Petitions available

Election wheels start to turn

Nominating petitions for public office are available at the village offices and must be turned in by 4 p. m. Jan. 3, 1972, if a prospective candidate wants his name on the ballot in the Mar. 13, 1972, village election.

This will be the first village election the newly enfranchised 18-20-year-olds will have the opportunity to vote.

They are also eligible to run for public office if they are registered electors of the village.

Most incumbents are still undecided whether they will seek re-election or not. Dr. D. E. Rawson and Gary Jones, both trustees, are the only individuals to declare their intention to run again.

Trustee Gary Christner is still thinking about it, as are president, Lambert Althaver, secretary - treasurer, Colla House, and assessor, Mac O'Dell.

The offices of president, secretary-treasurer and assessor will be filled for two years with this coming election. Prior to a new law that became effective May 5 the offices were one-year terms.

A recent letter from the Attorney General's office cleared the confusion surrounding that point by explaining that because the last election was held before the law went into effect, the incumbents would have to face the voters once more on a yearly basis.

Althaver, who has served as village president for seven years, said, "I haven't made up my mind yet."

Mrs. House, who has held the position of clerk-treasurer for six years, said she hasn't given it too much thought yet either. Charlene Pranger, deputy clerk, does most of the actual work but cannot hold the office because she lives outside the village limits. Mrs. House is responsible for tax collection.

Assessor Mac O'Dell, who has been ill part of this past year, said he hasn't made up his mind.

"If they could find somebody else, I wouldn't mind," said the 10-year office holder.

Christner, who has served two years on the council, said, "I've been thinking of getting out," but added that he would probably run. He cited time as the factor that would influence his decision.

The nominating petitions must be signed by 20 village electors and turned in to the village office at the municipal building.

Office seekers are cautioned to make sure those signing their petitions are registered voters with the village. A person must be at least 18 years old, registered and have lived in the state six months and the village 30 days.

Eye curriculum study after lengthy board session

Proponents of a new wrestling program went to the mat Monday night with members of the Cass City School Board and secured the approval of the new program at the high school at a cost of $4,810.67 for the initial year.

In the same session, other proposals fared less well. The student-sponsored request for a student lounge was tabled pending investigation of other similar programs and a request by Trustee Dr. Ed Scollon that music and art be expanded at the elementary school was defeated, at least for the remainder of the year.

It was the longest and perhaps the most controversial meeting held in recent years at the school.

Opening the session was a presentation by five high school students telling why the school should do away with the present study hall and establish a lounge in its place. The five were: Ron Crandell, Kim Glaspie, B. J. Haire, Jim Landholt and Nancy Kerbyson.

According to the students these are the reasons the lounge is needed:

- As a student originated program it would teach responsibility as the students would feel obligated to make it work.
- Traditional study halls are not that important to students and the ones who truly wish to study can do so in the library.

- There would be no increase in costs to the school as the present study hall teacher could supervise the lounge.
- Students need a place to get away from the pressures

Protest church group at Deford school

A squabble between two Deford church groups was partially aired Monday night when George Jacoby, Deford, appeared before the school board to protest the renting of the Deford School to members of the newly organized Deford Community Church.

Jacoby told the board that he was not personally concerned about the split between the Deford Methodist Church and the new Community Church, but he felt that renting the school as a church site was against the law.

He told the board that it violated the church-school separation as outlined in the constitution.

He also asked why the room was rented for $3 per week on a Sunday, plus janitorial fees, when other residents pay $35.

Supt. Donald Crouse explained that the school is available for civic functions for $3 per night, plus fees, and that the $35 fee was for private individuals staging weddings, anniversaries and similar functions.

It was also the board's opinion that renting the school was legally okay as long as religion was not taught as a part of the school curriculum.

Dale Sherry, the pastor of the splinter group, said that he appeared before the group "in love" and has no fight with any other church group.

He said that plans now are to have a permanent church structure by July 1.

The board authorized no changes and the group will continue to hold Sunday meetings as previously arranged.

United effort quells Osborn barn fire

Quick action by firemen from four different departments kept damage to a minimum Friday when strong winds threatened to spread flames at a barn southeast of Owendale.

Huron County Register of Deeds Robert Osborn and his wife returned to their home at 6226 McAlpine Road, Owendale, to discover a fire in the southwest corner of the barn. They immediately called Owendale and Gagetown firemen, who summoned Cass City and Elkton departments.

In spite of the strong winds, the fire was contained, but only after firemen worked 6 hours and threw bales of hay out of the barn to keep it from spreading, said Gagetown Fire Chief Chuck Wright.

Ten head of beef cattle were also rescued from the blaze, which caused an estimated $4000 damage and consumed

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved two contracts for the second semester. Miss Judy Zimmermann will be the high school librarian replacing Mrs. Lucy Auten and Miss Jayne Krohn will be the Kindergarten teacher replacing Mrs. Geraldine Coleman.

Health insurance for secretaries and the school nurse was raised $5 per month to correspond with teaching personnel who receive maximum benefits of $35 per month.

will keep bugging (Crouse) till it is done.

Not convinced, Scollon pointed out that a total of over $7,000 was spent for sports and phys ed equipment and not one penny for the elementary school in the Monday session.

Scollon was referring to an earlier decision by the board to buy approximately $2,365 worth of gymnastic equipment for the high school in addition to the wrestling program. Scollon voted against the purchase.

Wrestling is already offered at Caro and Marlette and meets will be arranged with them. Present plans call for the team to enter the district State tournament.

The coach is Paul Clabuesch. An allowance of $500 was in Stickle's budget for the coach.

While wrestling and lounge sparked most of the debate Monday night, it may be that the discussion about music and art will have longer-lasting effect.

Trustee Scollon was doggedly persistent in advancing his campaign for music and art in the elementary school. Supt. Donald Crouse's position was that the students were getting music and art and that a full time music teacher would not be kept busy in the time available to students for the program.

Crouse added that any addition to the curriculum should be after a study of the entire program.

The board quickly agreed that this was the best course to follow. As much as I am for additions to the curriculum, Trustee Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn said, I think a study is a wise course. I'm for it and Snowmobile mania is now in its third or fourth big year in the Thumb and there appears to be no slackening of demand.

No slackening by Michigan enthusiasts and certainly none in the Haire household.

In fact the pressure is increasing in direct proportion to the amount of snow on the ground. When we have a blanket of white I feel like a (please forgive me) a Haire running from a pack of hounds.

Like water running over a rock the kids were eroding away my resistance.

But I stiffened up again last week when I went charging around town looking at machines and pricing them.

Really I know that $500 is too much to be spending on a toy for kids, I told myself naively, as I prepared to look the market over.

But the kids won't be around forever and our next door neighbor does have one. . . .

How was I to know that entering the snowmobile market with $500 is like trying to buy a newspaper for a nickel.

Except once in the long distant past you could buy a paper for a nickel. Snowmobiles probably always cost more than $500.

I still can't tell why two machines that look identical as they sit side-by-side in the showroom can be so different, one costing about $800 and the other about $1200 or more.

Sure I hear the story about cc's and twin cylinders and all the rest but it's all gibberish to me.

The only cc's I ever heard of was the New Deal's Civilian Conservation Corps and if you remember that you should be too old for snowmobiles.

It took me 40 years to learn about horsepower in an engine and then they went and changed it.

But back to the subject. Buying a snowmobile. My 12-year-old can't understand why we have to put a new heating system in the house and a new door at the office when we don't have enough money to buy a snowmobile.

With him it's a case of first things first. The campaign continues without abatement. Who's got a new one, which family has two, how we can save on vacations by riding a machine at home instead of going away.

It's a constant never-ending campaign.

I've resisted all the pressure. We haven't a machine at our house.

Will we get one? I can't say no. After all, sooner or later water always does wear away a rock.

Arrest is wierd coincidence

What was called a "weird coincidence" by Prosecutor Leo Maki resulted in the arrest and arraignment of Dennis Francis of Deford Monday without ever stepping into the sheriff's office.

Francis was paying a traffic ticket at the magistrate's office in Caro when a request for a warrant for his arrest was presented to Magistrate John Bowles.

Francis waited around and immediately pleaded innocent to a charge of assault and battery against Randy Wright of Greenland Road, Cass City.

Francis was arrested in connection with a late Friday incident when Wright, 16, was chased by several cars from Cass City to Greenland Road, where he stopped about a quarter mile from his home and sought aid. Residents called police when they saw him thrown against a car.

Franklin Blake Holcomb, 18, 2284 McArthur Road, Deford, was arrested early Saturday morning following a high speed chase by Deputy Sheriff Paul Megge from Cass City to Holcomb's home.

The deputy was parked at the corner of Seeger and Main when he saw a 1963 Dodge take off at a high rate of speed going south on Seeger between 80 and 100 miles an hour. With flashers and lights on, Megge followed in pursuit, down South Cemetery Road, west on DeLong, south on Warner, west on Severance and then south on McArthur before it turned into a driveway and stopped. Holcomb told the deputy he didn't know he was being pursued by a police officer. He was arrested for fleeing from a traffic arrest and posted a $100 personal recognizance bond.

Joseph Thomas Salcido, 21, of 4917 1/2 State St., Gagetown, was arrested Friday, Dec. 10, at the corner of Bay City-Forestville and Colwood Roads and charged with being a disorderly person. He posted a $40 bond and is scheduled to appear in district court Dec. 20.

Sticky fingers and chocolate goo trademarks of area candy maker

By Kit McMillion

While other persons are busy cleaning house and buying Christmas presents, Mrs. Leo Seuryneck is making candy.

She's been doing it for 15 years and doesn't bother to buy gifts any more. Everybody gets candy. But there's a lot to choose from: peanut brittle, creams, nut clusters, chocolates, hard candy, fudge, caramels, even dietetic chocolate.

It tastes so good, her seven sisters, four brothers, six children and nine grandchildren don't mind at all.

What could be turned into a profitable business still remains just a hobby.

"I'm not in the business, and I don't want to be. It's just a hobby and more or less a family thing," the friendly woman explained, even though she's had the opportunity.

"It's first come, first serve" for any purchases, but she gives most of it away.

Leo Seuryneck began learning the tricks of converting ordiinary ingredients into goodies when a distant cousin in Ohio asked her to come and learn. She helped her make lots of tiny decorative cookies and helped prepare creams for her cousin to dip, "but we never did a darn bit of chocolate," she stated.

That bit of wizardry she had to learn all by herself. With the aid of a candy cooking book and some ingenuity she has learned how to convert ordinary looking chocolate bars into delicious little morsels.

The important thing in chocolate making is learning how to temper the gooey stuff and not letting it boil, she declared.

The creams are also one of her favorites.

"Tuesday morning is my day off and bright and early I'll be right at it making creams," she said.

The basic mixture is a creamy white substance called fondant. It's made by combining sugar and water over heat, but it isn't that simple.

"I take 10 pounds of sugar and 10 cups of water and mix them over the stove, but it's the little tiny things that mean a lot," she explained, with a secretive gleam in her warm brown eyes. She revealed that it also takes a little glycerin and a little acetic acid. How and when to add those ingredients--the secret to success--she refused to tell.

She flavors the fondant with a variety of tastes including coconut, black walnut, orange, lemon, grape and chocolate. Regardless of the kinds of candy she's making, it always goes onto a large marble slab for working.

"You have to use marble," she said, explaining that many candies had to be pulled and a marble top is the best surface.

The three large slabs in the little candy making kitchen were all acquired for that purpose.

"It cost me plenty," related Leo.

She told that a cousin of hers in Detroit said he'd found just what she wanted, but the woman didn't want to sell.

"You bring me down some candy, and I'll see to the trade," he told her. So armed with 20 pounds of her chocolate, she went and returned with the large slab.

Another piece she got out of a snowbank in Ohio some years ago.

Her husband, Leo, helped her get that one, and she explained that he is helpful and tolerant about the whole enterprise.

"He cracks all my nuts for me," she said, relating that she buys a hundred pounds every winter and after the new year they shell and freeze them for the next year.

"I used to buy 300 pounds of pecans every year from Marks, Miss. You just couldn't get anything like that around here, but now I get them from Detroit. And the freight was terrible!" she exclaimed.

"Wash, iron, clean house, spring house clean--that's what I thought getting married was going to be," she reminisced about the first years of her almost 35-year union. But not so.

Her husband recently cracked black walnuts from their own tree on their farm on Jacob Road, southwest of Gagetown. He told her they were worth $10 a pound so she should use them instead of buying all the nuts.

But she still needs a lot of them.

"Yesterday I got 100 pounds of nuts from Detroit," she said. She also gets unpolished Stuarts from Mississippi, which she washes, cracks, and roasts herself.

And she roasts her own peanuts. Jars and boxes of the nut meats crowd the walls of the tiny kitchen.

As she told about her candy

Diet Watchers to bestow gifts of weight (loss)

A unique array of presents will decorate the Christmas trees of Diet Watchers.

Mrs. Phyllis Brinkman of Cass City is bestowing 3 bowling balls or the equivalent of 33 pounds shed with Diet Watchers. Mrs. Margaret Walters is donating two cement blocks and a permanent smile to her family to account for her 22 1/2 pound loss. Other members will be placing bows and ribbons on 20 lb. potato sacks, 10 lb. sacks of sugar, or perhaps even on an 80 lb. child to represent their efforts over the past few months.

How will their families react to this strange assortment? Molly Henderson of Sandusky, local leader, feels they'll be overjoyed.

"Being thin is the goal of a lifetime for anyone who's suffered from overweight. As members lose, you can visibly see them reclaiming their lives. They have more pep and go, self confidence and a whole new image appears. What members are really presenting to their families is a new wife and mother who enjoys herself, her family, and doesn't need to hibernate all winter long."

Diet Watchers club seems to prove that happiness is taking your clothes in by 4 inches, and there'll be many bright smiles in Cass City this Yule Time Season.

Sorry about that, Mother

BY JIM FITZGERALD

My mother is in trouble. Her hometown newspaper just bought this column.

Come to think, a lot of people may be worried now that this nonsense will appear regularly in the Port Huron (Mich.) Times Herald. John and Paul, the chief purveyors at the Alibi Bar, for instance, may slip some week and reveal exactly how much of their saloon actually belongs to me, by virtue of financial investment and eminent domain.

Or little Dickie Davis, the curly-haired son of a minister, may worry that I might tell the world how he encouraged me to shoplift 552 comic books (Dad counted 'em) from Cunningham's Drugstore.

Or Dick Devereaux, another infamous friend of my youth, probably wouldn't want his children to read how he used to leap the monument in front of the old Junior College in a single bound at 3 a. m.

Then there's a guy named Don Mack who will probably start sending me blackmail money I second after he reads his name here.

But it's my dear old blue-haired mother who will quake most upon learning that her son's column is now appearing in the newspaper she made me peddle every night for 4 years before she'd let me in out of the cold to eat my cup of gruel.

For years, Mother has been snug in the knowledge that nothing I wrote got within 50 miles of her bridge club. She did occasionally read me in an out-of-town newspaper, mailed to her home in a plain brown wrapper. It was a lot of trouble crawling under the bed to read it, but the effort was worthwhile if she could find a mistake in my spelling or grammar.

"Thank the Good Lord my friends never read the terrible things you write," she always said.

Heh, heh, heh.

Port Huron readers may wonder why it took me so long to "come home." I left town over 20 years ago and I've been hawking adjectives and nouns for almost 10 years. I'm not sure, but I think the delay was caused by my performance when I was first on the Times Herald payroll.

I peddled Route 7A along the St. Clair River, just south of Pine Grove Park, 30 years ago. Some of my old customers still live there. Some of them may still be wondering if I'm ever going to bring their paper. It wasn't a bad route in the warm months. But, in the winter, the wind came off the river hard enough to blow a carelessly thrown newspaper into the next county. In this manner I delivered many a Port Huron Times Herald to people who never heard of Port Huron.

Then there was that snowstorm when my corduroy pants froze. I couldn't move. The snow drifted over my head and 62 people didn't get a newspaper until spring. When I finally got home again I discovered Mother selling my gruel to a paperhanger who had run out of paste.

Anyway, I didn't cover myself with glory during my first hitch at the Times Herald. I hope to do better this time around, thus becoming a permanent source of pride to my mother who will grow used to people throwing cans at her in the supermarket.

Mother hopes my corduroys freeze again.

Letters to Santa

Dear Santa,

I am four years old and getting to be real big help to my mother. I have been a good boy this year. My grandpa VanVliet says I'm little helper on the farm. I would like a barn like grandpa's and some animals. Also I would like a big truck.

Your friend,
Michael Hutchinson
P.S. Don't forget my cousins Deanna and Andy.

Dear Santa,

I have tried to be good this year. I am four years old. I have a little brother, Ryan, and he is one year old. I would like a big doll - like Baby Tender Love - with a bottle, a dollie suitcase, and a baking set. Ryan would like a little dump truck, a farm set, and an airplane.

Thank you,
Rhonda Smith
Decker, Mich.

Dear Santa,

I hope you remember me. I wrote to you last year. I have been extra good this year helping my daddy. I would like a model car - a Torino GT. I had one but it got broke. I hope you know where I live. Please bring my uncle Elmer something too.

Your little buddy,
Robby Kappen
Cass City

P. S. There will be cookies and milk on the table.

Dear Santa

My name is Susan My little sister is Jamie I would like a Guitto and some Barbie clothes. Jamie would like a doll and a Trike. Our cat Mid-night could use a Bed and a Scratch Pole. Thank you and have a good trip.

Dear Santa,
Merry Christmas, Santa. I have been a good boy most of the time.

Would you bring me a loader for my tractor, a truck like Dad's, a crazy bike, and an automatic chopper, if your workers can make one. I also want a record of "Put Your Hand in the Hand of the Man from Galilee," and "Chug-a-lug."

That's about it, Santa. Bring my sister a dolly and a set of dishes. She will be two years old on Dec. 27, so will you leave something for her birthday, too?

Would you leave an electric steam-a-way at Grandma Panny's house. Put from Scott Hutchinson on it, O.K.?

Thank you, Santa
Scott Hutchinson
Five years old

P.S. How are your reindeer?
X X X X X X X X X X X X

Dear Santa,

For Christmas I would like a doll, doll buggy and a riding horse. Please I have been a real good girl.
Thank you.

Rena Lynn Szarapski

Dear Santa,

I would like a play machine gun and play bullets.

From Paul Brown

Love
Susan & Jamie Schott

Dear Santa,

My name is Craig Thompson and I have two friends who are writing this with me. Their names are Joe Berrera and Jammi Kirkpatrick. For Christmas I would like an Inch worm, Joe would like a Farmer Says and Jammi would like a drink and wet doll. I live on Bay City Forestville Rd.

A cookie and sugar will be waiting for you and your reindeer.

Love,
Craig, Joe & Jammi

Dear Santa,

My name is Cindy. I am 6 years old. I want a Dancing Dancerina doll, Growing-Hair-Pretty and Shopping Cheryl. I'm at my grandmas house. I will leave warm milk and cookies for you and some sugar for the reindeer.

Thank you,
Cindy Cybulski

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Sour grapes department: Cass City fans at the basketball game Tuesday kept referring to Glenn Chappel as a ball hog during the last half despite the fact that he set a school scoring record of 45 points and almost singlehandedly led his team to victory.

One of the best sales promotions conducted in town during the year was staged by the Cass City FFA under the direction of Ross Beach.

He secured grapefruit and oranges direct from Florida, advertised them in advance and they were sold out in a matter of days.

The FFA had two things going for them. A good sales pitch (direct from Florida) and a good cause. . . FFA projects. Incidentally, there is a good deal of education wrapped up in a deal like this for the students who participated.

*****

It's no credit to Cass City that the school is unable to keep a sign going in front of the school. We noticed one at Marlette Tuesday night. . . with all letters intact, announcing the arrival of the Cass City basketball team.

But in town the only way we will be able to make a sign functional is to have unbreakable letters protected by a wire mesh so the goons can't get to them.

*****

Destroying the sign is about on a par with stealing outdoor Christmas lights and we have an epidemic of both in the community.

*****

The discussion swirled around the relative safety of bus vs. a station wagon at the school board meeting. Since Gary Kelley, principal at Deford, had driven them in the past the question was deferred to him.

It's hard for me to say, he replied, I've only wrecked a van.

Jaycees sponsor lunch with Santa for kiddies

The Cass City Jaycees are sponsoring a lunch with Santa program at Campbell Elementary School Saturday, Dec. 18.

The program designed for kindergarten through fourth grade will begin at 11 a. m. and is expected to last two hours. A hot lunch of hot dog, milk, chips, etc., will be provided and movies about Christmas will be shown, including "The Night Before Christmas."

Santa will also be on hand to treat the children.

Tickets to the entertainment are $1 and can be obtained from Jaycee members or at the door. For more information, call 872-3765.

The Jaycees also moved to support the recycling center now underway by the Environmental Pollutant Preventers Society (EPPS).

The motion to support came at their regular meeting Wednesday night, Dec. 8.

They will act as advisors and sponsors to the high school ecology class project to collect glass and take it to a recycling center. Plans are not complete; nevertheless collection began Saturday, Dec. 4, at the Cass City Recreational Park grandstand, 9-12 a. m.

During the week, collection will also be made at the high school from 12:45 to 3:15 p. m. at the Receiving room. Bottles will also be picked up. Call 872-2716 or 872-2363.

Bottles should be rinsed and all metal bands removed.

Senior citizens celebrate yule season with festive feast and party

The rain trickled down the window panes and the wind whistled at the door as the old folks came in, but the weather did nothing to dampen their spirits as they entered the Elk-Land Township Cultural Center for their Christmas party.

The forty-odd members of the Senior Citizens Club and the sponsoring Zonta Club celebrated the holiday Thursday afternoon, Dec. 9, with a dinner and party.

Despite the lack of snow, the inside was festively decorated with a tree on the stage, colorful place settings on the eight new tables donated to the center and holiday music, not to mention the feast spread on the buffet table for the potluck dinner.

One of the older women commented that the only reason the food looked so good was because it took the old timers to make it. Each one of them brought a dish. Even Mrs. Marie Beder of Mayville, who has cooked for many large and expensive parties, said the food was great.

And it was. The group lined up for seconds of the baked chicken and trimmings and the sweet breads, and then for the homemade pies and cakes.

After the meal, Ella Price led the group in singing traditional Christmas carols while Don Greenleaf played the old piano, which in spite of its age has a good tone. It dates from the 1880's and seemed a fitting instrument for the occasion.

After one soft verse of Away in a Manger she said, "You guys are too full of dinner," but the next chorus of "O Come All Ye Faithful" was loud and strong.

The wrinkled faces and the grayed hair reflected joy in the faces and the memories hidden behind their softened eyes.

Pleasant memories of Christmas of years gone by dominated the entertainment. Mrs. Lucile Bauer showed slides of the Christmas pageant and the elaborate decorations of Cass City which gave the village the name Christmas Town about 20 years ago, and Arthur Holmberg showed a movie depicting similar scenes.

One of the first slides was of a nativity scene Mrs. Bauer had on her lawn. "I think of how many times the sheep jumped the fence and the boys would have to chase them," she laughed.

The general conversation indicated the tone of the feeling—everybody worked then and they did it for Cass City.

"We'd work up in Lloyd Vyse's barn and there wasn't any heat so we'd wear our long underwear," remembered Mrs. Reva Little.

Recalling the pageant and seeing the friends and youngsters who are now gone or grown pleased the oldsters. "That was real good reminiscing," said one.

Mrs. Noreen Partridge is president of the Senior Citizens and served as mistress of ceremony.

monies. She said the group has met the second Thursday of each month since their first meeting in July. Other officers are Mrs. Alma Seeger, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Partridge cheerfully announced that Mrs. Marie Roch would begin serving as vice-president.

The last item on the agenda was the giving of gifts. After the dinner Miss Mary MacIntyre of the Zonta Club passed out ticket stubs. She had been greeted with "What's it for?" and teasingly replied that "You may get a trip to Hawaii. You don't know," as she dropped the part of the ticket into a waiting cup.

The stubs were actually used to award gifts later in the program. Mrs. G. Pena, who has spent 37 years in Cass City after coming from Mexico, was called first and received a small candle lamp. Other gifts were distributed and everyone received something.

Mrs. Margaret Haire said as they were drawing the numbers, "I never win anything," laughing as she explained that once she did win a safety razor. Then her number was called, she smiled and said, "Well, that broke my rule," as she went to accept a gift from under the tree.

Santa never did make an appearance as it was rumored he might, but the spirit of Santa Claus was evident as the party drew to a close and the merry makers gathered up their treasures and began drifting away to their own homes.

The loneliness that sometimes crowds in seemed to vanish for the senior citizens as they shared in the fellowship. The day was summed up by Levet Barnes of Decker: "Sure, we had a good time. Kids like us have to go somewhere," he grinned.

MRS. G. PENA accepts the first gift from Mrs. Peter Rienstra at the senior citizens Christmas party.

PLATES READY, the hungry old-timers pause before digging into the potluck feast.

Brenda Fulcher awarded $100 CCEA scholarship

MRS. BRENDA FULCHER accepts a $100 scholarship check from Cass City Educational Association President Robert Logan.

Mrs. Tom (Brenda) Fulcher was awarded a $100 scholarship check Monday by Robert Logan, president of the Cass City Educational Association (CCEA).

Mrs. Fulcher, 21, is a senior at Central Michigan University where she expects to graduate in May with a degree in elementary education.

She is a 1968 graduate of Cass City High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell of Cass City. Her husband is stationed in Thailand with the U. S. Air Force and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Fulcher of Ubyly.

Qualifications for the scholarship required that the recipient be a graduate of Cass City High School, be a senior in college and intend to go into the teaching profession.

The CCEA sponsored the scholarship.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

Anti-burglary devices

By Dan Marlowe

Until quite recently homeowners in the Thumb of Michigan haven't had to be too concerned about house burglaries. Road improvement, however, and the outward movement of people from Detroit and its suburbs and exurbia have changed this picture. Burglary is one aspect of crime today which more and more concerns the homeowner.

Consequently, people are looking for some measure of relief from the worry of returning from a trip and finding the premises ransacked, and quite a few companies are now manufacturing devices which can add to the homeowner's peace of mind. These devices range from inexpensive trickery to highly expensive alarm systems.

One of the simplest but most effective is a tiny tape recording wired to the inside door locks. The instant a would-be burglar inserts a celluloid pick between lock and door jamb, he is greeted by the almost paralyzing sound of a fiercely barking, snarling German shepherd waiting to tear him limb from limb. Unless the burglar is also a dog trainer, he is almost guaranteed to depart the area hurriedly.

Such a tape recording is only one of an increasing number of protective devices being taken by homeowners to fight back against the menace posed by burglars. The purchase of window and door decals which advise an intruder that the house is under the protection of a detection alarm system is another favorite. Sometimes the decal uses the name of a genuine protection agency, but sometimes the name of the company is invented. Such decals make any burglar think twice before inserting his pinch bar under a window.

At the other end of the protective spectrum are home protection services. These provide an alarm system ranging in cost from $700 to $2000 plus $50 to $200 annual charges for maintenance. The particular advantage of these systems is that if the home alarm goes off a corresponding alarm sounds at the local police station.

There are electronic systems dependent upon light waves, microwaves, or ultrasonic waves. Anyone breaking one of these waves may set off a silent alarm which registers in police headquarters. Or, if the homeowner so chooses, set off a siren inside or outside the home.

People still depend upon locks for security, but the newer and better ones are a far cry from the ordinary tumbler lock found in most homes. One company sells a lock triggered to set off a siren when probed by a burglar's pick. There are electronic locks which open only when a coded circuit device is inserted.

One company makes a lock that emits a jet of tear gas when a burglar tries to force it. Another lock responds only to a curiously shaped key which even the best-supplied skeleton-key burglar would be unlikely to possess.

Many appliance and department stores sell inexpensive timers which can be installed between a light socket and a light plug. These can be preset to turn lights on in an empty house at the time the occupants would normally be returning. Lights going on in staggered sequence should suggest to a burglar that the occupants are in the home and moving about.

Protection is available; make the most of it.

Tousley retires after 42½ years with county

Glen Tousley, 67, of Gilford Road, Deford, worked his last day Friday after 42 1/2 years with the County Road Commission.

Glen Tousley

Parties in his honor were held Thursday at the Deford garage and Friday night in Sebewaing with the whole road commission. Purses were given at both celebrations as a retirement present.

He said he is going to retire to his farm in the southeast corner of Ellington township where he plans to do a little shop work at home.

He began work with the road commission in May 1929, before that he worked for the Cass City Sand and Gravel Co.

He and his wife Eva have two children: Mrs. Elsie Hicks, the county clerk, and Kenneth, a minister serving in East Tawas.

Choose right mate to cure baldness

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

A very distressing problem for many a person is the loss of some or perhaps all of the hair on his or her head. The fact that this troubles many people is shown by the numerous "hair restorers" and

Fireman Cooper assigned to amphibious ship

Fireman Tim A. Cooper, 20, was to leave Wednesday for assignment to the amphibious ship USS Point Defiance at a floating dry dock. He is stationed at Long Beach, Calif.

Fireman Tim A. Cooper

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Cooper of 7724 Hadley Road, Cass City, F. M. Cooper graduated from boot camp at Great Lakes Naval Station, Ill., in April. He then was trained in damage control, ship filter and gas welding. Cooper is a 1970 graduate of Cass City High School. His address is: F. M. Tim A. Cooper, USS Point Defiance, LSD-31, FPO San Francisco 96001.

"baldness cures" on the market -- cures that, as many people have found to their sorrow, do not always work. A while ago, Jean Snyder wrote an article on this subject. She said she found 232 people in a major city who advertised their ability to cure falling hair.

Incidentally, when I was about 20, and the hair on my head started to fall out, my physician father joined me in searching through the medical literature of the world for a cure. I tried an ointment described by the greatest hair specialist of France, but it had no effect. I lost much of my hair -- and this is very important: I lost it in the same places in which my father had lost his hair. This showed me that generally, the only cure for baldness is choosing the right ancestors.

A friend of mine had a shiny bald head, his brother had a shiny bald head, and my friend's son later developed a shiny bald head; obviously, there is heredity at work.

One curious thing about baldness is that a man who has been castrated (has lost his testicles through an accident or through surgery), or whose testicles do not function properly, generally does not lose his hair. Even when he is 70 or 80 years old he may have a fine head of hair. This may be where people got the folk idea that baldness is a sign of virility in a man. Researchers are still trying to find just how hormones affect baldness.

A common skin disease that produces loss of hair is ALOPECIA, seen mainly in men. The trouble is not in the hair, but in the tiny tubes in the scalp where the hairs grow. Some men get ALOPECIA AREATA. They develop areas especially on the back of the neck where there is no hair. We doctors don't know much about what causes it.

Skin specialists advise the lad with alopecia to brush his hair every night with 20 or 30 strokes of a fairly stiff hair-brush; this will get rid of most of the flakes of dandruff (which are really bits of dead skin).

Sometimes remarkable things happen. I remember a young woman who was about to be married, and all of a sudden every hair on her entire body, from her head to her ankles, fell out, and stayed out. No doctor could say exactly why she lost all of her hair, but she remained well enough to bear a healthy child.

Today hair loss is almost no problem for women because of the great availability of good and natural-looking wigs. Wearing a wig is the quickest and cheapest way of correcting the difficulty. There are even some very fine wigs for men in a great variety of styles.

A more drastic method is one that has recently been devised, in which a piece of fabric is actually sewn to the scalp, and hair is attached to this fabric. I have seen men who have had this done, and the process can give a man a normal-looking head of hair. Since it is so recent a development, the Federal Trade Commission people have their doubts about the risks of this. The cost is about $1500.

Still another way of getting hair where there is no hair is to have patches of hair scalp transplanted into bald areas. The method works, but it is time consuming and expensive.

I tend to agree with Jean Snyder that the best and cheapest prescription for baldness is a good dose of reliable information. In spite of the enormous amount of reading I have done on the subject, I have never found an eminent skin specialist who claimed to be able to cure baldness by making hair actually grow again on a bald head.

AGENT'S CORNER

Offer young brides home study course

Mrs. Margaret Ross - Extension Agent

You're a new bride, and you're finding out that two can't eat -- or live, or dress -- as cheaply as one. Maybe you're the mother of several small children, and you're wondering how you and your husband will survive the drain on money, time, energy.

Young homemakers face a challenge of establishing a strong marriage, rearing the kids, stretching the budget, establishing a home. The problems are many and the amount of time they can spend looking for answers is limited. A state-wide project for young homemakers has been initiated which they can use at their leisure, in their own homes. It's designed to help the young homemaker with all of her jobs.

The project features a series of articles mailed every other month. They'll cover home, family, money, clothing, food and a section called "just myself." That's designed to help the homemaker deal with her own personal development and tensions. The articles will come in a cover. But they're designed to be pulled apart and filed, if the young homemaker wants to build a reference center. Any young homemaker -- from new bride to mother of several young children -- will find something for her in the study project. Young homemakers can study the material in their own homes, request additional materials on specific topics, respond to articles and send suggestions for topics to be covered in future issues. The project is non-credit, designed solely to help the homemaker find her jobs easier -- "strictly in-service training". Any young homemaker interested in receiving a sample of the project materials please contact your local cooperative

Extension women hold holiday meet

Tuscola county extension women were taken to the Middle East via pictures at their recent Christmas program.

"Create Christmas" sponsored by the Tuscola county extension homemakers council was held at the 4-H Wilber Memorial Building.

The program featured a slide presentation by Mrs. Alice Thomas of Caro. She was in the Middle East prior to the six-day war. Mrs. Thomas is a member of the Moreland extension study group.

Several Extension study groups prepared exhibits for the event.

Planning committee for this program included Mrs. Stanley Dinsmore, Fairgrove, and Mrs. Wesley Karpovich, Caro.

If you must give advice, don't put it all in capital letters.

New 4-H Council members

By Bernard Jardot

The 4-H leaders of Tuscola county held their annual Leader-Spouse Potluck Dinner Dec. 4. The group enjoyed a fine fellowship meeting among the leaders present, reports Bernard Jardot, Extension 4-H Youth Agent.

At this meeting the following new 4-H council members were announced: Mrs. Leon Keinath, Millington; Mrs. Lester Gosson, Caro; Mrs. William Hacker, Cass City; and Mrs. Edwin Link, Unionville. Their terms of office will be for three years starting in January 1972 and they will join eight other carry-over members from the old council.

The new 4-H council will reorganize and select officers for the year 1972 at their next regular meeting Jan. 13, 1972.

State preparing for legal administration of abortions

Should the drive now underway to put abortion reform on the November, 1972, ballot be successful, and should the proposal be ratified by voters, Michigan will be faced with the problem of administering legalized abortions.

If that happens, the state Department of Public Health won't be caught flat footed.

A special committee established by the department is already at work exploring guidelines for hospital and clinic abortion services "when and if" the state's abortion law is changed.

"New York got caught when the liberalized law went into effect there," says Dr. Jack Stack of Alma, a member of the committee. "We don't want that to be the case in Michigan."

*****

The committee is made up of doctors, health department staff members and clergymen as well as representatives from the medical, insurance, hospital and social services fields.

The idea for the committee grew out of an earlier conference on abortion facilities planning held last April in Detroit.

The conference produced a comprehensive 52-page report which found that the demand for legal abortions would be high in Michigan if the law is changed. The report said that many hospitals and clinics would be adequately prepared for a new law.

Hopefully, when this committee completes its guidelines, the people of Michigan will know that it won't be a sudden, helter-skelter situation," Stack says.

"We have laws now which say that if you don't get a certain standard of care in a hospital or other medical facility, then the doors will be closed by the state," he says. "People should have the same protection when it comes to abortion facilities."

The new committee has yet to come up with specific guidelines for abortion facilities, but Stack says he expects to have a written report prepared several months from now. Even when the report is ready, however, it may be kept under wraps until Michigan's law actually is changed.

*****

There is some uneasiness about the success of the petition drive. Some of the initial enthusiasm is waning and there is growing opposition by those who oppose abortion.

Meanwhile, the Michigan Coordinating Committee for Abortion Reform is forging ahead with its efforts to secure the vote in November, 1972.

At last report, the committee was nearing the 100,000 mark in total signatures secured. It needs more than 250,000 to get the proposal on the ballot. Rep. Joseph P. Swallow, original sparkplug, says more push is needed.

The petition proposal would permit abortions for any reason during the first 120 days of pregnancy.

FLUORIDATION SAVES

Michigan parents whose children age 5 and 16 have been drinking fluoridated water since birth have saved a total of $15 million in dental bills, according to a survey compiled by the State Health Department. Dr. Louis F. Szejda, who put together the figures, says that cost estimate involves only the money saved on filling cavities and doesn't reflect charges for examination, X-rays or other treatments which might be the same whether the child drank fluoridated water or not.

The cost savings breaks down to an average of $46 per child. And when considering the oldest of the group—the 16-year-olds—the savings average $70 per youth.

*****

"For a family of three persons—two adults and one 16-year-old, for example—the water fluoridation costs would be about 10¢ to 15¢ per person per year or from $5 to $ for the 16 years for the entire family," Dr. Szejda says.

"When we compare this against their savings in dental expenses, we see that for their investment in water fluoridation, the return would be about more than ten-fold."

"In the case of a family of four—with two children age 17, the investment in water fluoridation for the 16-year-olds would be between $6 and $10 and their return would be nearly 15-fold."

No person is tall enough to be above neighborly criticism.

Hospital construction delays make completion indefinite

Construction of the Hills and Dales Hospital addition is about one month behind schedule without a clear completion date.

The present problem involves the plumbing, which is not completely installed and is therefore halting work progress on the newly added west wing.

The plumbing is roughed in, explained Byron Landholt, administrator, but it must be completed before the walls can be plastered. The west wing must be completely finished before remodeling to the south wing can begin.

The reason for delay has not been made known to administrator Landholt.

"They're not telling me, so I don't really know what it is," he said.

General contractors for the $550,000 construction project are Clements and Kirk of LaPeer. The delays now concern sub-contractors.

The completion date was set for mid-February, but when the construction will be done is now uncertain. There is a penalty clause in the contract.

"It's anybody's guess now because we're dependent on so many sub-contractors," the administrator explained.

"My guess is April 1--with luck," he added.

Construction is planned in three phases--one, the building of the new 26 bed surgical west wing; two--the addition of emergency treatment facilities, and three--remodeling of present facilities, mostly in the south wing.

Phase one and two must be completed before phase three can begin because patients now housed in the south wing will be placed in the new west wing.

Despite the delays, Landholt says the inside is about 50 per cent finished and the outside work is completed.

The increase in facilities will not appreciably result in more patients at the 57 bed hospital. It averages about 82 per cent capacity now, and Landholt doesn't expect an increase. The number is governed by the number of doctors using the facility, which now numbers nine, the administrator explained.

"The real increase in services will be in outpatient," Landholt said. This is where the hospital is showing greatest growth.

The added facilities will not require more nurses either, the administrator told, just more "housekeeping."

"The only thing that will require more nurses is more patients," he said.

Work began on the modernization program in early July. The hospital was threatened with the loss of its license if it didn't remodel after a state inspection revealed certain facilities were outdated and unacceptable. The construction is primarily a modernization process.

The emergency room, phase two, was expected to be done in mid-December. It includes the addition of one treatment room, a small waiting room, a small office and easy access for an ambulance. Presently, the ambulance must unload patients at the doctor's entrance and wheel a stretcher down a long corridor to the treatment room.

The present emergency office will be converted into a small gift shop.

The new west wing, phase one, will include, besides the bed facilities, twice the present laboratory space, enlarged records office, medical library, nursing and administrative offices, pharmacy, physical therapy, storage rooms, dining room and a second elevator.

The enlarged storage area will relieve the present cramped conditions, but it will still not be adequate.

"It won't be near enough," the administrator said, "but we'll have more than we do now."

Phase three, remodeling present facilities, will result in a nurses and female help locker room and lounge, a new chapel family room, a doctors lounge and scrub up area and enlarged office space.

Salem women hold bazaar

The Christmas bazaar in Salem United Methodist church, sponsored by the WSCS in which all the women of the church participated was held Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, in the social rooms of the church and was well attended. Proceeds from the effort were more than $400.

Mrs. Clara Gaffney was general chairman and Mrs. Robert Tuckey, Mrs. David Loomis and Mrs. Charles Tuckey served on the committee for the event.

Popular at the bazaar was the baked goods counter, with Miss Lydia Weibing and Mrs. Alma Seeger in charge, and the refreshment room where visitors could relax with a cup of coffee. Tables were loaded with handmade articles and tables with "white elephant" articles.

Door prize for the evening went to Mrs. Norma Bell of Unionville.

3 cases heard in circuit court

Three criminal cases were heard before Judge James Churchill Monday in the regular session of the Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Allen Popp, 23, Caro, entered a no contest plea to a reduced charge of use of marijuana. He was arrested July 24 in Caro and originally charged with possession. He is to be sentenced Jan. 10, 1972.

William Brenner of Southgate pleaded guilty to a charge of joy riding or taking an auto without the owner's permission but without intent to steal. He was arrested June 27 along M-24 with a 1970 Honda 750 motorcycle in his possession belonging to Roger Verona. The vehicle was reported stolen in Southgate June 23. Sentencing is scheduled for Jan. 24.

Leon T. Schumacker of State St., Millington, was sentenced to 12 months probation with two weeks in the county jail with one day credit, $100 fine and $100 in court costs. A jury convicted him of resisting arrest by a conservation officer Nov. 4. The offense occurred April 2 when Schumacker interfered with the arrest of a companion for illegal pike fishing.

Expand preschool nursery

There are fifteen new openings for three- and four-year-old children in the Cass City Preschool Nursery. Two extra days have been added to the schedule, due to the increased interest and number of applications received. The three-year-olds will begin meeting as a separate group on Wednesday and Friday mornings beginning Jan. 12. The prekindergarten children will continue to meet on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

According to Mrs. Mary Lou Buttery, the nursery teacher, this is the ideal classroom situation, because the nursery program can be tailored to meet the needs of these two different age groups.

The cooperative parents group, which organized the nursery, hopes that all parents of preschoolers this age will investigate the benefits of the cooperative nursery. The children enjoy and learn from block building and climbing, sand and water play, puzzles and table games, a housekeeping corner, painting, music, cooking, art projects and field trips.

The maximum enrollment will be 15 three year olds and 20 four year olds. The daily tuition is one dollar ($1) per child.

Enrollment blanks and information are available from Mrs. Lynn Albee at 872-2279 or Mrs. David Stafford at 872-3793. Parents are urged to act promptly.

5 names drawn for Disney trip

The five names chosen Saturday in the first of three weekly drawings by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce were announced Tuesday.

Chosen were: Kathy Fabero, 4303 Doerr Road, Cass City; Betty Anderson, 4469 West, Cass City; Reatha Hughes, Cass City; Marian Erdody, 2761 N. Merry, Akron, and Frank Preba, Rt. 1, Cass City.

The next drawing for the Disney trip for two will be Saturday, Dec. 18, at 4 p. m. in front of the Cass Theatre.

December, 1971

Dear Mr. Haire;

* Holiday greetings from the land down under to the good old USA, especially those friends of Cass City.

"I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," could never be truer, but a dip in the blue Pacific will probably cool us off Christmas Day.

One would hardly know it's the Christmas season. The absence of Christmas decorations is extremely noticeable to us and the few evidences of the holidays there are seem to be obscured by other signs and advertisements. I haven't heard one Christmas carol on the radio and in the Primary (Elementary) school program, Robbie will be singing about the "Wheels on the Ford Go Round and Round" which of course has little effect in getting one into the Christmas spirit.

The Primary school enrolls children from age 4 years, nine months to age 12 years, nine months. When a child is of age he begins school that term. There are 3 terms each year. Kindergarten is a full day, but some youngsters have one, others two and some three terms, depending on the date of birth.

The boys all wear shorts, short sleeve shirts, with sweaters (jumpers) and a tie in the winter. The girls have dresses similar to a brownie uniform but in different colors depending on the school one attends. The girls also wear pull-over sweaters and ties in the winter.

High school begins with what we call 7th grade as 1st Form and proceed to 4th Form or grade 10. At age 15 or 16 the students take a high school exam and on that depends his graduation. Pass it one graduates, fail it one doesn't graduate. The tests take about three weeks. After graduation the student either goes to work or goes on to higher high school, the 5th &amp; 6th forms. These classes are for college preparation only but does not guarantee a placement in a college as they do not have room for all the students. Only those with the highest grade scores will be allowed to attend. Vocational training is not taught in high school at all, and what little there is is taught in private schools and expensive for the average Australian to acquire. The boys get to wear long pants to high school, the girls wear summer dresses, winter wool skirts with blazers for both girls and boys in winter. One is not dressed properly without a tie at any time.

We find it somewhat amusing to see men working in shorts, or a man coming home from the office in a suit with shorts, but that is the most common dress this time of year. The men also wear knee socks, always a tie and the women seem to prefer sleeveless print cotton shifts that are from short to very short.

The cost of food is a little cheaper here but the prices of other things balance out any advantage making the cost of living about the same as the U. S. However wages are almost half that of Americans so we have a much higher standard of living. Few Americans stay here unless employed by an American firm. There are, however, many emigrants from Europe. The Australian government will pay the passage for almost anyone to come here if they will stay for two years. Housing is difficult to obtain and sometimes half a man's wages goes into rent or house payments.

We are anxious to see more of Australia than just Sydney so have a camping trip planned for the summer holidays, which last about six weeks. After that time we hope to go to a rural area for the next term of school.

We hope Cass City has a "white Christmas" and while your watching for reindeer, we'll be listening for the thump of white kangaroos bringing Santa's sleigh over the gum trees.

Sincerely yours,

Hot lunch price boost, bus purchases spark debate

With the price freeze over the Cass City School Board Tuesday night voted to reinstate a price increase in the hot lunch program that had been previously authorized and rescinded.

Hot lunches will jump a nickel. Not all trustees were convinced that the price should go up. Two said they should remain unchanged or be reduced.

The two who voted against the increase were Don Koepf and Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn. The pair voted against the raise in the face of deficit in the hot lunch account of $3,000.

The vote indicated that they differ with Supt. Donald Crouse's theory that the taxpayers' school dollars should be used only for education and not for subsidizing the noon lunch.

Mrs. Prieskorn said that if the price were decreased perhaps it would generate more volume and lower unit costs of the meals. She wants to see more students in the cafeteria.

The new prices of the lunches are 45 cents, 50 cents and 65 cents for elementary, intermediate through high school and adults.

The school board also voted to buy three school buses for next year, but again not without dissent.

Trustee Dr. Ed Scollon said that he felt the buses should be bid regardless of service problems. Trustee Dean Hoag sided with Scollon's position, saying that he couldn't see why items like milk and hamburger were bid and major items like cars not bid.

Crouse explained how they had compared prices with other schools and found that the local dealers' bid of 8 per cent over cost were in line with what bid prices were in other communities.

He said that a yearly check of bids against cost plus prices would be conducted for the board's consideration.

Fun day for training center kids set Dec. 16

The Cass Theatre in Cass City will present the annual Christmas Movie Party for the students of the Tuscola Training Center.

The students will be in Cass City Thursday morning, Dec. 16, for a visit with Santa in the theatre lobby where candy donated by Bauer Candy Co. will be given to each child.

The children will see a special Walt Disney fun festival, and then General Telephone Co. will be host to a lunch at the Cass City Hotel dining room.

Yule postal volume at halfway mark

Christmas mail is moving at about the same rate as last year, according to Postmaster Grant Glaspie. Outgoing mail reached the 50 per cent of the holiday volume Monday, with the peak expected at the end of the week.

The 70,000 pieces was approximately the same percent as last year at this time.

Incoming mail is about three times as much with 13 pouches Monday. Four is normal.

As of that day there was no back log, but Glaspie noted that could change any minute.

In an effort to handle the expected deluge this week, the window will be open until 4 p. m. Saturday, Glaspie said.

a granary, stable and 250 bales of hay.

The fire is believed to have started by a short circuit in the electrical wiring which was soaked by a heavy rainfall earlier in the day.

The Osborns credit the quick action of the four departments with saving the barn. Seven trucks, three pumps and four tankers were at the scene.

Osborn is the father of Mrs. Dick Wallace of Cass City.

do everything.

Typically she works right up to Christmas, saving the best candies for the last.

"Last year the day before I was making peanut brittle," she chuckled.

"Our own kids like the peanut clusters," she said. "They like them a little sweeter so I have to use a little more Hershey." At home are David, 19, and Shelley, 13.

The chocolate covered cherries are also a family favorite.

"I just love to make the cherries," she said, "but they stay at home." The cherries are the hardest to make and must be towel dried before wrapped in chocolate.

The hardest part of the whole business is packing the individual pieces. Most are put into little paper cups and then into boxes. The chunks of candy are put into little plastic bags.

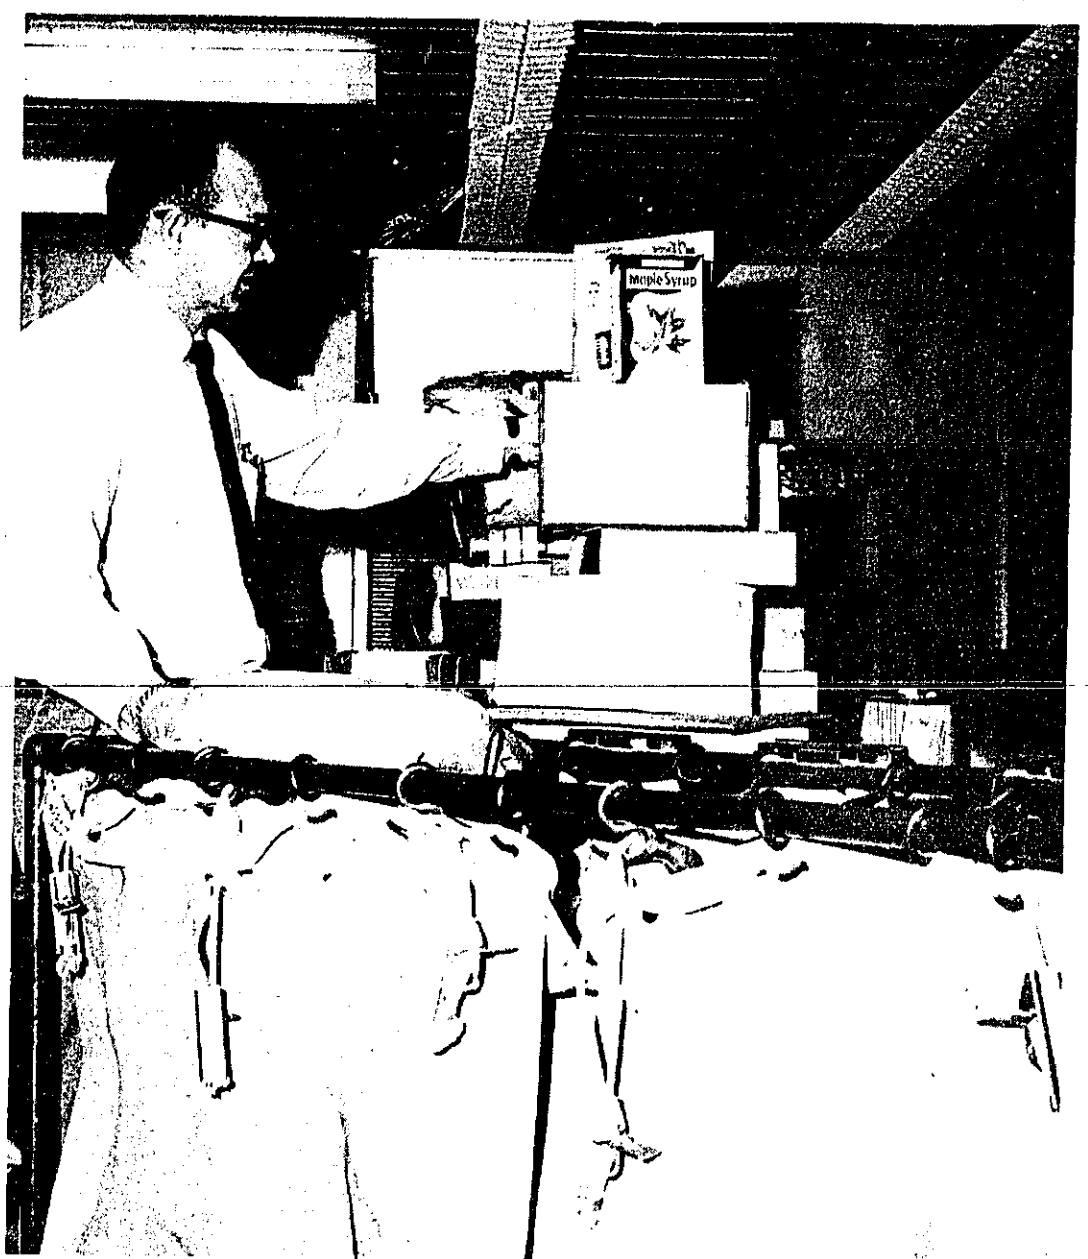

Mrs. Seuryneck says she can't even guess how much she makes in one season because she's never kept track. Staring at all of that sweet stuff doesn't give her a craving for it either.

"I can go days and not even touch it," she stated.

Don't find fault—until after you find a workable remedy.

Report 3 deer-car accidents

Area drivers were again fortunate this past week with few accidents and no injuries, although an increase was predicted with the coming of snow Tuesday afternoon.

Three car-deer accidents occurred. Raymond J. Dearing, Phillips Road, Cass City, was uninjured when his car struck and killed a buck deer Monday night at 10:30 p. m. Dearing was westbound on M-81 when the animal came from the south side of the road about one-fourth mile west of Greentland Road. Tuscola county sheriff reports state that Dearing was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident.

Delbert Alvin Englehart, 16, Shabbona Road, Deford, was involved in a similar accident at 8:30 p. m. Monday when he hit a doe deer on DeLong Road, four-tenths mile west of Warner Road in Novesta township. He was eastbound on DeLong when the animal jumped in front of his car.

In another deer-car accident John Joseph Nickens Jr., 20, of 4088 S. Kingston Road, Kingston, hit a doe deer Sunday morning at 2:40 a. m. on M-24 Mertz Road, one-fourth mile south of North Grove Road. He was uninjured when the deer ran in front of his car.

In a minor local accident a parked car belonging to Harold Kilbourn of Reed St., Deford, was hit by one driven by James England, 67, of 4667 State St., Gagetown. The mishap occurred at 6:25 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 8, when England was backing out of a private drive next to the Total Service Station and hit the other vehicle, Cass City police reports stated.

In the Chronicle last week it was incorrectly stated that a car driven by Patricia Jean Novak, 21, of 5704 Deckerville Road, Deford, was hit in the rear by one driven by Ann Marie Milligan, 39, of 436 Deckerville Road, Sandusky.

Actually, it was the Furness vehicle that hit the left rear of the Hendrick car when Furness was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident, not Hendrick hitting the Furness car, as was stated.

In another report, it was incorrectly stated that a car driven by Patricia Jean Novak, 21, of 5704 Deckerville Road, Deford, was hit in the rear by one driven by Ann Marie Milligan, 39, of 436 Deckerville Road, Sandusky.

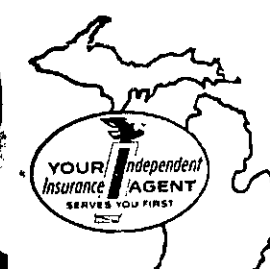

Actually, the Milligan vehicle was hit when the Novak car was unable to stop on the icy pavement in time to avoid the accident.

Board approves 5% pay hike for county employees

A 5 per cent across the board pay hike was approved for county courthouse employees and elected officials Tuesday by the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners.

The increase raises salaries for the 39 persons a total of $15,641 over last year's $279,639 to bring it to $295,580. The money will come out of the contingent fund of the recently approved budget.

The settlement was reached Thursday with the personnel committee, but the increases were only made public Tuesday after the board approved them.

Pay increases for sheriff's deputies are still under negotiation, according to Commissioner Ed Golding, Cass City. He said the personnel committee would meet with representatives Friday. Golding said wording in certain paragraphs in their contract was causing some of the delay but that he expected the matter settled by the next meeting, Dec. 28.

The board did little other action but discussed a number of things.

Golding said it was almost certain the county would be hiring another assessor to help equalization director Mac O'Dell.

"One man just can't cover the whole county," he said, explaining that in order to keep up with the increased property values and building costs they really need two persons.

Dog warden Dan Roller reported to the board that dog licenses for the year were low. The dog tax is $2 until April, then it jumps to $4. To get a license, the owner must show proof of rabies shot for the animal.

"There's a lot of dogs who haven't been getting their rabies shot," said Golding. He didn't know the decrease but said it was "way down."

The letter sent to the board by Prosecutor Leo Maki stating his opinion that the antlerless deer hunting law was unenforceable was not read or discussed at the meeting, Golding said.

Hartel stars in win over Eagles

Marlette rides Chappel's record performance to win over Cass City

DAVE HILLAKER, one of Cass City's two bright sophomores shoots over a pair of Eagle defenders. The night belonged to Cass City's other starting sophomore, Scott Hartel (35), who scored 32 points and was the leading rebounder.

Cass City brings out the best in the Chappel family of Marlette, usually with dire results for Hawk fans.

It happened again Tuesday night as Glenn Chappel sparked the Red Raiders to their first win in four starts, as Cass City, bowed 68-60.

The sandy haired guard with the deadly shooting eye whipped in 45 points to set a new school record at Marlette.

The new mark erased the old record of 42 points set by Glenn Chappel's older brother, Paul, and also set against Cass City. Chappel spread his point total evenly over the entire game. He hit 10 in the first quarter, seven in the second, 16 in the third and 12 in the final period with a total of 16 field goals and 13 free throws.

The game was stopped in the dying minutes as fans gave Chappel a standing ovation and his teammates personally congratulated him.

By the time that the record was established the game was out of reach for Cass City.

The Hawks blew it all in the third quarter in what was undoubtedly the team's worst performance of the year.

In the first two periods the Hawks looked as if they would cruise to their third victory in four starts instead of settling for a 2-2 season's record.

Both teams played nip and tuck basketball in the opening stanza with Marlette in front 17-16 at the end of the quarter.

The Hawks surged into the front in the second period with a 20-13 advantage and a 36-30 lead at the intermission.

The Red Raiders went into a full court press in the third quarter and the tempo of the game changed. The Hawks couldn't buy a basket and everything Marlette (Chappel) threw towards the hoop went swishing through.

Cass City scored just 7 points while Marlette poured through 21.

Cass City lost its composure during the Red Raider rally and the discipline exhibited in earlier games was lost. At one time Marlette was ahead by as much as 13 points.

After that it was a case of mopping up for the winners.

Cass City's two sophomore forwards and Paul Bliss led Cass City's attack. Dave Hillaker netted 16 and Bliss and Scott Hartel netted 13 each.

In the preliminary the junior Hawks won a close game from the Marlette JV's.

The Hawks will try to get back on the winning trail Friday when they host Vassar. On the basis of games played this season, the contest must be rated a toss-up.

FRANKENMUTH GAME

Riding on the wings of Sophomore Scott Hartel's best night in his brief two-year career, the Cass City Red Hawks chalked up victory number two in three starts and evened their Thumb Conference record at 1-1 Friday night with an overtime victory over Frankenmuth, 64-60.

Hartel whipped in 32 points to account for half of his team's points, including all the overtime points.

The lanky forward also led the team in rebounding with 14. In the first period it looked as if neither team wanted to win. Both had trouble finding the hoop and turnovers were frequent.

The Eagles started to find the range first and quickly ran up a lead. At the end of the first quarter the score was 13-7.

Cass City countered with a free-scoring second period to move into a narrow 26-25 lead at the intermission.

Both teams were hampered by foul trouble in the second half as Paul Bliss was forced to the bench during the game before returning to play all but the final moments of the game. The Eagles played without their tall center for much of the game.

The game was in doubt until the final seconds. Cass City had forged in front by four points with less than 30 seconds left in the overtime period.

A Hawk foul gave Frankenmuth a one and one shot and when both attempts were successful, the Eagles trailed by two points.

The clock showed 14 seconds left and both Bliss and Kip Hopper, regular guards, had fouled out.

Hartel then capped his one-man show by taking a pass in the backcourt and dribbled through the Frankenmuth press as the final whistle sounded.

In the final analysis Cass City won the game with superior shooting. The Eagles were able to take 81 shots from the floor but converted only 21 for 26 per cent. Cass City had only 44 tries from the floor but sunk 19 of them for a 43 per cent average.

It is a trademark of a Hurlbert coached team to hit 40 per cent or better from the field in a controlled ball offense.

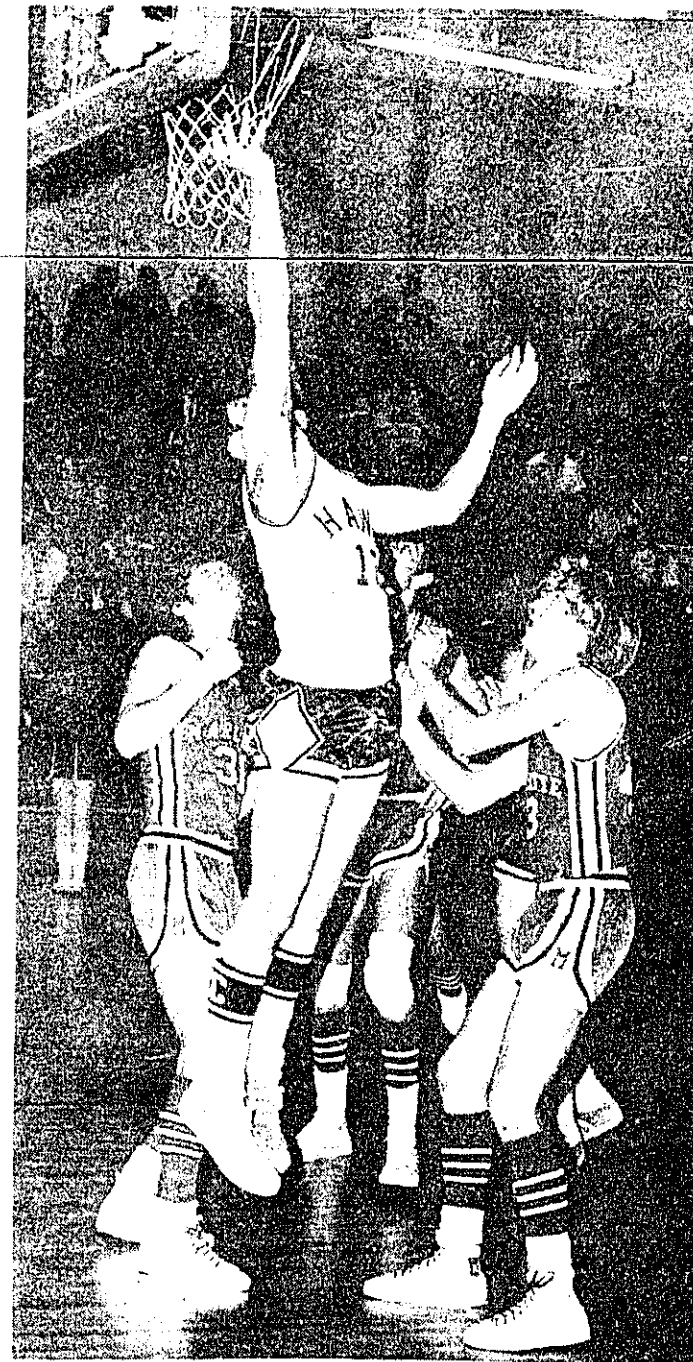

The Hawks won the game from the charity circle converting 26 of 43 for 60 per cent compared to 18 of 32 for Frankenmuth for 57 per cent.

Hartel also dominated the free throw statistics with 18 of 21 for 86 per cent including several in the crucial overtime to ice the game.

THUMB B STANDINGS

PAUL BLISS SUNK THIS REVERSE lay-up in the first half when Cass City dominated the game with Marlette. But in the second half it was all Red Raider as they rallied to win, 68-60, as Glenn Chappel set a school scoring record.

VILLAGE OF CASS CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held on November 30, 1971, at the Municipal Building. All Trustees were present.

The minutes of the regular October meeting were read and approved.

President Althaver read a letter from James McCoy, President of T.V. Cable Company regarding the request from several parties interested in the installation of cable television system in Cass City. It was the decision of the Council to take no action on this matter.

Mike Weaver was present to request information regarding street lights on Virginia Street. Mr. Weaver was informed that the Council will be studying this matter further and no action will be taken at this time.

The financial report for the month of October was reviewed. Trustee Rawson reported that the 50 trees have been planted throughout the Village.

Superintendent Blades reported that the Notice of Intent has been approved for acquisition of the Orr East property. Formal application is being prepared for submittal to the State in the near future.

Mac O'Dell, Village Assessor, was present to make a recommendation to the Council that they consider a complete reappraisal and card filing system for this taxing district.

After a detailed report of this new system by Mr. O'Dell and discussion with the Council it was decided that this recommendation by Mr. O'Dell be tabled until further study could be made.

Tom Proctor appeared before the Council to discuss his interest in the property immediately behind Wood Drug Store, where the old Firehall and library presently stands. Mr. Proctor was informed that the Council has made no decision as to what will be done with this building when the new firehall is completed.

No action was taken on the B.O.C.A. Codes.

It was reported that the Planning Commission will be holding another Public Hearing on the Zoning Ordinance on December 7.

No action was taken on John Little's request to purchase a portion of the Village's property.

Superintendent Blades requested that the Council advertise for bids for 15,000 gallons of gasoline.

A motion was made by Trustee Christner and supported by Trustee Rawson that the Council request bids for 15,000 gallons of gasoline. Motion carried. Action was deferred on the 1971 budget transfers until the next regular Council meeting.

A preliminary 1972 budget was presented to the Council for their review.

A proposed salary schedule for 1972 was presented to the Council along with a request by Chief of Police Gene Wilson for an additional man on the Police force. No action was taken at this time.

A report was made by Chief Wilson on an auxiliary police force for Cass City. Mr. Wilson was requested to obtain additional information for the Council's review at the next meeting.

It was reported that because of a problem of overloading of the Police radio system, new radio requirements have been made, in which Cass City will have to convert its radio communication to comply with Tuscola County. As new equipment will have to be purchased to convert to the new system, it was requested by Chief Wilson that the Council give him approval to request for federal funds through the County Sheriff for the new equipment.

After a discussion was held, a motion was made by Trustee Christner and supported by Trustee Jones that the Council resolve to support the application of the County Sheriff for federal funds in order to comply with the new communication requirement, and agree to pay 25% of the costs. Motion carried.

A report was made by Superintendent Blades on the property tax freeze. More information will be secured and presented to the Council at a later date.

A motion was made by Trustee Jones and supported by Trustee Albee that the Council advertise the sale of the 1965 Dodge Dumphtruck, a hand pistol, and a lawn mower, with the bids to be opened at the next regular Council meeting. Motion carried.

A motion was made by Trustee Christner and supported by Trustee Rawson that the bills as examined by the Finance Committee be approved for payment. Motion carried.

A motion was made by Trustee Holmberg and supported by Trustee Jones that a lease for one year for a three foot wide parcel of land between Konrad's Bakery and Ryland & Guc, owned by Meredith and Lucy Auten, which would give access to the parking lot north of Main Street, be accepted and signed. Motion carried.

President Althaver read a letter from the Senior Class thanking the Village for letting them use the Municipal Building as a place for them to construct their class float for Homecoming.

There being no further business, a motion was made by Trustee Albee and supported by Trustee Holmberg that the meeting be adjourned.

Charlene Pranger
Deputy Village Clerk

AROUND THE FARM

Who pays for pollution?

By William L. Bortel

Environmental quality is not priced like a loaf of bread. You can't buy 20¢ worth. It nevertheless bares a price tag, a two-sided one. One side shows the damages caused by pollution and the adverse effects on society. The other side reveals the cost of correcting and preventing the unfavorable alteration of our surroundings. Assuming the decision has been made to improve the quality of the environment, one question in particular surfaces. It is "who pays for what?" Somebody has to put up the hard cash to buy a cleaner environment.

To the thinking of some people, industry or anyone else who pollutes should pay for pollution costs. Others claim the government must assume the financial responsibility. Still others say those who benefit must pay.

Debate centers around not only who pays, but how much? In some cases a rough idea of potential causes can be received from estimates of pollution damages.

But one price tag on agriculture's pollution of the environment is often a blur.

Agriculture is often blamed for nitrogen pollution, yet nitrogen makes up 78% of the atmosphere and is present in all living tissue.

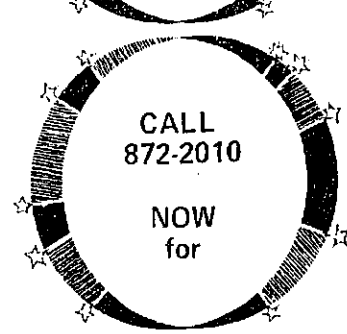

Of all agricultural problems with pollution, the one that appears the most costly to overcome is disposal of solid wastes. These account for over half the solid wastes produced in the United States.

All things considered it is clear that the total cost of getting rid of all types of agricultural pollution will run well into the billions.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Did you see this piece in the paper where a sychiatrist allowed that what was gitting him a lot of business was folks trying to know to much? This feller said they was more going on than anybody can find out, and he was of a mind that folks has got to decide what's important fer them to know and what ain't.

The article said folks has got to be selective in what they read and listen to, else they'll go off the deep end trying to find everthing out. They jest is to much to read and to much to hear, was the sychiatrist's words, and folks that set out to know it all is going to spread their mind so thin they can't absorb nothing.

Personal, I am full agreed with the sychiatrist. I figger it has got to be a jack of all trades and a master of none in the finding out game. Per instant, if you was to set out to learn somepun fer sure about foreign policy you would have to do nothing but read and listen to everthing on that particular subject. If you read one piece in the paper about foreign aid and another article on the same page about foreign policy, you run a good chanse of rolling em in one ball and come out thinking your right eye don't know what your left eye is reading.

Fer shore, the news is got up by folks that specialize. The papers got science writers and religion writers and sports writers and ever other kind, and ever one is using words that don't mean nothing outside his field. I hear, Mister Editor, that them big city papers even got reserch experts to check on the writer experts, and then they got somepun called analysts that figger out what the writer wrote and the resercher okayed.

Actual, I wonder if news is as whopperjawed when it happens as it is after all them writers and reserchers git done with it. Jest recent, I found myself asking if the Nixon Administration didn't keep changing their mind about Phase II jest to show that all the news experts ain't right ever time they figgered it out. It got so bad in North Carolina til the teachers that had been promised a raise final fell out trying to decide whuther to protest to the governor or the federal price and wage board.

After thinking it up one side and down the other, Mister Editor, I am of a mind that this country ain't got a over-informed public so much as overreported news. It ain't that they is so much more to know, it's that what happens is seen from so many different angles and passed thru so many instant experts afore we see it til we git dizzy trying to git one clear shot at the news.

General speaking, tho, I'd ruther sift the news thru the experts than to be give one Government version of what the Government is doing.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Name officers of Tyler lodge

Tyler Lodge No. 317 F & AM elected officers at the monthly meeting Dec. 7. Elected and appointed officers will be installed at a special meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 18.

Officiating officers for the installation will be past worshipful masters, Edward Golding Sr. and Basil Wotton.

Milton Connolly is the newly-elected worshipful master. Other officers to be installed are: senior warden--Harold Guinther; junior warden--Leo Tracy; senior deacon--Robert Hunter; junior deacon--Jack Stahlbaum; secretary--Clarence Merchant; treasurer--Chester Muntz; chaplain--Basil Wotton; Tyler--Theodore Furness; stewards--James MacTavish and Jerome Root and marshal--Clifford Martin.

"Eleven, twelve and one more for a baker's dozen," said my grandma, counting out eggs for a customer. "It'll be 'found gold' for her!" And she smiled as she bustled about the shop.

Even then, as a child, I knew that Grandma was the "found gold" for all who knew her — always giving more than was expected, cheerfully looking for ways to gladden those whose lives touched hers.

Today I know that Grandma's strength was of the spirit. The teachings of her church gave purpose to her life. She lived her creed joyously, demonstrating vividly for all around her the vitality and richness of the Christian life.

Today, in a world that sometimes seems dark with selfishness and greed, each of us needs to realize and utilize the spiritual resources of his church as a necessity of life.
