

FROM THE Editor's Corner

It's wonderful for my age that so many adults are kid-like when it comes to snowmobiling. Because riding one of the motorized sleds should really be a sport that is kicked for the sofa and easy chair when sedate middle age is reached. Or even when a guy becomes adult.

But no one has to tell you that there are probably more middle aged snow commandos around than any other age group. When I see a sedate businessman on a snowmobile I can rationalize my kid-like interest in seeing a group of boys bounce a round ball up and down the floor.

I'm a nut about basketball and get a charge out of watching high school teams play. Sure many adults do it, but most have special interests. A son plays, a daughter cheerleads, the husband coaches.

My daughter is a cheerleader and I suffer the usual parental swelling when she performs, but I'd watch the high school team play whether she cheered or not.

There are only a few other nuts like that. Don Crouse and Ken Maharg come immediately to mind. Of course, Ken is slipping a little. He missed the opener against Frankmuth... about the fourth game, home and away, that he missed in about four years.

Crouse is extremely faithful. Maybe it's because hunting season comes between football and basketball seasons. Of course, our superintendent is an all-around addict. Besides being a hunter of note, he also owns a snowmobile.

But back to the subject. I'm turned on basketball, high school basketball, because of the kids. After you watch a few games you come to know each player's strength and weakness. You get to know the team's strength and weaknesses.

If you are a true nut, you drop in to see the grade teams now and then, the freshmen, the junior varsity.

When you watch them game after game you suffer right along with the coach when things go wrong and you rejoice when everything goes unexpectedly well.

The kids' heartbreaks are yours and so are their joys.

When it's the kids that play the game rather than the game itself that motivates, you don't need a winner to stay a fan. Winning is like nuts that top a sundae: certainly wonderful but not essential to the dish itself.

What is essential is that the boys themselves maintain the desire and determination to excel.

That's why losing season after season is disheartening. After awhile the boys take the floor expecting to lose. It shows. It's happened here and it was a dismal period.

Last year's winning season was the best thing to happen to Cass City basketball in many a moon. This year we have big winners in the seventh, eighth, ninth and Junior Varsity teams.

We expect the varsity to improve. Even while losing, the boys are acting like winners and their effort makes it worthwhile.

They make it easy for a guy to remain a fan.

Opinion divided School board trustee protests long hair style of Cass City athletes

IT'S AN ILLUSION. These snowmen on the lawn of the Walker Matlack home on Seeger Street are not really made of snow at all. They are plastic. But the season's first big snowfall made them look like the real thing to the Chronicle's roving cameraman.

Authorities issue warnings about snowmobile use

The first substantial snowfall of the season has resulted in the usual complaints about snowmobiles. Police Chief Gene Wilson reported this week.

Generally, riders have shown consideration for others while driving in the village, Wilson said, but there have been a few who have been violating the law.

Cass City adopted a lenient snowmobiling ordinance two years ago in hopes that voluntary cooperation would make more stringent regulations unnecessary.

Wilson pointed out that snowmobiles should not be driven over 15 miles per hour in the village. The law also requires that they be driven from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. only Sunday through Thursday and from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m. on Friday and Saturday.

The ordinance also says that drivers must be 16 or over to drive in the village.

The chief called for cooperation from all drivers, saying that compliance with these simple rules will enable the village to continue with the liberal regulations now in effect.

Snowmobilers were also warned about the use of their machines on State land.

With the heavy snow last week, the department of natural resources Tuscola county officers John Walker and James Geilhart warned of the limitations on operating snowmobiles in the conservation areas.

The rules are identical to the rules for trail bikes, they must stay on regular roads and trails made by the department of natural resources.

Taking off across country can result in citations calling for substantial fines. The DNR wants to prevent the disturbance of the deer herd, both for the sake of the animals and the sake of the driver that sees a deer dash into his path on a road adjacent to the conservation area.

While the heavy snow last week was just what the doctor ordered for snowmobilers, it brought problems elsewhere.

Most county schools were closed, although Cass City Schools were in operation. Many students were absent from the rural area, teachers reported.

The snow also brought a rash of minor accidents. Donald Shagena walked away from a crash when he lost control and his car flipped over on North Cemetery Road.

It was one of many minor mishaps. Saturday night Fred Martin reported that his wrecker answered six calls from 9 p. m. to 6 a. m.

Trustee Elwyn Helwig reported to the board of education that he was concerned with the appearance of the basketball teams when the boys take the floor representing Cass City High School.

I'm ashamed, he continued, when I sit in the stands and hear the comments by visitors. In one community I was told when I mentioned coming from Cass City that it was the school that had the players with the long hair that fouled a lot.

Helwig's concern sparked a general discussion by a board apparently divided on the issue at the regular meeting of trustees at Cass City High School Monday.

Trustee Don Koepfgen tended to support the short hair view and Trustees Gerald Hicks and Arthur Severance were mildly critical of hair that was long. Taking the opposite view were Don Reid and Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn.

Mrs. Prieskorn said that she felt that the issue of hair was "not that important". If you try to dictate you will lose lots of boys from the program, she said.

Reid, who wears his hair in approved short "establishment style", said that he favored the short cut style, but that he felt that it was impossible to demand it.

Long hair is the style today, Reid said, and the boys want to stay in style. They won't change.

Supt. Don Crouse, who wears a brush cut, said that he felt the key to the situation was the family. If you turn this around, he said, and someone came to your son and demanded that he wear long hair to play, you would be justifiably concerned.

As long as the hair is clean and reasonably neat, he continued, it's hard to establish stringent rules when some of our best citizens endorse the long hair. No action was taken by the board.

Meanwhile, Principal Russell Richards reports that there has been relatively little trouble at the school with dress codes of all students.

Our student handbook says that students must be groomed in a matter that will dignify themselves and the school. However, a relaxing of regulations has occurred this year.

Pant suits for girls were allowed on a trial basis early this year and are now a part of the regular approved apparel for students, although still listed as a "temporary" basis.

The key is that there have been no incidents where the suits worn were in poor taste, Richards said, and this is the school's concern.

Over the years there has been relatively little trouble with students' dress with the flexible rules in force.

The talk about proper hair style sparked what otherwise was a quiet holiday session of the board.

INCREASE COSTS

A growing school population will up costs to the district following the board's approval of two recommendations by Supt. Crouse.

The first is an added teacher at Evergreen School.

If another qualified teacher is available for the second semester, the classes at Evergreen will be divided and one of the two empty rooms at the facility utilized. Evergreen currently has four teachers plus the principal, who teaches a half day.

The second recommendation approved was the addition of another bus to the active fleet. Currently, 21 buses are running with four in reserve. Next year 22 will operate on a regular basis.

The added bus means that four new buses will be purchased. The bodies will be purchased. Concluded on page 12

Establishment divided on grooming issue

An informal survey conducted at the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon indicates that the establishment is as divided on the grooming question as authorities at the school.

Cass City Rotary has members starting in the 30-year-old group and ranging through 70-year-olds.

There appeared to be no correlation between age and opinions about proper dress codes.

Some of the younger members felt that today's styles for teens were just fine and others deplored the way they looked.

Older members felt that long hair made hippies while other older members said that freedom of choice was important in America and that it should be recognized by all.

Persons who deplored today's styles also were concerned by the permissiveness in society generally and advocated a hard line approach to these problems.

Others could see nothing wrong with letting teens do their thing as long as the rights of others were not violated.

Need early copy for early paper

The Chronicle will be published a day early for the next two weeks because of Christmas and New Year's.

Next week's Christmas edition will include favorite recipes of area families together with pictures of the cook and a special round-up of what's happening for Christmas in the schools.

Christmas greetings from area merchants will also be published next week. Advertisers and contributors are asked to remember that deadlines will be advanced a day because of earlier publication.

Former resident killed in Alaska mishap

Donald Kaatz of Alaska, a former area resident, was instantly killed Thursday when a roadway on which he was working on the "Inside Passage", near Petersburg, some 1,000 miles south of Fairbanks caved in and he and a co-worker were crushed by heavy machinery.

Kaatz was married to the former Jean Field and the father of six children, all at home.

According to relatives, Mr. Kaatz was loading the heavy machinery on a barge to move it to the next construction location when the roadway caved in.

The accident victim had been working in construction in Alaska for over a dozen years.

Funeral services were to have been held there this week. Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Field of Deford, Mrs. Kaatz' parents, flew to Alaska for services.

The remains will be brought back and burial will be in Novesta township cemetery.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the annual Rotary Club Christmas party always is the visit by Santa Claus to the small fry attending. The new families were feted at a cafeteria style dinner followed by group singing. Billy Streeter, son of Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Streeter, is eager to get his word in with Old Saint Nick. . . .

PETER WALPOLE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Walpole, is not quite sure that he is ready to talk to Santa until he knows him just a little better.

Harold Wills: mobile home building both job, hobby

Harold Wills, 32, of rural Cass City is a man who enjoys his work. He must. For 15 years now he has been working at a Marlette trailer plant where he is a group leader on repair.

Everyday he deals with house trailers and more house trailers. Then when he gets a little time away from the job what does he do? Works on house trailers.

Not the company's, his own.

I will be at the Cass City State Bank Dec. 11 and Dec. 31 and at the Pinney State Bank Dec. 18 to collect taxes. Elkland township treasurer.

12-10-2

Beginning Saturday, Dec. 26, 1970, we will be closed on Saturdays until further notice. Thank you for your past patronage. A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all. Wallace Stone Plant. Bay Port, Michigan.

Last spring and summer he built a mobile home for his family. The homemade unit is eight feet wide and 14 1/2 feet long.

Wills built it in his spare time, working an average of three hours a day for 3 1/2 months.

It takes that long when you do everything yourself. The used pickup on which the unit is permanently attached was picked up for $300.

I took it into the garage, Wills says proudly, and went through it from stem to stern. First I leaded in the body and then painted it.

After the truck was in tip-top shape I built the frame. It is attached with 2x2 square tube welded to the car.

When the frame was ready I ran the car out of the garage and started working on the interior.

He scoured the country for material for the interior. Some was purchased from the company where he works. A portion was picked up from a company going out of business. I bought bargains wherever I could, Wills explained.

The unit has some features that Wills is proud of. One of them is an off-side door that extends even with the frame of the pickup.

With this door it is not necessary to have steps to get into the trailer, Wills points out.

The unit sleeps four. . . I built it for my family, Wills continued. It has a combination gas and electric refrigerator, a 3-burner stove, a 20-gallon water tank and 12-volt water pump.

Another feature that makes sense, according to the builder, is the walk-through from the truck back to the trailer. We can get back and forth easily without leaving the truck. . . . and the walk-through makes it possible for us to license the truck as a mobile home and not a commercial vehicle.

Like any wise husband, Wills is quick to tell that his wife helped. She was the second "man" when the work required two persons and placed all the insulation, he says.

Wills isn't saying how much actual money he has in material. But I did figure that my costs were $2,300 for all materials and my labor, if valued at $2.50 per hour.

The family field tested the unit last summer on a trip to Northern Michigan and Canada.

Everything worked fine, but Wills isn't satisfied. . . or rather, perhaps, he's unhappy because the work is done.

So unhappy that already he has another chassis in the yard on which he plans to build an 18-foot unit.

Anyone in the market for a good used mobile home?

THE SPECIAL door cut into the back of the pickup enables the Wills easy access to their trailer without leaving the truck.

Mrs. Ernie Teichman would have loved it in Cass City when the village was Michigan's Christmas Town. Christmas really turns her on. She moved to the community this fall with her husband who took over an insurance business.

She has had her house decorated for Christmas, inside and out, for weeks. Her husband says that they had the best decorated house in town immediately after they finished.

I toured the community, he confided with a laugh, and at that early date we were the ONLY ones with decorations.

Jim Fritz and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Forthun are home for a month's leave from the Peace Corps. Mrs. Forthun is the daughter of the Curt Hunts and Jim the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ed Fritz.

While overseas for two years the trio were covered by government-paid insurance. They plan to return after furlough time is over.

Yet, when they stepped off the plane in Florida and arrived in the States they were no longer covered by insurance.

The insurance is good everywhere but the United States. What makes it even more ironic, is that these volunteers can't buy insurance for coverage while at home... too short a period.

It seems that this monumental foul-up could be corrected very easily, but I won't bet a plugged nickel that it will.

Police Chief Gene Wilson called last week to say that when I reported a newsman's popularity is at a peak the first day on the job and declines from there I might well have been talking about his job as a policeman.

I suspect that at times a businessman, a teacher, a shop foreman or any other person in a field of responsibility feels the same way.

If you happened to read that long, laudatory piece in the magazine section of the Free Press a couple of weeks ago about Jim Fitzgerald, Lapeer editor, whose column appears in the Chronicle, you'll note that he finagled a picture of himself shooting pool in it.

I think the reason that this happened is that he is about out of easy money marks in Lapeer and is casting around for a few hot prospects. He may feel that there are more like me lurking in the north country woods and a good picture is worth a thousand words when it comes to luring suckers out of the boondocks.

It's easy to forget an address, but hard to forget a face. . . especially, evidently, if they are the faces of Jim Gross and Paul O'Harris.

Most weeks the co-owners of the meat market run an ad with their pictures in the Chronicle. This week a friend from the Detroit area sent a Christmas card with no names, just the pictures clipped from the paper and Cass City, Mich., pasted on the envelope. The card arrived without trouble or delay.

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST BEARDSLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beardsley will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 27, at an open house from two to five o'clock at the Sutton Methodist Church, corner of Colwood and Dutcher Rd., Caro.

The Beardsleys were united in marriage Dec. 22, 1920, at Caro at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. N. D. Braby. They have lived on their farm four miles west of Cass City most of their married life. Mrs. Beardsley, the former Beryl Flint, was born Sept. 11, 1900, at Cumber to the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Flint. Ernest Beardsley, a semi-retired farmer, was born Dec. 18, 1899, at Oxford, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Beardsley.

They have four children: Mrs. Archie (Shirley) Stephenson of Huntington Beach, Calif., Clinton of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Loren (Laura) Bigelow of Ashley, and Mrs. Richard (Eileen) Beach of Alto, Mich. They also have 11 grandchildren and one great-grandson.

All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to the open house, which is being given by the Beardsleys' children.

Study groups learn Indian heritage

Sixty ladies from the Tuscola County Extension Homemakers Study Groups learned about "Our American Indian Heritage" Wednesday night, Dec. 9. Mr. C. David Hellman of Caro and Mrs. Virginia Ortiz of Lapeer were the speakers.

Mr. Hellman shared some of his research about the status of the Indians of Tuscola County in the past compared with their status today. He felt that excessive drinking was one of the major problems of the Indians. Mrs. Ortiz spent three years teaching at an Indian boarding school in Riverside, California. She showed slides of these Indians and told of many of their customs and problems.

The ladies viewed displays of Indian artifacts, literature about the Indians, and wild fruits and nuts. They also sampled Indian foods.

Members of the Planning committee were Mrs. Charles Wells of Vassar and Mrs. Stanley Dinsmore of Fairgrove.

Navy plays post office

BY JIM FITZGERALD

Just as I was trying to figure how many 6-packs I could buy with $98.5 million, I received this thrilling communication from the U. S. Navy. It said: "Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U. S. Navy will provide commemorative Cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 14 manned flight to the moon. Philatelic coordinators designated for the Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Force 140 and 130) will receive all such covers and make distribution to assigned recovery ships."

Huh? This was obviously classified information. Otherwise, why would it have been sent in code? Fortunately, I know a bartender who used to be an admiral. He decoded the message for me.

I was most interested in learning what a "philatelic coordinator" is. It sounds almost erotic. But no, worse luck. According to the ex-admiral, a philatelic coordinator is the officer who orders the enlisted men to lick the stamps.

What the Navy was trying to tell me is that we're going to the moon again in January, whoopee!, and the Navy will cancel my 8-cent stamp in memory of the billion-dollar event. News like that certainly makes me feel a lot better about paying taxes. It is comforting to realize that out there somewhere there is a philatelic coordinator ready to serve me.

Briefly, it works like this: After leaving the moon, astronauts always land in the water. This is to give the Navy something to do. You can't row a boat to Mars, you know. What the Navy does is fish the astronauts out of the water and loan them a razor. An admiral also answers the phone and says "Hey astronaut, it's for you" when President Nixon calls.

It goes without saying that every True American wants his stamp cancelled by the post office located in the ship that picks up the astronauts. And the postmark should be the same date as the pickup, of course. So get your blank stamp and self-addressed cover to your friendly neighborhood philatelic coordinator soon. Apollo 14 goes up next month.

All of which is just darling. But how about that Orbiting Astronomical Observatory which carried the world's largest space telescope into the atmosphere the other day? It was the most expensive scientific payload ever built. The telescope was supposed to provide the clearest picture yet of the little stars twinkling. But something went wrong, the nose cone didn't jettison, and the whole schmeer turned into a $98.5 million fizzle.

That grand telescope is now in pieces, possibly at the bottom of the Indian Ocean. If the Navy ever recovers the remains, I trust a philatelic coordinator will be present to cancel our stamps for us.

In the meantime, I'll be darned if I'm smart enough to figure how many 6-packs $98.5 million would buy. In fact, I'm so dumb I can't even understand how my country can afford to shoot billions of bucks into the air but can't afford to feed every hungry mouth and plug every polluting smokestack.

Ah, there'll be a day when I'll want my stamp cancelled but I'm not going to live that long. I hope there's a philatelic coordinator somewhere over the rainbow, in the great Military Post Office in the sky.

SPORTS FANS!

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By H. M. Bulen

Although Johnny Unitas is by far the most famous quarterback who ever played at the University of Louisville, oddly enough, Unitas does not hold any Louisville passing records (except for most interceptions!), and while Unitas played at Louisville from 1951 to 1954, they lost more games than they won!

*****

It seems hard to believe, but did you know that in Bart Starr's senior year at Alabama, in 1955, Alabama's record was no wins and 10 losses.

*****

The longest and most unusual run anybody ever made for a touchdown in a football game was made by a player named Snokes Dowd of Lehigh who once ran 200 yards for one touchdown! . . . He picked up a fumble on his opponent's 1-yard line and ran in the wrong direction, going all the way down the field to the opposite end zone; realizing his mistake, he circled around in the end zone and started upfield, and went all the way into the other end zone for a TD!

BARTOW DEATH

Mrs. Ethel Bartow, 82, of Lum died Saturday, Dec. 5, in Lapeer hospital.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Hazel Irons of Lum, Mrs. Helen Ashmore of Gagetown and Mrs. Adiah Rose of Owendale; one brother, Ralph Harrington of Caro, and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held Tuesday in Imlay City. Burial was in Grant Township Cemetery, Gagetown.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Suzor

Elizabeth Lake Church of Christ, Pontiac, was the setting Saturday, Dec. 5 at 7:00 p. m. for the ceremony uniting Katherine L. Goodall and David LeRoy Suzor in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Goodall of Richland are the bride's parents. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Suzor of Union Lake. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William John Goodall of Caro and Mrs. Lillian Bruce of Deford.

The bride wore a princess style gown of ivory satin trimmed with lace featuring chapel sleeves, jewel neckline and a cathedral train. Her fingertip bouffant veil was held secure with a petal cascade headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Phyllis Jeanne Goodall was the maid of honor and Joanna Marie Goodall was the bridesmaid; both are sisters of the bride.

They wore dark red velvet A-line floor length gowns and pearl earrings and necklaces, gifts of the bride. Pill box headpieces with short veils completed their ensembles. They carried red roses and white carnations.

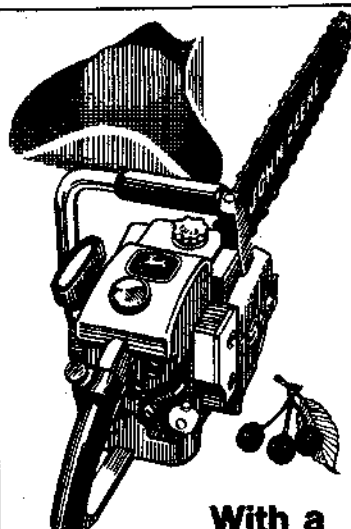

Gary Suzor, brother of the groom, was the bestman. Ushers were Philip E. Goodall Jr., brother of the bride, Melvin Suzor and Jim Lyons of Union Lake.

A reception was held in the church parlor.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado the couple will live in Pontiac where the groom is employed at the St. Joseph's Hospital as an inhalation therapist.

TWO GREAT LEADERS...

Outstanding in Michigan. To the land of the Chippewas... the brave and hardy people of the Ontonagon River Country... came Henry Rowe Schoolcraft in the summer of 1831. Explorer, geologist, pioneer historian who wrote of the Red Man in Michigan. Schoolcraft did much to rescue from oblivion the legendary lore of the Indians. Stories as old as the Porcupine Mountains were told to him by his friend Kon-te-ka, the great and wise chief of the Chippewas. Together they sat around the campfire... Kon-te-ka and Schoolcraft... the Big Chief and the Pioneer... to keep alive the legends of the Red Man. It was of these legends that Longfellow built his immortal Song of Hiawatha.

Today, we have a natural product that reminds us of this outstanding leadership: Michigan-made pure sugar... "Pioneer" and "Big Chief"... at your fingertips in their familiar red, white and blue bags at food stores everywhere. "Big Chief" and "Pioneer"... two great leaders... outstanding in Michigan!

Masonic officers to be installed

Too bad the high cost of living doesn't go on a strike.

Plans for open installation of officers for Masonic lodges has been announced by Clarence Merchant, secretary of Tyler Lodge No. 317, for Saturday evening, Dec. 19, at 8 p. m.

Officers to serve lodges at Uby and Cass City will be installed by Edward Golding Sr., Basil Wotton and Clarence Merchant.

Officers to serve Tyler lodge, who were elected Dec. 1, and those appointed later include: worshipful master, Theodore Furness; senior warden, Milton Connolly; junior warden, Arthur Randall; treasurer, Chester Muntz; and secretary, Clarence Merchant.

Chaplain is Leo Tracy; senior deacon, Robert Hunter Jr.; junior deacon, Tom Cybulski; stewards, Jack Stahlbaum and Charles Wright; and marshals, Clifford Martin.

The sure way to continue going up hill is to stay on the level.

An introductory offer to people who have never owned a Chrysler.

We want to introduce as many people as possible to the finest-designed, best-built

ROYAL we've ever offered. So we're coming through with the Royal. A brand-new series of Chryslers. At a new low price. $112* less than any other Chrysler series.

Coming through in a big way.

Royal is every inch a Chrysler. Uncompromisingly full-sized.

It's also a bigger car than our chief competition, Buick LeSabre and Olds Delta 88.

With a roomier interior. And a bigger trunk.

A matter of inches.

Our new 360 V-8 is ten cubic inches bigger than the engines on Buick and Olds.

More important, especially in a car this size, our engine comes through with more horsepower.

All on regular gas.

A difference of opinion.

LeSabre and Delta come with coil spring suspension systems. The Royal uses torsion bars.

They'll tell you coil springs are better. We'll tell you torsion bars are. Who's right?

Well, we urge you to try them both and make up your own mind.

It is interesting to note, however, that GM does use torsion bars on two models; one of the most expensive Cadillacs, and the most expensive Oldsmobile.

Now are we coming through?

Embarrassing questions.

Ask your Buick or Olds dealer about options. An electric sliding sun roof?

Or a stereo cassette player available with a microphone?

In reply, all you'll get is a red face.

Royal, on the other hand, lists both of these features on its long option list.

Built and engineered with extra care.

The Royal body is a single solid unit. Unitized with over 5000 individual welds.

The competition uses bolts to mate the body to the frame.

On a test drive you probably wouldn't notice any difference. But the differences are there.

Our Unibody is stronger for one thing. It also stays tighter longer. So there is less chance of welds and seams opening up and forming rust pockets.

Another thing to remember is that Royal has no body bolts to work free and rattle after, say, a year or so of driving.

A car for people ready to move up. Chrysler Royal. An introduction to Chrysler luxury and quality.

Coming through at a price you can afford.

That's our offer. Welcome to Chrysler.

BETTER HEALTH

Low back pain has many causes

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

One of the commonest troubles of men and women is a low back pain. Sometimes it stays in the low back region, but in many cases it spreads down perhaps the back of one of the thighs, following a sciatic nerve down to a foot. When the sciatic nerve is involved we say that the person has sciatica. In this case, the chances are large that the person's trouble is due to a degeneration or rupture or slipping forward of one of the rubbery discs which are present between each of the vertebrae.

Even with all the great facilities of big clinics, it is often not easy to discover just exactly what is the cause of a low backache. Sometimes an X-ray man, by injecting some opaque material (visible to X-rays) into the spinal canal, is able to see where one of the intervertebral discs is projecting backward into the spinal canal.

Sometimes an orthopedist will get an idea of what is wrong by certain tests; for example, he will have the person lie down on his back and then permit the doctor to raise his leg and thigh straight up into the air. This puts a tension onto the back, and if it produces pain, the specialist will have learned something of the location of the trouble.

Sometimes a neurologist can say that there is a definite injury to one or more nerves that come out of the spinal canal and run down the leg. Commonly, when a person has had a fall in which he sat down heavily on his lower spine, an X-ray examination of his spinal column will show that one or two vertebrae have been crushed so that they are smaller than normal.

When nerves are involved, a person can have pain in other parts of his body than at the actual site of injury, and this is called "referred pain". That is why a person can have a nerve injured in the spinal column and feel the pain in his leg or sometimes even in his abdomen; the pain is referred along the nerve as it stretches through a part of the body.

A while ago, investigators at the Mayo Clinic found that by sticking a hypodermic needle into the muscles of the back of the spine and drawing out some material, then staining it on a glass slide, staining it, and examining it under a microscope, they could in some cases see bacteria that should not have been there, and the presence of which was causing the backache. What is then done is to grow enough of the bacteria to be able to identify them and then it may be possible to kill them off with a certain antibiotic.

Obviously, when a person complains of low back pain, the first big job is to track down the cause of the trouble. The physician will also have to evaluate whether or not the person is highly sensitive to pain, or highly nervous and easily frightened by pain. I like to ask the person about overwork, fatigue, or psychic strain. I have known persons who suddenly found themselves almost unable to get up from a chair the day after a daughter eloped or the day after a loved husband died. I remember a woman who got a severe backache while walking at the telephone to hear if her husband, in a distant city, was as seriously ill as she had heard he was.

Often X-rays will show arthritic spurs on the vertebrae, but it is hard to know how much these changes mean, because so many persons have them without having any back pain. I have known patients with tremendous deformities of the vertebrae and no backache; I even remember a man who had a slipped disc without having any pain.

Even if the cause of the back pain can be found, there is then the question as to whether something can be done to relieve the pain. When the X-ray man shows that a disc is projecting into the spinal canal, and pressing on a nerve there, an able surgeon can cut in and remove the damaged or displaced disc. What is unfortunate is that after this type of surgery, some 15 per cent of the patients go on, still having pain, and the surgeon may be unable to guess why.

Sometimes a physiotherapist, or a rehabilitator trained in handling muscles and displaced bones, or broken bones, with the help of strong massage or perhaps an electric current, can relieve the pain. Another possibility is to put the person in traction, in which his shoulders are held firmly in one place and his legs and thighs are pulled in the other direction, and this may relieve the pain.

In any case, I believe in relieving the person's pain with an effective pain-killer. One of the best and most satisfactory I have found for my patients is oxycodone.

Honor Spencer for service

In recognition of his 29 years of service as a local farm reporter for the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, Lynn Spencer recently received a certificate of appreciation from C. A. Hines, Federal-State Agricultural Statistician for Michigan.

The certificate is signed by the Governor of Michigan, the Chairman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Crop Reporting Board, the Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, and Mr. Hines. It expresses appreciation for continuous and faithful service to the program which keeps farmers and others informed as to agricultural conditions in Michigan so that production and marketing programs can be better planned.

In explaining the program, Mr. Hines said that the purpose of the crop and livestock reports is to give producers the same insight into future production and price trends that most organized dealers already possess. These reports also eliminate the ill effects of misleading reports that might be circulated for private gain.

HAROLD WILLS built this camper from the ground up. It took 3 1/2 months and now he's ready to sell and build another.

SCHOOL BOARD

from McFadden's for $4,240 each, an increase of $90 per unit over last year's price.

The chassis are purchased on a rotating basis from local dealers on a 10 per cent over cost basis.

Russell Richards has agreed to act as adult education director, replacing Robert Watson. He will receive a minimum of $50 and the salary will be reviewed after the amount of work the program takes is ascertained.

Neighboring schools pay salaries ranging from $168 to $600 yearly, Crouse said.

A hassle over roller skates belonging to the school was finally permanently settled. Some 20 sets were given to Marlette Teen Ranch previously and some 80 pairs remaining were sold to Dean Kritzman of Deckerville for $1.00 per pair.

The vote was 5-1 in favor with Mrs. Priesskorn casting the dissenting vote.

The board nixed a request by the Kingston Board of Education asking that no non-resident student be accepted into county school districts without the consent of the district where the property is located.

The board felt that the resolution was too strict. There are incidences where the family lives over the district line, but they do business in the community and feel part of the community. These children should be allowed to go where their parents dictate if at all possible, trustees said.

And, finally, Trustees Koepgen and Helwig were appointed as a committee to open bids for furnishing the school 30 snow tires, together with a service agreement.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

He can hear phone trouble coming

By Dan Marlowe

Most of us have heard about --or perhaps even met-- individuals who have perfect pitch. It's perhaps most common in musicians who wince at one note struck incorrectly in a 25,000 note piano concerto.

Some of these musicians have perfect pitch to a degree which enables them to reproduce pitch perfectly upon an instrument when requested.

And then there is Joe Engrasia, a 20-year-old at the University of South Florida. Blind since birth, Joe's perfect pitch endowment is in the genius class and is presently being studied by a psychology professor under a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health.

As a boy, Joe could tell what denomination of coin had been flipped by the sound it made as it hit the floor. He could tell in what year it had been minted by recognizing the silver content. The psychology professor is now testing Joe to find out the limits of his talent, and whether it is an inherent, undeveloped trait others might use.

Joe Engrasia's speciality is the telephone, an instrument about which he probably knows more than anyone since Alexander Graham Bell. When a telephone rings in a room in which Joe is present, he can tell from which exchange the call is coming. By the feel of the instrument, he can tell in what year it was made.

He is able to make free telephone calls anywhere in the world, and this ability got him into temporary trouble with the telephone company. Apprised of a rash of "free" telephone calls in and around the area of Joe's school, the phone company eventually discovered Joe "placing" such calls for school-mates.

He was able to do this by whistling a sequence of tones into the mouthpiece, the long distance relays reacting to the particular frequencies he reproduced. Joe can reproduce any sound frequency perfectly, no matter how long it has been since he first heard it.

The FBI finally ruled that no Federal statute had been violated, and the astonished telephone company offered Joe a job. He refused it in favor of pursuing a career in mathematics at the university. Joe promised he wouldn't exercise his talent any more, and he now visits telephone exchanges in areas to which he goes and warns phone company officials of impending problems in their equipment simply by listening to the electronic tones.

Joe's blindness is of little handicap to him. He has a built-in radar instinct which prevents him from ever bumping into things. He can board a bus by himself and go to any part of a city once he knows its layout.

Joe's talent is a manifestation of unusual ability carried to an extraordinary degree.

It makes one wonder just how often Mother Nature compensates for a lack by supplying an ability in a different area which is denied to most.

Train derailed in Caro Monday

A number of freight cars of a Penn-Central train derailed just west of Caro Monday night about 9 p. m. The call came into the sheriff's office at 9:10 p. m. but there were no injuries. The train was heading east into Caro when the accident occurred between Dixon Road and highway M-81. Two coal cars were turned over and several other cars thrown from the track.

Caro 1st school to seek millage

The first high school to announce a millage vote in 1971, apparently is Caro. Caro's board of education has asked for a renewal of three mills and the vote is scheduled for Feb. 23. The decision came at a meeting of the board of education Dec. 9. The millage is now in force, part of Caro's 25 total tax mills, but expires at the end of this tax year. The board is asking for the renewal for 1 year.

Elect Sugden GOP chairman

Duane Sugden, long time Mayville resident, has been named the new Tuscola county Republican Chairman, replacing Carl Mantey of Caro. Sugden has formerly been a member of the Mayville board of education and is now a member of the Tuscola intermediate district board of education. Mantey leaves the Republican post after eight years. The election was held by the executive committee of the Republican party.

Standing are Laurie Reed, Glen MacCallum, John Ballard and Tom Bock. Darlene Miracle, a member of a participating team, and Louie Papp, an alternate, were absent for the picture.

Seek mediation in salary squabble

The salary differences between the Tuscola county sheriff's deputies and the board of commissioners of the county is apparently moving toward arbitration or mediation, in the face of the inability of the two groups to reconcile their differences.

According to detective sergeant William Bliss of Cass City, chairman of the deputies' negotiating team, the deputies will ask for arbitration and they have hired an attorney to represent their interests.

The deputies are asking for pay increases of $400 a year and 100 per cent paid health insurance. The board of commissioners, according to Bliss, has offered a salary increase of $350 a year and 75 per cent paid health insurance. Neither side has indicated any intention of wavering. In the meantime it's understood that courthouse employees from the county employees association have reached a verbal agreement on salary hikes with the board but those increases have not been made public. The board first began working on salary matters back in August.

Need for family planning service increasing here

The use of family planning services is showing a significant increase in Tuscola county this year, according to the Michigan Department of Public Health. But says Maternal Health Chief, Dr. Charles Berger, "Use is still small compared to the need. The evidence in Tuscola county indicates a potential of 1121 women who need family planning help from public health sources. Sanilac county has 1095 women and Huron county 1204 who could use the service."

He pointed out that this discrepancy between need and use is not uncommon in any new health care service, as demonstrated by the early history of vaccination programs. "To some extent," he said, "it is first a matter of getting the word out, but it is also a matter of correcting misconceptions about the program."

Dr. Berger acknowledged that this might be particularly important with respect to family planning services. From a public health point of view, he said, "The absence of family planning is a significant factor in a wide range of severe health problems. They include increased fetal and infant deaths, premature births, physical and mental retardation, malnutrition, battered and neglected children, and abortions.

County draft tolls high

Draft totals are starting high for Tuscola and Huron counties this year as the first call was made public for January. Huron county will be sending 15 men . . . Tuscola county 14, and Sanilac county 10 men with the highest number of call in the lottery, the number 100. Draft officials indicated that they felt that 100 would be the key lottery number for the next several months.

IN A BID FOR UNITY House Republicans elected an entirely new leadership team headed by Rep. Clifford Smart of Walled Lake and Roy Spencer, of Attica, 78th district representative. Spencer, seated, is pictured with his assistant, Rep. Dennis O. Cawthorne, Manistee. Often considered a maverick for opposing some traditional GOP policies, Spencer is the new GOP floor leader while Smart is the new House minority leader. Smart was elected to succeed Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, who decided not to run.

Spencer had previously served as associate Speaker of the House and as Facilities Officer for the GOP caucus. He has consistently favored a State income tax and has been a key figure in school tax reform.

2 plead guilty to reduced charges in circuit court

In Tuscola County Circuit Court this week Robert Crosby, 18, of the Kingston area and a companion, Bruce D. Thane, 17, also from Kingston, entered pleas of guilty to reduced charges of simple larceny before Judge James P. Churchill.

The two were originally charged with breaking and entering, with intent to commit larceny, a felony, at the White Creek Club, a private club on the Dodge Road, west of Deford, this summer.

Judge Churchill set Dec. 28 for the sentencing of Robert Crosby; Jan. 11 for sentencing Bruce Thane for simple larceny, a misdemeanor.

In District Court before Judge Richard Kern, Hurley Israel, 30, of Deford, waived preliminary hearing on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny.

Israel was arrested early Saturday morning after a search warrant was drawn up by assistant prosecutor George Holmes Friday night and signed by the magistrate. Hurley Israel is charged, specifically, with entering the cabin of Elsie Phelps on Shabbona Road the night of Saturday, Sept. 19.

He is awaiting circuit court action in Tuscola county jail under $1500 bond.

Meanwhile, another charge against Israel and Frank Arnold Wendell, 20, of Cass City was dismissed Wednesday, Dec. 9, by District Judge John T. Schubel following an examination in District Court in Bad Axe.

The pair had been charged on the basis of a statement made by a 15-year-old minor who contradicted himself under examination and finally admitted that all he knew about the case is what he had been told.

Frank Spencer, 19, of Cass City had pleaded guilty on the same charge earlier and told the court that Israel had passed out from drinking and Wendell was asleep in the car when the theft occurred.

In other actions Tuscola county sheriff's deputies are investigating a Thursday night or Friday morning break-in of the service station of Francis Peters of Kingston. The thief or thieves took several rifles and a quantity of ammunition and Tuscola county's rash of breakings and enterings seems to continue.

Letter to Editor

Disappointed in old home town

Dec. 10, 1970

Dear Sir:

I am very disappointed in my home town of Cass City and county.

After fifteen years of driving, without an accident or a ticket, I received my first speeding ticket in Cass City. The same ticket in Kent county would cost me $12.00 and in Shiawassee county it would be up to $18.00. In Tuscola it is $17.00 (fine), $3.00 (fees), and $10.00 (costs) totaling $30.00.

I will not deny that I was over the limit, but I do have a few questions that bother me.

I understand that Cass City is one of the few towns that has a 25 limit extending almost to the country. Why? Why does my ticket cost so much more in Tuscola county? Does everyone pay this high rate for a first offense? Is it because I am an out-of-towner, so they figure I won't fight it? Why should I pay court costs when I am not going to court?

I feel like I am paying for your Radar system. I can't spend the 6 days in jail because I have a new baby.

Sincerely,

Judy (O'Dell) Johns
Grand Rapids, Mich.

Services Thursday for Nellie Bigelow

Miss Eleanor M. (Nellie) Bigelow, 89, died at Caro Tuesday, Dec. 15. She had been a patient at the Tuscola Medical Care Facility since October.

Miss Bigelow, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nilton Bigelow, was born in Oakland county Feb. 15, 1881. She came to the Cass City area when seven years old from Highland, Mich.

She was affiliated with the N. Bigelow & Sons Hardware, Cass City, until she retired in 1951.

She was a lifelong member of Trinity United Methodist Church, Cass City.

Surviving are two nieces, Miss Laura Bigelow of Cass City and Mrs. Eleanor Heath of Bay City, and one nephew, Charles Bigelow of Cass City. Others are a number of great-nieces and great-nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. at Little's Funeral Home. The Rev. E. Isaacs, pastor of Trinity church, will officiate. Burial will be in Elkland cemetery.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

All of us has the idea from time to time that man is getting too smart for his own good, and the feller that runs the store come up with more evidence for the persecution Saturday night. What got him started was when Zeke Grubb's preacher stopped by and ask for a certain brand of pickles that he didn't have.

After the preacher left without his pickles, the storekeeper told all the fellers he was getting disgusted with having more "outs" than he had "ins," and everybody wanted to know what he was talking about. He said in and out was the way you had to talk about stuff you got or ain't got since he started buying from this holedale computer.

It seems this holedale outfit in town has got a computer to keep track of all their customers, and it is hooked up to all the stores with telephone lines. When the stores want goods, they have to go through the computer that punches out their order on little cards. Then the computer orders the warehouse crews to load up the stuff and deliver it.

When he first went in business, said the store feller, these salesmen come by with their goods and you agreed on prices then and there. Pretty soon, the salesmen come by with his order book and you told him what to tell the truck to deliver the day after tomorrow. That deal didn't work too good, because the more people you got tied up with the more confusion you had to work out, was his words.

But then this one big holedale place got a computer that don't never admit to making a mistake, so you're stuck with whatever it orders for you. The feller that runs the store said the computer must not like dill pickles, cause it won't send him none. But he said he's got more canned tomatoes than he'll sell in 10 years, and he ain't ordered none.

The storekeeper told the fellers he hopes the holedale house will spare him any more modern conveniences, and bring back the human being. He said he knowed everything was going on the automatic, but we've gone too far when we got to buy goods from a machine we can't argue with.

This mixup is all over, Mister Editor. Zeke Grubb told the fellers that when they counted the collection at his church the other Sunday they found $34 in money, three books of trading stamps and a handful of "Spiro Who in '72" buttons.

Zeke couldn't figure what that had to say about things on the automatic, but it did make him think that folks at church these days is about as mixed up as this feller found walking around in a daze in Washington that couldn't recall if he worked for the Peace Corps or the State Department.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Final free gift drawing is Saturday

Eleven more winners have been selected for free $25 value prizes given by Cass City merchants and 11 more lucky winners will be selected Saturday in the final drawing of the Yule season.

AROUND THE FARM

Healthy calves make profitable herds

By Don Keblor

"Sickly calves seldom mature into paying cows. Healthy calves make profitable herds."

This statement is not absolutely true, but top dairymen know the value of raising healthy, thrifty and vigorous replacements.

Today's dairyman cannot afford a loss in production and he must maintain a regular growth program in his annual production. To meet this goal, the top dairymen seldom can afford to keep any one cow much longer than five years. They find a procedure of culling at least the bottom 15 to 20 per cent of their herd annually is a necessity.

To meet their production and growth needs and goals, a tight rein must be held on the quality of the replacement stock plus the quantity needs.

Time has proven the most sure and secure method to guarantee top herd replacements is to raise them yourself. This method will continue to be the best for the dairyman if he has a good calf and youngstock housing.

Good healthy, vigorous and strong youngstock can be produced in housing that is draft free, dry, ventilated, properly temperatured with adequate space per head.

Many youngstock housing designs are available and all good systems should include a feed and medication preparation area. These designs will be either for cold or warm calf housing.

For the large dairyman the cold housing system is hard to manage, takes more labor input and calf problems can snowball much easier than in a warm housing system. The cold system is more satisfactory where no more than six to eight calves are handled at one time.

The warm housing system gives the dairyman nearly absolute control of the calves' inside environment. This housing is insulated, ventilated, has running water and supplemental heat to maintain the 50 degree F. dry, draft-free environment. This environment is ideal for calf survival, vigor, health and growth.

Construction and operational costs far offset the loss in calves, future milk production and labor efficiency experienced in other systems for this area.

Knocking the other fellow is a poor way to boost your stock.

The only one who saves time is the one who spends it wisely.

Freshmen roll undefeated with victories over Marlette, Ubly

Coach Tom Woody was able to give all the players on his potent Freshman basketball team valuable playing experience Monday as the Hawks overpowered Ubly at Cass City High School, 85-48.

The Hawks jumped into a 30-point lead at the end of the first period and coasted to victory. Nearly all the players in the first, second and third units shared in the scoring.

Lanky Scott Hartel led all scorers with 23 points. Randy Kelley scored 13 and Mike Frederick, 9. Other scorers were Dave Hillaker, 8, Scott Guinther, 8, Brian Althaver, 6, and Mark McClorey, 5.

Cass City's Freshman basketball team staged a third period rally to top Marlette Freshman last week, 62-43, outscoring the Red Raiders, 21-10, in the period.

Tom Mellendorf, big Frosh center, led all scorers with 22 points. Scott Hartel chipped in 14 and Dave Hillaker added 10. Other scorers were Nick Gibas and Mike Frederick, 6 each, and Mark McClorey and Craig Helwig, 2 each.

Coach Tom Woody singled out Nick Gibas and Mike Frederick for defensive work.

Hawks reverse script with last quarter victory rally

The Cass City Red Hawks changed the script Tuesday night at Vassar and the result was the school's first victory of the year.

Instead of forging ahead in the early going and then folding, the Hawks stayed even with their hosts and then rallied in the final quarter for a 69-57 decision.

A victory is a victory is a victory, but it wasn't one of Cass City's better efforts and the Vulcans were also prone to mistakes in the sloppy played game.

A bright spot for Hawk fans was the play of Jim Wentworth and Scott Guernsey who seemed to shake early season jitters and contribute significantly to the offense.

Greg Eshelman continued to pick up valuable game experience at center and bolstered the Hawk rebounding corps. Eshelman worked his way into the starting line-up in the second game and it appears that it will be hard to shake him out of it.

The husky center did not report for basketball as a Freshman and missed part of his Sophomore year and this lack of early training shows.

It was well that Guernsey and Wentworth were hitting on offense because Rob Alexander who carried much of the offensive load in the first two games suffered an off night.

At the half the Hawks were in front in the see-saw game, 27-26. Things didn't change any in the third quarter as both teams scored 19 points.

In the final period, the Hawks took command and started to chip away a margin. They were helped when Vassar's top rebounder left the game on fouls.

With two minutes left, Cass City was in front by 10 points and Coach Fred Hurlburt cleared his bench.

Richard "Zike" Miller turned in his usual strong game and Hurlburt had him outcourt handling the ball for the first time this year.

Miller netted 18 points to lead all Hawk scorers. Wentworth came off the bench to net 12 and Scott Guernsey was credited with 13. Larry Leach scored 21 to lead all scorers.

Cass City will end its Thumb B Conference pre-holiday schedule Friday night when they play at Bad Axe. Their hosts have one of the three stronger teams in the league.

While the varsity changed the script, the junior varsity didn't... they just kept on winning. Their third straight win was a 64-48 decision over the Vulcans in what Coach Roland Pakonen called a poorly played game.

The JV's exhibited balanced rebounding and scoring. Vassar committed many turnovers because of the Hawks' full court press.

Kip Hopper scored 19 points. Gene Salas had 12 and Mark Posluszny and Curt Strickland, 10 each.

Cass City blew a 10-point lead in the last quarter as Marlette came roaring from behind on the hot shooting of Glenn Chappel and a pressing defense to hand Cass City its second narrow margin defeat, 73-68, in the home opener last Friday at Cass City High School.

The reasons for the defeat were almost a carbon copy of the loss to Frankenmuth the previous week. Cass City was unable to cash in on foul shots and the team lost its poise in the latter stages when Marlette applied pressure.

Cass City was able to connect on just 55 per cent of its gift tosses, converting 18 of 33 while Marlette sunk 23 of 32 for 71 per cent.

Both teams hit 25 field goals. Cass City shot a respectable 41 per cent from the floor. The team's average was helped because good ball handling early in the game enabled Cass City to work the ball for good, high percentage shots.

But in the decisive final minutes of the game, Cass City was guilty of several bad passes and it enabled the visitors to pull the game out of the fire.

Coach Fred Hurlburt shifted his starting line-up for the game. Greg Eshelman played center and Karl Zawilinski started at a guard post.

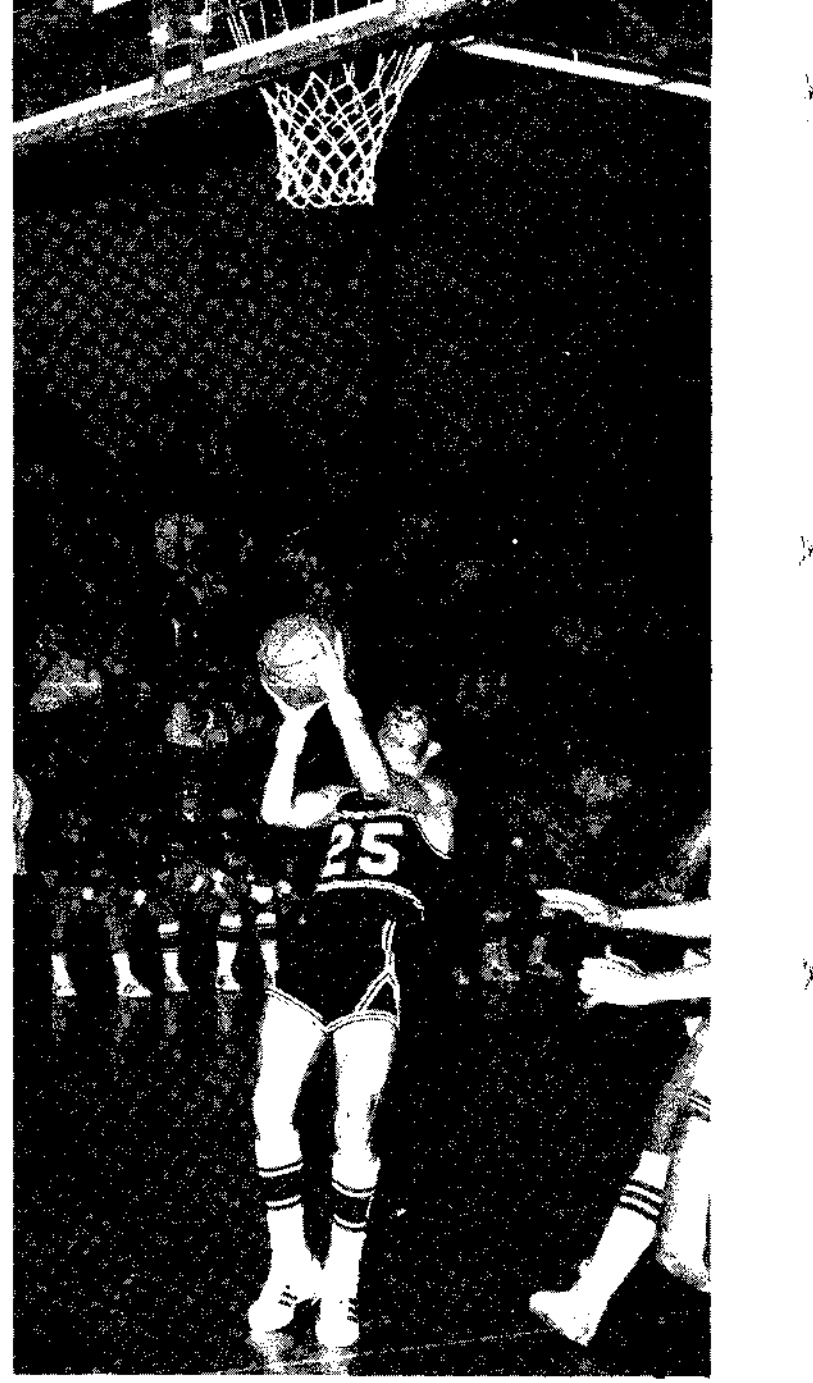

Eshelman's height and strength were a definite asset to Cass City on the offensive and defensive boards and while he was in the game he helped contain Marlette's tall center.

The game was close during the entire first half.

The Hawks charged into the lead by a narrow two points in the first quarter, 16-14. At the half, Marlette was slightly in front.

The Hawks came out in the third period and played their best ball of the young season while posting a 21-9 advantage to set the stage for the visitors last period winning rally.

Rob Alexander again led the team in scoring and rebounding. He netted 23 points and picked off 11 rebounds. Richard "Zike" Miller chipped in with eight rebounds, while Eshelman was credited with five rebounds in his first varsity start and scored nine points.

KARL ZAWILINSKI received his first varsity start Friday. He drives for a close-in basket in the first half against Marlette.

First in history

Hawks paired for holiday tourney

The Cass City Red Hawks are poised to enter the first holiday tournament in the school's history and Coach Fred Hurlburt has selected one with keen competition for the school's first plunge.

Monday the Hawks journey to Lakeville High School to meet Flint Hamady in the opening round of the tourney that includes some of the best area basketball schools.

Also entered in the tourney are Saginaw Carrollton, Ortonville, Lakeville, Lakars, Arthur Hill Tech and Flint Holy Rosary.

Carrollton is the team that went to the State finals last year before losing.

If Cass City wins Monday they play Carrollton-Ortonville winners Wednesday night. If Cass City loses they enter a consolation bracket and play Tuesday at 9 p. m.

The tournament is a loser meet loser and winner meet winner affair. All schools play three games.

An unusual feature of the tournament is that a tourney is also held for the Junior Varsity.

Cass City plays Hamady at 3 p. m. Monday at the high school and follows the same winner-loser arrangement that the varsity does in its tourney.

If they win, they play Carrollton - Ortonville winner Tuesday at 3 p. m. and if they lose they play Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. at the Junior High School building.

GREG ESHELMAN is doing his thing for the Hawk cage squad against Vassar Tuesday: rebounding.

Santa Letters

Dear Santa,

My name is Michelle Jones and I am 6 1/2 yrs. old. I have two brothers, Matt 3, and Mike 1. We have been good kids.

I would like a new baby doll and a watch and some surprises. Matt wants a cowboy suit and Mike would like some noisy toys. Thank you, Santa.

Junior Hawks top Lakers

The Cass City 8th grade basketball team opened its season last Thursday night against the Lakers with a 59-38 win for the A team.

Cass City was led by Jerry Toner with 24 points. Don Karr and Dave Eberline made 11 points each. High scorer for Lakers was LaPage with 16.

The Cass City 8B also won, 48-19. The B team was led in scoring by Mike Gaszynski with 9 points.

The next game was to have been Wednesday night, Dec. 16, against Bad Axe at Cass City at the intermediate gym.

Make payment

The Michigan Sugar Company revealed facts and figures this week that show that 300,185 tons of sugar beets were delivered to the Caro plant, harvested from 12,939 acres this fall, for a record yield. The harvest was so good that it broke down to a district average of 23.20 tons per acre for the beets compared to last year's figure of 16.25 tons an acre. Sugarbeet growers are receiving cash and credits averaging $9.50 per ton this week based on the company wide load test average.

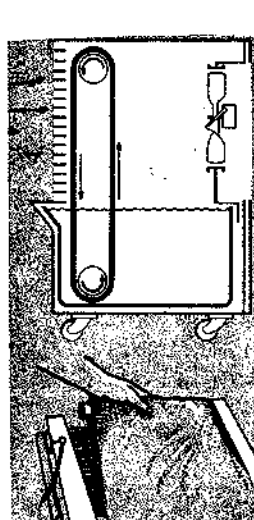

The heavy rains of the summer held down the sugar content but was more than made up for by the high yield per acre. The total first payment for the district is $2,851,757 but officials of the company point out that this is gross earnings before expenses.

Roy Hickey of Fairgrove, Caro Grower Association president, says that the first payment to the growers is always earmarked for payment of crop production expenses.

Sebewaing growers also registered record figures with 331,700 tons of sugar beets from 14,685 acres breaking down to an average of 22.58 tons per acre. Dollar totals in the Sebewaing district reached $3,151,150.

TravelAire HUMIDIFIER
LARGE CAPACITY ROTO-BELT FILTER
INCLUDED IN ALL THREE CONSOLE-STYLED HUMIDIFIERS

Dry air passes through wet Roto-Belt moisturizing filter twice. Amazingly efficient! Evaporates more water than single surface. Removes dust, lint and smoke while adding humidity. Is self-washing. Has own motor. Turns quietly... keeps uniformly wet. Entire Roto-Belt assembly unplugs and lifts out in seconds.

NOTHING TO ASSEMBLE... JUST FILL AND PLUG IN!

TravelAire humidifiers are completely assembled at the factory. All you have to do is add water and plug unit into standard 115 volt outlet. All models have built-in adjustable Honeywell humidistat. Units will turn themselves on and off automatically to maintain humidity level selected.

WASHABLE POLYESTER FILTER

New long-lasting polyester filter has wool-like construction for maximum evaporative surface. Rollers and belt can be removed for replacement or cleaning. Tension adjustment assures slip-free operation.

Dear Santa,

I have been a good boy this year. My mommy says so too. I would like a Mighty Casey Ridem Railroad, a Marvel the Mustang, and a dog because I like to play with dogs very much.

P.S. I will leave you some homemade cookies I made myself. I will leave you some salt for your reindeer. Also Santa please leave some toys for my cousin Sandra.
