

FROM THE Editor's Corner

The administration at Cass City Schools is contemplating a change in the athletic program at the intermediate school level. The word leaked out last week that the school board met "around the coffee table" after a regular board meeting and decided to see if the interscholastic program could be changed to an intramural program.

The background here is that in recent years, grades 5-8 have played limited schedules with other area schools with a tournament at the end of the season.

The grades practiced under coaches and learned fundamentals of basketball.

In some grades all of the boys haven't been able to play in games although this year all of the boys in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades played in every game. Still there have been years when they didn't.

Under the proposed plan these games with other schools are kaput and an intramural program will pit teams from among each class against each other in a "league".

The reasoning is that it will keep the boys all interested in the program and develop players for the varsity that might have quit because they weren't playing enough.

After the intramural season the best boys would be picked and enter the various tournaments to play against boys who have played together as a team all season.

There are strong arguments for intramural programs, but developing talent for the varsity squad just can't be one of them. Talent isn't developed by playing pick-up scrimmage games once a week.

It appears that the administration is considering an intramural or an interscholastic program... not both.

Whether or not it's possible to run both has not yet been studied.

Perhaps the priorities should be for an intramural program. If so, the reasoning that makes it good for the grades should make it good for the high school.

Cancel varsity sports and institute intramural programs and you'll have more players participating. In 3 of the grade teams today there are 30 or more players on each squad. In the total high school program there are about 25.

If we continue to compete in the Thumb B Conference we should play with an equal start with the rest of the teams.

We're just recovering today from the lack of an athletic program in the grades seven or eight years ago. Nearly everyone agrees that we don't need any more big losers.

It's essential in basketball to start early to compete on the sophisticated level that high schools have attained.

Perhaps the school board and the administration should lay the program before the taxpayers and let them have a voice in the way it operates.

After all they do pay the bills.

Wheat loss makes farm scene gloomy

Farmers began planting in earnest last week, trying to make up for the approximately two week delay due to soggy fields.

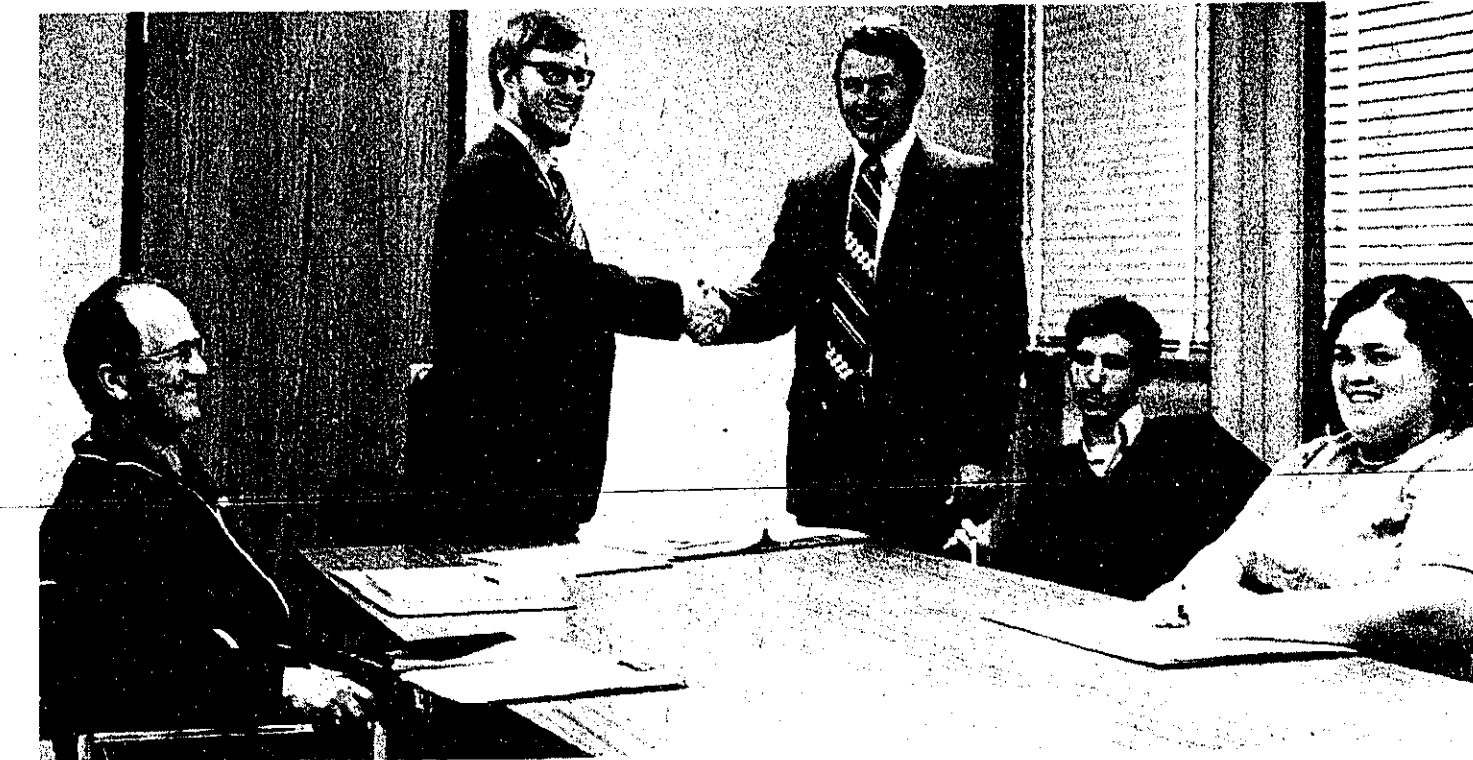

The farm situation looks gloomy at the present time, said Bill Bortel, County Extension Agent, with the revelation last week that about 50 per cent of the county's winter wheat has been destroyed and another 25 per cent damaged due to the cold winds of April and the exceptionally large growth last fall.

Many of the 20,000 acres destroyed are being plowed up and will be sowed with another crop, he stated.

"The farmers will be forced to plant more spring crops of corn with primarily heavy emphasis on more beans," he said.

Bob Wischmeyer of Michigan Bean Elevator, Cass City, said that "at the present time it looks like more beans will be planted," but it'll be another couple of weeks before sale of seed indicates the true trend.

The increase predicted in beans will add pressure to the Gagetown woman hospitalized when car slams into tree

Linda Rose Murawski, 21, of Gagetown is listed in good condition in Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City, where she is recovering from injuries sustained in a Saturday morning accident.

Miss Murawski suffered lacerations of the head, left hand and right leg, around 10:30 when the car she was driving east on Bay City-Forestville Road struck bumpers with a dump truck about a mile east of Gagetown, and went out of control, striking a tree at the north side of the road.

The car, which skidded down a steep embankment before striking the tree, was completely demolished. The driver was pinned in the car while rescue workers struggled to free her.

State Police from the Bad Axe post said the Murawski auto was passing a dump truck also headed east being driven by Leo Czewski, 63, Ubly. He told police that the right rear bumper of the car locked momentarily with the left front bumper of the truck causing the auto to skid out of control. Czewski was not injured.

Robert Hicks, 30, Lampton Road, Deford, was released Wednesday, April 26, from Lapeer General Hospital, where he was treated for injuries received in an April 21 auto accident. Hicks was alone in his car south bound on M-53 when the vehicle left the roadway near Caldwell Road and rolled over twice. The accident occurred about 9:58 p. m., said the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department.

Other minor accidents were investigated by police authorities.

Larry Chester Sokol, 29, of 115 Fremont St., Caro, was treated at Caro Community Hospital for injuries sustained when the car he was driving ran off Decker-ville Road, 1/2 mile west of Phillips Road, and struck two trees belonging to Rose Dimitrijevic, Deford. The accident occurred at 9:10 p. m. Sunday, according to Tuscola County Sheriff's reports.

Fred Lynn Henderson, 20, Marton Road, Kingston, was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way Saturday when he was heading west on M-46 and made a left turn in front of a car driven by Emily Kathleen McCool, 27, White Creek Road, Kingston. Both escaped injury in the 9:05 p. m. collision.

Doris Jean Dillon, 16, 4975 Colwood Road, Unionville, and Bruce Wayne McAlpine, 26, S. Elston Road, Gagetown, escaped injury Thursday, April 27, when cars they were driving collided at the intersection of Colwood and Hoppe Roads at 6:20 p. m. McAlpine was southbound on Colwood when Miss Dillon, who was westbound on Hoppe, failed to see the other car and made the turn.

Minor damage was done to a parked car belonging to Lyle Roach, 7172 Gifford Road, Decker, when Donald Hendrick Finkbeiner, 35, 4137 Maple St., Cass City, backed into it Monday at 1:20 p. m. in an alley off Seeger St.

In a similar accident, Barbara Joy Generous, 23, E. Dutcher Road, Caro, backed into a parked car of Iva May Phillips, 66, 1427 Kingston Road, Deford, on Church Street near the Eria's Food parking lot. The mishap occurred at 3:30 p. m.

Doctors plan panel meet to probe drug problem

A special drug clinic will be presented under the auspices of the Medical Staff of Hills and Dales Hospital at the Cultural Center in Cass City Monday at 7:30 p. m.

It will feature a panel discussion by persons who deal with drugs and drug abuse, Byron Landholt, hospital administrator, said this week.

Included will be local law

Thursday, April 27, Cass City police reports said.

Cheyenne Lynn Turner, 18, 6185 Argyle Road, Cass City, was ticketed for a violation of the basic speed law April 26 when she was unable to stop in time to miss a car driven by Gordon Lee Frederick, 16, 6349 Church St., Cass City. Miss Turner was eastbound on Pine Street when the cars collided at the Woodland Street intersection at 5:20 p. m.

enforcement personnel, law-ers, and possibly school authorities.

The panel will attempt to search out and identify any problem that may exist in the area and come up with possible solutions.

The meeting is open to all interested residents of the community, Landholt said.

In first session

Familiar issues face school bargainers

Negotiations between the Cass City Chapter of the Michigan Education Association and the Cass City School district were kicked off Tuesday night at Cass City Schools.

In a ritual that has become about as formalized as the mating dance of the Prairie Chicken the teachers presented a list of topics for discussion and small talk about the issues followed.

Back again to head the union team is Dorland R. Kuntz, chief negotiator. Flanking him are two veterans and a novice. The veterans are Dave Ackerman and Robert Logan. Starting her first year as the member of the union team is Phoebe Wiles.

The team presented Negotiator Al Luce and Supt. Donald Crouse a list of nine items that they wanted to bargain over and most of them are familiar to persons who have followed negotiations in past years.

Number one on the list is binding arbitration. It's an issue the teachers have constantly strived for and one the administration has stubbornly resisted.

Also back for consideration is class size. The teachers want them reduced. Duty free lunch period and recess time and the school calendar have again made the agenda.

The teachers are asking for more teaching specialists in the system. They seek a full time teacher to handle art, music and physical education in the elementary school and a reading specialist for the entire system.

A request on the agenda for the first time this year is for a counselor in the Intermediate School.

If past trends mean anything, none of these items, except binding arbitration, have proved to be stumbling blocks to a settlement.

The nitty-gritty questions, the questions that are likely to keep bargaining teams hammering away to the wee hours in the morning as talks progress are essentially the same as they have always been.

They are salary, fringe benefits and time off. The teachers are asking for four personal business days. That's time off from school for personal business with no questions asked. Last year the teachers won a day for the first year of school service and two days after five years.

The teachers are asking for enlarged insurance coverage with a $10,000 life policy added to the coverage.

These issues are the preamble to the real gut issue: the salary schedule for 1972-73. It's likely that this will not be discussed for several meetings.

While it could be a defusion quickly dispelled in following sessions the bargaining atmosphere seemed friendlier this year than in previous sessions.

As usual negotiations will be influenced by outside economic consideration. The primary one will be what is the State going to do about school funds? The second is the Federal guidelines for inflation checks.

In special election

Seek 3/4 mill for special education

Voters in Tuscola county will be asked Monday to approve a quarter of a mill increase in taxes to finance the Tuscola County Intermediate School District special education program.

Presently the program operates on three-quarters of a mill. The program started 11 years ago and has grown rapidly both in cost and services offered.

According to a fact sheet issued by the district special education expenditures totaled $312,319 in 1971-72, a little over twice the cost of the program seven years ago, the first year that costs were detailed.

Along with the increase in costs have come an increase in services. In 1964-65, the department hired 3 speech therapists and a diagnostician and operated a trainable classroom. Now there are a director, 6 speech therapists, 21 diagnosticians, a social worker, teacher-counselor for emotionally disturbed and 3 trainable classrooms. There are also an occupational therapist and physical therapist.

A quarter of a mill will raise about $60,000 locally. Since about a third of special education funds comes from taxes sent to the State the additional levy would add $90,000 to the program. If the additional levy is authorized it will continue indefinitely.

Authorities of the Intermediate District say that the program is inadequate when compared to State standards in classrooms for physically handicapped, emotionally handicapped, teacher-consultants, school social workers and speech correctionists.

The polls for Cass City School District voters will be at Cass City Schools. Any registered voters of the Tuscola Intermediate School District may vote. It is not necessary to be a taxpayer to cast a ballot.

Special education authorities feel that only about half of the 2,800 students in the Intermediate District who need service are now receiving special education.

Husband-wife team train, drive horses

By Kit McMillion

The small, still-unfinished barn and the rough track carved out of the grass behind is not an impressive-looking horse farm yet, but for Vern and Barbara Newell, it is a dream realized. Sitting in the less than spacious trailer which is home, the two horse trainers reminisced about horses they've known and shared plans for their newly acquired farm with the casual friendliness extended to anyone who shares their life interest. Photographs of horses crowd the walls and the smell of manure lingers almost pleasantly.

The Newells, with their two girls, Kath, 10, and Kim, 9, moved from Fowlerville last September with 9 horses to their 59 acres on Deckerville Road, three miles east of Cemetery Road.

They train the horses and within a month or so will start the young trotters on their real education with entry in the early races.

Vern, who began his career as a boy helping his father who was a horse dealer, has been driving some 40 plus years.

Barbara has been at it only eight years, but after coming up the hard way, drove well enough and long enough to earn one of 13 pari-mutuel driving licenses awarded to women in the United States by the U. S. Trotting Association. She received the 'P' license about three years ago. There is only one grade license higher.

The horse she drove to qualify for the license was an animal called Benny Hunch. "He was the hardest one to drive," she recalled.

"He was a pacer, and we put him on the trot," said Vern. "I told Barb I wish I had a better horse for you," he said, explaining they'd been warned about the animal being head strong.

"But he broke right out," laughed Barb, and she got her license.

They later sold the horse to a man in Nova Scotia who called once to complain about the trouble he was having.

"I told him my wife drove him. 'If she can, I can,' he said, and hung up," chuckled Vern.

Earning her license through the traditional apprenticeship, "I came up the hard way," she stated. "I carried the manure basket three years before I drove a horse."

Only 30 now, she began the struggle years ago.

"I always wanted to race horses. When I was 10 years old, I saw my first horse race and I decided that's what I wanted to do," she related.

Her first job came when she went to work at age 17 for the man she eventually married.

Participating in what has traditionally been a man's world has resulted in some problems. "They try her all the time," remarked Vern.

But Barb doesn't get overly upset about it.

"Just drive clean and they'll leave you alone," she stated. The men sometimes try to push her around on the track, but she said she usually gets back at them.

"A man will try once or twice and then he finds out I mean business," she said, adding matter of factly, "After a while, they forget who you are."

The two work hard to keep up with the expenses of feeding and caring for the registered Standardbreds they train and own, taking the bad along with the good.

"Everything we own or did, we made the money with horses," sighed Vern, the twinkle still in his crisp blue eyes set in a face made rugged by years of sun and wind sitting behind a horse.

"We broke some track records," he proudly quoted, some of them still standing.

With a horse called Michael Song, he broke the track record in 1965 in Big Rapids with a time of 2: 05.3 for a mile, and a week later set the record at Hastings with the same horse at 2:06.

They race at fairs in Michigan and nearby states, and travel ing the fair circuit is sometimes grueling work, with 12 to 18 hour days. But the horses are little problem. The major difficulty is the crowds.

"That's the biggest problem with a fair--controlling the crowd," Barbara stated emphatically, denouncing the persons who feed the horses Coke, popcorn and cotton candy.

"If you put up a sign 'Bad Horse', that just draws 'em," she said.

Besides the danger to the valuable race animals, the horses can be discolored due to the caffeine in some of the pops. It shows up as a drug and can bar the trainers from future races.

One fair they won't be racing at this year is Caro.

"Once you're jinxed. . . .," Barbara shook her head.

Last year one of their animals died tragically at the grounds from an electric shock.

In the past they wintered at fairgrounds, too, but this year they spent it building the barn. It's not quite finished, but plans for fencing and enlarging the track are the next items of consideration.

And eventually, they'll build a house.

Mester bound

over to Sanilac

County Court

Charles E. Mester, 19, Shabbona Road, Deford, was bound over to Sanilac county Circuit Court Monday afternoon on a charge of negligent homicide.

The decision came following a preliminary examination in district court. Arraignment in circuit court has not been scheduled at this time.

Mester is charged with running a stop sign on M-81, resulting in an April 13 accident at the M-53 intersection which claimed the life of Roger Richmond, 26, a MSU medical student. Richmond was north bound on M-53.

HORSE TRAINERS Vern and Barbara Newell show off a promising 3-year-old colt named Winter's Dream. Both train and drive harness horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Tank

Jane Laurie of Cass City and Dennis Tank of Caro were united in marriage April 1 during a 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony at the Gagetown United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Paul Amstutz, clergyman, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of ivory silk organza with an Empire waistline and leg-o-mutton sleeves. Cluny lace trimmed the ruffled neckline, bodice, sleeves and ruffles of the flounce hemline, which swept into a chapel length train. A band of organza secured her waistline and formed a bow in the back.

Completing her attire was a camelot headpiece of matching lace securing her veil of ivory silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses, spring flowers and baby's breath.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Dale Wissner of Caro, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Janice Hendricks, Tecumseh; Miss Denise Tank, Caro, sister of the groom, and Miss Faye Osen-toski, Ubyly.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of hot orange voile. Ivory cluny lace accented the full bishop sleeves and hemline of the gathered skirt. Hot orange head pieces of silk illusion veiling and satin ribbon accented their attire.

The attendants carried bouquets of orange daisies, spring flowers, and baby's breath. Best man was Garry Timmins, Caro. Groomsman were Rick Hess, Vassar, brother-in-law of the groom; Pete Horelick, San Fernando Valley, Calif., and Randy Foss, Marlette.

A reception was held at the Gagetown Elementary School immediately following the ceremony.

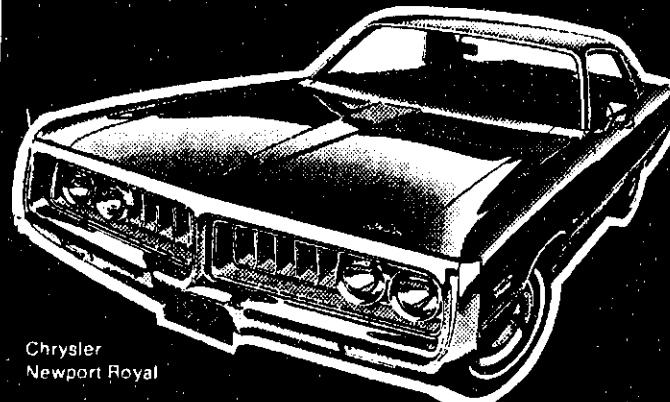

The couple is at home at 209 Sutton Ave., Apt. 1, Fayetteville, N. C., where the groom is stationed with the U. S. Army at Ft. Bragg, following a one-week wedding trip through the southeastern United States.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laurie, Cass City. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tank Jr., Caro.

Here's a local sidelight on the recent player strike in Major League baseball. It comes from Rob Alexander, via his dad, and could explain why the major leaguers could consider a strike.

Remember, that most of these guys spent from one to five years in the minors.

Rob started his baseball career this spring in Class A and received the standard rate for meal money... $2.50 per day. After the strike the money was boosted to $5 per day.

It's certain that the players won't be drinking rare French wines with their meals at the new rate, but it should be possible to get by... just barely.

But youth is adaptable. Rob's parents report that Rob and his teammates are becoming experts, seeking out church suppers in whatever town they happen to be.

The Chronicle went Mod this week. Not by design, by necessity. The reason is that we've added some new, expensive hardware to the composing room that is giving the entire staff headaches.

The machine is not zeroed in yet so it misses a letter or a capital every once in a while or leaves a space like this.

One of the letters it missed is an "r" like in Mrs. It fouled up in the Holbrook news. So if you'll look, you'll find a lot of new style Ms. instead of the traditional Mrs. in the news from that area (You're apt to find it elsewhere, too). Still, we're not ready yet to completely bow to women's lib (except at home) so next week hopefully we'll be using the traditional forms again.

Speaking of women's lib, supporters will be happy to note that they have breached another bastion manned by men only.

That's Rotary in Cass City. For several years now the senior boys at Cass City High School have been weekly guests of the club... a week until all have visited.

For the first time Tuesday, two lovely senior girls (Susan Hoppe and Joan Russell) were the guests.

The men were so impressed that they promptly voted to make sure that all the senior girls are luncheon guests before school's out next month... and fined Supt. Don Crouse for not seeing that the girls were invited sooner.

There is another all male area in Cass City where girls are knocking on the door. That's Little League baseball. Although they haven't signed to play several young ladies probably would if they could.

Nationally the girls have been barred from the program. In Cass City the idea kicked around now is girls' teams playing on Saturday morning.

You can't help but speculate about girls in the league. The question is would the fathers be as vociferous in support of their daughters as mothers have been in support of their sons?

TWERP WEEK has hit Cass City High School again this week, with students dressing the part of chosen themes. Daily themes were Roaring '20's Day, Monday; TV Character Day, Tuesday; Sports Day, Wednesday; Freak Day, Thursday, and Old Fad-Greaser Day, Friday, followed by a dance and carnival that evening at the high school.

Reliving the decadent '20's are Randy Brown, Anne Tracy, on his knee; Karen Kilbourn, behind him, and Fae Hampshire, on the left.

Letter to Editor

Thanks Girl Scouts for job well done Saturday

April 30, 1972
Cass City, Mich.

Editor:

Saturday, April 29, was National Ecology Day and eighty Junior and Cadette Girl Scouts and a small group of Cub Scouts "cleaned up" on Cass City.

The Cubs' main project was the cleaning out of the petunia beds on Main St. and while they couldn't possibly clean them all, they did a great job on what they did clean.

The Girl Scouts divided into four groups and went to the north, east, south and west city limits and worked their way to the center of town. Special attention was given to the area where the Artain will be this summer, the area around the school where far too many beer bottles and cans were found. Special attention was also given to the recreation park. We tried to clean the alleys behind the stores but we soon found out that this probably would take another day and the girls were tired. They went to the park and enjoyed a wiener roast provided by a number of generous Cass City merchants and businessmen.

I am proud of Cass City too, should be proud of the fine job this small group of boys and girls did. A special "hats off" to all the leaders, volunteers, den mothers and a den father who helped make our part in "The Congressional Ecology Day" a success.

The Girl Scouts of Cass City say "Thanks".

Sincerely,
Mrs. Daniel Toner

"If It Fitz . . ."

Say it ain't so, Ed

BY JIM FITZGERALD

My thinking is warped by TV. I think it's fine for priests to get married but I'm not so sure Ed McMahon should be allowed to leave his wife.

Which has got to be peculiar. I attended a Catholic school for 12 years, majoring in Catechism and daily Mass. If I'd ever stood up in Religion class and suggested that Father McCormick should propose matrimony to Sister Clementine, a lightning bolt would have screwed me swiftly through the ground and into hell.

But somehow I have grown into an adult who thinks it is ridiculous for the Catholic Church to force its priests to live lonely, without anyone to tell them to bring home a loaf of bread. How can a priest give good advice to a troubled couple when he has never emptied 15 drawers searching for the other sock?

Man does not live by prayer alone. There should be more zing to a priest's life than an occasional sneak of wine. There is nothing zingier than raising kids with a fine woman. The pleasure should not be denied any man who wants it, no matter how round his collar.

I don't know how an ex-altar boy can harbor such obtuse notions, let alone flaunt them in public. I guess, as Mother will agree, those 12 years at St. Stephen's just didn't take. But how, then, do we explain my reaction to the news of Ed McMahon's domestic difficulties?

All you night people know McMahon is the longtime No. 2 man on Johnny Carson's TV show. No further description should be needed (I don't think day people read this nonsense anyway).

McMahon is a Catholic. In fact, I've always regarded him as Pope of Channel 4. Whenever a Catholic university or the K of C needed a celebrity to pass the hat, McMahon was their boy. Some of his best friends are bishops.

But the newspapers report McMahon has left his wife of 27 years and their four children. He is seeking a legal separation. He was quoted as saying he was "trapped by success" and was never at home anyway.

Mrs. McMahon was described as "devastated." So were a lot of TV viewers. The Catholic Church frowns mightily on "legal separations" and allows divorce only under rare circumstances. So how could Holy Ed do it?

I should quickly point out that I regard the Catholic attitude on divorce to be as silly as celibacy. To each his own, but a marriage kept intact by law alone, religious or civil, is no marriage at all. I would never presume to condemn McMahon, or to judge him at all. It's really none of my business.

But I must confess surprise. McMahon's TV image hadn't prepared his audience for domestic troubles. Johnny Carson can get divorced every week and joke about it. But not McMahon, the jolly mick who sold beer and always talked proudly of his wife and kids. Say it ain't so, Ed.

All of which proves I watch too much TV. And there should be a TV series about a married priest.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

The land now owned by Floyd and Esther Werdeman, four miles west of Cass City on Cedar Run Road, was designated a centennial farm by the Michigan Historical Commission.

Every group of employees at Cass City schools is now represented by one of three unions following the board's acceptance of a bargaining group that includes the cooks, bus drivers and custodians.

John Oswald, coach at Cass City High School for three years resigned to accept a position as head basketball coach at Walled Lake High School. Karen Wallace of Cass City, who is employed by the Cass City Public Schools, will attend an Educational Media Institute at Central Michigan University.

Miss Susan Wallace Kercher has been selected to study at Bulmersie College, Reading, England, for the 1967-68 fall semester.

TEN YEARS AGO

Carl Palmateer, 30, of Caro was selected by the Cass City Village as the new Cass City Police Chief.

Harry Russell, Gaytown, veteran member of the Tuscola County Board of Education, has resigned from the board.

Dan Erla, Cass City, was named temporary chairman of the proposed Cass City Junior Chamber of Commerce at an organizational meeting.

Cass City turkey raiser Fred Iseler spoke out against a proposed order by U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to manage supplies of turkeys.

Conversion to dial and direct distance dialing in the Cass City General Telephone exchange is set for Dec. 4.

Gary Guilds, 15, in critical condition the past week from a gunshot wound, is recovering and is expected to be released from Hills and Dales General Hospital.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Helen S. Stevens of the Stevens Nursing Home left for Chicago to attend the Tri-State Hospital convention.

Mrs. Theresa Sedick of Decker brought an orange tree which she has raised and on which hang three luscious oranges into the Chronicle office.

Miss Marian Read, a former resident of Cass City, will attend the Congress of International Council of Nurses at Atlantic City.

The community manager seal award has been presented to Cass City High School by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

The Gavel Club was divided into two groups and there was plenty of excitement as the City Slickers captured the honors from the Hay Seeds in a quiz on "Rural Subjects." Andrew Bigelow captained the City Slickers and Ed Baur the Hay Seeds.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Heller, who have been in business in Cass City for a quarter century, leased their baking establishment on Main Street to J. D. Sommers of Alpena.

Kenneth Kelley spent some time in Ann Arbor where he attended a football clinic and demonstration for high school coaches.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGillivray of Jackson have purchased the Mrs. Angus McGillivray house on West Main Street.

One of the most important elections Cass City has had in many years will be held when the electors who are taxpayers will vote on the proposition of bonding the village for $14,000, the amount the village council deems necessary for raising the village's portion of the estimated $89,000 cost to construct a sanitary sewer system and sewage disposal plant.

Maurice Fordyce, a reserve player on the baseball team of Cass City High School, broke his leg in two places just above the ankle while he was practicing sliding to a base.

Appoint Maas Walbro rep in West Germany

Wolfgang Maas, of Hamburg, West Germany, has been promoted to Manager of European Operations for Walbro Corporation, one of the world's largest suppliers of carburetors and fuel system devices. The appointment is effective immediately and was announced by R. H. Walpole, International Operations Manager.

Prior to joining Walbro three years ago as Sales-Service Engineer, Maas held executive positions in Sales and Engineering for Bing and Sorex, Europe's largest carburetor manufacturers, and for Purnex-Turco Corporation.

Bringing 35 years of carburetor experience to Walbro's European customers, Maas will operate from an office at Hamburg 1, Danziger Strasse 35. Mr. Maas, his wife, and two sons are permanent residents of Hamburg.

AROUND THE FARM Air contaminants injure plants

By Don R. Kebler

Growing plants either grow properly or they don't, and when they don't we wonder what is it that is wrong.

When the problem and question occurs are begin looking for answers such as what is wrong, how did it occur and what can one do to prevent or remedy the situation.

When examining an irregularly growing plant, I look for causing agents such as insects, root damage, nutrient deficiencies, disease, soil physical and drainage problems and herbicide damage. Many times the cause can be diagnosed according to the scientific information available and sometimes we have no answer for identification prevention or cure.

There are many unanswered questions but this week I attended a two-day seminar which adds new light to some plant irregularities heretofore not completely diagnosed. This seminar summarized several years of intensive research involving the effects of air contaminants on growing plants.

Conclusive findings are now known that identify certain airborne contaminants are present and cause injury and destruction of living plant tissue.

These were not new findings because we have known for several years that ozone does cause plant tissue destruction. This ozone has caused identifiable damage on bean plants in our county. Now the research has identified other airborne contaminants affecting plant tissue. To complicate the diagnosis procedures many airborne contaminant induced plant tissue injury or plant death symptoms very closely resemble some nutrient deficiencies, disease, insect damage and even herbicide damage. The identified airborne contaminants are ozone, other compounds of nitrogen oxides, nitrogen and sulfur dioxides, fluorides, chlorine and ethylene.

These airborne contaminants are generated many ways, a few of which are smelters, glass manufacturing, coal burning, automobile exhausts and gasses from many other manufacturing processes. Also, the greatest amount of plant injury and destruction occurs closest to industrial, high population areas and near certain isolated manufacturing complexes.

As before mentioned, we have had airborne contaminants for many years. Remember hearing of the smogs of several of our large U. S. cities? There has been smog for a long time and it has not been too many years since our major home heating fuel was mainly coal with its smoke, etc.

We now have identified some harmful airborne contaminants and their plant destruction symptoms. But in doing so, the job of identifying abnormal plant growth now must include possible airborne contaminants along with all the other heretofore known causes.

As yet no plant injury or destruction has been identified as coming from the gasses of livestock and poultry waste.

Air Force Major receives award for excellence

U. S. Air Force Major Victor H. Sternberg is a member of an Air Force Systems Command (AFSC) which has received the Air Force Organizational Excellence Award.

Major Sternberg, 36, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arno H. Sternberg of 1545 E. Wadsworth Road, R.R. 1, Uby, and is an electronics engineer in the Air Weapons Surveillance and Control Systems Program Office of AFSC's Electronic Systems Division at L. G. Hanscom Field, Mass.

The award was for exceptionally meritorious service of national and international importance from January 1969 through July 1971.

Members were cited for responsiveness, dedication and high-quality management in developing, acquiring and implementing a wide variety of highly complex and sophisticated electronic air defense, air traffic control and detection and warning systems for overseas and continental U. S. commands.

The office is one of the first organizations to win the relatively new award which honors organizations engaged in special Air Force activities.

The major will wear a distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the organization.

He is a 1954 graduate of Bad Axe High School and received his B.S.E.E. degree from Michigan State University in 1958. His wife, Maria, is from the Azore Islands, Portugal.

It's easier to get the swing of things if you know the ropes.

FROM THE LITTER BOX

Art is people

By Kit McMillion

When Artrain comes to Cass City in July, it is going to be a big deal.

The train itself, however, is not the big deal. It is merely a catalyst for what will happen before and after.

As preparations for the arrival of the train and the surrounding activities continue at an accelerating pace, it's time to emphasize that Artrain is not what is happening—it's us. You and me, Cass City.

The purpose of the train is to provide an opportunity for residents to examine themselves and their creative endeavors. It's not supposed to be a museum that is promptly forgotten.

It's an experience, because that's what art is.

So many persons I know frown and make faces when someone mentions art, muttering about classic painters and not understanding that stuff. Classic painters are one form of art, sure, but not the only one.

Art comes from inside the human; it's an expression of beauty or agony or peace or love that is meant to be shared. It can be appreciated on many levels and may mean something different to each person.

But what it means to me is to be able to look about at the world and what man has made in it and appreciate it.

People like to make things. Some are better than others, but everybody likes to create. Humans propagate profusely, which is creation of a very high order; they make music, grow flowers, bake pretty cakes, and watch the sun go down and spray the sky with color.

Why? Because these things are pretty; because we like to look at them or do them.

There are a tremendous number of persons in this area that I would call artists. And there are many more who can appreciate what someone else creates, even if they can't do it themselves.

Finding these persons and bringing them together and seeking out the community's creativity in unison is the purpose of bringing the Artrain here.

It's all part of improving the quality of life. In a hum-drum existence that often seems dull and uninteresting, all one has to do is open his eyes and look around.

Nature is filled with art - just look at a flower some day or the muscles of a beautiful animal as it runs.

Or the structure of a lovely house, or a well-made automobile.

Everyone likes these things. But what they don't realize is that it is a form of art.

But while Artrain is not the big deal, it is important in stimulating us to think about ourselves in this new light as artists. And to do that well, Artrain must be a success.

And that success must come through community involvement. Using the train as a focal point, we, all of us, should bind our forces together and make Cass City something to talk about.

In the short time I've been here, I haven't seen much of what I'd call real community spirit. Maybe it's just latent and is waiting for an opportunity to rise again.

There was a great deal of it during the centennial and when the pageant was presented years ago.

Working together, we can make this event something to remember, too.

Meow.

Deborah Spencer named Caro salutatorian

Miss Deborah Spencer of Caro, and formerly of Cass City, has been named salutatorian of the 1972 graduating class at Caro High School.

She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Spencer of 106 Joy St., Caro.

DEBORAH SPENCER

Deborah has been active in the school band and has received several competition awards. She is a member of Candy Strippers and is pianist in the Nazarene Church pastored by her father.

She has also been active in National Honor Society, the school History Club and Campus Life. Her compiled grade point average is 3.974.

Deborah plans to enter Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill., in the fall, and said she would like to go into medicine.

She was awarded the Caro PTA scholarship Monday evening.

She was a student in Cass City during the 5½ years her father was pastor at the Cass City Church of the Nazarene up to June 1968.

Eastern Star service Sunday

Seventy-two attended the Eastern Star sponsored Vesper service Sunday afternoon in the Cass City Masonic Temple. Members from chapters in Caro, Gagelown and Cass City attended along with numerous guests.

Worthy Matron Mrs. Donna Holm, of Echo chapter, presided during the program presentation. The program included remarks by Mrs. Marilyn Craig of Caro on ESTARL. Mrs. Craig reported that some 250 young people from Michigan have benefited from scholarship ships from ESTARL which are given to those studying for the ministry or associated work. An offering for ESTARL amounted to $43.00.

Participating in the program were Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 77 and the junior choir of Trinity Methodist church. Rev. Ben Whaley, Mrs. Edna Bills, Mrs. Marilyn Craig and Lewis Surine of Caro; Charles Holm, Mrs. Ruth Hoffman, Stuart Merchant of Echo chapter. Mrs. S. Merchant and Mrs. Lucille Wolton served as piano accompanists.

A potluck dinner was served in the temple dining room at the close of the service.

least two areas, and carried a leadership project.

The award is based on project work, responsibility in county and club activities. Applicants are determined on a county basis.

The six members nominated by Tuscola county are: Mary Lee Russell, Linsey Karpovich, James Koch, Monte Montel, Danny Mohr and Wanda Hacker.

Plan non-juriedArt show in July

Area artists are invited to submit work for showing at a non-juried art show to be held July 20-23 at the Cultural Center in Cass City.

The show will be one of many activities scheduled as part of a festival of arts week end, featuring the Michigan Council for the Arts Artrain, a traveling art museum in a five-car train.

Both amateur and professional artists are eligible to enter the show. Entries are limited to two per person and should be recent original works in oil, pastels, acrylics, pencil and charcoal drawing, collage, water colors, mixed media or sculpture. All entries must be matted and framed.

Inquiries should be directed to the chairman of the show, Mrs. Edward Doerr, 6440 Huron St., Cass City.

Nobody cares what the world is coming to—just so it does.

AGENT'S CORNER

Teach children work responsibility

Sherry Lowell, Area Extension Home Economist

Many children today have only a vague notion of what their parents do for a living. They have had little opportunity to observe parents or other adults fully engaged in their work. This isolation can contribute to adult - youth alienation - because they can't really get to know much about each other unless they talk and share experiences.

The Detroit Free Press tried to reverse this trend in an unusual experiment last year. It introduced two groups of twelve-year-old children to virtually every department of the newspaper. These children spent six to seven hours per day for three days working and interacting. The employees had serious misgivings that the paper would not get out. However, the results were fantastic! One employee remarked that it had really been fun. "In three days she became part of the group up there." One twelve year old commented, "This is the place to meet, a way to understand people."

Children need to be exposed to the adult-world at intermittent intervals as they grow. They are curious about "what you do everyday," especially when your job takes you outside the home. If actual firsthand experience is not possible for your child, try relating on-the-job experiences through comparison to things in their known world or through pictures.

For even greater impact, involve your child in genuine responsibilities. The policy of contemporary American society to protect children from such burdens has been carried to extremes. The result has been the incapacity of youth to deal constructively with personal and social problems. Children can cope with difficult situations when they have been entrusted with important responsibilities and ARE HELD ACCOUNTABLE FOR THEM. Important responsibilities are not duties determined by someone else, but assignments involving judgment, decision making and risk.

When your child grows up, will he be ready for the adult world of work? Start preparing him today.

Plan program on Planned Parenthood

BETTER HEALTH

"Rubbery legs" little studied

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

What are "rubbery legs"? To be properly scientific, I should use some neurologic term to indicate just what part of the brain or the spinal cord is usually damaged, producing the peculiar weakness of the legs. Although I cannot find the term "rubbery legs" in any medical dictionary, I will use it here because it expresses so well the feeling of the patients, and it is the term that a number of them have taught me to use.

I have seen this condition in aging persons who -- shortly before the coming of rubbery legs -- had suffered from one or more brief spells of dizziness, which suggested that they had had a little stroke. After 50 years of studying little strokes, my impression is that most of them are produced by a clotting of a small artery in the brain.

As we all know, thousands of persons who have suffered little strokes get to walking with small, weak, hesitant and shuffling steps, similar to those seen in persons in the late stages of a Parkinson's syndrome. It may well be that rubbery legs are related to this other type of difficulty, (called the "marche a petit pas," meaning walking with small steps), but I think that anyone who has seen an elderly man with rubbery legs trying to get around on crutches, will see that he has something quite different from shuffling legs.

Many years ago I saw a man who said he had "one rubbery leg." He had a weakness of one or more muscles in the bad leg, and he told the usual story of a little stroke. He had fallen to the floor one day while shaving. He picked himself up and in a few minutes felt all right, except for the weakness in his leg. During the time in which I observed him, I saw no tendency to recover.

The most remarkable rubbery legs I ever saw were those of a good friend of mine, an able physician. When he was about 66, in the course of a few weeks, he had three brief episodes of complete aphasia (inability to speak) each lasting a few minutes. These spells -- so transient -- certainly gave the impression that they must have been due to spasm in an artery.

But I remained anxious about my friend, because in so many cases I had seen brief attacks like his leave signs of permanent damage to the brain. Also, I was influenced in my thinking by Sir William Osler, one of the greatest physicians of his time. Osler had largely given up the idea of arterial spasm -- which some experts believe is the cause of little strokes -- because so often he had noticed that a brief episode was followed by signs of permanent brain damage.

Unfortunately, in the case of my friend, my fears were justified. Soon he was having great difficulty getting around on crutches and two very rubbery legs. Later, he had to take to a wheel-chair. Somewhat against the idea of any narrowing of a carotid artery was the fact that, so far as I knew, he never had another little stroke. Fortunately, he never showed any sign of mental deterioration.

Another old physician friend of mine, when in his 70s, suffered some little strokes, which at the time did not bother him much, and which seemed to have left his mind undamaged. But later he began to get decidedly rubbery legs. During the early years of his trouble, as he would go around with me, he could walk well enough if he steadied himself by keeping one hand resting heavily on my shoulder. During the next several years, his legs became gradually weaker and less controllable until, in his 80s, he had to take to a wheel-chair. After this he gradually lost interest in life; he became slowed-up and apathetic, and he, who had once been a human dynamo, spent his days drowsing in his garden.

A great industrialist, whom I saw in consultation, had always been a powerful man, both mentally and physically, until around the age of 70 when he began to have what looked like occasional "little strokes," most of them associated with a brief attack of diarrhea. With this illness, he lost weight, and more and more he lost control over his rubbery legs. In this man's case, there was a suggestion of disease of his arteries and spinal cord. His mind remained clear to the end.

I am sure hundreds of persons will recognize this syndrome of rubbery legs, because they must have seen it many times. I think it is a clinical entity which, for some strange reason, has not been much studied.

Do you know the common symptoms of little strokes? Are you aware of the causes of this familiar disease? Dr. Alvarez gives you vital information on little strokes in his booklet. You may have a copy by sending 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Little Strokes" to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. CCC, Box 957, Des Moines, Iowa 50304.

PASTOR KIDNEY SAYS:

THE MISSIONARY CHURCH IS PROUD OF THIS OPPORTUNITY TO SHARE THIS CONCERT WITH THE COMMUNITY. WE TRUST YOU CAN COME AND SHARE THIS EXPERIENCE TOGETHER SUNDAY, MAY 7, at 3 p. m.

The Goodwill Singers are a group of young men and women, who count it a privilege to spread interracial goodwill and to bear witness for Him whom they love and serve through the ministry of music.

They have earned praise singing before thousands in churches, concert halls, college baccalaureate services, Jackson Prison, The Detroit House of Correction and Trustland, a division of Jackson Prison. Emphasis, however, was placed on appearances before invalids and shut-ins in various homes, hospitals and institutions.

They have participated on dedicatory programs where Governor George Romney and Senator William Hart of Michigan were speakers.

The choir did background work for WILX-TV also for "Go Down Moses", a musical drama. They have two long playing records to their credit, RCA and Columbia labels. The singers are presently broadcasting by tape recording over station ELWA, Africa, the largest radio broadcasting system in that country. They are listed as 'goodwill ambassadors' in the 1969-70 brochure of the City of Albion, an edition of the Chamber of Commerce. They also appear in a yearbook of the United Methodist Church in - Who's Who.

Their repertoire include the Negro Spiritual, the riches of black folk music, the Gospel Song, a Christian's testimony, the Hymn and the Anthem, composed by early American Masters and Contemporary writers.

Willie Pierson, the organizer and director of the choir, received her musical training in piano, voice and choral technique from private instructors associated with the Albion College. She was minister of music of the Bethel Baptist Church, director of music Western District Chain Lake Association, organizer of the Baton's, an inter-city musical organization and a member of the Albion College Choral Society.

Note: a love offering will be taken.

Rites Monday for Mrs. H. Rabideau

Final rites were held Monday for Mrs. Henry Rabideau, 73, lifelong resident of the Unionville-Gagetown area.

Mrs. Rabideau died Friday morning, April 28, at Saginaw Osteopathic Hospital following an illness of 10 days.

Born Josephine LaPratt Jan. 20, 1899, she married Henry Rabideau in Detroit in 1919. He died in 1971. Together they operated the Colwood Bar for 28 years.

She was a member of St. Agatha's Catholic Church, Gagetown.

Surviving are one son, Thomas, Unionville; three daughters: Mrs. Edward (Vernice) Fountain, Wayne; Sister Ruth Rabideau, Dearborn Heights, and Mrs. Anthony Mendicino, San Antonio, Texas.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Carolan, Gagetown, and Mrs. Robert Day, Detroit; 13 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren.

Services were held at St. Agatha's Catholic Church with the Rev. Donald Christensen officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

At any rate, talk of price roll-backs makes cheerful reading.

Lots of people are known by the company they try to keep.

Planning the future is a lot better than regretting the past.

ONE FOR THE ROAD European vacation

cheaper

By Dan Marlowe

Remember when a trip to Europe was a luxury?

The way the airlines keep cutting fares, a traveler returning from overseas will soon get nothing but sympathy. Returning home laden with color slides and extra calories, he will discover he's lost status.

As the following dialogue taken from REFLECTIONS indicates:

"I think you were very sensible, going to Athens," his best friend will tell him. "Don't worry about what the neighbors think. I would have settled for a cheap vacation myself—say a couple of weeks in Rome or Madrid—but the wife insisted we splurge."

"You mean you stayed home and shopped for steak in the supermarket?"

"You think I'm a millionaire? No, we went first class on the bus all the way to Toledo. Really saw some country, too.

You haven't lived until you've ridden downwind from some of those chemical factories south of Detroit. But we'll economize this year. I told Gert that if she won't settle for Monaco or the Riviera, we'll skip the vacation entirely."

Far-fetched?

It's literally becoming cheaper to fly to Paris or Copenhagen than to visit some places in the United States. If the trend continues, those of us who have looked forward to a vacation on the ancestral farm in Indiana will be flying off to Europe instead to save money.

Very soon the least expensive way to get rid of the kids during the summer will be to send them overseas. They won't want to go, of course. The little darlings would rather stay home and spend your money.

As anyone who shared the sidewalks of Europe last summer with the long-haired horde can testify, most of the American young were there. So far the danger that Europeans would retaliate in kind has not materialized, so the gamble seems to have paid off.

As the price-cutting trend continues, it should soon be possible to spend up to a half hour each in every country west of the minarets of Istanbul on a leisurely six-day trip costing less than a week end in Dubuque.

The domestic travel industry is worried, and with reason. By cutting corners, they could no doubt make it possible to spend three weeks in an Upper Peninsula motel for no more cash than it takes to fly around the world.

But when the time comes that vacations become so cheap that a family can actually afford one, it will hardly be worth the trouble to go.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Say

Dear Mister Editor:

Zeke Grubb has made his political decision for the year. He announced at the country store Saturday night that he was voting straight down the line for whoever was out cause he is convinced they can't do worse than them that's in. Zeke told the fellers he has studied it up one side and down the other and he figures any change in the way Government is run is bound to be a improvement.

Actual, Mister Editor, Zeke allus bases his political stand on how farm prices is at voting time. Zeke said he ain't seen no reason why he ought to vote fer the ins to stay in. Fer instant, he said he had saw where this feller that's running fer Congress was talking about the price of eggs. The candidate said farmers was gitting three cent apiece fer eggs, but that he had paid 80 cents for two at breakfast that morning. They is profit fer somebody from the hen to the plate on a deal like that, Zeke allowed, and he's fer keeping some of it on the farm.

General speaking, Zeke don't start many discussions during the sessions at the store, but he come prepared Saturday night. He passed around a cartoon he had clipped from a paper. It showed President Nixon's advisers telling him he ought to tell folks he knows a way to hold prices down, but he won't tell us til after the election. This is the same President that told us he knowed a way to end the Vietnam war four years ago, Zeke said, and all the cartoon proves is that a politician living up to his promises is as hard as kissing a gal leaning away from you or climbing a fence leaning at you.

Big Hookum was agreed with Zeke about the promises. He recalled that his Pa told him once that all ever politician needs is four hats and no memory. He needs a hat to throw in the ring, one to pull bits out of, one to talk and one to pull over his head to keep the wind from whistling through his head. The only Bug said he could add to was that a voter with a nory might as well shut his eyes and hope fer the best wh he goes to vote. All the candidates can view with alarm, I allowed Bug, but few ever have any remedies they can remember after they git elected.

Gitting back to the farmer and rancher, Ed Doolittle told Zeke that so much is done to food now from the farm to the table til it ain't hard to figger how seven cent worth of peanuts goes to make a 57 cent jar of peanut butter. These is what the experts call hand foods, Ed explained, and the only way a farmer can come out is figger how to put a handle on everthing he sells to eat.

But Zeke was sticking to his political decision. He had saw this piece that told how much dirt, bugs, hairs and rot the Government allows food processors to process in food, and he was of a mind that is to high a price to pay fer handles. He said he was fer contents on a can of peaches to read jest peaches.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

2 New Giants

- 451 turbo-cube 1270 powered at 122 hp!

- 504 turbo-cube 1370 blasting 140 hp

NOW ... the years-ahead Agri Kings lengthen their lead ... Keeping your next tractor ahead of your neighbor's is our business. So we've added two new giants to the top of our years-ahead Agri King line ... and poured on an extra measure of power that will make you think you've got a tiger by the tail.

Compare these easy running, big cube engines with other engines in their class. Big-reserve engines never need to eat their hearts out to pull full-rated loads. And we tamed the raw muscle of these big turbo engines with a brand-new, constant-mesh power shift that's smoother than ever!

Compare the comfort and protection of a Case-built cab. We added still greater room, comfort and protection to the Agri King cab. Even before the latest improvements, 70% of our big tractors sold with cabs compared to industry big tractor cab sales of only 28%!

Compare Case. It will be well worth your while.

NEED EXTRA POWER?

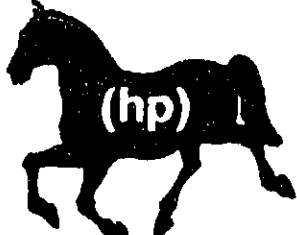

RENT IT FROM US!

per

Need extra power for a day, a week or a month? Get the job done on schedule with a rental Case tractor. It's cheaper than you think. No tie up of your capital—no need to commit yourself beyond your immediate power needs.

What does it cost? The above formula—5 cents per hour per horsepower—is the approximate price. Take a 108 hp 1070 Case Agri King—that's 5 cents x 108 or $5.40 per hour. You pay only for the time you rent it.

Available right now. Choose the model and equipment that fits your needs—8 models, 4 to 10-pow capacity, 63 to 145

hp. Need big ground-working implements? Rental rates on request. Convert rental to purchase if you wish. Keep your rental unit as long as you want. No big cash outlay. No obligation to buy. When the job is done—and you find you can't afford to be without that Case power—buy it. Fair enough? Call us for details.

the good earth

This is the soil, the good earth without which man could not exist. Suppose we woke up tomorrow to find a concrete world. Flowers would wilt, plants would die, and famine would sweep the land.

God, in His infinitely wise planning, gave us the earth to make use of — to care for. Without this care, the soil and fields become barren.

People are not very different. We need three kinds of care if we are to flourish — physical, mental and spiritual. Unfortunately the last, in many ways the most important, is often most neglected.

The spirit is a great part of you! Nurture it by attending the church of your choice.

Student book fair features variety

The Cass City High School Library in Cass City is sponsoring a student book fair May 2 to May 4. Students will be able to browse and purchase books. The book fair will be open during the hours of 8:00 and 4:00. Books will be on display in the lobby of the high school.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will not only help spur student interest in reading and building home libraries, but will also contribute to a worthwhile project. The school earns 20 per cent of all sales, and profits will be used for expansion of the library collection.

The book fair display will include attractive new paperback books from many publishers in all popular price ranges. All reading areas of interest to students will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. Now is an excellent time to prepare for summer reading.

The committee is working with the Educational reading service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

The library club is sponsoring this event, with Judith Zimmermann serving as book fair chairman. The committee includes John Frankowski, Joy Kidney, Linda Jewell, Louise Lawson, Jean Cummings, Lou Ann Hawkins, Dan-McClure, Sally Kolb, Chester Gaszczynski, Gloria Bartnik, Paula Karr, Ron Smith, Dale Doyan, Chris Cyman, Mary Ann Lapeer, Larry Villaneuva and Joe Benzie, a student teacher from Central Michigan University.

Cass City police probe larcenies

Cass City police investigated three instances of larceny this week.

Mrs. J. D. Tuckey reported Monday the theft of a 4 foot wagon wheel valued at $25 from her backyard at 4344 Downing St., Cass City. She told police it was taken sometime during the night before.

Louis Langenburg, Koepfgen Road, Gagetown, reported the theft of a .22 calibre automatic rifle from his pickup truck when it was parked behind Jack's Bar in Cass City. He told police it was removed after dark on April 24.

Lee Rabideau reported the theft of $80 in parts from two cars on his lot on M-81. Missing are two batteries, one alternator, a distributor cap and a set of ignition wires.

An estimated $35 damage was done to the police car Sunday night when patrolman John Rands slammed the door after placing a juvenile in the car and a window broke. The boy was one of several who were caught throwing water balloons at cars. Insurance will pay for the replacement window, said Chief Gene Wilson.

NEWS FROM District Court

Deann Blank, Main St., Snover, was ticketed April 8 in Kingston township for disregarding a stop sign. She paid fine and costs of $25.

Dennis Lee Rolston, Ritter Road, Cass City, was ticketed April 12 in Gagetown for running a stop sign at a railroad crossing. He paid fine and costs of $15. He was also ticketed for a noisy muffler. He paid fine and costs of $15.

Cheyenne Lynn Turner, Argyle Road, Cass City, was ticketed April 18 in Ellington township for speeding 75 in a 65 mph zone. She paid fine and costs of $20.

Linda Sue Gellotte, Main St., Ubyly, was ticketed April 16 in Cass City for speeding 35 in a 25 mph zone. She paid fine and costs of $15.

Andrew Peter Donnelly, Pine St., Cass City, was ticketed April 26 in Cass City for running a stop sign. He paid fine and costs of $15.

Joseph F. Nagg, Little Road, Cass City, was ticketed April 23 in Caro for unnecessary noise. He paid fine and costs of $15.

Ubyly dragway opens Sunday for season

Ubyly Dragway announced this week that it will open Sunday for the season. Over $500 in prizes will be offered, Jim McDonald, manager, said.

There will be five classes of competition with three cash prizes in each class.

Saturdays the track is open for tune-up runs and grudge racing.

The racing will be on the E.T. system. Trophies will be awarded.

Instant Replay For Doctors

Actors and actresses who have been trained to portray certain specific symptoms help Michigan State University researchers learn how good doctors arrive at a diagnosis. Physicians who have been rated as excellent diagnosticians by their colleagues try to determine what the symptoms mean. Researchers observe and record on television tape all that the doctor and "patient" do and say. When the doctor reviews an "instant replay," he is able to describe his thought processes to the researchers with great clarity. The object of the study is to learn more about the problem-solving skills that doctors use so that they can be more readily taught to medical students.

Gavel Club sponsors U of M theatre group

Two performances by the University of Michigan Professional Theatre Program Fellowship Company will be presented at the Cass City High School May 11, under the sponsorship of the Cass City Gavel Club.

The company will present "The Magic of the Stage," an entertaining survey of theatre from classical to contemporary time, in the afternoon for a high school assembly.

The program is designed to introduce drama to young audiences in an exciting way. This year's production contains scenes from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," Schiller's "Mary Stuart," Moliere's "The Miser," Anouilh's "Becket," Saroyan's "Time of Your Life," and "Story Theatre."

An evening performance of "SSSmile!" will be open to the general public. The two-hour program consists of three comedies: Murray Schisgal's "The Typist," Shaw's "Overruled," and John Synge's "The Shadow in the Glen."

This is the second year the Gavel Club has sponsored the company's appearance.

Billboard opponents charge recent legislation a "fraud"

Opponents of billboards haven't given up, now that the Legislature passed a billboard control bill which they feel is much too lenient.

State Rep. Ray Smit, R-An Arbor, perhaps the strongest opponent for the measure which passed, is already at work on legislation which would tighten the law.

The outspoken lawmaker contends the new law is "a fraud" and "was written by the billboard industry."

Now that members of the Legislature have had a chance to look at what they did, "they are beginning to regret their action," he says. "Several members have expressed to me their desire to see that legisla-tion amended and brought into more realistic shape."

One section he objects to most strenuously prohibits townships under 50,000 population from eliminating billboards within their own communities.

He also wants "more reason-able" size limitations, tougher restrictions on how close bill-boards can be to the roadside, and the erection of official signs which would eliminate private signs found near exits telling what is at the exit. The official sign would list everything at once instead of permitting a long line of billboards.

The new law was passed just in time to prevent the state from losing more than $19 million in federal highway money.

BUSINESS SOUGHT

One of the ways state officials are trying to keep Michigan's economy sound is by enticing industry into Michigan.

Already in recent months, they have gone into Illinois and Wisconsin in search of busi-nesses which might want to expand outside of the home state.

Now officials have expanded their horizons outside the coun-try as well. A delegation was to go to Toronto May 9 in an effort to interest more Canadian businessmen in expanding their operations in Michigan.

Airman Bilicki

aids in success of Moon Mission

U. S. Air Force Airman First Class Edward J. Bilicki, 20, was among global Air Weather Service task force members who provided specialized support contributing to the success of the Apollo 16 mission.

Airman Bilicki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Bilicki of 1779 Hawkins St., Deford, is a weather observer with Detach-ment 11 of the 6th Weather Wing at Patrick AFB, Fla., near Cape Kennedy.

The unit provided a variety of meteorological services for di-verse moon-mission serving or-ganizations, including Cape Kennedy's Apollo Control Cen-ter.

Satellite meteorology, special-ly equipped weather recon-naissance aircraft and more conventional, ground-based weather observing and fore-casting methods were used by Detachment 11 in accomplishing definitive, accurate and timely weather coverage.

Spacecraft-tracking crews of Apollo Range Instrumentation Aircraft who deployed from Patrick to staging areas in the Pacific also utilized weather personnel and data provided by the detachment.

Airman Bilicki is a 1969 graduate of Kingston High School, and entered the service in December 1971.

His wife, Rainell, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chisholm, Houghton Street, Cass City.

SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTION

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF CASS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS
TUSCOLA, HURON AND SANILAC COUNTIES, MICHIGAN TO BE HELD
MAY 8, 1972

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT:

Please Take Notice that a special election of the qualified electors of Cass City Public Schools, Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, Michigan, will be held in the High School Building, in the Village of Cass City, Michigan, on Monday, May 8, 1972.

THE POLLS OF ELECTION WILL OPEN AT 7:00 O'CLOCK, A. M., AND CLOSE AT 8:00 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The following proposition will be submitted to the vote of the electors qualified to vote thereon at said special election:

Shall the three-fourths mill limitation on the annual property tax heretofore approved by the school electors of Tuscola Intermediate School District, Michigan, for the education of handicapped children be increased by one-fourth mill?

All school electors who are registered with the city or township clerk of the city or township in which they reside are eligible to vote at this election.

This Notice is given by order of the Board of Education of Cass City Public Schools, Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, Michigan, in accordance with a notice received from the Secretary of the Board of Education of Tuscola Inter-mediate School District, Michigan.

findings that the studs can be hazardous and can cause haz-ardous highway conditions.

Studs actually lengthen stop-ping distances as much as 27 per cent on dry or wet pavement, he says.

In addition, they rub out pavement lane markings and wear out anti-skid materials applied to highway surfaces. And ruts worn in the pavement can cause vehicles to hydro-plane during rainstorms and go out of control.

"We have a lot to offer," says Gov. William G. Milliken. "We have a labor force that is well trained and noted for its high productivity, and we have well developed industrial sites ready for new plants in almost every part of Michigan."

The aim in all this effort is to make the state less reliant on the auto industry so that a dip in autos automatically doesn't mean serious troubles for Mich-igan any more.

But while they are looking for new business for Michigan, the state officials can't relax about their own businesses, either. Ohio Gov. John Gilligan recently made a pitch to a Detroit audience inviting Michigan in-dustry down to his state.

STUDS STILL FOUGHT

Metal studs are as big an issue as ever, and the State Highway Department is just as much opposed to the idea now as previously.

It still wants the Legislature to ban them from Michigan highways, saying it will cost nearly a quarter of a billion dollars over the next 9 years to repair damage done by the studs if they aren't removed.

"As the concrete surfacing wears down, the exposed ag-gregate material on some stretches of Michigan highways is beginning to resemble the cobblestone streets you see in Europe," Highway Director Henrik Stafseth said recently.

There is some hope, he says, that the campaign his department has been waging against the studs is having an effect. New surveys taken by the department indicate that the proportion of cars and trucks using studded tires dropped this past winter from 15.2 per cent to 11.8 per cent.

week set for
May 7-14

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water and other resources, will be observed, May 7-14, according to Leon Keinath, Chairman, Tuscola Soil Conservation District. "Creative Conservation", the theme of this year's observance, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the earth. The Tuscola Soil Conservation District and some 3,000 companion Districts throughout the nation along with their State and National Associations are sponsoring the event for the 18th consecutive year. The Tuscola District has distributed, upon request to churches of all faiths in Tuscola county, over 7,000 bulletin inserts, created especially for this year's observance.

It is not a simple matter to live a simple life today.

Englehart

guilty
of larceny

Douglas Englehart, Shabbona Road, Deford, was found guilty of larceny from a motor vehicle upon completion of a jury trial Tuesday afternoon in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

The jury returned the verdict about 5:15 after deliberating 1 1/4 hours.

Englehart was tried for the Dec. 17, 1971, theft of a radiator from a car belonging to Burton-Moore, Caro.

A Reese man was sentenced to two years' probation and told to pay $100 fine and $100 costs Friday by Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge James Churchill.

Roy Lokatys was sentenced for unlawfully removing from a vacant building a pump used in the construction of a building. He pleaded guilty to the lesser charge, and was originally charged with breaking and entering a construction shed belonging to a Saginaw company.

Mrs. E. Parker

tells of Holy Land at WSCS

More than 70 members and guests of the Women's Society of Christian Service gathered at the Trinity United Methodist church Monday evening for their regular meeting.

After a 6:30 supper, served by Groups 2 and 5 with Mrs. Ed Fritz, Mrs. Howard Bacon, Mrs. Clare Carpenter and Mrs. Leslie Hurd as cochairmen, a program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Fritz.

Mrs. Edna Parker of Kingston, in a slide-talk, traced a journey through the Holy Lands.

Mrs. Ed Baker announced a five-day school of Christian Mission, to be held in Adrian June 25-29, and reservations will be taken for the session up to June 1.

Several from the group are to attend the Spring Conference of the WSCS in Midland Thursday, May 4.

Mrs. Robert Keating made an appeal for rosebushes to be used to beautify the setting for the Artrain at its Cass City stop-over.

Group 1 members received mementoes of the occasion for having the largest group in attendance.

Mrs. Floyd Ogden, Port Huron district president, will address the local WSCS at their June 5 meeting.

A New Kind RV Trailer

A split-level trailer? That's exactly what you get with one of the new "Fifth Wheel" trailers that some experts predict will be the RV of the future. It may be exactly the answer to your family's Great Outdoors needs.

Unlike traditional trailers, which connect to the rear of the tow vehicle, the Fifth Wheel trailer pivots on a mounting located between the rear wheels of a pickup. Much like commercial semi-trailers, it places its weight directly over the rear axle of the tow unit. This makes it easy to drive—and easy to hitch and unhitch.

Placing the "master bedroom" in the area over the pickup body means less length in the tow car-trailer combination, too.

ORDINANCE NO. 75 AN ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO THE PREVENTION OF VICE AND IMMORALITY AND THE PRESERVATION OF THE PUBLIC PEACE AND GOOD ORDER IN THE VIL- LAGE OF CASS CITY.

The Village of Cass City Ordains:

Section 1. No person or persons shall make or assist in making any noise, disturbance, or improper diversion, or any riot or riot, by which the peace and good order of the Village are disturbed.

Section 2. No person shall be drunk or intoxicated, nor engaged in indecent or immoral language, nor engaged in any indecent or immoral conduct or behavior, nor engaged in any illegal occupation or business, in any public street, lane, alley, park or space in said Village; and no person shall improperly or wrongfully accost, insult, annoy, lay hands on, or otherwise wrongfully molest any person in any public street, lane, alley, park or space in said Village.

Section 3. No person or persons shall engage in any fight, except in self defense, within said Village.

Section 4. No person or persons shall operate any wheel of fortune, game of chance or device for gambling or induce others to engage in or operate any such wheel, game, or device within said Village.

Section 5. No person shall willfully or intentionally give any false alarm of fire with intent to deceive others within the Village.

Section 6. No persons or person shall willfully disturb any congregation or assembly of persons within said Village, who may be congregated or assembled in a lawful manner or for a lawful purpose.

Section 7. a. No alcoholic liquors shall be consumed on the public streets, highways, parks and public places within the limits of the Village of Cass City.

b. No person shall sell or furnish alcoholic liquors to minors under the age of eighteen years.

c. No person under the age of 18 years shall purchase or knowingly possess or transport any alcoholic liquor, or knowingly possess, transport, or have under his control in any motor vehicle any alcoholic liquor in the Village of Cass City unless said person is employed by a licensee under Act 8, 1933, as amended by Public Acts 1951, No. 219, as amended, and is possessing, transporting, or having such alcoholic liquor in a motor vehicle under his control during regular working hours and in the course of his employment.

Section 8. Ordinance No. 48 and amendments thereto adopted May 26, 1953 and ordinance No. 74 adopted June 29, 1971, and any other ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 9. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of $100 or imprisonment in the Tuscola County Jail for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 10. In the opinion of the Council for the Village of Cass City, this ordinance is necessary for the immediate protection and preservation of the public health, safety, convenience and general welfare, and it is enacted for that purpose, and shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and the date of its publication.

Enacted by the Village Council of the Village of Cass City, Cass City, Michigan.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 76

AN ORDINANCE GOVERNING THE DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, ALTERATION, ENLARGEMENT, EQUIPMENT, REPAIR, DEMOLITION, REMOVAL, CONVERSION, USE AND MAINTENANCE OF ALL BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES; KNOWN AS THE BUILDING CODE; PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF PERMITS, COLLECTION OF FEES, MAKING OF INSPECTIONS; PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF; DECLARING AND ESTABLISHING FIRE LIMITS AND REPEALING EXISTING ORDINANCE NUMBER 38, AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR BUILDING, PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION AND FIRE PREVENTION IN THE VILLAGE OF CASS CITY, MICHIGAN, AS FOLLOWS:

Sec. 1 ADOPTION OF BUILDING CODE. The BOCA Basic Building Code, fifth Addition, 1970, as published by the Building Officials Conference of America, Inc., is hereby adopted as the Building Code of the Village of Cass City, Michigan, for the purpose of governing the design, construction, alteration, enlargement, equipment, repair, demolition, removal, conversion, use and maintenance of all buildings and structures in the Village of Cass City. Each and all of the regulations, provisions, penalties, conditions, and terms of the BOCA Basic Building Code, fifth Addition, 1970, are hereby adopted in full by reference and made a part thereof as if fully set out in the ordinance, subject to the additions, insertions, deletions and changes prescribed in Section 2 of this ordinance.

Sec. 2 ADDITIONS, INSERTIONS AND CHANGES

The following sections are hereby revised as follows:

Section 100.1

These regulations shall be known as the Building Code of the Village of Cass City herein-after referred to as the Basic Code. They shall control all matters concerning the construction, alteration, addition, repair, removal, demolition, use, location, occupancy and maintenance of all buildings and structures and their equipment as herein defined and shall apply to existing and proposed buildings and structures in the Village of Cass City, except as such matters are otherwise governed in the Village Charter or Zoning Ordinance, or in the rules and regulations authorized for promulgation under the provisions of the Basic Code.

Section 105.1

The legal use and occupancy of any structure existing on date of adoption of this code or for which it had been heretofore approved, may be continued without change, except as may be specifically covered in the Basic Code or as may be deemed necessary by the building official for the general safety and welfare of the occupants and the public.

Section 106.0

The department of building inspection of Cass City is hereby created and the executive official in charge thereof shall be known as the building inspector.

Section 118.4

The fee for a permit for the demolition of a building or structure shall be at the rate of $1.00 for each 1,000 cubic feet of volume of building or structure.

Section 122.3

Any person who shall violate a provision of the Basic Code, or shall fail to comply with any of the requirements thereof, or who shall erect, construct, alter or repair a building or structure in violation of an approved plan or directive of the Basic Code, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $100.00 dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment. Each day that a violation continues shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 123.2

Any person who shall continue any work in or about the building after having been served with a stop order, except such work as he is directed to perform to remove a violation or unsafe conditions, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $50.00 dollars or more than $100.00 dollars.

Section 128.3

The third member of the board shall receive for his services a fee of $100.00 dollars to be paid by the applicant.

Section 200.2

The provision of this article shall control the classification of all buildings as to use group and type of construction; and the definition of all term relations thereto in The Village of Cass City.

Section 200.2 Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to nullify any provisions of the zoning law or any other statute of the Village of Cass City pertaining to location, use or type of construction of buildings, except as may be specifically required by the provisions of the Basic Code.

Section 301.1

Fire District No. 1 shall comprise the areas housing highly congested business, commercial manufacturing and industrial uses or in which such uses are developing. The limits of such areas are described as bounded by Brookers, Church, Ale & Pine Streets.

Section 301.2

Fire District No. 2 shall comprise the areas housing residential uses (use groups L-1 and L-2), together with retail stores, business and amusement centers, or in which such uses are developing, and the limited of such areas are described as bounded by the Village corporate boundaries.

Section 1308.21

Whenever an excavation is made to a depth of more than 8 feet below the established curb, the person who causes such excavation to be made if afforded the necessary license to enter the adjoining premises, shall preserve and protect from injury at all times and at his own expense such adjoining structure or premises which may be affected by the excavation. If the necessary license is not afforded, it shall then be the duty of the owner of the adjoining premises to make his building or structure safe by installing proper underpinning or foundations or otherwise; and such owner, if it be necessary for the prosecution of his work shall be granted the necessary license to enter the premises where the excavation or demolition is contemplated. Section 1308.22

Wherever an excavation is made to a depth less than 8 feet below the curb, the owner of a neighboring building or structure the safety of which may be affected by the proposed excavation, shall preserve and protect from injury and shall support his building or structure by the necessary underpinning or foundations. If necessary for that purpose, he shall be afforded a license to enter the premises where the excavation is contemplated.

Section 1408.1, 1408.2, and 1408.3 of the basic code are hereby deleted.

Section 1703.1

Plans for new plumbing systems or alterations to existing plumbing systems shall be accompanied by diagram showing the relative elevation of the lowest fixture and the top of the public sewer referred to in the established datum of Village of Cass City when such public sewer is available. The plans shall show the size, number and location of all new sewer connections.

Section 1900.4

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to nullify any provisions of the zoning laws or any other statutes or legally adopted rule pertaining to building construction in The Village of Cass City in respect to the location, use, height, area of building and type of construction except as may be specifically exempted in these provisions; nor have the effect of increasing working stresses or reducing exit facilities and health provisions as prescribed in the Basic Code.

Sec. 3 INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES REPEALED

That Ordinance Number 38 of the Village of Cass City entitled AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR BUILDING, PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION AND FIRE PREVENTION IN VILLAGE OF CASS CITY, MICHIGAN, and all amendments thereto, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4 SAVING CLAUSE

That nothing in this Ordinance or in the Building code hereby adopted shall be construed to affect any suit or proceeding pending in any court, or any rights acquired, or liability incurred, or any cause or causes of action acquired or existing under any act or ordinance hereby repealed as cited in Section 3 of this Ordinance; nor shall any just or legal right or remedy of any character be lost, impaired or affected by this Ordinance.

Sec. 5 DATE OF EFFECT

This Ordinance is necessary for the immediate protection and preservation of the public health, safety, convenience and general welfare, and it is enacted for that purpose and shall be in force and effect from and after its publication.

Enacted by the Village Council of the Village of Cass City, Cass City, Michigan, on the 25th day of April 1972.

CERTIFICATION

I, Deputy of the Village of Cass City, Michigan, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and compared copy of an ordinance adopted by the Council, Village of Cass City, at a regular meeting April 25, 1972, at the Cass City Municipal Building.

Charlene E. Pranger,
Deputy Village Clerk

ORDINANCE NUMBER 77

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING MINIMUM STANDARDS GOVERNING MINIMUM PLUMBING STANDARDS IN TERMS OF PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES, IMPLEMENTED BY SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS, WHICH WILL PROVIDE REASONABLE SAFEGUARDS FOR SANITATION TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC HEALTH AGAINST THE HAZARDS OF INADEQUATE, DEFECTIVE OR INSANITARY PLUMBING INSTALLATIONS; AND REPEALING EXISTING ORDINANCE NUMBER OF THE VILLAGE OF CASS CITY, TUSCOLA COUNTY, STATE OF MICHIGAN AS FOLLOWS.

Section 1. Adoption of Plumbing Code.

The BOCA Basic Plumbing Code, Second Edition 1970, as published by The Building Officials Conference of America, Inc., is hereby adopted as the Plumbing Code of the Village of Cass City, Michigan, for the purpose of establishing minimum plumbing standards for the protection of public health and sanitation in the Village of Cass City. Each and all of the regulations, provisions, penalties, conditions, and terms of the BOCA Basic Plumbing Code, Second Addition, 1970, are hereby adopted in full reference and made a part hereof as if fully set out in the ordinance, subject to the additions, insertions, deletion and changes, if any, prescribed in Section 2 of this ordinance.

Section 2. Additions, Insertions and Changes.

That the following sections are hereby revised as follows:

Section P-102.0. Effective Date

This code shall take effect on date of adoption.

Section P-308.2. Public systems available

A public water supply system and/or public sewer system shall be deemed available to premises used for human occupancy if such premise are within 600 feet, measured along a street, alley, or easement, of the public water supply or sewer system, and connection conforming with the standards set forth in this code may be made thereto.

Section P-313.3 Freezing.

Water service piping and sewers shall be installed below recorded frost penetration but not less below grade than 4 feet 0 inches for water piping and 3 feet 6 inches for sewers. In climates with freezing temperatures, plumbing piping in exterior building walls shall be adequately protected against freezing by insulation or heat or both.

Section 3. Inconsistent Ordinances Repealed.

That Ordinance Number 38 of the Village of Cass City entitled AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR BUILDING, PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION AND FIRE PREVENTION IN VILLAGE OF CASS CITY, MICHIGAN, and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4. Saving Clause.

That nothing in this Ordinance or in the Plumbing Code hereby adopted shall be construed to affect any suit or proceeding pending in any Court, or any rights acquired or liability incurred, or any cause or causes of action acquired or existing under any act or ordinance hereby repealed as cited in Section 3 of this ordinance, nor shall any just or legal right or remedy of any character be lost, impaired or affected by this Ordinance.

Section 5. Penalty.

Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of $100 or imprisonment in the Tuscola County Jail for a period not exceeding 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 6. Date of Effect.

This ordinance is necessary for the immediate protection and preservation of the health, safety, convenience and general welfare, and it is enacted for that purpose, and is hereby given immediate effect upon its publication.

Enacted by the Village Council of the Village of Cass City, Tuscola County, Michigan, on this 25th day of April 1972.

County garage
bids studied

Apparent low bids totaling $706,876 were opened Wednesday for construction of a new Tuscola County Road Commission headquarters and garage. They are to be reviewed at a Thursday meeting of the Tuscola County Road Commissioners and sent to the federal government for approval.

A federal grant of $480,000 has been awarded to Tuscola county to help fund the building.

Clements and Kirk Construction Co., Lapeer, submitted the apparent low bid among 10 general contractors at $315,600. The apparent low bid for the electrical contract among five was Wagner and Patten, Inc., Sandusky with a bid of $63,776. And apparent low bidder among three for mechanical work was Steve Kruchko, Alpena, at $127,000.

The new facility will include approximately 44,000 square feet, with offices facing M-24, a full basement, repair shop in the central portion and a large equipment storage and garage at the rear of the complex. The exterior design will be of steel, concrete block with an attractive brick exterior on the front offices.

The date for construction to begin is not determined yet. Work at the 30-acre site located a few miles south of Caro on M-24 near Wireline Road was blacktopped last fall. Catch basins have also been completed.

The original cost of construction was estimated at $600,000 two years ago. The bids received were considered favorable.

Of the original figure, 80 percent of the cost is represented by the federal funding under the Public Works Impact Program administered by the Economic Development Administration of the Department of Commerce.

The funding program provides for federal assistance for public work in areas of the country where unemployment is high and the economy is depressed. Currently, the unemployment rate in Tuscola county is 12.3 percent.

Warn juveniles of curfew enforcement

Due to the number of citizen complaints of noise, Cass City police will begin enforcing the curfew laws, announced Police Chief Gene Wilson.

He warns all children and parents of children under 16 years that youngsters under 16 are to be off the streets between the hours of 10 p. m. and 6 a. m. unless accompanied by an adult.

Young persons picked up in violation of curfew are subject to action by the probate court. The village law also provides that parents of those children are subject to a fine not to exceed $25 and/or 10 days in the county jail.

The state law provides that any one under 12 is to be off the streets between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m. The limit for youngsters under 16 is 12 to 6 a. m. Any one 16 or over who assists someone under 16 to break the curfew is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a maximum penalty of up to 90 days and/or $100.

Wilson noted that the village law takes precedence over the state law.

Investigate rural residence break-in

An estimated $675 worth of goods were stolen from the home of Mrs. B. Katnik at 3706 Dale Road, Cass City, in Elmwood township, sometime in the last couple of weeks.

Mrs. Katnik discovered the theft Sunday when she returned home after spending two weeks with friends.

Missing are clothing and linens, an air conditioner, an AM-FM radio, coffee pot, iron and a quantity of frozen foods.

Entry was made by a side door, where Tuscola County sheriff's deputies discovered a few pry marks. The investigation continues.

Cathy Miller of Cass City reported Friday the theft of 8 chickens from a coop at 5244 Shabbona Road. The screen was ripped off the rear window of the coop. The birds were valued at $24.

Frank Kloc of 5706 E. Shabbona Road, Deford, reported April 25 the theft of a chain saw, battery and portable electric drill, value estimated at $169. The items were taken sometime between Wednesday and Monday of the week before, he told sheriff's deputies.

Robert Buttery, district manager for General Telephone, reported April 24 that a pay telephone situated near the Deford Post Office had been broken into and destroyed over the week end. The money was taken out of the pay box.

Charges have been brought against Ramon Gares Sanchez, 17, of Bay Port, who confessed to breaking the telephone and taking approximately $12 in change. Charges of breaking and entering are also pending against the youth who was caught with two juvenile companions at the Deford grocery store early Sunday morning, April 23.

With food prices what they are today, keeping the figure round keeps most of us flat.

It is better to fail in the next attempt than to fold your arms after an achievement.

Smokey Bear Signs for Fire Safety

Fire officers at the Department of Natural Resources' Roscommon field office place the finishing touches on one of about 45 Smokey Bear signs which will be erected in northern Michigan this spring to help make local residents and visiting tourists more fire safety conscious. The 8-foot-tall signs, a new public service feature in the northern Lower Peninsula, will be used to post daily fire danger readings in each area where DNR district and field offices are located. They also will be added at State Highway Department rest areas in the Clare, Cadillac, Grayling, and West Branch locales to alert northbound tourists of each day's fire threat. A number of the signs put together last winter at the Roscommon office will be used to replace those in the Upper Peninsula, which have provided this system of posted fire warnings for several years at DNR installations above the Straits. Each sign's fire danger reading will indicate the daily burning index, which collectively takes into account wind velocity, humidity, temperature, and number of days since the last rainfall. Picture above (left to right): Area fire supervisor Roy Milnes of Roscommon, and fire officers Terry Johnson and Victor Vercruysee of Grayling and Lake City. Record 24 entries set for Gavel Invitational

From all over mid-Michigan 24 schools are expected to send entries to the 14th annual running of the Gavel Club Invitational Saturday at the Cass City Recreational Park.

It promises to be a meet of outstanding performers led by Roy Young of Mt. Morris who will be assaulting meet and track records that have stood since 1959 when Voorhes of Frankmunth raced to a :09.78 mile and a :21.7 220-yard dash.

Already this year Young has run a :09.4 100 and jumped 23 feet. Local track fans will remember Young from previous meets where he failed to have good days...dropping the baton in a relay race to cost his team an almost sure victory.

This year there are more entries than ever and one reason may well be that the meet has been restricted to B, C and D schools. The restriction was first applied last year and was successful. Last year Marysville walked off with the huge team trophy to break a domination of Flint area schools that won every previous meet. Class A Flint Kearsley was the champion 9 times.

Besides the championship trophy there will be team trophies for winners in each class as well as medals for the top performances in each event.

The meet opens at 10 a. m. with the field events. Teams who have indicated they will participate include: Akron-Fairgrove, Bad Axe, Brown City, Caro, Cassville, Cass City, Chesaning, Clare, Crosswell-Lexington, Dryden, Frankmunth, Marlette and Marysville. Others are Mayville, Montrose, Mt. Morris, North Huron, Owen-Gage, Perry, Reese, Sandusky, St. Louis, Vassar and Yale.

The schedule of events:

10:00 a. m.	Field Events
10:30	High Hurdles
10:50	100 Yard dash
11:00	180 Yard low hurdles
11:30	220 Yard dash

Hawks perch all alone on top in league baseball race

After fishing around early in the season to try and find a winning combination the Cass City Red Hawks and Coach Fred Hurlburt appear to have put it all together.

The major problem was the pitching to go with the veteran cast at the rest of the positions.

As expected, Fred Harbec has been one of the mound stalwarts. Not expected, but equally appreciated has been the work of Jerry Toner, a Freshman.

When the season started, it appeared as if Toner was a year away, but when he got a chance to pitch in an exhibition last week he showed so well that he now is one half of Cass City's one, two mound punch.

Both boys figured in a pair of Thumb B victories during the week to leave the Hawks undefeated and perched loftily all by themselves at the top of the league with a 3-0 record.

Thursday the Hawks took advantage of 11 walks by the Frankmunth Eagles hurlers to chalk up a 7-2 decision. Cass City scored three times in the second in a rally highlighted by Harbec's two-run double. Harbec worked the first five innings to get credit for the win as Toner mopped up for the winners.

Monday Cass City stickers staged their biggest batting spree in recent years to overpower Bad Axe 16-4 in a game marred by a hard rain the final three innings.

Actually the game was all over but the run scoring after the third inning.

In the first Mike Frederick scored on a double by Gene Salas. An error and walk netted another run in the second.

In the third, Don Galbraith, who must be the player with the most power in the league, uncorked his second home run of the year...a grand slam to ice the contest.

But the Hawks were far from through. Besides the blast by Galbraith, Scott Hartel slammed a 3-run homer and Henry Cooklin added a solo blast in the sixth when Cass City scored five times.

Randy Brown pinch hit and scored 3 runners with a double. In all the Hawks collected 11 hits. Kip Hopper with 3 safeties, and Hartel, with 2 hits, showed the way.

Harbec pitched the first 2 2/3 innings before he was touched for three runs. Toner relieved and allowed one run the rest of the way. He struck out 4 and did not walk a man.

A major test for the Hawks is scheduled today (Thursday) when Cass City entertains a strong Sandusky nine at Cass City Recreational Park.

It is likely that the Redskins and the Lakers will be the strongest challengers for the Thumb B crown this season.

CHIP RELAYS

The Cass City distance medley relay team was second in the Central Michigan relays Saturday. Running were Craig Guernsey, Kip Hopper, Tim Stickle and Curt Strickland.

DON'T PAY TWICE

FOR LABOR AND MATERIALS

THIS IS THE LAW

TO DO

When you BUILD-REPAIR-REMODEL-you are obligated to pay your contractor the amount set forth in your contract with him.

The contractor assumes an equal obligation-to pay for all materials and labor used.

It's the law* which sets up a legal claim against your property-if materials furnished and labor provided are not paid for by your contractor-or by you-if you are doing it yourself.

In other words, if the contractor does not pay the material supplier for materials bought for use on your property, the supplier can file a lien against your property EVEN THOUGH YOU MAY HAVE ALREADY PAID THE CONTRACTOR FOR THEM.

REMEMBER, ALMOST ALL CONTRACTORS ARE RELIABLE AND RESPONSIBLE AND PAY THEIR BILLS AS AGREED!

*Michigan Mechanics Lien Law

To protect yourself against the occasional contractor who doesn't pay his bills or whose credit is "shaky":

1. Before paying out any monies to the contractor, require of him a sworn statement of all the persons furnishing material or labor for your job and the amount of money due each.
2. Before making any payments to any contractor, require WAIVERS OF LIEN from him and have him give you a waiver of lien signed by EVERY person who furnished labor or material covered by your payment.
3. Make sure you have a waiver of lien from each person listed on the sworn statement referred to in No. 1 above.

If you do these three things, your construction job should end with no regrets-AND NO DOUBLE PAYMENTS FOR EITHER MATERIAL OR LABOR.

If in doubt call or see your local Lumber and Building Dealer who is a member of
