

Traxler elected in heavy vote Tuesday

For the first time since the days of the Great Depression, Michigan's Eighth Congressional District will be represented by a Democrat, following the special election victory of J. Robert Traxler Tuesday.

Traxler, a state representative from Bay City, defeated Republican James Sparling by a district-wide total of 58,153 to Sparling's 55,118, according to unofficial tabulations.

In Tuscola county, where 52.49 per cent of the registered voters cast ballots, Sparling captured 6,689 to Traxler's 4,357, or 60 per cent of the vote.

Sparling carried rural Thumb counties with traditionally strong Republican majorities. In Huron county, Sparling received 6,795 votes to Traxler's 4,330.

Elkland township went for Sparling by a combined unofficial total of 692 to 277, with 60 per cent of the township's eligible voters casting ballots.

Traxler captured five Tuscola county precincts and tied one precinct of populous Indianfields township. The Democrat took Vassar township, Wells township and one precinct of Millington, Watertown and Vassar City.

In Indianfields precinct three, each candidate polled 280 votes.

Elsewhere in the county, Sparling was the victor. In Novesta township, the Republican took 174 votes against Traxler's 113, with 57.7 per cent of the voters going to the polls.

In Elmwood township, Sparling captured 232 votes against Traxler's 148, with 65.2 per cent of the eligible electors voting.

In Ellington township, Sparling took 159 votes against Traxler's 97, with 64.5 per cent of the eligible voters casting ballots.

In capturing 40 per cent of the Tuscola county vote, Traxler workers felt they had achieved a victory. They said they had set 40 per cent as their goal in the county and they received it.

One source close to the Traxler camp said Tuesday night he felt the returns showed a certain amount of disenchantment among traditional Republican voters with their party and candidate.

Most observers agreed that President Richard Nixon's visit to the Thumb last week did not change any Democratic votes to Republican, saying that the net effect was to bring more voters to the polls who already had their minds made up.

Sparling was quoted as saying that if anyone lost the election, it was he and not the President.

It became apparent early that Sparling would have to carry the rural Thumb counties with wide margins if he were to capture the congressional seat vacated by his former boss, James Harvey, who resigned in February to become a federal judge.

As the returns came in, however, it became equally apparent that while he was winning in Tuscola county, his majority was not enough. In 1972, Harvey carried the county by 68 per cent, taking 11,283 votes to Democratic challenger Jerome T. Hart's 4,780.

Some 21,229 persons were eligible to cast ballots in Tuesday's polling.

DISTRICT TOTALS

District-wide, Traxler capitalized on his strength in the Bay City and Saginaw area, as well as support from Lapeer county. This latter part of the district was considered as one of the key areas to Democratic hopes for victory.

In Bay county, Traxler racked up 21,002 votes against Sparling's 10,232.

In Sanilac county, Sparling won by about a 2-1 margin, taking 6,288 votes against Traxler's 3,074.

Saginaw county barely fell into the Sparling column, with the Republican capturing 21,387 votes against Traxler's 21,282. Election officials said the turnout of voters reached 50 per cent of those eligible.

In Lapeer county, Traxler squeaked through to a narrow victory with 5,265 votes against Sparling's 4,591. Lapeer county was considered a key in the Traxler election plan.

In five townships of Arenac county, Traxler received 512 votes to Sparling's 405.

Traxler will assume his duties as representative as soon as his election is certified. He will be the first Democrat to serve the district since Michael J. Hart won a special election in the district in 1931.

It is only the second time this century that a Democrat has represented the district.

J. ROBERT TRAXLER - apparent winner in Tuesday's special Eighth Congressional District election. Traxler, 42, is the first Democrat elected to Congress from the district in over 40 years.

A MONDAY morning fire caused an estimated $1,000 damage to an auto belonging to Burton Allen of Deford. Firemen said Mrs. Allen turned on the ignition, heard a pop and escaped before being injured. No cause has been determined for the blaze.

Fire destroys $75,000 barn, contents Sunday

Fire, believed started by faulty wiring, destroyed a large barn on the Joe Dybilas farm, located on Holbrook Road eight miles east and north of Cass City, Sunday evening.

Ublly Fire Chief Elmer Brahmmer said his department responded to the alarm at 6:39 p.m. and fought the flames for about four hours.

Total loss was set at $75,000. Destroyed in the blaze were 200 bales of hay, 500 bales of straw, 600 bushels of oats and a quantity of dairy cattle feed.

Brahmmer said his department, which was assisted by Bad Axe firemen, was hampered by high winds, spectators, poor roads and a car which forced a water tanker off the road near the fire. No one was injured in the accident and Brahmmer said Sanilac County Sheriff's deputies are searching for the auto.

Brahmmer said two bad bridges which could not take the weight of fire trucks, forced the department to detour around the scene. A 40 mile-per-hour wind fanned flames. Brahmmer added that the barn was beyond saving when firemen arrived.

Other nearby buildings, including the house, were untouched by the flames. Mrs. Dybilas said the fire was discovered shortly after 6:30 p.m. when she and relatives spotted smoke. Quick work enabled the dairy cattle to be removed from the barn without any loss, she said.

Mrs. Dybilas said the barn was insured.

CAR FIRE

Fire of undetermined origin heavily damaged an auto belonging to Burton Allen Monday morning.

According to Mrs. Allen, she got in the car, which had been parked at a residence at the corner of Elizabeth and Sherman Streets, turned on the key and heard an explosion.

The engine compartment and interior were heavily damaged by smoke and water. The car had reportedly been parked nearly a week without being started prior to the incident.

Elkland township firemen responded to the alarm at 9:15 a.m. Firemen estimated damages at $1,000.

Mrs. Allen was not injured.

LANDFILL FIRE

Elkland township firemen also responded to an alarm Saturday night around 6:30 p.m. at the Cass City Sanitary Landfill. Firemen worked to put out a pile of burning brush which was sending sparks into nearby open areas with the aid of a high wind.

Student bus usage to increase as board relaxes restrictions

Students at Cass City Schools will be boarding buses more frequently now and the annual Junior-Senior banquet will not be held at the school this year, following decisions reached Monday night at the regular meeting of the board at Evergreen School.

The board was taking its annual pilgrimage away from the high school Monday and some 40 interested Evergreen residents were there to listen and talk to the board.

They heard Supt. Donald Crouse explain that with the easing of the energy crisis the bus policy adopted earlier this school year could be relaxed.

Under our present policy, he said, Cass City could not have transported students to Caro if the president had visited there instead of here.

The board quickly rescinded the rule that prohibited extra trips and nixed another provision that required buses to be gassed downtown if possible.

One new regulation remains. Buses will not "back-track" on evening runs. The board agreed that this economy measure was not a hardship for the students, some of whom walk about a half mile.

There appeared to be little dissent among Evergreen residents over buses, but several questioned the wisdom of allowing a school function outside the school.

The issue appeared to be the supervision of the students and smoking and drinking.

The board policy adopted said that all regulations enforced at the school would be enforced off-campus. It was disclosed that Sherwood Forest management had agreed to close the bar during the students' visit.

After the estimated hour and a half for the banquet, the students will return to the high school for the annual prom.

For several years an Inlay City firm contracted the work. The cost now is up to 60 cents a check, Crouse said.

A new service by the Bay-Arenac Intermediate School district will do the work for 25 cents a check. The board voted to switch companies July 1. Estimated savings will be $1,000 yearly.

EVERGREEN TEACHER

After the regular meeting, Supt. Donald Crouse explained the upcoming vote for 2½ mills tax for operation. His comments caused relatively little stir among the 40 present. Most questions concerned the State Aid and the reason why the tax millage will remain the same if millage is approved.

Much more interest was exhibited when the teaching situation in Evergreen school was again reviewed.

What the majority of Evergreen parents appear to want is another teacher. Crouse maintains that running an economical school prohibits another full time teacher.

He cites the situations at Deford and at Cass City where teachers would handle more pupils than Evergreen if another full time teacher were hired.

Evergreen residents point to split classes as the reason why another teacher is needed. The superintendent says that hiring a teacher half days and giving the principal a full time teaching job would eliminate the problem. Currently the principal at Evergreen teaches half days. The full-load teaching schedule is currently the way the situation is handled at Deford.

Adopting this schedule would probably require the building of a storage area, President Arthur Severance said.

There is a spare room at Evergreen but it now houses supplies and other incidentals.

Election paradox

Yes vote won't raise millage—school board

Supt. Donald Crouse and members of the Cass City School Board are busy holding meetings throughout the district trying to explain this paradox to the voters: if they vote for an additional 2½ mills in operating funds for Cass City Schools next Monday their taxes will be no more than they will be if they vote the millage request down.

The last of the meetings is slated Thursday night at Cass City High School.

Taxpayers at these meetings are learning that the reason for this seemingly impossible state of affairs is that the State of Michigan will pick up 2½ mills of debt service tax if the taxpayers authorize 2½ more mills for operation.

No matter how the vote goes Monday taxpayers will pay 21.1 mills, Crouse is explaining to interested residents.

What will change if the millage goes down is the amount of money available to the school. Without the added operating millage Cass City loses some $145,000 in revenues. Crouse says flatly that the school cannot operate current programs without more money.

He does say that it may be possible not to use all the $145,000 next year and if this proves to be the case he pledges to keep it to help ward off increased costs in the future.

Helping make a strong case for the school is the comparative millage paid by schools in the Tuscola County Intermediate District and Owen-Gage in the Huron District.

Cass City taxpayers enjoy the lowest total mill rate for schools of any of these 10 school districts.

The total taxes paid by the various districts at this time are:

Millington	25.20
Caro	25.00
Rosee	24.50
Akron-Fairgrove	23.30
Owen-Gage	22.50
Cass City	21.10

In addition, Akron-Fairgrove is seeking 3½ more mills and Owen-Gage says that 2½ more mills will be needed for operation next year.

Crouse is also stressing at the meeting that the tax rate will be unchanged. Taxes for many residents will be increased because of increased valuation.

This tax increase is unaffected by the request for millage. Persons with valuation increase will be paying the same amount more next year regardless of the outcome of Monday's vote, school officials are pointing out.

Balloting, as usual, will be at Cass City High School and the polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Board okays transfer

After listening to Glen Sanford, superintendent at Owen-Gage High School, Monday the Cass City School board passed a resolution saying they would accept property transfers from Owen-Gage if the district votes to annex to Laker High this June.

Sanford estimated that the total number of pupils involved would be some 250, of which over 50 are already attending Cass City School.

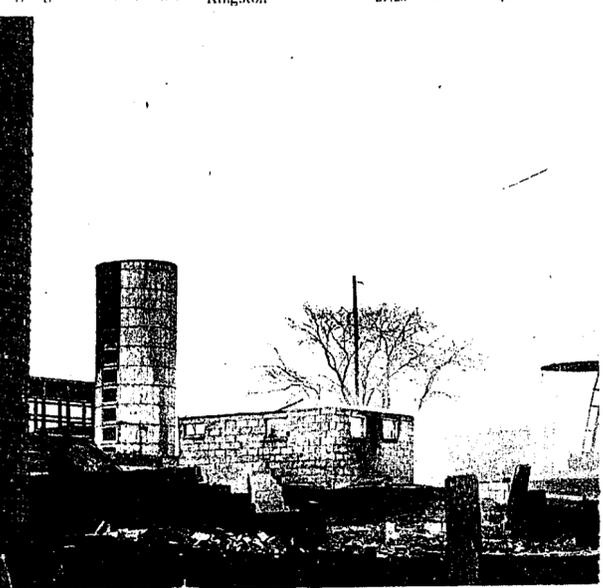

Sanford said that the tentative dividing line has been established as the Huron-Tuscola county line. South of the line students would attend Cass City and north of the line, Lakers.

USA would accept transfers at the west edge of the district, Sanford explained.

However, all of this is contingent upon a favorable vote for dividing the district in June. Asked his opinion about the prospects, Sanford replied, "Judging by the past record there are two chances, slim and none."

Sanford said that the district has had relatively little trouble securing millage approval, but no success with any other propositions.

The Owen-Gage school board felt that because of the pending land transfers out of the district it was time to see if the voters were now ready to dissolve the district, Sanford explained.

A FIRE, believed caused by faulty wiring, destroyed a barn on the Joseph Dybilas farm on Holbrook Road Sunday evening, causing $75,000 damage. Ublly firemen said the barn's two wings, which measured 100 by 32 feet and 50 by 40 feet, were beyond saving by the time they arrived. A 40 mph wind, spectators and an accident hampered fire fighters in their efforts to save the structure.

St. Michael's Marriage Licenses hosts to council

The monthly meeting of St. Michael's Ladies Guild was held in the rectory basement at 7:30 p.m. April 10 with 21 members and guests attending.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Father Richard A. Kubiak. All members of the parish are invited to attend the fifth ordination anniversary party in honor of Father Kubiak Saturday night, April 20, after the 8 p.m. mass.

The Ladies Guild hosted the spring meeting of The Thumb Deanery Council of Catholic Women Wednesday, April 17.

The group is going to make stoles for the boys and girls to wear for confirmation, which will be May 14.

Entertainment was provided by Marjorie Teldman and Catherine Somerville. The door prize was won by Mary Ann Pohold.

All a fellow has to do to live to a ripe old age is just keep right on living.

Storm windows and doors conserve natural gas

LOSS OF HEAT THROUGH WINDOWS AND DOORS CAN BE A MAJOR FACTOR IN HIGHER CONSUMPTION OF NATURAL GAS AND RELATED COSTS OF HEATING A HOME OR BUILDING. HERE ARE A FEW SUGGESTIONS THAT WILL HELP CORRECT THE PROBLEM:

- CAULK ANY CRACKS AROUND WINDOWS AND DOORS.
- CHECK ALL SILLS FOR POSSIBLE AIR LEAKS UNDER THEM AND/OR INSTALL WEATHER STRIPPING.
- PULL DOWN THE WINDOW SHADES . . . CLOSE BLINDS AND DRAPERIES AT NIGHT.
- INSTALL STORM WINDOWS AND DOORS OR COVER WITH CLEAR PLASTIC.
- KEEP ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS CLOSED WHEN NOT IN USE . . . SAY "GOOD-BYE" TO GUESTS BEFORE YOU OPEN THE DOOR.
- MAKE SURE YOUR THERMOSTATS ARE LOCATED AWAY FROM WINDOW AND DOOR AREAS.

THESE SUGGESTIONS WILL HELP CONSERVE NATURAL GAS AND MONEY, TOO.

MABLE BRIAN'S co-workers presented this watch at a banquet Friday at Wildwood Farms. It marked the end of a 64-year work career in the area.

Mable Brian ends 64-year work career

Things just won't be the same anymore. Mable Brian has officially ended a Cass City work career that spans three generations and 60 years. That's right, . . . 60 years.

Miss Brian celebrates her 82nd birthday April 23 and is living testimonial for the old adage that work never killed anyone.

For the friendly, always smiling Mable looks 20 and acts 30 years younger than she really is.

A native of Cass City, Mable has lived in the same house on Third Street since she was five and worked in the Cass City area since graduating from Cass City School.

That first job was something else. She worked in the Fritchey Bank at Deford. She commuted. In 1911 going from Cass City to Deford was a trip. Mable took the train back and forth every day.

That lengthened the day a little. She started at 7 a.m. and returned home at 10 p.m. every day but Sunday. For this she received $12 weekly.

After a few years she took a job at the elevator in Cass City. It was also owned by Fritchey.

There she stayed until her parents became ill and she was forced to quit to care for them. She did it for nine years before returning to the work force with a job with H.J. Smith in the building where Krizmans', Inc., is today.

In 1952 she joined the Ben Franklin Store, working for the late Otto Prieskorn. She continued with the Gerald Prieskorns until she retired earlier this year.

She reluctantly called it quits on doctor's orders after a slight heart attack.

Friday she was feted by the Prieskorns at a dinner at Wildwood Farms along with the store personnel she worked with.

Always popular, her fellow employees helped make the day memorable by presenting her with a watch commemorating her long service.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK

Covering the President

By Jim Ketchum

It's now been over a week since President Nixon rolled into Cass City, shook hands, smiled and went on his way to who knows where?

Everyone you met got a big charge out of it all—from the initial planning to the event itself. Even newspaper reporters, who are supposed to be emotionless machines who grind out word after word, tended to get a little excited. One reporter in particular did not sleep much after 5:00 a.m. that day.

But then, this was my first look at a real live Chief Executive. I'll admit I was even more tense than my usual high-strung self. Maybe that's why my left knee locked as it was pushed against the rope barrier waiting for the motorcade.

"Just think, Jim, this may be the only time you ever get to cover the President," Dorothy Haire told me, which I took as a tremendous vote of confidence in my future as a journalist.

Armed with all that moral support, I waded into the sea of humanity to do my duty for the Chronicle, oblivious of who I stepped on, or so I thought. I had not calculated the forces involved when 7,000 persons start surging toward you at the same time.

For openers, breathing gets to be a problem. Every time I inhaled, four people immediately tried to fill the vacated space. When I exhaled, two persons were knocked over.

As I pressed in for a closer look, I immediately remembered what it was about beehive hairdos, hats and tall people that I dislike so much. As the multitude pressed me in tighter, a woman who had looks that could kill turned around and threatened to jab me in the stomach with her elbow.

She was determined to defend her few square inches of real estate come hell or high Watergate.

I tried to explain my dilemma to her that I was being pushed, but this did not help the image of the press in her eyes one bit.

Resorting to desperation, I guessed at a focus setting on my camera and lifted it high above my head to snap the 37th President. All I ended up with was a bunch of heads and a tiny Richard Nixon.

Then the fun really began. Ever try to change film amid a scene from the French Revolution? It's done by putting your clipboard and flashgun between your legs, gingerly opening a less-than-cooperative camera and fumbling to fix the film while wave after wave of pressure from the rear threatens to make the domino theory more than just talk.

Getting wedged in was only half the fun. Turning around and getting out was even more of a battle. I know I must have gone up and down two ladders making my way to the curb so I could break into a dead run, chasing the black limousine, frantically shooting more pictures.

Out of the next dozen, we retrieved one suitable for reprinting. With seared shins, aching knees and ringing ears, I stumbled back to the office ready to make my contribution to history in the paper.

Instant analysis does, in the words of Spiro T. Agnew, have its drawbacks and it was difficult to say anything coherent in so short a time. But eventually enough words came and the story was done.

Maybe we were too close to the forest to see the trees. That's the impression of a reporter for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, who covered the President's Cass City stop.

He said that's one of the big problems covering Washington politics and I can believe him. Things do change when a President is no more than 25 feet away.

He ceases to be a thing and becomes a living, breathing person whose hair is a little grayer than you thought and who looks tired at certain moments.

He also becomes a man to be pitied as much as criticized. You wish you could reach out and say, "Let's work this thing out."

Maybe that's what we should do as a country. Vengeance never did anyone any good.

Pre-kindergarten registration set

Pre-kindergarten registration and visitation will take place at Campbell Elementary School, Friday, April 26. Rural parents and the child to be enrolled are asked to register Friday morning at 9:00 a.m. in the school gym.

Town parents and the child to be enrolled are asked to register at 1:00 p.m. the same day. The children will be visiting the kindergarten rooms at this time. The regular kindergarten students will also be in session.

Deford parents and their children are to register and visit their school Monday, April 29, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Evergreen parents should register from 12:30 to 2:00 p.m. April 29. The Evergreen children will visit later.

Parents are to bring birth certificates and immunization records for their child to these meetings. Children who are eligible for enrollment must be five years old on or before December 1, 1974.

The state also requires a pre-school vision test. A free vision and hearing clinic day for all pre-schoolers will be scheduled at each school to meet this requirement.

Deford children will be screened May 1, and Campbell Elementary children will be screened May 2 and 3, from 8:30 to 4:00 p.m. Parents who do not attend the clinic days will have to make appointments with their own doctors to fulfill the state requirement.

Parents who cannot come on the above dates should call the school for an appointment. It is important that all children register early so that fall plans can be made.

Saginaw man faces larceny charges

A Saginaw man pleaded guilty to charges of larceny in a building and stood mute on two other counts in an appearance Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court before presiding Judge James P. Churchill.

Clarence Wilbert, 24, pleaded guilty to larceny in a building involving a warehouse in Vassar March 27. He stood mute on breaking and entering charges involving an appliance store in Reese March 29 and also stood mute on charges of breaking and entering the Vassar establishment.

Pleas of innocent were entered in his behalf on both arraignments. No trial date was set.

Wilbert is scheduled to be sentenced April 29 on the larceny charge. A bond of $5,000 was cancelled.

Also involved in the Vassar incident is Grant Eli Jr., 24, of Vassar who was arraigned before Judge Churchill on a larceny charge in the establishment.

He pleaded guilty to the charge, which was accepted by the court. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentencing was set for April 29.

Gerald B. Weiskirch, 23, Hemlock, was arraigned on a charge of felonious assault. He stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered in his behalf. Pre-trial examination was set for May 13.

He is accused of assault in a March 7 incident in Caro.

At a pre-trial examination, Thomas A. Bilicki, Caro, entered a plea of guilty to an included offense of attempted larceny in a building which was accepted by the court. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentencing was set for May 13.

The incident took place in a Wells township residence Oct. 2.

The court dropped charges of assaulting a police officer against Charles R. Phillips, 35, of Vassar. He had been charged with resisting arrest in addition to assault.

Marine Lance Corporal Joe L. Hillaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorn Hillaker of 6646 "M" St., and whose wife Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Nietzel of Houghton St., all of Cass City, returned to the Marine Corps Base at Camp Lejeune, N.C., after a six-week training deployment to the Caribbean. He participated in infantry exercises at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and an amphibious landing on Vieques Island, P.R. Four-day liberty stops were made at St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands and San Juan, P.R.

AGENT'S CORNER

So you want to lose weight

Allene Mills - Extension Agent

So you want to lose weight. You're determined - you will take off those unwanted pounds.

But why? Do you want to lose weight so you'll look better? Are there health benefits to be gained through weight loss? Do you want the approval of family and friends? Is losing weight part of your master scheme for creating a "new you?"

Any of these reasons is valid. The benefits you hope to achieve through weight loss may not, however, provide sufficient motivation to get you through those especially difficult times. So give yourself a little extra incentive. Promise yourself some sort of reward when you have reached your goal.

The reward can be almost anything as long as it is meaningful to you and within range of your pocketbook. A new outfit, a different hair style, a night on the town - you name it. Just be sure it is a reward you will be willing to work for.

While you're figuring out your motivations and deciding on your reward, let the rest of the family in on your weight loss program. Their understanding, cooperation and consideration can go a long way toward helping you achieve your goal.

Moral support, unfortunately, isn't the whole story. Your friends and family can give you encouragement, but they can't take your exercise for you.

Exercise is one of the two sides of the weight-loss coin. The other side, of course, is food intake management. Any successful weight loss program includes both.

Try Chronicle WANT ADS For Fast Results

Exercise management is important because the lives we lead today do not require us to spend a lot of time and energy doing strenuous work. Our motorized, mechanized way of life - with its extension phones, escalators, golf carts, snow blowers, electric can openers, conveniently designed kitchens and suburbs isolated from shopping and service centers that leave no choice but to take the car or bus - has drastically reduced the amount of exercise we get in the course of a day's work.

Planning exercise into your life does not necessarily demand a close acquaintance with sweatshops, calisthenics and liniment. That sort of exercise is an option, of course. But you can also raise your activity level simply by passing up some of the routine conveniences at your fingertips. Try parking the car at the far end of the parking lot the next time you go shopping.

Or get off the bus a stop early and walk the last couple of blocks to work. Take the stairs rather than the escalator. Avoid driving the car when you could walk or ride a bicycle.

If a survey of your food habits shows you have a tendency to snack in the middle of the afternoon, substitute a walk outdoors for that needless nibbling. Not only will you avoid calories you don't need, but you'll also work off calories that you otherwise wouldn't have used.

So that's it: motivation, willpower, food management and exercise. It's no magic formula to transform you overnight. It is, however, the safe, sensible, healthful way to a new, slimmer you.

Ask your extension home economist for information on the self-study packet "Behavioral Control: A New Self-Help Approach to Weight Control."

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

A heavy vote is forecast by most knowledgeable observers Tuesday when voters go to the polls at Cass City High School to decide whether or not to grant an increase in taxes for operating the school.

An impromptu discussion of discipline in the Intermediate School and a possible expanded summer program at Cass City High School highlighted an otherwise dull, mundane session of the Cass City Board of Education Monday night.

Selection of Lynn Haire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haire, as Junior Citizen of the Year and James Bauer as Senior Citizen of the Year highlighted the annual banquet of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at Cass City High School.

A small pile of burning slab went out of control Wednesday morning at the Peters Bros. Saw Mill northeast of the village and caught fire to a large pile of scrap lumber. Only limited damage was done to the structure of the mill when a section of its exterior was charred by the nearby blaze.

Alvin and David Burk of Decker, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burk, are both returning to Vietnam following a brief stay at their home.

TEN YEARS AGO

Trustee Dr. D.E. Rawson lashed out at the procedures used by the Cass City Village Council at a special meeting of trustees Tuesday night at the Municipal Building. The meeting was called to discuss a letter threatening a law suit by Stanley Asher and Arthur Caister over cutting of trees on West Street.

The village council has set weekly breakfast meetings for the discussion of village affairs. The sessions will not be recorded and no minutes will be taken.

A $470,161 budget, close to $6,000 more than last year's budget, was approved by Board of Education members Monday night in a long session at the high school. Village trustee Dr. D.E. Rawson reported this week that he had contacted the Michigan Highway Department and that officials in Lansing had agreed to come to the village to talk about work on M-81 (Main Street).

Repair jobs at Cass City High School on the gymnasium ceiling and sidewalk repair totaling over $800 were approved by board members at their meeting Monday night at the high school.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Clarence H. Harmon was unanimously elected chairman of the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors at the opening of the April session of that Body Tuesday.

Irving Parsch was elected commander of the Cass City VFW post last week and will be installed along with other newly-elected officers April 21.

The Cass City High School baseball team opened the season with a six to one victory over Kingston.

Grant Ball has been appointed deputy sheriff at Cass City. Sheriff George Jeffery announced Tuesday. All accidents and disturbances in this community are to be reported directly to Mr. Ball, the sheriff says.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Explosion of kerosene being used to kindle a fire early Saturday morning cost the lives of Norman Hill, 28, and his infant daughter, Mary. The Hills live on the Charles Ewald farm near Unionville.

Representatives of Orange-temple Lodges of Michigan will meet in Cass City next week for a two-day state convention.

School funds totalling $18,326.30 were received recently by County Treasurer Arthur Willis from the state for distribution to school districts in Tuscola county.

Adelbert Burdon of Gagetown was burned to death Sunday morning when the auto in which he was sleeping caught fire at the rear of the Gagetown Hotel.

Some 300 persons attended the 14th annual County Achievement Day held Monday at Cass City High School.

AROUND THE FARM

Take care of that lawn

By Don Kebler

Home yard questions are beginning to come across my desk now and I've made a few visits in the last week.

As a whole, people are doing a fairly good job with their lawn grass culture. What problems I do see are generally more man-made than natural-occurring.

The three most common man-made problems are caused by home owners giving their lawn too much tender loving care. These problem causes are, mowing too frequently and cutting too short, fertilizing too heavily and watering too much or improperly.

Most people have varieties that should be cut no shorter than one and one-half to two inches. These grasses should be mowed when no more than one inch of top can be clipped. When applying fertilizer remember the highest nitrogen rate we recommend is seven pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn. Don't add more than one and one-half pounds of nitrogen at any one application as excessive leaf growth, impaired root growth and burning can occur.

At seven pounds yearly rate of nitrogen, one needs to make five applications. Five to seven pounds of nitrogen per 1000 square feet is recommended for Marion Blue Grass, and two to four pounds nitrogen on most blue grasses and Red Fescues. You must know how much nitrogen is in the fertilizer you buy.

Suppose your lawn's total nitrogen needs are four pounds of nitrogen per 1000 square feet and you buy a fertilizer with 24 per cent nitrogen. Then you would apply about 16.5 pounds of the fertilizer in three separate applications annually to each 1000 square feet of lawn area.

Watering is a problem but generally when you do water your lawn do it less frequently and then soak the soil to at least a six inch depth.

I'm seeing a large number of young shade trees planted within the last 10 years that really needed shaping much sooner than now. Some of these will have problems of splitting, besides being poorly shaped. On some of these trees there is still a chance that good trimming could make them stronger and more beautiful. Young transplanted trees should be shaped in the first two and three years after planting.

I understand a wheat reserve bill has been introduced into the U.S. Senate. If it is passed, it is to maintain a 600 million bushel domestic carry-over reserve.

If I remember correctly, it wasn't too many years ago some of these same people were telling the public that we shouldn't be subsidizing the farmer because we had a large surplus carry-over every year.

Eight scouts receive awards

Eight Owendale Cub Scouts were recently awarded various medals during the pack meeting held at the gymnasium.

Ricky Kolander received a gold award and a silver arrow; Ted Jantz, David Dietzel and Joe Good received silver arrow; Billy Thomas received a gold award; Craig Enderle was awarded a silver arrow; Stan Andrakowicz received the bear badge, and Bob Kolander, the silver arrow.

Webelo leader Richard Glidden presented Paul Thomas with his naturalist award.

Three new cub scouts joined the pack; Scott Thies, Tom Summers and Nick Swaistyn.

The final pack meeting of the year will be a combined picnic for the cub scouts, Webelos, boy scouts and explorers and their families at the scout campground Sunday, April 28.

Former Elkton resident dies

in Mt. Clemens

Jack D. Thompson, 46, Fair Haven, formerly of Elkton, died Sunday, April 7, in St. Joseph's Hospital, Mt. Clemens, after a short illness.

He was born March 1, 1928, in Elkton, son of the late Minnie and John Thompson. He married Lela Pheasant of Gagetown.

He is survived by his widow; three sons, Timothy of Fair Haven, Patrick, serving in the U.S. Army in Korea, and Bruce, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Dennis (Colleen) Gies of Mt. Clemens, and Mary and Jennifer Thompson, both at home; two sisters, Mrs. Oscar (Eleanor) Eicher of Granger and Mrs. Thomas (Irene) Roberts of Arlington, Va.; three brothers, Leonard of Cass City, Kenneth of Utica and Lyle of Shepherd, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, April 10, in New Baltimore.

See John LaGina or Harold "Potsy" Keinath, and arrange for them to order you a new bowling ball, bag and shoes. Prices are reasonable and John or "Potsy" can help you with your selection.

In this 1974 Review Issue, we, the planners, urge you and your family to visit these bowling lanes in Caro. Harmony Hill Bowling is an asset to the community.

TUCKEY BLOCK COMPANY

J.D. Tuckey - Pres., Roy Tuckey - Vice-pres., Bill Tuckey - Vice-pres.

When we consider the area around us including all of the businesses and the different types of enterprises, it is hard to forget one prominent name. That is the Tuckey Block Company.

They specialize in fast delivery of quality ready mixed concrete for basements, footings, driveways, sidewalks or any other need. No job is too small or too large for Tuckey Block Co. They also deliver sand and gravel.

Through their efforts to provide the best of service and growth to the area, they have come to be known as part of the backbone in the structure of this area. From their beginning they have strived to provide the most up-to-date service, with friendly conscientious efforts at the most modest price.

They employ many local people throughout the area, thus aiding in the financial strength and growth of the area, and are recognized by both the businessman and the homeowner as an inseparable entity of our community.

When needed in an emergency, special help in community projects, or just everyday business, the Tuckey Block Company located at 139 Butler in Caro, phone 673-4148 and in Cass City at 6038 East Cass City Road, phone 872-3303 is always there ready to be of assistance.

The writers of this 1974 Review herein announce our complete endorsement and commendation to the management and individuals of this community-minded company. They are truly an asset to our community.

RON'S REFRIGERATION

RON BARRIGAR - OWNER

The purpose of a building is to protect us from the weather. Unless it protects us from the weather year around, it is not a modern building. In regards to year around air conditioning, most of us are living in houses or working in buildings not up with the modern times in which we live.

With a Tappan year around air conditioner, you set the thermostat for either heating or cooling and you have spring the whole year.

If you have a central furnace, you likely have had an air conditioning system already and do not realize it. Call today for an estimate of the low cost of enjoying year around air conditioning. Let them furnish you a personal survey with all the pertinent facts and figures. See Ron's Refrigeration located at 1095 East Dayton Road in Caro, phone 673-6278.

The writers of this 1974 Review recommend this firm for their fine service and expert workmanship. They are experts in their field and an asset to the community.

Stella Martus reflects on 37 years as school bus driver

By Jim Ketchumi
 her transportation-minded husband decided to take on the "temporary" job of driving a school bus from the Winton rural district into Cass City as a way of making a little extra money. Now, 37 years later, Mrs. Martus has decided to turn in her ignition keys and end that temporary job that has seen her transport over a half million children to and from school, all without an accident, covering over 300,000 miles. Mrs. Martus will end her bus driving career when school is over in June and she leaves with admitted mixed emotions. "It will be a whole new world not working with those kids every day," Mrs. Martus reflected as she sat at the family dining room table in their warm old farmhouse built by Martus' father on Milligan Road over half a century ago.

"Some days I'll come home and say, 'Thank the Lord you weren't with me today—you couldn't have stood it,'" she chuckled. "But mostly it's been good and I've enjoyed it."

"The Martuses both enjoy life and plan to travel extensively following the day she parks the bus for the last time.

It's been a long time coming, though. It began in 1937 when Martus bid for transporting children from the Winton district to Cass City. Then came the contract from the Paul school south of Cass City and finally a Colwood route which brought high school students in each day.

In those days, driving a school bus was a lot different than it is today. Drivers owned their routes and provided their own buses. They, in turn, charged parents a fee for transporting the children. "The first year we charged a dollar a week," Martus recalled. "But then we got complaints that it wasn't working out, so the next year we charged a flat rate of $40 for the school year."

"Then we got people who would keep records of the days their kids rode and the days they didn't, figuring they should get a refund for the days they stayed home."

At that time, the school year ran 10 months.

Only in the last seven years has the school district furnished buses for Mrs. Martus. Martus recalled the bid he placed for the Winton district route was $999 for the year 1937. The other two routes soon followed, along with a fleet of four buses, three in use and a spare, a 1930 model.

With the approach of World War II, drivers became harder to secure. The Colwood route was sold in 1941 and the Paul route the following year. That left the Winton school and Mrs. Martus as the driver.

In spite of rationing, Martus said there was never any problem getting gasoline or tires for the buses. "We ran pretty short on our own cars sometimes, though," he said with a smile.

SECOND GENERATION

Mrs. Martus said today some 22 of the children who ride her bus are second generation passengers. She remembers taking their fathers to school and sometimes this fact is a little hard to comprehend.

"It makes me feel a touch older at times," she said. "And in each case but one, it was the father who remained in the district."

Mrs. Martus said she has never tired of the children in her years of driving a school bus. She feels an obligation to take each one to school safely and bring them home. In her long career, she has never had an accident.

"I always said if I was ever involved in an accident where one of those kids was hurt, I'd park that bus and never drive again," Mrs. Martus said. "It's just that simple."

The only problem came two years ago when a snowstorm stranded her bus and 30 passengers out in the old Winton district. Help eventually arrived, but Mrs. Martus remained calm through it all.

She gives her passengers good marks for behavior, but admits there are times when things get a little out of hand.

"Don't ever come to me and tell me my kids are noisy," she said, "but I'll come to you and tell you they're noisy."

she chuckled.

SAFETY

Mrs. Martus believes today's school buses are reasonably safe and considers them the best yet. Some have suggested children riding buses should be forced to wear seat belts as a safety precaution.

She disagrees. "If we had to make sure each kid was fastened in a seat belt at each stop, we could never keep up with our schedule. I think the bus as it is provides enough protection."

She does like recent innovations in the mechanical end. Power steering, power brakes, flashers and improved inside appointments all make today's bus better than the first one she ever drove, she commented.

Her husband, an admitted Ford fan because of his 50-year-plus association with Auten Motor Sales in Cass City, made some innovations of his own on buses when the leasing arrangement was still in force.

Once he bought a Chevrolet bus and after a year, removed the body and placed it on a Ford chassis.

"That's the closest I ever came to a Chevrolet," he laughed.

FIGURE

While admitting she will probably miss the routine of over a third of a century, Mrs. Martus and her husband are looking to the future. They plan to take a trip to France to visit a son, William Jr., who works for an American company in Paris, in addition to traveling by car and camper throughout the U.S.

While retiring from driving, Mrs. Martus still plans to keep at another "temporary" part-time job at Auten Motor Sales where she has worked as a bookkeeper the last 16 years.

"I don't know just exactly now much I'll be working yet," she said. "That's still not settled. You know, I was drafted for a year to that job and now look—16 years later and I'm still there."

Along with sewing, reading and cooking, chances are Mrs. Martus won't do an awful lot of resting. Then there are eight grandchildren to take even more time.

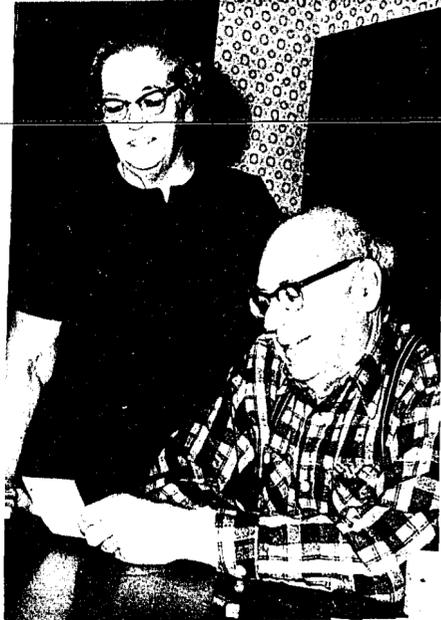

"We enjoy everything that's going," she said. "We love life."

Friends of Mrs. Martus have planned an open house for her, tentatively scheduled for sometime in May. She considers this an honor, coupled with receiving an award from Cass City Business and Professional Women last fall.

"Everyone has been so good to us," she commented. "I really don't know what to say."

For Mrs. Martus, who was born and raised just north of Cass City, her friends seem to be saying it all.

FOR YEARS Mrs. Martus' husband, Bill, made sure their fleet of school buses was in top running condition. Martus, an expert mechanic, kept the buses rolling all those accident-free miles.

DRIVING A school bus has almost become second nature for Mrs. Stella Martus, who has been behind the wheel since 1937. Mrs. Martus will retire at the end of this school year after logging well over 300,000 miles.

OFFICIAL RULES... Jet Journey TO THE STARS

1. Election is open to any boy or girl, age 10 through 14 years. Boys or girls who receive the highest number of votes in each store will win.
2. Vote for your favorite boy or girl by writing his or her name on the back of each gold cash register tape you receive at all participating Food Stores.
3. The total value of each gold tape will be determined by the total purchases shown on each gold tape you receive. You will receive one vote for each 10¢ purchase. For example, a $1.00 purchase shown on your gold cash register tape would be worth 100 votes for your favorite boy or girl (beer wine or cigarettes are not included in eligible purchases).
4. Votes must be placed in the official ballot box provided in each store. Each store will have the number of winners they are sponsoring posted in the store.
5. Votes are not transferable between stores and all candidates must be registered by the end of the 4th contest week.
6. "Jet Journey" will start the week of April 8, 1974 and close Saturday night June 1, 1974. Election is not open to wholesalers, their supply depot employees, retail store owners, store employees nor the immediate families of any of the above.

Set two sales of breeding bulls

Michigan cattlemen will have an opportunity to purchase performance-tested breeding bulls at two all-breed sales this spring. In each sale, weaning and yearling weights on the bulls will be made available.

Saturday, April 20, 42 Polled Hereford, nine Angus, one Horned Hereford, and one Charolais bull will be offered for sale at 12:30 p.m. at the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Feeder Calf Sale Yards near West Branch. Both two-year-old and yearling bulls will be consigned to this sale.

Saturday, April 27, 19 Polled Hereford, 11 Angus, and four Charolais bulls will be sold at 12:00 noon at the Upper Peninsula State Fair Grounds at Escanaba.

This sale will feature two-year-old and yearling bulls that were required to achieve a combined weaning and yearling weight of 1,400 pounds, in order to be eligible for the sale consignment.

Many of the bulls in this sale exceeded 500 lbs. at weaning and 1,000 lbs. at a year of age.

One of them posted an 838 lb. weaning and 1,368 lb. yearling weight for a combined weight of 2,206 lbs. Another unique feature of this event will be a show of the bulls at 2:00 p.m. following the sale in which premium money will be paid to the buyer of the bull rather than the consignor. Prizes and premium money are furnished by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

It is next to impossible to convince without convictions. Promises make friends, but only performance keeps them. Food for thought is the only kind that hasn't risen in price. Most things are fixed, but few know who is in on the fix.

Your neighbor says Advertising needs policing

Today the old adage "Let the buyer beware" is being replaced with "Let the seller be truthful under penalty of law". One person who would like to see even stronger truth in advertising legislation is Linda Zawilinski of Cass City.

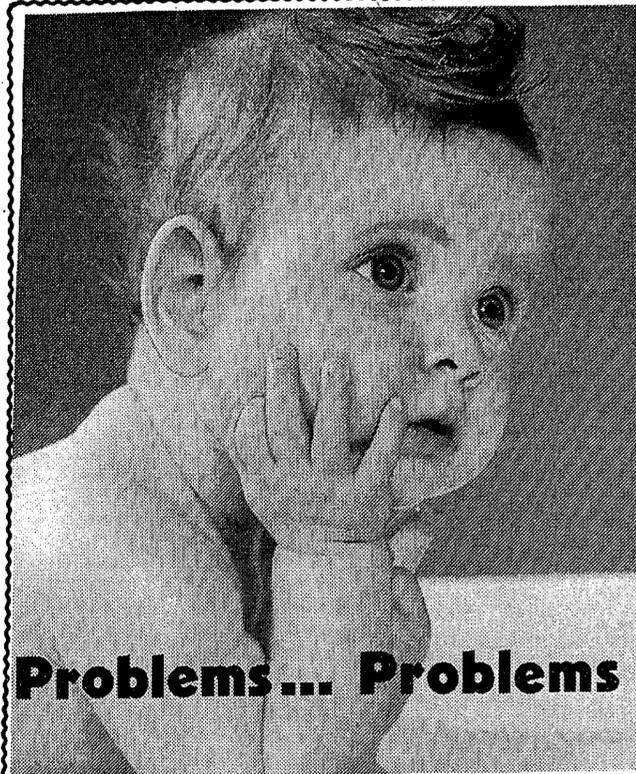

"I don't think a lot of advertising is basically honest," she said. "I've had some bad experiences with some products I've seen advertised, especially shampoo. None of it does anything for my hair."

Ms. Zawilinski said one particularly bad experience she had involved toothpaste. The brand she used which promised whiter teeth started taking off enamel as well as film.

She said she would like to see tougher laws requiring all advertisers to sell honestly or face the penalty of law.

Ms. Zawilinski is a native of Cass City and is employed at Walbro Corp. She is single.

People chuckle when they see a baby who seems to have the weight of the world on his shoulders. What can he possibly be thinking about that makes him seem so pensive?

His thoughts probably aren't very serious, for babies often strike delightful and comical poses that enliven the family photo album.

But babies grow up and become adults, with real problems and difficult decisions to make.

Don't forget, as your baby matures, to emphasize those things that will enable him to cope with his future. Don't forget love, discipline, understanding—and especially, don't forget the Church!

BETTER HEALTH
New fashions prove unhealthy

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ and DR. WILLIAM J. WELCH

It used to be a gut-squeezing girle, pushing up the diaphragm, creating the liver and compressing the intestines that gave fashionable women the vapors. Not to mention the thigh-binding panty girdles that cut across bulging varicose veins and caused ankles to swell, or worse.

But now it is the newly modish shoes on stilts that are sending men and women alike into emergency rooms with sprained ankles, cracks in the long bones of the feet and even an occasional broken leg bone caused by a loss of balance on inclines, slipping off curbstones or into unanticipated potholes.

The widely, to me inexplicably, fashionable platform shoes that raise their wearers up to seven inches off the ground are variously termed clogs, clunkers or uglies. Whatever you call them, they are a menace to their wearers, especially to men who have not had practice in wearing high heels since the 17th century, when the courtiers of Louis XIV hobbled around Versailles in fashionable agony on heels six inches high.

They may be a comfort to the "little guys" of the world to see how it feels to walk tall, but an additional four to six inches on a man already over six feet produces not only a freakish appearance, but a very good chance of hobbling on crutches for the three or four weeks it often takes for torn ankle ligaments to heal.

But fashions are fashions and, as one wag put it, if you insist on walking tall, walk slowly and don't forget to carry your Blue Cross card.

But, as if stilts were not bad enough, there is the back-to-nature crowd who, though living in the city, wear sandals that consist of little more than soles, or better yet, no shoes at all.

Bare, or nearly bare, feet are no problem on the beach or the soft ground of the countryside, but unprotected feet tire quickly on concrete and macadam surfaces. Besides, the risk of puncture wounds, glass cuts and abrasions is considerable, if city hospital accident-room records are any criteria—and they are.

Before I leave the subject of high fashion and health hazards, I would like to say a word about the skin-tight pants that both sexes favor these days. Aside from the irritation of the crotch, known to generations of young men as jock itch, there is a more serious problem seen in young women who wear such confining clothes. The incidence of urinary-tract infections has risen seriously because of the constricting pressure and irritation of the urethral orifice in young women.

If the actual architectural differences between men and women were taken into account, and if sanity instead of fashion ruled our trends, women would wear loosely tailored pajama pants and men, some variety of kilts.

One can hope that even fashion may some day arrive, however accidentally, at such a measure of common sense.

Students cop firsts at arts fair

THIS HOMEMADE rope by eighth-grader Ron Kuenzli (extreme left) took a first place award at the recent industrial arts fair held at West Branch. Receiving honorable mention were a rope maker made by Rick Hendrick (center) and a tie tack made by Melissa Eubank. Both are eighth grade students at Cass City.

THESE STUDENTS took first and second place honors in mechanical drawing at the industrial arts fair. Shown are (from the left) Dave Romig, Jerry Frederick, Louis Sabo, Bruce Tuckey and Sharon Cox.

Cass City will be well-represented in state competition following an impressive collection of firsts and seconds in the Regional Industrial Arts Fair held April 5 and 6 at Ogemaw Heights High School in West Branch.

Intermediate and high school students racked up eight first place awards, three seconds and numerous honorable mentions for achievements in woodworking, mechanical drawing and other crafts.

At the intermediate level, eighth-grader Ron Kuenzli took first place with a hand-made rope. Honorable mentions went to Rick Hendrick, eighth-grader, who constructed a rope-making machine, and to Melissa Eubank for a tie-tack. She is also an eighth-grader.

At the high school level, Ed Keating, Jim Bauer and Greg Decker received a first place award for a cut-away model of a house detailing frame and finished portions.

Another first for a similar project was taken by Kevin Coryell and Scott Guinther. Dan Lowe, a senior, took a second place for a hand-made bow.

In mechanical drawing, sophomore Dave Romig won a first place award in architectural drawing and Jerry Frederick, a junior, took first in mechanical drawing.

Senior Louis Sabo placed second in mechanical drawing and Bruce Tuckey, a junior, placed second in architectural drawing.

Sharon Cox, a senior, placed third in mechanical drawing.

The fair is sponsored annually by the Michigan Industrial Education Society and the Detroit News and is aimed at junior and senior high school students.

First and second place winners go on to compete in state-wide competition held during the annual M.I.E.S. convention April 25-27 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

HONORABLE MENTION

Numerous honorable mention ribbons were awarded to Cass City students at the fair.

In woodworking, these included: David Cooper, Ron O'Dell, Al Palazzola, Mark Neiman, Dan Lowe, Ronald Spaulding, Rick Doerr, Larry Hollis, Scott Hendrick and Tom Smentek.

Honorable mention awards in mechanical drawing went to: Robert Mitchell, Lori Stahlbaum, Louis Laming, Richard Lowe, Greg Mark, Steve Dolecki, Alan Crouse, Tim Muz, Dan Mellendorf, Colin Almas, Jerry Toner, Pat Dillon and Scott Reed.

Other honorable mention awards in mechanical drawing went to: Mark Neiman, Jim Warju, Todd Vandiver, Rick Doerr, Blaise Posluszny, Sandi Sheldon, Ken Kilbourn, Daryl Lapeer, Mike Gaszycynski and Dave Brooks.

Also awarded honorable mention in mechanical drawing were: Sally Loomis, Jeff Warner, Tom Marker, James McCampbell, Ed Doerr, Tim Vatter, Lois Field, Susan Prieskorn, John Pasanski, Jim Bauer, Vickie Richmond, Glenda Corl, Sandy Hartel, Wayne Brooks, Kiri Kendall, Diane Sefton and Bruce Tuckey.

Althaver thanks Cass Cityans for visit success

Citizens of the Cass City Area

Dear Friends:

I would like to express my appreciation to all of you for the friendly, eager and enthusiastic welcome extended to President Richard Nixon last week. As has already been said, the occasion was historic more than it was political and most citizens approached it in this fashion.

I would particularly like to thank those who quickly stepped forward to work on the project of preparing for the President and also those who wanted to help but were not able to get involved because of the short advance notice. Not only did many of you spend much time in preparations, but also many things that were needed were donated and, therefore, the total cost of our big day was kept to a minimum.

Those from Washington who assisted us in the preparations were very complimentary concerning our enthusiasm and our efficiency, and all of them indicated it had been a pleasure to work with the people of the Cass City area. Equally complimentary were citizens from other parts of Tuscola county who, while sorry not to have the opportunity to welcome the President to their communities, were very proud of the representation of Tuscola county by our area.

Again, thanks to each of you who participated in the welcome to the President, whether you were an active worker or an interested spectator.

L. E. Althaver
Village President

Korte says hospital layoffs necessary

Officials at Hills and Dales General Hospital replied last week to the controversy presently surrounding the facility where 14 persons lost their jobs in a budgetary squeeze.

The gist of the administrative position is that the hospital was over-staffed prior to the layoffs and only now is the facility operating near the staff sizes of comparable hospitals in the state.

Robert Korte, administrator at Caro Community Hospital, who is temporarily filling a quasi-administrative role at Hills and Dales, said the primary concern of the hospital board is to wipe out a large deficit.

Korte did not reveal the size of the deficit but said it is serious and may take as long as a year to remedy.

Presently, the 65-bed hospital employs 113 persons. This includes 18 Registered Nurses, nine Licensed Practical Nurses and 25 attendants, with the rest involved in dietary, housekeeping and other related areas.

Korte said the latest layoff was the only way the hospital could begin to reverse the trend toward deeper deficits. "We certainly couldn't cut supplies like oxygen, for instance," he said. "We couldn't say we can't pay the radiologist. We have to pay the vendors who supply us. This was the only way."

Korte commended the remaining employees and said he feels the majority understand the present economic conditions of the hospital.

STATISTICS

Korte said it is unfair to compare Hills and Dales with other Thumb hospitals, since not all are the same size or of the same physical layout.

He said a fairer comparison is to take the number of manhours per patient and compare that with similar-sized hospitals in the state. In a monthly report published by the Hospital Administrative Service (HAS), statistics show Hills and Dales running consistently higher in man-hours per patient than other facilities its size.

Under manhours per patient day, Hills and Dales shows 10.06 in its December report. This compares with 7.67 for the previous six months' average and 7.12 manhours per patient day at the state level.

Similarly, costs per patient day averaged $124.65 compared with $100.05 for the previous six months and $104.71 for comparable hospitals on a state-wide basis.

Korte said this situation could not continue if the hospital were to survive.

"That's our job right now... to keep this hospital running," Korte said. "If it comes down to choosing between a few jobs and the continuance of the hospital, I think the decision is obvious."

He explained that the hospital must maintain a 76.4 per cent occupancy rate to break even. While present patient loads approach this figure, recent months saw as few as 13 patients in the 65-bed facility.

"We have a $34,000 payroll to meet two times a month," Korte said. "Over a year, we just can't generate enough revenue to meet it."

He explained that with the recent layoff, the hospital can save $140,000 and cut some 24,900 manhours a year from work schedules.

Patient days for budgeting in 1973 totaled 964, compared with an average of 1,241 patient days for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1974. December was one of the lowest months for patients, with only 13 reported in one day of one week near Christmas.

The latest layoffs came on the heels of a series of recommendations by Dr. Vinod K. Sahney, assistant professor in the Department of Industrial Relations and Operations Research of Michigan State University.

Sahney has worked with the hospital board in recent months to devise an austerity plan for the facility.

In other area hospitals, Marlette Community Hospital operates 49 beds in its acute care section and 43 beds in its extended care section with 170 employees, according to administrative statistics.

Huron Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe declined to make available statistics on staff size.

HOSPITAL WON'T CLOSE

Korte stated emphatically that the hospital will not close. He said recent board actions have begun to reverse the trend and added that once present labor negotiations are out of the way, even more progress can be made.

"We must avoid a strike," Korte said. "We don't want that. I hope the employees don't want it either. If they do, then we're in trouble."

Korte blamed the present conditions on rising costs that went unchecked for too many years. He said the blame can't be put on anyone.

"Things just got out of control," he said.

Korte agreed that more doctors which would increase the number of admissions at Hills and Dales, is one long-term solution.

For the immediate future, however, strict budgeting is the key, he said. He also said a wage increase to union personnel at this time would not be in the best interests of the hospital in light of the deficit.

Letters to the Editor

Nurses decry hospital situation

April 15, 1974

Mr. John Haire, Editor
Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Mich. 48726

Dear Editor,

In response to comments made by the hospital Board of Trustees we feel it is only proper the community be given more of the facts and not just those which are positive.

Anytime you reduce the number of nursing staff employees, alterations in patient care must be made. At the present time the hospital census is at a record high and with the layoffs in nursing it is impossible to provide adequate patient care.

Stating we are OVER-STAFFED is not entirely true since the statistics were compiled from a month when our census was very low. When a low census occurs, it has been past practice for nursing employees to take extra days off.

Up to the present time, Hills and Dales has been known as a leader in nursing trends and for its excellent individualized nursing care. This was due to our Nursing Directors having strived and recruited earnestly to increase the number of professional nurses. Now, nine of these professional nurses have been laid off and are seeking employment elsewhere. We are being forced to give reduced patient care and to join the ranks of other hospitals in which you are not treated as a person but as a thing.

Mr. Korte, acting Administrator, is insistent that it must be this way or the hospital will have to close due to financial failure. He does not have to give this poor care, go to bed with sore legs, and live with utter frustration of defeat.

This situation is disheartening and could have been avoided with proper management and the Board of Trustees allowing an administrator to administrate. The old saying of the hospital board "We didn't know" won't hold water with us because we know better. Due to unqualified and/or uninterested board members, nursing care is having to suffer and the community in turn is suffering.

Signed
The Professional Nursing Staff of Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Dear Sir:

Our annual campaign is at a conclusion. We feel it has been a successful drive: services to handicapped people throughout the Thumb will continue uninterrupted during the coming year.

The coverage that Cass City Chronicle gave is largely responsible for the generous response of the citizens of the Thumb.

On behalf of our Board of Directors, our staff, and myself, I want to extend our sincere appreciation for your support. Thank you.

Keep hems spotless

Those swirly, mid-length skirts and dresses swirling around town these days are the latest in the up-and-down hemline story.

They're also the latest in clothing care dilemmas. Should spots and stains on new non-washable, longer hemlines become a problem, they can be removed with K2R Spot-Lifter. Just spray on, allow to dry, and brush the stain away.

Occasionally the world blazes with genius, but the flickers are innumerable.

Trustee salutes Cass Cityans

To The Editor:

I wish to extend my appreciation to the many men, women, and students who worked so diligently on preparations for the Presidential visit to Cass City.

The committee heads who gave up their evenings and week end to attend planning meetings as well as supervising the work of their various committees are to be commended.

Tom Herron and his crew, who spent several hours of their time on this project away from their regular work, and Lou LaPonsie and his village crew for the extra hours spent on the project did a fine job.

Chief Gene Wilson, Lt. W. Johnson, Sheriff Hugh Marr and all the officers from throughout the state for an assignment well done.

Finally, a special thanks to the citizens of Cass City and Tuscola county for making the Presidential visit to Cass City the warmest reception of any of the stops.

This event is something that perhaps will never again happen to our village and everyone will remember it for years to come.

Bill Bliss Jr.

Funeral Home, Sebawaing, with burial in Silverlawn cemetery, Sebawaing.

KINGSTON ACCIDENT

A heart attack which eventually led to his death is blamed by State Police from the Caro Post for causing an accident involving a car driven by James Driscoll, 66, of 3468 Elm St., Kingston, Thursday.

Police said Driscoll apparently had the attack as he backed out of a driveway and drove into a ditch. At the time, he told police he did not know how he went into the ditch after driving about 100 feet.

Police said he was taken to Caro Community hospital where he died the same day. The mishap took place at 6:40 a.m.

Also Thursday, a car driven by Harold Wesley Crawford, 55, of Shabbona Rd., Deford, went out of control and landed in a ditch on Shabbona Road a half mile east of Cemetery Road.

State Police who investigated said Crawford was traveling east on Shabbona Road when a dog crossed in front of the car from the south. Crawford told officers he swerved to avoid striking the animal and went into the ditch. He was not injured.

The accident took place at 1:30 p.m.

In another Thursday mishap, cars driven by Charles H. Simon, 64, of 6634 Denhoff Rd., Kingston, and Marlene Louks, 26, of 1623 Boy Scout Rd., Caro, collided on M-46 at the M-15 intersection.

State Police who investigated the accident said both cars were traveling west on M-46 and stopped at M-15. The Louks auto started up and then stopped abruptly and the Simon vehicle struck it in the rear. Simon was cited for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead. The accident took place at 10:15 a.m.

CASS CITY ACCIDENTS

Cass City Police reported two traffic accidents, neither serious.

Wednesday, cars driven by Roger L. Carle, 39, of Bourbon, Ind., and William Samuel Graham, of 1760 S. Wireline Rd., Caro, collided at the intersection of Oak and Garfield Streets.

Cass City Police said the Carle vehicle stopped for the sign at the intersection as it traveled south on Oak Street. Police said the Graham auto pulled up too close to the Carle vehicle and the right rear tire hit the left front fender of the Carle vehicle.

No ticket was issued. The accident took place at 2:10 p.m.

Sunday, cars driven by Marion Thomas of Detroit and William Duane Chippi, 18, of 4607 Huron St., collided at the Pine and Woodland Street intersection.

Cass City Police said Chippi turned east off Woodland onto Pine and struck the Thomas vehicle in the rear end. He was ticketed for failure to stop in a safe distance ahead. The accident took place at 2:10 a.m.

Two other accidents were also reported Sunday.

At 12:45 p.m., a car driven by Leonard Damm, 75, of 4343 Seeger St., collided with a pickup truck driven by Donald Warack, 17, of Sebawaing at the intersection of Sebawaing and Risky Roads.

State Police from the Bad Axe Post who investigated said Warack was northbound on Risky Road and stopped at the Sebawaing Road intersection. He then proceeded into the intersection and collided with the westbound Damm vehicle.

Damm's wife, Laura, 73, sustained cuts and abrasions and sought her own medical treatment.

Two other passengers in the Damm auto escaped injury. They are Shirley Johnston, 46, and Cathy Johnston, 17, both of Cass City.

Warack was alone in his vehicle at the time of the mishap.

He was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way.

At 1:15 a.m. Sunday, a car driven by Frank Preba, 43, of 6311 Bay City-Forestville Rd., went out of control and landed in a ditch on Atwater Road, about two miles west of Uby.

Huron County Sheriff's deputies who investigated reported Preba's wife, Betty, 34, the only other passenger in the car, received cuts and bruises.

The report said the westbound car skidded 465 feet before landing in a ditch on the south side of the road. The driver escaped injury.

NEWS FROM District Court

Randy Earl Parker of Decker in the village of Cass City was ticketed for drag racing. He paid fine and costs of $75.

Kenneth Earl Nicholas of Cass City in Elmwood township was ticketed for having studded tires on his vehicle past due date for removal. He paid fine and costs of $10.

George Grant Hartman of Gagetown in Almer township was ticketed for driving with studded tires after date of removal requirement. He paid fine and costs of $10.

James Thomas Burk of Cass City in Almer township was ticketed for driving with studded snow tires after date of removal. He paid fine and costs of $10.

David Paul Field of Deford in Cass City was ticketed for excessive noise (mufflers). He paid fine and costs of $15.

Arthur Jay Pratt of Deford in the city of Vassar was ticketed for speeding (radar) 40 mph in a 25 mile zone. He paid fine and costs of $30.

Charles Lake, Deford, pleaded guilty to malicious destruction charges when he appeared in Tuscola County District Court Monday. Sentencing was set for April 24.

Charles Omer McLaughlin of Kingston in Koylton township was ticketed for failure to display registration plates. He paid fine and costs of $10.

Linda Suzan Boyle of Kingston in Vassar township was ticketed for speeding 65 miles in a 35 mile zone, former 65 mile zone. She paid fine and costs of $20.

Sanford denies transfer rumors

Owendale-Gagetown School Supt. Glenn Sanford denied rumors last week that the board of education has tacitly agreed to allow withdrawal of property owners from the district who are petitioning to come to Cass City if the June 10 annexation vote to Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port fails.

Sanford said no policy, written or unwritten, has been formulated by the board or himself regarding the future of the district after the vote.

"Talk is cheap," Sanford commented Friday. "This would be only one of many alternatives the board could discuss after the election if the split vote fails. But no, there is no policy, written or unwritten, to any effect."

Sanford said he was aware of the rumors and added he is working to stop them.

Withdrawing its opposition to the property transfers would be a complete reversal of established board policy which is based on the premise that such transfers are not in the best interests of all the children of the district.

The board has taken a similar position involving some 42 property owners on the northern fringe of the district who are petitioning to transfer to the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port school district.

Rev. Hull named to Who's Who

Rev. Wilton Hull, pastor of Cass City Missionary Church, has been named to Who's Who in Indiana for 1973. He was chosen for his outstanding contributions in the ministry and community within Indiana.

The Hulls moved to Cass City in July, 1973. He was assistant pastor 1967-69 at Evangelical Mennonite Church of Ft. Wayne, Ind. From 1969-1973, he was in charge of the Lafayette Gospel Center in Lafayette, Ind. He is a graduate of Ft. Wayne Bible College, graduating in 1969.

Police probe Kingston death

State Police from the Caro Post are continuing to investigate the death of an 18-year-old Kingston man whose body was found sprawled on the front seat of his idling automobile Saturday morning on M-46.

Richard W. Marquardt of White Creek Road was found dead in his car at 9:20 a.m. by a passing motorist, who noticed the engine of the parked car running. The motorist, Roger Dibble of Caro, told police he tried to revive him but failed.

An autopsy showed Marquardt did not die of carbon monoxide poisoning, but had apparently passed out, threw up and choked to death. Police said no evidence of foul play has been found.

Police said they have no idea how long Marquardt lay in the auto before he was discovered. The discovery was made just west of Kingston.

Marquardt was born Aug. 3, 1955, in Marlette and was a 1973 graduate of Kingston High School. He was employed by Saginaw Steering Gear.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Marquardt; five sisters, Mrs. Larry (Dianna) Wilcox of Marlette, and Deborah, Darlene, Drenda and Della Marquardt, all of Kingston, and six brothers, David, Daniel, Dale, Durrell, Darryl and Darin, all of Kingston.

Funeral services were scheduled for Wednesday in Kingston Methodist Church with Rev. Joel W. Hurley, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Siple cemetery, Koylton township.

Youth present play at Novesta Church Sunday

Ninety persons attended the Easter Sunrise service in the Novesta Church of Christ, which was followed by a continental breakfast. Youth of the church were in charge of the service and presented a play.

Participating were Richard Lowe as Thomas; Brenda Little as Deborah; Sandra Hartel as Mary Magdalene; Scott Hartel as Joshua; Skip Speirs as Amos; David Speirs as Jude; Dean Little as Jonas, and Dennis Nye as John.

Miss Carol Little was in charge of music and Alan Pratt led the singing. Lisa Ware and Suzanne Little sang a duet.

Two hundred people attended the 11 a.m. worship service and 100 attended the evening service when a film, "The Man of Steel", was shown.

Hub caps stolen

Cass City Police reported two hubcaps stolen from a vehicle driven by Louis Zebari of Detroit Saturday. Zebari reported the hubcaps missing Saturday night. The car had been parked in several area locations and Zebari told police he had no idea when the theft occurred.

Accidents don't just happen—they're the results of traffic mistakes we all make every day.

School's spring sports swing into high gear

Hawk nine top threat for Thumb B league crown

Cass City will be favored to successfully defend its Thumb B Conference baseball title this spring and is prepared to make a strong defense of its district toga in the State tournament.

But tough challenges loom from all sides. Coach Fred Hurlburt reports, as the league this year promises to be as strong as it's been in recent years.

Tops among the challengers will be the Caro Tigers with some strong returning lettermen, bulked by an undefeated Junior Varsity team from two years ago.

Vassar will be tough, too, says Hurlburt. In fact, mention just about any team and Hurlburt comes through loud and clear. . . there are no patsies.

Cass City has a couple of problems. One is the loss of Gene Salas at shortstop and the other is the loss of Kip Hopper behind the plate. Both all-stars, they leave big holes.

But there is plenty of punch left. Shifting over to fill the gap at shortstop is Scott Hartel. Hartel, who will be earning his fourth letter in baseball, moves to shortstop from third.

Taking his place at the hot corner is Chuck Bliss, a right fielder last season.

A key to the season, Hurlburt believes, will be how Dave Romig handles the catching chores in place of Hopper. If he does the job, Cass City should roll.

The right side of the infield is in capable hands. Pete Frederick, a good fielder and a solid stickler, is at second. Holding down the initial sack after the opener will be Don Galbraith. Galbraith will be starting his third year as a regular.

He hits the long ball and Hawks fans are hoping that he hits it more consistently this season.

In the outfield Dan Mellendorf is a fixture. He's one of the best hitters on the team. Scott Guinther will anchor center field while Chester Sieradzki has the edge in right.

The mound brigade will be anchored by Jerry Toner, an all-star last year as a Sophomore. Toner is as good as there is in the Thumb.

Behind him will be Galbraith, a southpaw, and Bliss. Brad Goslin, who came to the Hawks from Owen-Gage throws the ball hard and could be a regular pitcher.

Hartel is available for short relief.

Hurlburt has yet to see Goslin or Frank Stapleton, another Owen-Gage transfer in action. Stapleton is ticketed for infield duty.

Another outfielder that shows promise is Steve Dolecki.

The schedule:

- April 16 USA, home
- 18 Lakers, away
- 25 Caro, home
- 30 Bad Axe, away
- May 2 Frankenmuth, away
- 4 County tournament
- 7 Sandusky, home

CHESTER DORLAND MEMORIAL

Second row: Russ Schweikart, Frank Stapleton, Scott Guinther, Chester Sieradzki, Steve Dolecki.

Last row: Jerry Toner, Brad Goslin, Don Galbraith, Scott Hartel, Chuck Bliss and Coach Fred Hurlburt.

Everyone seen chasing Vassar on eve of new track season

Although Cass City is not apt to field any record breakers this spring, look for the Hawk thinclads to give a good account for themselves as the track season unfolds.

Coach Dale McIntosh in his first year at the varsity helm says that there are plenty of good performers among his charges. Our depth is probably our greatest asset this season, he says.

Much will depend on the performances of underclassmen who have moved up to replace some of the thinclads lost through graduation.

Heading the list of graduates is Curt Strickland, a premier miler and captain of last year's squad. Gone are Kip Hopper, middle distance man, and Drew Guernsey, long jumper.

Dave Luana, sprinter, graduated as did Tim Stickle and Steve Selby. Cass City's one, two punch in the two-mile.

There are letterwinners back. Ed Stoutenburg in the hurdles and Roy Pierce and Dallas Englehart in the 440. Skip Speirs lettered in half mile and Steve Schneeberger is counted on in the mile. Randy Newsome won a letter as a shot putter. Two other letter winners were Ed Newsome, sprinter, and Charles Tuckey, half mile.

McIntosh is also looking to several two-sport players for help this spring. Included are Dan Mellendorf in the pole vault and sprints; Chester Sieradzki, high jump, and Chuck Bliss, high jump.

Other boys playing baseball and track are Mark Neiman, Jeff Warner, Blain Eubank and Blaise Postuszny.

When it comes to the Thumb B Conference there is only one name on the top of everyone's list: Vassar. The defending conference champions are loaded again this year and will be the odds-on favorite to repeat.

Ranking behind Vassar is Frankenmuth, with the rest of the teams figured to be a notch behind in pre-season estimates.

The schedule:

- April 20 St. Louis Relays at St. Louis
- 22 Lakers Home 4:30
- 24 Caro Away 4:30
- 27 Chip Relays at Central Mich. Univ. 10:00 a.m.

Gen-Tel sponsors bike program

General Telephone is sponsoring its second annual bicycle safety program in communities throughout its statewide operating area, according to Judd Perkins, director of public affairs for the company.

The company is supplying elementary schools and service clubs with safety materials for distribution in May, designated "Bicycle Safety Month".

The company has offered elementary schools and service clubs "bicycle safety kits" which include posters, safety-related puzzle sheets, bicycle "drivers licenses," and reflectorized safety stickers.

The kits are designed for use in the classroom or for a community "Bicycle Safety Day".

The company already has requests for more than 3300 kits, each containing enough material for 25 bicyclists, Perkins said.

Injury, property damage accidents down—Sheriff

The number of injury accidents, property damage accidents and persons injured continued to decline in the first three months of 1974, according to figures released this week by Tuscola County Sheriff Hugh Marr.

The report shows 46 persons have been injured in traffic mishaps for the first three months of 1974, compared with 59 for the same period in 1973. Total damage accidents so far this year stand at 142, down two from the same period last year.

These figures cover only those cases handled by the Sheriff's department and do not include accidents handled by the Michigan State Police from the Caro Post.

In March, no fatal accidents were recorded, and at the end of the month, 56 persons had been injured in traffic accidents, down from 88 in the same period last year.

The sheriff's department answered 67 complaints in Elkland township in March, third highest in the county and exceeded only by Indian-fields with 192 and Vassar township with 85.

The department received total of 1,035 calls in March up from 960 in February. Patrol units traveled 40,520 miles and used 3,168.3 gallons of gasoline.

Among other department activities during the month Sheriff Marr attended the Sheriff's Convention in Gaylord March 13, and a dinner welcoming the State Police Post to Caro March 25.

Sgt. Larry Walker and Deputy Thomas Kern gave lecture on drugs at the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Vassar March 30.
