

Village establishes street rebuilding priorities

The Cass City Village Council, at a special meeting Tuesday night, established priorities for the streets to be reconstructed with the $337,000 it is getting in federal public works funds.

Cass City is receiving a total of $459,000 in federal funds, with the remaining $122,000 going to the school district for construction of the Campbell Elementary addition.

The council needed to revise its application, first submitted to Economic Development Administration last year, before the federal agency can officially approve the grant.

The village has until July 13 to submit the new application, Village President Lambert E. Althaver reported. The EDA then has 60 days to give its final okay, then the village must start construction within 90 days.

The original program called for rebuilding of part of Woodland and Garfield Streets. Since the village didn't receive any public works funds last December and it was thought unlikely that any money would be received this time, it was decided to proceed with that project, to be paid for by special assessments against the benefiting property owners. It therefore is being dropped from the new program, as the federal funds can't be used for projects under construction.

Some concern was expressed Tuesday night that the residents along the streets that will be improved with the federal funds will be getting a "free ride" as compared to those paying special assessments.

The consensus, however, was that the council can't undo the past and as expressed by Dr. Del Rawson, "so we need to put it (the federal money) where it's really needed."

Work on all of the streets being improved with the federal funds will consist of installing curb and gutter and tearing out the present street surface, to be replaced with new paving.

Other than Woodland and Garfield, all streets in the original project are included in the revision. They are:

- 1) Maple St. from Main St. to Garfield St.
- 2) Sherman St. from Main St. to Garfield.
- 3) Huron St. from Seeger St. to Ale St.
- 4) Maple St. from Church St. to Huron St.
- 5) Sherman St. from Church St. to Huron.
- 6) Ale St. from Church St. to Rose St.

Additions, depending on whether money is available, which in turn depends on contractors' bids for the work, will be in the following priority:

- 1) Extension of Huron St. from Seeger St. three blocks west to the beginning of the Hills and Dales subdivision.
- 2) Downing St. between Main St. and Church St.
- 3) Brooker St. between Main and Pine St.
- 4) Pine St. from West St. to Brooker.
- 5) Brooker from Pine to Third St.

In addition to approving a motion to establish the priorities, the council also authorized its engineers, Hubbel, Roth and Clark, to begin the formal design work for the street improvements, at a cost not to exceed $20,000. The money will come from the federal public works grant.

TREATMENT PLANT

The council approved signing of a consent decree with the state Water Resources Commission in order for the state agency to issue a new National Pollution Discharge Elimination System permit to enable the present wastewater treatment plant to continue to discharge its effluent into the Cass River. The present permit expires June 30.

By signing the decree, the village is admitting that its effluent does not meet anti-pollution standards and that it will come into compliance as soon as federal funds are available.

Althaver said approval of the $150,000 Step II federal grant to finance preparation of the construction plans for the plant revision and expansion is expected in mid-July.

However, funding for actual construction will depend on Congress either extending the deadline for receipt of 1976-77 fiscal year funds or appropriating additional funds for 1977-78.

In connection with the proposed project, the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has released its environmental review, which states that the project will not have a significant enough negative impact on the environment to require preparation of a more involved environmental impact statement before federal funding can be approved.

Requests for copies of the environmental review, plus comments supporting or disagreeing with the EPA's decision not to require the environmental impact statement, can be sent to: Kent Fuller, Chief, Planning Branch, Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, 230 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60604. Comments must be sent in by June 29.

INDUSTRIAL PARK

Provided the action is legal and has the okay of the Farmers Home Administration (FHA), the council approved having local contractors Phil Brack and Andy Barnes install sewer and water lines in the industrial park in the southwest corner of the village without competitive bidding.

Althaver explained that the Cass City Industrial Development Corp. had made a verbal agreement with the two contractors to have them do the work.

With the village buying the pipe, he said, they could do the work for less money than if bids were sought and that, "this would be a quick way to expedite the project."

Trustee Nat Tuttle disagreed. Absent for the vote were trustees Richard Hampshire and Gary Jones.

The FHA is putting up $45,000 for the water and sewer project and the development corporation, $9,000.

Predict poor wheat harvest

Tuscola county's wheat crop will probably be about 25 per cent less than normal, according to Tuscola County Extension Director William Bortel.

In contrast to past years, when yields ranged from 35 to 60 bushels per acre, 25 to 35 bushels per acre will be common and 45 "will be real good."

Production here will be comparable to the statewide average. The Michigan Crop Reporting Service is estimating a 1977 winter wheat crop of 29.4 million bushels, 22 per cent less than last year's crop.

The national forecast, however, is for 1.526 billion bushels, only 3 per cent less than last year and 8 per cent less than the record 1975 crop.

The culprit here, according to Bortel, has been lack of rain the last six weeks. The rain during the past few days has been of only minimal help.

On the average, wheat is standing about 6 inches shorter than normal.

Appearances can be deceiving, however, as about half of this year's acreage, Bortel said, consists of the new short variety, which is harder than the normal varieties.

This is the second year the shorter variety has been in common use here.

Wheat harvesting should start about July 1 and take about a week to complete.

Of the county's major crops, wheat looks the worst, Bortel said.

Other crops as of now are "looking satisfactory," he explained, however, there is no below-ground reservoir of moisture. "Two weeks of dry weather and we're in trouble."

NOT FOR LONG -- Village maintenance man John Tenczer empties a load of trash into the Gagetown village landfill. At the end of each day when the landfill is used, he uses a backhoe to cover the trash with a load of dirt, although he admitted it is not always possible to cover everything due to limited access by the backhoe. The Gagetown landfill is one of seven in the northern part of Tuscola county scheduled for closing July 1 by the Thumb District Health Department.

Health department orders area landfills to close

Landfills in Gagetown and Elmwood and Columbia townships, along with four others in northern Tuscola county, are facing a July 1 shutdown on orders of the Thumb District Health Department.

According to Edward L. Kimbrue, Health Department chief sanitarian for Tuscola county, the seven landfills were given interim operating permits a few years ago when it appeared the county Board of Commissioners was going to establish a county-owned landfill to serve the entire county.

That didn't happen and it now appears private refuse haulers and privately-owned landfills can provide the needed service at less cost, he said.

In April, the department ordered the closing of seven landfills in the southern part of the county. Only one is still operating, and that will close July 1 when a private contractor takes over trash removal.

In addition to those in Gagetown, Elmwood and Columbia, the other landfills ordered closed by the Health Department in its new order are in Akron, Fairgrove, Gilford and Juniata townships.

The landfills were ordered closed, Kimbrue said, because not all of them were being covered with dirt at the end of each day when trash was deposited, inadequate compacting, open burning, not controlling vermin and leaching of pollutants into ground water.

The July 1 deadline, he explained, doesn't mean he will be going to the county prosecutor on that date to have action taken against units whose landfills are still operating.

"What we want is cooperation," he said, the aim being to force the townships to take action to find alternatives for the solid waste disposal problems.

The basic alternatives, he said, are for the local units involved to haul their residents' trash to an approved landfill or contract with a private waste hauler to do it.

There is a privately-owned approved landfill in Arbela township, Cass City has indicated willingness to take trash from other units in its landfill and there are eight licensed privately-owned sites surrounding Tuscola county.

It appears that Gagetown, Elmwood and Columbia townships and Gagetown will contract with private waste haulers.

At present, Gagetown provides door-to-door pickup once a week for homes and twice a week for businesses, with the trash being hauled to the village landfill on Reagh

Rd. The work is done by village maintenance man John Tenczer.

Residents pay $4.50 per quarter for the service, businesses, $13, and Evans Product Co., $125.

Village President William Downing said the village is working with Elmwood township in soliciting bids from private contractors to haul trash to an approved landfill.

He indicated the village wants to continue the door-to-door service but guessed that having a private contractor do the pick-up will add $2.50-$3 more per quarterly billing for residents, with corresponding increases for businesses.

He disagreed with the Health Department's contention that the village landfill should be closed. "I feel the dump is adequate and properly covered (with dirt) but how can I fight city hall?"

Elmwood Township Supervisor Roy Messer said cost estimates are still being obtained but estimated the cost to the township for private trash hauling could be double the $2,500 annual cost for operating the present landfill.

The Elmwood township landfill on Hutchinson Rd. is open on the first and third Saturday of each month.

He said the board will likely hold a special meeting in July to discuss the landfill problem.

Both the Gagetown and Elmwood officials indicated an extension will be needed past the July 1 deadline.

Columbia Township Supervisor John H. DeSimpelare said his township is also taking bids from private trash haulers.

The present landfill at Rick and Hoppe Roads is open twice a month and the intention is that program would be maintained. However, instead of the trash going into the landfill, it would go into large containers there. The containers would then be hauled by the contractor to an approved landfill to be emptied.

The cost of operating the present landfill is $1,200 to $1,800 a year and the supervisor estimated that cost to the township will double with a private contractor doing the work.

The township is aiming to have a contractor hired by July 1.

100-year observance

200 kick-off Presbyterian church fete

Close to 200 persons turned out Sunday for the first of two special services commemorating the 100th anniversary of the First Presbyterian church of Cass City.

Those present heard the 17-member choir, complemented by some additional musicians brought in for the occasion, perform "Celebrate Life", a choral drama describing the life of Jesus in word and song. Colleen Stafford is choir director.

Rev. Harry Capps, the church pastor, described the performance as "very powerful, very emotional."

A reception followed the service, hosted by youth of the church. Mrs. Frederick Auten was in charge.

This Sunday, extra chairs will be set up to accommodate the crowd expected to come to see three former pastors join Rev. Capps in presenting the service.

They are Rev. Wendling Hastings, pastor from 1939-42; Rev. Melvin R. Vender, pastor emeritus, 1944-58, and John Hall Fish, 1958-63.

Special music will also be performed, played on two trumpets and a piano. One of the trumpeters will be David Vasey, who plays with the Saginaw Symphony.

Following the service, about 200 persons are expected for the centennial banquet in the church fellowship hall.

In honor of the church's centennial, the church was the recipient last week of a showcase donated by members Norman and Virginia Crawford.

Mr. Crawford spent more than 120 hours in building the showcase, Rev. Capps said.

Set up in the annex, the showcase is being used to house old newspaper articles, photographs and other memorabilia concerning the church's history.

Detroit man injured in Saturday shooting

A Detroit man, Basim Ahmad Hmeidan, was in fair condition Wednesday morning at Saginaw General Hospital, after having been shot Saturday afternoon.

Charged with assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the shooting was Nora May Cole, 45, of Rt. 3, Mertz Rd., Caro, the ex-mother-in-law of the victim. The shooting took place in her home, according to county Prosecuting Attorney Patrick R. Joslyn.

The prosecutor said Hmeidan was shot once in the chest at close range with a .22 caliber weapon.

He was originally reported in critical condition and is still confined to the intensive care wing of the hospital.

Investigation of the shooting is being handled by state police in Caro.

Mrs. Cole was arrested Monday, the delay, according to the prosecutor, being because of the uncertain condition of the victim and the continuing investigation.

She was arraigned before

District Judge Richard F. Kern Monday afternoon on the assault with intent to commit murder charge. She was remanded to the county jail on $7,500 bond, pending a pre-preliminary examination before Judge Kern June 27 at 3 p.m. The preliminary examination was scheduled for July 1 at 8:30 a.m.

As of Wednesday morning, Mrs. Cole had not posted bond.

OTHER CASES

A Bloomfield Hills man, Fritz J. Lupo, reported to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department Tuesday, June 14, that his summer home on Silvernail Rd. in Kingston township had been entered.

Several windows were broken in order to gain entry, according to deputies, with damage being estimated at $125.

Missing were two power lawn mowers, valued at a total of $100, and a 3½ horsepower paint sprayer, valued at $150.

Walter Harmon, of 3452 Washington St., Kingston, reported to state police Saturday morning, June 18, that his car wash had been burglarized.

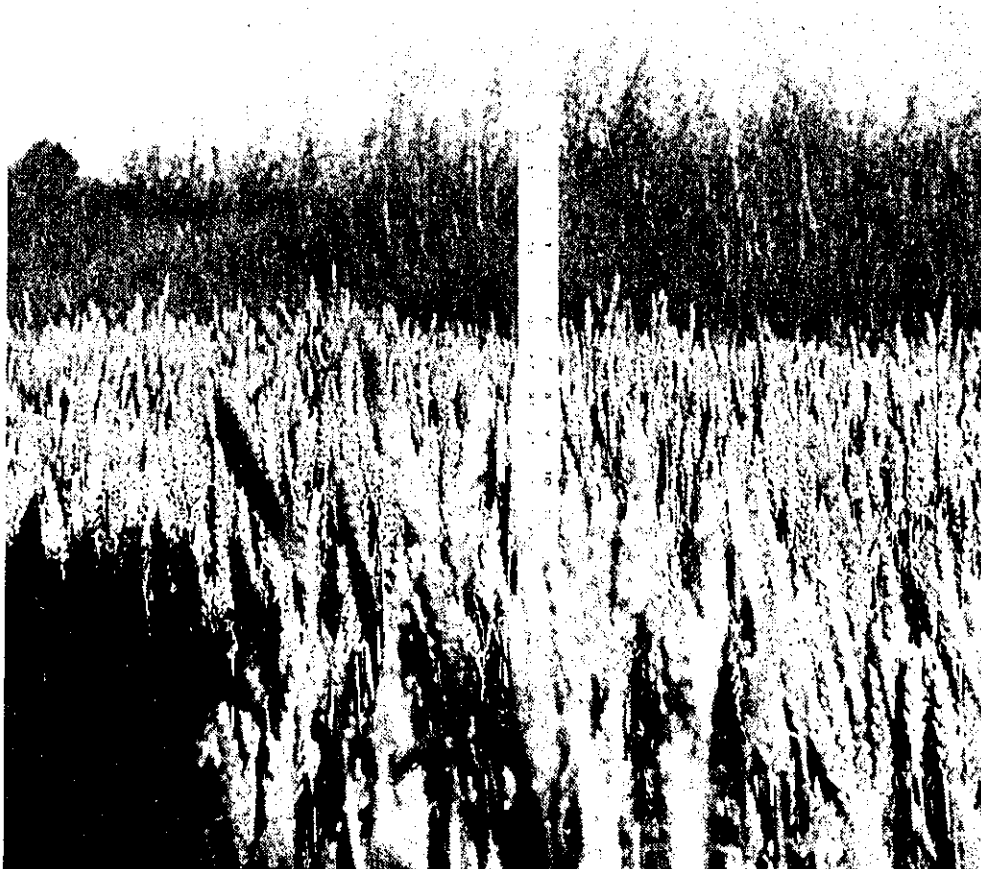

Taken was a car wash coin box containing $150, a wrench used to remove it, and $2 from a towel box coin box.

Joseph Knight of Dearborn told state police Saturday afternoon that his house trailer on the north side of Mushroom Rd. in Wells township was entered sometime after May 30.

Taken were two electric saws, miscellaneous hand tools, a chain saw, a bolt action .22 caliber rifle and a .22 caliber pellet rifle.

Early Tuesday morning Cass City police arrested Sandra Kay Reynolds, 24, of 2391 McArthur Rd., Deford, on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor after stopping her car on Seeger St.

She was taken to the Tuscola county jail in Caro. Later in the day she appeared before Magistrate Joan Maki who released Mrs. Reynolds on $300 personal recognizance bond. Arraignment in District Court was scheduled June 27.

STUNTED GROWTH -- On the average, the county's wheat is about 6 inches shorter than normal, due to lack of rainfall. Yields will be down about 25 per cent, estimates county Extension Director William Bortel.

DEAR ELECTORS OF THE OWEN-GAGE SCHOOL DISTRICT

We would like to thank all those persons who supported our candidacies for the Owen-Gage school board. It was heartwarming for us to see how massive support has become for our views on education.

To those who could not find it in their hearts to vote for us may we say thank you for considering our candidacies. We know that a philosophical difference exists between us and many electors of the district on how best to educate the children of the district. Yet, as indicated by the defeat of the tax increase, we know also that the majority share our views on extravagant spending by the Owen-Gage board, and the senseless loss of State aid monies. The Owen-Gage board has again decided to ask for a large tax increase on July 30. This time they are seeking to levy the increase not for just two years, but for five years. The people told the board on June 13 the tax increase was unacceptable. The board's response was to ask for even more money! It is our hope that the community will once again unite on July 30 and reject this tax increase. We also hope the board will respond by using the 12% increase they will automatically receive, due to valuation increases, to better existing programs. In our opinion, philosophical differences on how best to educate our children can be reconciled, but excessive taxation is the one thing that surely will destroy the district. This must not be allowed to happen!

Thank you,

"If It Fitz. . ." The magnificent lie

By Jim Fitzgerald

The brief escape of James Earl Ray reminded me of my favorite lie. I told it nine years ago to a racist colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

It happened in Colorado Springs. I was there with a group of Detroit area businessmen who had bravely volunteered to be brainwashed by the Pentagon.

The six-day, five-state tour of air defense bases was called "Operation Understanding." The military wanted the businessmen to understand why billions of tax dollars had to go to the dog races in Juarez, Mexico.

The Pentagon spent $700,000 a year on these tours, which greatly angered Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. He charged the military with using taxpayers' money "to brainwash Rotary-type citizens to back its huge budget and to lobby for its weapon systems."

There were 11 businessmen and one country editor in our group. I was a last minute substitution when the manager of a dime store got sick. At each missile base we were joined by similar groups from other parts of the nation. We sat through lectures and demonstrations concerning the ability of the North American Air Defense Command to push buttons and thus blow an enemy, miles away, into small bits of metal and flesh.

This was complicated stuff to understand, especially for the tourists who had been up too late the night before, gulping at the public trough. We were fed and boozed generously at officers' clubs in Oklahoma, Ohio, Texas, New Mexico and Colorado. Thank you, taxpayers.

The extracurricular delights of our trip were advertised in advance. When the guests were invited, they were assured the tour would not be all combat and no furlough. The Pentagon apparently thought it was not enough to simply offer the businessmen an opportunity to see what type of anti-ballistic defense they were buying with their tax dollars.

At the White Sands missile range in New Mexico, we were given an amazing demonstration of how a guided missile system, using radar and computers, can destroy enemy planes despite any maneuver they might attempt. After an incredible, three-hour show of technological wizardry, the visitors were invited to ask questions.

A banker sitting next to me stood up and asked: Is this the night we go to the dog races in Juarez?"

I had a pet question which I asked most of our military lecturers and guides: "Does it bother you, maybe late at night, that your sole occupation is to perfect and manipulate machinery which has one ultimate purpose — to kill people?"

This question got me the usual answer: "We have to do it because the Russians are doing it." It also got me hard, squinty looks from officers who obviously wondered who the hell let the peacenik in.

By the time we reached the last tour stop, our military escort from Michigan probably wanted to shoot that dime store manager for getting sick. That last stop was at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado Springs. We had Rocky Mountain trout and a dry wing for lunch.

For dinner we had the news that Martin Luther King Jr. had been shot to death in Memphis, Tenn.

"Good," said the colonel sitting next to me. "King was asking for it. Now if someone would kill the rest of those niggers who are causing all the trouble, maybe we'll have some peace."

That's when I told my magnificent lie.

I told the colonel I hoped he didn't really mean it when he said he was glad King was dead. I told him King was one of my best friends. I told him about King's marvelous wife and beautiful children. I told him those little kids must be heartbroken at the loss of their father. I told the colonel to imagine how his children would feel if their daddy were shot dead in the head.

I never met King or his family. But that turkey colonel believed me, and I made him crawl. He was almost crying when he apologized for insulting my best friend.

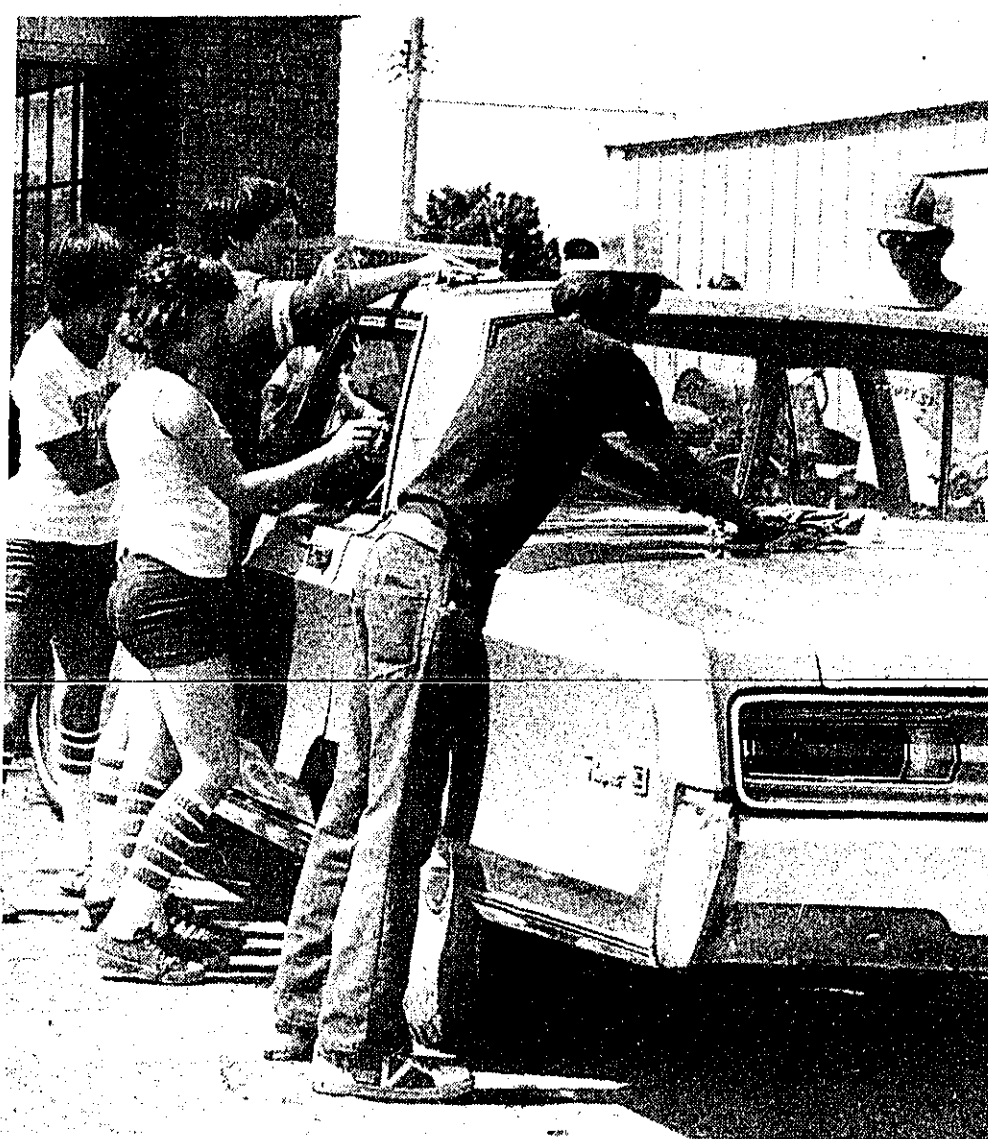

I refused to forgive him. I left the table in a magnificent rage and went off to get drunk by myself. It was a childish thing to do. Nine years later, I'm still glad I did it.

Also nine years later, a lot of people hoped James Earl Ray would never be recaptured.

"I hope they don't catch Ray. He killed that nigger. I think he done the United States a favor," a Tennessee store owner told a Free Press Reporter. Tennessee is a state in the nation which is telling other nations how to treat their humans.

Nine years later, my turkey colonel is a general.

Maybe we have to do it because the Russians are doing it.

CAR WASH -- Members of the Owendale-Gagetown High School band were busy Friday washing cars to raise funds to buy new uniforms, in a project sponsored by the Band Boosters. The car washes took place in Gagetown, seen here, and Owendale. A total of $115 was raised Friday, bringing the total collected to date by the Band Boosters to slightly more than $2,300.

Owen-Gage set for 2nd millage try

Saturday, July 30, has been scheduled for the millage election in the Owendale-Gagetown School District.

The millage proposal, for renewal of 6.25 mills, will be a repeat of the ballot proposal in the June 13 school election, which was defeated 490-442.

According to Supl. Ronald G. Erickson, the proposal was going to be for a five-year renewal, however, that has been changed and it now will be for two years, the same as was on the ballot June 13.

The levy is three fewer mills than the millage that is expiring.

The Owen-Gage School Board on June 13, following receipt of the election results, authorized holding of another millage election.

The final date for new voters to register is Thursday, June 30, up to 5 p.m., with the clerk of the township or village in which the person resides.

Coming Auctions

Friday, June 24 - Justina Jantz will sell household goods, antiques and collectibles and other personal property at the place located two miles south of Owendale on Owendale Rd., a half of a mile east on McElpine Rd. and 3/4 of a mile south on Notter Rd. Herb Albrecht, auctioneer.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

On my desk is a copy of an article stating the philosophy, standards and goals of the Michigan Education Association.

Included are over 30 demands and goals that the union feels are mandatory. Included are ambitious plans for more money, more fringe benefits and more authority in the management of our schools.

High on the list of goals is the move to bargaining on a geographical area rather than on a district basis.

So what else is new? Nothing I guess.

But something is missing. Nowhere do I see anything asking the teachers to take an interest in the affairs of the district not required by the job.

Today is today and yesterday is yesterday. Yesterday most teachers took involvement in community affairs as a matter of course. Today you would be hard pressed to find one in 20 that takes an active role in the community.

I submit that this could be short sighted.

That's because the citizens of the district still have the power of veto.

No matter what the settlement, it takes money to make it work.

I happen to know an elector in the Bay City School district. A supporter of school programs in years past.

Today he's one of the majority that votes down every attempt by the district to garner needed operating funds. . . and I've lost count about the number of times votes for extra millage in Bay City have failed.

My friend feels that the schools need more money. But he's disgusted with the teaching staff there and the way the administration has been operating. He's completely turned off.

Now Bay City is about to cut teachers and staff to make ends meet and the job opportunities get fewer and fewer. What's happened in Bay

Tip of the hat department. Seven of us were at the Little Red Restaurant and Bar at Lewiston Wednesday night. Cocktails and dinner were enjoyed by all. The bill was split and each of us paid a proportionate share of the total which was $90 plus.

The next day at Garland Golf Course we were informed that the restaurant owners were looking for the golfers who were there the previous night. They had no idea who we were.

Anyway they wanted us to call because the waitress made a mistake and we had been overcharged $21.

We got the money back. Isn't that great?

Okay class of 1967 at Cass City High School. If members plan a 10-year blast, the first thing you do is notify Robert MacDonald of 6020 San Luray, Gregory, Mi.

He wants to come. He wanted to come 5 years ago and no one told him. Shame!

Michigan is big in outdoor sports. That's not news. But did you know how big? Listen to this. Fishermen paid $8.6 million and hunters paid $8.8 million for licenses and permits in 1976. That's second only to California for fishing and second to only Pennsylvania for hunting revenue.

There are emergency lights in both walls of the gym at Cass City High School. That comes as a big surprise to folks who attended one of the girls' basketball games there last fall.

For in the middle of the game the power failed and there was a good deal of unease among the spectators present. It didn't help any when the emergency lights failed in the emergency. School officials are investigating.

Dean Hoag, one of the trustees, wondered aloud if the same firm that put in the lights handled the loudspeaker system.

The trouble with the speakers is that in a full gym you can't understand the announcer. That's not a new problem, says Supt. Donald Crouse.

We've had two different service firms looking at the system and the conclusion is that the unit is too small when the crowd gets too big.

The Jack Huliens left last week for a Montana rendezvous with 5,000 owners of Air Stream mobile homes. The Huliens run the Trade Winds stores in the Thumb and were active in the social scene here for years before moving to Saginaw Bay a few years ago.

Several years ago we were in "big sky" country and the same group was there then. 5,000 trailers seen wending their way up a mountainside makes an impressive showing.

It's fun to see but I wouldn't want to be a part of it. Too many people.

The Tuscola county traffic record hasn't been outstanding but it is slightly better than it was last year for the first five months. Sheriff Hugh Marr reports that there has been one less fatality (5-6) and 11 fewer persons injured, although one more injury accident was reported in the five-month period.

The School

LEADER DOGS FOR THE BLIND is a school of utmost importance to blind people who want desperately to remain active in the community. Well over 200 blind men and women visit the school each year to get Leader Dogs. Great effort is made to guarantee every eligible person will be trained with a Leader Dog if he makes application.

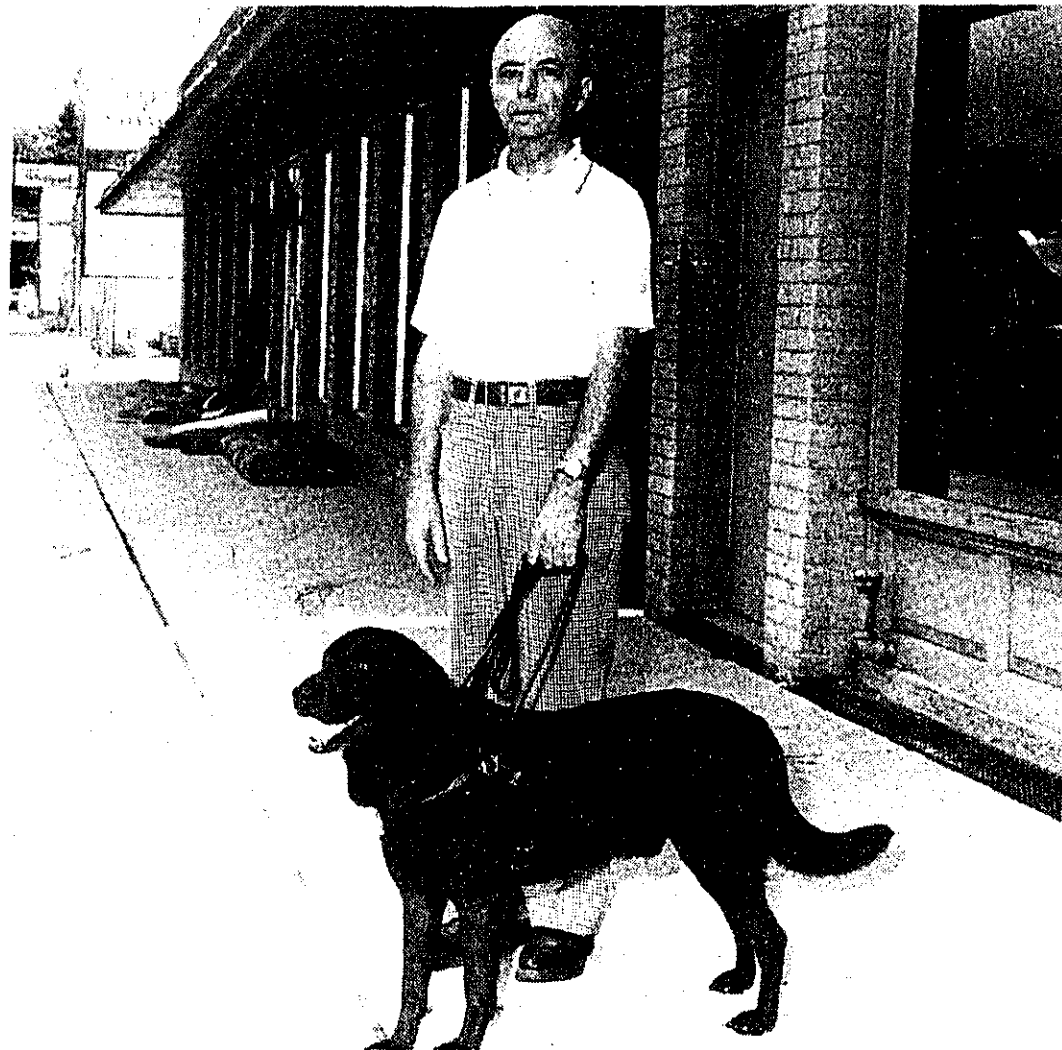

The school in Rochester, Michigan, is dependent entirely upon voluntary contributions. It takes money — a lot of money — to operate the training program. It takes a lot of dogs, dog food and equipment, training staff, dormitory staff and organization to maintain classes the year around.

Although the applicant pays no fee, the cost of training the dog, housing the applicant during the four weeks of team training, and working with the Leader and Person 'team' (to bring them to the point of complete trust in each other) is approximately $3,000.00.

Leader Dogs for the Blind provides the means of mobility so the blind man can resume his responsibility, so he can seek the same opportunities as any other citizen. The Leader Dog School wants the blind man to be able to look, to search for his position the same as anyone else. The School wants to put the man back on his feet with a Leader Dog.

-- LEADER DOG CANDIDATES --

- Breed — German Shepherd, Labrador Retriever or Golden Retriever
- Age — One year to two years
- Height — 24" minimum at shoulder
- Personality — Friendly, without fear of traffic, elevators or any other obstacle encountered by human beings in their living habits

There is a constant shortage of dogs with the right temperament. Many do not qualify for graduation, therefore, it is necessary to "try" many more dogs than are actually turned out as leaders. No dogs are purchased. All are contributed by families who have no further need for a big dog but are careful about selecting the future home for their pet.

If you feel you have a candidate for Leader Dog training contact any Lions Club member anywhere.

The Person

The blind man wants to produce and enjoy the fruits of his labor the same as those who can see. He doesn't want sympathy. He wants to become a customer for the goods which all the world wants to sell.

People with less than usual vision, over 16 years of age, in good health, emotionally stable and of good moral character may be eligible for Leader Dog training.

Students live under constant supervision of competent instructors during a four week training period. Training is conceived as a re-education emotionally and physically to a new way of effective living.

After a period of "getting acquainted" with his Leader Dog, the student is taken to the small, quiet town of Rochester where actual pedestrian training is begun. In progressive stages adjustment to more hazardous traffic conditions is accomplished through training on the busy streets, in the heavy traffic and hurrying crowds of Birmingham and Royal Oak, Michigan.

At the end of the four weeks training with a Leader Dog, the hesitant blind student is changed to an erect confident person who has challenged and conquered one of life's severest handicaps.

Report minor injuries in several area mishaps

Rodney B. Cutter, 17, of Caro, was treated at Caro Community Hospital Wednesday, June 15, following an accident on Phillips Rd., south of Shabbona Rd. in Novesta township.

Deputies reported he was northbound when his car went off the right side of the road to avoid a deer. The car went 150 feet, struck a culvert, went back onto the road and landed in a ditch on the left side of the road.

Alfred F. Fritz, 71, of Unionville, sought his own treatment early Wednesday morning, June 15, after an accident. Deputies reported he was westbound on Bay City-Forestville Rd., when his car went off the south side of the road into a ditch and rolled over.

Drivers of both vehicles sought their own treatment after an accident Thursday afternoon, June 16.

Deputies said Glen Evans, 74, Caro, was southbound on Jacob Rd. in Ellington township when his vehicle collided with that of Robert W. Stephenson, 17, of Postoria, which was headed northeast on M-81. Evans was ticketed by deputies on a charge of failure to yield right of way.

Patricia K. Nagy, 22, of Caro, was treated at Caro Community Hospital Sunday, June 19, following an 11:10 p.m. accident.

Deputies reported Barbara L. Wald, 39, of 4064 Bay City-Forestville Rd., Gagetown, was southbound on Colwood Rd. and as she was turning left onto Dutcher Rd., collided with the northbound vehicle of Joseph F. Nagy, 26, in which Mrs. Nagy was a passenger.

Barbara Wald was ticketed by deputies on a charge of making an improper left turn and lodged in the county jail on a charge of intoxication upon a public highway.

State police in Caro reported that a car driven by Cynthia A. Crawford of Caro was struck by a piece of lumber which fell off a truck traveling in front of her car. The incident took place Tuesday afternoon, June 14, when both vehicles were eastbound on M-81, east of Colwood Rd.

Driver of the truck, owned by Weber Lumber of Richville, was Brian D. Knoll, 23, of Frankenmuth.

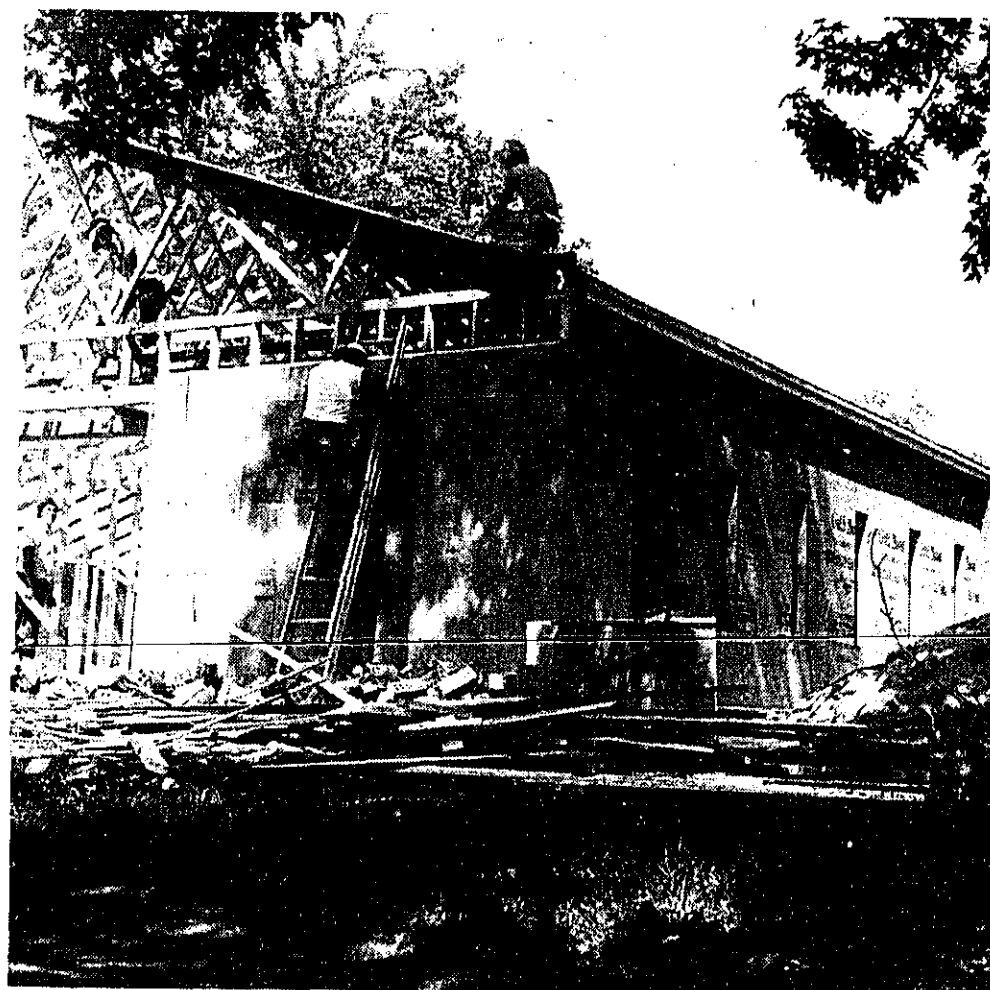

Cass City police investigated two minor property damage accidents during the past week, one of them involving a village-owned pickup truck.

In that accident, police reported, George S. Fisher, 67, of 6361 Garfield St., backed out of his driveway into the village pickup, which was legally parked along the curb on the opposite side of the street.

The accident took place Thursday, June 16, at 8:30 a.m.

Shortly after noon Saturday, police reported, Dennis J. Stahl, 33, of Caro, was eastbound on M-81, just east of Cedar Run Rd., when two bales of hay fell off the truck in front of him and hit the car he was driving, which was a "loaner" from Ouyry Chevrolet-Olds of Cass City.

Driver of the truck was Harold R. Kundering, 57, of Sebewaing.

LIBRARY ADDITION -- The walls of the 1,500-square foot addition to the Rawson Memorial Library in Cass City are already up. The addition, to be used as an extra study area, is costing $29,000. Construction is being supervised by E. B. Schwaderer.

Thumb girds for firemen's convention

In terms of fire protection, the Thumb area will be the best protected part of the state through Saturday as more than 1,000 firemen have descended on Bad Axe for the 101st annual conference of the Michigan State Firemen's Association.

According to Elkland Township Fire Chief Jim

Jezewski, from 1,000 to 1,500 firemen, from both volunteer and full-time departments, were expected for the conference, which started Wednesday.

The visiting firemen, many of them with their wives, are staying in motels, private homes and campgrounds throughout the Thumb.

For those staying in and-or visiting Cass City, the local Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Division prepared a leaflet outlining some of the recreational attractions and businesses here.

Headquarters for the conference will be the fairgrounds in Bad Axe.

Activities for the firemen will include various meetings, including one for election of officers, training lectures, exhibitions, and product displays by manufacturers of fire fighting equipment.

A memorial service will be held tonight at Bad Axe High School. Friday night will be a get-acquainted dinner at the Colony House. Saturday morning will be a parade in Bad Axe. That afternoon will be the state waterball championships, hose relay and bucket brigade competition.

The conference will end Saturday with a banquet at the Colony House, at which time various awards will be presented.

SHABBONA

tices in Cass City and his aunt, Dr. Thelma June MacRae, D.O., practices in Gagetown.

He is the son of Lela Hall and the late Alvin Hall. Mrs. Hall lives with her sister, Dr. MacRae, in Gagetown.

DR. RICHARD A. HALL

A 1964 graduate of Owendale-Gagetown High School, Dr. Hall graduated from Central Michigan University in 1968. He then taught science and chemistry at Unionville-Sebewaing High School for two years.

He then attended Saginaw Valley Community College for a year to take some required courses before entering Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine in Missouri. He graduated from there in 1976.

For the past year, he has been an intern at Saginaw Osteopathic, working on a rotating schedule in the departments of medicine, surgery, orthopedics, pediatrics, obstetrics, anesthesia, pathology, radiology and general practice.

He was one of four interns honored at a recent banquet at Birtz's Apple Mountain Lodge in Freeland in recognition of their past year of hospital training. Two of the other osteopaths are from Saginaw, the third from Rose City.

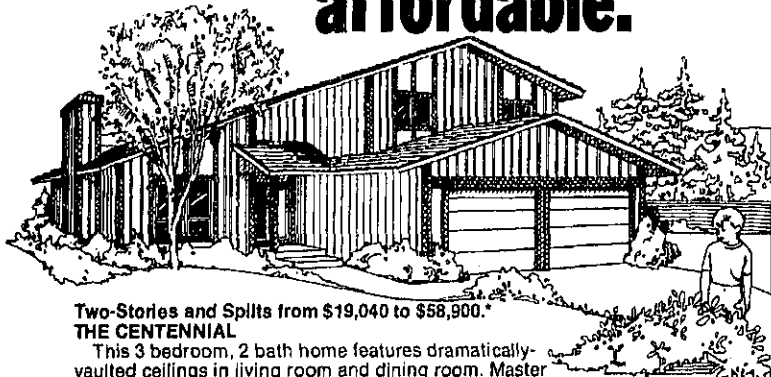

Each received a gift, presented by R. Preston Davis, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees.

They will each become members of the associate staff of Saginaw Osteopathic upon entering private practice.

Dr. Hall, 31, his wife, the former Marjorie Krohn of Elkton, and their two children will be moving to Cass City.

The new physician is the grandson of Mrs. Albert Whitfield of Cass City.

4-H ACTIVITIES

4-H an aid to careers in agriculture

By Bernard Jardot

Agriculture is the nation's largest employer. There are between 14 and 17 million people working in some phase of agriculture - from growing food and fiber to selling it at the supermarket.

Farming and ag-related occupations may turn out to be the "number one" career choices of many young people currently enrolled in the 4-H agriculture program. The program offers 4-H members practical training and experience in a broad range of projects and activities.

Members of 4-H, ages 8-18, can learn-by-doing in such areas as livestock and poultry; plants and soils; energy; machines and equipment; ecology and natural resources; commodity marketing and farm management.

Their 4-H experiences may be the start of a career as a farmer, agricultural scientist, technician, businessman, educator or communicator. More than 500 ag-related occupations are recognized today.

More information on the 4-H youth program is available from the Cooperative Extension Office located in the Civil Defense Center, Caro.

Legislature tackles several sticky issues

Tackling three of the most controversial topics in the hopper, state legislators have taken some small, but significant, steps toward raising the legal drinking age, allowing birth control teaching in schools and banning abortion in the state and nation.

The Senate overwhelmingly approved a bill to boost the drinking age to 19 for a trial three years. It still needs the House okay, but it's been assigned to a committee headed by liberal Perry Bulard, whose district includes the University of Michigan.

He can be expected to give the measure a good airing. Critics, including many students, say it discriminates against 18-year-olds whom the law treats as adults in every other respect.

In the House, a committee has approved a measure that would finally let Michigan schools teach students about family planning, banned since 1948. Michigan and Louisiana are now the only two states that prevent such instruction.

Efforts to repeal the ban have failed four times, in part because some parents argue such teaching will encourage sexual promiscuity and infringe on their own rights to teach their children.

This year, however, the opposition does not seem as ardent. The bill needs the approval of the full House and Senate and the governor's signature before it would take effect.

In a surprisingly strong vote, the full House has approved a resolution calling for a constitutional convention to outlaw abortion in the United States.

The 59-34 House vote, which followed two hours of emotional debate, makes Michigan the ninth state to call for such a constitutional amendment. Thirty-four states must make the request, however, before a convention could be held. But it's considered unlikely that so many would make such a request, particularly since the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld a woman's ability to get an abortion.

IT'S OUT-SPEED LIMIT IS SOFT

Michigan motorists who drive 63 miles per hour on freeways are generally safe from being ticketed, state police director Gerald Hough says.

"You can probably figure on 63 and not get a ticket, although you might get stopped," Hough said in an interview. He was responding to a reporter who asked how fast he could really go without getting a ticket.

Hough's remarks were probably the first acknowledgment of something motorists have suspected for some time - that the 55 mph speed limit is not the limit at all.

In fact, Hough said, the

Foy elected to Holt school board

Dr. Robert B. Foy was elected June 13 to the Holt Public Schools Board of Education. Holt is a suburb of Lansing.

ROBERT B. FOY

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dewey of Cass City and a 1946 graduate of Cass City High School.

Dr. Foy received his B.S. degree from Central Michigan University in 1950, Master's degree from Michigan State University in 1955 and Ph.D. from there in 1960.

He presently works as a clinical chemist for Lansing Area Pathologists, P.C., at Edward W. Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. He also is on the teaching staff of the School of Medical Technology at the hospital.

He taught for 11 years in the Bio-Chemistry Department at Michigan State University.

He has been a resident of the Lansing area for 25 years, the last nine in Holt. He and his wife Jayne have nine children.

statewide average freeway speed is 62 mph. "I doubt if anybody gets ticketed at less than 65," he said bluntly.

BLUES GET MORE GREEN

The Blues have been given the red light to collect more green from their five million Michigan policy-holders.

State Insurance Commissioner Thomas Jones told Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield that it could raise rates by 9.5 per cent, enough to bring in an additional $94 million a year.

The increase won't directly affect most people, whose insurance costs are paid by their employers. But for the 400,000 people who pay from their own pockets for their policies, the rate hike will increase premiums an average $7 a month.

Senior citizens on Medicare, however, will pay only $1.53 more per month. The rates take effect July 1.

Thumb area cattlemen elect officers

Thumb area cattlemen have organized an association for the mutual benefit of beef producers and other closely allied businesses.

During the past year, producers have held several meetings and have now drawn up a set of by-laws and elected officers as follows: president, Bill McCrea, Bad Axe; vice-president, Harry Dykes, Caro, and secretary-treasurer, Tom Young, Mayville. Directors are: Willet Oeschger, Bay Port; Ed Holdwick, Harbor Beach; Albert Hass, Bad Axe; Charles Young, Mayville, and Jim Booms, Harbor Beach, who is also a member of the Michigan Cattlemen's Association board of directors.

Goals of the organization are to gather information, keep membership informed on pending legislation and government regulations which affect the beef industry, and to plan meetings, tours, and other activities which will be of benefit to the membership and the industry.

The association is planning a Thumb Cattlemen's Tour in cooperation with Lee Warschewsky, extension livestock agent for the Cooperative Extension Service. The tour will be Thursday, July 14, with details to be announced as soon as final plans are completed.

Live up to your ideals or the chances are they'll come down.

Leonard Karr a dairy farmer no more

Leonard Karr figures he will continue getting up at 4:30 each morning "just to get exercise."

After 43 years of getting up that early to milk cows, old habits are hard to break.

But if he wants to, he won't have to get up that early, not that he plans to take it easy. The dairy business came to an end for him Friday, June 17, when the last of his herd was picked up by dairymen who had bought the animals. The previous day, Karr's 21 Holsteins and dairy equipment and machinery were auctioned off. Nine of the animals were taken to their new homes that day. He still had to milk the final 12 that night and Friday morning, but by noon, they too were gone.

His father, Mose Karr, had bought the farm -- originally 80 acres and now 240 -- on W. Huron Line Rd., near Gage-town. So although Leonard grew up on the farm, he dates his official start in the dairy business to when he was 14. Now 57, Friday meant the end of 43 years in the business.

He inherited the farm when his father died. His mother, 92, lives with a daughter in Ann Arbor.

Most dairymen getting out of the business these days do it for economic reasons -- that is, they can't make a living at it any more.

At the Karr farm, there were other reasons. One was inability to get good help.

Some hired help last winter, for instance, he said, would either come for a few days and then quit or sometimes not show up until noon.

Still, Karr always had at least one son to help during the summer, until this year.

Leonard and Marjorie Karr have three sons. Arnold, 26, who came home to help with the auction, graduated from Michigan State University in 1973 and now manages a 4,000-acre wildlife area for the Indiana Department of Natural Resources.

Dale, 24, is a civil engineer in Tennessee.

Kurt, 22, just graduated from MSU with a degree in agribusiness and this week starts veterinarian school there, which is a three-year program.

It was when Kurt told his parents in March that he had been accepted to veterinarian school and wouldn't be home this summer that his father knew the end was near. Kurt was also home to help with the auction.

Karr admits, though, that his wife has wanted him to get out of the business for a while as she felt it was too much work for one man.

And although he will be out of the dairy business, he won't be out of farming.

The big difference on his 240 acres plus 20 rented acres is that after this year, he won't have to grow hay any more. He will be growing beans, corn, oats, wheat and barley. Of his 44 acres of alfalfa planted this year, 24 were sold at the auction as standing hay. The rest Karr will harvest and then sell.

"It isn't bothering me any -- not yet," the soon-to-be ex-dairymen said Friday as the last of his cows were about to be taken away.

He felt worse Thursday, he continued, when he saw the sale bills for his animals.

"If someone handed you your walking papers, you wouldn't feel so good either."

But, he admitted, "you couldn't help but miss them."

The most cows he ever had was 40, of which about 35 were being milked.

The prices he received for his animals Thursday, he said, were "alright." Although many dairymen are getting out of the business these days, he explained, those that are remaining are enlarging their herds. Thus there is still a good demand for dairy cows, either for replacements or for herd enlargement.

Not having the dairy cows around will mean lots of changes. Not starting the morning milking at 5 and ending the evening milking at 8 or 8:30.

Being able to repair his farm machinery in winter instead of "just before I'm ready to use it."

Not having to plow out about a quarter mile of road in winter so that the milk truck can get to his farm to pick up the milk.

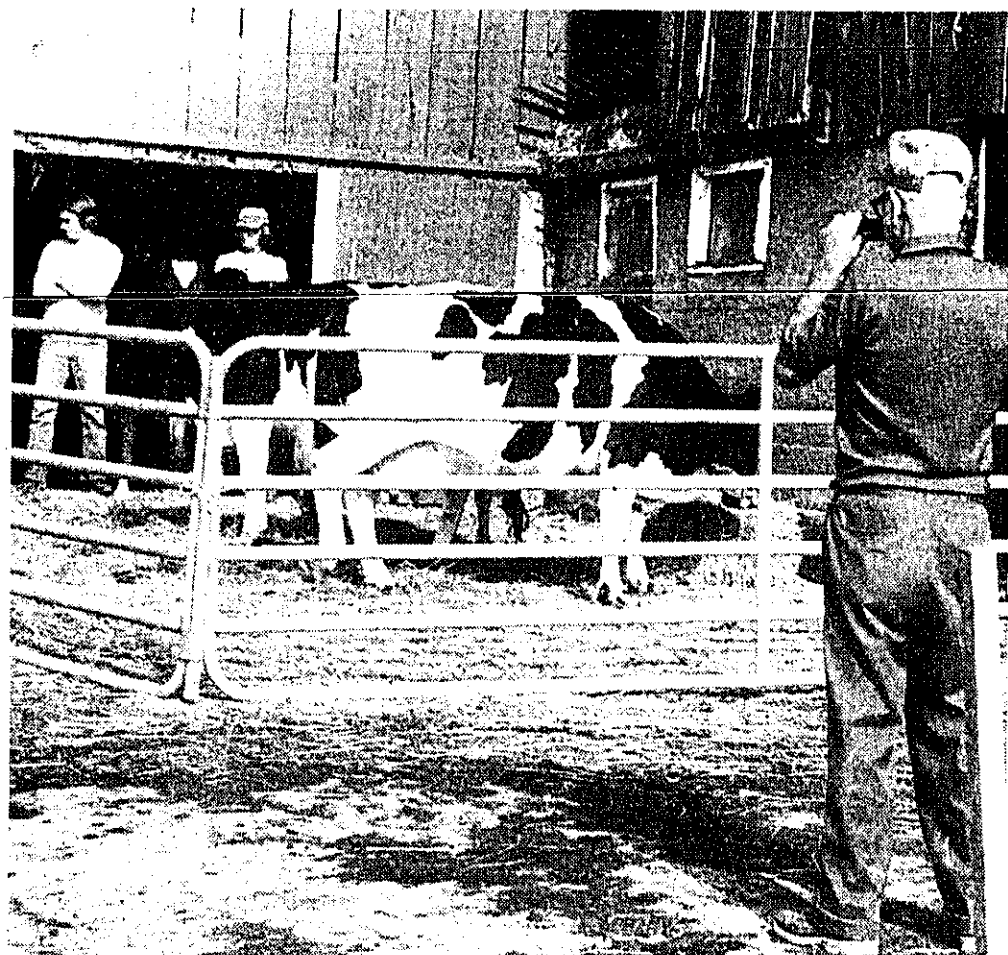

Not having the dairy cows to milk may also mean that he and Marjorie may be able to get away for a vacation.

In their 29 years of marriage, the longest the Karrs were ever away was about a week, two years ago, when Kurt milked the cows and they visited their other sons in Indiana and Tennessee.

Karr knows one place he doesn't want to go, however. A dairymen who came to the farm Friday to pick up some of the cows he bought jokingly suggested to him, "I suppose you'll be going to Florida this winter."

"Florida doesn't interest me," Karr responded. "If I want to get warm, I can go in the house."

LAST SHOT -- Leonard Karr wanted a remembrance of his dairy cows Friday, so he got out his camera and took a few photographs. Twenty-one cows were auctioned off Thursday, of which 15 were being milked.

FINAL TIME -- Leonard Karr and one of his Holstein cows, one of the last ones to be picked up Friday by its new owner. Photo was taken inside the stanchion barn, where the cows were milked. The barn has room for 25 cows. The most cows Karr ever had was 40, of which about 35 were milked.

Federal CETA program will create 100 jobs here

At least 100 Tuscola county residents will be getting jobs funded through a federal employment program, the Thumb Area Consortium administrative board learned last week.

For the period June 1-Sept. 30, 1977, the three counties in the consortium -- Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac -- will receive $636,989. Based on population and the number unemployed from January through April, Tuscola's share will be $257,981, according to consortium Executive Director Frank E. Lenard.

For the upcoming fiscal year starting Oct. 1, the three counties will get $4.17 million. Each county's share won't be determined until August when the latest unemployment figures are in.

The money is coming from the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) Title VI program, designed to provide emergency employment for the unemployed, working on temporary projects.

Pay will be the same as the workers would receive if regular employees of the governmental units involved, doing the same kind of work, but no more than $10,000 annually, not including fringe benefits.

In Tuscola county, Lenard told the board at its Thursday, June 16, meeting in Cass City, there have been 31 applications from governmental units and schools for jobs requiring a total of 100 persons.

There eventually could be as many as about 125 employed here under the Title VI program. In the entire consortium area, the minimum goal is 207 jobs created by the end of February, 1977, and possibly as many as 300.

The projects include such tasks as roadside cleanup, ditch cleaning, painting township halls, landscaping and some clerical tasks.

Those being hired will be moved from job to job as each is completed. Workers will stay in the same general category. They won't, for instance, be doing clerical work one week and painting the next.

Although funding for the current fiscal year ends Sept. 30, employment of those persons hired now will continue through the next fiscal year, ending Sept. 30, 1978, Lenard said.

Administration of the new Title VI program will be done by a consortium affiliate, the Tri-County Public Service Agency, which will have its office in the courthouse annex in Caro.

There presently are about 190 persons paid under an earlier Title VI program, who work directly for specific governmental units or school districts.

Persons interested in applying for a job under the new program can do so at the Michigan Employment Security Commission office, 105 Park Dr., Caro. Appointments will be scheduled for the job interviews, which will be done by Lenard on June 30 and July 1.

To be eligible for one of the jobs, a person must meet three basic criteria:

1) Be economically disadvantaged or a member of a family with total income at or below 70 per cent of the lower living standard income level.

For a family of four classified as economically disadvantaged, the maximum allowable income is $5,850 for a non-farm family or $4,980 for a farm family.

Under the other eligibility category, the maximum allowable income for a family of four is $6,430.

2) The person must live in Tuscola, Huron or Sanilac county. No governmental units in the Cass City area have applied to use any of the CETA workers; however, residents of this area will be able to work elsewhere in the county. All workers will have to provide their own transportation.

3) Have been unemployed for at least 15 of the past 20 weeks and not be working at the time of application.

Another CETA program is the Summer Program for Economically Disadvantaged Youth (SPEDY).

Lenard reported that so far in the three counties, 185 youth have been hired for the 12-week program with an additional 140 to be hired by the end of the month.

No more applications for the program are being taken. The youths, ages 14-21, will be working for governmental bodies and non-profit agencies, doing such tasks as clerical work and park maintenance. Pay will be the federal minimum wage of $2.30 an hour.

He said that about 700 youngsters applied for the jobs of whom many were ineligible. More than 325 will actually be hired to allow for turnover.

Another CETA program is Title II, which has the goal of providing interim employment with governmental agencies leading to full time employment paid for by the local government.

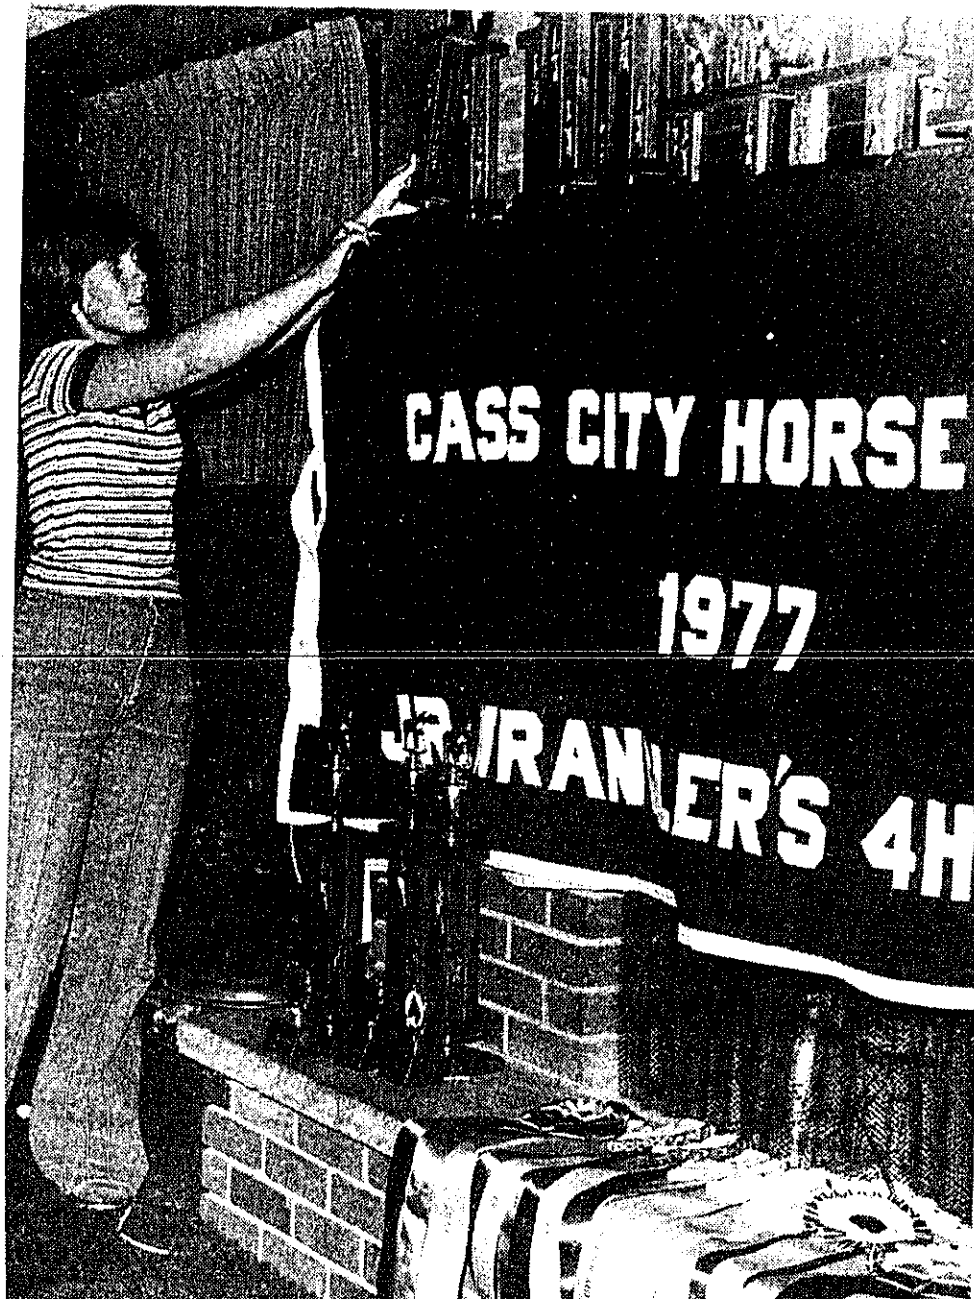

For the period June 1-Sept. 30, the three counties are receiving $336,733 in Title II funds, of which Tuscola, again based on population and number of unemployed, will receive $136,377.

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners, Tuesday, June 14, decided on placement of 10 persons to be hired with its share, based on applications from various governmental units and schools in the county.

Five will be policemen serving Watertown, Arbutus and Millington townships and Millington village and two policemen will serve Unionville. The county will hire a second building inspector and a personnel aide for the personnel department and the Millington Community Schools will get a custodian.

For the 1977 fiscal year starting Oct. 1, the three counties will get a total of $673,469. The amount each will receive will be decided in August after the latest unemployment statistics become available.

All CETA programs are funded entirely by the federal government.

HORSE SHOW -- The Junior Wranglers 4-H Horse Club will hold its annual horse show Saturday at the Cass City Recreational Park. Getting some of the trophies ready was club president Carrie Carpenter. About 200 riders are expected for the all-day show, which starts at 9 a.m. The show is open to all riders, including adults. No advance registration is required. There will be an admission fee for spectators.

Farmers asked to report 1977 acreage

Due to expected changes in farm legislation by Congress, farmers are asked to certify 1977 acreages of wheat, corn, and barley before harvest.

It is possible reported 1977 acreages will be used to determine set-aside requirements in 1978 whereby payments would be made to farmers for setting aside a percentage of the normal planted acres for wheat or feed grains in surplus or potential surplus. It is also possible the 1977 acreage would be used to establish new farm allotments.

Doris E. Western, Executive Director, Huron ASC County Committee, states that approximately 3500 farmers in the county will be reporting acreages before harvest. If a report is not filed, the farm would not be eligible for future program benefits where the 1977 acreage is used. If the report is filed after harvest, a field visit is required at the cost to the farmer and there must be evidence of the crop residue. Reports should be filed as soon as possible to avoid long waiting lines. The wife or another representative of the farm operator who is familiar with planted acreages, shares, and able to identify areas planted on the aerial photos can file the report. Reported acreages are subject to field spot check and should be accurately reported.

Some men convince others without convincing themselves.

'Bummer' bicycle seat is state product of year

A unique bicycle seat, called the "Bummer", was named Michigan Product of the Year by the Greater Michigan Foundation. The Bummer was cited for its practicality and general appeal.

Keeping the cyclist's riding comfort and anatomy in mind, the Bummer with its hammock-like construction does away with straddling the traditional bicycle seat.

A totally new concept in bicycle seating, the Bummer consists of elongated flexible safety webbing, covered by foam-filled suede finished Naugahyde. The seat is suspended from two pivot points supported by chrome plated tubular steel and is mounted transversely on the bicycle frame. In this way, the Bummer supports the entire backside area of the rider. It flexes and pivots with the movement of the cyclist's legs and hips, thereby eliminating the friction and abrasion sometimes caused by traditional bicycle seats. The Bummer fits most makes of bicycles and ex-cycles. The Bummer is one of 14 inventions of John L. Marchello of South Lyon, Michigan. Marchello is a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Architecture and Design. Among his inventions are law enforcement protective products including safety helmets, industrial wrap around safety goggles, motorcycle face shields, hockey helmets, high school and collegiate wrestling helmets and nose shields for horses which block out cold air and dirt for winter racing.

Hilltop Manufacturing Co., Inc. of New Hudson, Michigan, manufactures and sells the Bummer. For further information, write HMC Products Co., 50849 Grand River, New Hudson, Michigan 48165. Phone: (313) 437-2530.

Benefits used for college

Almost all the young men and women receiving Veterans Administration education benefits because of their parent's death or service-connected disability are using them to go to college.

VA figures show that 66,297 children and spouses of veterans whose deaths or total disability were service-connected were receiving VA education assistance as of the end of November last year.

Sons and daughters of veterans comprised 82 per cent of the total while the remaining 18 per cent consisted of spouses or the widows or widowers of veterans, VA said.

About 9 per cent of the sons and daughters taking training had some college when they applied for benefits, but almost 80 per cent had only a high school diploma.

Of the eligible spouses in training when the latest VA semi-annual review was made last November, 22 per cent did not have a high school diploma when they applied for benefits. VA noted that 77 per cent of all persons in training under provisions of the Dependents Educational Assistance program who had not completed high school when they first applied for assistance are now taking college level courses.

The agency said 89 per cent of the children of veterans in the program were going to school full-time, while 65 per cent of the spouses or widows and widowers were enrolled full-time.

Moore new chairman of Federal funds CPA group aren't a 'windfall'

Edward J. Moore, CPA with the firm of Karl Leppien & Co., P.C. in Bad Axe, was recently elected chairman of the eastern chapter of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA). He will take office on July 1, 1977.

Moore became a CPA in 1962 and was elected to membership in the MACPA the same year. He has been active in Association affairs since that time and has served as an officer of the Eastern Chapter for the past three years.

June 17, 1977
Dear John:

Your good article on the four billion dollars of Federal Funds to be distributed to municipalities is interesting and informative. I do object to you calling it a "windfall." It surely isn't.

Let's never forget that this is your and every taxpayer's dollars that are coming back. The only sad part of it is that before it reaches this community grants like this represent a heavy expense - what is the percent it costs to administer? Look it up some time and tell your readers.

I believe you leave wrong impressions with your readers in giving your lead article "Village to Spend Federal Windfall on School, Streets." The public needs to learn just how badly their hard earned money is being handled.

You may quote me if you wish. I am tired of paying taxes to bureaucrats.

Pastor's main job isn't social action

June 17, 1977

Mr. John Haire, Editor
Cass City Chronicle
6550 Main Street
Cass City, Michigan 48726

Dear Mr. Haire,

In regard to the article printed about Pastor Lloyd Streeter in the June 16th issue of the Chronicle, I would like to point out a couple of things. As Fundamentalists, we do not believe that social action is a primary church function. The Bible very clearly teaches that the main concern of the church is to preach the Gospel, win people to Christ, baptize them, and to teach them life changing truths from the Word of God. If this is accomplished, it naturally follows that society will be affected by the changed lives of individuals.

The true measure of Pastor Streeter's ministry here is not whether or not "Acapulco Gold" is still on the library shelf, or whether or not dress codes were changed. The true measure of Pastor Streeter's ministry (or for any other preacher's ministry) is whether or not he accomplished what God called him to do - reach people for the Lord Jesus Christ. Even the figures that were included in the article do not give an accurate picture of his ministry, because Pastor Streeter touched the lives of many people who never stepped through the doors of First Baptist Church. We can assuredly say that our pastor was faithful to Christ and accomplished what God sent him here to do.

The community, as well as the people of First Baptist Church, should thank God for allowing them to be recipients of the ministry of a man who is faithful to God, faithful to the Bible, and faithful to his calling as a minister of the Gospel.

Sincerely,

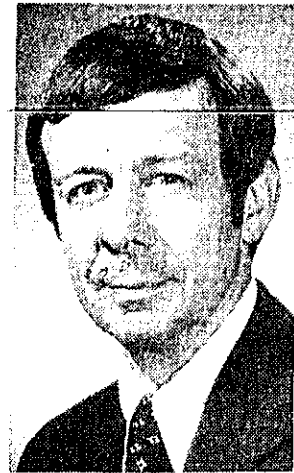

Rev. Lee Taylor
Minister of Education

P.S. I will send you a tape of our farewell program for Pastor Streeter. Some of the things said may help you to evaluate his ministry here.

Those who really believe in preparedness keep physically fit.

Your Neighbor says

Federal grants are 'a good idea'

It was announced last week that Cass City will be receiving $459,000 in federal public works funds, to be used for construction of an addition to the Campbell Elementary School and street improvements.

Gagetown is receiving $150,000 for construction of a joint village and township hall and fire station.

Caro is receiving slightly more than $1 million, to be shared by the village and school district for at least partial renovation of a former auto dealership into a new village hall and construction of a swimming pool and auditorium behind the high school.

All of the money is part of a $4 billion public works appropriation by Congress to fund similar projects across the country, for purposes of putting people back to work.

Last December, $2 billion was spent for the same purpose.

Is this the best use of the taxpayers' money, especially when the federal government runs a deficit every year of tens of billions of dollars.

Steve Kamrad Jr. of Gagetown, a farmer who also works at the AC Sparkplug plant in Flint, doesn't like deficit spending by the government.

"I don't think they should spend more than they take in," he said.

However, if the government is going to spend the money, he thinks the public works program "is a good idea. That's what we spend taxes for."

Kamrad and his wife, Grace, have six children, ranging in age from 7 to 18. Starting with the youngest, they are Brad, Steven, Tom, Rickie, Craig and Tina.

SECOND PLACE -- Hank Cooklin, director of the first annual Cass City Invitational Fastpitch Softball Tournament, presented the second place trophy to Paul Newingham, manager of the Business Associates Team of Port Huron.

FIRST PLACE -- The first place trophy in the first annual Cass City Invitational Fastpitch Softball Tournament was presented by tournament director Hank Cooklin to Jerry Henning, player-manager of the MadeRite Chips team of Bay City. Each of the players on the team received a small trophy like the one held by the youngster admiring the big trophy.

WHEN 12 teams from the Thumb and Saginaw Valley meet to decide a champion the action is fast and furious. Some of the scenes that caught the eye of the cameraman as the three-day event unfolded show the interest the first annual Cass City Invitational generated. But for one youngster, flattening a soda pop can was more interesting than watching the game. The infield had to be hosed down Sunday by Elkland township firemen because of the dry, dusty field and strong winds.

At Cass City

MadeRite 9 sweeps honors in tourney

MadeRite Potato Chips of Bay City walked off with all the laurels in the first annual Cass City Invitational tournament held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Twelve teams were entered as the action started Friday evening at Cass City Recreation Park.

None of the teams went through the two days undefeated. MadeRite lost to BAT from Port Huron before winning the return match for the title.

Guy Manke, veteran hurler from Bay City, was judged the most valuable pitcher for hurling MadeRite to the title. The Chips' center fielder was the most valuable player.

Cass City lost its opening game to West Bay Honda in a pitching duel, 1-0, as Craig Helwig pitched a strong game but got no support from his teammates.

The Merchants stayed alive in the second game with a 15-2 win over Buck's Bar. Ken Lowe lashed two home runs. Jerry Toner and Tom Armstrong each added a solo round trip blast. Helwig was the winning pitcher.

Arrow TV of Bay City sent Cass City to the sidelines with a 9-7 decision. Dale Auslander took the loss for the Merchants.

both of Caseville, were sentenced on charges of attempted unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Both pleaded guilty to the charge April 11 in connection with the driving away of a car from Burton-Moore Ford, Inc., Indianfields township, March 7.

County Cancer Society unit meets in Richville June 13

Chairmen from Unionville and Mayville and Juniata, Fairgrove and Denmark townships have turned in their crusade money received to date, it was reported at the June 13 meeting of the Tuscola County Unit of the American Cancer Society (ACS). The meeting was held in the Denmark township hall in Richville.

Mrs. Don Kochalka of Vassar gave the treasurer's report and pointed out that in the past, 28.7 per cent of the society's funds went for research, 17.2 per cent for public education, 10.6 per cent for professional education, 13.5 per cent for patient services and 8.2 per cent for community services.

Service chairman Mrs. Joe Young reported that the Tuscola county unit has six hospital beds, several wheel chairs, a walker and other sick room equipment available for loan to county cancer patients.

"We also assist them with drugs, dressings, and other services," she said. Those needing assistance can call Mrs. Young in Reese at 868-4415.

A letter from the division office was read by Mrs. Erhardt Rogner of Reese, stating that the ACS opposes the passage of House Bill 4903

(Senate Bill 576) which would legalize Laetrile in Michigan. Although up to now Laetrile has not been proven harmful, the organization's concern is that it has not been proven helpful. By using Laetrile, cancer patients may neglect taking proper treatment that could help them.

Members were asked to write to their state representative and senator asking them to oppose the bills.

The next Tuscola county ACS meeting will be Monday, June 27, in the home of Mrs. Harold Perry, 4331 S. Seeger St., Cass City. All persons interested are invited to attend.
