

Non-teaching personnel win 10 per cent pay hikes from Cass City school board

ENICK RUTKOSKI, of 4145 S. Seeger St., shows it doesn't necessarily take patience, hard work or energy to raise monster squash. Rutkoski poses with a mammoth 31-pound, 41-inch squash he said thrived in a patch of weeds near his house. The master gardener said he raised nearly a dozen more nearly as large. The only problem now is how to cook it.

Wage settlements have been reached with all non-teaching personnel at Cass City Schools following the inking of contracts with the Operating Engineers Union at the school, the administrators and the non-union employees. Details were settled in a meeting closed to the press and public.

Wage increases for non-union employees and the cooks, custodians and bus drivers averaged about 10 per cent. The increase for the administrators averaged about 8 per cent.

The contract with the Operating Engineers set wages for two years. The second year of the contract will be less than 10 per cent, Supt. Donald Crouse said. The language of the contract will not be reopened for four years, leaving only wages on the agenda for 1976-77.

Wages for the various secretaries now scale from $7,480 for a secretary to a top of $8,800 for the bookkeeper in the superintendent's office.

The head cook's wages were upped to $3.40 while the secretaries in Deford and Campbell schools will receive $2.90 per hour.

It is the first time that the salaries of the administration have been acted upon by the board before a settlement has been reached with the teachers.

Crouse reported that a survey run last spring among Thumb area high schools indicates that the wages of the administration at Cass City will be about in the middle of the pack... a tenet that the superintendent sticks to when negotiating contracts with teachers.

INCREASE FEES

The fees charged for building rental were increased to reflect the wage increases. All hourly rates were upped 50 cents per hour. That means custodian fees in the elementary schools will be $5.00 per hour and in the intermediate and high school, $5.50 per hour.

Kitchen help charges went to $4.50 an hour in the elementary schools and $5 in the other schools.

William Zimba's battle for more money for transporting his daughter to the Flint school for the deaf resulted in an increase to $11 per round trip to the school. Cost to the Cass City district for the year will be $70 and to the intermediate district about $100. State Aid will pick up the remainder.

BIDS OPENED

The board opened bids for milk, bread and insurance.

Farm Maid milk was low from among three bidders for half pints of milk. The bids were .087 for white milk and .095 for chocolate.

Grocer's Baking Co. of Grand Rapids was low among three bidders for bread. The bid was 30.5 cents for bread and 41.45 cents for hamburger and hot dog buns.

OTHER BUSINESS

Supt. Donald Crouse revealed that new guidelines for free or reduced price lunches for students in low income families have been received and that for the first time free milk would be included.

Members of the Citizens for Improved Education presented the results of a school survey conducted last spring. Thirty questions were answered by slightly over 100 persons and the answers, with comments, tabulated in 23 pages of data.

Copies of the survey are available at the school.

Contracts of five teachers were approved and the computerized payroll service of Neil Blank of Imlay City re-hired after a brief trial with the service of Bay-Arenac Intermediate District.

Huron Vo-Tech center defeated

Huron county voters turned down a proposed vocational training center by about 2-1 in Tuesday balloting.

Unofficial returns show the proposal to levy an extra one and one-half mills for the center went down with 2,406 no votes and 1,683 yes.

On the proposal to borrow $900,000 to begin construction on the facility, voters said no by a 2,424-1,662 margin. Two districts had not reported Wednesday morning.

Officials indicated they were unsure of their next move, but the defeat is certain to be discussed at an Intermediate Board of Education meeting Thursday night.

The center had been endorsed by every Huron county school district and received strong backing from districts unable to provide their own vocational education programs.

The defeat ends two years of planning and development on the concept and sends educators back to the drawing boards.

One official said the defeat was a mild surprise but added it did not come as a complete shock.

JOSEPH GORKA demonstrates that his hand is on the mend after being pinched between a fork-lift truck and a scrap bin for nearly 20 minutes early Wednesday morning, Sept. 4, at Bassett Manufacturing. Gorka was freed by Police Chief Gene Wilson after his shouts had aroused neighbors.

Pinned 20 minutes

'I was just lucky,' injured worker says

Twenty minutes isn't generally a long time. But to Joseph Gorka of rural Seeger Road, 20 minutes seemed like forever last Wednesday morning.

Gorka, a 12-year employee of Bassett Manufacturing, found out just how painful 20 minutes can be, too.

The 57-year-old maintenance man became trapped at work when a fork lift truck slipped, pinning his right hand between a four-by-four timber and a metal scrap tub shortly before 6:30 a.m. He stayed that way until just before seven when Cass City Police Chief Gene Wilson came to his rescue.

"I was just lucky I didn't lose my hand," Gorka said Friday as he gingerly rubbed the bandaged hand. "If that four-by-four hadn't been there, it could have been a lot worse."

Gorka had come in early that morning to free the machine which had become stuck the night before. Another employee had attempted to empty scrap metal into the bin when the wheels of the machine rolled into a small ditch next to it.

Gorka blocked the machine against the tub and attempted to use the hydraulic mechanism to push it free. He succeeded in freeing one side but, as he moved to the other to position a block, something slipped.

The next thing Gorka knew, his hand was pinched between the block and the bin, with weight from the fork lift making that pinch tighter.

"I was standing on the wrong side to reach over to start it," Gorka explained. "If I'd been on the right side, all I'd had to do was reach around, start it and move the lever back. But I couldn't do it."

Gorka said after about five minutes, the pain began in earnest. With still a half-hour to go before the morning shift was due to report, the entrapped man resorted to Jung power.

His shouts were so loud that residents as far away as Sixth Street, some three blocks away, clearly heard his screams. Reportedly, Gorka's shouts carried as far as five to six blocks from the scene.

Finally, Chief Wilson, driving by on routine patrol, spied him and responded to the trapped man's pleas.

"I told him how to start it and how to move the lever," Gorka said. "Once he did that, I was out."

Wilson rushed the man to Hills and Dales General Hospital, where it was over three hours before the circulation fully returned to the hand, which by then had swollen to nearly twice its size.

Examination showed no broken bones or major blood vessels in the hand.

Gorka was kept for observation Wednesday and Thursday, and was released Friday morning.

"That was the first time I was ever hurt on the job," Gorka said. "You really can't blame anybody for it. You take precautions and you're as careful as you can be, but these things just happen."

A company spokesman said if Gorka's hand had been trapped until the morning shift came on, chances are more serious damage might have been done.

Gorka said the only lasting damage was the thumb which remained slightly numb late last week. Other than that, it feels fine.

He demonstrated by gingerly wiggling all fingers freely, although he admitted he probably would not be wielding any heavy wrenches for awhile. He added he planned to be at work Monday morning.

"I don't know if I did it then, but I sure want to thank Gene Wilson," Gorka said appreciatively.

New Owen-Gage high school could use existing sewer, report says

Three old problems came up for review at an otherwise routine meeting of the Owendale-Gagetown Board of Education held Monday night in Owendale.

Members discussed sewage disposal problems for any proposed new high school building, alternating physics and chemistry classes and a request that bus drivers be allowed to take their buses home at night.

The issue of sewage disposal arose after it was learned that state and county officials would tentatively approve using the existing system for a new building, providing student enrollment did not increase.

The ruling came at the request of Douglas Comment, a member of the sewage and site committee of the Owen-Gage School Study Group.

Essentially, this means that a new high school building could be constructed at the present site, providing it did not cover any part of the existing drain field and if student enrollment stayed the same.

Former board member Kenneth Voelker questioned the ruling, saying the present system shouldn't be approved without an inspection.

"I couldn't hook a new house into my existing septic system," he said. "How can they possibly allow a new school building to be hooked into this system?"

Board President Ronald Gopd emphasized number of students was the important criteria.

Use of the present system would be provisional, until Owendale constructs its own sanitary sewer system. Indications at Monday night's meeting were that the village might be in line for federal aid on the project by sometime in 1975, if funds are available.

Supt. Glenn Sanford emphasized that this approval is by no means final and that it could not be until a definite proposal for a building was developed.

Previously, county and state officials had said they would not approve a new septic system for the building or a lagoon-type system. They indicated they might possibly approve a lagoon-irrigation system.

Sanford added that, should the present system fail after a new building is constructed and before Owendale has its system, the district could be in trouble.

PHYSICS AND CHEMISTRY

Alternating physics and chemistry classes after the 1974-75 school year also came up for review. Several board members questioned whether or not juniors and seniors are aware that the school plans to offer only physics next year, alternating with chemistry in succeeding years.

Supt. Sanford admitted that most students probably did not realize what would happen. He said numerous changes in administration and staff recently have put off a firm announcement.

He added that students would be made aware of the proposed change soon.

Sanford emphasized, however, that curriculum and class size cannot be planned several years ahead and must be re-evaluated at the end of each school year.

BUS SITUATION

A renewed request to allow bus drivers to take their buses home at night also came

Austin Twp. okays zoning ordinance

Zoning will stay on the books in Austin township following Tuesday's 92-70 voter approval of the ordinance.

The vote was a referendum on the ordinance which has been in effect since June 21. The special election resulted from petitions filed by private citizens, asking for a vote on the question.

Clerk Arnold Lapeer indicated he was pleased that the ordinance had been upheld by voters and said it marked the end of a long summer during which two public information meetings were held on the ordinance.

SERVICE CLUB members really cleaned up Tuesday night—cleaned up the parking lot at the new medical clinic, that is. Showing that strong backs are as necessary as generous contributions are (from the left): Bob Walpole, Bill Malone, Tom Proctor, Carl Crow and John Klebba. Members of Lions, Rotary and the Gavel Club were represented.

"If It Fitz . . ." A letter to daughter at college, II

BY JIM FITZGERALD

Dear Christie:

As you know, this open letter is being written by popular demand. You demanded that I write it if I want to retain my popularity with you. I wrote one to your big sister when she went away to college and you have always demanded equal time with your siblings, except in the kitchen.

The idea is that Old Dad should wax wise and sentimental, thus sending his children out into the world laden down with good advice and warm memories, as well as 150 tons of blue jeans and stereo equipment.

Well, I can remember advising big sister Karen to cool it, to smell all the daisies, and to save marriage for dessert. That was only 7 years ago and she has already made me a grandfather 3 times.

I give you the same advice. But I must admit I never sniffed a daisy that smelled as good as a grandchild nuzzled just below either ear. There is something to be said for ignoring your Dad's advice, and I just said it.

You remember, the week before you left for college, how your mother kept complaining she would have no one to talk to after her last daughter was gone. She claims I never talk to her because I can't see her, what with a newspaper growing out my nose. And Eddie can't talk to her because he's only 16 and hasn't learned how yet. So you are probably wondering if Mother's fears of silence came true. If she ever gets off the phone, I'll ask her.

Chris, I have often razzed you about being over-educated but under-informed. You got good marks in school but you were surprised to learn Abraham Lincoln was no longer President. You would be well advised to keep yourself more current these days. College students like to get involved in politics and social problems. They love to march in the streets and otherwise make their voices heard. I'm sure you'll want to join in these protests but it will be embarrassing if you suggest your classmates should boycott German products until Hitler gets out of Poland.

Actually, my windy advice to an 18-year-old daughter could be boiled down into 2 words and you probably wish I'd start boiling. So here they are: Be Fair.

Do not judge a person by his complexion, his accent or his haircut. Remember that what is fair for you is fair for the poorest slob on the other side of the classroom, or on the

Trinity women meet Sept. 3

The first fall meeting of Trinity Methodist Women was held Tuesday, Sept. 3, with President Mrs. Gary Christner presiding.

The executive committee met before the regular meeting. It was decided that ten percent of the net proceeds, from the bazaar, be spent for missions, the balance to be used for refurbishing the church basement.

Mrs. Fritz Neitzel, leader of Christian Social Relations, reported on the McCurdy Mission School in Espanola, New Mexico, which the group supports. She asked the group to save Betty Crocker coupons to be sent to them.

Sunday, Sept. 22, Reverend Allen Rice will speak on "Drugs", at the morning service.

Mrs. Howard Rexin and Mrs. Leslie Hurd, who attended the School of Missions at Adrian College, gave reports.

Reverend E.D.K. Isaacs invited members and friends of Trinity to an open house following the morning worship services Sunday, Sept. 15.

Mrs. George Jetta and Mrs. Keith McConkey and members of Group II served a 6:30 p.m. dinner to approximately 40 members preceding the program.

other side of the world. Don't make hasty judgments and if you can't say something nice about someone, shut your trap.

Chris, a few weeks ago I was writing about you and almost unconsciously typed the words I would ask you to never forget. I was telling about the woman who came into the office and whispered to the girl at the counter that she wished she had nerve enough to ask me for my autograph. You were the girl at the counter and you fell down laughing. "He's only my father," you said. And I automatically wrote:

I'd rather be her father than anything else.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

The odds are great that a movie as successful as "The Sting" will have a sequel or at least many imitators.

Certainly, there is no lack of story material around as the news of the day unfolds. A couple of excellent topics for "hustler" movies were unloaded on us over the week end.

Start right out with Evel Knievel. There's a "Sting" for you. A classic. Evel and company hustled the American public out of $13 million or so and the beauty of it all is that it didn't even hurt.

Most of the herd who shelled out $25 for a spot on the cliff or paid $10 to watch in the movie houses cheered when Evel bailed out and floated to safety.

Who am I to say that this was the plan all along? But there's no law against feeling happy that it wasn't any of my money that the promoters are dividing up today.

Even before Evel did it to the public, President Gerald Ford added his version of the sting to the passing parade.

He granted a full pardon to Richard M. Nixon.

That follows the trend. Spiro Agnew got his wrist slapped for being a crook, but he was only a vice-president.

Nixon was our president and the odds are that he will now never be proven to be a crook. (You can think what you want.) Meanwhile, the guys who worked under him are in jail or still awaiting trial.

No pardon for them. . . at least no one has ever mentioned it.

But these convicted teions still have it better than your average break and enter artist or conspirator. They go to a plush-lined jail.

Legion Auxiliary meets Monday

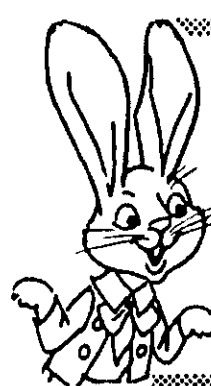

Twenty members and one guest attended the monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening.

Mrs. Elgene Keller presided over a short business meeting in which members authorized payment of mandatory district dues. The Unit membership quota for the coming year is 51 and 23 memberships have already been renewed.

An invitation will be extended to the district president, Mrs. Verna Miller of Lapeer, to visit the local Unit at the October meeting.

A white elephant sale, at the close of the business meeting, netted $49.30 for the Unit treasury.

The door prize went to Loraine Donnelly and refreshments were served.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

The political pot boils and boils. Hitting the campaign trail in the Thumb were both Eighth District Representative Robert Traxler and GOP nominee James Sparling.

Thursday afternoon Sparling was shaking hands at Verona Hills Golf Course in Bad Axe. At virtually the same moment Traxler was doing the same at Scenic Country Club in Pigeon. As Traxler completed his rounds in the bar at Scenic and left the scene one wag spouted off, "there's one guy who just lost my vote. . . he didn't buy a drink."

The campaign rolled into Cass City this week. Monday night Traxler was at the school, addressing dairymen and this Friday Sparling will be hoping to meet and greet you at a coffee hour from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Cultural Center.

If he misses you there look for him up and down the main stem doing what comes naturally (shaking hands, what else?).

How did I do that? Last week I wrote consensus opinion. . . and I know, I know, I know that consensus is an opinion and "consensus opinion" is redundant.

Truthfully, I didn't even know I'd written it (once that stuff leaves the typewriter, that's the end of it for me) until Meredith Auten called the boo-boo to my attention.

You NEVER use consensus as an adjective, Meredith chided me.

If plans now under discussion mature the Cass City Rotary Club will be presenting a bike safety program for youth in the area this fall.

Ramrodding the event will be Mike Weaver and Jim Courtney. Courtney has secured some free patches from his bosses at General Telephone and there are plans afoot to have something doing to attract the kids.

We'll keep you posted as details unfold. We mention it here merely to alert you parents.

Bike safety is a serious problem and this course could save a life. . . it could be your son's or daughter's.

We call our Plymouth Satellite the Happy Medium, because it's sized big enough for comfort, but small enough for economy. And a lot of people agree with us. In just the past three years, over a quarter million people have switched to Satellite from other makes of cars. And remember . . . '75 prices will go up. So now is the time to get a great clean-up price on our successful Satellite. C'mon in. You'll see what we mean.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Cass City's new coaching staff made a pitch to the Cass City Board of Education Monday night for a change in the training rules for school athletics. The coaches attended the meeting en masse to push for a flexible set of rules to replace the mandatory rule that now sidelines an athlete for a full year for smoking or drinking.

District Supervisors discussed housing arrangements for a new probation officer to serve Tuscola county in a regular meeting at the courthouse.

The Rev. Peter Pijnappels has been transferred to the St. Agnes Parish in Freeland after serving two years as pastor of St. Pancratius Church in Cass City.

A lively discussion of hot lunch prices at Cass City High School ensued at Monday night's school board meeting when it was revealed that present prices fall at least 15 cents under established state guidelines.

Jim Hatch, president of the Retail Division of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce, said this week that plans were nearly complete for the annual fall dollar days, Sept. 18-20.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Work on the football stadium at the Recreation Park will be resumed now that the steel has arrived, according to Curtis Hunt, in charge of construction.

Rev. J. Charles Dibley, pastor of the Sunshine Methodist Church from 1941-1944 will be toastmaster at a fellowship supper which opens a three-day observance of the 50th anniversary and homecoming of the Sunshine congregation extending from Friday to Sunday evening.

Three bowling leagues in Cass City are organized for the season's play. The City League, with 12 teams, starts its schedule Sept. 12, the Women's League with 10 teams starts Sept. 13, and a Merchant's League Sept. 15.

C.R. Hunt & Co. have completed the remodeling of the village fire hall.

The Women's Study Club began its 42nd year this week with its fall program.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The first drainage camp of the Civilian Conservation Corps to be established in Michigan will be set up at Kingston in Tuscola county on or about Oct. 1, it was announced by E.C. Sackrider, Michigan State College, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service.

The initial enrollment at Cass City Public Schools last week showed an increase of 11

Your neighbor says

Nixon's pardon was right

President Gerald Ford's unprecedented pardon of former President Nixon Sunday could mark the end of the new chief executive's honeymoon with Congress and the American people.

The order pardons any crimes Nixon may have committed while president.

One person who agrees with Ford's action is Mrs. Lyle Clarke of 3475 Cemetery Rd. She feels Nixon has suffered enough.

"I approve of it," she says. "I want to see this (Watergate) thing over with and I think this will help. I'd have done the same thing."

Mrs. Clarke says she hopes the action won't become a campaign issue.

"What has happened is in the past," she says. "I'm not as concerned about that now as I am inflation. There's a lot to be done."

Mrs. Clarke, a Clare native, has lived in the Cass City area the past 21 years. Her husband is vocational agriculture instructor at Cass City High School and FFA sponsor. The Clarks have five children.

Services held

Saturday for

Ellen Dillon

Miss Ellen Dillon, 60, Caro, died early Thursday morning in Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe, following a short illness.

She was born July 12, 1914, in Columbia township.

She was a lifelong resident of the Caro area and was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Caro.

She is survived by three brothers, Jack and Patrick Dillon, both of Caro, and Harold Dillon of Bellaire; two sisters, Mrs. Genevieve Wood of Deford and Mrs. Loretta Ross of Cass City, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Saturday in St. Agatha Catholic Church, Gagetown, with Rev. Norman Van Poppel officiating. Burial was in St. Agatha cemetery.

A rosary was recited Friday night by Fr. Van Poppel at Hunter Funeral Home, Gagetown, who handled arrangements.

300 dairymen hear candidates Monday

An estimated 300 dairy farmers from the Thumb attended a meeting at Cass City High School Monday night to hear Congressman Robert Traxler, Democrat, from the Eighth district, and spokesmen for James Sparling, Republican nominee, tell positions on legislation affecting the dairy industry.

Actually, there was little to choose between the positions of the candidates. Both adopted programs that are designed to please the dairyman. They agree that the falling milk prices in the past several months coupled with higher production costs call for action.

Both call for increasing price support for milk to 90 per cent of parity. Both call for countervailing duty as high as foreign export subsidy granted by governments.

Another sore point in the dairy industry and one which both candidates propose to eliminate is the difference in quality standards between milk produced in this country and milk produced in other countries.

The candidates say that the foreign dairy production should be subject to the same rigorous health standards as the American dairy producers.

Sparling in his written statement said that he would ask for a new farm ownership program where the United States would provide 90 per cent loan guarantees and the reduction of mortgage payments during the first 15 years of the loan.

Board nixes salary move

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners has turned down a request to upgrade three courthouse employees and give them raises previously denied, it was revealed Wednesday morning.

Commissioner Maynard McConkey said the board had been approached to upgrade the deputy court clerk and two Account Clerk III's in the Clerk's and Treasurer's offices, but decided against action.

He said with negotiations scheduled to begin shortly on a new contract, the board decided not to act.

Rumors swept the courthouse Tuesday that the board planned to grant the raises. Earlier merit raises given the three were later rescinded and an unfair labor practice suit against the county was dropped by the Tuscola County Employees Association.

In board action Tuesday, Hyde and Walters consultants presented commissioners with a report on plumbing, heating and electrical work needed in the courthouse. Bids on renovation will be opened Oct. 8, at 2:00 p.m.

McConkey said the cost of the survey will be included in the bid. In other action, the County Planning Commission asked the board to retain Vilcan-Leman and Associates of Southfield as consultants to keep county planning up to date. Cost will run $600 per quarter, or $2,400 per year.

County millage for the coming year was set at 4.2 mills, as in previous years. The board also learned that women employees of the Sheriff's Department have joined the Fraternal Order of Police.

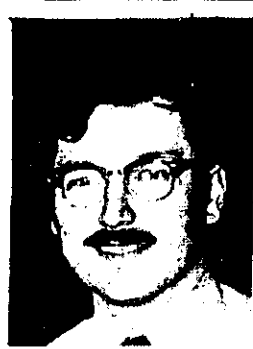

Some make opportunities—others take advantage of them.

Put your faith only in deeds—mere words count for nothing.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK

Beans in my casserole

By Jim Ketchum

The next time your wife puts navy beans in your macaroni, say nothing. Make believe you either didn't notice it or talk about the weather or how to fight inflation.

Just don't mention the beans.

I found out what can happen if you do. Don't get me wrong. I like beans and I like macaroni. In fact, I don't mind both together.

Unfortunately, I made the mistake of commenting. Being the strong, innocent type that I am, I couldn't understand why the temperature suddenly dropped 20 degrees and why I ended up washing the dishes.

All I said was "Beans?" Pure and simple. "Beans?"

It wasn't that I didn't like the combination. It's just that I wasn't expecting it and when it happens, I feel cheated. I just like to know things unexpected are coming before they hit.

Faithful readers of this nonsense (my mother and my father-in-law) will recall my wife tried this once with orange juice. Not beans in the juice, but grapefruit juice in my morning elixir.

She has a way of not being satisfied with the status quo. She likes change-surprises if you will. Like the time she suggested we go a different route to Chautauqua and wound up in the middle of downtown Niagara Falls, Ont., in wall-to-wall cars.

Anyway, her latest surprise came in the casserole. Beans. After questioning what those funny little things were, I could see I had struck a nerve—the wrong one.

Immediately I put plan number four into action. I swallowed hard, said, oh, well and went on to other things. Unfortunately, she didn't. Her expression resembled that of a fortune teller having found out he'd booked passage on the Titanic.

Gradually, the discussion diminished to that stony silence that comes just before a tornado strikes.

The next few minutes are kind of a blur, but the next thing I remember I was apologizing and discovered myself washing the dishes. This isn't what the boys at Monty's told me to do. They said (as best as I can recall) married men had to assert themselves—show the wife who's boss.

Maybe I did without realizing it.

As I say, the whole problem lies in the principle. Women never tell you what's coming until it clobbers you. I went with a girl once who never let you know if a train was coming at a grade crossing.

If you had 10 feet between the car and the engine, that was all right.

Women don't understand that men have to know about these things a little ahead of time. Did you ever see a woman come home from a hard day at the office and have her husband say, we've got a party tonight? I admit women control

Wide variety of sinks calls for pre-planning

When you select your kitchen sink you will be confronted with a variety of colors, sizes and number of bowls and materials from which to choose.

Because of its relative low cost, porcelain enamel on steel has long been the most widely used. The heavier, stain-resistant porcelain enamel on cast iron sink has generally been found only in more expensive kitchens.

Stainless steel sinks, which are easier to install because they are lighter and have a self-rim, are quite popular these days (even though there have been reports that they are noisy, scratch easily and show finger marks).

Name 2 homes historic sites

Two homes in Cass City are included among 17 Tuscola county landmarks that have been approved by the Michigan Historical Commission for registration as state historic sites.

They are the J.C. Laing home, owned by W.D. Childs, of 4301 S. Seeger St., and the Anson Berney home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Albee of 4243 S. Seeger.

The landmarks have been placed on the State Register of Historic Places.

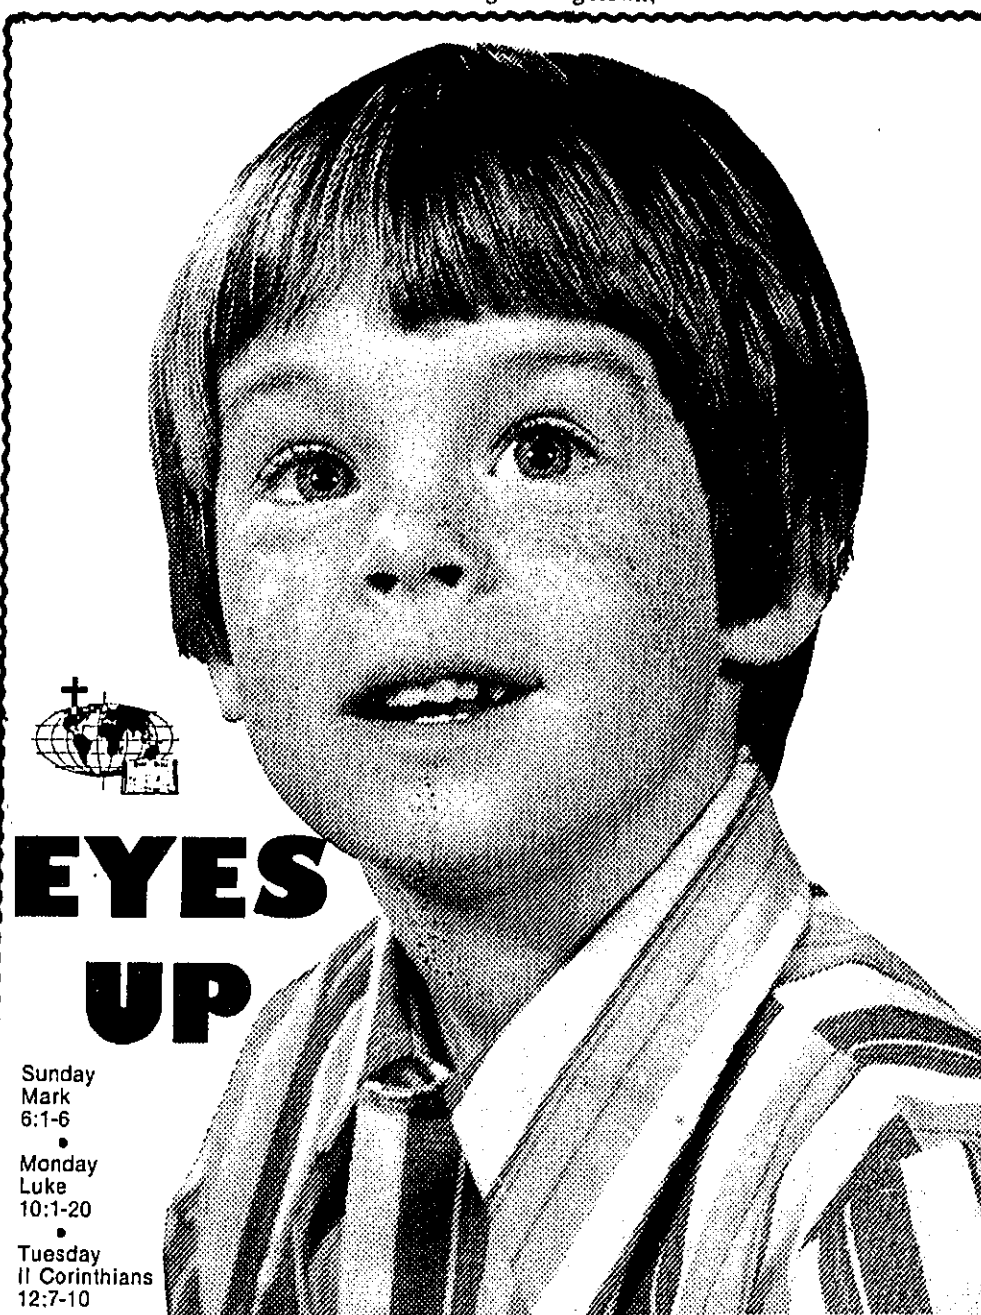

These are in addition to the previously-announced Purdy Bank Building in Gagetown.

By Richard Jones

A little exercise can make a big difference in your life. Such as a short walk down the aisle.

The Lord obviously intended us to listen more than we talk -- or He would have given us two mouths and one ear.

True concentration is the ability to do your child's homework while he's watching TV.

In today's world, about the only thing that can be reached on foot is the garage.

A fair weather friend is one who appears when he needs you -- and disappears when you need him.

We're always here at Richard's TV & Appliance, Cass City, phone 872-2930 when you need a Westinghouse washer or dryer for big family loads.

The fifth annual Fay reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearce in Cass City, June 30. A potluck dinner was served. Sixty relatives attended from Detroit, Belleville, Pontiac, Pigeon, Owendale, Bay City, Oxford, Bad Axe and Ubyly.

Frank McComb was elected president. Stanley Fay was elected vice-president and Mrs. Helene Burns, secretary-treasurer.

The eldest person present was Mrs. Burt Laurence of Oxford and the youngest was Debbie Marie Timmons of Owendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Asel Collins of Pigeon will host the reunion June 30, 1975.

Fashion lesson set Sept. 17

A program "Fit For Fashion" is scheduled to help the home sewer learn more about pattern adjustments and pattern alterations for the current fashion look. This will be held Tuesday, Sept. 17, at the Civil Defense Center committee room in Caro. A 30-minute slide set will be shown at 10:00 a.m., 12:15 p.m., 2:00 p.m., and 3:30 p.m., and an open exhibit to study at your leisure between 9:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

This program will be taught by Allene Mills, the Extension Home Economist, and is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service. All interested persons are invited to attend.

AROUND THE FARM Wheat planting tips for 1974 By William Bortel

Prospects for excellent supplies of high quality wheat seed for this fall planting look very good. Certified seed wheat is still available; however, wheat growers should be picking up their seed immediately to assure them of the best quality.

High yields and favorable harvesting weather have made the certified seed outlook the best in several years. Few disease problems such as seed blights (scab), preharvest sprouting and others that result in poor seed quality have been encountered. Germination and seedling vigor is good.

Certified seed is available for several soft white wheat varieties and one soft red variety. With certified seed you are assured of minimum disease problems which can be very severe if weather conditions are conducive.

Ionia wheat, available since 1971, is one of the newest soft wheat varieties in Michigan. It has excellent yields, is resistant to race "A" of Hessian fly and has field resistance to leaf rust and mildew.

Two other varieties of soft white wheat are Yorkstar and Genesee. Yorkstar has high yields, excellent lodging resistance, and straw height about five inches shorter than Ionia and Genesee. Genesee has been a standard variety in Michigan for years and will produce dependable yields.

Arthur is the only soft red wheat available in Michigan. A high yielder, it is short strawed (35 to 36 inches) and is more susceptible to disease problems. Arthur looked good in the Reese area this year; however, it doesn't out-yeild our good soft white varieties.

Tecumseh, a soft white variety and Abe, a soft red variety, are now available as foundation seed for certified seed growers and will be for general planting for fall 1975. Tecumseh yields as much as Ionia and Genesee and is much more winter-hardy. Watch this variety for 1975.

Regardless of variety grown, farmers should buy

Ex-State Rep. Harry Rohlfis dies Thursday

Former State Rep. Harry E. Rohlfis, 72, who served as 84th State Representative from 1964-1970, died Thursday at his Caseville home following a short illness.

Rohlfis, who spent most of his life farming near Akron, was born July 15, 1902, in Akron.

He also served as a director of the Akron State Bank and was a former president of the Michigan Bean Producer's Association. He served on the Michigan Elevator Exchange Board in Lansing as both president and a board member.

Rohlfis served on the Tuscola County Fair Board for 27 years and received the Distinguished Service to Agriculture Award from Michigan State University.

He was also a member of the Farm Bureau, the Hickory Farmers Club, Caro Rotary Club, Fairgrove Lions Club, Akron Chamber of Commerce and Odd Fellow Lodge of Akron.

He and Cora Louks were married April 8, 1926.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Mrs. George (Evelyn) Shearrow of Belpre, Ohio, and Mrs. William (Carol) Anderson of Caseville; four brothers, Kenneth and Clarence Rohlfis, both of Akron, Maurice Rohlfis of Standish and William Rohlfis of Caseville; two sisters, Mrs. Edith Marsh of Williamsburg, Va., and Mrs. Douglas (Grace) DeVault of Detroit; seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held from Briggs Funeral Home, Akron, Monday, with Rev. Clayton E. Turner of Saginaw officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery, Fairgrove.

Do as you please and then try to assure your conscience that everything you do is right.

Thieves heist $700 in property Saturday

State Police and Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies probed several breaking and enterings, larcenies and vandalism last week, the largest involving stolen property valued at $700.

Sheriff's deputies investigated a breaking and entering Saturday of a house located at 2646 Hutchinson Road in Elmwood township. Property belonging to Mrs. Ruth Reynolds taken by thieves included five rifles and a color television set. Deputies reported the house was apparently unlocked at the time of the theft. They said three suspects remain under investigation.

The suspects were also implicated in another similar breaking and entering in a house on Keil Road southeast of Unionville. Witnesses reportedly identified the same vehicle at both robberies.

Wednesday, sheriff's deputies investigated the theft of a roll of three-quarter-inch copper wire from Ronald Peters of rural Cass City. Peters told officers he had stored the wire near a shed on land located near the intersection of Milligan and Schwegler Roads.

Police valued the wire at $200. No suspects were apprehended.

Sunday, John Bulla of 6777 Kelly Rd., reported a 32-foot aluminum extension ladder, valued at $70 was stolen from his garage sometime in the last two weeks.

State Police from the Caro Post who investigated said no suspects have been apprehended.

Three vandalism were reported in the past week, two in the Kingston area.

Saturday, Mrs. Beatrice Pratt of 3555 Ross St., Kingston, told sheriff's deputies she discovered vandals had thrown rocks at her house, damaging a screen door.

She told officers she suspected area youths, but no suspects were apprehended.

Wednesday, Sept. 4, Felix Bandish of 1530 N. Kingston Rd., reported vandals damaged his mailbox. He said two months earlier vandals stole a similar mailbox from his residence. State Police investigated.

Sunday, Stanley Kissel of Dodge Road told deputies vandals smashed 10 watermelons, pulled up several pepper plants and destroyed several tomato plants in his garden located near the corner of Dodge and Shabbona Roads.

Sheriff's deputies have no suspects.

Cass City Police arrested Richard James Zawilinski of 5283 Schwegler Rd., Thursday night and charged him with being drunk in a public place. He was reportedly apprehended near the intersection of Maple and Main Streets.

Get set for Walk-A-Thon

Get your walking shoes, liniment and band-aids ready. Tuscola County Big Brothers-Big Sisters will be on the move Saturday, Sept. 28.

That's the day set for the third annual Walk-A-Thon, designed to raise money for the organization.

Jim Turner, chairman of this year's Cass City walk, explained the group hopes to raise $10,000 county-wide. Nine other walks will be held simultaneously throughout the county.

The 10-mile walk will begin at Cass City Recreation Park between 8:00 and 9:00 a.m. and will travel to Main Street west to Seeger, then south to River Road.

From River Road, walkers will trudge west to Phillips and eventually Kelly Road. Then west on Kelly to Dodge Road, turning north and hiking to Elmwood Road.

The walkers then travel east to Doerr Road and north to M-81, ending back at the park. Turner said all walkers must be sponsored. All contributions are tax deductible and go directly to Big Brothers-Big Sisters in the county. Walkers and sponsors may pledge any amount per mile. Forms for the walk may be obtained at any Cass City school or by contacting Jim Turner at 872-2474 or 673-4144.

Lions open 1974-75 year Monday

The Cass City Lions Club's first meeting of the 1974-75 year was held Monday night at the Cass City Hotel.

President Bob Wischmeyer noted the success of the sixth annual golf tournament held Sunday at Sherwood Forest Country Club.

Lion B.A. Calka requested volunteers to help prepare the Medical Clinic parking lot Tuesday night.

The annual broom sale was discussed. Chairman Al Freiburger said Sept. 23 and 24 are the dates planned for the sale. Proceeds will go to sight conservation projects.

A film feature about the 1974 Indianapolis 500 race was shown.

The next program will include a presentation by Kris Ridenour, Rotary Exchange Student who spent last year in New Zealand.

mum class sizes, Sanford said.

Patrick Goslin was sworn in as a new board member, replacing George Wilson, who resigned last month. Goslin will also serve as vice-president of the board, a post also held by Wilson.

The annual auditor's report was presented, showing a balance in the general fund of $82,000, compared with $72,000 last year. Total expenditures were $566,700 against $554,557 in 1973.

Total revenues over expenditures were $8,771 in 1974, compared with $2669 last year.

New priest happy with Gagetown parish call

Rev. Fr. Norman Van Poppelen has been around the circuit, as he calls it. Now he's glad he's in Gagetown.

The 59-year-old priest assumed his pastoral duties at the St. Agatha Parish last April and so far, things have gone very well. He explained that he volunteered for the assignment because it was a country setting.

"I was born on a farm in Hampton township," he explained, leaning back in his red-upholstered chair behind a stack of morning mail on his office desk.

"We lived there until I was 12, when we moved to Detroit. I attended Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit and Mt. St. Mary's in Cincinnati."

Fr. Van Poppelen was ordained in 1941 and he recalled it as the year America entered World War II.

"I remember I was playing basketball with some fellows when someone ran in and said we were at war," he said.

In his 33-year ministry, he has served in several area parishes including Saginaw, Alpena, Vassar, Reese and Bay City. He began a Bay City congregation several years ago and so comes equipped to handle most church problems.

Fr. Van Poppelen said he finds the Gagetown parish a refreshing change from urban churches because the pace is slower and the community is more stable.

"I especially like the cemetery," he laughed. "I can talk to the people there and they can't talk back to me. It's really a very peaceful place. Besides, there's too much confusion in the world today anyhow."

He said he is especially impressed with the church building.

"When people come to visit, they're surprised to see it," he commented.

Fr. Van Poppelen calls himself "progressively moderate", definitely not a conservative in church matters. He said tradition can afford to be questioned periodically.

"I've never had a closed opinion on anything in my life," he said. "I'm not stuck on old traditions. I like having faith in the people."

Some of the change he views as progressive in his three decades in the ministry include saying mass in English, updating of the confessional process and increased ability of parish priests to have a say in planning the future for their congregations.

On the subject of priests marrying, Fr. Van Poppelen said wryly, "I'm too old to have an opinion on that."

He did say, however, that a priest's wife would be under pressures similar to any public official's spouse. The hours as well are not always conducive for marriage, as well as the financial picture.

"The monetary recompense is not always great," he added.

On goals for the congregation at St. Agatha's, Fr. Van Poppelen said he had no formal plans.

"I'm content to sit by the road and be a friend to man," he smiled. "I've had a very good reception here and I'm glad I came."

MR. AND MRS. RALPH OWEN SMITH

An open house was held Sunday, Aug. 25, marking the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owen Smith of Decker. The celebration was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith of Decker.

Ralph Smith and Ruth Ann Smith were married in Decker by Rev. James James.

The Smiths have farmed in the area and Mrs. Smith is Evergreen Elementary School principal.

The open house was given by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Geister of Marlette, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith of Snover and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith of Decker.

The Smiths are lifelong residents of the Decker-Snover area and have nine grandchildren. They are members of the Shabbona UM Church.

Guests attended from Marlette, Hemans, Sandusky, Decker, Snover and South Lyon.

Sparling sets area stops Friday

Republican Congressional candidate Jim Sparling's 14-day, 55-stop campaign tour swings into the Cass City area this week end.

Probe grass fire Saturday

Huron County Sheriff's deputies are continuing to investigate a refuse fire that spread out of control shortly before 1:00 a.m. Saturday.

Elkland township firemen responded to the alarm. Fire Chief Richard Root reported no damage.

The fire was located on property owned by Merl Winter and located on Huron Line Road near M-53. No cause was determined.

Sparling will meet area voters Friday in three stops, beginning in Gagetown from 9:15-9:45 a.m.; in Cass City from 10:00-11:30 a.m., and in Caro from 12:15-2:00 p.m.

Following an appearance in Peck Saturday, and at a Sparling Booster Club Picnic at the fairgrounds in Caro Sunday, the Republican candidate will meet Kingston voters from 8:30-9:30 a.m. Monday.

Deford man hurt in one-car mishap

A Deford man and two companions escaped serious injury late Saturday afternoon when the car in which they were riding went out of control and struck two mailboxes on M-81 at Deckerville Road.

Edward M. Mozen, 19, driver of the car, told State Police from the Caro Post he was headed northeast on M-81 and was going to make a right turn onto Deckerville Road when he saw a vehicle approaching from behind at a high rate of speed.

He said he attempted to turn onto Deckerville Road at 50-55 miles per hour, lost control of the car, crossed the centerline and struck a mailbox. The vehicle then swerved across M-81 and struck another mailbox.

Two passengers in the vehicle, David Suranye, 17, and Bob Mullin, 17, both of Caro, were not injured. The mishap took place at 5:35 p.m.

Friday, vehicles driven by Edward George Schwartz, 44, of 4234 S. Seger St., and Ruth Lynn Rupprecht, 32, of 9251 Waterman Rd., Vassar, collided at the intersection of Bradford and Van Geisen Roads.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies who investigated said the Rupprecht vehicle was traveling west on Van Geisen Road and failed to slow down for the blind intersection, striking a cement truck being driven by Schwartz.

Officers reported the truck left skid marks of 105 feet prior to the collision.

Ms. Rupprecht was ticketed for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead.

The mishap took place at 10:55 a.m.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Four other area accidents were reported.

Friday, a car driven by Kevin LeRoy Sutherland, 22, of 864 Allen St., Caro, struck and killed a deer while driving eastbound on Deckerville Road a quarter-mile west of Murray Road.

Sutherland told State Police the deer ran from the north side of the road into the path of his car. He was not injured. The accident took place at 8:15 p.m.

Sunday, a car driven by James Marvin Woodward, 66, of 4292 Oak St., collided with a parked car on Main Street near Maple.

Cass City Police said Woodward was backing up to let a parked car out when he backed into another vehicle, owned by Donald Kruse of 5843 Schwegler Rd.

Monday, cars driven by Phillip Alan Kuch, 16, of Cedar Run Rd., and Minnie Elliott, 55, of Detroit, collided at the intersection of Main and Seeger Streets.

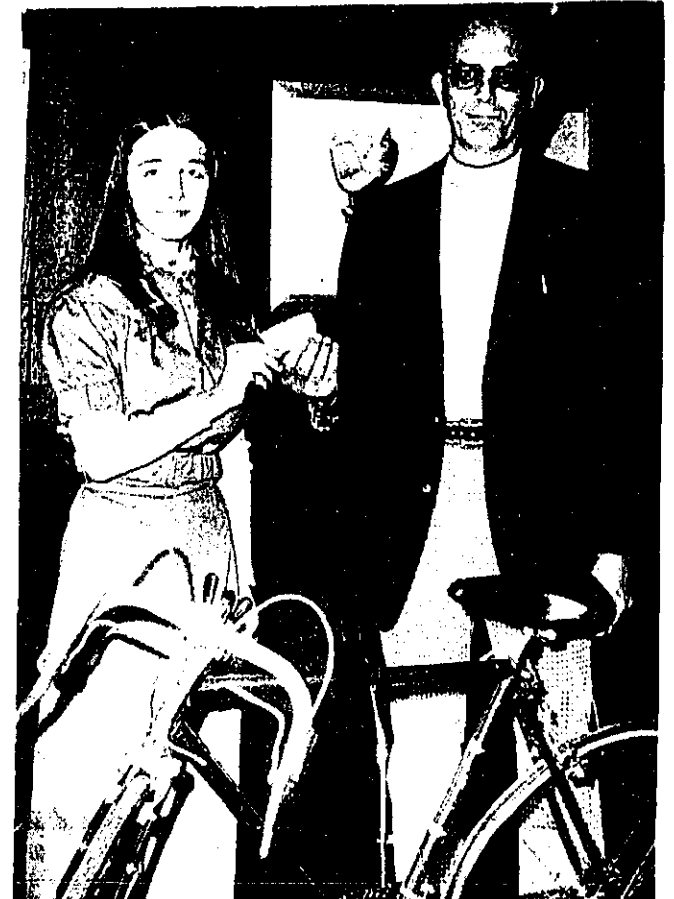

Cass City Police reported the Kuch vehicle had stopped to make a left turn from Seeger onto Main when the Elliott vehicle struck him from behind.

No ticket was issued and neither driver was injured. The mishap took place at 8:10 a.m.

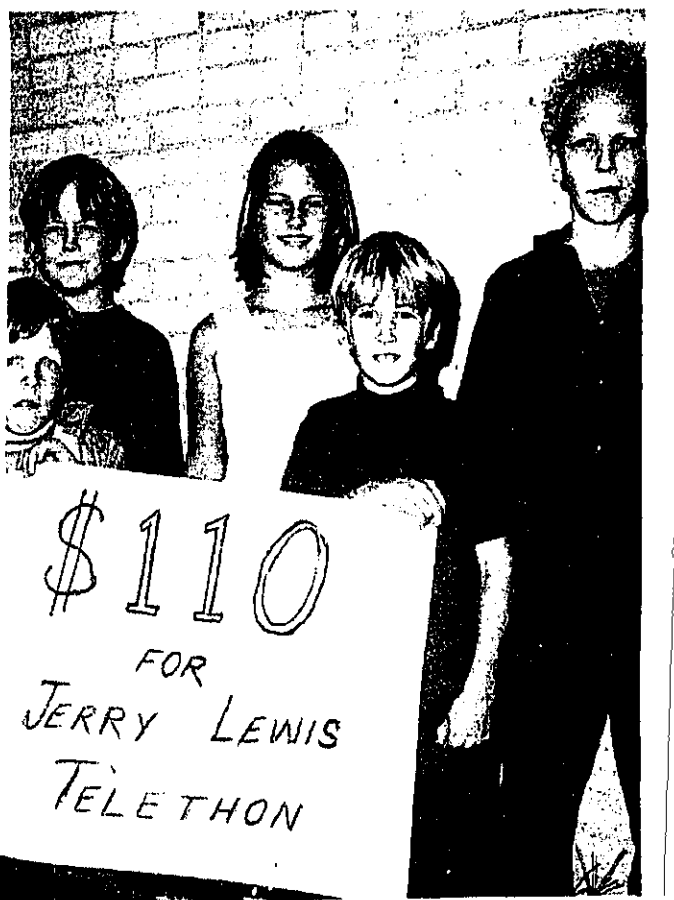

Also Monday, cars driven by Russell L. Richards, 39, of 6592 Houghton St., and Kenneth Jay Kilbourn, 17, of Phillips Road, Deford, collided near the intersection of Seeger and Main Streets.

Cass City Police said the Richards vehicle was headed south on Seeger when the Kilbourn vehicle backed out of a parking place into the path of the oncoming auto.

No ticket was issued and neither driver was injured. The mishap took place at 10:20 a.m.

WHEN DONNA LALKO of Kingston was the winner of a bike in a drawing at Ouvry Chev.-Olds it marked the first time she was lucky enough to win something. The prize was a 10-speed bike for the 19-year-old employee at Walbro Corporation. The prize on display was a boys' bike, but Amie Ouvry promised to switch it for a girls' model. He promised after Miss Lalko explained that she had four brothers and was afraid she might never get to ride her prize if she brought home a boys' model.

The bean game

The bean game . . . you've played it before . . . a game of chance . . . one bean, three shells . . . if you guess which shell the bean is under you win. But what if you guess wrong?

There's another bean game you play, too. But the stakes are higher. It takes a lot of skill plus plenty of luck to deal with the ups and downs of the agricultural marketing process. The market switches around just as fast as the hands of the carnival huckster. If you've made the wrong decision you've sold the farm.

That's why more growers are playing it smart with Michigan Bean. They're using our market experts to keep better informed, they're depending more on our trading skills to guarantee better sales and they're relying on our marketing people to develop increased demand for their crops.

When you make the decisions of whether to sell, store or contract; when and where to deliver and how much, you're playing the bean game.

PLAY IT SMART WITH THE BEAN COMPANY.

Tuscola corn plots set to view

Tuscola county's "Corn Variety" plots are looking good and corn producers throughout Tuscola county may wish to watch them mature during the next few weeks. There will not be a formal corn tour in 1974; however, corn growers are invited to view the plots at their discretion.

There are some identification stakes in front of each hybrid at all four variety plots. There are also larger company signs in front of a few of the varieties. If you would like to have a diagram of an individual plot, give the Cooperative Extension Service a call in Caro at 673-3161.

The four plot locations are as follows, states Bill Bortel, Tuscola County Extension Director:

Burns Plot - located one mile west of Millington and two miles south on Irish Road.

Barry Hedley Plot - located at the corner of Remington and Hoppe Roads. Four and one-half miles east of Unionville and two miles south on Remington Road.

Robert Proctor Plot - located one mile east of Akron to Cramer Rd., one mile south to Dutchman Road and one-quarter mile east on Dutchman.

Zwerk Plot - located three miles east of Reese to Bradleyville Road and two and one-half miles south.

New 4-H group set in Deford area

A new 4-H group is being formed in the Deford and Kingston area. An organizational meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 17, at 6:30 p.m., with parents and children invited to attend.

Mrs. Herbert Yax is the leader of the group, as yet unnamed. Mrs. Gerald Wolfrum will assist.

Persons interested in being group leaders or helping in various activities are needed and encouraged to volunteer. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wolfrum, located at the north end of Burton Road.

Discussion will focus on interests of area children and how to meet those interests. For information, call 683-2716 or 683-2358.

Cleft Palate group to meet

The next regular meeting of the Saginaw Valley Cleft Palate Association will be held Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 7:30 p.m., in the Redwood Estates office building between Reese and Saginaw.

Dr. L. Leddy, a Saginaw orthodontist, will speak on orthodontics, growth and treatment.

BETTER HEALTH Help for hyperactive children

As many parents know to their sorrow, there is such a thing as a "hyperactive" (too restless) and often violent-tempered child, who for years can be a terrible problem at home and in school. Some of these children have what I call the Jekyll and Hyde disease. For a while they can be angelic, and then, because of some very slight annoyance, they can go into a rage in which they may strike their mother or try to beat up their teacher at school.

I have seen many such children because the mother came to consult me about her own nervous breakdown -- brought on by the child's violence and troublemaking tendency.

Many years ago I learned that these children often have a bad nervous heredity. When I learned that half of the very nervous people I saw with a violent and poorly-controlled temper were suffering from a mild non-convulsive and practically always unrecognized epilepsy, I began to do three things with the hyperactive children I saw: I insisted on getting an honest family history; I had electro-encephalograms made (records of the tiny electric currents constantly running through the brain, which are usually erratic in epileptics), and I tried out the effect of Dilantin, which commonly almost cures an epileptic.

When my experience with the violent children showed that many of them had a bit of inherited epilepsy, I searched the literature on hyperactive children, and was sorry to find that so far very few physicians have thought to look for epilepsy in the young patients and their parents.

Recently I found a fine paper by Dr. Judith L. Rapoport of Washington, D.C., who found that some fathers and mothers of 76 hyperactive children in their youth had had serious nervous troubles. Also, a number of the youngsters had slight physical abnormalities.

In the cases of several of the hyperactive youngsters I have seen, when Dilantin did not work, Deener worked miraculously.

Today I would not think of treating a hyperactive child without first getting a family history, getting electroencephalograms, and trying Dilantin.

BREAST FEEDING MAY IMPROVE A CHILD'S SPEECH

I read that recent research in New Zealand shows that boys who were breast-fed for from four to seven weeks or longer had better speech tone, clarity, and reading ability than did boys who received little or no breast feeding. There was no similar difference in girls.

HOME TREATMENT OF ATHLETE'S FOOT

I feel competent to discuss the subject of athlete's foot because for much of my early life I suffered from recurrent attacks of a distressing infection between my toes.

When I was around 40 I noticed that in me, an attack of athlete's foot began with a burning distress between two toes. Then, on looking between those toes I would find a red line which had been produced by the germ of athlete's foot.

Next I found that if I put some carbolized vaseline over the red line, it quickly disappeared and I had no further trouble. Also along the way I found that I got no more red lines and no athlete's foot if after my daily bath I took care to dry the spaces between my toes.

A SMALL CHILD'S DIARRHEA

In my first three years after I left medical school, I practiced in a big American mining camp in Mexico. One of the most common diseases that I had to deal with was small children's diarrhea. In many cases the child died of it. I was distressed because in

4-H bicycling program set

Bicycling is becoming more popular with young people and adults. There are bicycles appearing on our streets and highways every day, and in a continuing concern the 4-H program is promoting the growing need for bicycle safety programs with our youth and adults.

The program is offered to 4-H'ers between the ages of 7 and 19 in both the rural and urban areas in Tuscola county. Last year most 4th grade classes in the schools of Tuscola county were involved in a 4-H bicycle safety awareness program along with several 4-H club programs.

The 4-H bicycle program is based on safety research and pilot safety programs developed in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Service, the National 4-H Service Committee and the several schools enrolled in the special 4-H groups. Also, several 4-H clubs organized bicycle safety projects and had speakers talk to their members.

For more information on the 4-H bicycle program or other 4-H programs, contact the county 4-H Extension office, located in Civil Defense Center, Caro.

AGENT'S CORNER What is an extension study group?

Aliene Mills - Extension Agent

What is an Extension Study Group? This is only one of the many methods used by the Cooperative Extension Service to teach Family Living Education. The purposes are educational, develop leadership and for fellowship plus designed for all ages and all backgrounds.

Educational - these groups meet in homes and study current information related to the family such as foods and nutrition, clothing, housing and home furnishings, family development, consumer information and community development. The local group sets up its curriculum with its own member re-teaching information they receive at a Family Living Education Class, use loan lessons or gets a speaker.

Leadership is developed by persons taking the responsibility and keeping the local group to function. The extent of local organization is up to the local group. Fellowship is enjoyed by meeting with others and to share similar concerns and happenings. This is a great way to get to know your neighbor.

If you are interested in joining an Extension Study Group or interested in organizing a group in your community, contact Aliene Mills, Extension Home Economist in the Civil Defense Center or telephone 673-3161.

Start today with breakfast

By Cynthia Crain - Extension Home Economist

For those of you who are avid breakfast fans, eating a good breakfast is one of the high points of your day. You wake up in the morning, smile at the world, and sit down to your "sunny side ups." After breakfast you feel alert and ready for the new day.

For the rest of you who detest breakfast, there is hope! Breakfast can be exciting! A good breakfast can do more than a few minutes sleep to get you through the morning.

You say you don't like breakfast foods, how about a cheeseburger deluxe or even a cold piece of pizza.

You say you have a weak stomach in the morning, try a milk shake made with a banana and an egg. Follow this with a piece of toast.

Maybe you are rushed in the morning. How long does it take to eat fresh fruit or a peanut butter and jelly sandwich or gulp down an instant milk beverage?

Are you the "weight-watcher" in the family? Skipping breakfast is a poor way to keep your weight down. When you go without food and become hungry, you're likely to eat more calories than you use.

Just remember, breakfast should supply one-fourth to one-third of the daily needs for calories, protein, and nutrients. It should contain representatives from each of the four food groups (fruit and vegetables, protein, bread and cereals, and dairy).

Try eating breakfast in September, by October you will be smiling at the world in the morning and the world just might smile back at you.

Sentence Cass Cityan Monday on auto theft charge

A Cass City man was sentenced to fines and costs totaling $400 Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court before presiding Judge Norman Baguley.

Douglas Fairbanks, 19, was sentenced to a $200 fine and $200 costs for unlawful driving away an automobile. He also received a suspended 107-day jail sentence.

One other sentence was also handed down. Dean Emery, 18, Caro, was sentenced on probation violation charges to Jackson Prison from two to four years.

Emery was originally placed on probation early in 1973.

Sentencing of Donald Taylor, 17, of Mayville on charges of attempting to steal less

The offense occurred May 5 in Fremont township.

James E. Bearinger, 20, of Caro, was arraigned on charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. He stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered in his behalf.

Pre-trial examination was set for Oct. 7, and bond was reduced to $1,000.

The offense occurred July 26 in Indianfields township.

In a pre-trial examination, Robert D. Sturk, 19, Caro, entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering of a service station in Fairgrove March 7. Sentencing was set for Oct. 7, and bond of $1,000 was continued.

Kenneth Gamet, 27, Millington, was determined competent to stand trial, and entered a plea of guilty to reckless use of firearms. Sentencing was set for Oct. 21, and bond was continued at $1,000.

The offense occurred in Vassar township May 10.

Mark A. Young, 18, of Birch Run, pleaded guilty to larceny of Clossky's Market in Vassar June 20, during pre-trial examination. Sentencing was set for Oct. 7, and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

In the same case, Jack C. Bertran, 18, of Saginaw, also entered a plea of guilty to larceny of the market. His sentencing was set for Oct. 7, and bond of $2,000 was continued.

DNR sets Fish Point open house

An open house will be held at the Fish Point Wildlife Area Headquarters Saturday, Sept. 28, in recognition of National Hunting and Fishing Day.

DNR personnel will be at the area headquarters, located on Kingle Road, 3 1/2 miles north of M-25, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. to greet visitors and introduce them to the Fish Point area.

Hunters who are interested in working on DNR hunting blinds should bring waders. Everyone is welcome and hunters can become familiar with hunting conditions in preparation for the forthcoming waterfowl season on Oct. 9.

Arrest rock fest promoter

Earl Scott, 26, of Caro, promoter of two area rock fests earlier this year, was arrested Tuesday on charges of selling stolen property.

Scott was arrested by State Police from the Caro Post shortly after noon and was expected to be arraigned in Tuscola County District Court later in the day.

Scott is charged with selling a motorcycle known to be stolen and valued at $500.

Livestock exports begin Monday

Area livestock producers began exporting animals and meat to Canada Monday, one week ahead of the previously announced resumption date.

Canadian agricultural authorities advanced the date for resuming shipments of diethylstilbestrol (DES) free cattle. U.S. Department of Agriculture authorities made the announcement Thursday.

Under the new requirements, lambs must be in the owner's possession for 45 days rather than 120 days as previously announced. The date was advanced by Canada to permit meeting quarterly quota by Sept. 30, Dr. John A. Speicher, program director, agriculture and marketing, Michigan State University, said.

The previous Canadian agreement stipulated shipments could begin Sept. 15. The Canadian position prohibiting DES remains in effect, but barriers imposed last April have been lifted if a set of precautionary measures are taken to assure DES-free meat to Canadian consumers.

Among them, producers must have a statement signed by their local county extension agent to the effect that the producer understands the Canadian requirements.

Producers may obtain necessary forms and permits from their county agent or by contacting Dr. Dan Fox, Dept. of Animal Husbandry, MSU, E. Lansing 48824; or Dr. Donald M. Scott, 231 Loree Dr., E. Lansing 48823.

Cass City preps for grid opener at Yale Friday

Coach Roland Pakonen learned two things about his 1974 Red Hawk football team in a scrimmage Friday at North Branch. The first is that there is plenty of work to be done before this Friday's non-conference opener at Yale and the second is that the team appears able to score.

Turnovers were frequent in the head knocking contest with the Branchers and Memphis but Pakonen said that he was pleased with the work of his offensive line. It was a pleasant surprise to see the line operate because it is primarily composed of underclassmen and boys without previous varsity experience.

Only Bruce Tuckey at right tackle and Greg Decker at right guard have earned

At left end Senior Dave Eberline or Mike Gruber will be fighting it out. At left tackle will be Steve Frederick and at left guard Guy Howard has won a starting post.

Center is an open battle between Dan Erla and Tom Brinkman with Erla having a slight edge for the starting nod. Kirt Kendall, a junior, is at right end.

The backfield is loaded with experience. Ed Stoutenburg at right half and Wayne Brooks at full back were starters last year. Tom Smentek, the quarterback, is new to the varsity. At the right half slot, Jerry Toner and Mike Lowe are fighting it out. Toner is a letter winner.

If Pakonen sticks to his present plans there will be many players platooned against Yale. Only Howard, Decker, Stoutenburg, Toner and possibly Mike Gruber will see two-way duty. At least that's the way the coach hopes to be able to run the squad this season.

Ends on defense will be Rod Hutchinson and Kim Copeland. Tackles will be Russ Schweikart and either Ron O'Dell or Al Kuenzli.

The noseman will be Mark Phillips. Linebackers will be Ron Sieradzki, Howard and Decker. Backs will be Stoutenburg, Toner and Mike Gruber or Ken Lowe.

Lowe is playing his first year of organized football. He arrived to practice late but his size (about 180 pounds) and quickness nearly guarantee that he'll be seeing plenty of action before the season gets too far along.

Pakonen said that last week's scrimmage indicated that much work must be done to tighten the team's defense.

Just how good this year's edition of the Hawks will be is still an open question. There is no question about the squad size.

More boys are out for football this year than in any recent year. A total of over 60 boys at the varsity and junior varsity level are trying out for the teams.

The opening game could be a gauge of the Hawks' chances in the Thumb B Conference this year. Scouting reports indicate that Yale has plenty of size in the line and was impressive in a scrimmage last week... scoring a lot of touchdowns.

IF PLANS ARE followed through the season there will be only three two-way players this season. The starting defense, front row: Kim Copeland, Al Kuenzli, Mark Phillips, Russ Schweikart. Second row: Greg Decker, Ed Stoutenburg, Jerry Toner, Guy Howard, Ron Sieradzki, Mike Gruber. Missing is Rod Hutchinson.

More coaches due for girls

The cost of coaching will increase this season. The only question remaining is how much.

It will increase because the Cass City School Board Monday night approved assistant coaches for girls' basketball and volleyball.

The action was taken on the recommendation of Athletic

Tell winners

of Lions

golf tourney

A crowded field of 79 entries highlighted the Cass City Lions Sixth Annual Golf Tourney held Sunday at Sherwood Forest Country Club, Gagetown.

In the women's division, Esther Reagh took first place, with Mary LaPeer first runner-up and Lois Scolaio second runner-up.

In the men's division, Bill Denbrook of Elkton captured first with Gary Cummings second and Bill Burrows third.

In the second flight, Denny Collins was the winner, with Paul Burdon second and Clark Erla and Bill Malone tied for third place.

Nearest to the pin on the first hole was Buck Rabideau. The longest drive of the day for the men was Bob Gintner and for the ladies, Mary Rabideau.

The shortest drive of the day for the men was recorded by Jeff Billins and Bobbie Sprigg for the ladies.

Shooting the most fives was Larry Paine for the men and Barb Burdon for the ladies.

Gary Jones and Bobbie Sprigg both won practice golf balls for shooting high actual scores.

Director Robert Stickle. There are 35 to 40 girls in basketball now and volleyball drew about 25 last year. Both sports play a junior varsity schedule.

For this reason the assistant was recommended by Stickle. A request for a softball assistant was denied on Stickle's recommendation because girls do not play JV schedules.

Mrs. Geraldine Prieskorn, asked about the status of girls gymnastics and Stickle said that it is not a varsity sport because no teams are nearer than 50 miles to provide competition.

While the two added teachers will add to the cost of coaching, it is not the only reason that costs will probably jump.

One of the requests of the teachers' union is that girls' coaches receive the same amount as coaches of boys' sports. Last year the girls' cage coaches received $400 while the boys' coach was paid $925. In baseball the coach received $450 while the softball mentor was paid $300.

Robert H. Walpole has been named vice-president, international operations, for Walbro Corporation. Announcement of his appointment to this divisional officership was made at the annual meeting of Walbro's Board of Directors.

Robert H. Walpole

Walbro Corporation is one of the world's largest manufacturers of small engine carburetors and, in addition, produces an extensive line of automotive products. Wal-bro's overseas subsidiaries include Walbro GmbH, Hamburg, West Germany, and Keihin-Walbro Corporation, Kawasaki City, Japan.

As vice-president, Walpole will supervise the marketing and coordinate production of Walbro chain saw carburetors abroad. He will also supervise the marketing and production of Walbro automotive products as this line is extended into Europe and Asia.

Walpole joined Walbro Corporation in 1970 and became manager, international operations, in 1973.

Before moving to Walbro, Walpole was employed by the Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Company. For six years, he served in the division's district sales office in Atlanta, Georgia, successively, as zone manager, administrative manager, fleet and lease manager, and planning and distribution manager.

Walpole holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from Principia College and a Masters degree in business administration from Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri.

Osentoski rolls to TSL crown

Usually team sponsors of softball teams take little notice of the team for which they underwrite the expenses, merely charging the cost to good-will advertising.

But the Osentoski Realty entry in the Thumb Softball League was an unusual team with unusual sponsors. Not one team member was more pleased than Ira and David Osentoski when their entry in the league rolled to the south division championship of the Thumb Softball League and then capped the year by sweeping the play-offs from the north division champions, Pete's Bar of Bad Axe.

It marked the first time in history that a first-year entry in the league had won a divisional championship, let alone the TSL league toga.

The championship action was at Gagetown Saturday and Sunday and the games attracted large crowds.

Saturday's brawl was a typical slowpitch game. Osentoski won it by a single run, 8-7. The game was decided in the fourth inning when Osentoski used the long ball to pound home five runs and then hang on for the victory. The champs were trailing by a lone counter in the fourth when Don Galbraith, the free-swinging port sider, connected for the circuit to tie the game.

It was the start of a deluge. Henry Cooklin singled. Paul Bliss and Mike Murphy hustled out balls to reach base on errors as Cooklin scored the lead run. The big blow of the inning and of the game followed as Phil Nichols blasted a four-bagger good for three runs... just enough, it turned out, for the victory.

Pete's kept chipping away at the margin until the final out. In the seventh, trailing by one run, the losers had a runner on but couldn't push him across to tie.

Sunday's game was in sharp contrast to Monday's slugfest, but the results were the same. Osentoski won by a single run, 1-0.

Neither team was able to score for the first six innings. Osentoski threatened in the first after a double by Nichols, but he was out attempting to score.

Pete's looked like they might even the series in the sixth. They loaded the sacks with no one out but Paul Bliss doubled Pete's Jim Apley at the plate after catching a routine fly to nip the rally in the bud.

Osentoski scored the game's only run in the top of the final frame. Vern Palmer doubled to start things off. Nichols walked and Don Tonti flied out. John Maharg singled to load 'em up and the winning run scored as Jim Mastie hit a fly ball to the outfield.

Osentoski ended the season with a 17-3 record while Pete's Bar finished with a 15-5 record. Both teams entered the play-offs with identical 15-3 marks.

OSENTOSKI REALTY won the championship of the Thumb Softball League Sunday by topping Pete's Bar of Bad Axe in the final game of the play-offs at Bad Axe. It was the first year for the team in the slow pitch league. Front row, from left: Ira Osentoski, sponsor; Phil Nichols, manager; Dallas Nichols, Henry Cooklin, Don Tonti, Vern Palmer and Dave Osentoski, sponsor.
