

Tuscola rock fest — week end of wine and hard rock

By Jim Ketchum

"Let's hear it for Earl Scott and Hard Times," the drummer in the band shouted into the microphone as a cheer went up from the crowd scattered along the grass-covered hillside.

The drummer, dressed in cutoffs and a sleeveless white tee-shirt, led the crowd's approval for Scott, the band and the event. Tuscola county's first open-air rock festival in its history was just beginning to roll.

All day Saturday, people in cars, campers, pickups, motorcycles and on foot streamed into the Meadow-brook Trout Ranch four miles east of Caro.

"Like man, it's gonna cost you five bucks to get in," the bearded man, dressed in faded blue jeans and jacket told this reporter at the entrance. When informed that this was the press, he waved his hand in a long sweep and said, "Be cool man. Go on in."

As evening approached, parking started coming at a premium, with cars jamming the one-lane dirt trail that led a half-mile or more to the site of the rock fest itself.

Earl Scott, promoter of the festival, a man who just two days before worked to prevent a Circuit Court injunction blocking the event, ran back and forth directing parking and searching in vain for more space to put autos.

"Man, if I don't find some place to put these cars, I'm gonna have 'em backed up on 81 clear to Caro," Scott lamented as he shouted orders to push a car out of the way in a voice growing steadily more hoarse.

"Bring me that pint of whiskey," he croaked to a girl 50 yards away. "Of course I want to drink it. What do you think I want to do, wash my feet in it?" he said and turned to leave.

"Hey man, like I need a favor," a young, long-haired man said, approaching Scott.

"Like what?" Scott asked.

"Like I need a $20 bill to pay a man who bailed me out of jail one time," he said.

"Man, I haven't got a bill on me," Scott said, turning to leave.

For those already inside, however, cars, parking and money were the least of their concerns. Nearly 1,000 had gathered, many pitching tents and starting campfires.

Smoke filtered sweetly over the scene as the rock band belted out another tune. As the drums pounded and guitars wailed, the crowd listened, mingled with each other and occasionally joined in rhythmic clapping.

Scattered among the audience, someone would tip a green bottle of wine to his lips, while others wandered about with plastic gallon jugs filled with beer.

"There's a man from Cass City," someone shouted, greeted by a return shout and wave from across the way.

Small groups formed around a blanket, sharing something resembling a joint, filling the air with pungent fume.

Other couples lay close to each other on blankets, oblivious to the music, beer, wine and the rest.

A motorcycle group, the Devil's Disciples, dressed in blue jean costumes complete with swastika armbands, filtered in and out, saying little.

"They're all just having a good time," one man commented who declined to be identified. "That's the whole point—if they can come and have a good time without hurting anybody, then it's a good thing."

He said the promotion group, Hard Times Inc., has arranged to schedule rock fests on the property at least once a month for the summer. Leases have been signed with Meadowbrook Trout Ranch owners, he said.

The rock fest took on a carnival-like atmosphere as brightly-colored tents sprang up, along with concession stands, portable toilets placed by court order, and a myriad of costumes worn by patrons.

"These people are just going to break off into small groups and party a little and have a good time," one man said. "That's all that's going to happen."

About a dozen bands were scheduled to play through Saturday night.

"Hey, people, we really gotta split," the drummer in the band said into the microphone, as he proceeded to execute a couple of somersaults and a back flip off the platform, into the crowd and back to his drums, to the delighted approval of the crowd. He finished his act with a drumroll flourish, which died in echoes from the woods across the swollen Cass River.

Meanwhile, more cars, more campers, more wine and song continued to wind their way into the rock fest.

"Here's to Hard Times," someone said, tipping a bottle of Ripple Wine skyward.

Hard rock had come to Tuscola county.

Finalize Memorial Day plans

Final touches are being put on preparations for this year's Memorial Day Parade, scheduled Monday in Cass City beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Participants will assemble on West Street north of Main between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m. The parade will take its usual course along Main and end at Elkland cemetery.

Scheduled to participate in this year's parade are the American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, Cass City High School Band, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, the Little League, Pre-school Nursery, local 4-H Horse Clubs and the Elkland Township Fire Department.

Bicyclists are also welcome to participate, according to parade coordinator Nat Tuttle. Bikes may be decorated and enter the parade that morning.

Jack Esau will be master of ceremonies at cemetery services.

Rev. Lloyd Streeter of First Baptist Church will be the main speaker at cemetery ceremonies.

Soft drinks at the cemetery for parade participants will be provided by the township.

Week-end rock fest free of trouble, promoters, police say

Tuscola county's first outdoor rock fest in history and, so far at least, neither the organizers nor law enforcement authorities seem dissatisfied with the way things went.

A crowd of about 2,500 jammed the Meadowbrook Trout Ranch four miles east of Caro to hear 13 rock bands blast their way through Saturday night and into Sunday while State Police, Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies and local police stood by.

The rock fest went on under court guidelines setting ground rules for the organizing group, Hard Times, Inc., to follow. Crowd size was not to exceed 3,000, no pollution was to be dumped in the Cass River, 24 portable toilet facilities were to be available and no alcoholic beverages were to be sold on the premises.

Police agencies reported little trouble, the worst apparently involving traffic in and out of the area.

State Police from the Caro Post reported two minor accidents involving parked cars, along with a larceny of a tape player.

Police said they also received numerous reports from neighbors in the area regarding noise.

Tuscola County Sheriff Hugh Marr would not comment, other than to say traffic was a problem.

County Prosecutor George Holmes said Tuesday afternoon his office has not taken any action against Hard Times, Inc., pending reports from area police due to be submitted by Thursday.

Until then, he said, he could not comment.

"I have three police agencies plus the health department working on the reports and until they come in, I really can't comment," Holmes said Tuesday.

He said he was aware that Hard Times has reportedly leased the trout ranch for a rock fest at least once a month during the summer, but declined to comment on his reaction.

"We don't know positively if that's so and until we do, I just can't comment," Holmes said. "I don't act on rumor."

Specifically, Holmes' investigation centers on possible violations of Judge James P. Churchill's order.

Earl Scott, promoter, said Tuesday he and Hard Times fully complied with every aspect of the court order and added health department officials complimented the group on the job they did.

"They (law enforcement officials) keep trying to nail me," Scott said, "but every time I end up not guilty."

He said he felt Prosecutor Holmes' tactics could be questioned in seeking to stop the rock fest two days before it was scheduled to begin. He denied a quote in an area newspaper that the rock fest was planned without warning.

"We've been working with the health department on this since April 14, and this seems like plenty of time to me," Scott said.

Scott explained that he and Hard Times have been putting on rock fests in the area indoors since January and that he has never had any trouble. He added that not so much as a fight has ever erupted at one of the group's gatherings.

The promoter said he was satisfied with the way things went at Meadowbrook Trout

Sanilac girl killed in Friday tractor mishap

A four-year-old rural Ubyly girl died early Friday afternoon from injuries sustained in a farm tractor accident in Greenleaf township, Sanilac county.

Suzanne Lanette Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brown of Cumber Road, was mangled to death when a piece of her clothing became tangled in a power take off of a tractor attached to a manure spreader.

Sanilac County Sheriff's deputies who investigated said the incident occurred at 12:45 p.m.

Deputies reported an employee of Brown's, Delbert Wright of Cumber Road, had just repaired a farm implement and had attached the tractor to a manure spreader while the little girl watched.

He told deputies he walked a few feet from the tractor, which was running, to retrieve a jacket. He said he heard the power take off engage, followed by the girl's screams.

Medical examiner Dr. Donald McNeil of Sandusky pronounced the girl dead at the scene.

Her father was reportedly not at home at the time of the accident.

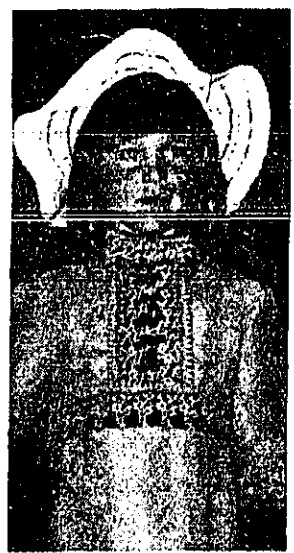

Suzanne was born Sept. 3, 1969, in Cass City.

She attended Holbrook Baptist Sunday School and was on the church's cradle roll.

She is survived by her parents; two sisters, Lorie and Lisa, and two brothers, Kenneth and Timothy, all at home; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lowe of Snover, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown of Cass City.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the Holbrook Baptist Church with Rev. Milton Golatt, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Elkland cemetery.

Tornado, torrential rains lash area Thursday night

Severe thunderstorms, marked by a reported tornado, lashed the Cass City and tri-county area late Thursday night, dumping early two inches of rain and aving uprooted trees, downed power lines, damaged house trailers, and a flattened barn in its wake.

A tornado warning was sounded in Cass City at 10:30 p.m., following a sifting west of Cass City. The twister reportedly passed north of the village and touched down on Ritter Road just east of M-53 in Greenleaf township.

The storm moved a 12 by 60 foot house trailer nearly a foot off its foundation and caused considerable damage to skirting and underpinning. The trailer is owned by Larry Cooper of 6433 Ritter Rd. He and his wife, Sandra and their six children were not injured.

Nearby, three large trees were uprooted.

A barn belonging to Harold Polega of 6400 Bay City-Forestville Rd., was flattened, killing one steer and a number of chickens. Mrs. Polega said the barn went down around 10:30 p.m. High winds also caused some damage to the front of their home.

A nearby garage was also destroyed, along with a General Telephone phone booth which was toppled at the corner of M-53 and Bay City-Forestville Road.

A tractor was also damaged in the Polega barn, along with considerable straw.

Mrs. Polega did not place a dollar-loss on the structure.

High winds also uprooted two tall trees at the Sylvester Pinkoski home on Gage Street in Gagetown. One tree came within inches of crashing on the house, held away by another tree which prevented disaster.

Wastewater Treatment Plant Superintendent Nelson Willy reported 1.93 inches of rain fell Thursday night in Cass City. The Cass River continued to rise during the day Friday and at 7:00 a.m. stood at 9.0 feet, some three feet higher than Thursday's 7:00 a.m. reading.

By 4:00 p.m. Friday, the river stood at 12.15 feet, one foot above flood warning stage. The river reportedly crested some four hours later at about 13 feet.

Willy said Thursday night the plant handled 150,000 additional gallons of wastewater, fed mostly by surface runoff through manhole covers and eaves troughs, for example.

The next day, additional water came through the plant from infiltration through a defective sanitary sewer line.

Generally, utility crews were spared a massive repair job. Hardest hit was General Telephone's Harbor Beach installation in Sanilac county where the central office was knocked out of service from midnight to 3:00 a.m.

All telephone service in Harbor Beach was interrupted for the three-hour period, according to General Telephone Customer Relations Director Jim Courtney. In the Cass City area, however, Courtney said little trouble was reported, aside from the few service lines from poles to houses.

Most of the company's cables are underground, he said, accounting for little reported damage.

Detroit Edison also reported few problems. A spokesman said the company received 58 reports of trouble during the storm, compared with an average of 100 or more under similar conditions.

Some interruption of service was reported in the Gagetown area, along with scattered power failures in the Millington and Unionville areas. The company said it was not possible to determine how many customers were affected.

Officials at Thumb Electric Co-operative at Ubyly reported less than 50 individual reports of power loss as a result of the storm. Field engineer Clayton Bensinger said reports of power failures were scattered widely throughout the company's service area and all service was restored by 9:30 the following morning.

Crews worked through the night repairing downed power lines.

A barn belonging to Olin Bouck located on Ritter Road, a mile south of Bay City-Forestville Road, was destroyed by high winds Thursday night shortly before 11:00 p.m.

No cattle were inside the structure at the time, but damage to farm machinery, owned by Bouck's son, Roger, amounted to about $2,000.

The barn, according to Mrs. Bouck, was partly insured.

FIRE

A fire, reportedly started by lightning, damaged the attic and upper floor of the Harold Ballagh home at 8977

N. VanDyke around midnight Thursday.

Elkland Township Fire Chief Dick Root said the blaze was confined to the upper portion of the house, damaging the roof and interior paneling. He said lightning struck near the chimney, setting the fire.

Smoke and water damage was estimated at $8,000. No one was injured. The fire was reportedly spotted by a neighbor who telephoned the fire department.

Root said many persons were confused by the number of fire sirens Thursday night. He explained that one long, steady blast for two minutes signals a tornado warning and residents should take cover immediately.

A tornado warning was sounded at 10:30 p.m. Thursday. Root said an all clear signal is three short blasts.

HIGH WINDS demolished a 30 by 70 foot barn belonging to Harold Polega located on Bay City-Forestville Road east of M-53. Lost were a steer, 200 chickens and several ducks. Machinery stored in the barn was also damaged when the building collapsed.

A HUGE TREE located at the edge of the Sylvester Pinkoski property in Gagetown was toppled by high winds Thursday night. Another tree on the property was uprooted and missed crashing into the house by inches.

Mrs. John Mergl

St. John's Catholic Church, Ubyly, was the setting for the wedding of Susan Rumpitz and John Mergl, Saturday, May 11. Rev. Fr. Ben Skornia officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rumpitz of Ubyly. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hafner of East Detroit.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a white floor-length gown of silk organza, fashioned with a high neckline, Empire bodice and a semi-sheer bishop sleeve. The bodice was adorned with chantilly lace and delicately accented at the neck and cuffs with orchid satin ribbon. The hem of the A-line, skimmer skirt was accented with chantilly lace.

The cathedral-length veil was edged with chantilly lace with scattered lace appliques and was secured to a camelot band headpiece.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis accented with purple statice.

Matron of honor was Linda Tiltung. Bridesmaids were Ginny Bukowski and Linda Holdwick. Junior bridesmaid was Karen Kindl.

Attendants chose floor-length gowns of orchid polyester knit, fashioned with a high neckline, halter styled bodice and A-line skirts. Long-sleeved bolero jackets with ruffled edge in matching orchid polyester further complimented the gowns.

Flowers were designed bouquets attached to a wicker umbrella of white carnations, purple statice, baby's breath and accented with long showers of purple streamers.

Flower girl was Cindy Jackson, who wore a gown matching the matron-of-honor. She carried a small miniature wicker basket of flowers identical to the adult girls'.

Best man was Tony Tiltung. Ushers were Mike Rumpitz, and Fred Kindl. Junior usher was Steve Jackson and ring bearer was Darrell Grifka.

The bride's mother chose a floor-length yellow and white A-line gown. She wore a shoulder corsage of fawn-colored cymbidiums designed to compliment the neckline.

The bridegroom's mother chose a floor-length pink chiffon gown with a shoulder corsage of fawn-colored cymbidiums.

A reception for 400 guests was held at the Pigeon VFW Hall.

Out of town guests came from California, New York, Illinois, Canada, as well as Lake Orion, Detroit, Elkton and Bad Axe.

The bride chose a red and white checkered halter dress as a going-away dress. After a one-week wedding trip to Las Vegas, the couple will reside in Warren.

Cass City Intermediate School officials inadvertently omitted the name of Renee Erla from the sixth-grade honor roll as published last week.

"If It Fitz . . ." The chastity-belt race

BY JIM FITZGERALD

At the next convention of the Keepers of Community Morals, there should be a close contest between Detroit and Almont as to which city should be awarded the Golden Chastity Belt for best suppression of sex and skin.

The belts, more commonly known as the Storks, are annually awarded to those moral keepers whose performances have best exemplified the organization's slogan: "God wouldn't have made closets if He didn't want you to undress in them."

At first, it appeared Detroit was a shoo-in for the movie Stork. A judge there ordered 6 theatres closed for showing pornographic films. These are the type of un-American movies that, in the clean old days, you couldn't see unless you belonged to the American Legion. Feebly movies were the main attraction at many stag parties thrown by the Legion, VFW, Eagles and similar organizations. I attended one once where the projector was run by a judge. The bartender was the chief of police.

But it is one thing to show these dirty pictures to civic leaders in the Legion basement. And it is a completely different thing to show them in regular theatres downtown where any bum can buy a ticket. A civilized society must be cautious about which minds it allows to become contaminated. You let a dumb kid learn a few curse words and the next thing you know he wants to be President.

A lot of people protested the porno closings, of course. They yelped the usual stuff about the films being for adults only, no one is forced to attend, different strokes for different folks, and is this a free country or isn't it? They even quoted some scientific studies showing that sexy movies can have a therapeutic effect on dirty old men. But the judge stood firm and the theatres were padlocked while passing neighbors applauded under torchlight (they were on their way to the library).

You are probably wondering how Almont, a tiny town 60 miles north, could possibly compete with Detroit in the Stork race. Now hear this: 6 English teachers had arranged for Almont students, grades 7 through 12, to see Franco Zeffirelli's production of "Romeo and Juliet," written by some guy named Shakespeare. Parents had been duped into giving their permission and the school board apparently wasn't paying attention in class. Fortunately, a Baptist minister alerted the town in time. He pointed out that the movie has a PG rating (parental guidance suggested). The PG had apparently been stamped on Juliet's breast, shockingly bared in 1 scene (Who does she think she is, Zsa Zsa Gabor on the Johnny Carson show?).

The school board quickly overruled the teachers. Almont students are now forbidden to see any and all PG movies on school time. Thus they have been spared the traumatic experience of learning that perhaps Romeo and Juliet got undressed before they went to bed. Now they don't have to worry about seeing anything in class except those healthy cartoons where cute animals and nice people keep smashing each other's heads into each other's shoes.

So which town, Detroit or Almont, should be awarded the Golden Chastity Belt? Don't write to me. It's a decision that must be made by the Keepers of Community Morals Organization. I tried to join once but I was black-balled. The membership committee ruled that the only reason I want to keep other people's morals is because I don't have any of my own. Onward and Upward.

Preparations under way for bike trip

Final preparations are underway for this year's European Bike Trip, sponsored by Youth for Christ. Riders will cover 400 miles by bicycle and 1,500 miles by bus.

The trip, planned from July 29 through Aug. 20, will stop at Geneva, Switzerland, Paris, and the Mediterranean, as well as scaling Mont Blanc. Thirty high school students have signed up to date for the trip.

Persons interested in taking the trip should contact Youth for Christ at 635-7511 before May 30.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

Here it is almost the end of May and would you believe that I haven't been north of Pinconning yet.

I keep telling myself that it's not a sign of age. That my interest in fishing and the north has declined in a direct ratio to the number of golf holes I play.

I keep telling myself that the reason that I haven't been to the AuSable or the Pine or the Black or the Jordan rivers is that the weather has been so confounded miserable this spring.

And there would be truth in all of this. But not the whole truth. Ten years ago I would have been fishing at least three times by now, perhaps more.

Now I check the weather when the only thing I used to check would be my fishing gear.

Now I want someone to be sure to be available to go along. Before I hoped someone would go, but I was prepared and sometimes did take off with just the radio for company.

On days like today I ask myself why haven't I been up north. Today the sun is shining, the temperature is in the high 60's and you feel like shouting, "Michigan, my Michigan," again.

But it takes a day like today

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire
(And anyone else he can get to help)

The story run in the Chronicle last week about the Rock festival evidently didn't do anything to hurt attendance. After the paper hit the streets bright and early Thursday morning the Chronicle received a half dozen calls asking where tickets were on sale.

None of the callers left a name.

You can now buy gas on Sunday in Cass City. At least you could last week. The last time I filled up someone washed the windows without being asked.

Traffic is beginning to speed up again. A month ago 55 miles per hour kept you abreast to most of the cars. Today you're impeding traffic at the new legal limit.

Only oil company profits and the price of a gallon remain to remind us of the gas crisis.

Before you know it someone will be handing out trading stamps again.

I paid Lee Hartel off and so did many of his co-workers at Walbro. Each of us put up $5 that Lee couldn't bike it to Oscoda within 24 hours. Saturday he did it.

He won around $100. The 40-year-old said that he would have willingly given up the money by the time he reached Bay City. . . . only the thought of facing his friends spurred him on.

From Bay City north, the voyager bucked a northeast wind. He arrived at Wurtsmith Air Force Base 16 hours and 10 minutes after leaving Cass City during the early morning darkness.

Don't worry about the legs, says Hartel, if you plan a long distance bike ride. When it's over you are numb all over.

When the hurt comes, in the next couple of days, it's not the legs that bother, it's the shoulder muscles from gripping the handle bars, Lee explained, rubbing the areas where the arms and the shoulder join.

Given the number of athletes to be feted, the all sports recognition night moved as quickly and smoothly as possible Monday.

But when so many are recognized, the fete becomes simply an endless sea of names and faces.

The first thought is one for the girls, another for the boys. But that separate but equal doctrine won't go at the school. Ask Ms. Brenda Breidinger Murphy about that.

Maybe it's time to hold two sessions instead of one. Once for fall sports, another for winter-spring sports.

Jim Bauer, one of the deans of the board of directors at Hills and Dales Hospital, says we left a wrong impression when we talked about Robert Korte and his work at Hills and Dales General Hospital. When I said he moonlighted from his regular job at Caro Hospital the implication is that he is paid for coming here from Caro. He isn't.

I'd agree with Jim that we owe Korte our thanks for stepping in to help out but still hope that it won't be long before we don't have to depend on volunteers in this crucial position.

Copeland & Gornowicz

New agency customer oriented

Copeland & Gornowicz Insurance Agency, recently established in Cass City by Robert J. Copeland and Robert J. Gornowicz, has been named a local agent to represent Frankenmuth Mutual Insurance Company in the Cass City area. The appointment was announced by James Ortman, Frankenmuth Mutual sales representative in eastern Michigan.

Commenting on the appointment, Ortman said: "Mr. Copeland and Mr. Gornowicz have planned their new agency as a customer-oriented center to serve the full range of insurance needs of their clients. We are proud that Frankenmuth Mutual is one of the first companies to be represented by the Copeland & Gornowicz organization." Copeland and his family reside at 6594 Pine Street in Cass City. He is a graduate of the Cass City schools. His civic activity includes membership in the Lions Club, of which he is a director.

Gornowicz and his family live on Patterson Road in Snover. He is a graduate of Ulysses High School and a veteran of military service in Vietnam, where he earned the Purple Heart. Gornowicz is active in veterans' organization as vice-commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post and an official in the Disabled American Veterans.

The Copeland & Gornowicz agency handles all lines of personal and property insurance. The firm has its office at 6440 Main Street in Cass City.

Frankenmuth Mutual is one of Michigan's oldest insurance companies. It had its beginning in 1868 when a group of Bavarian settlers at Frankenmuth formed a mutual fire insurance society, from which the present corporation developed.

Today, Frankenmuth Mutual provides a wide range of coverages for fire, automobile, and other property and casualty insurance. The company has some 135,000 policies in force in Michigan and Indiana, and serves its policyholders through more than 800 independent agents and a network of eight district service offices. Company headquarters are at Frankenmuth.

Memorial service Monday at Church

The annual Memorial service will be held Monday, May 27, at 2 p.m. in the Novesta Church of Christ. Pastor Harold Prong will give the memorial address, according to Chairman Lewis Crawford of Caro.

Refreshments will be served in the church basement following the program. Lemonade and coffee will be provided and guests are asked to bring either cake or sandwiches.

Consider needs of children

To the Editor

Re: The Owen-Gage Annexation Vote

For the next few days the battle cry within our beleaguered school district will be: "Save our school!"

They say, "Don't worry that our present school building must be replaced if we do survive. Forget that a building program was voted down last December. Ignore the fact that to build in Owendale we must have a sewage disposal system that the town does not have and will not have for some years to come. It doesn't matter that our operational millage is increasing while our curriculum offerings are decreasing. 'The important thing,' they say, 'is to maintain our identity as a school district at any cost.'

The annexation vote on June 10 will offer a real challenge to the Owendale-Gagetown voter. We cannot go on indefinitely as we are. There are many things to consider, but the most important one, it seems to me, is how to best meet the educational needs of the children of the district. If we do decide to join with Laker and Cass City, it will be because they can offer more educational opportunities at less cost per child to the taxpayer and provide better physical facilities now, not in some distant future when the tax-payers might vote to build.

Because of larger enrollments, Cass City and Laker can offer twice as many courses as we are able to provide at Owen-Gage. Among those that we do not offer are: Agriculture, Foreign Languages, Shorthand, Speech, Earth Science, Ecology, Michigan History, Psychology, Business Law, Co-operative Training, a wide variety of vocational courses and many others. In addition, Cass City and Laker have school libraries that meet the accreditation requirements of the University of Michigan.

By combining forces, we could help make Laker and Cass City even better schools. The students from Owen-Gage would be an asset to any school system. Perhaps the added enrollment would make it possible for these schools to add to their curriculums.

Gagetown has not had a high school in over twenty years and yet it has survived as a community. Elkton, Pigeon and Bay Port have not had a high school in their towns since their merger. Those who say the community will die if we lose our high school are not being realistic. There will still be elementary schools in both towns, operated much as they are now, with even the possibility of a kindergarten in Gagetown if there is a large enough enrollment. This is something Gagetown has not had in eleven years.

Six of our seven children have been attending Cass City School System this year as tuition students. The children have adjusted well, and we feel they have had many educational advantages that they did not have in Owen-Gage. I would like to see these opportunities made available to all of the children of the district.

I am hoping that when the voters go to the polls on June 10, they will give first consideration to meeting the needs of the students rather than just preserving our identity as a school district. After all, the greatest asset of any community is the potential of its children and they deserve the very best educational opportunities we can provide.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK

Here's to the dandelion

By Jim Ketchum

These days, a tourist will pay to see anything if the thing in question is promoted properly. All the great promoters from P.T. Barnum to Walt Disney to both political parties realized this long ago and moved to capitalize on it.

While cutting my grass the other day, divine inspiration, along with a little pollen, struck me. If Holland, on Michigan's west side can promote tulips, why can't Cass City promote the sturdy and ubiquitous dandelion?

This year, for some reason, dandelions dot the local landscape not unlike the venerable wild mustard, scattered through pasture and front lawn alike with wild abandon.

But the dandelion, you scoff. Why this lowest of plants? Why not something more poetic such as the rose or the marigold? Or possibly the chrysanthemum? Probably because no one can spell it.

But take the case of the dandelion. It is sturdy. Only the cleverest of minds of science and Madison Avenue can combat it chemically and then not for keeps.

For every two dandelion plants the home gardener pulls from his lawn, four more replace them. Ask anyone who has tried to rid his lawn of them.

Take my father-in-law for instance. A mild-mannered man in most every respect, he yearly wages a losing war on the green and yellow plants that annually seek out his yard. Reports of various chemical concoctions regularly pour in, with hopes that at last, this is the stuff that will do the job.

Then comes the next dispatch from the front and the call of still another spray. Sometimes he resorts to digging the little yellow-headed wonders out, but only in emergencies, like when the sprayer goes dry.

Still, the dandelions come back again and again, to test him on the field (or yard) of battle. No species of plant is under more constant attack by this man than the dandelion.

Yet the little plant survives. Survives to turn green yards yellow and then white as the flowers go to seed.

Survives to make even prize gardeners rip their hair out with their green thumbs; as they survey a spotless lawn, save for one dandelion waving gleefully from the middle of perfection.

All this has made me wonder why we should keep torturing ourselves? Why not give it up, surrender to the plants and domesticate them? Can you imagine proud homeowners showing off their prize dandelion beds to their friends?

Prizes could be awarded at the county fair for the tallest, most yellow or healthiest plant.

And, to top it all off, Cass City could become the dandelion capital of the world. Hybrids and cross-breeding could turn our town into a Mecca for gardeners who would continually seek stronger, more disease-resistant dandelions to plant around their yards.

A gigantic festival could be held with parades down Main Street, complete with brass bands, drum majorettes and a Queen Dandelion to rule over the festivities.

Tourists would flock in, money would flow into the community and we wouldn't have to wait until somebody dies before getting much-needed community facilities.

Think about it the next time you go after those dandelions in your yard. You could be killing the plant that sprouts the golden flower.

Do something for MIA - Burk

On this Memorial Day 1974, we stop working for one day in memory of those service men who have fought and died for America.

America may not be the same country the colonists fought to free from British rule 198 years ago. America may not be the same country our grandfathers and fathers fought three wars this century to keep free. America is a country that over three million young men, some of them too young to vote, went off to fight a war for.

They didn't run off to some foreign country. Some enlisted and still others answered their country's call to the draft. Uncle Sam asked for their help and they gave it.

Now, 1200 of these men and their families need this country's help. In fact there are some 400 men that fought over 20 years ago in Korea that also need this country's help. These 1600 men are what this country call "Missing In Action." (M.I.A.)

Some of these men, due to the length of time they have been missing or due to the remote areas of Korea and Vietnam that they were captured in, may never be accounted for. But some of these P.O.W.'s have been seen by other P.O.W.'s in jail. Their families have received letters from them in North Vietnamese jails. Some have appeared in pictures of other P.O.W.'s released by North Vietnam. And in the case of Lt. Cmdr. Ronald W. Dodge, a picture of him being led through a village by North Vietnamese troops, was printed in a Paris, France newspaper.

These men are known to be captured and yet some 16 months after the American troops left Vietnam the government of North Vietnam refuses to even talk about these men or the others listed as M.I.A.

The families of these men feel that our government in Washington, D.C. has forgotten them and their loved ones. Because of Watergate, because of the war in the Middle East, because of the energy crisis, whatever the reason, these men must not be forgotten. It is up to every citizen in this country to write to their congressmen and let them know we have not forgotten what M.I.A. means, what P.O.W. means, what these men and their families are going through.

Letters to the Editor

She's satisfied with OwenGage

Dear Editor,

Not all are dissatisfied with Owengage.

For the past sixteen years the battle of the future of the Owengage School District has been waging; as in most cases, you only hear from the ones dissatisfied. Having had children in this high school for the past fifteen years I feel as though I'm in a position to speak out.

There are advantages and disadvantages in both large and small schools and we belong to one or another depending where we happen to live. Some advantages are identity and individual attention. Our children have also been able to take part in many extra curricular activities which may have not been possible in a larger school due to competition.

The word (Curriculum) is being tossed around a lot. Our four children who graduated from O.G. didn't have the frills but were as busy as could be with the basics. They as well as many others went on to college and were well able to compete with students from larger districts. Our votes aren't always casted on the winning ticket but the majority rules and then you forget your differences and pull together. If as much effort was put into this as in tearing things apart; whether it apply to schools, churches, politics etc; think of what a great society we might have.

The future of our school is in the hands of the voters. We will pay taxes and build buildings regardless of where our children go to school. Where will that be? In our district or elsewhere? Vote June 10.

Satisfied,
Mrs. Muri LaFave

Facts about McKinley

When anyone said he was, or is, unable to carry out his duties as a policeman, it is a plain lie. There is not one of the men who would challenge him to an endurance test.

When a man goes to work dressed in uniform and they say you are done, I call it fired.

My aim is not to hurt somebody, but I'm a firm believer in the truth.

I want to thank all of those who have worked on petitions and who have signed them. We have many friends. Thank you to the citizens who have put their trust in Bill. It has been a pleasure to work for you. You are the ones who have paid the wages.

Please, no retiring parties or gold-plated badges. So thanks again,
Mrs. William (Helen) McKinley

When no one told him there was to be a dinner at Sherman's for the men. You can rest assured the chief wouldn't work like that.

When the article spoke of all the money Bill was to make with the D.P.W. it did not state Bill has to pay his own Blue Cross--$28 per month.

One evening not too long ago, I was listening to the police radio. The city man, the county men worked for a good hour on a minor incident. They were not solving it. Caro was getting desperate-I heard them say "Where's McKinley? Is he on duty tonight?"

Bill has been sick exactly twice in his career and in only one accident.

This is a sorry ending with much to be desired and much concern for the rest of the city men.

Involve dad in child rearing

Ann Ross - Extension Agent

Children without fathers. It can happen even when Dad is very much an occupant of the household. It's called leaving-father-out-of-child-rearing.

Fathers need to take part in their children's up-bringing. Children enjoy being involved in the things Dad does, too.

The possibilities for interaction between father and child are endless - if both children and father take time to discover them. Dad may decide to take his youngster fishing. The walks and talk and even the quiet sitting can be a wonderful way to share new experiences. Especially if Dad is trying to really know his youngster. Dad can lend a listening ear or ready conversation, whether the fish bite or not!

Sometimes a father may go with a child to the places where children feel especially comfortable. A bike ride or a visit to the park may put a child in his glory. And a father benefits by watching his child's growth and development.

Children can accompany Dad on errands and be a part of Dad's grown-up world. Or Dad might be the perfect conspirator to cover up secret plans for a surprise the children are planning for mother or grandfather.

Really, it's up to the father to decide how he can involve his children in his everyday life. But he needs to be sure he makes choices that will be meaningful for both his children and himself.

Janice Rands named to cancer post

Mrs. Janice Rands of Cass City was named secretary of Tuscola County's American Cancer Society Unit at the society's May 13 meeting held in Vassar. She replaces Mrs. Ruth Hoffman.

It was reported that a total of $13,265.81 has been received, half way to the county goal of $25,000.

Among fund raising projects discussed was a "fly-around" set Sunday, June 16. Five pilots will be on hand to give rides starting at 10:00 a.m. from Caro Airport.

Also discussed was a fund day at Rolling Hills Golf Course at Cass City Sunday, July 14. Proceeds from both events will benefit the crusade.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuscola County Sheriff Hugh Marr reports it is now "the worst time of year" for complaints from residents reporting drag racing near their property.

Saturday marked the beginning of the finale for graduation events for the Cass City class of '74 with their Junior-Senior Banquet being held at the high school. Authorities this week announced traditional Memorial Day services in the area.

The Elkland Township Fire Department answered a Deford call last Friday morning shortly after 9:00 a.m. and spent a half hour trying to locate the scene of the blaze.

Twenty-three new members were added to the Cass City High School chapter of the National Honor Society in traditional candle-light induction ceremonies held this week.

TEN YEARS AGO

Vic Guernsey, Walbro Corporation official, was named president of the Cass City School-Community Association during a business meeting preceding a tour of the school's vocational departments Tuesday night.

Congressman Neil Staebler accused Gov. George Romney of "showmanship rather than leadership" in a Thumb press meeting held in Cass City Saturday noon.

"Athens is a very nice little town," Village President Lee Rabideau reported Tuesday when he returned from the Michigan Week exchange program.

An estimated 400 persons toured the new addition of the Cass City Hospital Sunday afternoon during an open house sponsored by the hospital auxiliary.

Neil M. Hurry, vice-president of sales for the Carburator and Autopulse Divisions, Walbro Corp., will assume new duties upon his early return from an extended health leave. F.R. Stevenson, executive vice-president, announced.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Governor G. Mennen Williams on Tuesday appointed Andrew B. Champion of Cass City to membership on the State Conservation Committee. Champion is president of the Champion Advertising Co. and has been actively interested in fish and game conservation.

Approximately 85 businessmen attended the mass meeting at the Home Restaurant Tuesday evening which was called to further the organization of a Chamber of Commerce at Cass City. J.V. Riley presided as chairman and Lloyd Bryant served as temporary secretary.

Wednesday, May 25, is the date set for the 67th annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Tuscola and Huron counties which will be held at the Methodist Church at Deford. Cass City athletes finished first in a tri-angular high school track meet held at Caro Wednesday.

Playing on a perfect baseball day, Cass City High School baseballers defeated Sebawaing High at Sebawaing by a score of 11 to 4 Thursday.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

A Detroit Free Press article last week suggests Clark W. McKenzie, a former Cass Cityan, may run for governor in next year's election.

Dr. R.N. Holsapple, pastor of the Evangelical Church in Cass City, was named alcohol education director of Michigan Evangelical Churches at the state conference held in Blissfield last week.

A win over Vassar would have given Cass City undisputed claim for first place honors in the county. However, there now exists a three-way tie, following Cass City's 11-10 loss at the hands of Vassar.

Rev. Charles P. Bayless has been selected as chairman of the Memorial Day program at Cass City next Tuesday.

Jason Kitchin closed a successful year in the Fox School north of Deford Friday. It also marked 25 years in the teaching profession for Mr. Kitchin.

Friday for Mrs. Tallman

Mrs. Tallman

Funeral services were held Friday for Mrs. Clara Bell Tallman, 84, of Smith's Creek, who died Tuesday, May 14, at a Port Huron Hospital following a brief illness.

Mrs. Tallman was born in White's Corners, Penn., Aug. 8, 1889, daughter of the late Dewitt and Jessie Warner Lowe.

She married Chauncey Tallman April 10, 1939, in Cass City. Following their marriage, they lived in the Deford-Cass City area, moving to Smith's Creek, near Port Huron, 20 years ago, where she lived at the time of her death.

Mrs. Tallman attended the Richmond Assembly of God Church.

She is survived by her husband, Chauncey of Smith's Creek; one step-son, Alvin Tallman of Rochester; one step-daughter, Mrs. Francis (Leticia) Van Horn of Deford; two brothers, John Lowe of New York and Floyd Lowe of San Diego, Calif.; two step-grandchildren and four step-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from Little's Funeral Home with Rev. Arnold E. Vold, of the Richmond Assembly of God, and Rev. Franklin Smith of the Cass City Assembly of God, officiating.

Interment was in Novesta Cemetery.

Fete Mrs. Kirn at Salem church

The dining room of Salem U.M. church was filled to capacity Thursday evening when friends of Mrs. Esther Kirn gathered for a cooperative family dinner, sponsored by the Golden Rule class.

Among those present were former parishioners of the church who now live elsewhere.

Following the meal, a short program was presented when heads of various departments of the church, including the pastor, Rev. Ira L. Wood, paid tribute to Mrs. Kirn. She has lived in Cass City over 19 years.

Mrs. Kirn, who leaves May 27 to make her home at Chelsea, was presented with a gift of money.

BETTER HEALTH Teen-age alcoholism grows

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ and DR. WILLIAM J. WELCH

Lately, it is being found that there are a good many more teen-agers who are alcoholics than it was thought. Just how many drinking teen-agers are in danger of alcoholism is not known, but the Youth Information Branch of the Alcoholism Council of Greater Los Angeles has developed a questionnaire which can give a warning to a youngster about his or her drinking.

A "Yes" answer to two or more of these questions should be a warning.

- 1) Do you lose time from school due to drinking?
- 2) Do you drink because you are shy with other people?
- 3) Do you drink to build up your self-confidence?
- 4) Do you drink alone?
- 5) Is drinking affecting your reputation - and do you care?
- 6) Do you drink to escape from study or home worries?
- 7) Do you feel guilty after drinking?
- 8) Does it bother you if somebody says that maybe you drink too much?
- 9) Do you have to take a drink when you go out on a date?
- 10) Do you make out generally better when you have a drink?
- 11) Do you get into financial troubles over buying liquor?
- 12) Do you have a sense of power when you drink?
- 13) Have you lost friends since you've started drinking?
- 14) Have you started hanging out with a crowd where stuff is easy to get?
- 15) Do your friends drink less than you do?
- 16) Do you drink until the bottle is done?
- 17) Have you ever had a complete loss of memory from drinking?
- 18) Have you ever been to a hospital or been "busted" (arrested) due to drunk driving?
- 19) Do you "turn off" to any studies or lectures about drinking?
- 20) Do you think you have a problem with liquor?

People who would like to know more about drinking and the effects of alcohol can get a fine book entitled "Alcohol and Your Health" by Louise Burgess, Charles Publishing Co., 8350 Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. ($12.50).

A NEW PREGNANCY TEST
I read in "Today's Health," put out by the American Medical Association, that a new test for pregnancy has been found. This test is so sensitive it can detect pregnancy in the first two weeks after conception has taken place - even before a missed menstrual period.

Also, it can tell whether the pregnancy is normal, or is developing "outside" of the womb (the so-called ectopic pregnancy) which if undetected can cause a woman to have bleeding and pain, and can be dangerous. A great advantage of having the pregnancy discovered so early is that if the woman chooses to have her womb washed out, what will come away will be a tiny globular nodule of cells that does not at all resemble a fetus. This then should go far to dispel any feeling the woman might have that a child was killed.

LET US RELIEVE GREAT PAIN

Every so often I am saddened when a patient, suffering excruciating pain due to an inoperable cancer eating into his spinal column, tells me that his life is not worth living if he must continue in such pain.

Often today the people who were supposed to be helping him did not give him adequate doses of a sedative drug, which had absolutely no effect on his pain.

I will never forget a time when a very able professor of medicine scolded me, and asked if no one had ever taught me that, when giving a sedative drug, one doesn't have just the dose listed in the books; one must also give enough to relieve all of the patient's pain (or his (or her) sleeplessness).

The reason for my professor's annoyance was that when he asked me to go to the hospital and give rest to a sleepless patient of his, I gave the usual dose of one capsule, which had absolutely no effect.

What is sad is that no professor at medical school had ever taught me this important fact about giving drugs: I did not learn that until I had been out in medical practice for several years.

What all doctors should remember is that different people have different reactions to drugs. For one person, a single sleeping pill or a single aspirin will bring relief, just as one martini will have an effect. For another person, two or three sleeping pills or pain-killers may be necessary.

Banquet held at Uby

Some 130 members and guests attended the annual Daughters of Isabella mother-daughter banquet held recently at the Uby Fox Hunter's Club.

Toasts to grandmothers, mothers and daughters were given by Linda Glaza, Lynette Roberts and Abina Sweeney, respectively.

Regent Grace Wisneski introduced past regents Mary Bryson, Kate True, Jenny Minnick, Teresa Murawski and Vera Ruslow.

Sister Donna gave an address on "Women in the Old Testament" as an example for modern mothers.

A tap dance selection was performed by Jane Bukoski, Tina Tyl and Sally Porritt. Gifts were presented to the oldest grandmother, Mary Peters; youngest grandmother, Lorraine Peters, and youngest mother, Jessie Par-taka. Sally Porritt received the door prize. Agnes Zmich was toastmistress, Gertrude Glaza and Martha Kurg were co-chairmen.

Early Cass City teacher dies in Illinois

Wilber E. Harnish, 87, of Champaign, Ill., formerly of Cass City, died Friday, May 10, following an extended illness.

Mr. Harnish was a teacher at Cass City High School from 1910-1912, teaching science and math as well as coaching.

He was born near Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 17, 1886. He married Bess Davidson in 1916. She died in 1930. He was married to Alice Jacoby in Plymouth, Ind., Aug. 18, 1934.

He taught school in Cass City and Marshall before moving to Illinois.

He is survived by his widow, a son, Rear Adm. William Max Harnish of Point Mugu, Calif., and two grandchildren. A brother and a sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held May 13 in the Mittendorf Funeral Chapel, Champaign, Urbana, Ill., with the Rev. J. Gerald Nichols officiating.

Burial was in East Lawn Burial Park.

4-H ACTIVITIES

Students view conservation

By Bernard Jardot

Most fifth grade students throughout Tuscola county have been increasing their knowledge on environmental conservation this past year by way of a 4-H sponsored classroom project. Also, some of the students had the opportunity to add to what they had learned in the classroom by means of field trips.

May 14, students from Caro and Cass City schools each spent one-half day touring three different environmental conservation stops in the Deford State Game Area, located along Deckerville Road, northeast of Caro. Over 425 youth and their teachers participated.

This program was sponsored by Bernard Jardot, Extension 4-H Youth Agent in cooperation with Cyril Jacot of the Tuscola County Soil Conservation District office, Larry Smith of State Department of Natural Resources, and Don Kebler, Extension Agriculture Agent.

The first stop on the trip was at the pond of Warner Lane where students were informed on the various water conservation uses of farm ponds. Cyril Jacot was the host at this stop and he told the students of the many uses of water from such a farm pond.

The second stop was designed to inform the students about the different types of soil found in the area and how they come to reside in these specific areas. Don Kebler was the host at this stop and among the topics discussed were the formation of different soils in the area, different soil particle sizes, and various uses of soils.

At the third stop, the students were impressed with the different types of wildlife in the area and the habitat in which they live. Larry Smith conducted this part of the tour and told about forest planting, wildlife feeding, and discussed kind of animals found in the area. Each group of students had the opportunity to plant some wildlife shrubs or trees. All involved in this special project felt that the young people enjoyed their tour and they found it both entertaining, as well as informative. We were all happy to share this educational conservation with the youth.

The underdog gets sympathy, but nobody cares to bet on him.

Name Delores Sherrard NHS finalist

Delores Sherrard has been named a finalist in National Honor Society Scholarship competition.

While she will receive no stipend, she will be considered should any other state award winner decline the scholarship.

Miss Sherrard is the senior class salutatorian. This is the highest award winner in NHS competition ever from Cass City.

Your neighbor says

I'll pay the price

With the price of gasoline in Cass City topping 60 cents for the first time in history, some persons are thinking twice before taking long pleasure trips this summer.

State Highway officials report gasoline consumption down over six per cent from a year ago.

One person who thinks Americans will pay the long price for fuel to travel is Mrs. Sue Samelko of 6484 Main St. "To travel is important," she says, "and I don't think the American people are going to travel less."

She says she and her husband plan to make a few long trips this year in spite of high gasoline prices.

"Americans are willing to pay outrageous prices for nearly everything," she said. "Personally, I'm willing to pay more to be able to travel.

Americans have had it too easy for too long."

Mrs. Samelko has lived in Cass City the last two and one half years, coming here from Detroit. Her husband works at Active Industries. The couple have two children.

50 attend pre-school seminar

Representatives of over 15 Thumb area pre-school programs attended a Pre-school Seminar recently, near Cass City, sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. This is a "first" for an area meeting of this type, according to Thumb Extension Home Economist Ann Ross, and attracted about 50 persons.

Jeanne Brown, Extension Child Development specialist, visited informally with the various groups before focusing on the needs of children during the early years.

Parents, board members, teachers and supervisors shared information about their various types of pre-school programs. Some groups, like Caseville, are in the process of organizing and getting licensed. Other groups, like the Caro Co-op program have been going for as many as ten years.

Certain programs, such as Schewaga-Unionville, Brown City or Bad Axe are operating through the schools and are funded under Title programs or Head Start.

Other programs are privately operated and meet in approved buildings such as churches or former county schools. These include programs such as the Marlette, Vassar, Cass City, Bad Axe, Sandusky and others.

One new and unique program in Harbor Beach is operating in an approved and licensed home. Two other new Huron programs are funded through a Mental Health grant.

Mrs. Brown, who serves as a consultant for many pre-school and parent programs throughout Michigan, outlined details and answered questions on how to organize and operate a successful pre-school program.

Representatives from the Caseville, Bad Axe and Sandusky groups helped with the event which was planned by Ann Ross and Aliene Mills of the Cooperative Extension Service and Nancy Kael of the Huron Community Mental Health Services.

Mrs. Kael and Mrs. Mills outlined suggestions for parents' meetings that are an important part of all the pre-schooler activities.

Because the young child needs special understanding, follow-up meetings are planned by counties in the fall and by area next spring by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sponsor Youth soil and water contest

Michigan Soil Conservation Districts Inc. and the Michigan State Grange are sponsoring a Youth Soil and Water Contest again this year. Charles Wells, Youth Chairman of the Tuscola Soil Conservation District, is urging all students in grades three through eight to enter the contest.

Students will be eligible as follows: Class I, third and fourth graders; Class II, fifth and sixth graders and Class III, seventh and eighth graders. Scrapbooks will be judged at the District level and two scrapbooks in each class will be submitted by each District for state-wide judging.

Rules are as follows: 1. The scrapbooks must be turned in to the Tuscola Soil Conservation District Office, 852 S. Hooper St. in Caro by June 1. 2. Scrapbooks may be prepared on any conservation subject. All pictures, drawings, charts and graphs must have appropriate explanations and-or captions. 4. Photos taken by participants are encouraged. 5. Participants' name, age, full mailing address and contest class Class I (third and fourth grade), Class II (fifth and sixth grade) or Class III (seventh and eighth grade) must appear plainly on the cover or cover page of the scrapbook.

A plaque will be awarded to the three best scrapbooks in each class at the state level. The Tuscola Soil Conservation District is sponsoring the contest at the local level according to Wells. For further information please contact the TSCD office at 852 S. Hooper St. in Caro.

WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT

The RLDS Women's Department met Thursday, May 16, with Mrs. Howard Gregg at Snover when 16 were present and also three children.

A luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. Don Smith, women's leader, called the meeting to order by reading a poem and Jesus Is Calling, was sung in unison, followed by prayer by Mrs. Robert Sawdon. Mrs. Sawdon had charge of devotional.

Roll call was answered by the most unusual gift received. The lesson on setting goals was taught by Mrs. Wilfred Turner. The Dorman sisters sang at the meet.

The group voted a donation to the Church Handicapped Camp.

The June meeting will be one week earlier, due to Vacation Bible School. It will be June 13 with Mrs. James Doerr.

Mrs. Loretta Wagner spent from Monday till Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson Paterbaugh. She also visited her sister, Mrs. Neil MacNiven, who is a patient in Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City.

Sunday afternoon visitors at the Bruce Kritzman home were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kritzman of Millersburg.

St. Michael's Ladies Guild holds meet

St. Michael's Ladies Guild held its monthly meeting in the rectory basement with 23 members present. The president, Mildred Sabo, opened the meeting with prayer.

A father and son breakfast was planned by the ladies for June 23 before the 11 a.m. mass. Due to the tight schedule for May, the group is planning the mother and daughter breakfast for a later time.

The Guild hosted a reception for Bishop Francis F. Reh, those who were confirmed and their families and friends in the rectory basement after confirmation Tuesday, May 14.

Election of new officers will take place at the first fall meeting.

Since this was the last meeting until September, plans were tentatively set for a Christmas bazaar and bake sale in early November.

The meeting was closed with prayer and the ladies enjoyed coffee and cake.

Mrs. Buschlen dies in Lansing

Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 15, for Mrs. Anna Eliza Buschlen, 88, of Snover, who died Sunday, May 12, in Lansing.

She was born in Sandusky, Jan. 15, 1886, the former Anna Teets. She was a lifelong resident of the Snover and Sandusky area.

She married Oscar Buschlen in Sandusky, Dec. 24, 1912. He died Feb. 18, 1968. Mrs. Buschlen was Sanilac county clerk from 1942-62. Mrs. Buschlen served as deputy county clerk during his tenure.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Doyle (Naoma) Moore of Marlette and Florida, two sons, Merrill of Lansing and Dwight of Riverside, Calif., 12 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren. A daughter, Eunice, preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted from the Snover United Methodist Church with Rev. Dale Ferris, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Moore township cemetery, Snover.

Hacker Funeral Home, Sandusky, was in charge of arrangements.

AARP holds

May 16 meeting

Some 57 members and guests attended the May 16 meeting of AARP. Reports on a workshop attended by eight officers and a recent meeting of the Human Development Commission were given.

Donna Wernette was appointed legislative chairman of the chapter. Noreen Partridge was appointed chairman of donations to the Caro Medical Facilities.

A bus trip in the near future was discussed.

Alma Seeger, Mildred Herr and Etta McLellan are in charge of arrangements for the June 13 meeting.

Alma Davis,

84, dies

in Rochester

Alma Lemual Davis, 84, a resident of Sheridan township for 54 years, died Friday, May 17, in Crittendon Memorial Hospital, Rochester, after a long illness.

Mr. Davis was born July 24, 1889, in East Jordan and moved to Huron county with his parents. He was a retired farmer and lived in the area until seven months ago, when he went to live with his son and family in Utica.

He married Gertrude Harriott June 1, 1910. She died Oct. 14, 1969. He then married Adeline Finken Aug. 8, 1971. She died Aug. 24, 1973.

He was a member of the F&AM Lodge No. 384.

He is survived by one son, Richard of Utica, two daughters, Mrs. Reva Silver of Bad Axe and Mrs. Gerald (Lorene) Wills of Ubyly, eight grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 20, from Zinger's Funeral Home in Ubyly with Rev. Olsen McCallum of Owendale RLDS Church officiating. Interment was in Valley cemetery, Ubyly.

Masonic funeral rites were held Sunday evening from the funeral home.

Miss Lawton

to teach

in Okinawa

Miss Anne Lawton, who is completing her second year of teaching at Cass City, has been assigned a teaching position in Okinawa through a Department of Defense program.

She expects to leave in August and will teach in kindergarten for children of U.S. servicemen stationed in Okinawa.

Miss Lawton, whose home is in Benton Harbor, received her teaching degree from Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant. In her first year at Cass City, she taught primary special education and this year she taught kindergarten.

Thumb women tour Lapeer, Oakland counties

One hundred seventeen ladies from Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties toured Lapeer and Oakland counties recently. Tour chairman for Huron county was Hulda Baur, for Sanilac county was Phyllis Ridley, and for Tuscola county was Gladys Laurie.

The first stop at the new Lapeer County Extension Office brought information about that fast-growing area from County Extension Director Tom Thorburn and Extension Home Economist Virginia Ortiz.

The group then toured the Meadowbrook hall in Oakland county, where history, architecture, and artifacts were explained by trained guides. Following lunch, Mrs. Audrey Sandiford of the Oakland County Extension Office gave a slide presentation of many facets of extension work in the county. Ms. Sandiford has been an Expanded Nutrition Aide there for the past five years.

The touring group then saw the professional theater presentation "I Do I Do," which is a study of a couple as they move through the various stages of the family life cycle.

The tour included materials at the various stops to enhance the educational experience. This annual event is part of the family living program, according to Extension Home Economist Ann Ross, and is designed to provide enrichment and understanding for Thumb homemakers.

How DOES your garden grow?

The mystery of life and growth was one our daughter took for granted... until last summer when she "adopted" a flower bed all her own. Then she began to ask what makes her garden grow.

Once had a course in botany; I thought I knew all the answers. But none of them seemed to register with Mary.

So my wife took over the answering department. God makes things grow! That made much more sense to Mary.

It is, after all, a contradiction of science to admit that we live in a world full of mysteries... mysteries that happen before our very eyes... mysteries that reveal the wondrous mind of the creator?

At graduation time, we fully realize that our sons and daughters need a spiritual foundation for all other knowledge. They will find it in the Church.

Former area man dies in motorcycle crash Saturday

A former area resident became Tuscola county's ninth traffic fatality of 1974 Saturday afternoon when the motorcycle he was riding struck a farm tractor three miles southeast of Unionville.

Edward Harmon Smith, 29, of Bay City, died when his motorcycle struck the right front wheel of an oncoming tractor driven by Milton Sting, 62, of Unionville. The crash occurred on Bay City-Forestville Road, just east of Colling Road.

Smith was dead on arrival at Caro Community Hospital. Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies who investigated reported that Sting, driver of the tractor, made a left turn in front of the motorcycle. He reportedly was almost off the blacktop when the collision occurred.

Deputies said Smith apparently lost control of the machine before striking the tractor.

The mishap took place at 2:05 p.m.

Smith, a former Shabbona area resident, was born in Cass City, Oct. 2, 1944 and had been a resident of Bay City the last eight years.

He is survived by his widow, Kathleen; one daughter, Cindy; one son, William; his mother, Mrs. Lucille Smith of Bad Axe; seven sisters, Mrs. Donald (Shirley) Miller of Vassar, Mrs. Ronald (Doris) Jones, Mrs. Robert (Helen) Bellant, both of Bay City, Mrs. Wayne (Donna) Loeding of Peck, Mrs. Kenneth (Barbara) Noweski of Kinde, Mrs. Ivan (Edna) Miller and Mrs. Frank (Bonnie) Robel, both of Bad Axe; two brothers, Melvin and Ronald, both of Bad Axe; and several nieces and nephews.

His father died in 1973.

Smith was employed at Saginaw Steering Gear in Saginaw and was a veteran of the Vietnam War.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Bay City.

CARO FATALITY

Tuscola county's eighth fatality of the year occurred late Tuesday afternoon, May 14, when Clark Mitchell Osgerby, 17, of rural Caro, died in a two-car accident on M-24 just south of Caro.

Sheriff's deputies said the Osgerby auto collided head-on with a car driven by Lillian May Voss, 58, of Lapeer. She and a passenger in the Osgerby vehicle, Mike Parker of Caro, remain hospitalized with multiple injuries.

Two other passengers in Osgerby's car, Melvin Garza and Steve Woloshen, both 17, of Caro, were treated and released, according to deputies.

Deputies said Osgerby was traveling north on M-24 at a high rate of speed and pulled into the southbound lane to pass another car when he saw an oncoming vehicle. He reportedly swerved back into the northbound lane, lost control of the car and ran off the east shoulder.

The car then darted across the road and slammed head-on into the Voss auto.

Osgerby's body was reportedly thrown from the vehicle on impact. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Caro Community Hospital by Medical Examiner Dr. Herbert L. Nigg.

The accident occurred at 2:55 p.m.

At 10:45 a.m. Saturday, cars driven by Clarence Cole, 49, of Vassar and Alfred Connolly, 59, of 6114 Shabbona Rd., Deford, collided at the intersection of Kingston Road and Deckerville in Deford. State Police from the Caro Post reported both vehicles were traveling north on Kingston Road and the Cole vehicle had stopped at the Deckerville Road intersection. Police said Cole disengaged the clutch, causing the vehicle to roll back, striking the Connolly vehicle. Neither driver was injured.

Cass City, State Police nab suspect Sunday

Cass City Police and Michigan State Police from the Caro Post combined to apprehend a 26-year-old Freeland man wanted on two counts of larceny by Taylor police early Sunday morning.

Police apprehended Henry Ortega shortly after 10:30 a.m. after he reportedly passed a truck when the truck pulled out to pass another vehicle.

She stated that as she applied her brakes, the car spun around and into a ditch. She was not injured. The mishap took place at 12:30 p.m.

Cass City Patrolman John Rands saw the suspect and arrested him.

The assault victim reportedly sustained multiple bruises to the head and was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Ortega was lodged in the Tuscola County Jail where he was released to Taylor police who had outstanding warrants charging him with conspiracy to commit larceny and larceny, both felonies.

They discovered it missing at that time. Police have no suspects.

Also Thursday, Gary Bauer of 4739 Marlette Rd., Kingston, told Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies a rototiller valued at $150 had been stolen from his property in rural Koylton township between Tuesday, May 14, and Thursday.

Police have no suspects, but did find a set of tire tracks near the scene.

Saturday, Mrs. Harry King told sheriff's deputies two holes were punctured in a window next to the front door of her Lincoln Street home in Gagetown by a BB gun.

She said she had no idea who might have done it. Police have no suspects.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Area police reported two other area accidents last week.

Thursday, a car driven by Patricia Martin, 18, of Owendale, went out of control and landed in a ditch on M-25 a half-mile east of Kirk Road.

Sheriff's deputies reported that Ms. Martin was traveling west on M-25 and started to pass a truck when the truck pulled out to pass another vehicle.

She stated that as she applied her brakes, the car spun around and into a ditch. She was not injured. The mishap took place at 12:30 p.m.

Sentence Caro man

An 18-year-old Caro man pleaded guilty to probation violation charges Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court before presiding Judge Norman Baguley.

Anthony Bilicki entered the plea to the charge stemming from a larceny conviction in LaBelle, Fla., April 22, for which he is serving a 30-day jail sentence.

Cass City Police arrested Benjamin Hennessey, 19, of 6181 Milligan Rd., late Wednesday night and charged him with reckless driving following a chase through streets and alleys, ending in a vacant lot near the high school.

Police reported a motorcycle made a sharp turn from Main Street to West and then drove down the alley to Leach Street, back to Main and then onto Seeger, traveling at a high rate of speed.

Police said the chase lasted until Hennessey drove off North Seeger Street into a vacant lot, struck a piece of farm machinery and fell over.

Hennessey reportedly told police he ran because he had no crash helmet.

A 16-year-old passenger on the motorcycle was thrown from the scene of the accident. She was not injured seriously.

The arrest took place at 10:50 p.m.

Chas. Watson dies Tuesday

Charles S. Watson, 87, succumbed Tuesday, May 21, at Hills and Dales Hospital.

A lifelong area resident, he was born May 8, 1887, in Evergreen township, the son of the late John and Anna Watson.

He and Miss Pearl Emigh were married in Sandusky Jan. 15, 1913. Following their marriage, the couple made their home on a farm in Evergreen township. They moved to Cass City in 1948.

Mr. Watson was the owner-operator of the Standard Oil station in Cass City for 15 years.

Survivors, besides his widow, are: one daughter, Mrs. Gerald (Eleanor) King of Argyle; one sister, Mrs. Bernice Cassel of Deerfield, Fla.; three grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at two o'clock at Little's Funeral Home, Rev. Ira Wood, pastor of Salem United Methodist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in Elkland cemetery.

He was also charged with leaving the state without consent of the court and charged with possession of marijuana when arrested on charges of siphoning gasoline in Florida April 16.

Sentencing was set for June 3, and Bilicki will be held without bond.

David Nearing, 19, Vassar, was arraigned on charges of obstructing a police officer in Vassar. He stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered in his behalf. Pre-trial motions will be heard before Judge James P. Churchill June 10 with pre-trial examination set June 17.

Dean Emery, 18, Vassar, was found guilty of probation violation and will be sentenced June 3.

Emery was charged with failing to report to his probation officer, failing to pay restitution, failure to obtain a job and failure to report a residence change.

Emery is being held in the county jail without bond.

A motion to quash charges against Andres Luna, 73, Akron, was denied by Judge Baguley unless his defense counsel wishes to remand the case to district court.

Luna is charged with negligent homicide in the Dec. 29 auto accident which took the life of Anna Emma Magiera on Elmwood Road at Bradleyville Road in Winesser township.

Pre-trial examination was tentatively set for May 28, for Beverly Cribley of Caro, who is charged with writing three checks totaling $38 without sufficient funds.

The checks were drawn on People's State Bank of Caro.

Confirmation held Sunday

A class of 15 members was confirmed Sunday morning at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Cass City, during the worship services.

They are: Cheri Martin, Kim Witherspoon, Jeff Martin, Jack Kappen and Gordon Hoffman. Others were: Jesse Groth, Johann Schulz, Clarke Haire, Ross Ridenour, Lisa Frederick, Paula Butler and Peter Kessler. Completing the list are Charles Dorsch, Diane Stine and Carla Haag.

The confirmands reviewed their studies Friday evening at the church fellowship hall before parents and officers of the church by Pastor James Van Dellen.

Inflation would be wonderful if it covered incomes only, and prices stayed put.

OTHER INCIDENTS

A bicycle belonging to Mrs. David Lovejoy of 6757 Third St. was reported stolen to police Thursday evening from a bike rack at Willis Campbell Elementary School.

Mrs. Lovejoy told police she did not want to ride the bike home in the rain Thursday and so left the bike until about 6:00 p.m. that evening when she and her husband went to retrieve it.

Here's what happens if voters OK split June 10

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles prepared by the Owendale-Gagetown Board of Education detailing the upcoming vote to annex the district to Elton-Pigeon-Bay Port June 10. Any comments on these articles should be directed to Glenn Sanford, Superintendent, Owen-Gage Schools.)

If the electors of the Owendale-Gagetown Area School District do approve the referendum June 10, 1974 to annex to the Elton-Pigeon-Bay Port school district, it will in effect totally dissolve and split the district. Once the election is approved and legally completed, the Elton-

Pigeon-Bay Port board of education takes control of the district.

The board has already gone on record that they will allow those property owners of Owen-Gage that can and wish to transfer to Cass City and Unionville-Sebewaing schools to do so and will recommend to the Huron and Tuscola Intermediate School board of education that such transfers be made.

The Intermediate boards have indicated that they would be cooperative and would do what the property owners of Owen-Gage wished on transferring of property. A survey of Owen-Gage residents' choice for school district alignment if annexation was approved produced the accompanying map. This map indicates as well as can be determined how the Owen-Gage district would finally be divided. There is room for change but a guide was necessary to facilitate planning and preparation in the event that annexation was approved.

All boards of education concerned, including the Intermediate boards of Huron and Tuscola counties have agreed to cooperate as best they can to have the will of the district voters carried out in re-aligning the districts boundaries. With this assurance voters should be relatively aware of what would happen if annexation were approved.

Cass City share of road funds up

Cass City will receive nearly $1,000,000 more in distributed Motor Vehicle Highway Fund receipts for the first quarter of 1974 compared with the first three months of 1973.

Figures released last week show Cass City receiving $12,805, compared with $11,903 for the first quarter of 1973.

The State Highway Commission said while fewer gallons of gasoline were taxed, income from gas and weight taxes was up over a year ago. On a statewide basis, collections showed a 6.8 per cent increase over 1973's first quarter.

"For a variety of reasons, it is difficult to draw any valid conclusions in comparing this year's first-quarter income with last year's," Director John P. Woodford said. He noted that state tax on gasoline was increased from seven to nine cents a gallon in February of last year.

Other local communities showed similar increases. Gagetown will receive $4,375 in tax receipts from the highway department, compared with $4,089 last year.

Kingston will receive $3,140, compared with $2,997 for the first quarter of 1973. Owendale's share of receipts was set at $3,288, compared with $3,142 last year for the same period.

Uby will receive $5,532 as its first-quarter share of gas tax receipts compared with $5,277 for the first quarter of 1973.

COUNTY SHARES

County shares of state highway gas tax revenues also showed an increase over first-quarter receipts of 1973.

Tuscola County will receive $556,929 in shared gas tax revenues, compared with $527,670 for the first quarter of 1973.

Huron County will receive $491,274, compared with $470,660 for the same period in 1973.

Sanilac County will receive $531,671, compared with $512,030 for the first quarter of 1973.

Statewide, first quarter receipts totaled $169,849,674, up 6.8 per cent over the $159,108,023 in 1973.

Monies are contributed to the fund from gasoline tax, diesel fuel taxes, and auto license plate fees. Funds were distributed to the state's 83 counties and 530 incorporated municipalities.

JIM COURTNEY (left) presents a check for $1,000 from General Telephone to Tom Proctor for Hills and Dales General Hospital. The corporate gift to the hospital will be used in the drive to secure more doctors for Cass City. The check is part of a total contribution of $1,800 Gen-Tel will give to the hospital over two years.

Gas supplies good for holiday

Although fuel supplies will be abundant throughout the upcoming Memorial Day week end, Michigan motorists are expected to drive seven per cent fewer miles during the 78-hour holiday period than last year, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. An Auto Club survey this week of 300 service stations along Michigan's major tourist routes shows that an average 59 per cent plan to be open every day of the holiday period. "Despite the recent statewide improvement in gas availability, many motorists remain reluctant to drive far from home," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager. "However, if gas problems continue to be minimal, we are expecting an increase in tourist travel this summer."

As evidence of a tourism upswing, Ratke noted that in April Auto Club found a 5.6 per cent increase over last April in routing requests by members for Lower Michigan destinations.

"Despite this recent bright spot, Auto Club routing requests are down by 33 per cent this year, except for east Canadian destinations, which have seen a 23 per cent increase in popularity for the first four months of 1974," he said.

"Lower Michigan routing requests are still 13 per cent less for January-April, 1974, than for the first four months of 1973," he added.

During this Memorial Day week end, which begins at 6 p.m. Friday (May 24) and ends at midnight Monday (May 27), Michigan motorists are expected to drive 658 million miles on state roads. An estimated 707 million miles were traveled during the 1973 holiday period.

Peak travel times this Memorial Day week end will be from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Friday, when most motorists head for holiday destinations, and from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday, the major return-home time.

"Travelers can minimize traffic delays by beginning trips before these rush periods," Ratke said. "This advice is especially good this year because the number of open gas stations along tourist routes will drop sharply after 9 p.m. during the holiday period."

Based on Auto Club's holiday week end survey—which excluded such large urban areas as Detroit—gas availability during daylight hours will be best on Friday and Saturday and worst on Sunday. On Friday and Saturday, 43 per cent of stations along major state routes will be open as compared to 28 per cent on Sunday.

The most station openings after 9 p.m., 17 per cent, will be on Friday. On Sunday, the fewest number of stations, 11 per cent, will be open after 9 p.m.

The number of open gas stations servicing late-night travelers ranges from a high of 8 per cent after midnight Friday to a low of five per cent after midnight Monday.

"We expect that more stations will be open Memorial Day week end than is now indicated," Ratke said. "This is because nearly one-fifth of the stations contacted this week were unsure of their holiday opening hours."

Over the Memorial Day week end, Auto Club expects most travelers to confine their trips to within a 250-mile radius of home.

Michigan motorists will find few, if any, traffic bottlenecks due to highway construction. One possible congestion area will be westbound I-94 (Ford Freeway) which will be closed at the US-10 (Lodge Freeway) interchange in Detroit. Westbound I-94 traffic will be diverted south on US-10 to I-75 (Fisher Freeway) and then north on I-96 (Jeffries Freeway) to rejoin I-94. US-10 traffic will not be affected.

I-75 construction work will be suspended from noon Friday to 8 a.m. Tuesday. Other state highway projects will be halted from 5 p.m. Friday to 8 a.m. Tuesday.

C of C lists officers for 1974-75

The Cass City Chamber of Commerce recently announced its officers for the 1974-75 year.

They are: Jim Courtney, president; Harry Little, vice-president; Joan Merchant, secretary, and Bob Bader, treasurer. New board members are Lloyd Bryant, Dick Hendrick, Bill Kritzman and Harry Little. Other members are Elwyn Helwig, Tom Heron, Amie Ouvry, Dorothy Stahlbaum, and Dave Ware.

The Chamber Board discussed the upcoming project to put trees on Main Street and the annual Ox Roast. The Board also took action regarding the abandonment of rail service to Cass City and moved to send a representative to testify at the Saginaw hearings on behalf of the Chamber.

All members of the Chamber are encouraged to attend the monthly meetings held the first Tuesday of the month at 8:00 p.m. at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Our Five AM Board of Directors Meeting

Twenty years ago the family farm was run by the head of the household. He made all the decisions. Today with the advent of new technology, more sophisticated marketing procedures and greater educational opportunities, the family farm operates like a corporation. All members are involved in the important decisions. The sons have probably received technical degrees in agronomy, thus expanding the base of knowledge on which decisions are made. Since all members participate in sharing the profits, likewise they share in deciding when, how much, and where to sell their commodities. Should they hedge, store or contract, and in what ratio? They may not sit in a fancy conference room, but today's kitchen corporation manages a half million dollar investment that keeps food on your table.

Ranch last week end, explaining that the only major problem encountered involved parking.

"We lost about 75 per cent of our parking area to wet grounds," Scott said. "But we still managed to keep things moving without any major tie-ups."

He said a large number of area persons showed up for the rock fest and maintained a number of those attending were older people. Weather, which grew threatening late Saturday afternoon and night, cleared by Sunday.

Scott said Hard Times has yet to be rained out.

"We had one of these gigs at Glennie April 20, and we were afraid we were going to get rained on then," he recalled. "But just before we were to start, things cleared up. Somebody must like me someplace."

Scott said the group plans to stage other rock fests, not all of them, however, at Meadowbrook Trout Ranch. Another source had said at least one more rock fest is being planned for the Caro location this summer.

"We never like to push our way in," Scott said. "We come because the people want us. On this one, the townspeople were just great to us and everyone had a good time."

FOR SOME, just being together was worth the trip to the rock fest.

TENTS SIMILAR to these sprang up at the Meadowbrook Rock Fest last week end. Here, a patriotic listener shows his colors.

Owen-Gage transfers denied

The Huron Intermediate Board of Education turned down a controversial transfer request from 42 parcels of property in the Owendale-Gagetown School District Thursday night in Bad Axe.

The action came as no surprise to both sides and followed similar action involving a group of properties at the southern fringe of the district who are petitioning to transfer to the Cass City district.

Supt. Glenn Sanford said the Intermediate board agreed with the Owen-Gage Board's position that such a transfer would be to the detriment of the majority of district students.

Intermediate Board Superintendent F. James McBride said the board felt since it supports the June annexation vote involving the entire Owen-Gage district, the whole district should decide the question.

In the June election, voters will decide whether or not to annex the entire district to the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port (Laker) School District.

A provision in the proposal would allow property owners who qualify to transfer to the Cass City or Unionville-Sebewaing Districts.

The latest area to request transfer involves 42 students and carries a state equalized valuation of over $1,300,000.

General Cable cited for safety record

General Cable Corp. has been awarded the National Safety Council's top-ranking

Sgt. Smith assigned to Kincheloe

Kincheloe AFB is the new assignment of Air Force Staff Sergeant Anthony C. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt, 3264 Moore Rd., Snover.

Sergeant Schmidt, a social actions specialist, was assigned to Kincheloe AFB, Mich. He will be working with the 49th Bombardment Wing Headquarters Squadron Section.

The sergeant is a 1969 graduate of Sandusky High School.

Try Chronicle WANT ADS

Award of Honor for its safety performance during 1973, it was announced last week.

During 1973, Cable achieved a frequency rate of only 3.46 disabling injuries for every one million man hours worked and a severity rate of only 244 days lost per one million man hours worked, according to Herbert L. Marx Jr., vice-president for industrial relations.

NSC officials told Cable that its 1973 performance ranked 54 per cent above its "par" rate for frequency of injuries and 53 per cent better than "par" for severity. Par rates are computed by the council from the company's experience in the three prior years and from the rates of the industry classification to which the company belongs.

General Cable is a leading producer of wire and cable for communications, electric utilities, industrial and construction industries.

Every man has noble aims, but it's the hits that count.

Set public hearing on arts

The Michigan Council of Arts, a state agency, will hold a public hearing in Saginaw Thursday, May 30, at 7:30 p.m. to allow citizens a chance to discuss government support of the arts.

According to Chairman Walter R. Boris of Jackson, the hearing will be primarily for Thumb residents and persons living in the Saginaw and Flint areas.

The council has sent notices of the hearing to 110 communities including cities and villages in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties.

Individuals and organizations intending to present statements at the hearing are asked to notify Communications Director, Michigan Council for the Arts, 1200 Sixth Ave., Detroit, 48236.

After all's said and done, more has been said than done

Tax break for farmers works way to state House

A tax break for farmers, aimed at halting creeping urbanization of Michigan agricultural land, is in the offing -- after a years-long struggle by rural interests.

Sponsor of the bill, Rep. Dale Warner, R-Eaton Rapids, says its major purpose is to "stop careless destruction of good farmlands in areas near developing cities."

Elton Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, which for years fought for tax relief for farmers-called the legislation "a positive step to assure a healthy and viable agriculture in Michigan."

"Farmers have been concerned about the availability of land, the one irreplaceable resource needed to produce food," Smith said. "We have been alarmed by the thousands of acres of prime farmland lost each year from agricultural production because of an unfair taxing system."

The Agriculture Department warns horse owners that they should have their animals vaccinated for equine encephalomyelitis-a form of sleeping sickness that attack horses, certain birds-and even humans in some cases.

"Last year several confirmed cases of EEE (in horses) were discovered in Michigan through laboratory analysis," Quinn says. "and we certainly don't want a similar outbreak this year."

203 Cass City athletes lionized at annual recognition fete

Highlighted by special awards to the top scholar-athletes in the school, some 203 athletes on 22 teams were feted Monday at an all-sports recognition night at Cass City High School.

A pair of Hawk three-sport stars were voted the coveted Paul Smarks trophy as the outstanding male athlete, scholar and citizen among the seniors at the school.

Judged outstanding were Scott Hartel and Chet Sieradzki. Hartel starred in football, basketball and baseball while Sieradzki bulkmarked the football, wrestling and track teams.

Hartel told the parents and friends of the players how happy he was to have been able to participate in sports in Cass City and Sieradzki said that he hoped he had been able to set an example for the boys who follow.

For the first time this year, an award to the outstanding senior female athlete was awarded. It was won by Karen Martin.

Karen was a two-year varsity regular on the basketball, softball and volleyball teams and carried over a 3-point average. She is president of the girls' Varsity Club.

The award was made by Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn, a member of the American Association of University Women, Cass City, which sponsored the award.

Miss Martin's name will be placed on a plaque to be a permanent part of the school's trophy case and she received an individual trophy as a reminder of her achievement.

Prior to the awards presentation, coaches of the various teams introduced all the members of the varsity and junior varsity teams at the school.

Each coach told a little about the season and the players and prospects for the future.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Bill Siel, sports writer for the Bay City Times.

Besides certificates for letters earned, the individual awards won by the players were recounted and distributed.

Hawks fourth in Thumb B

Cass City finished a surprising fourth in the Thumb B Conference track meet as powerful Vassar edged Frankenthuth for the team crown at Caro Wednesday, May 15.

The victory placed Frankenthuth and Vassar in a tie for the league title as the Eagles defeated the Vulcans in a dual meet earlier in the year.

The race for the championship was strictly a two-school duel. Vassar amassed 111 1/2 points while Frankenthuth totaled 106 points. Third place Bad Axe earned 55 1/2 points. Cass City scored 38. Other teams finished in the following order: Sandusky, 24 points; Lakers, 23 points; Caro, 19 points; and Marlette, 7 points.

The best finish for any Cass City thimelad was third. Blaise Postlusny was third in the 100 yard dash with a creditable 10.6. Postlusny led the way for the Hawks with a fourth in the 220 and a fourth in the long jump.

Other Hawk points were earned by Dallas Englehart, fifth in the 440; Ed Stoutenburg, sixth in the 180-yard low hurdles; Skip Speirs, fifth in the 800; and Rich Lowe, fourth in the two-mile.

Cass City earned points in all three relays. The Hawks were fifth in the mile relay, sixth in the 440 relay and third in the 880 relay.

The meet's only double winner, Barry Baranowski of Frankenthuth, took the 100 and 220-yard dashes and was named winner of the Clare McDurmon Awards as the meet's outstanding athlete.

The winners and the times or distance were:

Shot Put - Jim Brown (L) 47-feet-7 3/8; Long Jump - Bill Parberg (F) 20-feet-1; High Jump - Frank Malott (F) 6-feet; Pole Vault - Dave Eisinger (BA) 11-feet-6; 880-Yard Relay - Bad Axe (Ken Sams, Dave Eisinger, Mark Hass, Dan Smith) 1:35.4; 880-Yard Run - Jim Schiefer (F) 2:03.6; High Hurdles - Larry Martin (V) 15.4; Mile Run - Kelly Carder (BA) 4:42.6; 100-Yard Dash - Barry Baranowski (F) 10.5; 100-Yard Dash - Mark Smith (V) 10.5; Low Hurdles - Don Gohs (V) 21.15; Two-Mile Run - Tim Fall (V) 10:22.5; 220-Yard Dash - Barry Baranowski (F) 23.5; Mile Relay - Vassar (Tim Fessler, Toby Proffer, Tom Wade, Mark Smith) 3:35.4; 100-Yard Relay - Frankenthuth (Bill Parberg, John Bassett, Barry Baranowski, Al Nuechterlein) 46.0.

OVERJOYED BY her selection as the first winner of the outstanding woman athlete-student is Karen Martin. Making the presentation in behalf of the Cass City American Association of University Women is Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn.

Coming Auctions

Thursday, May 23 - Harold E. Stewart will hold a farm auction at the place located two miles north and three miles west of Fairgrove at 6111 Dutcher Rd. Lorn Bilbaker, auctioneer.

Saturday, May 25 - a household and farm machinery auction will be held 10 miles east and one and a half miles north of Cass City on Wheeler Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Jake White, owners, Ira and David Osentoski, auctioneers.

JUDGED BEST on the gridiron among the seniors in 1973 were Chester Sieradzki, left, and Scott Hartel. The award was presented by Coach Roland Pakonen, center.

FRED HURLBURT presents the "Re-Hawk" award, symbolic of the best basketball player and leader among the seniors at Cass City High School to Scott Hartel.

Hawk girls top Vassar to tie for Thumb B softball crown

Cass City High School's Girls Softball team ended its most successful year in its three-year history last week by downing Vassar 14-9 to tie with Vassar and Frankenthuth for the league championship.

Mary Thane picked up the win, with relief help from Mary Fleming in the fourth inning. The game was called in the top of the sixth because of rain.

Sharon Deering belted a three-run homer in the winning effort, going four-to-four. Elaine Stoutenburg went three-for-four.

Cass City unloaded for five runs in the fourth inning, including the Deering home run.

Coach Kally Maharg said she was extremely pleased with her squad's performance this year, pulling out a share of the championship in the last game.

Graduation will hurt next year, she said. Leaving will be pitcher Mary Thane, second baseman Sharon Deering, catcher Karen Martin and outfielders Chris Murphy, Melody Bacon and Karen O'Dell.

Little League in action again

The weatherman smiled on the players and the coaches as the Cass City Little League launched another baseball season Monday night at the Cass City Recreational Park.

It was a typical opening game performance for both teams as errors were the rule rather than the exception. Misplays played a leading role in the 10-8 decision posted by the Pirates over the Giants.

The Pirates might have coasted to an easy victory but Dean O'Harris and those who followed him to the mound gave up 20 walks in the six inning game. But the Giants could connect for only a two-base knock by Ernie Stoutenburg and two other singles.

The Pirates meanwhile picked up a hit in each of the five innings they went to the plate. Leading the attack were Tim Fahrner and J. Pusz with two hits each.

Defending regular season champions in the league are the Yankees and the defending play-off titlists are the Tigers.

MINOR LEAGUE

The Cass City Minor League also swung into action Monday as the Yankees controlled the Cubs, 19-8. Winning pitcher was Jeff Cooper. Steve Wynn, the first of a parade of Cub pitchers, was charged with the loss. Guy Namy was the hitting hero for the winners as he slammed a grand slam home run.

KELLY GEE

Kelly Gee will represent Cass City at this year's state Girl's Track Meet for C and D schools June 1 at Alma High School, following her performance in Friday's girls' regional meet held at the village recreational park.

Kelly earned a slot in the state meet by placing second in the 80 yard hurdles and third in the mile run.

In the 80-yard hurdles, she finished with a time of 13.3, a tenth of a second behind Dawn Humphrey of Sandusky.

In the mile run, she checked in with a time of 6:26.0, six seconds behind Audrey Essemacher of Harbor Beach and nine seconds behind winner Kathy Allen of Sandusky.

Top three finishers in each event received medals.

Overall, Cass City finished sixth in a field of 13 at the event. Other top finishers included Kathy Clarke, who tied for fifth in the high jump at 4'5". Cindy Lackowski of Bad Axe also cleared the same mark.

Cathy Kerbyson placed fourth in the 220 yard dash with a time of 29.8, 1.6 seconds behind winner Martha Hall of Sandusky.

In the medley relay, Cass
