No money to villages

$213,900 in federal funds go to 3 county agencies

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners voted to divide the county's $213,900 from the $400 million federal Emergency Employment Act among three county agencies.

No villages or townships were awarded any funds directly. A special meeting held Tuesday by the board saw representatives of local government and county agencies vying for the money. Their proposals together asked for a total of $523,862. The County Health Department was given $19,652 to pay for salaries of two nurses. The Tuscola County Intermediate School District was awarded $41,984 for the salaries of two school nurses, a recreational director, a person to work with the building program and a janitor for Darbee School.

The Tuscola County Road Commission was delegated $166,093 to pay for the salaries of 20 men, five for each of the four garages. These men will be used for the removal of brush and trees from road right-of-ways and to clean up damage done from storms, and are to be paid $4.39 an hour for 45 hours per week. The workers will be available to townships and villages. The only cost to the local unit will be the supervision and machinery as needed. Cass City Village Superintendent James Blades said he did not want to use them, "They are no direct benefit to us," he said, explaining that a good crew member needed quite a bit of training.

Blades explained to the board that Cass City was in a transition period where they needed the workers badly but didn't have the money just now to pay them, but with the help of the federal funds they could get the positions going and within a year or so be able to pay for them themselves. The county board deliberated almost four hours before deciding on the final amounts, They had reached the decision to give the money to the three county units in about an hour, after they reconvened at 1:30.

> The morning was spent in accepting proposed plans from the county and local units.

The board received notice of the grant Friday, Sept. 17, and the final application must be into the government by Thursday, Sept. 23, leaving a little less than two weeks to accept proposals and make the decision.

MANY REQUESTS

Requests came from many agencies in addition to the three agencies awarded funds.

The nine school districts put in requests totaling $240,611. Cass City asked for $30,600 to pay for an elementary physical education teacher, a high school guidance counselor or an elementary music teacher, and eight playground aides. Kingston requested $8700 for a library clerk and a recreation director.

The Cooperative Extension Office asked for $17,400 to hire three nutritional workers to go into the homes of welfare recipients and teach them food preparation and planning.

The Office of Economic Opportunity requested $8960 for a person to help set up a Community Development Agency for the three county district of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties. This agency, when incorporated, can request funds from the federal government to pay for various programs. The village of Unionville requested $5940 to pay for a worker to do a variety of jobs that were not being done now. The townships of Almer, Akron and Columbia, the village of Caro and the city of Vassar supported the road commission program.

Chairman Shuford Kirk said the other various township officials, though not represented at the meeting, voted at their regular township official meetprevious evening to Persons trying to persuade a doctor to come to the community will be watching with more than casual interest the efforts in the same direction underway at Sebewaing. Sebewaing has instituted a crash program to bring a doctor to town and the effort was triggered by the heart attack Aug. 22 of Dr. John Zuzga. Dr. Zuzga is not now practicing and his absence leaves an unfillable void in the town. There have been mass meetings and talk of raising money and the committee quizzed a physician to learn what was needed to secure a doctor.

A community like Sebewaing has even more problems than one like Cass City. The major difference is the hospital. A doctor practicing in Sebewaing must go long distances to care for patients because there is no hospital in the community. Other than this the problems are the same. The committee learned that a young doctor wants a clinic set up with modern medical clinical equipment. The cost is probably in the $50,000 range or more.

A doctor coming out of school must have a guaranteed income of $35,000 yearly or more. And a doctor must be made welcome by other members of the fraternity if he is to consider practicing in a small community.

Doctors practicing in small towns are also subject to long hours and do not have immediate access to as many of the latest medical services as may be available in a larger community.

Small towns do have the advantage of moving a doctor out of the urban community and its related problems.

So far Sebewaing's efforts have not been successful.

In many ways the corollary between Sebewaing and Cass City can be carried further. When Dr. Zuzga was able to practice full blast the town talked about the doctor problem in vague terms.

Now the problem is acute and the community is moving ahead with a concentrated program.

Cass City is moving towards the same goal with about the same speed as Sebewaing did in its pre-crisis era.

ficiencies in estimated reve-Rep. Roy Spencer reported that figures compiled at the State level indicate an increase of \$46.37 per pupil for Cass City schools. Supt. Don Crouse says that figuring the valuation and en- $\exists$ rollment this year and deducting the 3/4 of a mill that is provisional, the school will receive \$31 more per pupil.

At the very least Cass City Schools will receive a total of $70,000 more for 1971-72 and that's equal to about 1.2 mills of local taxes.

The amount of millageraised locally has also been increased a half mill by the school board bringing another $12,500 to the district to meet added costs.

As usual the final formula adopted by the legislature is hard for the layman to understand.

Spencer said the bill provides up to $38 increase for districts with valuations of $17,000 or less and an increase of $29 for districts with val-____ uations over $17,000 per pupil. Under this formula per pupil figures show Kingston School District to receive $464.01, up $34.91 from last year's $430.10, and Owen-Gage will receive $256.21, an increase of $28.19 over the $228.02 received last year, according to Spencer.

The amounts assume that the entire State aid authorized will be distributed.

Spencer voted against the bill, he said, because it favors the richer districts as much as the poorer ones.

"The bill tends to make for ____ great inequalities," he said in _ a telephone conversation Fri---day, explaining that holding the line on aid to districts with a wealthy tax base would have enabled the less fortunate districts to approach them in terms of dollars per pupil.

Spencer is also against the disqualification section which allows the budget director to reduce the allotments 3/4 of a mill for a contingency fund.

It is this section that leads most school administrators to - ) believe that the districts will not receive the provisional millage. Spencer says simply, "we've never done it before." Final figures depend on of-success. Teen Town, located at the four main corners of Snover, was originally conceived by the Rev. Charles E. Husted, pastor of the Snover and Laing Free Methodist churches.

"It is a back door approach to religion," Mr. Husted said, to get the youth together for recreation and spiritual development.

"There hasn't been as much spiritual development by the teens as I had hoped, in fact not in any obvious way has the center been successful in the spiritual area, but it has given the teens a place to go which is one of the primary purposes of the project," Mr. Husted said.

Every Saturday night from 7:30 to 12 p. m. Teen Town opens its doors for youth 13 to 25 years of age, for pingpong, pool, pizza, music and discussion. Area youth plus donations have made the center a success since it began Feb. 20.

City area comprised of the Bitterling brothers, Gary, Jerry and Larry, have performed a number of times at Teen Town. The center draws anywhere from 35 to 75 teens each Saturday night. Because attendance had increased, the center was opened both Friday and Saturday night during the spring. During the past summer, however, attendance slackened so the center returned to its

Saturday night schedule. "We hope to open again both nights once the football season has started," Mr. Husted said.

The only charge that is made is for the food or pop sold at the center, which may account for its success as a teen gathering spot.

Because the center is for youth, a Teen Town Council was formed that includes six adults and nine teenagers, each with an equal vote. The council has set down guidelines for the center and makes decisions concerning special projects involving the center.

Area churches, both Methodist and Free Methodist, and ihe Brethren - in - Christ churches have combined to make Teen Town a commun-

The new Torino is the best built, best handling mid-size Ford we've ever made. New engineering. Better ideas like a steering system insulated against vibration. Rugged because Torino's new computertuned bodyframe gives excellent support and rigidity. Smooth riding because Torino has a new coil spring suspension system that offers sure handling and roadhugging stability. Comfortable because you get extra riding room in all nine new Torinos for 1972.

"If It Fitz. " What's the sex of a tear? BY JIM FITZGERALD

No longer will I hide my red eves behind a newspaper. From now on I'll blubber out loud, just like a woman. "It is unfair that men are made to feel ashamed if they cry." So decreed the American Psychological Assc. in convention in Washington the other day. Yeah.

A woman can bawl anywhere, anytime. My wife cries tears of joy at grand openings of shopping centers. She cries patriotic tears when flags go up at railroad crossings. She cries tears of sympathy when the Tiger manager yanks a pitcher. Once we watched a bum named Sparma walk 4 men in a row and the fans booed him something terrible. She sobbed so hard I had to help her from the park.

But nobody ever makes fun of her. They just peg her for another warm-hearted dame who must be a wonderful person and a grand friend to dumb animals. But let some guy bawl in public and he is immediately pegged as a freak, possibly perverted and certainly a Mama's boy. People laugh at him.

An example: Recently I was trapped in the same room with that dreadful TV show, This Is Your Life. The surprised subject was fat Junior Samples from the Grand Old Opry by way of Hee Haw. I guess Junior is a comedian but you'd never have guessed it that night. He cried huge tears for 30 straight minutes, even during the commercials. They brought out some clown who'd sold him a bag of feed in 1930 and Junior collapsed, a lachrymose lump, completely overcome by nostalgia.

My wife and daughter fell into each other's arms laughing. "Look at that big boob," they said.

I recently took the written driver's test for my Michigan license.

I passed it (I missed 2, by the way), but I don't think that test was any kind of measure of my ability to drive or my knowledge of the rules of the

I have always hated tests and I still do, which may be why I didn't like this one.

I answered the 25 questions and had my eyes checked, got my picture taken (which I'm sure will turn out ghastly like my ID pictures the past four years) and was given my temporary license, which I quickly crammed into my over-stuffed billfold.

I don't own a car yet, but I need the license for my job. But to be perfectly honest, it scares me to drive on the roads around here.

I consider myself a pretty decent driver. One thing I won't do is take any unnecessary chances on the road, There just aren't that many things I will risk my life for, and driving certainly isn't one of them.

But every time I get into the car I feel like I'm doing just that.

It is beyond my comprehension to understand why the drivers in Tuscola county are so careless. I'm sure they don't want to hurt anyone intentionally, but casual conversation with sheriff's deputies have indicated to me that this county has a disproportionately high accident rate

I think this is because the people do not drive defensively. When I drive on the highway, I usually drive the speed limit because I'm usually in a hurry. But there always seems to be someone tailgating me and pulling around at all sorts of crazy times to pass. These people pass on hills,

Miss Freiburger Mizpah Missionary Church CMU graduate celebrates 75th year

The Mizpah Missionary Church on M-53 celebrated its noon service, which is quite a few for this church," he said. The church has 33 members 75th anniversary Sunday, Sept. and about 70 persons attend 19, with a special afternoon services. This includes chilchurch service, followed by a

> "A lot of them were former members who still live in the area," he explained.

Former pastors of the church came to take part in the special service. They were the Rev. E. M. Gibson, who served from 1938-1943; the Rev. L. L. Surbrook, who served from 1952-who served from 1956-1960 and the Rev. H. E. Knight, who served from 1965-1968. Pastors Gibson and Surbrook are members of the church since their retirements.

1956; the Rev. L. W. Sherrard,

The Rev. Richard Culp came to Mizpah in 1968 from the Wheatland Church in Deckerville, where he preached for five years.

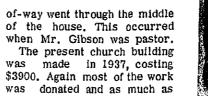

The District Superintendent, the Rev. J. E. Tuckey, presided at the special service.

The Mizpah Missionary Church--"Mizpah" is an Old Testament word meaning "watch tower"--was begun in 1895 when 14 members held a tent meeting on the north bank of the Cass River, just north of the present site, led by William Schroeder, who served as pastor from 1896-1898.

The beginnings of the church were recorded in a special history written by Jason A. Kitchin, one of the oldest members of the church.

The first church building cost $565.25. Most of the cost of the original building was offset by labor donated by church members,

A small parsonage was built in 1910, with one end enclosed as a stable for the minister's horse. When M-53 was paved the parsonage had to be moved back because the 100 foot right-possible was salvaged from the earlier building. The construction of the fellowship building was begun two years ago, Mr. Culp said.

"It started with a gift of $5000 from the late Barbara Coulter," he explained. "We did most of the work," he added. Originally called the Mennonite Brethren in Christ, the name of the church organization was changed to United Missionary Church in 1947. In 1969 it merged with the Missionary Church Association and is now simply called the Missionary Church,

The Mizpah Church was a circuit with the Riverside Church until 6 years ago, when the two split. That church is now called the Cass City Missionary Church.

The two churches together support a missionary in Nigeria, Africa.

The former Gladys Chapman of the Shabbona area went to Nigeria shortly after her marriage to Arthur Reifel in 1945. The family has served there since, coming back every four years to live a year in their home here.

"We consider them really our missionaries," said Mrs. Culp, "because they have maintained their church membership with us."

Small bedrooms

A conflicting set of circumstances has created a new problem for American homemakers. Today's bedrooms seem to be getting smaller, while the beds are getting larger.

Most architects agree that bedrooms are shrinking, particularly in the newer apartment developments. Yet statistics from a number of authorized sources show that people are growing. In 1900 only one out of every 25 American men between the ages of 20 and 30 grew to a height of 6 feet or over. But by 1960, the figure increased to one out of five. And don't think men have a priority on growth. In the 1962 Miss America Pageant, for example, the contestants' average height was 5 feet, 6 inches. In the 1921 pageant, 5 feet, 1 inch was the average height.

Mrs. Bertha Chadwick and

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ A while ago, I ran across a list I once made of the signs that a person is old, and I think it bears repeating here: A man can know he is old when: 1) he feels old; 2) he is satisfied that he has learned all he needs to learn;

3) tomorrow holds no promise of anything interesting for him: 4) he sees nothing amusing in the frolics of youth, and he hates the lively banter of youngsters: 5) he would rather talk than listen; perhaps in company, he corners the conversation and does all the talking;

6) he feels that only the regimen. "old days" were good; 7) he keeps saying, "I am too old for that"; 8) he won't do anything to help his neighbors, friends or community: 9) he has no plans for tomorrow;

10) he has become so irritable and grouchy that no one cares to be with him; 11) he keeps telling anyone who will listen about the people who "did him wrong".

On the other hand, a man can be 70 or 80 years old, but still feel young, except perhaps in his joints or his heart or his legs. If he is constantly planning things he is going to do, and is still working at something; if he likes and seeks the company of young people and they like him; if he is a good listener; if he never complains about his health, even when he is in pain (except to his doctor); and if he disapproves of what the President is doing, but says, "Change is in the air and we must

Sometimes the grown children of an older person unwittingly do things that tend to make the person feel old, and try to impose on him what I call "that form of persecution known as love." him to give up doing what he loves best for fear it will "tire" him, when it is his interest in the activity that keeps him going Many people past 75 write to ask if they should strictly follow a new, special regimen -- perhaps a special diet, with specially concocted drinks, special exercise, and special vitamins, My own feeling is that if a person, at say 75, feels well, can walk rapidly along the street, sleeps well at night, enjoys working hard during the day and still takes pleasure in his life as he is living it, there is no need for changing his

Years ago, that wise philosopher, Stephen Leacock, said something very sensible about retirement: "Let me give a word of advice to you young fellows around 50 who have been looking forward to retirement; have nothing to do with it, Listen; it's like this. Have you ever been out for a late autumn walk in the closing part of the afternoon, and have you suddenly looked up to realize that the leaves have practically all gone? And the sun has set, and the day gone before you knew it -- and with that a cold wind blows across the landscape? That is retirement."

A HOPEFUL NEW CANCER TEST For years we physicians have wished for a laboratory test which would warn us of the presence of a cancer in its early stages. Now I read that a special test of plasma (the liquid part of the blood) and samples of urine, now being performed at the University Hospitals in Cleveland, Ohio, is alerting doctors to the presence of a particular type of life-threatening tumor in the patient's body. This test was developed by a research team headed by Dr. Aaron H. Anton, professor of anesthesiology and pharmacology at the Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine in Cleveland. As Dr. Anton says, "The tip-off in the new test is one malignant tumors. The malignant tumor secretes dopa in large amounts, causing it to accumulate in the patient's blood and urine." To reassure people with Parkinson's disease who receive a drug called L-dopa, Dr. Anton pointed out that there is no relationship whatever between Parkinsonism and these dopa-secreting,tumors, This is very hopeful news, and I trust that the finding

-- which appears to be secreted in significant quantities only by will soon be confirmed by other workers.

average for United States

One of the safest things for people to tell them we aren't politicians to attack in recent years has been the property

Taxes in general have always been a safe thing to unleash some heated rhetoric upon, but the property tax in recent years has become the main whipping boy. Michigan voters, in fact, may be presented with one or more proposals in the next year to totally abolish the use of property taxes to finance school operations. But despite their unpopularity, they remain the primary source of revenue for local governments. In Michigan, property taxes represent 91 per cent of total tax revenue for local governments. Nationally, they account for 85 per cent of the total. *****

When considering all tax revenues pulled in by both state and local governments in Michigan, the property tax accounts for 35 per cent of the total. Nationally, it accounts for 40 per cent.

This means that it would take a whopping increase in another tax before the property tax can be partially or totally eliminated. In his proposal to eliminate property taxes for schools, Gov. William G. Milliken said it would take an increase of at least 2,3 percentage points in the personal income tax to finance the doing away with that part of the propertv tax.

*****

Senate Taxation Chairman Harry De Maso, R-Battle Creek. who has his own proposal for property tax relief in the form of a $5,000 homestead exemption on all property taxes, is using the same 2,3 per cent number in calculating what it would take to make up the revenues lost from property tax relief under his

Cass City folks enjoy good food, company ANTIQUE at twice monthly church dinner

By Kit McMillion

The aroma of good cooking drifts up and greets the hungry the minute the door to the Fraser Presbyterian Church, located on M-53, is opened. Every first and third Wednesday of the month a dozen or so women of the church woman's association gather at the church basement to work on guilts and serve up a delicious meal to the 40 or more guests. They have been doing it for the past 42 years, Fare for Wednesday, Sept. 15, was pork steaks cooked in mushroom gravy, beans, salad, mashed potatoes (very smooth

--no lumps!) and homemade And for dessert, choice of pumpkin or raisin pie, also homemade and very tasty. Mrs. Roberta Stine, president of the group this year, said the donation from the eaters is used for missions, paying the fuel bill for the church and for the food.

"We take turns cooking, usually about three women a week. I started the meat this morning at 7 o'clock. We usually do that and then come here about 10. Other women make the buns and the dessert and then we make the rest of the food here," she explained.

"We serve about 40-50 people at a meal, which is just about all we can handle now," she said, "what with only about a dozen to do the work."

Several women huddled in the kitchen over the steaming dinner while the rest chatted and sewed on the colorful quilts. The ladies couldn't remember the exact date they started using the church basement, but they decided it must have been about 1946. They explained that the floor of the church was raised so a basement could be put in. Mrs. John Battel of rural Cass City was one of the ten women who chartered the organization in June 1929. The active woman recalled the early days of the group.

"We served in homes twice a month," she said, "and saved the money we made for remodeling the basement of the church.'

"The first Thanksgiving dinner we served about 200 people here. The church was just plastered and there was a cement floor. We didn't even have hot water. We had to carry hot water from a nearby house, she explained as she wove her needle in and out of the quilt before her.

There were about seven women around the wooden frames. They do the quilting after other women piece the tops together.

Mrs. Aletha Fox, who keeps the guilts in her home, looked around and said, "This is the most quilters we've had in a long time."

"Everyone is so busy. If we had the workers, we'd get these done pretty fast. But it takes a long time," she said.

Meanwhile, persons were drifting in with hungry looks on their faces. The men sat and waited on a long pew near the back of the room while the women stood in little groups, greeted friends and caught up on the latest family news.

"I know why so many people come," quipped Mrs. Melvin Vender, wife of the Rev. Melvin Vender, pastor emeritus of the local Presbyterian church. "They come for the homemade buns and pie." The folks around her chuckled. Soon the platters and bowls began to fill the tables and people chose places to sit with their friends. Mr. Vender offered a prayer of thanks for the food. Then everyone sat down, eager to begin the meal. A lot of Cass City people were present. Mrs. Gladys Fort of the Art Club said they'd been going for a number of years, but she didn't know how long. Mr. Vender said he had been going since 1968 when he preached at the church for 21 Sundays and was invited to the dinner.

Along with the farmers clad in their overalls and the women was an insurance salesman from Lapeer county.

"About a year and a half ago I had a claim to settle with a woman who had lost her husband. She told me about this place and said I should come. So I did. Since then I work my schedule so I'm in this area on Wednesday. I've been coming ever since," Francis Stacy exnlained

Hawks pass first grid test as Sebewaing bows, 41-0

The first of three games that Coach William Philbin said before the season started are vital for the Cass City Red Hawks football team is over and the team passed the test with flying colors.

It was the grid opener at Cass City and Sebewaing, the team that tied the Hawks last year, proved no match for the Hawks when they met Friday at Cass City Recreational Park. The score was 41-0.

The second test comes Friday when Bad Axe, the defending Thumb B Conference champion, comes to town. If the Hawks can spread their wings and fly by the Hatchets then this year's grid squad will be one to be reckoned with. And to a man, the team and the coaches believe that the Hawks can do it. Certainly the results of Friday's grid test with the Indians did nothing to dampen the enthusiasm of either the squad or the fans.

doubt. The only question that remains still unanswered: is Cass City that good or Sebewaing that poor?

From the opening whistle the contest was never really in

The visitors showed little against the Hawk defense. Sebewaing appeared unable to handle the ball cleanly and the backs spent much of the evening running into each other. The only semblance of an attack that Sebewaing mustered against the Hawks defense was through the air and where they gained 130 yards, There were heroes galore to earn stars for helmets in > sented one to every member of the defense for their efforts. The coaches reported that Tim Knoblet, Dave Doerr and Chester Sieradzki turned in outstanding games, Sieradzki a middle linebacker, led the team in tackles with 11. Knoblet had 8. Doerr played well enough to earn the "Red Hawk" of the week award in the judgement of the coaches.

Cass City ran for its first three touchdowns in the first half and they turned to its air arm in the final two periods. Guernsey broke Craig through the left side of his line on the first play and was never touched as he dashed 60 yards to score on the first play of the game.

the game. Coach Philbin pre-

A couple of fumbles set up the next two Hawk touchdown efforts and Cass City cashed

City took over on the 10 yard line and Gene Salas crashed over to make the score 20-0 at the intermission. Salas led all runners with 160 yards in 12 carries. . .a 13.3 average for the night.

Curt Strickland unlimbered his arm in the third period as he capped a drive that covered 62 yards in seven plays with a 28-yard touchdown heave to Fred Harbec.

The Hawks added another marker on a four-play drive in the third period that netted 52 yards. Guernsey picked up the final touchdown on an 18vard scamper.

The final marker of the night was recorded on a last quart-'er pass when the Strickland-Harbec combination combined again for the marker on a play that covered 32 yards. Cass City averaged 6.4 yards rushing as they amassed 314 yards on the ground. The Hawks added 73 yards passing for a total of 387 yards for the night. The team escaped without any serious injuries in the game. Greg Eshelman suffered a slight injury, but it is not expected to keep him from playing when undefeated The Cass City High School a 45. golf team opened the 1971 season with a record breaking defeat of Bad Axe Tuesday, Sept. 14. The team established a new school record of 153, breaking the old record by 12 strokes. Bad Axe shot at 177.

Three Cass City golfers also broke the previous 9-hole record of 40. Jerry Toner and Tim Stickle both shot 38's and Don Galbraith established a new record with a blistering 36. Other golfers contributing to the victory were Craig Helwig with a 41 and Rich Lowe with The team continued their winning with a 161-179 victory over Frankenmuth Thursday, Sept. 16. Don Galbraith was medalist once again with a 38. He was followed closely by Craig Helwig with a 39. Rounding out the score was Rich Lowe with a 41, Jerry Toner, a 43, and Tim Stickle, a 48.

"This marked the second victory in a row for the linksmen. They seem to be gaining confidence with each match, said Coach David Lovejoy.

BURIED BENEATH the pile of players and not visible is Gene Salas who had just smashed over for another Cass City touchdown. Number 11 is Quarterback Curt Strickland while No. 62, doing a touchdown dance, is Captain Tim Knoblet. Sebewaing was no match for the Hawks Friday.
