

A miracle: everyone should have seen it

I witnessed a miracle Saturday morning and I wish there were some way that every living soul in the community could have seen it too.

Right now, about a half hour after the accident, I'm still a little shaky about it, but it's nothing compared to what it was when I heard the motorcycle-car crash just outside my office window.

I was only a witness but my hand shook as I attempted to call the authorities and get help.

The man on the cycle lay spread eagled over the hood of the tan car, not moving and the blood dripped slowly down to the ground. All I could think was that there was no chance at all, no chance at all.

And the anguish of the unhurt driver as she leaned with one hand on the car for support, while dazedly repeating over and over, "My God, I stopped, I stopped."

And the minutes that seemed to stretch on and on as the crowd that collected kept looking down Main Street for the ambulance to make its way to the scene to whisk the driver from the hood to the stretcher and to the hospital.

And the lone spot of oil on the highway that marked the spot where the collision occurred as the traffic resumed its normal pattern.

And most of all, the wonderfully glorious thrill of the miracle itself... that the cyclist escaped with only minor cuts and bruises.

And how wonderful Jessie Wilson must have felt when she talked with the young man at Hills and Dales Hospital and found that she was involved in nothing more than what proved to be a minor accident.

Miracles sometimes happen and the community was lucky enough to have one occur Saturday.

It was the second accident this week involving motorcycles on the streets of the village. Neither proved serious.

But a week ago a youth was killed riding one and the lesson to be learned is that the growing popularity of the cycles poses special problems.

One is that the bikes are hard to see. Especially when approaching from a side street when the intersection ahead is lined with cars.

It calls for extra vigilance by both the bike rider and drivers of cars.

The next accident that occurs in Cass City might well have a very different ending.

This week Cass City used up its full quota of miracles.

Cyclists escape here

4 fatal crashes mar holiday week end in Huron, Tuscola counties

DISTRAUGHT MISS JESSIE Wilson, right, looks at Manuel James Sapien, 23, immediately following a crash Saturday morning at the corner of Main and Oak Streets. At the time it was not known that he apparently suffered only minor injuries.

Sentence Lounsbury to prison for larceny Tuesday

Norris Lounsbury, 18, of Cass City, was sentenced Tuesday by Circuit Judge James P. Churchill to spend from 1 1/2 to 4 years in Jackson Prison for larceny from a building conviction earlier this year.

Lounsbury's sentence was handed down in a busy day in Circuit Court before Judge Churchill and it concerned the robbery of a mobile home on the Deckerville road in January of this year.

Lounsbury had been charged with breaking and entering but entered a plea of guilty to a reduced charge of larceny from a building. Judge Churchill pointed to a lengthy record both as an adult and as a juvenile leading up to Tuesday's sentencing.

Two other Cass City young men were sentenced for participating in the same robbery: Raymond Spencer, 17, with a substantial record, was given 4 years' probation with a fine of $200 and costs of $300 to be repaid at the rate of $25 a month with 90 days in the Tuscola County Jail.

Clinton Spencer, 18, a brother of Raymond Spencer, but with a lesser record, was sentenced to 3 years' probation, $200 fine and $300 costs with three weeks in the county jail, less three days already served.

Ernest Gotwalt, 20, of Leix Road, Mayville, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny from a building in the robbery of the Colosky store on M-38 in Juniata township earlier this year. Gotwalt, who is in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond, will be sentenced June 28.

Karen Folsom, 25, of the Caro area, stood mute when charged with the murder of her husband, Allen Folsom, December 3.

Judge Churchill set August 11 as the tentative date for the trial, pending results of two separate motions that Mrs. Folsom's attorney indicated that he would file.

One concerns a request for a "change of venue" or moving the court trial to another circuit. The other would concern evidence and whether some evidence should be admitted or not.

Judge Churchill set July 2 as the date to hear arguments on both those matters and the schedule now calls for the trial

August 11 with Prosecutor Leo Maki estimating a 4-day trial... The defense estimating a trial of 7 to 10 days.

In a different court last week, the district court of Judge Richard Kern, Mrs. Karen Folsom's attorneys filed a civil suit for $3,000, the limit handled by district court, and asked to have some personal belongings of Mrs. Folsom returned to her.

The material cited in the case includes cameras and film and claims that the items were taken from the Folsom home illegally without a search warrant the pessimistic over pollution control

Jim Neal, Department of Natural Resources specialist in environmental control, from Flint, is pessimistic about the outlook for conserving our natural resources.

"I have yet to come into a small town such as Cass City," he told Cass City Rotarians, "and see an official plan for preserving the environment."

And despite the wide-spread publicity in recent years, Neal said, "I'm not sure that we know what is going on in the world around us."

Neal showed slides illustrating the pollution caused by the expanding population and by the lack of concern by many.

He illustrated city, farm and suburban pollution. In his illustration was a farm in Sanilac county, which he did not name, but did picture indicating that it was an untreated sanitation line hooked directly to the county drain.

Neal also commented on the Great Lakes. He said that Lake Michigan was more critical than Lake Erie. The reason is that Lake Erie has a flushing action every few years and Lake Michigan has a flushing action that takes hundreds of years, he explained.

night of December 3 and morning of the fourth when the initial investigation into the Folsom case was underway. No answer has been filed.

Jury finds

Powell innocent

Last Wednesday night at 10:30, a Tuscola Circuit Court jury returned a verdict of not guilty for lack of evidence in the case of William Powell, formerly of Cass City and now a resident of Caro.

Powell was charged with assault with intent to commit rape against Mrs. Patricia Randall of Kingston in October of last year. Testimony was presented to a jury of six men and six women primarily from Mrs. Randall for the prosecution and Powell for his defense.

Both Prosecutor Leo Maki and the defense attorney agreed that the case was a classic in "whom do you believe." The matter was tried before Judge Norman Baguley.

Township sets millage vote

for July 12

Elkland township voters will be asked to approve a five-year extension of a one-mill ($1 per $1,000 of assessed valuation) tax in a special election scheduled Monday, July 12.

The money will be used to build a new township fire hall and office on Church Street near Ale Street on property already purchased by the township.

The current one-mill levy will have been in force for three years when it expires and the extension will build the new facility.

Plans for a building have been under study for several years and a new facility under discussion for the last 10 years.

Two youths were hospitalized this week after they were involved in accidents with vehicles while riding motorcycles in Cass City.

Saturday morning Manuel James Sapien, 23, was hospitalized for what later proved to be minor injuries in an accident on Main and Oak Streets.

According to patrolman William McKinley, Sapien was driving east on Main on his motorcycle and was behind another vehicle that was waiting to turn left onto Oak Street.

Miss Jessie Margaret Wilson was travelling west on Main and attempting a left turn onto Oak.

She turned in front of the motorcycle. The reports of witnesses vary, but evidently Sapien was thrown off his bike and turned a complete somersault in the air. One witness said that he landed on the roof of the Wilson car and then rolled onto the hood and others say he landed on the hood directly.

Sapient received cuts and bruises and was not seriously injured. Miss Wilson was treated for shock at Hills and Dales and released. She was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

The other motorcycle accident occurred Friday at the corner of Maple and Houghton Streets.

Harold James Harp, 17, of Silverwood ran into the side of a furniture truck driven by Elmer Horace Jerome, 64, of Saginaw.

Harp was treated for cuts and bruises at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

The Memorial holiday week end was marred by a rash of fatal accidents with two fatalities each in Tuscola and Huron counties and another serious accident early Monday morning.

Edward Charles Rumpitz, 17, of Stanbaugh Road, Uby, was killed about 3:05 a. m. Monday morning in a crash of a pickup truck on the Stanbaugh Road southwest of Uby.

Rumpitz, according to Bad Axe State Police, was a passenger in the southbound truck driven by Frederick Beaudin, 20, of Uby. Beaudin lost control of the vehicle, went off the west side of the road, and glanced off a utility pole. Edward Rumpitz was thrown from the truck and died of a fractured skull.

James Scott Pettit, 23, of Detroit, died at Huron Memorial Hospital about 10 a. m. Sunday of head injuries he received when his car missed a curve on highway US-23, east of Port Austin, and rolled over three times. Huron County Deputies say the accident occurred a few minutes after 6 o'clock Sunday.

In Tuscola county, John William McCrandall, 17, was killed instantly Sunday morning when his car, heading east, rammed a bridge abutment on Birch Run Road near Belsay Road, 4 miles southwest of Millington. Bridgeport State Police say the 1:45 a. m. accident caused the car to burst into flames.

Three miles north of that spot, Friday afternoon, Theodore Mathew Brandle, 17, drove his motorcycle into the dual rear wheels of a truck. Brandle was moving east on the Murphy Lake Road and the truck was heading north on the Belsay Road when the accident occurred at the open intersection. The truck was driven by Tom Lee Coomer, 33, of Flint.

Tuscola county's death toll now is four while Huron county's death toll has risen to seven.

THE FRED HULLS still like Michigan.

Hulls set for retirement years right around home

The Fred Hulls will be moving shortly from their temporary home at Huntsville Trailer Park in Cass City to a tree shaded lot in Deford and when they do Fred Hull, 74, vows it will be his last move.

Fred and his wife, the former Margaret Faulkner, really haven't been shifting around all that much during their life together. It's just that since they've retired in 1963 they have been in three different homes.

Since he quit the farm, the Hulls have been looking for the ideal retirement location and have found that for them none provide the perfect answer.

Right after retirement the Hulls purchased 40 acres on Cemetery Road and made plans to live there. But after visiting in Tucson, Ariz., for a winter the couple decided that Arizona was the place for them and sold their first retirement home and moved to a large trailer park in Tucson with intentions of becoming year-around residents.

And the park was just fine with Fred. "You know, he said with a smile, "at the park there are retired farmers from all over the midwest and we were able to plow a few acres together most everyday."

I miss that, he added, the farmers here are working. They don't have time to sit around and talk about it.

While Fred might well have stayed in Tucson even though he didn't care much for the hot, dry and dusty summers or the ever growing population in the area, he was talked out of it by his wife.

Mrs. Hull didn't like the weather but most of all she was homesick. Homesick for her Michigan friends and the children. Arizona is a long way from where they live in Wyandotte.

Actually, it was a depression that never came that moved the Hulls to the Cass City area originally.

After the war, Hull looked for a depression. After the experiences of the 1930's he was determined to get out of Detroit and the factory. He worked at Dodge and in 1944 factory work didn't offer the pensions and the unemployment insurance that they do today.

If I'd known how it was going to be, Hull said, I never would have left Dodge.

But he did when he purchased 80 acres on Severance Road and went into the dairy business. He thrived in the business.

When he sold out nearly 20 years later the 80 acres had swelled to 240 acres and there were 30 milking cows to be tended. A comparatively good sized herd at the time.

Mrs. Hull looks and acts a trifle grim when she talks about it. The 7 days a week work that the couple endured for 20 years.

Still, the hard work and the long hours had little lasting adverse effect on the couple. Today they both look years younger than their actual ages.

It's likely that they will enjoy life in their "final" retirement home for many years to come.

Marie Roch joins husband in retirement from Cable

PLANT MANAGER Richard A. Rinaldi congratulates Mrs. George Roch on a long successful career with General Cable Corporation on her retirement Friday.

Six months ago, shortly before his retirement, the Chronicle ran a story about George Roch's 25 years at General Cable Corporation.

Friday another long-time employee of the company retired and was feted for 24 years with the company. The employee was Mrs. Marie Roch.

"If you want to find out about my career," Mrs. Roch said good naturedly, "read what you wrote about George when he quit."

A quick check of the previous story reveals many similarities.

Both worked in the Providence plant of Cable. Mrs. Roch started in the office Oct. 7, 1947. But with an eye at the prevailing pay scales in the plant she decided to give the manufacturing end of the business a whirl.

It proved to be her niche. She stayed. The work was fine and she really took to her boss. And her boss sort of liked her, too.

They were married in January 1959.

Her husband moved to Cass City in March of 1960 and she followed the next month.

Together they started the Cable plant in Cass City.

Mrs. Roch served as a training supervisor in Cass City. While most of their lives were spent in the east, the Rochs quickly adapted to small town midwestern living.

In fact they like it so much they have no intention of leaving now that their working days are over.

"We'll stay right here in our apartment," Mrs. Roch says. We don't have any future plans, she said.

Nothing definite anyway. Outside of just resting and taking it easy.

Funds still available for area air strip

Gov. William G. Milliken's five-year State Airport Plan recommends construction of a new turf airport at Cass City and a new turf airport in the vicinity of Vassar.

It is part of a program with an estimated cost of $229 million.

The same plan calls for the construction of a new administration building, extension of the main runway and other improvements at the Caro Municipal Airport.

In Sanilac county, the governor recommends construction of a new paved airport at Marlette which eventually would be capable of serving business jets.

The snag in the program is that the key to success will be local financing. There will be an estimated $43 million in Federal funds and about $20 million in State funds available in the next five years.

That's less than half of the total cost of projects which would require $100 million in local funds.

In Cass City a few years ago, a hot campaign was waged for an airstrip. Various boosters were talking about the project, looking for a suitable location and an organizational meeting was held.

But the project waned away when it came time to raise the necessary funds.

Think about Sleeper State Park on Saginaw Bay for a moment. Clean water and white sand? Communion with nature? Pristine pureness and renewal with mother nature?

Perhaps. But it also offers dope sold from a rowboat and free communal sex that was so evident that it caused comment from a group of college kids who spent the week end camping there.

—John Graham's volunteer work in British Honduras has caused a stir on the island. The Belize Reporter regarded it as important enough to mention in an editorial urging the way the soon to be free country should be heading.

The rural Caro farmer returns to the island soon to try to establish a dairy industry.

Residents of the community some 20 years ago will remember Coach Arthur Paddy, the mentor who guided some of Cass City's finest football and basketball teams.

The Paddy family is mourning the loss of a son, Michael F. Paddy, 26, who was one of 2 men killed Thursday morning in an automobile accident in West Bloomfield township. The car Paddy was driving went out of control, hit a tree, rolled over and skidded 100 feet, hitting a power line guy wire, according to a report in the Detroit Free Press.

I think it was a Kerbyson boy, but the name doesn't matter. The most forlorn "businessman" in Cass City Memorial Day had to be the boy who was selling a soft drink on North Seeger.

You'll recall that Monday was cold, damp and dreary. The soft drink stand was a table and the salesman sat huddled up in a jacket and hat to protect himself from the raw breeze that whipped the tiny American flag on the table straight out. One consolation: there was no need for ice.

The name is withheld to protect the guilty. But the story around town is that a three-year old recently tooled a car a half block down the street, turned into a drive and smashed into a garage.

Dad had left the car for just a moment when the youngest racer in town took over.

Solon urges one house Michigan legislature

Amidst all the talk one hears now days about making government more efficient and more accountable, one member of the Legislature is pushing a proposal which he thinks could accomplish both things at the same time.

State Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, thinks Michigan ought to reduce the size of its Legislature by eliminating one of the houses and having a one house Legislature.

Though the idea is a strange one to most Michiganders, all 10 of the Canadian provinces function with only one house Legislature. In this country, the state of Nebraska has been operating with only one house since 1937 and its residents like it just fine.

Under Swallow's proposal, Michigan would have a one house Legislature made up of four persons from each of the state's Congressional districts. Since the State now has 19 Congressmen, the Legislature would have 76 members.

All 76 members would be elected at the same time as the Governor.

"This would permit the people, on one occasion, to take a look at their state government and make a decision whether the government is doing a good job or a bad job," he says. "Some people argue we should split it, with half elected every two years. But that further complicates the situation as far as the citizen is concerned."

Swallow says the main reason for switching to a one house setup is to make it easier for the citizen to watch what is going on in Lansing.

"Today, nobody has an opportunity to show what they can do or cannot do," he says. "If things don't work out, each party blames the other, especially now that the two houses are controlled by different parties. The poor citizen is confused."

"I sense a real feeling among people that they're losing their faith in government," he says. "They're questioning the credibility and effectiveness of the Legislature. One house would give them a much better idea of what their government is doing."

The Constitutional Convention considered a one house Legislature briefly in 1962 and then voted it down.

The main backer at Con Con was University of Detroit law professor Harold Norris. Norris also argued such a move would simplify government.

"Two houses Legislatures are more confused than deliberative," he said during the debate on the subject. "They frustrate rather than express the popular will. Two houses manipulate and render citizens impotent and apathetic rather than reflect, or responsibly influence, the consent of the governed."

4-H ACTIVITIES

Varied program slated at MSU

By Bernard Jardot

Many 4-H'ers will do a lot of talking about the weather at the 4-H Exploration Days, June 29 through July 1, at Michigan State University.

"Weather" is one of the 65 options that are available for study and exploration by our 4-H members during the three-day program. Each option involves three action-learning sessions, and in this case they will review all aspects of weather.

Previous experience with the 4-H weather project is not necessary for we want to create interest in new experiences as well as new skills. The participants will learn to read and prepare weather maps involving rainfall, barometric pressure and temperature.

While at Michigan State University, the 4-H'ers will tour campus and the State Capitol, and will have their choice of recreational activities including swimming, tennis and other sports. There will also be leisure learning activities such as archery, karate, weight lifting and square dancing.

All participants will meet on the final day, July 1, in the Spartan Stadium Concourse to demonstrate each of the different options. We wish to remind all members, leaders, parents and other interested people that the public is welcome to attend this day-long open program.

Each participant in 4-H Exploration Days was selected for his interest and commitment to a project or activity, a willingness to share new ideas with the club, ability to gain from the experience and leadership qualities.

AREA ACCIDENTS

French Road, Unionville, was taken to Bay City's Mercy Hospital in critical condition with deep facial lacerations and internal injuries. Bad Axe State Police say that the one-car accident occurred at 12:45 Tuesday morning when the Baur car veered to the north side of the Bay City-Forestville Road near the Graf Road and struck a bridge abutment. Baur was thrown through the windshield and the car landed on his legs.

Karen Arlene Voss, 18, of Crawford Road, Deford, was uninjured in an accident on Deckerville Road, near Dodge Road, May 28 at 10:45 p.m. Miss Voss was moving east when a cow appeared from the north and could not be avoided.

Douglas Albert Englehart, 21, of Shabbona Road, Deford, was taken to Hills and Dales Hospital Sunday morning at 11 a.m. when he struck a series of bumps and he leaped from a motorbike and landed on his back. He was on the Shabbona Road near the Crawford Road when the accident occurred.

"If It Fitz. . ."

Another dream shattered

BY JIM FITZGERALD

I never would have believed it. I should be laughing but here I am crying.

All my life I have had only one modest ambition. I wanted to own my own private poolroom and bar.

Other men want to be president, or to fondle the town doll, or to own exclusive rights to sell GM records to GM. Some men yearn most to break 90 at golf, or shoot their way to safety through a herd of rampaging deer.

To each his own. I always wanted my own bar and poolroom.

When I was about 15, some of my relatives began insisting I was a poolroom bum. But a couple of years later, some other relatives disagreed, claiming I was a barroom bum. I used to be confused myself about which I wanted most to be. But then all the bars began installing pool tables and I realized happily that it was possible to be both.

Unfortunately, it was at about this same time that I got married and both noble activities, bar and pool, were severely curtailed. It is difficult to be either type of bum when you are married to a woman who won't let you empty the garbage after sundown for fear you might escape in the dark.

The only answer was to install my own bar and poolroom in our basement. It took me 16 years to save enough money. I did it by depositing $1 in an old shoe every time my wife caught me running toward the bright lights with the garbage.

So now the bar is built, a splendid thing where I can prop one foot higher and the top fits perfectly under my elbow. On the other side of the room the space is cleared and the lights are waiting. A magnificent pool table is ordered and will arrive any day.

So why am I crying when I should be laughing? I guess it's the principle of the thing.

Behind the bar my wife has added a few things I hadn't planned on. Such as a range and oven and refrigerator and sink. They're nice, of course, and I really didn't mind much until yesterday when she said:

"How do you like the blue Formica I ordered for the counter tops in the kitchen?"

KITCHEN! She is calling my bar a kitchen. I am sick.

And I am sicker when I look at my poolroom area and see a piano. I can hear her now: "Jim is down in the music room playing 8-ball."

She has probably hired a little old lady in an embroidered apron to tend bar and rack balls. And if I hang around too much, she'll probably tell everyone I'm a kitchen bum. Onward and Upward?

BETTER HEALTH

Fear and excitement can be smelled

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Probably everyone has heard the statement, "If a dog goes after you, stand your ground and don't get frightened. If you are not afraid, he will leave you alone, but if you are scared, he will smell your fear and attack."

I have wondered many times if this was true, but I have never heard any definite proof. Then recently I saw an article in Medical Counterpoint, in which the authors said that there is probably a lot of truth in the statement that animals can smell fear. Dr. K. Smith and his associates extracted a substance from urine of scared animals, and he found out what it is chemically. Several other substances have been found in the urine of frightened animals, that have a characteristic odor. These smelly substances are the ones that so greatly interest a dog as he passes a pole or fire hydrant. He wants to stop and see what animal went that way.

Similarly, the researchers found that schizophrenics found at times have in their urine an odorous substance which has now been isolated in pure form. This sort of thing has been of interest to the Canadian psychiatrist, Dr. Abram Hoffer, who has been doing many studies of the chemical changes in men and women which appear to account for their peculiar reactions during an acute attack of schizophrenia. Recently I saw a woman whose brilliant husband was at times schizophrenic, and at those times she said his clothes smelled so strongly with a peculiar pungent odor, that she hated to go into his closet to get a suit for the presser. During my many years in medicine, I have noted that strong emotion, great anxiety, great grief, or the excitement of making a speech can quickly produce a foul, fecal type of breath, and this can clear away in a few minutes when the person is at peace again. Some women are distressed and handicapped because their breath becomes somewhat fecal in odor during sexual excitement.

The worst odor I ever noted in my office was due to the presence of a hysterical woman who, when she first came in, was suffering from a great fear that I would recognize that her so-called paralyzed arm was really only hysterically contracted, and held firmly against her breast, and that this spasm was due to a fight she had had with her doctor. As a result of this, she had been going around town saying to everyone she met, "See what a mess that awful doctor made of me."

After talking with the woman for a while and making friends with her, I was able to persuade her to use her arm again. When she left my office, I had to open the windows and the door, and air the place out for an hour before I could use it again. What was remarkable was that when she came back the next day, free of the great anxiety and fear of me that she had felt at the first meeting, the distressing odor was gone, and her breath was sweet.

A DRUG WHICH SOMETIMES CURES INFERTILE MEN

I read that when a couple much want a child and the wife is fertile but the man's sperm count is insufficient, the man can take a drug called CLOMPHENE CITRATE, which can increase his sperm concentration and improve his sperm motility (activeness), so that the couple can have the child they so desire.

Dr. Z. Palti, of the Hadassah University Hospital in Jerusalem, Israel, reported that of the 21 men who received 50 milligrams of the drug every day for 60 days, 47 per cent had an increase in sperm concentration, and 45 per cent had improvement in the motility of their spermatozoa. Five of the wives conceived during or shortly after their husbands' treatment.

LEG CRAMPS AT NIGHT

People are often much distressed by leg cramps at night. Sometimes the pain is so severe that the person must leap out of bed and walk around for a while until the spell passes. I am an expert on this problem, because I have occasionally suffered from such cramps since my youth. However, the frequency of these spells has been cut down greatly since I have learned to take a glass of milk every day with my lunch. That, I suspect, helps much, because it gives me calcium, and lack of calcium in the blood makes it easy for a person to have cramps.

If I do happen to wake with severe cramps in a leg or foot,

ONE FOR THE ROAD Ecology battle looms in northwest

By Dan Marlowe

If you think the subject of pesticides and their uses has sharply divided farmers and conservationists in the midwest, you ought to see the situation in the Pacific Northwest.

The problem there has grown to such an extent that at its worst it's beginning to resemble the ancient range wars between sheepmen and cattlemen of the Old West.

In the Hood River Valley area of Oregon fruit growers say they have been forced to import honeybees to save pollen-starved fruit crops. A full-fledged "bee lift" is transporting the buzzing pollinators for use in orchards of apples, cherries, peaches, and apricots.

Beekeepers and orchardists contend that bees are steadily falling victim to pesticides used

Mrs. S. McCallum dies in hospital

Mrs. Susan McCallum, 62, succumbed Friday, May 28, following a short illness, at Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City. Born in Germany May 19, 1889, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Reb. She married Neil McCallum April 2, 1908, at Linkville. He died in 1955.

Mrs. McCallum was a member of the Gagetown United Methodist Church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. John Penrod and Mrs. Erwin Binge, both of Detroit, and Mrs. Fred McKeller of Gagetown; nine grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. John Ludwig of Gagetown and Mrs. Frank Divo of Cass City.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 31, at the Gagetown Methodist church with the Rev. Clifford DeVore officiating.

Burial was in Grant cemetery and Hunter Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

by farmers whose crops don't depend upon bees for pollination. The bees die not only from the toxicity of the pesticides, they say, but also from destruction of plant life. When bees can't find pollen to feed their young, entire colonies die.

The farmers, on the other hand, regard the orchardists' position as an exaggeration of the facts. They say they have to protect themselves. In Washington's Yakima Valley, corn farmers and fruit growers are at loggerheads. Corn growers use the pesticide Sevin to eliminate corn-eating worms which can devastate a field within a week. But orchardists claim that Sevin is quick death to bees who like sweet-corn pollen.

A possible solution may be the use of Lannate, a new pesticide recently licensed by the Government for cornfield use. But most corn growers are sticking with Sevin until more is learned about Lannate. Fruit growers are insisting that the use of the volatile Sevin be restricted in areas close to orchards.

Agricultural authorities in Oregon point out that bees account for as much as $100,000,000 yearly in the state's economy. They claim that bees pollinate at least 90 different crops. Some crops depend wholly upon pollination, while others yield more abundantly when bees are used.

So the great "bee lift" is on. Over two billion honeybees have been airlifted to Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, and British Columbia. The bees come usually from the Northern California triangle that includes Redding, Davis, and Sacramento, supposedly the largest bee-producing area in the world.

The cost? Well, bees cost $2.25 a pound and there are supposedly 1000 bees to the pound.

Nowhere is there on record, however, a notarized statement to the effect that anyone, not even a buyer, ever counted out a pound of bees.

Husband Important in Furniture Selection

A new research study says the man of the house is moving forward as a prime decision-maker in household spending.

He has much more influence in the purchasing of home furnishings than most of us realize. He participates in two out of three furniture purchases. His degree of influence varies from 40 per cent when it comes to style, color and construction to 53 per cent when it comes to price.

The husband also plays a big role in helping his wife pick out carpeting for their home. The research shows husbands and wives buy carpeting together 59 per cent of the time.

AGENT'S CORNER

Take a picture, save a flower

Mrs. Margaret Ross - Extension Agent

As you walk past a wildflower, is your first impulse to pick it? Stop and think before you yield to that impulse. Instead of picking it, why not save the moment with a picture and teach conservation to your children? The life of a picked wildflower bloom is very short. In fact, by the time you've picked the flower and gotten back to your car, it's probably already starting to wilt. With a picture, the beauty of that flower can be saved and enjoyed by many people over a long period of time. So, instead of picking it, carefully touch the flower, smell it and examine it -- then snap a picture and save the whole memory.

And if you yield to your impulse, and pick that flower, stop and wonder how many other people have picked blooms off that same plant. Right now we have more people to enjoy our natural areas, than we have natural areas to take care of them. If everybody picks wildflowers the plants will soon no longer be able to reproduce. That's because flowers are the main parts for reproduction. So, the next time you walk past a wildflower, resist that impulse to pick it. Instead, enjoy it where it is. Teach your children to appreciate its beauty, and take a picture if you want a souvenir.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I saw in the paper the other day where this letter writer was taking newspapers to the woodshed for not printing enough good news. The letter said the papers had ought to print some-thing besides crime and all kind of bad news that was poison to the minds of our youngsters. Well, Mister Editor, I ain't about to tell you your business, but I am strong of the mind that this letter writer was trying to tell the wrong way. It ain't the papers that's the problem, it's them that's making all the bad news.

For instant, a few weeks back the papers told the good news about President Nixon holding a White House salute to agriculture, and how the President was praising the farmers and ranchers for a 300 per cent increase in output in the last 20 year. The President said America needs a strong agriculture economy, and that farmers deserve a better deal on what they produce.

But there was some bad news, and the papers reported it to. Farmers all over the country are unhappy with falling farm prices and rising prices everywhere else. They don't think Nixon is doing nothing about their problems but talk, and they say talk is cheaper than hog prices. Some farmers told reporters they figured Nixon was priming the pump for 1972, and he was going to have to do more than talk to give their votes.

This same letter writer said the papers made a big deal out of Red China giving our ping pong players the red carpet treatment, but it seems to me that's the good news he said they wasn't enough of. In the long run, I think the readers decide what the papers give a lot of attention to, just as shore as them that go to moving pictures decide what kind of movies are made.

For shore, Mister Editor, if nobody went to them XXX rated shows, they wouldn't be around very long. I'm not saying the papers is like movies, but it's a fact that bad news is read with more interest than good news.

The fellers were talking about this at the country store, and Zeke Grubb said he saw where this radio station in Virginia had tried to just use good news, and everybody found it so boring they had to go back to the regular run of good and bad to keep listeners and to sell time on the air.

Zeke was of the mind they had ought to be news of all kinds, but he said he was glad that bad news still is the exception instead of the rule, so natural people follow it closer. Lord help us, said Zeke, if good news gets scarcer.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

KINGSTON, MICH.

Official Proceedings of The TUSCOLA COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the covenants of each other, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. The County and the municipality approve the establishment of the System in the Village of Kingston and the County of Tuscola, under the provisions of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, which shall dispose of sanitary sewage originating in the area which has been designated by the County Board of Commissioners as the Kingston Sewage District (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "district").

2. The sewage disposal system referred to in paragraph 1 above has been designated by the County Board of Commissioners as the Kingston Sewage Disposal System and shall consist of lateral and trunk sewers and pumping and sewage treatment facilities substantially as indicated on Exhibit "A" attached hereto.

3. The county and the municipality hereby approve the estimate of cost of the system consisting of the items set forth in Exhibit "B" attached hereto, and the estimate of forty (40) years and upwards as the period of usefulness thereof and the preliminary plans and specifications as prepared by the Engineer. Said sewage disposal facilities are hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "project."

4. After the execution of this contract by the county and the municipality, the Board shall take the following steps:

(a) Obtain final construction plans and specifications for the project prepared by the Engineer.

(b) Submit to the Board of Commissioners of Tuscola County a resolution, duly approved and recommended by the Board, providing for the issuance of bonds in the aggregate principal amount of the present estimated cost of the project or such different amount reflecting any revision in the estimate of cost, or reflecting the amount of other funds available to pay the cost of the project, maturing serially as authorized by law, over a period not to exceed ten (10) years, and which shall be secured primarily by the payments hereinafter provided to be made by the municipality, to the making of which payments its full faith and credit is hereby pledged, and secondarily, if three-fifths (3/5) of the members elect of the Board of Commissioners so vote, by the full faith and credit pledge of the county.

(c) After the Board of Commissioners of Tuscola County has adopted the bond resolution, the Board will take all necessary procedures to obtain the approvals of the Municipal Finance Commission of the State of Michigan necessary to the issuance of the bonds by the county, obtain construction bids for the project, and enter into construction contracts with the lowest responsible bidders, and sell and deliver the bonds in manner authorized by law, and construct the project. The System has been designed and located by the county as to serve all areas and all residents in the municipality where sewage disposal services are now needed or will be needed in the foreseeable future but the responsibility of serving the individual users connected to the System shall be that of the municipality, which shall bill and collect all charges in connection therewith and shall maintain and operate the System as herein provided. The county shall not be bound by this agreement to serve any area outside the district as described in paragraph 1 hereof, or to construct any facilities other than those designated in paragraph 2 hereof, and the municipality shall not provide such service outside the District or extend or enlarge the System without express written consent of the county in the form of an amendment to this Contract.

6. The municipality shall pay the county the entire cost of the facilities of the system. The term "cost" as used herein shall be construed to include all items of cost of the type set forth in Exhibit "B" attached hereto and any other items of cost of a similar nature as may be set forth in any revision of Exhibit "B" agreed to by the parties hereto.

No change in the jurisdiction over any territory in the District shall in any manner impair the full faith and credit obligations of the municipality under this contract. In the event all or any part of the territory in the district served by the system is incorporated as a new city or is annexed to or becomes a part of the territory of another municipality, the municipality into which such territory is incorporated or to which such territory is annexed, shall assume the proper proportionate share of the contractual obligation and capacity in the system of the municipality from which such territory is taken, based upon a division of the territory determined by the Board, which shall make such determination after taking into consideration all factors necessary to make the division equitable, and in addition shall, prior to such determination, receive a written recommendation as to the proper division from a committee composed of one representative designated by the governing body of the municipality from which the territory is taken, one designated by the governing body of the new municipality or the municipality annexing such territory, and one independent registered engineer appointed by the Board. Each municipality shall appoint its representative within fifteen (15) days after being notified to do so by the Board and within a like time the Board shall appoint the Engineer third member. If any municipality shall fail to appoint its representative within the time above provided, then the Board may proceed without said recommendation. If the committee shall not make its recommendation within forty-five (45) days after its appointment or within any extension thereof by the Board, then the Board may proceed without such recommendation. In the consideration of the matters herein provided, including the designation of the third member of the committee, any member of the Board who is also an official of either affected municipality shall be disqualified to act or vote.

7. A schedule of payments to be made by the municipality based upon the estimated cost of the project and the dates of such payments is attached hereto as Exhibit "C" and by this reference made a part hereof. Immediately upon the issuance of any bonds by the county to finance the cost of the project, the Board shall notify the municipality, by written communication addressed to its treasurer, of any revisions in said Exhibit "C" and of the schedule of payments of the principal of and interest on the county bonds, and of the paying agent fees and financing charges with respect thereto, and the amount of such payments, fees and charges to be paid by said municipality. Said municipality hereby covenants and agrees, not less than ten (10) days prior to the due date of any principal of or interest on any such bonds, to remit to the Board sufficient funds to meet the payments in full and said fees and charges applicable thereto. The obligation herein expressed shall be applicable to all bonds issued by the county to construct and complete the project, as herein defined, whether issued at one time or at more than one time. It is assumed that the principal of the bonds represents the cost of the project. If the municipality should pay the project cost, or any portion thereof, or funds shall be received by grant or otherwise to apply against the cost of the project, prior to the issuance of bonds, then the obligation of the municipality shall be adjusted accordingly. If the municipality shall fail to make any of such payments when due, the amount thereof shall be subject to a penalty in addition to the interest payable on the bonds of one-half of one percent (1/2 of 1%) for each month or fraction thereof that the same remains unpaid after the due date. The municipality may pay in advance of maturity all or any part of an annual installment due the county, by surrendering to the county bonds issued in anticipation of payments to be made under this Contract, of a like principal amount maturing in the same calendar year with all future due interest coupons attached thereto.

8. In the event that the municipality shall fail for any reason to pay to the Board at the times specified, the amounts herein required to be paid, the Board shall immediately notify, in writing, both the County Treasurer of the County of Tuscola and the governing body of the municipality of such default and the amount thereof, and if such default is not corrected within ten (10) days after such notification, the County Treasurer or other county official charged with disbursement to such municipality of funds derived from the state sales tax levy under the provisions of Act 167, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, and returnable to such municipality pursuant to the Michigan Constitution, is by these presents specifically authorized by the municipality to withhold sufficient funds derived from such sales tax levy and returnable to the municipality as it may be in default, and to pay said sums so withheld to the Board to apply on the obligation of the defaulting municipality as herein set forth. Any such monies so withheld and paid shall be considered to have been returned to the municipality within the meaning of the Michigan Constitution, the purpose of this provision being solely to voluntarily authorize the use of such funds to meet past due obligations of the municipality to which said monies are owed. In addition to the foregoing, the Board shall have all other rights and remedies provided by law to enforce the obligation of the municipality to make payments in the manner and at the times required by this Contract. It is specifically recognized by the municipality that the payments required to be made by it pursuant to the terms of this contract are to be pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds to be issued by the county and the municipality covenants and agrees that it will make its required payments to the Board promptly and at the times herein specified, without regard as to whether the project herein contemplated is actually completed or placed in operation.

9. After completion of the project and payment of all costs thereof, any surplus remaining from the sale of the bonds issued and returned to the municipality shall be paid to the open market and in such event the contract obligation of the municipality in respect to the project shall be reduced by the amount of bonds so purchased, said reduction to be applied as to year, in accordance with the year of the maturity of the bonds so purchased. Any bonds so purchased shall be cancelled. As an alternative such surplus funds may be used to extend, enlarge and improve the System, with the consent, expressed by resolution, of the County of Tuscola Board of Commissioners.

10. If the proceeds of the sale of the original bonds to be issued by the county for the project are for any reason insufficient to complete the project in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor, the Board shall, if necessary, submit to the Board of Commissioners of Tuscola County a resolution providing for the issuance of additional bonds in an amount necessary to provide funds to complete the project in which event the duties and obligations of the Board and the municipality as expressed and set forth in this contract shall be applicable to such additional issue of bonds as well as the original issue, it being at all times fully recognized and agreed that the payments to be made by the municipality, in the manner specified in paragraph 7 of this contract, shall be based upon the cost of the project. In lieu of the issuance of such additional bonds, any other method may be agreed upon by the county and the municipality to provide the necessary funds to complete the project.

11. The municipality, pursuant to the authorization of paragraph (2) of Section 12 of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, does hereby pledge its full faith and credit for the prompt and timely payment of its obligations expressed in this contract and shall each year, commencing with the year 1971, levy a tax in an amount which taking into consideration estimated delinquencies in tax collections, will be sufficient to pay its obligations under this contract becoming due before the time of the following year's tax collections: Provided, however, that at the time of making such annual tax levy there shall be other funds on hand earmarked and set aside for the payment of such contractual obligations falling due prior to the next tax collection period, then the annual tax levy may be reduced by such amount. Such other funds may be raised in the manner provided in said paragraph (2), Section 12 of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, or any amendments thereto, it being specifically understood that the municipality will impose and collect sewage disposal service charges to provide part of such other funds.

12. This contract is contingent upon the county issuing its negotiable bonds as set forth in subdivision (b) of paragraph 4 of this contract, to defray the estimated cost of the project, which bonds shall be issued under the authorization provided in paragraph (1), subparagraph (b), Section 11 of said Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended.

13. The municipality consents to the establishment and location of said system as shown on Exhibit "A" and hereby grants permission to the county to use the streets, alleys and public ways and places in the municipality for the purpose of constructing the project therein. Upon completion of said system, the county shall lease the same to the municipality to operate and maintain the same upon the following terms and conditions:

(a) The system shall be used for the collection, transportation and treatment of sanitary sewage only from the district.

(b) The municipality shall maintain said system in good condition and repair and in accordance with the standards and regulations from time to time promulgated by the county.

(c) The municipality and the county shall not permit the discharge into said system of any sewage in violation of the standards and regulations controlling the discharge of industrial and/or commercial type waste into the system as said standards and regulations may be promulgated from time to time by the Board.

(d) The municipality shall make and collect from the individual users of the system such charges for sewage disposal service as shall be sufficient at least to pay the charges to be made by the municipality for sewage disposal services, and the cost of operating and maintaining the system, and to establish a fund for replacements, improvements, and major maintenance of the system in an amount established by the municipality with the approval of the county. In addition, the municipality may make and collect such charges to defray the cost of the system and to provide such other funds for sewage disposal purposes as are deemed desirable. The municipality shall enforce prompt payment of all such charges as the same shall become due.

(e) The municipality shall establish such charges as specified in paragraph (d) to be paid to the municipality quarterly or more often commencing with the first day of the calendar quarter in which the system is put into operation.

(f) The municipality shall make and cause to be made a written report to the county showing in reasonable detail, the expenses and receipts of the municipality pertaining to the system and showing the results of an annual inspection of all of the facilities of the system by a qualified sanitary engineer employed by the county or by the municipality with the approval of the county.

(g) Such lease shall run for the term of this contract, unless soon terminated by agreement between the county and the municipality.

14. The county and the municipality each recognize that the holders from time to time of the bonds issued by the county under the provisions of said Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, and secured by the full faith and credit pledge of the municipality to the making of its payments as set forth in this contract and it is therefore covenanted and agreed by each party that so long as any of said bonds shall remain outstanding and unpaid the provisions of this contract shall not be subject to any alteration or revision which would in any manner affect either the security of the bonds or the prompt payment of principal or interest thereon. The municipality and the county further covenant and agree that they will each comply with their respective duties and obligations under the terms of this contract promptly, at the times and in the manner herein set forth, and will not suffer to be done any act which would in any way impair the said bonds, the security therefor, or the prompt payment of principal and interest thereon. It is hereby declared that the terms of this contract insofar as they pertain to the security of any such bonds, shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the holders of said bonds.

15. This contract shall become effective upon approval by the legislative body of the municipality, by the Board of Public Works of Tuscola County, and by the Board of Commissioners of Tuscola County, and duly executed by the authorized officers of the municipality and of the Board of Public Works. It shall terminate forty (40) years from the date of this contract and upon such termination the facilities of the system shall become the property of the municipality. This contract may be executed in several counterparts.

16. The municipality shall provide insurance of such types and such amounts on the system as would ordinarily be carried by private companies engaged in a similar enterprise, which insurance shall include sufficient liability insurance protecting both the municipality and the county against loss on account of damage or injury to persons or property imposed by reason of the ownership or operation of the system resulting from any act of omission or commission on the part of either party hereto, their agents, officers, or employees in connection with the operation and maintenance or repair of the system. The cost of such insurance shall be deemed to be an operating expense of the system.

17. It is agreed by the parties hereto that the county, including its Board of Public Works, shall be fully reimbursed for all expenses incurred by it pursuant to this contract (including the issuance of bonds as provided herein) from the proceeds of such bonds or from funds of the municipality to be raised through operating charges or from other available monies. The provisions of this contract shall be in full force and effect and binding upon the successors and assigns of the parties hereto.

WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this contract to be executed and delivered by their respective duly authorized officers, all as of the day and year first above written.

Here's how to boost bean crop

By Don Kebler

At this time our bean producers will be just beginning to plant this year's bean crop or close to it.

The proper bean cultural practices always pose a big question in these producers' minds when they begin their planting. They'll be wondering about proper fertilization, disease controls, disease free seed and weed controls.

So let's take these practices in the order of timing. First of all, at this time of the year our recommended chemical weed controls must be made either pre-plant or pre-emergence. Of the pre-plant herbicides we recommend Eptam or Treflan broadcast and worked immediately into the soil. Both herbicides will control annual weeds with limitations with Treflan not controlling ragweed, smartweed or mustard. Eptam has about a six-week maximum control after application while Treflan has a total season control. At least 24 hours should elapse after Eptam is incorporated and before planting. This lessens the chance of germinating seedling burn.

The pre-emergence herbicide is the combination of Amiben and Radox which can be sprayed broadcast or in a band. This pre-emergence combination is for the control of annuals.

Fertilizer needs depend on individual past usages and/or a soil test based recommendation. In more cases than not a total of at least 40 pounds nitrogen per acre during a normal bean year will pay dividends on all but your vine or runner beans.

Disease free seed is perhaps one of the most critical factors for yields. The most sure source of known disease free seed is in our available certified and blight treated seed. The supply of blight free certified and treated navy bean seed is inadequate to meet the supposed total needs. There is still some certified navy bean seed around but everyone will not be supplied.

Dried bean disease controls are basically divided into two sections. Common blight in navy beans can only be controlled by seed treatment on disease free seed. No known bactericides is known that is effective enough to control common blight on living bean plants.

Halo blight is not the same disease as common blight. Halo blight attacks only colored beans. Common blight only attacks white beans. Halo blight can be controlled using one of several copper compounds if applied after the first blight occurs on the colored bean plant foliage and not before any halo blight colonies are seen. So until new control chemicals are developed for common blight, save your money and do better in your other cultural practices.

Memorial Day in Cass City

ALWAYS A HIGHLIGHT of the parade is the Cass City band which led the marchers to the cemetery Monday.

KEVIN "LITTLE SQUIRT" Bergman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bergman, rides in the Cass City Memorial Day parade in style seated on the lap of that ubiquitous fireman, Fritz Neitzel.

HORSES ARE BIG in Cass City and they were big in Monday's Memorial Day parade. Riders and horses of every description helped please the Memorial Day crowd that lined Main Street.

SET FARM FIRE LOSS AT $15,000

Fire destroyed a farm home owned by Haskell Watts and located on the Grassmere Road south and east of Elkton. The fire occurred at 4:55 Monday afternoon and apparently started from a clothes dryer. The loss was complete and placed at $15,000 while the Elkton and Bad Axe Fire Departments were able to save some furniture.

P.S.

I do not condone cussing, but under stress everyone does it at one time or another. In the first place the boy had not done anything wrong. He happened to be the goat. After the teacher had trouble with two other students. I'm sure the teacher feels as bad about this as anyone and wishes he could start that day all over again. Another chance?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Guild has mistakenly assumed that last week's editorial concerned an individual or one or two individual students. What's at issue is the administration of the code system, not how it affects one boy in it. For the coaches' views read other letters to the editor in this issue.

Grad says: school finally growing up

Dear Mr. Haire;

Having received the May 13th issue of your paper I noticed that the Cass City School system is finally growing up.

Three years ago it was possible to have a clean record, in and out of school, and yet get asked to leave school and not come to graduation ceremonies because your hair was longer than certain people liked. Mr. Crouse said to me, and I quote "I don't want to be seen on the stage with you." Yet he and everyone else present at the 1968 graduation ceremonies allowed students with police records, and even two students who were completely drunk to walk upon their sacred stage.

(Ed. note: There is no record of drunk students on stage and no knowledge of it by the administration).

There was also a Biology teacher who actually told some of his classes if they would catch me and hold me down,

BARZAK CHARGE COULD BRING LIFE

Duane Frank Barzak, 29, of Bay City, faces the unusual charge of "injury to a safe while attempting a larceny." The charge carries a life term in prison as a maximum for conviction and Barzak was allegedly arrested while trying to open the safe late last week in the Akron Elementary School. His bond was set at $10,000.

You would cuss if you were pushed so far

Dear Mr. Haire,

There is a time when playing on a school athletic team is important.

I got my story second handed, but I believe the return of the boy to the team speaks for itself.

The teacher was at fault. And three tantrums in fifteen minutes is not to the best interest of his class.

I'm sure you would cuss if you were pushed just so far. This boy is an honor student and his marks prove it.

The students at Cass City High School know this, but some of the merchants of this town blame the boy and don't have the facts. So blame the wrong boy. Therefore the whole family is on trial.

What would this world be like if you weren't given another chance?

I have known this boy since the day he was born.

And if you listen to people talk you will know that cussing is the thing today.

It's on TV, in the newspapers, and on a lot of people's lips. I could go on, and say a lot of things I have in mind but I think I have made my point.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Alvin Guild

Coach Hurlburt defends flexible athletic code

As a coach at Cass City High School I feel I must defend the present philosophy and attitude the school has developed toward the treatment of our young men involved in athletics. The present philosophy was adopted with the idea of giving us a flexible tool to guide us in the disciplining of each individual athlete. If you were to look at our program today and indeed it is not perfect, for there is no perfect way to handle all human situations, it is designed with the athlete as a person the sole concern. Our primary responsibility as coaches is to teach young men values and attitudes that will help them to become better citizens. We feel that being a successful athlete will give them a head start in becoming successful people. The old adage that kicking a boy out for a mistake and possibly losing him to sports and whatever positive influence sports may have for him is as old as the Model T. You are getting rid of the problem, but in no way are you solving it. You don't give up on young men - if we care - eventually they care and that's what it is all about.

In dealing with as many diverse personalities from as many different and unique family situations as you can imagine is in itself the most challenging part of coaching. Getting to know each boy, his strengths, his weaknesses and guiding him to fulfill his potential in a positive direction is our biggest challenge. Our reward is seeing a boy become a man willing and able to carry responsibility in adult life.

I can assure you we do not look away at Cass City when an infraction of the rules occurs. There is a price that must be paid. The athletes know this. We are developing pride; it is a slow process, not without problems. It is a long hard climb to the top of a dream.

When we, as the new staff arrived, the problems in reference to athletics were great. The attitude in regard to sports was pathetic, one of acceptance of losing as a way of life. Lack of pride, unwillingness to work as an individual and a team towards a common goal and no realization of the sacrifices and price that must be paid in order to at least develop self-respect. To have carried on in the old way of kicking boys out would have resulted in no program. We took what we had to work with and have applied human understanding, HARD WORK, cooperation between parents, administration, staff members and athletes and have started to rebuild. The progress is evidenced by the increased number of people involved, particularly on the younger levels, the Sophomore and Freshmen class. If you look at this year's Senior class and notice the percentage of young men involved as compared with the Sophomore and Freshmen class you can see whatever system there was, failed to keep potentially fine athletes involved, who are now spending their time in other pursuits.

Our system is not perfect, but it is designed to put the athlete first as a human being, we are in the profession to teach, to guide, to develop, not to give up on young people. We have problems, but we are working on them in a positive manner, never neglecting the fact we are building character first. The end result is coming, teams that will represent Cass City in a manner that will bring PRIDE to our community. In the meantime we enlist your support and positive suggestions in developing a program that builds winning people - we should not lose sight of the fact we are all working for the same goal.

God bless all Scout leaders

May 26, 1971

Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Michigan

Last night I proudly watched my 16-year-old grandson receive the Boy Scouts of America Eagle Award.

I heard one of the scout leaders speak with pride in his voice and in his face of the exploits and achievements of his patrol.

It is my opinion that if more men used more of their leisure time in more projects of this type there would be less confused children, less frustrated juveniles and less unhappy and broken-hearted parents in our mixed-up world.

May God bless all scout leaders.

Sincerely,
Mary L. Kritzman

Fashion and good design available at all prices

By Nancy Lane Kerr
(A former newspaper reporter, Nancy Lane Kerr is a writer who specializes in home furnishings.)

Regardless of income, the word "Budget" carries overtones of restriction and confinement, and nobody likes it. "Budget" is a frustrating word to corporation presidents and housewives alike in this dollar-stretching era.

Although a budget may seem to hamper and dictate, it must be dealt with firmly as a matter of survival. But we can dream, can't we?

And will you believe that Southern furniture manufacturers are dreaming right along with us in the realm of handsome furnishings of good design and quality, and are producing these especially for that large segment of Americans belonging to the Shoestring-er's Set?

Of course, only you and your banker know for sure, but if your family income places you on the raw edge of the dollar, then you will be interested to know that, even so, you're on a winning team in today's economy. How is this so? Well, back when housewives were beginning to boycott the butcher and pulling in their purse strings, furniture manufacturers tuned in, and they got the message loud and clear that today's informed homemaker intends to have her money's worth regardless of her income bracket.

Fashion, they said, shouldn't be determined by prices, and they challenged their designers to come up with well-styled furniture in all price ranges. An inexpensive bedroom suite, for instance, didn't have to look inexpensive, did it? (How about all those good copies of the French couturiers in dress fashions?)

The revolution in furniture fashion has been overwhelming in its honesty, all the way from the drawing boards of designers to the retail stores across the country. Your own furniture dealer, for instance, has developed a whole new concept about the term, "fashion." Coordinated style and color and the custom look are no longer the exclusive property of the Cadillac trade.

The result, of course, is a common-denominator sort of happiness for everyone. Wood furniture designs as well as upholstered items are being turned out in excellent copies of their higher priced counterparts, with details and features that would deceive an untrained eye.

For instance, while close inspection might reveal that a particular bed or chest is not of "heirloom quality," it is of sturdy construction and you will find such detailed refinements as well-turned posts and legs, distressed wood that is polished to a rich patina, all in fine balance and line. And after all who will be going through your house casting a curious eye, looking under tables, or opening drawers to check out handcrafted dovetailing?

In even low-priced upholstered furniture, there are sturdy frames and good filling, and today, almost all fabrics are specially treated to withstand soil.

But here again, the most impressive quality is the good styling of soft curves and handsome welts. Many offer a choice (at a small added cost) of quilted seats and backs, with excellent tailoring.

Your retail furniture dealer will often be able to supply matching fabric-by-the-yard for those homemakers with a talented needle who want to create matching draperies or small pillows for a coordinated look in home fashion.

It's great fun to be your own decorator, and it's easy, too, with so many helpful sources of information available to us. And remember, home fashion only starts with the basic furniture. To these, your individuality will want to add the special touches that make it your house.

A colorful rug, some carefully selected art, a few house plants if you have a green thumb and there are always the exciting bargains from the dime store!

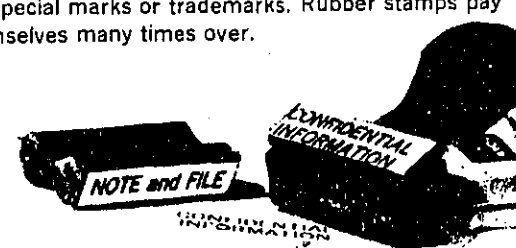

A great lady in Charleston, S.C., who is an interior designer and a former art teacher, has a hobby that she calls, "Fun for a dime." One item in her bag of tricks was to cut colorful designs from a single roll of wallpaper and paste them about her painted room. "It adds color," she said, "and paint is cheaper than wallpaper!"

Her bathroom ceiling is painted in bright green stripes, giving the illusion of a circus tent canopy. Imagination adds the spice to living.

The Seventies will be a time of fashion consciousness, and the Shoestring-er's Set is a main target for pretty interiors at budget prices.

RUBBER STAMPS

Use rubber stamps to clearly mark papers, documents, packages and many items. Stamped impressions have an official look, get attention and save time. You can buy made-to-order rubber stamps in any size with any wording or any special marks or trademarks. Rubber stamps pay for themselves many times over.

Change service at Bay City's hospitals

Authorities for Mercy and General Hospitals in Bay City this week announced a new plan for handling emergency patients.

To eliminate duplication of services and facilities, authorities said, all emergency patients will be taken to Mercy Hospital's emergency room. There will be direct radio communication among both hospitals' ambulances. Service will be provided through a physician's corporation, Bay Emergency Service, P. C. The corporation will provide 24-hour on premises service.

Bieri fined for stealing copper

Ron Bieri of Caseville pleaded guilty of larceny for stealing copper wire from General Cable Corporation in Cass City Friday in Tuscola County District Court.

He was sentenced to 3 days in jail and fined $100 and $19 court costs. If the fine and costs are not paid he will spend an additional 40 days in jail.

Bieri, an employee of Cable, was arrested by Police Chief Gene Wilson as he was taking wire from the plant and putting it into his car.

Kurt Kritzman an Eagle Scout

Kurt Kritzman, 16, was awarded Boy Scouting highest rank, the Eagle award, last week in ceremonies at Kaw-kawin Community Church.

Kritzman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kritzman of Kaw-kawin and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kritzman of Decker and Mrs. Howard Loomis of Cass City.

Athletes lauded in all-sports fete at school Wednesday

THERE ARE A lot of guys who deserve this more than I do, Scott Guernsey said, last Wednesday as he was awarded the Cass City High School Paul Smarks trophy. But I'll take it. . . and thanks, said the popular Hawk athlete at the annual all sports banquet. The presentation was made by Athletic Director Robert Stickle.

James Feil, Central Michigan University graduate student, presented an object lesson to athletes at Cass City High School Wednesday night at the annual all-sports banquet at the school.

He used his life in sports to illustrate how desire and determination can be as important as natural ability. And how sports can be a positive influence on the life of a boy. Feil was a star griddier in high school and later in college. He told how he turned out for football without pads in high school when the coach failed to issue equipment to him and by the end of the second game was a regular.

He also told how he was kicked from the athletic team for a season for drinking and credited his interest in sports for enabling him to stay away from "negative leadership".

Feil said simply that today he neither drinks nor smokes and credits sports with helping him over rough spots in life.

The parents of the various teams and cheerleaders listened carefully to the guest speaker, but the real stars of the evening were the boys on the various athletic teams.

With the exception of baseball the various squads finished the 1970-71 season with modest success.

But the coaches were optimistic about the team's outlook for next year. Coach William Philbin said that many are pointing to the 1973 season in football as the year of the Hawk, but he said that he felt next year Cass City was going to be a winner.

JAMES FEIL used his life story in athletics to illustrate the value of sports at the annual banquet held last Wednesday at Cass City High School.

Coach Fred Hurlburt said that in basketball "we'll be a winner next year. . . you'd better believe it".

Other coaches were equally sure that the Hawks are on the upswing in athletics. Despite the mediocre seasons, the coach says that the boys are developing a winning attitude to replace the losing one that prevailed a few years ago. All the various members of the athletic teams, varsity, junior varsity and Freshmen were introduced and the coaches recapped the results for the year, stressing the positive highlights.

Among the coaches participating in the program besides Hurlburt and Philbin were Roland Pakonen, Ray Pranger, Paul Clabuesch and Athletic Director Robert Stickle.

Stickle introduced the golfers in the absence of Coach Tom Woody and was the toastmaster for the evening. Miss Pat Spect presented the highlights about the cheerleaders.

Two special presentations were made. The Red Hawk award, presented for the first time last year, was given to two members of the basketball squad this year as co-winners.

The award is presented on the basis of desire and contribution to the team. The winners were Scott Guernsey and Richard "Zike" Miller.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Paul Smarks award to Scott Guernsey. It is awarded on the basis of participation in all sports, scholarship and leadership. Guernsey is an honor student and a varsity letter winner in track, football and basketball.

THE RED HAWK award in basketball given to the athlete who contributes most to the team went to co-winners this year. Posing with the plaque that stays at the school are Scott Guernsey, left, and Richard "Zike" Miller.

Garber bows in district tourney

Lakers next: Hawks geared for win

The question is can the Cass City Red Hawks turn the tables on the Lakers and avenge the defeat they suffered in regular season play when the two teams meet Saturday at 1 p. m. at Garber High School in Bay City?

And the answer is, the Hawks believe to a man, an emphatic, yes.

The Hawks played their worst game of the season against the Lakers and were soundly trounced by the Lakers big stickmen.

But the Thumb B Conference champs don't boast a pitcher in the class of either Kim Hopper or Rob Alexander and if Alexander is right next Saturday the Hawks will vault into the finals at 4 p. m. against the Bad Axe-Buena Vista winner and battle it out for the district toga.

It was a game of ups and downs for the Cass City fans against Garber last Saturday. But Cass City was up when it ended and chalked up a 3-2 win.

The Hawks started strong as Alexander was throwing aspirin tablets. . . striking out nine of the first 10 batters for the host team. Only a walk on a close 3-2 pitch marred the opening three-inning effort. Meanwhile, Kip Hopper opened the first inning by legging it to first, as the shortstop momentarily bobbled the ball, and then stole second. He trotted home a moment later when Alexander laced a single to left field.

That's the way the score stayed until the fourth. Dave Mayott touched Alexander for his first hit. He stole second and went to third on a sacrifice. With two away he took off for the plate and stole home.

A moment later John Martin was hit by Alexander and trotted to first. Paul Revard then laced a routine single to right and the ball got by Gene Hopper and Martin raced all the way home to take a 2-1 lead.

But Hopper more than atoned for the miscue in the next inning.

Scott Hartel opened the inning with a single and a walk and error loaded the bases for Cass City. Gene Hopper then came up to the plate and laced a hard ground single past the third baseman to score Hartel and Kip Hopper with the tying and the go-ahead run.

But it wasn't all over yet. In the final inning Revard smacked a double and went to third on a sacrifice.

Garber then tried the suicide squeeze and when the batter missed the ball Randy Henika, running for Revard, was an easy out at the plate.

Alexander struck out 16 while Bernie Hayes and Dean Wood, who combined on the mound for Garber, whiffed 13.

Name Ward

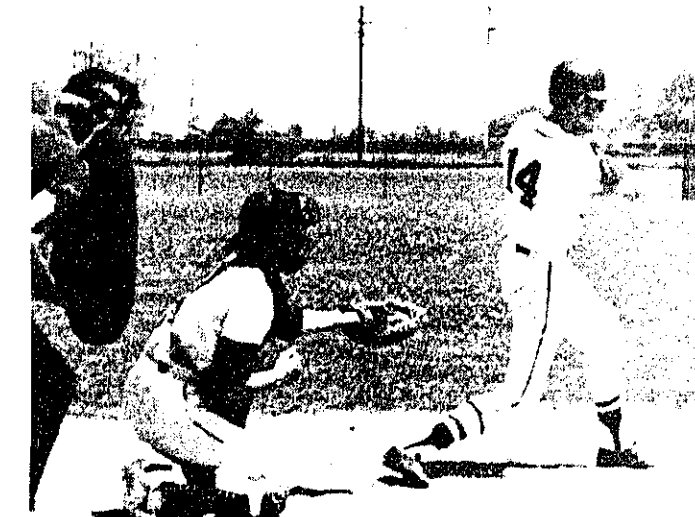

Cass City Gen-Tel

supervisor

R. E. Buttery, District Manager for General Telephone Company, announced the promotion of Thomas Ward to the position of Central Office Supervisor for the Cass City District effective May 16.

Ward started his career as a telephone equipment installer in April, 1961 for the Automatic Electric Company, working throughout the eastern portion of the United States. In October 1964 he became an equipment installer for General Telephone Company in St. Johns, Michigan. In January, 1968 Ward transferred to Muskegon and was promoted to the job of Equipment Installation Foreman. He held this position in Muskegon and later in Three Rivers, Michigan, until he was promoted to his present position.

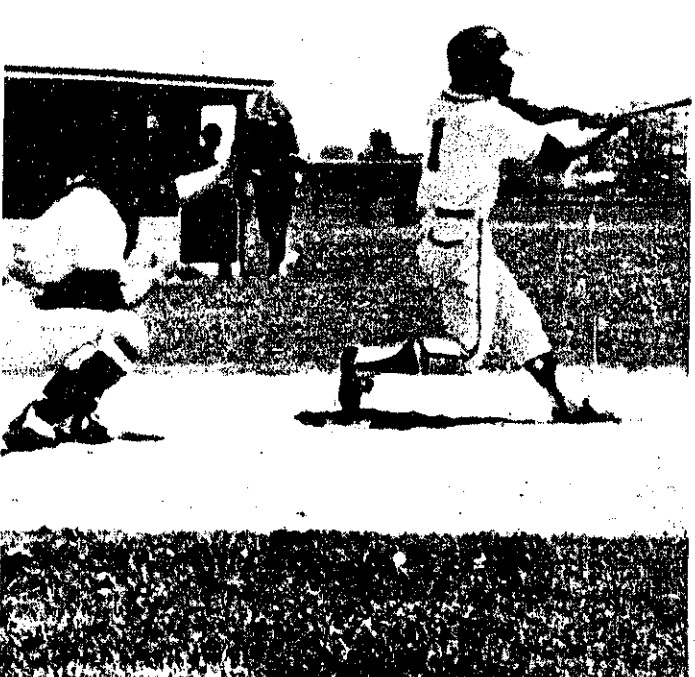

In his present job, Ward will be responsible for the supervision and direction of the central office forces for the Cass City District, which include the exchange areas of Caseville, Elkton, Kingston, Clifford, North Branch, Harbor Beach, Minden City, Decker, and Cass City. The central office forces are responsible for the maintenance of central office switching equipment used for the routing of local and long distance telephone calls. Mr. Ward and his wife, Sheila, have one son, Craig, 4. The Wards will live in Cass City.

SCOTT HARTEL broke a slump with a ringing single and scored one of Cass City's three runs Saturday in the district tourney at Garber High in Bay City.

KIP HOPPER scored the first run of the game in the first inning riding home on a single by Rob Alexander.

LOUIE SALAS also connected for a base hit only to be thrown out on a close play at the plate later in the inning.

Now, a Chrysler priced $112* less than a Chrysler.

Royal.

Every inch a Chrysler. Yet with Royal, the deal starts $112 less than Newport, previously our lowest-priced series.

The Royal is just as big as our most luxurious New Yorker. And bigger than its competition — Buick LeSabre and Olds Delta 88. Outside and in.

Royal's 360 V-8 delivers more power, too. Power for freeway cruising without strain. Power for safe passing. All on regular gas.

Royal also gives you a better suspension system: torsion bars instead of coil springs. The ride is firmer. More controlled.

On a trip to the supermarket, you might not notice the difference. On a quick expressway lane change or a tight turn, you surely will.

Outside of Chrysler products, only two American cars have torsion bars — Cadillac Eldorado and Oldsmobile Toronado.

Another difference: Royal's body is welded into a single solid Unibody. It's the strongest way to build a car. And there are no body bolts to work free and rattle.

Buick and Olds use the old body-bolted-to-frame technique.

A Chrysler priced to introduce you to Chrysler.

Yet for all this extra value, Royal is priced just about the same as LeSabre and Delta 88. Royal. With everything you expect of a Chrysler. At a price you don't.
