At Cass City High School

Energy crisis questions get answers at seminar

Is the energy crisis really a crisis? If so, whose fault is it? Questions such as these were answered last Thursday night at Cass City High School at an energy seminar sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service in Tuscola, Huron, and Sanilac counties. About 50 persons attended.

The energy crisis was viewed not as a crisis but as a "series of problems" by the introductory speaker, Dr. Larry Connor of the Michigan State University agricultural economics department.

After the formal program, Connor said, "I don't think we have a crisis. What we have are a series of energy problems and they're all quite different."

"The question is are we prepared to work on these problems soon enough so we don't have a crisis."

In general, he explained during his speech, the problem is that oil and gas production in the United States have peaked but while future supplies will diminish, demand will continue to increase.

Increasing supplies to meet the demands creates various problems.

Increased use of coal and nuclear energy means increased problems respectively of air pollution and disposal of nuclear wastes.

The United States currently imports more than 40 per cent of the petroleum used here and predictions are that will increase to 65 per cent by 1985. But increasing the amount of imported petroleum means an increasing deficit in the balance of trade (more money being spent here for imports than other countries spend for U.S. exports) and the chance of another crisis should the Arab nations start another blockade, like in 1973.

Increasing U.S. supplies of natural gas and petroleum is possible, Connor said, but the easily discovered sources have already been discovered. Eventually, the point will be reached where it will take more energy to get such resources out of the ground than are recoverable, thus it won't pay to do so.

Development of new energy sources is one part of the solution, but some, such as coal gasification, solar energy, and development of synthetic fuels might not be practical on a large scale until the turn of the century. Such development is very costly.

Thus, "by and large what we do in the next two decades is very crucial," he predicted.

Part of the interim solution, he said, is conservation.

Lastly, the agricultural conservationist explained the three basic positions involved as Congress tries to write a new national energy policy.

The market approach, favored by the energy industry, calls for deregulation of prices. Higher prices will encourage conservation, provide an incentive for the energy companies to explore for petroleum and natural gas, and also encourage the shift to alternative sources of energy.

The opposite to that is the regulatory approach. Government should keep a tight rein on energy prices and if shortages become acute, conservation can be obtained.

Crash injures seven

Two die in area traffic accidents

Eleven-year-old Marsha Lynn Goslin of rural Gagetown was killed Monday night in one of several severe traffic accidents during the past week.

An accident near Ubyly early Saturday claimed the life of a Warren man and resulted in severe injuries to an off-duty state police trooper assigned to the Bad Axe post who is formerly from Cass City.

Another early Saturday accident west of Cass City sent seven persons to the hospital. The Goslin girl died in a 10 p.m. accident on Bay City-Forestville Road in a car driven by her sister, Brenda, 17.

Sheriff's deputies said the car was westbound, .2 mile east of Hurds Corner Road, when the driver lost control when the car slipped off the north edge of the new pavement. The shoulder of the road was 5-6 inches below the road surface.

The car then shot across the road and slammed into a tree on the south side of the road, ripping open the right side of the car, then spinning around, coming to a rest pointed at an angle toward the highway.

The car came to rest on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Adams of 3626 Bay City-Forestville Road.

Two other occupants of the car; brother Mark, 13, and sister Leslie, 3, were taken to Bay Medical Center in Bay City, where they were reported in fair-to-good condition Tuesday afternoon. The driver was uninjured.

The four occupants of the car are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Goslin of 3351 E. Bay City-Forestville Road, Gagetown.

Ironically, another Goslin child, Brad, now 19, was seriously injured June 22, 1975 in an accident on Bay City-Forestville Road, a half-mile east of Hurds Corner Road.

His car slammed into two trees in an early morning crash after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel. He spent 139 days in the hospital recovering from several broken bones before going home.

Marsha Lynn Goslin, a sixth grader at Cass City Intermediate School, was born Jan. 9, 1966, in Bay City.

In addition to her parents and brothers and sisters already mentioned, she is also survived by one more sister, Patty, her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Shannon of Fairgrove, and several aunts and uncles.

A rosary was recited Wednesday at 8 p.m. from Little's Funeral Home in Cass City.

Funeral services will be this Thursday at 11 a.m. at St. Agatha's Catholic church in Gagetown, Father Norman Van Poppelen officiating. Burial will be in St. Agatha's cemetery.

Her death was the 10th in Tuscola county traffic accidents this year.

HURON DEATH

Robert E. Boyer, 44, of Warren, was killed at 2:45 a.m. Saturday when his van was involved in an accident 2 1/2 miles west of Ubyly. His death was the 11th in a Huron county traffic accident this year.

Huron county deputies believe Boyer, southbound on Bad Axe Rd., ran the stop sign at Atwater Road and collided with the eastbound auto driven by off-duty Trooper Charles H. Seeley, 32, of Ubyly.

The officer was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon in the intensive care unit of Huron Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe. His two sisters and mother, Mrs. Hollis Seeley, live in Cass City.

After the collision, the Boyer van rolled over several times, coming to rest against a utility pole.

The vehicle also struck a light pole, bringing down several "hot" wires which fell on it. Deputies used a special rubber-coated cable to pull the live electrical lines from the van, then used a winch to pull the van off. Boyer, who was trapped under the front of the vehicle.

SEVEN INJURED

Cass City Patrolman Phil Kraus was pursuing a car westbound on M-81 out of the village early Saturday, the driver believed to have been drinking, when it started to turn left onto Koepfgen Road.

It was then struck by an eastbound auto, with the cars coming to a halt side-by-side near the southeast corner of the intersection.

The driver of the eastbound auto, Thomas M. Zelenak of New Baltimore and passengers James Russell, 25, of Hazel Park, and Delbert R. Bacian, 25, of New Baltimore, were treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital after the 2:10 a.m. crash.

A third passenger, Keith T. Olejniczak, 21, of Detroit, was transferred to South Macomb Hospital in Warren, where he was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon.

The driver of the car being pursued by police, Robert J. Fry, 18, of Rt. 3 Hurds Corner Road, Cass City, was ticketed by sheriff's deputies on a charge of drunk driving.

He and two passengers, Todd D. Chesnut, 18, and Lynne Putnam, 16, both of Caro, were treated and released from Caro Community Hospital. Three other passengers in the car were unhurt.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Doyle L. Spencer Sr., 43, of 7336 E. Kelly Road, Cass City, was reported in fair-to-serious condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales General Hospital after being injured in an accident at 5:40 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 2. Deputies said he exited a

Building of new town hall to begin

Booms Construction, Inc., of Bad Axe has been awarded the bid for construction of the new Gagetown village and Elmwood township hall and fire station.

The firm's bid of $173,169 was the lowest of three received. The other bids received were for $191,500 and $196,500.

The council and township board awarded the bid at a special joint meeting Tuesday night.

Only $150,000 in federal public works funds is being received for the project, which means the village and township will have to dip into their treasuries next year to pay the difference.

Village President William Downing said the building architects, Wiggen, Thacknell, & Associates, Inc., of Saginaw, had predicted the cost would be more than $150,000, due to inflation in construction costs and the need to contract at least 10 per cent of the project cost to a minority-owned firm, as required in the federal regulations.

As the architects were predicting a cost more than the bid turned in by Booms, "we were quite pleased with the bid," Downing said.

Construction will probably start Monday and take 210 working days to complete, with weather conditions a factor in when the building will actually be finished. No groundbreaking ceremonies will be held. An open house will be held once the building is completed.

The building, on the site of the old township hall, will be constructed of cement blocks with brick facing.

Neither the village nor township has made plans yet on what will be done with the present village hall and fire hall respectively once the new structure is done.

At the regular Gagetown Village Council meeting Monday night, it was decided to spend up to $1,000 for new Christmas decorations in the village. The decorations will be reusable.

The village clerk was instructed to order candy for the annual visit of Santa Claus, which will be Saturday, Dec. 17, at 2 p.m.

The council discussed the street paving presently being done in the village. It also talked about the possibility of getting new street name signs.

Farmers start to catch up, then it rains again

Rain, rain, go away.

About two weeks of relatively dry weather allowed farmers to begin to catch up on their often-delayed harvesting, however, the rain that started over the week end will cause further delay.

Bob Wischmeyer, manager of the Wickes elevator in Cass City, said beans "were pretty well done," with only a relatively few more loads expected.

The average pick for the almost completed season was about 15 pounds out of 100, which, he said, wasn't bad, considering all the rain. "A lot of guys figured there wouldn't be anything," The normal pick is 5 pounds or below.

Yields were 25-28 bushels per acre out of the field, which is about average. James Turner, Blount Agriculture manager in Gagetown, also said bean harvesting was about done. Due to the rain Monday, he doubted whether any more beans would be harvested, though some were still in the fields.

The average pick was about 20 per cent, he said.

He estimated that about 40 per cent of the corn crop has been harvested in his area; Wischmeyer, less than 20 per cent around Cass City.

Corn yields are averaging better than 100 bushels per acre, both said, which is above normal.

Moisture content is averaging 23-25 per cent, as compared to a normal 28-30 per cent, according to the two elevator managers.

Sugar beet harvesting is almost completed. Orville Weidman, field manager for the Michigan Sugar Co. plant in Caro, said Tuesday of the 13,613 contracted acres, only 300 were yet to be harvested. With good weather, the remaining acres could be harvested in about four days.

But with more rain coming down, he commented, "We're just at the stage where we don't know where we're at for the few acres that are left."

He said growers have done "exceptionally well" in getting the beets to the plant despite muddy field conditions this fall.

Of the 16,521 acres contracted by the firm's Sebewaing plant, manager Loren Brady said, 8 per cent or 1,322 acres had yet to be harvested. A week to 10 days of good weather is needed to complete the job.

The sugar content at the Caro mill has averaged 15.1 per cent; at Sebewaing, 15.77 per cent. That's down from the 17 per cent range of a year ago.

However, with tonnages up substantially -- for instance, 24 tons per acre at Sebewaing, six tons more than in 1976 -- sugar production will be the same or possibly more than a year ago, despite the lower sugar content.

Wet fields put a definite damper on wheat planting. Tuscola County Agriculture Agent Don Kebler estimated only about 25 per cent of the normal acreage got planted.

Even though the weather was relatively dry, many farmers have had to resort to using four-wheel-drive tractors or rented bulldozers to pull their harvesting equipment through the fields.

That causes various problems, Kebler said. Use of extra equipment greatly increases the cost of harvesting and the hard-to-get-through fields means more wear and tear on equipment.

Secondly, equipment sinking into the wet ground means ruts which could require extra field work to smooth out. Also, the ruts can fill with water in spring, thus slowing drainage.

Soil compaction from the heavy equipment and soft ground is another problem.

A new home for old home—Bigelow house gets moved

It was moving day last Thursday for the old Bigelow house.

With Anthes Brothers of Cass City doing the moving, the home was moved from Main Street, west of Leach Street, to Krapf Road, east of Cass City, about a half-mile south of M-81.

The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Linderman Jr., who now live in a concrete block house on Greenland Road.

"I just thought I would like to live in a big house," said Mrs. Linderman in explaining why she and her husband decided to buy the structure. They bought the lot on Krapf Road with the intention of building a new home but then decided they would rather have an old one instead. "It's a challenge," Mrs. Linderman said.

She and her husband, who works at Cole Carbide, plan to do as much of the work as possible themselves. One helper will be her father, Maurice Taylor of Cass City, an ex-plumber.

The first construction task will be building the basement underneath the house, which now sits on beams above the previously dug hole. The Lindermans and son Ted, 3 1/2, hope to move in next summer.

The house was originally scheduled to be moved last July but had to wait for rebuilding of the M-81 bridge over the Cass River.

The couple bought the house from the Cass City State Bank for $2,100 which sold it on a sealed bid basis. Even after the moving and renovation costs are paid, Mrs. Linderman said, she and her husband figure they will pay much less than if they had built a new home.

The house was bought by the bank from the estate of Laura Bigelow. The vacated site will be used as a parking lot for the bank's new building.

Charles Bigelow of Cass City, Laura's brother, believes the home was built the same year as the Bigelow Hardware building, in 1900.

The home was built by Nolton Bigelow, one of the founders of the hardware, who died in 1925.

It was inherited by his daughter Eleanor, better known as Nellie, who never married. She turned the home into a boarding house.

Nellie's brother, Sam, had a daughter, Laura, whom she (Nellie) raised from when she was a small child, according to Mrs. Tom Jackson, who is related to the Bigelows through her husband.

Laura also never married and when her aunt died in December, 1970, she inherited the house. Although the activities as a boarding house tapered off in later years, Mrs. Jackson said, even three years ago when Laura had to spend six months in Provincial House to recover from a broken hip, there was still one renter living in the house.

Laura Bigelow died in November, 1975, at age 75.

Among the many spectators watching the house being moved Thursday was Jeanne (Mrs. Fred) Auten, who had a special interest in what was going on.

Nolton Bigelow was her great-grandfather. Not only had Mrs. Auten seen his house being moved, but within about the last 20 years, she has seen the houses of her grandfather and father moved.

The house of her grandfather, Samuel F. Bigelow, was moved from behind the Gamble's store to Schwegler Road. It's now owned by Bob Wischmeyer.

The house of her father, Andrew N. Bigelow, on the site of the new bank building, was moved to Pringle Road. It's owned by Donald Wernette.

HOUSE MOVING — This was the scene as utility company workmen and state highway department crews aided in raising utility lines to allow the moving of the old Bigelow house to its new home on Krapf Road. The biggest "hurdle", as seen here, was raising the two stoplights at Main and Seeger Streets. Doing the moving was Anthes Brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery

Phyllis Elaine Ewald was united in marriage to Thomas W. Montgomery Oct. 8 at Marsh Creek Fellowship Baptist church, near Wellsboro, Pa.

The bride's parents are Clarence and Edith Ewald of Cass City. The groom's parents are Mrs. Leda Montgomery and the late William Montgomery of Wellsboro.

Pastor Wayne Taylor Jr. officiated at the 7:00 p.m. ceremony.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length apricot dress and was Mrs. Romaine Tuttle of Lockport, New York. The bridesmaids were Ruthie Hammer of Rosedale, Mass., Karen Oakley of Carbondale, Pa., and Penny Montgomery of Wellsboro.

Best man was Richard Christie of Wellsboro. The groomsmen were Tom Brown of Tioga, Pa., Billy Wales of Millerton, Pa., and Charles Carpenter Jr. of Addison, New York.

The bride carried a bouquet of sweethearts roses with miniature carnations and pompons.

framed with ivory Victorian lace.

The church was decorated in apricot carnations with candlelight in the background.

Cake and ice cream were served in the church activities center following the ceremony. The Melody Aires sang at the reception.

The groom plans to continue working in the John Deere business and the bride plans to work in the church and as a housewife.

Following the honeymoon at Niagara Falls, N.Y., the couple reside at Wellsboro.

The couple have 24 grandchildren. Friends and relatives of the family are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Daley

The Deford Community church was the setting for the Oct. 22 wedding of Kathy Lauren Koepf and James Douglas Daley.

Rev. Howard Woodard performed the wedding ceremony and Gerold Rodgers, the church pastor, gave a prayer.

Organist was Ada Kilbourn. Tom Fulcher, accompanied by his guitar, sang "I Can't Help Falling In Love" and "Annie's Song."

The altar was decorated with candelabra and dried fall color arrangements in wicker baskets.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. King and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Koepf, both of Cass City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Daley of Deford.

The bride approached the altar wearing a traditional ivory gown in tulle and polyester, organza trimmed with Venice lace. The gown featured an Empire line bodice, wedding band collar, and bishop sleeves. The skirt had a demi-bell silhouette outlined with Venice lace that encircled the complete hemline of the chapel train. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a Peau-Bonnet cap and a "dance length" mantilla edged and applied with silk Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of orange roses with flocked baby's breath, greens and ivory ribbon.

The matron of honor was Karen Turner of Reese, sister of the bride. She wore an A-line long dress of polyester knit in rust with matching tie front jacket. She wore a tan colored straw hat with matching ribbon and carried two long-stemmed roses.

Bridesmaids were Jeanne Daley of Deford, sister of the groom, who wore an apricot-colored dress; Joyce Daley of Deford, sister of the groom, who wore a rust-colored dress; and Jerri Warju of Snover, cousin of the bride, who wore an apricot-colored dress. They all carried long-stemmed roses.

The groom, groomsmen, and ushers wore dark brown tuxedos with beige ruffled shirts and rose boutonnières. Best man was Dave Deering of Deford, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Ivan Paladi of Deford, friend of the groom, Don King of Cass City, brother of the bride, and Jim Kilbourn of Deford, friend of the groom. Ushers were Bryan Warju of Roscommon, cousin of the bride, and Ron Turner of Reese, brother-in-law of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore an off-white long polyester dress with dark brown crepe top and sleeves. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The mother of the groom wore a long polyester dress in burgundy, trimmed with ivory lace around the neck and sleeves. She also wore a pink sweetheart rose corsage. The stepmother of the bride wore a long dress in dark blue polyester. She wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

A dinner and reception were held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Caro for 300 people.

The honeymoon trip was to northern Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Daley will reside in the Kingston area.

"If It Fitz. . ." The runaround from the horse's mouth

By Jim Fitzgerald

WASHINGTON -- The first time I visited here was in 1944, as a soldier waiting to be shipped to Europe. I was a clerk-typist, but I wore my trousers tucked into my shoes so people would think I was a paratrooper.

I also wore sharpshooter medals on my chest. During basic training, these medals were awarded to all soldiers who could shoot straight enough to hit the ground from the hip. But I was hopeful that civilians would think the medals were in recognition of heroic service performed off the coast of Normandy on D-Day.

My fantasy was that a nubile girl would stop me on the steps of the Capitol building and ask me to explain the relationship between my medals and my slight limp, which was also phony. She would take me to her nearby apartment where I would tell her the acne scars on my back were caused by shrapnel.

I did get stopped at the Capitol entrance. A guard said I couldn't go inside until I was done eating my ice cream cone.

So the battle-weary para-trooper squatted on the Capitol steps to nourish his war-ravaged body. Nubile girls passed on all sides, and not one stopped to ask for a lick.

Thirty-three years later I returned to the scene of my wartime failure, still a phony. I had been invited to the White House to be briefed by President Carter and some other big shots who can eat ice cream wherever they want. Certainly such an impressive invitation indicates that the middle-aged columnist has matured far beyond the teenage clerk-typist who faked war wounds in a vain quest for nubile girls.

Sure. Now I had to be a bigger fake. I had to act as though I always get my briefs at the White House.

Twenty-nine erudite columnists from all over the nation were being briefed along with me. It would be embarrassing if they learned that when I first overheard them talking about "Ziggy," I thought they meant Ziggy Elman who played great trumpet for Tommy Dorsey.

Eager to be one of the pundits, I was ready to join the conversation by saying, "Yeah, Ziggy could really blow."

Just in time to shut up, I learned they were talking about Zbigniew Brzezinski who is Carter's assistant for national security affairs. Close call.

During the briefing by Ziggy, over breakfast, he said it was his goal "to make the U.S. a positive force for constructive change in the world." He said it with a Polish accent.

"It could only happen in America," I whispered profoundly to the columnist sitting next to me. "Especially Hamtramck."

"You are dripping coffee on my notes," the columnist said.

"In another day, in this same nation's capitol, it might have been ice cream," I said.

I figured the best way for me to impress everyone with my worldliness would be to ask penetrating questions. So, when David Aaron, Ziggy's deputy assistant, took over the podium, I asked him how far the United States is prepared to go to protect human rights in South Africa.

"It's awfully hard to predict," Aaron said.

The next briefer was Richard Wyrrough, who is senior adviser for treaty affairs in the Office of Panamanian Affairs at the Department of State. I asked if the U.S. would ever invade Panama to protect the canal.

"My crystal ball isn't that clear," Wyrrough answered.

Next came Philip Hughes, who is assistant secretary of energy for intergovernmental & institutional relations. I asked him if there would ever be gas rationing.

"My energy crystal ball hasn't been all that clear," he answered.

"It certainly is good to get all the answers from the top officials," I said to a fellow columnist when the briefings ended. "All you have to know is how to ask penetrating questions."

"How come your pants are tucked into your shoes?" he asked.

"Geronimo," I said. "Let's get an ice cream cone."

Road commission subject of law suit

The Tuscola County Road Commission is the defendant in a suit filed by the husband of a school bus driver who died after an accident Nov. 5, 1975.

Plaintiff is Harland L. Trisch of E. Dutcher Road,

Cass City, administrator of the estate of his wife, Doris J. Trisch.

The suit asks for a "judgment against the defendant for whatever amount the plaintiff is found to be entitled."

Mrs. Trisch was driving a school bus eastbound on Fairgrove Road, transporting special education students to classes in Caro when it plunged into a ditch 8-10 feet deep parallel to Unionville Road at the intersection with Fairgrove. Heavy fog at the time was blamed as a contributing factor in the accident.

She died the following day in St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw. She was the mother of two children.

Three students riding in the bus were injured and eight were shaken up.

The suit claims the road commission was negligent in not erecting barricades, barriers, fences, or guard rails between the east edge of Unionville Road and the ditch.

The case has been assigned to Circuit Judge Norman A. Baguley.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

You didn't have to be around town too long to remember the great sex education hassle at Cass City High School.

Parents were up in arms about it and descended on the school board like bees headed for their hives. And with their stingers out, too.

It caused about as much controversy as much issue before or since. It was bigger than the debate about the length of hair for athletes or "Acapulco Gold", the book about marijuana that was found lurking in the library.

In retrospect it appears that the two issues were made bigger than they were. Right now in one of the school courses, students are reading several books about pot as a research, theme paper project. Long hair for boys has gone out of style.

The plain truth is that the community appears ready to take a rational look at marijuana, its properties and its dangers.

Sex education is something else. It's doubtful if the community is ready for it.

It is likely less ready for it than the rest of Michigan which appears divided about the merit of the program.

Nevertheless, birth control information is nearer to the classroom now than it has been.

The legislature has passed a bill making the class legal if the district votes to offer it.

Since the final decision is up to the district, it's hard to see that it will have any immediate effect.

Today it has as much chance of becoming a part of the curriculum here as a field of rice has growing in the desert. The climate just isn't right.

But the need just won't go away and before long the climate just may change.

That's because teen-age pregnancies are increasing by leaps and bounds as is venereal disease. In short, we are just not doing the job at home.

That's the cry, you know. Sex education is a job for the parents and should be taught in the home.

I submit that there is no better place. But by now it should be apparent that in many, maybe a majority, of homes the task is either too great or the parents just don't care enough to try.

The need won't go away. It will be awhile before it happens but the prediction here is that it will happen. Sex education will be a part of the curriculum in Cass City and in all schools.

We'll study sexuality just like we look at drug abuse today.

Certainly the wishes of the parents should count and their children should not be required to be informed about sex at school if they don't want them to.

But the record speaks for itself. The need is there and sooner or later the need will be answered.

Here's one vote for sooner rather than later.

Owen-Gage students like their football team. In the season's ender last Friday the Bulldogs played at Alcona. That's a 3 1/2-hour bus ride, one way, from Gagetown.

There were enough students interested in the trip that a school bus was dispatched. All this to see a game that counted for nothing except the final record.

Here's a trivia question that will stump you. Who has worked the longest at the Chronicle and is still active?

The answer is Reva Little who was collecting Cass City "personals" when we arrived in 1951 and is still doing it.

Mrs. Little was honored by the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club and we add our congratulations to the kudos she received from the club.

Racing as a regular thing isn't reported in the Chronicle. But recently we've been receiving reports of two area drivers who are doing A-okay in the sport.

Jim Warju has won 11 trophies in scrambles and short track motorcycle racing. Included are two firsts, 2 seconds, 5 thirds and 2 fourths.

Ed Zimba is just getting into motorcycle racing in a big way this year and has three trophies for finishing first, third and fourth.

It may not be the golden age for hunters in the Thumb but it's better today than it has been.

With the pheasant season ending, the report is that the season was good. Because of the rain leaving the corn standing during the season most hunters are looking forward to a banner year next season.

That brings us to the deer season next Tuesday. No need to tell anyone around here that there are more deer than ever. There will probably be more hunters, too. The hunting army keeps growing right along with the deer herd.

HEALTH TIPS

When to see the doctor

By Frank Chappell, American Medical Association

All of us are now and then faced with a quick decision: should we, or shouldn't we see the doctor?

The American Medical Association lists several points for consideration as a general guide to help you decide whether medical aid should be sought at once:

- When your complaint or symptoms are too severe to be endured, such as abdominal pain common to a gall bladder attack or appendicitis or kidney colic, or sudden chest pains. Immediate relief of pain is the purpose of getting the patient to the doctor without delay.

- When an apparently minor symptom persists for more than a few days or a week, and does not appear to be due to some easily identified cause. A nose bleed from a sharp blow is one thing; a nose that bleeds constantly or frequently for no apparent reason is quite a different matter.

- When the symptom returns repeatedly for no readily apparent cause. Digestive disturbances due to overindulgence are one thing; constant digestive distress despite great care and moderation in eating is another.

- When in doubt, it is safer to call the doctor than to take a chance.

Many accidents around the home or yard cause bruises and scratches and minor sprains that can be successfully treated at home. But some accidents require fast medical attention.

If the accident victim is unconscious, get help fast. Also when bleeding is severe or cannot be controlled; when the victim is groggy or confused; when there are signs of shock, such as pale, cold skin, sweating and weak pulse.

Breathlessness or intensive thirst after the accident require medical attention. If there is a possible broken bone, seek help. Also for severe pain, signs of poisoning, serious burns, persistent vomiting, blurred vision.

Hay book available

Farmers who lost their hay crop due to summer's weather should have little problem in securing supplies from other areas of the state.

A Michigan Hay Information Clearing House, created by Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Services, when hay shortages became apparent, reveals that among participants there are three sellers to each hay buyer.

Farmers looking for hay will find a listing of sellers in the booklet, "Michigan Hay Information Clearing House," available at all county extension offices or from MSU Agricultural Economics Department, Room 1, MSU, East Lansing 48824.

In addition to listing names of people who need hay, the booklet includes name and location of the seller, quality and quantity of hay, number and date of cutting. Names and addresses of known Michigan hay dealers are also listed.

Merrill Dunlop scheduled at local church

Special musical services Sunday, Nov. 13, at First Baptist church will feature Rev. Merrill Dunlop of Oak Park, Ill., well-known composer of hymns and gospel songs.

In the 11 a.m. service, Dunlop will preach and present special music. The 6:30 p.m. service will be devoted to musical selections, including the spectacular "Storm" number in which he portrays, on the organ, the Biblical storm on the Sea of Galilee.

Mr. Dunlop has long been associated with evangelistic crusades throughout the world and with Bible conference ministries. He is an accomplished pianist, organist, teacher and minister.

Pastor Tim Teall extends a public invitation to the services.

Ubly man assigned

The son of an Ubly couple has been assigned to Moody Air Force Base, Ga., following graduation from the aircraft maintenance specialist course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex.

Airman Douglas W. Brahmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Brahmer of 2031 Union St., was trained to maintain, repair and service aircraft currently in use by the Air Force and will now serve with a unit of the Tactical Air Command. Completion of the course earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman is a 1977 graduate of Ubly High School.

Lena Haney dies Nov. 1 in hospital

Lena Haney of Phillips Road, Cass City, died suddenly, after a brief illness, at Hills and Dales General Hospital, Tuesday, Nov. 1.

She was born Aug. 28, 1908, in Ellington township, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hutchinson.

She married Frederick M. Haney Nov. 19, 1927, in Ellington township, coming to the Cass City area in 1949. Mr. and Mrs. Haney would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Nov. 19.

Mrs. Haney was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Caro.

She is survived by her husband; one son, Richard Haney of Cass City; one sister, Mrs. Sarah Hawley of Cass City; and one grandson, Joseph Haney of Ann Arbor.

Funeral services for Mrs. Haney were conducted Friday at 1 p.m. from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. Harry Capps, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Cass City, officiating.

Burial was in Ellington cemetery.

Your Neighbor says

Birth control should be taught

The Michigan Senate last Thursday approved legislation that ends the 29-year-old state ban on teaching about birth control in schools.

The House of Representatives earlier approved a similar bill and now must approve the minor Senate amendments before it goes to the governor's desk. Gov. Milliken is expected to sign the bill immediately thereafter.

Jack McDaniel approves of the legislature's action. "It's about time that the schools be allowed to do it (teach birth control)."

He agreed with the provision, though, that will let students be exempted from taking such sex education classes on their written request or that of their parents.

Advocates of the legislation argued that teaching birth control will result in fewer unwanted teenage pregnancies.

McDaniel feels that argument may be more relevant to the cities than to rural towns like Cass City. "It may not be applicable to the rural way of life. They (teenagers) most likely know more what's going on than those in the city."

He disagrees with a part of the legislation that prohibits teaching about abortion. "I don't believe in teaching part of the package," he said, in explaining why he feels the entire topic of birth control should be discussed.

McDaniel is office manager at Anrod Screen Cylinder. He and his wife Ann and daughters Marie and Candace live on Hunt Street.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

A pretty eleven-year-old girl from Caro would like to have lots of fun with a Big Sister. She loves to do baking and cooking, likes music, enjoys arts and crafts, and is eager to learn to do new things. She has curly auburn hair and lots of freckles.

A 12-year-old boy from Caro is eager to get a Big Brother who will do things with him. He is out-going, very active and has a dimpled grin. Swimming, bikes, horses and fishing are a few of the many things he enjoys.

A real special boy, 6 years old, would be lots of fun to be with. His friendliness, intelligence and sense of humor quickly win you over! Any activity that involves action appeals to him! Here's hoping a man in the Vassar or Caro area will spend a little time each week with him.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters in Tuscola county is located at 230 N. State Street, Caro, telephone 673-6996; in Huron county at 121 N. Heisterman Street, Bad Axe, telephone 269-7264; in Sanilac county at P.O. Box 1, Sandusky, telephone 648-4433.

SEVEN INJURED—Seven persons were injured in an accident early Saturday involving these two cars on M-81, west of Cass City. Treated and released from Caro Community Hospital, in the car at right, were Robert J. Fry, Todd D. Chesnutt and Lynne Putnam. Treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital were, riding in the car at left, Thomas M. Zelenak, James Russell and Delbert R. Bacian. Thomas T. Olejniczak of Detroit was transferred to South Macomb Hospital in Warren, where he was reported in fair condition Tuesday.

driveway at 7136 Kelly Road, east of Englehart Road, and headed west when he lost control of his motorcycle in loose gravel and rolled over. Four persons sought their own treatment Saturday afternoon following an accident on Deckerville Road. Deputies said Marilyn J. Ezakovich, 36, of Hurds Corner Road, Cass City, started to turn left onto Hurds Corner and collided with the vehicle that was attempting to pass her. Both vehicles had been eastbound.

Driver of the other vehicle, Ronnie L. Johnson, 26, of 1673 W. Dixon Road, Caro, was ticketed on a charge of driving with an expired driver's license.

Mrs. Ezakovich and children Bill, 7, Joe, 11, and Jim, 13, who were riding with her, all sought their own treatment.

Two Cass City women sought their own treatment Friday afternoon after an accident in Ubley. They were Shirley J. Doerr, 46, of Rt. 2 County Line Road, the driver, and passenger D. Nancy Shagene, 45, of 6760 N. Cemetery Road.

Ubley police said an Ubley youth, 16, northbound on Queen Street, collided with the Doerr auto, which was westbound on Main Street. The boy was cited on a charge of failure to yield right of way.

After the impact, the youth's auto struck a parked car owned by Haven Maurer of Ubley.

Three Decker men suffered undetermined injuries Friday night when their southbound car ran off M-53, a half-mile north of Port Crescent Road, jumped a culvert, and crashed into a ditch bank. Injured were the driver, Terry G. Miller, 25, his brother, Eugene, 20, and a second passenger, George M. Barnes, 29.

The trio were taken to Huron Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe following the 7 p.m. accident, but all declined treatment and left.

Cass City police Thursday morning reported that Mary E. Horne, 49, of 4118 Seeger Street, eastbound in the alley south of Main Street, west of Seeger Street, stopped to let out a passenger.

Bonnie Brunner, 26, of 6472 Main Street, who was parked, then backed into the Horne auto.

Daniel L. Houghton, 23, of English Road, Deford, and his passenger, Edwin E. McCool, 22, of Rt. 1 Lander Road, Caro, sought their own treatment after a 9:25 p.m. accident last Thursday.

Houghton told deputies he was eastbound on Bond Road when his vehicle blew a tire as it was rounding the turn south of Arthur Road. The vehicle went off the curve and rolled over.

Two drivers escaped injury in an accident at 5 p.m. last Thursday. Deputies said Arlene C. Vanderpool, 19, of Caro, was southbound on Phillips Road when she collided with an eastbound vehicle as she attempted to turn left onto M-46.

Driver of the other vehicle was Etelene M. Terhush, 31, of Cemetery Road, Deford.

William Charles, 7, of Mayville, struck by a car in that community Oct. 26, was still reported in critical condition in the intensive care unit at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw Tuesday afternoon, where he has been since the accident.

Saturday afternoon, according to Cass City police, Robert A. Robinson, 20, of Vassar was westbound on

M-81 near Doerr Road, when the car he was passing started to turn left into a private drive and struck his vehicle. Driver of the car was Elizabeth J. Perlaki, 18, of Elmwood Road.

Katherine Miller, 22, of Pigeon, was injured at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday in an accident on Bay City-Forestville Road, east of Hurds Corner Road.

Sheriff's deputies reported she was westbound when her car slipped off the edge of the pavement. She lost control and the car hit a tree on the north side of the road.

Information wasn't available Wednesday morning on whether she was taken to a hospital or whether she sought her own treatment for injuries.

CAR-DEER

Deputies said Nelson Miracole, 40, of Shay Lake Road, Kingston, was westbound on Shay Lake Road, west of English Road, when his car struck and killed a deer. The accident was at 4:45 p.m. Friday.

Saturday night, according to deputies, a deer ran into the path of a car driven by Tyrone J. Allen, 19, of Flint. He was westbound on Deckerville Road, west of Cemetery Road.

At 6:22 p.m. Sunday, deputies said, Nancy C. Hutchinson, 34, of Rt. 2 Spencer Road, Cass City, was westbound on M-81, west of Schwegler Road, when a deer ran into her car.

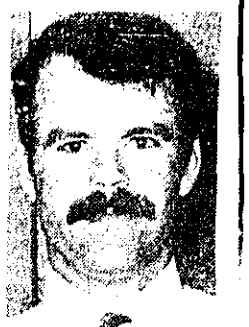

At 9:15 p.m. Sunday, Charles R. Kellison, 34, of Mayville, struck a deer while eastbound on Deckerville Road, west of Cemetery Road. Deputies investigated.

At 6:45 a.m. Friday, village police reported, Leo E. Tracey, 57, of 7663 Elmwood Road, was westbound on Elmwood when a deer ran into the side of his car.

PEDALING AROUND

Love among the cereal

By Mike Eliasohn

I came across a column in one of the metropolitan dailies of advice for single people. The person seeking advice in this particular column was a "fairly nice looking (though partially bald)" divorced man, 38, living in a "small town in the backwoods of Louisiana" who was having trouble meeting single women.

The man didn't care for trying to meet women in bars, and had "already tried the churches."

"All there is to do in the evening is to walk around in the grocery store and try to start a conversation with an attractive girl," he wrote.

Somehow, I've never thought of a grocery store as a place to meet women. It probably goes back 12 years ago to my sophomore year in college when I was working part-time in a supermarket.

I was still young enough then to be chasing "girls," not women, but I came to the conclusion that year that girls no longer went grocery shopping; they left that to their mothers.

So having never met a woman in a supermarket for whom I wanted to carry her groceries to her car, I cannot vouch for the following.

But for any bachelors out there who want to try to pick up women in a supermarket, I offer the following "lines" to try out. If they don't work, please don't throw any tomatoes at me:

"Excuse me, but is this low-priced margarine really better than the high price spread?"

"Does this cantaloupe feel a little mushy to you?"

"Do you think it's worth spending the extra money for a porterhouse steak or should I buy the T-bone instead?"

"Does the store-brand frozen orange juice taste as good as this brand name product, even though it's cheaper?"

"Have you tried any of those natural ingredient cereals? Personally, I think they're real good, even if they are expensive."

While looking in the attractive lady's grocery cart, "Say, I see you've got some of that new powdered drink mix" (or some other new product). "Is it any good?"

"These heads of lettuce sure are puny."

"I wouldn't buy those apples if I were you. Most of them are bruised."

"I see you're buying dog food. What kind of a dog do you have?" (If it's a German Shepherd, I wouldn't advise going to her apartment.)

"Boy, there sure are lots of kinds of cookies here."

"If we do it here, we'll get caught. How about coming over to my place and we can squeeze the Charmin?"

Women meet

Trinity United Women met Nov. 7 with 6:30 dinner served by Group 3.

The program was given by Beth Hatch. She then introduced Mrs. Naomi Vreeland, who spoke and showed slides of Red Bird Mission.

The business meeting was called to order by President Marion Keating.

The new slate of officers was submitted by the nominating committee and were elected. Installation of officers will be held in December.

There will be an open house at the parsonage Dec. 11.

Corn stocks more than double 1976

Stocks of 1976 corn in storage in the state were more than double that of a year ago, Oct. 1, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service. Wheat stocks were 31 per cent larger.

The old corn crop in all positions totaled 15.4 million bushels, 105 per cent more than a year earlier.

Nationally as of Oct. 1, 878.83 million bushels were in storage, more than double the 397.54 million in storage a year earlier.

Wheat stocks in Michigan totaled 33.8 million bushels, 31 per cent more than a year ago.

National wheat stocks totaled a record high 2.397 billion bushels, 10 per cent more than last year and 27 per cent greater than two years ago.

Ex-resident invents pipe leak shield

George P. Ferguson of Marlette, a former Cass City resident, has designed a shield for above-ground pipelines that serves as an outer hull and catches any oil that leaks from the pipe.

Especially good over rivers and lakes, the shield is a two-part sleeve which bolts to the pipe and encases it in a weatherproof and leak-proof housing.

He is now seeking a manufacturer for his invention. It is covered by a patent application pending in the U.S. Patent Office.

Ferguson's "Pipeline Leak Shield" is made of a hard and durable material such as steel, and it has brackets fitted into its inner surface. The brackets are bolted to clamps on the pipe itself.

Once in position, the shield will catch any leaking oil and direct it to a collection chamber. This chamber is wired to an alarm, and also feeds the oil to a reservoir, where it is stored until the leak is repaired. Ferguson's patent application also covers a special jacket that is used on joints, weak spots, and bends in the pipe.

A memorable experience for the entire family from SHIOKARI PASS. The power of Christian love in one life.

September milk production in the state totaled 403 million pounds, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, up 4 per cent from the previous year.

The number of milk cows increased 3,000 head as new heifers came on board in September to equal last year's 405,000 milk cows.

Per cow output of 995 pounds was 40 pounds above a year earlier.

Nationally, the 9,907 billion pounds of milk produced in September was 3 per cent above a year earlier and 9.2 per cent more than September, 1975. The production level for January through September was 2.4 per cent above the same period last year and 6.9 per cent above that in 1975.

The September milk-feed price ratio increased to 1.78 in September from 1.69 in August and 1.51 in September, 1976. The increase was generally due to higher milk prices and lower feed costs.

The 1.78 was the highest milk-feed price ratio since March, 1972, according to the reporting service.

Decker OES lists events

Decker Chapter No. 438 OES met Nov. 1 with 31 present. Worthy Matron Iva Rockwell presided.

The following activity dates were announced: Composite School of Instruction at Sandusky Nov. 22; Thumb Association at Huronia Chapter No. 81 Bad Axe Dec. 3, and gifts for Alma Masonic Home at Dec. 6 regular meeting, in lieu of gift exchange.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuscola county voters followed the National landslide vote ushering President Richard Nixon into another four years of office with a 69 per cent Republican vote, carrying all precincts and topping the national average of 61 per cent.

Greenleaf voters authorized liquor by the glass by a 154-101 margin, when about 85 per cent of the registered voters flocked to the polls to decide national, state, and local propositions.

Airman First Class Roger Reid, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. He is on duty at Ubon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Yvonne Erla was accepted into the Greek Sorority Sigma Phi Nu after taking final exams. She is a sophomore at Northwood Institute in Midland and a 1971 graduate of Cass City High School.

Robert Maki was delighted when he accepted a new racing bike from Russ Schneberger. The bike is a prize given in an anniversary celebration at Schneberger Furniture and Appliance.

TEN YEARS AGO

It was a quiet Halloween in Cass City. Although scads of kids were out trick or treating and gangs of older youths were on the streets, there was no malicious damage to property.

Tuscola County Sheriff Hugh Marr announced that a deputy, Bruce Tail, of Caro has joined the department. The new officer will work in the office of the department during a training period.

The snow came earlier this year than it did in the past. A fairly heavy blanket covered the Thumb, but was quickly dissipated. Last year the snow lasted for several days, and swamped service stations with winter changeovers and wrecker calls.

Cass City posted its best tax collection record in history this week when it was reported to the council that all but $118.30 of a total of over $68,000 due has been received.

The work of Lynn Atwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Atwell, was judged the best of many outstanding window paintings for Halloween, by students, according to Chamber of Commerce.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The county followed the National trend in the election to give Dwight D. Eisenhower an overwhelming majority in the balloting. Following a familiar trend, Tuscola county went solidly Republican.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Tuckey hosted a celebration for their parents' silver wedding anniversary. An open house was held for friends and relatives.

A polo case of a student in the Wilmet School caused authorities to close the school for an indefinite period of time.

Harold Perry, 4-H club leader, announced that Cass City will hold a sheep show. The show will be a preview of the sheep that will be shown at the Annual Junior Livestock Show in Detroit. About 70 sheep are expected to show.

James P. Wilson and Richard Wald are completing their AF basic airman indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force."

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Cass City High School Band will be performing at the high school auditorium. The band is preparing a popular and patriotic concert and the program has been arranged in a unique fashion so as to give everyone the best program yet, promoters say.

Thirty-two relatives and friends were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Doerr in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. The couple have four children.

The Post Office Department now is starting the most gigantic task in its history -- the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world.

When the deer hunting season opens, many hunters of Tuscola county will be in the woods of northern Michigan for the opening of the 15-day deer hunting period. Several parties have left for the woods and many others are expected to leave soon.

Playing hard and consistent football, the local Red Hawks beat down the stubborn Bad Axe team, 15 to 7, at Bad Axe.

Area horse course set in Marlette

Basics of horse selection and health management will be featured at seminars scheduled in four Michigan communities by the Michigan State University animal husbandry department.

"The series will provide anyone interested in buying a horse the guidelines necessary for proper maintenance, but veteran horse owners will also find useful information," says Dr. Richard Dunn, MSU extension horse specialist and course coordinator.

The closest seminar series will be at Marlette High School Jan. 16, 23, 30, and Feb. 6, 13.

Registration is $10 for each person for all sessions. The first session in each location is from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Thereafter, classes will run from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The first meeting looks at buying a horse, either for breeding or pleasure riding.

The next meeting examines equine nutrition. The third session delves into horse diseases and parasites. Segment four covers breeding and foaling. The final session consists of basics in horse first aid, providing owners steps to follow until the veterinarian arrives.

The shortcourse is being coordinated through the local county Extension office where the sessions are being held. Details may be obtained from the Sanilac county extension office in Sandusky for the course in Marlette or by writing to Dr. Richard Dunn, extension specialist in animal husbandry, MSU, East Lansing 48824.

Heart unit information center open

The Michigan Heart Association, Thumb Area Heart Unit, has opened a Heart Information Center at 121 W. Grant Street, Caro.

When fully staffed by volunteers, the office will be open to anyone, Monday through Friday.

Michigan Heart is a non-profit health agency, supported in part by the United Way. The volunteer unit in Caro offers programs and literature free of charge, to all residents of Huron, Tuscola, and Sanilac counties.

Purpose of the agency is to reduce premature death and disability due to heart and cardiovascular disease.

More than half of the deaths every year in the Thumb area are a result of some form of heart disease. Heart disease, strokes, and atherosclerosis will kill more than 39,000 Michigan residents in 1978.

Volunteers are needed to carry out programs in high blood pressure screening, CPR, nutrition, fund raising, and information and referral services.

Anyone interested in volunteering their skills and services a few hours a week, may contact the Heart Information Center Tuesday, Nov. 15, from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. by calling 673-7707.

AROUND THE FARM There is an energy crisis

By Don Keblor

I wish to devote most of this article to the subject of energy as I view it from various educational meetings and from the same mass media of newspaper, radio and television.

My first awareness to a supposed energy problem occurred in early 1976 while attending an educational workshop on this subject. I say a supposed energy problem because at this time I couldn't immediately comprehend such a problem was possible, let alone the long range impact it would have on human beings worldwide.

It was hard to believe, because after the shortage of gasoline during 1973, I was again able to have all of this fuel I wanted and in some places at less than '73 prices.

I was next brought back into believing there was a big possibility of an energy problem after hearing another presentation at the Tri-County Corn-Forage Day last December near Cass City.

However, I still wasn't 100 per cent convinced and hypothesized on two opposite reasons why I was hearing energy problem stories. One reason could be we really and truly have entered into an energy problem era. The other was this is a pre-fabrication for the benefit of the fossil fuel industry to increase their profits through higher prices.

Two weeks ago I attended our annual extension service training and education conference. More than a full day was information on the energy situation, problems and conservation.

During these presentations I came to these conclusions. There is a world energy crisis with us now. Our known and estimated world supply of fossil fuels is rapidly running out. Techniques to delay the depletion of these fossil fuels and later provide a source of replaceable energy through atomic wind, tide, shale, solar, etc., means have not been developing fast enough.

Lastly, why should the fossil fuel industry and our energy selling public utilities publicly urge us to conserve and use wisely the energy they sell if there wasn't an energy problem.

So now with all these inputs I do believe we and the world do have an energy problem and it's with us now.

Energy seminar at high school

by such means as rationing and tax incentives.

Because President Carter is advocating "kind of something in between," Connor said, he is "somewhat damned by everybody."

PANEL DISCUSSION

An obvious advocate of the market approach during the panel discussion that followed Connor's speech was Duane Cohoon of Farmers Petroleum Co-op.

He said U.S. Geological Survey studies show there is still petroleum to be found. In the short term, "I don't believe the U.S. is running out of oil, what is happening is we're running out of cheap oil."

"The oil is available," he exclaimed, "but at what price and will the federal government get off the backs of private industry and allow it to be developed at any price?"

Clay Mitchell of the Detroit Edison Co. pointed out that developing new sources of energy can take 30-40 years.

Generation of electricity consumes 25 per cent of the energy consumed in the U.S. today; that is expected to increase to 50 per cent by the year 2000. Reasons for the increase include use of electric cars and switching from natural gas for industrial purposes to electricity.

To generate the increased electricity will mean more nuclear energy and burning of coal.

To double the use of coal in the next 10 years, Mitchell pointed out, will require the opening of two new mines every month and building 8,000 locomotives, 150,000 coal railroad cars and creating 130 new barge lines to haul the additional coal generated.

Robert Jarow, representing Southeastern Michigan Gas Co., said the company is confident of having enough natural gas to supply all of its customers through 1981, and beyond that for homeowners and small businesses, leaving industrial supplies as the question mark.

"What it will cost is an unknown factor," he added.

Among the firm's 54,000 customers are ones in the Kingston and Cass City areas.

QUESTIONS

Asked by Tuscola County Extension Director Bill Bortel, "What can people do to meet the crisis?" Cohoon responded, in the short run, increase the energy supply, and also, "encourage conservation in every way we can." Connor cautioned that it is necessary, both as individuals and communities to "look down the road 10 to 20 years" when considering energy matters.

That led to the next question from the audience -- if the four experts were building a new house, how would they heat it.

Jarow declined to speculate and Cohoon half-seriously suggested building an underground house. Connor said natural gas but added more important is how the house is built in terms of such things as insulation, heating controls, and types of appliances.

Mitchell said people are choosing the less-efficient but cheaper alternatives over the more-expensive but more-efficient models, such as with air-conditioners.

Another question concerned exotic energy alternatives. Mitchell commented that it can take 30-40 years to develop some alternatives and their development won't be cheap.

He added, optimistically, "I have the eternal confidence we can do whatever we need to to get the job done."

After the formal program, there was an opportunity to meet individually with the speakers and other representatives of the utility firms and extension service to ask about energy and means of energy conservation.

In addition to those firms already named, also represented were Consumers Power Co. and Thumb Electric Co-operative.

SENIOR PLAY—"Hail, the Hunkering Hero" is the title of the Owen-Gage High School senior play to be presented Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Gagetown gym. Those appearing in the five-act comedy include, clockwise from left, Terry Shanks, Dawn Erickson, Tim Lorencz, Deb Lenda, Marie Gremel and Janet Menzel.

Tyson sentenced to life in state prison

Gregory M. Tyson, 26, of Saginaw, was sentenced to life in prison Monday by Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements on a charge of armed robbery.

He was sentenced to the State Prison of Southern Michigan in Jackson and credited with 217 days served in the county jail. The life sentence does not preclude him from being some day released from prison on parole.

Tyson pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 4, in connection with the robbery of a Vassar township woman in her home April 2, 1977.

The judge Monday granted a prosecution motion to dismiss charges of criminal sexual conduct (1st degree) and conspiracy to commit breaking and entering in connection with the same incident.

Tyson pleaded guilty to the armed robbery charge, in exchange for which the prosecution agreed to ask for dismissal of the other two charges. All sentences are served concurrently in Michigan so even if he had been found guilty of the other charges, he would not have served additional time in prison.

A Vassar couple was found guilty by a circuit court jury Oct. 27 of charges in connection with the incident.

A headline in the Nov. 3 Chronicle incorrectly indicated both were found guilty of aiding him in the robbery. Only one was. Augusta C. Bables was found guilty of aiding and abetting an armed robbery and entering without breaking an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny. Jewel Swinton Jr. was only found guilty of the entering without breaking charge. He was found innocent of the aiding and abetting charge.

Not all of the trial dates were correct in the story. Jury selection took place Oct. 19, 20, and a half-day on Oct. 25. The trial began in the afternoon of Oct. 25 and continued through Oct. 27, with the jury returning the verdicts that evening.

In other cases Monday before Judge Clements:

David E. Vollmar, 29, of 1340 Cameron Road, Caro, stood mute to a charge of obstructing, resisting, opposing, and assaulting a police officer. A plea of innocent was entered and a pretrial hearing scheduled Nov. 21. Bond was continued.

Vollmar is charged in connection with interference with Deputy Richard L. Blakely Sept. 29 in front of Vollmar's house while the deputy was trying to issue a traffic citation to another man for not having license plates on his trailer.

Patrick A. Lintner, 18, of 5611 Fairgrove Road, Fairgrove, was placed on two years' probation for larceny in a building. He was fined $150, assessed $250 court costs, and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail, credited with one day served.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 11 in connection with an Aug. 24 break-in at Akron-Fairgrove High School.

David Rutherford, 17, of 4329 S. Pinkerton Road, Vassar, was placed on two years' probation for conspiracy to commit larceny under $100. He was fined $100, assessed $200 court costs, and ordered to pay restitution of $501.25 for damages to Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad property.

He was charged in connection with an incident April 1 in Fremont township.

Charges of possession of phenylcyclidine against Rosemary L. Novack, 19, of 5704 Deckerville Road, Deford, were dismissed on the recommendation of the probation department.

She was arrested March 29, 1976 in Novesta township and pleaded guilty to the charge Sept. 27 of that year. Judge Bagley delayed sentencing one year last November, with the defendant to meet certain conditions, including not violating any laws and receiving counseling from the Tuscola County Substance Misuse Center.

County board okays $3.2 million budget

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved a 1978 county budget calling for expenditures of $3.23 million.

The budget, approved unanimously, is identical to the one given preliminary approval Oct. 18.

The only two persons to ask questions about the budget were county Prosecutor Patrick Joslyn, who thought his $24,000 salary should be higher and the county should pay his bar association dues, and Register of Deeds John Marshall, who was concerned about a reduction in one line item in his budget.

The prosecutor, who spoke in the morning instead of at the afternoon budget hearing due to other business then, didn't get what he wanted. Marshall was told he can shuffle funds from one line item account to another if necessary.

The new budget calls for spending about $525,000 more than the county will spend this year. It depends on using up the expected $427,960 left over at the end of this year plus $170,428 in federal revenue sharing and about $120,000 in federal anti-recession funds for the county to maintain a balanced budget next year.

With tax bills scheduled for mailing at the end of this month, county Equalization Director Don Graf reported on what percentage each taxing unit will be getting. Out of the total to be paid in property taxes in the county, schools will receive 72.41 per cent; county (including the one mill for bridges), 14.57 per cent; townships, 6.54 per cent; intermediate school district and special education, 5.37 per cent, and drains, 1.11 per cent.

Bids, opened Saturday, were accepted for the first steps in construction of the new county animal shelter.

William Cragg of Fairgrove, the lower of two bidders at $3,225, was awarded the bid for a pump and drilling of a water well.

Charles Vaughn of Caro, the only bidder, was awarded the bid for installation of a septic system. His bid was for $1,195, but on the recommendation of the health department, will install additional septic field tile at a cost of $261.

The board is scheduled to review plans for the shelter with architect Louis Deming Nov. 15 and then authorize advertising for bids.

James Miklovic, clerk for the county Road Commission, appeared before the board to present it with a letter responding to recent criticisms of the agency.

Part of the letter said the commission has requested that the Department of State Highways and Transportation perform an audit of the agency.

The board authorized expenditure of $1,000 for renovation inside the prosecutor's office to better accommodate the recently added assistant prosecutor, and gave permission to the Caro Interfaith Committee to put a Nativity scene on the courthouse lawn. Reappointed to a three-year term on the Social Welfare Board was L.C. Draper of Millington.

Milliken asks SBA for disaster status

Gov. William G. Milliken said last Thursday he has asked the Small Business Administration to designate Huron, Saginaw, Sanilac, and

Tuscola counties disaster areas due to "prolonged, serious drought and other natural disasters occurring during 1976 and 1977."

He recently made the same request of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Milliken wrote the SBA that, "The drought-caused losses have been compounded by extreme wet weather in August, September, and October, which, in many areas, has prevented harvesting of field crop losses estimated at $21,374,996. It now appears that many farmers will have no crop harvest this year."

"Because of the serious economic losses sustained by affected farm operations and agriculturally-related businesses in these four counties, I am requesting a Small Business Administration disaster declaration be issued, under your statutory authority, so the benefits of low-interest loans can be extended to eligible victims of this disaster."

The SBA disaster designation would make long-term, low-interest loans available to home and business owners in the affected counties.

The agriculture disaster designation, requested on Oct. 20 for the same four counties, would entitle eligible farmers to emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

By county, Milliken estimated that about 2,500 farmers in Huron were affected, along with 2,400 in Saginaw, 250 in Sanilac, and 1,100 in Tuscola.

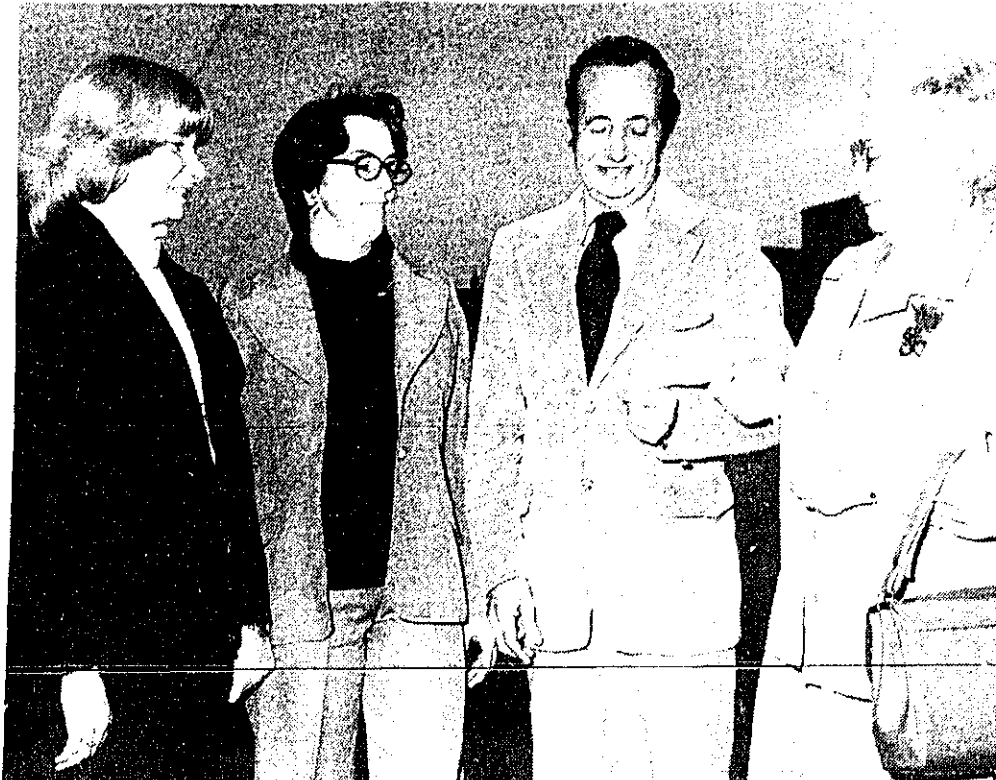

An estimated 82,250 acres of land have been affected in Huron county. Acreage affected in Saginaw was set at 85,500; Sanilac, 37,500, and Tuscola, 68,000.

Dry bean crops suffered the largest estimated loss, with Huron county's dollar figure greater than the other three counties combined.

Dry bean damage in Huron was set at $8,866,240, compared to $3,225,750 in Sanilac, $2,600,235 in Tuscola, and $2,131,800 in Saginaw.

Huron county also suffered an estimated $99,000 loss in oats and $392,175 in hay for a total of $9,377,415.

The loss figures were not all compiled at the same time, however, and are not necessarily up-to-date.

AIDING THE HANDICAPPED -- Grant Glaspie, president of the Tuscola County Association for Retarded Citizens, received a check for $2,000, proceeds of the annual rummage sale at the Wisner United Methodist church. From left are Carol McBride, the sale chairman; Norma Bernia, United Methodist Women president; Glaspie, and Marie Thompson, UMW treasurer.

Group for retarded citizens gets $2,000

The Tuscola County Association for Retarded Citizens (TCARC) has received a check for $2,000, proceeds from the sixth annual rummage sale at the Wisner United Methodist church.

Accepting the check was association President Grant Glaspie, Cass City postmaster.

The sale, held Oct. 20-21, was sponsored by the United Methodist Women at the church.

Making the presentation were rummage sale chairman Carol McBride; UMW President Norma Bernia, and Marie Thompson, UMW treasurer.

Glaspie said the money will be used for recreation and activity programs for mentally handicapped adults in programs at Cass City, the CASH (Cass Area Services for the Handicapped) Workshop in Caro, and the Caro Regional Center.

TCARC, started in 1960, has 76 active members, most of whom are either parents of retarded persons or work with them. Glaspie said there are approximately 2,500 mentally handicapped persons in Tuscola county.

The association meets the third Thursday of each month in the Intermediate School District building on Cleaver Road.

Family memberships are $6 per year. Interested persons are invited to attend the meetings or can contact Mr. or Mrs. Glaspie at 672-2363.

This month is National Retardation Month.

Phone company sets improvements

General Telephone customers in 23 Thumb area exchanges will benefit from the company's $3.5 million service improvement and expansion plans for 1978, according to Bob Kowalski, northeastern division manager for the company.

Included are projects in Cass City and Kingston.

Kowalski said the $3.5 million program will provide for local and long distance telephone service growth and expansion in the Thumb.

The service area includes Huron, Lapeer, Macomb, St. Clair, Sanilac, and Tuscola counties.

"Virtually all of our customers in those 23 exchanges will benefit by either the local or long distance equipment additions and, in many cases, by both," he said.

The 1978 program represents an average additional investment of more than $85 for each of the 42,154 telephones served in the area, Kowalski said.

One project in Cass City is installation of central office dial equipment providing 200 additional lines to provide for exchange growth. Total cost of the project, which has already started, is $18,200.

Total cost of installing added long distance circuits to Saginaw will be $19,000. Of that, $1,700 will be spent next year, with the project to be completed in 1979.

The costliest local project is installation of a second long-distance cable between Cass City and Saginaw. Already underway, the project is scheduled for completion in 1979 at a total cost of $44,400.

In Kingston, specialized equipment will be installed to record central office equipment usage information and transmit it to a data collection center for daily analysis. Total cost is $11,900, of which $2,100 will be spent next year. It will be completed in 1979.

Already started and scheduled for completion next year are additional long distance circuits to Saginaw at a total cost of $13,600.

Christmas seals start campaign

The 1977 Christmas Seal campaign officially opens this week in Tuscola county.

About 413,000 letters distributing the child-designed holiday seals are in the mail for Michigan residents.

"Contributions to Christmas Seals are the primary source of funds for the Michigan Lung Association, an educational organization in its 70th year of service to Michigan with a well-known track record in tuberculosis control," said Ms. Faith Hinton, president of the Saginaw Valley Regional Board.

This year's goal for Tuscola county is $10,260 which includes mail income, such as Christmas Seal dollars, and special events. The goal for the Saginaw Valley Region of the Michigan Lung Association of which the county is a part is $165,015.

Christmas Seals are used to fight the increasing number of lung diseases -- emphysema, bronchitis, asthma, occupational lung disease, air pollution, and smoking.

For instance, the Michigan Lung Association instructs health care professionals in the most up-to-date treatment of lung diseases and sponsors breathing clubs to help lung patients cope with their physical and psychological problems.

Once again this year the Christmas Seals were designed by kindergarten through third graders, one from each state and territory of the United States. Michigan's Seal is the work of Cindy Goodson of Benton Harbor, who drew her Santa with bright blue eyes when she was a second grader.

Reduce Your Heating Bills 60%-70%

We have the ULTIMATE FIREPLACE
You can heat your home with this unit and still see the fire.

FUEL...any solid fuel-wood, charcoal or coal.

INSTALLATION: Very inexpensive. No costly masonry work is required. The fireplaces may be connected to an existing chimney or, in the case of a one-story building, the chimney can go directly through the roof. A Metalbestos chimney, or its equal, is recommended for use in this instance.

EFFICIENCY: Be stingy! It takes but little wood or charcoal to give glowing, uniform comfort. It burns so efficiently that ash removal is measured in months and years-not days. The ceramic fireplaces are guaranteed not to burn out-ever!

TOP BANANA -- George Rolston decided to try growing some banana squashes this year for the first time. The result was several big squashes, of which this 40-pounder was the biggest. It was harvested the last week in October. Rolston lives on Van Dyke Road, about three miles north of M-81.

Cooklin on fair board

George Cooklin of Cass City and Robert Nowland of Caro were recently elected to the Tuscola County Fair Association board of directors.

They replace Clarence Merchant and Walter Goodall, both of Cass City, who declined to seek reelection.

Reelected to new terms were Lorraine Tobias of Akron and Devere Rohlfs, Frank Altizer and Junior Vandemark, all of Caro.

All officers were reelected: Walter Jackson, Caro, president; Percy R. Gram, Caro, vice-president; Waldo Garner, Vassar, secretary, and Junior Vandemark, treasurer.

The 1978 fair will be July 31-Aug. 5.

Due at least partially to public dissatisfaction with the poor condition of the rides at this year's fair, the board decided not to renew its contract with Happyland Shows, which provided the rides for several years.

It voted instead to sign a contract with Vinson Amusement Co. of Fort Meyers, Fla., which operates the rides at several Michigan fairs. The firm is promising new equipment for the 1978 fair.

Regular Meeting of Village Council

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held October 25, 1977 at the Municipal building at 7:00 p.m. All Trustees were present.

Bids as advertised for 1977 L.P.W. Street Project were opened. The low bid was received from Frank Strausberg and Son, Saginaw, Michigan, for $417,645.58. After examination of the bids an award will be made November 1, 1977 at 7:00 p.m. at the Municipal building.

A motion was made by Trustee Hampshire and supported by Trustee Jones to authorize payment of 90 percent of the FHA Industrial Development Grant in the amount of $41,614.03. Motion carried, 6 yeas, 0 nays.

Bids were taken on soil borings to be taken at the Wastewater Treatment Plant in regard to the Step II Wastewater Treatment grant. A motion was made by Trustee Bliss and supported by Trustee Ware to accept the low bid of $2,040.00 from Michigan Testing Eng., Flint, Michigan. Motion carried, 6 yeas, 0 nays.

The minutes of the regular September meeting were read and approved.

After discussion a motion was made by Trustee Bliss and supported by Trustee Jones to adopt the following resolution:

Whereas written requests have been made to the Village Council of Cass City by William McKinley and Ashley Root for the vacation of the following described alley in the Village of Cass City:

Commencing at the NE corner of Lot 1, Block A of Kelland's Addition to the Village of Cass City, Section 33 town 14 north, Range 11 East, Elkland Township, Tuscola County, Michigan, thence South 8 rods, thence East 2 rods, thence North 8 rods, thence West 2 rods to point of beginning.

which alley lies between property wholly owned by William McKinley on the East and Ashley Root on the West; and

WHEREAS, it appearing that said platted alley is not being used as such, and nor does it benefit adjacent properties so as to require its preservation as a public alley in the Village of Cass City.

NOW THEREFORE, Be it Resolved that the Village Council deems it advisable to vacate, discontinue and abolish said alley pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, and for the purpose does further resolve that the Clerk shall give notice that a public hearing will be held on November 29, 1977, at which time this council shall meet and hear objections thereto, if there be any, and after which time it will take final action on this vacation petition. The Clerk shall cause said public notice of the place, the time of said meeting, along with a copy of this Resolution, to be published in the Cass City Chronicle in each of three weeks consecutively prior to the date of the hearing. Motion carried roll call vote, 6 yeas, 0 nays.

Ziehm gets DAR award

Roger Ziehm, a senior at Owen-Gage High School, has been named a recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution good citizenship award.

The senior class nominated him and three other nominees, Dawn Erickson, Tim Lorenz, and Janet Menzel, for the honor. Ziehm was selected by the high school faculty for the award.

His selection was based on the following four qualities of good citizenship: dependability, which includes cooperation, truthfulness, loyalty, and punctuality; service, including cooperation, courtesy, and consideration of others; leadership, which includes personality, self-control, and the ability to assume responsibility; and patriotism -- stressing unselfish loyalty to American ideals.

Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ziehm of Owendale.

His school activities included participation in football and other sports, sports editor for the school newspaper, and being in the senior play cast.

Two vehicles stolen

Deford man charged in Saturday shooting incident

John A. Male, 63, of 5683 Bond Road, Deford, faces a District Court pretrial hearing Dec. 6 on two charges of careless use of firearms, in connection with a shooting incident Saturday afternoon.

As of Tuesday afternoon, he was still being held in the Tuscola County Jail in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Jan M. Nickens of 4088 S. Kingston Road, Kingston, told state police in Caro he and Joseph Swierczynski of 1146 S. Kingston Road, Deford, stopped at the Male mobile home because he was supposedly giving away a dog.

When they asked what breed the dog was, Male asked about their education and said they should know what breed it was. He then went into his mobile home and Swierczynski suggested to his companion they should leave.

As they were driving away, they heard the sound of shots being fired.

They drove to Charlie's Market in Wilmot and called police. Male then drove up. Nickens said, got out of the car and started chasing him. He grabbed Male so he couldn't hit him, then ran to the latter's car and took the keys so he (Male) couldn't drive away.

After troopers arrived, Male took them to his mobile home and gave them the rifle involved, a 30-30 carbine. In the weapon, officers found one spent cartridge and two live rounds. In the driveway, they found six spent cartridges.

Male was arraigned before District Judge Richard F. Kern, Monday, who set bond.

The Deford man is charged with two counts of reckless use of firearms, one count specifically charging him with aiming at Nickens, the other with not using "due caution for the rights, safety, and property of others."

STOLEN VEHICLES

In what sounded like a repeat of two incidents a few weeks ago in which five vehicles were stolen, two vehicles were stolen Wednesday, Nov. 2.

The incident apparently "started" when Lapeer county deputies arrested a Lapeer man, wanted on three felony warrants, and found he was driving a stolen pickup truck.

The truck belonged to Randy L. Tomlinson of Fifth Street, Mayville. Called at 5:30 a.m., his father, Laurence Tomlinson, said he didn't realize it had been stolen. The truck, with the keys in it, was taken some time after 8 p.m. Nov. 1 from the Tomlinson driveway.

At 7 a.m., deputies on patrol on Mertz Road (M-24) in the Mayville area discovered a 1977 car in the ditch. When the sheriff's department called the owner, William L. Cooper of Van Dyke Road, Marlette, it was discovered his car had been stolen.

Both thefts are now being investigated by the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department.

OTHER ITEMS

Robert L. Purvis of Rt. 1 Froede Road, Deford, told sheriff's deputies early Saturday that he and his family were gone from 5:30 p.m. Friday to 12:30 a.m. Saturday.

They returned to find thieves had broken into their house.

Taken were a Quasar 19-inch color television, $400; AM-FM portable radio, $20; cassette tape player, $20; air compressor, $200; Honda generator, $500; and McCulloch chain saw, $140.

Michael W. King, owner of the Auto Haven in downtown Kingston, told Caro state police early Oct. 30 that the previous day's receipts, $325 in cash and checks, were stolen from his house on Ross Road while he was gone that evening.

The money and checks were in a Kingston State Bank money pouch. He said it was the seventh time he has been robbed.

Terry Compo of 3540 E. Cass City Road reported to deputies early Friday that his car was broken into while parked from 1-4:15 a.m. at a restaurant at M-24 and M-46. A rear door window was smashed to gain entrance.

Taken were a tape deck, $33; speakers, $45; two tape holders, $13; and 40 cassette tapes.

Mrs. Marlene Parrish of 6305 Houghton Street told Cass City police Saturday morning that during the night, someone splattered blue-green paint on the side of her house that couldn't be removed.

Richard Erla of 4633 Huron Street reported last Thursday night that someone had driven through his yard, almost hitting the house and tearing up the lawn.

Missionaries to speak on Sunday

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Morse, missionaries to Kenya, Africa, will speak at the Deford United Methodist church Sunday, Nov. 13. Dr. Morse will be present for the 9:30 a.m. worship service, the 10:30 a.m. Sunday School hour and will show slides at the 7:30 p.m. service.

Dr. and Mrs. Morse serve with World Gospel Mission, an interdenominational sending agency with 335 missionaries and homeland staff laboring in 18 areas of the world. International headquarters is in Marion, Ind.

Dr. Morse is a graduate of Harvard University and of Tufts Medical School, Boston. During his second year at medical school, he began to attend Park Street church, where the preaching of Dr. Harold Ockenga aroused his interest. At about the same time, he attended the Boston Billy Graham Crusade and there invited Christ into his life. Through contacts of the crusade, he was introduced to the Christian Medical Society.

At a medical society meeting, some of the members who had been missionaries with Paul Carlson in the Congo discussed the work in which they had been involved. Dr. Morse decided he would like to visit a mission field in Africa. The Christian Medical Society provided for him a list of mission hospitals on that continent. From the list, Dr. Morse chose Tenwek Hospital sponsored by World Gospel Mission. During the summer of 1965, he served on the medical staff at Tenwek.

While there he wrote, "I have never been so completely happy in my life." He was appointed missionary doctor to Kenya in 1967.

Jan. 23, 1968, Dr. Morse married Miss Betty Hiles, a teacher at Kenya Highlands Bible College, also sponsored by WGM. The Morses established their home at Tenwek and have two children, an eight- and a four-year-old.

Dr. Morse and Dr. Ernest Steury, co-workers at Tenwek Hospital, last year ministered to 5,200 inpatients. The two doctors performed 962 minor and 267 major operations, and delivered 633 babies. Through the influences of missionaries and an African chaplain, 2,800 of the patients accepted Christ.

Mrs. Morse has helped in the women's work of the area, and has accepted speaking engagements in secondary schools and district meetings. She has taught English classes at the hospital. During their furlough year, she will be unable to travel with Dr. Morse in speaking engagements, because of the children's schooling.

Township garage discussed

The Novesta Township Board Monday night discussed but took no action on the possible building of a township garage.

The garage would be used to house equipment for the cemetery and roadside maintenance. It would replace a small storage building located in the township cemetery.

The plans presented called for a 30-by-40-foot cement block and steel structure.

Also discussed was whether present insurance policies provide adequate coverage for the township.

Arrangements were made to have a section of dilapidated sidewalk along Decker-ville Road on the east end of Deford removed. The work will be done by the Tuscola County Road Commission. There are no plans yet to have a new sidewalk installed, according to Township Supervisor William C. O'Dell.

Craft Club to meet

The Deford Craft Club is to hold its monthly meeting Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. It will be held at the Novesta Church of Christ hall.

This month's projects will be pine cone candle rings or felt door knockers.

The hostesses are Mary Ellen Pratt and Vi Patera.

BRIEF BRIGHT moment for followers of the Hawk football team came in the second quarter when Clarke Haire dived over from a yard out to score. Almont ran roughshod over the Hawks 53-8.

Owen-Gage loses final; sees big year in 1978

The long, long bus ride to Alcona High School seemed even longer coming back as the Owen-Gage Bulldogs lost their final game of the season Friday night, 18-16.

The trip each way was about 3½ hours and coach Arnie Besonen felt that was a factor in his team's loss. "Our offense couldn't get going because they were flat from the long ride," he said afterwards.

The team bus and spectator bus returned to Owendale about 2:30 a.m. Saturday. Alcona High School is about 30 miles south of Alpena.

The non-conference contest was the final football game for seniors Roger Ziehm, Dave Fritz, Billy Parker, Tim Lorenz, Dick Hartman, and Dave Burrows. Fritz had to sit out most of the season after breaking his clavicle in the Oct. 1 game at Caseville.

The Bulldogs finished the season 6-3, with two of the losses being in non-league play, the 30-0 season opening loss against Class C Goodrich and the Friday night loss to Alcona. The only loss in North Central D League play was Oct. 21 against Akron-Fairgrove, which relinquished the Bulldogs to second place in the final league standings.

"Lack of experience took its toll during key situations throughout the season," Besonen said after the final game.

Looking ahead to the 1978 season, he said, "We lose only two starters next year and have an experienced team to build from. Roger Ziehm, our quarterback, will put a big hole in the offense, which sputtered throughout the season, and Billy Parker will be missed on offense and defense."

Alcona started scoring in the game, with Larry Gifford scoring on a nine-yard run in the first quarter. The point after touchdown attempt failed.

In the second quarter, Dave Sterner scored for the home team on a one-yard run. The PAT attempt was unsuccessful.

The Bulldogs got on the scoreboard when Ziehm intercepted an Alcona pass and ran 26 yards for the touchdown. Tom Howard kicked the extra point.

Gifford scored again for Alcona in the third quarter on a two-yard run. The PAT attempt failed.

Also in the third, Bulldog Mark McDonald tackled the Alcona kicker as he was attempting to punt out of his end zone, which gave the visitors a two-point safety.

The final points came in the fourth quarter, with Ziehm scoring on a 21-yard run and Howard kicking the extra point.

Owen-Gage led in offensive yardage in the game, 287 to 185. Both teams made 11 first downs.

On the ground, the Bulldogs carried the ball 35 times for 200 yards. Top rushers were Ziehm, 11 carries and 97 yards; Howard, 12 for 43 yards, and Brad Erickson, seven for 37 yards.

Gifford was top man for Alcona with 34 carries and 104 yards. Total offensive gain was 159 yards on 56 carries.

Ziehm passed nine times, had six completions for 87 yards, and one interception.

The receivers were Dick Glidden, four times for 60 yards gained; Mark Sontag, one for 15 yards, and Jeff Hallock, one for 12 yards.

Alcona's Rick McGregor passed three times, with two completions, both caught by Dave Sterner for 26 yards gained. McGregor had one interception.

On defense, Mark McDonald made 15 tackles for Owen-Gage, followed by Jeff Hallock with nine and eight each for Brad Erickson and Tim Lorenz.

Phil Kruttlin led the Alcona defense with 12 tackles.

Owen-Gage fumbled three times in the game and was penalized five times for a loss of 75 yards.

Alcona fumbled once and was penalized nine times for 86 yards.

LOTTERY WINNERS -- It may be blank now, but Don Stilson, owner of the Colonial Inn on Main Street, and waitress Angie Dysarz will soon be looking at a check for $10,000 -- minus $2,000 deducted beforehand by the Internal Revenue Service. The two put in $5 a week to jointly buy state lottery tickets at the restaurant and bought an instant lottery card on Oct. 25, that won the $10,000. It was the first lottery winner for both of them.

At Almont

Grid year ends dismally, 53-8

The best thing about the final football game last Friday between Almont and Cass City as far as Cass City fans were concerned, is that no one was injured.

After you've said that you've said it all. The Raiders qualified for the State playoffs this Saturday against Saginaw SS Peter & Paul by rolling over the Hawks, 53-8.

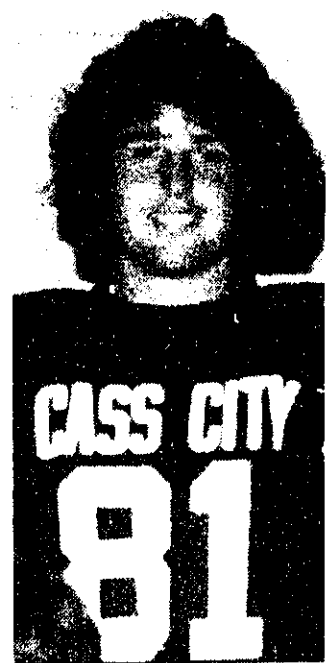

It was a bad night all around for Cass City. Despite the lopsided score the game was not as one-sided as the final score indicated.

Cass City fumbled once on the four-yard line and runs of 56 and 80 yards for touchdowns by Clarke Haire were called back by penalties.

But the pulverizing ground game of Almont was too much for Cass City to stop. A big bruising line opened gaping holes in the Hawk forward wall and the Almont backs romped almost at will.

The winners rolled up a huge 454 yards on the ground. Almont took the opening kickoff and rolled in to score.

SHANE FRENCH
Red Hawk of Week

Coach Roland Pakonen has named Shane French as the Red Hawk of the week. Shane moved into the defensive line and did a creditable job for the Hawks.

He was credited with four tackles. In addition he did a yeoman's job of punting. He boomed 3 punts for 71 yards in the face of heavy pressure.

The first marker was netted by a 56-yard run by Laseke. The yardage came on straight power through the middle.

Almont rolled to two more touchdowns on straight power. Laseke capped a sustained drive with a one-yard plunge and Davis went into the end zone from two yards out to score.

In between the two markers, Cass City had a touchdown called back and scored one that counted. With Haire picking up yardage on the ground and as a pass receiver and Rick Hollis catching key passes over the middle, the Hawks moved to the one from where Haire dived over for the score. A pass from Jeff Hartel to Haire was good for the extra two points. That ended Cass City's scoring.

Almont went with their regulars to the end, scoring on a 10-yard run (Muir), a 7-yard dash (Laseke) and a 61-yard run (Morris).

The final marker came in the final 30 seconds of the game as the winners tried a tricky halfback pass in an attempt to run up the score. It was successful as Richards took the leave all alone and scored on the 75-yard play.

Cass City blew a chance to score in the fourth quarter. That's when senior lineman Ross Ridenour was moved into the backfield for a play so that he could end his career by scoring. Unfortunately, he fumbled and Almont recovered.

Haire led Cass City's rushers with 144 yards in 19 carries. Hollis caught 8 passes for 118 yards.

Scott Richards made 6 solo tackles and one assist, while Ridenour had 5 solos and 3 assists.

The statistics:

	CC	Alm
1st downs	15	11
Rushes	31	55
Rush yds.	219	454
Pass att.-comp.	29-12	8-3
Pass yds.	145	99
Total yds.	364	553
Penalties	162	62
Fumbles lost	2	1

Bulldogs run streak to 14

The Bulldog express keeps rolling along.

Owen-Gage coach Judy Campbell saw her girls' basketball squad run its record to 14-0 last week with victories against Akron-Fairgrove and Port Hope.

The Vikings could have tied with the Bulldogs for top spot in the North Central D League had they won Tuesday night, Nov. 1, but came out on the short end, 66-44. The game was played in Owendale.

Top scorer for the Bulldogs was Laurie Andrakowicz with 22 points. She also was tops in rebounding with 26. Tammy Wissner was next highest scorer with 10, followed by Mary Lenhard, Carol Goslin and Becky Howard, all with eight.

It was the first varsity game for freshman Howard, who was moved up from the reserve squad. She was second high rebounder with 12, followed by Lenhard with 11.

Karen Harrington was top rebounder for Akron-Fairgrove with 11.

Owen-Gage had a total of 59 rebounds to 37 for the visitors.

The Vikings won the reserve game, 21-16.

At Port Hope Thursday night, Owen-Gage was the winner 60-25.

Shooting 77 per cent from the floor, Mary Lenhard was top scorer for the victors with 21 points.

Carol Goslin had 16 and Becky Howard, 13.

Paula Eilber was top scorer for Port Hope with 8.

Owen-Gage led in rebounds, 44-32, with Mary Lenhard grabbing 16. Becky Howard had 10.

The Bulldogs' top rebounder, Laurie Andrakowicz, sat out the game to rest her two sprained ankles from the Akron-Fairgrove contest.

Port Hope won the junior varsity game, 21-17.

This week, Owen-Gage had a bye on Tuesday night. The Thursday night contest in the Owendale gym will be mothers' night, with the mothers of the players being honored.

The Tuesday, Nov. 15, game is at Caseville.
