Baptist pastor protests new "no restriction" dress code at school

The Rev. Lloyd Streeter, Baptist minister in Cass City, -protested-to-the-board of education Monday night over the new "no restriction" dress code in effect for Cass City Schools.

Speaking to the board in its regular session at the school. Mr. Streeter said that hot pants and mini skirts in school were "not decent, not modest and a cause for concern in the community. The pastor appeared in front of the board to voice his dissent and to see if the new regulations could be changed,

It is likely that some of the members of the board agreed, at least partially, with his views, but a potentially heated discussion was averted when Supt. Don Crouse pointed out that there was really nothing that the board could do to change the dress code

The courts have ruled, he explained, that there are only two really valid legal reasons why students can be barred from attending school because of mode of dress. One is on the basis of a health hazard and the other on the basis that it is disruptive to the class.

It may appear, Crouse added that hot pants, mini-skirts and slacks are disruptive. . .but it's not to the kids. They take this type of dress in stride. conversation then swirled around beards and long hair which Mr. Streeter also deplores for students. Supt, Crouse said that today most kids don't put much stock in beards and mode of dress. They ask that they be judged by what they are, not by the way they appear, he said.

FROM THE

Lditor's Corner

She was a determined woman, my Aunt Sadie, with rock hard convictions molded in 80 years of living and now she's dead, She stood four-square for all the traditional virtues and she was "Aunt Sadie" to about 90 per cent of all who knew her, To her, drinking was sin, virtue and family hard work responsibility first above all. A school teacher all of her working life, she tended to regard everyone within her sphere as children in the sense that she took their troubles to her _ big heart. She was ready with ___ a positive answer to complex questions that tend to baffle more learned persons than most = of us ever get to be. Tempering her strong personality was her genuine regard, her empathy with those she knew needed a helping hand. Aunt Sadie was far from wealthy. She had a little money in a savings account and lived on a combination of pensions. A half dozen years ago when I was seeking a house, she wanted to lend me money to be sure that I would buy the house = she felt that I should have, Families should have houses and to her it was incompre-— hensible that I would live above ness. She often failed to see or ___ understand a contrary viewpoint, but was ready to give -her money, and more importantly, of herself to causes she _ deemed just and right.

Her funeral was held in Boyne City and I attended, Funerals - always are depressing and with-_ out meaning for me and I rarely __ attend them.

And as the rites were performed for my aunt, I couldn't help but be struck again by the futility of it all.

Why was I there? Not for my aunt, but to show the world after her death that I cared. I've always felt that by this -time it's too late. Better to __ do what you can before death than after.

Commissioners unhappy

Recommend 2nd doe season in county

A bitterly unhappy County Board of Commissioners heard Department of Natural Resources Biologist Howard "Bing" Greene tell them that that area 75, which includes Tuscola county, have another antlerless deer season this

One commissioner commented that "apparently nothing we can say has anything to do with it." The commissioners went on record as opposing the doe season and much of Tuscola county was up in arms last year because of the areas first antlerless deer season, Greene, speaking before the board Tuesday morning, said that he did not know what date it would be but that there will be a public hearing in Lansing when the doe season recommendation will be made. The DNR favors the season because the biologists say too many deer are killed on highways in this area. It is not known at this time whether last year's doe season cut down on the 1970-71 winter highway kill compared to the winter of

It is known that enforcement officers James Gielhart and John Walker found 55 deer, killed illegally, in the woods with their carcasses left to rot by hunters. Of the 55, 9 were bucks not yet mature deer .46 were does, presumed killed by hunters who did not have doe permits. The guess is that others were killed and left that were not counted in the enforcement officers' tally and the highest total recorded before last vear's antlerless season was 18 illegal deer killed in 1964.

Glelhart said Tuesday, that the law enforcement problem of last year was the toughest this area has had since he has been here. There were an unprecedented number of hunters "road" hunting from cars, Many more hunters came to this area from other counties. . .particularly the Detroit-Pontiac region. Tuscola County's Commissioners, meeting in Caro Tueshandled a number of matters that created less strain than the deer hunting plans

Grant 2 bars liquor licenses

In a special meeting previously unannounced, Tuesday night the Cass City Village Council granted an unrestricted liquor by the glass license to Cass Tavern and Jack's Bar.

President Lambert Althaver said that the bar owners agreed to repair their buildings in return for the licenses.

Althaver said that the village has the right to take away the licenses if standards are not maintained.

Debbie joins elite Girl Scout group

Debbie Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Francis, became the fourth girl in the 30-year history of Ğirl Scouting in the area to earn a First Class award, the Girl Scout equivalent to the Boy Scout's Eagle rank. The highest ranking was awarded to Debbie at ceremonies held at the Cass City Intermediate School Monday afternoon.

The 15-year-old Debbie has been in scouting since she was seven.

She has been working steadily towards her First Class for the last two years as a Cadette. During this time she completed work on 15 proficiency badges and four chal-

5 seek 3 open school board posts

At least five candidates have petitions circulating for the three open positions on the Cass City School Board as the Monday at 4 p. m. deadline for filing nears.

Electors will be asked to elect two members for full terms and one member to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Horace Bulen.

The terms of Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn and Donald Reid are expiring while Dean Hoag, appointed to fill the vacancy, is required to run for his appointive office this June. All three of the current board members are seeking reIt just didn't happen this way.

Mrs. MacRae credits the 30 leaders for much of the progress and points to Mrs. Sally Greenwood, troop organizer, as helping foster the booming program.

Still, it's the neighborhood chairman's job to coordinate all of this. . . and for a chairman who is conscientious, it's a big job.

Mrs. MacRae estimates that she devotes an average of two days a week to the program. As chairman, she's busy when the troops are taking a summer break. That's when we round up leaders for troops and arrange the program for the coming year, she said. Right now there are 30 leaders for the 12 troops and each troop has a sponsor. Mrs. MacRae likes to compare the early scouting program with the program today. When it started it was strictly regimented and camping was the biggest activity. Now Girl Scouts are active in current, social issues. Teaching stresses appreciation of other cultures, ecology issues and more recently, the drug problem.

The stress is on personal growth through service to the community including free baby sitting service on election day, tree planting and other activ-

Scouting here was started in 1941 by Mrs. Frances Tyo. Mrs. Edward Baker, Mrs. Ben Benkelman and the late Mrs. Warren Wood were early leaders that pushed the program forward in the first 20 years. It's probable that when Mrs. MacRae took over the reins she didn't plan on handling the program for 10 years.

But considering her background it is natural that she became involved. Born in Grosse Reshe moved to the Thumb to teach in Reese. After a year she married Dr. Ivan MacRae and moved to Cass City where she taught in high school here for two years. Since then she has kept in touch with teaching by substituting and her eyes sparkle when she talks about it. "I just love teaching," she says, even though it's different today, I still feel it's possible to reach the kids. . . only the approach is probably different." Mrs. MacRae has earned another distinction in Cass City.

Although no one who knows, would regard her as a crusader for women's liberation, she was the first woman councilman ever to serve in Cass City. . . paving the way for others on the distaff side to serve the

After 10 years, Mrs. Mac-Rae is ready to step out of the Girl Scout program here and a search is underway for her successor.

When she resigns, it will be the first time in many, many years that she has not been actively involved in one or more civic projects. The odds are that she will not be inactive long.

Leslie (Tommy) Townsend, former businessman in town for decades and now retired, has been fighting a serious illness at Tucson, Ariz.

Arthritis with other complications has kept him bedridden. He's on the mend now after a gall bladder removal. Illness hammered him down 55 pounds to 124 pounds, but he writes that he's improving and in one week gained six pounds. He's now able to get around with aid of a walker for limited periods.

Nalvely, I thought those box like structures parked at the depot siding at Church Street were parts of a modular home being shipped for construction on someone's lot.

I learned differently at the coffee table when the boys pityingly set me straight: these are homes for railroad con-

The information was confirmed when Police Chief Gene Wilson reported that someone had smashed the windows of the homes as they were parked on the flatcars on the siding over the week end

This is positively, absolutely the last time I mention anything about him in this column (at least until football season) but with my weakness for puns I just can't let this go by. When he paid me the $5 on our Gavel Club track meet weather bet I couldn't help but think that I gave a good tanning to Jim Hyde.

In triplicate, yet, the State of Michigan wants me to fill a form telling how much unclaimed or abandoned property or wages that the Chronicle is holding. Ah, the economy in government. With our computerized age it would just appear sensible to eliminate sending these forms to businesses under

There isn't one in a thousand that would ever have a nickel to report and if it costs a couple of bucks to send a letter as one big corporation estimates, there must be enough money wasted to send our congressmen on another all-expense junket that they take periodically.

How about doing away with junkets and useless forms? There you go again, asking the impossible.

Harry Little is creating an "orchard" behind one of his cottages on Saginaw Bay.

Friends of Harry know that when he starts a project he goes all out. His family knows it, too. Son, Roger, says with a grin that there's no telling just how much each piece of fruit will cost before it's harvested. . .but he guarantees that his dad will see that the quality is as high as the cost.

How about this? The Diet Watchers in Cass City have asked the school for use of a room because they have outgrown

Evergreen loses Arthur Craig, township leader

One of the pioneer residents of the community died Tuesday at Sunny Acres Nursing Home where he had been a patient for two years. Arthur Craig, 81, a leader in Evergreen township since 1921-22 when he first served as township clerk, succumbed to a lingering seven-year ill-

He served as supervisor of the township for many years, starting in 1948, and it was during his terms of office that the Evergreen Township Unit School was built and paid for.

Mr. Craig was a lifelong resident of the township and lived on a farm not far from where he was born May 22, 1889. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert and Alphretta Chambers Craig.

He married the former Winnifred MacTavish Jan. 19, 1916, in Evergreen township, He taught school for many years.

Surviving, besides his widow, are: three sisters. Mrs. Merle Badgero of Onaway; Mrs. Zilpha Kennedy of Alberta, Canada, and Mrs. Helen Ramsey of Marlette. A brother died before him.

Final rites will be held Thursday at Little's Funeral Home at 2 p. m.

The Rev. John Nipper, pastor of the Fraser Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Elkland cemetery.

Suffering on the railroad BY JIM FITZGERALD Goofy Americans, middle-aged and older, are currently suffering terrible fits of choochoo nostalgia. They quit riding trains years ago, because they liked cars and planes better. But now the populace is upset because the railroads have despaired of rolling empty seats across the countryside. Daily passenger service is being eliminated or severely slashed all over the country. And people who rode the train faithfully once every -10 years are wailing and moaning and yearning for the good old days when everyone went down to the depot to meet the

I remember trains, too. Like a cinder in my eye. . . Sometimes, in nightmarish flashbacks, it seems like my entire 3-year army career was spent on trains. In 1944, a train took me from home to Chicago, where I was inducted. Those were the glory-days when the high school band and gobs of the sobbing relatives showed up at the depot to bid farewell to the brave draftees.

I can still see my 2 best friends, both 4-F, standing on the platform, laughing and holding hands with my girl friend, as I chugged out of their lives. I can't see them clearly, because the train window was filthy. But the bitterness still comes back clearly. My 2 friends were husky, healthy specimens. I was 6 feet tall and weighed 105 and was obviously a poor bet to live until midnight, I never did understand how come I was on that miserable train and they stayed home. Come to think, maybe they weren't holding hands with my girl. Maybe they were holding hands with each

High school honor DHIA lists best county herds

Tuscola County Dairy Herd Improvement Association report of March listed the county's most improved herds, and March's top butterfat producers. Tuscola county's tested cows averaged 34.9 pounds of 3.65% milk. Michigan's tested cows averaged 35.1 pounds of 3.79% milk.

The two most improved herds in the county belonged to Grover and Jack Laurie, of Cass City, and Clare Carpenter, also of Cass City. The Laurie's 77 cows recorded an average increase of 1283 pounds of milk for the year. Carpenter's 68 cows increased 965 pounds for the year. Carpenter's had received an average of 31 pounds of butterfat per cow, while the Laurie's managed a 19 pound increase. Second highest figure in the county in this category was Mayville's Clare

Smith with 22. March's top butterfat producer was Donald Koepfgen of Cass City. Koepfgen's cows produced an average of 1.6 pounds of butterfat daily per cow. The herd also produced a 3.8% milk quality average. John Graham, also of Cass City, was second with 1.6 pounds of butterfat daily per cow, and a 3.7% milk quality rating. Ronald Hampshire of Kingston was third with a 1.6 pounds of butterfat per cow daily, and a

other. That window was really dirty...

In France, I was transported to the front lines in a 40 & 8 left over from World War I. That's a freight car, built in 1900, capable of carrying 40 men and 8 horses. The men must be midgets and the horses must be rocking. There is no better way to get to know your fellow man intimately. I sat on the floor between 2 fat guys who didn't know I was there for the first 2 days, until I got sick and learned another use for my steel helmet.

It took that French train 3 days to go 200 miles. We kept getting shunted off onto sidings to let higher-priority trains go through. They probably contained generals and Red Cross girls on their way home for moredoughnuts. One of the layovers was in Paris, and I still brag to my kids that I spent a night in Gay Paree. Even though we weren't allowed any farther from the train than the nearest bush (nobody worried about pollution in those days).

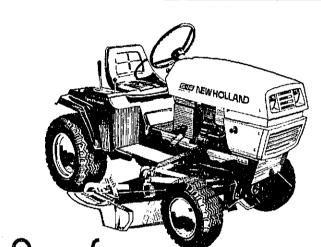

A year later, with the war over, I was back in the U.S. where my first assignment was riding shotgun on a prisoner train. I stood in the passageway between cars, with a carbine strapped over my shoulder, and prayed to God that the incredible shaking and bumping didn't make the stupid gun go off. I wasn't afraid of the noise or the bullet. I just didn't want to have to clean the gun because I still hadn't learned how to take it apart. Officers kept telling me my gun was my best friend but then they'd tell me to strip my weapon and that seemed like a vulgar way to treat a good friend. So I

Anyway, seated inside the cars were German prisoners of war on their way to catch a boat home. My job was to make sure none of them jumped off in Cincinnati and went on welfare. Trouble came when I jumped off myself to buy a beer in Philadelphia. The train was supposed to layover for 5 minutes but a conductor blew a fuse and it pulled out early. And there I was, with my carbine, guarding the depot bar overnight. That was my last out-of-town assignment.

. Soon I was sent home for good, in a brilliantly decorated. brand new uniform with which to dazzle my family and 4-F friends. Except the trip was made in a sweaty, 80-year-old Pullman that sucked in soot like a vacuum cleaner. When I arrived at the home depot. my father said: "If your side won the war, I'd hate to see the losers."

Onward and Upward but not by train, thanks.

BETTER HEALTH

In an article, Dr. Trygve children have this defect.

whereby they see less well with one eye than the other.

The mother may notice that the child, when perhaps a few months old, is cross-eyed. One trouble is that one eye tends to take over all the work of seeing, while the other eye gets lazier and lazier. Only about half of these children have obvious defects that are noticeable to the parents, so it is very important for all children to have their eyes examined in infancy and again

by the time they are three

Tree fertilizing tips offered

Trees need food to keep their vigor, aid leaf development and promote root growth, says Michigan State University horticulturist Dr. Harold Dayidson and Bill Bortel, Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Trees located in lawns are more likely to need fertilizer because the natural sources of nutrients -- dead leaves and other decayed plant materials -- are removed during lawn care, Needed fertilizer should be applied while growth is beginning in the spring.

The best indicator of fertilizer need is what the tree did last year. If it grew slowly and showed some yellowing of the leaves, fertilizer should be applied this spring. If the leaves were lush green no fertilizer is needed.

Tree age is one good indicator of how much fertilizer should be used. Where the trunk is less than six inches in diameter four feet above the ground, use one pound of well-balanced fertilizer for each inch of trunk diameter. If the trunk is more than six inches in diameter, add three pounds of fertilizer for every inch of trunk diame-

To apply the fertilizer, first soak the soil under the tree thoroughly, Two hours with a lawn sprinkler will do the job. Then draw an imaginary circle around the tree starting two feet from the trunk. Draw another circle two feet from the first, and continue making circles until you have a series of them extending just beyond the branches of the tree.

In each of these circles punch holes in the ground 18 inches deep, 1 1/2 inches in diameter. and 2 feet apart. Divide the fertilizer evenly among the holes -- about half of a smallsized frozen fruit juice can in each -- and then water the whole area for another hour. Refill the holes with a mixture of sand and peat.

An easier way to fertilize trees can be used if nitrogen is the only nutrient that the tree needs. Spread the fertilizer evenly on the ground under the tree's canopy of leaves and then water it in thoroughly with a lawn sprinkler.

properly. The child may blink a great deal or frown and squint while trying to see. He may shut one eye or cover it and hold books and objects too close to his face. He may have trouble learning to read and quickly show fatigue or drowsiness when attempting to do close work; he may seem to lose interest easily and become inattentive. And he may often stumble or trip over small objects. These are signs for the parent to take the child for an examination. In the pamphlet, there is a simple vision test that parents can use for a child who is old enough to understand. Anyone interested in receiving a pamphlet can write the American Association of Ophthalmology, 1100 17th Street N.W., Washington, D. C.

HOUSE DUST ALLERGY RE-LATED TO EARLY ASTHMA

Dr. J. M. Smith, of Birmingham, England, says he has found that children who are allergic to house dust usually become asthmatic before the age of 6 years; they are mostly boys who in infancy often have an eczema and a runny nose. Their allergy tends to be worse at night. In rare cases, they also have food allergy.

In a group of 100 children seen by Dr. Smith, with an allergy to house dust, 80 developed asthma before the age of six; 74 were boys, 25 had infantile eczema, 29 had a runny nose, and 16 wet the bed.

Sometimes, if such a child can be given a room that is free of dust, his asthma will be much milder, Acute attacks of asthma can often be relieved with the help of a drug. It is important to treat asthma early in life, because if it becomes chronic, it can cause the person much distress and can later develop into more serious diseases such as emphysema (a disease in which the tiny air sacs in the lungs become dilated, making it difficult for the person to breathe).

Legion Auxiliary meets Monday

Eighteen members and several guests attended the monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at the Legion hall.

With President Verna Mc-Connell presiding, members heard a report of the district meet held at Reese and adopted standing rules formulated by the past presidents of the Unit. Plans were made for the annual Poppy sales May 27-29 and to take part in Memorial Day services with Mrs. Dorus Klinkman in charge.

The sum of $37,00 was contributed by members in a recent "bakeless" bake sale and members voted a $25.00 contribution for renovation of the Hillcrest cottage at the children's billet at Otter Lake. The president appointed a nominating committee of Mrs. Arthur Little, Mrs. William Anker and Mrs. Wilbur Morrison. Election of officers for the coming year will take place at the June meeting.

At eight o'clock, preceding the business meeting, the group heard Ed Kimbrue of Caro talk on the subject of pollution which was followed by a question period. He stressed that pollution was present in three forms. water, air and solid wastes.

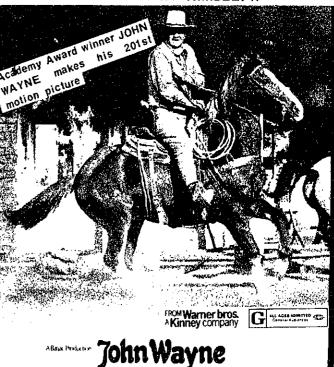

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the committee.

We need to raise our rates . . .

From 1950 to 1970, everything went upexcept electricity. It went down.

Residential electricity rate down 24%

...From here) (to here.

We've just asked the Michigan Public Service Commission to allow us to raise our electric rates for industries, businesses, and homes.

If approved, the new rates would provide about 11% more revenue to enable us to keep up with population growth. This works out to about a nickel a day extra for our average domestic customer.

We don't minimize the importance of a nickel a day. That's $18.00 a year, which can buy quite a few good things. But we do want to put it in perspective. And we want you to know why we need it, and what we're going to do with it.

First, to put it in perspective, we didn't want to ask for this increase. We were forced to. We need additional revenue to build the facilities to provide, in the future as in the past, fully reliable electric service for every pur-

If the new rates are approved—and the Public Service Commission will spend months evaluating our needthe average cost of a kilowatt-hour for domestic customers will still be less (as the graph above shows) than it was in 1950. In that year, it was just over 3 cents. With the new rates, it will be about 2.6 cents.

Now why do we need it? In a word, inflation. Our costs have gone up tremendously. In the past five years, fuel has gone up 38%, labor 32%, local taxes 23%, and interest on bond issues

The cost of running our company this year will increase far more than the amount of our last rate increase.

What are we going to do with the proceeds of this rate increase? The most discouraging experience in these days of inflation is to pay more, and get less. Not so with this increase. It will enable us to construct the facilities to keep pace with the ever-increasing demand for electricity for home and factory.

Building new power plants is a job that never ends because the demand for electricity doubles every ten years. But, in the last 3 years, the cost of installing each new kilowatt of capacity rose 40%. We will also be able to continue, and indeed to enhance, our vital programs for the improvement of air, land, and water resources of the area.

We do not expect anyone to be pleased with a rate increase. But we do ask them to try to understand why we need it.

By receiving a little more in rates today, we will be better able to meet our many responsibilities tomorrow.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

There use to be a song that allowed "the best things in life is free." Don't you believe it. When a feller in this land of plenty has to pay as much fer water as fer milk, we're jest a short step away from putting a tax on the air we Taking up this matter at the country store Saturday night, Clem Webster reported where he had saw this dairy in North Carolina was delivering door to door jugs of plain well watter. Clem said he knowed you could buy special drinking water from mineral springs and such, but he didn't recall where water was being advertised and sold as plain water. Clem wasn't falting the dairy.

He said the water was meeting a demand for a service, cause the dairy couldn't keep up with orders fer the water. But Clem said it was odd to him that the same dairy that was selling plain water fast as they could pump it out of a well was having to add all kinds of chemics to their milk afore it could be sold.

The fellers was general agreed with Clem that we has come a long way down the road of store-bought everthing, but Ed Doolittle, fer one, was of a mind its jest the price we pay fer all we learn.

Fer instant, allowed Ed, where can a feller git a plain, ordinary breakfast? Can he order a egg and sawsage and a couple of buttered biskits at home or anywhere and not git a bunch of them "additives" that suppose to make everthing better? The egg, went on Ed, probable is caged, unfertilized, grade A medium, the sawsage is Guvernment inspected and the spices in it the Food and Drug Administration ain't shore won't give you cancer or heart trouble. The biskit, well, even if its fresh homemade it come from flour that's double enriched and bleached and fixed to rise by itself. They ain't no telling all that is done to store-bought butter to make it taste like anything but but-

Practical speaking, butted in Zeke Grubb, they ain't no other way to pertect the health of all the folks in this country. Zeke said he had saw where the price of meat is going up at a faster rate than everthing else right now, but the piece in the paper said the price the grower gits fer the meat is going down. What's eating us up, allowed Zeke, is the "processing, packaging and transportation," and them costs is what's behind all the things that's happening to what we eat, drink and breathe. When you can set down to sawsage made from a hog growed 2,000 miles away, you jest can't expect it to be as plain as a hog you would kill yoreself, was Zeke's

Personal, Mister Editor, I am agreed with Zeke that we had ought to be thankful fer "additives," but when I hear about em selling enriched air in a jug, I'm going to start

PROCLAMATION

President Lambert Althaver officially proclaimed May 15-22 for Cass City's Clean up - Paint up - Fix up campaign and urged every citizen to participate in this year's program.

The proclamation is as follows:

WHEREAS, the general health and welfare of our citizens depend upon wholesome surroundings arising from good clean living conditions, and

WHEREAS, the lives and property of our people are endangered by fire and accidents caused by littered and cluttered conditions in homes, factories, places of public assembly, alleys and streets and

WHEREAS, a clean and beautiful community is a proud and prosperous one and

WHEREAS, unity of effort is required for future development of our community,

THEREFORE, I Lambert Althaver, President of the Village of Cass City, do hereby designate May 15-22 inclusive as Clean Up Week and most respectfully call upon all departments of this city, its commercial organizations, civic clubs, schools, churches, boys' and girls' clubs and all other associations and our people in general to take an active part in this constructive program of community improvement to insure its success.

CASS CITY VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held on April 27, 1971 at the Municipal Building, All Trustees were present.

The minutes of the regular February meeting were read and approved.

Jim Johnson and Vic Guernsev were present to request that the Council approve a home run fence for the little league diamond. After some discussion it was decided that since the ball diamonds will probably be relocated, a temporary fence will be put up for this year. The Council will consider a new permanent fence in next year's

A discussion was held on the the two Cass Citytaverns, Recommendations have been made to improve the two taverns before further consideration will be made for approval for liquor licenses. It was decided that the applications would be reviewed in a couple of weeks after the tavern owners have been informed of the improvement recommendations made by the Council. Al Witherspoon was present to review and bring the Council up to date on the Village employees' retirement program. The Finance Committee and Trustees of the pension program will meet with Mr. Witherspoon to study the program in more detail. The Financial Report for the month of March was reviewed. It was moved by Trustee Christner and supported by Trustee Jones that the Village purchase a 1971 Chevrolet Biscayne police car from Bulen Motors for not more than $3,000 with trade in on the 1969 Chevrolet. Motion carried.

A motion was made by Trustee Albee and supported by Michigan Week activities included the presentation of a Volunteer Leadership Award to Michael Satchell of Caro, as the representative for Michigan dairy farmers in regional and national circles.

Mr. Satchell, (right) discussed the award with Sen. Alvin DeGrow of Pigeon, (left) and Fred Charlton, General Chairman of 1971 Michigan Week, after presentation by the Governor. In a presentation before the joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives, Governor Milliken stated, "Mr. Satchell exemplifies the outstanding young farm leadership moving into operating responsibility on our Michigan farms.

A dairy farmer from Tuscola county, he represents Michigan and the midwest states in the National Young Farmers and Ranchers Committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He has been an officer and president of the State Young Farmers Committee, and he and his wife have been honored by the Milk Producers Association of Michigan.

this resolution. Roll call vote: 7 yeas; 0 nays. Carried Commissioner Ducker presented the resolution for the issuance of bonds for the Village of Kingston System: BOND RESOLUTION

Mr Floyd Ducker offered the following resolution which was approved by the Board of Public Works at their meeting of April 6, 1971. WHEREAS, this Board of Commissioners, by resolution, has approved of the establishment of a sewage disposal system to be known as the "Kingston Sewage Disposal System" for the purpose of disposing of sanitary sewage from the Kingston Sewage Disposal District, which district lies wholly within the Village of Kingston and is more particularly described in said reso-

WHEREAS, pursuant to a resolution of this Board of Commissioners and pursuant to a resolution adopted by the governing body of the Village of Kingston and the County of Tuscola and the said village are entering into a contract dated as of December 31, 1970, whereby the County agrees to construct and to finance said Kingston Sewage Disposal System at an estimated cost of $550,000 and the Village agrees to pay the cost thereof, as represented in part by $360,000 of bonds issued by the County to finance said System, which said contract is set forth in full in said resolution of this Board of Commissioners; and WHEREAS, preliminary plans and specifications for the Kingston Sewage Disposal System as prepared by Spicer Engineering Company, registered professional engineers, and an estimate of $550,000 as the cost of said System and an estimate of forty (40) years and upwards as the period of usefulness thereof, as prepared by said registered professional engineers, have been approved by the Board of Public Works and by the Board of Commissioners of Tuscola County and by the Village Council of the Village of Kingston; and WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of said contract of December 31, 1970, the amounts of the several annual installments and interest thereon to be paid by the village are not less than the annual bond maturities hereinafter set forth and interest thereon; and

WHEREAS, under said contract of December 31, 1970, the said Village is to pay annually the amount of each annual installment to the County and in addition thereto is to pay semiannual interest and paying agent fees and other bond handling costs as determined pursuant to said contract; and WHEREAS, the County is desirous of issuing bonds in anticipation of the payments to be made by the said Village under said contract of December 31, 1970; and

WHEREAS, the County Board of Public Works has approved this resolution and recommended its adoption by the Board of THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COM-

Gene Wilson, Cass City Police Chief, revealed the disturbing fact that larceny crimes, the police term for stolen, have increased in Cass City at an alarming pace.

A quick check of the police records for the months passed bore out the officer's point. The records list the individual offenses and the total for each during the one month period.

The records show that the entire month of December, 1970, netted only two larcenies. Since then the total has jumped to eight for March 1971 and 17 for last April.

Wilson said that only about two of last month's 17 were $100 or over, but the frequency is alarming.

Motorcycle-truck crash fatal for John Wright of Caro

John Edward Wright, 17, of Van Giesen Road, Caro, became Tuscola county's second traffic victim of the year, in a year that has been remarkable because of its few traffic fatalities in comparison with the last five years. According to Sheriff's Deputies, Wright had been working at a store in Caro and at 9 p. m. was riding his motorcycle in a southerly direction on the Graf Road, a half mile south of the Gilford Road, just west of Caro. The boy struck a rear of an unlighted pickup truck parked partly on and partly off the road. Wright was killed instantly.

A two-car collision between two Cass City area residents occurred at the Cass City and Colwood Roads earlier this month. The sheriff's report indicates that David Andrew Barnes, 23, of 4822 North Seeger Street, Cass City, was heading south on the Colwood Road while Thomas Armand Lounsbury, 22, of 4984 Cass City Road was heading south and attempting to pass Barnes. Barnes made a left turn into the Lounsbury car but neither driver was injured and no citations were issued.

A marriage on the rocks is difficult for everyone, and a group of lawmakers is trying to make it easier for some of those involved. They are proposing changes in the law which would permit a great simplification in the divorce granting process. This would make divorces available to those who cannot afford legal fees: make the divorce less painful for all; help free up court dockets which are clogged with divorce proceedings.

The lawmakers, whose numbers include House Judiciary Chairman Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, want to change Michigan's 120-year-old divorce statute to give the state a "nofault" approach to divorce. The dramatic proposal already has been adopted in differing forms by the states of Iowa, Texas and California.

Under the proposed law the tests for dissolving a marriage would be the contention that "the legitimate objects of matrimony" had been destroyed in the relationship of the couple and that no "reasonable likelihood" exists that a reconciliation could be made.

Current law requires a Michigan resident filing for divorce to prove that the marriage partner was guilty of mental cruelty, adultery, drunkenness, criminality resulting in imprisonment, or mental incompetence.

"The way it is now, our divorce law presumes that one party must be completely snowwhite clean and the other guilty of marital wrongdoing," Traxler says, "That defies nature, That one party should be found totally innocent and the other totally responsible is absurd,"

"And yet," he adds, "many people don't understand this, if the court finds that both husband and wife contributed to the marital breakdown, the court is powerless to grant

The current setup does more than any other factor to clog the state's court dockets and help produce the backlog of cases which plague Michigan's judicial system.

For example, of the 105,213 civil and criminal cases filed in Michigan circuit courts last year, nearly 45 per cent--46,954 to be exact--were divorce actions. The year before 45,849 of 98,129 suits-nearly 47 per cent--were for

But that isn't the reason it has had such a receptive audience among some lawmakers. "When two people who are married grow to hate each other, it's tough enough on them

Have you ever attended a wedding reception where relatives and friends of all ages are enjoying the festivities? Did you notice how much fun the small children have? Did you see the sparkle in greatgrandpa's eye? If you have, you've witnessed a very important experience for children, according to my co-worker, Ann Ross. The experts are telling that children are isolated too much with children their own age. For proper development, they need to mix often with others who are older and younger than themselves.

Dr. Eric Bronfenbrenner, Cornell University, states that "age-segregated" children tend to be irresponsible, anti-social and pessimistic. He suggests that day care centers need the active involvement of the children's parents.

Although school, church and club activities do tend to segre-gate children by age, parents can compensate for this by 1) spending time in active conversation and activity with their children, 2) arranging for mixed group activities in which children have chances for meaningful inter-action with other age groups, 3) taking a family vacation in which the activities are oriented toward the total family group, 4) remembering that the peer group need not be the only important group to which a child may relate.

Golfers drop meets to Vassar, Lakers

The Cass City High School golf team lost a pair of matches this past week. The team hosted Vassar Tuesday, May 4, and the visitors walked off with a victory. In that match, Vassar had a 21-8 advantage in match play, enabling them to underscore the Hawks by 11 strokes. Jude Patnaude led the Cass City squad with a 41, just missing medalist honors. Vassar's Tom Thayer grabbed that honor with a 40. Rich Lowe, who played against Thayer in the match, had a good day himself with a 43, but couldn't match the red hot Thayer. In the May 7 match at Laker High, the Hawks improved on their Tuesday performance somewhat, but still did not have enough to win. Cass City was underscored by five strokes, and made match play close before finally losing out, 17-13. Jude Patnaude and Rich Lowe tied for Cass City's top effort with 46's. Patnaude was the only Cass City player to come out with an advantage in match play. He won 2-1, with six even holes with his Laker opponent.

No records set at Gavel track meet Saturday

The 13th annual running of the Cass City Gavel Club Invitational track meet provided few surprises Saturday other than the tradition of lousy weather was broken and a Flint area team did not win the team championship.

And there were good reasons for both of these rare occurrences. The weather was fine because the meet date had been shoved back 10 days and Flint teams did not dominate because for the first time Class A schools were not invited.

But it was a team from a metropolitan area that ended the day with the coveted team championship. Marysville won with a total of 55 points.

Owengage, which finished seventh, copped the Class D trophy and Port Huron Catholic was tops in class C while finishing 10th over-all.

JV's whip Lakers, 61-48

The Cass City Junior High track team captured its second victory of the season with a 61-48 decision over the Lakers of Elkton, Pigeon, Bay Port Tuesday, May 4.

Ron Spencer with 11 1/4 points was the high individual performer for Cass City. Ed Stoutenburg garnered 11 points, Don Karr, 10 points, and Dan Mellendorf, 10 1/4 points.

Cass City won the 440 and 880 relay events and finished first in seven of the 11 other track or meet records set. Qualified observers say that the reason is probably because the Class A schools did not compete.

The nearest to a record. breaking performance that any competitor came was in the mile. Andy Kovac, a freshman from St. Louis, blazed around the track in 4:28,1 in the mile just .3 of a second off the record.

Cass City scored 11 points with Craig Guernsey 4th in the 880-yard run, Curt Strickland, fifth in the mile, and a fourth in both the medley relay and the mile relay.

Hawks lose

Cass City ran into a tough, experienced Caro club in a track meet held at Caro

Wednesday, May 5. The inexperience of the Cass City team proved fatal as Caro out-distanced the Hawks, 77-41.

The Hawks did receive a

Vassar win keeps title hope alive

Cass City High School's red hot Hawks squeezed out a 10-7 win over Vassar Monday, May 10. Vassar, one of the less powerful of the Thumb B Conference members, staged valiant effort before home fans in an upset bid over highly rated Cass City.

The game went ten innings before it was finally decided. Cass City got off to a fast lead, and were cruising 7-2, when Coach Fred Hurlburt pulled his star flamethrower, Rob Alexander in the fourth. Alexander, who was suffering from a temperature of 102 on Sunday, and missed school Monday morning before showing up in the afternoon so that he could pitch, was too tired to continue at that time.

Gene Salas relieved for Alexander and Vassar' battled back to tie in the seventh. Hurlburt quickly went back to his tired ace, and Alexander notched his fourth win of the season when the Hawks pushed across three runs in the tenth.

Cass City now stands 4-1 in the Thumb B Conference, trailing only Laker High at 5-0. Laker's perfect record may not still be intact however. because they played third place Frankenmuth this week, A Frankenmuth victory would force a three-way tie for first between the Hawks, Frankenmuth, and Laker all at one loss. Cass City was to play Wednesday, May 12, at Mayville in a non-league contest. The Thumb B showdown is set for Cass City Recreation Park when the Lakers bring its impressive club in Monday. If the Hawks win they will have taken a giant step toward Thumb B

DANDELIONS?

You can live without 'em!

Yes, dandelions plus plantain, buckhorn, clover, ground ivy and many other similar weeds have met their match. It's Scotts PLUS-2. You spread it on your lawn just like ordinary fertilizer. It makes the weeds gradually curl up and disappear - roots and all. PLUS-2 full-fertilizes your good grass at the same time. Helps it grow greener and sturdier, filling in those places where the dandelions and other weeds were.
