

WITHIN TWO WEEKS Lewis Tibbits shot a goose and a duck, both banded.

Banding reveals unusual story

Lewis Tibbits of Cass City is an avid duck hunter but never before has he experienced the kind of luck that has been his this fall.

For Tibbits has shot a goose and a duck, both of which were banded.

The Canadian goose was banded by Jack Miner in Canada and the duck band was the work of the Fish and Wildlife Service at Washington, D. C. Tibbits sent the band from the goose to Canada and the band from the duck to Washington. He has heard from the Miners and it is truly an unusual story.

For the bands are the work of the Jack Miner family and has been carried on since 1909 when Jack Miner banded his first goose as an amateur conservation project.

At the sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont., thousands of birds were banded and the information gathered from returned bands used as a basis for conservation practices in the future, according to information Tibbits received when he returned the band.

In 1966, 40,000 birds previously banded returned to the sanctuary and were caught again. The oldest banded bird on record at the refuge is one that was retrapped and proved to have been banded 24 years previously.

The Miners' work in conservation helped in promoting a Migratory Bird Treaty between Canada and the United States in 1916. Today a foundation carries out the work of the Miners in Kingsville.

County employee salaries unsettled

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners met in regular session Tuesday, Nov. 10, and spent a good part of the day reviewing the sticky salary negotiations with Sheriff's Deputies and the County Employees Association, primarily from the courthouse complex. The commissioners, reportedly, feel that the two independent groups of employees were playing each other against the board and the commissioners want to get budget matters settled.

Apparently no decisions will be made on salaries of department heads until the commissioners have settled the employee salary problems.

No date has been set for the next meeting with the deputies and commissioners, but the public budget hearing is scheduled for December 8 at 11 a. m. and it would seem that the salary questions will have to be settled by then. The only thing that's certain is that they are not settled now.

In the afternoon the Board of Commissioners heard a request by the Northeast Central Economic Area of 14 counties, including Tuscola county, that the counties support the development of a nuclear reactor for power in Midland. Another of the fourteen counties.

The question of a nuclear power plant has aroused some opposition in the Midland area and effort is being made to have neighboring, affected, counties go on record as supporting such a power development. The Tuscola Board of Commissioners indicated that they would pass a resolution supporting the idea of a nuclear development in the 14-county area.

Applauds Thumb workers

Roch sees little change in techniques in 25 Cable years

In small town businesses, a man and wife team tends to be the rule rather than the exception.

But in a multi-million dollar corporation like General Cable Corporation, you don't expect to find husband and wife working together in fields of responsibilities.

But George Roch, 60, and his wife Marie are the exception that proves the rule.

The genial Roch and his wife have been a team in Cass City since before the plant opened here in 1960.

Both were in Cass City long before the present modern manufacturing plant was built.

All of the comparatively minor manufacturing was conducted in the plant that now serves as a warehouse directly across the street from the main facility and it was from here that the Rochs hired and trained Cass City workers.

And while the company experienced the usual start-up training difficulties, Roch says, working with Thumb area people was easier than expected.

These people know what it is to work and they were willing to learn, he explained.

It's almost like a throwback to the older days, Roch continued, as he called on his memory of 25 years with Cable and the years with other manufacturing concerns.

If you went through the great depression you have a different outlook than if you've never experienced being out of work with no jobs available. Workers appreciated a job more because they knew what it was to be without one.

Roch moved to Cable in 1945, after five years with Anaconda Wire & Cable, working as a

There is a rising concern at Cass City Schools over the safety of students as they walk from their homes and a campaign has been launched aiming for changes to relieve the situation in the village.

Mrs. Jacqueline Freiburger, principal of Willis Campbell school, outlined a plan for student safety on the way to and from school to the board of education Monday night and received the board's endorsement of the plan.

Mrs. Freiburger is concerned because students now walk in the street and must make hazardous crossings at busy intersections.

She made the following recommendations to the board and they will be passed on to the village council at its next meeting.

● Busy streets should have painted lines at crossing areas.

Specifically, North and South Seeger and Main Street, should have definite crossing areas to eliminate children dashing across against traffic lights or in the middle of the block.

● Sidewalks should be cleared so that students are not forced to walk down the road to school.

● The village should hire adults to assist children at busy corners.

● Mrs. Freiburger said that the suggested remedies are now in effect in many area schools. In Vassar, she explained, men are hired by the city for safety patrol work. The school and the village split the cost. The village hires a man to plow sidewalks.

● In Caro three men are hired and paid by the city. The village plows and cleans sidewalks of snow.

● In Bad Axe members of the Honor Society handle patrol duty. The high school and grade schools are together there. Bad Axe also clears the walks of snow, Mrs. Freiburger's check revealed.

The grade principal recalled how she saw one youngster hit by a car (unhurt) and said that she felt that under present conditions it was only a matter of time before a child was killed in an accident.

Mrs. Freiburger feels that two adults should be hired for 1 1/2 hours each day and someone should be assigned to clean the main walks after each snowfall.

Board member Mrs. Geraldine Priesskorn will accompany Mrs. Freiburger to present the school's case to the village council at its next regular session Tuesday, Nov. 24.

Mrs. Freiburger's presentation was not on the regular agenda. Neither was another topic that sparked a good deal of conversation: physical education for girls.

The question was raised by Mrs. Geraldine Priesskorn. She said that the available time for the gym after school was used by the boys' teams.

The conversation indicated that boys' teams from the fifth grade through high school do occupy much of the available after school free time in the three gyms. Girls do receive physical education as a regular course at the school.

One concrete suggestion that emerged was that a girls' basketball team to compete against other schools will be formed next year. The girls' season will be in the fall, if present plans are followed, and end when the boys' season begins.

OTHER BUSINESS

In a split vote the board voted to donate to Teen Ranch in Marlette 20 pairs of roller skates no longer used by the school. Voting for the gift were Arthur Severance, Elwyn Holwig, Don Reid and Gerald Hicks. Against were Mrs. Priesskorn and Don Koepfgen. The school owns about 110 pairs of skates.

It was Koepfgen's view that the school should give all the skates away or keep them all. Mrs. Verna Mae MacRae, attending the annual meeting, said that the wooden wheel skates have now been replaced with fiber wheels so that compound is not needed on the floor.

The skates owned by the school have wooden wheels.

When it was pointed out that a compound would require the floor be scrubbed after each use, the vote swung in favor of giving the 20 pair away.

Each year the school receives bids for removal of snow from school parking lots. Each year the bidders are Tuckey Block and Hunt Construction and each year the bids are very, very close. This year Hunt offered to use a 2 1/2-yard bucket for $13 per hour and Tuckey a 3-yard bucket for $15 per hour. Since Hunt was awarded the contract last season, the board voted to give the job to Tuckey this year.

Supt. Donald Crouse explained a change in special teaching care for students unable to attend classes because of illness.

In past years it was handled by a teacher from the Intermediate School District. This year it will be handled by a local teacher who will be paid $6.50 per hour for the time spent in the students' home.

From the immediate district the school will receive $771.60 to spend on this program.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE

FROM THE Editor's Corner

A story hit the wires last week describing the reaction of a group of solid citizens to a paragraph in the Declaration of Independence presented by youth in hippie garb. The paragraph included the statement "That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

Predictably, many "read" the person who presented the message, not what the message said. Many who read it became angry and only a small percentage recognized it as a passage from the Declaration of Independence.

Anyone familiar with this type of presentation will tell you that in a random sampling, a certain percentage will sign anything.

I confirmed this while working for the Wyandotte Tribune 20 years ago. To spice up a dull news week a couple of us were dispatched to a busy corner to get signers on a document that advocated the complete support of Communism and Russia at a time when feelings were at a fever pitch with the country.

We gave ourselves a patriotic name like the Society for Promoting a Better America or something and then went out to get signatures.

Only about one in 10 stopped to read what was offered. Another two in 10 hurried away, afraid to read, sign or even stop to listen. The remainder signed.

According to the story about the passage from the Declaration, people haven't changed much.

In the defense of the good citizens who did get angry at the hippies for promoting such "radical propaganda" the other day, is the fact that the Declaration is a radical document.

The Declaration, after all, Concluded on page 14

GENERAL CABLE'S Richard A. Rinaldi presents a check to Elkland-Novesta Community Chest President Don Erla for $2,480.94 to help the Chest towards its $10,000 goal.

Bulen fighting accident injury

Horace Bulen is out of intensive care at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw and fighting a paralysis that extends down from his chest.

Mr. Bulen was injured last Tuesday when his bike hit a rut in the shoulder of Cemetery Road at the Cass River bridge and threw him into a ditch.

His condition remains unchanged. He is able to move his arms but not his fingers. He has reflexes in the bottom of his feet, but cannot move them.

The well-known Cass City businessman is now in a private room and will welcome visitors, his wife reports. He said this week that he is grateful to the Spencer boys and Romayne Bassett for their help while he was stricken at the side of the road. They did "everything possible" to help, he explained.

Chest drive halfway to $10,000 quota

The victory dinner for the Elkland-Novesta Community Chest will be held Wednesday, Nov. 18, at Cass City Restaurant-Hotel, President Don Erla announced this week.

The Chest drive is currently at about 50 per cent of its goal of $10,000. Still to be collected are many envelopes from areas which annually donate much of the Chest funds, Erla said. Still not counted is the amount donated by Walbro and its employees through the payroll deduction plan.

Already helping to swell the Chest coffers is the money that was donated by General Cable Corporation and its employees.

The company matched last year's grant with a gift of $1,000 and employees will contribute $1,480 through the payroll deduction plan.

The employee donation is slightly less than it was last year, probably because of the economic slowdown. The workers' average gift was more this year, but because there are 25 per cent fewer employees now, donations slumped from the total of $1,613.96 contributed in 1969.

President Erla is still optimistic over the final results of the drive.

If we all get together and our volunteer solicitors give it that final push we should make our goal. Cass City has the enviable record of always meeting its quota in the Chest drive, Erla concluded.

10 per cent of school lunches served free

The hot lunch program at the various schools sparked what little discussion there was when the 1970-71 budget for Cass City Community Schools was presented Monday night.

The previously announced $1.23 million budget, up over 20 per cent from last year's $1 million expenditures, drew few responses from the 7 or 8 taxpayers attending.

Lambert Althaver asked for clarification over a budget figure that indicated the cost of plant maintenance would nearly double for the year.

Supt. Don Crouse explained that the figure jumped from $28,295 to a projected $44,200 so that needed repairs to the Intermediate School could be completed.

Much has already been done, it was pointed out by Crouse and the board, and much remains to be done. The school has received new windows all around, the bricks have been painted and a new boiler installed in recent years.

Still facing the taxpayer is the cost of new lights in the gym, new locker facilities, a new gym floor, new doors at all entrances and other expensive projects.

Some of the maintenance, the board feels, is normal because the building is 40 years old, while other projects should have been completed previously but have been delayed because of lack of funds.

The hot lunch program report indicated it operated in the black, netting $1,195 during the 1969-70 year.

In the entire system, between 700 and 900 lunches are served daily and about 10 per cent of them are furnished free to families which qualify because of low family incomes.

Hot lunches cost 40 cents in the grades and intermediate schools and 45 cents in the high school. The government refunds 20 cents per meal for free meals served and also gives the school surplus food. Without the availability of free lunches, no surplus food would be available.

Because of these factors, Supt. Crouse says that it's possible that the non-paying students are not actually costing the parents paying for meals any extra money.

A comparison of the Cass City district with neighboring unnamed districts ranks Cass City's operation with other schools. Five other schools were ranked, including three "class B" schools and three class "C" schools.

For the year ending June 30, 1970, Cass City spent 82 per cent of its total operational budget for salaries. Other schools spent from 83 per cent to 86 per cent.

The school ranked well in total instructional expenses, but a break-down revealed that some areas compared better than others.

Cass City, for instance, spent 47 per cent of its teaching expense for elementary teachers while the average for all schools was 40 per cent.

At the secondary level, the average in Cass City was 25 per cent as compared to 32 per cent for the other schools. Total teacher expense was 72 per cent as compared to 75 per cent for the average of the other five schools.

Cass City's costs are greater than the average in transportation service which costs 9 per cent as compared to an average of 8 per cent and plant operation was 11 per cent compared to a 10 per cent average for the other schools.

Crouse said that the transportation costs are higher in Cass City because about 50 per cent of the students are transported over longer routes than some neighboring schools. He said the work at the Intermediate school has boosted plant maintenance costs.

GEORGE ROCH received a diamond tie bar with the General Cable symbol last week from Richard A. Rinaldi, right, the plant manager. The pin boasts two diamonds and an emerald. Watching the presentation is Tom Bowers, personnel manager.

Girl injured in 2 car mishap

Roxann Walkowski, 16, Deckers, was injured in a two-car accident Friday afternoon at 4:05, when the car she was driving collided with a second car driven by Craig Michael Gogola, 24, of Mount Clemens. According to state police at the Sandusky post, Miss Walkowski pulled out of a gas station at Hemans into the path of the northbound car on M-53 driven by Gogola.

Both Roxann Walkowski and a passenger in the Gogola automobile, Joan Gogola, 23, were taken to Marlette Community Hospital for treatment of their injuries.

Roxann Walkowski was issued a citation for failure to yield the right-of-way.

A two-car accident occurred Saturday at 2:30 p. m. on Spencer St., south of the Deckersville Road in Deford when Frank John Janik, 38, of 1870 Pigeon Rd, backed out of a driveway into the path of a car driven by Thomas E. Grimsley, 45, of 7760 Bridge Rd., Waterford.

According to Tuscola County Sheriff's Deputies, the Grimsley vehicle was turning a corner as the Janik car backed out. There were no injuries.

The new worthy matron's colors for the year are lavender and white. Her flower is the lily and her motto, "Just for Today".

Mrs. Franz Chisholm was refreshment committee chairman. An arrangement of lavender and white flowers decorated the table, which was covered with a white cloth topped with lavender net.

Mrs. George Hendershot and Mrs. Edmond Good Sr. poured when refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. George Russell

Miss Ruby Ann Burk became the bride of George Russell in a double-ring ceremony performed at the Shabbona United Methodist Church, Saturday, Oct. 31. Rev. Stephen Chapko officiated at the 3:00 p.m. rites. The church was decorated with palms, white gladioli and yellow mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burk I of Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Russell of Cass City are the couple's parents.

The bride's street-length, A-line gown was made of white velvet, with long, white chiffon sleeves. The cuff of the sleeves was of velvet, trimmed with pearl beading. She carried white carnations centered with six yellow roses. She wore a gold locket that was a gift from the groom.

The bride's dress was made by the bride and her mother, Margaret Battel of Cass City was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of brown velvet. It featured an A-line pattern with short puffed sleeves and was trimmed with gold braid. She carried a small basket of fall colored mums. Miss Battel and her mother made her dress.

Mike Healey of Cass City was best man and Tom Russell of Cass City, brother of the groom, and Jim Burk of Decker, brother of the bride, seated around 100 guests, which included only family members.

Mrs. Arthur Severance of Decker was organist and Lori Smith of Cass City sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride's mother wore a beige dress with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of rust-colored mums. The groom's mother wore a two-piece blue suit and matching accessories and wore a blue-tinted mum corsage.

Around 100 guests attended the wedding reception, which was held immediately following the ceremony in the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell are making their home on Koepgen Road after a short honeymoon in lower Michigan.

NOTICE OF LETTING OF CRAWFORD DRAIN

Notice of Letting of Drain Contract and Review of Apportionments

Notice is Hereby Given, That I, Leslie E. Lounsbury, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, will, on the 27th day of November "A. D. 1970, at the Drain Commissioners office in the Court House of Village of Caro, in said County of Tuscola, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, receive sealed bids until 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain Drain known and designated as "J. E. Crawford Drain," located and established in the Township of Elkland in said County.

All stations are 100 feet apart.

The total length of the J. E. Crawford and Branch Drain to be excavated is 20,444 feet, or 1239 rods, or 3.87 miles. The average cubic yards per lineal foot of excavation is .747, or a total of 15,270 cubic yards. The bottom width is as follows:

From station 0+00 to 38+00 6 feet.
From station 38+00 to 70+00 5 feet.
From station 70+00 to 158+44 4 feet (terminus)

Branch:
From station 0+00 to 46+00 4 feet (terminus)

All excavation is to be taken from the field side of the ditch opposite the road bed where ditch is parallel and adjacent to a road and roadside brush is to be cut and disposed of.

Bottoms of drains entering new drain shall be graded to match new excavation. Side slopes of 1 1/2 to 1 will be rigidly insisted upon. Dirt is to be levelled to 12 inches and feathered out to field elevations where right of way permits or property owner consents, except in front of lawns or yards, where dirt is to be hauled away.

All brush, trees, logs and debris is to be kept separate from the dirt and after leveling is completed the brush, trees, etc. are to be pushed into piles suitable for burning and placed on the leveled dirt. Any large stone or pieces of concrete removed is to be buried with a minimum of 30 inches of cover. The excavating contractors shall bid on excavation and leveling separately. The excavating contractor shall place and backfill all culverts, road culverts are to be backfilled with porous material approved by the Tuscola County Road Commission, and farm culverts are to be backfilled with dry material approved by the County Drain Commissioner.

Bids on bag riprap will be taken separately or in conjunction with excavating bids. The bag riprap is to be placed on a concrete foundation and extend 12 inches into the ditch bank. Bag riprap shall be constructed using bags measuring a minimum of 16 inches by 27 inches inside sewn seams when empty, and a mixture of 5 parts of 60-40 washed gravel and 1 part Portland cement and sufficient clean water to make a stiff mix.

The bag riprap shall be placed in a circular wall curved toward the center of the culverts and with slope of 2 inches per foot where possible. At locations where the wall must be straight, a slope of 1/3 on 1 shall be required. The riprap foundation must start 1 foot below the flowline of the culverts.

Reinforcing steel 3/8 inch by 2 1/2 feet shall be driven into the riprap at 15 inch intervals from bottom to top as it is placed, with approximately a 6 inch steel lap.

The riprap contractor shall complete the crossings immediately after excavating and finish the backfill by tamping back of the riprap and leave each crossing ready to use.

This notice of letting and Engineers specifications shall be considered as part of this contract. In the construction of said drain the following quantities and character of bag riprap and pipe will be required and contracts let for same:

Note: All bids must include interest in unit prices.

Riprap - 150 sq. yds.

Crossings to be handled as follows:

DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bulen

Here's a football fact that's hard to believe, but it's true . . . When Cumberland College was shutout in a game against Georgia Tech in 1916, the longest gain Cumberland had all day was a 4-yard loss!

Did you know one of the owners of a National Football League team is probably the most successful horse-bettor in the history of horse racing? . . . Art Rooney, who owns the Pittsburgh Steelers, once won a quarter-of-a-million dollars in betting in ONE DAY at a race track! . . . Rooney made his killing at the Saratoga track in the 1930s.

Who would you say have been the 11 greatest college football players of the last 50 years? . . . Well, a panel of experts recently picked an all-time team, and see if you agree with it. . . For ends they picked Don Hutson of Alabama and Bennie Costerbaan of Michigan . . . Tackles, Bruiser Kinard of Mississippi and Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota. . . Guards, Jim Parker of Ohio State and Bob Suftridge of Tennessee. . . Center, Mel Hein of Washington State. . . And, in the backfield, Sammy Baugh of TCU, Jay Berwanger of Chicago, Red Grange of Illinois and Ernie Nevers of Stanford.

tattoo," I explained. "What does that mean?" she asked. "It means I'm too rugged to be suckered by this fancy, frilly, got - to - have - a - gimmick world," I explained. "Forget it," she said. "I'm sorry I asked."

"But I want you to understand," I said. "It's important to you. Everyone else at the game will notice my extreme virility. As my wife, you should know about it too."

"Are you serious?" she asked.

"It's the cigaret commercials on TV," I explained. "It used to be you could recognize the hero by his tattoo, if he rode a horse and branded calves on his butts. Or you could recognize him by his hot eyes if he rode a barstool and picked up broads simply by flashing the brand of his butts. . . ."

"You're not serious," she interrupted. " . . . well, there's no tattoo parlor in our town and those Captain Marvel transfers kept washing off," I continued explaining. "Also, I always hated to turn on my hot eyes in a bar because it melted the ice. So I felt like an impotent sissy. But now the Camel cigaret people have shown me a practical way to prove my manhood."

"Don't take either hand off the steering wheel," she said. "But what does all this have to do with 2 coats?"

"I knew you'd get interested when the conversation got sexy," I said. "The point is that Camel doesn't frill up their cigarets with menthol or cork tips or coupons that'll furnish palaces. The TV commercials say their cigaret is straight tobacco, fine tobacco, with no gimmicks. Left unspoken is the obvious threat: if those fancy weakened cigarets can give you cancer, what can you get from Camels? It takes a brave man to find out."

"And then the brave man appears. He lights his Camel, squints his eyes, blows the smoke, SLINGS HIS COAT OVER HIS SHOULDER, and then strides off to watch a prize-fight or win World War 3. No matter where he goes, he doesn't wear his coat, he hangs it over his shoulder. That's virility," I said.

"I've seen those commercials," she said. "But the hero carrying the coat is in his shirt-sleeves. You are wearing 1 coat and carrying the other one."

"Well, it's cold out," I explained. "They film those commercials under hot lights."

"OK," she said. "But don't you think you could settle for just 1 coat until we get to the game. I don't think it's safe driving with a coat over your shoulder."

"If it were a tattoo, could I take it off to drive?" I asked out of the corner of my mouth, crinkling my eyes and twitching my cheek.

"You are serious. You think you're Humphrey Bogart," she said.

"Onward and Upward," I said.

Stubborn fire at elevator

A stubborn smoldering fire in the storage elevator of Michigan Bean Company challenged Elkland Township Fire Department volunteers last week.

The fire broke out in the stored corn and was covered by tons of grain. The State Fire Marshall at first advised that the corn be hosed down.

But later it was decided to cut a hole in the pipe and remove the corn that was burning.

Michigan Bean Manager Bob Wischmeyer said that several truckloads of corn were hauled away as the fire was brought under control.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

The continuously mild late fall weather has increased the number of entries in the unusual produce derby. Latest to bring a sample was Ed Anthes with a branch from a raspberry bush loaded with luscious fruit. Started bearing in September, Ed says.

The Chronicle will be waiting, anxiously waiting, for all the details about your successful deer hunt this season to run in the annual "Buck Luck" column. The name is a misnomer as we want the details about any deer that is killed.

If you get yours early call us as we want a "first deer" picture. Since it will probably be Sunday, call the Haire residence (not the office) and we'll make arrangements.

As the next in command after the death of Bill Schram, much of the daily dealing with the public by the Cass City Public Works Department has drifted to Eldon Stoutenburg.

I never knew what Bill went through before, he confides. I average two or three calls a day now about village business.

Don't get the wrong idea, though, because Eldon isn't complaining. In fact he sort of enjoys the responsibility. Dealing with the public apparently doesn't bug him at all.

Mrs. Marilyn Schott, who has dabbled in antiques for several years now, claims that just about every other house in town has someone in it interested in antiques.

To back her claim she listed homes in several blocks of town with collectors and pointed to all the fashion stores in the cities who have incorporated some form of antiques in their decor.

It's big, big, big, Marilyn says, and as one of the unenlightened who doesn't know an antique from a piece of worn out furniture, I'm in no position to dispute it.

Making the advertising rounds for the Chronicle reaffirmed something that we suspected previously.

The first is that strike or no strike the snowmobile business is booming. Dealers are happy with business. The second is that the Walbro snowmobile carburetor is the "hot" one on the market.

One Cass City dealer has orders for 24 conversions to the Walbro and has just one kit in stock to make the switches. Dealers buy the Walbro carburetor through their snowmobile manufacturers or from jobbers who buy from the plant in large lots.

Bank sets June target date for new building

Target date for completion of the new Kingston State Bank building on M-46, east of Kingston High School, is June 1, Louis Wenzloff, executive vice-president, said this week.

Ground was broken for the new building in ceremonies Monday afternoon with township and village officials participating.

According to Wenzloff, the new 28 by 96-foot building will be about four times the size of the present Kingston building and is built on three acres to allow for expansion.

The bank will feature four offices, a drive-in window, night depository and parking for 25 cars.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

The plant that nobody wanted

By Dan Marlowe

Things I Never Knew Until
I Read It In The Paper:

In 1948, the partly destroyed Volkswagen factory in West Germany was offered to Henry Ford II. For nothing, Ford already had a plant in Germany, and the offer was rejected upon the advice of the then board chairman, Ernest Breech.

So the plant nobody wanted -- other offers having been made after the Ford declination -- was turned back to the Germans. The following year, 1949, two Volkswagens were sold in the U. S., a volume that didn't exactly scare the pants off Detroit. Even in 1955, when Volkswagen sold 30,000 vehicles here, the total impression was that of a single drop of water in a rain barrel.

Today it's a different story. There are 1150 Volkswagen dealers in this country, and they will sell close to 600,000 cars this year. Volkswagen's beetle ranks as the fourth largest-selling model in the U. S., topped only by Impala, Chevelle, and Maverick.

Ford, which could have had the beetle for nothing, or at least seen to it that it never got off the ground, has been forced to bring out the Pinto in an effort to repel the invader. General Motors is producing the Vega for the same reason. General Motors used to employ Heinz Nordhoff, who died in 1968, the man generally given credit for the fantastic success story of the beetle.

Volkswagen Inc. is different not only in its automobiles. It's different in its approach to the selling of cars. Under-statement rather than exaggeration; that's the Volkswagen hallmark. Who isn't familiar with the Volkswagen ads in magazines and on television which poke fun at themselves?

Example: At the 1971 Volkswagen preview, it was pointed out to onlookers that the automatic transmission panel now lights up. A VW spokesman explained why as follows: "Before this, thieves got into your Volkswagen at night, and they couldn't see where to shift."

Heard any good Volkswagen jokes recently? These two are from SMALL WORLD, the VW house organ. The following ad appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle: "Volkswagen, sunroof, family growing, car isn't. Must sell two boys or Volkswagen. Your choice, $926.26."

Or this tall Texan tale: A tourist asked a Texas millionaire why he drove a VW instead of a Cadillac. "Because I have insomnia," replied the Texan, "and I've discovered that by driving a few hours before I go to bed I sleep better." The tourist: "Couldn't you drive in a Cadillac?" The Texan: "In my bedroom?"
You're smiling?
Detroit isn't.

Mrs. Mathewson dies in hospital

Mrs. Bruce Mathewson, 60, succumbed, Tuesday, Nov. 3, in Huron Memorial Hospital at Bad Axe.

Funeral services were held Friday, Nov. 6, at Little's Funeral Home. The Rev. Ira Wood, pastor of Salem United Methodist Church, officiated.

She was born in Harbor Beach Aug. 2, 1910, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Hagadone.

She and Mr. Mathewson were married April 16, 1953, in Angola, Ind., and they came to the Cass City area from Harbor Beach eight years ago.

Surviving, besides her husband, are: four sons, Richard Dickinson of Pontiac, Robert Dickinson of Detroit and Gerald Mathewson and Philip Mathewson, both of Deford; five stepdaughters, Mrs. Roger Felhaber of Frankenthum, Miss Monalou Mathewson of Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. Donald Clark and Mrs. Darlene Cox, both of Wyandotte, and Mrs. Richard Chappell of Ohio.

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Bernard Ganley of Caro and Miss Dorothy Hagadone of Miami, Fla.; 14 grandchildren, and 10 stepgrandchildren.

Burial was in Novesta cemetery.

Food means more to a child than just satisfying hunger. Inadequate nutrition can mean poor health which extends into adulthood. Nutrition specialists at Michigan State University advise mothers to include the basic four food groups in their meal plans. The four food groups are: dairy products, meats, fruits and vegetables, and breads and cereals.

Allens return from Midwest trip

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Allen of Deford returned recently from an extended vacation in the Midwest, visiting friends and relatives. They left Michigan Sept. 26, taking Mrs. Jean Ellison and son Mark to their home at Milan, Ind.

The Allens and the Elvin Ellison family toured the Crescent Mills on the Whitewater Canal at Metamora, Ind. The site features an antique sale and flea market along the banks of the canal and the canal boat, "The Valley Belle," on week ends and holidays. There are numerous old art shops in the town along the canal.

One week end was spent with a group of campers from Winfield, Kansas, at Medicine Lodge, Kansas, and attending the Medicine Lodge Indian Peace Treaty Festival.

The historical pageant is performed by descendants of the Arapahoes, Kiowa - Apaches, Cheyennes, Comanches and Kiowas. The festival included various ceremonies, dances and parades.

The Allens spent another week end in the Shepherd of the Hills Country, Branson and Silver Dollar City, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poehell, Rodney and Barbara visited a college, School of the Ozarks, near Branson, Missouri. The first three weeks in October, the Folk Festival is held at Silver Dollar City.

They also visited Eureka Springs in the mountains of northern Arkansas and Meramec Caverns, near Stanton, Mo.

Seek improvements in probate court system

Michigan's probate court system is being examined by a special 10-man commission to see what improvements can be made in it.

The commission was appointed by Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan, whose post makes him the chief administrator for all the courts in the state.

Brennan says the committee is searching for suggestions from laymen as well as lawyers on ways in which Michigan's probate system can be improved.

will cause environment damage from the warm water which flows into lakes or rivers.

Harlan Hatcher, former U-M president and a member of an international team to study environment, told members of the University Press Club of Michigan that it seems wisest to begin production of nuclear power now, observing what, if any, damage is done and making what changes need to be made if trouble develops. He indicated that the nation's need for power is so critical and the dangers from this procedure so questionable that cautious progress should continue.

The commission recommendation for the moratorium was forwarded to both the Federal Water Quality Administration, which rejected the state's last proposal of a set of standards.

It also was sent to the Atomic Energy Commission, which must approve all new plants before they can begin operating. The AEC, however, worries mainly about potential radiation.

The commission said in its recommendation that if at any time during the five-year period it appeared existing plants were damaging life in the waters around them, they should be shut down or modified to stop such damage.

The high court was given new supervisory powers over the state's lower courts by the 1963 constitution and the current study is its latest move in exercising those powers.

With so much doubt among even the experts concerning what the effects of thermal pollution on large bodies of water will be, the Michigan Water Resources Commission has proposed the placing of a five-year moratorium on the construction of nuclear power plants on Lake Michigan.

Only one such plant is now in operation in Michigan on the shores of Lake Michigan. That one is located in Big Rock Point near Charlevoix.

Two other plants are under construction at Palisades Park near South Haven and at Bridgman, and these two plants would be allowed to begin operation under the Commission's proposal.

The operation and effects of these three plants would be tested over a five-year span before any more could be built under the plan.

People need electric power which can be supplied no other effective way than by nuclear production, but there is some concern that present methods

Agent's Corner

Mrs. Margaret Ross
Extension Agent

"Roger, Houston, got the message." It's amazing that we can get the message across to men 250,000 miles away. Yet we are unable to get much down-to-earth communication going between adults and teenagers.

This concern has been voiced by both parents and teens. One major hurdle in the way of understanding is that the two generations don't really hear each other.

It's a non-listening habit that's been taught from childhood on. Children are praised if they talk early. Grade-schoolers are rewarded if they give a good demonstration or debate well. Not very many people praise a good listener.

Especially if you deal with teens -- as a parent or in your job -- it's worth your while to develop listening skill. As you get better at listening, you'll see that there's definitely a time to listen. That time is when the teen wants to talk. There's a way to listen -- calmly, without judging too fast. Give him your undivided attention, sincerely concentrating on what he's saying.

Much of what teens say is to test out their ideas -- get a reaction. If these ideas differ from those of adults, it doesn't mean that the ideas are wrong. Nor does it mean that the teen is firmly convinced that he is right. Ask yourself, "What are his feelings behind the words he's saying?"

When you become a skilled listener, your teen is likely to return the compliment and hear you out. Maybe both can say, "Roger, got the message."

The go-getter has his future before him, while the stand-patter has his behind him.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Several heavily populated counties in Michigan have initiated a "stamp plan" for distribution of dried surplus foods, but the plan is not slated in Tuscola county. Welfare Director Don Peterhans said that the stamps are not contemplated here for two reasons. . . . economy and convenience.

Opening of a branch office of Catholic Family Service at Caro on a part-time basis was announced by the Board of Directors and Director of the agency Paul J. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Martin of Uby, will be in charge. He is a graduate of National Catholic School of Social Service at Washington, D. C.

John Laurie of Cass City is one of 30 young Michigan farmers slated to take part in a University of Michigan program designed to create a hard core of new agricultural leaders.

Final returns of the area's corn crop indicate that the yields will be down about a third, George Fisher, manager of Frutchey Bean Co. of Cass City, reported.

TEN YEARS AGO

A large T-shaped barn and its contents were lost in an electrical storm at the Harvey Linderman farm, eight miles east of Cass City.

Harold Schwaderer is recovering from a 25-foot fall suffered while he was trimming trees near Lake Orion. The accident occurred when a limb broke from dry rot. Schwaderer broke his wrist in three places.

The Tuscola County Association for Retarded Children was formed at a meeting held at the courthouse in Caro. Mr. Robert Reich of Unionville was named temporary chairman and Mrs. Norma Winters, Akron, was made secretary of the newly organized group.

Members of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce Board are working nightly in an attempt to complete the new Main Street Christmas displays under the direction of Lloyd Vyse.

The Cass City post office moved into its new quarters at the corner of Church and Sherman Streets.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

After receiving his discharge at the Great Lakes, Ill., separation center following three and a half years in Navy combat service, Robert Tindale Wallace, 30, son of Alfred J. Wallace, of Cass City, was fatally injured in what state police believe was a hit and run accident on M-53, two miles south of Romeo.

Officers of the Cass City Community Club were selected at the November meeting. They are: President, Horace Pinney; vice-president, Howard Woolley; secretary, Frank Weatherhead; treasurer, Bernard Ross.

George B. Martin, superintendent of the Caro schools, has resigned effective Jan. 1, 1946, to become a travelling representative of the American Book Co. with western Michigan as his territory.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Coleman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary when open house was held for them at the home of their son, Myles Coleman.

Lt. Leonard McDonald, who spent three and a half years in the Air Corps and a year overseas, will be discharged from the service and arrive at his home in Gagetown sometime in November.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Angus McPhail of Cass City is named president of the Thumb Mortician Association. Vice-president is C. P. Hunter of Gagetown and R. G. Paynter of Bad Axe is secretary-treasurer.

The Fisher family reunion was held at the Mrs. George Seed home when Mrs. Seed and Mrs. Walter Kilpatrick entertained with a pre-Thanksgiving dinner.

Sunday afternoon, Nov. 10, students will be enrolled at the Evangelical church here for Standard Leadership courses, as part of a county-wide series of schools convened simultaneously at Vassar, Caro and Cass City.

Cass City's debate team composed of Frank Morris, Patricia Pinney and Shirley Lennzer with Daniel Kroll, instructor, will meet the Mt. Morris group at Mt. Morris as they begin their first engagement in the state debating series.

A. D. Gallery, publisher of the Advertiser at Caro, and Mrs. Gallery received injuries when their car was in a collision with a truck at the intersection of M-81 and M-24, three miles west of Reese.

GRAVE MISTAKE

One way to give your car a lasting finish is to insist upon passing on hills and curves.

AROUND THE FARM

White beans may be at peak price

By William Bortel

The farmers harvesting the red bean crop in Tuscola county have experienced many problems this fall along with the other fall harvested crops of beets, corn, and white beans. There are areas in the state that have over 30% of the red beans still standing in the fields. Many of these beans may never be harvested and there is a good chance for further price gains on them.

The price in California has gone up $2.00 in the last month and they now have taken the price off of the board. The big question on the red bean prices is: Can they harvest the New York crop of red beans?

The white bean crop is about completed with approximately 5% remaining in the fields. With the rains of the past week, it is very questionable if they will ever be harvested. The crop estimate of beans is now 6.5 million bags or a state average of 17.3 bushels per acre on 624,000 acres.

There is an estimate of 790,000 bags of colored beans leaving a balance of 5.7 million bags of white beans. Many people feel there is little chance of further price raise on whites.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle was speaking to the fellers in parables again at the country store Saturday night. He told about this feller that went through college in this country and went to Europe to study for two years. On the way home he was reading on the deck of the boat when sudden a gust of wind blew all his notes from all his education overboard. Ed said the feller come on home and went to work at his Pa's service station.

Ed was right, allowed Zeke Grubb, it don't pay to invest everthing in things outside yourself. Fer instant, Zeke said, he had saw where two dozen graduate students lost all their research papers in a fire in their laboratory, and now they got to start all over. But education is more than taking notes, Zeke said, and them that take it serious will have a lot stored up in their heads where they will have it as long as they got heads.

Ed was thinking about the feller in Detroit that has walked around 34 year afore he learned his blood was worth $1,500 a quart because it had some rare stuff needed for research. Now that, allowed Ed, is what you would call keeping your investment safe. The feller signed a contract to sell $12,000 worth of blood a year.

Course, Ed went on, not everybody can expect to come up with a deal like that, since this one feller can supply all the hole country needs of whatever it is he's got. But Ed was saying that most of us want the sure thing as long as it don't take too much effort on our part. What got Ed on this line of thinking was this ad he had saw in the papers for one of them reducing places. Ed had the clipping and I wrote it down. It said "our magic no-work electronic equipment melts away pounds and inches at the touch of a button."

Now that, allowed Ed, is what American life is all about in the minds of too many of us. We think all we got to do to get what we want is press a button, or not even that, just lay back and wait fer what we want to happen.

The feller that runs the store was all agreed with Ed. He said the other day a feller stopped by that had been on a trip studying housing needs for the outfit he works fer, Housing and Urban Development. This feller said plenty folks need better houses alright, but them in the worst places won't even make the effort to move to a rent-free house.

What you got to do, the HUD feller said, is build the houses, find people that wants em, then the folks that really needs em will move where the other folks left. Right quick, then, the HUD man went on, you tear down the worst places afore some pore soul in still worst shape moves in.

It's pretty hard to help folks that won't help themselves, even when all they got to do is touch the magic button.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Polaris introduces a new concept in snowmobile design.

Time was when you could drop any ol' two-cycle engine into a snowmobile chassis and have yourself a pretty fair machine—once you got it started.

But that day is over. Polaris makes the drop-in, bolt-in engine obsolete.

We design our famous Star engine specifically for snowmobiling. We make it easy to start, quick to accelerate. Rugged. Then we build the machine around it.

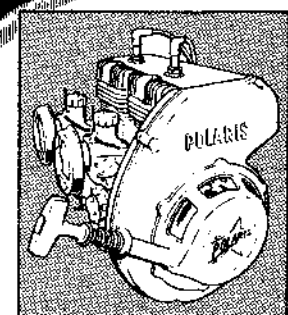

This common-sense engineering concept keeps ahead of competition on the racing circuit. It'll keep you first on the Freedom Trail.

Mrs. Limberger dies in Saginaw

Funeral services for Mrs. Roland Limberger, 52, of De-ford were held Saturday, Nov. 7, at Little's Funeral Home.

Mrs. Limberger died Tues-day, Nov. 3, in Saginaw Gen-eral Hospital.

Born in Brookfield township Aug. 9, 1918, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Lutat.

She and Mr. Limberger were married in Elkton April 18, 1936, and they moved to the Cass City area from Pigeon eight years ago.

Besides her husband, sur-viving are: four daughters, Mrs. Ronald (Beverly) Nitz of Cass City, Mrs. Larry (Ruby) Trost of Pigeon, Mrs. Elmer (Nancy) Schultz of Owendale and Cindy, at home; five sons, Roland Jr. of Pigeon, Earl of Sebewaing, Larry of Cass City and Jerry and Timmy, at home.

Also surviving are four sis-ters, Mrs. Herman Fredrick of Owendale, Mrs. Emma John-son of Nottingham, Pa., Mrs. Nora Nuser and Mrs. Leona Shores of Flint; two brothers, Elmer Lutat of Flint and Ed-ward Lutat of New Baltimore, and 10 grandchildren.

The Rev. Waschilewsky of Frankenthuth officiated and burial was in Novesta ceme-tery.

Still need more leaders for 4-H

BY BERNARD JARDOT

Never before have young people been more important to America than they are today. The 4-H youth program like many other youth programs are being challenged to continue and expand its programs to meet the needs of today's youth, re-ports Bernie Jardot, 4-H youth agent.

The 1970 President's Task Force on Rural Development commended 4-H for the em-phasis on private initiative through productive individual projects and urged that these programs be intensified and expanded to serve more rural youth. Interest in 4-H youth programs is being expressed by many National and State groups who are working to help expand 4-H to make it more available to our youth regard-less of where they live.

Also more and more parents have indicated that they want their youngster to have the kinds of experiences 4-H has to offer. Yes, our young people find 4-H is fun and is unbeat-able in its combination of learn-ing by doing.

The great need today is for increased numbers of volunteer adult and teen leaders to advise the expanded number of youth interested in 4-H. With this in mind several information meet-ings have been held in Tuscola county for both youth and their parents. If you are interested in serving as an adult advisor for a 4-H group, contact the county 4-H office, Civil Defense Center, Caro.

24 attend Legion Auxiliary meet

Twenty-four persons, includ-ing four guests, attended the monthly meeting of the Ameri-can Legion Auxiliary Monday evening in the Legion hall.

Seventh district president, Mrs. Corrinne Lovelock of St. Clair Shores, spoke to the group. She announced that the number of nurses scholarships to be awarded this year by the Department of Michigan will be 15, an increase of two.

The local Auxiliary now has 76 paid-up memberships for the coming year with a quota of 84.

Twenty-seven gifts have been purchased by the local unit and sent to the VA hospital at Battle Creek for the annual Christmas giftshop program.

There were games and re-freshments at the close of the business meeting, with the door prize going to Carol Richard-son.

BETTER HEALTH

Do psychic problems cause high blood pressure?

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

I occasionally see articles by psychiatrists who write that they feel people who develop high blood pressure are of a certain personality type which is the cause of their disease. One article described the person who develops high blood pressure (we doctors call it hypertension) as having personality problems such as "exaggerated dependent strivings, submissiveness coupled with stubbornness, feelings of weakness and defenselessness, suppression of hostility, fear of injury, and emotional detachment.

This type of theoretical writing is much in contrast to my experience with many hypertensive patients. I have known a number of two-fisted, hard-driving business executives and self-made millionaires who were anything but fearful, repressed, or inhibited. One of these patients dominated one of the toughest unions on the San Francisco waterfront for years, and another fought his way up from being a stevedore to being the owner of a large shipping line. This last man had a sudden big rise in his blood pressure whenever he lost his very violent temper. I was able to convince him that in order to save himself from having a stroke when he exploded at a customer or discovered someone was trying to cheat him, he had to keep from letting his temper get out of hand.

There is no doubt that at times, and in some cases, mental strain and strong emotion have something to do with high blood pressure. I have had patients with hypertension whose pressure shot up 50 millimeters (mm.) or so when they got angry. I remember a widow whose pressure used to shoot up from about 160mm. (a fairly normal blood pressure) to 240 mm. whenever she had a stormy interview with her good-for-nothing son, who was always trying to break the trust fund which his father had set up for him.

My impression is, however, that the most important factor in producing high blood pressure is a hereditary predisposition to the disease. Without this, a man can live a very strenuous life with plenty of worry and resentment and emotional upset without ever developing high blood pressure. A person needs to watch out for high blood pressure when he knows that someone in his family -- perhaps his father or uncle -- got into trouble because of hypertension. With a certain inborn predisposition, a person under a lot of emotional strain can develop various types of nervously connected diseases, such as a peptic ulcer, severe migraine, asthma, or giant hives.

Another reason I have for doubting that psychic strain is the main cause of hypertension is that I have known so many persons with hypertension who had an easy, happy life and perfect health until perhaps in their late fifties, when their arteries started to go bad. They were gradually pulled down by little strokes. I have known intimately a number of persons with high blood pressure who were unusually competent, well-adjusted, friendly, and easy-going persons, without any signs of resentments or inadequacies.

When a man comes in much upset over the discovery that he has hypertension, and especially when it has been making his heart misbehave, often all I have to do to make him happier is to tell him that there are four types of hypertension with different degrees of severity and danger to life. He may be fortunate enough to have type I, which may never bother him and may not even shorten his life. I have seen many men and women living comfortably even with a grade II hypertension.

Grade III is serious, and generally needs treatment to prolong the person's life, and today there are many medicines which will lower such a blood pressure. The worst grade of hypertension is called, "malignant hypertension," which tends to advance rapidly and sometimes quickly takes the life of the person.

For a few years, blood pressure was lowered in some people by cutting the "sympathetic nerves," in the back of the abdomen, but today that operation has been largely given up and new drugs are used with success by experts like Dr. Irvine Page of the Cleveland Clinic.

Often an eye specialist can diagnose the grade of hypertension and the severity of the disease by looking into the back of the eye where he can see the arteries, and can see how badly they are diseased.

The best thing for a person with high blood pressure to do is to try to find a physician who has specialized in the treatment of the disease, and let him determine how extensively he must be treated.

Discover some of the causes, consequences and treatments of hypertension in Dr. Alvarez's booklet, "High Blood Pressure," which you may have by simply sending 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope along with your request for the booklet to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. CCC, Box 957, Des Moines, Iowa 50304.

Rites held for Edwin J. Smith

Funeral services for Edwin J. Smith, 80, of Southfield, were held Tuesday in Southfield. He died Saturday.

Mr. Smith spent the summer at his farm south of Cass City. Son of the late E. P. and Mary McLarty Smith, he was a retired public relations counsel for Borden Inc.

He was a former chief milk inspector for the Detroit Board of Health and was the author of the first statewide Michigan milk pasteurization law.

Mr. Smith was honorary lifetime director of the Michigan Milk Dealers Association, an associate member of the Wayne County Medical Society, a member of the Detroit Agricultural Club and a 15-year member of the Michigan State Fair Board.

Survivors are his wife, Verna; three daughters, Mrs. Elaine Mulkey, Mrs. James Hamburg and Mrs. David Bert, and eight grandchildren.

Coming Auction

Saturday, Nov. 21 - A household auction will be held at 6827 Seed St., Cass City, by Peter Rlenstra.

POOR JUDGMENT

High ideals are all right, but don't try to force all your acquaintances to accept them.

He makes a marvelous picture—but would he really make a marvelous chef? Can you imagine what might happen if you let him brew up a pot of everything his chubby little fingers could latch onto?

Let's face it! It takes thought, direction and planning to do anything well in life — even to make a good stew. Though a true chef may not follow the cookbook precisely, he will select and blend his ingredients with care and precision. Only then will the dish be a success.

What does all this have to do with going to church? More than you might think! If you have been leaving the Church out of your recipe for living, you have been missing some of life's most priceless ingredients — God's love, His priceless gift of Faith and some of the greatest lessons ever revealed to man.

was the document that spelled out the reasons for a civil war that was already in progress when presented. Any document that advocates the overthrow of the establishment is radical. One that advocates the overthrow by means of the use of force is extremely radical. Spawmed by a revolution it is a revolutionary document. No wonder the citizens who didn't recognize its source became upset. It upset a few good Americans when it was first published. Even then, not everyone was against the Establishment.

Sherwood Rice, Jr. in Who's who

Sherwood Rice Jr. of Gage-town has been listed in Who's Who in the Midwest, a reference book of noted persons. The book was released last week and contains the names of many of Michigan's and the region's most noted residents.

Area entries earn awards at Detroit

Area farm youth, following a trend established over many years, were among the top exhibitors at the Detroit Junior Livestock Show held at the Fairgrounds Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Friday youth from all over the State showed for placings and Saturday was sale day. The contestants were also hosted at the Detroit Junior Awards banquet Saturday. Sunday was showmanship day and sweepstake finals. Horse contests and events were held all three days with over 400 entries. Area winners included: Diane Leslie, who placed fourth with a heavyweight summer yearling. Diane Mittlestat placed sixth with a senior calf. Mike Turbok showed the 11th senior calf and Robbie Leslie placed 10th in the same competition. Among 27 entries, Mike Turbok was fifth in Junior showmanship. Colleen Leslie had the fifth place Hampshire individual pig and the sixth lightweight pen of 3 pigs. Tom Jickling of Kingston showed Hampshires and was fifth with his lightweight individual and second with heavyweight individual. He also showed the second place heavyweight pen of 3 pigs. He was second in Senior swine showmanship. Dale Auslander won his share of awards in horse competition. His registered quarterhorse gelding, two years old and under, "Foxy Friend", was second. With "Mini Babe", Dale placed seventh in non-registered Senior horse showmanship for 14-year-olds and older.

Adult education thrives
Bureaucracy flounders Headstart

Two new educational programs have been started this fall at Cass City Schools and both were discussed again Monday night by the Cass City Board of Education and school administrative personnel. The two programs are adult education and Headstart. Adult education seems to be progressing well, but Headstart may well flounder on the rocks of bureaucracy. Under the direction of Robert Watson, a choice of eight courses was offered for adult education. Of the eight, five are now in operation and one, Bishop sewing, has two classes. Sections are also operating in drafting, bookkeeping, art and women's physical education. Courses that found no takers included men's physical education, modern math and personal typing. The program has proved successful enough so that a search is underway to find a director to replace Watson who has left the system. In Headstart the outlook is not so bright. The only glow, according to Mrs. Jacqueline Freiburger, is the benefit the deprived children and their parents have received. All 15 of them.

ADDING FINISHING TOUCHES to one of the many antiques rounded up for a sale Friday and Saturday in Cass City is Mrs. Marilyn Schott who, with Mrs. Ann Rogers, is co-chairman of the event to raise funds for St. Pancratius Church.

Countering this is the snafu in relations between the office of Economic Opportunity in Caro and Cass City Schools. The OEO does not want to hire any local teacher to administer any part of the program. A meeting between a school board committee and the OEO head now indicates that Mrs. Freiburger will be paid for 97 hours she has devoted to the program. It is Supt. Donald Crouse's and Mrs. Freiburger's contention that the course cannot be offered in Cass City's buildings without help from Cass City's administrative people. Because of the controversy, the board has voted to allow the OEO to use an elementary school room this school year only. It is likely that a Headstart room will not be available next year due to program conflicts and the space requirement that Cass City School District's growing student population demands. In one other action, the board backed Supt. Crouse with guidelines to determine how much sick leave a teacher should be granted to care for a sick child. The consensus was one day. James MacTavish, school negotiator, attended the meeting and in informal discussion, said that this ruling would probably result in a grievance filed by the teachers' union for the teacher that was absent four days. Crouse told the board that in most instances teachers in the system had an excellent responsibility towards their jobs and abuses of the sick leave privilege have been very few.

Antique sale: ideas turn discards into cash

Persons connected with St. Pancratius Church's antique sale Friday and Saturday are hoping to turn ideas into cash for the church. For in antiques, ideas make money. Turning a part of pot bellied stove into a planter, a blacksmith bellows into a coffee table, a chicken brooder into a mail box and other discarded farm articles into everything imaginable is reflected in the ring of the cash register. Women of the church, spear-headed by Co-chairmen Mrs. Marilyn Schott and Mrs. Ann Rogers, have been working for three weeks to prepare for the big sale in the former Riley Shoe Store building on Main Street.

3 local officers complete police training course

Cass City's three police officials are among 27 county law officials who have completed a weekly training course at Caro and were feted at a banquet at Sebewaing last Wednesday. The class was offered one night a week and was taught by professionals from Delta College and Michigan State Police officials. It covered criminal law, investigation and procedures. Receiving certificates for completing the course were Chief Gene Wilson, John Rands and Bill McKinley. Enrollment cost for each officer was $75. After Jan. 1, Wilson said, all new police officers will be required to attend a similar school if they work in a department with over three men.

4 Cass Cityans at workshop

Mrs. Norma Wallace, Mrs. Jan Hurlburt, Mrs. Colleen Stafford and Mrs. Mary Albee of Cass City attended the Mid-Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries Fall Workshop in Midland Saturday, Nov. 7. These women represent a group of local mothers who are interested in starting a cooperative pre-school nursery in Cass City. The workshop was attended by 450 young mothers and teachers from Saginaw to the Straits. "It was encouraging to find out that many communities in Northern Michigan, with populations far smaller than Cass City's have highly successful pre-school nurseries," said Mrs. Hurlburt. Next Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Albee will hostess an informal organizational meeting at her home. Anyone in the area who is interested in organizing a pre-school nursery in Cass City is urged to call any of these four women.

Hawks bow to Hatchets in defense battle

The 1970 grid season will come to a close Friday for the Cass City High School Red Hawks when the griders meet Birch Run at Cass City Recreational Park.

The Hawks will be trying for their third victory of the season against Birch Run and they could have their hands full.

The Birchers will meet the Hawks fresh from a tie over previously undefeated, untied North Branch last week. For the season the Birchers have won but three while losing four and tying one. It could be quite a game if both teams played as they did the previous week.

Although Cass City did not edge into the win column, they did battle favored Bad Axe down to the wire in a 14-0 loss last Friday at Bad Axe.

The Hatchets are undefeated and untied and have rolled over most teams in impressive style this season.

But the Hawks refused to roll over and play dead for the Thumb B Conference champions.

It was not until the middle of the second quarter that either team was able to score. Bad Axe then took advantage of good field position to roll in for a touchdown. Elmer Gulgar capped the drive with a two-yard plunge.

The Hawks made their lone offensive drive in the second quarter immediately following the kick-off.

Starting from their own 45 they moved to the Hatchet 23-yard line before a penalty forced them to go to the air. The Hatchets intercepted to kill the threat.

It was the only time all night that the Hawks were able to move the ball consistently.

While the Hatchet offense failed to live up to its high State ranking, the defense did.

The Hatchets scored the touchdown that put the game out of reach in the third period as Don Nugent capped a long drive to score from nine yards out. A pass from Mark Gucwa to Charles Leonard was completed for the extra points.

The Hawks played the game without the running talents of Eugene Salas who sat the game out with sore legs.

Tom Hunt was credited with nine tackles while Marty LeValley and Kim Hopper picked up eight to spearhead the defense.

The statistics:

	CC	BA
Rushing yards	70	218
Passes complete	3/14	3/12
Passes intercepted	0	2
Yards passing	20	38
First downs	5	15
Plays run	56	75
Fumbles lost	0/3	2/2
Yards penalized	45	65

Dagmar Brown

re-enlists

In a brief ceremony at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center in Saginaw Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, Dental Technician first class Dagmar Brown was sworn into the Naval Reserves for a period of four years by Commander Louis Zanner.

She has completed more than 27 years in the Reserves, having first enlisted in the WAVES in June, 1943. She drills with her division (NRDS-106) every Wednesday evening.

Letter to Editor

Sir,
I don't know where you got your information for the article about Mr. Bulen's accident, but it wasn't entirely correct. My brother and I were not afraid to leave the road in the dark and we did so. We did not send Romayne Bassett who is about half my size into town to get help. We sent a passing motorist but somehow wires got crossed and I had to phone for help.

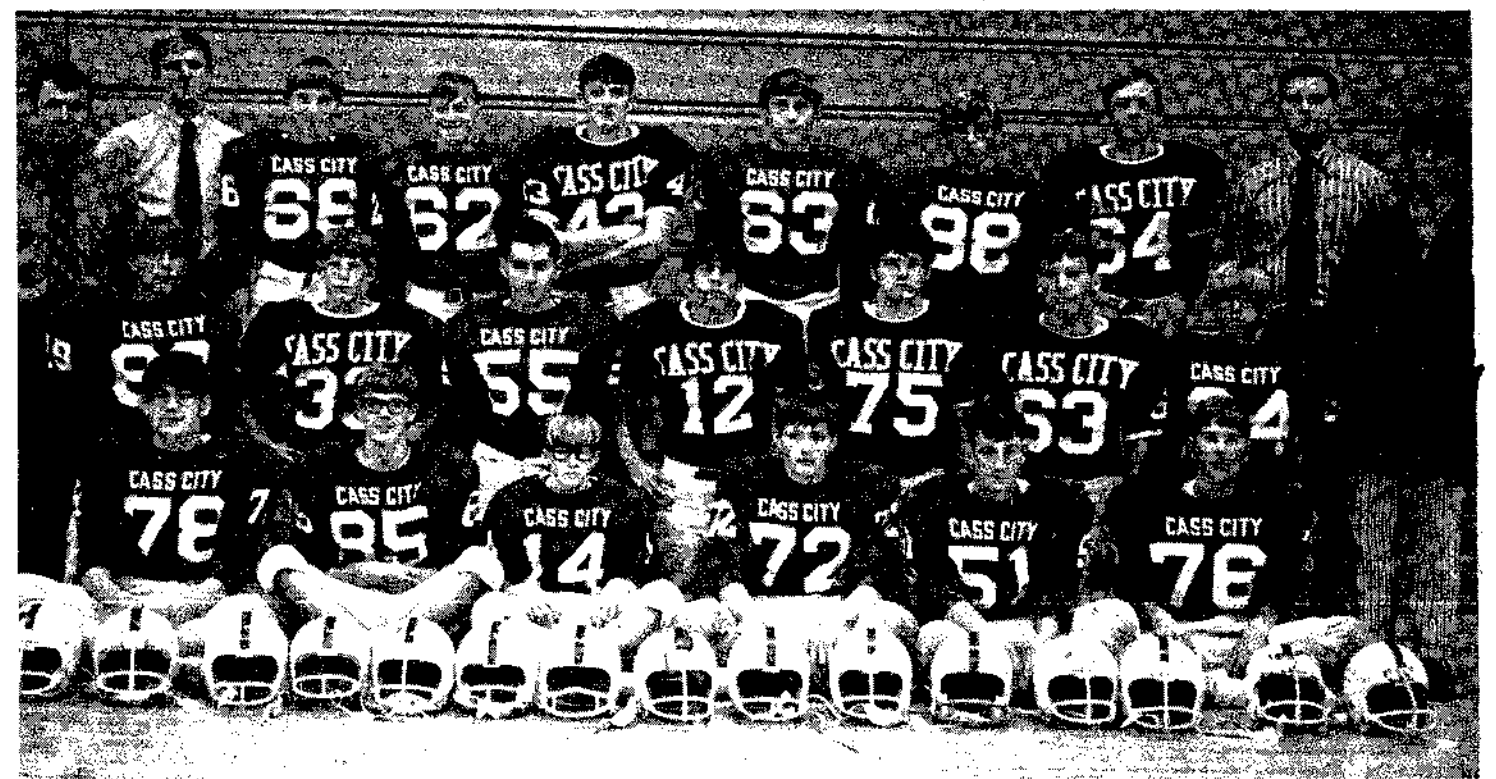

Actually this is all ridiculous because the only thing that matters is that Mr. Bulen will be alright.

I am not a glory seeker and I am not even asking for credit for helping Mr. Bulen. But I don't like being called a coward publicly when it is not true. Why would I send Romayne to get help when we had our car right there which was fully operable by the time we found Mr. Bulen. Besides, there was a phone right across the road which I did use to call an ambulance.

Either the person that gave you the information was not using his head or he was just making an assumption which he did not know for a fact to be true. Let me ask you a question. Was that person present at the scene when we found Mr. Bulen?

I suggest the next time you cover an incident such as this, get your information from a person involved instead of a bystander who puts his assumptions before what a person involved knows for a fact. If you question the truth of this letter, I would only be glad to prove it is all true.

Sentence Bland for passing bad check here

In Tuscola County Circuit Court this week Jerry Bland, 18, of Caro was sentenced on a conviction of obtaining money under false pretenses, a misdemeanor reduced from an original charge of uttering and publishing a bad check at Kitzman's in Cass City nearly a year ago.

Bland was given a year's probation, ordered to pay $200 in costs and spend 90 days in jail with credit for 58 days already served.

The probation specifies that Bland must obtain and maintain a job during the probationary term.

In District Court Kell Hoffman, 4607 N. Seeger St., was fined $35 and costs of $13 for careless driving.

Gerald Gilmore, Kingston, was fined $40 plus $13 costs on a similar charge.

Jerry Norton Heaton of 243 East Michigan Avenue, Battle Creek, was arrested this week and charged with breaking and entering the home of Don Cook at 4905 Lamont Rd., Cass City, Oct. 8. Heaton is accused of stealing a .22 caliber rifle at the Cook dwelling.

Heaton appeared before the magistrate Monday morning and was placed on $500 bond and ordered to appear for arraignment before Judge Kern Monday, Nov. 16. Heaton was an employee of a carnival at the time the alleged incident took place.

SEEK CANDIDATES FOR LEADERSHIP

Tuscola county is cooperating with three adjoining counties to participate in a new program called "New Horizons". The program will be a unique study-travel experience for selected community members. The other counties cooperating are Huron, Sanilac and Lapeer. William Bortel, county extension director, reported.

Forms are available at the Extension Office (Civil Defense building) in Caro to nominate individuals believed to be the best qualified for the program.

Pair jailed for school break-ins

Anthony Grillo, 29, and Donald Killingbeck, 27, both from Saginaw, are in the Tuscola county jail under $10,000 bond each, facing charges of breaking and entering the Millington High School in Millington. The Millington school was the fourth school entered within the last month following the break-ins at Unionville, Reese Public School and St. Michaels of Richville.

Both demanded a preliminary hearing upon their arraignment Monday afternoon. Grillo and Killingbeck were arrested early Friday morning after they allegedly attempted to elude Vassar Officer Fred Hecht after he had signalled them to stop for a routine traffic violation.

Hecht apprehended the pair

Junior Varsity ends season with victory

The Cass City Red Hawks Junior Varsity used a tackle eligible play that netted a pair of touchdown passes in the final quarter and a coveted 20-6 victory over the Caro Tigers JV's last Thursday.

The two passes went from Quarterback Curt Strickland to Tackle Tom Mellendorf. The first pay-off heave covered 25 yards. A moment later the same pair combined for the extra point.

The second toss to Mellendorf covered 11 yards and salted away the Cass City victory.

The Hawks were kept in the game in the first half as Mike Buniak darted off tackle and romped 40 yards to score. Caro countered with a sustained drive for a marker and the two teams left the field at the half with the score knotted to set the stage for Cass City's last half passing attack.

COUNTY WIDE BEAN DAY SET IN CARO

A Bean Day will be held in Tuscola county Tuesday, November 24. The county-wide event will be held at the Sacred Heart School multi-purpose room in Caro starting at 10:00 a. m., states Bill Bortel, Tuscola County Extension Director.

The program for the day will feature the latest culture practices of beans and the Tuscola County Corn Report will be distributed among the farmers in attendance. The county elevators will be sponsoring the noon lunch.

Rotarians slate work night

A work night has been scheduled by Cass City Rotarians Thursday to begin construction of an ice skating rink just east of Campbell Elementary School. Persons interested in helping club members are asked to report to the rink site at 6:30 p. m.

The rink will be constructed with a plastic base in an effort to keep the water from draining away during thaws. Rotary is assuming all expenses for the project.
