They had secreted 18 forbidden fresh mangoes inside a pair of tennis shoes, a pair of loafers, in boxes of steel wool, and inside a bed pillow. A five-pound ham was discovered inside a water pitcher, and another in a bedpan. To make the day complete, a pound of grapes was found sewn inside a jacket pocket.

These were merely health hazards, of course. Of punitive interest to Treasury officials was the shipment of two camel saddles which were found to contain 8.8 pounds of hashish. The saddles were delivered and the recipient arrested after she accepted delivery in New York.

Six recent seizures of 67 pounds of hashish arriving via the United States mails points up the increased use of this method of attempted smuggling. Customs mail examiners found several pounds of the drug in the hollowed-out portion of a book. Another lot was found hidden in the soles of shoes. Four of the eight persons eventually arrested were under 25.

A Public Health Inspector at a U. S.-Mexican border point referred two cars to Treasury Customs officials for secondary inspection. The two cars arrived at the checkpoint within 15 minutes of each other, and together were found to be carrying a total of 528 pounds of marijuana.

Which goes to show that you can't beat the system but a lot of people are getting broken up trying it.
