

FROM THE Editor's Corner

It's significant, I think, that when Denny McLain got bombed in the minors the other day the Detroit dailies gave it more space than any other major league game other than the Tigers.

And the reason is that it points up how little life and color there is in the "national pastime" today.

The owners in the Majors have succeeded in squelching whatever individuality that the game had. By a policy of heavy fines for players ejected from the game after an argument with the umpire. By frowning on players talking with the fans. By prohibiting fans from walking on the field. By ignoring true fans at World Series time and giving the tickets to VIP's so they can be photographed attending the only game they saw all season. I could go on, but you get the idea.

Denny's pitching for Birmingham now and this tirade was brought on by a line in the story that told of McLain's inept pitching. It said that the game was attended by one of the largest crowds of the season.

But you can rest assured that McLain will fade completely from baseball if he doesn't win and win big.

The powers-that-be just wouldn't have it any other way. All of the persons connected with the game look askance on anyone with an idea that change might be for the best interests of all concerned.

Charles Finley, Oakland owner, is in constant hot water because he has ideas. Lots of ideas and he promotes them.

The Vida Blue-Finley contract squabble brought more interest to baseball than any single event of the season and over 40,000 fans were there for his debut last week.

Yet, the suspicion here is that the rest of the owners would like Finley to silently steal away back into his regular insurance business.

Bill Veeck was the best man that baseball ever had and the remainder of the owners ran him from the game. He advocated change and he considered the fans - a course that made most of the rest of the owners shudder.

Larry MacPhail, a former Cass Cityan, was another of the owners with vision and promotional abilities and he left the game to breed horses.

What the owners apparently forgot is that baseball fans don't necessarily feel that fights with the umpires or among the players are all bad.

Mr. average guy goes to the ballgame to forget about the realities of the day.

But today's structured system makes it hard to do. Who can become excited about players who mouth tired old phrases and studiously avoid saying anything that could make waves, or add a bit of spice to the game?

It's futile to hope that baseball will change. It's been slipping for years now and the owners won't even authorize as elementary a promotion as inter-league play.

You don't find any "Goofy" Gomez, "Dizzy" Deans, "Schoolboy" Rowes these days. Or even any Denny McLains.

Guys the fans adored or hated but never ignored. Guys that brought you out to the ball park.

There will be others like them if the men in the grey flannel suits don't stifle the flame before it ignites.

Until they take the chains off baseball, forget it.

2 announce bids for Representative

Two men have announced they will seek the Republican nomination for State representative from the 84th district in a primary election.

The two are: Don J. Mawdesley, 52, of Vassar and Leo E. Maki, 49, of Caro.

Mawdesley is employed at Lular Foundry, Saginaw. He is a dairy farmer until 1964 when he moved to Vassar. He is a Vassar city councilman. He is married and the father of five, including two girls at home who attend Vassar High School.

Maki moved to Caro several years ago after he was appointed prosecuting attorney.

He is chairman of the Tuscola County Republican Party and a graduate of the University of Detroit law school.

He has 4 children ranging from 7 to 19 years old.

The new 84th district now includes all of Tuscola county which has slightly more than half of the district's voters.

VETERANS from many wars marched under the banner of American Legion Post No. 507 Monday, typifying the spirit of Memorial Day. (See pictures page 16).

Several seriously hurt in rash of auto mishaps

Three men are listed in fair condition in Hills and Dales Hospital where they are being treated for injuries sustained in three separate automobile accidents.

DOUBLE MISHAP

Robert McCreedy, 20, 2680 Dickerson Road, Unionville, was severely injured Saturday when he was pinned in a car driven by Nicholas A. Zimmerman, 17, 8628 Republic, Warren, which overturned on Cedar Run Road.

McCreedy was pulled from the over-turned vehicle, which later began to burn. Elkland township firemen were called to assist Gagetown when the accident occurred at 7 p. m. Zimmerman received minor injuries and was treated at Hills and Dales.

According to Tuscola county sheriff's reports, the vehicle was headed north on Cedar Run Road at a high rate of speed when the driver apparently lost control and over-turned the car, landing in a ditch on the west side of the road near Dale Road.

Ten minutes later, Robert Allen Walters, 30, Elmwood Road, Cass City, was injured when he came upon the accident and ditched the car in an effort to avoid a collision.

Sheriff's reports indicate that Walters came over a hill and saw the McCreedy accident.

Because of the emergency vehicles and persons on the road-way, he had no place to go. In an effort to miss everything, he headed for the ditch, striking a parked car belonging to Paul Leont Spooner.

HIT CYCLE RIDER

Eugene D. Nicholas, 24, of Cass City was treated and released from Hills and Dales Hospital after he was struck by a car on M-25 near Sleeper State Park Sunday while officers were investigating an accident involving cycles of Nicholas and Gary F. Guilds, 25, also of Cass City.

The two were riding together when a car slowed down in front of them unexpectedly, and the cycles skidded into each other as they tried to stop.

Guilds was slightly injured when his cycle overturned, and Nicholas was unhurt.

About 30 minutes later, a car driven by Thomas L. Willogby, 17, Detroit, came upon the scene and ran off the road where the officer and Nicholas were standing. An officer pulled Nicholas out of the path of the car, probably saving his life. Nicholas was struck in the right hip and arm, but was not considered seriously injured.

Officers chased the car, which continued, and caught up with it about a mile away. The driver and a passenger, Gary E. Storm, 20, Richmond, were arrested and charged with leaving the scene of a personal injury accident and interfering with an officer.

ONE KILLED

In another serious accident, Michael Daniel Holik, 28, 306 W. Grant St., Caro, was injured when the panel truck he was driving collided at 3:48 p. m. Thursday, May 25, with a car driven by Mrs. Sylvia Bennett, 80, E. Sanilac Road, Caro. Mrs. Bennett was pronounced dead at the scene of a fractured skull.

He was taken to Hills and Dales where he is listed in fair condition. According to Tuscola sheriff's reports, Mrs. Bennett was west-bound on M-61 when she made a left turn in front of the Holik vehicle. After the impact, her car spun around and landed on the east side of the road. The truck came to rest on the opposite side.

Two other Cass City men were treated and released for injuries sustained in two separate one-car accidents.

Frederick Madison Haley, 21, Huntsville Trailer Park, was injured when the car he was driving left the pavement on Cemetery Road near Milligan Road and went into a field after rolling over twice. The mishap occurred at 2:15 a. m. Sunday.

In another accident, Henry Edward Cieskielski, 20, 6068 River Road, received minor injuries when his car went into a ditch and turned over on Koepgen Road Thursday, May 25, at 12:40 p. m.

The driver told sheriff's deputies he saw a motorcycle begin to make a U-turn and attempted to avoid it. The driver of the cycle, Robert R. Rabideau, Gagetown, stated he was going to make a turn but stopped when he saw the car.

EDWARD GOLDING SR.

Golding to quit; McConkey seeks commissioner's post

There will be a change in representation on the county level following the general election in November.

Edward Golding Sr., incumbent commissioner, has decided not to seek re-election from District Two which includes Ellington, Elkland, Novesta and Elmwood townships.

Already filing petitions for the post is Maynard McConkey of rural Cass City. McConkey is currently supervisor of Elkland township.

He said Tuesday that no one yet has indicated that they would try for the supervisor's post that he will vacate in his try for a job as commissioner.

McConkey will have completed four years as Elkland supervisor when his current term is completed. Prior to his current stint, he was on the Elkland board of trustees. He resigned to accept a position on the Tuscola County Social Welfare board where he served for 12 years.

Before consolidation he was a trustee for Wright School.

Golding will have ended a long, successful career in local politics when his term expires. He served as Elkland supervisor for 10 years before running for commissioner when the county was redistricted. He was a charter member of the current seven-man board of commissioners and will have completed four years on the board before retirement.

Let me say, Golding told the Chronicle, that I have enjoyed representing my district. Unlike other areas the people in the district were always very cooperative and made my job easier than it might have been.

I feel that I have had the job long enough, he added, and I know that Maynard (McConkey) is a good man.

With a seven-man commission there is more pressure, more work than in the previous system. The negotiations yearly with county personnel is more and more a problem.

All-in-all it's time to quit and I'm ready for someone else to take over, Golding said.

It's been a wonderful experience and I'm happy to have had the opportunity and now I'm happy that it's over.

While McConkey has already entered the race there is still ample time for other aspirants to file. The deadline is June 20.

Council refers nursing home site selection to planning

The construction of a skilled nursing home by Provincial Homes Inc. has been delayed for an indefinite period as the Cass City Village Council failed to discuss specific sites for the proposed facility Tuesday night at its regular meeting.

Instead trustees tossed the whole matter into the hands of the planning commission and asked that Vilcan and Lehman, professional planners be consulted.

Village President Lambert Althaver said that he felt that the entire matter should be discussed at the earliest opportunity but no definite dates were suggested Tuesday.

Because action on the site was deferred, a request by the owners of Hills and Dales Subdivision, presented by C. R. Hunt, was tabled.

Hunt appeared before the council and asked that the proposed Hills and Dales Subdivision number three be rezoned for multiple housing.

In essence, granting the request would mean that there would be no restrictions to placing the $1 million facility in the northwest corner of the village.

Hunt showed the council a plat of the proposed addition. In it, he said, the proposed leveling of the land would provide a barrier of about 14 feet in a land rise between the facility and adjacent residential homes.

He said that the land he requests be rezoned is 848 feet, east and west, and 464 feet north and south.

Officially, no cost figures have been released comparing the site in Hills and Dales and the site located on land owned by Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Donahue, between the school and park property.

It is certain, however, that if Provincial Homes were to bear the entire cost of developing storm sewer and road to the Donahue site the cost is estimated at about 50 per cent more than the corporation could purchase a developed site in Hills and Dales.

However, in a previous meeting, Dr. Donahue suggested that perhaps something could be worked out among the school, Provincial and himself as subdivider. The road would serve as a second access road for the school.

It has been a month now since the proposal of Richard Palms, vice-president of Provincial, was revealed.

One step forward has been the elimination of a suggested "Day" property site. Owners here are not interested in selling, according to Trustee D. E. Rawson.

The "Day" site was probably never seriously considered by the developers or the community following the open meeting Tuesday, May 23.

Digging old bones hobby of history-loving Clelands

By Kit McMillan

The Curtis Clelands are anxiously looking forward to digging up more old bones.

What may sound ghoulish to some is a fascinating interest the Ugly area residents have developed in the history of the vicinity, and included a dig last summer for mastodon bones near Deckerville. This year a plan is being formulated to excavate a mammoth.

"I'm not at liberty to tell where it is," said Mrs. Cleland coyly, but divulged that the new site was "somewhere between Bad Axe and Cass City." If the mammoth is found, it will be the first time the two animals have been found this close together, they said.

As with the last excavation, the clue to the existence of the prehistoric elephant was made when a tooth was plowed up. That was all she or her husband would tell until the dig begins this summer.

Recalling the dig last year, the couple laughed and told of their experiences.

"We were there with the first shovel full of dirt," they said.

The mastodon bones were excavated on a farm near Deckerville belonging to James Bryce, who uncovered two teeth five years before when working the fields.

A group of about 30 persons worked on the site painfully and carefully uncovering and dusting off bones found in the black, murky peat bog.

"People would ask, 'How can you stand digging in that dirty stuff and those bones?'" remembered Mrs. Cleland, but she said she didn't mind. Just to get home, she chuckled, they had to take a gallon of water to wash off.

The exciting work took place in July. About a third of a mastodon was uncovered by August when one of the summer's worst storms struck the area, flooding the site and washing over it.

The bones that were removed from the area were taken to the St. Clair Community College Museum, Port Huron.

The Department of Interior, U.S. Geological survey, recently agreed to carbon-date samples of the remains to determine within 100 years just when the animal lived. The mastodon became extinct about 6000 years ago, and the group, sponsored by the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield, say they believe the animal died in a bog depression years ago in a flood plane of an ancient glacial lake called Lake Whiteley. The layering of deposits indicate the bones are 11,000 to 12,500 years old.

Tests on ancient remains of pollen found in the soil were made by the botany department of the University of Michigan, indicating that a spruce forest covered the Thumb at the time the animal died.

Fragments of wood found associated with the mastodon have been identified by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Forest Products division, as being primarily of spruce and pine. Examination of this material has led the group to believe the mastodon died of natural causes while browsing a wet spruce forest. No arrowheads were found near the remains, indicating no apparent violent death.

The excitement of the dig is intensified whenever a bone is found, told the amateur excavators.

"I'm telling you: You uncover a bone and everybody runs. What is it?" exclaimed the excited woman.

A rule of thumb for the group was "When in doubt, bag it."

Using that precept, the Clelands saved a small mass of little twigs, which was later identified as spruce the animal had been eating.

One of the amusing aspects of the project was the approximately 2000 visitors. The Clelands chuckled and told that one of the visitors asked if the mastodon had been hit by a car. Another insisted it was a circus.

AN INTEREST IN HISTORY has led Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cleland to digging up old bones and collecting artifacts of the area. Their interest also lies in collecting arrowheads.

"If It Fitz . . ."

It must be the same Mike

BY JIM FITZGERALD

Could it be the same guy? The same Mike Handley I thought would grow up to be either President or Pope?

The newspaper said he was Michael J. Handley of Saginaw. The photograph could be old Mike. There is less hair than I remember, and more face. But I haven't seen him in almost 30 years. A man can change a lot in that time. The last time I saw Mike I probably weighed 90 pounds. I now have chins that weigh more than that.

Mike Handley was about 6 grades ahead of me at St.

Stephen School in Port Huron. Every school should have a Mike Handley today. They wouldn't need cops patrolling hallways. More likely they'd need ushers to handle the crowds at peace rallies where Mike would preach brotherhood and sell fudge.

Mike was a lot more than a teacher's pet. An ordinary pet was rewarded by being allowed to pound the chalk dust out of erasers. If Mike had the eraser franchise, he would raffle it, selling tickets to classmates and to strangers in the bus station. Profits would be donated to the Archbishop's Fund to Feed Starving Mice in Vatican City. And the chalk dust would be bottled and sold to the Phillip's Milk of Magnesia people.

What I mean, Mike Handley was an organizer, a leader and a solid inspiration. Nuns used to point to him with their right hands using their left hands to clutch the ears of 6th grade boys. "Be like Michael Handley," they'd implore.

He was more than the slick-haired kid who went from class to class pleading whatever cause the nuns were pushing that week. (He could be asking for anything from Hail Marys to canned peas.) Mike was also a football hero, for gosh sakes. And he was a rubber-legged, iron-voiced cheerleader at basketball games.

My most vivid memory of Mike concerns basketball. It was a glorious night. St. Stephen's had won a championship. They couldn't have done it without Mike's incredible leaping and yelling and imploring from the sidelines. After the great victory, the celebrating fans crammed into Ruff's ice cream parlor.

Hail the town was there. The noise was deafening. The non-fans cowering behind their sodas, must have thought an insane asylum had sprung a leak. But then Mike stood up on a table and called for quiet.

"We should all get down on our knees and thank God for this victory," he told the St. Stephen kids.

And that's what we did. Every one of us. Right there in public, in front of all those Protestants. We knelt among the hot fudges and Cokes while Mike led us in prayer.

Wow. The next day, when the nuns heard about it, they began petitioning Rome for the immediate canonization of Michael Handley to full sainthood. I guess that's when I decided he'd be Pope someday if he didn't want to be President.

So what is he doing 30 years later? You probably expect a hooker here. You think the newspaper printed Mike's photo yesterday because he stuck up a bank. Wrong.

The newspaper said Michael J. Handley is coming to my town to teach. . . a Dale Carnegie course.

Beautiful. One of his students will become President or Pope.

May sets dry record despite welcome rain

It was a welcome rain Tuesday and it was a long time coming.

It was the first rain since May 16 in the Cass City area and then just a meager .004 of an inch fell, hardly enough to settle the dust.

But Tuesday Nelson Willy's rain gauge at the waste disposal plant recorded a healthy 0.69 of an inch of rain.

The rain came at an opportune time for farmers wanting to plant beans. Many reported that it had become so dry that it was impossible to plant.

A glance at the records compiled by Willy indicates just how dry the month of May was. There was .6 of an inch of rain at the disposal plant Tuesday and many areas received substantially less than this.

The Tuesday rain brought the total to .69 for the entire month, about a quarter of the normal rainfall.

In fact, a check of May's rain through the last 10 years shows that this year there was about half the rainfall of the driest previous May in at least the last decade.

A year-by-year comparison for the month of May:

Year	Inches
1972	0.69
1971	2.54
1970	2.04
1969	4.17
1968	3.44
1967	1.80
1966	1.73
1965	3.36
1964	1.13
1963	2.66
1962	3.37

TUSCOLA CROPS

Dry, drier and now droughty are the terms being used in the agriculture circles while talking about the conditions of Tuscola crops, states Bill Bortel, Tuscola County Extension Director. The spring started slow with an abundant amount of cold weather and this forced many burdens on the farmer to get the spring crops planted in a hurry. Added pressure on spring work resulted when several thousand acres of winter-killed wheat and alfalfa had to be planted to another crop.

The sugar beets, oats, barley and corn are nearly all planted, however, some of these crops will never germinate without a rain. Also, farmers have been forced to replant acreage of sugar beets with poor stands.

We normally do not need a lot of rain to get the crops started in the spring. However, it has been 22 days as of last Friday since the north and east section of Tuscola county has seen a rain. It is getting critical since the ground moisture was extremely low going into the spring. Rain is needed to keep the crops growing as well as to put moisture into the soil so that bean growers may plant their dry beans. Many bean producers are waiting for a rain so that bean planting can take place. There is no need to plant beans in dry dirt since we need quick emergence for good yields.

Tuscola county is patiently waiting for rain for the 2208 farmers and many lawn and garden owners.

Winners of 5 local college grants announced Tuesday

Scholarships from five local sources for graduates of Cass City High School were announced this week by authorities at the school.

Eight Seniors will receive grants. The scholarships range from $100 per student to a full four years payment of tuition and fees.

The tuition and fees grant comes from the Rawson Foundation and was awarded to Mary Beth Esau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Esau of rural Cass City.

BPW SCHOLARSHIP

The Cass City Business and Professional Women have granted $100 to each of three seniors.

ROMAYNE BASSETT

The girls are: Romyne Bassett, daughter of Mrs. Anne Bassett of Cass City, who will attend CMU to qualify as a teacher of children with speech defects.

MARY BETH ESAU

Miss Esau will attend Central Michigan University and tuition and fees this year are valued at about $750.

WALBRO GRANT

The annual scholarships awarded by Walbro Corporation this year were presented to Wanda Hacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hacker, and Linda Ballagh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballagh, all of Cass City.

WANDA HACKER

Miss Hacker will study languages at Western Michigan University and Miss Ballagh is enrolled at CMU where she expects to pursue a course to become a special education teacher.

PAM KILBOURN

Pam Kilbourn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kilbourn of Deford, who will study medicine at John Brown University in Arkansas.

PAT SMENTEK

Pat Smentek, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Smentek, who will attend Lansing Community College to study data processing.

EASTERN STARS GRANT

SUZANNE NICOL

LINDA BALLAGH

The Walbro grants are for $250 per year for four years.

Rabbit tracks

(And anyone else he can get to help)

If the Chronicle were giving a most valuable baseball player award it wouldn't go to Fred Harbec, Henry Cooklin or any of the other excellent Seniors on the team.

It would go to Ken Novak, team statistician. He made our job easy with facts and figures all season long. This is our thanks for a thankless job too often left undone.

Ten years is a long time. So long that it sets a longevity record for Elkland Township Supervisors. Ed Golding was supervisor before he was District Two Commissioner. Ten years is longer than any other person served the township.

But Golding is just a babe in the woods when compared to Gillies Brown who also plans to retire this fall. . . Gillies has been clerk of Grant township for over 40 years and he took over the job when his father retired.

It would be very easy for the community to wrangle about where the proposed skilled nursing home would locate in Cass City for weeks or months and before we know it the building season could slip by and we would have nothing done.

It's a nitty-gritty decision for the council but it should have top priority with every trustee. Nothing happens until they change the zoning. If they intend to give more than lip service to community service what better way than to get the conferences and the talk behind them and reach a decision?

The only thing worse than delaying construction of the facility for a year would be to lose it entirely in Cass City.

One of the related pushes during the period that Artrain comes to Cass City will be displays of antiques or items that depict the early culture of the area.

Farm implement items, furniture, clothing, pottery. . . you name it and the promoters would like to display it.

Stores are ready, willing and able to use display windows to display whatever you can help with.

You can bring them to the Chronicle and we'll see that they are turned over to the proper source. Or you can contact Mrs. Holly Althaver, Artrain chairman.

If it's inconvenient to haul it yourself give a call and we'll get it to town someday.

Report theft of bow from car

CAROL MACKOWIAK

Theron Middaugh, 3655 Phillips Road, Cass City, reported the theft of a $40 bow, a glass fishing arrow valued at $4 and a $9 reel for the bow from his car sometime during the night of May 27. The equipment was taken from an unlocked vehicle parked in his yard.

Being blind to your faults will soon catch up with you, and is apt to put you on the spot.

ONE FOR THE ROAD

Baby sitting

for the rich

By Dan Marlowe

The U. S. Senate passed a measure allowing $4800 baby-sitting and maid-service deductions for couples earning up to $18,000 a year, and lesser amounts for couples who bring home as much as $27,600.

It's likely that this proposal will end up in a congressional committee with an anvil around its neck, and a good thing, too.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
GENERAL

State of Michigan. File No. 21675.

Probate Court for the County of Tuscola.

Estate of Laura Retherford, Deceased.

It is Ordered that on June 15th, 1972, at 1:30 p. m., in the Probate Courtroom in the Village of Caro, Michigan a hearing be held on the petition of Gertrude Juliano for probate of a purported will, for granting of administration to the executor named or some other suitable person, and for a determination of heirs.

Publication and service shall be made as provided by Statute and Court Rule.

Dated: May 22, 1972.

C. Bates Wills, Judge of Probate.

A true copy.

Beatrice P. Berry, Register of Probate.

It's really a soak-the-poor measure that would subsidize parents who neglect their children at the expense of parents who don't.

The proposal discriminates unfairly among working mothers. ALL mothers work. Those who look after a household of kids work as hard as those hanging around the coke machine in an air conditioned office. The proposal would subsidize only mothers who go out to work. What about those who stay home?

The proposal benefits prosperous families with two wage earners at the expense of less affluent families with only one. It demands a full measure of taxes from a family that raises its kids on $10,000 a year, and gives a subsidy to one that makes $18,000 and leaves them with a stiffer.

The proposal does nothing for families that really need to have two wage earners. Like so many income-tax gimmicks, the benefits go up with income. A mother who goes out and irons someone's laundry pays so little income tax that a deduction can't help very much. But the $18,000 a year family might easily qualify for a substantial deduction.

The proposal grew from a sensible plan to assist widows and single parents who must leave their children while they earn a living. It took off on a tangent because of an argument that at first glance makes sense: If a businessman can deduct the costs of doing business, why can't a working mother deduct the cost of working?

But child care is not a cost of going to work. It is a cost of raising a family. It's a cost that every family faces, and it is greater when one parent works than two. In terms of living standards and material possessions, the cost of child care is higher for the mother who does it herself. Mothers work outside the home to escape this built-in liability.

And therein lies the social viciousness of the proposed income-tax deduction scheme. Families who choose to look after their own children already forego the color television sets and new cars of neighbors who don't.

Now the Senate is attempting to add a cash bonus to the existing temptations for neglecting children.

Someone really blew a fuse with that proposal.

CENTER B DRAIN

Notice of Letting of Drain Contract and Review of Apportionments

Notice is hereby Given, That I, Leslie E. Lounsbury, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, will, on the 9th day of June A.D. 1972, at the Drain Commissioners office in the Court House in the Village of Caro, in said County of Tuscola at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day receive sealed bids until 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain Drain known and designated as "Center B Drain," located and established in the Townships of Elkland and Elmwood in said County.

All stations are 100 feet apart. The total length of the Center B and Branch Drain to be excavated is 31,175 feet, or 1,889 rods, or 5.91 miles.

The average hub cut for the entire length of the drain is 7.25 feet. The average bottom cut for the Main Drain is 1.1 feet.

Most of the Branch is new cut.

The average cubic yards per lineal foot is 2.39 feet, or a total of 63,210 cu. yds. of excavation. From Sta. 0+00 to Sta. 68+84, the bottom width is 16 feet.

From Sta. 68+84 to Sta. 104+50 the bottom width is 14 feet.

From Sta. 104+50 to Sta. 123+75 the bottom width is 12 feet.

From Sta. 123+75 to Sta. 199+00 the bottom width is 8 feet.

Remainder of drain, including branch is 4 feet.

From Sta. 70+17 to Sta. 80+00 dirt is to be placed on west side of drain.

All excavation is to be taken from the field side of the ditch opposite the road bed or railroad right of way where ditch is parallel and adjacent to a road or railroad and roadside brush and ditch slope is to be cut and disposed of.

Bottoms of drains entering new drain shall be graded to match new excavation.

Sideslopes of 1 1/2 to 1 will be rigidly insisted upon.

Dirt is to be leveled to 8 inches and feathered out to field elevations where right of way permits or property owner consents except in front of lawns and yards, where dirt is to be hauled away.

All brush, trees, logs or debris is to be kept separate from dirt, and after leveling is completed the brush, trees, etc. are to be pushed into piles suitable for burning, and placed on the leveled dirt. Any large stone or piece of concrete removed is to be buried with a minimum of 30 inches of cover.

The excavating contractors shall bid on excavation and leveling separately. The excavating contractor shall place and backfill all culverts. Road culverts are to be backfilled with porous material approved by the Tuscola County Road Commission, and farm culverts are to be backfilled with dry material approved by the County Drain Commissioner.

Bids on bag riprap will be taken separately or in conjunction with excavating bids. The bag riprap is to be placed on a concrete foundation and extend 12 inches into the ditch bank.

Bag riprap shall be constructed using bags measuring a minimum of 16 inches by 27 inches inside sewn seams when empty, and a mixture of 5 parts of 60-40 washed gravel and 1 part Portland cement and sufficient clean water to make a stiff mix.

The bag riprap shall be placed in a circular wall curved toward the center of the culverts and with a slope of 2 inches per foot where possible.

At locations where the wall must be straight, a slope of 1/3 on 1 shall be required. The riprap foundations must start 1 foot below the flowline of the culverts.

Reinforcing steel 3/4 inch by 21/2 feet shall be driven into the riprap at 15 inch intervals from bottom to top as it is placed, with approximately a 6 inch steel lap.

The riprap contractor shall complete crossings immediately after excavation and finish the backfill by tamping back of the riprap and leave each crossing ready to use.

This notice of letting and Engineering specifications shall be considered a part of the contract.

Note: All culvert and other bids must include interest charges in the unit price. Delivery will be accepted 10 days after the day of letting; if pipe supplier cannot furnish material within 30 days after the day of letting, contract will be awarded to the next higher bidder.

In the construction of said drain the following quantities of corrugated metal pipe will be required and contracts let for same:

24 ft. of 42 inch C.M.P. 12 Ga.

24 ft. of 42 inch C.M.P. 12 Ga.

68 ft. of 36 inch C.M.P. 12 Ga. and necessary connecting 2 ft. bands.

Sta. 225+07 A. Anthes
Relay to grade and add C.M.P. from Sta. 221+36 and hook up 18 inch pipe from E.

BRANCH OF CENTER B

Sta. 12+50 D. and L. Koepfgen

Place 24 ft. of 42 inch C.M.P. and 2 flared ends.

Sta. 26+00 J. Milligan

Place 24 ft. of 42 inch C.M.P. and 2 flared ends.

Sta. 31+80 Koepfgen Road

Remove and salvage 40 ft. of 48 inch C.M.P. Remove and dispose of old concrete culvert and place 68 ft. of 36 inch C.M.P. and 2 flared ends.

Sta. 48+84 D. Koepfgen

Remove and salvage 24 inch C.M.P. and place 26 ft. of 30 inch C.M.P. and 2 flared ends.

Said job will be let in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said Drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly.

Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

The date for the completion of such contract shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting. Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drain Commissioner a certified check or cash or bid bond to the amount of Three hundred and 00/100 Dollars as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded. The payments for the above mentioned work will be made as follows: Drain orders to be due April 15, 1973; April 15, 1974 and April 15, 1975.

Notice is Further Hereby Given, that on Thursday the 6th day of July, 1972, at Drain Commissioners office in the Village of Caro, County of Tuscola, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Center B Drain Special Assessment District," and the apportionments thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

Dated this 17th day of May A.D. 1972

Leslie E. Lounsbury, County Drain Commissioner, County of Tuscola

REID & BRANCH DRAIN

Notice of Letting of Drain Contract and Review of Apportionments

Notice is Hereby Given, That I, Leslie E. Lounsbury, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, will, on the 9th day of June A. D. 1972, at the Drain Commissioners office in the Court House in the village of Caro, in said County of Tuscola at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day receive sealed bids until 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain Drain known and designated as "Reid and Branch Drain," located and established in the Townships of Elkland and Elmwood in said County.

All stations are 100 feet apart.
The total length of the Reid and Branch Drain to be constructed is 20,247 feet, or 1227 rods, or 3.8 miles.

Total estimated excavation to be taken from the Reid and Branch Drain is 21,780 cu. yds.
Bottom width from Sta. 7+72 to Sta. 76+46 is 6 feet. The remainder is 4 foot bottom width.

The average hub cut is 7.0 feet, and average excavation is 1.1 cu. yd. per lineal foot. On the Branch of Reid drain from Sta. 57+68 to Sta. 62+80 the old channel is to be filled, and a new cut made. Dirt to be on N. side from Sta. 39+90 to Sta. 66+73 - Main Drain.

The 1 on 1 1/2 side slopes will be rigidly insisted upon. The excavated dirt is to be leveled to 8 inches and feathered out to field elevations where right of way permits or property owner consents, except in front of lawns or yards, where dirt is to be hauled away.

Bottoms of drains entering new drain shall be graded to match new excavation.

All brush, trees, logs and debris is to be kept separate from the dirt and after leveling is completed the brush, trees, etc. are to be pushed into piles suitable for burning, and placed on the leveled dirt. Any large stone or piece of concrete removed is to be buried with a minimum of 30 inches of cover.

The excavating contractors shall bid on excavation and leveling separately. The excavating contractor shall place and backfill all culverts. Road culverts are to be backfilled with porous material approved by the Tuscola County Road Commission, and farm culverts are to be backfilled with dry material approved by the County Drain Commissioner.

This notice of letting and Engineering specifications shall be considered a part of the contract.

Note: All culvert and other bids must include interest charges in the unit price. Delivery will be accepted 10 days after the day of letting. If pipe supplier cannot furnish material within 30 days after day of letting contract will be awarded to next higher bidder.

In the construction of said drain the following material and quantities of corrugated metal pipe will be required and contracts let for same:

8 ft. of 84 inch C.M.P. 10 Ga.
16 ft. of 84 inch C.M.P. 10 Ga.
18 ft. of 84 inch C.M.P. 10 Ga.

Said job will be let in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said Drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly.

Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

The date for the completion of such contract, shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting. Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drain Commissioner a certified check or cash or bid bond to the amount of Three hundred and 00/100 Dollars as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded. The payments for the above mentioned work will be made as follows: Drain orders to be due April 15, 1973; April 15, 1974 and April 15, 1975.

Notice is Further Hereby Given, that on Thursday the 6th day of July, 1972, at the Drain Commissioners office in the Village of Caro, County of Tuscola, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Reid and Branch Drain Special Assessment District," and the apportionments thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

The following is a description of the several tracts or parcels of land constituting the Special Assessment District of said Drain, viz:

Wm. Dobbs to address seniors at Trinity Methodist Church

William Dobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard (Tom) Dobbs of Cass City, will be the speaker challenging the high school graduates who are members of Trinity United Methodist Church this coming Sunday at the 11:00 a. m. worship service.

WILLIAM DOBBS

He grew up as a part of Trinity's Church School, becoming a member in 1957. He transferred to the Potterville

United Methodist Church in 1970.

Most of his public school education was in Cass City. After high school graduation in 1963, he entered Michigan State University and earned a Bachelor of Music degree.

Upon graduation from the university in 1968, he accepted a position as Director of Music (vocal and band) of the public school system in Potterville, Mich. He has also been Choir Director of the Potterville United Methodist Church.

In mid-June, he will enter the United Methodist Evangelical Theological Seminary at Naperville, Illinois, and also become a student pastor of one of the United Methodist Churches in the West Michigan Conference, appointment to be made at Annual Conference.

Dobbs is married to the former Janice Shresny of Gagetown, and has four children: David, 8, Dennis, 6, Danny, 2, and DeAnn, 1.

FROM THE LITTER BOX

Fat

By Kit McMillon

We're heading into those dog days of summer and I'm heading for the closet.

To hide, more than anything else.

The arrival of hot weather always spurs me to dig out the shorts. And the next thing I see is all those layers of fat I worked so hard at collecting to protect me from the cold north winds languishing like left over jello.

DIET.

I absolutely hate the thoughts. Reason being I have zero will power. When I was younger I had will power, and I stayed skinny.

But no more.

With all the good intentions of a truly penitent glutton, I begin the day with a sparse but supposedly adequate diet of low-calorie, high protein food.

I walk to work, thinking, exercise, exercise, gloating over the fact that I am on a diet and when I lose those 10 pounds, I'll be sleek and lithe again.

Still smug, I begin to feel absolutely famished by mid-morning and tell myself one little roll won't hurt, I'll just not eat much lunch. And so I saunter to the bakery and buy the goofiest one in the place.

After all, I take my coffee black, I tell myself.

So as I loosen my belt to accommodate my full stomach, I vow (again) that I must lose some weight.

Remember, I tell myself, how the seam split in that one pair of shorts, and how that one skirt looks like what's left over from a Coke bottle, sort of bulging all over.

AGENT'S CORNER

Washing sets stain in fabric

Judith Marks - Home Extension Agent

It was a typical summer day - warm breeze and sun shining. Mrs. Worry was hanging her laundry on the line. When "Oh no," she said to herself. "Sis' good play suit is ruined. I'll never get that stain out!" Mrs. Worry discovered an ugly menacing grass stain on the knees of Sis' bright yellow play suit.

She was fairly certain she would not get the stain out and she probably won't. When a stain goes through the wash cycle it sets further into the fabric. Garments, especially play clothes, should be checked for stains before putting them in the wash.

Stains should be treated as soon as possible. Mrs. Worry's neighbor, Mrs. Prompt always checks her families garments for stains. She often finds grass stains but treats them right away. How? By working soap or detergent into stain, then rinse. She remembers to work from the wrong side of fabric.

Mrs. Prompt has the booklet "Removing Stains From Fabrics - Home Methods". It tells how to remove all types of stains. Where did she get it? At her Cooperative Extension Service Office.

Perhaps Mrs. Worry should get a copy from her Cooperative Extension Service Office. How about you?

MUD-SLINGING

Right now the politicians are getting wound up—the running down will come later.

HEADS IN SAND

Some people have read so much about the bad effects of smoking that they have decided to give up reading.

HIS FEET ARE ON THE GROUND!

This man can see for many, many miles, but he's not up in the clouds; his feet are on the ground!

The Church gives man stability too—a broader vision. It lifts up his eyes to see God and the eternal values of love, truth, justice and service which God inspires. It gives him a divine perspective from which to view his job, his family, his country—his life!

But the Church always keeps that man's feet on the ground! It accepts him for what he is—regardless of the clothes he wears or the job he holds. It looks evil in the face and sees it for what it is—a devilish cancer which only God can cure. It keeps a man's feet on the ground while it lifts up his eyes to see beyond the horizon.

And this is what the Church can do for you! It can give you greater vision. But it's not up in the clouds. It keeps your feet on the ground!

BETTER HEALTH

One-day surgery for children

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Who pays for living expenses (elsewhere) while they repair your home?

Most policies provide the coverages you expect — fire, lightning, storms, riots, vandalism and the like. They cover the cost of repairs due to these losses. But have you thought about the cost of living elsewhere if your home has to be repaired or rebuilt? It could run into hundreds of dollars. Or, it could be covered in black and white in our Homeowners Policy, so we would pay those extra living expenses! Give us a call. We'll put your home insurance all together in one policy for convenience and saving's sake.

Years ago when I became an intern in a hospital, I was unhappy because I saw how cruel our behavior often was to little children, when they were taken into a hospital and left alone in a strange room with strange people. Commonly, the child cried all night, and soon was terribly distressed — feeling that his parents had abandoned him without any love. Some of the children were mentally disturbed for months after their horrible experience. It was also heartless and traumatic to take the child alone up to an operating room, and there give him an anesthetic. It could so easily have been given quietly in his room, while the child was sitting on his mother's lap and being held and comforted by her.

In recent years I was happy to see that some hospitals have changed this, and are now permitting the mother to stay with the child. Now I read of what sounds like an excellent idea. For a small operation like a tonsillectomy, the child is brought into the hospital in the morning with his parents. He is operated on, and taken home that afternoon. That should take away from the child's shock, especially if the anesthetic is given while he is clinging to his mother's hand.

DEATH DUE TO EMOTION

Back in 1958, I read an article in which Dr. George Engel, of the University of Rochester Medical Center, in New York, told of having seen some 100 newspaper reports of sudden death under unusual circumstances. Dr. Engel said that he had found 50 reports of persons who were said to have died of grief after hearing of the death of a loved one. Another 10 died while anticipating such a loss. The doctor found reports of 32 people who died, suddenly of painful emotion or fright, perhaps "scared to death" during riots, storms, shipwrecks, earthquakes or some personal assault.

The other day I read about a burglar who, on coming out of a house with arms full of loot, walked into a policeman. Arrested, the burglar dropped dead. In another case, a rising young executive, after being fired by his company, became violently ill. An elderly man during his wife's funeral, suffered a heart attack. One can read of many such cases.

Doctor Engel wrote also of six persons who died on joyful occasions. For instance, a 55-year-old man and his 88-year-old father both collapsed and died when they met after having been separated for 20 years. Another man died while tremendously excited, having just collected $1,683 on a $2 race-track bet. Another man died while receiving an ovation from friends.

As a student of human nature, and the effects of emotion on the body, I have always been interested in colloquial expressions and phrases which show that laymen know well that emotions and physical symptoms are connected. For example, many a man has said, "My brother-in-law is a pain in the neck." An old army expression is "Don't get your bowels into an uproar." This phrase interests me particularly because during my years as a specialist in the stomach and the bowel, I have seen people get diarrheas and ulcers and even a constant feeling of nausea when something was troubling them psychologically. The phrases, "getting into a cold sweat," or "something that left a person 'dripping,'" or "dripping with suspense," shows that excessive perspiration can be brought on with nervousness or excitement. People sometimes "tremble with rage" or "tremble with excitement." I have seen cases in which the phrase "You make me sick," expressed perfectly the effect a troublesome relative or husband had on my patient.

I have heard some nervous people say that when they got excited, their mouth got so dry that they were "spitting cotton-balls." Many a patient has told me that when his boss did something unpleasant, or was unusually angry with him, the man would say, "I just couldn't stomach that," or "I just couldn't swallow what my boss did to me." Having seen a number of people with a fever that was unexplainable in any other way than that it came with an explosion of temper or with great excitement, I know there is a medical basis for the expression, "He burns me up." During the years when I was seeing hundreds of persons, often women, with migraine headaches, I learned that almost always, I would have to find what in the woman's life was causing her great emotional distress. And many a time, the woman would be justified in saying, "That husband (or mother-in-law, or rascally son) of mine is a real headache." Other persons, when disturbed about something, get shortness of breath, and sigh a lot, meaning that they have a "load on their heart," or, when a trouble is settled, it will be "a load off my chest." These phrases are a good indication that laymen are well aware of the physical effects of psychic strain.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

We have survived another round of Commencement speeches, so there is renewed hope that we can survive anything. We don't want to do nothing to hurt freedom of speech in the country, Mister Editor, but a law declaring Commencement addresses illegal beyond 15 minutes would be striking a big blow again air and ear pollution.

Actual, from what I see by the papers Commencements ain't gitting the play they use to, so we ain't had to read so much about speakers viewing with alarm and telling the graduates they "possess the power" to right all the wrongs in the world. Personal speaking, I am grateful for the judgment of the editors that has found more earth-shaking news.

Furthermore, judging from the way the fellers was talking about the job market during the session at the country store Saturday night, it might be a good idea to call for one of them moratoriums on graduates as well as graduation speeches. Ed Doolittle reported where new graduates was having a rough time finding work except in a few fields, and the more degrees they got the worst it is. Ed said the next thing you know the Government will come up with no-fault insurance for graduates. That's where they get Government aid cause it ain't their fault they can't get a job.

General speaking, said Ed, this country is gitting a bad backlog in a lot of fields that's causing headaches. Ed had saw this piece where if New York City police called a moratorium on arrests for a year, it would take that much time to hear all

for heroism
in Vietnam

David M. Bulen, 23, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal with "V" device and the Air Medal for meritorious achievement against hostile enemy forces in Vietnam.

The Army Commendation Medal was awarded to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Bulen, 6331 Dale St., Cass City, for heroism in military operations Oct. 21 and 22, 1971, by direction of the Secretary of State. Disregarding his own safety, he exposed himself to the dangers of combat. His actions were characterized by a great concern for the welfare of his comrades, and contributed materially to the success of the mission, the citation said.

E-5 Bulen was awarded the Air Medal by direction of the President. During the period of July 11 to Dec. 19, 1971, he actively participated in more than 25 aerial missions over hostile territory in support of operations against hostile forces.

He was also awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge. Bulen has returned to Fort Hood, Texas, following nine months of service in Vietnam.

He enlisted in the Army eight months after completing a two-year duty in 1969-1971, when he served in Korea.

He is a 1967 graduate of Cass City High School.

Check oats
for beetles

Cereal leaf beetles are now flying, eating and laying eggs on grasses and small grains, reports Don R. Kebler, Extension Agricultural Agent.

Very shortly now the major egg laying and larvae feeding will move into oat fields and we should expect greater populations than ever before. Proven control measures are known but the proper timing depends on stage of oat growth and number of beetles, eggs and larvae per plant.

Right now, with small oats, if we can count three to six larvae per plant plus eggs and the beetles are flying, it could pay to spray an insecticide.

Sevin is the insecticide to apply up until heads appear then Malathion. Sevin is an ovicide which kills eggs plus larvae plus adults. Malathion is not an adulticide. Sevin can't be used after oats head out.

As the oats grow bigger and no previous large leaf eating damage has occurred before-hand, far more larvae can feed on the plants before economic damage becomes a problem.

The best thing to do now is to check your oats to determine the degree of infestation, remarks Kebler, and if you can't decide to spray or not, contact your Extension office.

CLASS PROPHECY

Guernsey and Ken Novak on the aspects of a proper mount from which to do double back flips. However, Ken wasn't paying any attention as he kept pounding the song, "You've Got to be a Football Hero" on his head.

We looked at the scoreboard to see who was behind and it read: The Strawberry Hill Senile Celtics, 25, The St. Petersburg Tombstones 2. Fred Harbec, the star center for the Celtics fouled out after he dropped his Mr. Red Hawk Trophy on the foot of Referee Bill Izydorek.

The star of the Tombstones, Tim Knoblet, then called a time-out to oil his wheel chair. Water Girl Lois Reagh took an oily rag and fixed the wheelchair after she had given Tim Gerinot Gatorade to guzzle on.

Meanwhile, Coach Fred Hurlbut was telling his 5 Celtics how to dribble before they shot but players Henry Cooklin, Jim Wentworth, Pete Miller, and John Frankowski were having trouble with their Pacemakers and hearing aids. It was soon halftime and the featured entertainment was a fashion show featuring choice selections from Paul Clabuesch's vast wardrobe of double-knits complimented by Elvis boots and synthetic moustaches.

Mrs. Wallace then gave an interesting lecture on the fine points of crocheting afghans with the help of assistant Paula Karr, while Romayne Bassett shouted obscenities from the bleachers. She was still in her blue jeans.

We were enjoying ourselves when we were approached by an overpowering old lady with a strong resemblance to the late Howard Cosell. She demanded that we buy tickets for a pie and cake raffle. By this time, we knew it must be Nancy Kerbyson. She explained that the senior citizens were raising money for their annual trip back to Michigan to visit the gravesite of that politician, the honorable Robert Logan who was assassinated during his 24th attempt at running for precinct delegate. Nancy told us that their money-making projects included such old-time favorites such as Pecan Log Candy sales, Spaghetti dinners, and snowmobile rallies, (in Florida?) as well as the new innovations like the cemetery plot raffle and the Lawrence Welk concert.

Tiring of the game, we decided to leave. On the way out, we met Jean Cummings, Bev Dorman, and Karen Kilbourn who were working in the Concession stand.

Having not eaten all day, and you know how Ron is about eating, we decided to go to a nice restaurant. Ron went up to an elderly lady sitting on a park bench and much to his surprise, it was Sharon Ashmore. We asked her about the best place to eat and she directed us one block east past Rick Erla's Meat and Teeth Shop. The restaurant was right next door to Sharry Schneberger's used furniture store. We found it easy enough because of the huge marquee. We found the owner and asked why the sign wasn't working. It was easy for him to say that they had been doing it on for two years and still weren't done.

He said, "After all, have you ever tried painting a sign in ten foot letters that says THE INTERNATIONAL RESTAURANT OF CHESTER GASZCZYNSKI?" Chester told us that the painters only learned how to spell all that fast week.

Being at the dinner hour, there was quite a crowd there. We were so happy to see a large table filled with many of our old classmates, Paulette Becker, Jeff Mellendorf, Kathy Graichen, Tom Smith, Lou Ann Hawkins, Jim Daley, Cathy Taylor, and John Schwartz who were members of a Swinging Singles Club. Frantically working were waitresses Diane Asher, LuAnn Repshinska, Maria Martin, and much to our enjoyment Shirley Sherman who roller skated by in a low-neck Tangier-colored velvet uniform with a dozen pizzas in her hand.

When we didn't get our food after waiting an hour, we went out to the kitchen to see what was the matter. There we found cooks Alex Nizzola and Tom McComb. Nearby, Jim Doerr was baking cakes. Brad Golsman, Bob DeLong, and Steve Batts were busy washing dishes and clearing off tables.

Before we left, we ran into health inspector Carol Mackowiak, who was just closing the restaurant because their menu consisted of the same things they serve at the Cass City High School Cafeteria.

We picked up our car from parking attendant Chuck Hartman who had somehow managed to run into every curb in the parking lot on his way. We asked him where the action was in town and he cackled and said that it could be nowhere else but Bomber B's Bar. They've got a girle show and everything.

Not wanting to miss this, we jumped into the car and drove no more than 2 feet when we were confronted by a horse in the middle of the road. Jim yelled for her to move it when we realized it was Sue Brown on her Arabian stallion.

We didn't take time to talk with her and were soon speeding down the road at 120 miles an hour. We caught glimpses of Bonnie Fleming's Wig Wam, Wayne Dillon's Wiener Factory, and Martin and Deb Chippi Osentoski's Sunday School Supply Store and Auctioneering Service. We also saw Mr. Woody's Golf Course and Pro Shop.

About this time, we realized we were almost out of gas so we pulled into Louie Salas' Super Service where we were met by attendants Karen Krauss, and her boyfriend of fifty years, George the Grease Monkey. Meanwhile, Louie was pumping ethyl in our car. Dan Mills and Rich Patera cleaned our windshields and we were off again.

As we were tooling down the road, Jim saw that long-haired freaky John Brewton limping down the sidewalk. We honked and remarked on how little he has changed in fifty years.

As we stopped for an intersection, Ron noticed a sign advertising Dick DeLong's Country Style Pork Sausage. We then realized his farm was only a short distance away so we decided to make a brief visit.

We met Dick who showed us around the farm. The first stop was the collective garden where Duane Lockwood was growing potatoes, Larry McCreedy was working on his beans, and Randy Peters was growing grass under the strict supervision of Mr. Beach.

We then visited Dick's pride and joy, the pig pen where Dennis Little and Dave Deering were slopping down the prize Yorkshires.

Dick informed us that he was building a bigger swine barn with the aid of Carpenters Bob Kozan, Larry Laming, Jim Dorland, and Gary Dillon. The foreman, Mr. Bushacker, told us that Fred Kinkman used to work there but was fired for coming to work drunk 375 consecutive days.

Dick told us of his new sideline in financing Sue Hoppe's research into the breeding and raising of prize birddogs.

Our last stop at the farm was the cattle barn which was run by Dan Brown and Al LaPeer.

We finally made it to Bomber B's where we saw the town drunks.

After getting inside, we paid our cover charge to Cashier and Head Accountant Gwen Hughes who was assisted by Mary Russell. We left our coats with hat-check girl Sheryl Hurd.

As we entered the bar we were awed by an interesting light show consisting of the mugs of the world being presented by Verne Palmer. Before we could go one step further, we were confronted by bouncer, Linda Ballagh who demanded to see our I.D.'s.

Hostess B. J. Haire recognized us and immediately ushered us to a ringside table just in time for the floor show.

The curtain went up and there were the strippers, Joan Russell, Meb Esau, and Loretta Briolat dancing to the music of George Bushong and Roger Smith, who was playing his piano. After the show Bunny girl Gloria Bartnik enticed us into buying 2 dozen cartons of cigarettes with her voluptuous manner.

We were disturbed by a drunk old lady on top of the next table who was loudly reciting a passage from "Ten Little Indians". Jim screamed, "Oh, my gosh, it's Margaret Kloc." We went upstairs to B.J.'s private office where Mrs. Jackson was giving a fitting for the new waitresses, and you all know where Jerry Cleland was, he was just giving a fit!

Since time was getting late, we decided to say good-bye to B.J. and make one last stop before heading back to Washington. As we headed for The Golden Age Rest Home, and Funeral Parlor we were confronted by the receptionist Theresa Farrell who instructed us to go to the Nurses Lounge. There we found Laurie McRae trying out her bedside manner on bed-ridden Rick Dillon, who had been hurt in a motorcycle accident. Meanwhile nurses aides Toni Smith and Vickie Miracle were telling "SICK" jokes in the emergency ward.

Entering the funeral parlor we were met by head mortician Gene Hopper, who said, "No bodies here today." He then forced us to try out his new velvet lined, silver handled, mahogany coffin. We were shocked to DEATH to see Mr. Philbin giving instructions to chief embalmer Paul Freiburger about the correct proportions regarding the use of formaldehyde. We asked Paul how business was. He shrugged and said, "Well, people are just dying to get in here."

We boarded the plane for Washington and noticed a suspicious character with flame red hair fleeing from the plane. Ron remarked! "Doesn't that look like student revolutionary Sherill Thane?"

Thinking no more about it we took off and were over Georgia when the plane exploded. On the way down we realized that it was Sherill who had planted the bomb and that the Senior Class and Faculty of 1972 had been trying for 50 years to get back at us for writing the prophecy. Well they finally succeeded!

12 Brownies receive wings in fly-up ceremonies

The Cass City Girl Scouts held their annual fly-up ceremonies Wednesday, May 24, at the Cultural Center.

Twelve Brownies completed their requirements and crossed the bridge into Junior Girl Scouting. Those receiving wings from assistant leader Mrs. Thomas Proctor were Tammy Tibbitts, Carol Dillon, Dawn Herron, Sherri Lefler, Shelly Lapeere and Cathy Perry. These girls will join Junior Troop No. 113 with Mrs. Robert Fischer as leader.

Mrs. David Burnette pinned wings on six members of her troop. These included Kelly Dearing, Julie Groth, Ruth Harmer, Tina Marie LaRoche, Diane Bresky, Carol Grey and Diana Plaskowski. These girls joined Junior Troop No. 272 with Mrs. Jack Hartwick as leader. Fifteen Junior Scouts were welcomed by Mrs. Gerald Whitaker and her troop of Cadettes as they entered into the Cadette rank. These girls were Sherry Spaulding, Beth Tracy, Diane Stine, Kim Witherspoon, Susan Kappen, Jeri Ann Stilson, Kathy German, Sally Ware, Barbara Tuckey, Brenda Herron, Julie Landholt, Joan Freiburger, Susan Asher, Lisa Frederick, Lorraine Brooks and Marie Mocan.

Scout leaders for the year were: Mrs. Robert Schott, Mrs. Thomas Proctor and Mrs. David Burnette, Brownies; Mrs. Jack Hartwick, Mrs. David Ware, Mrs. Keith Mitchell, Mrs. Joe Schmidt, Mrs. Robert Fischer and Mrs. Dan Toner, Juniors; and Mrs. Gerald Whitaker and Mrs. Harold Francis, Cadettes.

Phil Nicholas, Cass City's outstanding thincad, won a gold medal at the Champions Invitational track meet held at Port Huron.

Two of the luckiest boys in Cass City are Bradley Uhl, 13, and Ed Stoutenburg, 10, who won free all-expense paid trips to California in the fourth annual Boy's Contest sponsored by the Cass City IGA Foodliner.

Cass City Lutherans broke ground for a new $125,000 church building at the east village limits.

Two veteran teachers at Cass City retired this year, Grade Principal Mrs. Marie Murray and Frank Weatherhead.

TEN YEARS AGO

Cass City High School's operating budget is slated for a $7,500 lift because County Allocations Board members voted to give qualifying high schools nine mills instead of 8.5 mills, as earlier announced.

Wilma Fry has left the village because of illness. Her last official act was a reiteration of a policy she has followed since becoming clerk and treasurer of the village.

Richard Erla of Cass City disclosed this week that he has been appointed as a member of the Michigan Selective Service Board for Tuscola county.

Miss Therese McCormick of Cass City has recently taken a position with a Midland beauty shop.

The Wickware store has been sold to Miss Jessie Wilson by Carl Hendrick and the new store owner has taken possession.

While vacationing in Florida this winter, Mason Wilson, who stayed at the Port Richey trailer park, caught a giant fish. The giant fish struck a Creek Club lure and fought for about 35 minutes before being subdued. The lunker measured 55 1/2 inches in length and weighed 40 pounds.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

M. Malesko, president, organizer and principal stockholder of the Cass City Manufacturing

Co., was here from Detroit and said the company hopes to open its manufacturing plant in the near future in the power house building which the company purchased from the village.

The eighth grade commencement of rural school pupils of Tuscola county will be held at Caro when the graduates will march from the court house, led by the Caro High School Junior Band to the school auditorium where exercises will be held.

Another family here has the distinction of having had eight sons and daughters graduate from the local high school, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Lounsbury. Carol Lounsbury was the eighth member since 1929 when Leslie Lounsbury was the first of the family.

Mrs. Walter Schell left to attend the world conference of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Ashbury Park, New Jersey.

Archie Mathieson of Port Huron gave an exhibition of trick shots in pocket billiards at the Cass City Recreation parlors. He has a high run of over 120 and has often made over the 100 mark.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Forty-one years ago, when a wooden bridge still spanned the deadwaters of the Cass River in Evergreen township, there was built the Mizpah Mennonite Church. That this ministry is appreciated has been shown by the ready response to a subscription which has been circulated for the purpose of rebuilding the church.

Miss Virginia Day, daughter of Mrs. Zora Day, who has been teaching in the Flint schools, will teach public school music in the Wyandotte School next year.

Miss Esther Schell, a teacher in the Constatine School, will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schell.

Miss Freda Parker, Miss Eunice Schell and Miss Milliecent Graham are among those who will receive their diplomas from Cleary Business College, Ypsilanti.

John Day, who is a member of the 1937 graduating class at Michigan State College, has accepted a position with the Beachnut Company at Canajoharie, New York.

Parade, service highlight Memorial Day activities

BOY SCOUTS and Girl Scouts also marched in the Memorial Day parade.

Hot sunny weather and clear skies greeted the annual Memorial Day parade marchers and spectators Monday when a traditional program was presented in the village.

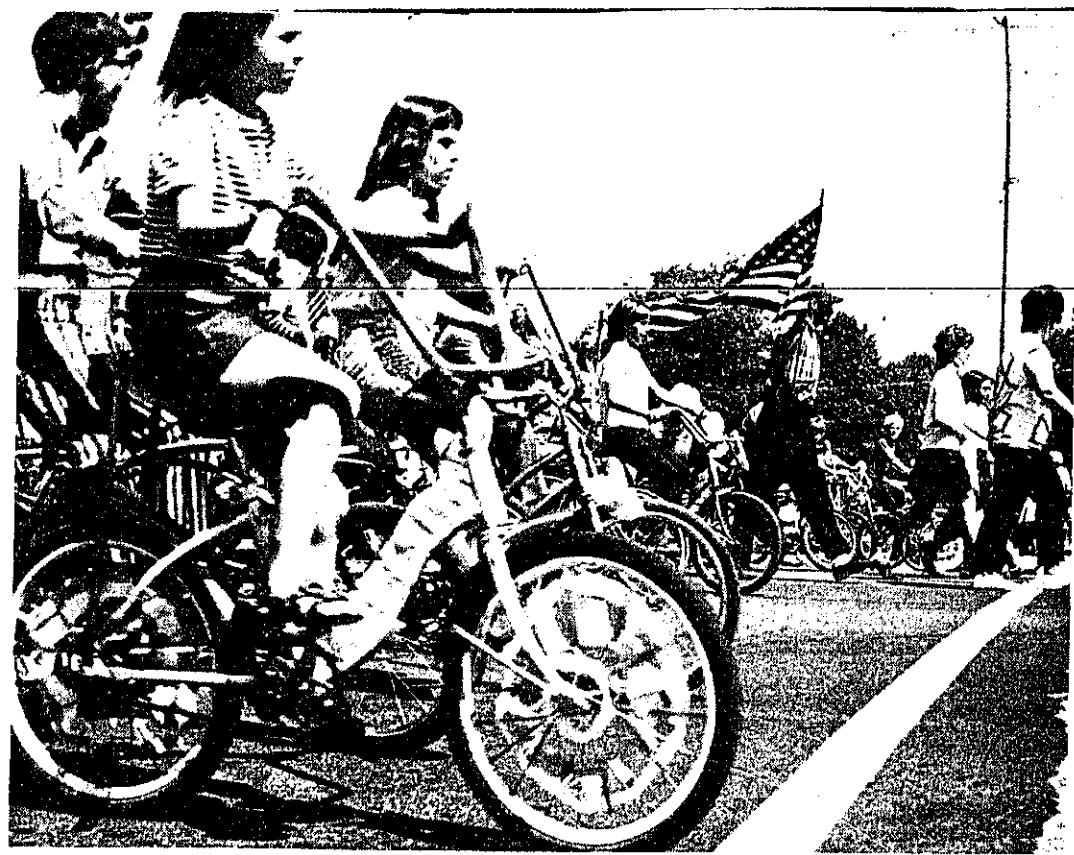

Spectators lined Main Street beginning at West Street where the parade kicked off at 10:30 a. m. and extended through town towards the eastern edge at the Elkland township cemetery.

The event is sponsored each year by both the village and township.

The procession culminated in the annual memorial service, remembering those men who have died in war, at the Elkland cemetery. Master of Ceremonies Jack Esau introduced the Rev. Milton Gelatt, pastor of the Holbrook Baptist Church, who gave the invocation and benediction.

The Rev. Lloyd Streeter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, spoke briefly about freedom in America. A prayer was offered by Mrs. Lilah Wilhelm of the Legion Auxiliary as Mrs. William Anker placed a wreath on the grave of the unknown soldier.

Following three volleys by the American Legion colorguard, taps were played, concluding the service.

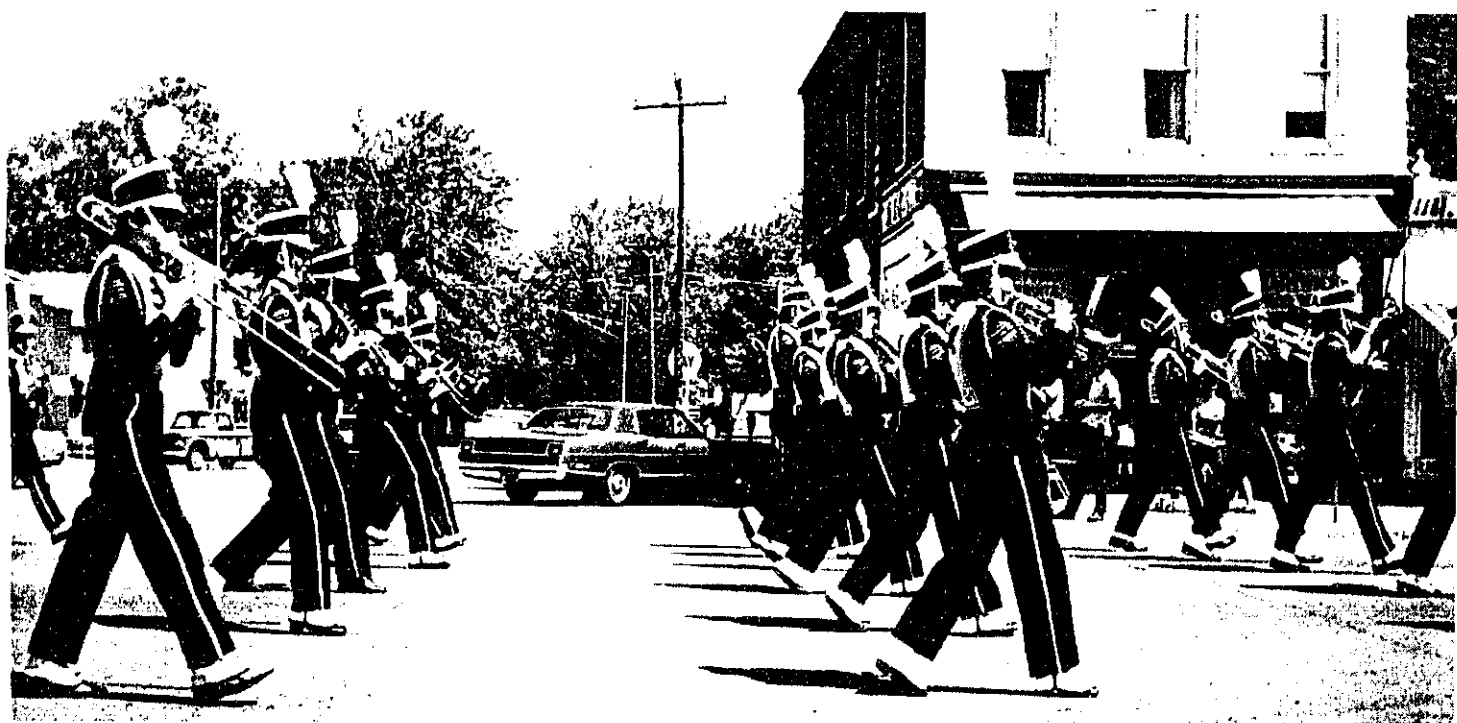

DECORATED BICYCLES gave the rest of the town kids a chance to participate in the traditional event.

PONY CARTS added to the spirit of the parade which was filled with troops of marching horses.

CASS CITY HIGH SCHOOL marching band provided march music.

LEADING Cass City High School Band were the newly chosen drum major and majorettes.

PASTOR LLOYD STREETER of the First Baptist Church gave the Memorial service address at the Elkland cemetery. He talked about freedom.

CONTEMPLATING the thoughts of Pastor Streeter are 3 unidentified men.

ELAINE HOLMES places a wreath on the grave of her uncle, Donald Holmes, in a traditional Memorial Day gesture.

Present awards to speech students at coffee hour

The advanced speech class at Cass City High School hosted a recognition coffee hour Wednesday evening, May 24. The coffee hour was designed to display some of the talents in speech and also to award those outstanding students involved in outside speech activities.

All students who participated in any extracurricular speech activity were invited to attend along with their parents.

Following refreshments, the students presented a program including oral dramatic readings by two forensics district winners, Loretta Briolat and Greg Hampshire, a debate presentation was made by the varsity team and two scenes were presented by the advanced speech class from a children's play.

Certificates of merit from the Detroit Free Press were presented to the varsity debate team: Cara Prieskorn, Ron Crandell, B.J. Haire and Mike Klinkman. Cass City High School debate certificates were presented to: Sherry Schneckberger, Randy Brown, Fannie Khader, Randy Bacon, Bruce Tuckey and Kurt Wagner, all junior varsity or novice debate team members.

Awards were also made to first and second place winners selected last February in the local forensics tournament: Loretta Briolat and Joanne Miller, humorous interpretative reading; Greg Hampshire, serious interpretative reading; Jean Cummings and Brian Althaver, storytelling; Rick Damm and Fannie Khader, radio-broadcasting; Linda Koepfgen, Joe Hancy and Mike Klinkman, multiple reading; and Meh Esau, B.J. Haire; Cara Prieskorn, Ron Crandell and Kim Glaspie, multiple reading.

Recognition was also given those students who had parts in plays during the year.

Mrs. Linderman Michigan Mirror dies Tuesday

Mrs. Jacob Linderman, 63, succumbed Tuesday, May 30, in Hills and Dales Hospital.

The former Amanda Roddenberg, she was born May 3, 1889, in Wayne, Mi., the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Roddenberg.

She and Mr. Linderman were married Dec. 12, 1912, in Dearborn. The couple settled on a farm in Evergreen township. Mr. Linderman died May 13, 1963.

Survivors are: two daughters, Miss Edna Linderman and Miss Vernita Linderman, both of Cass City; four sons, Fred Linderman of Decker, Roy Linderman of Sandusky, James Linderman of Cass City and Nelson Linderman of Fowlerville.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Augusta Stutzman, and a brother, John Roddenberg, both of Garden City; 10 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at Little's Funeral Home. The Rev. James Van Deilen, pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, was to officiate.

Burial will be in Elkland cemetery.

Parties bitter towards defectors in re-apportionment battle

It's accounting time. When the Democratic Party starts adding up the pluses and minuses for the current year, or the current decade for that matter, one of the occurrences which will produce a broad smile on leaders' faces is the redistricting of legislative and congressional districts.

The party strengthened itself in both areas, adding at least one seat in Congress and "adding" seats in both the Michigan Senate and Michigan House.

The drawing of districts to increase representation in a legislative body is done through a careful analysis and dividing up of strength.

For instance, if an area had a total population of 100,000 made up of 60,000 of one party and 40,000 of another, and two districts were drawn, the area could be drawn to provide either a 1-1 split or two seats for the majority party. A 1-1 split would be secured by putting all or most of the 40,000 minority party members in one district and making the other overwhelmingly for the majority party. A 2-0 makeup would result by providing for 30,000 majority party and 20,000 minority party members in each district.

Things aren't that clear cut in real life, of course, but sophisticated map drawers operating with the knowledge of which areas favor one party and which favors the other can make quite a difference.

The tougher of the two jobs for the Democrats was Congressional redistricting, which is supposed to be done by the Legislature. With the Senate split 19-19 between the two parties, the Republicans needed to find only one defector from the Democratic ranks to pass a plan of their own. They did this initially, passing a plan designed to preserve their 12-7 dominance of the Congressional delegation while giving State Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, a seat at the expense of Democratic Lucien Nedzi.

In the House, the Democrats had an equally difficult time doing anything with their majority of 58 because a number of the more conservative Democrats were angry with the party leadership over such issues as busing.

Finally, Republicans found eight Democratic defectors willing to join them to help Bowman, and the House passed a bill nearly identical to the Senate bill. Democrats in the House then worked with Republicans to pass a complete incumbents' plan to help Nedzi in place of Bowman, whom the party leadership does not want to see in Congress.

It developed that the Bowman plan was written defectively so the Senate couldn't just agree with it. Then another Democratic vote was ready in the Senate to adopt the incumbents' plan.

Enter Republican Sen. Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, who wanted a district for himself. Zollar went over to the Democrats and secured Senate passage of a plan helping the Democrats and himself.

At that point, with elections drawing closer, Federal Judge Damon Keith said enough was enough and decided the Legislature would never agree on a plan. He ordered into effect a plan which gives the Democrats one extra seat for sure and perhaps the seat held by Republican Marvin Esch.

One notable result of all this maneuvering is a good deal of bitterness in both parties towards fellow party members who "sold out" at one time or another to the opposition.

The Michigan AFL-CIO has served notice on the eight House Democrats who voted with Republicans for the Bowman plan they had "better start looking for new friends" because they don't have any in labor any more. The party leadership feels the same way.

Republicans, at the same time, are very angry with Zollar, since his actions cost the party at least one Congressional seat. Come election time this year, those who jumped the traces, however briefly, may have a tough time of it.

DEER LEAP

Michigan deer are finding out, sometimes with fatal results, the grass on the other side of the fence really is greener sometimes.

The State Highway Department reports roadsides and freeway medians are usually seeded with a mixture containing Kentucky blue grass, perennial rye and red fescue grass—a much better tasting diet for deer than their usual woodland diet.

As a result the deer often jump the five and six-foot roadside fences to graze near the road.

The result of that often is a collision between a deer and a motor vehicle. Last year 9,000 deer died when hit by motor vehicles and five persons died in the collisions.

PROMOTING the Michigan Twin's Association convention are Mrs. Carolyn Blades, front, and Mrs. Cathryn Okerstrom, co-secretaries of the organization.

Encourage twins to attend meet

If you're a twin and you want to really see double, the 26th annual convention of the Michigan Twin Association is the place to do it.

This year's convention will be held at Southfield June 24 and 25, report the association's co-secretaries, Mrs. Carolyn Blades and Mrs. Cathryn Okerstrom of Cass City.

The two women won the most look-alike contest in their age division last year, and urge all local twins to attend the convention.

Contests will be held for those attending to determine most alike twins in divisions of girls or boys, men or ladies and mixed, and the most unlike combination. Special awards will be awarded the youngest and oldest twins.

In addition, a twin talent entertainment program will be held in conjunction with the banquet.

The Michigan Twin Association is a non-profit organization started in 1947 in Grand Rapids.

Interested twins should not delay in contacting Mrs. Blades at 6772 Pine St. or Mrs. Okerstrom at 3623 Elmwood Road.

Two stand mute in circuit court

Two men stood mute when they were arraigned before Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge James Churchill Tuesday.

A plea of innocent was entered for Frank E. Androl Jr., Unionville, who was arraigned on a charge of felonious assault. Bond of $500 was continued, and a pre-trial set for June 12.

A plea of innocent was also entered for Robert A. Kabat, Reese, who was arraigned for possession of barbitol. A court order was made to send him to the Forensics Center for Psychiatry, Ypsilanti, for evaluation to determine if he can stand trial. Bond of $300 was continued.

In other business, Philip Thayer, Akron, was sentenced to two years' probation and given 4 months in the county jail for attempted malicious destruction of property. He was also ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs of $425. Thayer pleaded guilty to the charge when his trial began April 25.

He was originally charged with malicious destruction when he drove a car into a Caro home Dec. 24, 1971.

Michael O'Connor, 17, E. Elmwood Road, Cass City, was convicted of conspiracy to break and enter by Judge Norman Baguley Wednesday, May 24, when he stood trial before the judge. He was charged with conspiracy in the March 3 breaking and entering of a service station owned by Cleo Spaulding on M-81 at Elmwood Road. Sentencing is scheduled for July 5.

Few actions taken at council meeting

Council members granted several citizen requests and discussed numerous problems Tuesday night when the village council met in a short regular session at the Municipal Building.

Jim McCoy, formerly of Cass City and now of Caro, appeared before the council to request that the cable television permit which the council granted him several years ago be reverted to his name from the name of his corporation, Thumb Video Co.

He told the council that he has applied for a federal permit to build a community antenna system uniting Caro and Cass City and expects approval in about six months. The change in name is necessary, he said, because the corporation is being dissolved due to the sale of its CATV system in Mt. Pleasant.

Council granted the request with a 12 month stipulation that some concrete work be started within that time in building a CATV network in the community. McCoy told them he could have it operating about two months after approval by the Federal Communications Commission.

SUBDIVISION

The council also approved a preliminary plat plan for a "Country View Subdivision" presented by Tom Herron, building contractor. The plans for a 10-acre subdivision consisting of 20 lots were approved by the council. President Lambert Althaver reminded that this approval merely gives Herron the opportunity to have engineering work begun.

The subdivision is proposed for an area behind the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, with extensions of Houghton and Third Street. Herron told the council that at present no figures are set as to how much the subdivision will cost.

Tom Proctor also reiterated his request to purchase the old fire hall, which he wants for expansion. The council told him what would be done to the building, which is still used by the fire department, depends upon the decision regarding parking and the proposed zoning ordinance.

The zoning ordinance was tabled at the last council meeting to allow further study of a controversial proposal which would exempt the downtown business district from providing parking at the time of erection or enlargement of any building or structure. Other districts would be required to provide parking.

A meeting is scheduled for Monday night with the village engineers to discuss this problem prior to action by the council.

A parking lot and a small park have also been proposed for the firehall site.

A request by Jack McDaniel representing the Cass City Service Clubs to mow an area in the northern portion of the park for a horse show to be held during the Western Round-up and use of the service road for a tractor pulling contest was approved.

MAPLE STREET

Several matters, including what to do with one block of Maple Street which is deteriorating rapidly, were sent to committee for further study.

The block under discussion extends between Main and Church Streets. How much it would cost to revert the street to gravel this year with hopes of including it for curb and gutter work in next year's budget will be determined. An alternative was to have a layer of blacktop put on the road at a cost of about $850 and leave it for five years or more.

A review of insurance coverage and policies held by the village was also sent to committee. Althaver told the council that the study was spurred when he learned that the village held no insurance on the announcer's booth, which was recently damaged by fire.

Police are investigating arson suspects in that blaze which caused considerable damage.

VILLAGE PUMPS

Ed Anthes, Department of Public Works foreman, requested that the wiring between the village pumps be replaced at a cost between $1500 and $2000. The council asked him to present a firm estimate at the next meeting when he told them that the wire runs from the municipal building to pump 1 and from that pump to pump 2. If anything happens to the wiring to the first pump, the second is also out of commission.

Meetings were set up for June to interview candidates for the position of village superintendent. Thirteen applications were received for the job left vacant when James Blades resigned last month.

The council agreed to pay the $60 fee for the school village assessor Dan Erla is attending to become certified. The council decided to pay the relatively small amount because, although the position carries little authority, it has representative responsibility, said Althaver. The assessor receives a yearly fee of $700 for his work in figuring exemptions, assessment rolls and special assessment rolls.

In a routine action, the council approved a resolution to sign the maintenance contract with the State Highway Department for M-81, appointing Ed Anthes maintenance superintendent.

treated for minor injuries at Hills and Dales Hospital where he was taken Friday afternoon after being struck by a car driven by William G. Izzydorek, 18, 4152 Sherman St., Cass City. The pedestrian was in the cross walk when he was hit by the vehicle making a left hand turn, according to Cass City police. The mishap occurred at Main and Seeger Streets at 3:50 p. m.

No injuries resulted when cars driven by David K. Little, 20, 5163 Kelly Road, Cass City, and Robert R. Boudreau, 42, of Warren, collided on Main Street near Brook. Police reports stated that Little was west-bound on Main and made a right hand turn into the Boudreau car, which had come up on the right side. Boudreau told police he thought Little was signaling to turn left when the mishap occurred at 9:11 p. m. Friday.

In another minor mishap, a car driven by Gloria Jean Towler, 23, 6507 Main St., Cass City, backed into a parked truck of Clark Seckley behind Bigelow's Hardware Thursday morning, May 25, at 9:10. Minor damage was done to the car.

elephant she remembered had been buried there.

Excavating is only one of the interests the couple has in the history of the area. As members of the recently formed Thumb History Group, the Clelands spend their spare time cultivating an interest they've always had. Both have roots in the area that extend three generations.

An immediate project is finding as much as possible about Holbrook. The group is working to restore the little town on Germania Road that is now marked only by the small white building of the Holbrook Baptist Church.

Mrs. Cleland explained that it might be ten years or more but in collaboration with the wilderness park that is planned for the area, Holbrook will become a museum town.

Another feature of their avocation is helping to make a catalog of as many artifacts and historical sites and tales as possible from the area. The Thumb History Group is asking residents to let them know about their antiques so they can be added to the catalog, but Mrs. Cleland emphasized, "We don't want the articles."

The Cleland house is always buzzing with activity, and the vibrant couple, in addition to their historical interests, have a licensed foster home. Over the years, they've had 14 children, in addition to their own three. Presently, there are two, whom they affectionately refer to as No. 13 and No. 14.

Elect 4 to attend seminar

Four Tuscola county high school students have been selected by the county Farm Bureau to attend the Young Peoples Citizenship Seminar at Ferris State College June 19-23.

They are Linda Cole, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cole of Mayville; Anna Rae Sattlerberg, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sattlerberg of Unionville; Cindy Schluckbier, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Schluckbier, Frankenthum; and Larry Ziehm, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ziehm of Gagetown.

Alternate chosen was Janet Schmuck, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmuck of Unionville.

DRUM MAJOR AND MAJORETTES were chosen May 2 for the 1972-73 school year. Drum major is Ken Hampshire, 16. Majorettes are, left to right, Deb Loomis, 16; LaDonna Brown, 16; Sandy Eisinger, 13, and Evelyn Merchant, 16.

Firemen receive 4 calls Saturday

Elkland township firemen were kept busy Saturday with four fires, one right after the other within a space of about 3 1/2 hours.

The first call was received at 4:09 p. m. to assist Gagetown in fighting a muck fire 1/2 mile north of Gagetown.

As soon as they returned to the fire hall a call was received from Don Brinkman, 4281 E. Cass City Road, to squelch a garage fire at his home 4 1/2 miles west of Cass City. The call came at 5:40. Between $500 and $1000 damage was done by the electrical fire.

The next call came at 6:20, just as the firemen returned again. This time, a call by Mrs.

Vera King brought the fire fighters to her home at 6629 Church St. Extensive damage was done by fire of unknown cause and water.

Most of the damage was confined to the basement where the fire began, but some smoke damage occurred on the main floor.

The men extinguished the flames just in time to assist Gagetown firemen again in fighting a car fire in which Robert McCready of Unionville was severely injured after he rolled the car on Cedar Run Road near the S-curve, 4 west and 1 1/2 miles north of Cass City. That assist took 20 minutes.

Herman Koch dies in hospital

Herman J. Koch, 78, retired Gagetown farmer, died Friday, May 26, at Huron Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe, following a short illness.

He was born May 10, 1896, in Sebawaing township and married Erma Stig Jan. 18, 1920, in Bach. She died Aug. 12, 1964.

Surviving are three sons, Nelson, Harold and Franklin, all of Gagetown; six grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; three brothers, George and Ernest of Sebawaing and Rudolph of Bay City; two sisters, Emma and Clara Koch, both of Sebawaing.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the St. Peter Lutheran Church at Bach by Rev. S. J. Sattelmeyer. Burial was in the church cemetery.

All youth have some creative ability, some have more, some less. The main difference between those youth who more fully utilize their capacities, and those who neglect them, lies in the way we parents encourage or discourage these abilities and skills.

Hold funeral

for Mrs. Kutey

Final rites were conducted Wednesday morning for Mrs. Anna Kutey, 83, who died Sunday, May 28, at the Tuscola County Medical Facility, where she had been a patient the past four years.

Mrs. Kutey was born in Yugoslavia Nov. 25, 1888, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Blazicevich. She came to this country when a young girl.

She was united in marriage to Fred Kutey in Detroit in 1914. They came to this community in 1932 where she has lived until her death. Her husband died in February 1939.

She is survived by two sons, Joseph of Detroit and Anthony of Warren; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Two brothers and one sister preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with burial following in Ellington cemetery. The Rev. Donald Christensen of St. Agatha Church, officiated.

Yanks, Cubs undefeated in Little League play

After the first full week of play in the Cass City Little League two teams remain undefeated. . . the up and coming Cubs and the defending league champions, Yankees. Both of these clubs have won two games.

The Cubs opened the league season against the rebuilding Giants and scored an easy win, 27-7. The Giants have nine new players and obviously are building for the future this year.

Mike Zniarski started and went the distance for the Cubs, striking out eight. Tom Coleman, relieved by Ernie Stoutenburg, took the loss. The Cubs picked up 10 hits and 15 walks in the game.

PIRATES—TIGERS

Tuesday, May 23, the Pirates edged the Tigers in a well-played game, 6-4.

The Tigers jumped off to a three-run lead in the first inning on just one hit, but the Pirates charged back with two runs in each of the second and third innings to take the lead.

Bill Shagene was on the mound for the Pirates and allowed just two hits striking out 13. Ken Martin pitched for the losers and struck out 11 while allowing seven hits.

Paul Battel and Phil Zawilinski showed the way for the winners with two hits. Mike Richards and Martin picked up the hits for the Tigers.

TIGERS—CUBS

It was just not the Tigers' week. After losing the close game to the Pirates they dropped a one-run decision to the Cubs Thursday, 9-8.

In the first inning it looked as if the Tigers would win going away as they scored four times. But the Cub defense tightened and a seven-run fourth inning proved enough to wing the Cubs to victory.

Terry Compo was touched for seven hits as the winning pitcher. He struck out 11. Mike Richards allowed just five hits, but walked eight while striking out 16. Don Doerr picked up two hits for the winners while Ken Martin and Mike Richards hit two safeties each for the losers.

YANKIES—ORIOLES

The Yankees had little trouble with the Orioles in the opening game, winning 21-2.

The Yankees scored in every inning as they hammered out 14 hits and received 10 walks. Tim Severance got the win as he pitched shutout ball before being relieved by Tony Doerr. The Orioles walked 11 times and got one hit.

For the Yankees Jeff Hartel and Dean Severance were three for three while Clark Haire collected four hits in five tries.

YANKIES—PIRATES

Before the season started the defending champion Yankees were expected to receive their strongest challenge from the Pirates.

Whether this will prove to be true is anybody's guess now, but both teams were keying for the game.

The Yankees won easily Friday, 13-3.

The Pirates scored twice in the first inning on an error and Tim Fahrner's three-base hit.

The Yankees came roaring back in the third inning with a seven-run rally and it was all over but the shouting. The rally came on three walks, an error and two hits.

Dean Alexander went the distance for the losers, striking out 11. Haire started and went the first five innings for the Yankees and got the win. Hartel pitched out 10 and walked but two. The Pirates collected three hits, two by Bill Shagene.

The Yankees rapped out eight safeties and picked up nine walks. Terry Vollmer showed the way for the Yanks with three hits in four tries.

In Thumb traveling league

Erla's outslug Reese, 6-5

Erla's notched its second win in three outings in the Thumb Traveling League Thursday with a 6-5 decision over Reese at Akron.

The Foodmen were forced to come from behind for the victory as Reese pounded out three hits good for three runs in the first inning.

Erla's countered with a run in the second as John Langhorne walked and scored on Dick Suhr's hit. In the third a four-run rally put the club ahead to stay.

Dean Hoag singled and Elwyn

Helwig and Walt Hempton followed with hits. With two away, Langhorne and Dave Wilson slammed hits to cap the rally.

Reese moved to within a run in the fifth on an error and two hits, but Erla's countered with what proved to be the decisive run in their half of the inning as Rollie Nicholas slammed a double and rode home on Al Wallace's hit.

Reese threatened in the sixth when the lead-off hitter walked and the next two hitters singled, scoring Schuckbier. But with the potential tying and winning runs on base, Dick Suhr closed the gate and Erla's coasted to the win.

Suhr was hammered for nine hits but Reese and Ackerman gave up an equal amount for the losers. Both hurlers struck out three.

Seven of the 10 men playing for Erla's broke into the hit column. Hempton picked up two hits in three tries to lead the way.

The Foodmen's next game in the league will be Thursday at Sebawaing with Unionville.

Hawks bow to Marysville to end outstanding year

Cass City High School came to the end of the baseball trail Saturday morning in a district tournament game at Marysville, 5-3.

A conflict with the Senior class trip may have cost the Hawks the opportunity to move up in the tournament. With five Seniors absent Coach Fred Hurlburt had just nine players suited.

Jerry Toner, who didn't start a game all year, was the pitcher and he played well until the late innings when he tired. Unfortunately there wasn't anyone else to pitch. During the regular championship season, Toner mopped up after Fred Harbec pitched the first four innings or more.

Marysville broke the ice in the second with a run on a double and a single. In the fourth a circuit clout made it 2-0.

Cass City bounced back in the fifth to score. Scott Guinther singled and scored on an error. In the sixth Marysville scored three times to salt away the game. A walk and three singles did the damage.

The Hawks staged a desperate last inning rally and had the potential tying run at the plate before it ended. Guinther walked. Toner singled and Mike Frederick doubled, scoring Toner. Kip Hopper grounded out scoring Guinther. Scott Hartel singled and Gene Salas hit a deep fly to the fence in center to end the game.

Rick Kern went the distance for Marysville, striking out 8 and allowing five hits.

Toner was nipped for 12 well spaced hits. A bright note for Hawk fans is that all but one of the players suited Saturday will be back next year to help defend Cass City's Thumb B title.

SEASON'S STATISTICS

The team batted a great .279 for the year. Henry Cooklin ended his career on a high note as he led the team with a .448 mark. Kip Hopper was next with .410 while Randy Brown hit .333. Scott Hartel posted a .308 mark.

Don Galbraith's 10 runs batted in led the team. Kip Hopper stole 11 of the 48 stolen bases the team recorded.

Harbec posted a 9-1 record and a 2.32 earned run average with 57 strikeouts in 48 1-3 innings. Toner won 2 and lost one with a sparkling 0.95 earned run average. As a relief man he held the opponents without an earned run. He had 7 saves.

The Hawks had a .938 fielding average and committed just 24 errors during the season.

Babe Ruth

try-outs set for Thursday

Manager Lee Hartel announced this week that the first practice for the Cass City Babe Ruth team is scheduled for Thursday, June 1, at 5 p. m.

The team plays in a Thumb league and play in the league starts next week. Boys interested in playing can still sign at the first practice.

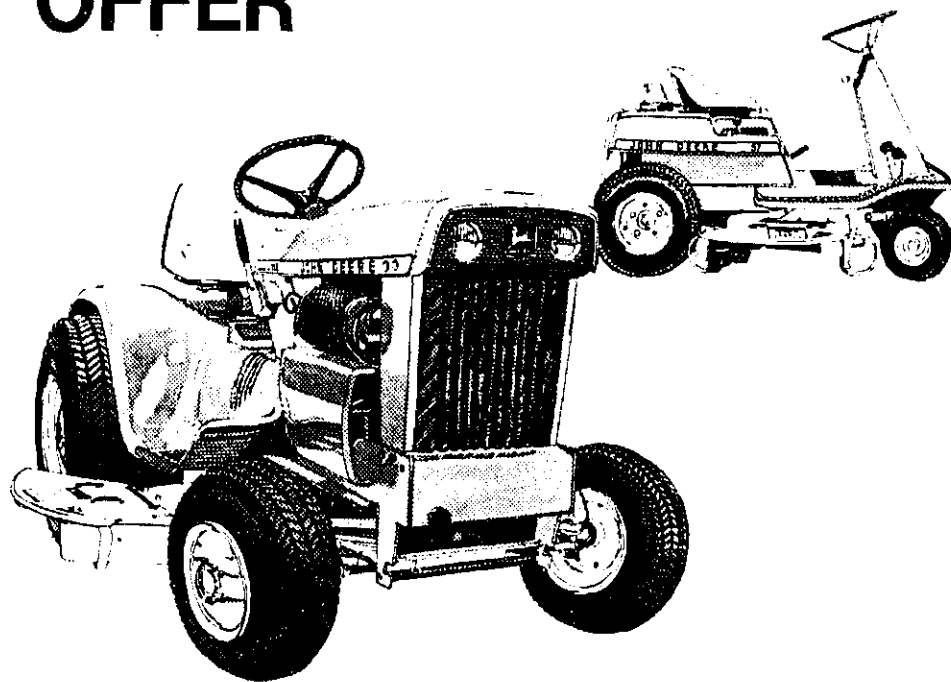

Assistant coaches for the team are Mike Murphy and Scott Hartel.
