SOLDIERS AND FAMILIES of soldiers who have returned from Viet Nam have special reason to celebrate at Thanksgiving, Typical of those observing the holiday with special emphasis this year is Marine Cpl. Jim Crane. He spent 13 months in Vietnam, returning home in September. Now at Camp Lejeune, N. C., he has 22 months yet to serve. But he will be home on a 96-hour pass to spend the holidays with his wife, the former Debbie Chapman, and his parents.

How to keep him down on the farm: raise pigs

Because the Kenneth Jicklings, Kingston area farmers, have been unusually successful pig farmers, their son Tom, has a problem.

Tom, 16, likes just about everything about farming the way it's done in his family and his dad is ready, willing and able to take him into the family business after he completes his education. The problem is that he's not quite sure that he wants says, things have never looked to devote his life to raising better and it appears that the pigs, although he is leaning long-term prospects are bright. in that direction.

Probably, the Marlette High School Junior will take some agricultural related college courses after graduation before coming to a final decision, What young Tom and all the Jicklings are thinking about is the long-range prospects in the business.

Right now, Kenneth Jickling herd.

Over the 29 years the family has been raising pigs, they have acquired a reputation in the business...and the reputation is Jicklings quit dairy farming about a decade ago and now the pigs are tied in the stalls where the cows once were. This way, the Jicklings say, they can watch them closely and give individual attention to each animal. We can vary the feed for the needs of each and in addition care for the herd quicker than we could if they were running loose, they claim.

The Jicklings watch market trends about as closely as they do the herd. Yorkshires have been the basic breed at the farm, but when statistics started to reveal that Duroes and Hampshires were gaining in popularity they were quickly added.

Besides, crossbreds are often better than purebreds as the best from each breed comes out, Jickling noted, as he pointed out a crossbred in one of the stalls.

It takes about two hours for Tom and his dad to do the daily chores for the estimated 900-pig herd. In addition all day Saturday is devoted to work on the farm.

Although Tom says he doesn't mind the work, what he really looks forward to is show time. He likes the excitement of the competition and the money he earns. This year he has salted away $1,200 in prize money, The most recent victory came when he exhibited the Reserve Grand Champion Market Barrow at the Detroit Junior Livestock and Horse Show. Over the years the Jicklings have won most of the top prizes. Tom is following in the foot-

At last we can agree. There must be something wrong with me. There must be because I haven't bought a snowmobile...don't even have the

About the first snowmobile I can remember seeing was during that terrific snowstorm in January of 1967. Handy little gadgets in an emergency, but nothing anybody would want during a normal winter.

Just a fad, I said, in the winter of 1968 when snowmobiles started multiplying like rabbits...wait until next year. But when next year came and just about everyone had one (at least) I started to waver.

The snowmobile kept going and we didn't.

While I'm not thinking about buying a machine, I have been giving careful consideration to buying a book about them.

It's more important to be able to talk about them than it is to ride them.

If I know what a 229 cc is all about...what difference a wide track makes...what brands are the "hot" ones...how you can tell a "family" sled..., what it's like to run on grass...details about the best area trails...a couple of stories about close calls with a tree, fence or car...I'll have it made.

I'll have it made because in the snowmobile set every hour spent on the trail means two hours getting ready and another two hours talking about it after you get back.

So if you can talk the lingo you can have a very enjoyable afternoon and evening while coming no closer to an unpleasant chill than the ice in your glass.

Merchants kick off Christmas season

Cass City merchants are kicking off the Christmas season with their annual pre-Christmas sale Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Under the direction of Retail President James Hatch, retailers have again gone all out to make shopping enjoyable and profitable in the village.

Besides the sale, details of a free prize drawing were announced. A total of $150 in cash prizes will be distributed weekly in each of 3 drawings.

Tickets are available from all participating merchants. In addition, four free movies for children 12 and under will be presented. The first is "Gentle Giant" and is slated for Saturday at 2 p.m.

As always, Santa will be visiting with candy and treats for all the kids, sponsored by the entire Chamber of Commerce.

Merchants also announced evening opening hours. Most Cass City stores will be open Friday and Saturday evenings, Dec. 5-6, and every night until Christmas eve beginning Friday, Dec. 12.

Mary Ann Martin

Mary Ann was pinned in the car and was pronounced dead on arrival at Hubbard Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe.

A passenger in the car, Diane Lynn Romage, 16, of Owendale suffered cuts and bruises. She was treated and released at Hubbard Hospital.

Miss Romage knocked at the door of the Szychulski residence at 3:45 a.m. to seek help. The couple are without a phone and did not answer the door. The girl walked part way and was then given a ride by a neighbor to her home, two and a half miles away. A member of the Romage family called the police at about 4:30 a.m. Police said that the two girls were spending the night together in the Britt house in Grant Township and left without the knowledge of her mother or step-father for a drive in the family car.

Mary Ann was a sophomore at Cass City High School.

Surviving besides her mother and step-father are two stepbrothers, William Britt of Owendale and Douglas Britt of Cass City. Her father, Eli T. Martin, died in 1964. Mary Ann was born in Cass City Dec. 24, 1953.

Funeral services will be held St. Columbkille Catholic Church Wednesday at 10 a.m. The Rev. Edward R. Werm will officiate and burial will be in St. Columbkille Cemetery in Sheridan township.

LITTLE ACCIDENT

Also killed in an auto crash was Douglas G. Little, 17, of Caro who was a passenger in a car driven by June Gettel, 17, of Caro.

According to the report of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department, Miss Gettel lost control of the car she was driving on Colling Road, near Deckerville Road at about cations for admission are coming in strong, and so far 40 new freshmen and 60 new transfer students have been admitted out of a total number of applications to date of 176.

The drop in enrollment is normal, Mrs. Dickey said. It from graduation of results students finishing their college work, students leaving school for academic reasons, and because some classes that attracted a certain interest are not offered again. She said 34 persons are due to graduate at the conclusion of this semester.

SVC's fall semester ends December 17, with final examinations coming from December 18 to December 20. No classes will be held at the college from December 21 on; however, the administrative offices will be open for business.

SVC led all of Michigan's state four-year colleges this year in the percentage of increase for first time in college freshmen, according to a preliminary report of the Michigan Department of Education, Bureau of Higher Education.

SVC's percentage increase over 1968, based on September enrollment, was 76.3 percent. The next highest was Lake Superior State College with 36.4 percent. The highest percentage gain in headcount, the total of all students enrolled, was made by the University of Michigan's Flint Branch at 85.5 percent. SVC was next with 61 percent.

Recruitment of new faculty for the 1970-71 college year has begun at Saginaw Valley College. About 20 new faculty members will be hired to handle the anticipated enrollment increase. SVC expects to have 1,800 and 2,000 students on campus next September. Last September 1,317 students were enrolled.

The increase will cause problems in parking and classroom space, and rooms in the Project 67 and 68 buildings that are vacant this year because of the move into the new buildings, will be put back in service. Wickes Hall, the new academic building, has a capacity of 1,500 students. SVC is asking the State for a second academic building, but even if approval is given this fiscal year, the new building won't be ready before 1972. Space is a continuing problem for

One of the more universal of the heart attack risk factors in America is obesity.

Nothing in this well-fed United States today seems to be quite so common as being more or less overweight-rich and poor, men and women, employed and unemployed, even children.

As a coronary risk factor -this being a habit or medical condition associated with an increased risk of heart attack the newest studies have shown that obesity is not so important as cigarette smoking, lack of exercise, high blood pressure and high cholesterol blood level. It is not nearly as important as your sex; men get at least six times as many heart attacks as women.

Obesity, however, has its own serious health hazards. In itself it increases an individual's risk of diabetes, high blood pressure and gallbladder, kidney and liver diseases, says the Michigan Heart Assoof obesity have become complex. Letter to Editor

Blasts editor for tax stand

In answer to your editorial in 'Editor's Corner' the first week in Nov, we are surprised that an editor of a newspaper is so poorly educated in the responsibilities of a citizen.

Since when must a private citizen or group of citizens a solution to the dilemma of excessive taxation before he dares complain? What solution can there be to eliminate waste, extravagance and corruption? Do you really believe the "massive vote of the wants to continue insane spending? this Time after time citizens have turned down bond issues only to have their vote ignored and spending accelerated. Concrete suggestions may indeed be plentiful but we have elected our legislators to provide these solutions. It is unlikely that they will accept answers that come from private citizens. Our legislators certainly appear to know the problems and have the solution during the campaign season. Once elected most of our representatives no longer seem interested in representing any but their personal interests. The higher the salaries the more self seeking the persons campaigning for the job. Statesman and patriots do not thrive in this atmosphere. A correction to the recent editorial regarding 'Voice of the People.' Dr. John Karpovich steps of his older sisters. When he first started showing locally, he could count on the stiffest competition from his sisters, Janet, 21, and Kathy, 19.

Tom's long show experience has helped him in other competition as well. He was a member of the State 4-H Judging team that competed at Chicago this year.

But none of this has moved him any closer to a definite career decision. That decision is a few years away. But judging by the satisfaction father and son exhibit when they talk about their business, it is likely that there will be Jicklings in the pig business for many decades to come.

Mr Shuford Kirk, Chairman Pro-Tem & Members of the Tuscola County

Board of Supervisors

Caro, Michigan

Gentlemen:
It is with regret that I resign from the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors to become effective December 31, 1969. I have previously expressed my reasons for this decision to all of you and I do not wish to make those reasons a "matter of record" except that they concern my personal affairs. The association with you men has been most cordial and rewarding to me, and for this I am very grateful.

Your cooperation has been - is - and always will be deeply appreciated.

Sincerely, Harold E. Johnson

Moved by Kirk supported by Loomis the resignation be accepted with regrets and placed on record. Motion carried.

School is your child's business between the ages of five and 18 or 22 or so. And that business requires support. He needs your positive attitude about school. Help him realize that school really is important. Accept the fact that he can be discouraged and try to explain the reasons for things happening the way they do. Let him know you're really interested in what he's doing. Take time to listen if he wants to tell you about school. And be proud of the work he brings home to you--he certainly is! You can show how much you like the things he does by displaying them where everybodyeven guests-can see.

That's not all you can do. Make a classroom visit. He might act embarrassed, but he'll be really proud that you came to see him at work. And attend parent-teacher club meetings and special conferences--they're excellent opportunities to visit with his teacher.

Ask the teacher for ideas for educational activities at home. If your child is exceptional -a very fast or slow learner -make a special effort to get and use her suggestions.

Remember that all children can learn from books, music and art at home. Special trips to museums and zoos are easy for you to get enthused about, So let your enthusiasm help your child's love of learning blossom and grow.

And continue to support his educational ventures as he learns throughout life.

Mrs. Frederick M. Shook

Queen of Angels Retreat Chapel was the setting for the Saturday noon wedding Nov. 22 of Miss Ramona J. Maytoreno and Frederick Michael Shook. She was given away by a close friend, Ronald Keegan of Cass City. The Rev. Ephrem Hertel O.F.M. officiated for the daughter of Mrs. Zora Day of Detroit, and the son of Mrs. John Shook of Saginaw and the late John Shook. Carrying a bouquet of white carnations centered with yellow roses, the bride approached the altar attired in an Empire style peau de soie gown with standaway collar and illuminated with acetate and nylon appliques, sequin dotted. She wore a matching veil of acetate and nylon petals centered with rosettes. Miss Emily Prieur of Saginaw was maid of honor in an Empire style gown with cotton lace trimmed rayon velvet bodice of emerald green and rayon georgette skirt of mint green. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of champagne colored carnations.

Best man was Robert Nemeth of Saginaw. Ushers were Thomas Paccione and Tracy Lee, both of Saginaw.

After a reception for 200 guests in St. Anthony's Parish Hall, the newlyweds left for a Northern Michigan honeymoon, They will reside at 1905 Barnard, Saginaw.

Polley's parochiaid stand key to school head ouster

MOTIVES MADE CLEARER

When Ira Polley was forced to resign as state superintendent of public instruction this fall, he said he had been forced out by a "parochiaid bloc" on the board.

While most observers close to the scene agreed with Polley's analysis of the situation, there was really no one thing they could put their finger on to demonstrate this to the Then someone decided to check to see where the five board members who forced Polley out send their own children to school.

It turned out four of them send all of their school age children to parochial schools. The fifth, James O'Neil, sent one of his children to a parochiai school for one year but the student didn't like it and went back to public school,

The five board members maintained their denial that their close ties to parochial schools affected their actions on the board.

"Having children in parochial schools does not affect the decisions I make on the state board," said board member Edwin Novak of Flint.

But the disclosure opened up a new round of criticism of the beleaguered board, which can't seem to keep itself out of the public eye.

The Executive Secretary of the Michigan Education Assoclation, Terry Herndon, said, 'We MEA leaders have long believed that a large measure of Dr. Polley's difficulty resulted from the fact that he would not support the diversion of public monies into private school

One of the board's creators, State Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, was more outspoken. He said "it figured" that the board members had their children in parochial schools.

"We created the board never realizing its occupants would be so provincial and narrow in their outlooks," he said.

Faxon said "it was obvious" the four with children in parochial schools supported paro-

Michigan, traditionally known as the "Motor State," may be picking up a second title soon--Snowmobile State."

Figures compiled by Secretary of State James Hare's office show Michigan leads the nation in snowmobile ownership with a total of nearly 100,000 of the vehicles in the state.

Hare said more than 70,000 of the vehicles are registered with his office already and he is experiencing the initial part of what he feels will be a deluge this winter of regis-

As additional proof of the motorized sleds' growing popularity, he says there were more than 100 organized snowmobile safaris in Michigan last year and more than 100 snowmobile races.

REVENUES RISE

One result of the ever increasing number of miles traveled by motorists in Michigan every year is a rise in the amount of gasoline taxes and license plate fees collected by the state.

During the last fiscal year Michigan's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund pulled in a record $374.2 million from these two sources of revenue.

The gas produced $254.6 million during fiscal 1969, up 15.9 per cent from the previous fiscal year. At the same time the license plate fees totaled $114.5 million, a rise of 33,7 per cent.

After all other revenues and expenses were considered a total of $357.4 million was available for distribution to the state, counties and municipalities. The Highway Department received $164.4 million, a rise of 17.7 per cent. The counties shared a total $121.5 million, an increase of 17.2 per cent, and cities and villages shared $71.4 million, up 25.5 per cent.

SHOW OF HANDS REVEALS JOB INJURIES

If your hands could think for themselves they would turn "thumbs down" on many of the assignments you give them each day on the job. The Bureau of Safety and Regulation, Michigan Depart-ment of Labor, points out that over 20 persons suffer com-pensable hand injuries on the job each day in the state and that a quick show of hands of working people would reveal hundreds of additional minor cuts and abrasions.

It is estimated that as high as 80 per cent of the hand injuries are caused by "pinch points," where fingers or hands are pinched in or between objects. However, most of these types of accidents can be avoided if safety precautions are taken, the Bureau says.

Specialists in the Safety Education and Training Division advise that approved work gloves should be worn when handling materials and in other operations where the hands are directly involved with the job. In addition, sharp edges, splinters and protruding nails should be removed from objects before handling them.

Guards and special hand tools designed for use by machine operators are provided by most employers and should be used, the Bureau states.

Other occasions for pinch point accidents are for med when attempts are made to move large objects through narrow doorways and while setting down heavy loads which are carried by hand.

In general, each work sit-uation should be surveyed for possible hazards before applying your hands to the task, the safety specialists point out.

tall, and on March 1st she weighed 220 pounds. She wore a size 24 1/2 dress. On October 1st she weighed 148, and her dress size was 14. She is now in the process of losing 13 more pounds at which point she intends to stabilize.

How did she lose the weight? As always, diet and exercise, fortified by willpower, but principally diet. And there is a difference about Mrs. Richard's

Her weight chart states the following: "The ketogenic diet provides a certain amount of fat and carbohydrate with each meal, but not enough carbohydrates to burn up the fat completely. When fats don't burn up, there are KETONE BODIES which form in the bloodstream which will keep you from becoming hungry and will cause you to lose weight consistently. They prevent muscle tissue from burning up along with the fat, a situation which occurs with a calorie or starvation diet. The ketogenic diet won't you feeling weak and rundown. The dictionary defines ketone hydroxybutyric bodies as "any of three compounds, acetoacetic acid, betacid, acetone. The remarkable thing about the diet is its few prohibitions. There is a two-cup limit on coffee or tea daily, and apples and bananas are forbidden altogether. Otherwise the housewife can eat what her family eats (cutting down on portions) with the exception that fresh fruit is a must each day. She can have any kind of meat any kind of way, a blessing when meals away from home must be taken into consideration.

The diet is entered upon only after a medical examination, and vitamins, iron, an appetite depressant and a diuretic pill are taken daily, Mrs. Richards cautions that it's not the medication which takes the weight off, however; it's you and your perseverance in sticking to the

Thanksgiving was on the mind

Dear Mister Editor:

Saturday to a week. Ed Doolittle set the mood fer the meeting when he spoke kind of the country. Ed had recent saw a breakdown on this country of 200 million, and he said he noticed they is a couple million more wimmen than men, so it's a wonder we git along as good as we do.

Serious, Ed said this piece reported we got 19 million over 65 year old, we got 11 million widers and widerers, we got 120 million old enuff to vote, six million in college and nine million that was born in another country. Ed said he could go on, but he was saying that ever one of them groups have a different set of problems, and it was a impossible job fer any Guvernment to satisfy all of 'em.

Clem Webster was agreed with Ed that when you look at the mixture of people and problems we got, we don't do all bad. Fer instant, said Clem, right now a heap of countries is split wide open fer one reason or another. There's Korea, Vitnam, Germany and the big bust up in Ireland, fer a few, and they is sensible people in all them places. Clem allowed. We live in a divided world that has a hard time seeing eye to eye on anything, Clem said, and the United States is more united than a heap of Zeke Grubb said he gits fired of hearing about how Americans is a violent people. You git the idee we are pritty peaceful when you think of Hitler, Stalin, Hindoos and Moslems, Arabs and Jews, Congolese and Biafrans.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

They ain't no counting the millions of people done away with violent in other places, was Zeke's words. Bug Hookum wasn't much fer giving thanks by pointing out troubles of other folks, but he allowed he was grateful that people in this country still care enuff about her to try to help with some of the problems. Some time back, said Bug, two wimmen was denied U. S. cit-serve on jury or take any part in Guvernment. Bug said he reckon that was reason to turn the wimmen down, but a heap of people in this country ought to be thankful they was born here and ain't got to prove in court they qualiizenship cause they said their religion wouldn't let them vote, fy as citizens. Personal, Mister Editor, I figger everbody in this country has plenty to be thankful fer, except old Tom Turkey.

Trees are beautiful when think how those trees got there covered with snow but does a in the first place? Someone planted them unless mother nature did the job with the help of birds and other wildlife.

> Maynard McConkey, a director of the Tuscola Soil Conservation District, shares the feeling of all true conservationists that we need many more trees planted. He also says that it is never too early to start thinking about the trees you plan to plant next spring, Planting time is coming and the supply of seedlings is short. Trees serve many purposes other than being snow-covered beauties. They reduce wind erosion, and water runoff, provide lumber, utilize land too poor for other crops, and make homes for many forms of wildlife. And let's not forget the joy of just wandering through the woods," McConkey

The Tuscola Soil Conservation District will have trees available for planting in the spring of 1970 as they have many years. Species available will be white pine, red pine, Austrian pine, Scotch pine, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, and Autumn Olive. Shrubs beneficial to wildlife will also be sold in packets, he explained.

Technical advice on the best species to plant on your land can be obtained from technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, assisting the District, by stopping at 852 S. Hooper, Caro, Michigan. Order blanks can also be obtained there, Mc-Conkey concluded.

Ultrasound is the name of sound you can't hear. It vibrates at speeds above the range of human hearing -- 20,000 cycles per second and up. Ultra-sound can be applied in the form of ultrasonic energy. When this energy is transmitted through a cleaning fluid, it produces an effect called "cavitation," and tiny bubbles form and collapse with great rapidity on the surface of any object that is placed in the fluid. This creates a powerful abrasive action like brushes. Ultrasonic scouring

Now hear this: sound scrubs away dirt

There are some people that move such notoriously stubborn stains as lipstick on drinking have a thing against dirt. Many glasses. It removes deeplyhousewives spend a good deal of their day removing dirt from lodged soil from surfaces and crevices that appear to the household objects. Maybe more naked eye to be clean.

Ultrasound is being used by many hospitals today for clean-ing surgical instruments. These instruments can't be lubricated. The oil might trap bacteria and not be penetrated by steam when the instrument is sterilized. But fine instruments, if they are kept clean, almost never need lubrication. It's only when accumulated tissue, blood, or other foreign matter interfere with the action of joints and hinges that these fine instruments fail to work. Ultra-sound cleaning digs down to the bare metal and leaves the instrument ready for sterilization in the

One of the big problems with modern building maintenance are the fluorescent light fixtures and the grills which diffuse the light. Ordinarily it's very difficult to clean these but ultrasound penetrates every nook and corner of them scouring the fixture clean in very short order. The time-cost is five to twenty seconds compared with fifteen to twenty minutes.

Because of ultrasound's remarkable ability to dislodge stubbornly caked soil, it is used in breweries and soft drink bottling plants where crystalized sugars, proteins, carbohydrates, and other hard deposits build up in the pipes. Thus they can be cleaned right in their working position, or the entire sub-assemblies can be immersed in an ultrasonic cleaning tank for two to three minutes, rinsed with hot water. They emerge sparkling.

Jewelers have been using ultrasonic cleaning with some enthusiasm since they found it could remove residues of jewelers rouge. Jewelers rouge is a highly effective metal polish but it can leave hard-to-remove reddish stains. Ultrasound blasts them away. Ultrasonic cleaning tanks accept rings and and gems, remove the dirt from their hard-to-reach crevices and send them forth glitteringly

It won't be long until most homes will have ultrasonic cleaning aides. Tomorrow's housewife will be removing rust and corrosion, putting metal bright in short order, and eliminating dust from seashells, metal work, china figurines and potato peelers the sound way. We can expect ultrasonic kitchen sinks in which to clean utensils such as badly discolored pot and pans, especially those to which burned food has stuck and that otherwise would have to be tediously scoured with steel wool.

It won't be long before there will be an ultrasonic machine for floor care that will do a better job of cleaning linoleum and carpets. Ultrasound will be applied to the rotor blades of an electric shaver and ultrasonic toothbrushes may soon have sound waves removing the drudgery of live and denture tooth brushing. Even an ultrasonic carving knife could be made with a single more effective blade instead of two as the present electric knives have. The possibilities appear endless, and we can depend upon an unlimited supply of the raw material for the ultrasonic waves to work on!

VOLUME 63, NUMBER 32

Fathers have duties

BY JIM FITZGERALD

There are certain things a father should do for his kids. My wife savs so.

It doesn't matter if the kids are brats. It doesn't matter if Old Dad Twitches and foams at the mere sound of such revolting slogans as "The family that ticks together, sticks together." This is a nation where the validity; of a family relationship can be measured by how many times Dad takes Junior fishing.

So there I was at a church supper. On Saturday night! As I make this news public, I have the feeling that the south wall of the Alibi Bar just crumbled.

To start with, I ate too much. I always eat too much at these suppers. I take a selfish helping from every bowl passed for fear the bowl will never be back, Suddenly my plate is eye-high with more food than my wife melts in 3 days. And leat every bite because, after supper, there's liable to be a missionary movie about starving kids in

But there was no movie this Saturday. Instead the crowd moved into a room usually used for nursery school, Fathers with cigars grabbed seats next to the sandbox. We were gathered there to see a skit and hear songs and speeches, Just as I was asking myself what in the Good Lord's name I was doing ? blocks away from my Alka Seltzer, I overheard something

"Hey," I whispered to my wife, "that young man just said this is a Senior Youth Fellowship supper. Our oldest daughter long ago graduated from this group and the other 2 kids are too young for it. So why are we here, anyway?"

"Chrissie is playing the guitar, that's why," my wife answered.

This is a sure-pop method church. Just get his kids on the program, doing anything, it doesn't matter what. If the bum still refuses to attend, his wife is justified in turning his name in to the Readers Digest and having him arrested for un-Americanism. I've eaten 6 1.m. breakfasts in church simply because my daughter was in the kitchen, dripping oatmeal in the scrambled eggs.

Chrissie is our Anyway, hippie - haired 13-year-old who'd rather be called Chris. And sure enough, there she was on stage with her best friend, Kathy, both of them strumming away while everyone sang. It didn't sound like everyone was singing the same song, but that was probably the guitar players' fault. Chrissie missed a lot of lessons.

Tips for buying

"What type of automatic washer and dryer do I need?" is a question that crosses the mind of almost every home-maker. Your own laundry hamper holds the answers. The kind of appliances you need depends on the type of laundering you do and the size and age-grouping of your

Here are a few of the important keys to waltzing through your washer decision:

How many cycles? This depends on the types of fabrics you wash frequently. If you do permanent press and synthet-ics, insist on at least three cycles: regular, gentle and permanent press.

One or more speeds? If you do more than three loads a week, if you have a variety of fabrics, multi-speeds are needed. This can let you do all your laundry automatically — no more handwashing. Variable water levels? Permit matching the quantity of water to the size and type of load. Good if you do less than full Water-temperature control? You get hot water for dirty clothes, plus warm or cold wash and rinse temperature for synthetics and delicate Special soaking feature? By all means if there's a baby in the family. A soak or pre-soak setting for diapers and heavily soiled garments works won-

You'll find similar variations in automatic dryers. Among your choices will be:

Permanent-press cycle? Yes, b.cause it means automatic no-iron performance of permanent-press items and eliminates ironing from much wash-and-wear and even some regular fabrics. Electronic dryness control?

Give a home-bound family a refreshing outdoor "feeling" on cold or inclement days.

The success of a patio's several "inside" jobs depends on the proper selection of windows and doors. As entries, gliding doors are attractive and practical. Their uninterrupted glass area gives an extensive outdoor view, and their easy operation allows convenient patio

In wood gliding doors, insulating glass units made from tempered glass provide a bonus of safety, suggests the Andersen Corporation, manufacturer of windows.

Gliding doors are also available with heat- and glare-reducing glass.

Painting chores can be avoided by choosing gliding doors with rigid vinyl sheathing over a preservativetreated wood core that does not require painting and will not pit, rust or corrode.

Welded insulating glass is standard with such units. Maintenance-free vinyl sheathing is also available with casement and awning. windows, both of which are frequently used for patio enclosures. They give a good view, and allow maximum ventilation.

Recent lists of most-wanted home improvements are showing something new. Now, homemakers yearn for a central vacuum cleaning system.

For such a system, the motor and cannister holding a multi-gallon disposable dust bag are installed in a convenient location outside the living room — usually basement, garage or attic. Pipe leads to room outlets that look like electric outlets.

To vacuum, the homemaker inserts a hose that flicks a switch.

Among the advantages claimed for built-in vacuum cleaning systems are: 1. Since motor and dust bag are never brought into living area, there's no recirculation of dust. 2. The motor is a heavyduty one and therefore does a better job of removing dirt. 3. There's no tank to drag around. 4. There's an almost total absence of noise. Central vacuum systems may be installed in existing homes or those under construction.
