County board loses fight to limit property tax boost

Tuscola county commissioners Tuesday heard what they didn't want to hear, that the State Tax Commission (STC) had rejected the board's efforts to limit the increase in county valuation.

The result will mean high-tax bills for property owners in December. Commissioners had fought to have approved a tax equalized valuation for the county of $393.516 million, as compared to $370.868 million in 1977.

SEV computed by the county equalization department in its study of property values, which is $17.62 million higher than the amount approved by the county board.

The STC-approved figure represents an overall 15.02 percent increase on agricultural property valuations in the county and 5.53 percent for residential.

Commissioners originally sought a "freeze" on valuations, that is, the only increases would come from changes in property, such as construction of new buildings.

It ultimately decided such a proposal wasn't realistic in terms of getting it approved by the STC, so it settled on the $393 million figure, which was about mid-way between what the SEV would have been with the "freeze" and the amount set by the equalization department, which the STC has now approved.

Commissioners argued their case directly before the STC in Lansing twice, May 8 and May 16. One of their arguments for the lesser valuation was that the equalization department study of land values was done prior to the heavy rains last fall which caused more than $5 million in crop losses in the county.

"I thought we would get some consideration (from the STC)," was the disappointed reaction of Maynard McConkey of Cass City, chairman of the county board.

"I thought we had a very good figure (SEV) and reasons for it. It apparently didn't satisfy them."

He said the STC apparently still feels property sales should still be the sole factor in determining the value of farm land, despite the fact that only 6 percent of the county's farm acreage was sold last year. And much of that, McConkey continued, was sold at inflated prices to people who could afford to pay them, not at a price the land actually was worth.

The commission didn't learn of the STC's decision until late Monday afternoon, when the board's administrative secretary, Jackie Larsen, called the commission in Lansing.

Yet to be received, if the STC bothers to do so, is a formal explanation of why it chose to reject the county board's plea to limit the increase.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Commissioners approved a resolution submitted by Commissioner Ken Kennedy to split the Thumb District

Health Department into separate departments for Tuscola and Lapeer counties.

Lapeer county commissioners were voting late Tuesday on a similar resolution but results weren't immediately known.

If Lapeer goes along, the split will take place July 1, which will be followed by a three-month transition period. The present health department director, chief sanitarian, and director of nursing will continue to serve both counties.

Each county health department will have its own governing board.

The present board for the two-county department, of which Kennedy is chairman, previously approved the proposed split by a vote of 3-1, with one absentee and one absent.

OTHER BUSINESS

Commissioners met with county Drain Commissioner Edward Goodchild to discuss the controversial Moore Drain project in the Vassar area. Some farmers who would be assessed to help pay for the estimated $1.5 million project are opposed to it because they feel the only beneficiary will be the city of Vassar, the aim being to prevent flooding there.

Commissioners referred the matter to committee for recommendations. In order for bonds to be sold to finance the project, the board will have to approve backing them with the county's "full faith and credit," something commissioners haven't yet decided to do.

County Extension Director Bill Bortel and the agricultural and 4-H agents and home economist in the extension office presented their annual report to the board.

Commissioners toured the renovated and enlarged health department office west of Caro.

The board was unable to complete all its scheduled business so adjourned until 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Vandalism may be $15,000

Damage may run $10,000-15,000 from vandalism that occurred at Kingston High School late Friday night or early Saturday.

Damage was done in 12 rooms in the building, but cleanup efforts during the week end by janitors, teachers, and administrators enabled school to open on schedule Monday morning.

The vandalism was discovered Saturday morning by a group of athletes waiting for a bus to take them to a track meet.

Investigating state police officers were at the scene until 11 p.m. Saturday and back again Monday and Tuesday.

There are suspects, who will be questioned, one of the troopers said Tuesday. He estimated the damage at $10,000-15,000, although Kingston Supt. Robert W. Cameron told the Chronicle, "I think that he's high." The district has insurance to cover the loss.

The vandalism occurred some time after janitors finished their clean-up duties at 11 Friday night.

Damage was done in the offices of the superintendent, his secretary, the principal, assistant principal, study hall, school board meeting room, science lab, four classrooms and gymnasium.

Bookshelves in the library were tipped over and drawers of library file cards dumped. Microscopes in the science lab were thrown on the floor, as were chemicals. Fire extinguishers were emptied.

Legs were broken off tables. Office typewriters and other equipment were thrown on the floor. Contents of filing cabinets were dumped. Wires were torn out of the public address console. Clocks were broken.

Nine windows were broken. Decorations in the gymnasium for the Saturday night prom were torn down but were replaced in time for the event. A junior high memorial trophy case and some of the trophies were broken.

By Tuesday, the building was back to normal, except for replacement of some interior door windows and refiling papers. "That may go on for quite a while," Principal Lee Robinson said of the filing still to be done. Investigation is continuing, with one state trooper commenting, "We're not done until we solve it."

Although by far the worst such incident, it is not the only one at the high school.

April 1, intruders scattered papers in an office reception area, the superintendent's secretary's office, and the first aid room, and stole $6 from a filing cabinet.

Later in the month, someone drove in circles over the school lawn, tearing up about 90 square yards of grass.

Last fall, some windows were broken.

Postage rates go up Monday

Get those cards and letters in -- that is, if you want to beat the higher postage rates.

New postal rates go into effect Monday, however, the final pickup of mail before then in Cass City is at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Any mail dropped in boxes after that where there is no Sunday pickup, presumably all area post offices, will be subject to the new rates. Mail without sufficient postage in most instances will be returned to the sender for the correct postage.

For first class mail, the cost is increasing from 13 cents to 15 for the first ounce, 13 cents for each ounce after that instead of 11.

Post cards will cost 10 cents instead of nine.

Certified mail will increase from 60 to 80 cents and for a return receipt, 40 cents instead of 25 cents.

Parcel post rates are also increasing. For third class (small packages), for instance, for mail weighing 24 ounces, the rate is increasing from 28 cents to 40 cents. Third class covers any packages up to 15.99 ounces.

Fourth class is for packages one pound and over. For a two-pound package going to zone 2, for instance, the new rate will be $1.35 instead of the present 90 cents.

Intermediate contract approved

The almost year-long bargaining between the Tuscola Intermediate School District Board of Education and the union representing its approximately 150 non-professional employees ended Monday with both sides signing a three-year agreement.

The pact, the first ever negotiated with the Tuscola Intermediate Para-Professional Association (TIPPA), is retroactive to July 1, 1977.

The union, which represents secretaries, bus drivers, teacher aides and custodians, has about 135 members. Of those who chose to end the ratification meeting at the end of the working Monday, the vote was in favor of the contract, according to union President Lalko of Kingston.

One of the provisions in the agreement is an agency clause, which means non-union members have to join. Exempted persons who were employed prior to July 1 of last year, who can join if they so desire, and certain secretaries in the central office.

The first year of the pact, now almost over, is for employees to receive a two percent pay raise plus the intermediate district will pay the five percent of wages for retirement previously paid by the employers.

Drivers, who were receiving retirement will receive a seven percent increase. Both the second and third year, everyone will receive a seven percent increase.

Starting with the second year of contract, July 1, the district will start paying $30 a month for hospitalization insurance for full-time employees and in the third year $40 per month. Until now it has paid nothing. Drivers, the only part-time employees, will not have hospitalization paid, except for those who also serve as teacher aides and are thus considered full-time.

The board approved the contract at a special meeting Monday night.

Dr. Bruce Dunn, the intermediate superintendent, credited the state mediator, who was called in earlier this year, with helping to negotiate the agreement. However, Mrs. Lalko said, "I really don't see where he was an asset."

The two sides reached a tentative agreement previously, but March 9, union members rejected the pact.

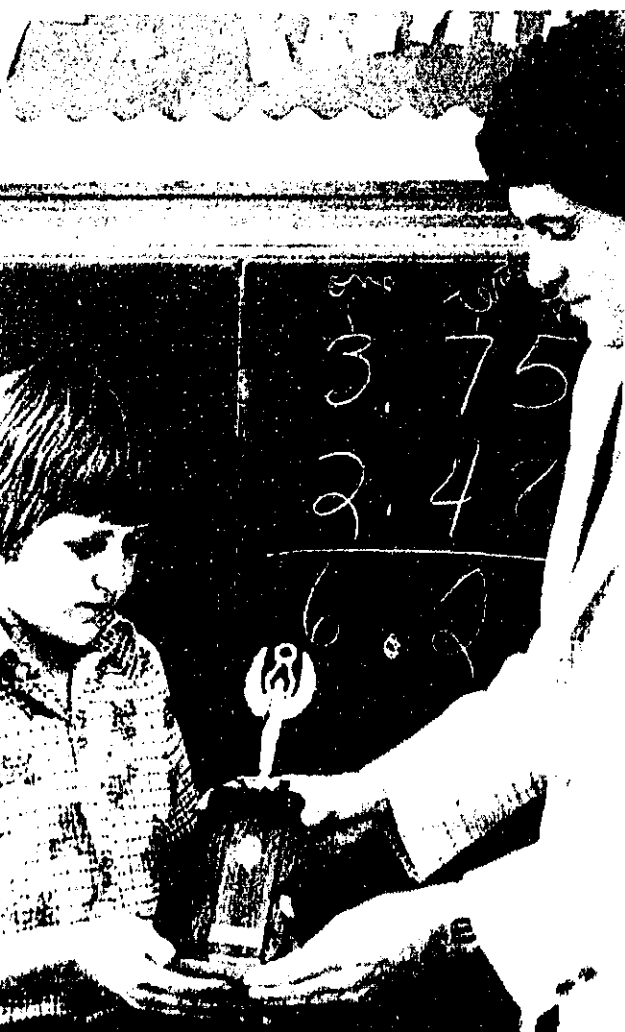

April 19, Mrs. Lalko said, 99 members of the union participated in a "sick out," not coming to work because of supposed illness to protest lack of a contract.

The two sides reached a tentative agreement on the new contract May 9 but voting on it waited until Monday, after it was printed and distributed to union members.

"It's been a long, tiresome road," Mrs. Lalko said of the negotiations, which started last June 9. As for the contract, she said, "It's something we can live with."

The intermediate board still must reach an agreement with the Tuscola Intermediate Education Association, which represents the district's 68 professional staff members -- special education teachers, school psychologists and social workers, and speech therapists. They have been working without a contract the entire school year, now almost over.

Dunn said the board and the TIEA are now making good progress and he was hopeful that an agreement will be reached in the near future.

POSTER AWARD WINNER - Brent Szarapki, 11, a fifth grader at Cass City Intermediate School, was one of three area winners out of 15,000 entries from five counties in the safety poster contest sponsored by the Detroit Edison Co. He received his trophy Monday from Robert E. Sheehy, the utility's marketing services representative in Caro. Theme of his poster, now on display in Detroit, was the danger in touching electrical wires.

Teen drowns near Vassar

Patrick M. Sholes, 16, of Davison, drowned Friday while swimming alone in a gravel pit off Hess Road in Vassar township.

His body was recovered by sheriff's deputies at 12:45 p.m. Saturday in 8-10 feet of water.

A group of nine teenagers later told deputies they and Sholes had agreed to meet at the gravel pit at 11 a.m. Friday to go swimming. The Davison youth went ahead of the rest as he wanted to make a stop first.

When the group arrived, they found Sholes' bicycle, some clothing and other items, but assumed, since he wasn't around, he had gone for a walk in the nearby woods. They went swimming until 2 p.m., then decided something might be wrong, and reported the missing youth to Vassar Police Chief John Horwath.

Deputies using snorkel and scuba gear and drag lines started recovery operations, continuing until about 8 p.m. Friday, but without success.

The search effort resumed at 6 a.m. Saturday and the body was finally discovered at 12:45 in the afternoon with hooks attached to drag lines being pulled from shore.

The body was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw for an autopsy, results of which weren't available yet Tuesday morning.

Owen-Gage gets Goslin money from Cass City

Jack Brinkman, treasurer of the Owendale-Gagetown School Board, left the courthouse in Caro Monday with a check for $58,828.15 in his possession -- the major portion of the 1977 Goslin parcel taxes the district has been attempting to collect.

The money came just in time. Without it, unless the district receives its long-awaited $150,000 loan from the state, it would not have had enough money for this Friday's payroll.

In an attempt to get the taxes, which a state attorney general's opinion said belong to the district, though the parcel is now part of the Cass City district, Owen-Gage filed suits against the latter school district and Elmwood township, which collected the taxes.

In a hearing Monday before Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements, the attorney for Owen-Gage, James P. Schouman, explained the agreement that had been reached with the attorneys for the two defendants.

In the suit filed against the Cass City district, Owen-Gage asked for return of the money, plus five percent interest dating from Feb. 10 when Cass City received it from Elmwood township, plus $25,000 in punitive damages.

In return for receipt of the money in question, $58,828.15, Schouman explained, his client was agreeing to drop the request for the interest and punitive damages. In addition, Owen-Gage agreed that if the attorney general should ever reverse his opinion, or it should be reversed by the courts, the district will return the money to Cass City.

He then explained the agreement made by telephone last Friday with Elmwood township's attorney, John Bauckham of Kalamazoo, whose firm serves as legal counsel for the Michigan Townships Association.

The separate suit against Elmwood township is more complicated. In addition to the $58,828, there is also $4,979.55 outstanding in delinquent taxes plus $7,937.80 yet to be collected, which is the difference between the 20.5 mills levied by Cass City schools and the 23.5 levied by Owen-Gage.

The latter total comes to $12,917.35, which Owen-Gage wanted, plus the $58,828, plus interest and $25,000 in punitive damages.

In return for Elmwood agreeing to sign the check for $58,828 from Cass City over to Owen-Gage, the latter agreed to drop its request for Monday and leave the questions of how much money Elmwood should have collected (20.5 or 23.5 mills) and whom it should have gone to be resolved at a court hearing at a later date. The questions of interest and punitive damages will also be decided then.

County Prosecutor Patrick Joslyn, who sat in for Bauckham at the latter's request, said his understanding was that the township's agreeing to turn over the $58,828 did not mean that it was admitting liability for non-collection of any taxes or that the taxes collected should have been turned over to Owen-Gage.

Attorney Clinton House, who represented the Cass City district, had with him a check for the amount in question, made out jointly to Elmwood township and Owen-Gage.

After Judge Clements signed the necessary orders presented to him, House turned the check over to Elmwood Township Treasurer Betty Russell. She signed it and it was turned over to Owen-Gage.

Mrs. Russell became treasurer in April taking over for her husband, Royce, who resigned to run for county commissioner.

School year extended

The three-day strike by Cass City teachers earlier this month has resulted in extension of the school year by three days.

Final examinations for grades 9-11 were scheduled June 7-8, with the last day of school for all grades June 8. Distribution of report cards was to be the next day.

Final exams will now be June 12-13, with the last day of school the 13th and pickup of report cards the next day.

Seniors took their final examinations Monday and Tuesday and graduate this Thursday, the same as originally scheduled.

Dave Ware is the most recent dad to have his eyes opened. Opened to the reality of running summer programs. That reality is that there are many, many more parents who don't help than there are those that do.

Dave's running the Little League program. The league could use more coaches, but it's not as bad off as the Babe Ruth program. Early this week they were still looking for a manager.

Scott Kelley, a 12 handicapper in the Cass City Golf League, set a new record Monday night in league play. It's a record that I for one believe will never, I mean N-E-V-E-R be equalled.

He shot seven balls out of bounds on hole one and ended up with a 19 (that's N-I-N-E-T-E-E-N) for the hole.

Perhaps you've heard how big barter is becoming these days. The idea of trading homes for vacations, trading for services and trading of products is growing by leaps and bounds.

I guess it had to happen. There's a special interest newspaper out now devoted to the barter industry. The Chronicle has a copy in case anyone out there wants to try to trade a house on the Cass for one on the Riviera for the summer.

Every so often you hear about how tough people were in the "old" days. Maybe so. But for the last two weeks Phil Hartsell, a track performer at Cass City High School, has been competing while complaining of a sore foot.

Monday he was at the doctor's for a treatment and his "sore" foot turned out to be a broken bone.

As long as most of this week's trivia centers around athletes, why change?

Only this isn't so trivial. One of the parents of the players tells me that Cass City's JV softball team is undefeated this season.

Summer is about upon us. Monday is Memorial Day. That means that the Chronicle's production week is cut by one important day.

All of this is a long winded way to remind you that early copy is needed. Deadlines are advanced a day so that the paper can close for the holiday.

Most of us forget that there's a strike on at General Telephone unless we happen by the office and see the tickets on duty.

The supervisory personnel and their families don't forget it. Ran into Bob Ridenour the other day just after he had completed 26 straight hours on the job.

CHECKING THE electrical equipment for the lift station for the Northwood Estates subdivision are Village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie, left, and developer Tom Herron.

Sewer lift station costs $40,000

Smack in the middle of the beautiful rolling terrain that makes the new Northwood Estates subdivision an attractive home building area stand a couple of grey boxes.

They look almost like oversized toolboxes on stilts left there by the workmen who are in the midst of hammering out roads leading to the new home sites.

Actually they are much more vital to the new subdivision than any toolbox. So vital that without them, builder Tom Herron would be unable to sell lot one in the subdivision that overlooks the village from the northwest corner of the community.

They are part of a lift station that makes it possible to service the area with sanitary sewers.

The visible section of the station doesn't look like much until you open the door and see the electrical apparatus inside.

Then you receive an inkling of where the estimated $40,000 that the station cost went. But just an inkling. For the major cost is underground.

That's where the two nine-horse power motors operate from the bottom of a six-foot wide creek that's 28 feet deep.

When the sewage reaches a certain level in the hole, the pump automatically turns on to lift the sewage 35 feet and push it 500 feet to connect with the sewer main that services Provincial House.

There's a built-in safety feature to the system. If a malfunction should occur, a light on top of the box housing the electrical system automatically turns on.

The lift station is designed to service 300 homes. That's more than enough to last my lifetime, Herron said, as he looked over the acres of building sites under development.

"If It Fitz..."

The Lum International

By Jim Fitzgerald

My favorite fantasy is coming true, and that's no fun. It was bad enough when the Lum General Store reopened, but now there is a Lum International Golf Course.

There really is. It was last February that I first told the truth about Lum, after 20 years of lying. I confessed there really is no Lum International Airport, no Lum Sheraton and no Lum Center for Continuing Arts.

Lum is in Lapeer county, 60 miles north of Detroit. I began lying about Lum when I was editor of the county newspaper. I wanted to improve Lum's image as a tourist attraction. Lum was not completely unknown outside Lapeer county before I started lying about it. Old-timers will remember a popular radio show called "Lum and Abner." People used to send letters to Lum to be postmarked with the name of their favorite radio character, the same way people like to have Christmas cards postmarked in a town named Christmas.

In those days, the Lum Post Office was a small operation and the letters had to be postmarked by hand. The postmaster did it with a black crayon. An old person was always appointed postmaster so the stamps would be canceled with naturally wavy lines.

And if you believe that, you'll believe that in 1962 a federal grant made it possible for Lum to construct a subway system which ran through the entire town and on out to the airport. This was many years after the demise of Lum and Abner but, in their memory, the subway was called the Black Crayon.

When I published these lies in the county newspaper, local people didn't believe them. They knew Lum's civic improvements were all in my soggy imagination. And if they had any doubts, all they had to do was drive through downtown Lum and note there was still no wick in the streetlight.

But my lies reached outsiders and they believed, they believed! Tourists came to Lum to dine in the revolving restaurant on top of the Lum Space Needle. They went home licking ice cream cones from the Lum General Store. They amused their city friends with folksy stories about the country editor who had lost his mind but was apparently harmless, and the local people humored him by not shooting him for writing stupid lies about their town.

And the lies have survived, years after the editor was transferred to outpatient status in a neighboring city. Recently the mail brought me a handsome T-shirt from R. Peter Thompson, who is principal of the Lapeer County Vocational Technical Center. On the front of the shirt is a large passenger plane. And under the plane, in large letters, the wearer of the shirt is identified as a flight attendant at Lum International Airport.

At least, I think Thompson is lying on my shirt. Maybe not. I haven't been to Lum in five years. I was wrong last February when I wrote that the Lum General Store was closed. Several Lum residents sent me indignant letters pointing out that the store recently reopened and business is great. None of the letters were written in black crayon.

And then last week my old newspaper told about Joe Hawald, a migrant plasterer who moved into Lum seven years ago and began hacking away at the jungle behind his home. He was building a golf course.

The course opens in August. At first, Hawald said, he was going to call it Lum Valley but townspeople convinced him he'd get more publicity if he called it Lum International Golf Course. And now I've given him tremendous publicity. This column is read all over my Aunt Madeline's apartment building.

It's easy to see what's happening. Fantasy is becoming fact. If there really is a Lum International Golf Course, how long before there'll be real flight attendants gulping lunch in the Lum and Abner fast-food outlet in Lum International Airport?

Too bad. There's nothing funny about commuting to work on the Black Crayon if you really have to do it.

Emmons

competent to stand trial

Mark Emmons, charged with two counts of murder in the shooting deaths of his mother and sister last July 8, has been declared competent to stand trial.

District Judge Richard F. Kern made the ruling Wednesday, May 17, after taking into consideration findings of a report from the Center for Forensic Psychiatry at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

The judge then ordered Emmons returned there for further treatment. He is to be returned to Caro June 13 for a pretrial hearing to determine if there is enough evidence to bind him over to circuit court for trial.

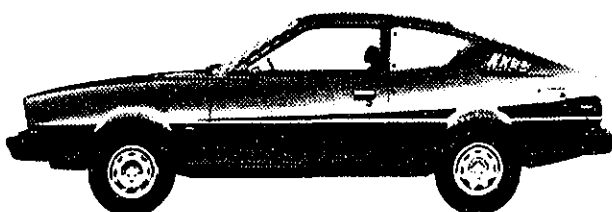

Emmons, 25, is charged with shooting to death his mother, Joan Emmons, 52, and sister, Dawn Emmons, 22, in the home the three were living in on Ellington Street in Caro.

The defendant was first ordered committed to the psychiatric center last September by Judge Kern on a prosecution motion. The prosecution moved to have him committed after an earlier examination there found him incompetent to stand trial.

State law provided that if restored to competency, he could then stand trial.

The Haire Net

An offspring is one of 169 Cass City School kids having a ball. He may be dancing to the finest music of his life. The trouble is that he and the other 168 don't know it. As a graduating senior, he and most of the other members of the class of 1978 are enjoying themselves.

They should. They are the center of special church services and special church events. They are feted at open houses. Congratulated at every turn.

They reign supreme at school. They take special consideration in classes and in the social whirl as only their due.

They cruise through baccalaureate and graduation. Nonchalantly.

Maybe there is a hint of nostalgia in the few quiet moments left them if they think about special friendships and special occasions ending. But perhaps not. They are too busy to think about tomorrow.

And too sure about the future to worry about it at all.

There's a temptation, resisted, to tell him to enjoy, enjoy. Why waste breath? At 18 and graduated the world is his oyster.

Maybe it's good that he won't learn until later how small, how sheltered his world is today.

That the disappointments in his world today are as small as his world today. That it's almost inevitable that as his world expands so will his days of grief and sorrow.

But at 18 what do they really know? Very little. It's a good thing.

There are plenty of years ahead to pay the bills. Curse the boss. Nurse the sick. Bury the dead.

It's a beautiful time in life, this senior year. It's the last stop before adulthood.

It's beautiful because not one of the 169 is a loser. Not yet. It's beautiful because not one of the 169 believe that they will ever be losers.

A graduating senior is a winner. At Cass City High School this year there are 169 of them.

169 winners. Never again will they all be able to say that. And believe it. Enjoy, enjoy.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Kitchin shares his thoughts

A letter to the Chronicle.

It has been some time since I've had occasion to write to the Chronicle and share my thoughts.

Yesterday I drove by the McEachern home and saw Fred out in the yard. I thought of Mary whom I had in school more than a few years ago so drove back to inquire about her.

I found a kindred soul who has an appreciation for our heritage and loves to reminisce. It was almost two hours before I could get away.

This morning I woke around five and no more sleep for me. I recalled our visit of yesterday and as the Psalmist wrote those centuries ago, "As I mused the fire burned." Living alone now I've no one to share my thoughts with, so am up and putting them on paper to share with those who care to read.

Having had my 85th birthday last week I can look back on more years than most of my readers. As early as 59 I was made to realize I was growing older.

Delegate to General Conference in 1920 and 1928. Then not again until 1959 when I found I was the only one present in '20 and only two of us present in '28. I was serving with at least three grandsons of those earlier years.

I love poetry and am reminded of Whittier's "The Brook." "How swift the years have passed away. Since first a child and half afraid, I wandered in thy forest's shade."

Life has had enough clouds that there should be a beautiful sunset.

Memorial Day parade on Monday

The annual Memorial Day parade in Cass City starts Monday, May 29, at 10 a.m. With the American Legion color guard leading the way, the marchers will come down West Street to Main Street and then march out to Elkland cemetery.

Other scheduled participants are the Cass City High School band, Elkland Township Fire Department, American Legion Auxiliary and Gold Star Mothers, Cub, Boy, Girl and Brownie Scouts, Cass City Preschool Nursery, Little Leaguers, 4-H Clubs, and Junior Wranglers 4-H Horse Club.

Others interested in participating are invited to contact the parade co-chairmen, Dorothy Stahlbaum or Elwyn Helwig.

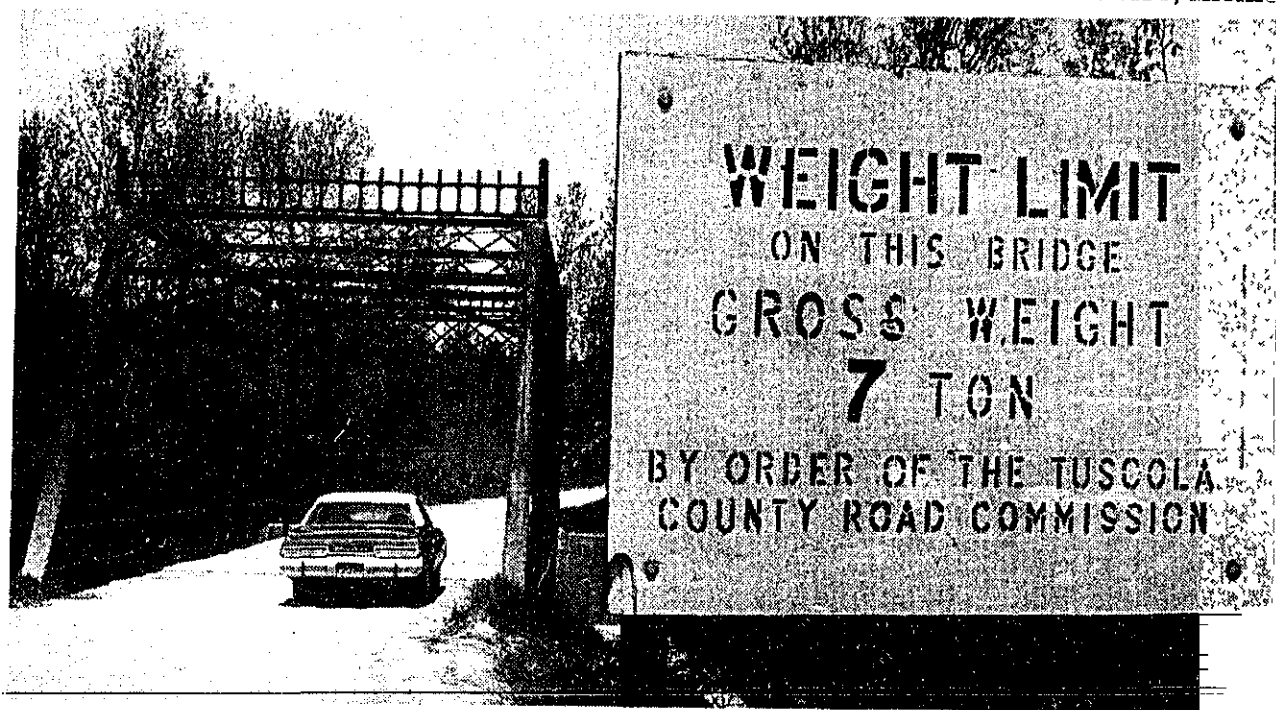

Parade participants should be in the village parking lot between Seeger and Leach Streets, behind the Gamble store at 9:30 to begin lining up.

BRIDGE REPLACEMENT — The Hurds Corner Road bridge over the Cass River south of Dutcher Road in Ellington Township is scheduled for replacement this summer by the Tuscola County Road Commission at a cost of $208,000. A similar bridge on Dodge Road, to the east, will also be replaced.

New bridges planned

Road Commission announces program

The more than $2 million road program announced for this summer by the Tuscola County Road Commission includes several projects in the Cass City area.

Among them are construction of two new bridges, replacing old ones on Dodge and Hurds Corner Roads, at a cost of more than $200,000 each.

The program is divided into three parts, major bridge construction, local and primary road bridges, and local road construction.

MAJOR BRIDGES

Construction of the major bridges is being paid for with $655,000 in federal funds and $300,000 from the county bridge millage levy of 1 mill. New bridges scheduled for construction and estimated cost are by township:

ELLINGTON — Hurds Corner Road over Cass River, south of Dutcher Road, $208,000; Hurds Corner Road over White Creek, south of Broadway Road, $150,000. Ellington-Novesta — (township line) — Dodge Road over Cass River, south of Akron Road, $225,000; Dodge Road over White Creek, north of Deckerville Road, $134,000.

Kingston — Mushroom Road over White Creek, west of Phillips Road, $93,000.

The other new bridges will be on Swaffer Road (Tuscola-Arbela township) $45,000, and Barnes Road (Millington township), $80,000, plus deck work on a bridge on Akron Road (Gifford-Wisner townships), $20,000.

SMALL BRIDGES

All of the following will be culvert-type bridges. If on a primary road, the Road Commission pays the entire cost.

If on a local road, the township pays 25 percent up to $2,000, with the Road Commission paying the rest. If the present bridge has a weight restriction on it, its share comes from the county bridge millage. If there isn't a restriction, the Road Commission pays from its general funds. If the latter, the road is presumably being replaced because it is too narrow.

Projects in area townships are:

Elkland — Elmwood Road, east of Dodge; Buehly, south of Reed; Reed, east of Buehly; Krapf Road, north of Elmwood.

Ellington — Green Road, south of Akron.

Elmwood — McGregor, north of Elmwood.

Novesta — Deckerville Road, east of Dodge; Phillips Road, south of Kelly, and Phillips, south of Deckerville.

Columbia — Ackerman Road, west of French; Graf Road, south of Bay City-Forestville, and Elmwood Road, east of Colling.

Kingston — Phillips Road, south of Gifford; Crawford Road, south of Evelyn, and Crawford, south of Mushroom.

LOCAL ROADS

The Road Commission divides $50,000 among the 23

townships in the county as an "incentive," the amount each receives being based on road mileage and population. The most any township receives is about $3,000. Anything in addition to that must come entirely from the township. The only exception is for resurfacing existing pavement when the Road Commission pays $4,000 per mile. The total cost in such projects is $15,000-20,000 per mile.

Elkland and Ellington townships have yet to submit their 1978 project requests to the Road Commission.

Projects this year in other area townships are:

Elmwood — Huron Line

Road between Green and McElldowney (.51 mile), tree and stump removal, grading, ditching, culverts, seeding, and various gravel patching; Huron Line between Green and Hurds Corner (one mile), apply crushed stone. Total estimated cost, $22,150.

Novesta — Severance Road between Cemetery and Englehart (one mile), final sealcoating; Phillips Road between Deckerville and Shabbona (one mile), final sealcoating; Severance Road between Englehart and Crawford (one mile), final sealcoating; Severance Road between Englehart and Crawford (one mile), grade, base preparation, and drainage (in preparation for eventual sealcoating). Total estimated cost, $30,200.

Columbia — Loomis Road between Sheridan and M (one mile), apply crushed stone; Colling Road between Bay City-Forestville and Huron Line (one mile), stone prime and seal, Huron Road between Colling and Ashmore (one mile), stone prime and seal. Total estimated cost, $4,200.

Kingston — Gifford Road between Dodge and Kingston (2.03 miles), gravel; Phillips from Bond north 1.4 mile, gravel; Phillips north of Rossman, asphalt. Total estimated cost, $12,200.

Owendale driver hurt

Motorcycle mishap hospitalizes rider

Thomas O. Schaible was treated and released from Cass City General Hospital following a mishap on his motorcycle at 6 p.m. Sunday.

He told Cass City police he left a driveway on Pringle Road, east of Greenland Road, and lost control and fell on him.

Schaible, 18, of 6766 E. Oakville Road, Deford, was ticketed on a charge of violation of the basic speed law (too fast).

Mark W. Bills, 18, of own Road, Owendale, was admitted to Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon following an accident Saturday on Berner Road, west of Pobanz Road, when he was westbound on his car went off the right edge of the road into a ditch, then struck a tree. He was ticketed by officers on a charge of violation of the basic speed law.

A passenger in the car, Bradley D. Sprague, 18, of Owendale, sought his own treatment for minor injuries.

A passenger in a car which struck a deer May 16 at 7 a.m. sought treatment for injuries after she struck her head on the windshield. Injured was Judith Swolski of 1263 Kingston Road, Deford.

Driver of the car was Carol E. Cooper, 34, of Hurds Corner Road, Caro. Deputies said she was southbound on Hurds Corner, south of Shay Lake Road, when her vehicle hit the animal.

A two-car accident at 11:55 p.m. Friday resulted in one passenger seeking treatment.

Caro state police said Bobby W. Redmond, 18, of 2303 Elmwood Road, Caro, was southbound on Cemetery Road, south of River Road, when a car pulled out in front of him from a private drive and the two vehicles collided.

One of two passengers in the Redmond auto, Mary Redmond, 17, of the same address, sought her own treatment for minor injuries.

Driver of the other car, Henry C. DeSmith, 76, of Little Road, Cass City, was ticketed for failure to yield right of way.

Cass City police reported a two-car collision at 11:50 a.m. Friday involving two cars eastbound on Church Street.

They said Karen D. Schram of 6379 Garfield Street was attempting to pass a car on the right as the other driver was attempting to turn right into the gas station at the corner of Leach Street and the two vehicles collided. Driver of the other car was Carol Lee Peters of Robinson Road, Uby.

Roland M. Heinlein, 69, of Frankenthum, was eastbound on M-81, just west of Schwegler Road, when a deer ran into his car and then ran off, causing minor damage to the left rear of the vehicle. Cass City police investigated the incident, which took place at 12:10 p.m. Sunday.

Seniors at Kingston High School graduate Sunday in combined commencement and baccalaureate services starting at 2 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The procession will be played by the high school band, followed by the opening prayer by Father William O'Shea of St. Michael's Catholic church in Wilmot.

Valedictorian Sheri Silvernail will give her speech, followed by that of the salutatorian, Candy Cadott.

The ministry of the word will be given by Rev. Lowell Davis of the Kingston Wesleyan church.

Teacher David Szybala, the class sponsor, will present the graduates.

Acceptance will be by Principal Lee Robinson, who will then present the scholarships.

Supt. Robert Cameron will confer the diplomas, which will be passed out by school board President Louis E. Wenzlaff Jr.

Class appreciation will be presented by Jeff Newton, the senior class president.

Closing prayer will be offered by Rev. Joel Hurley of the Kingston United Methodist church, followed by the band playing the recessional.

SCHOLARSHIPS — Paul Kerbyson and Barbara Tuckey, who graduate from Cass City High School this Thursday, were recipients Sunday of the Julia Murray scholarship, presented by Father Joseph Morales Sunday following Mass at St. Pancratius Catholic Church. Each will receive $250. This is the third year the scholarships have been presented.

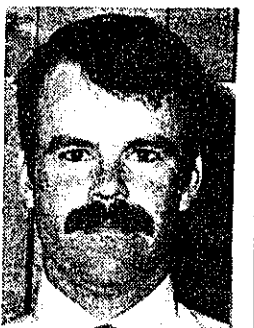

BAND AWARD — Cornet player Kathy Kirm was the recipient of this year's Harold Ferguson award, presented at the band concert last Thursday night by band director George Bushong. The award is voted by fellow members to the outstanding senior member in the Cass City High School band. Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kirm of 4317 Maple Street, will attend Saginaw Valley State College in the fall.

PEDALING AROUND

School tax plan devious

By Mike Eliasohn

Reduction or elimination of property taxes for support of schools is an attractive idea, but the proposal likely to appear on the ballot this November will do that and more.

The "more" is what bothers me, because the proposal, with the "sweetener" of eliminating school property taxes, is an attempt to use tax money to support private and parochial schools.

The petition drive is backed by the Michigan Citizens for More Sensible Financing of Education, which according to the Panax News Service, is composed of members of the Michigan Catholic Conference, diocesan education offices throughout the state, the Lutheran Schools of Michigan and some private citizens.

The organization has gathered most of the 267,000 signatures needed to put the proposal on the ballot this November and has until July 6 to get the rest.

The proposal, in the form of an amendment to the state constitution, would do three things:

- Eliminate local property taxes for support of schools.
- Require creation of a statewide taxing system to replace the lost revenue. If the lost revenue were replaced solely by the state income tax, according to Panax, the present 4.6 percent rate would have to be increased to probably 8.6 percent. The "lost" revenue could also be increased by a boost in the single business tax, sales tax, or combination of those and the income tax.

—Repeat the prohibition against state aid to private and parochial schools, adopted by voters in 1970. The legislature would be required to adopt a "voucher" plan under which parents would receive vouchers to pay for the education of their children at either public or private schools.

The parents would turn in the vouchers at the school they select. In turn, the school would redeem the voucher for state funds.

One obvious question is how much should a voucher be worth. In 1975-76, the cost of educating a child in a public school ranged from $729 per pupil in a district in the Upper Peninsula to $2,279 in Oak Park, a Detroit suburb. The average cost was $1,303.

If the amount is made the same for all students in the state, with the amount a mid-way figure, some districts will get more money than they've ever had, some will get less.

One advocate of the plan is proposing that all districts get the same amount per pupil with the higher cost districts getting an additional amount until all costs "level out." Details of the voucher plan will be up to the legislature.

Whatever the ultimate cost is, it's going to be a lot more than at present. Although enrollments are declining, the cost of education is increasing.

For 1977-78, the estimated cost per pupil in public schools was $1,520. Times enrollment of 1.9 million, the total education bill will be about $2.8 billion.

If the estimated 200,000 non-public school students were supported by public funds, the total would increase to $3.2 billion.

With public funds paying the bill, no doubt many parents who must now send their children to public schools will instead choose to send them to private, mostly parochial, schools.

Fewer students in public schools will mean less money available for public schools, to the detriment of children attending them.

Lastly, the writers of both our national and state constitutions said that church and state should be separate. If churches want to run church schools, fine, but they should not ask the public to help pay for them.

Top secretarial students picked

The members of the Vocational Office Block (V-O-B) at Cass City High School have again voted for the girls in the class they feel will most likely succeed as secretaries after graduation.

Selected were Lora Gutierrez, daughter of Frank and Carol Mosher of 4510 Leach Street, a co-op student at Cass City State Bank; Lorna Lowe, daughter of Gerald and Arlene Lowe of Mushroom Road, Deford, a co-op student at Mutual Savings and Loan, and Melissa Smith, daughter of Lowell and Dee Smith of 4651 Jacob Road, a co-op student at Pinney State Bank.

The class felt these girls exemplified the following qualities: Leadership on the job; personality on the job; knowledge of the job; neatness of work and self; skills developed for the job; tactfulness with other workers; efficiency on the job, and accuracy of work.

This is the sixth year the V-O-B class has honored some of its prize students. Last year, Tammie O'Dell (presently working at Provincial House) was selected; 1976 - Tammy Hamilton (married); 1975 - Carolyn Smith Sorenson (presently working at Walbro Corp.); 1974 - Dianna Fisher Culpepper (married), and 1973 - Mary Peterson Hennessey (presently working at Walbro Corp.).

SERVICES WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Dawn Marie Wood, 57, of Pontiac died Sunday morning at Pontiac. She worked for 25 years at Pontiac Motors and several years at Automotive Industries in Owendale.

Her parents are the late Joseph (Sy) and Lula Rocheleau.

She is survived by three sons, Jim of California, Dave and Jene of Pontiac, and two daughters, Lola Perry and Pat Wyatt of Pontiac, and several aunts and uncles of the Gagetown area.

The funeral was Wednesday at St. Michael's Catholic church in Pontiac.

Farm program sign-up date extended

The period to enroll in the 1978 Wheat and Feed Grain Set-Aside Program at county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices has been extended through May 31.

President Carter has signed into law the Emergency Agricultural Act of 1978. Under the provisions of the act, the established price for wheat was increased to $3.40 a bushel. The increase may provide an additional incentive for farmers to participate in the 1978 Set-Aside Program. To give them every opportunity to do so, the enrollment deadline was extended from May 15 through May 31.

More than 33,000 Michigan wheat and feed grain producers were enrolled as of May 17. This represented over 40 per cent of the total eligible.

FIRST COMMUNION

Fifteen children made their first communion Sunday at St. Agatha Catholic church, Gagetown.

They are: Chris At Andrea Burke, Rae L. Rocheleau, Jill Generous, Mike Langenburg, Su Salcido, Chris Rabide Lisa Batisti, Victor Bati Angelo Batisti, Tami Hurd, Tammy Kady, B. Kamrad, Jeff Dillon Troy Reehl.

Mrs. Judy Shope was coordinator and Miss Deb Shope was teacher.

Father Norman VanPepin officiated and carried a yellow rose; was presented a certificate by the pastor.

State sets up energy 'hotline'

The Michigan Energy Extension Service is operating a new service available to citizens throughout the state - an energy information "hotline."

The Energy Extension Service, a division of the Energy Administration, the Michigan Department of Commerce, is a federal program supported by grant from the U.S. Department of Energy.

The energy hotline provides many kinds of energy materials and information about conservation, technology, renewable resources, as well as public and private agencies. Energy Extension Service's major objective is to provide energy conservation information to Michigan residents by offering public education and consumer information. Michigan is one of 10 states currently participating in this federally-monitored energy project.

The energy hotline is weekdays, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. toll-free information number is: 1-800-292-4704.

Written requests for energy conservation information can be sent to Energy Extension Service, c/o Clearinghouse, Michigan Department of Commerce, 210 Hollister Building, Lansing 48906.

Extension service sets open house

The Family Living Program of the Sanilac County Cooperative Extension Service invites the public to their open house featuring home economics, 4-H, and a segment of the agriculture program.

The open house is Friday from noon-3:30 p.m. at the Detroit Edison Building in Sandusky.

Highlighting the activities will be displays, food demonstrations, computer food spending program for the public to use and the Cooperative Extension Service's "Snappy the Cow" for children.

Refreshments will be served.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

About 200 guests attended the surprise open house honoring Jason Kitchin on his 80th birthday.

Cass City rolled into the finals of the district Class C Baseball tournament with a convincing 6-3 victory over highly regarded Unionville-Sebewaing.

The new Provincial House extended care facility continues to take shape. According to Richard Palm, the facility should be completed sometime in mid-summer.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Junior-Senior Prom will mark the beginning of the last minute graduation swirl for Cass City High School's seniors, announced Principal Arthur Holmberg. Sheriff Hugh Marr announced that he would seek reelection as sheriff of Tuscola county. The veteran sheriff will be a candidate in the Republican primaries, seeking a four-year term as head of the county's law enforcement agency.

The Cass City Red Hawks made a surprisingly strong showing in the Thumb B

Conference track meet, when they finished second behind Lakers who won the league crown for the second straight year.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. Genie Martin celebrated her 85th birthday with a surprise party arranged by her daughter. Mrs. Martin is one of the pioneer residents of Cass City.

Traditional swing-out ceremonies will usher in a round of busy graduation activities for the 88 seniors of Cass City High School. The high school band will lead the seniors in a parade through the downtown section as they wear their caps and gowns for the first time.

Representatives from the Nestle's Company and the United Dairy Workers Local 83, reached an agreement over their wage dispute. The workers will receive a raise of eight cents per hour, six paid holidays, and additional fringe benefits.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dr. David M. Trout, dean of students at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, will give the commencement address at the Gagetown High School.

The Cass City baseball team shut out Harbor Beach by the score of 5-0. This game ended the Hawk season with a record of four wins and three losses.

Miss Cressy Leota Steele, Cass City, is a member of the graduating class of Herioton School for Nurses in Chicago, Illinois.

Baker gets award for conservation

James Baker II, an Eagle Scout of Troop 594, sponsored by the Cass City Rotary Club, has earned the new World Conservation Award, announced Robert R. Parker, Scout Executive of the Lake Huron Area Council.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker of 6489 Garfield Avenue, Cass City. His father and grandfather are also Eagle Scouts.

The award is made by the World Wildlife Fund of Washington, D.C. through the Boy Scouts of America and recognizes achievement in environmental improvement, natural resource conservation, and an understanding of world conservation problems.

Purpose of the award is to point out to young people that countries of the world are closely interrelated through natural resources and that people in this country are interdependent with the world environment. To win the award, Baker earned environmental and conservation skill awards, merit badges in environmental science, soil and water conservation, fish and wildlife management, and citizenship in the world.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

A sports-minded man is needed for this twelve-year-old boy from Cass City. He enjoys all sports, gymnastics, art, swimming, fishing, and camping. He would make a nice companion for most any man.

Here's a quiet little seven-year-old looking for a man to share his interests in reading, animals, and outdoor activities. He's a very sweet little boy, and lives in Caro.

A man with lots of patience for youngsters is needed for this cute little six-year-old. He likes doing everything, and is super active. If you live in Vassar or Millington, why not give him a try?

Would you like an older boy to help you with the work time and to enjoy the play times? This 17-year-old from Millington is eager for the companionship of a man. He enjoys working on cars, and would like the opportunity to learn new things.

If you enjoy the quiet activities, this little boy is for you! He's a bit shy, likes to read, and ride his bike. He's eight and lives in Vassar.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters in Tuscola county is located at 230 N. State Street in Caro, telephone 673-6996; in Huron county at 122 N. Hanselman Street, Bad Axe, telephone 269-7264, and in Sanilac county at 26 Lexington Street, P.O. Box 1, Sandusky, telephone 648-4433.

HEALTH TIPS

Safety guidelines for swimmers

By Frank Chappell,
American Medical Association

As the outdoor swimming season approaches, the safety experts predict with certainty that some thousands of Americans will drown in the coming summer months.

They will drown in swimming pools, in lakes and streams, at ocean beaches. Some will drown while in for a refreshing dip, and others will fall out of boats and off docks and piers.

Many, if not most, of these drownings need not happen. The American Medical Association offers some basic safety rules that will help to avoid a tragic water accident for your family.

-Learn to swim, and to relax in the water.

-Never swim alone.

-Do not swim when overly tired or when the water is extremely cold.

-Do not overestimate your ability and endurance.

-Swim at protected pools or beaches under the supervision of a trained lifeguard.

-If a boat overturns, stay with it. Don't try to swim a long distance to shore.

-Never dive into waters of unknown depth.

-Try new activities, such as water skiing or scuba diving, only after learning the skills from qualified instructors.

Many families will do most of their swimming this season in private pools, in their own backyards or in those of a friend or neighbor. There also are some special safety precautions for private pools.

-Make certain the pool is kept clean and the water chemically purified.

-Walk, don't run, about the pool. Horseplay is dangerous.

Your Neighbor says

Limit spending by wealthy candidates

There are limits on how much money a person can donate to a candidate's political campaign. That is, unless the donor is the candidate. There is no limit on how much of his own money a candidate can spend.

That became an issue last week when State Sen. John Otterbacher of Grand Rapids accused wealthy Ann Arbor publisher Philip Power of having an unfair advantage. Both men are running for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator.

As of March 31, Power had "raised" $204,840 for his campaign, of which $151,000 was his own money and another $15,000 was a personal loan to his campaign fund.

Should there be a limit on how much of his own money a candidate can spend? "I think there should be," responded Jim Guinther. "It kind of hurts the little guy who may want to seek an office like that" (when there is no limit).

Having lots of money to spend for advertising and other campaign activities gives a candidate an advantage, he feels. "I definately think money has a deal to do with politics." The wealth of a candidate is a factor in deciding who to vote for, Guinther feels, but not the only one. "What I consider, I consider, I consider."

As to whether a millionaire office holder can relate to the common man, responded, "I think they relate to an extent, but what extent, I'm not sure. Guinther is manager of three departments at Ceral Cable. He and his wife Joan, and children Ron, 12, Randy, 9, and Brian, live at 6378 Third Street.

Cass Cityan to live in her town

Bolivian visitor loves American food

What does Mirtha Zambrana like best about the United States?

"I love American food," says the Bolivian exchange student.

Her love of American food is indicated by some of the souvenirs she plans to take home -- a recipe book, a McDonald's spoon, and some restaurant ashtrays and napkins.

She won't need a recipe book for her favorite American "dish"; it's a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. Peanut butter is unknown in Bolivia.

The participant in the Rotary Club exchange program is staying a couple of weeks at the Clarence Erla residence on Pine Street. By a semi-coincidence, the Erlas' daughter, Renee, is leaving in July to spend a year in Mirtha's home town of Oruro as a Rotary exchange student. They may even take the same plane there.

The landlocked Bolivia, due to its location, is known as "the heart of South America." Oruro is about 200 kilometers (120 miles) southeast of La Paz.

THE 18-YEAR-OLD HAS been living in Grand Haven, just south of Muskegon, since last August. She and Renee met in March at a Rotary conclave near Cadillac for exchange students and exchange students-to-be.

The Cass Cityan sought her out as she knew then she was going to Bolivia and arrangements were subsequently made for the visit to Cass City. She arrived May 13. It was only a few weeks ago, however, that Renee learned she had been assigned to live in Mirtha's home town.

Renee will have one advantage in going to Bolivia that her guest didn't have in coming here -- the 15-year-old sophomore will have taken two years of Spanish.

In contrast, Miss Zambrana only had one English lesson per week before arriving in the U.S. "When I came here, I couldn't speak. I was lost," she said in her now very understandable English. It wasn't until about Christmas that she felt she could understand and speak the language well.

Mirtha (pronounced "Meer-ta") attended the same school in Oruro from kindergarten through 12th grade, a small all-girls'

Catholic school with about 400 students. The entire senior class numbered 38. She graduated a year ago.

The format for high school there is different than here in that students stay in the same classroom all day and the teachers switch rooms. All students in a grade study the same subjects. There are about a dozen subjects, but each one isn't studied every day.

Upon her return, Mirtha will go to college in Oruro, but hasn't decided what she wants to study.

HER COMMUNITY, with a population of about 100,000, is in the Andes Mountains, 3,607 meters (almost 12,000 feet) above sea level. Despite the high altitude, the temperatures are quite moderate, ranging from a low of about -12 degrees C to a high of 20 degrees C (10-70 degrees F).

It does snow there sometimes, but not every year, and when it does, it only lasts a few days. So, though snow was not new to her, lots of it, such as was dumped on Michigan this past winter, "was something new for me."

The seasons there are the reverse of ours; winter is now approaching.

Miss Zambrana's father is a lawyer. Her mother, who was a teacher, died six years ago. She has three sisters, all older, of whom only one still lives at home. A cousin also lives there.

In addition, the month before she left for the U.S., an American exchange student arrived to spend the year with her family.

Talking with the student gave Mirtha some background about this country. She also did a lot of reading and saw some American movies and television programs (dubbed into Spanish), though, "I knew that movies are different than here (real life)."

THUS, SHE HAD AN idea what to expect when she arrived here, but there were some surprises. Large enclosed shopping malls was one. Large farms was another.

There was religion. Mirtha, like almost all Bolivians, is Roman Catholic. "When I came here, I was surprised to see many kinds of religion," she said.

Television. "I was surprised because everyone watches television here a lot. We watch, but not a lot."

There is only one channel in Bolivia, government-owned, which broadcasts from 3 p.m. until 1 or 2 a.m.

Other than programming in black and white only, Bolivians are not deprived. In addition to their own programs, they also get to see such "classics" dubbed into Spanish as "Kojak", "Bewitched", "The Partridge Family", "Ironside", and "Emergency."

As mentioned, there was the food. Not that Mirtha dislikes Bolivian food. They eat lots of meat and potatoes and rice is another staple. Adults usually drink coffee or tea; milk is reserved for children.

The big meal of the day is lunch at noon. Breakfast consists of tea or coffee and bread or rolls; tea time is at 4 or 4:30 and a light dinner is eaten at 7:30 or 8.

Eating at restaurants is usually reserved for week ends.

The style of cooking is different in her country. Miss Zambrana said, and such items as her now beloved peanut butter and some fruits such as blueberries and cantaloupe are unknown there.

SHE WILL RETURN TO Grand Haven before returning home. In Grand Haven she has lived with three families.

As for going home, she said, "I'm anxious to see my family and friends but at the same time, I don't want to leave here. I think it will be hard when I'm going to leave."

But when she does leave in addition to her cookbook and -- restaurant -- souvenirs there is one other special item she plans to take back with her.

Teenagers in Bolivia do wear bluejeans, but there aren't any of the "painter's" jeans there with the big pockets and loop to hold a hammer. But when Mirtha Zambrana gets back there, there will be.

STUDENT EXCHANGE — Renee Erla (left) and Mirtha Zambrana look over a map of South America. Mirtha is an exchange student from Bolivia; Renee is going to Bolivia as an exchange student.

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department received 543 criminal complaints in April, of which 160 involved traffic matters.

Vandalism complaints totaled 67; domestic problems, 48; larcenies, 47; disorderly conduct, 43; suspicious vehicles, 31, and burglaries, 30.

There were 48 arrests made or charges issued during the month, of which 12 were for traffic violations and six each for liquor law violations and obstruction of justice.

Traffic tickets issued totaled 130, of which 73 were for speeding and 13 for stop sign violations.

The county jail received 132 inmates, of which 12 were female, and released 130.

Patrol units traveled 34,183 miles and consumed 2,745.4 gallons of gasoline, for an average of 12.45 miles per gallon.

Cass City police made four arrests during the month, of which two were for traffic violations and one each for disturbing the peace and obstruction of justice.

State police in Caro made 24 arrests of which 17 involved traffic violations and three for arson.

The number of complaints received by the sheriff's department and accidents respectively in April for area townships were:

Columbia, 12 and 1; Elkland, 57 and 1; Ellington, 9 and 0; Elmwood, 9 and 1; Kingston, 12 and 1, and Novesta, 15 and 2.

AROUND THE FARM Sheep add to income

By William Bortel

A flock of sheep can be a good source of extra income for people with limited resources, and sheep are a good part-time farm enterprise.

Probably the greatest factor which will influence profit or loss on the sheep flock is the cost of feeding the ewe and her lambs. This can be economical if you have pasture or cheap feed or rather expensive if you have to buy all your feed.

Sheep producers can do little about feeding costs per ton, but several management practices can cut down on the daily ewe feed costs. The ideal sheep ration is one that can be handled and fed efficiently and economically. It should be inexpensive but palatable and should contain the proper nutrients.

The food for mature ewes in the flock is very simple. Lower quality, less expensive feeds should be used during the maintenance period when the ewe is not in gestation, because during this time the ewe is doing little work for the producer. Grass hay of an average quality would be an adequate diet.

Legume hay (alfalfa) should be the roughage source during gestation at lactation. No supplement need to be fed to the ewe except during the month before and six weeks following lambing when far grains should be included in the ration. Grains such as shelled corn will increase the energy level needed when the ewes are in the more demanding stages of production.

A protein supplement may be needed if the hay or roughage is poor quality. Soybean meal or linseed meal are generally the most available and economic sources. When choosing between two protein supplements, be sure to figure the price per pound of protein.

Another additive is molasses, which will make the feed more palatable and reduce feed dust when added at the rate of one pound per 100 pounds of grain. Large ratios increase the cost without increasing the benefit.

Sheep feeds can be purchased as a complete ration usually in a pelleted form. The price of these pellets is frequently higher than if the ingredients are purchased separately. However, a complete ration saves on storage and handling requirements.

For nursing lambs, creep feeding helps them gain weight rapidly and efficiently. A creep is a feeding pen which only the lambs can enter, and it should be placed where there is light and warmth. A light over the creep will help attract lambs to it.

Forcing the lambs into the creep and keeping them there for an hour each day will get them accustomed to the surroundings. There must be enough space to accommodate all the lambs and the slats should be far enough apart to let the larger lambs enter freely. Lambs will start eating grain and hay as early as days to two weeks of age. Concentrates such as cracked corn and soybean meal are easily digested and accepted by them. Legume hay placed in the creep is important for the protein needed for growth.

April milk production up 1%

April milk production in Michigan of 396 million pounds was one percent more than in the same month last year, according to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service.

The state's dairy herd stayed the same at 402,000 head, but the average output in April was 985 pounds per cow, 10 more than a year ago and 40 pounds more than two years ago.

National milk production in April totaled 10.7 billion pounds (4.85 million metric tons), down less than one percent from the same month in 1977. Average production per cow was 91 pounds, six pounds more than a year earlier and 3 pounds more than two years ago.

The number of milk cows was estimated at 10.9 million head, off one percent from last year.

The average April milk-feed price ratio was 1.68 down from 1.68 in March. The decline was due to lower milk prices and higher feed costs.

Why the "Light Bill" became the "Electric Bill"

It's simple. Back in the 1930s lights accounted for nearly all of the electricity used in your home. But as times changed and convenient, modern appliances were invented, lights became a much smaller part of your total electric costs. And today, with frost-free refrigerators, air conditioners, furnace blowers and ranges, lights actually account for less than 20% of the electricity you use. That's why proper use and maintenance of major appliances is so important. The more efficiently these big energy users operate, the more economical they'll be. And that can save a lot of money and a lot of energy. Detroit Edison can tell you how to get the most out of the major appliances in your home. So call or stop in at any Detroit Edison customer office for helpful information. Save where it really counts. The power is in your hands.

Tuscola may get soil survey funds

The Tuscola County Soil Conservation District (SCD) has received a letter from Don Schaner, chief of the Soil and Water Conservation Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture stating that the State Soil Conservation Committee has recommended that Tuscola county be included in the highest priority group for a progressive soil survey under Act 268. The three counties picked were: Baraga, Kent and Tuscola.

At this time manpower is not available to begin the survey but there is a strong possibility that preliminary work may begin before the end of this summer. The Michigan Department of Agriculture will contact the Tuscola SCD in the near future to go over details for negotiating a contract for the soil survey.

Tentatively, it appears the U.S. Soil Conservation Service will provide a party leader. The Michigan Department of Agriculture will provide two or three soil scientists. The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners will be asked to provide approximately $11,000 per year in money or in-kind services such as office space or clerical help.

When the field work of the progressive soil survey is completed, the Soil Conservation Service, cartographic office will publish the survey.

A progressive soil survey is an inventory of the existing soil condition which describes the type of material, its drainage, its slope and suitability for different land uses, such as for farming, housing, forestry, development, and recreation.

The agricultural sector can use the completed soil survey to aid in drainage, fertilizer sampling and application, erosion control, irrigation, soil compaction, tree planting, and determining value for land rent and sales.

Government agencies that can use the soil survey include the health department for septic field permits; drain commissioner, soil types and seeding recommendations; road commission, building road beds and highway corridors; enforcement of the Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act; tax equalization, assessment of farmland; planning commission, land use, landfill, zoning; sewer and water districts, land management plans, and township clerks, Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act.

Others that can use the survey are lending institutions for home loans and mortgages, real estate firms for potential home lots and farm sales, foresters, engineers, and landscape architects.

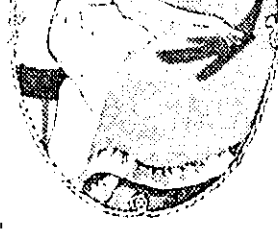

Any landowners or agencies who have any questions regarding the soil survey can contact the Tuscola Soil Conservation District office at 852 S. Hooper Street in Caro, telephone 673-8174.

Organic farm group to meet

The Thumb Area Organic Growers will meet this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the teaching room at the Sanilac County Medical Care Facility in Sandusky.

Cass City, MI 48726 Carrollton, MI 48724

NEW CASS CITY High School record holders in the medley relay are, from left: Rusty Hoag, Scott Richards, John Tuckey and Steve Richards. The new mark is 1:33.4. It was set at the Thumb B Conference meet.

PAUL BATTEL finished second in the Thumb B Conference shot put competition pictured here. But Friday it was a different story as he was the winner in regional competition with a toss of 48-4.

Vassar edges Cass City for Thumb B track title

Vassar became the Thumb B Conference track champions Monday night by defeating Frankenmuth in a dual meet by one point.

The Vulcan win cost Cass City the title. In the regular season Cass City won every dual meet and needed a second place finish or better for an outright championship.

The Hawks finished in a tie with Frankenmuth while Vassar won the conference meet. That made it all hinge on the Vulcan-Eagle clash and the Vulcans won it.

Cass City finished second and Frankenmuth third in the final league standings.

Eight new league records were set in the Thumb B Conference meet held Wednesday at Caro as Vassar defeated Frankenmuth and Cass City, who tied for second.

The results were: Vassar, 86; Cass City and Frankenmuth, 61 1/2; Caro, 54; Sandusky, 46; Marlette, 42; Lakers, 34; Bad Axe, 33.

Cass City's mile relay team set a new school record with a time of 3:33.4 but finished second to Sandusky, which established a new league mark of 3:30.11 in the event.

Running for Cass City were John Tuckey, Scott Richards, Steve Richards and Rusty Hoag.

The record breakers included Martin of Sandusky, 330-yard low hurdles (39.44); Eldridge of Vassar, discus (143-6); Sullivan of Marlette, 880-yard run (1:57.14); Schultheiss of Sandusky, 440-yard dash (50.14); Titus of Marlette, mile (4:34.56); Heffelfinger of Vassar, pole vault (13-4), and the 440

Asher leads in enduro racing

Dave Asher of Cass City is a leading racer in the open "A" class of the American Motorcycle Association District 14 sanctioned championship enduro series.

Currently he leads the open "A" class and is second in the overall class "A" standings.

In the first three races he has scored two firsts. He also posted an over-all class "A" victory at Houghton Lake.

The district 14 series includes nine events and the best five rides in the competition are used to determine the final rating.

Asher is sponsored by Thumb Cycle Sales of Cass City.

relay team from Caro (44.94).

Ironically, one of the records set was a disappointment to the athlete. In the pole vault Bill Heffelfinger broke his own record, but the height of 13-4 was far below his best (14-7) of the season.

Cass City won only one event. Middaugh won the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.66. It was a big event for Cass City as the Hawks won first, second (Mike Richards) and fifth, (John Tuckey).

O-G girls cruise to third straight softball crown

The Owen-Gage softball team won the North Central D League championship Tuesday with a 10-2 win over Port Austin at the Gagetown field.

It was the third straight league softball title for coach Judy Campbell's teams.

Her 1978 squad finishes the regular season with an 8-0 mark in the league and 12-0 overall. It plays again June 2 when it hosts the district tournament at the Gagetown field.

Port Austin had only lost one league game before Tuesday's contest, so could have tied for the league title if it had won.

Winning pitcher was Dawn Erickson, who struck out 11 in the six-inning contest, walked three, and gave up four hits.

The senior was 10-0 for the season, during which she struck out 57, gave up 31 hits and 53 walks. Twenty-nine runs were scored off her. She has been the team's leading pitcher for all three seasons Owen-Gage has played softball.

The big inning for the Bulldogs was the fifth when they scored five runs. Erickson aided her cause by hitting a double and a single. Laurie Andrakowicz had a double and two singles and Barb Wright and Mary Good each had two singles. The Pirates' two hits were both made by Becky Yaroch, both singles.

KINGSTON GAME

Owen-Gage softballers stayed undefeated by downing Kingston last Thursday, 16-6. The game was played at Kingston. Coach Judy Campbell used three pitchers in the game because of wildness.

The Cardinals scored their six runs on only one hit, a single by Sally Engler, the rest coming on the 12 walks issued by the Bulldog mound crew. Dawn Erickson, the winning pitcher, threw the first four innings, followed DOUBLE—Bulldog Laurie Andrakowicz banged out the double in the fifth inning of the Tuesday game against Port Austin. Her team defeated the Pirates, 10-2, to win the North Central D League championship.

Cass City

Reese falls, 5-1

Hawks' long ball paces team to tourney victory

There were heroes galore Saturday afternoon as Cass City qualified for the pre-districts in the Michigan Class C Baseball tournament at Reese.

The Hawks won 5-1 using a combination of long ball hitting and tight pitching by Jeff Hartel and Earny Stoutenburg.

Aided by a strong wind that was blowing out, Cass City pounded out three home runs and Reese countered with one.

The losers' long blow came in the first inning as Mousseau hit a high fly into the wind and it carried over the center field fence.

Cass City got that back in the second and Tony Doerr didn't need any wind to make it happen. He smashed a long line drive over the right center field fence that was a home run as soon as it left the bat.

The Hawk right fielder had an outstanding game. He made a circus diving catch of a line drive to cut a fly ball and then threw out a runner trying to move from second to third after he caught a fly ball. He lined it to the bag and the play wasn't even close.

Cass City scored the go-ahead run in the fifth inning. Clarke Haire cracked a hit to right and moved to second when the fielder misplayed the ball.

He moved to third on an infield out and then dashed home on a short pass ball, beating the play by an eyelash.

Hartel gave himself some breathing room in the sixth. Tim Johnson was hit by the pitcher and rode home moments later as Hartel lined a ball to deep left. The ball hit the glove of the fielder and went over the fence for a circuit clout.

Another insurance run was added in the seventh when Ken Martin put a ball into the jet stream and it carried out in deep center field.

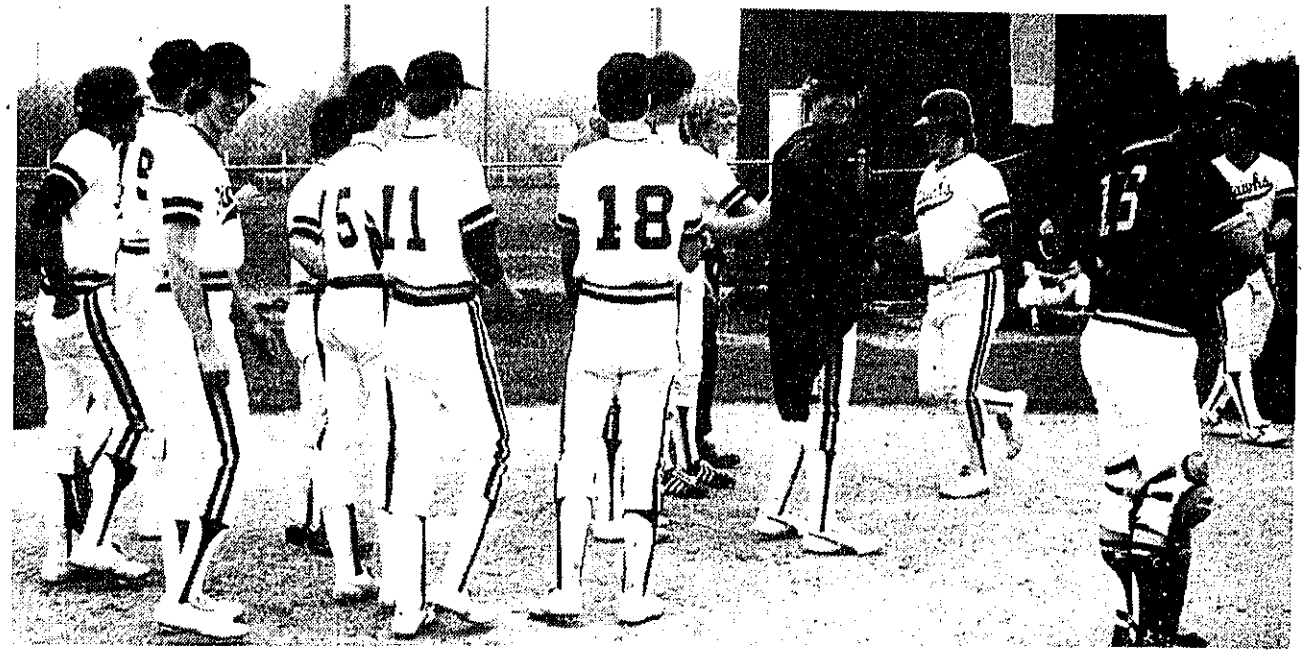

Hartel's arm stiffened in the last inning and he took himself out of the game.

Stoutenburg came on with a man on and retired the side without allowing a run to cross the plate.

The Hawks picked up six hits while Hartel and Stoutenburg limited Reese to three hits.

TONY DOERR is congratulated by his teammates as he cracked a long home run to tie the score against Reese Saturday.

3-day softball tourney slated

The second annual Char-mont Memorial Day Invitational fastpitch softball tournament has been carded at Cass City Recreational Park Friday through Sunday, May 26-28.

Among the 12 teams participating are the State Class D champs and runners-up for 1977.

Begick Nursery of Bay City are the champs. They are paced on the mound by Al Zawilinski, formerly of Cass City. The runners-up are Wendy's of Owosso.

There will be teams from Saginaw, Hemlock, Clarkston, Flint, Shields, Snover and Cass City represented.

Both softball fields at the park will be used. Six games will be played Friday evening, 18 games will be played Saturday starting at 8 a.m. and continuing until 9 p.m. when the final game is scheduled to start.

Six more games will be played Sunday morning, with the play-offs starting at 1 p.m. between the two division winners.

A consolation game between the losers of these games starts at 2:30 p.m. and the title game starts at 4 p.m.

Cass City Merchants play their first game at 6:30 p.m. against Begick Nursery of Bay City.

JEFF HARTEL trots across after hitting his 2-run circuit clout to ice the tournament qualifying victory for the Hawks. In the last inning Ken Martin poked one out as the long ball accounted for four of Cass City's five runs.

The Owen-Gage baseball team ended the regular season Tuesday with two wins at home against Port Austin, both by scores of 6-2.

Coach Phil Gray's squad finishes with a 11-5 mark in the North Central D League, tentatively good for third place depending on the outcome of make-up games to be played yet by Kingston. The team's overall mark is 12-7.

The Bulldogs play at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Port Austin in pre-district competition. If they again beat the Pirates, they will play the winner of the Port Hope-Kingston pre-district game Friday, June 2, at Caseville.

Winning pitcher in the first game Tuesday was Roger Ziehm, who concluded the regular season with a 6-0 record. He struck out six and gave up one walk and four hits.

He aided his cause with two singles, Jim Hendershot and Jeff Hallock each hit a double.

Losing pitcher was Eugene Breuss, who struck out six and gave up eight hits and one walk.

Top batsman for the Pirates was Mike Korn with a double. The team made six errors in the contest to one for Owen-Gage.

Winning pitcher in the second game was Dick Glidden, who struck out seven, walked one, and gave up five hits.

Top Bulldog hitters were Alan Haag and Ziehm, both with doubles, the latter's coming with bases loaded in the third, driving in three runs.

Losing pitcher was Larry Reinke, with four walks, four strikeouts, and five hits.

Five Pirate batters each had a single. The team made four errors in the game; the Bulldogs made three.

KINGSTON GAME

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs may be developing a split personality, much to coach Phil Gray's regret.

For the third time in the last four outings, his team split a double header. This time it was against Kingston, with the Bulldogs winning the first, 4-2, and dropping the second, 7-3.

The games were scheduled to be played at Kingston, but the field was muddy, so were played at Owendale instead.

Roger Ziehm was the winning pitcher in the first game, striking out six, walking four, and giving up one hit.

Losing pitcher was Ken Distelrath, who walked three, struck out six, and gave up seven hits. Both pitchers went the distance.

Top batsmen for Owen-Gage were Jeff Hallock with a single and a double, Mark McDonald with a single and a triple, and Ziehm with a double.

Steve Martin had the lone hit for the Cardinals, a single.

The Bulldogs made two errors in the game; Kingston, three.

Winning pitcher for the Cardinals in the second contest was Don Smith, who struck out three, walked eight, and gave up six hits in going the distance.

Pete Klemkowski started for Owen-Gage, but was pulled after two innings after giving up all seven runs. He walked five, struck out three, and gave up five hits.

Dick Glidden pitched the final three innings, striking out two, walking one, and giving up two hits.

Todd Remsing banded out a single and a bases loaded triple for the Cardinals, the latter driving in three runs.

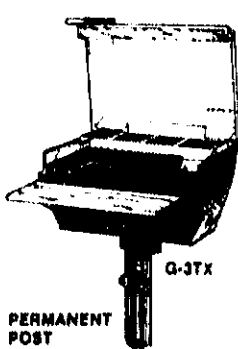

Kirk Carolan hit two singles for the losers. Owen-Gage made the only error in the game.

The split put the Bulldogs at 10-7 overall and 9-5 in the league.

Judge sends 2 county men to state prison

Two men were sentenced to the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson Monday by Circuit Judge Martin E. Clements.

Alex P. Braun, 20, of 2804 E. Caro Road, Caro, was sentenced to 2-10 years in prison, credited with one day served, for breaking and entering an unoccupied dwelling.

He pleaded guilty to the charge April 4, in connection with the Oct. 4 break-in of the mobile home of Lawrence Englehart on E. Deckerville Road, Novesta township. Taken in the break-in were a portable television, radio, electric heater, tools, and a lamp.

Also Monday, Braun stood mute to a charge of receiving stolen property over $100. A plea of innocent was entered by the judge, who scheduled a pretrial hearing June 5.

The charge is in connection with the possession of an electric guitar and accordion taken in January from the home of Robert A. Muz of Deckerville Road, Caro.

In addition, Braun faces a preliminary examination Friday before District Judge Richard F. Kern on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

He is charged in connection with the May 12 beating in Almer township of Keith A. Pelton of Oakley Road, Akron.

Franklin B. Holcomb, 24, of 2284 McArthur Road, Deford, also faces preliminary examination Friday on the same charge in connection with the incident.

Braun is being held in the county jail for resolution of the two charges before being sent to Jackson prison.

Also sentenced to Jackson prison, for 4-14 years, was Samuel E. Trisch, 31, no available address. He was credited with 247 days served.

He was found guilty April 12 by Judge Clements of fraud, in connection with a complaint from Peoples State Bank of Caro regarding writing of a forged check.

Hole put in store window

Russell Schneeberger reported to Cass City police Friday afternoon that someone had thrown a stone through the front window of the building he owns on Maple Street. There was a single small hole through the window.

Replacement cost of the 5-by-8-foot window is $200.

by the defendant for $250 in July, 1977.

Also Monday in Circuit Court:

Larry G. Dill, 26, of 1060 Riley Road, Caro, stood mute to charges of malicious destruction of property over $100 and obstructing, resisting, opposing, and assaulting a police officer. A plea of innocent was entered and bond was continued, with a pretrial hearing scheduled June 5.

The charges are in connection with breaking of a glass door of a building in Unionville April 17 and the attempt by Deputy Arthur Adam to arrest the defendant.

Sentencing of Lee V. Latimer, 19, of 4987 Elmwood Road, Akron, for attempted larceny in a building was delayed for one year. He was ordered to pay $150 in court costs at $15 per month.

The charge is in connection with the theft of two snow tires Jan. 7 from an Akron service station.

Keith A. Pelton, mentioned previously, was sentenced to three days in the county jail for violation of probation. He is on probation for simple larceny. The probation violations, to which he pleaded guilty April 10, were that he failed in February to report to his probation officer and to make payments on his court-ordered obligations.

Scott A. Wright, 20, of 1561 Merit Road, Caro, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted unlawful use of a credit card. His plea was accepted and bond was continued until sentencing July 3.

The charge was in connection with his use of a stolen credit card to buy $1 worth of gasoline from the L&S Standard station in Cass City April 12.

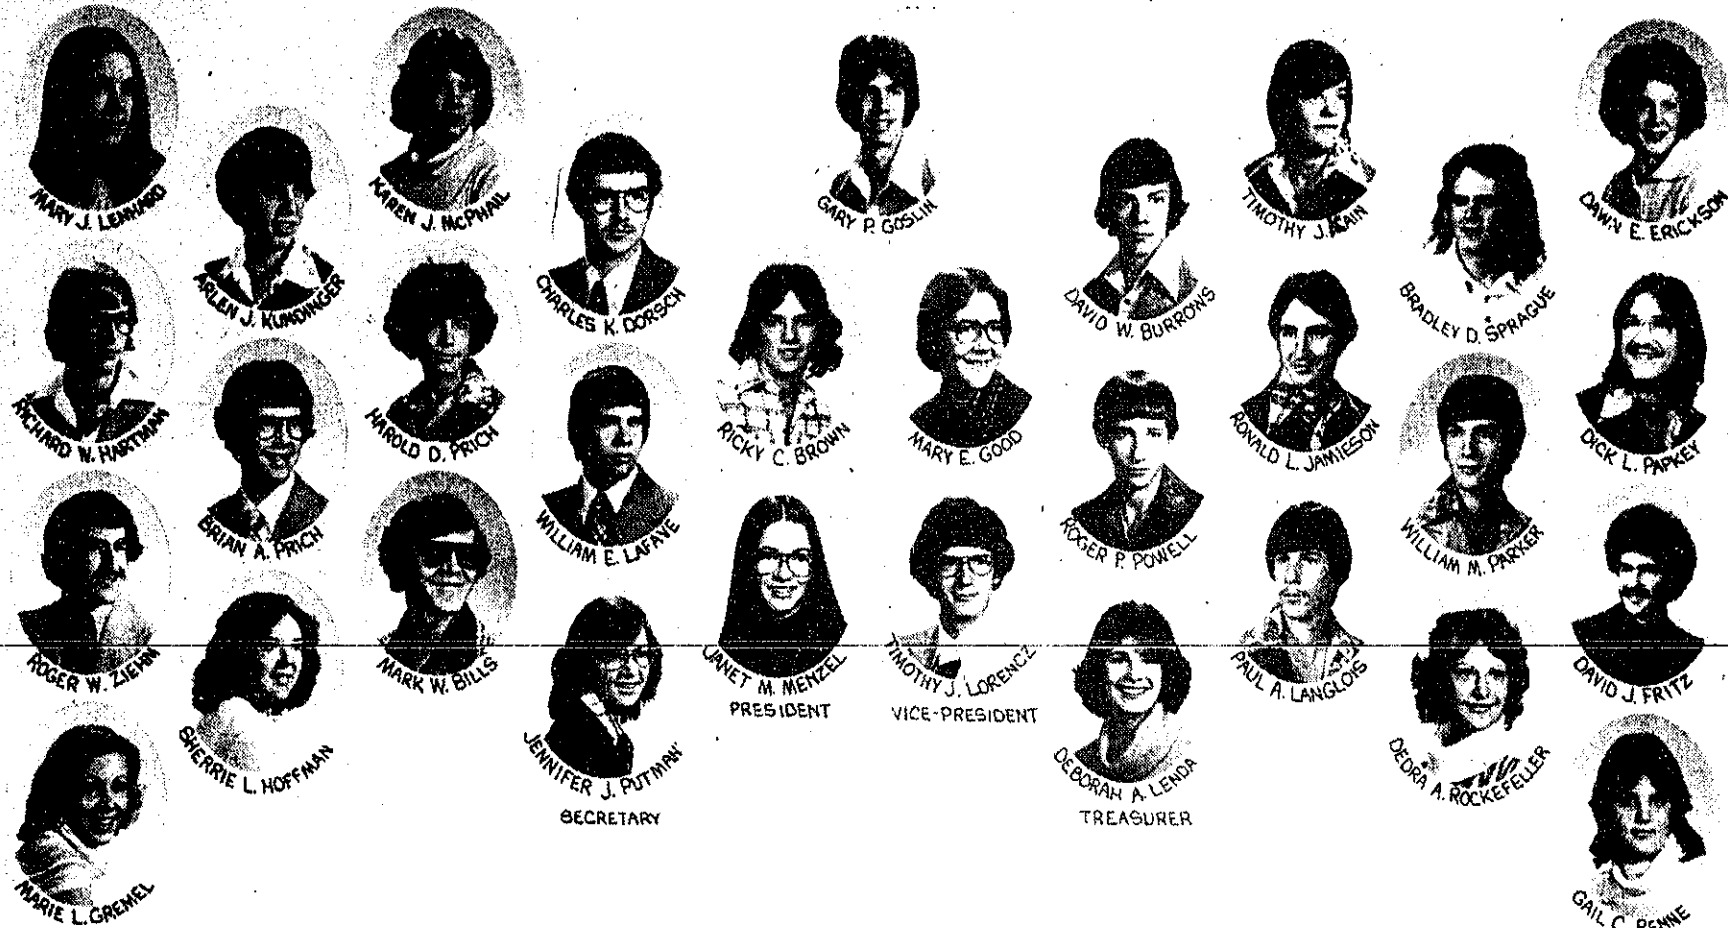

DISTRICT COURT

Robert L. Brown, 39, of Bay City-Forestville Road, Cass City, pleaded guilty Monday before District Judge Richard F. Kern to a charge of driving under the influence of liquor. He was fined $97 and assessed $103 court costs.

Ray L. Johnson, 19, of Mushroom Road, Deford, appeared Monday for sentencing for a charge of furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor, to which he pleaded guilty May 9.

He was fined $72, assessed $78 court costs, and sentenced to five days in the county jail, with serving of the sentence to be deferred from month to month.

Past mistakes are the wisdom and success of the future.

OWENDALE-GAGETOWN HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1978

Student career program is now on schedule

The Career Employment Experience Program, criticized for being behind schedule in putting youth to work, is now on schedule, it was reported at the Thumb Area Consortium administrative board meeting last Thursday.

The Cass City-based consortium contracted with the Human Development Commission in Caro to operate the federally funded program in the three upper Thumb counties, designed to provide on-the-job training for high school youth from low-income families.

Consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard had criticized the HDC at previous board meetings for being behind schedule in placing eligible youth. For instance, the goal was to have 130 youngsters working by March 30. The number working on that date was only 16.

The consortium board in April set a new goal of having 100 youths employed by the end of April, 150 by the end of May, and the maximum of 180 by June 30.

HDC Director Sally Atchinson was present last Thursday to report that as of that day, 135 youth have now been enrolled, with 84 working with public agencies, usually schools, and 12 have been placed with private employers. Thirty-one are in transition, that is, waiting for placement in jobs, and eight have dropped out because they apparently found jobs on their own, Mrs. Atchinson said.

The main reason for the delay, she explained, was in getting school districts to agree to participate, which sometimes required explaining the program to school boards before a contract between the agency and the district could be signed.

As of last Thursday, Vassar was the only district of 25 in the three counties yet to sign and its approval was expected shortly.

School districts were reluctant to sign because they didn't have direct control over the program, participants have to be certified by counselors as "potential dropouts," and districts aren't being reimbursed for work done by their counselors with the program participants.

Two problems have resulted, according to the HDC director. First, some Title I participants receiving $2.65 an hour find themselves working alongside Title VI participants receiving more money -- often $3.50 -- while both are doing the same job.

Secondly, employing agencies, once the six-month training period has ended for the Title I participant, sometimes seek to convert the position into one paid with Title VI funds so that Uncle Sam keeps paying the person's paycheck.

Lenard said after the meeting that so far this year, 49 Title I positions -- about one-third of the total -- have been converted into Title VI jobs.

Mrs. Atchinson pointed out that some persons on welfare take a "pay cut" when they go off welfare to enter the Title I program. Making it easier to convert their jobs to the Title VI program at least helps them to be self-sufficient.

The administrative board finally voted to lift the mandatory six-month probation period for Title I participants before they can transfer to Title VI. Transfers can now be made once the job counselor has determined the person has satisfactorily completed his or her on the job training.

Other youth employment programs are expected to take up some of the slack void from the loss of the SPEDY Program.

A total of 137 new CETA

Title VI positions were approved, including two persons to do various maintenance and clean-up chores for Cass City for three months.

Argyle township will get four workers to do roadside maintenance, mainly brush cutting. Making road signs will be another task. The persons are to be employed for one year.

None of the positions can be filled until a federal freeze on employing more persons in the Title VI program is lifted.

The consortium received notice of the freeze, which also applied to Title II job placements, May 11. The freeze was due to the nationwide ceiling on enrollments under the two programs of 725,000 jobs being exceeded.

Not all prime sponsors, such as the consortium, had exceeded their allotted enrollments, so the freeze for Title II has since been lifted. Lenard expected the Title VI freeze would also be soon lifted.

The board accepted the resignation of Vicki Smith as a program counselor, effective Aug. 31, and authorized advertising for a replacement. She is moving with her husband to Georgia.

The bid of Creative Office Systems of Caro of $863 for a desk, file cabinet, swivel chair, calculator, and partition was accepted. It was the lower of two submitted.

The June meeting was moved back one week, to June 22.

Owen-Gag graduation Thursday

The 33 members of the senior class at Owendale Gagetown High School graduate this Thursday, with ceremonies starting at 4 p.m. at Gagetown Elementary School.

Commencement speakers will be State Rep. Quinn Hoffman, R-Applegate, and Brian A. Prich is the clavaledictorian and Dav Erickson is the salutatorian.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday at the Gagetown school with Rev. Wayne Wentzel of St. Paul Lutheran church, Kilmanagh, as the speaker.

Final day of classes for the seniors was last Friday. Class officers are Jan Menzel, president; Tim Lorenz, vice-president; Jennifer Putman, secretary; and Deborah Lenda, treasurer. Class advisor is Manus Thies.

I WILL...patience to the teams

I, Susie Asher, will to the gymnastic teams the patience to stick with it all through high school and my ability not to bug the coach.

I, JulAnn Auten, will to John Tuckey 50 boxes of cornflakes to eat, so he can learn to appreciate them and to Gail a book on how to handle her love life.

I, Steve Ballard, will to Ron Langmaid a lifetime membership to AAA towing services and to Phil Hartsell an acre of land in Panama.

I, Paul Battel, will to the class of '80" the ability to keep your heads cool on the basketball court and still win.

I, Kevin Brown, will to Tim Hill a free trip to the barber shop on April Fool's Day.

I, Raymond Burleson, will to Don Horne a new smile.

I, Paula Butler, will the freshmen trombone, baritone, and cornet players some new "books" for next year.

I, Russell Bye, will to everyone, anything and everything I have to share.

I, Durrell Caister, will to all the underclassmen the ability to listen to Mr. Clarke all hour and not fall asleep.

I, Chuck Clark, will to Bill Hurt my little black book, to my brother Bob my running ability and to Beth, me.

I, Sandy Cody, will my naturally long eye lashes to Winnie Houghton so she can say she has some, and to Mary Harmer something to keep her awake.

I, Sue Ann Cooklin, will to Ms. Sperry a smile and to Sherrie Smith enough slo gin to last until her 18th birthday.

I, Pam Corcoran, will to Chloe Ann Willis

the ability to get through band another year without Susie Knight, Susie Asher and me to keep her laughing.

I, Mike Corl, will to Chuck Watros the ability not to get into too many arguments with the teachers.

I, Joyce Daley, will my green eyes to Marie Luana and my talent to forget things I don't want to do to anybody who needs an excuse.

I, Michael Decker, will to 90 percent of the high school staff a long walk off a short pier, and to all my partying friends whatever they need.

I, Kerry Dillon, will to Craig and Dean O'Harris a bar of soap with which to wash themselves after they are done cleaning out the pig pen.

I, Valerie Dodson, will to Mark Deering a few extra inches or platform shoes, which ever is available at the moment, "cause I know how he feels."

I, John Doerr, will to Jack Kappen a map to Third Street.

I, Mike Doerr, will to Mr. Ahrens all the passes I have written out with his name on them, because I will not need them any more.

I, Val Dolecki, will to my brothers, Mark and Dave, the ability to hang in there and to Karen and Kar all the happiness and luck in life.

I, Sharon Fassett, will not be willing R. and B. a thing, and for all the girls in the bathroom an ash tray.

I, Jeff Finkbeiner, will to Potty Zemke and Don the ability to get drunk in class and get into dances without paying.

I WILL...a great senior year the morning to Renee Kritzman, and my ability to remember things to Nan Rabi-deau.

I, Beth Tracy (Walsh), will a few inches to Mary, so she won't be so short, my grades to Lurch, so he'll graduate, and all my love to my family.

I, Coleen Trischler, will to Clarke Haire his "Hair" album I broke, and to Clare one more year's supply of oil for the car.

I, Colleen Truemner, will to Kelli Winter my ability to sleep through Government class and still get A's. To "Superstar" one whole room for his medals.

I, Barb Tuckey, will to Barb Herron my short legs because hers get in the way, and to Donnie four week ends off in a row.

I, Debbie Tuckey, will to Renee Schember the ability to keep her eyes open and her mouth shut.

I, John Tuckey, will to Todd Comment, a set of weights and some Charmont pizza so he might put on some pounds.

I, Timothy M.C.J.C. Tuckey, being of sound mind and body, will to Dave Shaw, his first Pulitzer Prize, even if it is to be mine.

I, Cheryl Viney, will to Dee Kritzman the courage to skip school and still graduate so she can have as much fun in her senior year.

I, Karen Wagg, will to my little brother, Kevin, my seats in Chemistry, Algebra and Biology II, as well as all of the fun that goes along with them.

I, Frances Walsh, will to Amy another girl to take my place until we can be reunited as wife and wife?

I, Sally Ware, will to my sister, Laurie, the ability to get anywhere on time, and to Shelly Rabideau Miss Krueger's chair with the wheels on it.

I, Wendy Ware, will to Cindy a great Senior year like I've had and to Sherry Bader a life-long pass to the bathroom.

I, Gary Warju, will and always have, on numerous occasions.

I, Janice Wentworth, will to Deb my "Saturday Night Fights" and all the best in life. To Suzanne, the sanity to put up with Padge for another year.

I, Brenda Whittaker (Kilbourn) will to my sister, Kathy, a muzzle so her teachers won't have to keep telling her to be quiet.

I, Kim Witherspoon, will to my sister, Kari, faith in herself and a great Senior year, and to Miss Psujek a robot for her student secretary.

I, Jerry Woodruff, will to whoever needs it my ability to stick with it.

I, Ed Yax, will to all underclassmen the right to want what ya want and get it when ya want it.

I, Ron Ziehm, will Mike Klebba a stool to put on top of his chair in school so that he can see over the person in front of him.

I, Denise Zmierski, will to Rick Kulinski and John Blades a year's supply of silly-putty to keep them busy. To Mr. B. a couple of good bands.
