Peterson sent to Jackson for car theft

Gerald Peterson of Phillips Road, Deford, was sentenced to 1 1/2 to 5 years at Jackson Prison Monday for stealing a car owned by William O'Deli of Cass City. Judge Norman Baguley sentenced Peterson in Tuscola County Circuit Court after he had been found competent by three doctors who examined him at the request of the court. Peterson will be given credit for 64 days served in the county jail awaiting sentence. In the only other criminal case of the week, David Michael Thane, 17, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering an oc-cupied trailer owned by the Rev. Leonard Marks of Wilmot. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentence will be passed June 8.

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners made official Monday what had been informally decided several weeks ago when they voted to ask the taxpayers for $175,000 for five years for bridge construction and repair on the township local road system.

The $175,000 equals about 9 of a mill (90 cents per $1,000 of valuation) on the county's present equalized valuation. If the valuation increases over the years the mill rate decreases. The issue will be presented in conjunction with the August

If they moved to the campus once and were ineffective, he feels, their usefulness would be at an end, Moderate agreed; I disagreed. We all agreed that it was foolhardy to send in untrained men in a situation as explosive as the one at Kent State and that somehow the violence and destruction must cease.

Hard Line and Moderate and I shared the opinion that an incident like the one at the Ohio University was inevitable in the atmosphere of the colleges

Where we differed sharply was in the analysis of the event. My discussion partners came up the hard way...,went through the depression. They feel that the students have the right to dissent, but to a varying degree rents. How different will probably be determined to a great extent on how the problems

now involved in the student-establishment idealogical clash would limit demonstrations and crack down hard on malicious destruction of property. Hard Line said that never in the history of the country has there been such a revolt against authority.

I countered that our history is full of "lawless" revolt. The American Revolution, the Civil War, the IWW marches on Washington, the assassinations of three presidents...the list is endless.

None of these strike home to today's middle-aged as quickly as an incident in the depression.

I pointed out the sit-down strike at General Motors as an example of lawlessness in the era of both Hard Line and Moderate. Both at first disclaimed any parallel, but as thinking, reasonable men decided after discussion that there was no difference in principle..just in degree. That for its time, the sit-down strike at GM was as radical as the protest in our nation's college's today. The workers defied the law and the establishment.

The difference is the instant communication. Ideas and change sweep the country and the world so rapidly that all of us have trouble adjusting.

It is usually the young that show the way. College kids are the cream of the crop and most of them share to some degree the views of demonstrators, if not the methods used to express them.

But as one young moderate on ABC television after President Nixon's speech Friday said, a good many of us are concerned because without active protest we haven't been able to make ourselves heard, Nobody was listening. Now they

We are not apt to solve the problem by sending in armed troops. The oft heard question that echoes around the establishment these days is: "just what do they want?". But it's only rhetorical, Few have been waiting to hear the answer.

Perhaps we should start. It could prove more effective than a volley of bullets or a tank of tear gas.

the gloom facing education everywhere. Robert I. White, president of Kent State University, is quoted as "seeing the disappearance of the center. I hear lunacy on one side and frightening repression on the other," he says.

Among these Cass City students at least, White's concern is negated when he says, "What I hear is 'Let us have such and such without order' and those who say 'let us have order without discussion.' It is that combination of these two rigid positions while the centrist position is being eroded so rapidly that is causing the problems.

All of the students from Cass City were ready to return to classes Monday, Saturday there had been considerable doubt as to whether classes would be held at CMU and Michigan State. At Ferris, Joe Mark said, they aren't aware of what's going on. Ferris's only revolt has been a previous confrontation between blacks and whites on campus. Ferris is much smaller than either CMU or State and has many technical training courses. The Kent State incident has caused little stir.

At Central, Kathy noted, we came within a whisker of clos-

Most of the students at these colleges are not the same today as they were when they entered school. And the process of change is continuing. The stu-dents' answers indicate that they are far from sure just where they stand in the youth rebellion. It appears certain that they will not take the course of lawless revolt.

There should be no excuse for not remembering the name of the wife of the new Gen-Tel Cass City district manager. Her name is Mary Lou, the same as the former manager's wife. This makes it easy for friends, but hard for editors. For it's Mary Lou Buttery and Marilou Drews. It's twists like these that give proof readers grey hairs.

At the Chronicle we most times solve dilemmas like these by writing: Mrs. R. E. Buttery and Mrs. Richard Drews.

That's an unusual and agreeable twist for most parents.

The reason for this is not because the school has been blessed with an unusual number of talented student actors, but because of the direction of William Crouch.

Here's a little-known fact about golfer Jack Nicklaus... Looking at Nicklaus, you'd never think he was,a fast runner -- but in high school he was on, of all things, the track team and he actually won 100 and 200-yard dashes in competition.

How much does it cost to run a big league baseball team?Well, teams have to put out over $200,000 just to get through spring training; they spend about $100,000 on air fare during the regular season along with $75,000 on hotels, $30,-000 for meals on the road, and $10,000 for uniforms;... That's almost a half-a-million dollars and that's only the start, and does not include money spent for player salaries and all other expenses....So, you want to own a big league team?

Here's an oddity from baseball...In 1933, Chuck Klein led the National League with the highest batting average, the most hits, most total bases, most doubles, most home runs and most runs batted in--but, he was NOT voted the Most Valuable Player Award!...That's hard to believe, but it's true, BULEN MOTORS CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE 6617 Main Phone 872-2750 Copyright

Cass City AAUW hosts Huron Club

The Cass City Branch of the American Association of University Women were hostess to the Huron County Branch at the annual May luncheon held at Sherwood Forest. Members of the Branches and guests heard Mrs. George Timmons, State Division President, speak on the Regional Convention held in Milwaukee, and the various projects the branches in Michigan are involved in.

She mentioned Jackson's project of getting the city and township to work together for new sewage disposal, another branch is working on tutoring in the schools (Cass City is starting a similar program). Mrs. Timmons also was pleased with the report made by legislative chairman, Helen Baker, who used the "Highlights and Alerts." Mrs. Baker told of the school aid bills, abortion reform and others. She again urged members to contact their legislators and tell them how they feel. Mrs. Timmons asked for suggestions to make the convention in Detroit in 1972 a memorable one.

President Mrs. Kirn presented Marilou Drews a gift from AAUW, Marilou is moving with her husband who was transferred to Milford. She was one of the founders of the Cass City Branch.

Plant 200,000 trees in county

Nearly 200,000 trees and shrubs were distributed to landowners in the Tuscola Soil Conservation District April 24 and 25, according to Charles Wells, district director.

The trees were used for reforestation, Christmas trees and wildlife plantings. The shrubs were used to improve habitat for wildlife and to provide living fences and hedge rows. However, the plantings that the District directors and Soil Conservation Service technicians were most interested in are those used for windbreaks, particularly on the flat lands, and around homesteads, Wells explained.

Wind erosion is rapidly becoming a more and more important source of air pollution as well as destroying crops, filling ditches, and creating a driving hazard. All people should become aware that the planting of trees is a permanent method of controlling the winds, Wells emphasized.

Selby record

Jim Selby smashed the Cass City High School record in the mile Saturday in the 12th annual Oscoda Invitational.

There were 43 schools in the Class B-C meet and Cass City finished eighth. Shepherd won the C meet trophy.

Selby cruised the mile in 4:39.5 to top the old record of 4:42.2. Freshman Curt Strickland captured a fourth place in the mile with a 4:43.4, just .8 of a second off the former school record. Craig Guernsey was the other Cass City thinclad to win points by finishing fourth in the 880yard run with a 2:06.5.

Coach Bob Watson said he was pleased with the performance of the squad because the thinclads showed a marked improvement from times posted earlier in the season.

What is a Pharmacist?

It was once said that pharmacists were frustrated doctors; that those who couldn't make medical school ended up as druggists. If that was ever the case, it's no longer true be-cause the two professions now offer satisfying (though different) rewards. True, both share an interest in the biological sciences. Both are involved in human illnesses, and must know how drugs act and interact on the body. And both undergo extensive university training.

Those considering pharmacy should have a good high school background in maths and sci-They should be orderly and able to handle detail. The must be able to get along with people and manage a business, if they are going to enter the retail drugstore field.

In some cases, a college will accept high school students and provide prepharmacy education; others require their students to arrive with this al-ready completed. In an accredited college, the course covers five years and some schools now require six. The pharmacy student learns about the preparation, quality, uses and effects of drugs; anatomy, biochemistry, p h y s i o l o g y, mathematics and law.

After graduation, the student must have at least one year of practical experience under the supervision of a registered pharmacist. Then he must pass a series of examinations conducted by the state's Board of Pharmacy, in order to be a registered pharmacist.

This may sound like a lot of preparation—but pharmacy is a career worth every bit of it!

The course will replace the annual summer reading course paid for by parents in recent years. Besides the summer course, the Title I funds are used to pay teaching aides and enrich the school program throughout the year.

Grade Principal Mrs. Jacqueline Freiburger outlined a plan she has written for 15 pupils to enter a Headstart program at the school. The plans call for a teacher, an aide and volunteer work of 180 hours. Total cost is $23,000 for the year-long program... all paid from non-local funds.

Children the program is designed to help are to be from economically deprived families at the pre-school age level.

One other measure involving the school curriculum was approved by the board. High School Principal Russell Richards' request for two new texts in the high school were okayed.

A new physical science book with emphasis on laboratory work replaces the present 10year-old copyrighted book now in use for the 10th grade.

The 9th grade civics books will also be changed. With the new edition will come three paperbacks, "Teenagers and Law," "Law and Consumers," and "Your Rights and Responsibilities as a Citizen", that will be used in the course, Richards noted.

It was reported that the annual dilemma about the Senior trip was solved for another year. After investigating many alternatives it has been decided to travel by bus to Mackinac Island June 1 and return June 2. An estimated 70 students from the class of 104 will make the trip.

Legion Auxiliary plans poppy sale

Twenty-two were present Monday evening for the May meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary. The group included four members of Tri-County post, who had been invited to attend.

During the business meeting, with Mrs. Philip McComb presiding, plans were discussed for the poppy sale to be held May

Mrs. McComb appointed a nominating committee, Mary Guilds, Peggy McConnell and Esther Dinkmeier.

There were games and refreshments at the close of the business meeting with Mrs. Cass Bartnik, Mrs. Leo Tracy and daughter Teresa in charge.

The door prize went to Mrs. Henry Cherry.

The third decision is what herbicide to use. There are about four chemicals to select from this year: (1) Eptam, (2) Amiben, (3) Trefluralin, and (4) Preforan, Comments on each chemical is as follows: (1) Eptam has been a consistent herbicide giving excellent results. However, there has been a little bean injury and this usually can be controlled by using a little less Eptam, working the ground shallow and putting the Eptam on 2 days prior to planting. Some growers have had excellent results with a quart and one half of Eptam. This herbicide has given the bean grower the best results to date. (2) Amiben is an excellent herbicide if you get rain within ten days to two weeks after using the chemical. Amiben can be incorporated like Eptam and this will help the activation of the chemical. Some growers band Amiben at planting, which cut the costs and have given them excellent results. (3) Trefluralin has been used in the past with poor results. This year Trefluralin representatives suggest that you apply the chemical two weeks before planting and return to the field just prior to planting and work the soil again which kills the ragweed. (4) Preforan is new and growers will learn more about the product after seeing the results through this grow-

Computer offers instant answers

Picking up the receiver and talking to a computer will be part of an experiment conducted at the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Office. Tuscola County will be one of seven counties where Michigan State University is installing a touchtone phone for a trial basis.

The touch-tone phone will have a series of cards to reach the computer. Upon reaching the computer, a series of questions will be punched so the computer can formulate an answer as to what herbicide to use on your corn crop when sugar beets will be planted next year and the main weed problem is quack-

Many cher programs have been wor'led out with the computer such as custom harvest of your crop versus owning the harvesting equipment, fertirecommendations and many other programs where there are several alternatives.

By having access to the computer, the Tuscola County farmers will have the latest in research at their fingertips. The farmer may stop at the Extension Office in Caro any time and the computer can be reached for their answer.

After six months in evaluating the use of a computer with agriculture problems the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners will decide if the experiment is of merit to the county. Michigan State University will be covering the costs during the first six months.

BY JIM FITZGERALD

But I had to wonder, that You might call this a tale of poker night of Apollo 13. Three astronauts soar away

It was during the last meeting of our poker club that I was struck by the big difference between these 2 trips.

The Apollo 13 astronauts were on their way back from moon country. That's 1 of the Between beers and shuffles, there was considerable talk about the 3 men risking their necks in space.

And later, when the space talk faded, the host of that night's party was asked the whereabouts of his wife. He explained that she was out of town but "she'll walk through that back door at 10:20 p.m."

He was predicting a splashdown time for his wife. And he did it with the confidence of a scientist broadcasting instructions from Houston to Apollo

Which brings us to the 2nd

None of the other players asked Mr. Host how he could be so certain of the time his wife would return. We knew. She had made the same trip so many times before, and so had he, that it was easy to set the clock by their departures and arrivals.

At 10:20 p.m., Mrs. Host came through the back door.

For the umpteenth time, she had been visiting their son at a veterans' hospital in a nearby city. A year ago, he suffered a head wound in Vietnam. He is now almost totally paralyzed, almost speechless. There's almost no hope for recovery. It appears that this 22-year-old man, once so tall and straight and handsome, will spend the rest of his life in hospital beds. And his fine family will spend the rest of their lives visiting him and praying for the medicine or miracle they so richly

I haven't identified Mr. and Mrs. Host because that's the way they want it, Their friends already know. They see no reason to parade their tragedy before strangers. They don't want pity for their heartache; they don't want publicity for what they and their son have given to their country.

Who has given the most for his country? And when will this country deserve what these few people are giving? Shoot me if you will, but I don't give a damn about trips to the moon. Not as long as my friends are making trips to that hospital.

Mrs. John B. Weiss

Miss Vana Rene Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parker of Gagetown, became the bride of John Bruce Weiss, son of Alfred Weiss of Bay City. The couple were married Saturday, May 9, in the Owendale United Methodist church. The Rev. Clifford Devore officiated at the evening ceremony at seven o'clock and white gladioli decorated the church.

The bride approached the altar in a floor-length Juliet styled gown of peau de soie featuring an Empire waistline, a bell flowing skirt and long puff sleeves. Her gown was accented with medallion lace on the bodice and the sleeve cuff. A detachable train fell from her waistline trimmed with matching lace, as on the dress. Her Dior bow headpiece held secure layers of fine nylon netting and she carried an arrangement of white carnations.

Miss Karen Hensel of Fairgrove was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Smith of Pigeon, Miss Mary Flores of Owendale and Miss Lora Parker of Gagetown.

The bridesmaids chose floorlength gowns of pink nylon organza embossed with white floral design and accented by a lace neckline, long lace cuffed sleeves and an Empire waistline complimented by a pink satin ribbon. They carried baskets of pink carnations.

Jennifer Wood of Gagetown was flower girl and Randy Huiskens of Bay City was ring hearer

Mrs. Parker, the bride's mother, chose an aqualace coat and dress ensemble with beige accessories with which she wore a corsage of red roses.

The groom's brother, Randy
Weiss, was best man. Groomsmen included Fred Born of Bay City, Michael Muelrath of Livonia and Terry Kosto of Caro.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the American Legion Hall in Unionville when 400 guests attended. The couple left on a Northern Michigan wedding trip.

The newlyweds will make

The newlyweds will make their home in Linwood, Mich, She will graduate in June from beauty school and her husband is employed in Bay City.

Kings-Queens hold bowling banquet

The Kings and Queens League finished the year with rolloffs, and a banquet. In the first roll-off, Wells-LaRoche took 3 points from Ross-Distelrath with scores of 578-554-651, total of 1783, against scores of 541-551-585, total of 1677. Jim LaRoche had high series of 538

In the second half Schwartz-Schwartz took 3 points from Kehoe-Doerr with scores of 593-641-647 for a total of 1881 against scores of 647-598-633, total of 1878. Don Doerr had high series of 521. Don also had a 210 game; Harry Kehoe, 201, and Steve Schwartz, 201.

In the final roll-off, Wells-LaRoche took first place trophy with scores of 600-598-555, total of 1753, from Schwartz-Schwartz with scores of 517-576-575, total 1668.

The banquet was held at Sherwood Forest when prizes were awarded: Schwartz-Schwartz, high series, 1909; Kruse-Bock, high game, 688; Don Doerr, high series for men, 601; Jim LaRoche, high game for men, 233, and Margie Schwartz, high series and high game for women, 529 and 218.

Other awards were: John Schwartz, most improved average, 10 pins; Pam Ross, most improved average, 13 pins; Kruse-Bock, last place champs, and perfect attendance, Don and Shirley Kruse, Pam and John Ross, Ken and Doris Distelrath, Jim and Joyce LaRoche and Margie Schwartz.

HUGH BRENNEMAN

It's possible to predict strokes

Most people have the impression that stroke is always a catastrophic event, that it occurs suddenly accompanied by a paralysis or loss of speech or going into a coma. That isn't necessarily the case.

By the nature of the stroke itself, these symptoms sometimes vary - they sometimes come on very gradually and may develop over a period of weeks before any real permanent damage occurs.

There are basically two kinds of strokes. One is due to narrowing or blockage of the arteries. This occurs in perhaps 80 to 90% of the stroke patients. The other is due to a hemorrhage or rupture of the wall of a blood vessel in the brain. In each there is a loss of blood to a certain portion of the brain and the functions controlled by that portion of the brain are no longer carried out.

Investigations are now being made that deal primarily with the problem of the blockage or narrowing of the internal carotid arteries. These arteries arise from the aorta down below the heart and pass up through the neck and into the brain, where they branch off into smaller arteries.

The importance of the carotid arteries in strokes is indicated by the fact that in up to 75% of patients with strokes due to clotting, carotid artery narrowing or obstruction is either a primary cause of the stroke or at least a contributing factor.

The second important fact is that most patients with carotid artery disease have no symptoms. This condition developed over a period of many years, but the symptoms may not have occurred until there was far advanced narrowing or actual blockage of the arteries.

The third point is that in patients who have symptoms, the true diagnosis is often not suspected and cannot usually be proved by history and physical examinations alone. Now, doctors have recently developed techniques whereby this narrowed or blocked artery can be bypassed so that fresh blood supply can be brought to the brain. There are also ways of, in a sense, cleaning out the artery so that fresh blood can be brought to that portion of the brain, If this can be done early enough, it may prevent a stroke.

The task at hand is to determine if an individual has this problem without going through the very rough diagnostic X-ray test. The most accurate way to determine if there is a narrowing or blockage of any artery in the brain is by doing special kinds of X-rays. But these X-rays must be done in a hospital, they are somewhat painful and they may offer a potential danger to the patient in doing them.

In a new procedure radioactive tracers are injected into the vein. As the radioactive material enters the carotid arteries in the neck the doctor starts to take a-series of photographs using a scintillation camera and from the photographs observes the narrowing or blockage of one or both of the carotid arteries. It's completely harmless. There is a slight amount of radiation, but the radioisotopes that are used offer no real danger in terms of radiation. No one ever gets sick or has a reaction from the use of a radioactive tracer.

With this special device the doctor runs through a series of brain scans in all different positions, looking for the possibility of a brain tumor or damage to the brain. In other words the radioactive material gives off gamma rays which the instrument is able to record as a picture. Next to it is the computer center to which the radioisotope information is fed. It's stored on magnetic tape there.

The doctors then go to the second part of this particular type of investigation. They use a medical infra-red camera. An operator observes the infra-red radiation (heat waves) that are being emitted from the patient's face.

They take what amounts to a temperature map of the face. In a person who has advanced or significant carotid occlusive disease, if there is marked narrowing or blockage of one of the internal carotid arteries, there is a lowered temperature in that portion of the face that is supplied by the last branches of the internal carotid artery. These heat differences are very subtle, but in patients who have had this study performed upon them doctors have found a surprisingly high incidence of narrowing or blockage of the carotid arteries. This doesn't prove it absolutely - further studies are needed to confirm it but at least this is a simple safe means of separating those patients who require further studies and save vital time in so doing!

Sound the alarm! Spread the word! There are social problems that are affecting family life that need attention.

Problem one - the misuse of drugs. Many adults have used drugs unwisely and many youth have followed and/or expanded their usage.

Adventure - seeking and thrill - seeking, such as taking drugs, are symptoms of deeper causes, one of which may be the "infantilizing of adolescents," says Dr. Roy Menniger. By denying adolescents some of the responsibilities of maturity, we push them toward childish behavior and escape mechanisms.

Is there a Paul Revere in your community calling people to give opportunities for responsibility to your youth? Real responsibility to give life meaning? Like having a voice on important councils, committees. Like having jobs avail-

Adults, too, need real responsibility in our affluent society of leisure. Whose responsibility are these kids of

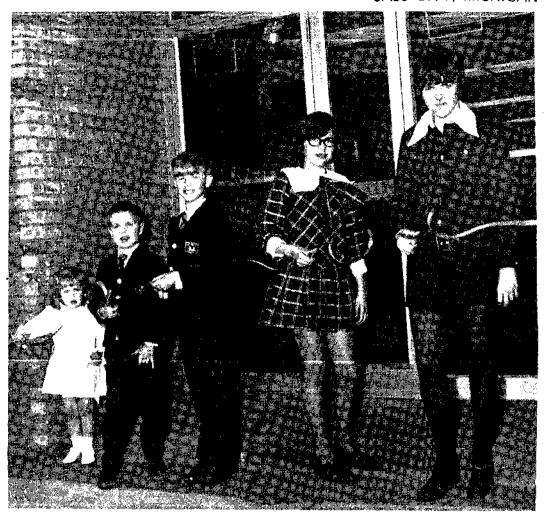

If we acknowledge adult responsibility, (or mutual responsibility) ought this not to lead to the development of meaningful opportunities for youth and a purpose for life in adults?

Where's your Paul Revere? And what about the ugly social problem of prejudice - color prejudice being one. It is a rare family that is untouched by this one,

There ought to be a Paul Revere on his rounds day and night to call people to responsible action on this attitude Too long we have ignored or been inactive in relation to the significant social problems

Is there a Paul Revere in your community? If there is, let's please listen to her/him, put down our playthings and violins, and support responsible action - preferably inter-generational.

PRESENTED TO Gerald and Geraldine Prieskorn, owners of Prieskorn's Ben Franklin Store, last week was an all electric building award plaque for meeting the highest standards of electrical excellence in their newly remodeled and enlarged store. The store meets the standards established by the Edison Electric Institute in New York. Making the presentation was Kenneth J. Mudie (right), the division manager.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

A stubborn three-hour fire burned out the top floor of a two-story farm house, nine and a half miles northeast of Cass City. Left homeless by the fire were Mrs. Lavina Willer and her three children. The house was owned by Earl Schembers. A lengthy career in business

Matthews of Decker announced that he was closing M & M Plumbing and Heating Company at its Main Street location.

The Unionville Board of Education has approved Monday, June 28, as the date for a special election for the consolidation of Unionville and Owengage school districts.

Mrs. Norris Mellendorf.

Eddie and Jake have been buddies since they could taddle. Together they hiked, fished, argued and leap-frogged the years away. If they weren't at our house, they were at Eddie's. Sundays, Eddie came along to church with us.

They did everything together, dated, played football, went to college. When they joined the Army, they went together.

Jake is coming home next week, but not Eddie. His mother brought his last letter over today. We cried together.

"Dear Mom," Eddie wrote, "Things are pretty bad. I'm glad Jake is here. We talk about home, about God, too. I know you and Dad never cared about church and all, but I think you'll be glad to know I've learned a lot about God from Jake. Whatever happens, I feel close to Him. I'm not scared."

Faith in God is your child's heritage. Take him to church today.
