Owendale sunvisor plant starts $40,000 warehouse addition

By Kit McMillion

The next time you're driving into the sun and reach up to pull down the handy sun visor in your car or truck, chances are about one in four that your hand will touch a product of Auto-otive Industries, Inc., of Owendale.

A wholly owned subsidiary of Donlee Manufacturing Industries Limited of Toronto, Canada, the automotive interior trim factory produces approximately 3 1/2-4 million visors a year, at a rate of about 18,000 a day.

It's part of a $30 million sun visor business, and also provides a major source of employment with most of its 200 employees coming from Owendale and the surrounding area, although one comes as far as Frankenmuth and the plant manager lives in Lake Orion.

While only a small part of the total automotive industry, it's a mainstay of Owendale, adding $750,000 in payroll alone to the community this year.

The industry started in 1946 when Wettlaufer Inc. opened the plant in Owendale. According to present vice-president and general manager Garry Hoffman, the site was chosen at the time because the facilities were available and there was a work force available. It was also the trend at that time to escape the city and open shops in small towns, where post-war wages, taxes and general overhead was smaller.

Wettlaufer's sold it several years later to John McKenzie of Bloomfield and Al McKenzie of Pigeon, who operated the plant as a proprietorship corporation until its purchase in 1969 by the Canadian firm.

From a small post-war factory, the business has expanded greatly in recent years and has now outgrown its facilities, necessitating a 10,000 square foot addition to the rear of the building located on Sebawaing Road in Owendale.

While the original advantages of moving to the countryside after World War II have disappeared, and freight costs are now higher, the plant stays in Owendale because of the trained work force available, said Hoffman.

The $40,000 addition now under construction will be used for both storage and working space. The main plant now has 25,000 square feet plus an additional 7000 square feet of warehouse space.

An old wood shed that stood behind the building was torn down last week, erasing one of the last vestiges of the build-

Fall Chamber plans outlined at meeting

Plans for the fall and Christmas season were discussed at a breakfast meeting of retailers in the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

A town-wide fall harvest sale will kick-off events Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Nov. 2-4. It will follow another Chamber-sponsored event, a free Halloween show Tuesday night at the Cass Theatre.

Also being formulated is a special Christmas program. Details have yet to be worked out, but it was decided that the special Christmas emphasis will start the Friday and Saturday following Thanksgiving.

A meeting is slated Tuesday, Oct. 31, to finalize plans for the Christmas promotion in the village.

Already decided are the holiday evening hours for most Cass City merchants.

The Chamber recommends that all stores remain open evenings 'till 9 p.m. from Dec. 11 through Dec. 23.

Also finalized are plans for a free show for children on Saturday afternoons, Dec. 9-16-23.

Bidding duel skies old fire hall sale

The village of Cass City sold the former city building to Tom Proctor, owner of Wood's Drugs, at public auction Tuesday afternoon for $17,100.

Qualified observers termed the sale price as "high" for the property.

The lot is about 65 feet long and 50 feet wide at its narrowest point. In addition, the deed grants an indefinite easement of "about 6 feet" on the east edge of the property for entrance into the Wood building.

Discussion prior to the bidding indicated that a building of about 60 feet by 45 feet could probably be built at the site if the high bidder was other than the owner of the Wood building. There were three bidders at the letting. Opening the bid for $500 was Grant Ball. After that the auction became a duel between John McCormick and Tom Proctor.

Quickly the bids climbed to $10,000, to $15,000 and then inched upwards to the maximum figure.

At $17,000 Proctor said that he was through and Village President was about to close the bid when Proctor changed his mind and added the final $100 that resulted in the sale.

According to the terms of the auction, Proctor will have six months to clear the site of the former fire hall building.

Town rallies to aid

Larry Creamer, 3, dies in tragic trailer blaze

A faulty furnace was blamed as the cause of an early morning Saturday fire that swept the rural trailer home of the John R. Creamer family and claimed the life of 3-year-old Larry Scott Creamer.

Elkland township firemen arrived at the scene at the corner of Bay City-Forestville Road and M-53 shortly after the 8 a.m. call to find the trailer house ablaze.

Mrs. Creamer managed to escape with two of her three children, ages 2 and 5, but said Larry Scott failed to answer her call and was last seen running down a hallway to the bathroom. Neither Mrs. Creamer nor her other two children were injured. Her husband was not home at the time of the fire.

The boy was pronounced dead at the scene by the Sanilac county medical examiner, Dr. Robert Simich. The remains were found by firemen and police in the middle of the burned out trailer where his bedroom would have been.

Deputies from the Sanilac county sheriff's department said the fire marshal's investigation revealed the cause of the fire was a faulty furnace.

The family had moved to Greenleaf township 7 months ago where Creamer operates the nearby Crossroads Service Station. They were living in the trailer and had ordered a modular home to be erected in the future.

Under the direction of fireman Ed Bergman, a collection was announced over local radio stations and from church pulpits Sunday. One load of clothing and household goods was delivered to the family that day in their temporary living quarters in an Uby Motel. Another load was expected to be delivered Wednesday.

The family lost all of their possessions in the blaze and have no insurance, said Bergman. They need household goods, blankets, food and money, as well as clothing.

The two boys wear sizes 3 and 6. Mrs. Creamer wears a size 16 dress and size 7 shoe. Creamer wears 34-31 pants, 15 1/2 shirt and size 10 shoes.

Donations of money are also appreciated, said Bergman, who added that over $200 has been collected. ST&H and Fritz Neitzel's photographic studio have been designated collection points, although Bergman said persons can call him and he will arrange pickup.

The response of persons willing to aid has been wonderful, said Bergman. Many persons have called to find out what the family needs, which is largely household goods and linens, said Bergman.

Many articles of clothing have been received already.

The family was reluctant to accept the donated items at first, Bergman said, but expressed gratitude for the help.

Funeral services for Larry Scott were held at 10 a.m. Monday in the Zinger Funeral Home, Uby, with burial in Elkland cemetery. The Rev. Bernard Skornia, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, Uby, officialled. Larry was born Aug. 17, 1968, in Highland Park.

He is survived by his parents; two brothers: John, 5, and Steven, 2, at home; his grandparents, Adolfo Garcia and Mrs. Jack Fielder, both of Madison Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. William Creamer, Uby; great-grandparents, Mrs. Clara Ducker, Lapeer, and Elias Garcia, Monroe, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Creamer, Lapeer.

Two fires were reported Wednesday evening, Oct. 18, within a mile of each other on Milligan Road, north and east of Cass City.

The Elkland township fire department answered the first call at 8:55 p.m. when a stove blew up in the garage of the Daniel Hennessey residence and caught the garage wall on fire.

According to Hennessey a bottle gas stove backfired and exploded. Apparently, a leak in the line had saturated the insulation.

About $250 worth of damage was done to wood paneling on the south wall of the building. The wiring was also destroyed and there was some water damage.

Shortly after this fire, a call was received from the Al Merchant farm on Milligan Road where a grain dryer filled with corn was destroyed by a 10:18 p.m. blaze.

The dryer as well as the corn bin that collapsed on it were completely destroyed, a loss estimated at $15-$20,000. Cause of the fire is not known for sure, but it appears the grain dryer exploded.

Hayes faces surgery following cycle crash

Kenneth J. Hayes, 22, Pine St., Cass City, was scheduled to undergo surgery at St. Luke's Hospital, Saginaw, Thursday, for a fractured left femur which he suffered in a Sunday motorcycle accident. He was listed in good condition Tuesday.

Hayes was taken directly to the Saginaw hospital after the motorcycle he was riding leaped off a 10-foot embankment on private property in LaMotte township, Sanilac county, about 11 a.m.

Sanilac sheriff's deputies said they were notified later in the afternoon Sunday and had not questioned Hayes yet Tuesday.

Hayes was participating in the Ninth Annual Huckleberry Enduro, an 85 mile cross-country motorcycle race when he was hurt.

Keith Joseph Goslin, 40, 3351 Bay City-Forestville Road, Saginaw, received minor injuries Thursday, Oct. 19, when his car collided with one driven by Carl Wildner Moyer, 62, Wildner Road, Unionville.

The accident occurred at 5:30 p.m. at the intersection of Colwood and Elmwood Roads. Goslin was south bound and Moyer west bound when Moyer ran a stop sign, according to Tuscola county sheriff's reports. Moyer was taken to Caro Community Hospital and transferred to St. Luke's in Saginaw with injuries he received in the accident.

Two drivers escaped injury when they hit deer in separate accidents.

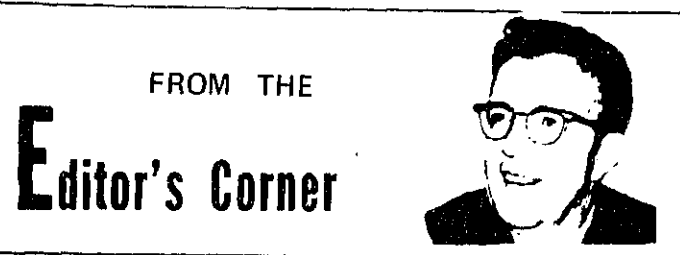

Lloyd Clarence Hickie, 53, E. Bevens Road, Deford, was west bound on E. Bevens Road when he struck a doe deer at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Kim Grant Hopper, 19, 5795 Bruce St., Deford, was south bound on Cemetery Road when he struck a deer at 9:45 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 19.

Cass City police investigated a minor accident Oct. 19 when a car operated by Harriet May Richards, 6577 Seed St., Cass City, was struck in the rear fender by a vehicle driven by Clara Christine Eastman, 5445 Schwegler Road, Cass City. The Eastman vehicle was pulling out of the Bay Station on Leach Street and the Richards car was east bound on Church Street when the mishap occurred at 4:50 p.m. Neither driver was injured.

GARRY HOFFMAN, vice-president and general manager of Automotive Industries, Inc., displays one of the numerous styles of sun visor the Owendale firm manufactures.

I don't cry at funerals. Maybe I should say that the tears don't flow. Because I cry, all right. Inside. Privately. Grief to me is personal. Not shared, not exhibited. It probably would be better if I were different. More emotional.

Crying is a release, a purging of the emotions. Better to let it all hang out than to keep it bottled inside.

It's strange that I'm the way I am about events that touch me deeply. In everyday events I'm one of those quick on the trigger guys. Quick to anger and quick to forget.

The brief explosion and then the calm that follows the storm. What I'm saying is that I'm the same and yet different from anyone else.

Sure, we all are. The trouble is that most of us have difficulty remembering it. Making allowances for it. Inevitably we set our judgement standards using our reactions as the yardstick. Because I react the way I do instinctively I feel that public emotional outbursts are not really basic demonstrations of deep feeling at all.

Intellectually I know it's not o and that only a small minority react as I do. . . that if I'm not careful I'll be tending to take a snap, erroneous, surface judgement. The worst kind.

How many times have you said to yourself that someone you don't really know is a jerk. . . unfriendly. . . stuck up. . . a sourpuss? Only to find when you "get to know him that here's not such a bad guy after all?"

Isn't what you've really done to judge by what's on the surface?

The truth is that some guys who don't come across at all when you first meet really turn out to be persons of character, persons with whom you really relate, persons you want to be with.

And when you get to know them, how many do you really know that don't have something going for them? How many do you really dislike?

Will Rogers probably exaggerated with his classic line, "I never met a man I didn't like".

For in this imperfect world it would be too much to expect that we'll like or be liked by everyone.

But it should be possible to put on the back burner any negative judgements based on flash appraisals.

We should all remember that you can't tell about people just because they cry or don't cry at funerals.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Addicted to baseball

BY JIM FITZGERALD

I thought there might be some therapeutic value to reading Leonard Shecter's book, "The Jocks", during the final week of the baseball season. Sort of like reading a diet book while eating a large-size Hershey bar with almonds.

Shecter is best known as the editor of Jim Bouton's "Ball Four", the best-seller that delighted the reading public while angering the baseball world. Bouton is a former big league pitcher and he told locker room secrets. Shecter is a former sports writer and in "The Jocks" he continues in the Bouton vein — revealing many baseball "heroes" to be dumb, greedy, conceited jerks with nothing to recommend them except their muscles. (Egad, he even put down Joe DiMaggio whom I always thought God made on the 8th day.)

I really don't need Shecter and Bouton to remind me how silly it is that this country makes idols and millionaires out of center fielders (or quarterbacks; pick any sport). I'm a fairly rational human being, most of the time. I know it isn't really important who wins the World Series. Ending the war in Vietnam, or curbing unemployment, or erasing racism, or feeding the hungry — those things are important. But who cares if the Detroit Tigers are champs?

I do, doctor, I do.

I can't help it. I'm addicted, as hopelessly and stupidly as the man who knows cigarettes will kill him but still puffs up 3 packs a day.

I know baseball is a slow game, often dull, straight-jacketed by stuffy traditions. But there are those moments of suspense, high excitement, sweet anguish . . . and those moments somehow make it all worthwhile.

It began when I was about 10 and my father took me to old Navin Field to see Hank Greenberg, Charlie Gehringer, Goose Goslin and the rest. I've never forgotten my first look at that green, green grass and the great crack of the bat hitting the ball.

In 1945 I probably became the first soldier to ever re-enlist for a year simply to earn a 30-day furlough that took me out of Germany and put me near Detroit at World Series time. We beat the Cubs in 7 games.

Now I take my son to the ballgames. We were there for that wild showdown against Boston. I stood outside the stadium and begged loudly for someone to sell me 2 tickets (and, as my wife later observed, I am normally so shy I won't stop and ask for directions when lost in a strange town because "I don't know anybody here").

I finally found a scalper to sell me $2 worth of tickets for $20.

We then stood in line for an hour outside the bleacher gates. When we finally got inside there were no seats left and we had to sit in the aisle, on filthy cement, while fans climbed over us and dripped beer down our necks. But oh my. Al Kaline got the big hit, and he doffed his cap to the tremendous applause, and I yelled like an idiot. I jumped up and down and pounded strangers on the back. The Tigers won and it was the most beautiful night. I would have paid $200, stood in line a week, and sat on fire, just to be there.

Why would a grown man behave so foolishly, doctor?

I really don't know. It's probably got something to do with not living for bread alone, or all work and no play, and all those old bromides.

Maybe it's simply that a middle-aged guy can remember his father warmly, between innings, and after a great victory he can embrace his son and the people in the nearby seats don't think it's mushy. . . it's baseball.

The biggest problem teen-age children have assigned to them is that of bringing up father.

One sure way to give your car a lasting finish is to insist on passing on hills and curves.

OUR ARTIST IN RESIDENCE, Delores Slowinski has retired from the Artrain to live in Cass City where she is spending her time weaving.

Artrain weaver lives in Dillman school

By Kit McMillan

Cass City's new artist in residence is no stranger to those who attended Artrain last summer.

Delores Slowinski, assistant director until about a month ago, has recently established residence at the Dillman School House west of Cass city where she has set up her looms and will spend her time weaving.

A native of Detroit, Miss Slowinski has a double Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Wayne State University, with majors in both weaving and ceramics. Before coming to Cass City, she worked as assistant director of the Michigan Council for the Arts Artrain, which stopped in Cass City in July.

She said she resigned from the train after seven months because the constant moving was tiring. She also had no time to create, which is why she's back in Cass City where she can be alone to work.

Standing at one of her two looms and tossing a shuttle back and forth, she explained that she prefers to "let the colors do their own thing," instead of following a specific pattern, which any computer can make, she countered.

The pillow cases she is now weaving will be sold at an artists sale at the Saginaw Art Museum during the months of November and December.

The weaving process is a slow one, with an average completion of 28 inches per hour.

Living alone in the old one-room school doesn't bother the artist at all. "People think I'll get lonesome," she said, "But I just love it."

After having 200 persons walk by her everyday, she said, "I'm quite satisfied having the mice in the ceiling to listen to."

Once she gets involved in her work, Miss Slowinski said she forgets eating or keeping house. "Artists are people who need time to create," she stated as she worked.

Learning the art of weaving takes a logical mind and patience, she said. She has the logical mind and was enrolled in chemistry at the University of Detroit until she decided the art work she did for school newspapers and working in the theatre was more rewarding.

The patience came later. She said she will stay in Cass City to work until her money runs out or she wants to move on.

Order seedlings for spring plant

The Tuscola Soil Conservation District is taking orders for tree seedlings that will be available for planting in the spring of 1973, according to Director Maynard McConkey. White pine, red pine, scotch pine, Austrian pine, white spruce, Norway spruce and Colorado blue spruce are the species that you may order. A shrub, Autumn Olive, is also available.

These trees may be used for windbreaks, reforestation, Christmas trees, wildlife cover, erosion control and to beautify our surroundings.

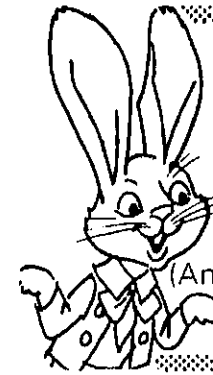

Place your order at the Tuscola Soil Conservation District Office, 852 S. Hooper St., Caro, Michigan. District Conservationist Cyril M. Jacot and Conservation Technician Alvin Smith will be able to give technical assistance as to which species are best suited for your soils and the amount of trees you will need.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

There's a barrel of things that Horace Bulen can't do because of his accident injury. Among them are walk or move around by himself. That's why I had such a good feeling the other day when Ken Copeland told me that Horace was granted a driver's license after passing the standard test given by the sheriff's department.

It's a tribute to Bulen's fighting spirit that he was able to take his especially rigged car and learn to drive without the use of his legs and do it well enough to meet the driving test.

It just can't be. Among the many receiving silver clover awards for five years' service as 4-H leaders in Sanilac county were Dale Leslie and Leslie Severance.

It was just yesterday that I took pictures of both as youthful 4-H winners at local and state fairs.

Contrarily I take it as a matter of course that Mrs. Clair Auslander was given a 20-year award at the same banquet. That must be because Mrs. Auslander has been a leader nearly as long as I have been at the Chronicle and I associate her with 4-H and leadership subconsciously.

There are nine candidates for Justice of the Supreme Court on the non-partisan ballot in the Nov. 7 election. Voters will elect two of the nine.

It's the suspicion here that most folks won't really know any except a couple who have earned fame (infamy) in State politics.

One of the nine is William A. Ortman. He's the son of Frank Ortman, a Cass City booster for many years and a major donor to Hills and Dales Hospital.

William Ortman was in town the other day while on the campaign trail. Most candidates can give impressive credentials, so can Ortman.

What will get him a vote here is that he doesn't appear to be tied to either the Republican or Democratic party.

We've had enough court decisions already where justices voted following the position adopted by one party or the other.

A silver lining in the dark cloud of misfortune for the Ray Periso family must have been the reaction of all the folks who rallied to their aid after their home and all their belongings burned recently. This week the Perisos had received so much clothing and other items that they had more than they could use.

The help won't go to waste. Mrs. Periso plans to take the surplus to the Creamer family which also suffered a fire tragedy.

Rotary travel series returns Thursday

The shows slated include: Hal Penninger's "Polynesian Paradise", Thursday, Nov. 30; John Strong's "The New Arizona", January 18; Don Cooper's "Lumberjack's Alaskan Adventure", Feb. 15; Howard Pollard's "Quebec-La Belle Province", March 8, and Julian Gromer's "Wheels Across Europe", April 5.

All the lecturers are professionals and most of them have presented programs here in previous years.

PROUDLY FUTURE

AROUND THE FARM
Over-population
threatens earth

by William Bortel

What is the most serious pollution threat facing the world? "People-lution." I will try to illustrate the world's exploding population with the following facts. During Christ: 250 million people on earth. . . Fifteen centuries later (year 1600): 500 million people. . . Three centuries later (year 1900): 1.5 billion people. . . Two-thirds century later (year 1970): 3.5 billion people. . . One-third century later (year 2000): 7.0 billion people (reliable estimates).

Point 1: It took 1,850 years to reach 1st billion. . . 80 years to reach 2nd billion. . . 31 years to reach 3rd billion. Now the 4th billion is due in 1975. . . the 7th billion in 2,000. Then doubling time may be about 23 years.

Point 2: The population of the earth could conceivably increase as much in 30 years as it did in the past 30,000 years.

Point 3: If the present rate continues for just 100 years, the earth will contain 50 billion humans - 1,000 people per square mile or more dense than New Jersey - over every inch of land, including all mountains, deserts, and both polar ice caps.

What is the maximum number of people this old planet can take? No one knows. We are told India is "one of the areas where over-population prevents people from enjoying the good life." But we are not told the population density of India is 200 fewer people per square mile than West Germany. . . 478 fewer people per square mile as Holland and. . . 578 fewer people per square mile than New Jersey. Adequate food may be the answer.

Can the whole world be made as productive as the United States? The American people have certainly tried - since General Marshall offered his plan in 1947. They have made available billion of dollars (in cash and talent) to the world's developing nation. . . trying to help people help themselves.

Could modern agriculture continue to produce adequate amounts of safe and wholesome food without chemicals and antibiotics? No! However, we could go back to organic agriculture in this country if we must. We once farmed that way 75 years ago. We know how to do it. But before we move in that direction, someone must decide which 50 million of our people will starve. We simply cannot feed, even at subsistence levels, our 205 million Americans without a large production input of chemicals and antibiotics.

Character and sincerity are the mainstays of any man's life.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers got me to thinking when they was talking recent at the country store about calling things by their right names. Right after that, I saw this piece in the paper where younguns couldn't think of nothing better to do than throw rocks through $800 worth of winders in stores. The children that done it was called juvenile delinquents.

Have you noticed, Mister Editor, when kids that git in trouble with the law come from well-to-do homes, they are called problem children? When their folks are pore, they're called juvenile delinquents. It ain't no wonder these younguns come up with strange words for that they want to say.

This feller stopped by the country store one night last week and was talking about his teenage grandson that claims to be in a "shook up" condition most of the time. He said he talked to the boy, and all he could git out of him was that teenagers usual git shook up after such "delightful disasters" as them Olympic games in Germany. The best he could figger, the boy was caught between the good and the bad that went on over there. I can see how anybody could git shook up over that.

Actual, the regular run of news items is enuff to keep a feller shook. I saw where this New York columnist said the military services pays more on storage on out-of-date equipment than the stuff was worth to start with. Fer instant, the Army pays $200,000 a year to keep rope in a warehouse, and the rope has been stored so long it ain't fit to use. I figger if you look agin, you'll find more red tape than rope in that warehouse.

Another kind of talk that I git tired of, Mister Editor, is the line about "local boy makes good." You hear where some country feller went off to the city and prospered. I alius figger it's harder fer a man to make good where everybody know him and is watching him. Usual at home a feller has one or two strikes on him cause everybody knows his grandpa was a horse thief and they remember he was caught slipping washers in the collection plate.

Saturday night at the country store, the fellers was talking about the old days, and Ed Doolittle recollected how men and wimmen carried their change in them snap-open pocketbooks. The wimmen kept theirs fastened to one of their petticoats. Ed said, but even his old lady never would tell him where exactly. Anyway, Ed said, you don't see them change purses any more, but he told the fellers that he never could recall seeing anybody carrying their change that way go on relief.

Mister Editor, I see where Connecticut is giving out-of-state folks on welfare one-way tickets home. Snap-open pocketbooks would be cheaper.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

$527 looted from Gulf service station

The theft of $527 from a safe in the Cass City Gulf service station was discovered Thursday morning, Oct. 19, following a break-in sometime during the night before.

Officer Don Miller discovered the forced entry into the station while making a regular check of doors. Glass in a westside door was broken and entry made by reaching in and unlocking the door.

A check of the building at that time showed nothing disturbed, but when the station was opened in the morning, the money was found missing.

The theft is believed to have occurred sometime between 9 p.m. Wednesday night and 3:40 a.m. Thursday morning when the broken window was discovered.

Police are still investigating the burglary.

The larceny of gasoline from a car parked in the General Cable Parking lot is also under investigation. Police received a call Monday night at 10:30 p.m. reporting two persons were siphoning gasoline out of a car. When they arrived, the suspects had left.

Arlan Hartwick, 6675 Seed St., Cass City, reported the theft of two hubcaps valued at $40 from his car when it was parked in the village lot at Leach and Church Streets. The hubcaps were discovered missing Wednesday night, Oct. 18.

LeRoy Minnick, Flint, was sentenced to 24 months' probation for impaired driving. He was also made to pay $400 in fine and costs.

A writ of nolle prosequi was filed for Gregory Wartell, Davison, who appeared for a delayed sentencing. He had pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering one year ago, but sentencing was delayed.

FROM THE LITTER BOX

Halloween

By Kit McMillion

Next Tuesday night is the traditional time for youngsters to fulfill their fantasies by dressing up in a costume and begging for candy around the neighborhood.

I remember when the most disastrous thing that could happen to a kid on Halloween was having the bottom break out of the bag, scattering the candy treasures all over the countryside.

In recent years, the fun seems to be taken out of Halloween because of some of the tragedies forced upon unsuspecting children by sick minds who think razor blades in apples or other heinous tricks are funny.

It makes me think that perhaps the stories, myths or legends about the origin of this once pagan holiday that has been bastardized into another time for fun aren't all legend.

The last day of October was celebrated as the end of summer by an ancient group of Britons known as the Druids, and as the eve before the beginning of the new year. Demons and other spiritual beings were supposed to run rampant on that night, which meant the crops and animals as well as the people needed protection.

To placate these supernatural powers, rites were held including huge fires and masquerades.

Besides trying to cope with ghosts, spirits, fairies, witches and elves believed to harm people, the Druids also had to contend with someone from their own group who was calling on the devil for help.

The symbols we commonly associate with Halloween have their source in these Druid ceremonies, although others come from Ireland, where a more frivolous attitude towards the night was held.

Cats are always given more credit for intelligence and blamed for supernatural things than they merit, and the Druids were no exception. They believed that the cat was sacred. They also believed that cats were once human beings and had been changed into that form as punishment for evil deeds.

Besides cats, other animals were supposed to house human spirits, and on the night of Halloween the Druids believed the lord of death gathered together all the souls of the dead who had been condemned to enter the body of animals and decided what form they should take for the next year.

In Ireland, after the time of the Druids, Halloween became a time for mischievous practical jokes and much superstition, and we can blame early Irish immigrants to this country for handing down the holiday.

The traditional pumpkin carving that is an essential part of Halloween for every child is supposed to have its origin in Ireland, where a stinging man named Jack was barred from heaven because of his stinginess and forbidden to enter hell because of his practical jokes on the devil. So stinging Jack was condemned to walk the earth with his lantern until Judgment Day. Hence Jack-o'-lantern.

Here we use pumpkins, but in Scotland turnips are used.

The Irish customs, especially, involve numerous things a person is supposed to do to bring luck or foresee a future spouse.

One traditional Halloween party game everybody plays at least once in his life is the bobbing for apples routine. In Ireland, if an apple is successfully extracted from a bucket of water, a person is supposed to have a lucky year.

My experience with apple bobbing has been that I was lucky if I didn't get my head held in the water by some smart aleck who has a tendency towards murder by drowning.

I guess the modern observer of Halloween is little better off than the ancients who feared the ghosts and witches instead of their friends or neighbors. Meow.

4-H ACTIVITIES TV Series explains nuclear energy

By Bernard Jardot

"Ion," animated star of a unique new 4-H TV series, "Living in a Nuclear Age," makes learning fun as he brings the atom to life, unravels the mysteries of fission and fusion, and points up the tremendous peacetime potential of nuclear energy along with the simple measures one can take to protect himself from radiation hazards.

The series of six half-hour shows will be seen on Channel 19, WUCM, starting Friday, Nov. 3, 9:30 a.m.

All of the programs combine animation with on-location sequences, backed up with a score of original music that ranges from western to rock to ultra-modern electronic. The music is performed by such top Hollywood musicians as Herbie Mann, Ray Brown and Barney Kessel.

Mel Blanc, who provides voices for the four main animated characters, is best known as the "What's up, Doc?" voice of Bugs Bunny. He also has been the voice behind many other movie and TV cartoon favorites.

The 4-H nuclear age series was developed especially for seventh and eighth graders, but its appeal is expected to reach older and younger youth as well.

Viewers who enroll in the series will receive a packet of helpful supplemental information, including experiments and projects that can be done at home or in school. Enrollment forms and materials for participants may be obtained by contacting the 4-H office, Caro.

The surest way to get more of what you want is to want less.

Be fair with yourself and you will admit you're often wrong.

Think young — cultivate an interest in everything about you.

Persecution of witches

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Many of us know that in the Bible it says, "Thou shalt not permit a witch to live." And this caused the cruel death of thousands of poor innocent women during the next several thousand years, particularly in Europe.

Several years ago, that great medical historian, Dr. Ilza Veith, wrote a splendid book on hysteria, in which she told much about the history of the persecution of supposed witches.

In 1484, Pope Innocent the VIII issued a Bull which gave rise to the then almost universally believed idea that women witches often sucked the breasts of the devil, sailed through the air on a broom stick, and greatly injured many people, and committed many horrible crimes. These unhappy women were supposed to torment other people; they made men impotent and they kept women from conceiving and having children. To apprehend these poor souls, the Pope commissioned a certain Heinrich Kimer and James Springer, monks of the Dominican Order and professors of theology, to act as merciless inquisitors representing the church.

These men wrote a book about witches, called the "Malleus Malefactorum," meaning "witch's hammer," and for the next several centuries served as a textbook for the many men who persecuted and tortured and killed thousands of unhappy women and some men.

As Dr. Veith tells us, the impact of this book was frightful; it soon became an international bestseller throughout Europe, and 30 editions appeared during the next 200 years.

According to another expert, Dr. Mackay, in Germany alone the number of executions for the so-called crime of witchcraft was 600 a year, or two every week-day.

A study of the "fantastic document," the Malleus, shows that probably most of the supposed witches, as well as a great number of their supposed victims, were simply hysterical persons who suffered from a patch of anesthesia (lack of feeling in the skin), or some inability to talk, some blindness, some convulsions, and above all, from a variety of sexual delusions.

The Malleus is divided into three parts; the first giving a definition of witchcraft, with notes on the devil, the witches, and the permission of Almighty God. Here, the inquisitors tried to prove that belief in witches is an essential part of the Catholic faith, and that any denial of the existence of witches is heresy. According to St. Augustine, the abomination of witchcraft arose from "the foul connection of mankind with the devil." The women were supposed to enjoy having sex with the devil.

The second part of the book deals with the way in which the witches were supposed to work, and the ways of thwarting them.

The third part describes the proceedings of the ecclesiastic and civil courts, against witches. The authors give detailed instructions to be followed during an inquisition; they tell how to humiliate the victims, as by stripping them naked, cutting off all of their hair, and applying various types of torture.

In England, witchcraft was made a statutory crime in 1541. In 1562, a law was passed, sanctioned by Queen Elizabeth, recognizing witchcraft as a crime of the greatest magnitude. It was only around 1718 that the tide began to turn against the idea of witches, when a certain Reverend Francis Hutchinson begged people not to believe what was said against them.

As most of us know, in Salem, Mass. in 1692, there was an outbreak of witch mania, and a number of women were executed. In Germany, the last witch trial was in 1849, when a number of hysterical nuns suddenly thought that they were bewitched. The last "witch" was executed in Scotland around 1868. Thank goodness, at

Rural churches build community

MRS. ANN ROSS - EXTENSION AGENT

Sociologists talk about the decline of certain institutions in rural life today. Some rural churches have closed or consolidated. You see them as you travel through the country side. But in looking around the Thumb area, we find many rural churches that are "alive and healthy".

Richville has a very large new rural church in a very small town. Members regularly travel for quite a few miles to this particular church.

One rural Huron county church held a reunion this summer and the place was packed. One rural Sanilac church has organized a senior citizens club which meets there regularly.

Resort area churches are developing special summer programs for tourists and finding new vitality in this way.

One beautiful rural church in Huron county holds a bean festival each year. Many of the farmer members grow beans. They include a queen contest, an art contest and a cooking contest as well as a public meal at their festival.

These institutions are "building community" around not only their religious beliefs but also around the social interests and needs of the people.

A few rural churches may fade away, but many are increasingly significant institutions today.

Film slated at Ellington church

"To Russia With Love," a full color film depicting the smuggling of Bibles across communist borders, will be shown at the Ellington Church of The Nazarene, Wednesday, Nov. 1. The service begins at 8 p.m. and the public is invited.

The church is located at the corner of M-81 and Dutcher Rd.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

The snow came earlier this year than it did in 1966. A fairly heavy blanket covered the Thumb but was quickly dissipated.

The winners of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce sponsored window painting contest were determined and Lynn Atwell was awarded the first prize for her work on the windows of Cass City Floral. She received $15 for a caricature of the Peanut's gang and the "Great Pumpkin."

A player who spent his first two varsity years establishing himself as Central Michigan's University's greatest pass receiver in the school's history, is spending his senior year as a runner and blocker. Wally Hempton is a two-year letter winner who prepped at Cass City High School.

Richard Erla was presented a plaque at a Michigan Products of the Year awards banquet held at Marlette. Erla was the regional product awards chairman and was recognized for his outstanding job with the presentation of the plaque by Lt. Gov. William Milliken.

Tuscola County Sheriff Hugh Marr announced that a new deputy, Bruce Tait, 42, of Caro has joined the department.

TEN YEARS AGO

Announcement was made this week of the lease of the ST&H Oil Co. to Grant Hutchinson of Cass City, by Audley Kinnaird who has run the station for many years.

Suzanne Starbarn of Cass City is a member of the Homecoming queen's court that will reign over Alma College's "Frontier of the Future" celebration.

For the first time in over eight years, a Cass City High School student has received recognition for a high score on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Slated to receive a Letter of Commendation for her high score on the test is Mary Lou Jones, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Jones, Decker.

You probably haven't looked at them for quite a while. And possibly, as you moved from town to town (or agent to agent) you may have bought policies that duplicated some protection you already had. It's worth checking into. After all, why pay for anything twice? Give us a call.

One of the uglier byproducts of the automotive age has been the abandonment along rural roads of junk cars whose owners find it cheaper to just ditch them than to try to repair them any more.

The problem has been especially critical in northern Michigan where thousands of junk cars threaten the beauty of prime scenic resort and recreation areas. Now the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, an economically oriented agency consisting of representatives of northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and operating with federal funds, thinks it may have a solution to the problem.

The commission allocated almost $50,000 this year to begin a program whose object is to rid the roadsides of these rusting, abandoned hulks.

Object of the demonstration project is both to remove all abandoned junkers in a county by county operation and to establish safeguards so cleaned up areas stay clean in the future.

To operate such an ambitious project on such a small budget, the commission is using specially trained teams of prison trustees for the labor force and is using surplus government heavy duty equipment. The use of trustees from the state's prison system has a side benefit in that the trustees learn how to handle heavy equipment, a job skill which can be valuable upon their release.

And in addition to removing eyesores from the roads, the project also has health by-products. Old hulks lying rotting provide excellent homes for rats and other vermin and the gasoline and oil in the cars help pollute nearby waters. This makes it rougher on rodents, but pleasanter for people.

Crews which began work earlier this year already have finished in the first area they went into: Benzie county. In that one county one seven man team of volunteer prison trustees collected 389 junk cars and other large pieces of metal litter.

The crews are now working in Emmet and Cheboygan counties and plan to continue working in those counties until the first snowfall of the year. By that time they hope to have collected a total of 5,000 pieces of junk from the roadsides for the year.

The collection process itself also involves college students and volunteers who help local authorities spot junk cars and obtain the necessary releases. The junk cars are then taken to collection sites by the prisoners. The radiators, motors and gas tanks are cut out and the remainder of the hulk put into a portable crusher and transported to scrap yards.

The project also has a full-time director, Daniel R. Hinkley of Big Rapids, who was a Mecosta county health officer for six years. Hinkley managed a junk car removal program in his home county last year which removed some 4,000 cars from the roadsides.

The commission hopes to expand the program in Michigan next year and at the same time extend it into Wisconsin. Minnesota already is pursuing a removal program financed by a $1 per car tax on license transfers which is expected to bring in $800,000 a year to fund the program.

Despite its good start, the program is really just a small dent in the problem thus far. Michigan Department of Health officials recently estimated Michigan has 775,000 abandoned cars in its northern area alone.

The problem is a nationwide one, since federal officials say about 21,500 cars are retired from the road one way or another every day in the country. And cars aren't the only thing abandoned. Old appliances such as refrigerators and stoves can be found dumped along roadsides, too.

Every now and then someone gets rid of something of value, too. The crews already have found three cars—an old Packard, a De Soto and a foreign

If You Lived Here...

... how would that affect the state of the nation, and the course of history?

We should thank God for the responsibilities we DON'T HAVE, and then seek His strength in fulfilling those we have. It may be the by-product of democracy, but we often become too engrossed in the responsibilities of others—not enough in our own!

If I have a home and a family, it is part of a community, and my community part of a nation, and my nation part of a world. Then, for my abilities, my task may be as great as that of the President of the United States.

It was a president who said he had been driven to his knees many times by the knowledge that his strength was insufficient for the day.

We all have days like that—most of the time!

Commissioners adopt $1,718,021 county budget for 1973, a 22% increase

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners tentatively approved a $1,718,021 budget for 1973 Tuesday at their regular meeting in Caro.

The budget is about 22 per cent greater than last year's of $1,325,660, or up $392,360.

While negotiations are still going on between the personnel committee of the board and representatives of sheriff's deputies and court house employees, the budget does include pay increases for elected officials.

Each elected official was given an increase of $550 for two years starting Jan. 1 plus coverage under the Blue Cross program, which is new for elected officials.

In addition, the office of sheriff was given $300 more. District 2 Commissioner Ed Golding Sr. said, because "his job is a 24 hour a day job, seven days a week." The sheriff had requested $450 extra. Golding said.

New salaries for elected officials are: clerk, treasurer, register of deeds and drain commissioner, $10,000; prosecuting attorney, $17,875; judge of probate, $21,550, and sheriff, $11,875.

The commissioners also voted themselves an increase of $1400 for the next four years to bring their salary to $5,400, plus their regular per day fee of $30 a day and $20 a half day. Golding, who is not seeking re-election, said the commissioners felt the increase was justified due to the added work performed by the board over the last four years.

Total requests received by departments this year totaled $1,796,213, but were trimmed back by the finance committee to the $1,718,000 figure.

Golding said the largest single part of the budget is for the sheriff's department, which was allocated $254,310 for 1973, up from $239,974 the previous year. One of the reasons for added cost was the amount of gas the new sheriff's cars use, said Golding.

General increases in all departments are reflected in the budget this year, Golding said.

One special program that will be undertaken during 1973 is the microfilming of all documents in the register of deeds office because storage space is disappearing. Commissioners budgeted $12,000 for this.

A sum of $8000 was also included for a county medical examiner, which will take the place of the two now-elected coroners, Golding said. Coroners received $2000 each last year. How much of that $8000 will be spent is not known, Golding said.

According to the financial reports, Golding said the county has $213,000 cash on hand, which has been budgeted into the 1973 budget to meet those expenses.

The 1973 budget also includes the 1 mill allocated for bridges--$193,480--and $5000 for the veteran's trust fund, both earmarked funds outside of the board's control. Golding said they were included this year for the first time on advice of the auditors.

A hearing on the budget will be held at 10 a.m. Nov. 9 prior to official acceptance of the budget by the county. Copies are available at the county clerk's office for review.

In other business, Mrs. Esther McCullough, Cass City, was re-elected to the county library board; Arlan Hartwick, Cass City, was re-elected to the county welfare board, and Milton Hofmeister, Elmwood township, was re-appointed to the county planning commission.

The commission raised the salary for members of the welfare board from $1000 to $1500. Salaries of the three members of the road commission were also raised from $1800 to $2100 per year.

In other action, the board entered into an agreement with county employees to have the firm of Yarger and Associates, Inc., make a study of the position classifications and recommended salaries of county workers in comparison with other privately employed workers in the county.

The $7000 study is expected to be completed by the first of the year.

Abortion, school financing issues face voters

Taxes and abortions are two of the most controversial subjects state governments in most parts of the country have dealt with in recent years. What to do about spiraling property taxes have vexed many people; and whether to permit abortions has been argued heatedly by even more.

Michigan voters have a unique opportunity Nov. 7 to help set the national tone for the discussion of both issues, in coming years. The voters will decide on proposals which deal with both questions.

The manner in which the proposals were placed before voters says something about how the legislature is handling modern problems. Both had to be petitioned onto the ballot after political wrangling made legislative action impossible.

*****

More emotional of the two, by far, is the abortion proposal. It is being bitterly opposed by several groups spearheaded by the Roman Catholic Church, which opposes all abortion as a matter of religious principle.

The ballot proposed would allow any woman to have an abortion if she wanted it during the first 20 weeks of pregnancy.

Backers say that whether one favors the idea of abortion personally, it is immoral for the state to enforce the viewpoint of one group -- the anti-abortion faction -- on the whole state. They point out the fact that thousands of illegal abortions are performed in Michigan every year, sometimes in wretched conditions, and that many women die or are permanently injured because they have been forced to see an illegal abortionist.

The ballot proposal, they say, merely makes available to the poorer segment of the population a medical treatment the more wealthy can go elsewhere for already.

Opponents claim abortion is murder and that the removal of a fetus is the killing of a human being. They say approval of the proposal would be the legalizing of murder.

Polls indicate a sizeable majority of Michigan residents favor the liberalization proposal and will adopt it, but no one will know for sure until election day.

Since present abortion laws have been called unconstitutional by Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman, the legality issue may have already been established. But voter reaction at the next election will express the feeling of those who go to the ballot box.

Property tax changes were petitioned onto the ballot by Gov. William G. Milliken and the Michigan Education Association. It would remove the use of local property taxes for the financing of school costs.

The governor proposed that the drop in property tax money be made up from an increase in the state income tax and levying of a value added tax on businesses. But that is something the legislature will decide if the proposal passes.

*****

One sure thing is that people around the country will be watching Michigan on both issues. In both cases the vote will be the largest test yet of public sentiment on the issue involved.

And Michigan, with its cross section of interests which closely mirrors the nation, is seen as a reliable barometer of feeling on both subjects.

HOW HIGH IS TAX?

With controversy now brewing about Michigan's gasoline tax and whether a tiny fraction of it should be used to help fund mass transit programs, it seems a good time to compare the state's present gas tax with other states.

Gov. William G. Milliken proposes that the tax be raised from 7 cents to 9 cents. Of the increased money, he would allocate 1.5 cents to accelerated highway construction plans and one half cent to mass transit. The current 7 cents would still go entirely for highways.

If Michigan raises its tax to 9 cents, it still won't have the highest gas tax in the country. That distinction belongs to Connecticut, which charges 10 cents for every gallon of gasoline sold in the state.

Eight states already charge 9 cents per gallon gas tax. They represent a broad section of the country, too, including New Hampshire, Washington, Maryland and Kentucky.

*****

Mississippi raised its rate to 9 cents effective next July 1. Kentucky, Maryland and Virginia raised theirs to 9 cents this year.

Twelve states have their tax at 8 cents right now and three others pay 8.5 cents.

Hawaii is all alone at the lowest tax rate of 5 cents and is only one of seven states which haven't raised the gas tax since 1961.

It may not help your pocket-book much to know it, but Michigan certainly isn't alone in its need for more tax money.

Armistice Day

meaningful to

Arthur Little

Monday, Oct. 23, may have been Veterans' Day on the calendar but to Cass City's and Tuscola county's oldest veteran, Arthur Little, 86, it was just that - Oct. 23. However Mr. Little's recollections of that first Armistice Day (later changed to Veterans' Day) are vivid. Serving with Battery B of the 329th Field Artillery, Mr. Little was the gunner on No. 2 gun on the firing line at Thiaucourt, France.

Before the silencing of the guns at about 10:45 a.m. rumors of a coming armistice had been rife for eight or ten days. The actual end of the fighting was announced at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918. The designation of Armistice Day was intended to honor all veterans, living or dead, Mr. Little points out.

The men of Batt. B immediately had hopes of being home for Christmas but were not discharged until the following April.

Report burglary at Gagetown

The theft of $30 from the Mobil Gas Station in Gagetown was reported to the Tuscola county sheriff's office.

Entry was gained by pulling a piece of glass from the window frame and prying it open with a screw driver. The money was taken from the till and a pop cooler, and is believed to have occurred sometime between 10 p.m. Monday and 7 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 17.

Harold Trisch, Dutcher Road, Cass City, reported to sheriff's deputies that 10 head of Holstein cattle belonging to him were shot with birdshot from a shotgun. He said he didn't know when it happened. The sheriff's office is still investigating.

BINDING IS just one of many operations on the assembly line to complete about 18,000 sunvisors a day.

THESE SLICES of urethane foam will become padding for automobile sunvisors, the major product of the company.

Owendale plant starts addition

ing's use by a trucking firm years ago. The wood shed was a holding pen for cattle.

The original building was built in 1926 and used as a store and later a band room for the school before the trucking firm had it.

Hoffman said when he came to the plant in 1970, only 75 persons worked there. With the increase in business in the last several years, the plant has outgrown its quarters.

"The orders are here, the materials are here, the people are here, but the building isn't," explained Hoffman, who added that the new steel-beam structure was expected to be completed by December.

This will be the second major construction at the plant site. A brick addition was built in the 1950's and houses the assembly lines for the visors, die-cutting machines and urethane foam moulding facilities. And several warehouses were built in the last three years.

The industry's raw materials, however, are still without a proper storage space. Currently a huge 30 x 90 foot circus tent is covering the materials next to the main plant.

The industry has seen ups and downs, but "as the auto industries go, so do we," stated Hoffman. Right now the plant is rolling.

Thirty-five persons were hired in the past month to accommodate the future expansion, and while there are many new employees, there are still a few who started working there in 1946. Hoffman said they also have a few third generation employees, where grandmother, mother and daughters all work at the same plant.

Visors for 1973 models were shipped out as early as August, and already quotes are being made for 1974. The factory is working full steam 6 days a week, three shifts.

Together with the sister company in Toronto, Automotive Industries is one of four businesses involved in the production of sun visors.

"Between our sister company in Toronto and us, we do have a major chunk of the sun visor business," Hoffman related.

Approximately 70 per cent of their volume goes to their leading purchaser, Ford Motor Company. Other buyers are Chrysler, Chevrolet, Dodge, White, Diamond Rio and a California-based motor home firm.

Besides the 20 different shapes of sun visor, the company uses 40 colors of three different types of materials, mostly vinyl, to make three basic styles of visor. The most sophisticated product has a mirror attached to the visor.

A new innovation for 1974 is a flocked material that looks like suede.

The plant also makes vinyl door panels for Chevrolet, said Hoffman, and "angels wings," which are the upper rear quarter panel for the interior of a car, for Chrysler.

In the past, the factory also turned out arm rests, roof rails, golf carts and rebuilt truck cabs into sleepers.

Another facet of the company that is unusual is the production of urethane foam, a material much like foam rubber used for cushioning.

Automotive Industries is the only producer of sun visors that makes its own urethane foam, and also ships 12 million square feet a year to their sister company in Toronto.

A CIRCUS TENT protects raw materials at Automotive Industries, Inc., in Owendale while the company awaits construction of a $40,000 addition.

Coffee hour set at school by Richards and Cleland

A coffee hour from 9-10 a.m. Friday will finish Education Week, Oct. 22-28, activities by encouraging school visitation by parents.

High School Principal Russell Richards and Counselor Jerry Cleland will be on hand during the session in Room 202 at the high school to discuss school activities.

Cleland will talk to parents about helping their child choose a college at that time and will give details about the college night scheduled for Nov. 7 in Caro.

Richards will answer parents' questions concerning curriculum and classes at the high school.

Open house will also be held at other schools to encourage parents to observe and discuss their children's work.

Campbell Elementary will have open house at 6:30-8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 26. Cass City Intermediate will have open house at 3:15-4 p.m. that day.

Evergreen and Deford Elementary Schools were to have open house Tuesday and Wednesday during school hours.

Many new classes have been offered this year. The new programs include the ecology class's project to beautify the Orr Woods portion of the Cass City Recreation Park; children's literature courses and world mythology taught by Miss Linda Isbister; a course on adults and the law taught by both Bob Logan and Vern Palmer. Another new course is lifetime sports, co-education gym class taught by Miss Brenda Breidinger.

Wayne Dillon reports that the Co-op work program has been working well so far. Of the 34 students participating, employers awarded 22 A's, 10 B's and 2 C's for the first marking period.

Letter to Editor

Little interest in county drug program

Mr. Haire:

October 19, was the County-wide Drug program at Caro. Approximately 125 attended out of about 50,000 residents of Tuscola county. I am appalled at the lack of interest shown by parents who have children attending school in the county which does include Cass City.

We have an ever increasing menace of alcohol and drugs in our community. As one local student remarked, "Drugs are as easy to buy as notebook paper."

In talking with other parents about drugs a most common remark is they are concerned but just uninformed. Then a program of awareness, months in preparing is presented and as to my knowledge only five attended from our area.

Some statistics reported were as follows:

District Judge Kern reports 40 per cent of all arrests in this county are due to misuse of alcohol. He believes this per cent to be much higher; 50 per cent of all fatal accidents on our county highways are due to alcohol. He also states 2,500 people in Tuscola county have acute alcohol problems and we should become involved to eliminate this significant danger.

Tuscola County Sheriff, Hugh Marr, remarks a drug program has been needed for some time in our county but was faced with lack of interest by citizens. Help-Line has helped tremendously in bringing the problem out in the open.

Helen Woloshen, Help-Line, Inc., gave us an in depth report of drug abuse. She contends all our communities are under threat because of drugs. One troubled caller had a $75.00 a day habit, and was having trouble supporting it. (Could this explain our recent and increasing thefts?)

Aileen Hubbard, R.N., very emphatic for public awareness, reported the overdoses as follows: Hills and Dales (Cass City) 11, Caro 1, Bad Axe 12, Sandusky 12.

Marijuana is not as widely used in our county as Mescaline and L.S.D., Hallucinogens. Recent tests reveal that the L.S.D. being sold has been laced with strychnine, making it very dangerous.

The second most calls coming in to Help-Line is problem pregnancies with the ages of girls 13 to 16 years of age.

There will be a Town Hall Series to educate us in drug abuse, dates of these will be announced soon. We need the cooperation of our local newspaper. There are many active church members in the community who should be very concerned with our drug and alcohol problem, also our local businessmen.

Joyce M. Lane

Second place went to Millington High School with Tim Dusute, Dallas Gladly and Gerald Woeltzlein the top scorers. Third place went to Cass City High School with Michael Stine, Gordon Wills and Wayne Cummings placing first, second and third.

The three high individual scorers were: Lori Krieger, Reese; Mark Venema, Reese, and Jim Dekett of Reese.

Elevators report

good quality

bean crop

A good yield of beans was reported by area elevators as the last of this year's crop is being brought in, a marked change from last year's very low yield.

Although the crop was late, the quality was good. Jim Turner of J. P. Burrough's, Gagetown, said the yield averaged to 20 bushels per acre, which is not spectacular but is far greater than the 10 or 11 bushel per acre recorded last year.

Bob Wischmeyer of Michigan Bean, Cass City, reported yields from 10-30 bushels per acre with about 98 per cent of the harvest completed.

The price this year started out at $9 per hundredweight and dropped Monday to $7.75 per hundredweight. Last year the price was $11.50.

Both elevators reported they are just beginning to take in corn. The yield is expected to be good this year, with an estimate of 100 bushels per acre by Turner. The beginning price is $1.08 per bushel.

Last big test for Cass City

Hawk season rides on outcome of Vassar invasion Friday

Coach Roland Pakonen may have problems preparing for the invasion of the Vassar Vulcans Friday but getting his team up for the game shouldn't be one of them.

After all, the entire season is riding on this game. Cass City's chances for the first Thumb B Conference title in more than 15 years and an undefeated season could well be determined by the outcome.

The Hawks will be favored when the whistle blows but the Hawks face a tough battle and they know it.

Vassar has lost just one game and is tied for second. They are big. Big in the line and big in the backfield. Joe Smith, a 225-pound back, keys the running attack. Roger Finta is another back that makes the Vulcan wishbone attack go.

In earlier games Vassar has proved to be strong against the run and weak against the pass.

Passing has been the key to Cass City's six-game victory string. Despite this, Pakonen said that the Hawks will try to establish a running game against the Vulcans to complement the passing attack.

The Hawks did run against Marlette with more success than against any other team in the league. Combined with the club's usual good passing effort, the Hawks had little trouble spoiling the Red Raider homecoming, 30-0.

In fact about all the excitement in the game after the opening two quarters came in a squabble involving most of the Marlette and Cass City players as well as several spectators.

The fight started when a Raider took what a Cass City player regarded as a "cheap shot" after a play had ended. He answered with a swing and the two teams poured onto the field.

Before the fracas, Cass City powered its way into a commanding lead.

Early in the first quarter the Hawks recovered a fumble on the Marlette 22 and went in to score. Gene Salas powered over from the 2 to cap the drive. The extra point was good when Paul Bliss pounced on a fumble in the end zone.

In the second period the Hawks went to the four from where Paul Bliss took a pass in the corner of the end zone for the marker. Curt Strickland tossed to Scott Hartel for the extra point.

In the third quarter the Hawks scored the hard way, grinding out 51 yards in 11 plays to score. Salas pounded over from a yard out and Hartel took another pass from Strickland for the extra point.

In the final period, Bob Ross, the captain of the defense, switched to offense and scored on a six-yard play.

Coach Pakonen lauded the defense for an outstanding effort. The whole defensive line played tremendously, he said, as he credited the line with holding Hawk foes scoreless for the last 12 quarters.

He listed Dave Brooks, Jim Kilbourn, Ron Turner, Dave Doerr and Hartel for outstanding defensive play.

Kilbourn and Brooks have matured as defensive tackles, the coach said.

It was two linemen who won Red Hawk of the week awards. Chester Sieradzki and Dave Brooks were singled out because, the coach said, they opened unbelievable holes in the line on offense.

As always, Sieradzki was outstanding on defense. He had 9 tackles and 6 assists. He leads the team in tackles and also opened big holes in the line for Salas on offense. He handled a bigger defensive tackle quite easily.

Brooks, a Junior, also excelled on offense while helping anchor the interior of the line on defense.

Friday is dad's night

Coach Roland Pakonen said this week that the game with Vassar has been designated dad's night and the fathers of the players will have a special seat on the sidelines and be honored at halftime.

The game dedicated to the dads has become a tradition each fall at one of the Hawk football games.

SEVERAL TIMES THIS year games have been broken open by runbacks of punts and kicks. Kip Hopper (24) almost did it again in the second period of the game with Marlette. He raced for about 20 yards and was one man away from going the distance on this play.

Last half rally earns Hawks narrow win over Sandusky

Cass City's Junior Varsity rallied in the last half to post a narrow 12-6 victory over Sandusky last Thursday and will be favored when Marlette comes to Cass City Recreational Park Thursday night at 7 o'clock.

The Redskins scored on a long pass play and led at the half, 6-0. Cass City opened the second half and mounted a sustained drive to score. Wayne Brooks smashed over for the score.

Cass City controlled the ball in the final half, but it took a 40-yard dash with a punt by Dave Zawilinski with just 1:35 minutes left to play to salt away the victory.

The Hawk defense was led by Greg Decker, Don Erla, Mark Phillips, Ron Sieradzki and Vic Eubank. Zawilinski was named Junior Red Hawk of the week by the coaching staff.

ROTARY TRAVEL &amp; ADVENTURE SERIES

"Grecian Panorama"

Greece and the Greeks. A pleasing blend of the land and the people who inhabit it. The blue of the Aegean Sea merges with the Mediterranean skies to provide a pleasing backdrop for Hellenic life in both its traditional and modern aspects. An imaginative color camera captures the splendor that is Greece as the scene shifts from vine to wine; from Macedonia to Crete; from Acropolis to modern metropolis. Mr. Adair's youthful view is particularly refreshing as he strives to encompass the vastness of the Grecian panorama. A beautiful film!
