

Dish gets too hot to pass

It may have been a first for the Elkland Township Fire Department -- a burning dish catching on fire, or at least causing lots of smoke.

Firemen were called to the Calvin MacRae residence, 4834 N. Seeger Street, at 10:20 Sunday night. Fortunately, their services weren't needed.

According to Mrs. MacRae, a plastic dish in the dishwasher fell through the rack onto the heating element and started smoking. She hadn't unloaded the washer yet when she first noticed the smoke, which eventually filled two rooms of the house.

After some searching by her husband and the first fireman at the scene, Dave McNaughton, a neighbor, the cause of the smoke was located. The fire truck which arrived a few moments later wasn't needed.

A fire Saturday afternoon in Ugly caused an estimated $30,000 damage.

The fire was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lemke on Union Street. The cause wasn't immediately determined.

Ugly Fire Chief Elmer Brahmer said fire, smoke, and water damage caused the estimated $30,000 loss.

Mrs. Lemke and her son were home when the fire started in a bedroom. Brahmer said she threw two pails of water on the fire but by the time she returned with a third pail, the fire was out of control.

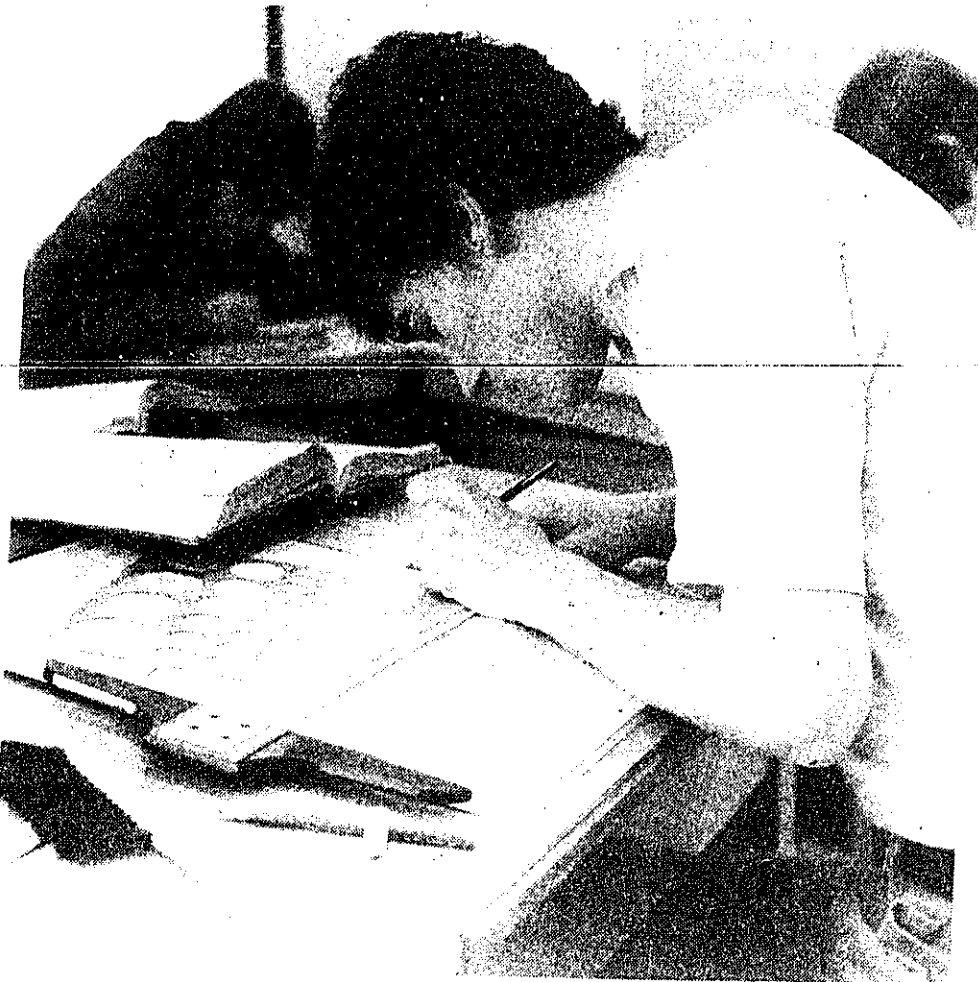

Firemen were at the scene about two hours.

Windshield stewed by tomato

Can a tomato break a windshield? According to a Wauseon, Ohio, truck driver, who found out the hard way it can.

Sanford R. Eash, 42, told Tuscola deputies Feb. 8 that he was driving his semi southbound on M-15, south of Millington, at 11:15 p.m. when a car and pickup passed him. The occupants of the vehicles were "horsing around" and someone threw a tomato, which broke the windshield of his truck.

Deputies said there was evidence of a tomato on Eash's windshield.

Vo-ed courses touch many Cass City students

This week, Feb. 13-19, is National Vocational Education Week.

That has special meaning for the several hundred students in the Cass City High School who are enrolled in vocational education courses.

The school has four local programs and is involved with seven shared time programs with other districts.

The shared time program allows students to go to other school districts to take vocational courses not offered by Cass City. The programs are commercial art, auto mechanics, cosmetology, nursing aide training, health occupations, child care, and building trades. Thirty-six Cass City students are enrolled.

Home economics has about 150 students in grades 9-12 taking part.

The introductory course, two semesters, is in the ninth grade, and covers such topics as family living, child development, clothing, food and nutrition, home management, health, and safety.

Advanced courses, one semester each, are textiles and clothing, foods and nutrition, consumer economics, and housing and home furnishings. For juniors and seniors who haven't taken any of the previous courses, plus those who have and want advanced study, there is advanced comprehensive home economics, a two-semester course. Kathleen Jackson is the home economics teacher.

The vocational agriculture program, taught by Lyle Clarke, is a four-year program. The first year it covers general livestock and crop production; second year, farm mechanics, and third and fourth years, soils, crops, livestock, and feeding. About 90 students are enrolled. Clarke also teaches an auto mechanics class.

Office courses, taught by Thomas Woody and Richard Carroll, consist of business training, bookkeeping, personal typing, secretarial typing, and shorthand. More than 300 students are enrolled.

An advanced office course, the two-hour a day vocational office block, taught by Woody, has 18 juniors and seniors enrolled.

The course begins by reviewing various office skills, such as bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, and machine transcription.

This leads to creation of a mythical corporation office, in which the students are divided into various departments and work as closely as possible to actual job situations.

Ninth graders can take an introductory industrial arts class, which covers wood and metal working. David Hoard teaches that and a second year devoted entirely to woodworking. The first semester is devoted to carpentry, with students building model houses. The second semester involves cabinet making. About 150 students are enrolled in the woodworking and industrial arts classes.

After the year of woodworking, those who choose to do so, and five have this year, can enroll in the building trades program in the Unionville-Sebewaing Area Schools. The students in the one-year program are presently building a house in Sebewaing.

Drafting courses are taught by Daniel Derfny. Following a year of introductory drafting, students can take from 1-3 years of mechanical or architectural drafting. He has 144 students.

Two of Derfny's students are presently employed through the cooperative education program in the drafting department at Walbro.

The cooperative education program places juniors and seniors in part-time jobs throughout the community. They are evaluated by their employers. Coordinated by Wayne Dillon, about 130 students are involved in the program.

Owen-Gage board decides to take $150,000 state loan

By Mike Eliason

After much deliberation, the Owendale-Gagetown Board of Education Monday night authorized requesting a $150,000 loan from the state.

And indicating dissatisfaction over progress with the new high school building, it voted to withhold a $6,500 payment from the coordinators for the project until after meeting with them Thursday.

The state legislature authorized the loan to the district last November, contingent on an audit of the district's finances by the state treasury department, which has now been completed.

That being done, the board had to formally request the loan which it ultimately voted unanimously to do Monday.

Supt. Ronald Erickson warned the board that the legislation authorizing the loan authorizes the state Board of Education to reorganize the district should the (Owen-Gage) default in repayment of the loan.

The district has three years to repay it, at six percent interest.

Board attorney James F. Schouman of Dearborn, told board members, "It seems to me it's a matter of prudent management you're faced with."

The loan will provide a contingency, for instance, should a township treasurer refuse to turn over property tax revenues owed to the district because of a legal dispute and the district then has to go to court to get it, he explained.

An unanswered question at the meeting was how the treasury department, in establishing the need for the loan, arrived at the projected deficit as of June 30 of $148,984.

The budget approved by the board in October projects the district breaking even at the end of the fiscal year (June 30), with the district having enough to pay off its outstanding debt ($87,753).

The treasury department audit projects Owen-Gage will still have that to pay off plus an additional deficit of $61,231.

The total of $148,984 will be reduced to $74,614, according to the department, if the Goslin parcel taxes of $74,370 for 1977 are received by Owen-Gage, instead of by the Cass City district.

Owen-Gage is expecting to receive the money, even though the state Supreme Court has ruled the parcel is now part of Cass City, because it appealed a lower court ruling prior to the setting of the final tax roll in 1977, thus the parcel was still part of Owen-Gage when the roll was set.

The treasury department accounts for most of the rest of the deficit in two areas, school administration, budgeted at $80,300 and projected by the department at $115,000 for the year, and operation and maintenance of the school buildings, budgeted at $78,360 and projected at $116,163.

After the meeting, Erickson said he was unable to account for the differences between the budget and audit figures (other than the matter of the Goslin parcel taxes) but said unless the district is forced to spend "unreasonable" legal fees, will finish the year in line with the original budget.

Steve Smaka, treasury department auditor who performed the Owen-Gage audit, told the Chronicle Tuesday that estimated legal fees accounted for the difference in the amount budgeted for school administration and the amount projected in the audit.

Monday, February 20th, is a Legal Holiday in Michigan - observing Washington's birthday. All banks will be closed. The Pinney State Bank, Cass City State Bank, Based on the amount spent in the first five months of the fiscal year, $18,060, plus conversations with the district's attorneys, it was projected legal fees for 1977-78 could run as high as $50,000. Only $18,000 was budgeted for 1977-78.

For building operation, the auditors took the amount spent in 1976-77, $97,406, and added five per cent to that. Smaka, who wasn't in Lansing where the audit documents are kept, recalled the rest of the discrepancy concerned a federal reimbursement the district was counting on but which the auditors felt it wouldn't get.

Although the district spent $97,406 for operation and maintenance of plant in 1976-77, it only budgeted $78,360 for this year by making various cuts, mainly in the amounts to be spent for repairs and maintenance and capital outlay.

Board upset with school progress

The Owen-Gage School Board Monday night voted to withhold a $6,500 payment from the coordinators for the high school building project until it meets with them at a special meeting Thursday night.

Dissatisfaction was expressed about the work being done by Construction Coordinators, Inc. (CCI), of East Detroit, which is coordinating construction of the new high school classroom building and gymnasium, plus conversion of the present gym into a cafeteria.

Board members were upset that the bid for construction of the building foundations was let Jan. 12 and work was supposed to be completed in 30 days. As of Monday, work hadn't even started. It was supposed to begin this Wednesday.

Demolition of the old high school building, which was supposed to take 30 days last fall, took about three times that.

"They should have gone ahead two months ago," exclaimed board member Jack Laurie. "I'm just sick of that outfit (Construction Coordinators)."

Part of the difficulty is because the bid for the Board may request $80,000 from voters

The school needs study, completed by a committee of 12 with Supt. Donald Crouse, has been completed and was presented to the board Monday night at its regular meeting.

It is likely that the district will ask the voters for some $80,000 to implement some of the high priority items next year.

That won't do everything that was suggested but appears to be all that the board feels is feasible.

The tentative plans call for a renewal of the .9 of a mill now voted for one year for the addition to the elementary school.

That way the board could go to the voters and say that no increase in taxes would be asked.

And that would be true. It would be a renewal of the tax but not for the same purpose. It would also be a tax much of which would become a continuing expense, unlike the building tax that is for one year only.

If the additions to the curriculum became permanent, the tax would necessarily have to become permanent also.

It was estimated that the .9 of a mill would probably buy the following programs: High school remedial reading teacher.

Intermediate public address system.

Elementary librarian.

Vocal and instrumental teacher.

Intermediate clock system.

New furniture at Campbell and Evergreen, cupboards at Deford.

Additional audio-visual equipment at the high school.

In addition to these four, other high priority items were listed but not included in tentative plans because the .9 of a mill would not cover the costs. They include: additional aide at Evergreen or more help at lunchtime; bus road to high school; person to specialize in Federal programs, and shades at Intermediate and Evergreen schools.

While the board sailed through the school needs report, it was stymied trying to write guidelines covering money making projects at the school.

What Supt. Crouse wanted was guidelines covering the sale of tickets by groups during the school hours. It's been before the board for two months now and is still no nearer to passage. The stickler is how do you write a guideline that keeps out persons you want to bar and lets in groups that are deemed okay. There were no acceptable answers suggested Monday.

GIFTED PROGRAM

President Geraldine Prieskorn represented Cass City in a meeting to explore a program in the county for gifted children.

She said that Millington now has a program and Mayville is researching a program. There are Federal funds available for the program and she feels that a county-wide survey is needed.

ASSESSMENT TESTS

Counselor Jerry Cleland presented the results of the State assessment tests given to 4th, 7th and 10th grades. The grades were all above the state average.

The board also agreed to raise the salary of substitute teachers who come from Saginaw and Bay counties by $4.00 per day. It is hoped that the school will be able to get qualified teachers with the added payment.

The teachers from the neighboring districts will be used when qualified substitutes from the area are unavailable.

In a meeting closed to the press and public it was decided to appoint John Haire to the bargaining committee for the school if no contract settlement is reached with the Tri-county Bargaining Association after the group meets with a mediator.

County nixes vacation time for 'snow' absences

Due to a 3-3 vote Tuesday, the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners defeated a resolution that would have restored a vacation or personal leave day to county employees who used them Jan. 26-27.

The courthouse was closed those two days and employees who chose to do so could count those days as vacation or personal leave days in order to get paid.

Otherwise, the only employees who were paid were those who showed up Thursday, Jan. 26, only to be told the courthouse had been closed. Under the contract between the county and union that represents the courthouse employees, they were paid for four hours.

The employees have been critical of the way pay was handled for those two days.

Members of the union, the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees Chapter 11 met after work last Thursday to discuss their complaints with their union representative, Rick Kloor.

According to union President Carol Beecher, there were two main complaints. Two janitors who worked for a few hours Thursday shoveling snow were paid only for the hours worked. Employees who showed up Thursday and then went right home were paid for four hours without working.

Second was the matter of overtime for employees who couldn't make up for the time lost during regular working hours the next week.

Employees who came in Saturday and worked, Mrs. Beecher said, were paid overtime. Those who worked extra hours past closing hours during the following week to make up for the lost time were not paid overtime, even though it was approved by their supervisors.

That, she said, is in direct violation of the union contract, which specifies employees working more than 37½ hours per week must be paid overtime.

The union president said its representative, Rick Kloor, is supposed to be requesting a meeting with county Personnel Administrator Jackie Larson and any commissioners who want to attend to discuss the matter.

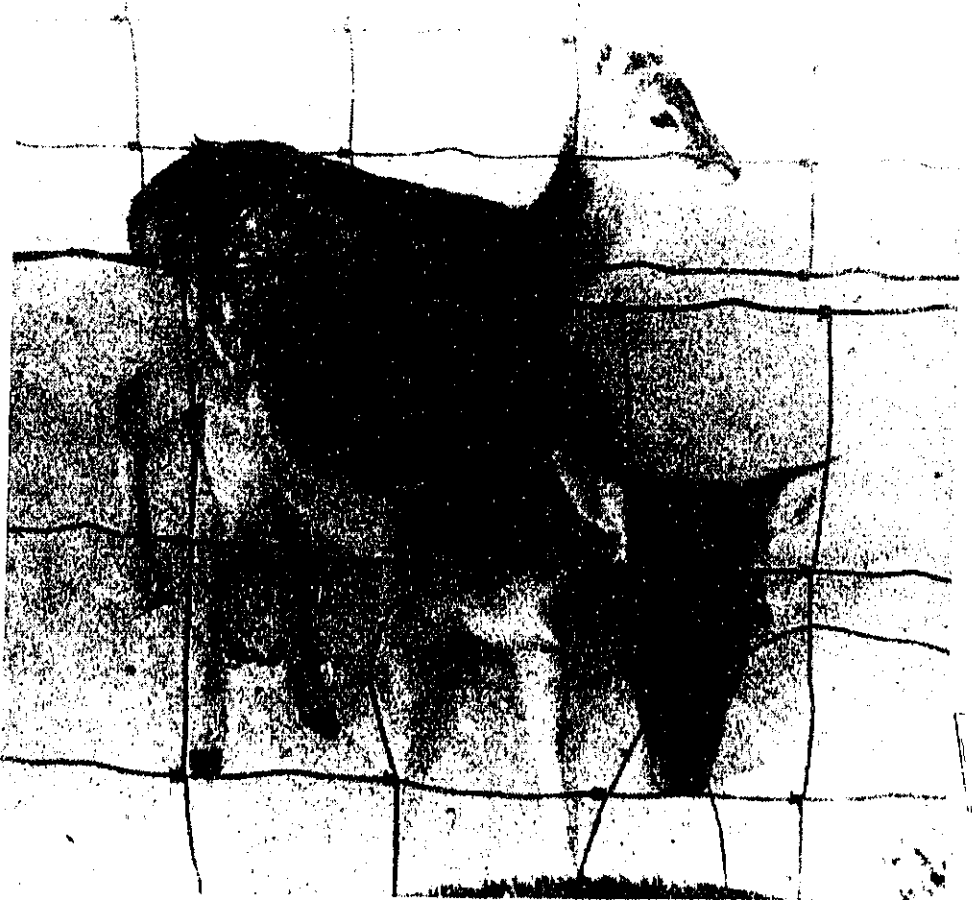

As of Wednesday morning, Mrs. Larson said she hadn't been contacted by Kloor.

On the issue of the janitors working Thursday, she said in accordance with the contract and after consulting with commissioners, they were paid for the time they worked - not the time they worked plus four hours.

Employees who worked overtime during the next week, she said, weren't paid immediately because they all worked in one department and the department administrator was on vacation, so she couldn't verify the overtime authorization. As soon as she can do so, she said, the employees will be paid for the extra time worked.

In other action before the county board Tuesday, it

Peace bill massacred

By Jim Fitzgerald

Remember State Rep. Jackie Vaughn's bill which would require that public schools teach kids something about peace? Forget it.

As any fool could have predicted (and I did), lunkhead legislators amended the bill beyond recognition. Vaughn has now pulled it back into committee, and not a day too soon. The way his opposition was inserting dumb clauses into his peace bill, Vaughn would soon have found himself the chief sponsor of a bill declaring World War III and forbidding battlefield abortions.

Originally, Vaughn's bill would have amended the current school code to include this paragraph: "Time shall be devoted in the public schools within this state to teaching the pupils kindness and justice to, and humane treatment of, human beings and the teaching of peace as opposed to war. This teaching may be through readings, stories, narratives of daily incidents, or illustrations taken from personal experiences."

It was last October that I wished Vaughn (D-Detroit) luck with his bill, but offered him no hope. I knew the organized veterans of numerous wars would oppose the bill as a communist plot aimed at weakening our national defense. Not many legislators want to offend the American Legion.

The most offensive phrase was "the teaching of peace as opposed to war." Wasn't it possible to say something good about peace without saying something bad about war? Much to Vaughn's dismay, the phrase was deleted before the bill left committee. So now the bill required that teachers teach the virtues of peace without comparing them to the horrors of war. This makes as much sense as teaching a kid to swim without telling him he'll drown if he sinks.

Another amendment requires pupils must not be taught kindness unless they're also taught "patriotism to one's country."

Certainly, children must learn there are limits to kindness. "My country, right or wrong." A true patriot must be cautious about treating foreigners kindly, otherwise this nation might run out of enemies and we'll be stuck with several warehouses full of kindness and nowhere to use it.

It would seem reasonable for Rep. Vaughn to ask why a class in peace should include instructions on how to salute the flag. Certainly it is glorious to be patriotic, and to fight for one's country, but hasn't this subject been pretty well covered in every American history course taught since 1776?

If students in a peace class are required to learn what made General Patton great, soldiers should spend part of their basic training learning how to turn the other cheek from Quaker sergeants.

Ridiculous? You ain't heard nothin' yet. Wait until you hear what Reps. Thaddeus Stopczynski, D-Detroit and John Engler, R-Mt. Pleasant, wanted to do to Vaughn's bill.

They wanted to insert a line requiring that the peace course include "the subject of fetalogy."

Fetalogy? The word isn't listed in the biggest dictionary in my office. But the first five letters tell it all. Fetal.

Stopczynski and Engler wanted an anti-abortion amendment to the peace bill.

I guess they figure that kids should be taught that peace begins in the womb. It is equally logical to suggest that pro-abortion propaganda should be part of a karate class.

In the face of all this foolishness, it isn't surprising that Vaughn asked that his crippled bill be returned to committee, probably never to be heard of again.

"It is regrettable," he told me, "that these ludicrous and ridiculous suggestions and attitudes will continue to have a negative impact on the young minds of our children and that war, not peace, will continue to dominate the thinking of the current generation."

Chalk up one more win for the lunkhead legislators.

Icy roads cause several minor accidents in area

Numerous minor accidents were reported in the county during the past several days, with icy or snow covered pavement usually being a contributing factor.

Peggy L. Dillon, 21, of 4691 Jacob Road, Cass City, escaped injury Saturday afternoon when her car struck a semi-truck tractor.

Caro state police reported she was southbound on Remington Road, north of Darbee Road, and struck the tractor unit of the northbound semi as it was turning right into a driveway.

Driver of the semi was Timothy R. Hartman, 26, of Caro.

Feb. 7, at 12:10 p.m., the cars of Dorothy M. Campbell, 62, of 5560 Bond Road, Deford, and Stephen L. Agar, 17, of 5965 Shabbona Road, Decker, collided in the Charming parking lot.

Cass City police said the Campbell vehicle was entering the lot and the Agar vehicle was exiting it when the collision occurred.

Friday in Cass City, police said a bakery truck failed to yield while southbound on Maple Street and collided with the car of Leveret A. Barnes, 81, of 4208 Sherman Street, who was eastbound on Garfield.

Driver of the bakery truck was Willard J. Dobbs, 55, of 4234 Maple Street.

At 11:55 a.m. Saturday, according to village police, Dawn S. Krizman, 16, of 6798 Houghton Street, while eastbound on Main Street, attempted to stop for the red light at Seeger Street.

Her car skidded on the icy surface into a car parked by the south curb, owned by Demott F. Coggins of 2407 Van Dyke Road, Cass City.

A two-car collision was reported at 4:30 p.m. Saturday on Kingston Road, south of Denhoff Road.

Deputies said Charles A. Smith, 58, of Silverwood, was southbound and swerved to the left to avoid hitting a car coming from the drive to Kingston Hills.

The driver of the other car, William J. Leenhouts, 23, of 4202 S. Kingston Road, Kingston, tried to cross the road to avoid the approaching car and the two vehicles collided at the east edge of the road.

Cass City police reported at 8:27 p.m. Sunday that Charles H. Richardson, 18, of Mayville, was eastbound on M-81, west of Greenland Road, when the left front wheel came off and that corner of his car dropped to the pavement.

Manford Osborn, 68, of Rt. 1 Mushroom Road, Deford, was cited by deputies shortly after noon Monday on a charge of failure to yield right of way.

Officers said he was backing out of his driveway and backed into a westbound car driven by Francis A. Hund, 64, of 4482 Queen Street, Uly.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

For the first time in several years I may be sitting in on the bargaining sessions between the Cass City School District and the Tri-County Bargaining Association which represents Cass City teachers.

I was appointed by the board Monday night to serve if the upcoming session with a mediator proves unsuccessful.

I'll be a member of the board team, but I won't participate in any of the decisions. What it means is that the dispute between the two parties will be aired for the taxpayer.

In addition to the obvious, important reasons for reaching accord, I now have another. Covering these sessions is among the most tedious and time consuming tasks there are.

I'd guess that more than 80 per cent of the readers of this trivia can tell me who Jimmy the Greek, the odds maker, is and what he does.

Quick now, tell me his last name. Did I stump you? It's Snyder.

North Branch, the new member of the Thumb B Conference should be a compatible member of the league. Of the three schools that expressed interest, it was probably the most centrally located.

My choice for a new member would have been Unionville-Sebewaing Area Schools. However, USA evidently is happy where it is and didn't apply.

Add Stanley Kirm to the list of guys who won't be all unhappy when retirement time comes around. The day he's eligible is the day he's done as a mailman, he told me one day recently.

Kirm may be ready to retire but he doesn't look like he should be ready. Maybe there is something to be said for all that walking?

We have no way of knowing whether it is a record or not, but Fred Periso of Deford brought in a very big egg Tuesday.

Around the middle it measures seven inches and was about twice the size of the ordinary eggs he brought with it. It weighed four ounces, as compared to two ounces for the normal eggs.

The giant egg came from Periso's small flock of about a dozen birds.

Two plead guilty in vehicle thefts her late husband, Kenneth, when the truck was taken.

Circuit Judge Allen E. Keyes accepted Wendall's plea and remanded him to the county jail to await sentencing.

Ronald A. Clyne, 18, of 261 Kingston Road, Deford, pleaded guilty in connection with taking a used car Feb. 1 from a Bad Axe dealership for a test drive and then failing to return it.

He was arrested later that day in Caro by a Tuscola county sheriff's deputy.

Judge Keyes accepted his plea and remanded him to jail to await sentencing.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

In one issue of a metro daily this week there were two cases of inadvertent poisoning that made the news.

One involved an Ohio family suffering from what one doctor calls fluoride poisoning from the discharge of the chemical in the air, supposedly from a nearby plant.

The other stemmed from a malpractice suit against an Atlanta doctor and the use of Laetrile to cure lung cancer. These cases keep occurring and reoccurring.

Regardless of how these two are resolved, it's not likely that it will have a diminishing effect on similar cases in the future.

Coupled with the never ending list of foods that are suspect or banned because of possible health hazards, it's no wonder that most of us are bewildered.

It's almost like the little girl who yelled wolf once too often. We hear it so often we become deaf to the warnings.

It's not surprising to me that the patient treated with Laetrile by the Atlanta doctor died. But then when cancer strikes it is never surprising that it becomes terminal. The statistics concerning lung cancer and survival just aren't very impressive.

Since reading about the malpractice suit I've been trying to figure out how I would vote if I were a member of that six-man jury. The truth is, I just don't know. I have no faith in Laetrile, but I have little faith in alternative methods either.

Yes, I know that John Wayne and Arthur Godfrey licked it. Sometimes surgery works.

I don't buy "freedom of choice" in treatment of cancer either.

That leaves me no place to turn, I know. Except every so often you read of "break throughs" in treatment of one or another type of cancer.

Great. But when you digest the whole story, the new treatment is still experimental and years of testing are needed before it can be used as regular medical treatment.

That I can't understand. Let's assume the worst. The new treatment is an abject failure. The question I always ask myself is what does a terminal patient have to lose?

Several states have already legalized Laetrile.

I suggest that instead of spinning their wheels with laws like this they take steps to see that researchers are protected from civil suits and given the right to test "break throughs" on terminal disease victims without delay.

You don't have to be a medical genius to know that even the slimmest of hope is better than none at all.

PEDALING AROUND

$500.2 billion

By Mike Eliasohn

It's only $500.2 billion. The budget sent by President Carter to Congress for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1 is $38 billion more than the last one (prepared by the Ford administration). Combined with a proposed $25 billion tax cut to stimulate the economy and Uncle Sam will spend $60.4 billion more than it takes in.

If you say that is outrageous, I will agree with you. However, cutting the fat out of the nation's budget is much easier said than done.

For starters, $203 billion out of the total budget goes for Social Security, the separate retirement plans for the military, Civil Service, and railroad workers, Medicare and Medicaid for the elderly, and smaller programs to provide assistance for senior citizens.

Ten years ago, the cost for the above programs was only $46 billion and the ENTIRE federal budget was $201.7 billion. The number of elderly is increasing in this country, hence their share of federal dollars.

The military takes the next biggest chunk out of the proposed Carter budget, $117.8 billion.

Some liberals like to argue that we should cut back our military spending in favor of social programs, the implication being that defense spending doesn't create jobs but social programs do.

But building tanks, missiles, ships, etc., certainly does create jobs. There may be legitimate reasons to oppose their being built, but to argue defense spending doesn't provide employment while other government programs do is ridiculous.

Forty billion dollars of the Carter budget will go for paying interest on the national debt, a penalty from the many years of deficit spending.

Making it difficult to cut the federal budget is the issue of jobs, which along with fighting inflation, is probably our major national concern.

The federal bureaucracy now employs almost 2.9 million persons. The number of men and women in the military is slightly over two million. Probably another million are employed in federally funded emergency job programs, which were intended to end once the economy improved.

The nation's civilian labor force totals about 100 million, thus to end the emergency job programs would mean adding about one per cent to the national unemployment rate, which Congress wouldn't dare do even when the economy is in good shape (which it has been the last year or two).

Even ending or reducing the size of any regular government program means putting people out of work, which Congress isn't likely to do.

Add to that the fact that every member of Congress has his or her sacrosanct programs that "can't" be cut.

Senior citizens want more money, big cities want more, big business wants its tax breaks, teachers want more money for education, unions want more job programs.

Each of these groups and many more have their supporters in Congress, thus it becomes almost impossible for our national legislators to agree to eliminate anything.

I'll close with an item from the June 9, 1975 Newsweek, which no doubt still holds true today. Add up government employees (including those working for state and local governments, as well as national), military on active duty, disabled and unemployed, retired, and those on welfare, and there are more people being supported by tax dollars than there are providing them.

Back in 1975, there were 80,655,000 tax dependents vs. 71,650,000 non-government workers.

Grain stocks up greatly in past year

Stocks of corn, soybeans, and other grains as of Jan. 1 were considerably higher than they were a year earlier, both in the state and nationally, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

State corn stocks totaled 140.8 million bushels, up 41 per cent from a year earlier. Nationally, stocks totaled a record high 5.44 billion bushels, up 11 per cent.

Michigan wheat stocks totaled 26.1 million bushels, up 27 per cent from a year ago. In the U.S., 1.99 billion bushels were being stored, a 12 per cent increase.

Soybean stocks of 11.4 million bushels in Michigan were a whopping 124 per cent more than in storage Jan. 1, 1977. National stocks of 1.31 billion bushels were 27 per cent larger.

Other storage figures for Michigan crops were rye, up 11 per cent, and oats, 1 per cent. Respective national figures were rye, down 37.6 per cent, the only decrease, and oats, up 36 per cent.

County vocational center millage vote set April 25

Tuscola county residents will be asked April 25 to approve a 1.75 mill property tax levy for construction and operation of a county vocational educational center.

The action by the Tuscola County Intermediate School District (ISD) Board of Education Monday night setting the election date followed approval Feb. 8 of the state Board of Education of slightly more than $1.25 million in matching state funds for the project.

The election date must officially be set by the county election scheduling committee.

The grant of the state funds, which will pay half of the construction and site development costs and about one-fourth of the equipment costs, is contingent on voters approving the millage.

Cost of the proposed structure has been estimated at $2.8 million, including classroom equipment.

In addition to the state paying $1.25 million of that, if voters pay the rest, the state board also approved paying 25 per cent of the operating cost once the center is completed.

Of the 1.75 mills, according to William L. Pratt, ISD director of vocational and career education, 1.25 will go for operation and .5 for construction.

The bonds to pay off construction will be for six years, so it is anticipated after that that the ISD board will lower the millage. However, since it will be a charter millage, the board could continue to levy up to 1.75 mills.

If constructed, the center will provide job training for numerous occupations for students in the county's nine school districts.

It will have capacity for 836 students, half attending in the morning and half in the afternoon. They would take regular classes at their home high schools the rest of the day. Evening classes could be held at the center for adults.

Daytime classes offered would be auto mechanics and auto body repair; electrical occupations, drafting, child care, building trades, building maintenance, health occupations, accounting, office education, heating and air conditioning, machine shop, welding, food management, merchandising, graphic arts, and agriculture, including greenhouse cultivation and landscaping.

If the millage is approved

A large number of chemical weed-killers are now available. Selective control of weeds in crops may be obtained by either foliage sprays (post-emergence) or application of the chemical to the soil either as preplanting or pre-emergence sprays.

Preplanting and pre-emergence sprays are available for corn, potatoes, field beans, soybeans, sugar beets, sunflowers and alfalfa.

Preplanting sprays sometimes are applied to the weed before plowing (quackgrass).

Pre-emergence sprays are applied after planting but before the crop appears above ground.

Some advantages of pre-emergence herbicide applications are:

- (1) Generally better weed control than with post-emergence herbicides.
- (2) Less chance of damage to the crop, compared to post-emergence applications.
- (3) No weed competition to the crop with early control of weeds.
- (4) Weeds already controlled in cases where wet weather later delays cultivation or spraying.
- (5) Planting and herbicide application may be done in one operation.
- (6) In the case of corn, herbicides can be used which will not present a hazard to nearby 2, 4-D sensitive crops and plants.

Some disadvantages of pre-emergence herbicide applications are:

- (1) Pre-emergence applications are generally ineffective under dry soil conditions. Some pre-emergence herbicides are ineffective if dry conditions persist for only a few days; other herbicides may give weed control after as much as 10 days to two weeks of dry weather.
- (2) On sandy soils, heavy rains may leach the herbicide down to the germinating crop seed and cause injury.
- (3) Perennial weeds usually are not controlled by pre-emergence herbicide applications.
- (4) Planting operations may be slowed somewhat when herbicides are applied at planting time.

Post-emergence sprays, applied after the crop has emerged, are available for corn, small grains, small seeded legumes, potatoes, soybeans and sugar beets.

Post-emergence sprays have the advantage of use in emergencies since they are not applied until the weeds are up. They can be used on any soil type, and soil moisture conditions are not a problem. However, in some cases there is greater risk of crop injury.

Post-emergence sprays should not be applied when the plants are already wet with dew or rain. Post-emergence sprays are usually more effective (though also more injurious to the crop) at high temperatures.

The ester forms of 2,4-D are not recommended for post-emergence use on corn because they are volatile (producing vapors) and may injure the corn. The ester forms vary in volatility, and the possibility of injury to corn varies with temperature and humidity conditions. Post-emergence applications of 2,4-D ester in Michigan have resulted in increased stalk lodging and reduced yields in some years.

The amine form of 2,4-D is recommended for post-emergence use because it has little or no volatility and is least likely to damage the crop.

John Mika dies Feb. 9

John Mika of Decker died suddenly Thursday, Feb. 9, at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

He was born April 20, 1910, in Chicago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mika. He came to Shover from Chicago in 1917, when he was seven years old.

Little director

for county
pork group

Nearly 60 Tuscola county pork producers enjoyed an evening together at their annual get-together Feb. 8. After a buffet dinner, they had a short business meeting and election of officers for the county chapter of the Michigan Pork Producers Association.

The 1978 directors are Keith Little, Cass City; Willard Pezold, Millington; Terry Keinath, Reese; Robert Becker, Unionville; and Robert and Mona Reidel of Vassar. Mona is the chapter's Porkette director. Saginaw County Extension Director Norm Brown gave a slide presentation about his prior work as an agricultural extension advisor in Nairobi, Kenya.

Board okays

road payment

The Elkland Township Board Monday night approved a final payment due to the Tuscola County Road Commission of $2,547 for work done on Spence Road.

The board approved the payment after receiving assurances from the road commission that it will do corrections needed this spring. The elevation of the road in one place is too high, according to Township Clerk Carolyn Ware, and some shrubs need to be removed from roadside ditches.

The board also approved the election of township fire department officials recently elected by members of the department.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Fritz Neitzel has been fighting fires for 25 years. When the phone rings, he's ready. With a grin on his face and a hint of pride, Neitzel adds, "I guess I'm just an old-fashioned smoke eater."

Two students from the Cass City band participated in the annual Tri-County honors band. Selected to play were Jeanne Alexander, playing the flute, and Katherine Kloc, playing the bass clarinet.

The walls of the $1 million skilled nursing home under construction for Provincial House Inc. are about complete.

Edwin Karr of Cass City was named to serve on the 14 county regional planning group representing the Northeast Central Michigan District by the Tuscola County Commissioners.

Mike Schenk was second in a class of 29 who graduated recently from RETS school in Detroit.

TEN YEARS AGO

An open meeting for all area residents to discuss a possible new heated pool in the new addition to the Cass City Recreation Park has been scheduled Feb. 20, at the Cultural Center.

Sparked by a $20,000 donation from a Cass City couple who prefer to remain anonymous, Tyler Lodge No. 317 F&AM is steaming ahead with plans for a new building at the corner of Maple and Garfield Streets.

Thomas A. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kelly, is currently serving with the United States Army in Korea.

Cadillac Plastic and Chemical Co. named William D. Benkelman to the position of executive vice-president.

Allen Merchant was honored at a Lansing banquet in the Klein's Fertilizer Company's 150-bushel corn contest.

Bean Day Feb. 22 in Saginaw

Commercial bean growers from throughout Michigan will meet in the Saginaw Civic Center for Michigan Dry Bean Day, Wednesday, Feb. 22.

The day-long session is sponsored by the Michigan Dry Edible Bean Production Research Advisory Board. More than 20 Michigan State University crop specialists and bean industry representatives will present research and production reports.

Registration starts at 9 a.m. with educational programs beginning at 10 a.m. Among the topics discussed during the morning session will be disease control, increasing production, a look at new variety performance, and a survey on consumer use of beans.

Dr. James H. Anderson, dean of MSU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, will open the afternoon session with an overview of research needs for the industry. Other topics include the outlook for obtaining good seed, along with herbicide, tillage and crop rotation recommendations.

A special women's program features Janet Jacobson, MSU consumer marketing information agent, who will discuss bean market promotions, and Retha Hankey of the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, demonstrating how beans and beef go together.

There will also be a trade show featuring industries that serve bean growers. The displays will consist of machinery, chemical and fertilizer supplies, and information on credit and shipping services.

Andrakowicz heads Huron Big Brothers

Daniel G. Andrakowicz, 22, of Owendale, is the new director of Huron County Big Brothers-Big Sisters.

He replaces Arnold Barton, who served in the position for two years before resigning late last year.

The new director is the son of Joan Andrakowicz of Owendale and Stanley Andrakowicz of Schewaning.

A graduate of Owendale-Gagetown High School, he received a B.S. degree in biology from Central Michigan University in December.

He has had experience in working with county governmental agencies, hospital records, and in accounting. He is a qualified referee or umpire for basketball, baseball, softball, and track.

Andrakowicz' main task as director will be to match Big Brothers and Big Sisters with Little Brothers and Little Sisters in one-parent families.

According to him, "There are more than 500 boys and girls in one-parent families in Huron county. Many of them are in desperate need of friendship and guidance, which could be provided by an adult willing to fill the void caused by loss of a parent."

Fluoride treatment available

Topical fluoride applications will again be offered to Sanilac county children this summer, according to the Sanilac County Health Department.

The fluoride program, supervised by the Michigan Department of Public Health, will be made available to preschoolers three years of age and up, kindergarten, second, fifth and eighth graders and to special cases referred by dentists.

The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic. The child's teeth are cleansed on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth. The fluoride application only is then repeated during the three succeeding visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 per cent compared with the 65 per cent reduction obtained with fluoridated water.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program.

School children will receive their enrollment cards through their schools.

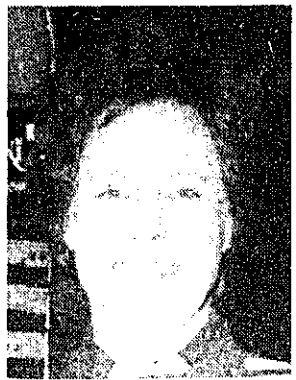

Parents may contact the health department at 648-2226 in Sandusky for a registration card for enrolling their preschool children.

A fee of $4 will be charged to cover the cost of operating the clinic.

Your Neighbor says

Unions okay for public workers

Should public employees be allowed to join a union?

"I don't see why not," said Sandi Sagash.

A recent nationwide Gallup Poll found 61 per cent of the respondents felt police should not be allowed to strike, 62 per cent opposed to firemen striking, and 51 per cent against teachers striking.

"I think they (public employees) have as much right to go on strike as anyone," Mrs. Sagash said.

"I think it causes a problem when policemen and firemen go on strike," she admitted, but still felt they should have the right to do so.

Mrs. Sagash is a clerk for the Thumb District Health Department in Caro, which is non-unionized, in contrast to courthouse and sheriff's department employees, who do belong to unions.

Her husband, Mike, is a mechanic for Kwik-Start in Caro.

The couple lives at 6608 Third Street, Gagetown.

Owen-Gage delays payment

Unhappy with firm

foundation specified it was to be below grade (ground level). CCI apparently came back and suggested the job be rebid, with the foundation to be poured concrete up to ground level.

The board voted to withhold a $6,500 payment due to the firm until after a special meeting with its representatives, plus architect Leslie Tinknell. The meeting was set for 8 p.m. this Thursday in the high school library in Owendale.

OTHER ITEMS

Erickson read a letter from the state Department of Education requesting up to date equalization figures for the Gremel, Elenbaum, Dietzel, and Miller parcels, prior to it holding property transfer hearings. The state board had suspended action on the transfer requests (and appeal by Owen-Gage on the Elenbaum parcel) pending resolution of the Gremel parcel case. The hearings will be held in the near future.

Elementary Principal Bill Britt reported on results of assessment tests given to fourth and seventh graders. The tests showed the Owen-Gage students above the state average in most of the tested for objectives in reading and math.

The board approved immediate hiring of an elementary teacher to teach third grade. Following retirement of second grade teacher Helen Roth in January, some reshuffling was done and it was thought the school could get by without a replacement. However, Britt said three more third graders recently were enrolled, for a total of 36 - 31 in the third grade class and five in a class along with 25 fourth graders.

The principal said some of the third graders need additional help. With the new teacher, there will be two third grade classes with 18 students in each one.

The board authorized paying the interest for employees who took out bank loans during the approximately three months of "payless paydays" and setting up a procedure to reimburse others for interest lost by those who had to withdraw bank savings.

Nancy Battisti was hired as a bus driver and tenure was granted to elementary teacher Doris Billy.

Named students of the month were Brenda Furness and Terry Shanks.

Horse bowl teams do well

Huron county's senior, junior, and novice junior horse bowl teams competed in the Southeast Regional 4-H Horse Bowl Contest in Hartland Feb. 4.

The senior team placed third and was named first team alternate to attend the state 4-H Horse Bowl Contest.

The junior team placed first and will participate in the state contest April 15. The novice junior team also placed first.

Members of the Huron county teams are:

Senior team -- Nancy Milton, Colleen McIntyre, and Tracy Farver, Bad Axe, and Jackie Elliott, Pigeon, Bay Port. Team coach is Dennis Gaskill, Owendale.

Junior team -- Amy and Shelly Nichols, and Tina Farver, Bad Axe, and Camie Gaskill, Owendale, while team alternate is Neil McIntyre, Bad Axe. Their coach is Mrs. Mary McIntyre, Bad Axe.

Novice junior team -- Fred and Kathleen McIntyre, Bad Axe, and Gina and Lisa Gaskill, Owendale, while team alternate is Brad McIntyre, Bad Axe. The coach is Mrs. Donna Gaskill, Owendale.

Services is now compiling the statewide figures to submit to the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration.

The countywide cost for the period due to the snow was $61,417, according to the emergency services coordinator.

That breaks down to $53,535 spent for overtime and equipment costs by the county road commission and local governmental units to clear roads, $6,788 by schools to clear parking lots and some other costs, and $1,094 for overtime for police and fire departments.

If the grant is received, Kroswek said, it will probably be for 90 per cent of the cost, with the recipients having to pay the remainder.

Asked how likely it is the grant will be received, he replied, "This is what we don't know."

Fed 'snow' funds still possible

Rejection by the federal government of a Michigan request for aid to local governments for snow removal costs isn't the end of the line, according to Tuscola County Emergency Services Coordinator Frank Kroswek.

The rejection Monday, he said, only covered a request for federal assistance to pay overtime and other non-ordinary costs for Jan. 26-27, the two big days of the snow storm.

Federal aid was made available for governmental units who hired outside contractors to help remove snow, which didn't apply in Tuscola as no outside help was needed here.

Still pending, Kroswek said, is an application by the state for aid for the period Jan. 26-Feb. 8.

County costs were sent to Lansing Monday and the state Office of Emergency HOME ECONOMICS -- A unit in Kathleen Jackson's housing and home furnishings class, part of the home economics program, is devoted to furniture refinishing and repair. Doing some refinishing work are, from left, Kelly Pobanz, Sharon Peters, and Kelli Winter.

LEARN BY DOING -- The lesson here being what parts have to be removed before the engine can be removed from the car. Auto mechanics class instructor Lyle Clarke is third from the left at the top.

WOODWORKING -- Using a router on what will be some doors for a corner cabinet is Ron Langmaid.

Bulldogs top Eagles after bid for title share fails

Owen-Gage piled up enough points in the first half Tuesday night at Caseville to stave off a second half surge by the Eagles to win 69-63.

The Bulldogs led at half-time, 40-25, but were outscored in the second half 39-29.

Owen-Gage had four men in double figures, Gary Goslin with 21, Roger Ziehm, 18, Billy Parker, 12, and Mark McDonald, 10.

Dan Fitzpatrick had an outstanding night for the Eagles with 28 points, followed by Bob Watts with 19 and Tom Osentoski with 10.

Fitzpatrick was also top man on the boards for the losers, grabbing 20 rebounds out of his team's total of 47.

The Bulldogs had 46 rebounds, with McDonald grabbing 13 of them and Parker, 11.

The final game of the season, Friday night at Kinde North Huron, should be a tough match for the varsity and reserve squads of both teams.

The Kinde varsity defeated the Bulldogs in the Christmas tournament, which didn't count in league standings. Owen-Gage won the first regular season contest.

Both the Owen-Gage and North Huron junior varsity squads have only lost one league game this season, so Friday's clash will decide the league JV championship.

The junior Bulldogs defeated Caseville Tuesday, 64-33.

Score by quarters:

O-G	16	24	12	17	69
Case	10	15	17	21	63

TITLE GAME

Fouls may have spelled the difference Friday night for Owen-Gage as it lost its chance for the North Central D league crown, losing to Carsonville-Port Sanilac 70-58.

The Tigers were 13-1 entering the contest while the Bulldogs were 11-2, which made it imperative for the latter to win to claim at least a share of the league championship.

Fouls hurt the Bulldogs in two ways. Starters Mark McDonald, Roger Ziehm, and Billy Parker all fouled out in the fourth quarter.

The excess fouls, a total of 24, also gave the Tigers more opportunities at the free throw line, which they took advantage of. The winners connected on 16 of 28 shots from the charity line.

In contrast, the Tigers made only 11 fouls. Of the Bulldogs' 10 chances at the charity line, they made six of them.

The first half of the game before the standing room only crowd in the Owendale gym made it look like it would be an easy night for the home team.

The Bulldogs led 21-12 at the end of the first quarter and 37-24 at the half.

The Tigers started chipping away in the third quarter, narrowing the gap to 47-40 at the end of the third quarter.

Taking advantage of the Bulldogs' seeming inability to put the ball through the hoop and stealing the ball away at other times, the Tigers continued to chip away and tied the score at 51-all on a free throw by Chuck Washe with about five minutes left. Carsonville then went ahead to stay.

From the floor, the Bulldogs connected on 26 of 81 shots for 32 per cent. The Tigers made 27 of 73 for 36 per cent.

Top scorers for the losers were Gary Goslin with 18 points; Ziehm, 14, and McDonald, 12. Prior to the start of the game, Ziehm was presented with a trophy from the Bay City Times naming him as the area's top Class D football player during the 1977 season.

Sophomore Jim Olesnavage had an outstanding night for Carsonville with 27 points and 21 rebounds. Mike Bayle had 20 points and Washe, 15.

The battle of the boards was close, with the Tigers grabbing 50 rebounds to 49 for Owen-Gage. Parker grabbed 12 of them and McDonald, 11, for the home team.

Owen-Gage won the reserve game, 76-40.

Laker shoot-out Friday

Hawks fly at Sandusky; fall to Garber rally

The Cass City Red Hawks experienced a cold shooting streak in the opening four minutes of the third quarter when host Garber scored 13 straight unanswered points.

The result was an 83-79 loss Tuesday to the Essexville quintet in a game that was close right down to the final wire.

It's sure that the Hawks can't have a similar point drought Friday if they expect to win the big game of the season at Laker High School.

Come early for that one or don't go at all. A sell-out is virtually a certainty. The game will decide whether or not Cass City can win a share of the Thumb B Conference title. A win places the Hawks on top with Lakers and probably Frankenmuth. A loss will virtually assure the Lakers of an undisputed crown.

The Hawks opened the game as if they were going to repeat their earlier victory at home against the Dukes.

They moved into a lead near the end of the first quarter on the shooting of Jeff Hartel who canned four quick baskets.

Things went smoothly until just before the half,

Garber was 10 points behind with less than two minutes left and rallied to cut the margin to just five points at the half.

In the third quarter it looked for awhile as if Cass City would never score again. The press caused numerous turnovers and Garber scored its 13 unanswered points to go from five behind to seven ahead.

Cass City regrouped and started to chip away at the margin.

Although they never went ahead again they moved back into a tie for the lead with a little over three minutes left.

But Garber made the crucial baskets and with a three to five point lead went into a control ball offense.

It worked because the Dukes were tremendous under pressure from the foul circle.

Ahead by two points Garber converted nine of 10 free throws to ice the victory.

Cass City did not appear to be sharp for the game showing, perhaps, the results of several games in which they were not challenged by the opposition.

Mike Richards led Cass City with 23 points while Bill Haga, returning to action for the first time in several games, paced Garber with 26 points.

JV WINS

The Hawk Junior Varsity edged the Duke JV squad in the preliminary, 66-58, but didn't display the sharpness that was evident in the middle of the season when they rolled over everyone including a satisfying victory over Frankenmuth.

SANDUSKY GAME

Cass City rolled to its second victory of the season over Sandusky Friday night on route to an easy 83-44 decision in a Thumb B Conference contest.

The Hawks moved out in front in the first quarter and were never behind. A second quarter explosion salted away the game and from then on it was merely a question of how great the final margin would become.

While the Hawks always were in front, the Redskins hung in the game for the first eight minutes. At the end of the first period Cass City led, 14-10.

In the second period Cass City exploded for 22 points and was in front 36-18 at the intermission.

The Hawks won the battle of the front lines and with more quickness in the back court, controlled the game. Cass City outrebounded the host team, 41-22, and hit a very respectable 50 per cent from the floor and 73 per cent from the charity circle. Sandusky converted just 38 per cent from the field and an almost unbelievably low 28 per cent from the foul line.

It was another game in which Coach Ron Nurnberger was able to play everyone suited. Eleven of the 12 players on the squad scored.

Before all the regulars were benched in the early moments of the fourth quarter, Cass City had rolled to a 32-point lead and the spectators were heading for the exits.

All five of Cass City's starters were in double figures. Paul Battel and Mike Richards led the way with 15 points each. For Sandusky, Mike Martin netted 14 points.

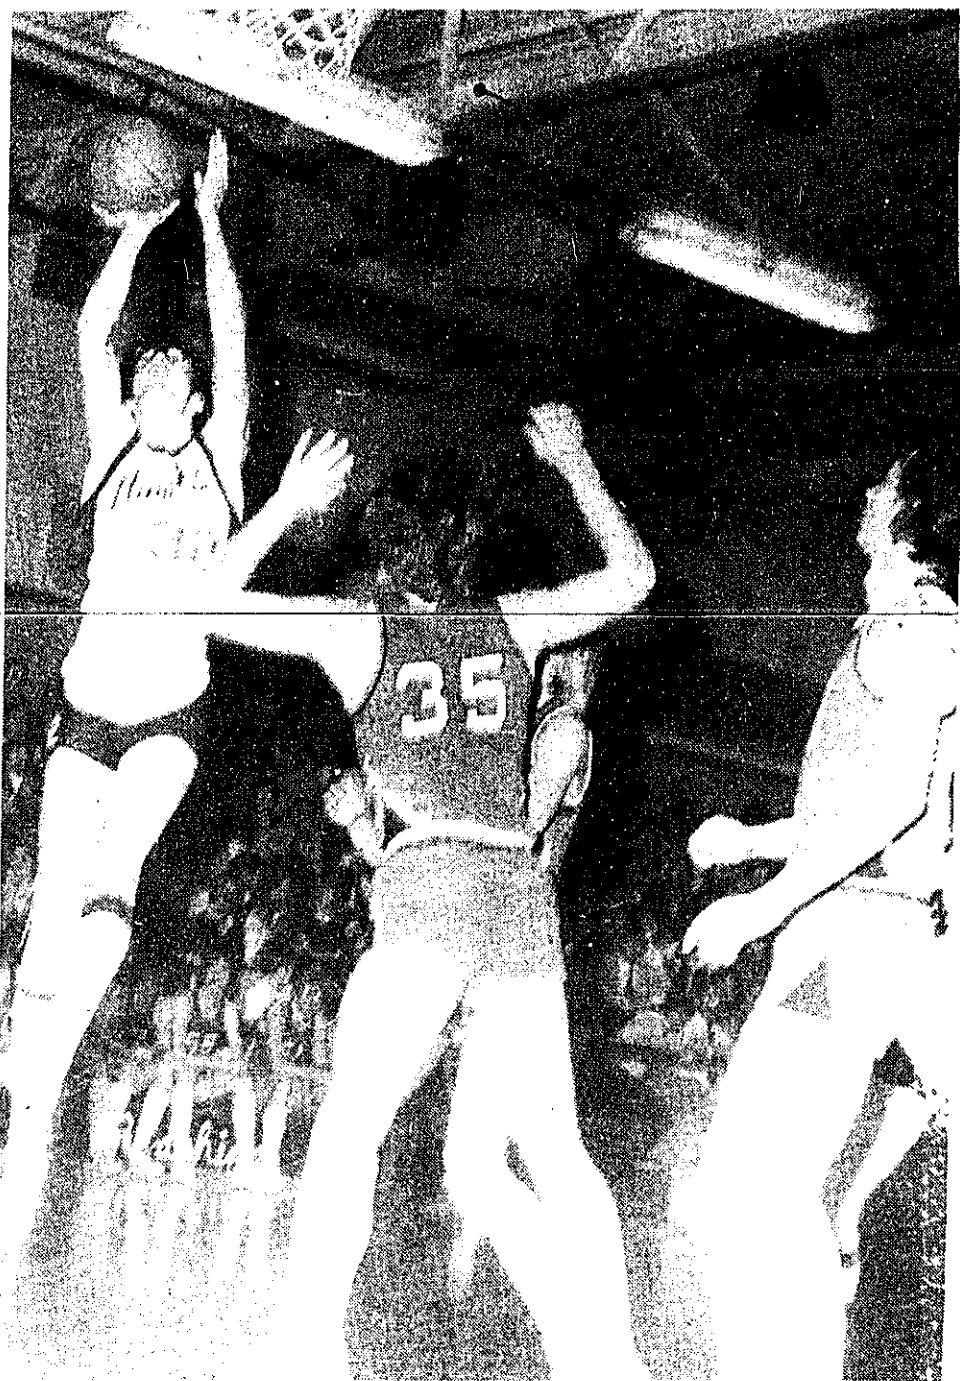

JV GAME

The Junior Varsity, which has been in a slump in recent games, still had enough to edge the Redskins' JV, 69-63.

The little Hawks will be tested by the Lakers Friday.

Cass City volleyball team chalks up 2 victories

In a match at Sandusky Thursday, Cass City won every game.

While the varsity showed strength in recent games, the Junior Varsity continued to do as it has done all year - win. With two victories during the week, the JV is 5-0 in conference clashes.

HEALTH TIPS

Smoking harmful to unborn babies

By Frank Chappell, American Medical Association

The ads say "You've come a long way, baby," in making cigarette smoking socially acceptable for women. What they don't say to American women is that they've also increased the risk to health by smoking.

Twenty years ago there were twice as many male smokers as female. Today the percentages are approaching even.

Women who are heavy smokers are five times as likely to die from lung cancer as nonsmoking women. Females who smoke have more illness each year than nonsmokers, and are more likely to suffer from heart disease, bronchitis and emphysema.

Every pregnant woman wants to give her baby the best chance for a healthy life, but an expectant mother who smokes is taking chances with her baby's health, says the American Medical Association pamphlet: Smoking: Facts You Should Know.

Women who smoke during pregnancy have a significantly higher number of stillbirths and spontaneous abortions. There is an excess of premature (by weight) babies among smokers, with an average difference of more than six ounces between babies of smokers and nonsmokers. Babies with low birth weights have a greater risk of disease and death.

Studies also show that respiratory illness is twice as common in young children whose parents smoke at home compared to those whose parents do not smoke in the home.

The adverse health effects of cigarette smoking had become apparent to men, because men as a group started smoking earlier than women. But as the cumulative effect of cigarette smoking builds up in women, cigarettes have proved equally dangerous to them.

on dean's list

A total of 216 students have been named to the dean's list at Saginaw Valley State College in University Center for the fall semester.

Included were Colleen Stafford of Cass City and Corinne LaFave of Gagetown.

To be named to the list, students had to have a 3.5 or higher grade point average and be enrolled full time.

MMPA vice-president says

100 per cent of parity will bring big surplus

One hundred per cent of parity, sought by many protesting farmers, will be counterproductive, in the opinion of the vice-president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA).

Harold Blaylock of Vassar made his comments Saturday afternoon at the annual luncheon meeting of the Deford local of the MMPA, held at the Shabbona United Methodist church.

Blaylock was substituting for MMPA President Glenn Lake of North Branch, who had to bow out at the last moment in order to visit his ailing father-in-law in Germany.

Achieving 100 per cent of parity, Blaylock commented, would encourage farmers to grow more, which would worsen the present problem of surpluses driving down commodity prices. "If they (protesting farmers) were successful," he said, "we would have the same problems, only worse."

As for the PBB problem, though admitting some farm families have been hurt healthwise and economically because of it, he said, "The quicker we let it die a natural death, the better off we'll be."

The severity of the problem was vastly overemphasized in the media, Blaylock felt.

Others speaking before the approximately 35 persons present included Bill Bortel, Tuscola county extension director; Mike Renn Jr. of Elkton, MMPA district director; and Grover Laurie of Cass City, a member of the Southern Michigan Market Committee.

Laurie mentioned the latest price increase for milk, commenting that every time it goes up, dairy-men increase production, "and it tends to get us in trouble. Somewhere along the line, we've got to slow up the increase in production."

This year, he predicted, "I think we can be assured of a price increase, which I don't think is good for the market."

Blaylock said during his speech that MMPA members in the 1976-77 fiscal year that ended Sept. 30 produced 2.82 billion pounds of milk, an increase of 3.19 per cent from the previous year. That brought them $267.61 million in revenue, an increase of 1.3 per cent.

Reelected officers of the group were Leslie Sever-

Trial ends with hung jury

A two-day jury trial Thursday and Friday, Feb. 9-10, ended with the jury unable to reach a verdict.

Keith D. Goodrich, 18, of Cornum, had been on trial, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. The charge was in connection with a July 12 break-in at the Oliver's Landfill shop and office building in Arhela township.

Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements declared a mistrial and continued bond for Goodrich at $1,000.

Assistant Prosecutor Scott Sterner said Tuesday no decision has been made yet on whether to retry the defendant.

Walt Goodall knows

Windbreak benefits many

Energy conservation was probably not on Walt Goodall's mind when he planted his windbreak 30 years ago. He just wanted to shelter his house and barnyard from the wind.

But energy conservation is one of many benefits of planting tree windbreaks, according to officials of the Tuscola County Soil Conservation District.

Goodall was one of the original directors of the district, serving from 1943-

47. He signed his first conservation cooperator agreement with the U.S. Department of Agriculture before that, in 1941.

His farm northeast of Cass City on Reed Road consists of 80 acres, plus an additional 120 down the road from his home.

The windbreak, consisting of about 70 trees, is perhaps 100 yards west of his house, and was planted in 1947.

Ideally, he explained, it should be much closer to the house to be of maximum benefit, but he and his wife, Maxine, wanted to be able to take advantage of cooling summer breezes. The north-south windbreak is west of the barnyard and house.

Trees in the windbreak consist of white fir; Norway blue, and Black Hills spruce, and Scotch and Austrian pine.

In addition, there is a line of multiflora rose bushes planted in an east-west line 80 rods behind his house and a cluster of various types of trees occupy the front yard. A line of cedars is a short distance behind the house.

Goodall intends to keep planting trees and has ordered a couple hundred from the district during its annual tree sale now underway.

Species that can be ordered are red, white, Scotch, and Austrian pine; white, Norway, and Colorado blue spruce; black walnut; red oak, and autumn olive, which is a shrub. A wildlife packet containing approximately 70-80 conifers and shrubs is also available.

Orders can be placed with the Tuscola County Soil Conservation District at its office at 852 S. Hooper Street, Caro, or by calling 673-8174.

The benefits of tree windbreaks are numerous. One, in this day of decreasing and more expensive energy supplies, is energy conservation.

By providing protection from winter winds, home heating requirements are reduced, thus reducing heating bills. In summertime, their shade keeps the house cooler.

The main concern of soil conservation districts, of course, is reducing soil erosion.

According to a U.S. Soil Conservation Service pamphlet, a well established windbreak will give full protection to an area 10 times the height of the trees measured in the direction the wind is blowing, and some protection as far out as 20 times the height of the trees.

The trees not only help prevent soil from being blown away, they also lessen crop damage from strong winds.

Windbreaks also provide cover for wildlife. On a visit to the Goodall farm last week by District Conservationist Jerry Lemunyon and District Aide Mary Lou Earl, a pheasant and partridge took off flying from the windbreak.

Lastly, all those trees are nice to look at. "A lot of people drive up north to look at them," Mrs. Goodall said. "We just look at them here."

LOTS OF SHELTER -- The trees planted in 1947, forming the line at left, are now very tall and shelter the barnyard and house (off to the right) from the wind.

AMONG THE TREES -- Walter Goodall (right) talks about his windbreak with District Conservationist Jerry Lemunyon and District Aide Mary Lou Earl. They are standing among the trees that make up the windbreak.

Wedding proves costly for Caro photographer

A Caro photographer is out more than $1,500 in photo equipment, which he inadvertently left behind following a church wedding in Kingston Feb. 4.

Bertrand Elliott of 5252 Mertz Road told the sheriff's department Feb. 8 that he left the equipment behind after photographing a wedding at the Wesleyan church in Kingston. He left there about 4:30 p.m.

He said he didn't discover it missing until Monday morning, Feb. 6. A search by the pastor, Rev. Lowell Davis, failed to uncover it. Taken were a Mamiya reflex camera, valued at $900, plus a light meter, $120; case, $100; three focusing hoods, $350; three flash cords, $15, and five rolls of film, $20.

Following the wedding, a youth supper and services were held at the church before Elliott discovered his loss.

Wayne Ensign of Montague Street, Wilmot, reported to Caro State Police Friday that his 1969 Ski-Doo Olympic snowmobile was missing.

He had last ridden the machine, valued at $350, Feb. 5, but didn't notice it missing until five days later.

Sandra Lea Houghton of English Road, Deford, reported to the sheriff's department Saturday night that someone had entered her house by pulling off a door handle. Nothing was apparently taken, although a beer, taken from the refrigerator, was discovered sitting on a table.

A clerk at Old Wood Drug late Friday afternoon caught two 12-year-olds shoplifting. The boy and girl were found with four candy bars and two packages of gum in their pockets.

Cass City police turned the juveniles over to their parents.

Huron asks for tax review

The Huron County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved sending a letter to the State Tax Commission (STC) asking it to reexamine proposed county equalization figures for 1978.

The figures compiled by county Equalization Director George Danks call for an average property valuation increase of 29 per cent.

The letter, drafted by board Chairman Ronald E. Knoblock and equalization committee Chairman Willis Leipprandt, called the figures "exorbitant" and "excessive."

According to Danks' figures, true cash value of property in the county is $906.68 million, with an equalized value of half that.

The 1977 board of review equalized value was $336.19 million; the state equalized valuation, $350.48 million.

The letter is being mailed to STC Secretary Edward Kane, who said last November that depressed farm conditions last year cannot affect the value of property.

Efforts are also underway, working with State Rep. Quincy Hoffman, R-Applegate, to introduce legislation in Lansing to freeze 1978 property values at the 1977 levels.

Caro livestock firm suspended

Thumb Auction Markets, Inc., of Caro, has been suspended for seven days as a registrant, for violating financial and custodial account requirements of the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act.

The firm is registered as a market agency and dealer to buy and sell livestock. It operates a stockyard at Sandusky.

The firm denied all charges in an administrative complaint filed under the P&S Act. It requested a hearing, which was held in Detroit.

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Administrative Law Judge William J. Weber suspended Thumb Auction markets' registration for seven days, starting Feb. 17, and thereafter until the firm shows that it is no longer insolvent and that the shortages have been corrected in its custodial account for proceeds received from the sale of consigned livestock. The firm may not operate as a dealer or market agency during that time.

The firm was also ordered to cease and desist from operating while its current liabilities exceed current assets, and Endangering prompt payment and accounting to consignors by having shortages in and failing to properly maintain its custodial account.

The cease and desist order, like a permanent injunction, was issued to insure future compliance with the P&S Act.
