

THE CHRONICLE CLASSIFIEDS

THESE VOLUNTEER HELPERS at Provincial House in Cass City were honored Tuesday, March 28, at a dessert arranged by the residents and the staff. The group was given certificates for their help that included individuals with 250 hours with the residents. From left, seated: Clara Eberts, Neola Webb, Mildred Herr, Hazel Whitfield, Yvonne Smith, Ruth Esau, Karen Sawdon, Janice McIntosh, Dawn Copeland, Lois Hazelton, Helen Little and Thelma Pratt. Standing are: Ellen Toner, Georgia Hightower, Noreen Partridge, Irene Doerr, James Doerr and Jane Ryba.

New books at the library

SOMETHING ON THE WIND, by Barbara Moore (fiction). After becoming separated from their master, who is an itinerant photographer, a dog and two mules make their way through the Mazatzal wilderness of Arizona trying to reach the only home they have known, the photographer's mountain cabin near Salida, Colorado.

ASK ERICA by Erica Wilson (non-fiction). Questions and answers selected from Erica Wilson's New York Daily News column are arranged alphabetically by subject and cover all aspects of embroidery design and execution.

THE ONE AND ONLY BING by Bob Thomas (non-fiction). A revealing portrait of one of the world's best-loved entertainers features 250 photographs spanning his personal life and career, including never-before-published family pictures.

AAUW to boost reading course

The March meeting of the Cass City branch of the American Association of University Women was held March 28 in the home of Geraldine Prieskorn. Guest speaker was Mrs. Letty Molter of Saginaw, international relations chairman of the Michigan division of AAUW. She spoke concerning the association's role in international relations, and the effectiveness of women working together toward a common goal. Many seminars and workshops dealing with this subject are sponsored by AAUW, and are held at various times throughout the country. A question and answer period followed. Mrs. Prieskorn reported on the RIF (Reading is Fundamental) program

Lutheran ladies meet

Monday evening, April 3, the Ladies Aid of Good Shepherd Lutheran church held its monthly meeting. President Linda Voss presided at the meeting, attended by 14 members and two guests. The program and devotions were led by hostesses, Mrs. Donna Schuette and Mrs. Joan Gunther. Dessert was also served by hostess, Mrs. Luetta Voss. Members were reminded of the LWML Spring Rally to be held at Good Shepherd church April 18 at 6:30 p.m.

which is sponsored by the local branch. A distribution of books was made at the Deford and Evergreen schools in the second grades. Three members of the high school forensic class helped with readings and skits. They were Carrie Carpenter, Frances Kozan and Ann Hobart. Plans were discussed to expand this program next year, hopefully, to include other classes, such as the four second grade classes at Campbell Elementary. Applications for the Cass City Branch scholarship are due April 28. Kathy Bauer should be contacted or the local high school counselors. Members were urged to work on the collecting of books for the annual book sale held in July. Volunteer members will sort the books at Damm's a few afternoons in May in preparation for the sale.

Four members, Kathy Bauer, Sharon Dunn, Linda Albee, and Emma Wallis, attended Legislative Day in Lansing March 15. They had lunch with Sen. Alvin DeGrow and Rep. Loren Armbruster. Members took petitions to circulate to change the way we select judges to the bench in Michigan. Guests for the evening included Gayle Gengler, Yun Jeung, Wanda Hacker, Cass City, and Norma Atkeson, Loretta Siwik, of the Huron County Branch AAUW. Hostesses for the evening were Ruth Grassmann, chairman, Betty Crandell, Mary Albee, Holly Althaver, and Erma Cardew.

Quinn to run for state appeals court

Genesee County Probate Judge Luke Quinn has announced he is a candidate for the Michigan Court of Appeals, 2nd District. Quinn, 47, is a native of Kentucky. He served nearly seven years with the U.S. Air Force in law enforcement and security. He earned an undergraduate degree from Western Kentucky State University. In 1964 he graduated from Wayne State University Law School. He practiced law in Clio, and served as an Assistant Attorney-General. In 1968, Quinn was elected a district court judge in Genesee county. In 1970, he was appointed to the Genesee County Probate Court. He has since been elected twice to the position. The Michigan Court of Appeals, 2nd District includes Tuscola, Huron, and Sanilac counties.
