

1971—it was a very good year, local businessmen report

business outlook is a town's business-
The 1971 year, 1971, was one good, but, in spite of the then, best, uncertain economic
of the country as a conditions.
Most of the businessmen were not or percentage

times, had been a good one.

ever had," said Bud
Seiberger of Schneberger
Sales and Service.
attributed his good business to the ever expanding
of the entire Thumb
area. They were building a lot new, he explained. "We started to be selling to more
new homes," he said, and added
think the people might have a little better about investing in the Thumb
area."

Lumber, Inc., substantiated the idea, saying there was much building this last year all over the area. He said it could be that this year was one of heavy building and then the next year will be very light.

"I hope it's about the same,
but it's hard to predict," he said.
Apparently, the Thumb is benefiting from the exit of city persons to the country to escape some of the pressures
and problems of city life.

Croft said that many of the persons building homes were
from the cities.

The president's economic freeze of August to November
also had an influence on some of the businesses, but not as much as one would have thought.

The last three months saw
a 20 per cent increase over usual volume for the Auten Motor Sales, said Chuck Auten.

"All the car dealers are happy," he said, saying the freeze and the 10 per cent rebate of the federal tax has done much to boost their sales.

"The question is whether we sold to people in '71 that would have waited till '72," he commented.

Gib Albee of Albee's Hardware said that the price freeze
would have boosted his appliance business except that his suppliers were on strike then
and he couldn't get any merchandise.

"Frankly, I think the price freeze was a benefit. It gave the people a little more confidence," he said. Even without the large appliances, he said his business has been very good.

"I don't see any reason in my mind why 1972 won't be just as good," he said.
Roger Marshall of Marshall

Implement Co., who deals mostly in large items, said the freeze didn't do that much to help him, but that in spite of the farmers' crops not looking good, his business improved better this year than the two previous.

He reasoned that it is a cyclical thing.
"Sooner or later they've got to replace things," he said.

He added he has no idea what the new year will bring, but added that the recently approved 7 per cent investment
credit will probably help.

One business that showed a tremendous increase was the L & S Sport Center. Snow-
mobile sales is a unique situation depending partly on the weather. Shorty Luetke, owner, stated that although sales were down 30 machines or 80 per cent in December because of the unseasonable rain, they were also up 80 per cent in October.

"The freeze didn't have that much to do with it," he said,
but that it depended on the availability of machines.

"We began selling '72 models
in June," he said, explaining that sales have increased steady-ly the past three years.

"The weather definitely hurt
the business," he said, but sales
for 1971 are still about 100
per cent over 1970.

"You can only sell so many,
and then there's a stopping point," he remarked. He said he doesn't expect sales to increase much now because taxes
are coming due and Christmas
is over.

Sales for the small item businessmen have been good, too,
although the federal economic controls didn't have much effect on them.

Bernard Ross of Federated Store said business has been good, and it looks like 1972

is going to be good, too, although spending has been a little more on the conservative side and low ticket items are moving better.

"I don't believe it (the freeze)
showed that much in our type
of business," he said.
Lloyd Vyse of Bigelow Hardware said the same thing.

"The freeze was not important," he said, adding that business was about average but that he had no complaints.

Gerald Prieskorn of the Ben Franklin Store said his business volume is up about 5
per cent over 1970.

"I don't really know why.
It's been generally good," he stated.

About the freeze he said,
"I thought it would influence
it, but it didn't."

The good year was attributed by some of the businessmen to the busy factories in town. The unemployment that has been hitting other parts of the country

hasn't affected Cass City yet.

Confidence in the economy
and general trends nationwide
seem to have an effect.

Fred Pinney of The Pinney State Bank said there has been an increase in individual savings, indicating persons are hanging onto their dollars.

"They're unconvinced that everything is as good as it's talked up to be for fear they might get let down," he said.

He attributed the prosperity
of the town to the escaping
city residents.

"I think the economic pattern is going to be no different than the economic pattern of all small towns within a 150
mile radius of a metropolitan
city, like Detroit."

"The people want to get out
and are taking steps to get out," he said.

New faces on political scene in Cass City, Gagetown

Bill Bliss Jr. filed a petition for village trustee to replace the retiring Gary Christ-
ner. No petitions were received
for assessor.

Deadline for nominating petitions for the Mar. 13 village
election was Monday.

Bliss, 27, a superintendent of inspection in Walbro's Plant 1, said he filed for the two-year council term because he was interested in knowing what is going on in the village and thinks the best way to do it is to be on the council.

"I've been considering this
for a long time," he said, "and I knew Gary wasn't intending to run."

A resident of the village for 7 1/2 years and a life-long resident of the area, Bliss said
he questioned some of the things
now being considered by the council, including the park expansion program, the need for an enlarged village labor force,
and the lack of a roads repair
program.

No primary election will be necessary because there are only enough candidates to fill
the offices available.

Gary Christner, who has served two years on the council,
said he decided not to run
for re-election.

"There's just not enough time
to go around," he said, explaining that he recently went into an accounting partnership

and business affairs will be taking up a great deal of his time.
Mac O'Dell, who has served in the capacity of assessor for 10 years, said he chose not to run for re-election because his job as county equalization
director takes up a great deal
of his time and he is behind
in that job now due to a 10
week illness last fall.

About the position of assessor, President Lambert Alt-haver related that since no one petitioned for it, it will be open for write-in candidates at the time of the election, and if there are none, the village
council will appoint a person.

Petitions were also filed by incumbents Lambert Althaver,
president; Cella House, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. D. E.
Rawson and Gary Jones, both trustees.

There will be a primary election Feb. 21 in Gagetown as four Republican candidates seek the three open nominations for village trustees.

Seeking the nomination are Richard Burdon, incumbent, and Thomas Reehl, Rudolph Leyva
and Harry King. Incumbent Democrat Harvey Polk is unopposed.

In the general election two old political foes will square off again. Elery Sontag has filed as a Democrat for the office of village president. He will be pitted against GOP Incumbent James England.

The two have met twice previously at the polls with England
winning both times. . . once by a margin of a single vote.

Other Republican Incumbents
running without opposition are:
Mrs. William Ashmore, for clerk; William Ashmore, for treasurer; and George Wilson,
for assessor.

Tuscola County Sheriff's Department is still investigating an early morning New Year's Day accident in which four Cass
City persons were injured.

Listed in good condition in Saginaw General Hospital with a fractured leg is Gail Joos,
34, of 7185 Reed Dr., Cass
City. In fair condition at Saginaw St. Luke's Hospital is William Coleman, 42, of rural Cass City.

Treated for minor injuries
were Richard Joos, 34, husband
of Gail, and Roberta Coleman, 33, wife of William.

The Cass City persons were passengers in a car driven by Wesley Thomas Barr, 41, of Kelsey Drive, Warren, who was treated for minor injuries. His wife, Dorothy, 40, was taken to a Detroit hospital.

The mishap occurred at 4:40
a. m. on M-81 at Deckerville Road, about three miles outside of Caro.

The car driven by Barr was headed towards Cass City when it collided with a vehicle going in the opposite direction driven by Linda K. Avery, 19, of Congress St., Caro. A passenger in her vehicle was Timothy Dembausek, 19, Sue Dr., Caro. They were also treated for minor injuries.

Thieves make money at Chuck Holm's expense

The theft of two television
sets was reported to Cass City Police.

Charles Holm, 4263 Ale St.,
reported to police Friday, Dec.
31, that someone had entered his home and taken a portable
television and some men's ties
still in boxes from Christmas.
He told police the intruders
also drank part of a bottle of whiskey that was in a cupboard.

Lloyd Bryant of Gambles
Store reported Thursday, Dec.
30, to police that someone walked out of his store with a portable television valued at $70. He was alone in the back of the store when someone took the TV that was placed on a shelf near the front door.

Help still needed

Labor subsidy aid to village crew

Three work programs funded by county and federal governments have provided the village with approximately 3500
hours of labor in 1971 at no
cost to the village.

It cost the funding agencies
approximately $5600 to pay the workers, but it would have cost
the village close to $17,000 if they were paid at the village
pay rate.

Presently the village employs one 17-year-old from the Neighborhood Youth Corps, a federally funded program to provide young persons with part-time employment with the aim of helping them to stay in school. The work youth 22
hours a week helping the village
crew.

Five men are working under the Operation Mainstream, a project sponsored by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) under the manpower
training program.

A spokesman for the OEO
office based in Caro said the program is aimed at giving the chronically unemployed an opportunity to develop work skills
and work habits and to give them
the job training.

The federally funded project
provides for 33 hours of work
per week for 13 weeks at $1.60 per hour. Seventy-nine persons work in the county under the program.

Superintendent James Blades
said four of the men are working with the general maintenance crew and one at the waste-water treatment plant.

A woman was to start Wednesday morning to help with clerical work in the village office.

The third program is Work
Relief under the Tuscola county Department of Social Services.

Ronald Rogers, director of the department, said the program was set up about one year ago to give relief recipients a chance to work off their welfare and to provide them with some training.

Cass City is the only village that is employing persons
from the department.

Rogers explained that the village was the only one to respond to his letter of inquiry,
but that the program isn't working out as well as he had hoped because direct relief is only for emergency situations
and there aren't very many direct relief recipients in the Cass City area, meaning the county has to pay mileage for workers from other parts. The work involved doesn't teach many skills, either, because much of it is menial tasks.

"We're attempting to train
for skills, retain a man's dignity and keep the man in the home," said Rogers.

Blades related that most of the workers under the three programs have worked very well. He indicated that the village would need the employees
requested of the council in addition to these workers.

Stab victims improve at hospital

Two youths severely injured
in a stabbing early New Year's Day were taken out of the intensive care unit at Saginaw General Hospital Tuesday and were listed in good condition.

Suffering from stab wounds
to the abdomen is Christopher Hoppe, 14, of Hadley Road, Deford. Ron Spencer, 16, of Wilcox Road, Deford, received a puncture wound to the chest
and lacerations to the head.

The boys were taken to Caro
Community Hospital following
a struggle and fight in the parking lot of the Club 24 Bar,
located about 1 1/2 miles south
of Caro on M-24.

They were transferred to Saginaw where they underwent surgery and were listed at first
in poor condition in the intensive care unit.

John Spencer, 18, of Deford,
was also treated for head injuries at Caro Community Hospital.

Harold Adrian Gaudett, 18,
formerly of Caro, and presently of St. Helen, was arrested for the stabbings. He demanded an examination when he appeared before District Court Judge Richard Kern Monday. The
exam is set for 4 p. m. Jan.
14. He was released on $3000 bond.

A private with the U. S.
Army, Gaudett was picked up at 12:49 p. m. Jan. 1 at Metro Airport in Detroit as he was about to leave for Ft. Knox, Ky., where he is stationed.

He is charged with two counts
of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

Investigation by the Tuscola
county sheriff's department revealed that the wounds were inflicted by a weapon with a 6 inch blade.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Muehlenbeck

St. Mary's University Chapel, Mt. Pleasant, was the setting for the 1 p. m. wedding Dec. 18, 1971, of Teresa Lynn Gegan, Cassopolis, and Michael D. Muehlenbeck, Cass City. The Rev. Roger Dunigan officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gegan, Cassopolis, and the groom is the son of Donald Muehlenbeck, Union St., Saginaw, and Mrs. Frances Muehlenbeck, Woodbridge St., Saginaw.

The bride wore a long gown of white crepe with an Edwardian collar, Juliet sleeves and a lace trimmed train. Both the veil and gown were fashioned and made by the bride. She carried a natural colonial bouquet of stephanotis and miniature purple orchids.

Maid of honor was Miss Patricia O'Brien, Dowagiac. She wore a long gown of deep purple crepe trimmed in lavender velvet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Anne Gegan, sister of the bride, and Miss Margo Piana, Ferndale. They wore lavender crepe gowns trimmed in deep purple velvet.

The attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and heather.

Best man was Chris Lamphere, Saranac. Groomsmen were Greg Muehlenbeck, brother of the groom, and Timothy Quinn, Oxford, Ohio.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the VFW Hall, Mt. Pleasant, immediately following the ceremony.

The groom is a teacher in the Cass City schools and a 1970 graduate of Central Michigan University. The bride is a student at CMU and expects to graduate in May.

Following a trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 6472 Main St., Cass City.

Cass City residents and their families spent from Friday until Sunday snowmobiling at Gay-lord. The group included the families of Charles Tuckey, Bob Tuckey, Newell Harris, Ed Bergman, Bob Stickle, Gary Christner, Jerry Romig, Bill Wallace and Dan Eria.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hutchinson and son Greg attended the open house Sunday afternoon at Bad Axe which marked the opening of the new public library there.

Mrs. Esther Kirn and her sister, Miss Lydia Wehling, and Miss Marjorie Kirn of Flint, after Christmas dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kirn and family, left for Wap-pingers Falls, New York, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. John Kirn and family. They arrived home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Freed and children, Roly, Lori and Jana, and friends, Lori Scheets and Stephanie and Douglas Olmstead, all of Elkhart, Ind., were guests of Mrs. Freed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Tuckey, from Wednesday until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Tuckey had their family with them Friday for a cooperative dinner when guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Freed and children and guests of Elkhart, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hall and son Brent of Decker, Rev. and Mrs. David D'Arcy and children, Carmen and Kevin, of Eaton Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simms, Mr. and Mrs. Lee D'Arcy and son Richard of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. James Tuckey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. David Opal, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kelley and daughter Monica and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tuckey and family.

Greg Eshelman, Rick Eria, Jim Harbec and Louis Salas spent from Sunday till Thursday, Dec. 30, snowmobiling at St. Ignace.

Miss Karen Flowitt of Detroit was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lorentzen and son Rick.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Craig had as New Year's Eve guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Caro and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Loomis and family and Mrs. Howard Loomis were New Year's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Loomis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lorentzen and son Rick and Anne Marie Lorentzen of Saginaw went Dec. 24 to St. Charles, Ill., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Lorentzen and little daughter, Anne Marie Lorentzen. They returned home Tuesday, Dec. 28.

Dean Stine of Grand Rapids spent from Tuesday until Thursday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison Stine.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Craig joined the McNeil families for dinner New Year's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva McNeil near Caro.

Miss Karen O'Dell returned home Jan. 3 from an eight-day trip to Florida with a "Teen Missions group". The trip was made from Columbus, Ohio, by bus. Among the places visited were Cape Canaveral and Disney World. Thirty youth and six chaperones made the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Tracy took her to Columbus and met her Monday night at Metropolitan airport in Detroit. En route to Columbus, they were overnight guests of the Ray O'Dells at Taylor and en route home they visited Mrs. Clifford Crabtree in Toledo, Ohio, and the Theo O'Dells at Milan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Tracy and family had with them for Christmas Day, her aunt, Mrs. John Hayes. With them for New Year's Day was Theo Hendrick, Mrs. Tracy's father.

Miss Beth Tracy returned home Dec. 31 after spending a week with her sister and family, the Ronald Fox family, at Lapeer.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrison Stine and family had with them from Friday until Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Nicholas and Tammy of Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Zapfe were supper guests Dec. 28 of their granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Paladi and children.

Guests New Year's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck McConnell and daughters were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Guinther, Sandy and Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Vern McConnell.

Character has very little market value unless it has been put to the supreme test.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Buhl

The First Presbyterian Church in Deckerville was the setting for the Dec. 18 wedding of JoAnn Greenlee, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Greenlee of Argyle and the late Elgin Greenlee, and Karl E. Buhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd F. Buhl of Deckerville.

The Rev. Maynard Q. Kent and the Rev. John Osborn officiated at the 8:00 p. m. ceremony. Mrs. Jean Fleck was organist and Betty Jo Agar and Roger Parrish were soloists. The church was decorated with red poinsettias and a white Christmas tree.

The bride approached the altar with her mother. She wore a white velvet Empire styled dress, gathered in back with a train and back button trim. The bodice was Venetian lace and seed pearls and the sleeves were gathered into a lace band. The bride styled and made her dress.

Her floor length train was held by a cap of Venetian lace and velvet ribbon. She carried a colonial nosegay of red roses and white mums.

Maid of honor was Elgene Greenlee of Argyle, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Marcia Buhl, sister of the groom of Buffalo, N. Y., and Carol Smith of Fremont, Mich. Their floor length gowns were of ivory and moss green vely with an Empire waist accented with a satin sash. They carried fur muffs.

Groomsmen were Rob Buhl of Romulus, Frank The of Deckerville and Gary Stau of Deckerville. Ushers were William C. Buhl of Paw P Mich., and James Foster, Caro.

The bride's mother wore crepe dress with an ivory bod and brown skirt and a red rose white rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a green brocade suit with a sage of red and white rose.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Deckerville Community Schools cafeteria. The couple took a wedding trip to Florida.

If It Fitz . . .

A bleeping good year

BY JIM FITZGERALD

1971 wasn't a bad year. It's probably all on tape, so why not skip 1972 and run 1971 again? Bleeped.

I got this brilliant idea while suffering through 1 of those ho-hum Christmas parades on TV. "I'll swear I've seen all this a hundred times before," said to the cat, "I'd have talked my . . . ds but there was no one here to introduce us.

Then the TV voice said: "Because of bad weather, the balloons you saw in this year's parade were actually on tape, from last year's parade."

"They could have done that with the entire parade and saved a lot of time and money. No one would have noticed the difference and Lassie's mother could have been home for Thanksgiving for a change," I said.

"You're absolutely right," the cat said. So why not rerun the whole year? With proper bleeping, of course. That's the important part of my idea.

How many times have you watched Johnny Carson's lips move with no sound coming out? It can drive a viewer bugs with curiosity. The studio audience is falling on the floor laughing at Carson's dirty words. But the poor slob at home can only guess at what's so funny. Miss Priscilla Goodbody, the NBC censor, has edited Johnny's tape. Her job is to bleep out everything blue except Blue Ribbon.

Miss Goodbody should be turned loose on the tape of 1971 before it is rerun. She should bleep out all the bad things. Not necessarily dirty; just bad, boring, disgusting — anything unpleasant for whatever reason.

Everyone would have his favorite candidates for bleeping, of course. There are the obvious things, such as war, pestilence, Doris Day and Spiro Agnew.

There are the more personal things, closer to home. Each of you probably had a relative in 1971 that you'd like bleeped out of 1972. For instance, I have a rich brother-in-law with a swimming pool. The last time we visited there, my kids kicked me in the wallet all the way back home. I also have a brother-in-law who cooks and dusts and carpenters and is a positive joy to have around the house. Every time his name is mentioned my wife guffaws. These guys are disgusting and should certainly be bleeped.

How about an entire year without even 1 dumb broad standing around the supermarket, refusing to trade her soap for another well known brand? Or how about that aspirin lecturer moving his lips but making no sound? That smirking sap has caused more headaches than Bayer could cure in 10 years. Bleep to him.

Snowmobiles and motorcycles! Those are 2 marvelous candidates for bleeping. Man spent thousands of years working his way out of the cave and into hardtops with heaters. Now some clowns buck the wind and snow with their bare skin and call it adventure. Except you can't hear what they call it because of the lousy noise. Bleep, bleep and all hail to Henry Ford. He should send Christina around to thank me.

There are a lot more things that should be bleeped out of 1971 before it is rerun for 1972. But I've probably edited out too much already. Once the gaps are spliced together, we'll end up with a 5-month year, sort of a Readers Digest calendar.

Which would be OK except there wouldn't be time for all the football games. In which case someone better have bleeped Howard Cosell. Onward and Upward.

Mrs. Ronald J. Andrus

United in marriage Saturday, Dec. 18, in St. John Vianney church, Wyoming, were Miss Patricia A. Rogers and Ronald J. Andrus. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Rogers of Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Andrus of Sparta.

Imported lace accented the ivory bridal gown. Matching lace enhanced the elbow length veil.

Attending the couple were Mrs. J. T. Pirrala of Lake Orion and Terry Andrus of Torrance, Calif. Guests were seated by Alan and James Rogers, brothers of the bride, James Hancher of Grand Rapids, and Larry Fonger of Lansing.

A reception in the Holiday Inn Restaurant immediately followed the ceremony.

Estate, property seminar set

For the third successive year Tuscola county people are offered an Estate Planning and Property Transfer Seminar. There is much interest in this topic as all people will find a need for the information, reports Don R. Kebler, Extension Agricultural Agent.

In the last two years over one hundred persons have attended the sessions and, or received individual consultation. Men and women from 23 to 70 years of age have gathered useful information for their Estate Planning needs.

Offered in this winter's seminar are topics on types of property ownership, probate, making a will, federal and state inheritance taxes, why, when and how to transfer property and in what manner, use of trusts and insurance plus many other useful topics.

Presenting the topics are Michigan State University specialists, bank trust department consultants, insurance specialists, an attorney and a judge.

The two-day seminar, remarks Don Kebler, is designed for all ages and many husbands and wives will attend. Each session will begin at 10:00 a.m. and last until 3:00 p.m. with a $2.75 dinner at noon, all at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building in Caro. This is the only charge and advance enrollments are required.

All persons interested should contact the County Extension Office, Civil Defense Center, Caro, Michigan 48723, where they will receive the complete program of topics. The first session is Feb. 23 and the second Mar. 1.

Mrs. F. Butler named president of Lutheran group

New officers were named for the Ladies Aid of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Monday evening at the regular January election. Mrs. Frank Butler was named president. Others are: Mrs. Dale Iseler, vice-president; Mrs. Elmer Voss, secretary; Mrs. Al Avery, treasurer, and Mrs. James Van Dellen, Christian Growth chairman.

Fourteen were present when Mrs. Al Avery led the mission topic of Angels Declare His Glory for the quarterly meet of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, which preceded the business session. Mrs. Hazen Guinther gave a report on the Altar Guild's current project, making of garments for Pentecost. The Guild and Ladies Aid groups have merged and the next meet is Monday, Jan. 17.

A group of 50-60 college students from Ann Arbor will be in the Thumb area next week end, Jan. 14-16, to work with area Lutheran youth groups. Cass City ladies will serve an evening meal Friday when they arrive. A rally will also be held in Cass City.

Mrs. Carol Belk is a new member and Mrs. Van Dellen and Mrs. Guinther were co-hostesses at the dessert for the evening.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Why do I have an almost irresistible urge to try and peel off the sticker that designates payment of the 1972 car license tax and is stuck to last year's plates?

I know that Mrs. Martha Harbec is right when she says they are peel-proof for all practical purposes. While it is almost certain that a way could be devised to treat them so they will peel, . . . it isn't worth the trouble.

Thieves who want to take the chance and cheat could easily print their own. I hope they don't.

I like the convenience of stickers. It's the first time in years that I've "changed" my own plates.

The first blizzard of the year was eagerly awaited by Stan Guinther and he isn't even a snowmobiler.

Stan came charging into the office with his dog "Sam" and said he was looking for persons lost in the snow.

"Anybody missing?", he queried plaintively. "We're ready to do our stuff. We'll go find anyone."

I almost went out and got lost myself just to help out. After all, Stan deserved it after keeping that dog all this time. "Sam" is a St. Bernard.

If the guy looks faintly familiar, look again. It's probably Don Eria with his new hair piece. That's what I should have done Monday.

That wig gives him a young look. I walked into Eria's Food Market looking for him and walked right past him twice before his sister, Mrs. Marilyn Scholt, told me that the young guy sacking groceries was really the old man I was looking for.

Someone from the Chronicle is scheduled on TV this Friday around 7 p.m. That's educational TV, from Delta College, channel 19.

The program is "Day by Day" and it will be taped Friday afternoon. The subject is the new more lenient drug laws and will include a group of reps from newspapers and radio.

Attending Friday will be either Editor Kit McMillion or me. My wife says that it is a rare day when I won't goof off, given the chance, and believes that it is at least 10 to 1 that Kit will go.

Newell Harris was one of a large group of snowmobilers from Cass City spending New Year's at Gaylord. He says that the snow there wasn't any deeper or better than the snow here, but that the hospitality was great.

What kept the safari from being smooth sledding all the way was the holiday traffic coming home. It was bumper to bumper and worse than any normal week end during the summer months.

This is recession?

ONE FOR THE ROAD

Bits of humor

By Dan Marlowe

Give some men an inch and their wives won't let them eat any more dessert.

Two Boy Scouts were on a hike. One said: "Speaking for myself, I'm trustworthy, loyal, helpful, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and lost."

Today's supermarket sells almost everything, but if you should happen to find automobile tires among the groceries, then you're in the wrong place. That's the drugstore.

The trouble with love at first sight is second sight.

These days it's time to be suspicious when your doctor tells you that you're sound as a dollar.

Teacher: "What two documents have contributed most to our government?"
Student: "Forms 1040 and 1040A."

Even a clock passes the time by keeping its hands busy.

Many a live wire would be a dead one except for the right connections.

Learn from the mistakes of others: there simply isn't enough time to make them all yourself.

What used to be a TV station break now all too often seems like a compound fracture.

If people made as much fuss over prosperity as they do adversity, we'd all need ear plugs.

Although the race isn't always to the swift nor the battle to the strong, nobody ever made a living betting against it.

If a man stood with his right foot on a hot stove and his left foot in a freezer, some statisticians would assert that, on the average, he's comfortable.

In this modern day men who die with their boots on usually have one of them on the accelerator.

Did you hear there's a move under way to abolish the exclamation mark in writing? People aren't surprised at anything any more.

FROM THE LITTER BOX

I'm over the hill

By Kit McMillion

I observed a young person the other day out in that cold and miserable rain we had, wearing the same open heeled wooden Dutch clogs she had worn in the summer, and I thought Oh, her poor cold feet! My next thought was, I'm over the hill. At the seemingly ancient age of over twenty-one, I feel old. I mean, I used to run around in most any kind of weather in my sandals, too, and my feet didn't get cold then.

My friends teased me about going over that proverbial hump when I turned the magical age of 21, but when I finally did it, I didn't feel much different than I had earlier except some of my worries disappeared.

Needless to say, I'm very pleased at the recently effective 18-year-old majority. I suffered under the 3-year limbo state, too, when I had all the responsibility of an adult but was denied many of the privileges.

Like being able to borrow money for schooling, living in fear of a raid every time I had a beer with my gang. Those were privileges awarded to some of the college students, but not to the rest of them.

Being at the university during those limbo years made it perhaps a bit easier than for most of the "youths" of America who were working, being married, supporting families.

It made it worse for them because they carried the full weight of an adult's responsibility without any of the authority that goes with it.

The vote, fortunately, came a little earlier when the constitutional amendment was ratified last summer. I was of "legal" age when that finally went through, too, but how I cried before (not tears, just wails). Seeing my friends go off to a war they couldn't voice an electoral opinion about made for a lot of hard feelings and fed a lot of doubts about the "system" even for not such radical students as myself.

But such is life.

Frankly, it renews my faith in the world a little to see the haves, meaning those who are "adults" actually give the have nots something.

Too bad all the states aren't doing it. I see it as a major step in the right direction to restoring the rapidly growing young element to the nation.

Meow.

Today's money never dies—it just goes without saying.

BETTER HEALTH

Abdominal pain and when to worry

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

When a person comes into my office, complaining of abdominal pain, I like to talk with him and question him carefully about a number of things. I will note how he tells his story to determine whether he has real pain, coming from an organic cause, or whether he is a highly sensitive person whose pain is nervously caused. Also I will need to determine if he is a "chronic complainer."

Especially in persons past the age of 40, the coming of a new pain makes it essential that the stomach and bowel be X-rayed to make sure that there is no cancer beginning to grow. Such a cancer can be cured if it can be found and removed quickly enough.

For instance, when I was about 75, I began to feel a little pinchy pain around the lower left side of my abdomen. I immediately said to myself, "A new pain, never before felt, which comes at the age of 75, should be due to a cancer." The next day I went to be X-rayed, and there was a cancer. I promptly had it removed surgically, and happily it has not come back. If I had waited until I could feel a lump or until my intestine became obstructed, I wouldn't be here today.

The age of the person with abdominal pain can make a big difference; if that little pain had come when I was 19, it could hardly have been due to a cancer. It would probably have been due to some slight inflammation, or perhaps to constipation or a food allergy.

For years, I used to have brief, usually one-day-long attacks of abdominal pain, with mental dullness and perhaps some nausea. I used to think the trouble was due to emotion, because so often a spell came after I had made the evening address at a medical society banquet. But when I kept a record of unusual foods I had eaten just before a spell, I found that each time I had had chicken or chicken soup. When I quit eating chicken, that was the end of my spells.

In order to make a correct diagnosis I need to know whether the pain is present all the time, or whether it comes before or after a meal, or only after a big meal, or after eating some unusual food such as crab or shrimp. For instance, if a person has pain before meals relieved by eating, he probably has an ulcer of the duodenum (the bowel just past the stomach).

Much depends also on where the pain is, and which way it goes. For instance, if the pain is at the lower border of the ribs in front and sometimes runs up under the right shoulder blade and leaves some tenderness afterwards, and if it is severe enough to require a pain killing drug, that is almost certainly a gallstone colic. The patient should be X-rayed. If gallstones are found, they can be removed surgically.

If, on the other hand, the pain comes somewhat to the left of the center of the abdomen and runs up under the left shoulder blade, that can be due to disease in the pancreas (the big digestive gland back of his stomach). The person may have to have his pancreas explored to rule out a cancer.

I must find out whether the pain has been coming in occasional spells, perhaps some two weeks apart and then going away without any medication. Commonly such a person should not be operated on because as he says, "I always get well without any medicine."

The story of "episodic" pain makes me think of abdominal symptoms of epilepsy, and often, when I ask the patient if there is anybody in his family with epilepsy, he will tell me of an aunt or uncle or brother who is epileptic. I then send the man for electroencephalograms (records of the tiny electric currents constantly running through the brain). If they are typical of a mild form of epilepsy, I give the patient an anti-convulsive drug which generally promptly relieves the abdominal distress.

If a keen, nervous woman has pain in the upper central part of her abdomen and is vomiting with it, she may forget to tell me that it begins with a severe headache on one side of her head. That is the story of migraine, and with a special medicine, I may be able to give the woman quick relief.

When a doctor thoroughly examines a patient and finds nothing physically wrong, that does not mean that the person is faking the symptoms or enjoying his illness. We must remember that our nerves can play miserable tricks on us. For instance, during the terrible epidemic of influenza in 1918, when my little daughter of five suddenly fell ill with a severe type of pneumonia with unconsciousness and a high fever, I had little hope for her because so many children were dying of influenza. Because of my great anxiety and fear I got a severe pain in my abdomen, and for a few days, until the child began to recover, I could not swallow food.

That experience gave me a great understanding and sympathy for persons with severe abdominal pains that are psychically produced, and ever since, I have known how real such pains can be.

Abdominal pain is only one of the troubles often related to allergies. If you would like to learn when to suspect an allergy, what the common symptoms are and what parents can do to help an allergic child send for Dr. Alvarez' booklet "Allergy, Hay Fever And Asthma". Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Well, we started off a new year Saturday, and the fellers took note of the day. They was full agreed that the older we git the faster the years come and go. Zeke Grubb said if you thought of time as a box to fill, he never gits around to even covering the bottom of one year's box till the lid on another one pops up ready fer him.

The discussion at the country store worked all around what was, is and will be and final got hung up on what the fellers hope fer but know won't be. The hoping got so hopeless til Zeke allowed he might as well make some new year resolutions, cause he'd come as close to feltering them as he would seeing come to pass the peace and understanding in the world the fellers was wishing fer.

Actual, said Zeke, making resolutions at least shows a feller has still got ambition. Resolving is like aiming, and when you quit aiming you quit going anywhere, was Zeke's words. First off, Zeke said he was going to pick at least one resolution he would have some chance of keeping, like in 1972 he is going to keep right on laughing ever time he gits tickled, and he's going to laugh once a week wuther he's tickled or not.

Ed Doolittle said with this being a election year, the Democrats and Republicans is going to be trying so hard to out talk the other til it ain't going to be hard to find at least one laugh a week. Ed said he was going to come out strong fer a National Quiet Week this year where we won't observe nothing, won't pernote nothing and won't promise nothing. With all the politicians on the loose, though, Ed said he may have to settle for a Quiet Day.

Furthermore, allowed Ed, he was promising not to git as worked up over politics this year as he usual does. Man has been on this old ball three million years, Ed said, and in all that time they ain't learnt to run it, and they ain't much chanct the Democrats or Republicans is going to come up with the anser between now and November. They all will say they got it figured out, went on Ed, and that jest shows that politics is like a rocking chair. It gives you somepun to do, but it don't git you nowhere.

Personal, Mister Editor, I was agreed with Clem Webster that we can git our weekly laugh when our old ladies come home from church and tell us what all the other wimmen was wearing, and we can git a real side buster when they buy their spring hats. Like the feller said, wimmen may not add up to much, but they shore can distract.

As fer time, Bug Hookum said he had studied the situation up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind they ain't no use to try to find it, jest lay down and let it find you.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Falkenhagen

rites to be held Thursday

Funeral services for Harry Falkenhagen, 83, were to be held at 1 p. m. Thursday at the Salem United Methodist Church with the Rev. Ira Wood officiating. Burial was to follow in Mooretown cemetery, Snover.

Mr. Falkenhagen died Sunday, Jan. 2, at Hills and Dales Hospital where he had been a patient one week. He had been in ill health for several years. He was born in Saginaw county April 23, 1888, to the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry and Lottie Betkie Falkenhagen. He was married to Miss Fredia Brandt July 18, 1916. She died Oct. 9, 1943.

He was married to Miss Gertrude Striffler Sept. 14, 1948, in Cass City. They moved to Cass City eight years ago from Snover, where they lived until his death. He attended the Salem United Methodist Church. He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Phillip (Evelyn) Smith of Snover; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Schreuber of Saginaw and Mrs. Nettie Withman of Lapeer; a brother, Guy of Reese; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Twelve brothers and sisters preceded him in death.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Clinton House of Cass City has been appointed to the newly created post of assistant prosecutor.

A general revaluation of property on Main Street is underway in Cass City.

A former Cass City resident, Max Stoutenburg, 31, has been appointed director of the Iosco County Medical Facility at Tawas City.

There have been at least a dozen of the controversial dolls, made in Poland and highly inflammable, turned in to the Tuscola County Sheriff's office since the discovery was announced by news media.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Apparently Christmas bills and winter taxes have not caused much worry to many people of the Cass City community. More people in the community today have bonds and more money in savings and commercial accounts than ever before.

At the first meeting in 1947 of the Tuscola County Road Commission William Profit of Cass City was chosen chairman to succeed A. W. Atkins of Vassar in that position.

Criminal, circuit court and chancery cases commenced in Tuscola county during 1946 show an increase of 33 percent over the number started the previous year. Divorces granted last year were nearly double over the 1945 total and marriage licenses issued in 1946 were 44 percent more than in 1945.

W. K. Kellogg Foundation Scholarships for a short course at Michigan State College have been awarded to the following farm youth of Tuscola county: Betty Jean Bruce, Deford; Betty Jane Dost, Silverwood; Rosemary Neff, Caro; Donald Dickson, Akron, and Ronald Hampshire, Kingston.

Walter McIntyre and Fred J. Rittman have formed a partnership for the sale of Hudson and Terraplane automobiles. They are doing business in the Rittman auto accessories building located on Church Street, one-half block west of the Robinson laundry.

Floyd Kennedy, Carson O'Dell, and Floyd Dodge of Cass City were scheduled to give addresses at the Hotel Statler, Detroit, before a group of gentlemen farmers, several of whom are classed as millionaires, who make farming a hobby and not a regular occupation. The boys are members of local 4-H clubs.

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors voted to purchase a fan to equalize the temperature in two rooms, occupied by the county agricultural agent's office, and B. H. McComb was authorized to exchange the mimeograph in the county school commissioner's office for a better machine.

Harry Crandell Sr. is spending a few weeks at Ogden, Utah, where he is showing prize sheep at a stock show.

Christmas seals sales in the Cass City community reached a total of $115.52.

Schedule youth

livestock school

Thursday, July 20, there is going to be a "Youth Market Livestock School And Sale". It is to be held at the Michigan Livestock Exchange, Cass City, starting at 7:00 a. m. All interested 4-H and FFA members, leaders, and parents are encouraged to attend.

The program objectives are to provide additional educational experiences for 4-H and FFA members on how livestock are graded and move through the commercial market place. This information will be taken back to the clubs and chapters to strengthen their local livestock programs.

Program schedule is as follows:
7:00 a. m. - Unload and grade animals before 9:00 a. m.
10:45 a. m. - Educational program - swine grading and contest.
12:00 noon - Lunch.
12:45 p. m. - Lamb grading demonstration.
1:15 p. m. - Beef grading demonstration and contest merchandising and promotion talk
3:00 p. m. - Sale of lamb, swine, beef and dairy steers. Estimated needs - 150 steers, 100 swine, and 30 lambs.

This is just one of the many fine opportunities open to 4-H and FFA members. You can become a part of this team by simply contacting the Cooperative Extension Office in Sandusky.

D.C. Kelley, 54, dies in Bad Axe

D. C. Kelley, 54, died at Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe, Tuesday, Jan. 4. He had been in poor health for several years.

Funeral services were scheduled at 3 p. m. Thursday at Little's Funeral Home, with Rev. Vern Blankenburg of the Deford United Methodist church officiating. Burial will be in East Dayton cemetery.

Mr. Kelley was born in East Dayton, May 22, 1917. His parents were William and Grace Hall Kelley.

Surviving are five sisters, Mrs. George Urban of Detroit, Mrs. Ralph Coffman of Bridgeport, Mrs. Zigmunt Mis of Caro, Mrs. Orlene Cramer of Akron and Mrs. Roy Taylor of Saginaw. Four brothers also survive: Burn and Edgar of Pontiac, Robert of Spokane, Wash., and Hugh of Lake Orion. Four brothers and a sister died previously.

Services held for

Mitchell baby

Brenda Sue Mitchell succumbed Sunday afternoon, Jan. 2, at Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon. She was the infant daughter of Francis and Betty Lou Mitchell of Owendale and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell and Mr. Jesse Putman.

Services were conducted at the Hunter Funeral Home, Gaytown, Monday by the Rev. Paul L. Amstutz, pastor of the United Methodist Church. Burial was in Grant cemetery.

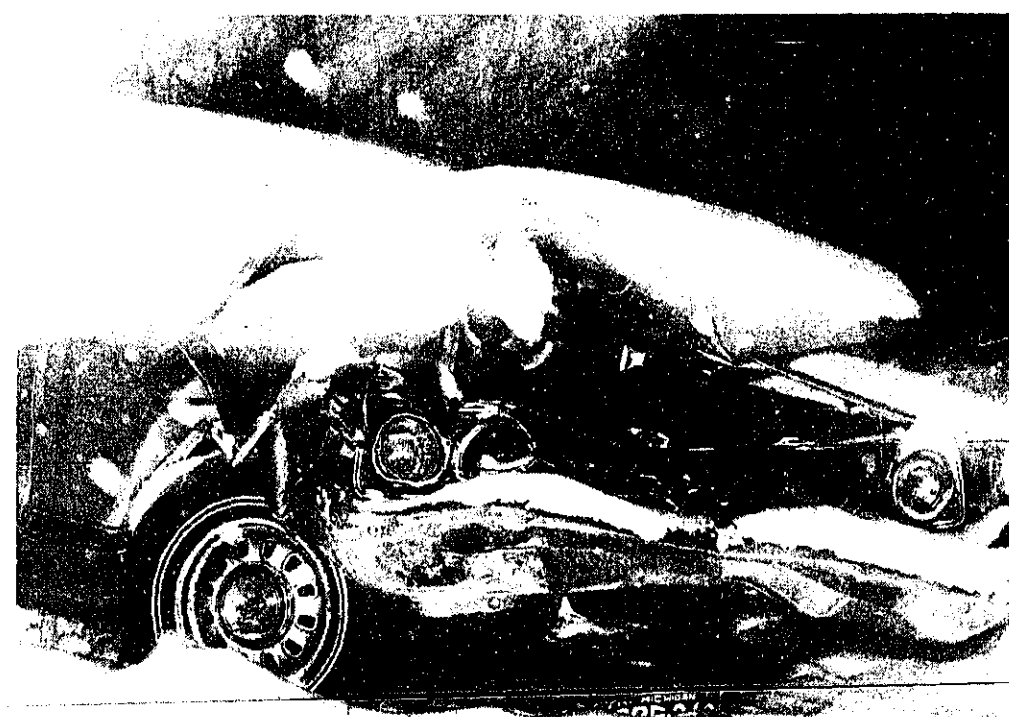

Caro woman

discovered dead

Tuesday morn

Caro Police investigated the death of a Caro woman Tuesday after she was found dead in a house on Hooper Street in Caro.

Virginia Clyne, 30, of 5915 Hurds Corner Road, was found dead about 6:30 a. m. by her husband Wesley, when he awoke. He notified authorities who investigated possible foul play. An autopsy revealed death was due to natural causes, a massive pulmonary edema, according to Coroner Ben Collon of Caro.

FOUR CASS CITY persons were injured when the car they were passengers in (bottom picture) collided with a vehicle driven by a Caro woman (top) early New Year's Day. William Coleman and Gail Joos are still hospitalized with injuries received when the two cars collided on M-81 near Deckerville Road. The accident is still under investigation.

Slate swine short course

Area swine producers and service representatives will be attending a three session Swine Shortcourse at the Cass City Masonic Temple Building from 10:00 a. m. through 3:00 p. m.

This multi-county short-course offers a variety of most needed swine production information, reports Don Kebler, Extension Agricultural Agent.

Those attending will hear the latest in nutrition, balancing rations, feeds and feeding, economics of production, management decisions, developing a breeding program and housing facilities for all ages and enterprises.

Following the three sessions, the producers will be offered a tour of the Michigan State University large animal clinic and diagnostic laboratory where they will spend the day hearing the newest information on breeding stock selection, live market hog and carcass evaluation, disease identification diagnosis and facilities available to them.

Advance registration for the three Cass City held sessions is $11.00 to cover the dinners and notebook. The tour to MSU will be decided at the sessions. Dates for the Cass City sessions are Jan. 27, Feb. 3 and Feb. 10. Fee for any one single session will be $4.00 per person.

Inquiries and advance registrations can be made at the Extension office in the producer's resident county.

Democratic delegates may face dispute at Miami Beach

Michigan Democrats may face a challenge to their delegation from the party's reform wing when they arrive at Miami Beach for the national convention next July.

The potential challenge results from Michigan's election laws which schedule primary elections in August. Among the positions filled in primary elections is the position of precinct delegate.

Precinct delegates, in turn, attend the county and district conventions which choose delegates to the state convention. Then the state convention picks the delegates to the national convention.

In the wake of the 1968 campaign, a Democratic reform commission recommended, the national committee agreed to, a rule that the selection process for delegates to the national convention begin in the same year in which the convention is held. The purpose is to make sure any late blooming candidates or late blooming issues are recognized in the delegate selection process.

Since precinct delegates in Michigan are chosen in August, the ones who begin the process of selection of national delegates next year will have been selected in 1970. That isn't what the reform commission had in mind.

The state Democratic leadership mounted a campaign in 1971 to set up special primary election in April, 1972 to elect precinct delegates. The plan passed the House on a straight party line vote, but then faltered in the Republican-controlled Senate.

Another attempt will be made when the Legislature convenes in January to pass the bill in the Senate, but that will be strictly for form's sake unless the Republicans, who see a chance to embarrass their Democratic counterparts, change their minds.

The result could be a challenge to the Michigan delegation when it arrives in Miami Beach on the grounds that it doesn't fit the requirement that the delegate selection process begin in the year of the convention.
The Democrats are hoping the effort they put forth to change the law—they were able to get every Democrat in both houses to vote for it—will prove their good intentions and secure credentials to the convention for them.
With the convention apparently under the firm control of national chairman, Larry O'Brien, that hope would appear to be well founded. But it probably won't come about without a few fireworks.

REGISTRATION PUSHED

State Democrats are launching a voter registration drive next year designed to get more Democrats to the polls.

By latest Democratic estimates there are more than 2 million Michigan residents eligible to vote, but still unregistered. And the Democrats figure that 7 of every 10 eligible voters in the state are Democrats, so that any registration drive should benefit them.

To help the odds still more, they will conduct the drive on a selective basis, aiming to register only Democrats as much as possible.

Using the rule of thumb that 7 of every 10 unregistered voters really are Democrats, the party leadership says they could not have carried the state for Hubert Humphrey in 1968 with today's registration figures. There are fewer registered voters now than then.

In 1968, there were just over 4 million registered voters in the state; and Humphrey took the state's 21 electoral votes by a 225,000 vote margin. Today, there are just under 3.6 million registered voters and the Democratic leadership figures a big enough percentage of that fall off is Democratic to change the majority.

Michigan is a Democratic state if registration is high.

says state chairman James McNeely. "With 420,000 fewer registered voters than in November, 1968, registration can only be described as low."

To help in the registration, the party chose deputy party chairman Robert Mitchell as the head of the registration drive.

He will head a staff of people whose purpose will be to seek out and register Democrats. And the sooner they start, the more time they can devote to making sure the people they register are mostly Democrats.

Deputy wage pact
goes to mediation

Representatives of the sheriff's deputies and the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners have agreed to go into mediation to settle the wage pact for the coming year.

The decision came at a meeting Wednesday night, Dec. 29, after 1 1/2 hours of discussion failed to resolve the issue.

The negotiations started last October, although Commissioner Ed Golding related that much of the time was spent clearing up several points in the contract and working out the wording to each party's satisfaction.

Actual salary negotiations began about one month ago.

The women in the sheriff's department and the courthouse employees have already agreed to a 5 per cent wage increase.

Golding said the board was trying to stay within guidelines established under the Phase II economic program.

Both parties are keeping mum about actual dollar figures, but it is known that the deputies are seeking raises to bring their salaries to a level comparable to other sheriff departments in the area.

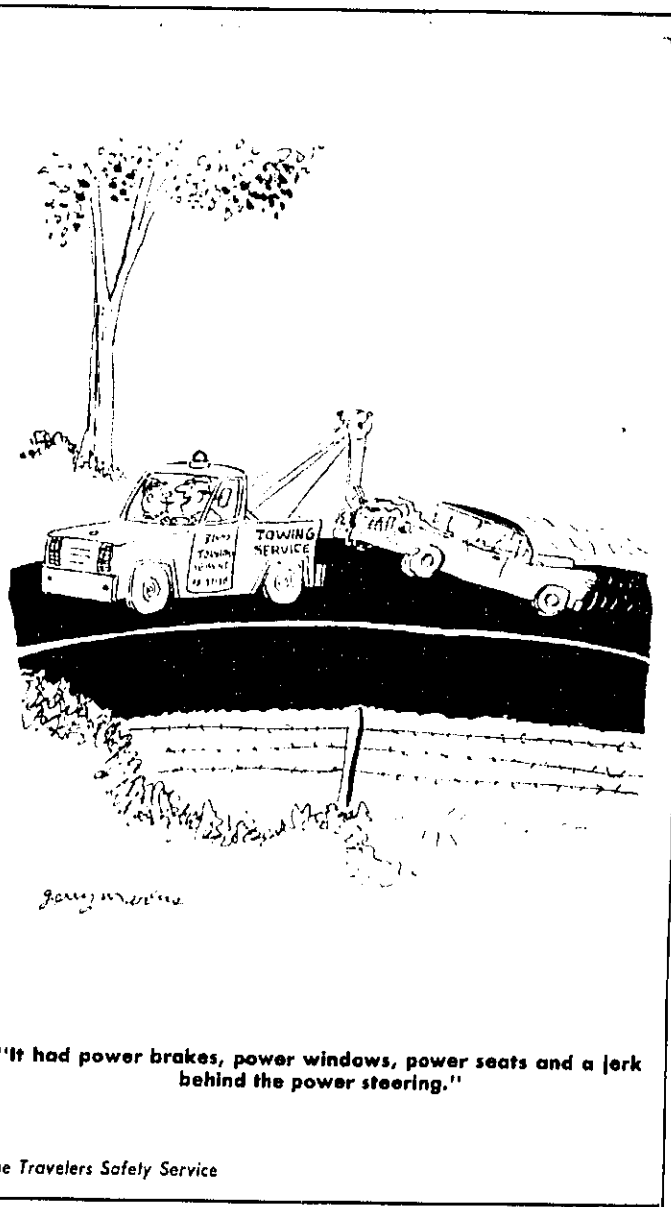

"When we sit down and figure out salary and fringe benefits, there isn't too much difference," he said, adding that last year the deputies were given an increase in tax free benefits.

"This is the first time we ever got this far," said Golding, explaining that he was unsure exactly what would come about now.

"Someday we'll have to ask for more millage," the commissioner stated, saying that the budget is "pretty small" compared to other counties. The millage rate of 4.2 is the smallest in the state, except for one other county at the same rate, he said.

Library gets exchange books

Over sixty books arrived at Rawson Memorial Library Tuesday from the Saginaw System Book Pool and will be available to patrons during the next six months.

New books in the group are "Living with your Ulcer" by Theodore Berland, "Who owns America" by Walter J. Hickel, "Knitting without Tears" by Elizabeth Zimmermann, "True Tales of the Great Lakes" by Dwight Boyer and "The Journey of August King" by John Ehle.

Other books of special interest are "Winning chess" and "How to play chess", "How to get rich in real estate" by Robert W. Kent, "Real estate appraisal and investment" by Sanders A. Kahn, "Complete book of hunting" by Clyde Ormond, and "The Good House-keeping book of cake decorating".

daily basis between Christmas and New Year's.

It's certain that Cass City can use all of the practice time available if they are to successfully meet the challenge of Bad Axe at Cass City High School Friday.

What Coach Fred Hurlburt and his charges must figure out is a way to stop Lloyd Schinnerer. The four-year veteran is one of the best, if not the best, all-around players in the Thumb this year. . . or any other year.

He is always the target whenever Bad Axe plays. In a holiday tournament at Cros-Lex Coach Ed Wolford used a zone defense with one man following Schinnerer all over the court and the Hatchet ace still scored over 30 points to force the game into overtime before the Lakers finally won.

What Cass City fans will be watching for is the progress of the local quintet. The Hawks are a young team with only one senior, Fred Harbec.

The underclassmen on the team are improving with experience.

However, the tougher part of the Thumb B Conference lies ahead. Bad Axe, Sandusky and the Lakers, the next three teams on the schedule, are all among the better quintets in the league.

Cass City might well be a much improved team and still lose games to these schools. One problem still to be with the Hawks as they start the post-holiday schedule is the lack of size.

That disadvantage will be greater against the Lakers than it is against Bad Axe.

The Hatchets aren't that big or husky and the Hawks should be able to rebound with them.

Without Schinnerer the Hatchets don't appear overpowering.

With Schinnerer, especially Schinnerer in top form, no Thumb B Conference squad can afford to take them lightly.

File suit

2 Mayville students contest suspension for hair style

A suit was filed in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday against the Mayville Public Schools Board of Education, Principal William Magill and Superintendent Jerome Thienes on behalf of two youths who were suspended Dec. 16, 1971, for having their hair too long.

The suit charges that the two boys, Keith Davison, 17, and Bryan Smith, 16, were suspended from school until they got their hair cut short enough to satisfy the defendants.

It asks that the boys, both minors, be allowed to return to school because they let their hair grow long as an expression of their individuality, not as a sign of disrespect or disdain for authority.

The suit calls their suspension unconstitutional and in violation of the 8th and 14th Amendments as unusual and cruel punishment, in violation of the 1st and 14th Amendments' guarantee of due process.

The suit also calls the act unconstitutional and illegal because it suppresses the freedom of speech and self-expression guaranteed by the 1st and 14th Amendments.

A temporary restraining order was issued by Circuit Court Judge Norman A. Baguley Monday to allow the boys to return to classes, and a hearing was set for 10:30 a. m. Jan. 10.

The suit seeks to have the notation of suspension erased from the students' records. It also seeks an order to restrict enforcement of the regulations regarding length and style of hair.

Investigate 2 area thefts

Sheriff's deputies investigated two thefts in the area during the past week.

Duane Miles of Marlette reported that a stereo tape deck valued at $75 and a T-bar on his car's shift lever were missing. The theft occurred sometime between 2:30 and 3:30 a. m. Jan. 1 when his vehicle was parked outside the Kingswood Inn, Kingston.

He told authorities the car doors were locked when he left but opened when he came back. There are no suspects.

The theft of a $100 bill was discovered Dec. 29 when Dean Hutchinson returned to his home on Spencer Road following a weeks vacation.

The bill was placed in a vase in the house to be used by his mother in case something went wrong with the farm in his absence. Finger prints were taken from the vase, and investigation continues.

Innocent plea to drunk driving

George Edward Lynch, 39, Garfield St., Cass City, pleaded innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor before District Court Judge Richard Kern Monday.

He was arrested at 11:20 p. m. Dec. 31 on Oak Street after police saw him driving back and forth on the road without lights. He was released on $100 bond.

The case involving James Molnar, 55, of Gagetown, was dismissed Dec. 15, 1971, when the prosecution moved to dismiss the case and received no objection by the defendant. Molnar was charged with failure to make payment of wages and entered a plea of innocent at an Oct. 26 arraignment. Cheryl Rice charged that Molnar owed her $850 in back pay for working at the Sherwood Forest Country Club, Gagetown.

ELEVEN INCHES of accumulated snow has posed a problem to motorists and digging out becomes a family affair. Tackling the long driveway are Walter Maciezewski, left, and son Al, of 6603 Huron St.

Letter to Editor

Amnesty leaves foul taste in mouth of infantry captain

Columbus, Georgia

Dear Mr. Haire,

I have just received my Chronicle and one of the first articles that I read was yours, "From the Editors Corner" concerning AMNESTY for the draft dodgers, 70,000 strong. In all honesty I must say that upon completion of the article I had a foul taste in my mouth and a queasy feeling in my stomach.

Ever since there has been an Army, or talk of building or maintaining an Army, there have been draft dodgers moving around and out of the country for one reason or another by the thousands. Many of the past draft dodgers have been "better than average students and better than average citizens" or "Young men who can make a significant contribution to our country". I then ask you what type of contribution do you expect they are presently giving? You can rest well assured that the actions of the society escapees is one which receives big bold headlines in the Communist papers as well as one of the constant thorns used for propaganda purposes for other nations. And there is talk of Amnesty. Think of the inhumane treatment that is being forced on the Vietnam POW's, the flames are leaping high because of the fuel fed into the fires by the border run-abouts, and there is talk of Amnesty.

Let us not forget about the average student and citizen.

They do not have any responsibility to a Nation that has codified them thru life, protected them in past years from countries bent on conquering the world and enslaving the population masses. A nation which has given them the luxury of the vote, the many freedoms of life, a per-capita income that is exceeded by none, the credit card and many more. What is a just repayment for the bushels of good things received? And there is talk of Amnesty.

What about the 45,000 who paid the supreme sacrifice or the 350,000 who were wounded, most of them thought it was for a just cause. In Vietnam I commanded an Infantry Rifle Company of men who were drafted, slept in the rain with those who initially thought we shouldn't be there, dug fox-holes with those who said they could have taken the easy way out and headed north, and buried those who thought we had the responsibility of giving millions of people the right to freedom. And we talk of Amnesty.

"The draft dodgers feel their rights have been infringed and the country owes them an apology", I say they should drop down and kiss the ground they left and beg the American people to forgive them for the self styled irresponsible ideas which they conceived and executed, Amnesty, Ha.

Your statement "This country can ill afford to lose any good Americans" is true, we have lost 400,000, so do not spit in their face or on their graves with your talk of Amnesty.

The people who have voided their inherent responsibility to the Nation through their military obligation should no way shape or form have the U. S. Army Band stationed at the Port of Entry playing "When Johnny comes Marching Home" if and when they decide to come back. They have left the warmth and security of our colors and it should not just be handed to them on a silver platter free of charge.

In closing, Mr. Haire, since I have expounded for some length, let me say that we have two basic points here, I sincerely believe that point made by you is being entertained strictly by the minority group. I am sure that I am not alone in believing in Duty, Honor, Country, Decoration Day, 4th of July, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Mother's Day and Apple pie.

Frederick J. MacKay

"The Last Tribes of Mindanao"

© 1972 National Geographic Society

Stone age men come into the 20th century in this fascinating television show that reveals the existence of a lost tribe discovered only last year in the rain forests of the Philippine Island of Mindanao.

National Geographic cameramen were on hand when this important and astonishing discovery was made of a people who knew nothing of any aspect of the modern world or other men. As you will see on this show, the Tasaday tribe, leading lives typical of prehistoric men, didn't even know of the existence of the sea even though they and their ancestors, thousands of years before them, have lived on an island.

Don't miss this one-in-a-million television show.
