

Proposed Thunderoad changes stir Greenleaf officials

A controversy over expanded use of Thunderoad Raceway on M-53 in Greenleaf township began to brew this week when township officials learned through a telephone call and a letter to the Chronicle that the track had been sold.

The township and zoning board called a special meeting Monday night at the township hall to hear a new owner, John Thomas of Bloomfield Hills, discuss his intentions.

Thomas, however, failed to show up for the meeting, leaving officials wondering what their next move would be.

The sequence of events leading up to Monday night's abortive meeting began Thursday, June 6, when the Chronicle received a letter from Thunderoad Raceways, Inc., headquartered in Bloomfield Hills.

In the letter, Thomas explained he had purchased the track from former owner Tom Kostanko and planned to make it a year-round facility. "Activities will be extended to include motorcycle racing, music festivals and snowmobiling, which means action continues year-round at Thunderoad," Thomas said in the letter.

"What does all this mean for the area? It means an inflow of resources. Potentially three million dollars worth of business will be attracted," the letter continued.

Thomas acknowledged traffic problems might arise because of expanded use of the track and promised measures to control the problem. He did not specify what those measures would be.

Thomas continued that local service clubs would have access to the facility for fund raising projects, and said area residents would be hired by the corporation.

ZONING PROBLEM

The controversy arose over township zoning. Chairman Phil Brack said during an official meeting of the zoning board Monday night that the track area is zoned commercial and according to the ordinance, the track is in violation.

The track, he pointed out, was constructed before the zoning ordinance went into effect. He told the board the track can stay as long as it is not changed in any way.

"I read what we know so far as a plan for expansion of the track," Brack said. "If he (Thomas) wants to do this, then he'll need a special use permit to do it."

Some zoning board members said they wondered if Thomas was informed regarding the zoning ordinance.

Other board members revealed agents had put out feelers to buy two adjoining parcels of land. One property owner, Keith Mitchell, a zoning board member, said someone left a card with a neighbor inquiring about buying land. Mitchell is the closest adjacent landowner who would be affected by track expansion. "We must watch for outsiders like this buying up cheap land here," Mitchell said. "Land is peanuts up here to them and before you know it, they might try to pick up a whole section."

Stuart Nichols, another board member, agreed. "We're all too close to something like that," he said. "Let them keep it in Detroit."

Nichols said the track has never been an asset to the area and land values nearby have not risen because of it. Both zoning and township boards are uncertain of Thomas' plans. Township Supervisor Gerald Bock said he received two telephone calls from Thomas last week saying he had purchased the track and wanting to explain his plans to township officials.

Bock said he told the track owner a special meeting would be called to get the entire story and he said Thomas agreed to meet with the boards Monday night.

Township officials say they know nothing more about the situation.

Brack indicated if Thomas plans to expand the uses of the track in anyway or improve it, a special use permit would be needed. He said this would extend to something as minor as paving the parking lot.

He added no application has yet been received.

Zoning board secretary Lynn Spencer said undoubtedly Thomas' move would be successful for him financially if he were allowed to complete his plans without any opposition.

"But you can bet the township won't get three million dollars out of it," Spencer said.

Other members said the net effect would be to lower the tax base of surrounding properties if the track were expanded.

The subject of allowing rock fests at the site also came up for discussion.

The board agreed in general that rock fests would have to be closely governed. Township board member Grant Ball suggested establishing a fee schedule for special events.

Officials came away generally dissatisfied with Thomas' failure to appear. They agreed they could do nothing until they had more information.

Repeated attempts by the Chronicle to reach Thomas by telephone Tuesday in Bloomfield Hills were unsuccessful.

Board members indicated they would attempt to investigate the situation and agreed to call another meeting as soon as they had substantive information.

Crash hospitalizes Gagetown woman

A 16-year-old Gagetown woman was hospitalized Thursday following injuries suffered in a one-car accident last afternoon on Bay City-Forestville Road just east of McElldowney Road.

Barbara Jean Warrack, 16, of 5651 Walsh Rd., was injured when the car she was driving west on Bay City-Forestville Road went out of control, traveled across the road and landed in a field.

She was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital where she was kept overnight.

The accident occurred at 10:00 p.m. State Police from the Caro Post investigated. Several other area accidents were also reported by police last week. Sunday, a motorcycle driven by Leslie Ian Karr, 17, of 5488 E. Cass City Rd., went out of control and struck a parked pickup truck on private property just east of Warner Road in Novesta township.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies who investigated said Karr attempted to turn a corner too fast on the machine when it skidded out of control on loose gravel.

Karr slammed into the side of the truck, which was parked. He was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital where he was listed in fair condition Tuesday afternoon.

PAIR INJURED

Two persons were injured Saturday, neither seriously, when the car in which they were riding ran off Tyre Road, about four miles south-east of Ubyly in Sanilac county and overturned, coming to rest against a tree on the east side of the road.

Floyd H. Morrish, 16, of Cass City, and one other passenger, Charles Brandt, 15, Ubyly, escaped injury.

Injured were Ethel Matice, 15, and Alvin Bosley, 15, both of Ubyly. They were treated at Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe.

Huron County Sheriff's deputies said Morrish was headed south when the right rear tire on his car blew out on a curve in the road. The car ran off the east side, entered a ditch, and rolled over, coming to rest against a tree.

The mishap occurred at 11:45 a.m.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Two other minor accidents were reported last week, all occurring Wednesday, June 5.

At 11:15 a.m., cars driven by John Edwin Meyer, 17, of White Creek Road, Kingston and James Norris, 55, of Waterford, collided at the

Owen-Gage plans for next year following split defeat Monday

The Owendale-Gagetown board of education began planning for next fall's classes in the wake of the annexation proposal's defeat at the polls during its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday night in Owendale.

Supt. Glenn Sanford talked cautiously about next year's program, telling between 25 and 30 district members present that the approval of six and one-half mills does not signal a mandate to spend.

He said the district will end up with a deficit of between $2,400 and $4,800 by the conclusion of the 1973-74 school year when all bills become due. This compares with a spending surplus of $2,600 at the end of the 1972-73 year.

Sanford was questioned repeatedly by newly-elected board member Ronald Reinhardt if the extra two and one-half mills approved by voters would support continuing the curriculum at its present level.

While qualifying his answers, the superintendent said tentative budget figures can be met with the millage.

He said, however, that this depends on the number of students the district will have next year.

The board approved renting St. Agatha's School in Gagetown for the coming school year, along with investigating the possibility of reintroducing Spanish and shorthand into the curriculum.

The discussion on this move centered on the possibility of combining first and second graders into single classes if the building were not rented. Sanford detailed other squeezes which would be placed on the Owendale facility if elementary students from Gagetown were brought there.

The board also discussed the possibility of offering physics and chemistry in alternating years because of a lack of students. Presently, four students have indicated they want to take physics at Owen-Gage next year, compared with 15 last year.

Some 14 students have also indicated they want to take chemistry next year.

Offering the classes in alternating years would keep both classes going, it was agreed.

Former board member Tom Laurie said if classes are continually dropped, the school would lose the incentive to bring tuition students from Cass City back into the system.

Sanford replied that plans must be made for the whole year and lived with after that. He said numbers of students in the fall at Owen-Gage is still a big question mark.

Laurie called combining classes a step backward and urged the board to explore ways to retain classes and expand offerings if possible.

It was learned that 43 students will be enrolled in second grade at Gagetown next year and 41 in third grade.

Total cost for rental of St. Agatha's school would run about $20,000, Sanford said, which has already been tentatively budgeted for that purpose.

The motion to rent the building passed 5-0 with retiring board member Kenneth Voelker abstaining. Board member George Wilson was absent.

LAURIE DEcriES INCIDENTS

Laurie also addressed the board on recent incidents resulting in the malicious destruction of Supt. Sanford's garden and other verbal abuse directed toward the superintendent.

"The group I worked with on this annexation issue and I are very displeased with the actions around Glenn's (Sanford) house the last couple of days," Laurie said. "There's been an image created that's turned into a Dracula here and I want to know where the image came from. Who created it and what are we going to do to get rid of it?"

Sanford admitted he had taken the major portion of abuse he felt he did not deserve.

Laurie stated that the image may have originated with the board and to an extent with Sanford himself, charging the board ran a one-sided campaign on annexation.

Board President Eldon Dietzel denied any wrongdoing on the board's part and defended the board's actions in the campaign. Member Mrs. Mary Downing said Sanford had taken too much. Concluded on page 16.

Incumbents lose at Owen-Gage

For the second time in five years, voters in the Owendale-Gagetown School district decisively turned down an attempt to split the district by over a 2-1 margin in voting Monday.

Final totals show 292 votes in favor of annexation and 608 against the move.

Voters also approved renewing four mills and adding two and one-half for operation by a 573-317 margin.

They also elected Jack Brinkman and Ronald Reinhardt to the school board, defeating incumbents Kenneth Voelker and Richard Ziehm. Results show Reinhardt with 630 votes, Brinkman with 624, Ziehm with 267 and Voelker with 253.

A total of 949 voters cast ballots in the election.

Supt. Glenn Sanford said the turnout was higher than he had anticipated and read the results as a statement from voters that they wanted to keep the district.

He declined to predict what the next move for the district would be.

Observers see the election of Brinkman and Reinhardt as strengthening the faction seeking to upgrade the district. Speculation now surrounds attempts to construct a new high school building.

An earlier attempt to approve a bond issue to build a $2.66 million high school was defeated last December.

More classes set for high school under new curriculum plan

There will be several new courses offered students at Cass City High School next fall following approval Monday night by the Cass City School Board of alterations in the curriculum as presented by Principal Russell Richards.

The curriculum discussion was the highlight of the shortest regular board session of the year. In less than an hour, the board whipped through the limited agenda. Following the open meeting, a meeting to discuss teacher negotiations was held that was closed to the press and the public.

Next year students will be offered a course in journalism and the course now called "publications". Other new courses will be pre-algebra and world geography. These courses will replace courses offered this year that were unpopular with the students.

They are changes rather than additions to the curriculum. As such they will require no more teacher hours. However, plans for adding a teacher for the high school were revealed. Another teacher is needed because next year's ninth grade has 190 students, the largest class in history at the school.

While the curriculum changes do not require an added teacher, they require textbooks. Books for these courses and for home economics will cost the district about $1,900.

In the past several years, the home economics class has been operating without a text book because none deemed adequate were available.

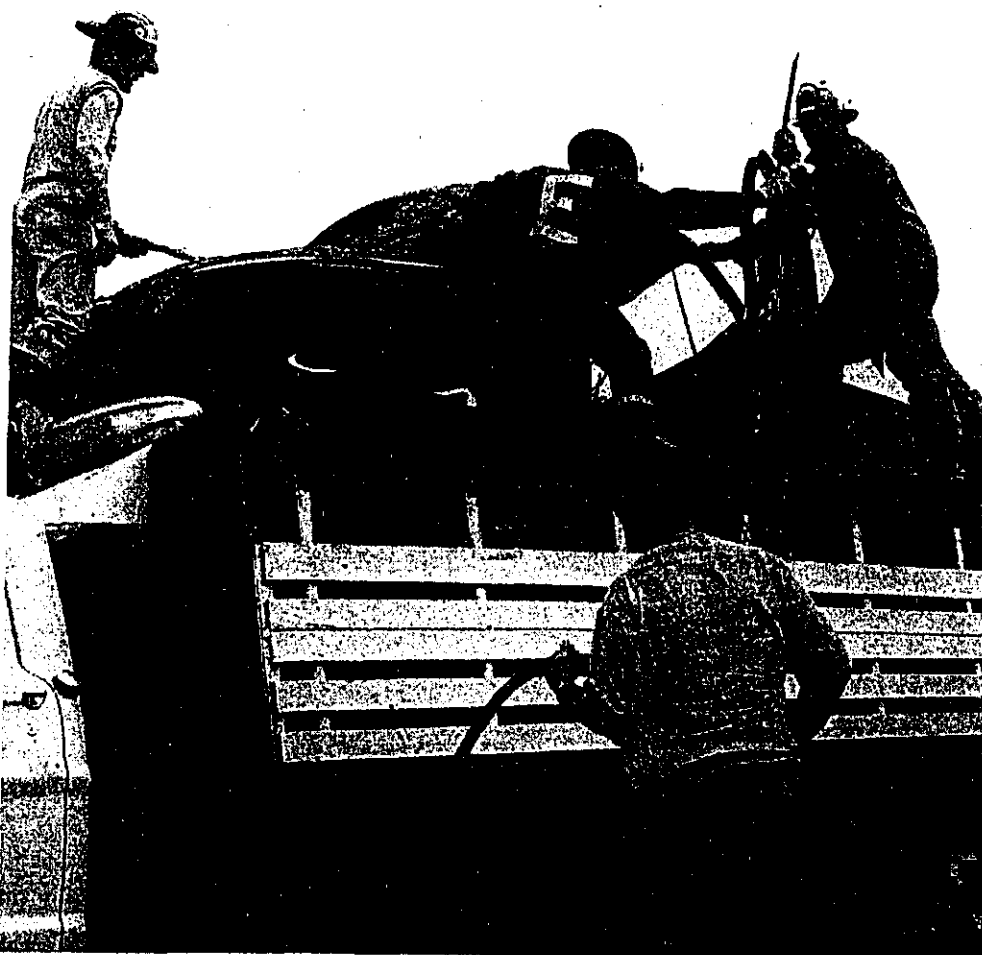

For next year three new books for home economics use were authorized.

SET POLICY

Although no formal action was taken it appears to be a board policy that leaves absence for teachers will only be allowed for specific purposes. For this reason, Barbara Tuckey was one of four teachers who submitted resignations Monday. She had originally inquired about a leave of absence for a year.

Others to resign are Linda Eisinger, elementary art; Fred Hurlburt, coach and physical education, and Marilyn Wendorf, Evergreen first grade.

The method and rate of payment for election officials was changed by the board. Workers will be paid $2.25 per hour, up from $1.50 per hour. However two meals at $2 each and payment while eating will no longer be allowed by the

FIRE DESTROYED THIS car belonging to Dale Gibbs of Holly early Sunday morning on M-81, five miles west of Cass City. The driver was unhurt. Cause of the fire was believed to be faulty wiring, Elkland township fire officials said. Damage was set at $800. (See story page 3.)

MAKES IT WORK

That all people should think alike is not the democratic way—but it would help if everybody would think.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murphy

Trinity United Methodist Church was the setting for the May 18 wedding ceremony of Jean Louise Gynormy and Michael Keith Murphy, Rev. E.D.K. Isaacs officiated at the 6:30 service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gynormy Jr. of Deford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Murphy of Cass City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a silk organza gown. Tiny floral cotton Venice lace fanned from the transparent bodice. The waist and cuffs were accented with bands of cotton Venice schiffli embroidery. The flounce swept to a waltz-length chapel train. A three-tier fingertip veil covered the Venice lace bonnet. She carried a single pink rose.

Maid of honor was Paula Decker, friend of the bride. She wore an orchid gown of daeron polyester organza with a flounced skirt and ruffles defining the bodice. She wore a matching picture hat.

Bridesmaids were Kristine Murphy, sister of the groom, and Sue Kulinski, friend of the bride. They wore identical gowns and hats of blue and yellow. They carried bouquets of white daisies with matching ribbons.

Best man was Jerry Toner of Cass City, cousin of the groom. Groomsman were James Gynormy, brother of the bride, and Louis John Gynormy, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Scott Guinther of Cass City, cousin of the bride, and Kurt Kritzman of Bay City, cousin of the groom.

Mother of the bride wore a light blue gown, and the mother of the groom wore a light green gown. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Teachers at Campbell Elementary school attended a potluck luncheon Friday noon at the school, marking the last day of the current school year. Three teachers who will not be returning next year as members of the teaching staff, were presented with gifts. They are Jan Thomas, Anne Lawton and Mrs. Beulah Craig.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and candlelaria. Organist was Mrs. Joan Merchant. Soloist Lewis Tibbits sang "If" and "The Lord's Prayer".

A dinner reception for 350 followed at the Deford Community Church. After a honeymoon in Florida, the couple will reside in Gagetown.

The wedding cake, a gift to the couple, was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Louis Gynormy of Kingston.

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Nothing is harder to sustain than a locally sponsored carnival, home-coming or Western Round-Up. This year the Round-Up faded just like the home-coming did before it and the Cass City Fair did before that. The reason? Too much work and too little favorable response.

Elwyn Helwig is off the school board after 12 years. During his tenure he was an able trustee for local taxpayers. He was especially valuable in the building and remodeling fields and was leaned on by the school administration and the board in these fields.

Ah! Michigan weather. Monday I spent much of the day scurrying around seeing if that overloaded wiring system at the Chronicle could stand an air conditioner. Tuesday the gals that work upstairs were down demanding that I turn on the heat.

Fritz Olsen is a relative newcomer to the community, taking over Trend Vending six months or so ago.

He said the other day while we were chowing down together at Rotary that he has learned that when he tells me something it had better be clearly correct. . . and quotable. Now why would he say that?

Chronicle foreman Jim Moore is vacationing during the month of June in Europe with his wife, Kate. Not everyone gets to do this, but it's not all that unusual.

Not unusual for many of you, that is. It marks a metamorphosis for Moore. Before he was married about the farthest he ventured from the home fires was down town to replenish his supply of brew or buy a dozen eggs.

Since his wife took him in tow, he's been over most of the country, the Caribbean and now Europe. Who needs women's lib, anyway?

Incidentally, I used the word metamorphosis even though James Molnar, one of my most persistent critics, accuses me of using a word that many of my readers aren't familiar with. I disagreed (naturally). I claim that any high school student that has learned about the caterpillar changing into a butterfly knows what metamorphosis means.

And doesn't it describe what happened to our foreman just perfectly?

Firemen battle three area blazes

Elkland Township Firemen were kept busy last week, answering three calls from Friday afternoon through Sunday morning.

Firemen were called at 1:30 p.m. Friday to quell a blaze that broke out in a truckload of junk cars on Bay City-Forestville Road on M-53.

Driver Carl Jahn of Port Austin told firemen he was traveling from Argyle to Bay City when the fire started in one of the cars. He said workmen had cut the rear end out of the vehicle before loading it and a spark apparently lodged inside the car, starting the blaze.

No one was injured and no damage was caused.

Early Saturday morning, the department was called to put out another fire at the Cass City Sanitary Landfill, the second in as many weeks. Fire Chief Dick Root said the fire was under control in 45 minutes.

Root said the origin of the fire was not known but he suspected it might have been set. The fire was reported at 12:35 a.m.

He added that the department has asked the village to investigate the situation. Another fire at the landfill was reported at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, this time extinguished by village DPW workmen.

Early Sunday morning, a car driven by a Holly man was destroyed by fire on M-81 five miles west of Cass City. Chief Root said the fire probably started in the electrical system and gutted the interior.

The driver was uninjured. The fire was reported at 3:45 a.m.

GOVERNOR William G. Milliken last week presented State Senator Alvin J. DeGrow, (left) with a signed copy of Public Act 160 which will place the question of a Vietnam veterans bonus on the ballot in the November general election.

Sen. DeGrow, one of the sponsors of the bill, said that if the question is approved by the voters the state will be permitted to borrow $205 million in general obligation bonds to pay a service bonus of $600 to veterans eligible to wear the Vietnam Service medal or the Armed Forces Expeditionary medal.

Amounts up to $450 will be granted to other Michigan veterans serving in the Armed forces during the Vietnam conflict.

You can sell most anything if you package it right and advertise it the same way.

Remember when Charles Atlas sold a body building program by repeating over and over how he could turn the 97-pound weakling into the neighborhood strong boy? Or how about any of the zillion diet fads that have hit the market?

You'd think that the supply of gimmicks would exhaust itself. . . but it hasn't and never will.

The modern snake oil salesman changes the dressing but the pitch is always the same. With a "secret formula" or a "never before discovered idea so simple that anyone can learn it" the pitchman appeals to the secret desires or ambitions we all day dream about.

The cosmetic industry has more than a little of the snake oil approach and so do some of the patent medicines that are sold over the boob tube.

The approach here is a little more subtle than the ones that appear in some magazines and once in a while in the papers.

I thought about this again the other day when reading the Detroit metro dailies. Gracing the sports pages is a classic "snake oil" ad.

This one sells a "secret discovery" guaranteed to make the duffer the next best thing to Jack Nicklaus.

The ad describes how this discovery took the score of the promoter-duffer from 116 to 72 in 10 days. . . just 10 days, that's all.

It's the one thing that all the pros do, the ad proclaims, it's a wonder that no one has thought of it before. . . it's so simple. Then the ad describes how it helped all his friends. . . makes putting, chipping and driving all better, and better at once.

Now I know that the guy paying for those ads is huckstering. . . pure and simple. My reason tells me that no way is there any magic formula that will turn a duffer into a par shooter almost overnight.

Still hope springs eternal. This particular pitchman asks $6 for his "secret". If the cost had been $2.00 I might have bitten. Just to satisfy my curiosity.

After all the ad did appear in two prestigious dailies and presumably they investigated the ad before accepting it.

I'll admit I was tempted. What's $6 if it would keep my ball out of the woods, the waters or from landing six feet off the tee?

And that's the whole idea behind the pitch. I've seen that ad before. It costs about $350 per insertion so it's reasonable to assume that when it runs, 100 or more duffers dip into the pocketbook for golf salvation. The promoter isn't working for nothing.

Despite all this, I'd still like to know what this particular gimmick is. It's only because I don't want to be taken for a sucker that I don't send in $6 to find out.

I'm just old enough to know that there really isn't any utopia.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Make your love public

BY JIM FITZGERALD

It is not enough that a guy tell his doll he loves her. He should also tell the world. Then the doll will be his sex object forever, no matter how late he gets home for dinner.

You read about Dan Edelstein and Mary Ann Snider. He took her to see the Braves and the Phillies play baseball in Atlanta. At the end of the 3rd inning she looked up at the scoreboard and there, in the same huge letters used to count Henry Aaron's home runs, it said: "Mary Ann, I love you. Will you marry me?" — Dan Edelstein.

Immediately, Mary Ann gave Dan a lingering smooch while thousands applauded. At the end of the 4th inning, the scoreboard announced that Mary Ann had accepted. More applause. By declaring his love publicly, Dan had made Mary Ann an instant celebrity. Little boys asked for her autograph and envious women leaned close to sniff the scent that had turned a normal male into an adoring slave.

Mary Ann was so delighted with Dan's proposal she didn't even time his absence when he went to get a beer during the 7th inning and didn't return until the last of the 9th.

Which is what this is all about, guys. Forget Ann Landers. I am here with the best advice on how to be happy though married. If your wife does her cleaning in the nude, Ann Landers will simply advise you to close the drapes. What does she care if your wife is a street cleaner? That's not the kind of sloppy advice you get from me.

On your wedding anniversary, don't take your wife out to a candlelight dinner. That's ho-hum stuff and besides, when you light the candle the other diners laugh and honk their horns at you.

The thing to do is buy a full-page ad in the local newspaper. In big red letters say something like: "Thank you, Susie Glutz, 1854 Elm St., for 19 years of wedded bliss. You are the most wonderful, beautiful wife in the world and I love you now more than ever. If it weren't for the opening of trout season, I would certainly be with you on this anniversary of the most important day of my life — Arnold Glutz."

Another idea is to get an airplane to tow your message of love over the ballpark during a World Series game ("When you say Susie Glutz, you've said it all"). Or paint the passionate words on a freeway overpass. Use a billboard, or a disc jockey. Rent space on Howard Cosell's forehead. The possibilities are limitless.

The important thing to remember is there is no real romance in whispering. When you tell her you love her, shout and turn handsprings. Do anything to attract public attention. Your wife wants the woman next door to come over and ask to borrow a cup of aphrodisiac.

Don't ask me why women are that way. I can't know everything. It's probably some kind of backlash from closing too many drapes. Ask Ann Landers. The important thing is that all husbands learn this guaranteed formula for becoming household heroes who can get away with anything if they hire a skywriter to make their apologies.

My wife Pat likes to drive to the St. Clair River bank and watch the lake freighters go by, just a few yards away. My plan is to have my love message printed along the side of the biggest boat on the Great Lakes. Something like: "I'll always stand Pat."

Union members ratify new General Cable contract

Labor peace was assured last week at General Cable Corp. when management and United Steel Workers Local 6222 agreed to terms of a new three-year contract. Rank and file workers ratified the pact Wednesday, June 5, by a 193-136 vote.

The pact calls for a wage increase of $1.14 spread over the life of the contract, along with improvements in vacation, retirement and medical treatment.

Industrial Relations Manager Bernhard K. Rasmussen said the settlement amounts to a 31 per cent increase over three years at the starting wage.

Local President Grace Nemeth said the contract also provides for better holiday pay and an increase in the number of persons receiving a paid lunch period.

The two sides reached tentative agreement June 1.

Mrs. Nemeth said the large percentage of no votes cast came from many new employees who she indicated may not have totally understood the terms of the settlement.

General Cable presently has 420 employees on their seniority list.

Both sides had been working on a week-long extension of the old contract pending ratification of the new pact.

Novesta Church plans camp

Hi Gates, manager for the Rock Lake Church of Christ camp at Vestaburg, spoke and showed film at the Sunday morning service in the Novesta Church of Christ. Registrations for camp are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Little, Bobbi MacKay, the first to register for camp, received a prize. It is expected that 35 or more will be attending.

Also under way at the church are registrations for the church's Daily Vacation Bible School, to be held Aug. 19-23. Mrs. Harold Prong reports that 45 workers and pupils have signed so far to participate.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK

Take me out to the hospital?

By Jim Ketchum

Last week had to be, in addition to national girl-watching week, national crazy week. Maybe it had something to do with the new crop of mosquitos, I'm not sure.

But when a riot at a baseball game makes page one, the world is in sad shape.

The riot, you may have read, happened in Cleveland during a game between the Indians and the Texas Rangers. It was 10-cent beer night at the old ball park and apparently a good portion of the paying customers took advantage of it. By the ninth inning, with the score tied 5-5, a number of "Fans" charged out to get Ranger rightfielder Jeff Burroughs. Both benches and much of the stands emptied and the game eventually went to Texas by forfeit.

It must be the animal instincts or the phase of the moon. This is only the latest in what is becoming an ugly string of such incidents, and while no one got killed in Cleveland, some came pretty close.

"They were just uncontrollable beasts," umpire Nester Chylak said after the melee. Words such as disgusting, disgraceful and shocking were used by players and officials on both sides following the brawl.

But why did it happen? This is baseball, the all-American family game? At least boxers wear gloves and get rest breaks every two minutes. And they don't use rocks, bottles and chairs to subdue each other.

Maybe it has something to do with living in an age where nothing is sacred anymore. Maybe it was some insane attempt to get publicity or to work off all that cheap beer.

Maybe it was the fact that causing trouble gets headlines quicker than honest, hard work. Getting arrested for something, from conspiracy to obstruct justice to hitting an umpire over the head with a chair, makes celebrities instantly.

All the Watogate burglars either have or will write books about it. Maybe whoever started the fracas in Cleveland will write his memoirs and will probably publish them in Mad Magazine or the Illiterate Digest.

Other fan incidents this year have forced stadium officials in nearly every town to double security guards and restrict fan movement. If it gets much worse, limits on crowd size may have to be set.

Detroit fans shouldn't snicker up their sleeves just because it happened in Cleveland. It wasn't too many years ago that Norm Cash, Willie Horton and the rest were the target of the boobies and an occasional popcorn box as well.

Fans have to remember that this isn't the Roman Colosseum and those aren't slaves to be fed to the lions. They are human beings playing a game they love.

You can talk about your $100,000 wondors down on the diamond, but even that much money isn't enough to make me a sitting duck for a pop bottle or a firecracker.

And, chances are, it isn't enough to make them want the job either.

Sentence two Monday

Two sentencings were handed down Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court before presiding Judge James P. Churchill.

John N. Fierros, 18, was granted a deferred sentence of one year after pleading guilty to marijuana possession at Akron-Fairgrove High School Jan. 17.

He was ordered to pay costs of $100 at $10 per month.

Court officials explained that under state law, first offenders in marijuana cases may be given deferred sentences. This is the first sentence of its kind in the court.

Steve Barker, no address given, was sentenced for attempted breaking and entering and larceny in a building to Jackson Prison for from three to five years with credit for 83 days already served.

He was found guilty of attempting to break into a television sales store in Vassar March 27 and stealing a number of television sets.

Patricia Belle Nitz, 34, Sebawaing, was arraigned on charges of joy riding and felonious assault. She stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered in her behalf. Pre-trial examination was set for July 8.

She is charged with taking a car in Indianfields township and assaulting its owner with a hunting knife. The incident occurred Nov. 22, 1973.

Pre-trial examination in the case of David Lautner, 17, Cass City, charged with larceny, was continued to June 21.

Probe destruction of Owendale garden

Someone got carried away Sunday night and, in an incident thought to be related to the Owendale-Gagetown school election Monday, poured gasoline on school Supt. Glenn Sanford's garden and set fire to it.

Huron County Sheriff's deputies were called to investigate around 10:30 p.m.

The incident followed an earlier incident the night before in which beer cans and other refuse was reportedly dumped on the superintendent's lawn. Sanford, his wife and family live in Owendale. Deputies said they had no leads in the destruction of the garden.

Cass City Police investigated a series of rock-throwing incidents in the village last week that claimed a street light, a camper window and a car window.

Thursday, Floyd Luetke, co-owner of L&S Standard, reported to police someone threw a stone and cracked the rear window of a truck camper top sometime around 10:30 a.m.

He told police he heard a noise in the rear of the service station and when he went to investigate, found the damage. Loss was set at $25.

Police commented that a large number of juveniles were in the area at the time of the incident.

Friday night, someone broke the right rear window on the driver's side of a car owned by John Russell, of 6461 Main St. He told police he parked the car behind the Western Auto store at 7:00 p.m., locked it at 10:00 p.m. and discovered the damage the following morning.

Police found no stones or objects that might have been used to break the window in the area. Damage was estimated at $30.

Sunday, police investigated a report of two youths smashing a street light at the intersection of Seventh and West Streets. Officers traced the youths to a nearby home where a 12-year-old and 14-year-old boy admitted breaking the light with a stone.

Police said they turned the information over to Detroit Edison Co. Names were withheld because of their age.

THEFTS

Area police investigated two area thefts last week. Wednesday, June 5, Cass City Police investigated the theft of $60 from a cash register till at Ken's Mobil on Main Street.

Police said that tentative identity of the culprit, a juvenile, was made Friday, who after questioning, was turned over to State Police from the Sandusky Post as a run-away.

A new series of copper telephone wire thefts was reported in the Owendale area, according to State Police from the Bad Axe Post.

They said nearly 11,000 feet of copper line was taken Thursday and Friday.

The thefts occurred in separate locations along Bach and Nottler Roads in Brookfield township Thursday, with an additional 1,200 feet of wire missing Friday from along Nottler Road, north of Owendale.

Troopers said the wire is believed to have been taken from both locations at the same time.

The line was valued at over $1,900 at current market prices.

A number of copper wire thefts, involving telephone and electrical lines, have been reported in recent months in Huron county, particularly since the price of copper rose sharply.

Present market value is about $1.90 per pound. Police said the wire used by the phone company is top grade and not insulated.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies investigated the larceny of four radiators and a battery from several vehicles from property belonging to Joan Marie Cook of Phillips Road, Kingston.

Police said the Cooks had placed several vehicles into a vacant field north of their residence and last week were preparing them for a sale when the thefts were discovered.

She told police her son discovered the thefts. Total property loss was valued at $120.

Walbro declares dividend

At a regular meeting June 3, Walbro Corporation's Board of Directors declared a semi-annual cash dividend of nine cents a share on Walbro common stock. The dividend, up from eight cents a share in the first six months of 1973, is payable on July 31, 1974, to shareholders of record of June 28.

Name field

for Thumb

A new Cooperative Extension field crops agent has been appointed for Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac counties effective July 1.

Assuming the post is Samuel J. Woods, following approval by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

Woods received his bachelor's degree in crop science from MSU in 1965 and master's degree in the same field in 1968. He earned his Ph.D. in agronomy from Purdue University in 1974.

He was an extension field crops agent in New York state from January to August, 1969 and MSU Cooperative Extension agent in Bay county from February 1970 to August 1971.

Woods' duties in the tri-county area will include responsibility for planning, organizing and conducting extension educational programs in field crops, production and marketing, particularly dry beans.

Woods will be based in Tuscola county.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Cass City's last hopes for a full educational program went down the drain by a narrow margin of 52 votes Monday as the electorate voted 572-520 against a proposition calling for four extra mills operating funds for one year.

Monday was a frustrating night for the Cass City School Board. Several teachers were granted releases, the black-top bid for the parking lot was 50 per cent over estimated cost and rejected, the school millage failed to pass, the summer reading program is finding limited acceptance and there are maintenance problems at several of the schools.

Mild temperatures and lavish sunshine during the week restored countryside calm to area farmers after last week's off-and-on sequence of battering rainstorms.

Owen-Gage school district's renewal request for three mills of operational millage for three years received voter okay Monday, June 9.

The Cass City Board of Education voted to officially recognize Arthur Holmberg's long service to the school system Monday night by voting to hang a memorial to him in the new high school building.

TEN YEARS AGO

Cass City saved money by taking new bids for curb and gutter and sidewalk on east Main Street. Only one bid was received in an earlier letting and was not approved by the State Highway Department.

Incumbent James Milligan lost by a 71-vote margin to Ken Maharg in the school election held Monday.

Allison Green of Kingston, Speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, announced today that he will be a candidate at the Republican primary for State Representative from the new district 15 which includes Huron and Tuscola counties.

The storm about the color of the new water tower in Cass City proved to be a tempest in a teapot as only three persons attended the special session of the council Tuesday night to discuss the project.

High winds blasting through Cass City Tuesday snapped tree limbs like strands of spaghetti but caused very little damage to property in the village.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

At a meeting of the Elkland Township Board Thursday evening, June 2, members of that body voted to purchase a Boyer fire engine and pump for use in the rural area of the township. The complete unit is expected to cost $10,000.

The municipal swimming pool is scheduled to open next week.

The school auditorium was filled to capacity Sunday evening when baccalaureate services were held in which pastors of local churches participated.

The Cub Scouts of Tuscola county are making plans for their second annual Cub Scout field day to be held at the Cass City Recreational Park June 23.

Diplomas were presented to 81 Cass City High School seniors Tuesday night.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Fire of undetermined origin early Tuesday morning destroyed the interior of the Strand Theatre building in Caro, which was in the process of remodeling and wrecked the store occupied by the Vastbinder Pharmacy. Damage was estimated at $35,000.

William Ball, chairman of the program for the state Orangemen's celebration here Wednesday, July 12, says that there will be added features which will make a more extensive program than was presented here at a similar occasion last summer.

The first of a series of Wednesday evening band concerts during the summer months in Cass City will be given June 12, starting at 7:45 p.m.

Detroit Edison Co. began this week placing street signs and house numbers throughout Cass City. The signing and numbering project will be completed by Sept. 1, company officials said.

Some 65 seniors were graduated from Cass City High School in ceremonies held Tuesday night at the school auditorium.

Hospital cited

for anti-smoking campaign

Hills and Dales General Hospital has been recognized by the Michigan Lung Association for efforts in its anti-smoking campaign with a certificate of merit.

The certificate was awarded the hospital for making major progress in non-smoking efforts.

Specifically patients may request to designate whether they want a room mate who smokes or not. Visitors will be permitted to smoke only in designated areas and will be prohibited from smoking in rooms or wards shared by non-smokers.

Hospital personnel will be requested not to smoke in the presence of patients or visitors at any time and will be permitted to smoke only in designated areas.

The award was announced by Henry R. Hug, M.D., and chairman of the Lung Association's committee on anti-smoking.

The fellow who wastes his time has little else to waste.

TIP TO MOTORISTS

Using a little caution on that summer trip may save a life—and it could be your own.

IN ECONOMY CARS, THE DODGE BOYS ARE RIGHT ON TARGET.

DART SPORT GOT 27.3 MILES PER GALLON.

Dodge CHRYSLER
AUTHORIZED DEALERS

Our Darts feature USAC-proven economy.

Our big winner was the six-cylinder Dodge Dart Sport which got 27.3 mpg. That was better gas mileage than the Chevy Nova or Ford Maverick got in the USAC test. (All three cars were six-cylinder, manual shift models.)

In addition, our popular Dart Swinger hardtop with automatic transmission got 23.6 mpg—which was better than the Nova stick shift got. (Both Dart and Nova had six-cylinder engines.) For you V8 fans—the real topper was a Dodge Dart Sport with 318 V8. It got 21.7 mpg. Again, this was better than the Nova Six got. (Both the Nova Six and Dart V8 had manual shifts.)

The USAC "Miles-Per-Gallon Showdown" was a three-phase test using nonprofessional drivers. Mileage figures appearing in this ad are from the open road phase of that test which covered a distance of 972 miles at an average speed of 53 mph. The Dart Sport six-cylinder car had the new standard 2.76 rear axle. For complete results and more surprising facts, see your nearby Dodge Dealer.

Sanctioned and results certified by United States Auto Club.

Trinity women meet June 3

The women of Trinity United Methodist Church gathered Monday morning, June 3, for their final meeting before summer recess.

The program featured a presentation, "Bread and Milk," given by Mrs. Wayne Adam, Snover, and Mrs. Wayne Wood of Marlette.

Of special interest to the group was a market basket of groceries, purchased locally, which was used to show the national average as compared with local prices and the farmers share of the items. They stated that of some 8,500 different items in an average supermarket today, 35 per cent are non-edible. The program was arranged by Mrs. Clare Carpenter.

During a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Gary Christner, an all-church picnic at the village park June 23, was announced and plans made to host Miss Marie Burger of Coopersville who will work with the Salem-Trinity youth for nine weeks during the summer.

Mrs. Leslie Hurd and Mrs. Howard Rexin will represent the local unit at the June 26-29 School of Christian Mission at Adrian College.

A noon luncheon was served by Mrs. Rexin and members of her committee in group one.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TUSCOLA COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION

The Tuscola County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at the Court House, Caro, Mich., June 18, 1974 at 8:00 p.m.

This hearing is for the purpose of adopting a General Development Plan for the County of Tuscola.

This plan is intended to serve as a guide for a long-range land use development in the county.

The General Development Plan is not a zoning map or any other ordinance that regulates the use of land.

The proposed General Development Plan is available for examination in the lobby of Tuscola County Courthouse, Caro, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on business days.

ALTON REAVEY

BETTER HEALTH

Dealing with high blood pressure

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ and DR. WILLIAM J. WELCH

Judging from the recent spate of publicity urging public health programs to find and treat people who have high blood pressure, you might think that high blood pressure was a new disease that has just been discovered.

In fact, it has been a familiar problem to doctors and their patients for many generations. With the appearance at the turn of the century of the arm-cuff measuring device (sphygmomanometer), hardly anyone since then has been able to get out of a doctor's office without a recording of his blood pressure.

In many cases, to be sure, depending on factors such as age, sex, race and family history, high blood pressure can produce illness, and is one of the measurable and often unsuspected disorders man is subject to that can even shorten his life.

In a few cases, somewhere around 10 per cent, a specific cause of the high pressure can be found and fixed: an inherited constriction of the big blood vessel leading from the heart (coarctation of the aorta), for example, can be operated on and cured.

Occasionally, the repair of poor circulation to one of the kidneys will lower the pressure, or the surgical removal of a tumor of the adrenal gland (pheochromocytoma) will bring the pressure down to normal.

But in most cases we do not know the basic cause, even though the way in which it happens is clearer now than it used to be, thanks to modern research.

However, the large group of what we call essential hypertension (another way of saying that we do not know the cause) can be treated quite successfully with medications that bring the pressure down to more nearly normal levels.

And even though we know that this is not qualitatively different from bringing a fever down with aspirin, there is growing evidence that keeping the pressure down probably delays or prevents damage to the so-called "target" organs, which are the places where an elevated blood pressure gets people into trouble -- the brain, the kidneys, the heart and the eyes.

So the treatment is prescribed in the hope that a stroke can be avoided, a heart attack prevented, the kidneys protected from failing and the small blood vessels of the eyes (and thus sight) preserved.

The difficulty is that many people with high blood pressure can go for many years without symptoms or signs of target-organ trouble. Adhering strictly to a relatively sophisticated regimen of daily pills is as hard for doctors to enforce as for patients to put up with, especially when the goal of treatment is to influence a potential risk at some unspecified time in the future. And deciding who is most at risk is not always easy.

At any level of blood pressure, statistically, women have a more favorable outlook than men. Older people, again at any level of blood - pressure elevation, have a better outlook than the young. The younger the patient at the onset of hypertension, the greater is the reduction of life expectancy compared with his healthy contemporaries.

We also know that high blood pressure is more prevalent, and more severe, in blacks than in whites, especially among blacks less than 50 years old.

In some people the blood pressure tends to fluctuate; some days it is way up and some days it is quite normal. They seem to be at less risk than those whose pressure is always at high levels.

Sometimes, when there have been members of a family struck down early in life by a stroke, kidney trouble or heart failure, the younger ones in the family who may have only borderline elevations are thought to be at greater risk of progressing to high blood pressure.

In general, doctors agree that at least three measurements of your blood pressure on different days are necessary to determine whether or not you should be treated. If the diastolic pressure (the lower of the two levels recorded by the arm-cuff) is consistently over 105 millimeters of mercury, treatment should probably be instituted. But so many factors enter into any individual situation that the one to decide is your own doctor.

Auvil earns

engineering

Steven Auvil, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Auvil of Snover, recently completed his requirements for a Ph.D. degree in chemical engineering at Michigan State University.

STEVEN AUVIL

His thesis, entitled "A General Analysis of Gas Centrifugation with Emphasis on the Countercurrent Production Centrifuge," was sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

He also earned a bachelor of science degree in 1970 and a master of science degree in 1971 from MSU. Both degrees are in chemical engineering.

Auvil, his wife, Pamela, and their three children, Steven Jr., Dennis and Nathaniel, reside in St. Louis, Missouri. He is currently employed by Monsanto Company as a senior research engineer.

AROUND THE FARM

It's fair time

By William Bortel

Summer fair season in Michigan opens July 3 and ends September 28, with 83 county, 4-H and agricultural fairs and two state fairs on the schedule.

"Come to the fair is an invitation to fun and learning in Michigan," said B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. "Our fairs offer a chance to discover the great variety of Michigan's agricultural products, to learn how Michigan farmers have produced these goods and to get Michigan families together for old-fashioned entertainment."

Michigan's two state fairs are the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba Aug. 13-18, and the Michigan State Fair at Detroit Aug. 23 - Sept. 2.

Other fair dates and locations, as compiled by MDA's County Fair section, are: July 3-7, Lake Odessa; July 3-6, Marion; July 8-13, Big Rapids; July 15-20, Hastings, Marne, Croswell, Fowler, Sparta, Vassar; July 20-27, Hartford; July 22-27, Charlotte, Holland; July 24-27, Hale; July 26-Aug. 4, Ionia; July 27, Menominee; July 27 - Aug. 3, Mason; July 29 - Aug. 2, Saline; July 29 - Aug. 3, Harrison, Caro, Davidsburg; July 30 - Aug. 3, Hesperia; Aug. 1-4, Standish, Northville; Aug. 4-10, Jackson, Bad Axe; Aug. 5-8, Mt. Your neighbor says

The best time is now

What were the best years of your life? High School? College? Some other time in the past?

Right now is the best time of all, according to Joyce LaRoche of 4259 Ale St. "Every year life gets better," she says. "I loved high school very much but I think life gets better every day."

She says she enjoys living in the present and looking to the future with her husband, James, who is employed at General Cable, and her four children. She is employed at Schneberger's.

She says while high school was enjoyable for her the entire time, it can't compare with the present.

AGENT'S CORNER

New bacon packages near

Aliene Mills - Extension Agent

Consumers keep your eyes open for new bacon packages which will be changing to meet U.S. Department of Agriculture regulations. This requires that all bacon packages have a transparent area at least 1 1/2 inches wide and revealing at least 70 per cent of the length of a representative slice. To help meet this requirement, many bacon packages added a new "back window" while some simply show a full slice in a "front window". When this happens you will have a better chance to choose the kind of bacon you like.

Here are some basic factors to consider when you buy bacon. The distribution of lean within a slice of bacon affects its texture and flavor. When fried, bacon with several strips of lean distributed throughout the slice will tend to be more crispy, while bacon with the same amount of lean concentrated in fewer but larger sections will tend to be more chewy. Thick slices are chewier than thin or very thin slices.

7th District elects officers for 2 groups

JEROME L. BUKOSKI

Jerome L. Bukoski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Bukoski of 1940 W. Main St., Ubyly, received a bachelor of science degree in fisheries and wildlife.

He is a 1970 graduate of Ubyly High School and is presently employed by the Department of Natural Resources at Port Crescent State Park. He plans to become a wildlife biologist.

American Legion and Auxiliary officers to serve the Seventh District Association for the coming year were elected Sunday at the annual meeting held at Lapeer.

American Legion officers elected were: Commander, Paul Knapp of Mt. Clemens, senior vice-commander, Vernon Henrichs of Reese; junior vice-commander, John Aguanio of St. Clair Shores, and Sergeant-at-arms, Roy D. Keller of Caro.

New Seventh district Auxiliary officers are: president, Verna Miller of Lapeer, vice-president, Sandra Knapp of Mt. Owen-Gage election brings out student campaigners

By Jim Ketchum

"Vote no, save our schools. Vote for Brinkman and Reinhardt," the voice over the portable loudspeaker crackled at a passing car as the skies over Gagetown began to darken.

The voice belonged to one of 35 Owendale-Gagetown High School students who carried placards and stickers into the main intersection of Gagetown Monday protesting the move to annex the school to Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port.

The group maintained its vigil all day Monday, starting at 8:30 a.m., shouting its message at passing cars and cheering when a known supporter of keeping the school drove past.

The group decorated several cars with orange and black stickers urging the election of Jack Brinkman and Ron Reinhardt to the school board. Homemade signs urging a no vote on annexation and signs taking slaps at school Supt. Glenn Sanford dotted the group.

Everybody was pressed into service. Even a dog was drafted into the cause when an enterprising student taped a two-sided sign on its back. It was obvious why they were there.

The students didn't want to go to either Laker High School or Cass City High School. They were committed to Owen-Gage and staying in their school.

"We don't want to be just another part of a big school," one protester said.

"At Owen-Gage, you get to participate in sports more than if you're at Cass City or Lakers," another youthful sign-carrier said.

"Hey look, it's Sanford," someone shouted, as a dozen students, signs in hand, ran toward the superintendent's black Volkswagen, shouting their feelings toward him. Sanford, seated behind the wheel wearing dark sunglasses, smiled and waved a return greeting to the students, turned south and went on his way.

One student said the group's goal was to get rid of Sanford and board members who favored annexation. They generally praised present board member Ronald Good who has voted consistently against annexation.

Would their parents mind spending the tax money it would take to keep the district going?

"No," one student said. "They don't mind. They know this is a good school and they'll support it."

Another protester said she wanted to stay at Owen-Gage because of personal attention given her by teachers.

The group planned to stay at the intersection until the polls closed Monday night and then planned to wait for the outcome. What would they do if their cause lost?

Some said they planned to sit in protest on the Owen-Gage High School lawn next fall on the first day of school. Others said they would like to finish their education in private schools.

As a group, none wanted to transfer to Laker or Cass City.

Passing motorists acknowledged the group with a V-for-victory sign, a wave or a smile. Known opponents who became the butt of protest yells smiled and waved back.

"This really hasn't been all that bad," one student observed. "This morning someone came by and gave us $15. We bought a case of pop with it."

Many of the students had been there most of the day; others came and went. Most could not vote but were trying to influence those who could to save their school.

"Vote no, save our schools. Vote for Brinkman and Reinhardt," the voice crackled over the loudspeaker as another car passed.

STUDENTS CAMPAIGNED Monday in Gagetown in support of their school. The group began its vigil at 8:30 a.m. and stayed until they learned their cause won. Everyone was pressed into service, including the dog in the foreground.

Appeals court race heats up

The Second District Court of Appeals race began to take shape last week with announcements from Tuscola County Circuit Judge James P. Churchill and Senate General Counsel Thomas E.

Woods that they would seek the judgeship.

Churchill, well-known in Tuscola and Lapeer counties, is currently serving his third elected term as Circuit Judge.

In his announcement, Churchill stated his experience as an assigned judge in other circuits throughout the state would benefit him. He has also served by assignment in every district of the Michigan Court of Appeals. Churchill is originally from Inlay City. He served in the Army during World War II and was graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration in 1947. He received his law degree from U of M in 1950.

Churchill practiced law in Tuscola county until his election as Circuit Judge in 1965.

Woods, 32, is a native of Port Huron. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame with degrees in political science and received his law degree from U of M in 1968.

As General Counsel of the Senate, he is legal advisor to the 38 senators and all committees.

Woods has been a partner in an Ann Arbor law firm and licensed to practice in all courts of law in Michigan.

Woods said he is politically independent and said he would not take money from lobbyists and would not accept contributions of more than $100 from any individual.

The Second District includes Tuscola, Sanilac, Huron, Genesee, Lapeer, St. Clair, Shiawassee, Oakland, Macomb, Ingham, Jackson, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

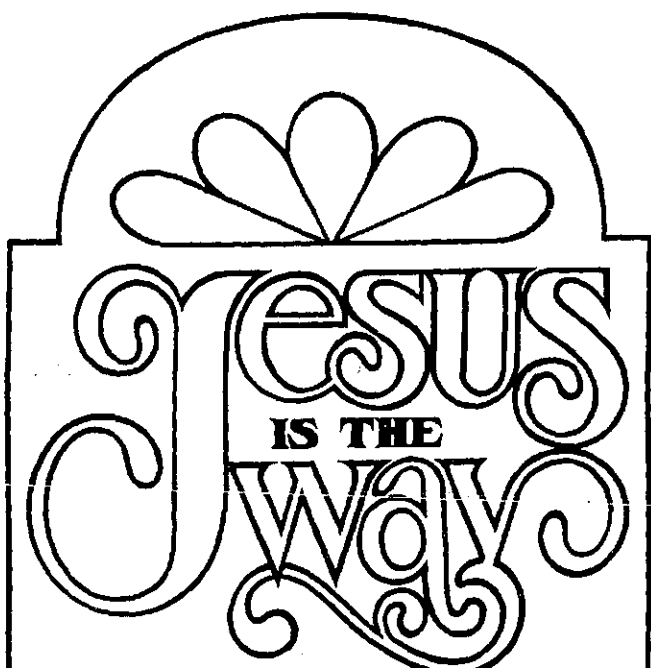

Be Sure to Choose the Right Paint for Room

Planning on repainting? Be sure to use the right type of paint for the different rooms. Water paints are ideal for the bedrooms, halls, den, or living room but tend to absorb the humidity of a kitchen or bathroom.

Be sure to check with your paint salesman for the correct paint. By simply telling him which room the paint is for, he will be able to help you select the proper type paint.

Squeeze money, not people.

Now that the energy crisis has put the squeeze on, it's important we squeeze the most out of every dollar. And the way to do it with economy cars is Plymouth Duster. For example, Duster not only gives you room for one more person than Mustang II, it gives you more comfort and a bigger trunk. Check the box below.

Duster squeezes your dollar more.

Not only is Duster a lot more car than the Mustang II, it actually has a sticker price that's lower than Mustang II.

Duster squeezes more gas for your dollar.

In recent U.S. Auto Club tests, for city driving, Duster's Slant 6 engine got better mileage than even Mustang's 4-cylinder engine!

All of which just goes to prove, when it comes to economy cars, Duster's the one that squeezes the money... not the people.

	Duster	Mustang II

State to take M-81 bids June 19

Bids will be taken June 19 on Cass City's Main Street widening project according to the State Highway Department.

The project includes eight-tenths of a mile of widening and bituminous surfacing on M-81 from west to east village limit, excluding one-third of a mile in the center of the village.

Highway officials estimate the project to cost just under $400,000 and should be completed by November.

Funding for the project will come strictly from state sources and will include correcting a chronic drainage problem at the west village limits that has plagued motorists for years.

Included in the project will be curb and gutter in areas to be widened.

Rev. Wood preaches final sermon Sunday

Salem UM Church was well attended Sunday morning as the congregation and friends of Rev. and Mrs. Ira L. Wood and family attended the 11 a.m. worship service when Mr. Wood preached his farewell sermon. Tuesday, the Woods moved to Armada where he will serve as UM pastor.

The baptism of three children took place during the service with Rev. Wood officiating at the rite for Diana Marie, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Loomis, and for John Wayne and James Walter, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Finkbeiner.

The report of the annual church conference, which was held last week in Adrian, was given by the lay delegate, Mrs. Luke Tuckey.

Following the service, 135 attended a cooperative dinner in the church dining room and others came to the open house in the afternoon. Rev. and Mrs. Wood were presented with a purse of money.

Letters to the Editor

Coach says thanks for machine

Mr. John Haire
Editor
Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Mi. 48726

Dear John,

Cass City High School received their weight machine last week. At this time, on behalf of the students, athletes, and coaching staff of the Cass City Schools, I would like to acknowledge those groups and individuals who spent their time to make the weight machine a reality.

Those groups from the high school that started the fund raising were the Boys and Girls Varsity Clubs and the Student Council. Civic groups and local business establishments and industry that donated money were: Cass City Gavel Club, Cass City Jay-Cee's, Cass City Rotary Club, Gagetown Athletic Club, Walbro Corporation, Turkey Block Company, Cass City State Bank, Fort's Store, Armca, Inc., General Cable Corporation, Auten Motor Sales and Albee Hardware.

In addition, Ron Geiger and J.D. Tuckey were very active in contacting people and really getting us over the top on this project.

It is the support of the good citizens and community minded groups that make Cass City great. Again, thank you.

Sincerely,

Roland W. Pakonen

Food preservation class set

By Aliene Mills
Extension Home Economist

A class to learn more about the Why's in Food Preservation is being offered. Come learn about the selection of fruits and vegetables, microorganisms responsible for food spoilage, selection of equipment, importance of blanching foods for freezing and when and how to use water bath and pressure canner in canning foods.

If you are a beginner or experienced person with food preservation questions, plan to attend one of these classes: June 20, Civil Defense Center, Caro, 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon. June 20 - Akron State Bank, Akron, 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. and June 21 - Municipal Building, Room 1, Vassar, 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. This class is sponsored by Family Living Education of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Ruth Freeman receives D.O. from MSU

Ruth Ann Freeman of Cass City was among those candidates presented for the Doctor of Osteopathy degree at commencement exercises at Michigan State University June 9.

RUTH FREEMAN

The class was the second group to receive the D.O. degrees from MSU's College of Osteopathic Medicine, the only state-supported and first university-based school of its kind.

The graduates were honored Saturday at special hooding ceremonies which included the administration of the osteopathic oath.

Ms. Freeman will take her one-year internship at Flint Osteopathic Hospital. She received the B.S. in biology cum laude from the University of Detroit in 1969.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Freeman of 4456 Seeger, she is a 1965 graduate of Cass City High School.

DEBRA FRANCIS

Debra was a member of this year's graduating class and is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary. Her stay at Fort McLellan is expected to be for two months, after which she will go to Fort Wayne, Ind., for schooling for two months. From Fort Wayne she expects to go to Fort Hood, Tex., for sixteen months. Her enlistment is for three years.

Sheriff says thanks for interest

Dear Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to pass along a few words of appreciation for your helpfulness and interest in the past, in making the Tuscola County Sheriff's Posse and the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department a better law enforcement agency.

The governor has proclaimed the second Saturday in June of each succeeding year, as the day set aside for the annual pony express ride through Michigan. The posse was formed in 1963, shortly after Sheriff Marr became Sheriff. The groundwork had already been laid by interested citizens who were interested in donating their services to help with law enforcement. Ten charter members are still active in the twenty four man posse. Original services were limited to helping locate lost children and animals, and crowd control. However, the services today have spread to a much broader scope of activities. Their services have become invaluable to local law enforcement agencies.

Each year the Sheriff's Posse sets up a cross country "Pony Express" ride to raise funds for charitable organizations. This year the proceeds will go to Michelle Clark of Weidman, who had the misfortune of being burned over 35 per cent of her body.

This year is the fifth Michigan Sheriff's Posse Pony Express Ride in the state of Michigan.

Again, I say thank you on behalf of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department and the Tuscola County Sheriff's Posse.

Hugh Marr, Sheriff
and staff

Sherry Chippi graduates June 8

Hawks roll to regional finals before bowing to Fowlerville

The best finish in history was recorded by the Cass City Red Hawks baseball nine Tuesday as the team went to the finals of the regionals at Reese before bowing to a potent Fowlerville squad in the second of two games played to decide the champion.

Before Tuesday Cass City's best effort in the tournament was the first round of regional action.

By going to the finals, the Hawks were among a select group of just eight teams left in competition in the State in class "C".

Things started great for Cass City in the first game when Pete Frederick led off with a home run and Jerry Toner pitched outstanding ball to pace the team to a 4-1 decision over Freeland.

Toner pitched a two-hitter and walked just one in a superb performance.

After Frederick's lead-off blast things settled down until the fourth when Gene Sumpton evened things up for Freeland with the first hit off Toner. . . a home run.

The Hawks bounced back in the top of the fifth with a run as Toner reached first on an error by third sacker Larry Savard and rode home on a double by Don Galbraith.

It was Galbraith who put the icing on the cake in the top of the seventh as he knocked in Chuck Bliss and Dave Romig, who singled and walked respectively, with another two-base knock. For the game Galbraith was responsible for three of the four runs Cass City scored.

FOWLerville LOSS

The tournament trail ended for Cass City and one bad inning spoiled what was a beautiful ball game. The Hawks bowed, 7-0.

Galbraith was on the mound for the Hawks and his port side slants proved effective for the first three innings as he blanked the regional champs, holding them to a lone single.

But in the fourth the roof fell in Fowlerville, exploded for six runs and five hits while batting around. The blow that was enough to win was a circuit clout by Doug Bennet with a mate on board.

Meanwhile, Bennet was having little trouble setting down Cass City. A single by Scott Hartel in the first, a single by Romig in the second and a single by Frederick in the sixth was all the attack that Cass City could muster.

Bennet didn't walk a man and his teammates came up with a double play so the Fowlerville chucker faced two over the minimum in his seven-inning stint.

First game:

CC	100	010	2	4-7-1
F	000	100	0	1-2-2

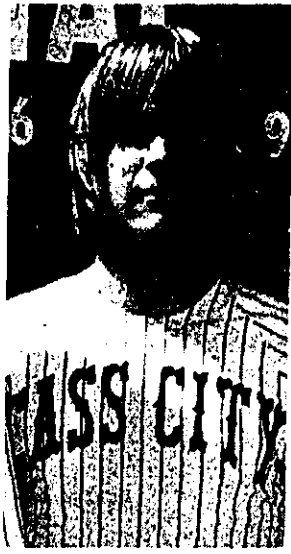

Second game:

Women's softball team drops second decision

Cass City's Women's Softball team dropped its second game of the young summer season Wednesday, June 5, losing to Peck 22-10 at Marlette field.

Five of Cass City's 10 runs came in the fourth inning on singles by Kathy Deering, Elaine Stoutenburg and Kally Maharg, and a walk to Vicky Lapp.

Peck's scoring outburst began in the fourth inning and continued the rest of the way. Cass City's Elaine Stoutenburg took the loss.

written permission from parents to go. Cost is $1.00. The group will leave from the old pool building, and persons are asked to bring a sack lunch. Equipment check-out at the old pool building runs Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-4 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

A concession stand will also be operated from the old pool building each day.

2 teams vie for loop title

The two undefeated teams in the Cass City Little League, the Tigers and the Yankees, appear headed for a battle that will decide the regular season championship.

Both are undefeated and are two games ahead in the loss column of the third place Pirates.

The Pirates showed power, power Monday, June 3, as they hammered their way past the Orioles, 23-7.

Dean O'Harris started for the Pirates and struck out 11. Phil Zawilinski went 3 for 4 to lead the Pirates in the hitting department. Kevin Woodward followed with 3 for 5.

Don King took the loss on the mound for the Orioles while whiffing 8. Dave Martin was the only Oriole to collect more than one hit.

YANKEES-GIANTS

The Yankees slipped by the Giants Tuesday, June 4, in a close well played game, 6-5, to stay at the top of the league.

Craig Tonti started for the Yankees. When he got into trouble, Yankee Ace Tim Johnson took over on the mound to keep the Yankee win streak intact. No Yank picked up more than one hit but the winners were effective in the clutch.

Ernie Stoutenburg started for the Giants and took the loss. Stoutenburg struck out 11. Bill Erla led the Giants at the plate as he went 2 for 3.

TIGERS-CUBS

The Tigers hammered a 24-3 win over the Cubs. Rusty Hoag started for the Tigers and struck out 12 Wednesday.

Mark Guinther, Steve Richards and Ken Martin each hammered four hits. Scott Stine started for the Cubs and struck out 5. Joe Smith went one for two to spark the Cubs at the plate.

YANKEES-PIRATES

Thursday the Yankees posted a 9-3 win over the Pirates. Brad Hartel started for the Yankees. Tim Severance went 2 for 3 for the winners. Dean O'Harris started for the Pirates but had to be relieved in the second by Phil Zawilinski. Joe Puszt went 2 for 3 for the Pirates.

GIANTS-ORIOLES

Friday the Orioles hurled the Giants, 20-10. Dave Nye started for the Giants. Tom Loomis went 3 for 3 for the losers. Tom Coleman went 4 for 5 and Dave Nye, 3 for 4 to help out in a losing effort.

Scott Murphy received credit for the win. Kevin Wagg was the only Giant with two hits.

2 teams undefeated

Action brisk in Minors

The Pirates and the Orioles appear headed for a showdown in the Minor League as both teams are undefeated in games played through Saturday.

The Orioles kept their slate clean against the winless Giants Monday, June 3, by slipping past the tail enders, in a squeaker, 14-13. Doug Hyatt was on the mound for the winners and John Scollon took the loss. The Orioles scored the winning run in the last half of the last inning to net the victory.

YANKEES-PIRATES

Wednesday, June 5, the Pirates topped the Yankees, 9-8. Tim Baker started for the Pirates. When he got in trouble Mark Deering took over and his strong relief pitching pulled the Pirates to victory.

TIGERS-CUBS

Friday, June 7, the Tigers beat the Cubs 27-17. Bill Harrison got credit for the
