Gagetown boy still in critical condition

A 6-year-old Gagetown boy remains in critical condition in a coma in St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw, where he was taken with severe injuries sustained when he was hit by a truck Sunday morning.

Lloyd Michael Gray Jr., son of Lloyd Gray, 4803 State St., Gagetown, was injured when he apparently rode his bicycle into the path of a truck driven by Ann Marie Harmer, 32, 6839 Huron Line Road, Gagetown.

According to Tuscola county Sheriff reports, the boy was riding a bicycle on the east side of Gage Street and turned into the path of the vehicle headed south. The accident occurred at 11:23 a.m.

Skid marks 24 feet long were left by the truck.

Aleen Ziehm, 18, of Owendale is listed in good condition in St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw where she was transferred from Hills and Dales with a fractured hip. She was injured early Saturday morning when she was standing by the scene of an auto accident on Sebewaing Road near the east limits of Sebewaing.

A car driven by Philip J. Esch, 18, Sebewaing, went out of control and came to rest in the middle of the road. That car was hit a few minutes later by a vehicle driven by David M. Eremia, 22, Sebewaing, when he came upon the scene. The lights of Esch's car were off.

Police believe Eremia's car struck the girl. Mark K. Janke, 19, Sebewaing, was also hit by the car but escaped with bruises.

Lloyd Wilfred Montrevil, 32, of 4182 Bay City-Forestville Road, Gagetown, received minor injuries when the car he was driving struck a horse on M-81 near E. Cameron Road, at 1:38 a.m. Tuesday. Montrevil was northbound when a horse owned by William Wilthex, Ryan Road, Caro, ran in the car's path.

Joseph Dean Zawilinski, 16,

4355 Leach St., Cass City, escaped injury Friday when his brakes failed and he ran into the back end of a school bus stopped to turn left. The accident occurred at the intersection of Seeger and Church streets at 4:10 p.m. Zawilinski was cited for defective equipment by Cass City police.

Gary Bruce Fifield, 31, 1458 Church St., Decker, was uninjured Thursday, June 1, when he fell asleep at the wheel of his car, crossed the center line and smashed into a utility pole on Lorenzo Road at 3 a.m.

The two men involved in a hit and run accident at Caseville May 28 in which Eugene D. Nicholas of Cass City escaped with minor injuries were fined in Huron county District court.

Thomas Leon Willoughby, 17, E. Detroit, pleaded guilty to reckless driving. He was ordered to serve 21 days in jail and pay fine and costs of $154.

Gary E. Storm, 19, Richmond, pleaded guilty to simple assault on a police officer and was ordered to serve 15 days in jail and pay fine and costs of $100.

The two were arrested following a chase after the car driven by Willoughby struck Nicholas as police officers were investigating a motorcycle accident he had been in earlier. The incident took place on M-25 near Sleeper State Park.

Marble tells seniors of identity crisis

Dr. Samuel D. Marble, president of Saginaw Valley College, told the members of the Cass City High School Class of 1972 that their biggest problem would be to identify themselves.

Speaking to the class, parents and friends Tuesday night at Cass City High School gym, Dr. Marble told the class that they would be uncertain and frustrated many times in whatever fields they enter.

He urged the graduates to face each crisis as it comes and make a decision. The sure way not to find your way, he said, is to do nothing to solve your problems as they arise.

Those of you who are going on to college should not expect college to show you the way. In fact, he added, surveys have shown that college makes pupils more uncertain than ever.

That's because a host of new ideas, new living styles and change come all at once in college.

But if you take action as each crisis occurs you will find making decisions easier and easier and your personal identity crisis easier to cope with, he concluded.

4 seeking 2 school board posts tell views of education

School authorities look for a light vote Monday in the regular election despite the active campaigns for the two open board positions by four candidates.

It may well be that as few as 400 of the district's over 2,000 registered voters will trudge to the polls to decide who will administer the $1 million plus school business.

Candidates in personal interviews have told why they seek voter approval for the posts and what they believe the problems and the directions the school should take in education.

LEE HARTEL

Lee Hartel, 39, is one of two newcomers vying for board positions. He and his wife live at 4192 S. Seeger St., Cass City, and have six children, five in school.

Hartel said his main reason for running is his children.

Two areas he said he would like to see strengthened in the schools are curriculum and athletics. Curriculum should be continually expanded, he noted, and said he'd like to see no changes to hinder the athletic program.

One area of curriculum that should definitely be broadened is shop work, he said. "I feel this is an area we need definite improvement in," he said. In his work in quality control at Walbro, Hartel said he comes in contact every day with young men that aren't going on to college but that aren't trained well enough to handle shop work.

Another area that needs improvement is the attendance and participation of the parents, said Hartel, adding that half of the problems now are due to parents not knowing what's going on. Good communication between the board and parents and the board and teachers is needed, he said.

A graduate of Cass City High School, Hartel has been a trustee for 15 years at the Novesta Church of Christ, an officer of Little League for 10 years and is currently chairman of the local Boy Scout council. "I have worked with young people and I'm interested in young people and their problems," said Hartel.

ROBERT HIRN

The other new face seeking a seat on the board is Robert Hirn, 30, a former teacher and presently manager of the Caro Building Center. A 1964 graduate of Central Michigan University, Hirn came to Cass City from Detroit and taught high school biology in Cass City for five years before going to work at the Caro Building Center.

With his background in teaching and administration, he said "Whatever comes up, I can be of some help."

"I think someone with a background in education that can understand curriculum needs would be of advantage to the people," said Hirn, adding that some changes are needed but declined to say what those changes are.

Between the board and teachers he thinks there should very definitely be good communication, which is sometimes lacking. As with other candidates, he said communications between parents and the board should also be open.

Hirn is married and has three children, two pre-schoolers and one in the elementary school. They live at 6624 Kelly Road, Cass City.

GERALD HICKS

Gerald Hicks, 47, of 192 Crawford Road, Deford, is an incumbent candidate with the most experience on school boards.

He has served 4 years in his present capacity, and before that he was on the boards of the Deford Community Schools and the Crawford School, totaling 14 years.

A dairy farmer, he was asked to run again by the Deford area residents who want representation from that area.

"We feel we want to be part of the school. People like to have a board member they can talk to," said Hicks. "I have no axes to grind; I listen to all sides," he added.

Hicks said he thinks the relationship between the board and teachers is improving with better communications, but still sees room for improvement.

He said communications with parents is also becoming better. "I think parents are voicing their opinions more," he said. "I think that should be encouraged."

Hicks revealed he would seek one more term and then bow out of the school board.

Hicks is a board member of the Farm Bureau, vice-president of Tuscola and Huron County District Michigan Milk Producers Association, a board member of Farm Bureau Credit Union, a member of the Cass City Laymen's Club, and treasurer for 21 years of the Deford United Methodist Church.

He and his wife have three grown children.

ARTHUR SEVERANCE

The other incumbent seeking re-election is Arthur Severance, 32, representing the Evergreen township area.

A dairy farmer, Severance and his wife have five children, four in school. They live at 6331 Severance Road, Decker.

He has served four years on the board.

Severance said he thinks the board must keep education of top quality and therefore pay good quality teachers the going rate. The salaries now are about average for the Thumb area, he said.

About curriculum, Severance said he thinks it should be widened, but not at the expense of the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic.

"I think it (a basic education) is available, but some of the new things take up the time that should be devoted to learning the basic skills," he said.

Between the board and teachers he thinks as good a relationship as possible should be sought. He said he'd also like to see more parents at the meetings.

"I wish more parents would come, especially if they have a problem," stated Severance. He said the big reason so few parents show up at meetings is they feel the board is authoritative and that they must get rid of that feeling.

"They're afraid it won't do any good, but the board will at least listen," he said.

Severance is a 1962 graduate of Michigan State University and is active in Cass City Laymen's Club, Farm Bureau, 4-H, Shabbona Methodist Church, is president of Michigan Milk Producers Association and district secretary of Michigan Animal Breeders Cooperative.

The election booths will be at the Cass City High School and will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. Absentee ballots are a superintendent's office until 4 p. m. Friday.

ARTHUR SEVERANCE

FROM THE Editor's Corner

Sitting around a coffee table awhile ago were six or seven members of a service club and the talk was about Artrain. Business and professional people casually discussing the problems of the day.

And maybe there was a tinge of resentment because Artrain rules say that companion events like the Western Round Up shouldn't be held in conjunction with the visit of the train to a community.

Anyway it's reported that among these men all but one said that if the Artrain were in Caro they wouldn't take the time to visit it.

The first thought is if these men, above average in education and probably in exposure to cultural events, weren't interested why Artrain in Cass City?

After all it's a bushel and a peck of work and it costs money. Yes, it's free to the viewer, but not to the backers.

But this same apathy may be the best reason of all for bringing this outstanding art display to Cass City.

For these same men who said they wouldn't visit it if given a choice also said they would probably be dragged through by their wives.

So, willy nilly there is going to be exposure to great and near-great art.

And if Artrain makes sense, this must be the reason.

After all, there's more art and greater art available less than three hours away in Detroit. Yet it's a safe wager that less than 10 per cent here have been inside the art museum conveniently located on Woodward Avenue.

Artrain may expose to art persons who would never, never see it any other way.

I know because art was anathema to me as a young adult.

Probably still would be if I hadn't been looking for a snap course in college and selected art appreciation.

Man, that shows just how little I knew. First, the course was hard, especially hard for a hard head like me. But I needed the grade so I looked, listened and, eventually, even learned.

I learned that anyone can get turned on by art and that individuals are turned on by different art and different art treatments.

It's not necessary to like all (or any) of what Artrain will bring to Cass City in July. All that is necessary is that you look, listen and absorb.

When you do maybe one or more will be surprised to learn that art turns them on.

If it happens Artrain here will have been a success.

Because that's what Artrain is all about.

Marshall seeks county office

JOHN W. MARSHALL

John W. Marshall, Cass City, this week announced that he will be a candidate for Register of Deeds for Tuscola county. Marshall decided to seek the position when he learned that Incumbent William Profit has decided not to seek re-election.

Marshall is well known in the Cass City area through his long career here as a farmer-businessman.

A lifelong resident of Tuscola county, he attended Ferris State College in 1937-38 where he completed a course in higher accounting.

He farmed for 17 years before starting to work at Ryan Implement Co. In 1964 he purchased the farm implement business from Cliff Ryan in partnership with his son, Roger. Marshall served Elkland township as a trustee for several years and has been active in farm organizations. He served on the State Resolution Committee of the Michigan Milk Producers Association and as chairman of the resolution committee of Tuscola County Farm Bureau.

Candidates have until June 20 to submit petitions for the Register of Deeds post.

Confiscate marijuana garden

Deputies thwarted some would-be pot smokers Friday when they confiscated between 80 and 100 marijuana plants they found growing in the yard of a vacant house on Cass City Road. The Tuscola county sheriff's office received a call regarding a marijuana garden growing behind a supposedly vacant house on Cass City Road near Jacob Road.

Deputies investigated and identified the plants. The plants were removed before anyone else could transplant them.

Self taught artist develops own talent

BY KIT McMILLION

Painting comes almost as naturally as breathing for Greg Mark, a 16-year-old self-taught artist.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mark, he's one of three children and the only artist in the family.

"I've been painting ever since I remember," stated the energetic blond. His works help line the walls of his parents' home at 6353 Wilsie Road, Cass City.

Apparently loaded with talent, the young man said he didn't think talent alone made an artist, that it must be developed by work. Greg usually paints three hours a day at school in art classes, where he completed the fourth level this year.

Next year, he said, he will be taking four classes of art. He also paints in the family basement where he keeps his studio.

Greg related that he learned what he knows by studying a "ton of books." The only formal training he's had has been seven drawing lessons at high school art classes. He admits he has a lot to learn.

Much of his technique was learned by copying step-by-step instructions.

"Some people say never copy," the boy explained, but he doesn't agree. He said he thinks a lot can be learned by copying, before a person develops his own style. He chuckled as he revealed he never followed the steps completely.

Greg has already developed his own style, which is impressionistic dominated by dark moody colors, often with a contrast of bright orange, red or yellow. He paints a lot of still lifes and landscapes. He also likes abstracts because "There's not so much monkeying around." He explained that he likes these styles because of the freedom they offer to his expression.

Starting with four basic oil colors at age 8, he said it is still his preferred medium. He also likes pen and ink but hates acrylics. "It's like working with plastic," he said, denouncing them because they dry too fast and are not pure pigments.

Drawing constantly is necessary for continued growth, related the artist. "It's not really like a hobby. I get the bug to paint or I don't," explaining that inspiration must accompany his work or it takes forever to complete.

He recently won second prize in a student council sponsored art contest at the high school with a painting of the Michigan Bean Elevator.

That was the first exhibit he has entered, but he will be exhibiting this summer in the show during the visit of Artrain and has also been invited to work on the train, along with other local artists.

Describing his son, James Mark said he has always followed a consuming interest until it wears out. Currently interests are bicycling and growing cacti. Greg also likes to golf and fish.

Only a sophomore at Cass City High School, Greg isn't sure what he will do after school, but hopes to attend a commercial art school.

A SELF-TAUGHT ARTIST, Greg Mark likes to paint still lifes and landscapes, using an impressionist style. The painting on the easel was sold by the sophomore class to raise money for Artrain.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ball

Barbara L. Parker and Donald G. Ball were united in marriage April 8 in a 6 p.m. candlelight ceremony at Trinity United Methodist Church. The Rev. Ira Wood officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Parker of 6445 Seventh St., Cass City, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ball of E. Cass City Road, Cass City.

The bride wore a floor length gown of silk bombazine and imported French lace. The empire bodice was outlined with raised Venice lace entwined with velvet ribbon. Lace also adorned the sheer yoke, high collar and deep cuffed Victorian sleeves. Scattered lace motifs enhanced the flounced skirt with attached chapel train.

A pearl-studded lace Camelot headpiece secured her bouffant veil of bridal mist illusion. She carried a colonial arrangement of daffodils, baby's breath and fern, wrapped with white velvet ribbon.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Janice Hunt, sister of the bride, of Cass City. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carolyn Parker, sister-in-law of the bride, of Caro and Mrs. Sharon Ball, sister-in-law of the groom, of Reese.

The attendants wore floor length dresses of aqua chiffon with dirndl skirts. The bodice, Edwardian sleeves, neckline and border of the flounced skirts were enhanced with maize satin ribbon, embroidered with floral designs in aqua, maize and Nile green.

Matching bonnets and bubble veils completed their attire. They carried baskets of daffodils, yellow statice and fern, trimmed with yellow velvet ribbon.

Flower girl was Mary Ann Ball, niece of the groom. She wore a dress identical to the bridesmaids' and carried a basket of the same flowers.

Wesley Ball of Reese served as his brother's best man. Roger Parker, brother of the bride, and Richard Hunt, brother-in-law of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers were Robert Bliss and Jack Generous, both of Cass City.

Barry Parker and Brian Hunt, nephews of the bride, were ring bearers.

A reception and dinner was held immediately following the ceremony at the V.P.W. Hall in Pigeon.

The bride and groom spent two weeks in Florida and are now residing at 6328 Main St., Cass City.

Couple wed at Trinity Church

Linda Jane Wright and Peter William Kritzman, both of Cass City, exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening, May 27, at Trinity United Methodist Church. The Rev. E.D.K. Isaacs officiated at the seven o'clock ceremony.

Attendants for the couple were Mrs. John Bresky, friend of the bride, and the groom's brother, Irvin Kritzman of Kawawlin.

Lillian Dunlap of Caro, the groom's aunt, sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. James Doerr was organist.

A reception and dinner followed at the Cass City Gun

Club.

Leaving Saturday night on a week's trip, the couple attended the pageant at Fort Michilimackinac, went by Sault Ste. Marie to Tahquamenon Falls, visited the Pictured Rocks, Copper Harbor, Green Bay Packers stadium and Chicago.

They also visited the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Comer of Elkhart, Ind., and returned home Sunday morning.

The trip was over 2,000 miles.

A mighty fine place for a no-tipping sign is on a canoe.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Telling it like it is has been carried to an extreme this week in a real estate ad by Bill Zemke.

It's an open question if copy like this sells as well as entertains.

If you read another like it sometime soon you can be sure it did. One thing sure is that Zemke dares to be different.

I remember once when he ran a half page Christmas greeting in October just because, he said, he wanted to be first.

It's probably equitable that representatives on the school board come from various sections of the district. But it's provincial if Art Severance should regard himself as representing Evergreen; or Gerald Hicks figure himself a representative from Deford; or members from town regard themselves as representing Cass City.

Board members to do the best job should have wider horizons... considering the problems as they relate to the entire district.

It shouldn't be inferred that the Chronicle feels that incumbents have acted on a narrow partisan basis.

But there is an unhealthy condition in school affairs where individuals of former districts consider themselves as a "district" within a district rather than what they are: all members of the Cass City District.

It's a condition that should be cured for the best interest of education for our kids wherever they may live.

You never see the trees for the forest. On Oak street directly across from the Chronicle are four parking meters. So what? So there are only three parking spaces.

This condition has existed for a year or more but I never noticed until Tuesday when Al O'Connor called my attention to it as he tried to figure which meter should take his nickel.

There is an unprecedented number of boys 13-15 interested in playing Babe Ruth baseball this season. Enough so that there will be two teams formed in the league.

That's not necessarily because baseball has had a revival. More likely it's because there is no swimming pool and teenage boys have to be doing something.

Planners, council eye two issues

Two nitty-gritty questions were to have been discussed Wednesday night at a joint meeting of the village council and the Cass City Planning Commission.

The two are the proposed site for the Skilled Nursing Home and parking provisions for the downtown business district.

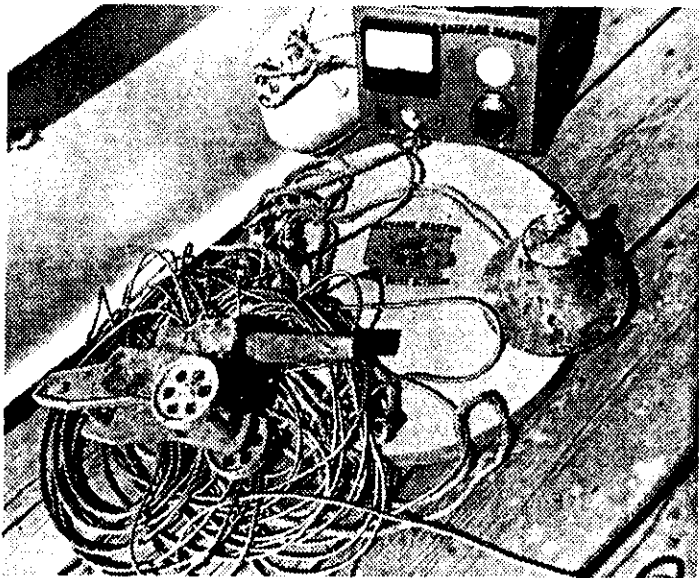

A provision in the proposed new ordinance would have allowed expansion in the downtown business district without provision for off-street parking.

This was recommended previously by planning, but turned down by the council.

Now a regulation requiring a parking space for each 150 square feet of building and a business assessment plan is also under consideration.

The Skilled Nursing Home question has been referred to planning by the council after a rezoning request was submitted to the council last week by the owners of Hills and Dales Subdivision.

New Permit Rule for Scuba Divers

Under a new feature of Michigan's long-standing Antiquities Act, scuba diving hobbyists must obtain free permits from the Department of Natural Resources before they explore the depths of the Great Lakes and Lake St. Clair. The new permit rule is not meant to take the adventurous enjoyment out of scuba diving, which has made a "splash" with an estimated 15,000 or more followers in this state. Instead, the measure is designed to protect and save historic artifacts on Michigan's Great Lakes bottomlands which have been disappearing at an alarming rate as a result of the current surge in underwater treasure-hunting. The permit rule does not cover Michigan's inland waters or the Detroit, St. Clair, and St. Marys rivers where bottomlands belong to riparian owners. Scuba diving permits may be obtained free from the DNR's Office of Planning Services in Lansing. They are also available at all DNR district headquarters, except the Rose Lake station, and at the Department's Detroit Information Office at 17800 Woodward Avenue. Other pick-up points for the permits are the DNR's Marquette regional office, its field station at Cheboygan, or Fort Wilkins, Bay City, and Sleeper state parks. --Michigan Department of Natural Resources

Painting sale earns $40 for Artrain

Mrs. Howard Bacon of Cass City was chosen winner of a painting offered for drawing by the sophomore class of Cass City High School.

Her name was announced Monday afternoon by class president Greg Hampshire.

The picture was painted by Greg Mark. The sale earned about $40, which will be donated to the Artrain fund.

Name area pupils to CMU honors list

Several area students attending Central Michigan University were among 3,050 pupils named to the academic honors list at Central Michigan University for the 1972 Winter Semester.

To be eligible for listing, the student must have maintained a "B" or better average for his entire college career.

Included among the pupils was Kayleen Sue Dorland of Snover who earned all "A's".

On the honors list are: Margaret A. Battel, Ken J. Elisinger, Sally A. Geiger, Elizabeth A. Hillaker, Karen S. Holm and Kathy Mark, all of Cass City; Evelyn S. Schumbl of Deford; Louann Parker and Janet Russell, both of Gagetown; Nancy Jean Walkowski, Decker; Carol J. Kreger and Linda E. Peterson, both of Snover.

Others who have filed so far are: Edmund J. Wiederhold, Republican, for commissioner from District #5; Max W. Bradley, Republican, for Register of Deeds, Maynard McConkey, Republican, for commissioner from District #2; Helen Woloshen, Democrat, for commissioner from District #4, and W. Wallace Kent Jr., Democrat, for prosecuting attorney.

Two more persons have filed petitions with the county clerk for August's primary. They are Gilbert C. (Gib) Smith and J. Benson Collon, both filing as Republicans for commissioner from District #4.

Arrested Monday on warrants were: Mike Lee Wood, 17, 3675 E. Caro Road, Randy Michael Peters, 17, 5023 Schwegler Road, Randy Howard Kelley, 17, 6655 Third St., Graydon Lee Spencer, 17, 4405 Woodland St., and Frederick Frank Harbec, 18, 2567 Cemetery Road.

They were charged in connection with a fire May 16 when several tires were set on fire in the intersection of Cemetery and Deckerville Roads.

They will be sentenced July 3.

Women talk that way

BY JIM FITZGERALD

Hazel and Irene are walking on a busy downtown block and Hazel says: "Do you know what I am doing to stop perspiration?"

15 miles later, Hazel and Irene are walking on a deserted beach. "No," answers Irene, "what are you doing to stop perspiration?"

25 miles later, Hazel and Irene are in an airplane flying out of Lum International Airport. "I am plugging my pores with those new Feminine Acupuncture Sweatsticks," Hazel says.

1,578 miles later, Hazel and Irene are boarding a camel in Cairo. "Don't the Sweatsticks punch holes in your clothes?" Irene asks.

26 miles later, Hazel and Irene have stopped at a Standard pyramid to use the restroom. "No silly," Hazel says. "I don't insert the Sweatsticks until after I'm dressed, mostly in fishnet fashions."

89 miles later, Hazel and Irene are riding a ferris wheel.

at the grand opening of the Sphinx Shopping Center. "But what about the underwear problem?" Irene asks. "Don't you get tired holding your arms out like airplane wings all the time?"

88 miles later, Hazel and Irene are boarding a barge on the Nile, watching carefully for asps. "It is only a problem when I have to turn corners fast," Hazel explains. "If a person is the right height, I chop off his head."

And so it goes, "round the world in a 60-second TV commercial with Hazel and Irene."

You may find these commercials full of the pause that perplexes. You may think the advertiser is insulting your intelligence. You may think it is impossible and incredible that Hazel and Irene would take so long to say 7 simple sentences about feminine hygiene.

You are obviously a bachelor.

The Sweatstick advertiser has simply done what was necessary to fit his message into a time slot he can afford. Rather than give you a phony pitch, he has shown you exactly how women talk. But he has edited out all conversation irrelevant to his purpose - the selling of Sweatsticks. Otherwise, it would have been a telethon.

You see, dear bachelor, it is entirely possible that it could take thousands of miles, from downtown Lum to the Nile, for Hazel and Irene to say those 7 sentences about Sweatsticks. But interspersed among those few commercial words would be several million sentences concerning why that fat woman would wear such a hideous bathing suit, the color of the paint in the coffee shop in Lum International, the dangers of picking roses in a fishnet blouse, the rudeness of the Arab who had the key to the pyramid restroom, the impossibility of getting home in time to fix dinner for Joe... and on and on.

To put it briefly (a male trait), women don't just interrupt each other. They interrupt themselves. And then they interrupt their interruptions. If Paul Revere had been a woman, Richard Nixon would be a prime minister and Hazel Revere would still be telling the woman next door where to buy a good lantern.

If my wife reads this tonight, she will accuse me of putting down women. Probably, I won't know for sure for about 2 days, the normal span of time between the opening noun and the closing verb.

Onward and Upward.

BETTER HEALTH

Vegetarianism can harm

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

A while ago I read that the great expert on nutrition, Professor Jean Mayer, believes the "fad of vegetarianism" can do much harm to some people.

Dr. Mayer was chairman of the 1970 White House Conference of Food and Nutrition and Health, and he knows what he is talking about. He said that a study of a group of British vegetarians showed that a number of them had signs of a serious condition in which there was a wasting away of many of the vital body cells that keep us human beings alive and well. He feared that if the vegetarian diet was continued long enough, it could produce a slow, miserable death.

Dr. Mayer said that a man who made an excellent study of this question, Professor Hugh St. Clair, of Oxford, England, had found that half of 1,700 strict vegetarians lacked a normal amount of vitamin B12. He felt that was the main trouble with some of them when their health failed. Dr. Mayer agreed that this lack of B12 could lead to the once fatal disease, pernicious anemia. Also, as Dr. Mayer says, a non-meat diet cuts down on the intake of other important vitamins, such as A, C, and D.

Dr. Mayer said that one of the fast-growing fads in Europe today—and it is now appearing in the United States—is the adoption of an all-rice diet. Anybody who knows anything at all about diet knows that in parts of the Orient, thousands of people who live largely on polished rice, which lacks vitamin B1, get a serious and often fatal disease called beri-beri. Also, as Dr. Mayer has said so wisely, the more restricted any diet becomes, the more dangerous it is to the person. In some places where children have to grow up without getting meat in their diet, they get a horrible disease called Kwashiorkor.

I've often seen people who, in my office, said that they were worried for fear that they were not getting enough vitamins. I say to them, "When I was a small child, vitamins had never been heard of, but because my mother fed me several types of food, I grew up to be 6 feet 1 inch, and until I was 50, I was active in a number of types of athletics."

What interested me much in 1902, was the fact that a very bright and able girl of 17—a schoolmate of mine who was a strict vegetarian—became tired out when she came up against some heavy courses in her freshman year in college. Then she became so weak that she could not study well, and nearly flunked. Her doctor then induced her to go on a liberal diet which, in a few days, made her so strong that she was able to work hard, and later, to graduate with honors in chemistry. I should hurry to add that I have known vegetarians who seemed to be in good health.

I have seen some vegetarian girls, so unwilling ever to hurt an animal that they would not touch those highly nutritional foods—eggs and milk. But this seemed to me illogical, because I could not see how their self-denial would help any chickens or cows. All it did was to deprive the vegetarians of two of the best sources of life-giving foods that we human beings have. Even more illogical is the fact that these girls wore leather in their shoes and their purses, and it didn't seem to bother them that a steer had been killed to provide that leather.

What has impressed me much is the fact that the avoidance of meat by a few people does not cause any perceptible lessening of our slaughter of food animals. Also, if the Designer of this world had not wanted animals—of which man is one species—to eat meat, why are there thousands of fierce animals like lions, that live by killing and eating vegetarian animals like deer and gazelles?

Also, as a student of the human digestive system, I know that the bowel is much better designed to handle meals than vegetables. For years I tried without success to find a ferment (a digesting chemical) that can break down cellulose, and to this day I still don't know how we manage to digest fruits and vegetables, which are made of cellulose.

Anyone who knows much about the calorie content of foods (how many units of nutritional value they have) knows that many of the vegetables, fruits and salads have a low value. Fats have the highest value as fuel, and are needed to keep the body going. Proteins, such as are found in meat, fish, chickens, milk and eggs, are needed to build worn-out body tissues.

Some older persons have so mild a form of diabetes that they can control it with a reducing diet and drugs. Dr. Alvarez gives you details on the symptoms of diabetes and the treatments that are available in his booklet "Diabetes Which Appears in Middle or Late Life." Congressman Harvey asks citizens for views on key issues facing state and nation

In a wide-ranging questionnaire, with 14 questions touching on international and domestic issues, Congressman Jim Harvey, of Michigan's Eighth District, has released his 12th annual Congressional Questionnaire.

"Within a week," Congressman Harvey said, "our Washington office will literally be swamped with returns. And, this is exactly what we want. This is a rare opportunity for the nearly one half million people in our Eighth District to have a convenient and easy way to let their Congressman know how they feel on the issues. In the past we have received nearly 20,000 responses. I hope there are even more this year."

Congressman Harvey revealed that the questionnaire will be sent to both the old and new areas of the Eighth Congressional District which last month underwent alterations to its boundaries to conform with the "one-man, one-vote" ruling according to the 1970 census. This will be the first opportunity for residents of Lapeer and Bay Counties, as well as a small portion of Arenac County, to "vote" in the Harvey poll.

In his special message on the questionnaire, Harvey said, "It would be a great help to me and a service to our Eighth District if you would take a few minutes to let me know how you feel on these matters by filling out this questionnaire. The questions are designed so that both husband and wife can express their views. As I said before, it may be difficult to answer the questions with a simple 'yes' or 'no'. Yet, that is usually the way a Congressman must vote."

As a public service, nearly 40 weekly and four daily newspapers are expected to publish the questionnaire as a public service. "With the cooperation of the newspapers, along with special mailing, we are assured that every resident will receive the questionnaire and have a chance to participate," Harvey said. Radio and television stations also are expected to publicize the availability of the questionnaire.

"We have tried our very best, limited to a degree by space requirements, to word our questions fairly. I don't want 'stacked' or 'slanted' questions which only result in meaningless responses. It would only be a waste of time and effort on everyone's part," Harvey commented.

The questions ranged from Vietnam, amnesty, Presidential primary election, to Federal assistance for private and parochial schools and the need for legislation to end labor disputes.

In two special questions, Harvey asks for choices for President and the single most important problem facing the nation. "These were also asked last year and it should be extremely interesting to compare the results," he said.

Harvey estimated that it takes two to three weeks for the majority of the returns to be mailed in and estimated that tabulated results of the questionnaire, which will be made available to the press, would be completed early next month.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO "VOTE" IN CONGRESS

As a reader service, we offer the following questionnaire prepared by Congressman Jim Harvey. All replies, to be mailed to Mr. Harvey, 2352 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, will be held in strict confidence.

DO YOU FAVOR...

- Expanded cultural and trade relations with Communist China and the Soviet Union? (Select one)
- a. Immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam without any conditions?
b. Complete withdrawal within four months if American prisoners are returned and there is a cease-fire?
- Granting amnesty to those who evaded military service during the Vietnam conflict?
- Discontinuance of the draft next year?
- A national Presidential primary election?
- Extending Presidential term to six years with one-term limit?
- A check-off on your Federal income tax form for donations to political parties?
- Busing of school children in order to achieve racial balance in public schools?
- Federal assistance to private and parochial schools?
- Present wage and price controls to combat inflation?
- Compulsory arbitration of labor-management disputes in the transportation industry when a strike is deemed to damage the national interest?
- Diverting some highway user taxes to finance urban mass transit systems?
- Increased gun control legislation on a Federal level?
- Federal legislation to legalize abortion?

 As of now, who is your choice for President in November?

 What is the single most important problem facing the nation?

(Please add any comments on a separate sheet of paper and enclose with questionnaire if you wish.)

Slop-and-Slosh

By Kit McMillon

Everybody likes to take pictures.

There's something about photography that captures the interest of most persons, whether it's just to take snapshots for the family scrapbook with an instant or creating a work of art using a sophisticated piece of machinery with numerous dials that baffle the uninitiated.

I'm no exception and I've been telling people "I take pictures" with the haughty air of a "photographer" since I was eight years old and got my first Brownie camera.

Creeping behind bushes and jumping out to get those candid shots usually had the effect of scaring my hapless victims half to death.

The frustrations that accompany missing the best picture because I just ran out of film or in the excitement I forgot to focus or I press the shutter and nothing happens because I failed to advance the film are merely part of the game.

The most interesting part of the process is in the darkroom which most persons unfortunately miss by going to the drug store.

I have designed what I call the slop-and-slosh method of developing film, applicable anywhere. Using a light proof tank, it's a simple process to pour mixtures in and out, with the unfortunate condition that the

The terms of three incumbent trustees of Hills and Dales General Hospital will be open at the annual meeting of the organization Tuesday, June 13, in the hospital meeting room. Incumbents are James Bauer, Clinton House and Willis Campbell.

Besides electing these trustees, the annual report of the hospital will be presented.

The meeting is open to the public.

initial step of putting the film in the tank requires an absolutely, completely and totally pitch black room.

Nevertheless, my success with this method has been very good, much better than when I had a real honest-to-goodness darkroom at my disposal.

I remember well my first attempt at developing a roll of film.

The absolute black of the little room gave me claustrophobia. But stumbling and bumping around in the dark, I managed to put the film on the spool and then carefully swished it up and down in the mysterious chemicals.

Much later, I proudly began to take the dry film of all those lovely pictures off the spool and discovered they wouldn't budge.

With what appears to be great skill, I had wound the film wrong, with the result that it turned into a gooey mess.

I cried. My fellow photographers consoled me that it happened to everyone once, as they unraveled their perfectly beautiful negatives.

My skill in the darkroom went downhill from there. Printing pictures is really fun, too. It's sort of like magic. Once, however, I turned on the light with a box of paper open, exposing it. So much for the magical potential of that box.

Recounting this makes me think maybe there is something in going to a drugstore. Meow.

Turn laundry area into mud room

Good clean fun has a way of getting children plenty dirty. If you have an active family fond of outdoor play and you are also planning to modernize your laundry area, consider the Mud Room. That's right, mud room. Many homes, especially pre-WW2 vintage, have hall space directly inside the back door which is generally unused. The mud room utilizes this space for the washer and dryer or combination washer-dryer. It has the advantage of keeping the kids from tracking in slush during the winter months and just plain dirt and mud the rest of the year.

The kitchen floor remains clean because wipe-ups are confined to the mud room's small floor space. Seconds after entering the house soiled clothes are safely deposited in the washing machine.

You will want to install overhead cabinets with fresh clothes changes and a rack or two for soggy snowsuits. Reserve one cabinet for soaps, bleaches and clean-up equipment. Storage in the overhead cabinets keeps them safe from the reach of curious little hands. Think seriously about vinyl asbestos tile for the floor. It is economical, long-lasting and easy to maintain.

Available widely in easy-to-install squares with self-adhesive, it comes in a variety of attractive patterns, including simulated brick and travertine.

CHOICE OF CABINETS

When it comes to the carpentry of your kitchen, you have a wide choice of manufactured wood cabinets, steel cabinets, or local custom-made cabinets. Similarly, you have a choice of pre-fabricated or locally built counter tops.

Lutherans hold banquet Saturday

The second mother-daughter banquet held at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church had an old-fashioned theme. About 80 persons attended the potluck buffet dinner Saturday evening, June 3, at the church.

Members also brought antiques for a display.

Mrs. Al Avery and Mrs. Clarence Miller greeted guests and Mrs. Harold Deering was toastmistress.

B. J. Haire presented the toast to mothers. The response was given by Mrs. John Haire.

Mrs. Dale Iseler presented "The Meanest Mother" and Mrs. Frank Butler, "Going to Church With My Daughter."

Guest speaker, Mrs. Loren Elftman of Pigeon, presented a humorous skit on the basics in baking.

Girls of the church's youth group sang a selection, "Pass It On."

Mrs. Olin Bouck headed the awards portion of the program.

Mrs. Bonnie Massingale was the youngest mother and Mrs. Harold Deering, the youngest grandmother.

Four-month-old Marcy LeValley, daughter of Mrs. Mike LeValley, was the youngest at the event and Mrs. Dale Leslie had the most daughters present, six.

Mrs. Dale Iseler's old-fashioned gown was the oldest worn, 90 years, and Mrs. Bruce Avery came the farthest distance.

Other categories were: most freckles, Kathy Skaggs; natural curly hair, Mari Beth Butler, and most buttons on gown, Mrs. Eileen Hoppe.

Mrs. Ida Butler, 81, was the oldest present and Mrs. Maynard Stine was the oldest mother with youngest daughter attending.

Mrs. James Van Dellen said opening table grace and Kris Ridener gave the closing prayer.

The committee on arrangements included Mrs. Madelyn Skaggs, Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. Dale Iseler and Mrs. Van Dellen.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is thinking of quitting afore it gits started on the picturephone, a gadgit where you can see who you're talking to on the phone. The company says they ain't no public demand fer this marvel of the age.

Mister Editor, somepun like this could turn this country around. Course, which way we'd take off from here is anybody's guess. I mentioned the deal about the picturephone at the country store Saturday night, and Zeke Grubb said flat out that not wanting a invention was downright unAmerican. He said it's allus been in this country that if somebody makes somepun different everybody wants it.

Clothes is one example Clem Webster give fer the problems a thing like turning down the picturephone can cause. What if folks was content with the clothes they got jest because they cover em and keep em warm? What would that do to the economy of this country, Clem wanted to know. If folks waited until they needed a new car to buy one, the auto industry would be sucked down the drain inside of two year, was Clem's perdition.

Ed Doolittle was agreed that not going in debt fer a picturephone cause you didn't need the thing is dangerous thinking. Imagine, said Ed, what it would do to Congressional appropriations if the American people decided we can do without a 2,000 mile a hour airplane, and that whatever the moon and mars has got ain't worth going after. If this is allowed to spread, went on Ed, no part of the country's economy will be safe from the threat.

Per instant, Ed said, Government is subject to be a victim of this strange turn of events. Suppose the Administration was to come up with a freeze on Government spending as a way to fight inflation, stead of putting the squeeze on wages and prices? Ed said if that happened it could lead to other discoveries, like public assistance programs that lumped together can mean a annual income of $21,000 fer a family of eight younguns.

General speaking, the fellers felt AT&T had ought to go ahead with the picturephone fer the good of the country. Actual, I'm surprised that a outfit that big went about the hole deal backwards. I thought everybody knows you got to create the desire fer a product, and then make the product. It would of been a real simple matter for the telephone company to put one picturephone in one neighborhood after running a series of ads in the papers telling what a joy it would be to see grandma while you talked with her.

No sooner would the family renting the picturephone invite the neighbors over to make a call than everybody in the country would of been standing in line to plank down their grocery money fer one. Course, Mr. Ford didn't ask me about making the Edsel neither.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

Tim Vatter wins trip to California

TIM VATTER receives congratulations from Harry Lenda of Cass City IGA Foodliner for winning the store's annual boys' contest first prize. Watching is Mrs. Mary Vatter.

Tim Vatter is ready, willing and able for a five-day trip to California as the guest of Cass City IGA.

The youngster won the grand prize in the store's annual boys' contest recently concluded.

He was one of seven winners. Second prize was a television and it was won by Rodney Hutchinson. Other winners were Jeff Hanby, Bob O'Dell, Paul Battel, Tim Hill and Steve Reed.

While in California Tim Vatter will have a busy schedule. He will tour Universal Studios and see a Major League baseball game. He is scheduled for visits to Knott Berry Farm and Marineland.

The highlight of the visit will be an all-day excursion at Disneyland. Tim will leave Cass City June 25 and return June 29.

SCOUT CAMP

Seventeen members of Girl Scout Cadette Troop 150 left Monday morning to camp near Gladwin. They were to return Wednesday evening.

Leaders accompanying them are Mrs. Steve Bencheck, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller and Mrs. Gary Rockefeller.

Drivers included Mrs. Meriton Hendershot and Mrs. William Goodell. Those who went Wednesday to drive the girls home were Mrs. Jack Downing and Mrs. Edric Rapson.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Comment were Sister Patricia Marie of Adrian, Misses Mary and Nellie O'Rourke of Gagetown and Mr. and Mrs. James Comment of Unionville.

Sister Patricia Marie of Adrian spent the week end with her sisters, Misses Mary and Nellie O'Rourke. Friday evening dinner guests at the O'Rourke home were Mr. and Mrs. James O'Rourke and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Comment.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shope, Jeanne and John were Sunday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elery Sontag.

Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Wald and family of Jackson, Ark., arrived Friday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Wald.

They will spend about a month with their parents, the Walds and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stock, and other relatives and friends.

Sister Mary Louise of Adrian spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Werdeeman. Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Wald and George and Miss Mary Wald and Tech. Sgt. and Mrs.

Joe Wald and family visited at the Werdeeman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Downing and Craig spent the week end in New Castle, Ind., at the home of Mr. Downing's brother, Tom Downing. They attended high school graduation of Kim Downing, son of Tom Downing and the late Mrs. Downing.

Mrs. Grace Clara and daughter Bernice also attended the graduation of Kim Downing. He is the grandson of Mrs. Grace Clara and nephew of Bernice.

Debbie Shope returned home Tuesday after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. John Craig in Detroit.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comment were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Arvo and sons of Owosso.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chepko and family of Allen Park spent the week end with her mother and brother Mrs. Ada Salgat and Douglas. Other Sunday dinner guests at the Salgat home were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Law of Deford.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carolan, accompanied by their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Carolan and family of Lapeer, spent Sunday in Detroit with the Arthur Carolans' daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Conner and family.

Last week Monday visitors at the Arthur Carolan home were Florence Bailey and her sister, Marie Carolan, both of Detroit. They picked up Marguerite Walter of Bay City and she accompanied them here to visit the Carolans.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lopez are the parents of a baby daughter, born Sunday, June 4 at Hills and Dales Hospital in Cass City. She weighed seven pounds and seven ounces and is named Angela Louise.

Elmer Shope is a patient in Hills and Dales Hospital in Cass City where he was taken Monday for treatment.

Mrs. F. Ogden at

Trinity meet

The UMW of Trinity United Methodist Church met Monday in Fellowship Hall for their regular supper meeting.

Mrs. Harry Crandell and Mrs. Clayton Hartwick, with members of group 1, served a 6:30 supper.

Program director, Mrs. Robert Keating, read excerpts from I've Got to Talk to Someone God and Bless This Mess, in which was shown simple but meaningful prayers.

The president of the Port Huron District United Methodist Women, Mrs. Floyd Ogden of Port Huron, spoke on changes made in the church group as result of decisions at the Spring General Conference in Atlanta, Georgia.

She reported the merging of the Women's Societies of Christian Service and Wesleyan Guilds into one new inclusive organization. Delegates to the conference selected The United Methodist Women as the new name and Mrs. Ogden commented on various parts of the new constitution.

Progress is a problem turned into a project, the district leader explained, projects to be tackled, worked out and results gained. She urged participation and greater responsibilities under the new organization.

Mrs. Keating and Mrs. Albert Gallagher entertained at a coffee hour Tuesday morning, in the Keating home, in honor of Mrs. Ogden.

Members voted to take the responsibilities of the antique show which is slated to be part of the Artrain visit to Cass City in July.

The group dismissed for the summer with plans to resume in September.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE AMENDMENT OF ORDINANCE NO. 1

WHEREAS, by Ordinance No. 1 duly and regularly adopted by this Authority on January 3, 1972, this Authority provided for the acquiring, furnishing and equipping of a Fire Station Building and site therefor for the use of the Township of Elkland, provided for the issuance of revenue bonds to defray part of the cost thereof and provided for other matters relative to said improvements and said bonds; and

WHEREAS, it is deemed necessary to amend said Ordinance No. 1 to bring it into conformance with the requirements of Act No. 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, and the terms of the bonds as authorized by said Ordinance;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Elkland Township Building Authority ordains:

Section 1. Reference to the use of excess bond proceeds for other projects owned by the Authority as provided by Section 14 of Ordinance No. 1 is eliminated by deleting the clause, or of other projects owned by the Authority and leased to the Township" as it heretofore appears in said Section 14.

Section 2. Reference to the call of bonds for redemption prior to maturity in Section 14 of Ordinance No. 1 is eliminated by deleting the clauses "to call Bonds for redemption prior to maturity or prior to the first call date or used" and "at not more than the first call price", as those clauses heretofore appear in said Section 14.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall be published in full in the Cass City Chronicle, a newspaper of general circulation in the Township of Elkland. Promptly after its adoption, the same shall be recorded in the Ordinance Book of the Authority and such recording authenticated by the signatures of the Chairman and Secretary of the Commission.

Section 4. This Ordinance shall become effective immediately upon its passage. 6/8/1

TRICK - QUICK

It's pretty evident that we have toppled the little red schoolhouse. Ideas we had about economics, science, race and education itself, have come and gone. New ideas are brushing the surface of life and thundering over us.

Campus unrest and street demonstrations make us reappraise old values and ideas.

But one idea remains steadfast. It is the idea that God loves man and men, and that He cares about what happens to our lives.

Are shouting television newscasts and bold headlines overwhelming you? Then you need an open mind and a steady faith. God's love is for you. Your church is where you find out about it. Try it next Sunday. It will help you grasp an old idea, even if it is a new one for you.

Roger Davis appointed county DHIA supervisor

ROGER DAVIS, left, discusses DHIA Supervisor's responsibilities with Hessel Venema, Deford dairyman and secretary of the County Dairy Herd Improvement Association Board.

Hold final rites for Mrs. Mercer

Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 31, for Mrs. Roswell (Kathryn) Mercer, 66, of Detroit, and a former area resident, who died Sunday, May 28, in Grace Hospital in Detroit after a long illness.

She was born April 21, 1906, and was the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte McIntyre of Romeo and the late John Sweeney. She lived in this area until her graduation from Bad Axe High School. She was then graduated as a registered nurse from Grace Hospital, Detroit, and worked in private service for many years.

She is survived by her husband; her mother; a sister, Mrs. Avis Kimball, Springfield, Va., and three brothers, Alex of Romeo, Matthew of Kinde and Donald of Frankfurt. She was preceded in death by her father and a brother, Steven. Services were held at St. Clement's Catholic Church, Romeo, with burial following in Resurrection Cemetery, Mt. Clemens.

NERVOUS TENSION

The motorist who's in the biggest hurry is usually worth the least when he gets there.

Roger Davis, 20, of Caro was recently approved as a DHIA Supervisor for this area by the County Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) Board. County Dairymen on this board are President Don Loomis, Cass City; Hessel Venema, Deford; and Board members, Don Curry, Unionville; Ron Hampshire, Kingston; Bob Carpenter, Cass City; and Carl Keimath, Vassar.

For the past several years Tuscola County Herds that have been on test were serviced by one of the neighboring county's herd testers. The County DHIA Board has taken this action in order to provide production and herd management records to all county dairymen. Extension

Dairy Agent Bill Bivens states, "Production and herd management records are increasing in popularity. An increasing percentage of the State dairy cattle are in one of the three testing programs, DHIA, Owner Sampler or Tri-Monthly."

The County DHIA Board announced that Mr. Davis, who is originally from Vassar, has a solid dairy background, including work on dairy farms and completion of the Andrews University dairy training program. He has been working with the State DHIA program since February. Since he is working at 10-15% capacity, quick and efficient service should now be available to any herd owners desiring more information.

Roger Davis is a strong believer in the DHIA program and is dedicated to helping herd owners increase their profits. Davis states, "that one profit eater can eliminate the profits of four or five profitable cows. The 46 to 67 cent per cow cost of the program would be well spent." He also comments that "many times a herd owner with 50 cows can show a higher net profit by selling two or three cows ranking low in the herd. Dairymen should take advantage of this information and become involved in a good testing program."

Herd owners desiring more information may contact Davis at 673-3077, any of the board members listed above or the County Extension Office.

Choose Sherril Thane for College grant

Sherril Thane, 18, has been awarded an Otterbein Scholarship for 1972-73 by Huntington College, Ind.

SHERRIL THANE

She is one of three entering freshmen who have been named to the annual award. Candidates are selected on a competitive basis from United Brethren in Christ youth.

The scholarship covers a portion of tuition for the freshman year.

Miss Thane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Thane, 3677 E. Cass City Road, Cass City, and is a 1972 graduate of Cass City High School.

She intends to study elementary education at Huntington, a four year coeducational Christian liberal arts college.

No damage in Monday fire

Elkland township firemen were called to Bruno Bresky's warehouse on Garfield Avenue Monday when the basement coating began burning.

No damage was done to the building, and the fire was extinguished before firemen arrived shortly before noon.

PRESENT-TENSE

In some cases happiness consists merely of forgetting the past and ignoring the future.

The Want Ads are newsworthy too.

AGENT'S CORNER

Buying furniture

Judith Marks - Home Extension Agent

So you've been looking at furniture for your home. Haven't found exactly what you want in a finished piece and debating about purchasing unfinished furniture. The design possibilities of unfinished furniture are many and you can find higher quality furnishings than a finished piece at the same price.

Wondering what to look for in unfinished furniture? Type of wood and construction are factors in determining the quality of unfinished furniture.

Both softwoods and hardwoods are used in making furniture. Softwoods, such as clear or knotty pine, are least expensive and can be dented and scratched easily. Painted they offer a striking accent to other furniture. With good care, they can last for many years.

The hardwoods (cherry, maple, walnut, etc.) cost more, and have a beautiful grain which is usually given a natural rather than a painted finish.

The type of wood and construction you choose depends on how you will use the piece and the price you want to pay. For example: A small, four-drawer pine chest, with stapled joints, may cost about $17. The same type of chest

Weed control by herbicides

By Don R. Kebler

It is no sure thing that chemical weed control products or their method of applications will give results desired. I am sure every farm operator who has applied herbicides over the years for various crop weed controls has experienced this fact. However, again this year requests coming into your Extension Office indicate a reminder to this fact is necessary.

As I have traveled around the county this past month, I have seen where herbicides applied to sugar beets and corn have not effected the expected weed control. On other fields I have seen good herbicide controls on the same crops.

Basically, good weed control by herbicides can be effected if the following factors are taken into consideration. Weeds must be young, tender and growing fast for herbicides to perform their best. Preplant and pre-emergence herbicides must be uniformly dispersed in the soil. Post-emergence herbicides generally must fall on the growing weed foliage. One must know the weeds he wishes to control and see if there is a herbicide to effect a control.

After one takes the basic factors into consideration and the word is go, he applies the herbicide according to the rate, time and method recommended. This being done, he hopes the herbicide will give the weed control with the help of the weather. In the case of all herbicides whether preplant, pre-emergence or post-emergence, those weeds must be young, tender and fast growing for best herbicide penetration and plant cell destruction.

Dry soil moisture conditions, wet cold soils and even crusted soils retard the rate of weed growth. The conditions actually cause a hardening-off of the weeds which is a type of semi-dormancy reaction. Sometimes these abnormal soil conditions will not allow the weed seed to germinate when the herbicide is in the soil at best killing strength. Then by the time the weeds do germinate, emerge and begin growing the herbicide is in a weaker condition to effect a control.

When we come to identifying our weeds, we generally don't have problems with the broad-leaved weeds. It is the grass weeds we have more difficulty with. We know pennycress or stinkweed is one of the mustards, yellow rocket is not a true mustard and neither is lambquarter or pigweed. On the west side of the county, yellow and green foxtail is being referred to as millet. Millet and foxtail are not the same and the herbicide which controls one will not control the other. Remember, true millet is a most uncommon weed grass to this area and I have yet to see millet as a weed in the county.

So, the next time you doubt a recommended herbicide to be as effective as recommended, remember that in any one year, under abnormal circumstances there can be no sure thing that a herbicide will give the weed control expected.

Church of Christ to build

The Novesta Church of Christ will break ground for a new building Sunday at special ceremonies slated at the church, three miles south of Cass City.

After the regular morning services, a picnic dinner is scheduled and the ground breaking ceremony will be at 2:30 p. m.

Present plans call for the building of the first of two units. Under construction will be the educational building. It will be followed by the auditorium.

After the ceremony there will be special music by the "God Squad", a teen-age singing group, and Ali B. Jarman, a former pastor, will speak.

The closing session of the day starts at 7 p. m. and will be a 45-minute concert by the God Squad.

Police probe

3 complaints

Cass City police reported a quiet week with only several citizen complaints.

Mrs. Clarence (Bud) Schaeffer reported Monday malicious destruction of two small trees planted by the village in front of her home at 4365 S. Seeger St., Cass City. About $20 damage was done when one tree was uprooted and another broken off at the top.

Louis Nemeth reported a 16 foot extension ladder missing from his yard at 6305 Main St., Cass City. He told police Saturday the $30 ladder was taken sometime in the last week. Glen L. Trisch of 6424 Main St. Cass City, reported the theft of a left front tire, wheel and hub cap from his car when it was parked in the alley behind the Robo Wash. An unserviceable tire and wheel were put on the car, he told police. The loss, which occurred May 18, was valued at $30.

Tips on Installing Home Flooring In Any Room

First, make sure that sub-floor is clean and free of dust and dirt. GAF Foamcraft may be installed over any subfloor (old tile or linoleum) as long as it has no deep embossing or serious need of repair.

Best to make a small diagram of the floor, measure carefully and order flooring oversize.

Remove all moldings. Line up the flooring evenly along the straightest edge of the room. Move and align the floor design until it is straight. Unroll the flooring (it will unroll easily and bends and twists without cracking the design because of its flexibility).

Once in place, trim the edges with a utility knife. Cut about 1/4" away from where the floor and wall intersect as flooring expands once it is down.

Cut around cabinets. For a finished, professional look, replace the moldings. One important note: Flooring is always cut face-up. For further detailed easy-to-follow instructions, send for booklet "Do-A-Room Yourself" that features easy step by step instructions. Write to: GAF Corporation, Floor Products Div., 140 West 51st St., New York, N.Y., 10020.

Caucus chairman disciplined after voting against party

Eyebrows were raised recently when the Michigan Senate Republican caucus disciplined the man many have considered the most powerful member of the caucus.

That man is Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles Zollar of Benton Harbor. Zollar was stripped of his title of caucus chairman in a secret ballot.

The action was taken because Zollar voted with Senate Democrats at a crucial point in the legislative struggle over Congressional reapportionment. His vote resulted in the scuttling of a plan which would have preserved all 12 Republican incumbents now in Congress from Michigan.

It further resulted in a legislative deadlock broken when Federal District Judge Damon Keith adopted a plan which will result in the elimination of at least one Republican. The plan also, incidentally, gives Zollar a better shot at knocking off incumbent Republican Edward Hutchinson in the August primary.

The move to discipline Zollar surprised many people, however. After all, every major piece of legislation which has passed the Legislature in recent years has done so without unanimous support from either party.

Many of Gov. William Milliken's programs, in fact, have enjoyed as much if not more Democratic support than Republican support. Yet Republicans who defect from those programs are not subjected to caucus discipline.

Why this time, then? The answer is that this was a matter of pure party politics with no philosophy considered. The result of Zollar's action probably was the loss by the Republican Party of one, perhaps two, seats in Congress and the concurrent gain for Democrats.

"We can't let our people go out and vote against the party's interest and get away with it," explained one caucus member.

The caucus members, by the way, didn't demand blood with their pound of flesh. After making the point within the caucus, they okayed the writing of a letter by Republican Leader Robert Vander Laan saying Republicans made the chairmanship change because Zollar said he would resign if he ran for Congress.

The catch on that, however, is that there would be no reason for Zollar to resign the post even if he ran for Congress, which he is doing. The post involves no extra time. If Zollar wanted to cut down his work load, he would do that by giving up his Appropriations Committee post, something he didn't do.

Capitol observers now are waiting to see what happens to the second Republican who voted with the Democrats on reapportionment--Anthony Stamm of Kalamazoo. Some action is expected, but no one is sure what it will be. And there isn't the hurry for him, a caucus member explained, because he isn't running for Congress.

DON'T LAMINATE

An annoying problem: Secretary of State Richard Austin says he's having trouble with motorists laminating the new driver license the state has been issuing since last June.

The new license is much thinner than the old and many people are having them laminated in the belief this makes them more sturdy, he says. But, he quickly adds, they don't need it.

"Our new license is thinner, easier to handle and a decided improvement over the older laminated types," he says. "Laminating will do nothing to improve its quality."

Austin says lamination of the new license, in fact, might be considered mutilation of it by some law officers. It is against the law to mutilate a license. It also can damage the license to the point where it needs to be replaced. That's a $1.50 job.

The secretary has told field office personnel not to confiscate laminated licenses. But he hopes the attempts to improve the license durability will cease as users realize the sturdiness of the new material.

While in Washington she will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Vick of Silver Springs, Md.

ONE FOR THE ROAD Nader to probe Congress

By Dan Marlowe

I see by the papers—as Will Rogers used to say—that Ralph Nader is going to investigate the U. S. Congress.

He and 1000 of his eager-beaver investigating cohorts will take on the job this summer.

I have a word of wisdom for Ralph, not that he'll take it.

Investigate the U. S. Congress? Examine the "dynamic and internal forces" of Congress, as Ralph puts it so blithely?

As if a word like dynamic can be applied to a body like Congress?

No way. You intend to recommend the best ways to change the House and Senate, Ralph. So you state. What makes you think the word "change" is part of a congressman's vocabulary?

The thing is, Ralph, Congress is a rock. A granite rock. It's hard. If you thought General Motors was hard, just wait until you bend your lance on Congress. You have all the chance of a man climbing a mountain to fight an echo. Or a man counting sunbeams in a wilderness forest.

Someone must have told you, Ralph, that Congress sheds reformers like Ford shed the Edsel. Like Chrysler shed the DeSoto. Like the Dodgers shed Brooklyn. Like... but I'm sure you get the point, Ralph. Obviously you don't care. A heartening attitude, but a bit naive.

One part of your proposal particularly fascinates me. You say you will look at the interaction of legislators with their private constituencies. I imagine that means you'll attempt to monitor lobbyists, professional and amateur, as they urge their congressmen to vote or act in the lobbyists' interests. That you'll try to determine congressmen's response to such urging. That

Presbyterians honor grads

The Cass City Presbyterian Church honored their graduating seniors Sunday, who attended the service wearing their caps and gowns.

The graduates are: Greg Esheleman, Jim Landholt, Mary Russell, Karla Stine and Paul Prangley.

The Cass City Council of Churches has finalized plans for the annual Vacation Church School to be held June 19-23. Each of the three participating churches will host one age group.

Kindergarten will be at the Trinity United Methodist Church, grades 1-2 at the Presbyterian Church and grades 3-4 and 5-6 at the Salem United Methodist Church.

Classes will be from 9-11:30 a.m. Children are to attend the class for the school grade they will complete this year. An old fashioned ice cream social will be held 5-7 p.m. Sunday, June 11, on the Presbyterian Church lawn.

Secretary, Board of Education

AN ALL-AROUND bargain. This 16-foot farm wagon was built for Harland Lounsbury by students at Cass City High School. Total cost to Lounsbury was $265. This paid for materials and a small fee for the boys doing the work. Comparable models sell commercially for $325, Lounsbury said.

School ag class builds wagons

The sophomore Agriculture Mechanics class taught by Ross Beach completed their projects this week, which gave them vocational experience in carpentry, material selection, following a construction plan and painting.

The two-credit class meeting two hours a day allows students to become involved in projects large in scope. Some projects completed this year were 7 bale thrower wagons, 2 flat-bottom wagon racks, 2 trailers, wagon running gear, horse trailer rebuilt and roofed, several small engines repaired and 4 sections of drags rebuilt. In addition, many smaller projects were completed.

One project that most students participated in was the bale wagons, five of which were built in cooperation with local farmers. All material costs as well as a small allowance for students were covered by the farmers.

LEARNING to use tools was part of the project. Drilling is Randy Smith, while Elmer Schram looks on.

If you are interested in a extra nice home, plan to see this one. Located on a quiet-peaceful road in the DEFORD STATE GAME AREA and adjoining 16,000 acres of State owned land. Within one-half mile of good fishing stream. Only reason for owner selling is due to death of wife. Full cash price of $35,000.00.

CENTER OF DOWNTOWN DEFORD close to shopping center. This nice single story 3 bedroom house with enclosed sitting porch. Large kitchen, living room and dining room, full bath. Small basement with oil fired furnace. Two car garage. Two lots with corner location. Yearly taxes under $170.00 a year. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. Priced reduced to $17,900.00 Cash.

2 1/2 ACRES NEAR CASS CITY on Argyle Road. Well constructed 3 bedroom home with natural fireplace. House is of cut field stone. Beautiful kitchen with rustic barn paneling, breakfast nook and bar, lots of nice cupboards, dishwasher. Full bath. Unfinished family room. New 2 1/2 car garage and work shop with heavy electric wiring. Present owner has purchased a business and is moving to new location. Many other extras not advertised and should be seen to be appreciated. QUICK SALE at $32,500.00.

WILMOT-KINGSTON AREA: 40 acres of level BROOK-STOM with some tile drainage. Two story 3 bedroom frame house. New machine driven 4" casing rock bottom well, new 123,000 B.T.U. oil fired furnace. New bathroom. Large kitchen with many cupboards. Spacious dining room and living room with wall to wall carpeting. Basement barn with water piped in. Ideal for the family man that wants to get his children close to nature. SACRIFICE FOR QUICK SALE AT $25,000.00 CASH.

INVESTORS: 114 acres located on Cemetery Road 2 1/4 miles south of Cass City. One-quarter of mile with valuable road frontage on Cemetery Road. 45-50 of choice tillable loam. Large amount of woods and second growth brush land. Ideal for pond site with natural setting. The price of this 114 acres is the sum of $35,000 with $10,000 down and this price includes a two story 3 bedroom brick farm house with bath, small kitchen, large dining room, living room and utility room. Partial basement. Novesta township type barn with water piped in. If you are an investor and can see a money making potential be certain to look this exceptionally fine buy over. 84 year old City owner wants action on this farm. Immediate possession.

ELLINGTON TOWNSHIP: just listed this 1 1/2 acres with fairly new 3 bedroom ranch type home. Kitchen-dining room combination. Full bath. Plenty of closet space. Two car garage addition. High and dry full basement with furnace, washer and drier hook up. Nice location in the Heart of the Deford State Game Area. The best of deer and small game hunting, within a mile of Cass River. REASONABLE at $28,000 cash. This home is well constructed and was custom built to present owner's specifications.

A NICE BUILDING lot located in ATWATER, Michigan. 130 feet frontage on blacktop road. Deep 4" well. Suitable for home or mobile home. Some shade trees. Price reduced from $3,000 to $2,500 for quick sale. With terms to suit purchaser on land contract.

DEFORD STATE GAME AREA: 10 acres with 330 feet of road frontage and across the road from State land. No restrictions, ideal for home-cabin or trailer. FULL PRICE only $4,500.00 with $800.00 down and balance on land contract.

FOR THE MAN THAT really wants to get away from it all and has a four wheel drive vehicle. 40 acres of nothing but pure wilderness. No telephone lines or electricity lines to contend with. Small clearing makes it possible for tent or small trailer. If there was a market for mosquitoes this 40 acres would make you a millionaire overnight. James L. Reagh, retired farmer and man about town says that the mosquitoes are so big that they feed on turkey buzzards. This acreage is located in Sanilac county and is surrounded on two sides by STATE OF MICHIGAN HUNTING LAND. Bring repellent and compass and I will be more than happy to have my office manager Bill Johnston show you this fine buy. $9,500 full price.

ELMWOOD TOWNSHIP: 20 acres with large MAN MADE LAKE. 660 feet of road frontage. Large amount of woods on rear of property. Don't be late on this 20 acres. $15,000 with $5,000 down.

SEEING THAT I AM paying for this one-half page ad, I would like to take the opportunity to say thank you to John V. McCormick, President of McCormick Realty, Inc. of Cass City for moving me to my prosperous and present location at 6485 Main St., Cass City. John, the rates you charged me were reasonable and I still don't know how you got all my office furniture in the back seat of your Volkswagen. It's too bad the only accident that you had was when you dropped my ice box with my beer. The insurance company sent me a check for $1.50.

200 horses corralled for 2nd annual Western Round-up in Cass City

TROPHIES AND HATS will abound when competition begins in the second annual Western Roundup beginning June 15. Displaying the prizes are committee chairmen and officers of the Service Clubs. Left to right are Jack McDaniel, Fritz Neitzel, Bob Buttery, Dick Root, Ed Bergman and Bob Wischmeyer.

Events for the second annual Western Roundup, June 15-18, are shaping up as preparations enter the final week by Service Club members.

About 200 horses from the surrounding area and as far away as Bay City are expected to compete in the horse show to be held Saturday, June 17, the busiest day of the four-day event. The show starts at 9 a.m. and offers three trophies and ribbons for 18 classes.

Firemen from all over the Thumb are expected that day to compete for the Water Ball Tournament trophy, with the action starting at 2 p.m.

Children are urged to decorate their bicycles and join the parade which begins at noon Saturday. Chairman Bob Buttery said anyone can join the parade and should meet at 11:30 a.m. by the elevator at the west side of town. The parade will wind through Main Street and end up at the Cass City Recreational Park, where the chicken barbecue will start at 2:30. Tickets are available from Service Club members.

A baseball tournament between Cass City Erle's team and the Hunt Trucking Team, a AA ball team from Flint, will begin 7 p.m. Saturday night, announced Ed Bergman, president of the service clubs.

The Silver Dollar game and the Dunker's booth will be at the park grounds and will be operated by members of the service clubs.

Cheerleaders, businessmen, service club members, teachers and coaches will be in the dunking booth.

The DeFord Methodist Church will host religious films in a tent.

Between 30 and 50 tractors are expected for the tractor pulling contest Sunday, beginning at 2 o'clock. Weigh-in will be from 10 a.m. to noon at the elevator.

Children are urged to participate in the fun events Friday for Children's Day. The games begin at 1 p.m. and will include a sack race, wheelbarrow race, balloon toss, 3-legged race and Frisbee throw. Ribbons will be awarded to all participants.

The local activities will be highlighted by carnival rides, which will begin 6 p.m. Thursday night, June 15, when the facilities in the park are set up.

2 Cass City teams enter

Babe Ruth loop

There will be two teams from Cass City in the Thumb Babe Ruth League this season, it was decided at a league meeting Monday evening.

Cass City received permission to enter a second team after try-outs last week produced enough boys for two complete squads.

Coach Lee Hartel said that the major problem remaining is a need for coaches for the second team. He asks for volunteers to call him.

The league will swing into action Monday when Cass City number one plays at home with Harbor Beach and Cass City number two plays at Port Austin. Both games are at 4:30 p.m.

Cass City number two will play at home June 15 with Port Hope. It should draw a good crowd as the game will come during Western Round-up days. Cass City is the defending league champion.

3 tied for lead in Blooper Ball league

The Gagetown Blooper Ball League swung into action Wednesday, May 31, as Colwood defeated the Cass City Teachers, 4-0.

In the nightcap, Sebewaung Duffy's topped Pabst, 23-6.

Thursday night defending champion Gagetown showed power with a 25-2 win over Pabst, who is still winless this year.

Friday Duffy's evened its season's record with a 17-0 decision.

THE STANDINGS (AS OF JUNE 5)

| | W | L |
|--------------------|---|---|
| Duffy's | 2 | 0 |
| Gagetown | 1 | 0 |
| Colwood | 1 | 0 |
| Jack's Bar | 0 | 1 |
| Cass City teachers | 0 | 1 |
| Pabst | 0 | 2 |

The schedule: Monday, June 12, Jack's Bar vs. Cass City Teachers, (7:30) and Duffy's vs. Colwood, (8:30); Wednesday, June 14, Jack's Bar vs. Gagetown (7:30) and Pabst vs. Cass City Teachers (8:30).

In case of rain all games will be played the following evening if possible, James Sontag, league president, said.

Mets lead in Minor League

The Mets took the lead in the young Minor League season with a 2-win, no-loss record when they defeated the Dodgers, 21-11, Monday.

In last week's play the Dodgers whipped the White Sox, 15-7, and the Mets squeezed by the Angels, 14-12. The Braves and the Indians battled to a 14-14 tie Thursday night in a game that was delayed by rain and had to be halted after the regular six innings because of darkness.

Wednesday, June 7, the Braves were scheduled to take on the White Sox. The Indians and Mets will play Thursday. Next week's schedule pits the Mets and Braves Monday, the Angels vs. Dodgers Tuesday, Indians vs. White Sox Wednesday, and the Dodgers vs. Braves Thursday.

Rained-out games are to be played Friday nights.

Golf tourney winners told

The annual Cass City High School golf tournament was held Friday at Rolling Hills Golf Course. It featured competition among the faculty, high school and intermediate school.

Tied for medalist honors were Tom Woody and Dave Lovejoy with 36. Supt. Don Crouse was the handicap winner and Enid Craig, the women's handicap winner.

Jerry Toner was the high school medalist with 39, while Al Romig was the handicap winner.

In the intermediate school, Mike Lowe was medalist with 45 and Jeff Hartel, the handicap winner.

Yanks top Cubs to take Little League lead

It was an abbreviated schedule in the Cass City Little League with just two games going into the record books as the Memorial Day holiday and wet weather curtailed play.

One of the two games was for the league lead. It pitted two undefeated teams, the Cubs and the Yankees.

The Yankees, defending league champions, showed that they would be the team to beat this year as they powered past the Cubs, 18-2.

Jeff Hartel went the distance in the game called after five innings because of darkness. He struck out 10 and allowed two hits.

Meanwhile his teammates were coming four Cub hurlers for 13 hits and 12 walks. Steve Meeker took the loss. A seven-run rally in the second inning decided the game.

Tony Doerr slashed three hits in five tries and Joel and Carl Palmateer, who split the six innings between them in the outfield, combined for three hits in four tries.

It was an ill wind Thursday for the Pirates and a good wind for the Orioles. The game was called after 2 1/2 innings because of rain and the Pirates were ahead at the time, 7-0, but the results will never reach the record books.

TIGERS-GIANTS

It will be a long season for the young Giants. Despite showing improvement it's obvious that the club is a year or two away. The young team lost to the Tigers, 19-6.

Ernie Stoutenburg pitched for the losers, allowing 12 hits while Martin was on the mound for the winners. He was touched for four hits.

Scott Reed pounded out two hits for the losers while Martin and Mike Richards each collected three hits for the winners.

Reveal arts and crafts program

Registration for the summer arts and crafts program will be Monday from 9 a.m. to noon at the Intermediate Gymnasium.

The six-week program sponsored by the village will be held Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to noon for children at least five years old and with at least one year of school.

Included in the program this year are projects for older children such as leather work, stone polishing and candlemaking. The gymnasium will be open under the direction of Curt Strickland for those interested in playing basketball, volleyball or other sports.

In the planning is a trip to Caseville one day a week. Mothers will be able to accompany their children these days. Adults are also welcome to attend the daily sessions with their children.

During the week Arttrain is in Cass City, the children's work will be on display. A puppet show is also planned for that week.

Director Lynda McIntosh said most projects will be free, but some will have a small fee, not over 50¢.

Others in charge of the program are Cindy Strickland and Pam Dobbs.

Erle's win again in Thumb League

Veteran Elwyn Helwig started his first game of the year Thursday and chalked up a win over Unionville Cornerstore, 14-3 in the Thumb Traveling League.

Erle's met Cornerstore at Sebewaung. Helwig who usually boasts good control showed the effects of a long layoff as he walked six and hit one on his way to the victory.

Still his fastball was working well enough to allow just two hits in the game called after five innings because Erle's was more than 10 runs ahead.

Rollie Nicholas showed the way with three hits in three trips including a home run. Every man in the Erle line-up pounded out at least one hit with the exception of Helwig who walked three times in four tries.

Cass City fans will have the opportunity to see Erle's in action Monday when they host Unionville at Cass City Recreational Park.

Next Wednesday Erle's meet Akron at Akron and Thursday will play Unionville at Mayville.

Saturday, June 17, Manager Dan Erle has carded a game with Hunt's Trucking of Flint. The special exhibition will be played at Cass City Recreational Park.
