Ballot contests few

Village elections on Monday

Except for Owendale, where challengers are hoping to unseat the president and one council member, village elections in the area Monday appear to be ho-hum affairs, with only incumbents running.

There will be two new faces on the Cass City Village Council, due to a retirement and resignation, with one new trustee to be elected as a write-in.

In Kingston, three positions will have to be filled by write-in vote.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m.-8 p.m. In Cass City, voting takes place in the Elkland Township Fire Hall; in Owendale, in the community building; in Gagetown and Uby, the village hall.

CASS CITY

Lambert E. Allhaver, who has been village president since 1965 and served as a trustee for two years before that, is seeking election to another two-year term.

Also seeking reelection, for two-year terms, are Lynda McIntosh as clerk and Daniel Erla as assessor. Village bookkeeper Joyce LaRoche is running for treasurer, a position filled by Mrs. McIntosh since the former treasurer resigned.

Council terms are for four years. The only incumbent seeking reelection is Dr. D.E. Rawson. Gary Jones decided not to seek reelection and Elwyn Helwig filed for his seat.

Bill Bliss Jr. had filed for reelection, but then dropped out and resigned because he moved away because of a new job. At the Feb. 28 council meeting, Dorothy Stahlbaum was appointed to serve at the one remaining meeting left on Bliss' term.

She is now running as a write-in candidate for the four-year term.

All the candidates are Republican except for Democrats LaRoche and Erla.

GAGETOWN

Only incumbents are on the ballot. They are William Downing, president; Madeline Sontag, clerk and treasurer, and trustees Fred Sullivan, Tom Reehl, and Charles Wright.

Downing and Mrs. Sontag are Democrats, the rest Republicans. All terms are for four years.

A challenger did file in December to run against Mrs. Sontag for clerk but was found to be ineligible as she was not registered to vote.

KINGSTON

Incumbents seeking reelection are Arlo Ruggles, president, and trustees Patricia Soper and G. James Peter.

The third trustee whose term is expiring, Kenneth P. Boileau, is running for clerk. The present clerk, Mildred E. Parrott, decided not to run again.

Treasurer Elizabeth Phillips, who was appointed about a year ago, and assessor Robert Peter, also aren't running.

Since no one filed to fill the vacant positions for trustee, treasurer, and assessor, they will have to be filled by write-in votes.

All terms are for two years. Patricia Soper is the only Democrat, the rest are Republican.

OWENDALE

Democrat Donald Dorsch, 27, is running for village president against Republican Arnold MacCallum, who has served in the position for several years.

A lifelong village resident and assistant Owendale fire chief, Dorsch works at the Chevrolet plant in Bay City. Seeking one of three seats on the village council is challenger Michael Mandich, a Democrat. Running for reelection are Martin Blondell and Robert Richer, both Republicans, and Democrat Walter Howard.

UBLY

Everyone running is an incumbent. They are: president, Earl Longuski; clerk, Chris Tyll; treasurer, Florence Schrader; assessor, Henry Krug, and trustees William Bailey, Donald Wright, and Bruce Brown. All are Republican except Tyll and Wright. Terms of trustees are for four years for the others, two years.

Running for the non-partisan library board are incumbents Lilian Eveleth and Joseph Lenton.

Man in jail dies from pneumonia

Pneumonia was the apparent cause of death of a Kingston man found dead in a holding cell at the Tuscola County Jail early Tuesday.

Dead is Duane E. Gettel of 5972 Noble Street, whose 51st birthday would have been this Wednesday.

According to Caro state police, who were requested by the sheriff's department to conduct the investigation Gettel was arrested by Caro village police between 8:30 and 9 Monday night on a charge of driving with license suspended.

He was found apparently deceased in the holding cell by a correctional officer shortly before 2 a.m.

Dr. Edward J. Miles, MD, of Caro, a deputy medical examiner, officially pronounced Gettel dead. The body was then taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw for an autopsy.

Preliminary results of the autopsy, received by the Caro post Tuesday afternoon, found the cause of death to have been pneumonia. Final results were awaiting completion of some laboratory tests, which was expected to take at least a couple of days.

Gettel was born March 8, 1927 in Pigeon and lived in Kingston since 1957.

Divorced, he is survived by two sons, Grant of Caro and Craig of Lansing; a daughter, Annette Gettel of Caro; his mother, Mrs. Lulu Gettel of Bay Port, and a

Water tower repaired

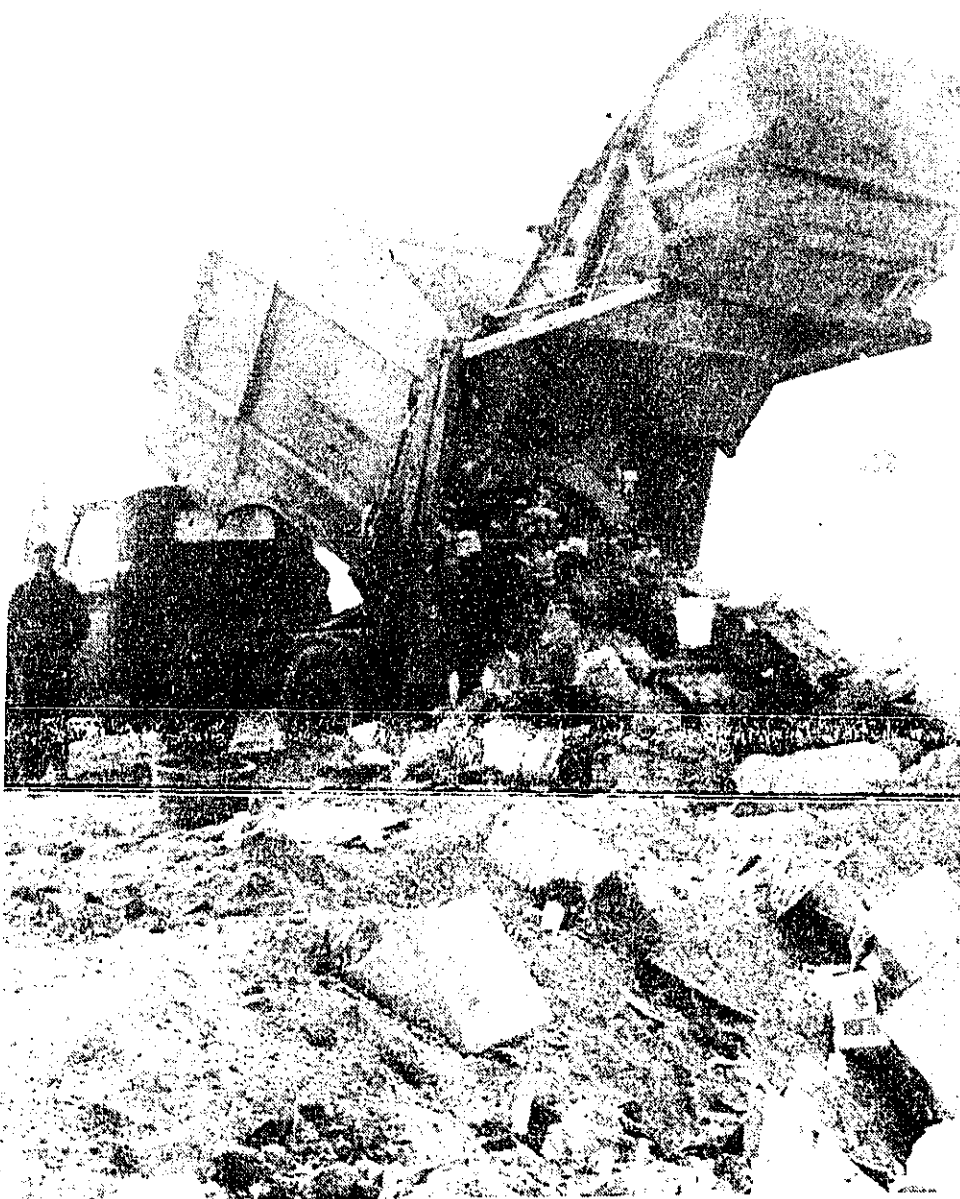

Owendale's water system is back to normal following completion of repairs to the water tower Friday.

Paying for the repair, however, could put a big crimp in the village budget.

The 8-inch intake pipe on the tower froze up about three weeks ago, preventing water from being pumped into the dome. National Tank Maintenance Corp. of Tennessee did the repair, which took about two weeks.

During the period, water was pumped directly into village water lines and residents never did go without water, according to village Clerk William Putnam.

The problem now is that the repair bill is expected to be $12,000 to $15,000, a large amount considering the annual village budget is only around $50,000.

DAY'S HAUL--Actually this is a half-day's haul. After the truck of Gary Stine empties its load at the Cass City landfill, a village workman uses a front end loader to push the trash into the trench and then cover over the top with dirt.

Youth on snowmobile struck by local auto

A Caro area youth was reported in good condition at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw Wednesday morning after being injured Tuesday when his snowmobile was struck by a car east of Ellington.

Suffering leg injuries in the 7:50 a.m. accident was Randy Czupla, 16, of 3091 E. Caro Road.

State police from the Caro post reported that Czupla was crossing M-41 east of Jacob Road and pulled into the path of a westbound car, which struck his snowmobile.

Driver of the car was Gazella Deering, 40, of 6457 Houghton Street, Cass City. Vision was severely limited by heavy fog at the time, troopers said. The accident is still under investigation.

BUS ACCIDENT

No one was injured in an accident Feb. 28 involving a loaded Cass City school bus. The accident took place at 3:50 p.m.

Cass City police reported that the bus, driven by Ross E. Miller, 63, of 5678 Robinson Road, after stopping for the railroad tracks, was turning left onto Doerr Road, and collided with a truck that was trying to pass the bus on the left.

Driver of the other vehicle was Harry J. Pastrue, 40, of Caro. Both vehicles were driven away from the scene of the accident.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Ella Mae Cumber, 69, of 4182 Maple Street, Cass City, was released from Hills and Dales General Hospital Tuesday, where she had been since an accident at 2:50 p.m. Saturday.

Village police reported she was eastbound on Seventh Street and her car was struck in the right side by a car northbound on West Street.

The driver of the other car, Jacqueline L. Groth, 48, of 6409 Elizabeth Street, was ticketed by officers on a charge of failure to yield at a signed intersection.

Kerry C. Borodychuk, 24, of Unionville, was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales, where he was taken after an accident at 8 p.m. Saturday. Deputies said he was northbound on Sheridan Road at Ackerman Road and lost control of his vehicle, which went off the roadway and struck a tree.

Deputies reported Feb. 28 that Joseph D. Vatter, 18, of 4273 Sherman Street, Cass City, was northbound on Cemetery Road, north of Kelly, when his car went off the west side of the road into a ditch.

He told officers something went wrong with the steering mechanism, causing him to lose control in the 11:05 p.m. accident.

Neitzel honored

After 30 years with the Elkland Township Fire Department, Fritz Neitzel didn't have to hang up his fireman's helmet. He got to take it with him.

Neitzel, who retired from the department Jan. 1, was honored by firemen and friends Sunday afternoon at the fire hall. He joined the department in October, 1947.

In addition to being presented with the fire helmet he wore all 30 years, Fire Chief Jack Hartwick also gave him an illustrated "gag" citation and a chrome plated fire axe.

Neitzel served under nine chiefs during his years with the department. For 17 straight years, he was the department treasurer.

"It was a hell of a lot of fun," he said of the 30 years, adding that sometimes it wasn't much fun when he had to get out of bed at 3 a.m. to fight a fire. And recalling the tragedy that sometimes accompanies the blazes, he noted, "I've come back some times and cried."

Neitzel had no idea how many fires he went to over the years but two stood out in his mind. One was the Donahue barn fire, about 1960, near where the present high school is, when 50 dairy cows died in the blaze. The other was the grain elevator fire in 1964, at the site of the present Wickes Agriculture elevator.

He was injured once while at a fire, which required hospital treatment, when he caught some embers blasted by a fire hose through a window.

Neitzel came to Cass City from Detroit in 1946 and operated a photo studio here. When he joined the fire department the next year, the fire station was located on Seeger Street, just south of Main, and it only had one fire truck. It now has five trucks and a van.

HONORED--Fritz Neitzel was the recipient Sunday of this fire axe with chrome plated head in honor of his 30 years with the Elkland Township Fire Department. Making the presentation was Fire Chief Jack Hartwick. On Neitzel's lap are the "gag" citation he received and the fire helmet he wore for all 30 years. (Huron Daily Tribune photo)

"If It Fitz. . ." U-D handicap

By Jim Fitzgerald

Thank you, Mr. Koss, whoever you are. I borrowed your parking space.

Also, thanks to the couple who sat in the aisle. My wife and I borrowed your seats.

And thanks, most of all, to sports columnist Joe Falls who had to be in Florida this week, sitting poolside, interviewing beautiful waitresses about the chances of the Detroit Tigers finishing in third place this season. Joe calls it spring training, an ordeal which he is paid to undergo every winter. I call it proof that some people work to live, and other people live to work.

Anyway, because he couldn't make it himself, Joe suggested that I represent flabby and fiftyish columnists at the University of Detroit basketball game last Monday night. It seemed like a fine idea at the time. I took Pat and me only 15 minutes to drive from home to within sight of Calihan Hall on the U-D campus. It took 45 minutes to drive the last two blocks. We were stuck in the most splendid traffic jam since V-J Day.

"You've got to give Dick Vitale credit," I said. "He has proved that a winning team and enthusiastic promotion will draw huge crowds to a basketball game at an inner-city school."

"Who is Dick Vitale?" my wife asked. She is not your basic sports nut, but I take her to all the games because I know how much she enjoys telling me we should have stayed home.

I detailed Vitale's incredible accomplishments as U-D coach — before retiring because of a nervous stomach and as athletic director and chief wild man. Pat was not overly impressed.

"If he's so smart, I wish he'd come out here and tell all these people where to park," she said. "He doesn't have the only nervous stomach in town."

There was nowhere for the cars to park because all the lots were full and the curbs were jammed. The game had begun 15 minutes earlier. A campus cop admitted he had no idea where I might put my car. By that time, I knew where he could put it. I noticed several cars were being allowed into a parking lot next to Calihan Hall. A sign said the lot was for members of the Titan Club only. Pat asked what a Titan was.

"Titans are powerful men from Greentown," I said. "We live near Greentown. I'm going to park in that lot."

While the attendant was distracted by a motorist threatening to commit suicide on Jesuit property, I barged into Titan territory. There was an empty space with a sign reserving it for a Titan named Ross. As I said in the top paragraph, thank you, Mr. Ross.

"Our car will be towed away," Pat said. "We should have stayed home."

Inside Calihan Hall, U-D had already scored 30 points. We had seats reserved in Row H, but a man and woman were sitting in them. The usher made them move out. After we sat down, a man sitting nearby assured us the usher was wrong and we were really sitting in Row J, in seats belonging to the displaced couple.

"That couple will be back asking for their seats," said my wife with the Vitale stomach. "We should have stayed home."

"Don't worry," I said. "Their name is probably Ross, in which case they are double parked and can't stay long anyway."

The game was exciting, but confusing. Because of some new basketball rule I don't understand, U-D had to play under an unusual handicap. Everytime a U-D player scored a goal or blocked a shot, he had to slap hands with his four teammates before any of them could resume play. The other team, Loyola, didn't have to do this, so they always had a head start running for the other end of the floor.

But U-D won easily anyway, and it was fun watching. The Rosses didn't strip our car, and there was no traffic jam leaving the campus.

"All's well that ends well," I said, "and you may quote me on that anytime you are in need of instant wisdom."

"I'd rather go to spring training," Pat said.

"SLICE IT THIN"—"Who's the telegram from?" Tim Tuckey asks Carrie Carpenter in this scene from "Slice It Thin," the Cass City High School all-school play. Seated on the couch with him is Teresa Scollon. The three-act comedy will be presented Thursday and Friday, March 16-17, in the high school cafeteria at 8 p.m. Tickets are available from cast members or at the door. Faculty director is Beth Bradley; student director, Lisa Frederick.

Vandals slash police car tires

Someone or some persons who don't like the police are taking out their hostilities on the tires of patrol cars.

The first incident happened Feb. 21 when at 9:10 p.m. Cass City Patrolman Phil Klaus was taking a break in the Charmont restaurant with two sheriff's deputies. When the officers came outside, they found the front left tire of the village patrol car and the right front tire of the sheriff's department car had been slashed.

Feb. 28 at 11 p.m., Patrolman William Moore was also taking a break at the Charmont and came outside to discover the left rear tire was flat, also due to it being slashed. He was driving the same patrol car, a 1977 Chevrolet, that Klaus was driving when the earlier incident occurred.

Police Chief Gene Wilson said the tires, which had to be replaced, were worth about $40 each.

Wednesday, March 1, Moore was patrolling through the Charmont parking lot when he noticed a right side window of a parked car had been broken by vandals.

Owner of the car was Robert Ridenour of 4885 N. Seeger Street. Value of the window was estimated at $50.

David D. Parker of Caro reported to Caro state police Wednesday night, March 1, that the AM-FM radio antenna of his car was broken while he was at a friend's house, Gary Roland of 3428 Pine Street, Kingston. He had been there about five hours and noticed the damage when he was leaving. Damage was estimated at $70.

Donald J. Smith of 3811 S. Kingston Road, Kingston, told sheriff's deputies Saturday morning that damage was done to his car while parked in front of his home during the night. The driver's side window was broken and a citizens band radio antenna was missing.

Richardson dies Feb. 17 in Florida

Robert E. Richardson, 86, died Feb. 17 at Morton Plant Hospital in Clearwater, Fla. He was the son of the late Philo and Louisa Richardson.

A 1912 graduate of Bad Axe High School, he attended law school at the University of Michigan where he graduated in 1916. He practiced law in Gary, Ind., for 50 years before retiring to Florida.

If you've attended an important Cass City basketball game it's no secret that I get excited. That's the polite way to put it. Actually I go bananas.

Anyway sometimes the game is well along (darn near over) before I remember I should have been taking pictures. Last Saturday's district final was like that.

I was baled out by Tim Tuckey, the school photographer, Saturday and many of the shots you see were the result of his efforts.

A group of Cass City residents spent a long week end in Las Vegas last week. They didn't arrive on schedule. That's because, my spies tell me, a door flew off the airplane while it was taking off and the plane had to return for repairs. What I've been scratching my head about since hearing this unconfirmed report is what I would have done in Vegas after that experience.

I can't decide if I would mortgage the house to bet or put my money in my sock and never take it out.

In other words, were the Cass Cityans lucky or unlucky. Here's one vote for betting the family farm. It could have been much, much worse.

28 attend UMW meet

Trinity United Methodist Women met Monday, March 6, for their monthly dinner meeting. Twenty-seven members and one guest were present. The dinner was served by group three under the leadership of Opal Schneberger and Elaine Proctor.

The worship program, entitled "Call to Care," was presented by Peg Neitzel. Mrs. Proctor and Mary Rex presented a "Litany of dedication" to open and close the program. Mrs. Neitzel described "Caring" as "Hope in Action" and said, "there are three groups of people in a church — those who make things happen, those who watch things happen and those who ask what happened."

President Marion Keating led the business meeting. It was announced that Rita Capps will present the program at the April meeting. Everyone was reminded that Sunday, March 12, a six o'clock family potluck supper will be held at the church.

A thank-you letter for soup labels, from the Red Bird Mission area, was read by Mary Rexin. She also announced that a box of rolled and knitted bandages are ready to be sent to Zaire in Africa.

Mrs. Rexin offered the closing prayer.

FROM THE Editor's Corner

There's nothing like a winner as the fans at Owen-Gage and Cass City were attesting this week after satisfying victories in district tournaments.

In the long run what was really satisfying is the conduct of the teams and the fans supporting the teams.

Both the Lakers and Cass City have had a taste of the dregs of defeat and the heady draught of victory this year. Cass City lost the league championship game. Lakers lost in the district finals. Owen-Gage also won the district after losing the league championship.

And the players accepted defeat with dignity and the victory with elation.

And the fans did, too. There was the usual grumbling about the officiating at both games by the losing fans.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Village of Cass City resolves to vacate the following described alley by resolution dated January 31, 1978 and a Public hearing having been held thereon.

THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Village hereby vacate described alley:

Commencing at the NE corner of Lot 1, Block A of Kellands Addition to the Village of Cass City, Section 33, Town 14 North, Range 11 East, Elkhart Township, Tuscola County, Michigan, thence South 8 rods, thence East 2 rods, thence North 8 rods, thence West 2 rods to point of beginning.

On roll call vote: yeas 4, nays 2.

Dated: February 28, 1978.

Lambert E. Althaver, Village Pres.
Lynda McIntosh, Village Clerk

But the refs didn't have to bolt from the floor at the end of the game for their own safety and the police didn't have to protect the players from physical harm.

It's a little old fashioned to say that they took the defeat like a man . . . but you get the idea.

It hasn't always been that way. One year I can remember a near free-for-all after a tough Laker-Cass City game.

Play all over the league with a few relatively minor exceptions has been exemplary.

It's too early to say if that means there's been a turn for the better or merely that the Thumb is in a cycle where the players are of a high caliber.

If the present attitude is maintained you have to give credit to the various school administrations and the coaches.

It's sure that the kids haven't changed all that much. If the sportsmanship is better it's because the coaches won't abide the kids that won't conform . . . regardless of how good their talents may be.

I'm not sure this is actually the case. As I said this just may be an up cycle for sportsmanship just like it is for athletic talent.

But if it really is a permanent change maybe there is still a little merit to that old refrain, "athletics build character".

If so, it would make it all really worthwhile.

Funeral held Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Warner were held Tuesday afternoon at the Novesta Baptist church with Rev. Stephen Love, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Warner, 77, died unexpectedly Saturday, March 4, at Hills and Dales Hospital.

She was born Feb. 19, 1901, in Evergreen township, and was a lifelong resident of the Deford area. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. George Collins. She was married Nov. 27, 1919, in Pontiac to Hazen Warner. Mr. Warner died Feb. 11, 1957.

Mrs. Warner was a member of Novesta Baptist church.

Survivors include: two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Helen) Rayl of Deford and Mrs. Jim (Geri) Perry of Cass City; three sons, Wilmer of Grand Rapids, Kenneth of St. Johns and Arthur of Vassar; 13 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren. One son, Gerald, died previously.

Also surviving are two brothers, Les Collins of Avoca and Floyd Collins of Prescott, and a sister, Mrs. Elva McLarty of Pontiac.

Interment was in Novesta cemetery.

The Tri-County Fox Hunters' Club boasts a great many veteran hunters who have bagged a great many foxes over the years. Two members bagged a coyote recently. It was found and shot on Sebawaing Road. An open house has been set for all parents of students, and taxpayers. The new Cass City High School will open its doors to area residents interested in looking through the building. The High School band will perform for the enjoyment of the visitors.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

An estimated 200 persons attended a concert presented by the Saginaw Civic Chorus at the Cass City High School. The chorus of 50 presented a diverse program of sacred and popular music.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hillaker are celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary. The couple, 87 and 80, were married in Cass City. They have five children, 19 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Rev. Frank Smith, manager of the Red Cross War Fund drive in the Cass City and Elkland township district, says that the $1,000 quota here was oversubscribed in six hours.

Board oks special fund for sheriff

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners last Wednesday, appropriated $300 to the sheriff's department for undercover purchases of drugs and stolen merchandise.

The request was made by Undersheriff Bruce Tait and Detectives Ron Phillips and Larry Walker.

It was the first appropriation by the county to the sheriff's department for such purposes.

The board discussed a grievance from the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees Chapter 11, which represents courthouse employees.

The grievance concerns two courthouse custodians who were paid straight-time for the six hours they worked on Friday, Jan. 27. The union is asking that the janitors be paid time-and-a-half for the six hours, as other employees had the day off due to the previous day's snowstorm.

Commissioners decided to refer the matter to the first step of the formal grievance procedure, a meeting between its personnel committee and union representatives.

The board was informed by Robert Wellington, engineer for the county Road Commission, that the agency is still within budget for snow removal and that no extra funds are needed at this time.

Commissioners Margaret Wenta, Robert Russell, and Donna Rayl reported on the Michigan Association of Counties meeting they attended in Lansing from Sunday evening through Tuesday. As a result of that meeting, the commissioner's meeting was postponed a day from its usual Tuesday meeting date.

Your Neighbor says

Lottery should be used for schools

State Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn, has introduced legislation that would earmark all state lottery earnings to the state school fund.

During the 1976-77 fiscal year, the lottery raised $109.7 million, all of which under the present law went into the general fund.

Out of the total state budget in 1976-77 of $7.07 billion, 33 per cent or $2.36 billion went for education.

Loretta Smalley likes Sen. McCollough's idea. "I definitely think it (lottery earnings) should go to the schools, especially being a taxpayer," she said. "It might help cut down on our school taxes if it were put toward our schools."

Mrs. Smalley, who said she buys lottery tickets "once in a while," feels lottery earnings should be an addition to the amount already spent for education, with the added money being used to replace property taxes.

If the general fund monies spent on education were reduced by the amount from the lottery, that would mean no additional money for schools and no property tax relief.

Mrs. Smalley works for Walbro Corp. in Cass City. An ex-Cass Cityan, she and her husband, Marvin, live on a farm near Ruth, which is in the Uby School District. They have two children, Brent, 4, and Brooke, 2.

PEDALING AROUND

'Bylines Three'

By Mike Eliasohn

Okay, you attractive young women out there, here's your chance for fame and fortune.

Don't worry. It's not immoral. Television would do nothing immoral.

Mind you, you won't become stars overnight. It will take the length of a television season to do that, or at least until the first ratings come in.

Let's all your pretty heads start swimming. I only need three of you.

It all started with "Charlie's Angels" and "Three's Company." According to a recent Detroit Free Press article, shows featuring women are in — provided the women are good-looking and well-endowed.

Being planned are shows with such titles as "Roller Girls," "The Cheerleaders," "California Coed," "The Beach Girls," and "Girl on the Road."

Especially popular are shows featuring three young good-looking women, which is why I only need three. "Charlie's Angels" is the current example, but being planned are "Three on a Date," a made-for-television movie, and "Three Way Love," intended as a series.

Here's where my idea comes in. I'm calling it "Bylines Three." It's a continuing series about the adventures of three beautiful young female newspaper reporters.

I figure I'll play their editor. After all, why be modest. To add an air of mystery, my face will never be seen on camera (that is, it will be a mystery to everyone who hasn't read this column.) Whenever "my girls" come into my office to get their assignments, only the back of my head will be showing.

The reporters will be named Chris, Sandy, and Shana.

Chris, a blonde, will be the sports reporter. She's very popular with all the athletes because whenever she interviews them, she wears the T-shirt of the team they play for.

Sandy, a strawberry brunette, is the police reporter. Most of the time she is seen driving her Corvette chasing down bad guys. If she gets in a jam, she gets rescued by her handsome boyfriend police detective.

Shana is the serious one of the three. She has long black hair and wears glasses. She is the staff investigative reporter. That way, she has an excuse to be in dark bars at midnight (meeting her sources).

And in a touch of brilliance, I'm going to set the show in 1970. Not so much for nostalgia, but so my gal reporters can wear short dresses and be in style. There's no better way to boost the ratings than a nice set of legs — except three sets of nice legs.

Many a man lives a full life because he has learned how to turn his mistakes into assets.

Area accidents numerous

A village-owned pickup was involved in an accident at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 1.

Police said Department of Public Works foreman Ed Anthes, 61, of 6270 DeLong Road, was westbound on Main Street, east of Seeger, when a car pulling out of a parking place struck the pickup.

Driver of the car was Cheryl L. Schoette, 23, of Elkton.

At 5 p.m., Feb. 28, village officers reported, Gordon B. Holcomb, 54, of 2284 McArthur Road, Deford, backed from a driveway on Main Street, west of Brooker Street, into a car parked by the north curb.

Owner of the car was Shirley Lenhard of Gage-town.

At 11:20 a.m. Saturday, according to deputies, Opal Sayers, 53, of Caro, was westbound on E. Dayton Road and attempted to make a left turn onto Ryan Road near Caro. As she was doing so, a truck driven by David J. Zyrowski, 23, of English Road, Kingston, attempted to pass her and the two vehicles collided.

Dale B. Rabideau, 17, of 6787 Houghton Street, was cited by Cass City police on a charge of failure to yield right of way following a 9:40 p.m. accident Friday.

Officers said he was northbound on Sherman Street, stopped at Church Street, and when starting again, collided with a westbound car driven by Thomas E. Dewey, 28, of 6258 Schwelger Road.

Heavy fog was a contributing factor in an accident at 7:40 a.m. Tuesday on Cemetery Road. Cass City police reported that Roger A. Gnagay, 27, of 4223 Maple Street, after backing from a driveway, had just started north when his car was struck in the rear by the car of Timothy J. Spry, 16, of Deckerville Road, Deford. The accident took place south of Kelly Road.

Police said the headlights of both cars were on.

WHEREAS, the Kingston Township Board has requested the abandonment of an alley in the unincorporated Village of Wilmot, and

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of the Board of County Road Commissioners that this alley is of no further use as a public alley,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the alley between Hawkins Street and Montague Avenue in Block 6 of the Village of Wilmot, Section 17, T 12 N, R 11 E, Kingston Township, Tuscola County, Michigan, be totally and permanently abandoned and discontinued as a public alley.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a meeting of the Board of Tuscola County Road Commissioners be held at the Kingston Township Hall on Howard Avenue in Wilmot, at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, April 13, 1978 for the purpose of hearing any objections to said abandonment.

Vassar man imprisoned

Couple sentenced for welfare fraud

A Vassar couple was each placed on five years' probation Monday for attempted welfare fraud. In another welfare case, a Vassar man was sentenced to prison.

Circuit Judge Norman A. Bagley pronounced sentence on Bennie Parker Jr., 37, and his wife, Edith, 39. They each pleaded guilty to the charge July 11. Sentencing was then delayed six months.

In addition, each was sentenced to six months in the county jail, credited with one day served, with the sentence to be held in abeyance. Each was fined $200, assessed $200 court costs, and ordered to pay restitution of $18,302 to the Tuscola County Department of Social Services.

The two were charged in connection with the illegal acceptance of $18,302 in Aid to Dependent Children during the period September, 1969 to July, 1975, when they failed to report income from worker's compensation and Social Security.

LeRoy Blackmer, 30, of 4349 Washburn Road, Vassar, was sentenced to 1½ years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson for welfare fraud. A jury found him guilty of the charge Jan. 12.

Blackmer was charged with having fraudulently accepted $8,350 in welfare funds between May 1, 1973, and Dec. 31, 1975, having failed to notify the state of changes in his income during that period.

Also Monday, Bryan S. Huizar, 18, of 4195 Elmwood Road, Akron, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted receiving of stolen property, reduced from larceny in a building.

His plea was accepted. Bond was continued, with

Union local represented at meeting

President Grace Nemeth of Cass City and committee member Ella Bauer of Unionville represented Steelworkers Local 6222 at a two-day Political Action Committee conference in Cincinnati, March 1-2.

The local represents employees at the General Cable Corp. in Cass City.

The program of local political action committees to elect candidates to office will consist of voter registration, political education, fund raising, canvassing and voter education, getting out the vote on election day, and member communication.

Legislative issues presented at the conference included labor law reform, the Humphrey-Hawkins full employment bill, worker compensation, the workplace environment, tax reform, welfare reform, and illegal aliens.

Speakers included U.S. Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana; Jack Sheehan of the United Steelworkers of America, discussing legislative priorities, and Tom Carpenter, reporting on the right wing.

sentencing scheduled April 3.

The charge was in connection with the Jan. 12 theft of two snow tires, valued at more than $100, from an Akron service station.

Craig A. Reinert, 19, of 4785 W. Main Street, Millington, pleaded guilty to attempted larceny in a building, in connection with the taking of $218 from Walt's Bar in Millington Jan. 18.

His plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled April 3. Bond was continued.

Judith R. Schniers, 18, of 500 S. Almer Street, Caro, was placed on three years' probation for uttering and publishing. She pleaded guilty to the charge Feb. 6 in connection with cashing of a forged check for $80 at a store in Caro.

Drama group to perform at local church

Two members of the Covenant Players, a Christian dramatic group based in California, will present a sermon-drama, "Moment of Insight", during the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at Trinity United Methodist church on Houghton Street.

The two players, Lorie Neighbors and Joe Warren, will share at other points in the service, such as the call to worship, call to prayer, offertory, and benediction, with brief "drama moments".

Sunday at 6 p.m., Trinity members and friends will gather in the church's fellowship hall for a family potluck supper. Persons and families are invited to come, and to bring a dish or other food to share, and also to bring their own table service.

HEALTH TIPS

'The pill' and how it works

By Frank Chappell, American Medical Association

Oral contraceptives, commonly known as "the pill" and the "mini-pill," are available by prescription, are easy to take, and are reasonably priced.

The pill acts by preventing the release of an egg cell from the ovary during the cycle in which the pills are taken. When taken according to directions, the pill is nearly 100 per cent effective in preventing pregnancy, says a pamphlet from the American Medical Association. If pregnancy does occur, the woman has very likely skipped a pill or two.

Preparations of the pill combine an estrogen and a progestogen, the two kinds of female hormones. They are packaged so that 20, 21, or 28 pills are taken in a dosage of one each day. Use is usually started on the fifth day of the menstrual period. The mini-pill contains only a progestogen and is taken every day of the year. Pregnancy rate for the mini-pill is slightly higher than for the pill.

Your physician will take a careful medical history before prescribing the pill. There are certain ailments and physical conditions in which the pill should not be used.

Some women experience unpleasant side effects from the pill that are not dangerous and are not likely to damage health. Breasts may feel tender, vomiting may occur, and there may be either a gain or loss of weight. Menstrual periods may be shorter and lighter. Your physician may find that levels of sugar and fatty substances in the blood are elevated.

Should the pill be discontinued, ovulation usually begins two to six weeks later, and the menstrual cycle returns to its pre-pill pattern.

Formation of blood clots in the blood vessels of women taking the pill is a possible side effect, although its occurrence is relatively rare. These clots may threaten life if they break loose and lodge in the lung or if they form in other vital organs such as the brain. About one woman in 2,000 who are taking the pill suffers a blood clotting condition each year.

Deaths resulting from use of the pill are far fewer than the same kinds of deaths associated with pregnancy. But women who have had blood clots in the legs, the lungs or the brain should not use oral contraceptives.

There are other rare side effects, including an increased risk of heart attack and of liver tumors, and increased blood pressure. There is no proof that oral contraceptives can cause cancer in humans.

The pill and the mini-pill prevent pregnancy. They will not protect persons of either sex from venereal disease.

Utilities get rate adjustments

Rate increases for five utility companies, including Detroit Edison and Thumb Electric Cooperative, Uby, were granted Feb. 28 by the Public Service Commission (PSC).

The higher rate adjustments for electrical power were approved on the basis that the companies are paying more for purchased power or fuel.

Average March bills for Detroit Edison customers will increase $1.90 from $22.56 to $24.46, and for Thumb Electric customers an increase of 26 cents from $29.70 to $29.96.

Bruce Campbell, assistant director of policy at the PSC, said the increased rates reflect higher costs for fuel or purchased power to the utilities during the month of December.

Thumb Electric serves 8,600 customers in Huron, Sanilac, and Tuscola counties. Detroit Edison is the major supplier of electricity in the Thumb area.

Subregion boards may oversee water plan

Creation of subregional review boards is being recommended as a means to insure the regional water quality plan now being prepared is carried out.

The federally mandated plan for the 14 counties of the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region (ECMPDR) is scheduled for completion by June 30.

Aim of the plan is to have all of the waters in the region swimmable and fishable by 1983.

Portions of the plan were discussed Wednesday at public afternoon and evening meetings in the Elkland Township Fire Hall.

The aim of the review boards, water quality planner Dale Raven said, will be to ensure that the plan is implemented, instead of sitting on a shelf.

Three to five area boards, such as one for Huron, Sanilac, and Tuscola counties, would be set up within the region. Members would be from local governmental agencies and boards.

Instances of non-compliance with the plan would be forwarded to the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) or U.S. Environmental Protection Agency for appropriate action based on the recommendation of the review board.

Various meetings to discuss preliminary portions of the plan have been held in Cass City, Midland, and West Branch. One more round of such meetings will be held in early April, according to Jim Sygo, ECMPDR chief water quality planner.

The completed preliminary plan, he said last Wednesday, should be released at the end of April and then be the subject of public hearings in late May.

After that, with any changes incorporated as a result of comments at the hearings, it must be approved by the ECMPDR board and then submitted to the DNR.

Wednesday's sessions required participants to answer questionnaires giving their opinion on various alternatives outlined to solve various pollution problems.

Covered were alternatives for pollution sources including septic tanks, agricultural activities, urban runoff and storm sewers, sanitary landfills, construction sites, sanitary sewer overflows, and problems concerning disposal of sludge from municipal sewage treatment systems.

Responses from the questionnaires will be used by the planners in compiling the final water quality plan.

At this point, however, they are making certain recommendations. To control pollution from farming, primarily runoff of soil and nutrients from fertilizer, animal wastes, and pesticides, they are suggesting a two-step approach.

First is that county Soil Conservation Districts, county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service committees, and the planning region should work together to provide financial incentives for farmers to engage in a coordinated voluntary program to reduce pollution. The funds would come from federal agriculture programs.

If the voluntary approach doesn't work, farmers might be required to either obtain a permit for any earth changes, such as plowing, or prepare and follow a soil erosion control plan prepared in conjunction with their county Soil Conservation District.

To control pollution from private septic systems, the planners are recommending county health departments continue to set standards and inspect septic tank installations, but also develop programs to regulate operation and maintenance of those in use.

Through zoning and planning, local governmental units might be required to limit the number of septic tank installations within an area.

Although not one of the recommendations, Raven suggested Wednesday that government ownership of septic systems might be wise sometimes.

Such instances might be, he said, where a community is found to be in violation of pollution standards because of pollution from a relatively few homes not having adequate septic systems.

Governmental installation and ownership of the proper septic systems for homes without them, he said, would be a much cheaper alternative in such instances than having to install sewers and a sewage treatment system for the entire community.

Spots may mean roof is leaking

Water spots on your ceiling may mean that your roof leaks. But they may also mean that excess moisture inside your home is condensing in the attic and seeping through the ceiling.

The consequences may include peeling paint, crumbling plaster and even rotting wood in the roof. These kinds of problems sometimes occur when people insulate their older homes. To try to save on heating fuel, they seal up the house so tightly that it can't get rid of moisture that accumulates in the air from breathing, cooking, bathing, washing clothes and other daily activities. When the air can't hold any more, moisture begins to condense -- on windows or walls or in the attic on the roof.

Check for winter condensation in the attic after a couple of weeks of really cold weather. If the rafters or the underside of the roof have a layer of frost on them, you have a moisture problem.

Fogged or drippy windows, mildew growing in the bathroom and wet basement walls are other warning signals.

To remove moisture from the attic, install some sort of ventilator. Screened inlet openings under the eaves and louvered outlets that total one square foot for each 300 square feet of attic should do the trick. An attic fan is necessary only if the ventilators don't do the job.

To minimize moisture problems in the rest of the house, change the air inside occasionally by opening a door or window or fireplace flue for a few minutes.

Be sure that gas-burning appliances and clothes dryers are vented directly to the outside.

Some moisture in the air during the winter is necessary for comfort. It minimizes problems with static electricity and makes the air more comfortable to breathe.

Many people use humidifiers to add moisture to the air in their homes in winter. In a tight, well insulated home, this may not be necessary. It may even lead to excess moisture problems.

The amount of moisture a house can hold is usually determined by the coldest surfaces within it, which are generally the windows.

Dripping or ice-covered windows are a good sign that there's too much moisture in the air. So do yourself a favor--turn the humidifier off or reduce the amount of water it's adding to the air--especially weather.

Figuring crop costs

By William Bortel

Tuscola county farmers are formulating their tentative budgets for 1978. Individuals are finding it rather difficult to prepare a balanced budget with the severely depressed commodity markets.

While working with many farmers, I put together the following crop production cost figures for 1978. Each individual should plug in their respective costs. Some will say figures are too low or too high.

These are average figures based on the following potential yields per acre: 120 bushels of corn, 19 tons of sugar beets, 13 hundred-weight of dry beans, 35 bushels of soybeans, and 65 bushels of wheat.

ESTIMATED CROP PRODUCTION COSTS

AAUW hears vo-ed proposal

The Cass City branch of the American Association of University Women met Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, in the high school library.

Wayne Dillon, high school counselor and vocational director, discussed the proposed county vocational education center. County residents go to the polls April 25 to vote on a 1.75-mill request to finance the local share of construction costs plus operation of the center.

During the business meeting, conducted by President Doty Scollon, Doris Rawson gave a report of the games party held in the Masonic Temple Feb. 25. About $150 profit was made at the event. Barbara Tuckey was chairman.

Delegates picked for convocation

Mrs. Joanne Galsoci, Mrs. Mary Lou Giddings, Mrs. Harriet O'Brien, Mrs. Gordon Hills and Tammy Kreis, members of St. Joseph's parish, Mayville, and Mrs. Cornelia Van Turner, Laura Cherniawski and Mrs. Rose Ann Wolfrum of St. Michael's parish, Wilmet, will go as delegates along with their pastor, Father William O'Shea, to the Saginaw diocese Call-to-Action Convocation. It will take place at the Diocesan Center, March 9-10-11.

Bishop Francis F. Reh has summoned the church of the Saginaw Diocese to assemble to begin a process of implementation of the resolutions flowing from the Detroit conference on Justice, held in October of 1976. The task of the convocation will be to add to or select from the Detroit resolutions those areas which they choose to act upon now. The delegates, with the assistance of professional facilitators, will develop action plans for parishes and diocese at large.

The delegates will represent the areas of World, Nationhood, Humankind, Family, Ethnicity - Race, Neighborhood, Personhood and Church, respectively.

Legislative chairman Sharon Dunn reported that March 15 will be Legislative Day in Lansing. The annual event gives AAUW members a chance to visit with their legislators and to hear a discussion about current legislation. The theme this year is "Women on the Move."

Scholarship committee chairman Kathy Bauer announced the committee is working on this year's grant. She urged members to spread the news about the scholarship, emphasizing the fact that it is available to women already in college and high school graduates who might wish to begin a college course, as well as graduating seniors. More about this will appear soon.

Guest speaker for the March meeting will be Betty Moller, of Saginaw, Michigan division AAUW representative for international relations. Andrea Hofmeister was welcomed as a guest.

Hostesses for the evening were Barbara Stickle, chairwoman, Marie Miller, Doty Scollon, Doris Baker, and Emma Wallis.

Governor signs PBB law change

Gov. William G. Milliken Friday signed legislation, which improves the reimbursement procedures for farmers who must have dairy cattle tested under Michigan's PBB law.

The bill corrects some unanticipated problems encountered in implementing the law.

"I am very pleased to see the quick action taken by the Legislature on this important corrective and retroactive legislation," Milliken said.

The legislation increases the fee paid to farmers from $10 to $30 for each animal required to be tested under the act. The fee covers additional costs such as lost time, special care of the animal and loss of milk sales.

The bill also clarifies the time period for which a farmer can receive indemnity payments for contaminated animals. The original law said an indemnity could not be paid until an animal was destroyed and buried. The new language allows payment once the animal is quarantined, branded and removed from the farm. The provision will expedite payments to the farmers.

The law also will reimburse farmers for animals which die while waiting for receipt of the PBB test results or after receiving the results but while waiting for auction sales.

"The Michigan Department of Agriculture is prepared to expedite payment to the farmers under these new provisions," Milliken said. "Payments should begin to reach farmers within the next several weeks."

Hutchinsons receive cancer unit plaque

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, in behalf of the Leek School Association, were recipients of a plaque Monday presented by the American Cancer Society (ACS) Tuscola county unit.

The plaque was presented in appreciation of the association's donation of $900 to the ACS from proceeds from sale of the school last fall. The one-room school house is located at Mushroom and Crawford Roads. The Hutchinsons, of 4944 N. Cemetery

Road, coordinated the sale.

The money will be used within Tuscola county for purchase of items for the county unit's "loan closet" of items for loan to cancer patients, such as hospital beds and rails, wheel chairs, walkers and crutches, vaporizers, electronic artificial larynx, air mattresses, and pads and dressings.

Making the presentation were Ione Perry of Cass City, president of the Tuscola unit; Ruth Hoffman of Lewiston, ACS division representative, and Helen Lorentzen of Cass City, area memorial chairman.

Of the remainder of the proceeds, $900 was donated to the Heart Fund, which was used to buy a bedside cardiac heart monitor for Hills and Dales General Hospital; $200 to the Michigan Leader Dog School, $100 to the Welcome Home for the Blind, $100 to the Michigan Lions Club Eye Bank, and $203.10 to the Michigan Teen Ranch in Marlette.

Sheriff's Department spent over half million

Law enforcement in Tuscola county in 1977 cost taxpayers more than a half-million dollars.

In fact, the sheriff's department exceeded its original budget. Initially, the department was to receive $468,939, but Sheriff Hugh Marr had to ask the county Board of Commissioners for an additional $33,656, for a new total of $502,595.

That was for law enforcement. Operation of the drivers license bureau cost $18,674; marine safety unit, $5,896; civil defense, $17,900, and snowmobile law enforcement, $811. All four of these departments spent less than budgeted.

The department received 7,795 criminal complaints last year, an increase of 655 from 1976. Most common were for traffic violations (and accidents), 3,007; larcenies, 770; vandalism, 666; domestic problems, 443; burglaries, 413, and suspicious vehicles, 326.

From area townships, the number of complaints were Columbia, 169; Elkland (including Cass City), 746; Ellington, 146; Elmwood, 146; Kingston, 217, and Novesta, 208.

The sheriff's department made 554 arrests during the year, of which 167 were for traffic violations; obstruction of justice, 85; drunkenness, 64; family offenses, 43; liquor law violations, 33; violation of controlled substance act (drugs), 32, and burglaries, 24.

A total of 1,306 persons were lodged in the county jail, of which 111 were women. Of the inmates, 610 were in jail for the first time; 696 were repeaters.

The sheriff's department brought in 786 prisoners, Caro state police post, 279, and Cass City police, 65.

There were 892 traffic accidents during the year, 37 more than the year before. Fourteen persons were killed, the second lowest total in the past 15 years. The lowest total was 10 in 1975; the highest, 48 in 1969.

By area township, Columbia had 19 accidents; Elkland, 28; Ellington, 29; Elmwood, 24; Kingston, 32, and Novesta, 49.

Deputies issued 1,581 traffic tickets during the year, of which 824 were for speeding, and 286 appearance tickets, of which 108 were for purchase or possession of alcoholic beverages by a minor. In 1976, 2,241 traffic tickets were issued and 313 appearance tickets.

Ticket fines totaled $14,253, plus costs of $31,927. Persons arrested ended up paying $8,192 in fines and $12,704 in costs. The total of $67,070 collected was considerably less than the $93,829 collected the previous year.

The technical investigation unit, a large van staffed by two detectives, was used in 79 investigations, including 23 burglaries, nine ar-

Senior citizen forum set

A "Community Forum on Aging" is being conducted for the older people of Tuscola county. It will be held Tuesday, March 14, 1978 from 1-4 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 903 Ryan Road, Caro.

The Region VII Area Agency on Aging, which has responsibility for planning services for people 60 years of age and older throughout a 14-county area, including Tuscola county, is conducting the session.

"It is intended that the primary participants at the forum will be older persons who will discuss issues of concern to them in an informal setting," according to Richard Catalino, director of the agency.

The majority of the afternoon will be utilized to allow participants to present statements and enter into dialogue with agency representatives. "The area Agency does not propose to resolve all of the issues which might surface," Catalino added, "but rather to identify them for planning purposes."

The forums were recommended by the agency's advisory council after a series of four public hearings were held in 1977. The Area Agency on Aging has the responsibility for developing an area plan each year which is submitted to the State Office of Services to the Aging for approval.

Catalino noted, "The end result of the community forums, which are being planned for each of the 14 counties, should be local input into the agency's planning process. It should also give us a clearer awareness of local concerns which might be related to the state and federal level agencies."

Persons desiring more information about the "Community Forum on Aging" may contact the agency office in Saginaw at 793-1416.

Hearing tests available

Farmers are being offered a free hearing test at the Agricultural Engineering Building during Michigan State University's Farmers' Week, March 20-24.

The survey will be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. by a certified audiologist and personnel from the MSU Department of Audiology and Speech Sciences.

Last year, hearing checks on about 300 volunteers revealed about half the farmers tested exhibited a greater hearing loss than expected, compared to their city cousins.

Rosary bombs nets to top Bulldogs

"We hope your stay in Davison will be a pleasant one," said the welcome on the programs for the regional tournament at Davison High School.

Unfortunately for the Owen-Gage Bulldogs, their stay was very unpleasant, as their season came to an end Tuesday night with an 86-60 loss to Flint Holy Rosary.

The Wolverines will now play the winner of the Wednesday night clash between Orchard Lake St. Mary and Saginaw St. Mary. The championship game at Davison will be played Friday night.

The game started out looking like it would be a close one. Holy Rosary pulled out to a 12-6 lead halfway through the first quarter but thanks mainly to the hot shooting of Roger Ziehm, the score was tied 18-all at the end of the quarter.

The game stayed nip-and-tuck for a while after that, but by midway through the second quarter, the Wolverines held a five-point lead, 30-25. At the half, they led 34-27.

The Bulldogs were hampered by turnovers, making 17 the first half. They added 10 more in the second half.

Seven points wasn't an impossible margin to overcome, but when the second half started, Holy Rosary couldn't miss. "That's what killed us," Bulldog coach Phil Gray said afterwards.

Holy Rosary made 12 out of 18 shots from the floor in the third stanza, plus two free throws, for 26 points to only 15 for Owen-Gage.

"They were shooting them up and they kept going in," Gray said. Of the Wolverines' 26 points, Ron Fray had 14 of them.

At the start of the fourth quarter, it was the Wolverines in front 60-42, and it didn't get any better. Gray finally decided the outcome had been decided so it was time to give his players who spent most of the season on the bench a chance to play. "There was no chance and they all earned a chance to play," he commented. "What can I say?"

Ziehm went out first, with about five minutes left and the score 69-50 and Mark McDonald went to the bench a few moments later.

All 15 Bulldogs got to play and 11 of them scored.

Wolverine coach John Maciak also started sending in substitutes -- 14 of his players got on the floor -- but his bench proved stronger than Owen-Gage's and the gap continued to widen. The closest the losers came in the final quarter was 19 points, before the substituting started, and the margin was 86-60 when the final buzzer mercifully sounded.

Ziehm was the only man in double figures for his team, with 21, of which 15 came in the first half. McDonald, Dave Fritz, Jim Hendershot, and Dave Lorenz all came next with six points each.

Holy Rosary had four men in double figures. Ron Fray with 24, Mike McFarland, 14, and Dan Lehoux and Jeff Fray, each with 12.

From the floor, the Bulldogs shot a dismal 23 of 59 for 38 per cent. From the charity line, they had 14 of 25 for 56 per cent.

The Wolverines made 39 of 76 shots from the floor, 51 per cent, and eight of 12 free throws for 66 per cent.

Holy Rosary dominated the boards, grabbing 45 rebounds. Jeff Fray had nine and McFarland, eight.

Owen-Gage had 36 rebounds, with McDonald grabbing 10.

Despite the unfortunate ending, the Bulldogs still had a fine season, finishing 15-7 overall and second in the North Central D League, with a 12-4 mark, plus winning the district tournament last Friday.

Tuesday's game was the last for seniors Ziehm, Fritz Lorenz, Gary Goshin, Bill Parker, and Tim Kain. Bill with players like McDonald and Dick Glidden returning next year, plus some from junior varsity that went 14 in the league this year, coach Gray is looking for a strong team again next season.

Bulldogs nip Warriors for district crown

Two out of four isn't bad, especially when one of the four is the district championship.

Owen-Gage Bulldogs met North Huron Friday night in the Bad Axe district finals, the Bulldogs having lost two out of three times to the Warriors during the past season. One of the losses was at the Christmas tournament, the other in regular season play. When it was over Friday night, it was time to hunk the car and bus horns all the way back to Owendale and Gagetown -- the Bulldogs had won, 75-66. It was their first district title since 1974.

The win qualified coach Phil Gray's charges for the regional contest Tuesday night at Davison against Flint Holy Rosary, which defeated Dryden Saturday night, 72-60.

The game was similar to Wednesday night's contest against Caseville, in that the outcome wasn't determined until the final couple of minutes.

The Warriors managed to tie the score once in the first quarter, but at the end of the eight minutes, it was the Bulldogs ahead, 17-14.

The lead see-sawed in the second half, but when the halftime buzzer sounded, North Huron had the lead, 33-29.

North Huron stayed ahead until midway in the third quarter, when Roger Ziehm sank a jump shot for the Bulldogs. The star guard had a poor first half, but came alive in the third quarter, pumping in 12 points.

Owen-Gage moved out to a six-point lead with 1:23 left in the quarter, which it maintained till it ended, the score at the end being 53-47.

The Warriors weren't about to give up the battle, and pecked away until they tied the score at 59-all with 4:20 left in the game on a jump shot from about 20 feet out by center Dennis Kennedy.

But Ziehm and forward Mark McDonald countered with two quick baskets to put the Bulldogs ahead by four with 2½ minutes left.

From there, the team gradually increased its lead to the final 75-66 margin.

The Warriors missed their chance for success by their miserable performance at the foul line in the fourth stanza, missing on their first seven one-and-one attempts during the period. They didn't hit a free throw until there was only 55 seconds left, when Roger Stoner sank a pair.

The Warriors sank six of 19 shots from the charity line in the game for 31 per cent. They did better from the floor, 30 out of 67 for 44 per cent.

In contrast, the Bulldogs sank 15 of 22 from the free throw line for 68 per cent. They made 30 of 72 floor shots for 41 per cent.

Ziehm led in scoring for the victors with 25 points, giving him a career total of 1,012. Dave Fritz and Mark McDonald, who both fouled out with about a minute left, each had 16.

McDonald grabbed 13 of his team's 45 rebounds. Billy Parker snagged 12.

Top rebounder for North Huron was Randy Matelski with 11 of his team's 42.

Top scorers were Joe Knoblock with 17 and Roger Case and Dennis Kennedy, each with 14.

As for coach Gray, his reward was the showers, but he wasn't heard complaining when he was drying himself off.

DEFEAT CASEVILLE

Scores can be deceiving. Owen-Gage defeated Caseville last Wednesday night in the first round of district play at Bad Axe, 64-53, but it was a hard won victory.

Until the last 2½ minutes of the game, it could have gone either way.

Up till then, the Bulldogs of coach Phil Gray led all but one time, but with the Eagles nipping at their heels all the way.

Owen-Gage led at the end of the first quarter, 18-13, and 33-29 at halftime.

The Eagles finally tied the score at 41-all about midway in the third quarter on a pair of free throws by Jeff Meyer.

The Eagles couldn't get ahead, however, until 45 seconds were gone in the fourth quarter. Mike Novack put his team ahead for the first time in the game, 46-45, with a jumper from 15 feet out.

The Bulldogs then came to life and went ahead 53-48 with a little more than four minutes left. Caseville managed to narrow the margin to two points several times but with 2½ minutes left, went cold.

Caseville grabbed 42 rebounds, with Bob Watts getting 11 of them. Watts scored 13 points; Dan Fitzpatrick, 12, and Tom Osentoski, nine.

From the floor, the Bulldogs shot 27 of 72 for 37 per cent; from the free throw line, 10 of 17 for 58 per cent.

Caseville made 21 of 46 shots from the floor, 45 per cent, and 11 of 21 chances, 52 per cent.

North Huron defeated Port Austin, 64-60, in the second game Wednesday night to qualify for the district final Friday night against the Bulldogs.

Hawks rip undefeated New Lothrop

FOUL SHOOTING has played an important part in Cass City's tournament victories. Clarke Haire converted a technical late in the final quarter as the Hawks cruised into the regional finals. Watching, from left, are Tim Fahrner and Paul Battel. Number 21 is Jeff LaFay of New Lothrop.

The Cass City Red Hawks became a member of the sweet 16 for the second year in a row Tuesday night by rolling by previously undefeated New Lothrop at Grand Blanc, 72-57.

After a jittery first quarter, the Hawks settled down and dominated the Hornets for the remainder of the game.

Cass City won it the way they have won all their big games this year. Extreme pressure on the opposition's guards on defense coupled with good rebounding underneath the boards.

The Hawks jumped off to an early 6-2 lead in the opening moments on baskets by Mike Richards and Paul Battel. The Hornets came charging back on baskets by Dan Birchmeier and Ron Kulick.

Richards was deadly on his favorite popper from the side against the Hornet zone. He had trouble getting started from the free throw line, missing three shots in as many tries. He found the range in the second half and ended five for eight for the night.

But the shots in the first canto hurt as New Lothrop was playing its best ball of the night. They moved in front by a couple of baskets. Clarke Haire helped keep the Hawks close with four free throws in as many tries. When the low scoring first period ended, New Lothrop was ahead 14-10.

That was the last time that the losers were to be in front all night. Midway through the second period Rick Keith, the Hornets big agile center, picked up three fouls and was put on the bench.

When he left, the Hawks were tied. They quickly moved into the lead as Jesse Groth and Paul Battel scored from underneath. Haire drove for key baskets and important foul shots and Jeff Hartel chipped in points and key passes.

When it all ended, Cass City was ahead 30-24 at the half.

The question in the minds of Hawk fans as the third period started was what effect the return of Keith to the Hornet line-up would have.

The answer wasn't long in coming. None at all.

The Hawks scored two quick buckets to lengthen the lead to 10 points and it stayed in that area for the rest of the game.

At the end of the third quarter it was 44-35.

Cass City went into its control ball offense the rest of the way and converted foul shot opportunities kept adding to its victory margin.

Jeff Hartel was six for six in the final canto from the charity circle.

With a minute and a half left, Coach Ron Nurnberger was able to get his bench into the game to run out the string. The Hawks had made it to the regional finals.

Cass City will play the winner of the Brown City-Saginaw St. Peter & Paul game Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Haire led the Hawk attack with 22 points. Richards scored 19 and Hartel netted 12. Keith scored 16 and Pat Whelpley added 17 points for New Lothrop.

All except one of Cass City's serves in the two games were good.

Name Ziehm to all-state

Owen-Gage guard Roger Ziehm has been named to the Detroit Free Press all-state Class D basketball first team.

The selection was made by sports writers from nominations made by coaches, according to Owen-Gage coach Phil Gray.

It's the second all-state honor for the 5-7 senior. In November, he was named quarterback on the United Press International all-state Class D football team.

The son of Floyd and Madeline Ziehm of McAlpine Road, Owendale, he will be the last of their 11 children to graduate from either Owendale or Owendale-Gagetown High School. He plans on attending Graceland College in Lamoni, Iowa, after graduation.

Ziehm was one of two unanimous selections for the North Central D League all-star first team, selected by league coaches Monday night in Uby.

The other unanimous choice was Steve Bradley of Peck, who was top scorer in league play during the regular season, with a 24.81 average, scoring 397 points in 16 games.

Ziehm was second with 369 points in 16 games for a 23.06 average.

Others named to the first team were Dan Fitzpatrick, Caseville, and Chuck Washe and Jim Olesnavage, both of Carsonville-Port Sanilac.

On the second team were Matt Emerick, Port Hope; Gene Breuss and Larry Reinke, both Port Austin; Rick Stone, Akron-Fairgrove, and Mike Bayle, Carsonville.

Mark McDonald and Dave Fritz of Owen-Gage received honorable mention.

Carsonville coach Daryl Walker, who guided his team to first place in the league in his first season as varsity coach, was named coach of the year.

Roger Ziehm

Name pair to all star team

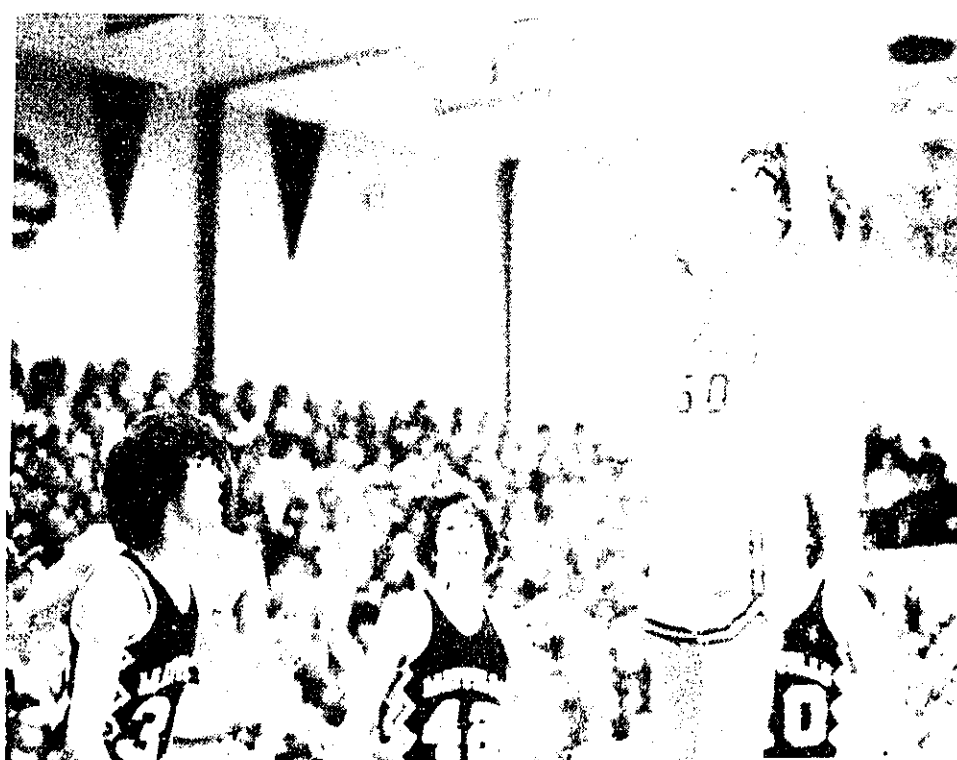

The Owen-Gage girls' volleyball team, which won the North Central D League championship, landed two players on the league all-star first team.

The all-star selections were made by the coaches Monday night in Uby.

Named from Owen-Gage were Laurie Andrakowicz and Mary Lenhard. Also on the first team were Faith Brandibur, Kingston; Karen Leach, Caseville; Brenda Cramer, Akron-Fairgrove, and Sally Reinke, Port Hope.

Named to the second team were Monique Schillinger, Carsonville-Port Sanilac; Kim Nevin, Caseville; Erunda Arandia, Kingston; Debbie Jennings, and Leah Davis, Port Austin, and Paula Eilber, Port Hope.

Coach of the year was Janet Goulash of Caseville, whose team finished second in the league with a 9-3 mark.

STEVE SMITH goes up for two points in Lakers' victory over previously undefeated Mayville Wednesday night. Watching for Mayville are Joe Raymond, Terry Diegel and Gary Kitchen.

JV girls undefeated

The Cass City High School girls' junior varsity volleyball team ended its season Feb. 27, by beating Essexville-Garber 15-11, 5-15, 15-5 to finish undefeated.

The only other match of the season to go to three games was against Frankemuth with Cass City coming out on top.

The team finished 7-0 in league play and 9-0 overall for the season.

Outstanding players this year for the junior varsity were Tam Root (setter) and Vicki Pobanz and Wendy Kelley (spikers). This spiking attack along with Tammi McKee's excellent serving kept the JV's winning, according to coach Diana Williams. At a pizza party Wednesday, March 1, at the Charming, the girls voted Vicki Pobanz most valuable player and Karen Stine and Kris Meeker as most improved.

board works on budget

The Novesta Township Board spent most of its meeting Monday night working on the proposed 1977-78 annual budget.

The budget, which calls for expenditures of $59,425, will be presented at the annual meeting at 1 p.m. Saturday, April 1, at the township hall.

The board approved hiring the Cass City accounting firm of Karl Leppien and Co. to audit the township books for the current fiscal year, which ends March 31.

The board approved contracting with the county Road Commission to have brush sprayed in the western half of the township this year.

It also decided that mowing along all township roads will be done twice this year, starting around June 1.

For high school youth

Campus Life preaches 'balance'

Doug Smith

Mental, social, spiritual, physical. It's what Campus Life calls its "balanced philosophy of life," that a person should keep growing in those four areas.

Several hundred teenagers in the Thumb and tri-city areas are learning to practice that philosophy through membership in Campus Life, a part of the International Youth for Christ, which is organized in 52 countries.

Those in Tuscola, Sanilac, Huron, Lapeer, Bay, Saginaw, and Midland counties are served by Delta Thumb Youth for Christ, which has its headquarters in Marlette.

Each Campus Life club consists of students from a single high school. There are 25 clubs in the seven counties, according to staff member Douglas Smith, with usually 20-30 members per club.

Smith, 27, is the director of the clubs in Cass City, North Branch, Brown City, and Imlay City, and is helping a group get organized in Almont. He is one of eight full-time staff members working out of Marlette. (Another area club is in Kingston.)

Campus Life is a low-pressure group. There are no requirements (other than that members be high school students), no dues, and no attendance requirements.

If someone prefers to come to the weekly meetings primarily for the refreshments or because of interest in a certain member of the opposite sex, that's okay with Smith.

Some don't come to meetings but go on the various trips the organization schedules, such as to Florida, skiing, bicycling, or canoeing.

MEETINGS

Meetings are held once a week in members' homes.

Meetings alternate between "impact" sessions where everyday problems are discussed, and "insight" sessions, a more serious discussion on Christian growth and maturity.

There are also games, which serve as "crowd breakers," and refreshments. "The idea is to keep variety," Smith explained.

"I'm just a discussion leader," he said of his role at the meetings. "I try to get them to think for themselves."

He is assisted by his wife, Vicki, and by Sue Nicol of Deford, who are unpaid staff associates. They take charge of the meetings when he has more than one scheduled the same night so has to be elsewhere.

On recreational trips, a "head and heart" session is held each day where participants discuss the Bible and other matters. Campus Life uses the Living Bible in its discussions, which Smith describes as a paraphrase written in modern day English.

As mentioned, Campus Life has a philosophy that the mental, social, physical, and spiritual areas should be kept in balance.

Key to that is the spiritual. "We believe when the spiritual area is in tune, all the other areas become in tune," Smith explained. "A person is made whole through a relationship with Jesus Christ."

Smith has been a Campus Life director in this area for five years, since graduating from William Jennings Bryan College in Dayton, Tenn., with a degree in business administration. He is a native of Chicago.

In addition to being in charge at meetings and on trips, other activities include meeting with ministers and visiting with youngsters at school and in their homes. "This is the kind of work where we don't run out of things to do."

CHURCHES

Campus Life aims to supplement the role played by local churches. That does cause some problems, he admitted, with some ministers or church members. "They're afraid they (Campus Life teens) will be proselytized."

To counter that, Smith has become acquainted with most ministers in town. He doesn't schedule Campus Life activities in Cass City Wednesday nights, when many churches schedule their own activities.

As for conflicts between denominations, he points out, "It's the same Bible, the same Lord we're talking about." Campus Life members range from Catholic to Protestant to some of the more fundamentalist denominations.

The bigger problem, according to Smith, is not with churches but in trying to schedule meetings and other activities without conflicting with school activities.

TRIPS

Campus Life isn't just attending meetings. There are numerous trips scheduled each year.

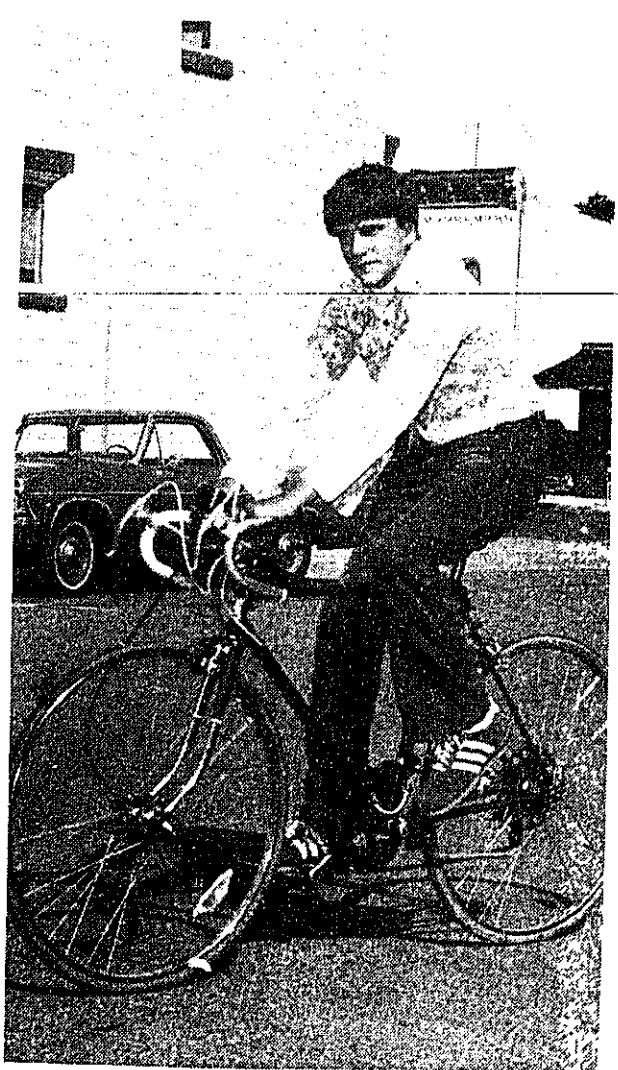

Sign-ups are still being taken for a trip to Florida March 25-April 1. A canoe trip down the AuSable River is scheduled May 26-27. June 9-18 will be a bicycle trip in Northern Kentucky and along the Ohio River in West Virginia.

Transportation (when not pedaling or paddling) is by rented bus or van, usually the latter, and overnight stays are in motels or camps.

Campus life attempts to keep the price as low as possible. The Florida trip, for those who signed up early, cost $140; the canoe trip, $18.

Campus Life financing comes from a variety of sources, including contributions from corporations, individuals, and churches, and the annual Sweetheart pageants (separate contests for the eastern Thumb and Tuscola areas), and the fees paid for the trips.

In 1976-77, the organization took in $169,705 and spent $178,604, the first time in many years there has been a deficit, Smith said.

BICYCLE TRIPS are among the Campus Life activities. Larry Buehrly of Greenland Road participated in the cycle trip from the Keweenaw Peninsula to Vassar, 585 miles, made last June 10-19. He is a junior at Cass City High School.

CAMPUS LIFE-Participants on Campus Life trips obviously have a good time, which for some, includes mugging for the camera. This photo was taken during the 1976 Memorial Day week end canoe trip.

"SATISFACTION" is the name of a singing group composed of Campus Life members from various clubs. The group sings at churches, hospitals, and before civic groups.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Apologies to General Cable

To the editor:
In connection with the quoted last line of the article in last week's Chronicle on the Loomis Centennial Farm, I would like to apologize to General Cable and its employees.

Although I may have said it some years ago, it was just "A figure of speech" and a poor one at that. I sure never intended it to be published in a newspaper. Mother didn't intend it to be information for this article.

General Cable and its employees treated me right. I admit I didn't like the work, but it's a good thing we don't all like the same kind of work. Probably there aren't many of their employees that would milk cows for a living.

PAUL BATTEL

A senior, he's Cass City's leading rebounder. Slowed by illness during much of the season he rounded into form in the districts and helped the Hawks to the title. He is a three-year letterman.

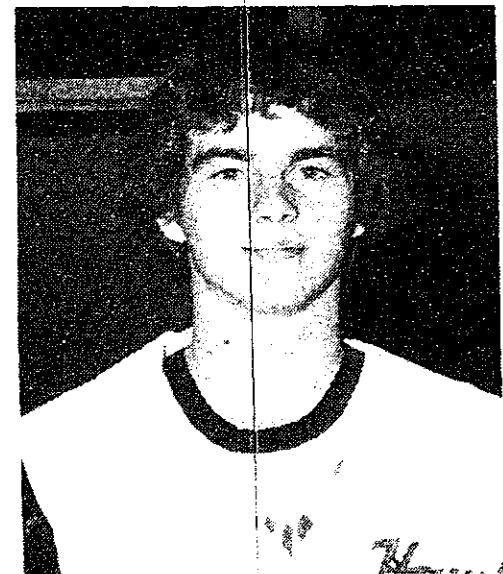

TIM FAHRNER

The only sophomore on the squad. He filled a valuable role coming off the bench to fill in at either of the forward spots. A fine shooter he promises to be the team leader for the next two years.

JESSE GROTH

A senior, his work shows that long hard perseverance can pay off. Not counted on as a starter he muscled his way into the starting line-up at mid-season. He's known as the rubber band man for his jumping ability.

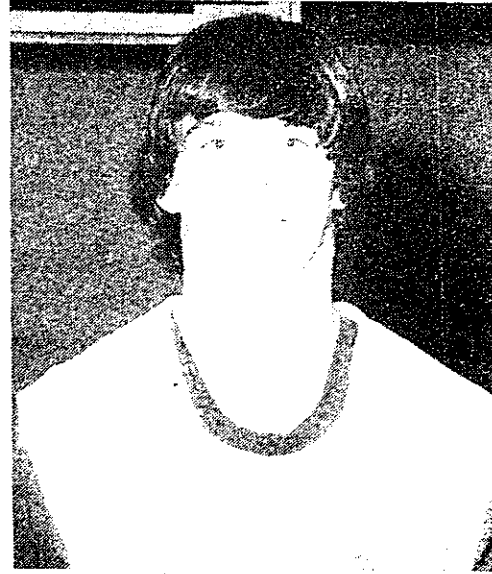

KEITH POBANZ

A junior, he didn't figure to get a lot of playing time this season and knew it. A steady performer, he worked hard in practice to improve. He has good size and has another year to work his way into the starting line-up.

SCOTT RICHARDS

It isn't often a premier player in one sport (football) is content to be used as a utility player in another...especially when he's a senior. But Scott Richards was because he wanted to be a part of a championship team again. He was. This attitude made him one of the team's most popular players.

ROSS RIDENOUR

A senior and two-year letterman. He's been a part of the winning class of senior athletes since grade school. He was a spot player in basketball and an outstanding football player.

Cass City

The way it was—the '78 Red Hawk cage season

The aim each year of Coach Ron Nurnberger is to win the Thumb B conference championship and the district tournament.

This year Cass City failed in its bid to win the league title as the Lakers defeated the Red Hawks twice on the way to an undisputed title.

That probably made the district championship won from the Lakers even more satisfying to Cass City and its fans.

For this year the team was primarily one composed of seniors. For them there was no tomorrow. Most of them had experienced the heady wine of a winning season the year before and a defeat in the tournament would have turned a year bright with promise into ashes.

The Hawks started strong with a 78-54 decision over Harbor Beach even though Paul Battel was not able to play at full strength.

He wasn't up to par in the next game and a crucial contest was dropped to the Frankenmuth Eagles in a game when the Hawks blew a substantial lead.

It was a year when the also-rans in the league were weaker than usual. Two of them, Marlette and Vassar, were easy victims in the next two Cass City games.

The Hawks played some of their best ball of the young year in the next game against Essexville-Garber. They bounced off to a big lead and then held on for an 86-85 decision.

It was back to the league wars in the next game and Bad Axe, in a rebuilding year, was no match for the Hawks. The score was 88-52.

In the last game before the holiday, the Hawks faced Ubly and rolled over the outmanned quintet, 91-51.

Harbor Beach faced the Hawks for the second time during the year. Cass City won at the Pirates' home floor, 78-64.

Another of the league's schools in a down cycle for basketball talent, the Sandusky Redskins, was the next foe and everybody played as the Hawks won going away, 67-46.

That set the stage for the first big match of the year. The Lakers vs. Cass City. It was nip and tuck all the way. Cass City led by four at the half, but the Lakers rallied to take the lead in the dying moments of the game and registered a 71-64 decision.

That left Cass City with two defeats, the Lakers with none in the conference. It looked almost hopeless.

The Hawks shrugged off the disappointing loss in the next game to win at Caro, 75-56, and set the stage for the next big game of the year.

The Frankenmuth Eagles were in town and Cass City was ready. After trailing in the early stages they rallied to take control of the game in the last half and avenged the earlier loss, 71-60.

It was a big win and kept the title hopes alive for Cass City. But the team almost blew it in the next game against Marlette.

They opened up a big lead against the Red Raiders only to have the fighting Marlette quintet come charging back to tie the game and send it into overtime. The Hawks finally squeaked out a victory, 70-67, to stay in the race.

After that win, Vassar (91-67), Ubly (93-48), Bad Axe (71-47) and Sandusky (83-44) fell in rapid succession to set the stage for the second game against the Lakers.

The Lakers had lost to Frankenmuth and had one league loss. Cass City had two. A win by the Hawks would have placed them in a tie with the Lakers and Frankenmuth for the title.

It was not to be. The Lakers came out and dominated the boards on their way to a 61-51 decision and the title.

The loss stunned the Hawks. They lost the next week to Garber, 83-79, and suffered the upset of the season when Caro edged them, 82-70, in a "nothing" game that ended the regular season.

The team ended the year on a sad note, losing their last three games. But the districts and three straight victories changed all that and made it another successful year for the Cass City Red Hawks.

Good luck girls in regional play Saturday at Armada

CLARKE HAIRE

A senior, the team's leading scorer. At his best when the pressure is the greatest. Holds Cass City's all-time scoring record and ran the offense the three years he played as a regular. He was an all-conference player as a junior last year. His quickness helped break other teams' presses and make Cass City's press effective.

JEFF HARTEL

A senior, he's far and away the assist leader on the club. Chances are if records were kept he would be the all-time assist leader at the school. Certainly he leads since Coach Ron Nurnberger started keeping records. He's a three-year letterman and an exceptionally tough defensive player. Teaming with Haire he made Cass City's pressing defense operate.

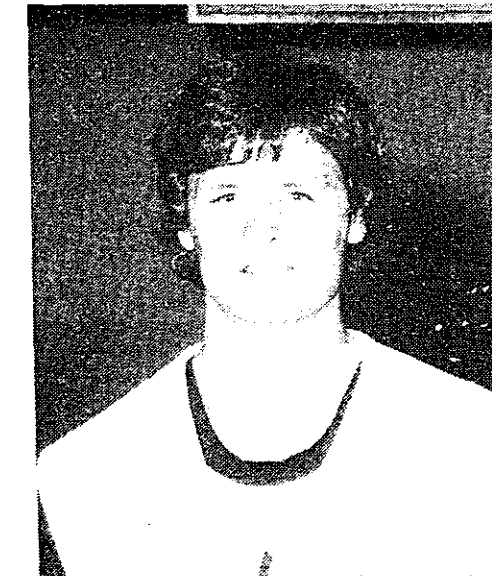

MIKE RICHARDS

A senior, Mike Richards is the best outside shooter on the club. His short pops from the 15-foot range kept zone defenses honest. He's a two-year letterman. As the 5½ man last year he provided the spark for big victories at the end of the season. As a regular this year he fulfilled the promise that he showed last season.

TIM SEVERANCE

A good ball handling guard. Playing behind three top guards, he didn't see the playing time that he would have on many teams. A junior, he has potential as shown by his selection as the most valuable player on the JV squad in 1976-77.

CLARE TRISCHLER

He's a junior and a two-year letterman. He was the first guard off the bench and started a game against Marlette. A fine shooter and good ball handler, he gave the team exceptional bench strength in the backcourt. He's the player that should take over for Cass City next year.

JOHN TUCKEY

A senior and two-year letterman. He saw action in every game. Performed well in spot situations. An enthusiastic team supporter while in the game or on the bench.

Cass City

Cass City rolls to second straight district title

IT WAS A JUBILANT group of Red Hawks whooping it up a few moments after receiving the trophy for winning the district tournament.

JEFF HARTEL sank this basket on a driving hook over the outstretched hands of the Lakers' Joel Leipprandt.

Maroon Marauders derail the Green Machine, 71-62

The Maroon Marauders derailed the Green Machine Saturday night in the finals of the district Class C basketball tournament at Cass City.

Cass City defeated the Lakers, 71-62.

The victory was especially sweet for Cass City as it came after two regular season losses to the league champion Lakers.

Key to the victory, according to Coach Ron Nurnberger, was that the Hawks were able to control the tempo of the game.

The Hawks jumped out into an early lead in the first quarter and forced the Green and White to abandon its familiar zone defense with a control ball offense.

Paced by Mike Richards who hit two jumpers from the side and Clarke Haire who rammed home a couple of drives and a free shot, the Hawks moved into a 13-6 lead in the first six minutes of the game.

The Lakers canned a bucket and the Hawks countered as Richards hit a 25-footer as the whistle blew ending the quarter.

Cass City moved its lead to 19-8 shortly after the second period started before the Lakers showed their class behind the shooting of Joel Leipprandt and Jeff Smith.

Steadily chopping at the lead, the Lakers tied the score at 29-29 with 1:45 left in the half. A second later a converted free throw shoved the Lakers into the lead 29-30 for the only time during the game.

The Hawks promptly converted three of four free throw tries to leave the floor ahead at intermission, 33-30.

Probably the turning point of the game came in the opening minutes of the second half.

Cass City whipped in eight straight unanswered points to lead 41-30 with just two minutes gone in the quarter.

It looked as if Cass City was in control but the Lakers were far from through.

They kept chipping away at the lead and with 2:19 left in the third period trailed by just three points, 44-41.

At the end of the third period Cass City led, 49-45.

Neither team was able to post an advantage in the early moments of the period.

Clarke Haire was benched for the last 90 seconds of the third period with four fouls.

He returned with 6:12 minutes left in the final frame with the Hawks leading by two points.

Cass City went into a control ball offense after Paul Battel ripped in a rebound to move the margin to four points.

From that time on the Hawks took nearly all sure shots or were fouled. Cass City scored just two buckets in the last six minutes, both on easy uncontested layups by Battel.

The Hawks simply kept the ball until they were fouled. Haire and Hartel, the ball handlers out front, led a continual parade to the charity circle as the desperate Lakers tried to steal the ball. Haire converted six for six and Hartel five for nine in the critical last quarter.

Using these tactics Cass City slowly added to its lead.

With a minute and a half left the Hawks were in front 68-53 and the game was decided.

Three Cass City players were in double figures, led by Haire with 20 points of five field goals and 10 of 13 free throws. Haire's ball handling was one of the keys to the control ball offense. Richards added 16 and Battel chipped in with 15. Hartel netted nine and played a strong passing and defensive game. Jesse Groth picked up several key rebounds in his strongest game in recent weeks. Battel was the team's leading rebounder. Richards' shooting in the first quarter moved the Lakers out of their zone defense.

Leipprandt finished his high school career with plenty of glory, hitting 21 points in addition to playing a strong floor game. Jeff Smith netted 19.
