Vows exchanged in Brevort church

Paula Leigh Copeland and Ernest O. Gustafson were united in marriage Aug. 6 at a 2 p.m. ceremony at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Brevort, Mich.
The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leone Copeland of Decker and the late Eldred Copeland. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gustafson of Brevort.

The bride approached the altar escorted by her brother, James D. Copeland of Gagetown. She wore a floor-length gown of silk organza and applique accented by wrist-point sleeves and a long veil of lace. She carried a bouquet of red rose buds and baby's breath with satin streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Penny Copeland, who wore a floor-length dress of pink chiffon over taffeta and carried a nosegay of pink rose buds and baby's breath. Completing her attire, she wore a white picture hat.

The bride's mother also wore a floor-length gown with a navy bodice and a harmonizing floral skirt. The groom's mother wore a 2-piece beige and brown suit of silk crepe.

Best man was Roger Ferris, friend of the groom, of Rockford.

Following a week's wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula and Niagara Falls, the couple are living in Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Bardwell

Jill Elizabeth Auten became the bride of Thomas Charles Bardwell at a ceremony held Saturday, Aug. 12, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Auten, E. Milligan Road, Cass City.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bardwell Sr., Caro.

The Rev. Douglas Wilson officiated at the 1 p.m. ceremony. The house was decorated with colonial bouquets of German statice, white roses, daisies and blue corn flowers for the occasion. An arrangement of white gladioli and majestic daisies adorned the mantel, which was flanked with palms.

The bride wore an ivory satin organza gown designed with a high neck, long sleeves and Empire waist. The waist, neck and hem were banded with Venetian lace interwoven with alice blue satin ribbon. A head band of matching lace and ribbon secured a tiny veil of silk illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue snowdrift chrysanthemums with butterfly roses.

Maid of honor was Barbara Auten, sister of the bride. She wore a floorlength organza gown of floral print, and carried a colonial nose-gay of blue snowdrift chrysanthemums.

Best man was Randy Bardwell, Caro.

A reception was held at the house following the ceremony for about 200 guests.

The couple will make their home in Kalamazoo following a wedding trip to Pocono Mountains, Pa. Both are students at Western Michigan University.

Crabgrass?
All it takes to clear out crabgrass is a few minutes on your lawn with Scotts Clout. It goes right to work on crabgrass — makes it shrivel and begin to disappear in just a few days. A second application one week later, is usually sufficient to knock it out completely.

No weeds, but want to fertilize?
Then your bag is Scotts TURF BUILDER. It's the prolonged-action fertilizer that helps keep your grass thicker, sturdier, greener through the summer months. And TURF BUILDER will not burn your lawn, no matter how hot the weather. It's also light in weight, easy to apply and odorfree. How about this weekend?

(And anyone else he can get to help)

How much is a State Senator worth? More than he's paid, according to our Senator Alvin DeGrow, who flat out says that the $17,000 yearly salary, plus fringes, should be $8,000 more.

That's rare in politics. Not that the politician wants more money, but that he admits that he does.

DeGrow advanced this theory before the Cass City Rotary Tuesday.

Relax. If you believe Senators receive more than enough now, be comforted by the newly adopted set-up where salaries are set by a commission and automatically adopted unless refused specifically by the congress.

More and more the giant companies are removing themselves from the local scene.

First it was Detroit Edison, now it is General Telephone.

It used to be that there was a Cass City District and the manager worked from here. No more. Now the Cass City district is combined with several others and the head man will work out of another community.

Manager Bob Buttery will slip out of town starting Sept. 1 to take a new job in Imlay City. A new man arrives Sept. 15 to handle customer complaints.

I can't recall that leaving home for college was any big deal when I was a Michigan State Freshman. My younger daughter is a college Freshman this year and practically every night the last two weeks there has been a good-by party for one or more of her friends who is saying (a sad?) adieu to the community and care-free high school days.

I haven't been able to really decide if all the good-bys have been repeated because of a true trauma before leaving or as an excuse to get together for a good time again with friends. I'd suspect that it's a little of both.

For several years now the school has been wrestling with the problem of safety of kids walking to school. The school's position is that their responsibility ends when the kids leave the yard.

Maybe so, legally. But Tuesday morning a child was hit by a car on the corner of Church and Seeger. Lisa Jo Wilson escaped with minor bruises.

We've had a lot of verbiage about safety precautions by both the village council and the school board.

Little has been done. Perhaps nothing will ever be done.

You can help. Help by driving with extra caution and by reporting to officials those who don't.

Defend quality Michigan hot dog law against packer

State officials leaped to the defense recently of the seemingly lowly Michigan hot dog. This included visits to Washington, D. C.

The hot dog (as produced in this state) is attacked by a group of national meat packers who don't like the restrictions put on what can go in the hot dog and by consumer groups which object to what is allowed (in most other states).

Michigan has the highest standards of any state in the union for its hot dogs. The state allows only fresh skeletal meat, muscle tissue only, to be used as the meat ingredient in hot dogs.

That means Michiganders don't get such remnants of a butchered animal as lips, snouts, ears, bladders, lungs or entrails in the hot dogs they buy in this state.

The federal law isn't as strict. It allows the use of such left over parts of the body, lumped together under the term offal, to be used in hot dogs, sausages and bologna.

Three large meat firms, Armour, Wilson and Hormel, have gone into the federal courts trying to get the courts to rule the Michigan regulations are too strict and need not be enforced. This would allow them to freely ship into the state meats they processed elsewhere under less rigid restrictions.

The meat firms lost their case in the federal district court and now are trying again at the U. S. Appeals Court level. Both Gov. William G. Milliken and Attorney General Frank J. Kelley have been firm in fighting the meat people. Kelley in the courts and Milliken in the political arena.

When meat firms lost their initial court effort, they went to Congress to try to get a bill passed forbidding Michigan from enforcing its stricter regulations.

Milliken fired off a letter to the House Agriculture Committee protesting the proposal to force Michigan to weaken its stand. He told the committee the proposal was "an injustice to Michigan consumers, and I urgently request you to delete it from the measure."

State Agriculture Director B. Dale Ball appeared before the committee and won his points. The committee finally voted 9-8 to knock out the weakening amendment, giving Michigan another victory.

The battle isn't completely over yet, and Michigan officials have vowed not to give up.

"In most other states, sausage, bologna and hot dogs serve as a dumping ground for a wide range of animal by-products under prevailing federal standards," Ball says. "Our quality products are worth fighting for."

Room for 1 more

By JIM FITZGERALD

When it comes to touching in church, I was way ahead of my time. I was playing kneecies in the pews 30 years ago.

The cool thing to do today is make physical contact with your pewmates (pewmates? That sounds gross. Make it seatmates).

Modern ministers and priests often include touching in their worship service. They urge their congregation to reach out, join hands, touch shoulders, make some kind of physical contact.

Many people don't like this holy touching. In fact, I know a couple of guys who absolutely refuse to partake, no matter who is sitting next to them. Whenever the minister gets that brotherly gleam in his eye, these 2 guys get up and run. These rapid escapees must leave their deserted seatmates really feeling like pewmates ("Usher, bring me a bottle of Listerine").

I asked my friend Joe why he objected to joining hands in church.

"It embarrasses me," he said. "My wife always sits on one side of me and it feels silly to shake hands with someone I've been sleeping with for 15 years. On the other side there's usually some strange guy with a face like a catcher's mitt. There's no way I'm going to hold hands with him."

"The answer is simple," I told him. "It's just a matter of semantics. You should hold hands with your wife and shake hands with the catcher's mitt."

"I'll bet semantics is a dirty word," Don said. "And besides, it's easy for you to give advice. You never go to church."

But I used to go, way back when I was ahead of my time. And I used to regularly sneak touches with the girl sitting next to me. Nothing obvious or vulgar, of course. I'd simply reach out and grab passersby and assure them there was room for 1 more in our pew. After you've squeezed in 5 more "1 mores", the touching is not only easy, it is unavoidable. It did wonders for a dull sermon.

Of course, in 1942, this was guilty touching. The preacher didn't encourage such messing around in church. He didn't even approve it on the playground (co-educational touch football was forbidden). If you wanted to love your neighbor, it was wise to make it a sin of thought, not deed.

It is marvelous to see the progress that's been made in 30 years. I think it's grand that many ministers are now urging their parishioners to become physically aware of each other.

The idea is Love, of course Love everybody, including the fat guy trying to read your hymnal. But first you must know him. And a good way to start is to touch him. That way, both of you outwardly acknowledge each other's existence. This world is full of people suffering in invisible agony, waiting in vain to be acknowledged.

Many of you church goers will probably regard that last paragraph as pretty pretentious, even stupid, coming from a heretic who has confused teenage lust with brotherly love. Maybe so. But even lust can look good when compared with hate—or tch-tch sophistication. I'm for a world where every man is eager to make room for 1 more in his pew.

Many people burn the candle at both ends in an attempt to throw light on the subject.

Cosmetic allergic reactions

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

I just read a valuable booklet which tells of a number of skin problems that people can get if they are sensitive to certain drugs or cosmetics. Because women today use so many cosmetic preparations, women are the main victims of CONTACT DERMATITIS, a rash or inflammation of the skin resulting from contact with some ALLERGEN (material causing the allergic reaction). Trouble can sometimes result from a change in the chemical composition of an old cosmetic.

In the booklet is a table telling the chemical constituents of the many kinds of cosmetics commonly used today—such as nail preparations, perfumes and deodorants. Such a table can be of great help, especially to a physician who must help the patient discover the cause of the irritation. A woman should suspect the cause of a skin irritation of her face which appeared shortly after she started to use a new cosmetic. The logical thing to do is stop the use of the new cosmetic to see if that brings about a cure.

The authors of the booklet "Cutaneous Reactions to Cosmetics", Drs. Cyril H. March and Alexander A. Fisher, say, "Since cosmetics are usually weak sensitizers, the dermatitis produced often takes the form of a subtle, dry, scaly, milky pruritic eruption. The principal site of the dermatitis may not be the site of application of the cosmetic. For example, eyelid dermatitis is more often due to hair and nail preparations than to eye makeup. Nail polish dermatitis usually manifests itself initially on the thinner, more susceptible skin of the neck and eyelids which the patient unsuspectingly touches with her nails. Hair preparations may affect the eyelids, the rim of the ears and the nape of the neck rather than the scalp."

The writers say that various cosmetics which normally do not cause the woman any trouble may be a problem when she wears them in the sun.

It is not easy to find just which cosmetic is causing the trouble. It may be necessary to stop the use of all cosmetics. This means shampooing the hair with a milk soap, stopping the use of all creams and removing nail lacquer.

Then you take all the cosmetics, including sponges and powder puffs, to an expert dermatologist so that he can study them. You may also have to use a helpful prescribed preparation that can stop itching and burning.

The dermatologist or allergist may perform a patch test in which some of the suspected cosmetic is placed on the gauze part of a small square band-aid and then left for 48 or 96 hours, fastened to the patient's back or the back of an arm. When removed, there may be a red patch produced by the irritant chemical.

Once the offender has been found, and the irritation has cleared up, it will be necessary to find a substitute for it. Sometimes simply changing the brand is sufficient.

Persons who would like to receive a copy of "Cutaneous Reactions To Cosmetics" can write the Committee on Cutaneous Health and Cosmetics, American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610.

AN ACUPUNCTURE CLINIC ORDERED TO CLOSE

I recently wrote a column about the tremendous interest today in the ancient Chinese method of anesthesia, which has begun to be tried by some American physicians. There is always a danger that this type of thing can take on certain faddish qualities, and that some people will recognize an opportunity to make the fad remunerative.

Because even American trained Chinese doctors say that they do not know just why acupuncture should work, there are still doubts in many doctor's minds as to when, if ever, the technic should be used in the United States.

Several acupuncture clinics have opened up, and now I read that New York State has closed a clinic in New York City run by Dr. Arnold Benson, M.D., with the help of four Chinese trained acupuncturists. The state authority says that the clinic was illegally practicing medicine.

As part of the Cooperative Extension Family Living program there will be car tours in September to learn about our communities, according to Home Economist Ann Ross. The car tour in Sanilac county is Tuesday, Sept. 12. The tour will begin at Brown City and conclude in Crosswell and include a luncheon in Lexington. Points of interest include a city park, industry, a sod farm and a canning plant. The Tuscola County Caravan will be Sept. 20 and is scheduled to begin in Richville and conclude in Vassar. Tour stops will include a large church, a city hall, a food service corporation, a historic home and a new factory. The Huron County Community Caravan will be Wednesday, Sept. 27 and begin at Pigeon. Tour viewing will include an Aggregate Company, a Lutheran museum, two parks, a photographic church, a nursery and a hospital. Reservations for any of the above tours should be made in advance and include luncheon costs at the County Extension Offices in Bad Axe, Caro or Sandusky. Participants provide their own transportation.

FROM THE LITTER BOX

I'm a born loser

By Kit McMillion

Did you ever read the cartoon strip "The Born Loser"? Identify heavily with the title because the appellation applies to me. My friends tell me I'd lose my head if it weren't attached, but I don't believe them. I've felt sometimes that it wasn't attached and I haven't lost it... yet.

But I do have a knack for misplacing things. My first grade teacher, who was quite a wit, especially when she was flourishing her crutch, the poor woman had arthritis in everything but her teeth, told me once never to say someone took something I couldn't find or to say I lost it. Just say I misplaced it.

Once I misplaced my bicycle which had been securely anchored to the backyard of the place where I was residing during a furious storm that eroded the tracks of anyone who might have helped misplace my bicycle, which I loved dearly and which was my only form of transportation.

Two weeks later, after much supplication on the part of a very religious friend of mine to St. Anthony, patron saint in charge of finding lost articles, I received a post card from the local police authorities saying a misplaced bicycle bearing the serial number and identification of my misplaced bicycle had been placed in their compound and I could pick it up at any time.

St. Anthony is also supposed to be the patron saint of the poor, too. I guess he's not 100 per cent reliable.

Another thing I didn't lose was my class ring, which I have worn faithfully for years as a tribute to remind me I am supposed to be educated and not act like an illiterate boob when the feeling overwhelms me.

I misplaced it. Actually, I placed it on the radio one night before going to bed, and it was misplaced sometime during the night. I blamed it on my cat until search upon search produced no ring.

See, I didn't lose it. I've probably got a poltergeist who is having an absolute ball playing havoc with my belongings.

Another thing I misplaced and tried to blame on my cat, was a heavy shoe that I took off in the bedroom and let land where it might on the floor. I have two feet. I wear shoes on both feet.

One shoe ended up under the dresser where I can easily fish them out again in the morning. The other one disappeared. It wasn't under the bed, which is the next most likely spot for hiding, or gentle pushing from my pussy cat. I found it weeks later under the couch in the other room.

I still can't buy that my cat put it there. I figured a poltergeist also took a very treasured necklace that simply went poof!

I mean, I loved that necklace. It had special meaning to me and the darn giggling ghost must have made off with it, because I always put it in the same spot so I'd know I could find it again.

Just call me the star of "The Born Misplacer."

Meow.

AROUND THE FARM
Revive marginal land
 By Don Kebler

From the term submarginal land we generally envision an area of wild land overgrown with weeds and native vegetation and not being farmed; however, we must go further than this concept to know what this term really implies.

Submarginal land, agriculturally speaking, is any land incapable of producing crops profitably in the area. By this definition, there are farmers in Tuscola county losing money farming submarginal land and are not really aware of the fact. Some of this land is located in the county where agricultural real estate is selling for the highest dollar.

This particular submarginal land I refer to is not the sand smears, beach ridges or the perpetual problem depression areas. These areas the operators have identified for many years. I am referring to whole fields and even entire farms.

This year I am talking with operators who say their soils just are not draining as in the past. They admit their land has had as severe rainfalls in years past and not flooded as occurs now. Others have come and tell me they have certain fields where it is now impossible to produce beans. Years ago they could on the same field. They are wondering if perhaps the problem is in the seed vigor, the soil fertility level or some other cultural practice. Soil compaction is not suspected as the real culprit as many cases show following a soil test plus seeing good crops produced on other fields on the farm.

It is real natural to first suspect poor crop production to be caused by poor seed and improper fertilizer usage. Too much blame has been placed on seed and fertilizer where soil compaction is the real problem. The real trouble is that soil compaction creeps up on us so slowly we don't really see it occurring until it's there.

The only solution to rectify these soil compaction problems which leave submarginal fields is to increase organic matter, minimize tillage, land leveling, and tile. In some cases ting won't alleviate the problem and subsoiling is only a temporary solution at the best.

Now is a good time to determine those submarginal areas and fields, define the cause and develop a program of recovery. Most of these compacted soils can be rejuvenated, made productive again and yield profits.

It will take time but, under a good program, the soil will bounce back in far less time than it took to cause the problem. If these corrective measures are not followed the submarginal lands will force you out of farming.

rites Tuesday

Services were held Tuesday at 11 a.m. for Mrs. Lulu Groombridge, 82, who died Sunday, Aug. 27, at Hills and Dales General Hospital following a long illness.

She was born June 15, 1891, in Yale, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William and Cistie Smade Raymond.

She was united in marriage to James Groombridge Oct. 17, 1907, in Shabbona. Following their marriage, they lived in Shabbona. Following their marriage, they lived in Shabbona, later moving to Flint. They returned to Shabbona in 1952, where she lived until her death.

Elder James Groombridge, her husband, died Nov. 19, 1969. Mrs. Groombridge was a member of the Shabbona RLDS Church since 1912.

Surviving are two daughters: Mrs. Voyle (Marion) Dorman, Snover, and Mrs. Richard (Nettie) Kerbyson, Flint; five sons: Alvin, Grand Rapids; Gilbert, Flushing; Leslie and Audley, both of Flint, and Eugene, Decker.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Parrott, Shabbona; two brothers: Mark and Alfred Raymond, both of Grand Rapids; 25 grandchildren; two step-grandchildren, and 58 great-grandchildren.

Two daughters, one sister and three brothers preceded her in death. Services were conducted from the RLDS Church in Shabbona. Elder James McBride of the Clio RLDS Church and Elder Howard Gregg of the RLDS Church of Shabbona officiated. Burial was in Flint Memorial Park at 1:30 p.m.

Slate twilight bean meet near Unionville

by William Bortel

A Bean Twilight Meeting will be featured in Tuscola county Thursday, Aug. 31. All bean growers and agribusinessmen are invited to this informative meeting at 6:30 p.m. to be held at the Raymond and Douglas Nixon farm. The farm is located 6 miles west and one-half mile south of Unionville on Vassar Road.

The program will feature a timely bean marketing report by Quentin R. Ostrander, marketing specialist of the Thumb area. Mr. Ostrander will be reporting on the outlook of beans in the Saginaw Valley and other dry bean producing areas of Minnesota and Wisconsin. Also he will cover a situation in Canada. The colored bean industry will be summarized with a report on New York state.

Growers in attendance will also have an opportunity to hear the latest bean herbicide summary. Herbicides were not very effective in controlling weeds in bean fields this year and we would like to summarize the latest research.

The Nixons have two large demonstration plots on their farm. One plot is looking at 20-inch rows compared to 30-inch rows with navy, kidney and black turtle beans. Also there is a plot looking at 25 pounds of nitrogen compared to 50 pounds of nitrogen. There is a comparison made with each, navy, kidney and black turtle beans.

The entire program is sponsored by the Tuscola County Bean Growers Association and the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

After 22 years Freiburger Grocery will be going out of business, according to an announcement made this week by Bernard Freiburger, owner. Sheriff Hugh Marr said that he is confident that someone will furnish his department a tip that will uncover the persons who abandoned a day-old baby boy at the Caro Laundry.

Oscar Brooks of Cass City caught a monster pike measuring 36 inches and weighing 13 pounds in the Cass River. It took about 15 minutes to land. The magazine racketeers are at it again in Cass City with a new variation on an old theme. The sharpshooters are catching the unwary with a phone solicitation that starts with a quiz contest, and ends up with a subscription to magazines.

Improvements have been made in the Novesta Church of Christ which included refinishing of floors and installation of new pews.

TEN YEARS AGO

Students and teachers of Cass City high school will return to a considerably modified daily schedule. After following for many years a six-period day, of equal length hours, the school has adopted a seven-period schedule.

Ed Baker, Cass City businessman, announced his retirement from the Elkland Township Fire Department after 20 years of service.

Two young Cass City dairymen have been accepted as Junior members of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Accepted were Grant Merchant and Robert J. Carpenter.

Paul Alfano was named a member of the board of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce. Jim King, Cass City businessman, was elected Little League president. He replaces Milt Connolly.

Mrs. Margaret Levagood, who has been living with Mrs. Alice Moore, on South Seeger Street, is moving to the rooms on the second floor of the Frank Lenzer home, corner of Pine and Oak Streets.

Deputy Sheriff J. A. Caldwell has distributed to local garages copies of a new law which requires a report be made to the sheriff's office or police station of any motor vehicle brought for repairs in which the damages were caused in an accident.

Mrs. Hannah Fox was defrauded out of $165 by two women who had called at her home with the promise to heal her of an ailment. The money had been saved from the sale of chickens and farm products to buy next winter's fuel supply for the Fox home.

Edward Weisenbaugh's heavy weight team of horses placed eighth in the horse pulling contest at the Bad Axe Fair.

Bernard O'Dell, D.C., of Cass City is in Davenport, Iowa, where he is attending the 54th annual lyceum and home-coming of the Palmer School of Chiropractic.

The Wickware school opened with Mrs. Malvina Howarth as teacher. The Holbrook school is closed this year and they are transporting their pupils to the Wickware school.

Miss Alison Spence, who has spent a little time at her home here, returned to Arthur Hill High School in Saginaw as head of the commercial department.

Plaids are back for fall

Judy Marks - Extension Agent

Plaids, plaids, plaids! That's what we'll be seeing this fall. Plaids that are in every color imaginable and available in all types of fabrics. When you look for back-to-school clothes you will notice that plaids are used for all types of garments. From the casual, sporty clothes to dressy, party wear. The home sewer can use her imagination and creativity in designing and fashioning plaid garments for her family. One of the all time favorite plaid garments is a tartan plaid skirt. These skirts have knife pleats across the back, which makes it comfortable to wear and creates a slimming effect. These skirts are often referred to as kilts, and like the authentic ones, they too are fastened with a gold or silver pin. Unlike hem lengths that vary a great deal, the traditional length of the tartan skirt never varies - when kneeling, the skirt reaches the floor. You may want to get those plaid garments out that you wore a few years ago. They are popular once again. It's impossible for one to find a substitute for reliability. SUCH IS LIFE Everything comes to the man who waits—even his wife who said she'd be ready in a minute.

4-H ACTIVITIES

4-H is growing

By Bernard Jardot

SPECIAL - It's no secret... 4-H is growing. And it's growing in many directions including into America's largest cities.

A record five million young people are participating in some phase of the 4-H program. They come from all segments of society including urban centers as well as America's farms. Neither their economic and cultural backgrounds nor their place of residence provide barriers to learning in the informal 4-H youth education program.

Three of ten 4-H members reside on farms, 43 per cent live in rural towns and communities and the remaining 24 per cent come from cities and suburbia.

Behind the five million 4-Hers and lending their valued assistance are more than 500,000 volunteer adult and junior leaders. And coordinating many and varied educational offerings are professional staff members of the Cooperative Extension Service which conducts the 4-H program nationwide.

Another organization which for the 51st year is contributing mightily to 4-H is the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. The non-profit, educational organization supported by some 55 corporations and foundations has budgeted nearly $3 million for 4-H member incentives and recognition, leader training, educational aids and other services during the current year.

With incentives and other assistance being provided 4-H by America's private sector the informal youth education program is reaching increased numbers of young people everywhere. For information about 4-H opportunities in your area, call or visit the county extension office.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Zeke Grubb got a holt of a series of articles in the paper about the economy, and ever since he's been throwing figgers and statistics around like he was the bull of Wall Street. Zeke was quoting some feller Saturday night at the country store when he said all you need to make a million in this country of free enterprise is a piddling $50,000 to invest. Zeke didn't go into how to git that little nestegg, but Bug Hookum said the best way is to pick yore parents careful.

Zeke must of spent some time on these articles, cause he was talking stuff none of the fellers have ever heard come out of his head afore. Economically speaking, declared Zeke, they ain't no way this country can ever hope to be solvent. The way I catch that, if you ain't solvent you're worse than broke. And what Zeke was saying is that we are digging bigger holes to fill up big holes and staggering along like a drunk trying to drink hisself sober.

The national debt, reported Zeke, now is more than $4000 billion, and he said that breaks down to $2,000 for every man, woman and child. The interest on this money comes to $400 a year for a family of four, Zeke said. And just this past year we added $39 billion to our little plan to spend ourself solvent, went on Zeke.

Parthermore, went on zeke, the politicians know that spending is popular, so none of them come up with serious ways to cut back. What they do, Zeke said, is look fer ways to git more from the taxpayers while they promise the taxpayers more. Mister Editor, Zeke's report reminded me of the story of the desert king that told a visitor one of the favorite spectator sports in his country was to take a criminal out and bury him up to his neck in sand and set around waiting for the buzzards. The visitor said he reckoned the fun in the sport depended on who got to play buzzard bait.

Ed Doolittle, that is somepun of a economy expert hisself, said he is reminded ever day about the feller that said a democracy will stand only til the people understand they can vote theirself the treasury. From the way folks are taking serious that plan fer the Government to give everybody in the country $6,500 a year, Ed said, he would say the time has come. Ten years ago, Ed said, we had six million people drawing $3 billion in welfare. Now we got 13 million collecting more than $13 billion. As fast as the Vietnam war winds down, welfare programs crank up, was Ed's words.

Personal, Mister Editor, I don't know nothing about economy and I git that mixed up. It does seem, tho, that everybody looks at this country like a gal does at a man she wants to marry. She don't see him fer what he is, but fer what he'll be when she gits him changed around to suit herself.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

31st annual reunion in Caro

The 31st annual reunion of the Hendrick-Downing families was held Sunday at the fairgrounds in Caro. Seventy-four attended. Recognition was given to the eldest, Orson Hendrick, 81, whose home is in Florida, and to seven-month-old Denise Marie Jenks of Lansing, the youngest. Re-elected to offices were Lee Hendrick, president, and Mrs. Ivan Tracy, secretary-treasurer.

The 1973 reunion will be held Aug. 26 at the same location.

More than a FRIEND

Did you ever have a pal who was like a second shadow to you . . . a friend who was always there when you needed him . . . someone who laughed with you when you were happy, and comforted you when your turtle died or your puppy ran away?

Our world is a big place, and people, even close friends, can't always stay together. One day you had to say "goodbye" and go your separate ways.

Since then, you've found new friends. You've also found an emptiness, a need, which people alone could not satisfy. We need a goal at the end of life's path and unflinching strength and guidance along the way.

Only God can fill this emptiness. Only God can be with you the entire length of your path. And when you reach the end? Only God can take you safely beyond.

Come to church this Sunday. You don't have to walk alone.

Children's poster contest underway

Children from the ages of six through 13 may submit posters in a poster contest on the subject of "Poison Prevention" being sponsored by Arnold Pharmacies.

The contest is scheduled to run until September 15 and will offer three statewide prizes of $100, one in each age category, and three local prizes of $15.

In their posters, the children must illustrate how to prevent home poisonings or show why safeguarding against home poisonings is important.

A local prize of $15 will be awarded to the child submitting the winning poster in each age category. The winners will be selected by a local panel. Age categories are: through 6; 7-9 years, and 10-13 years.

Winning local posters will be submitted to the statewide competition and will be eligible for one of the three $100 state awards. They will also be displayed at the local Arnold store.

Posters must be no smaller than 8 1/2 by 11 inches and no larger than 14 by 22 inches. They may be dropped off at the local Arnold Pharmacy between August 15 and September 15. Each child must sign his name, address, age, school and telephone number on the back of the poster.

In addition to the contest, Arnold's also announced they are offering free child-proof pill vials to anyone who brings their old pill bottles in for exchange. The new pill bottle caps can't be lifted or twisted loose in the ordinary fashion. The lids must be pressed down quite firmly, then turned to the right while continuing the pressure.

"The vials will make pills much more inaccessible to small children," said Arnold Faudman, president of Arnold's.

About 75,000 children accidentally swallow potentially harmful substances in homes each year, according to the National Clearinghouse for Poison Control Centers.

Recognizing this problem, the Federal government has issued regulations which require prescriptions containing aspirin to be sold in child-proof containers after August 15. After October 24, all drugs subject to rigid Federal controls, such as amphetamines and barbiturates, must also be sold in child-proof containers.

New teachers, familiar faces greet students

Cass City School District students were greeted by a number of new teachers Monday when they ended their summer's fun and began school once again.

Almost all of the new instructors are recent college graduates. Three are returning from leaves of absence, and one has been repositioned in the system.

HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Nancy Auvil, a graduate of Cass City High School, will be returning to teach Biology I and II and Ecology. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University.

Lyle Clarke, Vocational Agriculture instructor, is returning from a year's leave of absence while he and his family were in Australia.

David Custer will teach Industrial Education. He is married and graduated from Marlette High School, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University.

Dan Derfny is the new Drafting and Industrial Arts instructor. He is single, graduated from Harbor Beach High School and earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University.

Miss Jacque Merritt is librarian. She graduated from Swartz Creek High School and holds a bachelor of science degree from Central Michigan University.

Police investigate larceny, vandalism

Two occurrences of vandalism and two bicycle thefts were reported to Cass City police this week.

Police were called to the Klein Fertilizer Company at 4155 Vulcan St., Cass City, Monday morning where they were told someone had put tomatoes in the gas tank of a company pickup truck.

A chain was also hooked to the locked door of the vehicle but entry was not gained. The vandalism is believed to have occurred Sunday night.

Small foot prints and tracks from a snow tire were found at the scene. Police theorized the vandals left after they got scared. Tracks indicated the car left in a hurry.

William Wallace reported Monday morning vandalism to an air conditioner at Arma, Inc., at 4194 Doerf Road. The coil of the cooling unit had been beaten by a hammer the night before, Wallace told police, rendering it useless. Several days earlier, he added, stones were thrown at the machine, but little damage was done then.

Lynn Albee, 4243 S. Seeger St., Cass City, reported Friday the theft of a bicycle taken the night before. The bicycle was valued at about $50.

Richard Lautner, 6593 Houghton St., Cass City, also reported the theft of his bicycle. He reported to police Thursday, Aug. 24, that the bicycle had been missing two weeks.

The theft of a mini-bike from the engineering division of Walbro Corp. was reported Tuesday. The machine, valued at about $250, was last seen at the engineering building last week where engineers were studying the carburetor system.

Expanded special ed classes open

The special education department of the Tuscola Intermediate School District opened Aug. 30, with programs for exceptional children throughout the county.

An expanded four classroom program for the trainable mentally handicapped student, a classroom program for the multiply handicapped and a classroom program for the severely mentally handicapped at Darbee School will start classes Sept. 5. Additions to this school program, which serves 65 children from throughout the county, will be a lunch program prepared at the school and served family style to the students, a full-time speech therapist and the newly initiated program for the young adult population to teach social skills and pre-vocational skills. Continuing services of the Trainable Center will be part-time physical therapy services and a full-time nurse.

The deaf and hard of hearing programs serving the intermediate district and held at the Schall School, Caro, start Sept. 5. Buses for all the intermediate programs plus the deaf and hard of hearing programs will pick up students that morning as indicated in a letter sent to all parents.

Other intermediate special education services provided by the intermediate school district office serving all local public and parochial school systems will be six speech therapists, three diagnosticians, two school social workers and a teacher-consultant for adjusted study programs. New staff include Miss Jane Kramer, School Social Worker, Mrs. Sue Lee, Speech Therapist, Mrs. Gail Lesoski, Speech Therapist, Miss Debra Schroer and Dave Battenthouse, Teachers of the Trainable Mentally Handicapped.

The intermediate school district assists in the sponsorship and administration of local district special education programs. This coming year there will be 25 classrooms for the educable mentally handicapped, two classrooms for the deaf and hard of hearing and a classroom program for the perceptually handicapped.

Put off until tomorrow the worrying you might do today.

CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY TEACHERS new to the system are, seated left to right, Miss Bethel Sunderland, third grade; Miss Marcia Knechtel, second grade, and Mrs. Shirley Tuckey, third grade. Standing, left to right, are Miss Loretta Broniak, third grade; Miss Anne Lawton, special education, and Miss Nancy Sivula, who will teach physical education in all three elementary schools.

University. Miss Susan Slavin, a graduate of Bad Axe High School, will teach French, Spanish and English. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Mercy College of Detroit.

INTERMEDIATE

Teaching fifth grade at the Intermediate School will be Miss Marion Binder, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Central Michigan University. She graduated from Caro High School.

Dennis Collon will teach Industrial Education and Social Studies. He graduated from Unionville Community Schools and is married. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University.

Mrs. Sally Goodall is returning from a leave of absence to teach fifth grade.

Miss Marilyn Maurer, a graduate of Ubyly High School, will teach sixth grade. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Roland Pakonen will teach Speech and Mathematics. He is also head football coach. Married, Pakonen is returning from a year's leave of absence.

Miss Kally Pine will teach Girl's Physical Education and Social Studies. She will also coach the girl's basketball team and junior high cheerleaders. She is a graduate of Cass City High School and holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University.

Miss Karen Siders, will also teach sixth grade. She graduated from Owosso High School and holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Taylor University, Upland, Ind.

CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY

Miss Loretta Broniak will teach third grade. She graduated from Our Lady of Mercy School, Farmington, and has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Michigan State University.

Miss Marcia Knechtel will teach second grade. She is a graduate of the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port School, and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Central Michigan University.

Await action on Housing Authority bonding limit bill

Tucked away among the more glamorous legislative issues awaiting action when lawmakers return for their September session is a very significant, but not very sexy, item. The bill, which has been shadowed from publicity by such items as the governor's transportation package and no-fault insurance, would allow the Michigan State Housing Development Authority to increase its bonding limit from $300 million to $800 million.

It is more attractive to the lawmakers because the increase can be made with absolutely no cost to the general fund of the state. The authority has become a financially self-sufficient unit which needs no tax dollars to support itself.

The authority program serves people with incomes which range from around the $3,000 per year mark up to around $9,000 per year.

It helps people in these income brackets purchase housing which might otherwise be out of their income range.

In the 28 months since it sold its first notes, the authority has made loans for construction or rehabilitation of roughly 8,500 homes in more than 100 communities. Roughly 2,000 of these homes already are occupied and an additional 1,000 should be by the end of the summer.

Its investment in housing development totaled $120 million through 1971 and is slated to be over $300 million by the end of 1972 if approval is given for the raise in its bonding ceiling.

Michigan residents traveling to other states on their vacations this year are finding out that while taxes may be high here, they are worse in a lot of states.

For example, there's the sales tax. The tax is levied in 45 of the 50 states as well as in the District of Columbia.

Some states are lower than Michigan's 4 cents, which falls about in the middle of the rates. For instance, Indiana and Oklahoma are at the bottom of the scale with 2 cent taxes.

It then can loan it out at more favorable rates to lower income groups, making the loan available to them when a commercial loan would be prohibitively high.

The authority surprised quite a few people recently when it actually repaid to the state $191,000 that had been appropriated by the legislature to help it until it became financially independent.

Rare is the day the state gets any of its appropriated money back from anyone, but the authority did it without any obligation to do so.

"Although the authority has no legal obligation to reimburse the state general fund for its staff salaries, the payment reflects a commitment to economy in government and efficient use of public resources," Director William Rosenberg said at the time.

The action brought favorable responses from such influential legislators as Senate Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar of Benton Harbor.

The favorable reaction should help speed the way for the increase in bonding authority the rest of the way through the legislative process, thus opening up opportunities to own their own home to many more lower income persons.

IT COULD BE WORSE

Michigan residents traveling to other states on their vacations this year are finding out that while taxes may be high here, they are worse in a lot of states.

For example, there's the sales tax. The tax is levied in 45 of the 50 states as well as in the District of Columbia.

Some states are lower than Michigan's 4 cents, which falls about in the middle of the rates. For instance, Indiana and Oklahoma are at the bottom of the scale with 2 cent taxes.

The "leader" is Connecticut, which pays a price for having no state income tax by paying a 7 cent sales tax. It just raised its rate a half cent this year.

Connecticut also leads the states in cigarette tax. It levies a whopping 21 cents per pack on cigarettes. New Jersey isn't far behind with a 19 cent tax and New York has just raised its to 15 cents.

At the other end of the scale is North Carolina, with a 2 cent per pack tax and Virginia with a 2.5 cent levy.

The lowest gasoline tax on the other hand is in Texas, where you pay 5 cents for every gallon purchased. Mississippi had a 5 cent rate until Aug. 13, when it raised its price to 7 cents per gallon.

Connecticut is the highest again in this category with a 10 cent per gallon tax. Maui County, Hawaii, is also at the 10 cent mark.

Michigan's 6.5 cent rate, which would be raised to 8.5 cents under Gov. William G. Milliken's transportation package, doesn't look so high after all in comparison. Kentucky, Maryland and Virginia all raised theirs to 9 cents this year while Idaho went to 8.5 cents. Mississippi will go to 9 cents next year.

Finishing Materials Offer Wide Choices

Plaster and plaster board are still the most widely used interior finishing materials, but the list of attractive and serviceable materials is growing by leaps and bounds.

It includes metal and hard-board panels, prefinished hardwood plywood, cement board, stained lumber, plastic and glass fibre panels, ornamental tiles, marble, glass and masonry.

In addition, there are the new supported and unsupported vinyl coverings for unfinished walls. In choosing wall and ceiling materials you have the factors of cost, appearance, maintenance and acoustical properties to consider.

County traffic fatality toll exceeds last year's by 1

Tuscola county recorded its 22nd accident fatality Sunday when a Bay City woman died after her car ran off the road in Millington, exceeding last year's total of 21 highway deaths.

Dead is Mrs. Alma Marie Donahue, 68, 229 N. Madison Ave., Bay City. Three women injured in the one-car crash are in Bay City Mercy Community Hospital.

Alice Kiah, 249 Madison Ave., Bay City, is listed in fair condition with a broken leg and head lacerations. Catherine Streeky, 210 Fitzhugh St., Bay City, and Addie Koffman, 78, 229 N. Madison Ave., Bay City, are both listed in good condition. The accident happened at 2:55 p.m. when the car ran off State Street, hit the curb and traveled over the sidewalk, striking a flag pole in front of the village hall, according to Millington police. An autopsy indicated she died of injuries sustained in the accident.

CASS CITY ACCIDENTS

Lisa Jo Wilson, 7, 6365 Third St., Cass City, received minor injuries Tuesday morning when she was struck by a car driven by Kay Marie Guinther, 19, 6531 Main St., Cass City.

The girl was on her way to school when a car pulling across Church Street heading east blocked her from Mrs. Guinther's view as her car was turning onto Church from Seeger St.

In another accident, Mrs. Shirley Wolfe, 1285 Gable St., Saginaw, was treated for minor injuries at Hills and Dales Hospital when a car driven by her husband struck another vehicle operated by Maynard Joseph Helwig, 37, 6636 Virginia St., Cass City, Thursday, Aug. 24.

Helwig was cited for failure to yield the right of way when he pulled out in front of the westbound Wolfe vehicle at 4 p.m. Helwig told Cass City police he stopped at West Street, and then continued. His vision was obscured by heavy rainfall and foggy windows, he said.

Olin Wolfe, 50, driver, and Dewain, 10, and LuAnn, 14, were uninjured.

Three women sustained bruises the same day when a vehicle driven by Diana Lynn Peruski, 20, 6220 Lakeside Drive, Cass City, collided with one driven by Brenda Suzanne Harris, 19, 3280 W. Gilford Road, Caro. Passenger in the Harris vehicle was Barbara Jacques, 21, Caro. The accident occurred at 6:55 a.m. when the southbound Harris car on Doerr Road was struck by the Peruski vehicle as it crossed the centerline while coming onto the road out of a parking lot.

A Saturday afternoon accident resulted in injuries for two men when their cars collided on Kingston Road, 300 feet south of Mushroom Road.

William Charles Monte, 23, 1219 S. Kingston Road, Deford, was northbound on Kingston, he told Tuscola county sheriff's deputies, when he observed a car driven by Roy John Pickere, 32, 2241 Morningside Drive, Flint, driving at him in his lane. Monte said he attempted to get off onto the shoulder but was unable to avoid the collision. Pickere was ticketed for driving left of center and for leaving the scene of an accident. Neither man sought medical treatment.

No injuries resulted Thursday, Aug. 24, when cars driven by Mrs. Shirley Beddow, 36, S. Crawford Road, Deford, and Lloyd Clarence Hickie, 53, E. Bevens Road, Deford, collided on Crawford Road near Burmon Road. Passengers in the Beddow auto were Shar, 8, and Dorn, 7, Beddow, and Pamela LaPeer, 16, Deford.

Passenger in the Hickie car was his wife, Bernice, 41. The accident happened at 5:35 p.m.

Wallet taken from district court office

The theft of a wallet containing about $30 and personal papers from the purse of Mrs. Clara Peterhans, District Court Clerk, was reported to Tuscola sheriff's deputies Monday.

The wallet was in her purse which was in a desk drawer of the district court office. It is believed the wallet was taken while court was in session.

The same thing happened two years ago.

Seedless Cukes

Seedless cucumbers would be super in salads, says Sue Martin, of Holt, Mich. Here Miss Martin compares new seedless cucumber slices (right) with slices made from a standard variety. Seedless cukes have the seed cavity but not the seeds. They are being developed at Michigan State University and will have many advantages, including increased quality and appeal. MSU vegetable breeders estimate that seedless cukes will be on produce counters in 1975 or 1976.

Women supporting traffic patrol to meet Sept. 25

A meeting for all Tuscola county women is planned for September 25, at 7:30 p.m., in support of the six county action program of selective traffic enforcement currently being conducted by the Michigan Department of State Police.

In Tuscola county -- one of six in Michigan where traffic accidents have been exceedingly high the past several years -- fatalities this year are running ahead of the county's normally high fatality record.

The State Police task force program assigns troopers overtime during peak accident hours on week ends. These special assignments are in addition to existing patrols and will continue through the end of this year.

Lt. Zane Gray, Safety and Traffic Division, Michigan Department of State Police, and project director, pointed out that a study of this year's fatal accidents reveals that over half involve one or more drinking drivers and over half occur on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

An initial planning session was held recently in Caro. Women leaders present at the meeting were Mrs. Mary MacNeill, Caro, president of the Hospital Auxiliary; Mrs. Leonard Russell, Akron, representing Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers; Mrs. Clifton Metcalf, Fairgrove, representing Church Women United; Mrs. Walter Moderow, Caro, and Mrs. Clare Carpenter, Cass City, representing the Farm Bureau Women, and Ann Ross, Extension Home Economist for the county.

Also in attendance was Mrs. Leota M. Westfall, executive secretary, Michigan Women For Highway Safety.

The countywide meeting for members of women's organizations and all other interested women will be held at the Caro High School Cafeteria. Complete information about the September 25 meeting will be sent to all Michigan Women For Highway Safety members, as well as to the leaders of all women's organizations and clubs in Tuscola county, well in advance of the meeting date.

Final Reese 44 appeal dropped

The last appeal by one of the "Reese 44" teachers was dropped Monday when a summary judgment was signed by Judge Norman Baguley in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Jacob Morren was the only one of 44 who would not settle when 43 other teachers agreed to accept reinstatement and then resign in May.

Morren wrote a letter to the court saying he agreed his strike had been illegal and he was dropping his case against the Reese Board of Education.

Forty-one Reese teachers struck in 1971 when the board of education and the teacher's union could not agree to contract terms.

Volunteer holds state home classes

Miss Dorothy Robinson, 61, of Caro is a dedicated volunteer.

Working through the Thumb Bible Mission, she has conducted Bible classes and prayer meetings for an average of 200 residents a year, four days a week for the last 12 years, at the Caro State Home and Training School.

Through music, Bible stories, visitations, and prayers, she brings religious opportunities to residents while introducing them to socialization and fun.

As an example of the type of work that Miss Robinson does, on Tuesday evenings a special prayer meeting is held for the older girls. The girls themselves conduct the gathering with specific prayer and hymn requests. During the week she conducts 18 classes in eight different buildings, housing children and adults.

Informality is the key to much of Dorothy Robinson's success, and she often spends hours in after-class discussions with residents, many of them severely handicapped.

Scripture Press donates Sunday School papers for everyone who attends a class, and the Thumb Bible Mission, an interdenominational organization, pays Miss Robinson's mileage to and from Caro State Home. She also receives donations from churches and friends to keep her work going.

At Christmas she was given wheelchair bags, slippers, and bookmarks to distribute as gifts. At Easter the North Baptist Church of Flint sent 150 corsages for Miss Robinson to give to the ladies in her classes.

But, she prepares all her own material and buys a vast majority of aids she uses. To enliven lessons, she brings a record player, tape recorder, and a wide variety of posters and picture cards. Her stories are simple and help the residents to relate their everyday life to the outer world.

Nor does Dorothy Robinson confine her volunteer services to Bible classes. She actively involves herself in the lives of the residents with whom she works. She often accompanies groups on picnics and trips to Caseville, and she still corresponds and visits regularly with several who have left the Home. She frequently attends chapel services at Murray Hall on Sunday, and has held services there herself. Recently, she went with a group of girls to the Tuscola County Fair.

Miss Robinson is a lady who interests herself in others. It is estimated that she has put in well over 7500 hours of volunteer time in classes alone. Before volunteering for service at the Caro State Home and Training School, she worked in a school for the retarded in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

When asked about it, she shrugs and says, "It's just something I get a lot of joy out of doing." For her, dedication comes easy.

It is not at all uncommon for the heady individual to have a head-on collision.

MIDDLE-AGE SPREAD

The average middle-aged man would be happier if he had less weight to throw around.

DIFFERENT STORY

The man who kicks about the high cost of living doesn't worry about cost of his vices.

Charge Caro man with 'pot' garden

Thomas Ellis Meyer, 21, Caro, demanded an examination when he appeared in Tuscola County District Court Monday on a felony charge of possession of more than 2 ounces of marijuana.

Meyer was arrested last week Tuesday on a warrant after sheriff's deputies confiscated a large number of marijuana plants at his residence at 1812 Forks Road, Caro. The examination is scheduled for Sept. 8.

Jerry Schaudt, 31, 3945 W. Sanilac Road, Snover, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and given fines and costs of $150 following his court appearance before Judge Richard Kern on charges of driving under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Sunday.

Allan Alonzo Morey, 31, 5883 Argyle Road, Decker, also appeared on charges of driving under the influence, but his arraignment was continued until Sept. 11.

Council okays $12,700 for street sweeper

Authorization to purchase a new street sweeper was made Tuesday evening by the village council.

An Elgin brand sweeper will be bought for $12,700. Previous attempts to find a suitable used sweeper have been futile. The present sweeper is about 20 years old and repairs have been made upon the repairs, reported Superintendent Lou LaPonsie.

The council budgeted $10,000 for a sweeper and another $3000 for miscellaneous equipment which will be used to pay for the sweeper. Delivery is expected in about 45 days.

In other action, James Hubbell of Hubbell, Roth and Clark reported to the council preliminary findings of a survey the engineering firm is doing on the waste-water treatment plant. He told the council that our plant measures up pretty good in comparison with other villages, but if the village wanted to file for state and federal funds for the next fiscal year the deadline for a letter of intent is Sept. 15.

What this does is put the village's name on the list but obligates it to nothing. The village has been expecting the need to modernize and replace parts of the waste-water treatment facilities within the next five years due to more stringent state and federal regulations. Council is aiming at construction in 1975, but agreed to start the paper work now. Cost of the necessary changes is estimated at $2 million, said Hubbell. Under the program, the village would only pay about ten per cent.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

Village President Lambert Althaver reported that $101,000 in taxes had been collected so far, about 85 per cent. The deadline was routinely extended until Sept. 15.

Superintendent LaPonsie was appointed street administrator to satisfy a requirement of the state highway department.

Formal resignation of Mrs. Charlene Pranger as deputy clerk was accepted by the council. Mrs. Karen Osentoski was appointed deputy clerk and Barbara Rockwell hired as the new secretary-bookkeeper.

Council also decided to keep the oldest police car as a village car for use by LaPonsie.

Repair Leaks, Drips Conserve Our Water

Conserving our natural resources is just as important to our environment as maintaining a comfortable standard of living.

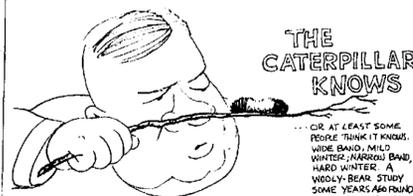

Ever stop to think of all the appliances in the home that use water: sinks, dishwashers, toilets, showers, baths, automatic ice cube makers, laundry.

Especially important is prompt repair of faucet drips and leaks.

TIP TO MOTORISTS

Good brakes prevent a number of things, but they are useless when the car takes to the air.

What Kind of Winter?

THE CATERPILLAR KNOWS

... OR AT LEAST SOME PEOPLE THINK IT KNOWS. WIDE BAND, MILD WINTER, NARROW BAND, HARD WINTER. A WOOLLY-BEAR STUDY SOME YEARS AGO FOUND NO CONNECTION BETWEEN WIDTH OF BANDS AND SEVERITY OF THE COMING WINTER.

SOME BELIEVE GROWING A THICK RING OF HAIRER DOWN OR LAYING DOWN LOTS OF FAT PREDICT A COOLER WINTER. IT IS KNOWN THAT AN ABUNDANCE OF FALL FOOD AND GOOD HEALTH HAVE A MORE IMMEDIATE EFFECT THAN COLD WEATHER. 3 TO 4 MONTHS IN THE FUTURE.

AVAILABILITY OF VEGETATION NOT DETERMINES SIZE OF A WOOLLY-BEAR'S HAIRER.
