

Novesta stays dry following liquor license turndown

Deford area residents will still have to drive beyond Novesta township to purchase beer and wine.

The township board Saturday rejected a request by owners of the Deford Country Store that they be licensed to sell beer and wine. The board turned down the request by a 4-1 vote, with Treasurer Mrs. Ruth Spencer voting in favor of granting the license.

This is not the first time the Novesta board has turned down a request for an SDM (Special Designated Merchant) license. Novesta remains one of the few townships in the state where beer and wine cannot be sold.

Township Supervisor Gail Parrott said he voted against the request simply because he has always opposed the sale of beer and wine in the township. He said owners of the store told the board if the license is not ultimately approved, the store may be forced to close.

"But they bought the store with full knowledge of the situation," Parrott said.

In explaining her vote, Mrs. Spencer said the store should have been granted the license because it is the only store in the township that meets state qualifications.

"I see no reason why it shouldn't be granted," Mrs. Spencer said. "The owners said there's a possibility the store could close if it doesn't have the license. Deford needs that store and I see no reason why they shouldn't be able to sell beer and wine."

She said as long as every surrounding township allows beer and wine to be sold, why not in Deford?

She said township residents should probably be polled to decide the question. She added she has no idea whether or not the issue will go to the voters.

Parrott said had action been taken earlier, a public referendum on the question could have been held at the November election.

He explained presently there are no ordinances on the Novesta books prohibiting the sale of beer and wine in the township but that applicants for an SDM license must be approved by the township board.

"I think if it had gone to a public vote and had been approved, the township board would have gone along with the results 100 per cent.," Parrott said.

The license request has been appealed to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission. Store owner Frank Culling said he expects to hear whether or not the license is approved within two weeks.

"It (the license) could have been voted in very easily," Culling said. "Actually, I thought I was entitled to it."

Culling said he has tripled the store's stock since he purchased it two months ago. "I've tried to improve it and I thought the township board might go along with me on this," Culling said.

Under existing state statutes, the liquor commission can overrule the township board and grant a license. Some observers speculate, however, that the commission won't go against a township ruling without substantial evidence.

STATE REP. QUINCY HOFFMAN (R-Applegate), opens a meeting of area rail users Thursday night at Cass City High School. Users agreed to form a Thumb Area Railway Users Association to combat threatened abandonment of practically all railroads in the Thumb.

Form Rail Users Assn.

Shippers unite to fight Thumb rail abandonments

Area rail users prepared to fight proposed railroad abandonments in Michigan's Thumb Thursday night when they formed a Rail Users Association during a meeting at Cass City High School.

The action came after a panel of experts from local, state and federal agencies reviewed the situation before over 50 persons who attended.

Representatives from Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac and Lapeer counties formed steering committees to chart the course for the association's efforts to stave off wholesale railroad abandonment in the Thumb.

Dean Hoag, Cass City, was named chairman of the Tuscola county steering committee. Also serving in the group are Cliff Croft, Les Profit and Jim Turner, manager of J.P. Burroughs elevator in Gagetown.

The Tuscola group will also concern itself with the impending abandonment of the rail line serving Cass City by Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

It was learned that a formal request for a hearing on the proposed abandonment has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by State Reps. Loren Armbruster (R-Caro) and Quincy Hoffman (R-Applegate). No date for a hearing has yet been set.

The Thumb area faces virtual elimination of all rail service should the federal Department of Transportation's (DOT) plan for railroad reorganization be adopted by Congress.

Bill Bailey, DOT rail specialist, reviewed the revised schedule for reorganization. He said by Feb. 26, the U.S. Railroad Association's preliminary plan will be completed, with public hearings scheduled for mid-March. By June 26, a final plan will be prepared by the association and sent to Congress a month later.

By Aug. 25, an ICC evaluation of the final plan will be submitted and by Sept. 24, the final plan should go into effect. Service cut-offs will begin Oct. 25 and be virtually complete by Dec. 23, 1975.

By April 21, 1976, abandonments will be complete.

The railroads came under sharp criticism for not supplying needed rail cars and for deferring maintenance on many of its lines.

Bailey said this is standard operating procedure for railroads. "They (the operators) are not investing heavily in new cars nor are they investing in maintenance on lines they plan to abandon," Bailey said.

Huron County Commissioner Edmund Good Sr., Gagetown, asked if farmers will eventually have to buy or lease their own cars to ship grain to market.

Porter Barnett, Michigan Department of Agriculture transportation specialist, said this could happen. "If they (the railroads) can, they will defer everything possible," he said. "This is intentional."

Barnett said users could protest by complaining to the agriculture department, the ICC and state legislators.

at the public," Jones said. "It's time this changed. The railroads are important and have to be retained."

After a resolution to form the users association was adopted, Cliff Croft revealed a former Grand Trunk attorney and former cost-accountant for the railroad has agreed to work with the group in gathering information for ICC hearings.

It is estimated these expenses alone will run nearly $20,000.

STATISTICS

Critics of rail abandonment in particular and of rail mismanagement in general contend efficient railroads could cut costs, both in the price of goods and in energy used.

According to Interstate Commerce Commission statistics the railroads in the United States carried 2,626,280,490 tons of freight in 1971 and paid employee wages totaling just under $6 billion.

During the same year, trucking firms moved 607,610,230 tons of freight at a cost in employee wages of $72 billion, according to the DOT.

Critics contend if railroads are allowed to go under, prices could soar if freight were moved solely by truck.

This could create huge problems for county road commissions, according to Albert Thoms, Chairman of the Huron County Board of Commissioners who spoke at Thursday night's meeting.

"This has been an exceptionally dry fall," he said. "But during a normal fall, heavy usage by trucks could tear our roads apart."

Of Michigan's 4,000 miles of lower peninsula tracks, 1,480 miles, or 37 per cent, is under consideration for abandonment. Hardest hit areas are the Thumb and northwestern lower Michigan in the Traverse City-Cadillac area.

If DOT's plan is approved, the only rail line operating in the Thumb would run from Saginaw to Sebawaing and on to Elkton.

The county steering committee met Monday to discuss its next move.

Rail users

map action

The Thumb Railway Users Association steering committee began mapping strategy for saving area railroad lines during a planning session Monday night at Cass City High School.

The committee agreed to concentrate on the proposed abandonment of the Imlay City-Caseville line which serves Cass City and is operated by Grand Trunk Western.

Members agreed to contact every rail user along the line by letter and eventually in person. Don Moore of North Branch agreed to organize the letter campaign which is expected to include state and U.S. representatives.

The group appointed county chairmen to coordinate committee plans in each county. Dean Hoag will serve as Tuscola county chairman as well as overall chairman; Ted Leipprant will serve as Huron county chairman; Al Barnes was appointed Sanilac county chairman and Don Moore will serve as Lapeer county chairman.

County chairmen will coordinate traffic studies on threatened railroads and gathering statistics.

The group also agreed to check into hiring an attorney and cost accountant and discussed funding for the association.

Police probe Cass City, Kingston safe thefts; Ugly destruction

State Police from the Caro Post are continuing to investigate the theft of a safe from the M&M Block Co. at 6141 Kelly Rd., Saturday morning.

Police said the theft was discovered around 5:50 a.m. Entry was gained by forcing the front door.

In addition to the safe, three rifles were also reported stolen. Police reported the safe, which had been heavily damaged, was found Sunday on a trail near the intersection of Keilitz and Severance Roads by Howard Kissame, a deer hunter from Pigeon.

The culprits apparently made several attempts to enter the safe and eventually managed to remove the door. No money was in the safe but a quantity of papers were destroyed when the thieves apparently set fire to the contents.

Police said they have no suspects and that their investigation continues. They speculated the incident may be connected with another reported safe robbery from Kingston Krome reported Wednesday, Nov. 13.

In that incident, thieves removed a safe from an office area of the plant, located at 3577 Pine St., sometime between 10 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 12, and 5:15 a.m. the following morning.

Tuscola county Sheriff's deputies who investigated reported the thieves apparently backed a vehicle up to a rear door and forced two inside doors to reach the safe.

Officers reported the 290-pound safe was apparently moved some 250 feet before being loaded into the vehicle.

A safe reportedly thought to be the Kingston Krome safe was found late last week and is in the custody of the Sheriff's department.

The safe was valued at $468, and it is believed $35 was inside at the time of the theft.

Officers are continuing their investigation.

CASS CITY B & E

Cass City Police investigated the destruction of a coin box at the Cass City Car Wash owned by Ray Davis of Bad Axe Sunday.

Police said no money was taken since the change from the previous day had been removed. Chief Gene Wilson said the culprits did about $80 damage. He speculated the culprits used either a screw driver or a crow bar to force the box open.

Police have no suspects. Cass City Police also investigated the larceny of a set of golf clubs from a garage at the Alton O'Connor residence at 6790 Pine St., Thursday.

Police indicated the garage had not been locked and placed a value of $125 on the clubs. O'Connor reportedly told officers the theft probably occurred sometime in the last two weeks.

Concluded on page 16.

STATE POLICE Trooper R.J. Harrington checks out a safe stolen from M&M Block Co. of Cass City over the week end. The theft was discovered early Saturday morning and the safe was recovered Sunday near Keilitz and Severance Roads. Police have no suspects.

Rainmaker trial continues

The "Rainmaker Case" being tried in Tuscola County Circuit Court was expected to go to the jury Thursday following final prosecution and defense arguments earlier this week.

The case involves a suit by Michael Reinbold, Almer township farmer, against Sumner Farmers, Inc., of Alma and Irving P. Krick, Inc., of Texas.

In the suit, Reinbold contends quantities of oats, corn, wheat, sugar beets, beans and soy beans on his farm were damaged by heavy rainfall and hail. He claims the damage resulted from the defendants' attempts to produce rain in Gratiot county and spilled over into Tuscola county.

Reinbold is asking $37,500 in damages.

The case is being tried before Circuit Judge Norman Baguley.

GERALD McALPINE of Caro poses proudly with the first buck of the season to check in at the Chronicle office Friday morning. McAlpine shot the 14-point, 150-pound deer at 7:30 a.m. opening morning while hunting north of Cass City.

"If It Fitz . . ." It's all in the family

BY JIM FITZGERALD

In honor of the birthday of Terrible Jean, the Fitz clan gathered at my house and voted unanimously that I should quit picking on President Ford and instead write nice things about my relatives.

The only hesitant vote came from sister Linda, the family expert on national affairs. She hadn't heard about Nixon resigning.

I don't know how we got on the subject of Stupid Jim writing a newspaper column. I'm always humble about my fame which has now spread to the very edges of my backyard. Perhaps the family was set off by the birthday cake which featured the regular heading of this column, in blue frosting, with my picture firmly implanted under Plexiglas.

"I thought it was my birthday," Terrible Jean said. "Shut up," I said humbly. "You're always picking on me. Read the fine type."

It said "50 years of Terrible Jean is plenty."

There is nothing remarkable about Terrible Jean becoming 50 and I mention it only by way of pointing out that she does have a remarkable birthday coming. A computerized projection, just like on TV election night, indicates that in a few years Terrible Jean will become the first daughter older than her mother.

Mother was there, of course, performing her usual party task. Which is to tell me to be quiet while everyone else is singing.

Most of the real singing is done by Terrible Jean, brother-in-law Jack, and my wife. They sound like the Andrews Sisters except Jack is bald. They always sing Irish songs which is nice for brother-in-law Tony, the Arab, who said if they didn't change their tune he would call his camel into the house.

Brother-in-law Bill, husband of Terrible Jean, is generally conceded to be the only family member who sings worse than I do. Despite several requests, we sang a duet. Tony's camel got up and went home.

Sister Mary Lou, wife of singer Jack, doesn't sing, although her lips are usually moving. She is counting his drinks. On her 50th birthday, the family plans to chip in and buy her a pocket computer.

So that no feelings will be hurt, it should be mentioned that the 4th sister, Nancy the Itch, couldn't be present. She lives in Cincinnati and couldn't make the trip because her husband, the family klutz, had a Little League tournament that week end. He plays right field, naturally.

Aunt Florence and Aunt Madeline were there. Florence and her late husband got me into the newspaper business. She parked the cross she bears outside, next to Tony's camel.

Madeline cried at all the singing. I thought it was a natural reaction, similar to being tear gassed. But Madeline insisted she was crying because she was happy to be part of such a wonderful family.

So am I.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Good Sr.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Good Sr., of Gageton, will host an open house honoring the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents Sunday, Dec. 1, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Owendale High School gymnasium.

Bernadine Kretzschmer and Edmund Good were married Dec. 27, 1924 by Elder Silas Parker in Auburn Heights. They were attended by Lucille Parker Kramp and W. Alex McLellan, cousins of the groom. They settled on a farm in Brookfield township where they have since lived, taking an active part in church, community and civic affairs.

They have six children, Edmund Good Jr., Gageton, Mrs. Robert Albrecht of Owendale, Ronald Good of Sebawaing, Mrs. Lyle Truemer of Cass City, Lloyd Good of Gageton and Robert Good of Holly. They also have 23 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mr. and Mrs. Good request no gifts.

Arraign Caro man in Circuit Court Monday

A Caro man, already facing charges of selling a stolen motorcycle was arraigned Monday in Tuscola County Circuit Court on charges of felonious assault.

Earl Scott Jr., 26, was arraigned before presiding Judge Norman Baguley. He stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered in his behalf.

Pre-trial examination was set for Dec. 16, and bail was continued at $1,000.

The offense reportedly took place in Denmark township Oct. 19, when Scott allegedly assaulted John Thomas McDermid with a shotgun.

Willard L. Cook, 35, Otter Lake, was ordered transferred to the State Forensic Center for examination in connection with an assault charge against him.

The offense allegedly took place in Millington township June 18.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

My name is now securely embedded in the computer banks of the printing industry. It happened at a Chicago trade show. To get in, you had to have a badge. When you got it you were hooked.

To get the badge you fill a form (what else) and take it to a girl at a computer input machine (it looks like a typewriter) and the information on the card is typed and appears on a screen for checking, after which your convention badge comes popping out at a desk a dozen feet away. The information is stored, ready for instant recall when and if needed by printing supply concerns.

It's modern, it's efficient, it needs to be done. So why am I slightly resentful about it? Maybe, like most, I dislike feeling like just one more in the great sea of computer cards.

I've a feeling it's a lost cause and that sooner or later the valedictorian and salutatorian will no longer be recognized at Cass City High School.

It's one man's opinion that being the very best is an honor worth striving for, worth acknowledging.

I recognize that the difference between number one student and number five student may be ever so slight. And I recognize that the valedictorian may not be the best all-around student-citizen in the school.

You can't measure this type achievement. You can measure scholarship. The student that earns the top rating can be, and should be, identified.

Being number one is still considered worthwhile in our value system.

I don't get turned on much by the coffee table conversation about deer season. I don't enjoy the excuses that come pouring out to explain why the big one got away or the reasons why all the deer are gone from the great north woods. The tales of the meatless are endless.

Naturally, I avoid the successful hunter like the plague. Just jealous I guess.

Every year I find myself wishing that Thanksgiving had been decreed a Monday holiday like many of the others in Michigan.

Thursdays create many problems for weekly papers. The Chronicle will be coming out early next week so that all subscribers will have their paper before the holiday. That's the week the Cass City merchants present their traditional kick-off of the Christmas season with a special sale.

To get the paper on the street as early as scheduled, all deadlines have been advanced. Your usual good cooperation will be appreciated.

In the major hotels these days you can see the latest (uncut) versions of hit shows. In Chicago at the Conrad Hilton, five of the latest hit movies were available for room bearing. All you do is dial a number and the screen is filled with your selection and $3.50 is added to your hotel tab.

I can't tell you about the quality because instead of watching the pay movie I switched to "The Godfather" for free.

I suspect all of this is ancient history to veteran travelers but it was all brand new to me.

Editor's Corner

Did you read that headline in the metro daily the other day? The one that said, "Amtrak gets it all together again?"

If you did and delved into the story you'd read that passenger service is on the upswing between Detroit and New York after it was thought to be dead as recently as 1971.

What's the reason? If you read between the lines you'd be convinced as I was that the reason was better service. And better service has to be the result of better management.

It's been the contention here that if other businesses were run with the same sort of management that greets the user of rail and freight service they'd be in deep trouble, too.

And Amtrak is proving it. According to the article they have people that smile at you. A travel clerk that knows a little about what is going on.

Airlines you know can give you an answer in seconds about flights, costs, space availability. . . the one time I tried to work out a train ride I never did get an answer to available schedules or costs. The guy didn't know and what's more didn't care. I took the plane.

All of which has really nothing to do with the proposed abandonment of the rail line serving the Thumb.

Maybe it's a prejudiced point of view, certainly it's a biased view. I want the railroad in Cass City.

But when I read about the success of Amtrak in a basically unsound competitive situation, I can't help but feel that given the same sort of emphasis, the same sort of revival, the same dose of better management, the railroad could be a viable (and profitable) operation in the Thumb again.

It goes without saying that business here, like business everywhere is looking for ways to save money.

The rails can do it cheaper if they get the volume. The business is here if the railroad wants it.

But let's face it. You can't depend on rail service. There are no guaranteed delivery dates. A trainload of furniture, for example, that is a month en route is too impractical to consider in today's fast-paced retailing scene.

Right now elevators are suffering along with just 10 per cent of the cars they feel they need to handle the corn crop.

It's a story that's been repeated hundreds of times. So freight users switch to trucks, often when trucks cost more money.

Yeah, I know it's always easy to sit on the sidelines and solve the other person's business. Sidewalk superintendents can take care of anything.

Perhaps it is a hopeless cause. But I'd hate to see the service abandoned before any serious attempt is made to make it profitable.

Like the Amtrak results with passenger trains, the results could be surprising.

State lawmaker sets out to reform state election laws

The ballots are all counted for two years, but there's still much talk in Lansing about campaign reform.

Michigan's Agriculture Department notes that this is not season in the state, and points out that residents may find black walnuts, butternuts, beechnuts, hickory nuts and hazelnuts.

SLOW MAIL SERVICE

Inconsistent to say the least—that's how some of Michigan's farm organizations find rural mail movement.

In some cases, for instance, letters addressed to different people in a small area and mailed on the same day arrive as much as four days apart.

Gov. William Milliken took that information into consideration in a recent letter to Congressman William V. Alexander, chairman of the House Subcommittee on Family Farms and Rural Development.

Milliken voiced concern over the slowness and inefficiencies of rural mail throughout the 15-state mid-west region.

He said the "unique needs" of rural areas must be taken into account since they are often populated by larger numbers of older citizens and the very young than are other areas.

"This population finds it more difficult to travel the additional distance to a post office than the general population as a whole," he said.

State Sen. William Ballanger, R-Lansing, who is leaving the Senate Jan. 1, says the current fair campaign practices commission is "hopelessly ill-equipped to do its job, and in fact, technically defunct" because membership has not been reappointed since the group was reactivated for the 1970 election.

Ballanger says the current commission has "a single harassed cleric handing out secret, hastily-conceived curbstone opinions without consulting other commission members or all other parties involved."

NUTTY SEASON

You too can gather wild hickory nuts.

HABLA ARABIC?

With the help of folks at three Michigan colleges, the Secretary of State's Department is going multi-lingual.

Secretary Richard H. Austin says Michigan residents may now take driver license tests in Arabic, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Polish, Portuguese, Serbo Croatian and Spanish.

Translations of the driver test "are another step in helping eliminate needless barriers to getting and renewing driver licenses for persons who are otherwise qualified," Austin says.

Help with the translations came from Michigan State University, General Motors Institute in Flint and Suomi College of Hancock, in the northern Upper Peninsula.

DRINK MUCH?

November is "Know Your Limits" month.

Promoted by the National Licensed Beverage Association, the month-long program is aimed at encouraging folks to eat-and-drink-in moderation.

"This program is founded on the concept that every individual should know his or her own personal limits and practice moderation in the use or consumption of beverage alcohol," says Stanley Thayer, chairman of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, which is supporting the program.

Thayer says the idea is "in the public interest," and urges all Michigan licensees to support it also.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK

Here's to Mrs. Murray

By Jim Ketchum

I didn't have the privilege to know her as long as many Cass Cityans did. But I came to know Julia Murray as a warm, charming and classy person.

Class. That was Mrs. Murray. Whatever she did, she did it with class. Nothing tacky or second rate. Everything from planting roses to organizing and contributing to the multitude of clubs she belonged to, it was all done with class.

Mrs. Murray came from the old school, which wasn't all bad. She had standards she lived by and never compromised them, even to the very end.

She and her husband, George, came to Cass City late in 1960. He was a chemical engineer at General Cable and both brought with them the flavor of the east coast.

When he retired, three years later, they bought the motel west of town and ran it for a time as a second career.

In that time, Mrs. Murray became involved in the community and came to love it. Those around her came to appreciate this classy lady from Buffalo, New York. More importantly, they came to love her.

As I say, Mrs. Murray had class. I remember we used to talk about how names should appear in newspapers, especially women's names. She firmly believed a woman should be known by her husband's name.

She wanted to be referred to in print as Mrs. George Murray. It was simply the proper thing to do. She also detested nicknames in print. A man was John Smith, not Jack Smith.

I'm told in their home, she and George set aside an hour every night before dinner for cocktails. It was simply the proper thing to do before dining. None of this can of beer in front of the TV stuff. It had to be a mixed drink, mixed properly, of course.

Gardening, of course, had to be done properly. She raised roses and some still thrive next to our house, which we bought from Mrs. Murray.

"Christian Dior" was her favorite rose and I remember she told me how to care and feed "him".

"I remember when we lived in your house," she told me once, "George would come in the back door and I'd ask, 'How's Christian today?' And George would say, 'Oh, he needs a little tonic,' and then he'd go back out and spruce him up."

Class, all the way. Even to the days after George died and she was without family in Cass City. She continued active in all her clubs, doing much more than just attending meetings to play bridge and hoist drinks.

She continued until she became unexplainably ill. Tests eventually showed the illness as terminal. She took it with class and refused to bow to it.

They say she resurrected herself from the grave a half-dozen times or more. Each time it looked like the worst was at hand, her indomitable courage rallied her weakened body to new strength.

During her final months, to talk with her was still a joy. No one would know this was a dying woman. She was too bright and cheerful. Entirely too classy for someone facing certain death. She knew she was dying, but unless you knew the story, no one else would suspect it.

Her interest in everyone and everything was keen to the last. It's a sad commentary that she left no close survivors to mourn her. But her many friends mourn her passing.

She was the last of a vanishing breed of woman. Someone who knew the finer things in life, the joys of the arts and the pleasure of good company.

I will miss Mrs. Murray. I'll miss her a lot.

Expect tourism traffic to remain strong

Despite some early predictions to the contrary, it's been a good year for Michigan's "Water Wonderland" tourism efforts. And there's no sign of a turnaround—even with swirling snowstorms nearly upon us.

State tourist groups expect a strong fall season, and "if present trends continue, a good winter," reports Gov. William Milliken.

"A large percentage of the resorts in West Michigan reported that their business was up—as much as 30 per cent over last summer," he says.

A slow start, blamed at least in part on gasoline shortages, marred tourist activity in the Upper Peninsula and southeast Michigan, but that also has changed.

Tourist area folks now are preparing for an onslaught of Michigan and out-of-state travelers who'll be taking advantage of the cold weather to ski, toboggan, snowmobile and just wander through snowy forests.

The West Michigan Tourist Association, for instance, now offers an inviting publication called "Carefree Days," which provides information about 35 ski and toboggan centers, more than 150 snowmobile trails and places to stay and eat in their area.

Will this optimism about Michigan's third largest industry last?

Seems so, if what Commerce Director Richard Helmbrecht said recently holds true. Helmbrecht told the Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreation Association to prepare for a 1980 tourist travel growth rate at least double that of 1972.

He cited a recreation study conducted by the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission. "Among other things, the study indicates that there will be a growth in tourist visits of between 45 per cent and 72 per cent to the 45 northern Michigan counties—including all of the Upper Peninsula—and the northernmost portions of Wisconsin and Minnesota," Helmbrecht said. "And the forecast is for travel to be close to the higher figure."

THE WATERING TROUGH is a convenience department at Old Wood Drug. Waunita Ryland is suggesting an import for this customer. The large wine department complements the beverage department containing soft drinks, cold beer and London Dairy Products. Potato chips, nuts and other convenience foods make Woods the easy stop on the corner. Free parking at the back door. (Adv.)

I've started my shopping

Started your Christmas shopping yet? Don't look now, but your calendar says you've got five weeks to get it done. And, while this year's uncertain economic climate may put a crimp in the plans of a lot of us, Mrs. Bunny Keyser of Cass City says she plans to do as much shopping this year as she did in 1973. "Surprisingly enough, this has been one of our best years," she says. "I do plan to make more things this year along the lines of decoupage." She says she has already started her shopping . . . in fact she has a large share of it done. Mrs. Keyser reasons the sooner she gets her shopping done, the better her chance to beat inflation and its price increases.

Her husband, Larry, is employed by a road contractor. The couple has lived in Cass City the last four years. They have one son.

AROUND THE FARM
Today's waste - tomorrow's food
By William Bortel

Where on earth are we going to put the millions of tons of waste products we produce each year—the metal, fiber, gas, and chemical waste produced by our industries? Agriculture has its problems, too. To efficiently use equipment and land, many farmers are concentrating large numbers of poultry in buildings and cattle in feed lots. The concentration of manure creates run-off, odor, and disposal problems for the farmer. A flock of 100,000 chickens produces as much waste as a city of 10,000 people; a herd of 1,200 cattle creates waste problems equal to those of a city of 20,000.

Echo Chapter holds meeting Nov. 13

Thirty-five were present Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, for the monthly meeting of Echo chapter OES. Eighteen officers answered roll call.

The chapter was opened by the worthy matron, Virginia Hartwick, and following the opening, the altar was draped in memory of Grace Catterfield, past Grand Matron of Michigan.

Ruth Whittaker and Mary Hutchinson installed Vera Hoadley as chaplain for the coming year. The committees for the year are: Reception, Marie Jetta; sunshine, Donna Holm; dining room, Theda Seeger; obituary, Lois Binder; auditing, Keith McConkey, Gladys Albee, Pat Hunter; publicity, Betty Greenleaf; proficiency, Keith Murphy; examining, Ed Golding, Mabel Wright, Marie Jetta; membership, Doris Evens, Colleen Krueger; by-laws, Keith McConkey, Lena Teller; ways and means, Ed Golding, Frances Golding, Vera Hoadley, Peg Neitzel, Helen Lorentzen, Colleen Krueger, Alexia Cook and Doris Evens. Members voted to give $10 to the community chest. Refreshments were served in the dining room by Mary Hutchinson and her committee.

Manure may be sold to other farmers as fertilizer. However, large scale feedlots often produce more animal waste fertilizer than neighboring farmers need. Recycling may be one answer. Part of the more than 1.5 billion tons of livestock and poultry manure produced each year may become an animal feed source in the future.

Michigan State University Agriculture research on conversion of manure from corned cattle into feed has produced interesting results. Chemical analysis has determined that the feed obtained compared favorably with soybean meal in protein content and amino acid balance. Another study tested recycled chicken manure. The dried manure was refed as 25 per cent of the chicken's feed ration. These recycling efforts are one of many research projects underway to assist farmers in meeting their commitment to provide a better environment for people in the State of Michigan.

The fascinating window

It wasn't much as stained glass windows go. But for me it held a strange fascination.

I guess it was the letters that puzzled me. The first was obviously "A". The second was trying to be "Q" or possibly "O" but didn't quite make it. And if the book portrayed were the Bible—why not put something on its pages that made sense?

It was Grandma who explained it simply. The New Testament was originally written in Greek. In the Greek alphabet, Alpha, like our letter "A," was the first letter, Omega the last. For centuries Christians have treasured these two letters as a symbol of God who said in Scripture:

"I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending . . ."

That sums up why the Bible, revealing to men God's truth, is the first and last word in daily reading.

WSC meets

Nov. 12

The Women's Study Club met with Mrs. Ernest Croft Nov. 12. Eleven persons were present.

Mrs. Alice McAleer acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Irma Hicks.

Mrs. Donna Wernette and Mrs. Esther McCullough gave highlights of the East Central District meeting at Harbor Beach.

A program on safety was given by Muriel Addison.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Harold Perry and each member was asked to bring a favorite recipe and a treasured Christmas gift.

AGENT'S CORNER

Save money on your turkey

Allene Mills - Extension Agent

Looking for ways to save money on this Thanksgiving dinner?

The smart shopper will buy a turkey big enough for several meals. The larger the turkey, the less the cost per serving. A family of four can have five or six meals from a 12 1/2 pound turkey.

Think your family will get tired of eating turkey? No problem. Simply separate the meat from the bones. Place meat sized portions of sliced or diced turkey in moisture-proof packages and freeze. These will keep for a month. If the cooked turkey is covered with a broth or gravy, it will keep well for six months in a freezer.

Try making "turkey supreme" by layering cooked noodles, broccoli and turkey and cover with a can of cream of mushroom soup. Heat.

How about turkey club sandwiches? Simply place sliced turkey, lettuce, tomato and mayonnaise on toast.

For a different treat, make a turkey pinwheel. Mix finely chopped turkey, with chopped celery and onions. Spread evenly over biscuit dough, roll like a jelly roll. Cut into slices and bake for 20 minutes in a 450-degree F oven.

Give your turkey salad a little something extra by adding grapes, pineapple chunks and apple wedges. Blend with salad dressing. Serve on lettuce and top with almonds.

Change from Pilgrim to Oriental by making sweet and sour turkey or turkey chop suey. Turkey a la king, turkey pie and turkey souffle will add some variety.

To make turkey turnovers, mix chopped onions, chopped parsley, chopped turkey and cream of chicken soup. Pour onto uncooked pastries, cut into circles. Then fold the pastries in half and bake at 425 degrees F for 40 minutes. The last of the roast turkey makes excellent soup. Use turkey bones and meat to make a broth. Add rice or noodles.

Slow Cooker, Fast Cooker and Everything in Between!

The CORNING® 3+1 Range

The cooks of America are discovering the benefits of long, slow cooking. The less expensive cuts of meat become works of culinary art in hearty soups, stews and ragouts.

Everything a slow-cooker can do . . . CORNING's 3+1 range can do!

How? The thermostats under 3 of the smooth surface units keep the temperature where you set it. You can melt butter on "LO" and leave it without a burn or scorch worry. Turn the dial up a notch or two and a simmer stays a simmer . . . perfect for long, slow cooking. Turn it up again and you've got all the heat you need for frying, sauteing or boiling.

With the 3 Temp-Assure® units, any flat pan works best. And remember, CORNING includes 5 permanently flat pans with every 3+1 appliance.

The fourth surface heating unit works like a conventional electric element to let you use even your non-flat pans. Great for cooking that doesn't require all that precision.

No other range can give you the temperature you need and the pot and pan versatility you want.

Come see the 3+1 ranges. All models have pyrolytic self-cleaning ovens and other CORNING features that will help you cook better and work less.

MARKHAM DRAIN

Notice of Letting of Drain Contract and Review of Apportionments

Notice is hereby given, That I, Leslie E. Lounsbury, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, will, on the 3rd day of December A.D. 1974, at the Drain Commissioners office in the Court House in said County of Tuscola...

All stations are 100 feet apart. The total length of the Markham Drain to be excavated is 14,111 feet, or 855.2 rods, or 2.67 miles.

The average bottom cut is 6.4 feet, and the average bottom cut is 1.5 feet. All bridges and culverts shall be cleaned to the specified flowline.

Brush, trees, and other debris shall be placed in suitable piles and burned by the contractor except in wooded areas where the brush may be winnowed beyond leveled spoil.

Excavating contractor shall bid on excavating, burning and leveling separately. The outlets, where marked by landowner, shall be left in good working condition.

This notice of letting and engineers specifications shall be considered as part of the contract.

Said job will be let in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said Drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Tuscola to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly.

Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

The date for the completion of such contract shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting. Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drain Commissioner a certified check or cash or bid bond to the amount of Two hundred and 00/100 Dollars as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law.

The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded. The payments for the above mentioned work will be made as follows: Drain orders to be due April 15, 1976; April 15, 1977 and April 15, 1978.

Notice is Further hereby given, that on Thursday the 15th day of December 1974, at the Drain office in the Court House, County of Tuscola, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Markham Drain Special Assessment District," and the apportionments thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

The following is a description of the several tracts or parcels of land constituting the Special Assessment District of said Drain, viz: SECTION 26

Watson Hudson, NW 10 A of W 1/2 of NW 1/4

SECTION 27

Steve Karpovich, NE 1/4 of NE 1/4, ex SE 5 A

SECTION 28

William G. Clark et al, N 1/2 of NE 1/4 of NE 1/4

SECTION 29

Leonard Hawley and wife, S 2 1/3 of N 60 A of E 1/2 of NE 1/4

SECTION 30

Albert E. Frappert and wife, S 20 A of E 1/2 of NE 1/4

SECTION 31

Now, Therefore, All unknown and non-resident persons, owners and persons interested in the above described lands, and you Elsie Hicks, County Clerk, Roy Messer, Supervisor of Elmwood Township, Alton Reavey, Chairman, County Road Commission are hereby notified that at the time and place aforesaid, or at such other time and place thereafter to which said letting may be adjourned, I shall proceed to receive bids for the construction of said "Markham Drain," in the manner hereinbefore stated; and also, that at such time and place as stated aforesaid from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the Markham Drain Special Assessment Districts will be subject to review.

And You and Each of You, Owners and persons interested in the aforesaid lands, are hereby cited to appear at the time and place of such reviewing of apportionments as aforesaid, and be heard with respect to such special assessments and your interests in relation thereto, if you so desire.

Dated this 7th day of November A.D. 1974.

Leslie E. Lounsbury County Drain Commissioner, County of Tuscola 11-14-2

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Because of a gift from the Rawson Foundation in Cass City of up to $50,000 to pay for the cost of construction, a new library will be erected next year in Cass City.

Evans Products Co. of Gagelown and Local 6368 of United Steel Workers of America, AFL-CIO, ratified a new three-year labor contract Friday calling for an increase of 82 cents per hour over three years and 45 cents per hour during the first year.

President Don Erla said this week that about 50 per cent of this year's Community Chest Quota of $10,000 has been reached.

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors heard the annual report of Drain Commissioner Leslie E. Lounsbury Tuesday and arranged for special civil defense classes.

The Zonta Club of Cass City inaugurated the celebration of Zonta International's 50th anniversary Tuesday night at the home of Miss Mary McIntyre.

Provincial

House shows net loss

Provincial House, Inc., announced last week that its final loss figures for the fiscal year ended July 31, 1974, came to $786,822 or 84 cents a share, compared with net income of $212,325 or 22 cents a share in the prior year.

As previously announced in the company's quarterly reports, nonperformance by two outside subcontractors in the construction subsidiary was the principal cause of the loss, along with the final development expenses for the new computerized medical management system being marketed by the computer subsidiary, Cybernetic Dimensions, Inc.

Profitable operations continued in Provincial House's health care division despite start up costs associated with the opening of four new health care centers and a hospital. Also contributing to earnings, the company said, was its Young World day care centers that have now grown to ten in number.

Revenues from patient services rose to $9,036,399 from $7,195,020, while total revenues of $21,672,910 were slightly higher than last year's $21,611,312.

Provincial House President Patrick J. Callihan said, "to provide a consolidation period in the company's growth program, construction volume will be cut substantially and there will be no new openings of major health centers in the next 18 months. The 1974-75 fiscal year will see the company return to the 'profitability pattern' established in past years."

Set Union Thanksgiving service

Cass City's annual Union Thanksgiving Eve church service will be held at Trinity United Methodist Church Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 7:30 p.m.

The announcement came following a meeting of the Cass City Area Ministerial Association.

Rev. Eldred Kelley of Salem United Methodist Church will preach the sermon at the service. Special music will be provided by Roger Little of First Presbyterian Church and the Youth for Christ singing group "Satisfaction" will also perform, under the direction of Rev. Dale Sherry of the Deford Community Church.

Mrs. Joan Merchant, organist at Trinity United Methodist Church, and the church choir under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn MacAlpine, will also participate.

Other area ministers participating in the service include Rev. Wilton Hull, Rev. E.D.K. Isaacs, Rev. Harold Prong and Rev. Charles Thompson. In its meeting, the association voted to designate the offering received at the service for the flood-stricken area of Honduras.

BETTER HEALTH
Self-abuse sends health costs up

BY DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ and DR. WILLIAM J. WELCH

It is frequently pointed out to the enthusiasts who are set on shaping up our national health program that eliminating the barrier of the cost of medical care, multiplying the number of physicians and deploying them, by force if necessary, to where they are needed will not affect one with the underlying causes of much of our physical and social malaise.

We shall still be stuck with over-population, pollution of the environment, the diseases of urban decay and the social and moral evils of poverty. Although this is overwhelmingly the case, there is an even more pressing reality that tends to go largely unremarked: the myriad ways in which we insist on making ourselves sick, half sick or even dead.

Item: There are at least nine million alcoholics in the country, most of whom at one time or another are in need of medical care to heal their retching stomachs, stop their bleeding intestines, minister to their jaundiced livers or extract them from civil or social catastrophe.

Alcoholism enters into the problems of a quarter to a third of all hospitalized patients at any given moment, and almost without exception the alcohol has been self-administered.

Item: More than one half of the 50,000 men, women and children pulled out dead from under the wheels of automobiles each year were struck by drunken drivers, or themselves had reeled drunkenly to their tire-screaming fate.

And what about those that are not killed, but are only maimed? In one way or another the abuse of alcohol alone can account for a major preoccupation of all the expensive hospital emergency rooms the country and man can equip.

Item: What is the chief cause of death of young men in New York City? Heroin! Also, of course, self-administered. In the United States, 650,000 men, women and children are confirmed daily heroin addicts.

Item: More than one million Americans are habituated to sleeping pills, usually barbiturates, and their self-administration is by no means limited to the more or less legitimate use as a nocturnal soporific. Popping "downs" runs parallel with popping "ups". In this great country of ours, eight billion "ups" (amphetamines) are popped each year.

Item: Tobacco. The most widespread of our sick-making and self-destructive habits — tobacco — which in spite of the surgeon-general's directive is the primary solace of some 50 million citizens who consume it in one way or another to the tune of eight billion dollars yearly. The diseases of the heart and lungs that ensue can quite fairly be dubbed self-administered.

Item: We have found even simpler means of self-destruction, eating ourselves into sickness and death. Nearly a third of all American adults are seriously overweight and obesity is not only a precursor of a host of bodily ailments, it is one of the 10 leading causes of death all by itself.

So, if anyone holds high hopes for American health, it would be well to remember that not only the environment and poverty and everything that goes with them are yet to be dealt with, but also the number one killer — self-abuse.

Thanksgiving story hour set

A Thanksgiving story hour is being held at Rawson Memorial Library Saturday, Nov. 23, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. Area children are invited to attend.

New novels at the library are "The Silver Bears", by Paul Erdman, "Something Happened", by Joseph Heller, "The War Between the Tates", by Alison Lurie, "Harlequin", by Morris West, and "The Millionaire's Daughter", by Dorothy Eden.

New non-fiction books are "The Comedy World of Stan Laurel", by John McCabe, "Alive: The Story of the Andes Survivors", by Paul Read, "The Total Woman", by Marabel Morgan, "All Things Bright and Beautiful", by James Horriot, and "A Bridge Too Far", by Cornelius Ryan. Other new titles are "Maria", by Maria Trapp, "The Hyperactive Child", "How to Repair Small Gasoline Engines", "Simplified Concrete Masonry Planning", "Appliance Service Handbook", "Super Sewing: the New Bishop Book", "Weight Watchers Program Cookbook", "Better Homes and Gardens Christmas-Time Cookbook", and "Better Homes and Gardens Holiday Decorations You Can Make".

Student blasts school board

November 13, 1974

Dear Mr. Haire:

I am very disgusted with the School Board for deciding to give top priority to boys' sports over girls. Just how do they define fairness? Surely not the way our classes teach us in school!

Why should the guys get special privileges over girls? Is it because more people attend the guys sports activities? If this is the reason, I don't approve of the Board's decision. Since when was money the prime factor in school sports? In my opinion, the girls should be given a fair chance. Attendance to their games has already increased over last year.

Why should we be given only a third-class chance at victory in sports just because we're girls?

Sincerely,

Lori Hampshire
Student at Cass City High School

Why do boys come first?

Dear John,

I simply must register a protest to the school board's notion that boys' basketball should have priority over girls'.

What is really sad is moving the girls' practice time simply to accommodate the boys. Certainly girls' athletics and their tournaments next week are every bit as important to the girls as the boys' activities are to the boys and deserve as much attention and concern from the school board.

The gym is designed to be divided and if nothing else could have been shared for a couple of weeks.

Sincerely,

Elaine Proctor

Where inflation could inflate to NATIONAL ENQUIRER recently did a news story with a calculator instead of a typewriter. It was reported in the Lapeer County Press. The Chronicle took it from there. The Enquirer took the past year's rate of inflation — a whopping 10.7% cost-of-living increase — and calculated prices in the year 2000 if that rate stayed constant. The rather mind-boggling results are pictured above.

Police probe rash of accidents

Area police reported several minor traffic accidents last week, none serious.

Three persons escaped injury Saturday morning in a two-vehicle collision on Mushroom Road just west of Englehart Road in Kingston township.

A car driven by Michael Keith Murphy, 24, of 4294 Leach St., collided with a vehicle driven by Rita Louise Zimba, 21, of Mushroom Road, Deford.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies who investigated said Murphy was headed west on Mushroom Road, apparently stopped to talk to a friend and started to back up, but did not see the Zimba vehicle which was also headed west.

Murphy was ticketed for failure to sight and observe an approaching vehicle. A passenger in his car, Gerald Toner, 17, of 4595 Oak St., was uninjured.

The mishap took place at 9 a.m.

Two persons were uninjured when their cars collided at the intersection of Phillips and Barrons Road Friday.

A car driven by Wayne Edward Smith, 38, of Brown City, collided with a car driven by Ricky George Reinelt, 19, of Harrison Road, Kingston.

Smith reportedly told Sheriff's deputies who investigated that he had slowed down for the intersection while traveling east on Barrons Road and did not see the Reinelt vehicle, headed north on Phillips Road.

Officers noted high weeds at the intersection could obstruct vision.

Smith was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way. The mishap took place at 12:05 p.m.

Two persons were uninjured Monday when their cars collided at the intersection of Main and Oak Streets.

Cars driven by William Harold Teller, 22, of Downington Road, Snover, and Jenny Lee Langenburg, 19, of 6437 Main St., were both headed east on Main Street at the time of the accident.

Cass City Police who investigated said Teller attempted to make a right turn from the left lane at the Oak Street intersection, turning into the path of the Langenburg vehicle.

The accident took place at 1:45 p.m.

CAR-DEER ACCIDENTS

Deer were responsible for two area accidents last week. Wednesday, Nov. 13, a car driven by John Arthur Emmons, 18, of 6868 Reagh Rd., Gageton, struck a deer while traveling south on Hurd's Corner Road a half-mile north of Hoppe Road.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated said Emmons attempted to avoid striking the deer by stopping quickly, but lost control of the vehicle and landed in a ditch on the east side of the road. He was not seriously injured.

The accident took place at 6:44 p.m.

Friday, a car driven by Harvey Kenneth Horak, 26, of Utica, struck a deer while traveling south on Cemetery Road just north of Decker-ville Road.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated said a deer ran from the west side of the road into the path of the vehicle. Horak was not injured.

The accident took place at 8:40 p.m.

Catholic Family Services' goal—strengthen families

By Jim Ketchum

You don't have to be a Catholic to take advantage of Catholic Family Services of Bad Axe.

You don't even have to be a family. You don't have to be rich, either. All you need to bring is yourself. That's the guiding principle behind the service organization now entering its 27th year—helping people who simply can't cope.

Catholic Family Service looks at the family as the bedrock of society, according to Executive Director Edward A. King. King, a licensed marriage counselor in his own right, looks upon strengthening family relationships as a paramount goal.

"The family unit is still strong," King said, as he took a break from the daily routine in his paneled office. Leaning back in his chair, the nattily-attired King said most problems in society can be traced to the family.

"Change in society today is faster than ever before," he said. "It's like having a 20-year-old tree grow in 20 seconds. All things being equal, it would cause a tremendous upheaval."

King says a goal of the service is to help people cope with this change and understand what's going on.

King explained the service's primary function is the prevention of personal and family breakdown and the promotion of better family living. It offers services to all persons in Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac counties without regard to race or religion.

It derives its name from the fact that most of its funding comes from the Catholic Diocese of Saginaw. Other funds come through United Funds in the Thumb, private donations and "fees" which are not charged if a client cannot afford to pay.

Fees are established on a sliding scale and based on ability to pay. Often clients prefer to pay out of pride or motivation, King said.

"Anyone can come in any time to talk things over," King said. "Often we don't realize that someone just needs a place to go and clear the air."

King said such sessions sometimes help change attitudes from negative to positive.

"Sometimes we help people realize that they aren't mentally ill when perhaps they thought they were," he said. "So much emphasis is placed on mental illness that it's nice to place emphasis on mental health for a change."

King said through June 30, CFS has handled 163 cases. Last year, it handled 323, mostly in the area of marriage counseling, personal problems and parent-child problems.

A staff of five handles the work of the agency. Next year's budget calls for an expenditure of $71,476 to run the entire program.

King, whose duties generally involve administrative housekeeping, still helps in counseling. He spent several years working in penal institutions including Jackson Prison, along with hospitals and other Catholic service agencies in the diocese.

SUCCESS

King said Catholic Family Services finds it hard sometimes to measure success. Sometimes apparent failure is really success in disguise.

"For instance, if a marriage fails even though the couple has been through counseling, sometimes, success is measured in how little blood is shed during the separation," he said.

He said the service plans to formulate some kind of yardstick next year to determine where their success lies and where improvements could be made.

If success can be measured in getting people in, then something is working. Of this year's 163 cases through June, 102 either came in by themselves or were referred by a friend, King said.

PROBLEM AREAS

King said the major problem area of service counselors is still in troubled marriages. Not far behind is the parent-adolescent conflict. King says part of this can be traced to younger adulthood.

"At 18, these young people find themselves faced with a lot of decisions," he said. "Before, they could be adolescents until they were 21. Now they have to get through that traumatic period in their lives with more responsibilities than ever before."

Among young people, he said alcohol is still the number one drug problem. Area hard drug usage has not reached massive proportions, King indicated.

"Too often, a young person will come home tanked and his parents will say 'Thank God he's not high on marijuana,'" King said. "Yet there's often a serious problem here that needs attention."

King believes such problems can be attacked through strengthening the family. He says the family isn't on the rocks as an American institution.

"The family is still strong," he said. "It's going through rapid change. It's been said that 90 per cent of all the world's great thinkers are alive today. Well, that's an awful lot of ideas and a lot of coping. If we didn't get confused, we'd be crazy."

When asked why he chose family counseling, King leaned back reflectively. "I like to work with people," he said. "I firmly believe in the family. If it doesn't work as an institution, the whole society is in trouble."

He recalled the incident of a man in prison on a kidnapping conviction. When asked why he did it, the convict, tears streaming down his face said, "I just wanted to be loved."

"So often, when we feel unloved, we do ridiculous things," King said. "Generally, it can be traced to something wrong in the family."

Sister Glenna Raybell, Supervisor at CFS, agrees. She has coordinated a series of presentations on family problems, understanding each other and how to relate to an ever-changing world.

Sr. Glenna has a background in teaching, social work and served on the Chicago Board of Health in the Mental Health Division for four years. She began work at CFS this year.

OTHER AREAS

CFS, in addition to counseling, assists in placing children for adoption and helping couples who want to adopt, marriage preparation courses and enrichment programs as well as guidance in understanding children and their problems.

Two area persons who serve on the CFS board are Rev. Fr. Leo Gengler and Mrs. Kenneth (Mike) Weaver, both of Cass City. Also serving on the board is Mrs. John Murry of Ubyly.

The service acts as a safety valve, King said. "We're here to help," he said.

'Citizen' award criteria may change

The Cass City Chamber of Commerce may be making some changes in its criteria for its "Citizen of the Year" award, following a meeting of the Chamber board Tuesday night at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Chamber President Jim Courtney told the group in past years, the award has not always been presented on the basis of rules governing it. Specifically, Courtney said while the award is designed to honor the person who has contributed most to the community in the preceding 12 months, generally the award has gone to persons who have contributed to Cass City their entire lives.

Courtney urged the board to consider either adhering more closely to the rules, change the rules or create a second award honoring long-term service.

The board agreed in principle that one of its members should sit on the award selection committee. It was not decided whether or not the board member should have a vote.

The board took no specific action Tuesday night, but plans to hash out the issue at its Dec. 3 meeting.

One reason no action was taken is that not all board members were present.

The issue is expected to generate considerable controversy within the Chamber before it is settled.

The award was first presented in 1964 and is given each April at the annual Chamber banquet.

Board members generally agreed Tuesday night to go to another award, but felt some changes could be made in the existing by-laws.

Courtney said in recent years, some criticism of the award has arisen because it did not specifically fit the rules for service in the last 12 months.

Harry Little, who received the award last April, told the board it's doubtful anyone on the selection committee ever knew exactly what the rules for the award said. He maintained some changes were needed and supported placing a Chamber board member on the selection committee.

Little himself is a board member and will automatically sit on the committee which selects next year's winner.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the board approved a motion to keep bidding on jobs within the Chamber as much as possible. The board will offer bids to all qualified businesses in the village, but can reject any bids of non-Chamber members.

The board also plans an all-out drive to promote shopping at Cass City during the Christmas season, including an ad campaign.

Police probe area thefts

UBLY VANDALISM

Huron County Sheriff's deputies are continuing to investigate the destruction of $3,500 worth of property outside the home of an Ubyly contractor.

James Chinoski of Atwater Road, discovered the damage some time after 3 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 13, according to sheriff's deputies. They reported 1,440 square feet of newly-poured concrete was defaced inside a 50-foot by 150-foot metal storage building near Chinoski's home.

Officers said four cement slabs, two 12-foot by 24-foot and two others 18 by 24 feet, poured Tuesday night were defaced by vandals who inscribed two names in the floor.

A cement block wall being built inside the storage building was knocked down and a 10-inch radial arm saw was damaged.

In addition 50 bags of blown-in insulation were ripped open and a quantity of plumbing material was reported damaged.

An antique 1934 Ford car was damaged when the vandals ripped out wiring and bent the trunk lid.

Officers reported a portable radio was stolen. Nothing else was reported missing. No evidence of forced entry was found.

Chinoski told officers he checked the building Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. and found everything in order. Officers are continuing the investigation.

DRUG THEFT

State Police from the Caro Post investigated the theft of an unknown quantity of drugs from the office of Dr. June MacRae, located at 4808 South St., Gageton, Wednesday, Nov. 13.

Police said entry was gained by splitting the screen door on the front of the building and forcing an inside door.

Officers said they have not determined the quantity or type of drugs taken. The investigation into the theft continues.

OTHER INCIDENTS

Sheriff's deputies investigated the theft of two shotguns from a truck belonging to Rex Collins of Kingston Saturday.

Officers reported a 410 gauge shotgun and a .12 gauge shotgun were taken from the cab of the pickup truck. No value was set on the stolen weapons.

Cass City Police arrested

Tracy Arthur Miller, 28, of Roseville, and a companion, Robert Lee Heatherly, 21, also of Roseville, Monday.

Both were charged with driving under the influence of liquor and Miller was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon, a .38 caliber pistol.

The arrest took place near the intersection of Main and Leach Streets, where Miller reportedly drove his car onto the sidewalk.

An open container of beer and several unopened cans, along with a hunting knife, were also reportedly found in the car.

BOB LEFLER of Cass City has good reason to smile after bringing down this 195-pound, eight-point buck at 8:10 a.m. Friday morning while hunting southeast of Cass City. Lefler arrived with his trophy at the Chronicle office only seconds after Gerald McAlpine of Caro checked in with the first buck of the season.

Name top Hawk gridders

When Cass City finished the 1974 grid season Nov. 8 it marked the last game for 12 Seniors including the squad's most valuable back, most valuable lineman and honorary captains as selected by their teammates.

Selected as most valuable lineman was Greg Decker. On defense Decker made 26 solo tackles and had 20 assists. In addition he scored a touchdown. He was a bulwark on offense.

Ed Stoutenburg, the most valuable back, can point to a host of statistics indicating his value to the team. A Thumb B All-Conference selection, Stoutenburg led the team in touchdowns, 9; yards gained rushing, 550; with the longest kick-off return, and intercepted passes, 5.

Stoutenburg and Jerry Toner were named honorary captains of the team.

Playing their final game for the Hawks were Kim Copeland, Decker, Dave Eberline, Steve Frederick, Jan Grenholm, Mark Phillips, Jim Root, Russ Schweikart, Frank Stapleton, Stoutenburg, Toner and Bruce Tucker.

Coach Roland Pakonen will have a solid nucleus to work with when the 1975 season opens including 19 Juniors and Sophomores, most of whom saw plenty of action this season.

Heading the list will be Guy Howard. The crunching Hawk linebacker was named the team's most valuable player. He led the team with 85 solo tackles and 24 assists. A Sophomore, Mike Lowe, was named the team's most improved player at offensive halfback.

Lowe posted the best rushing average on the squad with 197 yards in 47 carries for a 4.2 average and one touchdown.

Other players ready for next year include: Juniors, Mike Gruber, Kyle Hopper, Rod Hutchinson, Doug Forshoe, Kirt Kendall, Al Kuenzli, Ken Lowe, Bill Ouyry, Ron Sieradzki, Tom Smentek, Ivan Stine, Greg Trischler, Rick Tuckey and Dave Zawilinski.

Sophomores on the varsity this season were Tom Brinkman, Dan Erla, Mike Lowe and Ron O'Dell.

Owen-Gage sets free admission

If you live in the Owen-Gage School District and are 65 or over, you can see all high school home sports events free of charge.

The move was approved by the Board of Education at its October meeting.

Prices for JV and Varsity Boys' Basketball are $1.25 for adults, and 75 cents for students, and represent no change from 1973-74.

Junior high game prices were set at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. The first home JV and Varsity game is scheduled with Carsonville Friday, Dec. 13. The junior high season opens at the Gagetown gym against Peck Wednesday, Dec. 4.

Children could use 'growing' furniture

Children grow quickly—too quickly for most parents. When buying furniture, especially junior chairs and tables, try to make sure they will "grow" with the child, i.e., get pieces which can accommodate a child's growing needs. As the child grows, the clothing gets larger and bulkier, a consideration when choosing bureaus, dressers, etc.

Win final 2 games

Girls prep for tourney

Cass City's Girls Basketball team tuned up for tough tournament competition by breezing to two easy victories last week, downing Bad Axe at home 68-35, and trouncing Marlette 69-37 at Marlette Tuesday night.

The two wins gave Coach Kally Maharg reason to breathe easier as tournaments begin. In the last two weeks, her squad has begun playing the kind of ball that kept them in the running for league honors all season long.

Toward the end of the regular season, the team had looked rusty and Coach Maharg had been apprehensive about her squad's chances in play-off competition.

But the two quick wins last week showed her the team is ready.

In Thursday's game, a total of 68 fouls were called in one of the sloppier games played this year, Coach Maharg said. Four of her players hit for double figures. Elaine Stout-enburg and Elvia Pozzi each scored 16 points, Marci Miller tallied for 15 and Kathy Kerbyson added 14.

The JV squad also downed the Bad Axe JV's, 35-19.

In Tuesday's affair, the Hawks breezed by Marlette, which did not win a league contest all season. Elaine Stoutenburg and Marci Miller each scored 19 points, with Kathy Kerbyson adding 11.

The entire squad played in both games.

Cass City's JV's downed Marlette's JV team 49-15.

FINAL LEAGUE STANDINGS

Set conference

at Deford

Methodist

Rev. William Hunt, a professional Christian counselor, will conduct a Family Life Conference at the Deford United Methodist Church Nov. 22-24.

A potluck supper will be held at the church Friday night at 6:30 p.m. followed by the service at 7:30 p.m.

A men's breakfast will be held Saturday at 8:00 a.m. Rev. Hunt will speak on "The Man's Role in the Home."

The Saturday and Sunday evening services will also be held at 7:30 p.m. These will be informal services, seated around tables, with opportunity for questions and discussion. While the adults and youth meet together, Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt will conduct special children's services for kindergarten through the sixth grade. A nursery will be provided.

Rev. Hunt is the Minister of Counseling for the Michigan Conference, Church of the United Brethren in Christ. He received his formal education at Taylor University and Michigan State University. Both he and Mrs. Hunt received diplomas in Pastoral Counseling from the Narramore Christian Foundation. Mrs. Hunt is an elementary school teacher and an experienced child evangelist.

5 enter pleas in arraignments

Two Cass City men entered pleas of guilty to a lesser charge when they appeared in Sanilac County Circuit Court last week before presiding Judge Arthur M. Bach.

Gerald J. Kosal, 25, and Charles W. Hewlett, 21, both pleaded guilty to larceny from a vacant building.

Both were originally arrested by Michigan State Police in connection with a series of burglaries of summer cottages in the area. Bond was continued and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

No date was set for sentencing.

Two other Cass City men, Thomas J. Russell, 21, and Bradley Groth, 19, both stood mute when they were arraigned on burglary charges. Pleas of innocent were entered in their behalf and pre-trial examination was set for Nov. 25.

A Cass City man was arraigned on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor in Tuscola County District Court Monday before Judge Richard Kern.

Gerald Prieskorn entered a plea of innocent. Pre-trial examination was set for Jan. 16.

BUCK LUCK

Earl McKee, Cass City, shot a spikehorn buck at 9:30 a.m. Sunday while hunting two miles south of Cass City. The deer weighed in at 215 lbs.

Al Rogers Sr., Decker, shot a nine-point buck Friday at 5 p.m. while hunting in Evergreen township. The deer weighed in at 160 lbs.

Jim Spencer, Deford, shot an eight-point buck Monday at 7:30 a.m. while hunting along Phillips Road in Novesta township.

Ila Hunt, Deford, shot an eight-point buck while hunting Saturday in the Deford area.

Tom Schrinel, Cass City, shot a six-point buck while hunting Saturday morning along Daus Road in Elkland township. The deer weighed in at 150 lbs.

Gerald McAlpine, Caro, shot a 14-point buck at 7:30 a.m. Friday. McAlpine got his 150-pound buck while hunting north of Cass City.

Robert Lefler, Cass City, shot a 195-lb. buck at 8:10 a.m. Friday. He got his eight-point deer while hunting about two miles southeast of Cass City.

Dan Haag, Cass City, shot a five-point buck at 7:30 a.m. Friday. Haag shot the 140-lb. buck while hunting four miles east of Cass City.

Don Tracy, Ubyly, shot a four-point buck at 7:20 a.m. Friday. Tracy bagged his deer while hunting in the Cass City area.

Charles Stover, Cass City, shot a seven-point buck at 8:15 a.m. while hunting northwest of Cass City.

Harold McAlpine, Cass City, shot a 10-point buck while hunting Friday north of Cass City. The buck weighed in at about 250 pounds.

Dailey Parrish, Cass City, shot a five-point buck at 7:10 a.m. Friday while hunting near Gagetown. The deer weighed in at 145 pounds.

Clarence Churchill, Cass City, shot a four-point buck Saturday at 8:30 a.m. while hunting in Novesta township.

FREE TREES

Michigan is giving away wood again this year.

Last year, the state says more than 15,000 cords of free wood were carted away from state forests in the northern Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsula.

Interested residents must obtain special permits—available from area foresters in local field offices of the Department of Natural Resources. The permits authorize bearers to take "dead and down" trees remaining in the state forests after timber cutters have been through the area.

Under the wood gathering plan, those who take advantage are not allowed to sell their booty, nor can they use it for commercial purposes.
