

Hatchets bust Hawk winning skein at 3

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Cass City's three-game victory skein came to an abrupt halt Tuesday night as potent Bad Axe used a fast break and a tight defense to roll over the Hawks at Cass City High School, 79-62.

Actually the score was not as close as it looked. After a close first quarter in which Cass City and Bad Axe battled on near even terms, the roof fell in on the local quintet.

Starting the second eight minutes, the Red Hawks were in front 39-23. Trailing by 16 points the Hawks were forced into a full court press in the last half and race horse basketball, and the Hatchets like to run.

They quickly turned the game into a rout. At the end of the third period the score was 68-39 and Coach Dale Otto turned to his bench. The second and third stringers played all but a minute of the final quarter.

Cass City was hampered by the loss of Rob Alexander for all but about two minutes of the game.

He pulled a muscle in his leg and was unable to play after the opening moments except for about 30 seconds at the start of the second half.

Alexander's loss was especially noticeable in the rebounding department.

Joe Hillaker led Cass City's offense with 22 points, Tony Davis chipped in 13. The Hatchets' one, two punch led the visitors. Bublitz had 23 points and Schinnerer, 21.

Friday the Hawks must be rated at least an even chance of registering victory number four in five starts when they play at Sandusky.

It will be the last game before the holidays. When they return to the cage wars, in January, it will be against the Lakers. Cass City will be the underdogs.

JV GAME

The Bad Axe JV squad made it a clean sweep over Cass City with a 65-44 score. The Hatchets used superior height to control the backboards and the game in the preliminary.

VASSAR GAME

Cass City rolled to its third victory in a row and its second in the Thumb B Conference Friday with an easy decision over the Vassar Vulcans, 79-40.

The Hawks scored early and often against the visiting Vulcans and the issue was settled early as the team combined good shooting with the same tight defense it displayed in the opening victories.

Before the season started Coach Fred Hurlburt said that he never had a team that shot less than 40 per cent from the field.

In the opening two games the squad average was under this mark, but Friday's effort helped shove the percentage up. Cass City hit 48.3 per cent of its shots from the field and 64.5 per cent from the charity circle. Vassar hit a woeful 24.2 per cent.

Much of the improvement can be traced to the high percentage shots that the team is taking.

The Hawks scored consistently throughout the game.

For the first time this season, Hurlburt made a change in the starting line-up. Scott Guernsey was at a forward post and responded with 11 points.

He replaced Richard "Zike" Miller, who came into the game and promptly hit on several quick buckets and canned four of five for the night for an 80 per cent average and 8 points.

The performance of both boys gives the coach a pleasant problem of deciding the starter on any given night.

Joe Hillaker led the Hawks to victory with 23 points on six of 13 from the field and 11 of 17 foul shots. He also picked off 22 rebounds.

Hurlburt was able to play all 10 men on his team and all contributed to the victory.

The crowd cheered the efforts of the bench warmers who came in during both halves and played well enough to add to the Hawk lead. Dale Ashmore, one of the reserve crew, scored eight points although seeing limited action.

Robbie Alexander was second to Hillaker in scoring with 14 points and second in rebounding with six.

Cass City was ahead 18-13 at the end of the quarter and 39-26 at the intermission. While the Cass City scoring remained constant, the defense improved as the game progressed. Vassar was able to garner just five points in the third quarter and nine in the final period.

Midway through the third period the outcome was no longer in question.

The Junior Varsity posted a big margin in the first half and then held on for a 55-46 victory as the Vulcans rallied to make the game interesting.

Fred Harbec showed the way with 16 points and 22 rebounds. Craig Guernsey had 14.

Gridders feted at banquet

Gridders at Cass City High School were feted Wednesday, Dec. 10, at the first annual football banquet held at Cass

City High School. The banquet featured the introduction of the various teams by the coaches. Bob Watson and Fred Hurlburt introduced the junior varsity and Tom Spencer, the varsity.

Junior high tips Bad Axe twice

Cass City's junior varsity and varsity should take a tip from the seventh and eighth grade teams.

While the major teams were losing two games Tuesday night to the Hatchets the embryo Hawks were winning two games in the afternoon from the same school.

The eighth grade team won a resounding 60-37 decision. Coach John Mattson said the Hawks played an aggressive defensive game.

Scott Hartel notched 22 points to lead Cass City. Dave Hillaker added 12 and Tom Melendorf, eight. Mark McClorey hit 12 points. Other scorers were: Randy Kelley, 2, and Mike Fredericks, 4. Vincent netted 17 for the Hatchets.

Cass City broke open a close game in the second half in the seventh grade contest to notch a 49-22 decision.

Leading by three points at the intermission, Cass City posted a 20-2 third quarter margin to clinch the victory.

Ten Hawks broke into the scoring column for Cass City. The Hawks were led by Don Karr with 12 points. Other scorers were: David Eberline, 8; Jerry Toner, 8; Joe Zawilinski, 5; Rick Damm, 4; Kim Hill, 4, and John Ballard, Bill Bader, Ben Hennessey and Ed Stoutenburg, 2 each.

In games played Tuesday, Dec. 9, the Cass City eighth graders split a doubleheader with the Lakers.

The "A" team lost 50-41 and the "B" team won, 41-23. Hartel netted 13 and Hillaker, 9, for Cass City.

Leppien, an outstanding cage prospect for the Lakers, led all scorers with 34 points.

The "B" team led all the way. David Brooks scored 16 to lead the way. Don Galbraith added 9.

City High School. Seniors were given special mention as Spencer recalled their efforts in behalf of the team and noted their progress over the year.

"Even though our won-lost record failed to show it," Spencer added, "we were a much improved team by the end of the year."

Spencer also said that the hustle and desire of the team was excellent.

He then briefly outlined plans for next fall's workouts and plans for the season.

The coaches revealed that members of the Freshmen squad will receive numerals this year and in the future.

Featured speaker was Coach Jack Finn of Northwood Institute. Finn told the boys what it takes to be a winner, stressing pride in yourself, desire and never giving up.

The meal was a potluck affair furnished by the parents of the players and the cheer leaders.

Similar banquets are planned for other athletic teams as well as an all-sports banquet.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H.M. Bulen

Here's a football quiz for you... See if you can identify these men... Who was (A) "The Gray Ghost of Gonzaga"... (B) "Old 98"... (C) "Slingshot" Sammy"... and, (D) "Jarrin" John"... Here are the answers: (A) Tony Canadeo, (B) Tom Harmon, (C) Sammy Baugh, (D) John Kimbrough.

Although many people didn't notice it, did you know that one of the most fantastic comebacks in football history occurred in a game this season... Villanova was playing Delaware Sept. 27, and Delaware was leading 33-7 with just 10 minutes to go... Villanova not only scored 29 points in the last 10 minutes; to win 36-33, but had two other touchdowns called back in that time!... That was really a be-Heve-it-or-not game.

Here's an oddity from pro football... Junior Coffey, oddly enough, gained the identical total of exactly 722 yards for the year in each the 1966 and 1967 season... In 1966 he carried the ball 199 times, and in 1967 he carried it 180 times, yet he wound up with precisely 722 yards gained both years!

JOE HILLAKER grabbed this rebound, but Bruce Bublitz, 42, got more than his share as the Hatchets rolled to an easy victory Tuesday.

Mail farmers income tax forms early

About three million 1969 Federal income tax forms for America's farmers and fishermen were sent to them around December 1, a month earlier than usual, the Internal Revenue Service announced today. All other taxpayers will receive their packages about January 1. A first for Internal Revenue, the early mailing is an attempt to assist the farmers and fishermen in taking advantage of options open to them in filing returns and paying their tax, IRS officials said.

Estimated tax forms, in a separate package, reached farmers and fishermen about the same date. In previous years, the estimated tax forms were included in the income tax packages.

Farmers and fishermen have a choice of filing dates: they may elect to file and pay in full an estimated tax declaration by January 15, 1970, and file an income tax return by the April 15 deadline; or they may elect to file only an income tax return by February 16 and pay the tax due with the return.

Like the other 77 million taxpayers expected to file tax returns for 1969, farmers and fishermen will be using the new income tax form 1040.

The form, which replaces both the old form 1040 and the 1040A, is a one-page, basic form to which separate schedules can be added to cover any tax situation.

Mrs. Chisholm
at club meet

Mrs. Herbert Ludlow was hostess when the Woman's Study Club met at her home Tuesday, Dec. 9. The program, a study of Ceylon, was given by Mrs. Virginia Chisholm.

Ceylon is an island country, a little larger than the state of West Virginia, but with a population of four times as many people.

The capital and largest city is Colombo.

Ceylon has a long and violent history. The Moslems believe that Adam and Eve lived there after they left the Garden of Eden.

Buddhists believe that a footprint of Buddha exists on the island.

Ceylon, Mrs. Chisholm said, is entirely in the torrid zone and has a fertile soil. Some of its products are rice and coconut palms, forests of ebony and satinwood. In the hills of Ceylon, in the interior, tea grows and ranks second only to India in tea production.

Other products are quinine, cacao, grain, coffee, cinnamon and citronella.

Ceylon has rich deposits of graphite and valuable stones such as sapphires, rubies, zircons, moon stones and pearls.

Buddhism is the chief religion. It was introduced to the island from India in the 200's B.C. About 7 out of 10 people can read and write.

Mrs. Crawford was elected first vice-president. It was also decided to give a contribution to CARE.

A favorite Christmas poem or story concluded the program. The reception committee served tea, coffee and Christmas cookies at the social hour.

Adult farm
classes slated

This winter Tuscola County farmers have available to them one of the most varied educational programs ever arranged.

To start the new year, the annual Adult Farmer Class series of meetings will begin Wednesday, Jan. 7. This year's series will be held at the Caro High School beginning on this date and continuing weekly for the next four Wednesdays including the February 4 date.

Each session will begin at promptly 8:15 p.m. and end at 10:15 p.m. with topics covered being crop fertilizer uses and selections, marketing, chemical weed controls, the bean blight story, agricultural business financing, and agricultural chemical safety and danger to food. Topic selection and program committee members are John Goodchild, Richard Donahue, Michael Satchell, Jack LeValley and John Homakie. Refreshment sponsors are Hedley Equipment Company, Standard Oil Farm Service Center, Bradley Equipment Co., Wilste-Kelly Chevrolet-Cadillac and Michigan Bean Elevator, all of Caro.

The first of four special dairy shortcourse sessions, will begin Thursday, January 22, 1970. They will continue once each week for the next three successive Thursdays through February 12, 1970. These four sessions will be held in the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building at Caro from 10 a.m. through 3 p.m. They will present in depth these dairy business topics: Dairy nutrition, genetics, dairy management factors and dairy herd health.

The dairy program planning committee members for this shortcourse are Jack Laurie, Richard Carpenter, Marvin Rupprecht and Michael Satchell. Dinner will be served by the 4-H Mothers' Club at a charge of $9.00 per person attending the series. Advanced registrations are required and must be sent or brought in, with the dinner fee by January 9, to the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service office, Civil Defense Center, Caro, Michigan 48723.

This dairy shortcourse is open for all dairymen, their wives and families in Tuscola and surrounding counties.

Last will be a two-day estate planning and farm transfer shortcourse. The two dates for this program are February 17 and 24. This two-session shortcourse will be held in the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building at Caro from 10 a.m. through 3 p.m. Dinner will be served at a charge of $4.50 per person attending the two sessions. Advance registration is required, along with the applicant's dinner fee, by January 30. Registrations and dinner fee are to be mailed or taken to the Tuscola county Cooperative Extension Service office.

This estate planning and farm transfer shortcourse is open to all Tuscola and surrounding county farm operators and families. A resume of subject matter topics explain why wills, trusts, insurance and probate knowledge are necessary tools for estate planning, plus knowledge of federal and state inheritance tax effects on the estate settlement.

Complete programs of each of these three separate farmer meetings are available to anyone at the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service office, Caro.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

You could tell we is in the tag end of another year from the way things went at the country store Saturday night. The fellers was in a looking back and adding up mood. I tried to sift thru the agender and pick out some stuff that is worth passing on to you.

There was Ed Doolittle with his report that 1969 has been a real solid Republican year, and that, general speaking, he was more happy than not with President Nixon. Ed had the statics to back him up. He had clipped this one piece by a column writer that showed how the country has faired under Democrats and Republicans since the start of this century.

The country, said Ed, has been run by Democrats 36 years and by Republicans 33 year. During their 36, Democrats balanced their budget six times, and the Republicans come out ahead 12 times. The Democrats run up deficits amounting to $314.5 billions, while the Republicans got us a total of $22.5 billions deeper in the hole.

The Democrats raised personal income taxes 13 times, the Republicans onct. The Democrats reduced income taxes four times, the Republicans six times.

Clem Webster was agreed that the Republicans come out ahead according to Ed's statics, but he said a heap depends on whose Bible you read. Clem said he was shore the Democrats could work up a pritty good list of their own. Fer instants, they has been one Great Depression in this century and the Republicans was in charge of it.

In the last 35 year, Clem said, this country has done the fastest growing, raised the standard of living faster than any country in the history of the world, we got electricly everwhere, a car in ever garage and a TV set in ever home, and Clem said he was shore the Democrats could come up with statics giving them credit fer most of it.

The year 1969, Clem went on, will be recollected as the year man went to the moon, and history books will say we done it in the Nixon Administration. Actual, said Clem, the space age got going under President Kennedy, and by the time Nixon final won another election it was all over but the shouting.

Bug Hookum said he will alius remember 1969 as the year everthing turned poison, from air and water to soda pop and baby food. The only way a feller could keep from poisoning himself in 1969 was to hold his breath and starve to death, was Bug's words. Bug said he heard where this feller went fer a examination and his doctor told him he had to give up everthing but his doctor. Bug said he won't be surprised if the Government comes out with a ruling that living is hazardous to yore health.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Second drawing winner plans trip with $100

It looks as if Cass City area shoppers feel that there is no use missing a good thing so they are showing up in droves for the weekly drawings sponsored by the Retail Division of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

Under the Chamber's rules, the winner must be present to collect the top weekly prize of $100 and can collect only half of the remaining four prizes if they are not present when the winning number is drawn.

Saturday four of the five winners were on hand to collect their booty.

The top prize went to Mrs. Helen Little. Like last week's winner, Mrs. John Palmer, Mrs. Little hopes to use her unexpected windfall to help pay for a trip.

She plans to visit her daughter, Mrs. Joyce Young, and family in South Carolina. Other winners present included Mrs. Helen McGrath, $25; Miles Profit, $10, and Betty McKenny, $5. Don Doserr who won the fifth place prize was not present and received $2.50, half of the prize offered.

Farmers will mail '69 census reports

For the first time, farmers will be requested to fill out and mail back their census reports.

Previously, census takers called on all farm operators to complete and pick up the report forms. The mail method allows farmers to complete the report at their convenience with the aid of their records.

The 1969 blank forms will be mailed out in January 1970. Since response is required by law, farmers who do not return their reports for the census will be contacted to obtain the missing data.

The 1969 census of agriculture is designed to provide information needed by farmers and those who serve farmers.

Several new items are on the 1969 census form. Farmers will be asked to give the age of selected items of equipment, expenditures for key items such as pesticides and tons of commercially mixed formula feeds and estimates of the market value of their machinery and equipment.

Specialized operators, who produce most of our food and fiber, will be asked for additional information about major trends in production methods in a series of mail surveys to be conducted early in 1971.

Beet growers first payment distributed

A total of $14,506,166 in cash and credits was paid to the Saginaw Valley Thumb area sugarbeet growers this week as the first payment on this year's 87,000 acre sugarbeet crop, according to figures released by the Farmers & Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association. Although Michigan sugarbeet growers saw a slight decrease in tonnage yields from last year's record sugarbeet production, this was offset by a somewhat higher sugar content per ton of beets.

Executives of the Michigan Sugar Company reported that growers in the firm's five beet producing districts received an initial payment of $10,206,166 for their 63,000 acre crop, representing just over 1 million tons of sugarbeets. The amount paid in cash and credits to each of the company's five sugarbeet growing districts were: Caro area farmers, $2,267,053; Carrollton area, $2,804,984; Crosswell district, $1,372,750; Sebawaing area, $2,411,577; and Breckenridge-Sanford district, $1,349,800.

also. They fear a crackdown by village authorities that will lead to more stringent rules. Village President Lambert Althaver said that this is really the first test of the regulations. You'll recall that they were adopted late last year when the snowmobile season was nearly over, he said, so that this season is the first where it will be determined whether we can live with our liberal regulations.

Riders are prohibited from riding in the park and on private land without permission within the village. In addition, the speed limit is 15 miles per hour and the night curfew is 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 10 p.m. on other nights.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

Medal needed for "second effort" men

By Dan Marlowe

I've been a lifelong admirer of what the football pros call "second effort", the extra burst of cantankerous energy that the man stopped at the line of scrimmage contributes to smashing his way out of the pileup, plowing ahead again, and bursting into the open.

I've encountered second effort in other places than the football field, and it always seemed a pity to me that there was rarely recognition and never a suitable award for such performance. I even thought about having a medal designed and struck to be presented to such individuals upon the occasion of their exceptional achievement.

The medal wouldn't need to be anything elaborate. I'd always planned to have a bronze struck of an eagle, and my medal-wearers would constitute a group—an exclusive group—known as the Eagle Birds. The design wouldn't be of a chicken-hawk eagle, either, but of an eagle-looking eagle, one whose basilisk stare directed outward from a lapel would cause the beholder to take an involuntary backward step.

Why an eagle? Because of a mental association going back to the 1930's and my days of roustabouting around the race-tracks of the country. In those bad old days, fixed races took place occasionally, never as often as fiction would indicate, but often enough to make it a factor among the imponderables of selecting a winner.

Since there were a few honest men around in those days, too, it was rarely possible to fix every horse in a race, and indeed this millennium was infrequently pursued. In a six horse race, it usually sufficed to fix four or five of the horses' trainers and/or jockeys, designating in advance the one selected to be the winner.

In some manner lost in the dim mists of antiquity, the unfixed horse or horses in such a race came to be known as "eagle birds". And twice in my life I've waited at racetrack finish lines and watched just such an eagle bird, assiduously conveyed by a platoon of fixed horses, boxed-in, carried wide, buffeted about, and otherwise harrassed, still break free and come on to win, proving that Robbie Burns knew what he was writing about.

As such phrases will, the term "eagle bird" gradually came to mean much the same thing when applied to a man battling foul circumstance and emerging triumphant. We've all seen such individuals from time to time. Never enough of them, but a few.

Because they refuse to bow to expedience, they're castigated as unrealistic stargazers and knotheaded obstructionists of the status quo.

I suggest that an award for them is long past due, whether mine or another, and until a better proposal comes along I'll continue to pursue my ideal of an award for the Order of the Eagle Birds for those all-too-few superior types who didn't know it couldn't be done, and did it.

"If It Fitz. . ."

Saving up for Dad

BY JIM FITZGERALD

My 2 youngest children had their hands out, as usual, so I asked them why they didn't spend some of their own money which is piled knee-high in their bedrooms.

"We need that money to buy you a Christmas present," Eddie explained.

This was last July. Ever since, it's been the same story. Chrissie, 13, earns a lot of money baby-sitting. Eddie, 11, collects money like some kids collect bubble-gum cards.

I think he holds up gas stations. None of this great wealth can be spent on the necessities of life—such as movie tickets, pantie hose, potato chips and ersatz tattoos.

All of this money must go into "the fund" to buy Dad's Christmas present. In the meantime, Dad pays all living and playing expenses. If he refuses, he is a lousy Scrooge who doesn't appreciate what his darling children are doing for him.

I can hardly wait until Christmas morning. Last year they gave me a Hershey bar and a bottle of Alka Seltzer.

Let me tell you what big-hearted, generous kids they are. Remember last summer when, under tremendous pressure, I mumbled permission for them to someday have a pet, maybe a goldfish? An hour later they were home with 2 cats. "If there were just 1 pet, they'd argue about who owned the end with the head on it," my wise wife explained.

Right away there was a big argument about what to name the cats. I suggested Dumb and Dumber, or Onward and Upward. But the kids finally settled on 2 names we've all forgotten because they are never used. Those cats were automatically named the minute my greedy kids became their owners.

Their names, conveniently interchangeable, are MINE and YOURS.

Or: This holiday season the kids sold some used toys they didn't want anymore. Seeing as I paid for the stuff in the first place, and then paid for the advertising to unload it, I thought it would be only fair that I share slightly in the profits.

"No deal," Eddie said. "You didn't buy that stuff. Santa Claus brought it. Besides, we need the money to buy your present."

That little miser hasn't believed in Santa Claus since he was 3 years old. That's the same year he rejected enrollment in a Christmas Club because the banks don't pay interest.

People keep saying that Christmas is for the children. I'll buy that (with the help of 33 credit cards). And don't let my carping fool you, I love it.

All I want for Christmas is a magic potion guaranteed to keep 2 greedy but delightful youngsters from becoming just 2 more bewildered and despairing adults, awash in a world where even the good guys shoot women and children. Boy, if the 2 chiselers could save enough to buy me that, I wouldn't need the Alka Seltzer.

"Merry Christmas, son. I hope Santa brings you a high number in the draft lottery."

BOYS AT THE Kingston Teen Ranch were feted at a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. James Bauer Saturday evening. They were presented with sleds, skis and other winter sports items. The items were donated in a program instigated by Mrs. Bauer and repaired under the direction of Lewis Bishop (facing camera).

Smith, with Mrs. Stanley McArthur as assistant.

It was a newspaper picture of a crowded street. Then we examined it closely. There we were, nameless faces in a crowd to the rest of the world, but important faces to us.

Ours is a world of fast-growing urbanization. More and more people are concentrating in crowded areas. Ours is a world dominated by the gang, the club, the party, even the mob. It's mighty easy to get that "one drop in the ocean" feeling, as if no one knows we are here.

That's why we treasure our church. In it we are individuals. Our minister, our teachers and our friends, even visitors, know us. Each of us is seen as a separate person. Each of us is known to the same loving Father.

You might call us the "fellowship crowd" . . . a crowd in which we are never lost. Discover for yourself the wonderful blessings your church can impart to you. Attend this Sunday and every Sunday.

Durable press clothes appeal to consumers because they remain fresh looking and wrinkle resistant during wear. When properly laundered, durable press clothes retain their smooth look and sharp pleats and creases. Durable press finishes, however, require special considerations.

For instance, you may find that durable press clothes are warm, because the fabric is non-absorbent. They sometimes irritate the skin, unless they are laundered before they are first worn. They wear out faster than similar non durable press clothing. Soil can be picked up by durable press clothing during the laundry process. Durable press items are also very susceptible to oily soiling. If this oil is not entirely removed during the laundering, a build up on the fabric can cause graying or grimy look.

Check durable press clothes for the following: no streaks or blotches of color; no set-in wrinkles or packaging wrinkles; no puckered stitching lines as they will appear even more so after laundering; no odor, if there is one it indicates excess resin or improper curing of finish; a good fit because alterations are a problem as new seam lines and creases will never be as permanent as the old; and the fiber content should be at least 50% polyester to give enough strength to the fabric.

Lapeer to host short course for area sheepmen

Sheep raisers and others interested in sheep will have an opportunity to spend a little longer time studying the latest developments in their industry by attending a special short course at the Lapeer County Center in Lapeer. The course will meet from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. on five consecutive Thursday evenings beginning January 8.

Graydon Blank, Extension Sheep Specialist at Michigan State University, who is heading up the course, says that the 12 hours of instruction which the course provides will allow time to cover many more of the new developments in sheep management than the usual two hour meeting or tour. Blank will be assisted by four specialists from the Animal Husbandry Department and Veterinary College staff at Michigan State University.

A nominal charge will be made for the course to cover cost of a special reference notebook, meeting room rental, and refreshments. Further details regarding the course are available at the County Cooperative Extension Office located in the Civil Defense Center, Caro; telephone number 673-3161.
