Ground breaking for the new Plaza West, a 4,000square-foot shopping mall, will be held within a week, William Hamilton of the Hamilton Co. Realty, announced Monday.

The 4-unit mall has three tenants signed and a fourth tentatively ready for the mini-mall, located on the corner of M-B1 and Doerr

Hamilton, the owner, estimates the land and building will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Already being removed is a stone house on the corner of Doerr Road and M-81. The mall will face Doerr Road and each of the four stores in the development will have private entrances leading to the paved parking lot that will handle 27 cars.

The lot can be entered from either Doerr Road or M-81.

The building will feature a clear story design with an exterior featuring pre-stained cedar, said to be maintenance-free for 10 years. The building will be adobe beige with a roof of contrasting dark brown.

Permits for the structure are expected within a few days and when they arrive construction will start.

One of the four stores in the development will be a sporting goods store. Another is the new office of Hamilton Realty Co. One other is signed but Hamilton said he could not release details at this time.

Given normal weather conditions the new stores are expected to be ready for business by Aug. 1, according

24-hour patrol

Up police force for summer

Cass City residents should feel a bit safer this summer when plans devised by Cass City Police Chief Gene Wilson are placed in effect.

That's because the community will shift to 24-hour police protection with the aid of another part time patrolman hired for the summer months. The addition will give Cass City a five-man police force.

Wilson explained that in the warm summer months calls to his department increase. At the present on staggered days there are no patrolmen on duty in the early morning

It would be nice, of course, Wilson added, to have the protection the year around, but budget considerations make this impossible at pres-

We plan to have the full protection only for this summer, he emphasized.

Wilson said that when the new man is on the streets, with certain exceptions, the village will have two cars on patrol during peak periods.

From midnight to 3 a.m. on week ends it's probable that there will be 2-man patrols. Other than that the officers will work with two cars. The system used here is in accordance with a recent finding of a year-long study by System Development Corp. of Santa Monica, Calif., which indicated that one offi-cer to a car is not only more efficient but also reduces the dangers for patrol officers.

Wilson said that he wouldn't care to comment on that for Detroit, but said in Cass City he believes that one cop to a car provides the best protection. The study by the California concern showed that in San Diego one-officer units suffered only 62 critical incidents while 2-officer units experienced 117 critical incidents.

Critical incidents were primarily assaults on officers and situations where crime suspects resisted arrest. Nineteen officers patrolling alone were injured while 31 officers on team patrols were hurt, the report revealed.

Fire strikes Zawilinski trailer home

Elkland Township Firemen were called Friday to investigate a possible fire at the mobile home of Martin Zawilinski Jr., of 6260 Cedar Dr., in Huntsville Trailer Park.

Mrs. Zawilinski told firemen she smelled smoke in one of the bedrooms and called firemen. Only minor damage was reported.

Firemen were called at 1:15

Last winter, fire did an estimated $5,000 damage to the mobile home. A faulty gas water heater was blamed.

A Cass City resident most of her life, with the exception of about five years, Mrs. Eller Thresa Burnette, 35, has four children, three of whom are students in Cass City Schools.

"I've been very active by attending the monthly board meetings, budget hearings, joining classroom parent-aide programs and memberships in the Parent-Teacher Associations, in addition to having served on many school-related committees," Mrs. Burnette says.

"For several years, I've subscribed to various monthly publications for school board members and teachers as well as reading other school-related material, which has enabled me to keep abreast of current issues.

Mrs. Burnette says she's running for a position on the school board because she wants to become directly involved in the decision-making policies of the district.

She favors the Campbell School addition.

"I'm hopeful the 1.25 millage request for one year will pass on the June 13 ballot," she says, "as I've assisted in the 'closet' classroom and the space is desperately needed."

Dean Hoag, 40, is seeking his second four-year term on the board. An employee of General Cable Corp., Hoag is a lifelong area resident. He has five children enrolled in Cass City Public Schools.

voters will be asked to approve two proposals at the June 13 election to construct a 2,900 square foot addition to Elementary Campbell School.

Funds would be used to construct an early elementary special education classroom, a remedial reading room, a speech correction room, storage for music, audio-visual and art materials and a work room for duplicating instruction material, Crouse said.

Cost of construction is estimated at $117,000. School authorities say the

At Campbell, a closet serves as the speech correction and the gym stage, library and a storeroom are used for remedial reading classes.

Crouse says the overcrowding has not resulted from tuition students coming to Cass City. There are only 33 tuition students at Campbell divided among 20 classes, he says, adding less than two students per class.

If approved, construction would probably begin this fall. The addition would be ready for use starting with the 1978-79 school year. Crouse said a legal quirk

The most exclusive golf invitational of the year is tentatively scheduled Thursday at Sherwood Forest Country Club. It's the annual Hillaker Opener.

The "patrons" of this stirring event are Dick Joos, Lorn Hillaker, Duane Chippi and Newell Harris.

Not everyone can enter. You must have scored 65 or better for nine holes or be awarded one of the special exemptions reserved for poorer golfers.

Sen. Alvin DeGrow, who represents us in the State Senate, recently voted against increasing the drinking age to 19 years. It's not that DeGrow wants to keep the 18-year-old age limit.

Just the opposite. He wants it back to 21 years. It's a strategy hard to understand. It would make more sense to vote for the compromise bill while reserving the right to plug for a later change to bring the age up to where he would like to see it.

The figures are in and unless a good many students now attending Cass City School from the Owen-Gage district find it impossible to attend school here next fall because of costs, Cass City will be a "Class B" school.

The new limit for Class "C" is 706 pupils and school projections show an attendance of 20 more students than that. It's a dampener for the school's basketball program, which figured to be strong in "Class C", but just another team in the higher ranking. Incidentally, the new ranking will have no effect on the 1977 football team which retains a "C" rating. +++++++++

An era comes to an end at Cass City High School. It could be years and years before it is duplicated.

For four years an outstanding group of girl athletes have dominated interscholastic and tournament competition. It was similar to the boys' domination in the '50's and will go down as the golden years for the girls at the school.

Library sets children's program

The theme of this year's summer program at Rawson Memorial Library is "The great dinosaur hunt".

The reading club is now under way and interested children may sign up at the library. The program is also for children who cannot read yet, as one section is "Books I have listened to".

A certificate is given to each child who reads, or listens to, at least twelve books during the summer. Details may be obtained at the library.

The summer story hour will be every Thursday in June and July starting June 16. Time is 1:00 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. All area children are invited to attend.

FROM THE Lditor's Corner

It sounds too good to be true and it is. Did you catch the announcement the other day by the White House council on Wage Price Stability? The one that said that a new type wrap around seat belt should take the place of air bags. The Council quotes statistical evidence that says that air bags would save more lives but the new seat belt would prevent more injuries...and save $750 million over the cost of air bags.

The figures are impressive and right away you say to yourself, no problem, forget the air bags.

You do until you stop and think about it a little.

The new seat belts wrap around you automatically as the front doors are closed. Right now they work only in bucket seats. But that could probably be cured as the bright young engineers address the problem.

What the engineers can't do is make sure that the belts are worn. Sure they work automatically. That is they work if they are not disconnected.

That brings us to the crux of the question. The human ele-

When leaving town I try to wear the belts. And I can do it for a half hour or so. After that they start to make me uncomfortable and off they

And I know many, many drivers who simply disdain the belts...never wear them.

Thousands of drivers like this will be maimed or killed that could be living with an air bag system.

There's an incentive for many to negate seat belts, none at all to make air bags inoperative. They interfere with nothing and are nonexistent for practical pur-

I suppose you've heard the arguments about the air bags popping out when they shouldn't...and how ineffective they are on side collisions. I really don't know about that. I tend to look to selfinterest when evaluating opposing view points. That's another reason I feel that air bags are really what's best for automobile When a nationally known insurance company starts and pursues a campaign for the air bags I believe they are the best accident deterrent yet devised. Not because I feel that your typical insurance company is overflowing with the milk of human kindness or filled with altruistic businessmen. . .not It's because I believe that they are staffed with gimleteyed accountants with an eagle eye on the profit and loss ledger. Fewer serious claims means fewer larger settlements. When they opt for the more expensive air bags I've got to believe that they are

It is easy to see that cockfighting is even more humane than football. Football players frequently gripe about getting hurt, but no one has ever heard a cock complain. Probably the only real difference between the two sports is that football players don't have feathers.

KETCHUM'S KNAPSACK Good-by, Cass City

By Jim Ketchum

Dear Cass City,

It's always tough to say good-by to an old friend. That's what I'm doing this week with this, my final column in the Chronicle.

I've traded this typewriter for one at the Sandusky bureau of .the Port Huron Times-Herald and by the time you read this, I'll have had my introduction to the strange world of daily newspapers.

It's not that I grew tired of Cass City--never. I truly enjoyed working, shopping and living in this place.

I guess I'm leaving because it's time. I've grown here professionally far beyond my wildest expectations. I've had the chance to cut my teeth on some tough issues over the past four and a half years and I hope the effort left both you and me better informed.

I've grown a great deal here, but you can only grow so much in one place. Now I've been offered the chance to grow in a different way in another place and I'm looking forward to the challenge.

But I'm not really looking forward to pulling up stakes and moving down the road. Remember when I told you I had nailed the furniture to the floor so my dear wife wouldn't move it around so much? Well now I'm stuck pulling the nails out as well. Believe me, moving is no picnic. Between juggling house sale and purchase, figuring out who will do the moving and hoping against the laws of nature all our stuff will fit into our new house, there should be a law against

Expelled student breaks teacher's car window

A 14-year-old minor student at Cass City Intermediate School was apprehended for throwing a rock through a teacher's car Tuesday, May 31, Police Chief Gene Wilson reported this week.

The youth, evidently disgruntled because he was expelled from school caused damage of about $400 with the rock that broke the rear window of a car owned by Michelle Anscomb, a Cass City teacher.

In another incident involving a car, Rabideau Motors officials reported that an AM-FM radio, 2 speakers and a tape deck were stolen from a car on the company's used car lot.

The theft was reported Monday and garage authorities said that it was probably taken May 28. Value was listed at $100.

Three cases involving bicycles were also investigated during the week. Lorn Hillaker, Cass City, reported a bicycle stolen from a garage

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"See how homes winning Detroit Edison EEE Awards are built to save on energy costs from top to bottom."

Detroit Edison is a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation. The wise use of energy is a national goal, but it requires a working relationship between those who supply energy and those who use it. To demonstrate publicly the desire to take a leadership role in this crusade, Detroit Edison has established the Energy Efficiency Excellence (EEE) Award to encourage the building of more energyefficient homes.

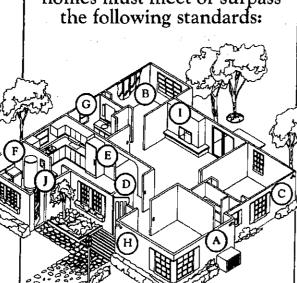

EEE Award homes are designed with conservation in mind.

Detroit Edison presents the Energy Efficiency Excellence (EEE) Award to builders whose homes meet maximum standards in insulation, lighting, wiring, appliances and are comfort-conditioned with an energy-efficient electric heat pump.

From attic to basement, EEE Award homes are designed to keep your heat inside during winter and your utility costs down. These same features also make EEE Award homes easier to cool in summer. The heat pump that keeps EEE Award homes comfortable all year round is an efficient way to heat, cool, filter and dehumidify electrically. At today's energy costs, an EEE Award home could save you more than $260 a year, compared to homes using oil, propane or electric resistance heating. If you're planning on buying or building a new home, take a look at the Detroit Edison EEE Award homes. These homes will help you

Detroit Edison EEE Award homes must meet or surpass the following standards:

A. Energy-efficient heat-pump heating and cooling system which conforms to design and installation standards established by the electric utility B. Maximum insulation including R-17 material in exterior walls, R-44 in attic, and fully insulated basement walls with an R-13 value. C. Windows with wood sash and insulating glass or single glass with full storm. Or aluminum sash with thermal break and insulating glass or single glass with full storm. D. Exterior doors with foam core and magnetic seal.

E. Refrigerator and freezer must be energy-efficient if provided by builder. F. Water heater is energy-saving type, located as close as practical to point of use. Hot water lines wrapped in insulation are recommended. G. Interior lighting that conforms to the Illuminating Engineering Society standards for energy efficiency in residential lighting. H. Exterior security lighting, if provided, has automatic dusk-to-dawn I. If home has a fireplace, it must screen, and if practical, an outside fresh-air supply. J. Materials, equipment, design and construction of all electric devices and wiring must comply with all local and national codes.

Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Keep electric appliances in good répair. That way, we'll all be using energy more wisely. have a tight-fitting damper and glass

Official Proceedings Of The TUSCOLA COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

Meeting of the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners was called to order by the Chairman, Maynard McConkey. Roll Call: All members present.

Prayer by Commissioner McConkey.

Piedge to the Flag. 77-M-146

Typed minutes of April 19, 1977 and April 26, 1977 were reviewed. Motion by Kennedy, supported by Nagy the minutes be approved. Motion carried. 77-R-7

Commissioner McConkey and Commissioner Kennedy reported on an Inter-County Drainage meeting that was held in Tuscola County. A proposed Resolution was presented:

INTER-COUNTY DRAIN PETITION TO THE DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURE OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN AND TO THE DRAINAGE BOARD AND AUGMENTED DRAINAGE BOARD FOR THE HERINAFTER MENTIONED INTER-COUNTY DRAIN AND RELIEF DRAINS

The undersigned is a public corporation in the State of Michigan and County of Tuscola and is in one or two or more countles in said State which are traversed by and/or which together constitute contiguous territory served by existing drains, creeks, rivers and watercourses, and general location and route and course of which are described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, all of which are generally known as parts of the Flint River and the Shiawassee River in the Counties of Saginaw and Genesee and which carry drainage water or sewage originating in more than one county.

The undersigned further represents that it has become necessary for the public health and to remove or lessen the danger of flooding to undertake an inter-county drain project pursuant to Chapter 21 of The Drain Code of 1956, being sections 511 through 549 of Act No. 40 of Michigan Public Acts of 1956, as amended, pursuant to which Chapter 21 this petition is filed, to accomplish the following:

(1) To clean out, relocate, widen, deepen, straighten, extend or otherwise improve the Flint River and the Shiawassee River along the route and course described in Exhibit "A" (2) To effect channel Improvements, to construct devices and structures properly to purify or improve the flow of the rivers and drains and to control floods, to procure or manage flood plain areas and to create retention basins, dikes and reservoirs along and in the described portions of the rivers wherever necessary to alleviate and control floods.

(3) To supplement said rivers and drains by the construction of relief drains or branches added thereto.

The undersigned, therefore, petitions the above named addressees to locate, establish and construct an inter-county drain improvement and relief drains project as above described under the provisions of said Chapter 21, the cost of which is to be assessed wholly against public corporations, including the undersigned.

The undersigned further agrees to pay its duly apportioned share of the costs of such project, including planning, studying and engineering, as represented by drain notes or drain bonds issued to financesald project, or, if drain notes or drain bonds are not issued for any reason, as represented by actual engineering, administrative, legal, financial or construction costs incurred by the addressees hereof.

There is attached to this petition a certified copy of a resolution duly adopted by the governing body of the undersigned public corporation approving this petition and authorizing the execution thereof on its behalf by the officers named in said resolution. May 10, 1977

... and for the performance, economy and comfort they get out of it

As for performance and economy, LUV with its spunky and responsive new 4-cylinder in-line engine, in combination with the standard manual 4-speed transmission and the 4.10 rear axle, got 33 mpg in the EPA highway test and 23 mpg in the city test. Remember, these ratings are estimates—the actual mileage you get will vary depending on the type of driving you do, your driving habits, your truck's condition, and available equipment. As for comfort, LUV's full-foam cushioned seats, torsion bar independent front suspension, two-stage leaf rear springs, and wide belted tires work in concert to smooth out the road and soak up the jolts. "Can't believe it yet," says Deford postmaster

Can a former substitute rural mail carrier and meat market employee find happiness as a postmaster? You bet she can.

Just ask Mrs. Ada Hurshburger. She's been Deford's postmaster since April 23 and it yet," she said with a warm month on the job, chances are she regularly fills out for the good she'll stay contented.

Mrs. Hurshburger was appointed to succeed Mrs. George Jacoby, who retired at the beginning of the year after succeeding her husband a little over three years ago.

Propose 4 new sites for prisons

Gov. William Milliken has proposed that new prisons be opened at four different sites, although two of the facilities could not be ready for inmates until the end of next

While residents of potential prison sites hoped theirs would not be chosen, Milliken instead said all of the sites suggested by corrections officials were needed. He said he hoped the legislature would provide funds to convert St. Augustine Seminary near Saugatuck and the soonto-be-empty Kincheloe Air Force Base by this fall.

Two other sites, one a warehouse in Detroit and the other a state institution in Northville, should be readied by late 1978, Milliken said.

While the new prisons could end the current overcrowding, administration officials acknowledge that even more new beds are needed to accommodate swelling prison population, nearing 14,000 and expected to continue growing.

TAX BOUND TO STAY UP

Once upon a time, the Michigan legislature approved an income tax hike but promised to roll it back a bit

Now, the promise is souring and odds are the tax will stay up there instead of being reduced July 1.

The state income tax was boosted from 3.9 per cent to 4.6 per cent in 1975 after voters approved a proposal ending the sales tax on food and drugs. But included in that bill was a provision to roll the tax back to 4.4 per cent this July 1.

But House committee has voted to block that reduction, and the full House and Senate are expected to agree. It's difficult for lawmakers to endorse cutting state revenues, which is what the tax roll back would do.

Besides, Gov. William Milliken, Republican and Democratic legislative leaders all agree the tax rate must stay where it is for the good of the state treasury.

In the end, they wound up rejecting a major rule that would have barred senators from mass mailings before elections at taxpayers' expense. The rules - assured of full Senate approval - would, however, regulate out-ofstate travel and spending for new office furnishings,

For the second year in a row Huron City will be visited by Michigan residents interested in the nine museums and the special programs arranged for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 24-26. While enjoying a pleasant day, the guests will also be helping the Huron Memorial Hospital, to which all profits from the 3 days' activities will be donated.

The schedule calls for a concert at 8 p.m. June 24, followed by a reception. Saturday, June 25, master classes will be offered free from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Huron City Church.

Sunday a second concert will be held at 3 p.m. followed by a reception.

Featured in the concerts will be top professional artists. Heading the group is Elizabeth Parcells, who auditioned at the Metropolitan Opera and grew up in Huron Others to perform are Elizabeth Gregory, flute, and James Winn, a pianist of outstanding ability. The program is described as "a mixed bag between the sublime and the fun".

Visitors will be charged $5 for either Friday or Saturday or $9 for both days. Children's rates are $2, and $3.50 for both Patrons pay $35 for both concerts with reserved seating. Sponsors' gifts are $100.

Another attraction of the event Friday and Sunday will be Bud and Betty Guest, who will host visiting friends.

Tickets are available at Pied Piper in Cass City and at the Huron Memorial Hospital. Tickets will also be available at Huron City.

Strife continues as Belk argues at Owen-Gage meet

Old wounds among Owen-Gage School District supporters and dissidents were reopened during a special school board meeting Wednesday, June 1.

The most heated exchange

Okay 2 grants for area projects

Two area projects were included in seven Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice grants approved last week by the Executive Committee of the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region Law Enforcement

The grants included Sanilac County's $52,490 Crime Prevention Bureau project and third year funding for Tuscola County's Thumb Intelligence Group totaling $53,647.

Sanilac county's project will establish a Crime Prevention Unit within the Sheriff's Department consisting of two officers and a secretary, according to the grant application. Both officers will be responsible for criminal apprehension and increased community involvement in crime prevention efforts.

Tuscola County's third year Thumb Intelligence Group funding application is for a three-county Narcotics Detection and Apprehension Unit serving Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron counties. According to the application, the unit was responsible for 120 warrants for 79 persons between January, 1976, and March, erupted when James Belk, Cass City, a candidate in next week's school board election, pressed trustees on why categorical state aid payments were cut off.

The recommended grant approvals now go to the State Office of Criminal Justice Programs for final approval.

Belk guestioned whether or not the district's chart of accounts and statement of accounts and finances had been submitted as per the request of State Department of Education Officials.

Board President Ronald Good maintained all pertinent school records were submitted to Robert Hornberger, director of Department Services for the Department of Education. Good claimed Hornberger refused to look at Pressed on whether or not Hornberger actually had the documents, Good said he didn't know, adding for all he knew, Hornberger could have thrown them away.

Belk repeated the questions several times until the exchange developed into a shouting match.

Trustee Don Cummins claimed Belk knew the answers to his questions, adding Belk was simply harassing the board. Belk and two companions then left the meeting, refusing to answer questions from a district supporter in the audience pertaining to his candidacy. Belk claims the documents in question were not submitted to state authorities and the refusal resulted in the aid cut-off. William Retford, Owendale, also quizzed the board over the state's action. He wondered why Supt. Ronald Erickson had denied Hornberger permission to visit the school May 11 to inspect records.

Erickson replied by reading a letter he sent Hornberger, saying the visit would "disrupt" classes. The letter said Hornberger's visit would "create concern due to harassment in the past" by the state board and offered to bring the school's financial records to Lansing.

Erickson also offered to allow a Hornberger visit after the school's audit in June.

The superintendent again called the state's action an attempt to close down Owen-Gage. He claimed 59 school districts in the state are operating in the red and still receiving state aid payments. Retford said Erickson should have allowed the visit. He said he was concerned about taxpayers having to pick up the tab for the lost aid. Erickson replied the board students who have not attended outside their home district the past two years must receive home district permission to leave.

The requests came from Harold Koch, Fred Thorp, Roy Messer and Royce Russell. A total of 10 children are involved.

In their letters, the parents claimed their children were happy at Cass City. They said a wider curriculum is offered at Cass City than at Owen-Gage. One letter expressed fear of retaliation if their students went back to Owen-

BORROWING

The board agreed to borrow funds in anticipation of tax collections. Under the law, the district can borrow up to 50 per cent of its anticipated tax receipts or about $336,000.

Erickson said there could be trouble with borrowing if the Municipal Finance Commission refuses the district's request. Under the law, the commission must approve all municipal borrowing.

If MFC does turn the district down, it could win an emergency borrowing resolution from the State Legislature. However, if the dis-

State Education Act, tuition trict's deficit is not wiped out within five years, the State Board of Education then has the power to reorganize the district, Erickson said.

Last year, MFC held up the district's bond sale request for over six months.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the board approved a request from Phil Gray, basketball coach, to use the Owendale gym two nights a week for the school's summer basketball program.

Trustees also appointed board secretary Ron Reinhart to serve as the district's representative at the Huron Intermediate Board Election. Resignations from teacher Dennis Parsons and custodian Elery Sontag were accepted.

BUILDING

The board agreed to hire Construction Coordinators, Inc., as its construction manager for the new high school in Owendale. The firm will charge $108,595 for its services, or about 6.5 per cent of the total project.

The firm will supervise construction of the 37,600 squarefoot building and demolition of the old high school provided school bonds needed to finance the project are sold. It was pointed out if the bonds are not sold, the district is not liable for the firm's fee.

Another wound was reopened when the board turned down four requests from parents who sought to send their children to Cass City Public Under provisions of the

Cass City

Much to see in cycle tour of Saginaw Valley

Weathered barns and silos in the heart of Michigan's farmland plus views of leading industrial centers await bicyclists touring the Saginaw, Flint and Cass River valleys, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The tour leads cyclists over gently rolling hills and flat farmland past an ever-changing panorama of bean and sugar beet fields, farm markets, secluded lakes and factory complexes.

The 114-mile trip through one of the world's richest agricultural areas passes through Flint, Caro, Bay City and Saginaw and can be broken into two loops. One is a 62-mile route taking in Flint, Vassar and Frankenmuth. An 86-mile northern loop passes through Caro, Bay City and Saginaw.

There are marked bicycle routes in Saginaw and Bay City, and two others in Saginaw and Genesee counties. The southern circle tour takes cyclists through Flint, home of the Buick Motor Co., and the Genesee Recreation Area, fast becoming a top state tourist spot, notes Auto

C.S. Mott Lake, a 650-acre man-made waterway named for a founder of General Motors and Flint's most generous benefactor, parallels, the route along Branch Road. At the lake's southern end, Stepping Stone Falls, a series of sculptured concrete cascades, forms Mott Dam. There is a short bicycle trail at nearby Bluegill Boat Launch.

A beach and picnic area and Historic Crossroads. Village, a restored 1800s community with working artisans, are along the lake's west shore. The Huckleberry Railroad train also leaves from the village.

On Irish Road, cyclists pass Goldenrod Beach and Timberwolf Campground, a new county-run facility and one of two campgrounds along the southern loop.

Rolling hills give way to flat farmland and Otisville. Its small 19th Century busias district-built to serve farms which grew on cut-over woodlands--is still active, and a day-use park is nearby.

After 15 miles of tree-covered terrain along M-15, cyclists reach Vassar, where the area's lumbering days are recalled during the annual mid-July Heritage Festival. At a roadside park on the city's south end, cyclists can sip well water and rest beside a creek flowing into the nearby Cass River.

Bavarian-style

along the Cass overlook Frankenmuth, originally a German mission settlement and now a top tourist center. Stop for a famous chicken dinner at either Zehnder's or the Bavarian Inn and tour the city's shops, including Bronner's Christmas Decorations store which is closed Sundays. The city's annual Bavarian Festival is in mid-

A four-mile ride on Jefferson and Curtis roads leads to Dixie Highway and a 20-mile jaunt to Flint.

The northern loop follows the Cass River Valley north from Vassar and east to Caro, the Thumb area's largest city. Camping is available at Caro's fairgrounds.

From Caro to Bay City, cyclists pass fields producing much of the world's beans and Michigan's sugar beets. Along M-138, the tiny farming village of Akron is the site of a small community day-use park. Overnight camping is 12 miles away at Quanicassee campground, a primitive county facility on Saginaw Bay City is only 10 miles west of Quanicassee, where 80- to 100-year-old mansions line both M-15 and M-25. Twenty-five giant downtown murals, plus 21 others elsewhere in the city, depict national historical events. Cyclists can stop at the Museum of the Great Lakes to learn of Bay City's lumbering; and ship-building history.

Bay City State Park six miles north of town has 285 campsites and offers a chance to swim in Saginaw Bay or visit the nature center.

The 11-mile-long Veterans Memorial Parkway stretches along the Saginaw River between Bay City and Saginaw. At any of several picnic areas, passing freighters can be seen heading to the massive Farm Bureau grain terminal, one of the Great Lakes' largest.

On Saginaw's northern city limits, cyclists will see--and smell--the nation's largest grey iron casting complex, then travel through downtown, which currently is undergoing a facelift.

Less than 12 miles south is Curtis Road, northern leg of the lower loop. Cyclists may continue 20 miles south to Flint or travel 32 miles through Frankenmuth and Vassar to Caro.

Bicyclists should pace themselves according to ability. The League of American Wheelmen estimates the average cyclist can cover 35 to 50 miles a day with ease. A card and pamphlet containing bicycle safety tips are available free at all Automobile Club of Michigan offices.

Bicyclists who pedal the 114-mile route linking Flint, Caro, Bay City and Saginaw will travel through one of the world's richest farming areas. An 86-mile southern loop offers views of lakes and parks near Flint, plus Frankenmuth, famous for its German heritage, the Bavarian Festival and chicken dinners. The 62-mile northern loop via Caro, Bay City and Saginaw runs past bean and sugar beet fields, along the busy Saginaw River and past one of the nation's largest iron casting plant complexes. Picnic areas, campgrounds and motels along the routes can provide stop-offs for a brief rest or an overnight stay. Among the tourist spots noted by Automobile Club of Michigan are Frankenmuth's restaurants, shops and breweries; Vassar, with its mid-July Heritage Festival; Caro, the Thumb's largest city and site of the Tuscola County Fair each August; Bay City's murals and Museum of the Great Lakes, and Historical Crossroads Village in the Genesee Recreation Area near Flint.

Real sportsmen, says athletic director

Athletes feted at awards program

FROM AN OUTSTANDING class of athletes authorities selected Lisa Zimba, left, and Elaine Stoutenburg as the outstanding girl athletes at Cass City High School. Based on athletic ability, scholarship and leadership the award is the most coveted of those awarded at the school. Both girls have been outstanding in fall, winter and spring sports and helped the girls' teams to outstanding records while they were competing.

TOM DORLAND, right, receives the coveted Paul Smarks trophy from Ken Lowe, last year's winner. Awarded to the outstanding athlete for scholarship, leadership and athletic ability, Dorland earned his name on the trophy with an allconference performance in football, an all Blue Water Area spot in the 155-pound wrestling class and his work on the track team. He was also selected high school all-American in wrestling for 1976-77.

at State Special Olympics

6 earn 11 medals

The State Special Olympics were held at Central Michigan University, June 2-4, and 6 athletes from the Cass City area won medals.

Babe Ruth tryouts set Friday

Dean Hoag, manager, announced this week that Babe p.m. at Cass City Recreational Park. All boys, age 13-15 and who are eligible for the teams.

Perry Bailey won three medals. In swimming he took a gold in the 25-yard free style and a bronze in the 50-yard free style. In the frisbee contest he won a bronze medal. Gary Nanney won a bronze in the 25-yard free style. Gina Goldspink was second in the state in the poster contest art competition and won a silver medal. She received gold medals in the 25 and 50-yard free style swim competition.

David Vargo won a silver in the free style 25-yard swim. Rick Hoag won a bronze in the 50-yard dash and a silver Ruth League tryouts will be in the long jump. Craig held Friday, June 10, at 6:30 Kamrad received a participation medal.

In the local competition will not be 16 before Aug. 1, held May 13 in Caro, 13 Cass City High School students won 38 ribbons in track and field and gymnastics.

Lions golf winners told

The winners in the annual Lions Club golf tournament Sunday received trophies and prizes at the conclusion of competition at Sherwood Forest Country Club at Gage-

Low gross winners included Ken Eisinger, Newell Harris and Bill Kritzman with tie scores of 72. Low gross for the ladies was won by Mary LaPeer. Handicap winners were Ms. Leona LaFave, ladies, and Bill Costin, men.

Athletic Director Robert Stickle keyed the spring awards night at Cass City High School last Friday when he said the most significant accomplishments of the year were the actions and attitudes of the athletes.

This has been as fine a group of young men and women as we have had, he said. They have been true sportsmen both on and off the

That's more important than winning or losing, he added. The fast moving program saw each of the coaches for spring sports recall the season and its highlights.

After naming athletes, the coaches then introduced the members of the various teams and the honors they earned.

All of the athletes were brought to the front of the stage for recognition by friends and parents.
