Strike ends

Teachers, board reach tentative acc

School re-opens Thursday. In a hard bargaining session Tuesday night at the Charming in Cass City, negotiation teams for the Tri-County Bargaining Association and the Cass City School District reached a tentative agreement.

The Cass City School Board and the teachers were expected to hold special meetings Wednesday at 1 p.m. to formalize the agreement. The Tri-County board agreed to the proposal in a telephone poll held Tuesday evening.

The full terms of the agreement were not disclosed, pending ratification, but the final agreement on wage and fringe issues was a compromise.

Binding arbitration, one of the sticklers in the negotiations, will be without teacher evaluation and discharge.

That was one of the issues in which the district assumed an adamant stance. It reiterated its position after a closed session of the board Monday night.

Both the teachers and the administration appeared anxious for a settlement Tuesday. The final details of the contract were hammered out with two members of the union talking with a member of the school board and a member of the administration while the remaining team members waited upstairs.

While the contract details haven't been released, teachers will receive a six per cent raise across the board for this year, with the exception of the teachers with 11 years or more in the system. They will receive seven percent.

The 3-year pact is also expected to call for a 7 percent raise next year and a 2 percent improvement factor plus a 4-6 percent cost of living raise in 1979-80.

The terms of the last year are positions that the union had taken while the position of the current year has changed from previous offers to add one per cent more to the amount of raise given at the top of the increment schedule. The seven percent in the second year had previously been tentatively accepted. The last year salary schedule had previously been agreed in terms of percentage but the school wanted to make it a flat 6-8 percent raise. The dollars and cents cost were the same in either case. The district will pay 100 percent of Blue Cross-Blue Shield starting in June 1978. A percentage starting at 90 and going to 100 percent in 1979 had been offered. The union had asked that group insurance of the MEA be also authorized.

Supt. Donald Crouse said that it was the aim of the school board and the administration to try to settle the issues with the least amount of rancor possible.

That's why, he said, the board didn't follow the normal procedures when the strike started and go to court at once.

In the Monday session the board did keep this option open with the veiled threat of legal action when it voted to go to lawyers for advice and counsel to explore the possibility of legal action.

That move came after a tense, but orderly meeting when 200 persons came to hear the teacher issue aired.

As usual in sessions of this type, little was actually decided. Speaking for the union was Keith Geiger, articulate president of the Michigan Education Association. He said that "the time is appropriate" to submit the unresolved issues to binding fact finding.

Don Tonti, an elector in the district, said that the big problem in the negotiations was the outsiders brought in by the MEA.

Lambert Althaver said that the bargaining groups were too big. Reduce it to two persons on each side and then close the door and hammer out an agreement, he urged. Althaver, Walbro president, said that was the experience that he had in industry union-management bargaining.

Dan Allen, a school board candidate, presented a petition with an estimated 600 names asking for binding fact finding. He said that the names were secured in four hours of canvassing by teachers and other interested persons.

In another issue involving the strike, Dave Stafford, MEA negotiator, said that the procedure used to determine a strike was to count the ballots until a majority was reached and then destroy the ballots. That was done.

He added that about 80 of the 89 teachers on the staff were helping in one way or another to support the strike.

Strikers were on the street for two days and three days of school must be made up

Board approves vice-principal

The regular agenda of Monday's Cass City School Board's monthly meeting was anti-climactic in the face of the more pressing issue of the teacher strike.

Still several important decisions were reached.

One was an okay for hiring an assistant high school principal. Estimated additional cost for this job will be $20,000 to $21,000.

According to the outline presented to the board the new person would serve as a part-time assistant principal. Federal programs specialist, News-Cassiter editor and assist in athletic administration duties. Crouse said that much of the cost would be borne through Federal programs and that the position is year-around.

Dean Hoag said that he wanted the board to be present during the last three interviews of the prospective employees.

The thorny question of how to return the tax money from the "Goslin parcel" in Elmwood township was resolved by the board.

The funds, a little less than $60,000, will be sent in a check made out to Elmwood township and the Owendale-Gagetown School District.

BAND PROGRAM

The board authorized Director George Bushong to operate a summer band program. The school will pay $2.50 per hour towards total payment of $6.50 per hour. Lessons for students will be $1.00 per half hour lesson for a minimum of two students with a lesser charge for larger groups

APPROVE ROAD

The board authorized the building of a road to the school. It was a formal action. A telephone poll of board members was taken and the work started before an actual public vote taken. When it was formalized Monday it was 6-1 in favor. Voting against it was Thresa Burnette. She felt that the priorities as presented by the needs study committee should be followed. Total cost of the project is expected to be a little less than $40,000 with the village paying half.

Dan Allen, Deford, quizzed the board on the cost of the road, saying that it was very expensive compared to what was paid in Novesta township. He asked why bids were not taken for the work.

Lambert Althaver, village president, said that to get the fill for the new road from other village street construction it was necessary to start immediately. He said because Hunt Construction was in the village with heavy equipment the village saved money by using the concern.

In other business the board authorized the adoption of French II, Spanish I and Biology I textbooks for the high school and authorized a pregnancy leave for Mrs. Kay McCrea.

Numerous persons hurt

Two die in county accidents

Two persons were killed in separate traffic accidents in Tuscola county Monday. Another accident, at the west edge of Cass City, sent three persons to the hospital Monday afternoon.

The two persons killed were the seventh and eighth traffic fatalities in Tuscola county this year. The last accident involving a fatality was on Feb. 26.

Killed in the first accident, 11:18 p.m., was Donald D. Ayres, 16, of Caro, who was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw and died there shortly after he arrived.

Sheriff's deputies said Ayres, westbound on Decker Road, failed to yield to Cleaver Road and collided with the northbound auto of Dennis M. LeValley, 29, of Reese. LeValley was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw, where he was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon.

A passenger in the Ayres auto, Gary Graves, 17, of Caro, was treated and released from Caro Community Hospital.

The second accident, at 8:35 p.m., took the life of David R. Suranye, 22, of Norma Drive, Caro.

A passenger in his car, Paul A. Greenleaf, 22, of Caro, was treated and released from the Caro hospital.

State police from the Caro post said Suranye was northbound on Colwood Road, south of Hobart Road, when his car went off the east side of the road. It struck the east side of the ditch, then traveled along it, flipped over, and came to rest upside down in the bottom of the ditch. Suranye was thrown from the vehicle.

Greenleaf was unable to tell officers anything other than that Suranye was the driver. The accident is still under investigation.

CASS CITY ACCIDENT

Deborah Lynn Otulakowski, 20, of Wheeler Road, Snover, was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales General Hospital after a 4:43 p.m. accident Monday. Sheriff's deputies reported she pulled out of the IGA parking lot on Main Street and collided with the westbound auto of Naomi D. Kastraba, 23, of Caro. The accident took place in pouring rain.

Reportedly, both women tried to take evasive action but inadvertently both chose the same direction in which to turn. The cars collided in the eastbound lane, with the impact sending the Otulakowski car off the south side of the road. (See photo).

Mrs. Kastraba was treated and released from Hills and Dales, as was a passenger in the Otulakowski car, Nina Sue Allor, 13, of Grassmere Road, Cass City. Cass City officers policed the accident, but as it was outside the village limits, sheriff's deputies made the report.

FOUR INJURED

Two persons were still hospitalized Tuesday following an accident at 8:33 p.m. Friday. Two others sought their own treatment for minor injuries.

Reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales General Hospital was Robert A. Schmeler, 17, of 4313 Sherman Street, Cass City. His passenger, Suzanne Nolan, 18, of 4421 Crane Road, Cass City, was in good condition at St. Luke's Hospital, Saginaw.

Sheriff's deputies reported that Glenn Rogers Jr., 22, of E. Elmwood Road, Cass City, was westbound on Elmwood when the right side of his car was struck by the Schmeler vehicle, which was northbound on Green Road.

Two passengers in the Rogers car, Glenn R. Rogers, 61, and Kathy Rogers, 43, both of W. Gifford Road, Caro, sought their own treatment.

FARM ACCIDENT

Michael Peters, 16, of 5037 W. Sanilac Road, Snover, was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday afternoon at Marlette Community Hospital following a farm accident last Wednesday.

Sandusky state police said his father, Basil Peters, was in the process of backing up a tractor so that Michael could attach the disc for the tractor to tow. The hand operated clutch slipped and the tractor jumped back, pinning the youth between it and the disc.

One knee was injured, according to troopers.

Cash crunch apparently over at Owen-Gage

The Owendale-Gagetown School District's financial woes for the remainder of the school year have apparently been resolved.

That was the good news at Monday night's meeting of the Owen-Gage School Board, a marathon session it ran more than four hours. The bad news was that construction on the high school addition has come to halt because of an area strike by bricklayers and laborers.

Supt. Ronald Erickson retorted that delinquent taxes about $19,000 have been received from Huron County, enough to enable the district to meet its payroll Friday.

The board also approved resolutions to enable it to get the $150,000 loan from state approved by the legislature last November. Erickson last Wednesday received from the state Department of Education a solution in the form the agency wanted the board to pass in order to get the loan.

The board previously passed two resolutions, which the state agency said didn't comply to the dictates of the legislation authorizing the loan.

The resolution approved Monday certifies that the district will be insolvent as of June 30, based on an audit of the district's finances performed by the state treasury department.

Board members didn't like the wording of the resolution, but in the words of Leona LaFave, "I don't see that we have any alternative, really."

The board also approved a second resolution, the same as the one prepared by the state, but with a section added explaining that the district's financial problems were caused by transfer of property from the district and resulting legal fees and loss of property tax revenue. The education department will have a choice of which resolution it wants to accept before it recommends to the treasury department that it issue the loan.

Barring any further problems, it is expected it might take 7-10 days before the district receives the $150,000.

HIGH SCHOOL

Carl Tropp, project coordinator for Construction Coordinators, Inc. reported that bricklayers and construction laborers, members of Saginaw union locals, have been on strike since May 1. Construction of the walls had begun before then. The timetable prepared by CCI had called for classrooms to be ready to use in September and even figured on a one-week strike by the two unions, in preparing the timetable, but with the strike lasting longer than that, Tropp said, "the outlook is not good."

Although the masons appear close to settling, he continued, the laborers do not. The strike is against all contractors served by the Saginaw laborers, not just those involved with the Owen-Gage project.

On the recommendation of CCI and the architects, the board awarded several construction bids: Unless otherwise noted, they were to the low bidder. Bids were opened previously.

Metal panels, to McKinney and Co., $10,595. Roofing, insulation, and sheet metal, to Marlette Roofing and Sheet Metal Co., $89,223. Caulking and sealants, to J.M. Graham, $2,985. Rolling shutter doors between kitchen and cafeteria, to C.W. Clements Co., $2,469. Lath and plaster and gypsum drywall, to Roy-Don, Inc., $23,724. Hard tile and terrazzo, to Please turn to page 11.

"If It Fitz..." With ruffles and love

By Jim Fitzgerald

The wedding is tonight, and the father of the bride feels constrained to plain how in God's name ever became involved in such a frilly affair. He eloped, and he has ways insisted that was the sensible way to get married. No one would ever catch him playing a major role in one of those costumed ravananzas where you just arrive early to get a king space. That's what always said.

But tonight the father will wear a shirt with ruffles. He'll parade down a church aisle while an organ plays and people stare. He will stand in a reception line and exchange cute remarks with guests of strangers. How such things happen to a man who skipped his university commencement exercises because of a skin crawl into his es?

In trying to answer that question, the father thinks back a few years to a time on the same daughter caused him to undergo a similarly traumatic experience. She was a candidate for homecoming queen of her high school.

There were five other candidates. The six girls had to parade their charms across a football field during halftime. They had to be escorted by their fathers. These things had to be done because the school principal said so. Only the most cruel father would disobey the principal and force his daughter to be the only candidate without an escort.

The father of the bride-to-be has always loathed any sort of beauty contest. He never saw a Miss America who didn't look as if she ran on batteries. He claims there's something silly about women prancing and preening before judges. He keeps looking for their leashes.

And besides, the value of a beauty crown has been decreased considerably by the frequency of the crownings. Today there are queens selected to reign over all events except funerals. And, now that it's been mentioned, the U.S. Morticians Association will probably come up with a Miss Grief, in a black bikini.

In view of all this nonsense, how could the father possibly be an official escort for a homecoming queen candidate?

It was easy. The father not only escorted his candidate, he did it proudly, with tears in his stupid eyes. He didn't feel like a hypocrite. He felt good, and he wasn't surprised.

There is an older daughter. Tonight she will be matron of honor. In high school she was a drum major. She pranced in front of the band, and twirled a baton.

All of his life, the father of the matron of honor has made fun of baton twirling. He thinks baton twirlers are dumber than candidates for beauty crowns. But every time he saw his oldest daughter lead the band onto the football field, the big goof grinned, and leaked those stupid tears, and prayed she wouldn't drop her baton.

That's how it will be at the wedding. The father will grin and cry, and walk proudly down the aisle, escorting his queen candidate one more time. He'll forget his lifelong scorn for pomp. He'll ask strangers to admire his ruffles. A real goof.

There is only one explanation for this remarkable change in character: Daughters are magicians. They can turn fathers into goofs. Love is the magic potion.

The father of the bride-to-be remembers the day a rather foolish woman came into his weekly newspaper office. He overheard her tell the girl at the counter that she wished she had nerve enough to ask for the editor's autograph. And the girl fell down laughing.

"He's only my father," the bride-to-be said.

And the father automatically thought: "I'd rather be her father than anything else."

Even if, to do the job right, he has to wear ruffles once in a while.

THE ALMA COLLEGE MIME TROUPE IN ACTION

Arts Council to sponsor Mime Troupe at school

The Cass City Arts Council will present the Alma College Mime Troupe in a public performance Tuesday, May 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Cass City High School small auditorium.

The public performance will highlight the troupe's two-day Cass City visit. They will spend Monday and Tuesday working and performing in the Cass City Elementary Schools. This will be the second time the mime troupe has visited Cass City. Two years ago the mime troupe spent time working and performing with the high school students.

The Cass City visit will be one stop on a statewide tour for the Alma troupe, which consists of eight performers and one technical assistant.

The troupe is the creation of English professor, Joe Sutfin. This is the fifth troupe he's put together in the eight years he has been at Alma College.

"I guess you could call us silent actors, since we depend on body movement rather than voice to convey an idea to the audience," the professor explained.

Cass City motorcyclist jailed after police chase

A 16-year-old Cass City boy landed in the county jail after an early hours motorcycle chase Saturday.

It started shortly before 4 a.m. when Cass City officer William Moore was patrolling the alley on the north side of Main Street. He heard a motorcycle running at high speed and near Leach Street, saw the noisy machine, running without lights.

Moore lost track of the machine at Main and Doerr, stopped his car, then heard the sound of the cycle west of the village. He called for help from the sheriff's department.

Moore spotted the cycle turn north on Spence Road, set off in pursuit, and near Milligan Road, forced the rider into a ditch. The youth crossed the ditch into a field.

Deputies circled a square mile and found him and the cycle lying in a field on the west side of Spence Road.

Permission was requested of Probate Judge W. Wallace Kent to lodge the youngster in jail. He was later released after his parents posted bail.

Kent conducted a preliminary examination regarding the status of the youngster Monday.

Officers found the cycle he was riding was for off-road use and didn't have lights.

OTHER ITEMS

Richard Britt, operator of Thumb Parts and Machine Co. on Main Street, told Cass City police Tuesday morning that a car combination AM-FM radio and 8-track tape player was stolen from the store. The unit, valued at $90, was taken some time Monday afternoon from a display counter.

Village police Saturday arrested Richard L. Burleson of 6662 Seed Street on a charge of driving while license suspended, revoked, or refused. The license had been issued in Arizona.

He was taken to the county jail, where he was later released on bond pending appearance in district court.

Jack McDaniel of Hunt Street, Cass City, reported to deputies Monday that someone had fired three shots within the past two weeks through a pole barn he owns on N. Cemetery Road.

The Haire Net

Today was the first day of the strike at Cass City Schools. The first day that the kids were kept home. The first day in the history of the community where the doors swung shut for reasons other than scheduled vacations or an act of God.

If the strike continues, there is going to be a split in the community. There are going to be hard feelings. There is going to be a different attitude towards the educational system.

It's hard to see any other result. When the children are affected, the issues no longer are just dollars and cents. No longer abstract.

This controversy are your neighbors and mine.

Most of them are well-known to the majority. The members of the board of education are parents with children in school. Interested in the community as well as the school.

Chances are you know personally some, most or all of them: Art Severance, Dr. E. Paul Lockwood, Dean Hoag, J.D. Tuckey, Geraldine Priekorn, Dr. Ed Scollon and Thresa Burnette.

The same is true of the local representatives of the teacher bargaining unit: Roland Pakonen, Geraldine Tibbitts, Leo Gengler and Dick Roth.

If the strike drags on for weeks or months, it's going to leave a bitterness that will take years to heal.

All of us should do whatever we can to lessen the impact.

Anything constructive we can do to hasten the day the school starts again should be our prime objective.

We have a fine community and fine schools. Let's keep them that way if we can.

It's certain that most of the families in the district will line up on one side or the other. Parents with kids won't remain neutral.

We should try to lessen the impact every way we can. Certainly as parents and interested residents we should try and learn all of the facts that it's possible to learn before making judgement.

After you decide for the teachers or for the administration, what then?

That's the really important question. It's important to have an opinion. To voice that opinion.

How it's voiced is even more important.

Stick to the facts as you see them. Sure. But let's get away from personalities. Name calling. Senseless accusations. The persons involved in

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Editor Mike Eliasohn figures he got the short end of the stick. On the second Monday of each month he covers Owen-Gage while I cover the Cass City school board meeting. His meeting lasted until after midnight while mine ended shortly after 9 p.m.

Mike says that a reporter from the Saginaw News covered the Owen-Gage board meeting. That's the second time in about 11 months that anyone from the media other than the Chronicle has attended.

Mike couldn't tell me why the reporter stayed at Cass City for only a short while, where the action was, and then went to the Owen-Gage meeting which was more or less routine.

There is plenty of disagreement between the Tri-County Bargaining Association and the Cass City School Board representatives.

But they can agree. They agreed to place me on the stand early in an unfair labor charge hearing Tuesday at Caro.

I was charged with unfair labor practice because I was appointed to the board team and do not participate in the decision making process.

The hearing started at about 11:30 and I was able to zip out of there by 12:30 with my testimony complete.

If either side had wished to be arbitrary, it's possible that an entire day could have been wasted.

Minutes on Tuesdays, the day before publication, are golden and it was heartening to be able to preserve most of them.

Overheard in a Frankenmuth restaurant a week ago: The man in charge grousing to the cashier that he ate sandwiches with lettuce while on the job. Can't afford it at home, he said.

By the end of the week he should be able to afford it again. The price of lettuce is dropping. The wholesale market went from $27 a case, I read, to $12 to $14.

That should make lettuce sell for slightly more than a half buck by this week end, say the experts.

That's cheap only when you compare it with lettuce at $1.10 a head.

PEDALING AROUND

Small is beautiful

By Mike Eliasohn

What's the matter? Did a rubber band break?" probably goes back to the high days, but that's the common taunt -- ant in good humor, of use -- when one spotted owner of a small car had broken down. Small cars are a lot more common these days and baby no one, even in suggests they are powered by wound-up rubber bands.

Still many Americans aren't yet gotten over the fact that small cars are getting one buys only if you cannot afford a "regular" car. Many persons unfortunately feel that any distance over half a block should be even, not walked. Equally serious is using a 4,000 and automobile to carry person.

which regulates auto safety, is that it is never satisfied. It perhaps is a good example of how bureaucrats will never work themselves out of a job, as the agency's officials keep coming up with new safety features to require on cars. They're already working on what they will require on cars built in 1985.

From 1947-69, a car called the King Midget was built in Athens, Ohio. It carried two people, even six-footers, and in its final form, had a 12-horsepower engine.

The car was far from perfect. With its small wheels and only one of the two wheels in the rear being driven, it handled very poorly.

However, when Special Interest Autos magazine tested one a few years ago, the car averaged 50-70 miles per gallon and achieved a best of 93 mpg.

The federal government should allow building of such cars as the King Midget (hopefully, an improved version) or Clyde Wells' little vans.

It shouldn't be hard to make a small engine that will comply with pollution standards, and as for safety standards, make sure the car is capable of stopping and that it won't fall apart.

Leave the safety bumpers, side guard rails and air bags (an idea that should be discarded) to the larger cars.

You might not want to drive to Detroit in one or send your kid off to college in one, but for around-town use, the micro-mini cars should be allowed.

It is naive to think that plentiful supplies of gasoline will last forever, and in the days of decreasing supplies of fuel, cars that get a minimum of 50 mpg make a lot of sense.

Hobby Club ends season activities

Seventeen attended an outing Monday evening of the Hobby Club which marked the end of the club year. Miss Katie Crane and Mrs. Grant Brown were in charge of arrangements. The group went to Ugly Heights for a seven o'clock dinner.

Mrs. Clifford Croft presided over the business meeting in which officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Frederick Piney; vice-president, Mrs. F.D. Profit, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Dave Ackerman.

Plans were made for a summer picnic and regular meetings of the club will be resumed in September.

BEFORE THE RAIN -- Ken Schuette was behind the controls of this four-wheel-drive tractor Monday, discing under corn stubble on this 80-acre field off Milligan Road. Schuette is employed by Dick Donahue, who rents the field.

Monday's rain what area farmers needed

The heavy rain that fell Monday afternoon was just what the farmers ordered. Until then, lack of enough rain was a big concern of farmers. Delay in planting was less of a concern, especially since good weather last week allowed a lot of catch-up work to be done.

The Cass City Wastewater Treatment Plant measured .35 inch of rain at 7 a.m. Tuesday, the amount which fell during the previous 24 hours.

"There's nothing like a good warm rain in the spring to activate everything," Tuscola County Extension Director Bill Bortel said Monday, prior to the rain fall.

The rain over the week end didn't do much more than get the ground damp. What was needed was a good soaker of a quarter to half-inch to get the ground warmed up, herbicides applied to start working and seeds to start growing, and to aid the wheat planted last fall.

Although there was more than enough rain last fall and adequate snowfall this winter, a very dry spring has resulted in less than the desired amount of moisture in the ground. "We're not in bad shape but we're a long way from having a lot of reserve moisture," Bortel commented.

The wet fall put farmers behind in preparing their fields, plus some didn't get all their corn harvested, which has meant additional hours this spring.

Compared to last year, when there was an early warm spring, farmers are way behind, but compared to average years, Bortel said, farmers are only slightly behind.

Agency says 'no' to youth job program

There won't be a Summer Program for Economically Disadvantaged Youth (SPEDY) this summer. There will be some other summer youth jobs available.

Operation of SPEDY came to a halt before it began when the board of the Human Development Commission voted May 2 not to run it again. The Caro-based agency has been running the program since 1968, initially under the name of the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

HDC Executive Director Sally Atchinson said the saturation of federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds into the Thumb area, with more than 1,000 positions funded and 900 youth positions projected, was the major consideration in the decision.

"Dozens of traditional workites have already advised they will not sponsor youths this summer," she said.

The HDC was to have received the SPEDY funds through the Thumb Area Consortium, which runs the CETA programs in the three upper Thumb counties.

About $480,000 was expected in SPEDY funds, enough to have provided 450 summer jobs for economically disadvantaged youth for 12 weeks.

Consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard concurred with the decision of the HDC, that after it began checking with past job sponsors, it was found there wouldn't be many jobs available. Governmental agencies and certain non-profit agencies could have hired the youth.

Although there won't be a SPEDY program, there will be some summer jobs available for economically disadvantaged youth, Lenard explained.

One program, funded with federal Youth Employment and Training Program (YETP) funds, is being run by the HDC in conjunction with area schools. As of Friday, about 130 youth were employed. By this summer, at least 180 youth will be employed, with the jobs extending through the summer.

Another YETP program will be run by the Tri-County Public Service Agency. The $350,000 available will provide 125-150 jobs, Lenard said.

Those employed will work in jobs similar to those presently being done by

Library meeting

The May regular meeting of the Rawson Memorial Library board was held Tuesday forenoon with Mrs. K.I. MacRae, Mrs. M.B. Auten, Lou LaPonsie, Mrs. Esther McCullough and Librarian Mrs. Barbara Hutchinson present.

Members voted to purchase wall track for wall hangings for the new addition. The library policy has been reviewed and was adopted. Brenda Hicks, currently working at the library, is a CETA employee.

Plans are to send Mrs. Doris Jones and Mrs. Michelle Zdrojewski to the summer workshop, if reservations can still be made.

Reservations have been made for four to attend the White Pine Library Association dinner in Bay City, May 12.

Hoggish pig becomes pork chops

A pig learned the hard way Monday that it doesn't pay to hog the road.

Eugene J. Poirier, 44, of Pigeon, was northbound on Unionville Road, south of Cass City Road, at 1:50 a.m. when his car struck a 40-50 pound pig standing in the road.

Poirier told deputies he couldn't steer into the southbound lane to avoid the animal because a second pig was standing there.

The accident report didn't say whether the pig, which belonged to Cirilo Martinez of Unionville Road, Unionville, was killed.

Charges aired before judge

Another episode in the negotiations between the Cass City School District and the Tri-County Bargaining Association was enacted Tuesday in Caro before Administrative Law Judge James P. Kurtz.

Appearing to answer charges of unfair labor practices were representatives of the school district and John Haire.

The union charged the school with unfair practices because the administration refused to furnish data about teachers concerning wages, sex and other information without a "hold harmless" statement from the union.

Administration officials feared that they could be held liable for invasion of privacy if they released the information granted.

Haire was charged because he was a member of the board team but did not participate in its decisions.

Rosenbaum wants ruling

House Judiciary Committee Paul Rosenbaum (D-Battle Creek) has asked the state Supreme Court to rule on the constitutionality of a law prohibiting dissemination of pornography to children.

The law, which takes effect June 1, establishes new statutory definitions of sexually-explicit materials.

A resolution, calling for the review, asks for rulings on seven points: two on whether the definitions are specific enough to be used in other pornography laws; a question on authority of local units to enact obscenity ordinances; a question on the constitutionality of a provision imposing criminal liability upon persons who do not sell or give materials to a minor, allow a minor to examine the obscenity; and question relating to what constitutes a local community standard.

SBA closes Caro office

The U.S. Small Business Administration farm disaster loan office in Caro was open for the last time Tuesday.

Farmers can still apply for the loans through May 25 at offices in Mount Pleasant and Detroit.

The Caro office, located in the basement of the county jail, took in between 900 and 1,000 applications from farmers in 18 counties, according to loan assistant Barb Porterfield. It opened in mid-December.

Of the applications, about half came from farmers in Huron and Sanilac counties. Only about 70 came from Tuscola.

The average amount applied for, Miss Porterfield said, was $20,000 with 7-12 years to repay. One Midland area farmer, who lost his entire 600 acres of potatoes, applied for a loan of $480,000.

Of those who have applied, she continued, about 250-300 have received their money so far. It usually takes the SBA 90 days to process the applications. Only about two percent of those who applied were turned down.

The office provided information and accepted applications for low-interest disaster loans to farmers who suffered 1977 crop losses due to excessive rainfall from Aug. 1 through Oct. 7.

Farmers still wishing to apply can do so at the Isabella County Building, 200 N. Main Street, Mt. Pleasant 48858, telephone (517) 772-9381 or at 477 Michigan Avenue, Room 25 Mezzanine, Detroit 48226, telephone (313) 226-4030.

The former is open weekdays from 8 a.m.-4 p.m.; the latter, from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

Dinsmore retrial scheduled Aug. 22

Donald Dinsmore will go on trial for a second time, charged with the murder of his former in-laws.

Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements scheduled a new trial Aug. 22 after declaring a mistrial Friday afternoon when he was informed the jury was unable to reach a verdict.

Dinsmore, 41, of rural Akron, was charged with the Sept. 23 shooting deaths of his former in-laws, Henry Beamish, 64, and his wife, Frances, 62, in their home on Waterman Road, Vassar.

The trial, originally scheduled to run five days, started April 25. It went to the jury last Wednesday, May 3, after almost seven full days of testimony.

Jurors deliberated for about a half-hour Wednesday, 11 hours the next day, and six hours Friday before concluding they were hopelessly deadlocked.

Reportedly, the jury of five women and seven men was deadlocked 10-2 in favor of conviction.

Much of the testimony presented by Prosecutor Patrick Joslyn was of a scientific nature. One ballistic expert testified that three shells found at the murder scene came from a shotgun seized from Dinsmore at the time of his arrest. A second expert linked the same shells to a reloader found at or near the defendant's home shortly after his arrest.

Defense attorney C. Michael Gorte of Bay City presented an alibi defense, that his client was elsewhere at the time of the shootings. Among defense witnesses were Dinsmore's mother and brother, who testified May 2 that the gun allegedly used was not available to the defendant at the time of the shooting.

Dinsmore has been held in the county jail following his arrest Sept. 25. Following declaration of the mistrial, Judge Clements rejected a defense motion for setting of reasonable bond and remanded Dinsmore to the county jail to await the Aug. 22 trial.

Board may seek federal funds for new building

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners may seek federal funds to build a building to house the county Cooperative Extension Service and some other county departments - provided such funds become available.

The board Tuesday discussed the possibility of Congress approving new public works funds. A previous allocation of funds is paying for the new county animal shelter now under construction.

Though no formal decision was made, according to board Chairman Maynard McConkey, commissioners will probably later authorize its building and grounds committee to hire an architect to study the space needs of the departments that would use the new building and then prepare some preliminary plans.

If the federal funds become available, the plans could be submitted with an application for the money.

The board authorized expenditure of $3,095 for installation of a fire evacuation door and exhaust fan over it at the county jail. Completion of carpeting the health department offices was authorized at a cost of $3,588.

Hiring of a part-time electrical inspector to replace one who left was authorized at $5.27 per hour. Also okayed was hiring of a part-time mechanic for the sheriff's department at $5 per hour to take over for a mechanic-deputy who presently is hospitalized.

The board met with Probate Judge W. Wallace Kent Jr. and Opal Hunter, Probate Court juvenile worker, to discuss the juvenile justice program.

LETTER TO EDITOR

MacCallum protests use of "oust"

Gentlemen:
Arnold MacCallum of Owendale objects to the headline in your issue of Thursday, March 16, which reads as follows: "Owendale mayor ousted."

Mr. MacCallum believes that such choice of language implies that he was thrown out of office, for some wrongdoing or some wrongful act, which certainly was not the situation. He was defeated by 11 votes in an election in which apparently only 83 people saw fit to vote.

Mr. MacCallum accordingly demands that your paper print a retraction of the headline, and he has no objection that the word defeated be used, or that he was not re-elected.

Very truly yours,
Donald R. Clark
Attorney at law
Bad Axe

Editor's note: We are sorry that Mr. MacCallum feels that oust is an objectionable word. Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary's definition of "oust" include "to remove from or dispossess of property or position." "Supplant" is listed as a synonym for "oust." No demeaning of the Owendale village president's service was implied or intended.

The price of progress comes in the form of new problems.

Honor Society pupils at Owen-Gage inducted

The Owendale-Gagetown High School chapter of the National Honor Society held its induction of new members April 11 in the Owendale Community Building.

New members from the senior class are Janet Menzel and Roger Ziehm. Juniors are Laurie Andrakowicz, Laurel Billy, Brenda Furness, Brenda Haley, Tammy Koss, Doug Laurie, Mark McDonald and Tammy Wissner. Sophomores are Mary Kay Burrows, Brad Erickson, Jennifer Errer, Debra Gettel, Alan Haag, Carol Parker, and Robin Sullivan.

Chapter President Brian Prich listed the qualities of membership to the inductees. Lori Gaeth spoke on scholarship, Sherrie Hoffman on service, James Koch on leadership, and Dawn Erickson on character.

Each new member was given a collar pin, certificate, and flower by the present members.

Invocation at the evening ceremony was given by Tim Lorencz. High School Principal James Barr gave the welcome and introduced the speaker, Donald Richards, who discussed citizenship. Richards is director of the Regional Educational Media Center in Cass City. Supt. Ronald Erickson gave the closing remarks.

Chapter officers this year in addition to Prich are Sherrie Hoffman, vice-president; James Koch, secretary; and Dawn Erickson, treasurer. Barr is advisor.

Coffee, punch, and cookies were served following the ceremonies.

Regular meeting of Cass City Village Council

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held April 25, 1978 at the Elkland Township Fire Hall at 7:00 p.m. All Trustees were present.

The public hearing as advertised on the question of the construction of a road from Rose Street to Seeger Street was held. After discussion and favorable vote of the persons present a motion was made by Trustee Ware and supported by Trustee Helwig that the Council offer to pay 50 percent of the cost of undercutting and grading the road from Rose to Seeger at the estimated cost of $7,000.00 for 1978 and the balance of $29,000 next year.

Motion carried, 4 yeas, 2 nays.

The minutes of the regular March meeting were read and approved.

Evelyn MacRae and Barbara Hutchinson from Rawson Memorial Library were present to request additional funds for operation. After discussion a motion was made by Trustee Hampshire and supported by Trustee Tuttle that the appropriation to Rawson Memorial Library be increased from $3,000.00 to $4,500.00. Motion carried, 6 yeas, 0 nays.

Request for annexation and water and sewer hookup was received from Alvin and Barbara Hutchinson on their property on the corner of Seventh and Leach Street. After discussion a motion was made by Trustee Hampshire and supported by Trustee Ware to accept the petition of Alvin Hutchinson for annexation and hookup to Village water and sewer. Motion carried, 6 yeas, 0 nays. Further action was referred to the Public Utilities Committee.

The March financial statement was reviewed.

Reviewed was the 1978 Street Program. A motion was made by Trustee Rawson and supported by Trustee Helwig to advertise for bids for the curb and gutter on Nestles and Church Street to be accepted at the regular May meeting. Motion carried, 6 yeas, 0 nays.

Clare Comment of Charmont was present to discuss future curb and gutter and blacktopping plans for the road and parking lot on his property. The matter was referred to the Street Committee for recommendation.

A letter was received from the Cass City Development Corp. requesting that the Council establish a Plant Rehabilitation District on their property on Doerr Road. The reason for this request is for a tax break to probable industrial prospects. After discussion a motion was made by Trustee Helwig and supported by Trustee Stahlbaum that the request from the Cass City Development Corp. to create special Act 198 Plant Rehabilitation District be approved. Motion carried, 6 yeas, 0 nays.

Commissioners seek lower tax base from state board

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners took its fight to limit the increase in property taxes to Lansing Monday when it appeared before the State Equalization Board.

The Equalization Board, composed of the members who make up the State Tax Commission, must set an equalized valuation for the entire state, which they do by setting a state equalized valuation (SEV) for each county.

For individual property owners, assuming they made no changes in their property, such as new buildings, an overall increase in valuations to reflect a supposed increase in market values will mean an increase in taxes.

Representing the county Monday were Commissioners Maynard McConkey of Cass City, Kenneth L. Kennedy of Millington, Robert Russell of Vassar, and Donna Rayl of Akron. Also present were the board's secretary, Jackie Larson, and county Equalization Director Donald Graf.

Kennedy presented the board's statement, which sought to justify its actions in seeking to trim $17.62 million from the SEV arrived at in the equalization department's study.

The study had projected an average 15.02 percent increase on agricultural property valuations and 5.53 percent for residential, for a total SEV $17.62 million higher than the one set by the county board in April of $393.515 million. The county board's figure is about midway between what it would have been if valuations had been frozen at last year's level and the total computed by the equalization department.

The Equalization Board, after reviewing the information presented by the Tuscola representatives, will meet with them again May 18, for further discussion.

The board has until May 22 to set the valuation for the entire state.

The items presented by the Tuscola representatives to support their case for a lowered increase in valuations are as follows:

1) A comparison report of State Equalized Value over an 8-10 year period of Tuscola and adjoining counties which share the same school districts. The report shows Tuscola increasing at a rate of 56 percent over and above her adjoining counties.

2) A comparison report of number one land value of bordering townships within the county of Tuscola and a neighboring county. The report shows Tuscola assessing the land at an average of $145 more per acre.

3) The 1977 Tuscola Agriculture Land Study conducted by the county equalization department, which according to Kennedy, does not project a true picture of agricultural land values. "Indeed our county has 7,638 agricultural descriptions on the various tax rolls, of which only 44 farm property sales were used in the 1977 study," he said. "In fact, we point out that six of our 23 townships did not experience an agricultural sale in 1977."

4) "We submit that the strict and often sole use of the sales to assessment method to determining land values is in variance with property tax law, as established by the Michigan Legislature. An excerpt from Attorney General Frank Kelley's opinion No. 5185 and substantiated by Michigan Compiled Laws Annotated 211.17, MSA 7.27, the determination of cash value is as follows," Kennedy said: "The assessor shall also consider the advantages and disadvantages of location, quality of soil, zoning, existing use, present income of structures, including farm structures and present economic income of land when the land is being farmed."

5) The report of the Michigan State Police Emergency Services Division which itemizes 1976 ice storm damages to all classifications of property. The total dollar amount is $12,997,748, none of which was used as a loss in the process of equalization.

6) The report of the Tuscola County Disaster Committee which itemizes the 1977 Tuscola crop losses. The dollar amount is $5,646,617, a loss sustained by farmers last fall after the 1977 county equalization department study of land values was finalized.

7) A list of 40 mortgage foreclosures in Tuscola county covering from 1975 through 1977. "Although this may not be pertinent to our instant case, we feel it does reflect a rather shaky economic condition in Tuscola county," Kennedy said. "We ask not sympathy, but justice," Kennedy concluded, "not a good deal, but a fair deal, which truly reflects Tuscola's share of state total."

Ok air tank recharger purchase

The Elkland Township Board Monday night voted to spend $350 to buy a machine to recharge air tanks used by township firemen when they enter smoke-filled buildings.

At present, the tanks have to be taken out of town to be refilled.

Karl Leppien and Co., certified public accountants, was appointed to audit the township books for the recently completed fiscal year.

Alan Kleo of Harris-Hampshire Agency, Inc., spoke to the board about consolidating insurance policies the township has with the agency, which would result in a cost saving.

As in past years, the board decided to work with the village in conducting the Memorial Day parade.

The board discussed cemetery policies with Ted Morgan, the new sexton.

THANK YOU Cass City Residents

The 89 member teaching staff of the Cass City Schools extend their heartfelt thanks to the 600 residents of Cass City who have already signed petitions requesting the Board of Education to agree to submit unresolved bargaining dispute issues to binding fact-finding in order to bring about an immediate end to the school strike.

The continued support of the community will bring about a speedy settlement of the contract and hasten our return to the classroom where we can once again concentrate our full energies on the education of Cass City boys and girls.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Jan M. Nickens, 19, of Phillips Road, Kingston, was treated and released from Mariette Community Hospital following an accident at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Deputies said he was northbound on Kingston Road, south of Legg Road, when his car went off the right edge of the road, crossed over, jumped a ditch on the left side of the road, and rolled over.

Mark W. Meeker, 16, of 6559 Kelly Road, Cass City, was cited by Caro state police following a 10:30 p.m. accident Friday.

Troopers reported his car, northbound on Englehart Road, north of Kelly Road, went off the west edge of the road, crossed back over, and came to a halt against an embankment on the east side of the road.

David M. Wright, 31, of 6796 Severance Road, Cass City, was cited by Bad Axe state police on a charge of violation of the basic speed law (too fast) after an 11:35 a.m. accident Friday.

According to officers, he was southbound on S. Elkton Road, south of Canboro Road, when his car skidded, went off the east side of the road into a ditch and rolled over, landing upright.

Caro state police reported Saturday that Timothy J. Smith, 16, of Deckerville Road, Cass City, eastbound on Akron Road, stopped for the stop sign at Colling Road, then started to turn right before a southbound car had cleared the intersection. Driver of the other car, which was struck in the right side, was Janet R. Kunderling, 31, of Caro.

Two cars collided at 2:55 p.m. Monday in Cass City. Village police reported Lucille R. Wotton, 75, of 5862 Van Dyke Road, northbound on Sherman Street, pulled over to the right to park. Calvin D. Venema, 27, of 3466 Cass City Road, was doing likewise, thought Mrs. Wotton had stopped when he pulled in front of her, and was sideswiped by the Wotton auto.

Lawrence K. Langlois, 50, of 6053. McGregory Road, Gagetown, was ticketed by Huron county deputies following an accident at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday, May 3.

Officers said Langlois was northbound on Elkton Road and was struck by the car of Matthew N. Holz, 48, of Bad Axe, who was westbound on Sebawaing Road.

Langlois, who sought his own treatment for a reported cut on the back of his head, was cited on a charge of failure to obey a stop sign.

CAR-ANIMAL

Bertha M. Hover, 73, of Caro, was westbound on

M-81, northwest of Colwood Road, at 10:10 p.m. May 2, according to deputies, when her car struck a deer.

Joseph L. Slater, 19, of Pontiac, was eastbound on Bruce Street in Deford when his car went off the left side of the road into a utility pole. He told deputies his car went out of control when he attempted to avoid hitting a large dog which was crossing the road. The accident happened at 6:45 a.m. Friday.

At 9:15 p.m. Friday, according to deputies, Barbara J. Geister, 30, of 6829 E. Cass City Road, was headed northwest on Clifford Road, east of Hurds Corner Road, when a deer ran into the side of her car.

May Louise Howell, 17, of Hurds Corner Road, Cass City, was eastbound on Deckerville Road, east of Hurds Corner, when her car struck a deer. Caro state police investigated the 9:30 p.m. accident Sunday.

Owen-Gage lets contracts for construction of new building

J. C. Cukley, Inc., $21,753. Acoustical ceilings, to Tri-City Acoustical, $15,360. Resilient flooring, to Sears Contract Sales, $5,051.

Painting and finishing and toilet room accessories, to Standard Painting and Associates, $23,775.

Chalk and tackboards, to Brandon James, Inc., $1,816. Toilet partitions, to Patom Enterprises, $1,545.

Four fire extinguishers and cabinets, to L. E. Bat-chelder Co., $169.

Signs and school name on outside of building, to the second lowest bidder, Super-sine Co., $1,100. Awarding bid to lowest bidder wasn't recommended for various reasons, including poor performance on a contract in another school district.

Food service equipment, to Great Lakes Hotel Supply Co., $36,295.

Temperature controls, Johnson Controls, Inc., $32,720.

For various reasons, bids were not awarded for paving of drives and parking area, dampproofing, carpeting, gym flooring, and gym bleachers.

Troop said the bids awarded were within estimates.

The board approved purchase of white fluted block for an additional $6,400 above the cost of standard color fluted block. The white is to match the trim on the present high school building. The cost, which may yet be reduced, is in addition to the awarded bid price for masonry work of $212,100.

OTHER BUSINESS

High school counselor John Rinke, a member of the teachers' negotiating team, talked to the board about the status of negotiations.

Acknowledging the district's "scanty" finances, he said pay for Owen-Gage teachers was $1,000 below the state average. "We're not being paid as professionals. When the board looks at salaries across the state, they can see that." He suggested the board may have to consider asking voters for a millage increase in order to pay teachers "as professionals."

"Just understand our position," Erickson responded. The next negotiation session is this Wednesday, with money apparently the main stumbling block to a settlement.

After the meeting, Rinke said the board and teachers are $3,000 apart in what is being offered and what is being requested respectively in pay for starting teachers with bachelor's degrees.

Elementary Principal Bill Britt reported the April 28 read-a-thon conducted at his school raised more than $800 for purchase of library materials.

Resolutions to officially schedule the school election June 12 were approved. Because that would be the normal board meeting date, the meeting was rescheduled for the next night.

Debra Vargo was named student of the month for April. Kathy Johnson was hired as a bus driver.

It was shortly after midnight that the board approved a motion introduced by Jack Laurie to limit board meetings to 2 1/2 hours, unless members decide at that time to continue. If the meeting ends after 2 1/2 hours with items still on the agenda, the board will meet again on the next Monday night.

It was announced that baccalaureate will be May 21 and graduation May 25. Thirty seniors will graduate plus three are in the "tentative" category. Seniors finish school May 19, the rest of the students June 8.

The board okayed providing bus transportation to and from Detroit Metropolitan Airport for seniors going on the senior trip, June 5-12, to Florida.

Owen-Gage to award letters for scholarship

The school board was informed Monday night that Supt. Ronald Erickson, Principal James Barr, and counselor John Rinke had decided to initiate the practice.

Erickson said the suggestion came from his daughter, Dawn, a senior, who is salutatorian at the upcoming commencement and also a letter winner in athletics.

In March, the Detroit News reported that Eau Claire High School in the southwestern part of the state was the first Michigan high school to award letters for scholarship. The idea there came from a school in Pennsylvania.

At Owen-Gage, letters will be awarded to those who qualify and who haven't been awarded letters for athletics. They, along with those who have letters for athletics who qualify, will receive a "lamp of knowledge" pin to attach to their letters.

To qualify for the academic letter, or pin, a sophomore will need a grade point average of 3.5; juniors, 3.25; and seniors, 3.0. Secondly, they will have to be members of the Honor Society. In addition to requiring those grade averages, students must meet other criteria, such as for citizenship and service, to be accepted into the organization.

Barr said there presently are nine Honor Society members who have not earned varsity letters for sports. They will receive their letters plus everyone in the Honor Society will receive their academic pin before the end of the school year.

HEALTH TIPS

Gallstones are common problem

By Frank Chappell,
American Medical Association

In the upper right part of the abdominal cavity is a small pouch called the gallbladder. It is the temporary storage center for bile, and is part of the digestive system.

The American Medical Association reminds that sometimes lumps of solid matter composed of bile pigment and salts form in the gallbladder or in the ducts leading to it. These are called gallstones.

There may be only one gallstone, or there may be hundreds. They can be so tiny that they look like sand, or they can be as large as a golf ball. Gallstones occur more often in women than in men and more frequently in persons past 40.

Exactly how they get gallstones is still somewhat of a puzzle. They are generally thought to be the result of changes in composition of the bile, or stagnation of the bile, or infection.

Gallstones often lie quietly in the gallbladder or bile ducts. But if a large stone starts to move, you'll know immediately that something's wrong. Pain will be severe, and will cause acute agony. The skin over the area of the gallbladder may be sensitive to touch. The attack may be over in a few minutes or it may last for days. Sometimes it becomes mildly chronic and may be interspersed with acute episodes.

Of course, not all severe pains in the upper part of the abdomen are from gallstones. Only your doctor can tell with proper diagnostic techniques.

You can't diagnose gallstones yourself. Your abdominal pain may or may not originate in the gallbladder. Let your doctor decide, and recommend treatment.

Cass City edges Vassar for lead in track race

It was a battle to the wire for the Thumb B Conference track lead between Cass City and Vassar Wednesday and seldom has a meet provided a more exciting finish than the one staged by the two schools.

Cass City won, 84-74, to remain undefeated but the outcome was uncertain until the final event of the day.

The Hawks piled up a big lead in the early going on their strength in the distance and hurdle events, only to have the Vulcans come charging back in the dashes.

With two events left, the high jump and mile relay, this was the outlook. If Cass City won the high jump the Hawks could finish no worse than in a tie. Clarke Haire won the event and set the stage for the relay team of John Tuckey, Scott Richards, Kevin Brown and Rusty Hoag.

After three of the four laps were completed, Vassar had a lead of about 10 yards. Rusty Hoag got that back, edged ahead on the back straight away and held on for a 10-yard win and the important meet victory.

Steve Richards won the mile and 2-mile for Cass City. Rusty Hoag captured the 880 and 440. Steve Shelp was a double winner for Vassar, taking the pole vault and long jump.

O-G cops USA softball tourney with 3 wins

Owen-Gage softball coach Judy Campbell didn't think her squad had much of a chance in the Unionville-Sebewaing Area Schools' eight-team invitational Saturday.

She needn't have worried. The 31-inch tall first place trophy is now on display at Owen-Gage High School.

It might be said the Bulldogs stole the tournament, as they stole 32 bases in their three games to only three by their opponents, all by Imlay City in the championship game.

That and strong hitting made the difference in the tournament. "Just about everybody was hitting all day," Miss Campbell said of her team.

Owen-Gage won the first game, 12-2, over host Unionville-Sebewaing. Becky Howard pitched the entire game, called after six innings because of the 10-run mercy rule. She gave up only five hits in the first game she has ever pitched.

Top hitters for the victors were Tammy Kain, two singles; Mary Lenhard, a triple and two singles, and Becky Howard and Laurie Andrakowicz, both with two singles. The Bulldogs had a total of 13 hits. They stole 13 bases and made three errors.

USA made eight errors. Owen-Gage defeated Mayville in the second game, 17-4, with Dawn Erickson pitching all seven innings. Her team had 14 hits, 11 stolen bases, and made five errors.

Top Bulldog hitters were Carol Goslin, two doubles and a single; Barb Wright, three singles, and Laurie and Julie Andrakowicz, both with singles.

Mayville had seven hits and made nine errors. The championship game was a bit closer, but only a bit, as the Bulldogs downed Imlay City, 10-3. The Spartans managed to steal three bases, while their opponents stole eight.

Dawn Erickson pitched the first three innings. Mary Lenhard went the rest of the way, the first game she has ever pitched, and got the win.

Miss Lenhard helped at the plate with a triple and a double.

The Vikings made 12 errors in the game to six for the Bulldogs. The losers didn't steal any bases, in contrast to 12 for the winners.

Bulldog teams post loop wins over Vikings

SOFTBALL

Owen-Gage girls had a picnic of sorts last Thursday at Akron-Fairgrove, banging out 17 hits and stealing 12 bases to down the Vikings, 22-3.

Until then, both teams were tied in the North Central D League softball standings with 2-0 marks.

Dawn Erickson led the way for the Bulldogs, striking out eight and walking eight in the game, called after five innings because of the mercy rule. At the plate, she had a double and a single in her four times at bat.

Eight other Bulldogs also collected hits. Mary Lenhard, Becky Howard, Laurie Andrakowicz, Carol Goslin, Barb Wright, Mary Good, and Tammy Kain all had two hits, with Goslin hitting a double and a triple. Mary Kay Burrows had one hit, a double.

Losing pitcher was Kim Aldrich, who went the distance for the Vikings. She also collected one of her team's two hits, a double.

Bad Axe wins Huron county's baseball tourney

Owen-Gage lost in the first round of the Huron County Baseball Championship with a 7-3 dubbing by North Huron Friday in the rain at Port Austin.

Bad Axe won the tournament, defeating Caseville in the championship game Saturday, 6-2.

Bulldog coach Phil Gray was resting his two ace pitchers, Pete Klemkowsky and Roger Ziehm, who pitched in a league contest the day before at Akron-Fairgrove and had to pitch again Monday against Peck.

That left the mound duties up to Dick Glidden, who usually mans first base and had never pitched a game before.

He went the first five innings giving up five hits, striking out five, and walking seven, to become the losing pitcher.

Jim Hendershot came on in relief in the sixth, Harbor Beach's last time at bat, and walked one. He had no strikeouts and didn't give up any hits.

Winning pitcher was Tom Teeple, who threw all seven innings for the Pirates, striking out 14. He gave up five hits and walked three.

Hendershot for Owen-Gage and Gary Booms for Harbor Beach were their teams' leading hitters, each with two singles.

Both teams made two errors.

Mayville had seven hits and made nine errors. The championship game was a bit closer, but only a bit, as the Bulldogs downed Imlay City, 10-3. The Spartans managed to steal three bases, while their opponents stole eight.

When should people retire?

Large local employers unaffected by new law

The new federal law extending the retirement age won't have an effect on large employers in the area either will a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that men cannot be required to contribute more to their pension plans than women. The extension of the retirement age from 65 to 70 doesn't mean persons will be required to work until they are 70, only that they cannot be required to retire at 65 if they want to keep working. The new law takes effect July 1. After that, the only persons who can still be required to retire at 65 are high-level executives whose retirement incomes are at least $27,000 and red university faculty members.

On Oct. 1, there will be mandatory retirement for federal employees. The largest employer in the area is Walbro Corp., which has about 600 employees in Cass City and personnel manager Don Pontoni said as far as he knows, Walbro never has had mandatory retirement age. "We've never had any problems," he said.

He has more than 400 employees locally. He and Pontoni said their firm does not have some employees over 65, but couldn't give a number.

At Evans Products Co. in Gagetown, Personnel Manager Ken Nye said employees presently can work past age 65 but there are none that old. There are "not even that many close to 65," he added.

He doubted that the law will have much effect, that most persons will still choose to retire at 65.

Evans Products has 115 employees.

Hills and Dales General Hospital has a recommended retirement age of 65, according to Administrator Ken Jensen, but employees can work past that age if they so choose. He guessed that the hospital has one or two employees over 65. It has a total of 153 employees.

In addition to the new federal law, a recent Supreme Court ruling also affected retirement.

The court held that pension plans where women were forced to contribute larger portions of their salaries than men violated federal laws banning sex discrimination in employment.

The rationale for such requirements was that women generally live longer than men and therefore collect more retirement benefits, therefore, should pay more into their pension plan while working. Such retirement plans covered millions of workers.

The Supreme Court ruling won't affect workers of the four local employers surveyed.

Walbro, General Cable, and Evans Products all fund 100 percent of their employees' pensions; employees contribute nothing.

Hospital employees do have to contribute part of their pay to their pension plans, however, the amount is based on their income, not on whether they are a man or a woman.

At 67, Frank Ertman has no plans to retire

Most persons would be content to retire at age 65 and many can't wait until they no longer have to punch a time clock.

But at age 67, Frank Ertman has no plans to retire. "It all depends on how I feel," he said of when he might do so.

Ertman works in the re-spooling and cable repair department at General Cable Corp. in Cass City, a job he has held for almost 10 years. The firm has no mandatory retirement age.

Why does he keep working? One reason is admitted: financial. "Nowadays, you almost have to have two jobs to keep living," he joked.

He and his wife, Betty, could live now off the Social Security he would receive if he retired, he said. "You don't get rich on Social Security but you can live on it."

Ertman won't qualify for a pension at General Cable until he gets 10 years in, which will be this September. The pension then, he said, would be $65 a month if he retired, "enough to pay the electricity and the telephone bill." Working longer will qualify him for a larger pension.

The robust Ertman mainly keeps working because he likes to keep busy. "The harder I work the better I feel. The better I feel the harder I work."

He likes his job because it keeps him busy and it keeps him on his feet. He admittedly doesn't care for the hours, from 11 p.m.-7 a.m. Until last September, he worked the 3-11 p.m. shift, which he preferred, but a worker with more seniority "bumped" him off it.

When he's not working, he also likes to keep busy. If the weather is warm, he likes to do gardening, take care of his many flowers, mow his lawn with his riding lawn mower, and if he still has time on his hands, mow lawns for others, "just to keep busy. I help everybody." During the colder months or if it's raining, he restores old furniture.

Ertman describes himself as "still a farm boy." Born and raised on a farm at Parisville, after service in World War II in the Marines, he bought a farm of his own in the area.

He and his wife had a dairy herd and chickens, though they later switched to cash crops, and he also worked at the elevator at Minden City.

He worked there 18 years, but pay was low and there were no fringe benefits, so he started looking for something else. Then he ran into another problem -- age discrimination. "At first, they (factories) wouldn't hire anyone over 40, so I kept looking until I got this (the job at General Cable)."

He said the new federal law back then barring discrimination in hiring because of age made it possible for him to get the job. He was then in his late 50s. After getting the job here, he and his wife sold their Parisville farm and moved to their present home on Cemetery Road, about two miles north of Cass City.

The couple has three children, Paul and Diane, both married, who live in Indianapolis and Marine City respectively, and Duane, still at home.

Interestingly, both Ertman and his wife, 58, who works part-time in the kitchen at Provincial House, feel the mandatory retirement age should be 60.

Congress just raised the limit for employers who have a mandatory retirement age from 65 to 70.

"I'm still working because they allow me to work," Ertman explained, "but they should retire people at 60 to give other people more work."

"There's so many people without jobs," Mrs. Ertman added. "This (retirement at 60) would give them a better chance."

Also at the Kingston church service Sunday, graduating seniors will be honored with a gift and afterwards with a potluck supper.

Health firm turns profit

FURNITURE FIXING — Repairing, refinishing, and reupholstering furniture is a favorite activity of Frank Ertman when not working at General Cable and when weather doesn't permit his working outside on his lawn and garden.

Your Neighbor says

Shorter work week might not create jobs

Labor unions recently held a conference in Dearborn to promote reduction of the 40-hour work week, which they claimed would result in more jobs being created.

Rev. James Van Dellen has his doubts. "It would probably result in more jobs, but I'm not sure the people who would need them would get them," he commented.

He feels that some people who have their work week shortened will take advantage of the additional hours available and get a second job.

If workers work fewer hours, he feels ideally pay should decrease "otherwise our inflation will increase even more than it is." Realistically, he doesn't expect that pay would be decreased, so he suggests it should stay the same. "Too many people are trying to get too much for as little work as they can put in," he commented.

Rev. Van Dellen feels the best way to create employment is to have one parent in a household work, be it the husband or wife. Having one parent at home, he added, "would also solve a lot of our problems with home and family."

The pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran church, Van Dellen and his wife, Judy, have five children, ranging in age from 1-10.

Three good ideas to conserve your energy around home.

1. Heat your home with natural gas.

Natural gas is still your best energy source for home heating. Clean, efficient and available now to meet residential needs; contact Southeastern Michigan Gas Company if you are planning a new home, remodeling an old home or simply upgrading your present home heating system.

2. Install additional insulation to save even more energy.

If your home is more than five years old, chances are it does not have sufficient insulation by today's standards. Right now, at the end of the heating season, is the time to check your ceiling insulation to be sure it is adequate to today's energy-saving requirements.

3. Install a clock-operated thermostat.

A clock-operated thermostat such as the Honeywell® Chronotherm® automatically adjusts your home temperature to a lower setting after you've gone to bed and warms the house again before you get up. While you're sleeping, you're also saving energy. The Honeywell® Chronotherm® is available from Southeastern Michigan Gas Company.

Dates of other fairs in the area are Vassar, July 9-15; Bay City, July 31-Aug. 5; Imlay City, Aug. 28-Sept. 4, and Saginaw, Sept. 9-16.

The Michigan State Fair in Detroit will be Aug. 25-Sept. 4.

Deadline for College Week sign-up nears

Persons wanting to attend Michigan State University's College Week, June 19-22, should register by June 1 to assure getting the classes they wish.

Open to the general public regardless of educational background, the four-day program has 51 classes concerning family and home living. Topics include timely subjects such as diet controversies, moving into country living, public school financing and self-esteem development.

In addition to the classes, a variety of recreational and special events have been scheduled for participants. One of these is Visitor's Day in which local government leaders and participants will have the opportunity to meet with state legislators. Several evening options, such as sessions on weaving, art, theatre, etc., are available.

Registration for all the College Week activities is $62 but commuters may attend for as little as $18. Persons wishing details should contact their county extension office or write to Wilma Miller, 202 Wills House, MSU, East Lansing 48824, telephone (517) 355-6586.

M. Turner dies at age 27

Marcia Marie Turner died April 27 at the home where she was living in Wilmot following an illness of three years.

She was a registered nurse at Saginaw General Hospital.

She was born Aug. 3, 1950 in Kingston township, the daughter of Orville and Aileen Hubbard. She married Jack E. Turner in 1971, who died the following year.

She is survived by her parents and grandparents, Mrs. Edwina Greanya of Caro and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Hubbard Sr. of Deford.

A prayer service was held at the Harmon Funeral Home in Kingston April 29.

Funeral services were held May 1 at St. Michael's Catholic church in Wilmot, Father William O'Shea officiating. Pallbearers were Roger, Daniel and John Pohlod, Edward Bilecki, John Wolak and James Pruett.

Burial was in St. Michael's cemetery.

Thumb vets total close to 12,000

There are an estimated 1,195,000 veterans in Michigan, according to Frank Kilcullen, Veterans Administration regional office director in Detroit.

In Tuscola county, it is estimated there are 5,380 veterans; in Huron county, 3,360, and Sanilac, 3,200.

The largest group of veterans is from World War II, a total of 510,000. In Tuscola, there are 2,010; Huron, 1,520, and Sanilac, 1,270.

Vietnam War era veterans take second place with 345,000 in the state and 1,750 in Tuscola, 800 in Huron, and 840 in Sanilac.

Korean War veterans number 224,000 in Michigan and 960 in Tuscola, 560 in Huron, and 660 in Sanilac.

Twenty-nine thousand World War I veterans are still living here, of whom 140 live in Tuscola, 220 in Huron, and 140 in Sanilac.

Since the Vietnam War ended three years ago, 8,000 persons have served in the Armed forces and returned to Michigan, of whom 40 live in Tuscola, 20 in Huron, and 20 in Sanilac.

Other veterans who are eligible for VA benefits are those who served between the end of the Korean War and the beginning of the Vietnam War era. Michigan has 129,000 in this category, of whom 620 live in Tuscola, 330 in Huron, and 370 in Sanilac.

Of the total veteran population in Michigan, 1,058,000 served during a wartime period. Included are 4,710 in Tuscola, 3,020 in Huron, and 2,820 in Sanilac.

The mind's direction is more important than its progress.
