MR. AND MRS. FRANKLIN TURNER

A reception in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Turner of Akron will be held Jan. 30 from 2 to 5 p. m. at the Akron Presbyterian Church. Franklin Turner and Clara Severance were married Jan. 27, 1947, by the Rev. John Meyer, then pastor of the Fairgrove Presbyterian Church. Their attendants were Robert Turner, deceased, nephew of Franklin, and Mrs. Leah Somerville of Mayville, sister of Mr. Turner.

The couple have one daughter, Mrs. Paul Lockwood of Cass City; two sons, Robbie and Bruce, at home, and five grandchildren. The couple requests that no gifts be given.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne C. Horne

Ellen Mae Parker and DeWayne C. Horne were married Saturday, Nov. 20, 1971, in a 7 p. m. candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church, Cass City. The Rev. George Harmon of Decker officiated. The altar of the church was decorated with vases of pink carnations with white bows and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker of Lamton Road, Decker, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Horne of 4118 S. Seeger St., Cass City.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a standup collar, neckline and bell sleeves with accents of clustered miniature pearls. An A-line skirt fell from the Empire waistline and swept into a court train. She wore a three tiered English mist veil, and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses, pink carnations and stephanotis.

Paulette Becker of Decker, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Karen Parker of Decker, sister of the bride, and Rita Zimba of Deford, friend of the bride. They wore floor length gowns of ruby red velvet with A-line skirts and matching headpieces. Antique gold braiding highlighted the fluted neckline and waistline. They carried colonial bouquets of pink roses, white carnations and baby's breath. Flower girl was Sharon Pratt of Cass City. She wore a dress like the bridesmaids with short sleeves and velvet ribbons in place of the gold braiding. She carried a white basket filled with white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

The bride's mother wore a semi-fitted chiffon dress with silver braid trim on the neckband and cuffs, with a flowing chiffon trim and matching bow whimsy accenting the back of the dress.

The groom's mother wore a green tulle dress trimmed with white and pink diamond squares, and a matching coat. Both mothers wore corsages of deep pink carnations.

Best man was Marvin Pratt of Cass City, a friend of the groom. Ushers were Randy and Andrew Parker of Decker, brothers of the bride, Ring bearer was Darrel Grady of Cass City, nephew of the groom.

A wedding dinner was held at the VFW Hall, Caro, following the ceremony. A reception for 400 guests followed.

The bride is a senior at Cass City High School. The groom is occupied as a laborer. They are making their home on Lamton Road, Decker.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

I twisted Rob Alexander's arm this week and made him promise to give me a ticket to see him pitch if he makes it to the big leagues.

It's not that the ticket is worth all that much. . . It's just that it's an ego trip to be able to tell everyone that you know a big leaguer well enough to have him give you a free ticket to a major league game.

Small world department: In the past year we haven't seen the Lex Tetreus once in Cass City even though they live directly to the east of our home.

But when we rambled out to Las Vegas last week you know whom we saw first. . . the Tetreus who had been sight-seeing there for a week.

The man is Bernard B. Calka and he's brother of B. A. (Curly) Calka of Cass City.

Like all the Calkas I know, Bernard is a promoter. He's leading a state-wide drive to collect stamps to buy a fire truck for 800 residents of Delta Junction, Alaska. How Calka, a resident of Sterling Heights, became involved I don't know but the story is that General Mills said it would buy a truck for $25,000 if the Alaskans collected 5 million coupons. Last December 2 1/2 million had been collected.

General Mills will accept S & H Stamps or Top Value Stamps or coupons, Calka says.

If you'd like to help send the stamps, coupons or cash to Bernard B. Calka, assistant Fire Chief, 42501 Hayes, Sterling Heights 48708.

Better yet, why not take them to B. A. Calka in Cass City and let Curly pass them on to his brother?

Somebody should write a letter about the hazards of working at the post office in Cass City. There's an epidemic there, that's what there is. Dick Root was ill Monday, John Krug was in the hospital with pneumonia and Stanley Kirm will be absent indefinitely because he fell and dislocated his shoulder. But all is not lost. . . Pat Rabideau is alive and well.

House building: a pilot student program

While Tuscola county voters refused to approve the necessary funds for a Tuscola County Career Center to be built in Caro, the Tuscola County Intermediate School District hopes to demonstrate the value of a training program with a project now under way in Caro.

Because an estimated 65 per cent of high school graduates do not attend college, sponsors believe that the home building program will be of significant value to all of these non-college students.

The pilot program started last fall and the students are constructing a three-bedroom home, complete with basement.

Richard Potocnik, former TSD Implementor for vocational training, explored all possible avenues outside normal school setting to prepare as many students as possible in the business of teaching job skills - masonry, carpentry, electrical, plumbing and painting. Financing was accomplished in cooperation with the Thumb Area Non-Profit Housing Corporation of Caro. Potocnik, working with Intermediate Supt. William Scott, obtained Emergency Employment Act Federal funds, for the instructor's salary. Louis Spaeth of Caro, a builder of more than 20 years' experience, was vocationally-certified, and he was engaged as instructor.

Excavation was started southeast of Caro on Weeden Road November 22, and with 12 students from six Tuscola Intermediate schools, footings were poured and basement block-laying started. Despite some extreme weather, the students worked with a determination that surprised and pleased Mr. Spaeth. On one very cold, rainy day, the boys voted to work instead of taking off. "We want to get the basement done," they said. The boys are getting on-the-job experience as to what it takes to be in the building trades. Spaeth comments "that handling concrete in cold weather and laying 10" blocks are all a part of the business and these boys are proving they have what it takes." By Christmastime, FHA had approved the basement after thorough, demanding inspection.

"We are very pleased with the quality of work these students have done to this point, and they are learning useful skills they will have throughout their lives," said Matt Zechmeister, Director of TANPHC. Framing is progressing well, and in a few days the house will be completely enclosed, which will allow the boys to work independently of the weather. The home has a living room, dining room, bath, kitchen, three bedrooms, an attached garage and a full basement.

At this point, all concerned are pleased, including Superintendent Scott, Implementor Potocnik, Spaeth and Zechmeister. Even the students like the course. They are receiving credit, as they would for any class and they work in two shifts. The 6:30 to 11:00 a. m. shift includes: Tom Billick, Dave Gilmore and Larry Ross of Kingston, and Jim Denton and Jeff Carlisle of Mayville. The afternoon class, from 1:00 to 3:30 p. m. includes Fred Hillaker and Richard Timko of Akron-Fairgrove, Jim Schantz and Larry Tait of Caro, Larry Laming and Duane Lockwood of Cass City and Tim Irlon of Sebewala. On the site is a large semi-truck body, equipped with heater, for tool storage.

"The boys are not in the truck very often," said Potocnik, since they are anxious to stay on the job. They know that is how they will learn the skills they want to master. This doesn't mean that all 12 are going to become carpenters or masons, but it will show them what those trades demand. Also, the skills they are learning are good for any homeowner to know."

Commenting on the future of similar projects, Potocnik said, "We recognize that this is a pilot program for the Intermediate District which, while offering meaningful education is intended to point a possible way for local school districts to undertake. Building homes in cooperation with local businesses could well open avenues for many of our school districts to become involved in programs of similar nature in their own communities.

"Within a community, many individuals and businesses could become involved: real estate people, banking, insurance people and others who would normally be consulted in building or buying a home. In addition to carpentry, electrical, masonry, plumbing and painting skills achieved by students in the construction class, there could also be practical involvement for other departments in the school - in Landscaping and home economics, to name but a few.

"We see this as the type of training that will help our young people solve the practical problems facing them in the near future. This is the kind of meaningful education they are asking for and have an interest in," he concluded.

A STUDENT WORKS under the watchful eye of Louis Spaeth in the house building project sponsored by the Tuscola Intermediate School District.

GOING UP IS this student built home on Weeden Road near Caro.

"If It Fitz . . ."

The running game

BY JIM FITZGERALD

Every columnist, comedian and pundit began the new year making wisecracks about President Nixon telling football coaches how to coach. But everyone missed the true significance of Nixon's fascination with the pigskin parade (what-ever happened to Jack Oakie?).

Even the pundits missed it and this surprised me. By the very nature of their name, pundits should be expected to understand the true meaning of Nixon wanting everyone to win one for the Gipper (whatever happened to Ronald Reagan?). I didn't have to look in the dictionary to know that pundits are wise men who are supposed to know when to punt it.

Ask yourself: What does every coach always answer when Howard Cosell asks about the passing attack?

"We expect to do a lot of passing, to our tight end and our wide receivers, Howard," the coaches always say, "but first we must establish our running game."

That's it. That's what Nixon is telling the world every time he jolts a coach out of bed and scrawls O's and X's on his sheet.

Nixon must first ESTABLISH HIS RUNNING GAME. Then he's going to do all those other things he promised.

It is the passing game that fills the stadiums and turns on the TVs. No one wants to spend 3 hours watching big guys run 3 yards into bigger guys and fall down and then get up and do it again and again (whatever happened to Bo Shembechler?).

The fans want to see the ball in the air, by God. Otherwise, they never see it at all. How can you see a ball when 22 brutes are sitting on it?

But first, the coach must establish his running game. Just be patient. There are 4 quarters in every game.

Before he was elected, Nixon said he had a plan for ending the Vietnam war. He said the economy would improve under his administration, the welfare system would start making sense, and the Pentagon would no longer stamp "Top Secret" on toilet tissue.

But first, Nixon must establish his running game. Be patient. There are 4 years in every President's term.

Sure, Dick could have thrilled the fans by getting out of Vietnam way back in 1969. But that wasn't in his game plan. His idea is to save the most exciting plays for the last quarter, just before the election. That way, the fans don't enter the voting booth wondering "What has Nixon done for me lately?"

This might sound like dirty politics to some non-football fans. But, if you pinned him down, Nixon would surely explain his late-minute heroics by saying he couldn't make his big move until he had first established his running game.

What does that mean? Never mind. If it was good enough for Vince Lombardi, it is certainly good enough for the nation which he made so proud.

Verily, politics is the same as football. You can bet your jockstrap on that. The important thing isn't how you play the game, it's whether you win or lose - which depends on whether you first establish your running game.

(Whatever happened to Abraham Lincoln?)

Tri-county band concert Jan. 30

Two members from the Cass City High School band will play with a 72 member Tri-county honors band at its concert Sunday, Jan. 30, at 3:30 p. m. at the Vassar High School auditorium.

Mike Klinkman, playing trombone, and Katherine Kloc, playing bass clarinet, were chosen from among 240 students from Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties in auditions last November.

Directing the band will be Dr. Lorin C. Richtmeyer of Northern Michigan University. He was band director at Bad Axe for a number of years prior to going to the university.

The music chosen for the concert will include both light and heavy numbers and a variety of pieces band members wouldn't ordinarily get to play, said George Bushong, high school band director.

Final rites for George Murray

Final rites were held Saturday for George F. Murray, 86, who died Jan. 18 at his winter home in Lakeland, Fla.

Services were conducted from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, at 12 noon with burial following in Elkland cemetery. The Rev. Leo Gengler, pastor of the St. Pancratius Church, and the Rev. Melvin R. Vender, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated.

Mr. Murray was born in London, Ontario, Canada, April 20, 1905, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh and Catherine Baker Murray.

He married the former Julia Carey in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1932. They came to this community from Jersey City, N. J., in 1960, where they made their home.

Mr. Murray attended the St. Pancratius Church. He was employed 20 years with General Cable Corporation as a chemist, retiring in 1962. He was associated with William Zemke, Real Estate Broker, for the past three years.

He graduated from Canisius College in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1938, and took graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers University. He was also a member of the Elks Lodge of Metuchen, N. J., and a past member of the American Chemical Society.

He is survived by his widow; one sister, Mrs. Ewart Peters of Ontario, Canada. One sister preceded him in death.

FROM THE LITTER BOX

Suffering suffrage

By Kit McMillon

I haven't always had a lot of faith in pluralistic democracy.

In the big complex, mechanized, modern world where one man's little opinion doesn't seem to account for much, it doesn't always seem to work, especially when the people I vote for never seem to win, and the policies, goals and priorities I want never seem to be put into practice.

Maybe I just don't have enough political sense to pick the winning candidates. I guess I'm still a concerned idealist of sorts because it has never stopped me from voting, and every vote I've ever made has been by absentee ballot. And that is a pain. (I don't even know how to operate a voting machine, yet).

Since my recent re-enfranchisement after awaiting the appointed one-half year, I, as usual, compared the system here to my home state of Illinois. And frankly, I can't believe it.

When I turned 21 there I simply went to the courthouse, knocked on the door that said REGISTRATION, filled out the proper form and was immediately added to the roll and given my green voter's registration card.

It took care of everything from national elections down to the lowest level.

Without fully understanding the system around here and why it is done as it is, I may be unfair in criticizing it, but I really do think it is ridiculous.

The level of apolitical and seemingly apathetic voters is astounding, as evidenced by the results of elections this past year.

A little over 200 in the Cass City School District voted in the career center election; the fire hall millage was passed quietly by 236 voters of the township, and last spring 147 persons voted in the village liquor by the glass referendum. Regardless of your view on those issues, if you didn't vote, you don't really have one, except what you mouth off to anybody who will listen.

It's so easy to not vote, and it's even easier to not register, especially when it's an inconvenience to do so. And it is here when to register with the village you have to go one place and to register for everything else you have to go to another.

But not only is it an inconvenience, it can broadly be construed as a form of denying, or at least deterring, a constitutional privilege and right to residents.

A system should exist only because it serves the people who support it financially and politically. If it fails to do that, it is not a service but an inconvenience and fails to perform its function but begins to take over control from the people.

Regardless of your political affiliations, if you believe in democracy, you have to believe in people controlling the establishment and bureaucracy of government.

If you do nothing else to exercise that control, at least vote.

I guess that's one reason I don't have much faith in pluralistic democracy. The people don't make it work. Meow.

Potato growers to vote on research plan

Potato producers in all 48 contiguous States of the Nation will vote Feb. 1-10 to determine whether a nation-wide Potato Research and Promotion Plan should be approved. This announcement was issued today by Tuscola County Extension Agent Don Keblar.

Ballots and voting instructions are being mailed to all growers of five or more acres of Irish potatoes. Any grower who does not receive a ballot by Feb. 1 may request one from his County Agent's office at Caro, telephone No. 673-3161.

The proposed Potato Research and Promotion Plan was authorized by special legislation and is based on evidence developed at a public hearing held last June and July. It would be administered by a National Potato Promotion Board, made up of producers selected by the Secretary of Agriculture from nominations by producers. Each state would be entitled to one board member for each 5 million hundred-weight of potato production, with at least one member per state. Growers are urged to cast their ballots so that the results of the referendum will be truly representative.

The program would be financed by an assessment of up to one cent per hundred-weight of potatoes handled. Handlers would be permitted to collect assessments from producers, but producers not wishing to contribute would be reimbursed upon written request.

To become effective, the plan must be approved by at least two-thirds of the producers voting, or by a majority of the producers voting if they produce two-thirds or more of the potatoes grown by those voting.

BETTER HEALTH

Still blame hare lip on old wives' tales

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

It often amazes me that "old wives' tales" and myths in medicine can persist even in modern times. For example, a distressed mother writes, very upset about the fact that her child was born with a hare lip. In this condition the two parts of the face do not come together properly as the baby is forming in the mother's womb, and as a result, there is an opening in the lip. In more severe cases the nose and palate, or roof of the mouth, are also separated. My correspondent's husband thinks that the child is deformed because the woman saw a rabbit when she was pregnant.

This is an ancient misconception; in fact I have read that according to an old Norwegian law, butchers were forbidden to hang hares in their windows in public view, for fear that pregnant women would be hurt by them.

There is no scientific basis for this belief. Experts on the formation of the fetus in the mother's womb tell us that an infant cannot be "marked" in such a way by the woman's being frightened. Also, in the proper formation of the fetus, the two sides of the face come together very early in the pregnancy, perhaps before the woman even realizes that she is pregnant. If a woman is in the later stages of pregnancy, outside forces cannot change the development of the baby.

On looking into a fine book on human genetics, I read that a cleft lip or palate is an inheritable abnormality, but the experts refer to it as being of very "low penetrance". This means that it tends to skip several generations, but can be passed on in the genes of persons who do not actually develop the disease themselves. These persons are known as "carriers". There are a few rare diseases with a very high penetrance, in which the inherited defect usually shows up in every generation.

In an article in the Medical Tribune, I read of some research done by Dr. Samuel R. Meadow, of Leeds, England, who sent letters to parents of some 32 children with cleft lip or palate, asking about their families. He learned that in seven families there were brothers or sisters who also had the defect. Eleven had marked facial abnormalities, other than a cleft lip or palate, and six had skeletal abnormalities.

Dr. Meadow was particularly interested in the relationship between epilepsy and cleft lip, and he found that a number of the mothers of cleft-lip or palate babies suffered from epilepsy, and had been taking such anti-convulsive drugs as phenobarbital, diphenhydantoin and primidone during their pregnancy.

Of course, this does not mean that all children with cleft lip have epilepsy in their family. Dr. Meadow has been awarded a grant by the British Epilepsy Foundation to carry on his studies for another two years.

Dr. Raymond Massengill, of Duke University, believes that it is important that the team of men who take care of children with cleft palate begin working with such a child, and his family, within a few hours after he is born. The parents should be allowed to see the child, but they should quickly be reassured that today the defect can successfully be treated. This reassurance is important, because the child's personality can be influenced by the way his family treats him. When the time comes, an able surgeon can bring the two sides of the lip together so that the child will be normal.

As Dr. Massengill says, the team that helps these children ideally consists of a plastic surgeon who specializes in working on the jaw area of the face, a pediatrician, an orthodontist (a specialist in straightening the teeth), a speech pathologist, a psychologist, and perhaps an audiologist (a specialist in hearing), an oral surgeon, and a psychiatric social worker. This type of team approach is used at Duke University.

Dr. Massengill feels that it is essential that the parents be taught to treat their child just as lovingly as they would if he had been born without the defect; otherwise he can become an extremely unhappy and even mentally disturbed person.

It is amazing what miracles can be performed by skillful plastic surgeons. One of the most remarkable bits of such work I ever saw was done by that fine plastic surgeon in Memphis, Tennessee, Dr. MacCarthy DeMere. A man tried to kill himself by putting a gun into his mouth and pulling the trigger; the tragic result was that he blew off half of his face, but somehow managed to live. His desire to live returned, and Dr. DeMere was able to reconstruct his face so skillfully that he looked remarkably well.

If you would like to have more information on epilepsy, its causes and various types of treatments send for Dr. Alvarez' 26-page booklet "What Is Epilepsy?" Be sure to include a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents with your request. Mail to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. CCC, Box 957, Des Moines, Iowa 50304.

Zonta Club sees Artrain slides

The Zonta Club of Cass City met at the home of Dorothy Ballard Tuesday night for their monthly dinner meeting. Helen Stevens was co-hostess.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Holly Althaver who explained the Artrain with interesting slides. Cass City will sponsor the Michigan Artrain which will be in Cass City in late July. This program is sponsored by the Michigan Art's Council. Holly is the Community Art Co-ordinator of the program. She explained what this program would mean to Cass City.

Projects were discussed at the business meeting. The committee reported on a cardparty which will be held at the Cultural Center Tuesday, Feb. 8. Tickets are available from Zonta members. Marie Roch was appointed treasurer to fill a vacancy.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Helen Baker Tuesday, Feb. 15. Marie Roch will be the co-hostess.

TINKER TOY CHURCH

And it has a silver bell on the steeple and a cross on top. No one suggested to Bobby that he use his birthday toy this way. He did it himself.

He could have made a ferris wheel, or a barn, or a wagon. But, as it happens, he made a church. Maybe it is because, since he was a tot, the Church has been so important in his life.

To Bobby the Church represents a warmth and love that made him want to "build one of his own."

Does your child feel that way?

FARM BUREAU

The North Elmwood Farm Bureau meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Gostin. Several members and five guests were present. The guests were Miss Becky Loomis, Mike Klinkman, Mrs. Howard Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Hedlev.

Following the regular business meeting, Miss Loomis and Mike Klinkman gave a report on the citizenship seminar they attended last August at Ferris State College, Big Rapids.

After the meeting, cards were played and lunch was served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Loomis Monday, Feb. 21.

Cadette Girl Scout Troop 150 presented a fashion show at the school gym Wednesday evening. Several of the girls and some ladies modeled the spring and summer styles. A door prize went to Mrs. Tim Lenhard of Owendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karr and Mrs. Ada Salgat went to Ailsa Craig, Canada, Wednesday to attend funeral services for a cousin, Laurence McKenzie, 75.

Mrs. Mose Karr accompanied her daughter and husband to Ann Arbor Jan. 16 and on Jan. 29 will go to San Diego, Calif., to stay with her daughter and husband for a two months' visit.

Girl Scout Troop 711, at a recent meeting, selected new patrol leaders: Peggy Repshinska, Lori Ziehm and Carol Parker. Patrol leader assistants are Barbara Wright, Debra Rockefeller and Yvonne Strouth. Chairman is Susan Russell. They recently held an investiture ceremony for Carol Parker.

AROUND THE FARM
rations

by William Bortel

Tuscola county dairymen are giving glowing reports on a new method of formulating dairy rations. It's done by computer, and rations so formulated are least-cost, if dairymen let them be, and nutritionally balanced.

The computer method was devised by Michigan State University personnel and it is being used in 30 counties in Michigan. The overall results from a study of 50 dairymen showed a saving of up to 8 to 10 cents per cow per day in the rations formulated by the computer. At a dime, that's $1,500 a year for a 5-cow herd.

Feed calves balanced ration

A good calf ration is the key to producing a good milk cow. Michigan State University dairy scientists offer these guidelines, states Bill Bortel, Tuscola County Extension Director.

Eliminate milk when calves are four to five weeks of age, provided they are consuming 1 to 1 1/2 pounds daily of a good quality starter ration.

Feed replacement heifers from 3 to 5 pounds daily of a starter ration until they are 7 to 8 weeks of age. Then, gradually replace calf starter with a lower protein (12 to 14 percent) grain ration.

At 3 months, calves will grow normally on a ration of farm grains and hay or silage supplemented with protein to provide a total ration containing 12 to 13 per cent protein, plus salt, minerals and water. The amount of grain ration depends on the quality of forages fed and the desired growth rate, but usually 2 to 4 pounds daily is enough.

At 9 to 11 months old, calves are sexually mature and can gain 1.2 to 1.8 pounds daily on forages properly balanced with protein, minerals and water. They need only enough extra energy, as grain, to supplement low quality forages.

Yearlings will grow 1.8 to 2 pounds per day when fed corn silage free choice. They'll eat 2 to 2 1/4 pounds of corn silage dry matter per 100 pounds of body weight or about 6 to 7 pounds of 32 per cent moisture silage per 100 pounds of body weight daily. If fed free choice, corn silage with high grain content may cause heifers to become too fat.

Feed protein supplements with corn silage and other low protein forages. Adding 8 to 10 pounds of urea per ton of silage and ensiling will provide satisfactory growth. Balance high corn silage diets with calcium, phosphorus and trace mineralized salt.

Heifers fed early harvested alfalfa hay or silage grow more rapidly and require 20 to 25 per cent less feed to produce the same amount of gain than heifers fed alfalfa harvested 20 days later in northern states like Michigan. In MSU tests, heifers fed early cut hay grew more rapidly than those fed early cut alfalfa silage, but they required 16 per cent more dry matter per pound of gain. In similar tests, adding 0.5 per cent urea (10 pounds per ton) to corn silage at ensiling time increased the growth rate 5 per cent and reduced the pounds of dry matter required per pound of gain by 8 per cent. Addition of urea to lower protein silage gives even more dramatic effects. In general heifers fed corn silage required only 60 to 75 per cent as much feed dry matter per pound of growth as heifers fed hay.

Heifers on pasture often require supplemental hay, silage or grain to maintain normal growth. Heifers less than one year of age usually require 2 to 4 pounds of grain daily in addition to the pasture forage.

4-H ACTIVITIES

Slate TV ecology

By Bernard Jardot

The first meeting of the new 4-H TV Environmental Conservation Club came to order on Channel 19, Delta College, Bay City, Tuesday, Jan. 25, at 7:30 p. m. The same program will be repeated Friday, Jan. 28, at 2:00 p. m. There will be 10 weekly program series and each will be shown as scheduled above.

This program has been sent to each school, but individuals may enroll on their own. They should contact the Extension 4-H office, Civil Defense Center, Caro. They can receive a free copy of the instruction booklet.

The Tuscola County Soil Conservation District has contributed to this TV program.

The self-satisfied man has reached the jumping-off place.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Clem Webster reported to the fellers at the country store Saturday night where he had saw more farmers and ranchers was killed on the job last year than in any other working group. Living off the land, according to this place Clem read, is the third most dangerous occupation they is.

Bug Hookum said he didn't know what the No. 1 and No. 2 jobs was, unless it was dodging cars and working as a lightning rod. Bug allowed the American Public Health Association that got up that study don't know the half of it. Farmers and ranchers that survive from one year to the next just barely make it. Bug said he and his old lady just tend a garden, but that's more than enough.

For instant, Bug said, last summer he tried to get up by sun time, work by standard time, go for the mail and watch television on daylight time and go to bed by God's time, and he had one heckuva time all around. And from what Bug said he reads in the farm journals about rotating and estimating crops and income, it ain't no wonder a farmer gits his mind on other matters and gits hurt. He's like the workers that turn out "Monday cars" on assembly lines. The car companies say Monday cars are the lemons cause everybody has their mind on the weekend and can't do their job.

lect this feller saying on television that ever person in the United States is worth $90,000. He went on to say that was counting what's in the ground, like coal and gas. Figgering that way, my little place is worth $200,000 if it'll grow a $2,000 crop ever year for the next century. Some of the crackpot stuff makes you doubt the rest of it. I heard of this feller that was studying fleas. He taught the flea to do tricks, and he wrote down everything. He pulled off two of the flea's legs and he'd still do tricks. When he pulled off all six legs and the flea wouldn't do nothing, the feller wrote that when you remove all a flea's legs he goes dead.

General speaking, we got to doubt most of the stuff we read about. I saw this piece in a old magazine in the barber shop where this preacher said he was in contact with the hereafter, on the hot line I reckon. He told about conditions down below and they seemed to be pritty much like he sees the world, so I guess he was saying that what we're here after will have a heap to do with our hereafter. I don't doubt his message, Mister Editor, jest his means.

Personal, I figger living is gitting more and more hazardous to my health. I took a spell of the cold last week and my old lady said that after he's 60, a man ain't nothing but a maintenance problem anyhow. But I ain't wanting no early looks at the hereafter.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Michigan Mirror

Austin proposes election, traffic safety legislation

While much recent attention denis with legislative programs proposed by Gov. William C. Milliken and various legislators, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin has drawn up proposals for significant change in two of the most important areas of his responsibility.

If enacted, they would change the state picture significantly in both the fields of elections and traffic safety. In one area, they would actually combine the two.

Austin wants people to register to vote at the same time they apply for or renew a driver's license. This would save time and travel for the citizen; consolidate records; or renew a driver's license. If this were done, he says, more people would be eligible to vote, and registration would be done on a regular, efficient basis rather than on a rush basis right before the deadline which precedes election day.

If he can't bring about this change, Austin would at least like to stop the removal from voting rolls of all voters who don't vote for a two year period. He'd like to see the period extended to four years.

This is hardly for purely altruistic reasons. It is well known many Democratic voters tend to vote only in presidential elections. That means they have to go out and register to vote before each presidential election.

Republicans, on the other hand, are more faithful about casting their ballot during off-year elections as well as in presidential years.

Although it seems impossible to control, Austin also would like to see more limits placed on campaign spending in the state.

*Presently candidates and supporting committees are supposedly limited to four cents per eligible voter, but there is no limit on the number of committees behind each candidate," he points out.

Austin would like to see stringent standards of 10 cents per voter put on all advertising in general elections and a lower limitation for primary elections. There are questions of constitutionality here because the right of people to pay to support a candidate must be dealt with.

More steps to eliminate bad drivers from the road is another Austin goal.

First, he would like to give persons convicted of driving while ability is impaired by alcohol or drugs six points on the driver's license instead of the present four.

He would also like to make sure persons who drive with a revoked or suspended driver's license serve 72 consecutive hours in jail under the law now requiring three days imprisonment. He says some judges allow persons to fulfill the three day requirement by serving Saturday night, Sunday and then leaving on Monday morning.

The Secretary of State also would like to set up a system where physicians routinely report medical conditions of patients whose situation might impair a driver's ability to control his vehicle. This would include having hospitals notify the Secretary of State whenever they admit a driver for the treatment of alcoholism.

BRICKS GO

The march of time is about to eliminate the brick road in Michigan.

At last count, there were only 5.9 miles of brick road left in the state highway system. That's out of a total of 9,251 miles in the state highway system.

The longest section of brick paved highway in the state system is a one-half mile section of Saginaw Street in downtown Flint. The remaining 5.4 miles are scattered through 16 lower peninsula counties.

Bricks originally were used to replace decaying plank roads and were considered quite an innovation. But they were slippery when wet or snow covered and dislodged and cracked by trucks, snow plows and fast moving automobiles. When concrete and asphalt made their debut in highway construction, the use of bricks declined.

Many of the brick surfaces on the state highway system were never removed, but were covered by an asphalt covering.

CRYING NEED

When somebody finally solves the high-cost-of-living problem, he can be called in to do his stuff for the traffic snarl.

DUTY BOUND

There's nothing wrong if your opinions differ with other's—it's positive proof that you are doing your own thinking.

Coming Auctions

Saturday, Jan. 29 - Mrs. Emma Schlicht will sell farm machinery at the location nine miles west of Caro at the corner of Kirk Rd. and M-81.

Saturday, Feb. 12 - Paul O'Brien will sell farm machinery at auction four miles north and 1 1/4 west of Caro on Dutcher Rd.

Wednesday, Feb. 16 - Mrs. Burton Gettel will sell farm machinery at the premises six miles east and two miles south of Sebewaing, corner of McAlpine and Pobanz Rds.

Saturday, Feb. 26 - Arthur DeWyse will sell farm machinery and potato equipment one mile north and one-fourth mile east of Munger on E. Russell Rd.

Discussions establish facts—most arguments are used for the purpose of refuting them.

AGENT'S CORNER

Encourage children to read

Mrs. Margaret Ross - Extension Agent

When your child is tired of playing, encourage him to read a book geared to his interest level. Your librarian should be able to suggest many.

Sharing a book can be an exciting experience for both of you.

Some of the classics capture a child's imagination, bringing new interests and experiences into his world. What boy or girl could pass up the suspense in Robinson Crusoe or a trip to Treasure Island? Fascinate them with the adventures of the Swiss Family Robinson, or let them relive the Oklahoma land rush in Cimarron.

Magazines, periodicals and newspapers can also make interesting reading for a youngster.

But providing your child with good literature isn't the complete answer. Let him sit alone in a comfortable, quiet, well-lighted spot with few distractions. Ask him about the book as he finishes, or read it yourself. If you find yourself reliving your own childhood, by all means show your excitement. As your child catches your enthusiasm, his reading appetite can only increase.

I suggest a test to determine what books your child might understand. Pick out a hundred-word section on any page and ask him to read them aloud. If he misses more than five, the book is too hard. Two or three words missed indicates the book is in his range.

Official Proceedings of The TUSCOLA COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

NOVEMBER 9, 1971

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners was called to order by the Chairman Shuford Kirk.

Roll Call: all present except Woodcock.

Robert Wellington of the Tuscola County Road Commission presented a letter of endorsement of the location and need for a new highway garage. The Chairman signed the endorsement.

Mac O'Dell of the Equalization Department appeared before the Board with a request for an appraiser and a classification change for the clerk in his office. The request was referred to the Finance and the Personnel Committees.

Commissioner Tuckey reported on the meeting he attended with Dairy Extension Specialist of the Ohio Extension Office.

Commissioner Tuckey presented vouchers from the County Road and moved that they be allowed and paid from Road Commission Funds. Supported by Graf. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Golding supported by Graf the County Treasurer Arthur Willits be authorized to purchase a 100 percent short term tax bond from the Ohio Casualty Group and that the Treasurer be instructed to charge each school district for their pro-rated share of the cost.

Recess for Lunch.

AFTERNOON SESSION — NOVEMBER 9, 1971

Discussion was had on operation of the Equalization Department and suggested changes in the Department.

COUNTY OF TUSCOLA
BANK DEPOSITORY AGREEMENT

"THE CONTRACT AND AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 1st day of January, 1972, by and between the duly authorized representatives of the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners, Charles Woodcock, Chairman of the County Finance Committee, said County of Tuscola, hereinafter designated as the DEPOSITOR, and the State Savings Bank of Caro, Michigan, and the Peoples State Bank of Caro, Michigan, hereinafter designated as the BANKS.

NOW THEREFORE, IT IS mutually agreed by and between the DEPOSITOR AND THE BANKS, that commencing as of January 1, 1972 and continuing for a period of one (1) year thereafter, terminating as of December 31, 1972, deposits will be made at the BANKS as follows:

1st. The Treasurer of the County of Tuscola is to deposit all public monies, including tax monies coming into his hands, belonging to the general checking account, in the State Savings Bank of Caro, Michigan. The Treasurer of the County of Tuscola is to deposit all monies of the trust and agency funds in the Peoples State Bank of Caro, Michigan, subject to the following condition:

A. In the event that the public monies in the hands of the Treasurer of Tuscola County exceed the sum of Two Hundred Thousand and no-100 ($200,000.00) Dollars then Depositor, at the discretion of the County Investment Committee, consisting of the Chairman of the Finance Committee, County Treasurer, County Clerk, Register of Deeds and the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, has the right to deposit the excess up to the sum of Twenty-Five Thousand and no-100 ($25,000.00) Dollars, in any of the following banks:

The Pinney State Bank; Cass City State Bank; State Bank of Vassar; Frankmunth State Bank; Reese, Michigan; Frankmunth State Bank; Millington, Michigan; Farmers & Merchants State Bank of Sebewang, Galetown, Michigan; State Savings Bank of Unionville; Mayville State Bank; State Savings Bank of Fairgrove; Kingston State Bank; Akron State Bank.

in the following manner: At the discretion of the Tuscola County Investment Committee, consisting of the Chairman of the Finance Committee, County Treasurer, County Clerk, Register of Deeds, and the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, the excess or surplus funds, may be made available to the above named banks and deposited in Certificates of Deposit in all aforesaid banks on all monies deposited by aforesaid committees, as agreed upon by negotiations between the Depository Bank and the Tuscola County Investment Committee; subject, however, to the following condition, that is to say, that deposits made in the manner above specified shall not exceed Twenty-Five Thousand and no-100 ($25,000.00) Dollars, and in the event that the excess public monies coming into the hands of the Tuscola County Treasurer exceed said funds heretofore mentioned, the balance of the excess monies, subject to the approval of the Tuscola County Investment Committee, shall be used in the purchase of United States Government Securities.

2nd. The BANKS agree to accept the deposits of the DEPOSITOR, to honor all checks issued by the said DEPOSITOR, without any charges whatsoever for handling said deposits, and the BANKS further agree to cash any and all checks presented by the DEPOSITOR, without charge for said service.

WANTED

ROB ALEXANDER will fire his high hard one for a farm club of Milwaukee this summer.

Robbie signs bonus contract

After a five-hour negotiation session Thursday night Rob Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander of Cass City, signed a five-figure bonus contract with the Milwaukee Brewers.

The young fireballing pitcher also will receive an incentive bonus if and when he reaches the major leagues. The bonus amounts were not announced.

Alexander will report to Tempe, Ariz., Mar. 18 for spring training with the parent club before leaving for Danville, Ill., to join the Class A farm club of the Brewers. The contract is for one year, Alexander reported. The young prospect was signed by Jim Wilson, head of player development, who met with the Alexanders in Port Huron.

Alexander was the number one draft choice of the Brewers. Prior to signing, Alexander had been approached by the Kansas City Royals as a free agent but did not agree to the terms offered.

Alexander has grown since graduating from high school. He is now 6 feet, 2 1/2 inches and weighs 220 pounds.

He plans to work out at the Cass City gym and report for spring training at 210 pounds.

The Brewers were impressed with Alexander's size and his "live" fast ball.

Hawks lose pair; prep for Caro

The Cass City Red Hawks bounced back from a dismal effort against the Lakers to play a sound spirited basketball game Tuesday before bowing to tall Freeland, 79-73.

The teams that opened the season met again and this time Freeland turned the tables on Cass City. In the opening game, the visitors from the Saginaw area played as if they won the game before stepping on the floor and Cass City surprised them into defeat.

Freeland was ready Tuesday, but so was Cass City. The game was even closer than the final score indicated.

The Hawks trailed all the way. At one time the margin was 10 points. But instead of folding, Cass City came on strong in the final quarter to pull within two points midway in the last period.

But Freeland was equal to the challenge and staved off the threat. What spelled the difference was Kerry Collins, the dominant player on the floor. The 6-foot, 7-inch center scored 30 points and controlled the backboards for the winners.

While Cass City is not winning, most close observers of the game feel that they are improving as the season progresses.

Last night Nick Gibas played his first minute of varsity ball and while he didn't set the world on fire he showed signs of becoming a valuable addition to the team.

Randy Wright is showing steady improvement and it appears that Coach Fred Hurlburt will have a stronger bench to turn to in the last half of the season.

The Hawks alternated a zone and man-to-man defense during the game, the defense fans are apt to see the remainder of the season.

The Hawks trailed at the end of the first quarter, 16-11.

At the half Freeland had upped the margin to eight points.

In the third quarter the teams played on nearly even terms as Freeland ended the quarter on the long end of a 63-54 score.

Paul Bliss and Scott Hartel led the attack for Cass City. Hartel scored 21 points and Bliss chipped in 20 while playing a fine floor game from his guard post.

The Hawks will need to be at their best Friday when the second half of the Thumb B Conference schedule starts. Cass City entertains the Caro Tigers, now tied for second in the league with Bad Axe.

JV'S LOSE

In the preliminary, the Cass City JV squad lost a tight battle to the Freeland Junior Varsity. The Hawks were hurt in the stretch run as three regulars were forced from the game with five fouls.

LAKERS GAME

It was a very good game until Bill McCairns returned to the Lakers line-up Friday night and then it was no game at all. Cass City lost a one-sided 88-57 decision to the defending Thumb B Conference champions on the Lakers' home court.

The Lakers started with McCairns on the bench because of an injured knee and while he was sitting it out, the Hawks played on even terms. At the end of the first period Cass City led by 2 points.

When McCairns came bounding back to his familiar center slot, Cass City went into a semi-stall. The same offense that proved successful against the Green and White in the first game between the two clubs last season.

But this year the Lakers were ready and the change in offensive style failed to slow the Laker express.

Compounding the Hawk problem was stone cold shooting in the second and third periods. At the end of the first two periods, the Lakers had forged in front, 36-24, and the Hawks went rapidly down hill from this point on.

Cass City was led by Paul Bliss with 17 points and Scott Hartel with 13. Dave Hillaker chipped in with nine points and Fred Harbec hit four field goals for eight points.

The Lakers featured balanced scoring with Randy Damm leading the way with 18 points. Ray Leppien scored 16 and McCairns, 15. Also in double figures was Jim O'Connor with 14 points.

The Lakers made it a clean sweep with a victory in the preliminary game with a tight 61-59 decision over the Hawk Junior Varsity.

C. Janowiak dies Monday

Clements S. Janowiak, 62, former Argyle tavern owner, died Monday, Jan. 24, at Saginaw Osteopathic Hospital following a long illness.

He was born June 5, 1909, in Austin township, Sanilac county. He moved to Detroit where he resided until returning to Argyle to purchase the Argyle Tavern in 1940. He moved to Uby in 1951 and was a former employee of General Cable, Cass City. He retired several years ago due to ill health.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Anna Janowiak of Uby; three brothers, Arthur of Uby, Herbert of Bad Axe and Irvin of Detroit; three sisters, Mrs. Irene Kowalski and Mrs. Al Oleksiak, both of Detroit, and Mrs. Roman Smith of Minden City.

Rosary was to have been recited Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Zinger Funeral Home, Uby.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. at St. John's Catholic Church, Uby. Rev. Bernard Skornia is to officiate with burial in the church cemetery.

Schools need not make up days

The recent snow storms have resulted in two days of cancelled classes for Cass City schools and three days of partial attendance.

The snow days were claimed for Jan. 5 and 7. Twice students were dismissed at 12:30 p. m., and last Friday they were let out of classes at 2:30 p. m.

State regulations do not require that snow days be made up at another time of the year. The only attendance requirements are 180 student instruction days and 900 class hours, said Superintendent Donald Crouse.

"We do not have to make up act of God days," he said.

KIP HOPPER breaks through for a close-in shot Friday against the Lakers. But the league leaders thoroughly dominated the game and walked off with an easy victory.

It is with sincere regret that we announce retirement of two of the Bank's Directors this month, both of whom have served in their respective positions faithfully and well for a number of years.

• Dorus W. Benkelman has been actively connected with the bank for 53 years, the first 38 years of which he was a full-time employee (1919-1957). After service in World War I, he began work at the bank in 1919, became Assistant Cashier in 1921, Cashier in 1950, and Vice-President in 1953. In the meantime he was also elected Director in 1944, and he continued to fill that position after retirement from full-time bank duties in 1957. Few officers or directors of any bank can point to a career spanning as many years, and we are proud to acknowledge Mr. Benkelman's many contributions to the bank's growth and welfare during those years.

• Horace M. Bulen was elected Director of the bank in March, 1951, and along with his own private business duties, and the responsibilities of other civic positions which he filled, he has rendered able and competent service to the bank on the Board of Directors for nearly twenty-one years. We are very grateful.

We also wish to announce the election of two new members to our Board of Directors this month, being both of whom are well known young men in our community, having lived here their whole lifetime.

Other officers and directors of the bank remain the same as they have for the past several years, with the addition of Richard M. Shaw as newly appointed Assistant Cashier. Mr. Shaw entered the bank's employ last year.

UP AND IN went this close-in shot by Fred Harbec Tuesday at Freeland. But it wasn't enough as Kerry Collins, 52, dominated the boards to bring his team a narrow victory.
